DIGITALE, s. f. (bot.), digitalis.

DIGITÉ, E (bot.), digitated.

DIGNE, adj. Tout cela est digne de louange, all that is worthy of praise. C'est un homme digne de votre estime, he is worthy of—that man deserves—your esteem. N'est-il pas digne d'être récompensé? does he not deserve to be rewarded—is he not worthy of a reward? Vous n'êtes pas digne d'être aimé, you are not worthy to be loved—you do not deserve being loved. On lui infligea une punition digne de la faute, they inflicted upon him a condign punishment. Est-ce là une digne récompense? is that a suitable—worthy—reward? C'était un spectacle digne de pitié, it was a sight worthy of pity. Elle est digne que l'on fasse tout pour la sauver, she deserves—she is worthy—that every thing should be done to save her. Il a des sentiments dignes de sa naissance, his sentiments are worthy—suitable to—his birth. Il se rendra digne de vos bontés, he will make himself worthy—deserving—of your kindness. Cette action n'est pas digne de vous, such an action is not worthy of you. Cela est bien digne de lui, that is just like him. Cela n'est pas digne de croyance, de foi, that is not worthy of belief, of credit. Voilà des armes dignes du fils d'Achille, these are indeed arms worthy of the son of Achilles.

C'est un bien digne homme, he is a worthy—estimable man. Faites cela pour lui, c'est un digne sujet, do that for him, he is a worthy—deserving—subject. Venez, digne fils de nos anciens maîtres! come, o worthy—o noble—o great—son of our old masters! Le digne magistrat répugnait à y aller, the worthy—the estimable—the excellent—magistrate felt a repugnance to go.

Il a l'air digne, he looks dignified. Prenez donc un air plus digne, do put on a more dignified look. C'est un homme digne, he is a dignified man. Dans cette occasion, rien ne fut plus digne que sa conduite, on this occasion, nothing could be more dignified—more approved—than his conduct.

DIGNEMENT, adv. Il a été dignement récompensé, he was worthily rewarded. Il a parlé dignement, he spoke suitably.

DIGNITAIRE, s. m. high officer. Napoléon n'avait que six grands dignitaires de l'Empire, Napoleon had only six high officers of the Empire. (T. d'église), dignitary.

DIGNITÉ, s. f. dignity. C'est un homme plein de dignité, he is full of dignity. Vous ne soutenez pas la dignité de votre rang, you do not support—uphold—the dignity of your rank.

La reine le couvrait de dignités, the queen loaded him with high dignities. Il parviendra aux dignités, he will arrive at the high offices of state. Les dignités portent la robe rouge, the dignitaries wear the scarlet robe.

DIGON, s. m. (t. de marine), stick, staff of a vane.

DIGRESSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to digress.

DIGRESSION, s. m. digression.

DIGUE, s. f. dike; bank; (fig.), rampart; stop.

DILACÉRATION, s. f. dilaceration.

DILACÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dilacerate; to tear.

DILAPIDATEUR, s. m. dilapidator; spoliator.
DILAPIDATEUR, TRICE, adj. dilapidating; spoliating; wasting.
DILAPIDATION, s. f. dilapidation; spoliation; embezzlement of public money; waste.
DILAPIDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dilapidate; to waste.
DILATABILITÉ, s. f. (t. de physiq.), dilatability.
DILATABLE, adj. dilatable.
DILATANT, s. m. (t. de médec.), dilator.
DILATATEUR, s. m. (t. de médec.), dilator.
DILATATION, s. f. dilatation; expansion.
DILATATOIRE, s. m. dilator.
DILATER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to dilate; to expand.
DILATOIRE, adj. (t. de jurisp.), dilatory.
DILAYER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to delay; to put off; to procrastinate.
DILECTION, s. f. (t. de théologie), dilection; love; charity.
DILEMME, s. m. dilemma.
DILIGEMMENT, adv. diligently.
DILIGENCE, s. f. diligence. Il travaille avec diligence, he works with diligence—with industry—with assiduity. Il faut user de diligence, you must use—act with—diligence—speed. Faites diligence, use speed—do make haste. Le courrier fit grande diligence, the messenger used great dispatch. Tout a manqué faute de diligence, every thing failed, for want of diligence. J'ai fait toutes mes diligences pour le trouver, I used every exertion to find him. Toutes nos diligences n'ont mené à rien, all our exertions have produced no result. Vous n'avez pas même fait acte de diligence, you have not even made a show of readiness.
(T. de jurisp.), suit. Il est poursuivi à la diligence de son frère, he is prosecuted on the suit of his brother.
DILIGENCE, s. f. stage coach. Nous partons par la diligence demain, we set off to-morrow by the coach—the stage coach. Bureau de diligence, coach office. Cour de diligence, coach yard. La diligence a versé, the stage was overturned.
DILIGENT, E, adj. diligent. J'ai un valet diligent, I have an active—a diligent—a zealous valet. Cet ouvrier n'est pas diligent, that workman is not diligent—industrious. Choisissez un courrier diligent, choose a diligent—speedy—swift messenger. Marcher d'un pas diligent, to walk with speedy steps—speedily. Ses soins diligents, her diligent—anxious—cares.
DILIGENTER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to speed; to press; to use diligence. Vous ne vous êtes pas assez diligenté, you did not use sufficient diligence—speed.
DILUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to dilute.
DILUVIEN, ENNE, adj. diluvian.
DIMANCHE, s. m. Sunday. Nous nous verrons dimanche, we shall meet on Sunday. Je l'ai vu dimanche, I saw him on Sunday. Tous les dimanches, every Sunday. Ne venez pas le dimanche, do not come on Sunday. Le dimanche gras, Quinquagesima Sunday.
DIME, s. f. tithe. Nous payons la dime, we pay tithe. Lever les dimes, to gather tithes. Grosses dimes, tithe on corn, wine, cider. Menues dimes, small tithe.
DIMENSION, s. f. dimension. (Fig. fam.) Vous n'avez pas bien pris vos dimensions, you did not take your measures well.
DIMER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to raise tithes.
DIMEUR, s. m. tithe gatherer, receiver.
DIMINUER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Diminuer la portion d'une personne, to diminish—to reduce—to lessen the portion of a person. Rien ne peut diminuer sa gloire, nothing could diminish—take from—his glory. Les jours diminuent, the days are shortening. Les eaux ont diminué, the water has fallen. Diminuez votre dépense, reduce your expenses. Ce fruit a diminué de grosseur, this fruit has lost of its size. Le pain a diminué de prix, the bread has fallen in price. Cela ne diminue rien de son importance, that takes away nothing of his importance. Il n'a jamais diminué de son affection pour vous, his affection for you has always been the same. Je n'en diminuerai rien, I will take nothing from it. Cet enfant diminue à vue d'œil, that child is getting thinner—losing flesh—visibly.
(T. de marine.) Diminuer de voiles, to shorten sail.
DIMINUÉE, s. f. (t. de musiq.), diminution.
DIMINUTIF, TIVE, adj. diminutive.
DIMINUTIF, s. m. diminutive; reduction.
DIMINUTION, s. f. diminution; reduction. Faire une diminution, to reduce, to diminish.
DIMISSOIRE, s. m. (théologie), letter dimissory.
DIMISSORIAL, E, adj. Lettres dimissoriales, letters dimissory.
DINANDERIE, s. f. (t. de commerce), brass ware (coming from Dinant in Belgium).
DÎNATOIRE, adj. Un déjeûner dînatoire, a late breakfast; a breakfast partaking of dinner.
DINDE, s. f. (abrégé de poule d'Inde), hen turkey.
DINDE, s. m. Voyez Dindon.
DINDON, s. m. turkey. Garder les dindons, to keep turkeys. (Fig.) On l'a envoyé garder les dindons, they have sent him away, in the country. Nous avons mangé un dindon à la broche, we had a roast turkey.
Dinde et dindon are used as goose in English, to express silliness, stupidity. C'est un dindon, un franc dindon, he is a goose, a downright goose. Il en sera le dindon, he will be the dupe of it.
DINDONNEAU, s. m. young turkey.
DINDONNIER, s. m. } turkey keeper; (fig.), a coxcomb.
DINDONNIERE, s. f. } lass.
DÎNÉE, s. f. (t. de voyage), dinner; place where to stop for dinner.
DÎNER, s. m. dinner. Il aime les grands dîners, he likes dinner parties. Un dîner prié, a dinner party; so called because you are invited to it, long beforehand. Étiez-vous de ce dîner? were you at—of—that dinner. Le dîner est sur la table, dinner is on table. Son dîner lui pèse, his dinner lies heavy on his stomach. Vers après-dîner, cet après dîner, come in the afternoon.
DÎNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dine. À quelle heure dînez-vous? at what time do you dine? Il nous a priés à dîner, he invited us to dinner. Apportez-nous à dîner, bring us some dinner—something to make our dinner. J'ai dîné d'un morceau de fromage, I dined on a bit of cheese. (Fig. fam.) Dîner par cœur, to dine with Duke Humphrey; i. e. to have no dinner. En pension, on paie assiette dîne pour vous, when you board at a house, you pay whether you dine or not. Qui s'attend à dîner d'autrui a souvent mal dîné, he who reckons upon dining out often gets a bad dinner. Il me semble que j'ai dîné quand je le vois, it gives me a surfeit when I see him. Qui dort dîne, sleeping is as good as eating.
DÎNETTE, s. f. (t. d'enfants), dinner.
DÎNEUR, s. m. } J'étais un des dîneurs, I was one of DÎNEUSE, s. f. } those who dined there. Il y avait trois dîneurs, there were three people at dinner. Je suis bon dîneur, je ne soupe point, I make a good dinner, and take no supper.
DIOCÉSAIN, E, adj. diocesan.
DIOCÈSE, s. m. diocese.
DIONÉE, s. f. (bot), muscipula.
DIOPTRIQUE, s. f. (t. d'optiq.), dioptrics.
DIORAMA, s. m. diorama.
DIPHTHONGUE, s. f. (t. de gramm.), diphthong.
DIPLOMATE, s. m. diplomatist.
DIPLOMATIE, s. f. diplomacy.
DIPLOMATIQUE, s. f. diplomatics.
DIPLOMATIQUE, adj. diplomatic.
DIPLOMATIQUEMENT, adv. in a diplomatic manner.
DIPLOMATISTE, s. m. diplomatist.
DIPLOME, s. m. diploma.
DIPTÈRE, s. m. (hist. nat.), diptera.
DIPTÈRE, adj. (hist. nat., archit.), dipteral.
DIRE, v. a. irrég. v. composés, verbe modèle, Dire, disant, dit, e; je dis, vous dites; je disais; je dirai; je dirais; que je dise; que je disse; disant, dis, disons, dites, qu'ils disent, to say, to tell.

Voilà ce qu'il dit, this is what he says. Vous ne nous dites pas la vérité, you do not tell us the truth. Voulez-vous que je vous le dise? shall I tell it you? Il m'a dit du bien de vous, he spoke well of you to me. Il a dit pis que pendre de vous, he spoke very ill of you. Il aime à dire du mal de son prochain, he likes to slander—to speak ill of his neighbour. Dites la vérité, speak—tell—the truth. Il allait tout leur dire, he used to go and tell them every thing. Ne dites pas votre secret à tout le monde, do not tell your secret to every body. Il m'a dit des duretés, he told me hard things. Ne dites des injures à personne, do not abuse any body. Qui ne dit mot consent, silence gives consent. Ils se sont dit des injures, they have abused one another. Je lui ai dit de venir de bonne heure, I told him to come early. Ne vous avais-je pas dit de me l'apporter? had I not desired—commanded—told you to bring it me? Il ne fait pas ce qu'on lui dit, he does not do what he is told.

On dit qu'ils vont se marier, people say they are going to be married. On m'a dit qu'il est parti, I have been told that he is gone away. On dit que nous allons avoir la guerre, people say we shall have war. Je ne crois pas tous ces ON DIT là, I do not believe all those sayings. On dirait, à le voir, qu'il est le maître, in seeing him, you would say he is the master. On dirait d'un fou, you would believe he is mad—one would say he is mad. Qu'en dira-t-on? what will people say? Je me moque du qu'en dira-t-on, I care not for what will people say. Il est sensible au qu'en dira-t-on, he cares for—he is sensitive to—public opinion.

Ces choses-là ne doivent point se dire, such things ought not to be told. Ce mot se dit en parlant de telle ou telle chose, this word is said, is used in speaking of so and so.

Mes regards vous disent que je vous aime, my eyes tell you that I love you. Son silence vous en dit assez, his silence speaks plainly enough. Cela ne dit rien, that says nothing—speaks nothing. Cela ne dit rien, that is quite unimportant. Cela ne dit rien au cœur, à l'âme, that moves neither—speaks to neither—the heart nor the mind. Le cœur me le disait bien, my heart told me it would be so. Il se dit votre parent, he says he is your relation.

(Vouloir dire), to mean. Que voulez-vous dire? what do you mean? On ne sait ce que cela veut dire, no one knows what that means.

C'est à dire, that is to say. Ce n'est pas à dire pour cela que je n'irai pas, that does not mean, for all that, that I shall not go. Pour ainsi dire, as if to say, as it were.

(Disons mieux.) Il est l'avocat des pauvres; disons mieux, il en est le père, he is the advocate of the poor; say, let us speak better, let us say that he is their father.

Dire la bonne aventure à une personne, to tell a person his good fortune. Elle disait la bonne aventure, she was a good fortune teller. Dire des douceurs, des fleurettes à une fille, to make love to a young person—to tell her sweet things. Je lui ai dit son fait, I told him the plain truth—I spoke plainly to him.

Le cœur vous en dit-il? do you wish for any? Nous irons là, si le cœur vous en dit, we shall go there, if you feel so inclined.

(A dire.) Il trouve à dire—à redire—à ce que vous avez fait, he finds reason to blame—he finds fault with—what you have done. Elle trouve à redire à tout, she finds fault with every thing. Il y a bien à dire, beaucoup à dire sur sa proposition, there is much to be said in reference to his proposal. Avez-vous encore à dire? have you any more to say? Il y a bien à dire entre ces deux personnes, there is a great difference between these two persons. Il y a bien à dire que je n'aie mon compte, I am very far from having my due. Il y a pas à dire (non), il faut marcher, there is no saying nay; you must march.

Cela vous plaît à dire, it pleases you to say so. A vrai dire, à dire vrai, to speak the truth. Qu'est-ce à dire? what!—eh!—what do you please to say? Est-ce dire qu'il viendra, parce que—, does it follow that he will come, because—?

Avoir beau dire, to speak in vain. Vous avez beau dire, je ne vous crois pas, you speak in vain—you may talk away, I do not believe you.

Soit dit en passant, vous n'êtes pas toujours aimable, and we may add in passing—incidentally—you are not always amiable.

C'est tout dire, that is all. Pour tout dire, in a word.

Cela va sans dire, that is of course. Il va sans dire, qu'il refusera, it need not be said, that he will refuse.

(Raconter, réciter.) Je dirai vos exploits, I will tell—relate your deeds. Avez-vous dit votre leçon? have you said, repeated—your lesson? Il a bien dit son rôle, he spoke his part well. Dire la messe, to say mass. J'ai fait dire dix messes pour lui, I had ten masses said for him.

(T. de commerce.) Combien dites-vous de ces marchandises? how much do you offer for these things? Je n'en ai rien dit. I said nothing—offered nothing—for them. Dites-en un prix raisonnable, ask a reasonable price for it. C'est dit, tout est dit, it is settled. C'est bientôt dit, mais qui m'en fournira les moyens? that is soon—easily—said, but who will furnish me with the means? Voilà qui est bien dit, this is well spoken. Tout est dit, enough said—all is settled—agreed upon.

DIRE, s. m. Prouvez votre dire, prove your saying—what you have said. Au dire de tout le monde, il va se marier, according to the saying of every body—by what every body says—he is going to be married. Au dire des experts, in the opinion of the judges. Il étudie le bien dire, he studies eloquence—good speaking. Il est sur son bien dire, he studies what he says—he speaks affectedly. Le bien faire vaut mieux que le bien dire, good actions are better than fine words.

Soi-disant, would be; one calling himself.

DIT, adj. m. } Le dit Jean, the aforesaid John. Je me
DITE, adj. f. } rendais au dit lieu, I was going to the said place. Le susdit, the aforesaid.

DIRECT, E, adj. direct.

DIRECTE, s. f. (t. de féodal.), lordship direct.

DIRECTEMENT, adv. directly. Directement en face, directly opposite.

DIRECTEUR, s. m. } director; directress. (T. de bu- DIRECTRICE, s. f. } reau), director, manager.

DIRECTION, s. f. direction; (t. de bureau), direction, management.

DIRECTOIRE, s. m. (t. d'église), directory; rubric.

(T. de gouvernement.) Le Directoire Exécutif fut institué en France en 1795, et la gouverna jusqu'à l'établissement du consulat en 1799, the Executive Directory (composed of five members, who acted in turns) was instituted in France (1795), and governed it until the establishment of the consulship (1799).

DIRECTOR, s. m. (t. de chirurg.), director; guide.

DIRECTORAT, s. m. (t. de gouvernement), directorate; the office of director.

DIRECTORIAL, E, adj. directorial.

DIRIGEANT, adj. directing. Ministre dirigeant, acting minister.

DIRIGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to direct. Il nous dirige dans nos études, he directs us in our studies. Il a besoin de quelqu'un pour le diriger, he wants some one to direct—to guide—him. C'est lui qui dirige nos affaires, he directs—manages—our concerns. Dirigez vos regards de ce côté, direct—turn—your looks that way. De quel côté vous dirigez-vous? which way do you direct—turn—your steps? L'aiguille se dirige vers le nord, the needle turns to—points to—the north.

DIRIMANT, E, adj. (t. de législ.). Empêchement dirimant, an obstacle invalidating a marriage.

DISANT, E. Voyez Dire.

DISCALE, s. f. (t. de commerce), allowance for waste on the weight of goods; tret.

DISCERNEMENT, s. m. Faire le discernement des couleurs, to distinguish—to discern—colours.

(Sens moral), discernment; judgment. Agir sans discernement, to act inconsiderately, without discrimination.

DISCERNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to discern; to distinguish.

(Sens moral.) Discerner le bien du mal, to discern good and bad—to know good from evil. Comment discerner le flatteur d'avec l'ami? how can I distinguish the flatterer from the true friend?

DISCIPLE, s. m. (quelquefois féminin), disciple.

DISCIPLINABLE, adj. disciplinable; capable of instruction, of being ruled, taught.

DISCIPLINAIRE, adj. disciplinarian.

DISCIPLINE, s. f. discipline.

(T. militaire), discipline; regulations. L'ordre et la discipline s'augmentent avec les armées, good order and discipline increase proportionately with the army. Il a manqué à la discipline, he has offended against discipline, the regulations. Bataillons de discipline, battalions in which are incorporated ill behaved men to break them to discipline. Salle de discipline, guard room.

(T. d'église et de collége), scourge, whip, discipline. Il a reçu dix coups de discipline, he received ten cuts of the discipline. On lui a ordonné la discipline, his confessor has ordered him to use the discipline.

DISCIPLINER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to discipline; to rule. Nos soldats sont bien disciplinés, our soldiers are well disciplined. Notre armée commence à se discipliner, our army is getting well disciplined.

DISCOLORE, adj. of two colours.

DISCONTINU, E, adj. discontinuous; broken.

DISCONTINUATION, s. f. discontinuation; interruption; discontinuance; cessation from.

DISCONTINUER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to discontinue.

DISCONVENABLE, adj. unsuitable; improper. Il est disconvenable de parler ainsi, it is improper, unbecoming to speak in this manner.

DISCONVENABLEMENT, adv. unsuitably; improperly.

DISCONVENANCE, s. f. unsuitableness; disproportion; inequality; difference. (T. de gramm.), want of propriety; impropriety; unsuitableness.

DISCONVENIR, v. n. v. r. (verbe composé; voyez Venir). Il disconvient du fait, he denies—he does not own—the fact. Disconvenez-vous de me l'avoir dit? do you deny having told it me? Il en est disconvenu, he has denied—disowned it. Disconvenez-vous qu'il vous ait parlé? do you disown—deny his having spoken to you? Vous ne sauriez disconvenir que cela ne soit vrai, you cannot deny but that it is true. Je ne disconviens pas qu'il soit trop jeune, I do not deny his being too young.

Ils se disconviennent, they do not suit one another. Cet homme me disconvient, that man does not suit me.

DISCORD, s. m. misunderstanding. Nous sommes en discord, we have a misunderstanding.

DISCORD, adj. (t. de music.), out of tune; discordant.

DISCORDANCE, s. f. discordance.

DISCORDANT, E, adj. discordant; jarring.

DISCORDE, s. f. discord. Cette question fut pour eux une pomme de discorde, that question was a bone of contention for them—set them at variance.

(T. du jeu de l'hombre), the four kings.

DISCOUREUR, s. m. } talker. C'est un grand dis-
DISCOUREUSE, s. f. } coureur, he is great talker. C'est un beau discoureur, he is a fine speaker. Il fait le beau discoureur, he talks away—he is fluent with words.

DISCOURIR, v. n. (verbe composé, voyez Courir), to discourse, to speak. Nous discourons de votre affaire, we are discoursing—talking—of your concerns. Ils ne font que discourir, they talk away, that is all.

DISCOURS, s. m. speech. Il a fait un beau discours, he made a fine speech. Son discours sur la mort est sublime, his discourse on death is sublime.

(Commun.) Il a fait un discours sensé à ce sujet, what he said on this subject was very sensible. Changeons de discours, let us turn to some other subject of conversation. On a tenu des discours offensants sur lui, some one spoke offensively of him. Ce sont des discours frivoles, these are frivolous words. Cela est bon pour le discours, all that is very fine talking. Discours que tout cela, words, nothing but words!

DISCOURTEOIS, E, adj. discourteous.

DISCOURTEOISIE, s. f. discourtesy.

DISCRÉDIT, s. m. (t. de commerce). Les billets à cette maison sont dans le discrédit, the paper of that house is discredited—has fallen in public credit.

Ce système a tombé dans le discrédit, that system has fallen into disrepute.

DISCRÉDITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to discredit; to take the credit off.

DISCRET, ÈTE, adj. discreet; prudent. (Machin., discreet.

DISCRÈTEMENT, adv. discreetly; wisely; prudently.

DISCRÉTION, s. f. discretion. Il a beaucoup de discrétion, he has much discretion. Je me remets de cette affaire à votre discrétion, I leave that affair to your discretion. Nous nous mettons à votre discrétion, we surrender to your will entirely. (T. d'auberge, de pension.) On nous donne le vin à discrétion, they give us wine as much as we like. (T. milit.) Les soldats vivent à discrétion, the soldiers lived as they please. Se rendre à discrétion, to surrender at discretion. (T. de jeu.) Gagner, perdre une discrétion, to win, to lose a love game.

DISCRÉTIONNAIRE, adj. discretionary.

DISCRÉTOIRE, s. m. council room.

DISCULPER, v. a. v. r. to disculpate, to exculpate. Elle s'en est disculpée, she disculpated herself of it.

DISCURSIF, IVE, adj. (t. de logiq.), discursive.

DISCUSSIF, SIVE, adj. (t. de médec.), discutient.

DISCUSSION, s. f. discussion. S'engager dans une discussion, to engage—to enter—into a discussion, a debate.

DISCUTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to discuss. (T. de jurisp.) Discuter un débiteur en ses biens, to sell the goods of a debtor—to distrain him.

DISERT, E, adj. loquacious; copious; fluent.

DISERTEMENT, adv. fluently; copiously.

DISETTE, s. f. dearth; scarcity. Nous étions en la disette, we were suffering from scarcity—dearth, to DISETTEUX, EUSE, adj. suffering from scarcity from dearth.

DISEUR, s. m. } teller. C'est un diseur de nouvelles.
DISEUSE, s. f. } he is a news-teller. C'est un beau diseur, he is a fine speaker. L'entente est un diseur, a speaker knows what he means.

DISGRÂCE, s. f. Être en disgrâce, to be in disgrace—out of favour. Il est dans la disgrâce du prince, he is in disgrace with the prince. Prenez garde, vous encourez sa disgrâce, mind, you run the risk of falling into his disgrace.

Il lui est arrivé une grande disgrâce, he met with a great misfortune. Elle est pleine de disgrâce, she is full of awkwardness. Il met de la disgrâce dans tout le bien qu'il a fait, he is ungracious even in the good he does.

DISGRACIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le roi l'a disgracié, the king disgraced him—withdrew his favour from him.

Être disgracié de la nature, to be unfavoured—disfavoured by nature.

DISGRACIANT, E, adj. disgracing; bringing into blame; throwing into disgrace.

DISGRACIEUSEMENT, adv. ungraciously; unfavourably.

DISGRACIEUX, CIEUSE, adj. ungracious; unpleasant; disgraceful.

DISGRÉGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to separate.

DISJOINDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 7me conj. (Se Craindre), to disjoint; to disjoin; to separate.

DISJONCTIF, IVE, adj. disjunctive.

DISJONCTION, s. f. disjunction; separation.

DISLOCATION, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), dislocation; (séparation), separation; division; dismemberment; a country).

DISLOQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chir.), to dislocate; to put out of joint. Il s'est disloqué le bras, he put his arm out of joint—he dislocated his arm.

homme-là est tout disloqué, his limbs seem to be all out of joint—he does not seem to hold together.

Tout à coup, la machine se disloqua, on a sudden the machine came to pieces. Vous avez disloqué ma montre, you have disordered—deranged my watch.

DISPARAITRE, v. n. rég. 8me conj. (voyez Connaître), to disappear. La tache a entièrement disparu, the spot has completely disappeared. Il disparut à nos yeux, he disappeared from our eyes. Avec lui disparut la gloire de l'empire, with him the glories of the empire disappeared—vanished. Tous disparaissent devant lui, all are eclipsed by—vanished before—him.

Il a disparu de la cour, he has vanished from court. Il nous faudra bientôt disparaître du monde, soon we shall be obliged to withdraw—retire from the world. Le voilà disparu, behold he has vanished.

DISPARATE, s. f. disparate; incongruity; anomaly.

DISPARATE, adj. Ce sont des choses bien disparates, they are very incongruous—different things. Ornements disparates, mismatched—unsuitable—ornaments.

DISPAREIL, LE, adj. unlike; dissimilar.

DISPARITÉ, s. f. disparity; difference.

DISPARITION, s. f. disappearance.

DISPATRIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to expatriate; to banish; to expatriate one's self.

DISPENDIEUX, EUSE, adj. expensive; costly.

DISPENSAIRE, s. m. (t. de médec.), dispensary.

DISPENSATEUR, s. m. } dispenser; distributor.
DISPENSATRICE, s. f. }

DISPENSATION, s. f. dispensation; distribution.

DISPENSE, s. f. dispensation; licence. (Permission.) Il a obtenu une dispense de manger de la viande, he has obtained leave—permission—to eat meat.

DISPENSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Rien ne nous dispense de la loi commune, nothing can exempt us from the common law. Je suis dispensé de cette formalité, I am excused—exempted—from that formality. Dispensez-moi de venir, excuse me from coming—pray, dispense with my coming. Je vous dispense de le faire, I exempt you from doing it—I excuse you from doing it. Je vous en dispense, I excuse you.

Vous ne pouvez vous dispenser de vos devoirs, you cannot dispense with the fulfilment of your duty. Je voudrais pouvoir me dispenser d'y aller, I wish I could dispense with going. Puis-je me dispenser d'un passeport? can I dispense with having a passport? Nous nous en dispenserons de vous, we will dispense with you—we will do without you. Nous nous en sommes dispensés, we have done without it.

DISPENSER, v. a. to distribute; to dispense. Dieu dispense les biens et les maux aux hommes, God distributes, dispenses good and evil to men.

DISPERSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to disperse; to scatter. Il dispersa son argent, he dispersed—scattered his money. Il dispersa ses ennemis, he scattered—routed—his enemies.

Les nuages se sont dispersés, the clouds have scattered away—have dispersed.

DISPERSION, s. f. dispersion.

DISPONDÉE. Voyez Spondée.

DISPONIBILITÉ, s. f. (jurisp.), right of disposing (Militaire.) Être en disponibilité, to be ready for service in case one should be called—to be disposable.

DISPONIBLE, adj. available; at command; of which one may dispose. (T. militaire.) Les officiers disponibles ont été appelés, all disposable officers have been called to serve.

DISPOS, adj. active; nimble; ready; smart.

DISPOSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. L'architecte a bien disposé ces appartements, the architect disposed—arranged and laid out—these rooms well. Tout est mal disposé dans cette maison, every thing is badly arranged—contrived—distributed in that house. Le général avait bien disposé ses troupes, the general had disposed—laid out—ranged his troops well.

Une bonne promenade vous dispose à dormir, a good walk disposes you to sleep. Nous l'avons disposé à vous servir, we have made him well disposed to serve you.

Je me disposais à partir, I was about to go—preparing for going. Il est bien disposé pour vous, he is well disposed in your favour. Nous sommes disposés à y aller, we are ready—inclined—disposed to go. Je n'y suis nullement disposé, I am not at all inclined to—for it.

Nous allons tout disposer pour le bal, we are going to dispose—prepare every thing for the ball. Est-il disposé pour le bain? is he disposed—prepared—for his bath?

Comment comptez-vous disposer de lui? how do you intend disposing of him—what do you intend to make of him? Disposez de moi et de tout ce qui m'appartient, dispose of me—command me and all that belongs to me. Dieu a disposé de lui, God took him away. La providence en a autrement disposé, Providence ordered it otherwise.

Il a disposé de sa terre, he has sold his estate. Le malheureux dispose de tout, the poor fellow sells—disposes of—every thing. Il en a disposé, he has sold it.

DISPOSITIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), preparatory.

DISPOSITIF, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), dispositive.

DISPOSITION, s. f. La disposition de son armée était avantageuse, the arrangement—disposition of his troops was advantageous. Il avait fait de belles dispositions, he had made good dispositions. Nous allons faire nos dispositions pour le voyage, we are going to make our arrangements—our preparations for the journey. Nous nous mettions en disposition de travailler, we were disposing ourselves to work—we were making our arrangements to work. Je l'ai laissé dans la disposition de sortir, when I left him he was ready—had made arrangements—to go out.

Dans quelle disposition est-il? what is his inclination—what is he inclined to do? Je ne le crois pas dans la disposition de consentir, I do not think he is disposed to consent. Je suis dans la même disposition, I am in the same disposition—temper—humour. Il a de bonnes dispositions pour vous, he is well disposed in your favour—he is favourably inclined towards you. La disposition des esprits, the public mind. Il n'était pas en bonne disposition ce matin, he was not in good humour this morning. Le pauvre homme est en mauvaise disposition, the poor man is in a bad state of health.

Ce jeune homme a de grandes dispositions, this youth has great natural abilities. Il a beaucoup de disposition aux langues, he has much talent for languages. Il manque de dispositions, he is deficient in abilities—in facility to learn. Il montre peu de disposition, he shows little ability.

Je laisse tout à votre disposition, I leave every thing at your disposal. Je suis à votre disposition, I am at your service, commands. Tout était à ma disposition, all was at my disposal, at my command.—I disposed of—managed—every thing. J'ai 10,000 fr. à ma disposition, I have 10,000 fr. at my command.

Il vient de faire ses dispositions testamentaires, he has just made his last will—his last dispositions.

DISPROPORTION, s. f. disproportion.

DISPROPORTIONNÉ, E, adj. disproportionate; unsuitable; unequal.

DISPROPORTIONNÉMENT, adv. disproportionately; unequally.

DISPUTABLE, adj. disputable.

DISPUTAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to wrangle; to contend.

DISPUTAILLERIE, s. f. cavilling; petty quarrels, disputations.

DISPUTAILLEUR, s. m. } caviller; one who is fond DISPUTAILLEUSE, s. f. } of disputing; a person of disputative temper; disputatious.

DISPUTATEUR, s. m. } disputant; controversist.
DISPUTATRICE, s. f. }

DISPUTATION, s. f. disputation.

DISPUTE, s. f. dispute; debate.

DISPUTER, v. a. v. r. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dispute; to debate. Je ne veux pas disputer contre vous, I would not dispute—argue with you. Il ne faut pas disputer des goûts, there is no disputing about tastes. Cet homme disputerait sur la pointe d'une aiguille, he would cavil about a pin's head.

Ces deux femmes disputent de beauté, these two women contend for—dispute the prize of—beauty. Je lui ai disputé le prix de mathématiques, I disputed with him—I contended with him for—the prize of mathematics. Deux rivaux se disputent sa main, two rivals are contending for—disputing—her hand. Les assiégés disputèrent longtemps le terrain, the besieged disputed every inch of ground.

Il le dispute à ce général en valeur, he vies with that general as to valour—he disputes the prize of valour with that general.

DISPUTEUR, s. m. disputer.

DISQUE, s. m. disk; (t. de bot.), discus; (t. de jeu), quait. Lancer le disque, to throw a quoit.

DISQUISITION, s. f. disquisition.

DISSECTION, s. f. dissection.

DISSEMBLABLE, adj. dissimilar; different.

DISSEMBLANCE, s. f. dissimilarity; difference.

DISSÉMINATION, s. f. dissemination.

DISSÉMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to disseminate; to scatter.

DISSENSION, s. f. dissension; discord.

DISSENTIMENT, s. m. difference of sentiment, opinion.

DISSÉQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dissect.

DISSÉQUEUR, s. m. dissecter.

DISSERTATEUR, s. m. dissertator; arguer.

DISSERTATION, s. f. dissertation.

DISSERTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dissert; to discuss.

DISSIDENCE, s. f. dissidence; discord.

DISSIDENT, E, adj. dissident.

DISSIDENT, s. m. dissenter.

DISSIMILAIRE, adj. dissimilar.

DISSIMULATEUR, s. m. dissembler.

DISSIMULATION, s. f. dissimulation. Il est d'une dissimulation profonde, he is a deep dissembler.

DISSIMULÉ, E, adj. C'est un homme dissimulé, he is uncandid; he conceals what he thinks—he always disguises his real way of thinking. Caractère dissimulé, a dissembling disposition—a deceitful disposition.

DISSIMULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dissemble; to disguise; to conceal. Dissimulez votre haine, dissemble your hatred—do not let it be seen. Je ne vous dissimulerai pas que cela me chagrine, I will not dissemble—conceal—from you that I am distressed by that. Comment dissimuler ces défauts? how shall we disguise, conceal these faults? Je ne me dissimule pas qu'il y aura de la difficulté, I do not disguise to myself—I do not try to conceal from myself—that there will be difficulty.

Dissimuler une injure, to conceal the sense of an affront—not to appear to feel it.

DISSIPATEUR, s. m. } spendthrift; squanderer.
DISSIPATRICE, s. f. }

DISSIPATION, s. f. dissipation. Vivre dans la dissipation, to live in dissipation; to lead a dissipated life.

(Récréation.) Vous travaillez trop, il vous faut un peu de dissipation, you work too much; you require a little relaxation—amusement.

DISSIPER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Notre canon dissipa leur armée, our cannon scattered—dispersed—their army. Le soleil dissipe les nuages, the sun scatters—drives away—dissipates the clouds. Il faut dissiper ces faux bruits, these false reports must be dissipated. Dissipez ces doutes, dispel these doubts. Comme vous dissipez votre temps, how you do waste your time. Il dissipa sa jeunesse dans les plaisirs, he wasted his youth in pleasures. Il eut bientôt dissipé toute sa fortune, he had soon dissipated, squandered all his fortune. Notre armée se dissipa, our army vanished. Le brouillard se dissipe the fog is dissipating—dispersing.

Ce jeu dissipe l'esprit, this game amuses—relieves—the mind. J'ai besoin de me dissiper, I want a little amusement—relaxation. Dissipez-vous un peu, get a little amusement.

Il a l'esprit dissipé, he has a frivolous mind—a dissipated mind. Il est fort dissipé, he is very dissipate. Évitez les hommes dissipés, avoid dissipated men.

DISSOLU, E, adj. dissolute; loose in manners. En parlant des choses), loose; free; dissolute.

DISSOLUBLE, adj. Voyez Soluble.

DISSOLUMENT, adv. dissolutely.

DISSOLUTIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), dissolvent.

DISSOLUTION, s. f. (séparation), dissolution. Le roi a prononcé la dissolution de la Chambre, the king promulgated the dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies. La dissolution de cette société est annoncée, the dissolution of that company is announced. La dissolution du corps et de l'âme, death; dissolution; the separation of the soul from the soul. (T. de chimie), dissolution.

(Débauche), dissoluteness. La dissolution des mœurs est honteuse, the dissolute state of morals is shameful. Il est plongé dans toutes sortes de dissolutions, he is sunk in all sorts of debaucheries. Évitez la dissolution, avoid dissoluteness—dissolute habits.

DISSOLVANT, E, adj. (t. de chimie), dissolvent.

DISSOLVANT, s. m. (t. de chimie), dissolvent; menstruum.

DISSONANCE, s. f. (t. de musique), dissonance.

DISSONANT, E, adj. (t. de musique), dissonant; out of tune, discordant.

DISSONER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to cause a dissonance, a discord; to be out of tune.

DISSOUDRE, v. a. v. r. irrég. Dissoudre, dissolvant, dissous, dissoute; je dissous; je dissolvais; je dissoudrai; je dissoudrais; que je dissolve; dissolvons, to dissolve. L'eau dissout le sucre, le sel sucre dissolves sugar, salt. (T. de médec.) Dissoudre un gorgement, to dissolve, to reduce a swelling. (Sync. rompre.) Le parlement est dissous, parliament is dissolved. Le mariage se dissout par la mort, marriage is dissolved by death. Leur société va se dissoudre, their society is about to dissolve—to be dissolved. Faire dissoudre cela dans l'eau, dissolve that in water.

DISSUADER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dissuade. Nous l'avons dissuadé de ce voyage, de partir, we dissuaded him from that journey—from going away.

DISSUASIF, SIVE, adj. dissuasive.

DISSUASION, s. f. dissuasion.

DISSYLLABE, s. m. disyllable.

DISSYLLABIQUE, adj. disyllabic.

DISTANCE, s. f. distance. Quelle est la distance de Caen à Granville? what is the distance from Caen to Granville? Ils sont placés à égale distance les uns des autres, they are placed at equal distances the one from the other. À une distance de 20 pieds, at 20 feet distant—at a distance of 20 feet. N'oubliez pas la distance qui nous sépare, keep your distance—do not forget the distance which is between us. Le mariage rapproche les distances, marriage destroys inequality of rank. Il sait tenir son monde à distance, he knows how to keep people at a distance. Autant que la distance de temps me permet de juger, il —, as much as we are able to judge from the interval of time, it —.

(T. de marine.) Prendre des distances, to take lunar observations.

DISTANT, E, adj. distant. Ces deux villes sont distantes que de cinq lieues, these two towns are only five leagues distant.

DISTENDRE, v. a. rég. 3me conj. (voyez Vendre de médec.), to distend.

DISTENSION, s. f. (t. de médec.), distention.

DISTILLATEUR, s. m. distiller.

DISTILLATION, s. f. distillation.

DISTILLATOIRE, adj. distillatory.

DISTILLER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Distiller du vin pour en faire de l'eau de vie, to distil wine to make brandy. De l'eau distillée, distilled water. (Fig.) Il distillait sa rage, he poured out—vented his rage. Il distille ses pensées, he deals out his ideas one by one.

Des gouttes d'eau distillaient de la voûte, drops of water trickled from the vault. Le pauvre malheureux se distillait en larmes, the poor wretch melted into tears

Le venin de son cœur distillait de sa bouche, the poison of his heart oozed out at his mouth. Il fit distiller du sang d'un caillou, he drew blood from a stone.

DISTILLERIE, s. f. distillery.

DISTINCT, E, adj. distinct; (fig.), distinct; clear.

DISTINCTEMENT, adv. distinctly.

DISTINCTIF, IVE, adj. distinctive.

DISTINCTION, s. f. distinction. Vous avez écrit cela sans distinction de paragraphes, you wrote all this indistinctly—without distinction of paragraphs. Faites distinction des personnes, make a distinction—distinguish between the persons.

Il rétablit les distinctions sociales, he restored the social distinctions. Il aime les distinctions, he is fond of the distinctions of society. On le traita avec distinction, he was treated with distinction. Il reçoit des personnes de distinction, he is visited by people of distinction. C'est un officier de distinction, he is an officer of note—highly distinguished. Il exerce son état avec distinction, he exercises his business with distinction—in a distinguished manner. C'est un emploi de distinction, it is a dignified office.

DISTINGUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to distinguish. Nous ne pouvions plus distinguer les objets, we could not any longer distinguish the objects. Comment distinguer les bons d'avec les mauvais? how are you to distinguish the good from the bad ones? Il faut distinguer entre les, you must distinguish—make a difference—between them. Je saurai vous distinguer de lui, I shall know how to distinguish between you and him. Distinguez les différents sens de ce mot, point out—distinguish the various acceptations of this word. C'est là ce qui distingue notre siècle des autres, that is the distinctive mark of our age over the others.

Il se distinguait des autres par sa taille, he was distinguished by his size. Il se distinguera par son talent, he will be distinguished by his talent. C'est un homme à distinguer, he is a highly distinguished man. Il est de naissance distinguée, he is highly born.

DISTIQUE, s. m. distich.

DISTORS, E, adj. distorted; misshapen.

DISTORSION, s. f. distortion.

DISTRACTION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), abstraction; subtraction, deduction. Faire distraction d'une somme en faveur de quelqu'un, to deduct—to allow a sum in favour of a person. A-t-on fait distraction des dépens? have the expenses been allowed for?

Inattention.) Il a fait cela par distraction, he has done that without thinking—in an absent moment. Il a une grande distraction, he is very absent. Quelques distractions, he is frequently absent. Qu'est-ce qui lui donne ces distractions? what makes him so absent?—what causes those fits of absence?

Amusement, soulagement.) Il vous faut un peu de distraction, you want a little amusement. Le voyage est une distraction à sa douleur, travelling turns his attention from his grief.

DISTRAIRE, v. a. irr. (voyez Traire), to subtract, to deduct. Il faut distraire ces papiers de ceux qui me concernent, these papers must be subtracted—separated—from those which—concern me.

Fig.) Il me distrait de mes études, he diverts me—turns me away—from my studies. La moindre chose le distrait, the slightest thing takes my attention—turns my attention away.

Cherchez de le distraire, try to amuse him. Il faut vous distraire de votre travail un peu, you must relax a little—take a little relaxation from your work. Il veut s'aller, rien ne peut l'en distraire, he will go there, nothing can turn his mind from it.

C'est un homme distrait, he is an absent man. Il a l'air distrait, he is absent—his mind is thinking of something else. s. m. Le distrait, the absent man.

DISTRAYANT, E, adj. attractive; amusing; entertaining.

DISTRIBUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to distribute. Il distribuait des aumônes aux pauvres, he distributed alms to the poor.

Le roi a distribué des honneurs, des grâces, the king distributed honours, favours, &c. Le sang se distribue du cœur dans les artères, the blood is distributed from the heart in the arteries. (T. d'imprimerie.) Distribuer la lettre, to distribute letter, type.

(Diviser), to lay out. Distribuer des appartements, to lay out rooms.

DISTRIBUTEUR, s. m. } distributer; dispenser.
DISTRIBUTRICE, s. f. }

DISTRIBUTIF, IVE, adj. distributive.

DISTRIBUTION, s. f. distribution; (t. d'archit.), laying out.

DISTRIBUTIVEMENT, adv. distributively.

DISTRICT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), district. Cela n'est pas de mon district, that does not belong to my province. (Statistique), part of a département.

DIT, s. m. saying. Avoir son dit et son dédit, to have the privilege of saying yes and nay.

DITHYRAMBE, s. m. dithyrambus.

DITHYRAMBIQUE, adj. dithyrambic.

DITTO, } (t. de commerce), ditto; also.

DITON, s. m. (t. de musique), ditone.

DIURÉTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), diuretic.

DIURÉTIQUE, s. m. (t. de médec.), diuretic.

DIURNAL, s. m. diurnal; daily prayer-book.

DIURNE, s. m. (astron.), diurnal.

DIURNE, adj. diurnal.

DIVAGATEUR, TRICE, s. m. f. adj. wanderer; rambler. Wandering; rambling.

DIVAGATION, s. f. wandering; incoherent talk; ramble. Se jeter dans des divagations qui font perdre l'objet de vue, to wander away from the subject, to lose sight of it.

DIVAGUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to wander; to ramble about. (Fig.) Cet homme ne fait que divaguer, that man does nothing but wander—talk incoherently.

DIVAN, s. m. Le divan impérial, the divan, the council; the council chamber of the Turks. (T. de tapissier), sofa, divan.

Café divan, divan, divan (modern coffee-houses, where people smoke).

DIVARICATION, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), divarication; opening.

DIVARIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to divaricate.

DIVE, adj. f. (vieux mot), divine; s. f. goddess.

DIVERGENCE, s. f. divergence; (fig.), opposition; variety.

DIVERGENT, E, adj. divergent.

DIVERGER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to diverge.

DIVERS, E, adj. Il a parlé à diverses personnes, he spoke to several—to various people. Je lui en ai parlé en divers temps et lieux, I mentioned it to him several times, and in different places. Ils sont d'opinions diverses, they are of different opinions. Il nous envoya diverses sortes d'étoffes, he sent to us various—divers sorts of stuffs. A diverses fois, at various times.

DIVERSEMENT, adv. variously; diversely; differently. [to vary.

DIVERSIFIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to diversify;

DIVERSION, s. f. diversion. On parla de nouvelles pour faire diversion, some one talked about the news of the day, to make a diversion—to divert our minds from the subject. Voyez vos amis, cela fera diversion à votre chagrin, visit your friends, it will be a diversion from your sorrow—it will divert your mind from your sorrow. Le général entra dans le pays pour faire diversion, the general entered the country to make a diversion.

DIVERSITÉ, s. f. diversity; difference; variety.

DIVERTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir). On l'accuse d'avoir diverti les fonds de l'usage auquel ils étaient destinés, he is charged with having diverted the funds from their intended use. Il a diverti des papiers importants, he has diverted—appropriated to himself—important documents. Cette somme a été divertie, that sum was diverted—abstracted.

Nous n'avons pu le divertir de ce dessein, we could not turn him away—divert him—from this intention.

DIVERTIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 3de conj. On ne sait comment divertir ces enfants, we know not what to do to amuse—to entertain these children. Divertissons-nous, let us enjoy ourselves. Nous nous sommes bien divertis à la campagne, we enjoyed ourselves much in the country. Ils se divertissaient à jouer à la paume, they were amusing themselves with playing at tennis. Nous nous divertirons à ses dépens, we shall laugh at his expense. Ces messieurs veulent se divertir, these gentlemen are laughing.

DIVERTISSANT, E, adj. amusing; laughable.

DIVERTISSEMENT, s. m. amusement; diversion; recreation.

(T. de théâtre), entertainment; ballet.

(T. de jurisp.), embezzlement; diversion.

DIVIDENDE, s. m. (t. de banque, de commerce), dividend; (t. d'arith.), dividend.

DIVIN, E, adv. divine. Le culte divin, the divine worship. Il y a là quelque chose de divin, there is something divine in this; (fam.), excellent; perfect.

DIVINATION, s. f. divination.

DIVINATOIRE, adj. divinatory.

DIVINEMENT, adv. divinely.

DIVINISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to deify.

DIVINITÉ, s. f. divinity; deity.

DIVIS, s. m. Posséder par divis, to come to possession after a division has been made.

DIVISÉMENT, adv. dividedly.

DIVISER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to divide. Il divisa sa fortune entre ses enfants, he divided his fortune between his children. Il le divisa en trois parts, he divided it into three lots. Divisez cette somme par sept, divide this number by seven. Le fleuve se divise en deux branches, the river divides into two arms. L'intérêt a divisé cette famille, interest divided that family. Ne vous divisez pas, tenez-vous réunis, do not divide, keep united. Nous sommes divisés d'intérêt, we are divided in interest.

DIVISEUR, s. m. (t. d'arith.), divisor.

DIVISIBILITÉ, s. f. divisibility.

DIVISIBLE, adj. divisible.

DIVISION, s. f. division; dividing. La division de ces biens était difficile, the dividing of that property presented difficulties. La division par chapitres est plus commode, the division into chapters is more convenient. Les divisions ne sont pas distinctement marquées, the divisions are not clearly marked out. Il y a de la division dans cette famille, there is division—misunderstanding—in that family. La France est divisée en divisions militaires, France is divided into military divisions. Il commandait une division de l'armée, he commanded a division in the army. Il est général de division, he is a lieutenant general. Notre division était de cinq vaisseaux et deux frégates, our squadron, division, was composed of five men of war, and two frigates. (T. de bureaucratie.) Chef de division d'un ministère, under secretary of state, (having the direction of one of the departments of a ministry.) (T. d'imprimerie.) Voyez Tiret.

DIVISIONNAIRE, adj. divisionary.

DIVORCE, s. m. divorce. (Fig.) Ce mari et cette femme sont dans un continuel divorce, that couple are continually wrangling—disputing. Il a fait divorce avec les plaisirs, he has bid adieu to—he has forsworn—pleasure.

DIVORCER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to divorce; to separate C'est une femme divorcée, she is a divorced woman.

DIVULGATION, s. f. divulgation; divulging.

DIVULGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to divulge.

DIX, s. m. ten. Le dix du mois, the tenth of the month.

DIX, adj. ten. Il y avait dix hommes, there were ten men. Il y en avait dix-sept, there were seventeen. Je vous l'ai déjà dit plus de dix fois, I have already told it you above ten times.

Voyez page dix, chapitre dix, see at page the tenth, chapter the tenth. Louis dix, Roi de France, Lewis the tenth, King of France.

DIXIÈME, s. m. Prenez le dixième, take the tenth part; the tenth.

DIXIÈME, adj. teuth.

DIXIÈMEMENT, adv. tenthly; in the tenth place.

DIZAIN, s. m. ten; a couplet of ten lines. Dites un dizain, to tell a rosary of ten beads. Un dizain de cartes, ten packs of cards.

DIZAINE, s. f. ten; (formerly), a division of Paris.

DIZEAU, s. m. ten sheaves.

DIZENIER, s. m. an officer having ten men under his command.

D-LA-RÉ, s. m. (ancien terme de musique), the key of D.

DOCILE, adj. docile; obedient; teachable.

DOCILEMENT, adv. in a docile manner; with docility.

DOCILITÉ, s. f. docility; teachableness.

DOCISMATIQUE, s. f. (t. de métallurgie), obstinacy.

DOCTE, adj. learned.

DOCTEMENT, adv. learnedly.

DOCTEUR, s. m. doctor. Docteur en théologie, doctor in divinity. Docteur en droit, doctor in law. Docteur en médecine, a physician; M. D. Docteur ès arts, doctor in arts. Prendre le bonnet de docteur, to take the degree of doctor. Il a passé docteur, he has been admitted to the degree of doctor. Docteur-régent, a teacher in the University. Consultez votre docteur, consult your physician—your medical man. Il a beaucoup étudié cette science, il y est docteur, he has deeply studied the science, he is a proficient in it. Il fait le docteur, he puts on a learned look.

C'est ce qu'enseignent les docteurs, it is what the doctors teach.

DOCTORAL, E, adj. doctoral.

DOCTORAT, s. m. degree of doctor; doctorate.

DOCTORERIE, s. f. (t. d'université), doctrinal science.

DOCTRINAIRE, s. m. (politique), man of very strict discipline, but narrow doctrine.

DOCTRINAIRE, adj. doctrinary; (politique), doctrinarian.

DOCTRINAL, E, adj. doctrinal.

DOCTRINE, s. f. doctrine. (Savoir.) C'est un homme d'une grande doctrine, he is a very learned man—of great learning.

DOCUMENT, s. m. document.

DODÉCAÈDRE, s. m. (t. de géom.), dodecahedron.

DODÉCAGONE, s. m. (t. de géom.), dodecagon.

DODÉCANDRIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), dodecandria.

DODINER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to trouble one's self to take great care of one's self. v. n. Ce balancier dodine bien, this pendulum works regularly.

DODO, Faire, Aller à dodo (t. familier), to sleep—to go to sleep.

DODU, E, adj. plump.

DOGARESSE, s. f. dogaressa; the doge's wife.

DOGAT, s. m. the diguity of doge.

DOGE, s. m. doge.

DOGMATIQUE, s. m. dogmatism.

DOGMATIQUE, adj. dogmatical.

DOGMATIQUEMENT, adv. dogmatically.

DOGMATISER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dogmatize.

DOGMATISEUR, s. m. dogmatizer.

DOGMATISTE, s. m. dogmatist.

DOGME, s. m. dogma.

DOGRE, s. m. (t. de marine), dogger.

DOGUE, s. m. bull-dog. (Fam.) Être d'une humeur de dogue, to be in a very bad humour.

DOGUIN, E, s. m. f. the whelp of a bull-dog.

DOIGT, s. m. finger. Il a les doigts longs, he has long fingers. Les doigts de la main, the fingers. Les doigts du pied, the toes. Le doigt du milieu, the middle finger. Le gros doigt, the big toe. Les jointures des doigts, the joints of the fingers. J'ai mal au doigt, I have a sore finger—I have something the matter with my finger. Il porte une bague au doigt, he wears a ring on his finger. Il compte sur—par—ses doigts, he counts with his fingers. Il ne s'en fallait pas un travers de doigt, it did not want a finger's breadth. Ouvrez les doigts, open your fingers. Se boucher les yeux en ouvrant les doigts, to look through your fingers. C'était bon, mais il n'y en avait qu'à lécher-doigt, it was good, but there was enough only for a taste. On le montre au doigt dans les rues, he is pointed at in the streets. Vous vous ferez montrer au doigt, you will be remarked. On vous donnera sur les doigts si vous faites de ces choses-là, if you act in this way, you will get a rap on your knuckles. Il en a eu sur les doigts, he has been punished—his knuckles have been rapped. Je m'en suis mordu les doigts, I have repented. Cela est une bague au doigt, this is gold in bar—this is a very advantageous thing. Cet homme là a des yeux au bout des doigts, that man has eyes at his fingers' end. Il a de l'esprit jusqu'au bout des doigts, he is extremely clever. Il y met les quatre doigts et le pouce, he does things clumsily—heavily. Ils sont comme les deux doigts de la main, they are inseparable, like the finger and thumb of the hand. Ne mettez pas le doigt entre l'arbre et l'écorce, do not meddle with the private matters of others—between man and wife. Il ne fait œuvre de ses dix doigts, he does not put his fingers to a single thing—he does nothing. Il sait cela sur le bout du doigt, he has it at his fingers' end. Je n'y toucherais pas du bout du doigt, I would not touch it with the tip of my finger. Je vous le ferai toucher au doigt et à l'œil, I will bring the matter clearly before you. Il se fait obéir au doigt et à l'œil, every body is at his beck and call. Il est servi au doigt et à l'œil, every body is at his beck and call. Vous avez mis le doigt dessus, you have hit the right nail on the head. Sa montre va au doigt et à l'œil, his watch wants setting every minute. Mon petit doigt me l'a dit, a little bird told it me. Les doigts lui démangent, his fingers are itching—he must touch every thing. Jouer à—tirer au—doigt mouillé, a sort of game which consists in wetting one finger, and making the adverse party guess which.

Pêcher au doigt, to fish with a line without a rod.

(Mesure.) Elle a grandi de deux doigts depuis peu, she has grown two fingers-breadth lately. La rivière a monté de trois doigts, the river has risen about two inches. Versez-moi un doigt de vin, give me a drop of wine. Elle s'était mis un doigt de rouge, she had put on a little rouge. Il était à deux doigts de sa perte, he was within an inch of his ruin. Il lui a fait un doigt de cour, he paid her a little attention.

DOIGTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de musiq.), to [finger.

DOIGTER, s. m. (t. de musiq.), fingering.

DOIGTIER, s. m. finger stall.

DOIT (t. de commerce). Voyez Devoir.

DOL, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), deceit.

DOLCE, adv. (t. de musiq. emprunté de l'Italien), softly.

DOLÉANCE, s. f. complaint; grievance.

DOLEMMENT, adv. dolefully.

DOLENT, E, adj doleful.

DOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de métier), to plane.

DOLIMAN, s. m. sort of Turkish gown or pelisse.

DOLLAR, s. m. (American coin worth 4*s.*), dollar.

DOLMAN, s. m. a hussar's jacket.

DOLOIRE, s. f. (t. de métiers), plane; addice.

DOM, s. m. (abrégé de Dominus, Seigneur). Voyez DOM.

DOMAINE, s. m. domain. Il vient d'hériter d'un beau domaine, he has lately inherited a large domain—Cela tombe dans le domaine public avec le temps, that, in time, becomes public property. (Fig.) Cela n'est de mon domaine, that is no part of my province.

DOMANIAL, E, adj. pertaining to a domain.

DOMANISTE, s. m. an officer in the Domain office.

DÔME, s. m. dome. Un dôme de feuillage, a green arch; (Fig.) Un dôme de feuillage, a green arch; an alley.

DOMERIE, s. f. a name sometimes given to abbeys and hospitals.

DOMESTICITÉ, s. f. servitude. On n'a pas voulu prendre à cause de la domesticité, they would not hear him on account of his being a servant. État de domesticité, the domestic state.

Toute la domesticité était présente, all the servants were present.

DOMESTIQUE, s. m. f. servant; man servant; domestic. Il a un très-bon domestique, he has a good domestic, man servant. Il avait deux domestiques en livrée, he had two livery footmen. J'envoie ma domestique au marché, I send my maid—my housekeeper to market. Il vient de changer tout son domestique, he has recently changed his whole establishment—all his servants.

Je n'aime pas que l'on se mêle de mon domestique, I do not like people to meddle with my domestic affairs—my household concerns. Ils ne sauront pas ce qui se passe dans mon domestique, they shall not be acquainted with what passes in my family.

DOMESTIQUE, adj. Affaires domestiques, domestic affairs. Il a éprouvé des chagrins domestiques, he has met with domestic—private sorrows. État domestique, servitude. Emploi domestique, domestic work, occupation. Guerres domestiques, domestic—civil—wars.

DOMESTIQUEMENT, adv. domestically; as a servant. Il vit domestiquement avec nous, he lives with us as one of the family.

DOMESTIQUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to domesticate, to tame. Il n'a jamais pu se domestiquer avec nous, he never could domesticate himself—become domesticated—with us.

DOMICILE, s. m. domicile; residence. Il a un domicile à Paris, he has a domicile—is domiciliated at Paris. C'est un homme sans domicile, he is a man without a house of his own—having no regular residence—he has no home. Changement de domicile, removal. Nous allons changer de domicile, we are about to move—to change our abode.

L'exploit lui a été servi à domicile, the warrant was served on him at his residence. La société envoie des secours à domicile, the society sends assistance to the sufferers' houses. Ils envoient des bains à domicile, they send baths out—to your own house.

DOMICILIAIRE, adj. domiciliary.

DOMICILIER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to domiciliate; to take a domicile, a residence. Où êtes-vous domicilié? where are you domiciliated—where is your residence, abode, dwelling?

DOMINANT, E, adj. dominating; reigning. C'est là sa passion dominante, this is his ruling passion. C'est le goût dominant du jour, this is the predominating taste of the day. Il y a là une idée dominante, there is in that a prevailing—ruling idea. Religion dominante, the established religion.

DOMINANTE, s. f. (t. de musique), dominant.

DOMINATEUR, s. m. } dominator; ruler.
DOMINATRICE, s. f. }

DOMINATEUR, TRICE, adj. ruling.

DOMINATION, s. f. domination; rule; ruling power.

DOMINER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dominate; to rule. Il domine sur tout le monde, he domineers over all the world. Le ministre domine le prince, the minister rules the prince. L'ambition domine chez lui, ambition is his over-ruling—predominating passion. Le poivre domine dans cette sauce, pepper is predominant in this sauce. Le château domine toute la plaine, the castle commands the plain. Apprenez à dominer les événements, learn to command—to be the master of—events. Les passions le dominent, passions have the mastery of—supreme dominion over—him.

DOMINICAIN, s. m. } dominican; monk, nun of the DOMINICAINE, s. f. } order of St. Dominique.

DOMINICAL, E, adj. dominical.

DOMINO, s. m. (t. de bal masqué), domino. Elle était en domino, she wore a domino. Elle portait un domino bleu, she was disguised in a blue domino. J'ai parlé long-temps à un domino que je n'ai pu reconnaître, I spoke for a long time to a masker, in a domino, whom I could not recognise.

(T. de jeu.) Jouer au domino, to play at dominos.

Apportez-nous un domino, bring us a box of dominos. J'ai fait domino, I made domino—I won the game. (T. de métiers.) Du papier domino, marbled paper.

DOMINOTERIE, s. f. (t. de métiers), stained paper.

DOMINOTIER, s. m. (t. de métiers), stained paper merchant.

DOMMAGE, s. m. La grêle a fait beaucoup de dommage aux blés, the hail has done considerable damage—mischief—injury—to the corn. Ces observations me portent dommage, these remarks are injurious, detrimental to me. Nous avons éprouvé de grands dommages, we suffered great damage—losses—injury. Tout cela est arrivé sans dommage, all has arrived safe—without damage.

C'est dommage, it is a pity. C'est dommage que vous ne soyez pas arrivé plus-tôt, it is a pity you did not arrive sooner.

(T. de juriſp.) Il demande des dommages et intérêts, he claims damages and interest.

DOMMAGEABLE, adj. injurious; detrimental.

DOMPTABLE, adj. (pron. don-ta-ble), tameable; manageable. Ce cheval n'est pas domptable, this horse is unmanageable—ungovernable.

DOMPTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Dompter les nations, les peuples, to subdue—to reduce nations, people. Dompter un jeune homme, to subdue, to subjugate, to curb, to manage—a youth. Dompter un cheval, un animal, to break, to tame, a horse, an animal. (Fig.) Apprenez à dompter vos passions, learn to master, to conquer your passions. Domptez-vous, master yourself.

DOMPTEUR, s. m. subduer; tamer.

DOMPTE-VENIN, s. m. (bot.), swallow wort.

DON, s. m. gift. Il lui a fait don d'une montre, he made her a gift—the gift—of a watch. Gardez-le, je vous en fais don, keep it, I give it to you—I make you a gift of it. Il en obtint le don du roi, he obtained the gift—the donation—of it of the king.

La terre nous refusait ses dons, the earth denied us her gifts—her blessings. Il jouissait des dons les plus heureux, he enjoyed the happiest gifts—blessings—advantages. (Fam.) Il a le don de déplaire à tout le monde, he has the gift—the happy knack—of displeasing every body.

DON, s. m. (abrégé de Dominus, que l'on emploie en Italie et en Portugal), Lord. Don Luis de Haro, Don Luis, Lord Lewis of Haro. Don Giovanni, Don Juan, Lord John. Voyez Dom.

DONA, s. f. (abrégé de Domina), Lady. Où est Dona Isabella? where is Lady Isabella?

(It must be observed that Don and Dona are used in courtesy, to persons who are not noble.)

DONATAIRE, s. m. (t. de juriſp.), donee.

DONATEUR, s. m. } donor; (commun.), giver.
DONATRICE, s. f. }

DONATION, s. f. donation; gift.

DONC, conj. therefore; then. Je pense, donc j'existe, I think, therefore I exist.

Ainsi donc vous refusez, so then you refuse. Votre père est donc arrivé, so then, indeed, your father has come? Qu'avez-vous donc? what can be the matter with you? Que dit-il donc là? what is he saying—what can be he saying? Qu'ai-je donc fait pour être si mal traité? what have I done to be so ill used?

Dites-moi donc ce qui est arrivé, do tell me what has happened. Répondez donc, do answer.

Dites donc! I say!

DONDON, s. f. Il a épousé une grosse dondon, he has married a plump, jolly girl. Une bonne grosse dondon, a lusty woman. [belvidere.

DONJON, s. m. dungeon; keep; cell; small tower;

DONJONNÉ, E, adj. towered.

DONNANT, E, adj. giving. Il n'est pas donnant he is no giver—he does not like to give.

Donnant, Donnant, give and take.

DONNE, s. f. (t. de jeu de cartes), deal. À vous la donne, it is for you to deal—the deal is yours.

DONNÉES, s. f. (t. de mathém.), data.

DONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to give. Donnez de l'argent à ce pauvre homme, give money to that poor man. Que lui avez vous donné? what have you given him? Elle m'a donné une jolie baque, she gave me a pretty ring. Donner l'aumône, to give alms. Venez, je vous donnerai quelque chose à faire, come, I will give you something to do. Je lui ai donné une lettre à porter à la poste, I gave him a letter to carry to the post-office. Nous ne lui donnons pas de gros gages, we do not give him—pay him—large wages. Combien lui donnez-vous par mois—par leçon? how much do you pay—give him a month, a lesson? Je vous en donnerai dix shelins, I will give you ten shillings for it. La promenade m'a donné de l'appétit, the walk gave me an appetite. Donnez-nous à manger, give us something to eat. Il donne à dîner aujourd'hui, he gives a dinner party to-day. Ici on donne à boire et à manger, repasts to be had here—accommodation for man and beast. Donner le sacrement, to administer the sacrament. Donner la question, to put to the question—to torture. Donner une couche de peinture, to give one coat of paint. Ces arbres donnent beaucoup, these trees bear—produce—much. Ces plantes n'ont presque rien donné, these plants have borne—yielded—almost nothing.

À donner donner, à vendre vendre, if you give, give; if you sell, sell.

Vous vous donnez à un bon maître, you give yourself—you give your services—to a good master. Ce chien n'est donné à moi, this dog attached himself to me. Je donnerais ma tête à couper qu'il n'en est pas ainsi, I would lay my head that it is not so. En donner à garer à quelqu'un, to deceive a person—to tell him cock and bull stories—to deceive him. Il m'en a donné d'une, he has taken me in. Je vous donne en dix coups à un jeu autant, I defy you in ten times—I give you ten trials to do it. Donner beau, belle (voyez Beau). Quelle pièce donne-t-on aujourd'hui? what play do they act to-day? On donne une tragédie, they act a tragedy. Il ne donne pour ce qu'il n'est pas, he gives himself out for what he is not. On le donne pour riche; mais il ne l'est pas, they pass him off as rich, but he is not. Ils lui ont donné du long et du large—tout du long de l'aune, they gave him a dreadful beating—they beat him black and blue. Se donner du bon temps, to enjoy one's self. Donnez-vous de garde d'y aller, beware of going. Je lui ai donné jour, I appointed a day for him. Ces choses donnent à discourir, these things make people talk. Il nous a donné à connaître qu'il ne pourrait pas venir, he gave us to understand that he could not come. Un homme donne à tout, that man undertakes—gives his mind to—every thing. Ce vent nous donnera de la pluie, this wind will bring us rain. Se donner de l'air, to give one's self air, to go away.

On lui donne de l'altesse, he is styled your highness. Mettez un bon habit, on vous donnera du Monsieur, put on a good coat, and you will be called "Sir."

Le soleil donnait à plomb, the sun was over our heads—fell perpendicularly on our heads. Cela lui a donné dans les yeux, that dazzled him—captivated him—attracted his eyes. Elle lui a donné dans l'œil, she caught his eye—he was struck by her. La rue ne donne dans la tête, wine gets into my head. La maison donne sur la rue, the house looks upon the street. Nos fenêtres donnent sur le jardin, our windows open upon the garden. Donner dedans, to be taken in. (Voyez Panneau.) Donner de la tête contre un mur, to go and knock your head against a wall. Donner du nez en terre, to run into misfortune. Les soldats étaient dans l'impossibilité de donner, the soldiers lunged to attack. À qui donnerez-vous cet ouvrage? to whom do they attribute this work? Il donna sur le poisson comme il avait fait sur les œufs, he attacked the fish, as he had done the eggs.

(For the phrases which are not placed here, look under the head of the noun subst. Donner sur les oreilles and for Oreilles: Donner la main; look for Main, &c.

DONNEUR, s. m. giver. (Fig. et fam.) C'est un donneur d'eau bénite, he is a promise maker. C'est un grand donneur d'avis, he is very fond of giving his opinion. Donneur de baises, a trickster.

(T. de commerce.) Donneur d'ordre, [illegible]

dorser of a bill of exchange. Donneur à la grosse, the insurer of a ship.

DONT, pron. relat. (génitif et ablatif de Qui.) Dieu, dont nous admirons les œuvres, God whose works we admire. Ce dont je vous ai parlé, that thing of which I spoke to you. La famille dont il est descendu, the family from which he is descended. Voilà la matière dont la chose est faite, this is the material with which it is done. C'est l'homme dont nous avons passé la maison, it is the man whose house we have just passed. Ce n'est pas cela dont il s'agit, that is not the thing of which we are talking—the thing in question.

DONZELLE, s. f. damsel.

DORADE, s. f. dorado; gold fish.

DORADILLE, s. f. spleenwort.

DORÉE, s. f. (espèce de poisson), John Dory.

DORÉNAVANT, adv. (contraction de "de cette heure en avant"), henceforth; in future; for the future.

DORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gild. Ce calice n'est pas d'or, il n'est que doré, this cup is not gold, it is only gilt over. Faites dorer ce cadre, have this frame gilt. Dorer sur tranche, to gild the edges of a book. (Fig.) Le soleil dore les moissons, the sun ripens the corn. La moisson commence à se dorer, the corn is ripening—is taking a yellow hue. On lui a doré la pillule, they gilt the pill for him. Cet homme est doré comme un calice, the man is all over gold—all over embroidery. Il a la langue dorée, he speaks smoothly—elegantly. Il avait les cheveux d'un blond doré, his hair was flaxen. Bonne renommée vaut mieux que ceinture dorée, a fair name is better than a golden girdle—than riches. La jeunesse dorée, sort of militia formed by the young men of the rich class, at the end of 1794, in support of the Thermidorians.

(T. de cuisinier.) Dorer au feu, to brown meat (when roasting). Dorer de la pâtisserie, to egg pastry. (T. de marine.) Dorer un navire, to pay a vessel.

DOREUR, s. m. } gilder.
DOREUSE, s. f. }

DORIEN, adj. Dorian.

DORIQUE, adj. Doric.

DORLOTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Elle dorlote ses enfants, she pets—she fondles—she indulges her children. Il se dorlote, he takes care of himself—he nurses himself.

DORMANT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), frame (of a door, of window); (t. de table), plateau.

DORMANT, E, adj. Eau dormante, standing, still water. Chassis dormant, standing frame. Pont dormant, standing—fixed bridge. (T. de pêche.) Ligne ormante, line. (T. de marine.) Manœuvres dormantes, anding ropes or tackle.

DORMEUR, s. m. } sleeper.
DORMEUSE, s. f. }

DORMEUSE, s. f. travelling carriage; easy chair.

DORMILLEUSE, s. f. Voyez Torpille.

DORMIR, v. n. rég. 3me conj. (Voyez Sentir.) Dormir, ormant. dormi; je dors, &c., to sleep. Ne faites pas de uit, car il dort, do not make a noise, for he sleeps—he asleep. Il dort profondément, he sleeps soundly. voir envie de dormir, to be sleepy. J'avais grande vie de dormir, I was very sleepy. Avez-vous bien vmi cette nuit? how did you sleep last night? Elle et d'un bon somme, she is having a good sleep. Dormir u léger somme, to sleep lightly. Trop dormir cause d vétir, he who sleeps too long, goes about badly dressed. et homme ne dort pas, that man is not asleep, i. e. he is tive—alive. La fortune lui vient en dormant, wealth mes to him while he is asleep. Cette eau dort, this ter is still. Il n'y a point de pire eau que l'eau qui rt, smooth water runs deep. Dormir comme un sabot, sleep like a top—comme une souche, like a log. Dormir ume une marmotte, to sleep like a dormouse. Je suis lement fatigué que je dors tout debout, I am so tired t I cannot keep my eyes open. J'ai passé la nuit s dormir, I have had a restless night. Dormir en vre, to sleep with eyes open, like the hare. Dormir la sane matinée, to lie late in bed. Il nous a fait des contes à dormir debout, he told us cock and bull stories. Dormez en repos, sleep quietly. Vous pouvez dormir sur les deux oreilles, you may sleep comfortably, without uneasiness. Laissez dormir cette affaire, let that business rest. Il faut dormir là dessus, you must sleep upon it—take counsel of your pillow. Heureux ceux qui dorment dans la paix du Seigneur, happy are they who rest in the peace of the Lord. Laisser dormir des fonds, to let money lie still.

v. a. Dormir un bon somme, to sleep a good sleep.

DORMIR, s. m. sleep.

DORMITIF, s. m. (t. de médec.), dormitive.

DORMITIF, TIVE, adj. (t. de médec.), soporific.

DOROIR, s. m. (t. de métier), gilding stick; a brush.

DORONIC, s. m. (bot.), doronicum.

DORSAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), dorsal.

DORTOIR, s. m. dormitory.

DORURE, s. f. gilding.

DOS, s. m. back. Elle était couchée sur le dos, she was lying on her back. L'épine du dos, the spine. Il me tournait le dos, his back was turned towards me. Pourquoi lui tournez-vous le dos? why do you turn your back upon him? Il le portait sur son dos, he carried him upon his back. Il a le dos voûté, his back is bent. Le dos de la main, the back of the hand. Le dos d'un habit, d'une robe, the back of a coat, of a dress. Le dos d'un livre, the back of a book. Le dos d'une montagne, the ridge of a mountain. (T. de commerce.) Mettez votre ordre au dos du billet, endorse the bill—write your order at the back. Porter des marchandises à dos, to carry goods on horseback—on mules, &c.

Le pauvre malheureux n'a pas une chemise à mettre sur son dos, the poor wretch has not a shirt to his back. Faire le gros dos, to look big—to put on a look of importance. Il ne se laisse pas manger la laine sur le dos, he is not the man to take an insult quietly. Vous lui mettez tout sur le dos, you lay all the blame—all the wrong—upon him. Battre quelqu'un dos et ventre, to beat one black and blue. La fortune lui a tourné le dos, fortune turned her back upon him—abandoned, deserted him. Tourner le dos à l'ennemi, to run away. Vous tournez le dos à la mangeoire, you are doing the reverse of what you ought. Je porte cet homme sur le dos, that man is an incubus upon me—that man is my annoyance. Je l'ai toujours sur le dos, he is always about me. Il a bon dos, he has a good back—he is strong—he can bear much. Il se met tout le monde à dos, he manages to get every body against him. Le juge les mit dos à dos, the judge dismissed them, without pronouncing. Le dos lui démange, his back is itching—he wants a good beating.

Pont en dos d'âne, a sloping bridge. C'est fait en dos d'âne, it is with a high back.

DOSE, s. f. (t. de médec.), dose. (Fig.) Il a une dose d'amour propre, he has a dose—a touch—of vanity.

DOSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj, to dose.

DOSSIER, s. m. back; back board. (T. de marine), back board.

(T. de jurisp.), bag; brief. (T. d'administ.), wrapper (containing all the papers relative to an affair).

DOSSIÈRE, s. f. (t. de métier), ridge band.

DOT, s. f. (pron. dote), dower; portion. Elle ne lui a point apporté de dot, she brought him no portion.

DOTAL, E, adj. dotal.

DOTATION, s. f. dotation. (T. de l'Empire.) Napoléon accordait des dotations aux nouveaux nobles qu'il créait, Napoleon granted dotations to the new nobles he created, (to enable them to support their rank.) Voyez Majorat.

DOTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Elle dotait de pauvres filles, she portioned—gave portions to—poor girls. Elle a doté sa fille de cent mille francs, she gave a portion—a dower—of 4000*l.* to her daughter. Elle a été richement dotée, she was richly portioned.

Doter une église, une institution, &c., to endow a church, an institution, &c. (Fig.) La nature l'avait dotée de tous les charmes, nature had endowed her—gifted her—with every charm.

DOUAIRE, s. m. dower. Il lui a assigné dix mille francs de douaire, he assigned 400*l.* to her—settled 400*l.* upon her—for a dower—a jointure.

DOUAIRIER, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), a child who claims his mother's dower, but gives up all claim to his father's property.

DOUAIRIÈRE, s. f. dowager.

DOUANE, s. f. customs. Aller à la douane, to go to the Custom-house. Payer la douane, to pay the custom duties. On a augmenté les douanes, the custom duty has been increased. Les commis, les préposés de la douane, the Custom-house officers. Acquitter un billet à la douane, to discharge—to clear—a bale of goods at the Custom-house.

DOUANER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to affix the Custom-house lead or seal to some goods.

DOUANIER, s. m. Custom-house officer.

DOUBLAGE, s. m. (t. de marine), sheathing; copperage.

DOUBLE, s. m. Je vous apporte le double de ce que vous m'avez demandé, I bring you twice the quantity—the double—of what you asked me. Cet arbre est le double de l'autre en grosseur, this tree has twice the thickness of the other—is twice the thickness of the other. Sa fortune est augmentée du double, his fortune is now double what it was. Jouons à quitte ou double, let us play double or quits. Je parie double contre simple, I bet two to one. Plier, mettre une chose en double, to double a thing, to fold it double. (Fam.) Il mettait les morceaux en double dans sa bouche, he gobbled up his food without masticating it.

(T. de théâtre.) La pièce a été jouée par les doubles, the play was not acted by the principal actors, but by the secondary ones—by the substitutes. (T. de bureau.) Donnez-moi un double de cet acte, give me a copy of that document. Il m'en faudrait un double, I must have a duplicate.

J'ai des doubles dans ma bibliothèque, dans mon herbier, I have duplicates in my library, in my herbal.

Je n'en donnerais pas un double, I would not give a farthing for it: (there were six doubles in the French sou.)

Voir double, to see double. Payer double, to pay double. Au double, twofold.

DOUBLE, adj. double. Un double louis, a double louis. Sa force est double de la mienne, his strength is double mine. Cette feuille est double, this leaf is double. Fermer une porte à double tour, to double lock a door. Ce mot a un double sens, this word has a double meaning—a double entendre. (T. de commerce.) Tenir les livres en partie double, to keep books by double entry. Cela est un double emploi, this is a double charge or entry. Bière double, double, strong beer. (Bot.) Fleur double, double flower. (T. de musiq.) Double croche, semi-quaver. (Fam.) C'est un double coquin, he is an arrant rascal. (Fig.) C'est un homme double, he is a false man—a man with a double face. C'est un homme à double face, he is a double faced man.

DOUBLEAU, s. m. (t. de charpenterie), strong joist.

DOUBLEMENT, adv. doubly.

DOUBLEMENT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), redoubling.

DOUBLE QUARTE-FIÈVRE, s. f. double quartan fever—quartan ague.

DOUBLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to double. La population a doublé, the population has increased double—is now double what it was. (T. de tailleur et de couturière), to line. Doubler un manteau en soie, to line a cloak with silk. (T. de marine.) Doubler un vaisseau en cuivre, to copper a ship's bottom—to sheath it with copper. Nous les aimes bientôt doublés, we had soon doubled—passed—them. (T. de théâtre.) Doubler un acteur, to act the parts of another actor in his absence. (T. de billard.) Doubler une bille, to double a ball.

DOUBLÉ, p. p. (employé comme subst.). Il a fait un joli doublé, he doubled the ball very prettily.

DOUBLET, s. m. (t. de jouailler), doublet, artificial stone. (T. de trictrac), doublet.

DOUBLEUR, s. m. (t. de manufacture), doubler; one who doubles.

DOUBLEUSE, s. f.

DOUBLON, s. m. (t. de numismatique), doubloon (Spanish and Portuguese coin). (T. d'imprimerie.) Vous avez fait un doublon, you have made a double—you have put that word—these words—twice.

DOUBLURE, s. f. (t. de tailleur, de couturière), lining. (T. de théâtre.) Cet acteur était la doublure de Talma, this actor acted Talma's parts in his absence, as his second. La pièce a été mal jouée, sous n'avions que les doublures, the play was badly acted, we had secondary actors only.

DOUCE-AMÈRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), bitter sweet.

DOUCEÂTRE, adj. sweetish.

DOUCEMENT, adv. Marchez doucement, tread softly—walk gently—softly. Il va doucement, he walks slowly—quite slowly. Il va doucement en besogne, he proceeds slowly—mildly.

Il faut vous y prendre doucement, you must set about it. Ils parlaient tout doucement, they were speaking gently—softly. Entrez doucement, go in softly.

Il mourut doucement parmi les siens, he died quietly among his friends. Il est allé à la campagne, où il vit tout doucement de ses rentes, he has retired in the country, where he lives quietly on his means. Il a fait la chose tout doucement, he did the thing quietly—without any noise—he went about it gently. Comment se portez-vous? Il va tout doucement, how is he? He is getting on as well—pretty well—middling. Il nous a repris doucement, he reproved us gently—mildly. Il en use doucement avec ses domestiques, he acts well with his servants—he treats his servants with gentleness.

Doucement, ne nous échauffons pas, gently, gently, let us not get warm.

DOUCEREUX, EUSE, adj. Liqueur doucereuse, sweetish—mawkish liquor.

C'est un homme doucereux, he is gentle—soft, he has soft manners—he is soft spoken. Il dit des choses doucereuses, he says gentle, soft things. s. m. Je n'aime pas les doucereux, I do not like mawkish men—lovesick men. Il fait le doucereux auprès des femmes, he playsits up with every woman.

DOUCET, TE, adj. gentle; mild. Elle prend un ton doucet—elle fait la doucette, she puts on a mild, gentle—look. C'est une petite doucette, she is a gentle little creature.

DOUCETTE, s. f. (bot.). Voyez Mâche.

DOUCETTEMENT, adv. gently, gently; softly.

DOUCEUR, s. f. La douceur du sucre, du lait, du melon, &c., the sweetness of sugar, milk, melon, &c. Ce fruit a trop de douceur, this fruit is too sweet. La douceur de l'haleine, the sweetness of the breath. La douceur de la peau, de ces étoffes, the softness of skin, of these stuffs. La douceur de ses traits est admirable, her features are admirable for their softness—(morally) for their sweetness—sweet expression. J'aime la douceur de son caractère, I like his gentleness—the meekness—of his disposition. Il nous a répondu avec douceur, he answered us gently—meekly. Traitez-le avec douceur, treat him with gentleness—gently. Il traite ses enfants avec trop de douceur, he is too indulgent—too lenient—to his children. Vous obtiendrez tout par la douceur, you will obtain your ends if you use gentle means. Allez-y en douceur, go gently—proceed—gently. Prenez les choses en douceur, take things as they come. La douceur du temps nous permet de sortir, the mildness of the weather allows us to go out. Douceur de style, softness of style.

Il jouit tranquillement des douceurs de la vie, he enjoys quietly the charms—the sweets—the comforts of life. La solitude a ses douceurs, solitude has its charms. Sa vie laborieuse n'est pas sans douceur, his active life is not without charms.

Cela lui a valu quelque douceur, this thing brought him some profit—some advantage.

DOUCEURS, s. f. pl. sweets. Je ne mange point de douceurs, I never eat sweets. Conter des douceurs à une femme, to tell sweet things to a lady. Ne prêtez pas l'oreille à leurs douceurs, do not give ear to their sweet words.

DOUCHE, s. f. (de l'Italien "Doccia"), douche, a pipe of mineral or medicated water, which is spouted on made to fall upon a diseased part of the body). Il est allé à Pise prendre les douches, he is gone to Pisa to take douched baths.

DOUCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On a été obligé de lui doucher le genou, they were obliged to apply douches to his knee.

DOUCINE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), moulding.

DOUCINE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), the inside of a stone.

DOUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to endow. Il a doué sa fille de 25,000 fr., he has endowed his daughter with 25,000 fr. La nature l'avait douée d'une grande beauté, nature had endowed her with great beauty. C'est un homme heureusement doué, he is happily gifted.

DOUILLE, s. f. socket.

DOUILLET, TE, adj. Un lit douillet, a soft bed. Il est douillet, he is tender. Il a encore le pied douillet, his foot is still tender DOUILLET, TE, s. m. f. Ne faites pas le douillet ainsi, come, do not take care of yourself in this way—do not be so delicate—do not coddle. C'est un si grand douillet, he is such a coddle.

DOUILLETTE, s. f. wrapper; large pelisse.

DOUILLETTEMENT, adv. softly; tenderly.

DOULEUR, s. f. (physique), pain. Il sent une grande douleur de tête, he feels great pain in his head. Cela ne vous causera aucune douleur, that will not give you any pain. Il faut savoir supporter la douleur, we must learn to bear pain.

(Morale), sorrow; grief; affliction. Elle est accablée de douleur, she is overwhelmed with grief. J'ai eu la douleur de le perdre, I had the sorrow to lose him. Il veut me voir dans ma douleur, he came to see me in my affliction.

DOULOIR, Se, v. r. to complain; to bewail.

DOULOUREUSEMENT, adv. (physiq.), painfully; (moral.), grievously.

DOULOUREUX, EUSE, adj. painful; grievous. Cette perte m'a été douloureuse, that loss was very grievous to me. Voilà l'histoire douloureuse de ses malheurs, such is the sad—grievous—painful dolorous story of his misfortunes. La blessure est douloureuse, the wound is painful. Il a le pied douloureux, his foot is painful—sinful. Il a le pied douloureux, his foot is painful—thing.

DOUTE, s. m. doubt. Etre en doute, dans le doute, be in doubt. Il n'y a point de doute qu'il ne soit résolu d'agir ainsi, no doubt but that it is prudent to act thus. Cela est hors de doute, that is beyond a doubt. Je veux vous tirer de doute, I wish to remove your doubts. J'ai des doutes, I have doubts. Not doute qu'il ne soit arrivé, no doubt but that he has come. Mettre une chose—révoquer une chose—en doute, to doubt a thing—to throw a doubt upon a thing. Nous restâmes dans le doute, we remained in doubt, in fear. Sans doute, no doubt; certainly. Sans doute qu'il n'y a pas songé, no doubt but that he forgot it.

DOUTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Je doute de cela, I doubt that. Nous doutons de son succès, we doubt of his success. Il ne doute de rien, he doubts nothing. Je ne doute que cela soit, I doubt much its being so. Osez-vous douter que je ne sois malade? do you doubt—deny—that I am being ill? Doutez-vous que je ne sois malade, si je le fais? do you doubt but that I shall be ill, if I do it? V. r. Je me doutais de ses intentions, I suspected his intentions. Je m'en suis toujours douté, I have always suspected it. On est venu l'arrêter, lorsqu'il s'en doutait moins, they came to arrest him, when he had no suspicion—no idea of it. Il se vante de bien jouer, mais il ne le sait pas même pas, he boasts of being a good player, but has no notion of it, (of playing).

DOUTEUX, EUSE, adj. doubtful; dubious; suspicious.

DOUTEUSEMENT, adv. doubtfully; hesitatingly.

DOUVAIN, s. m. staves; cask timber.

DOUVE, s. f. stave; (bot.), field ranunculus.

DOUX, DOUCE, adj. sweet; gentle; mild; soft. Cela est trop doux, that dish is too sweet. Des amandes douces, sweet almonds. L'eau douce, fresh water. Poisson d'eau douce, waterman—fresh water sailor. Médecin d'eau douce, a doctor who gives gentle, mild, unsatisfactory remedies. Ces choses sont douces à la vue, à l'odorat, à l'oreille, these things are pleasing to the sight, to the smell, to the ear. Elle a la peau douce, she has a soft skin. La voix douce, a soft, a gentle voice. Il est fort doux, he is very gentle. Il a le caractère fort doux, he has a gentle disposition—he is gentle tempered. Soyez plus doux dans vos manières, be milder, gentler in your ways. Mon cheval est doux comme un agneau, my horse is as gentle as a lamb. Il a le regard doux, he has a gentle look. Faire les yeux doux à une femme, to cast sheep's eyes on a woman—to look lovingly at her. Le fer est doux, iron is soft. Il vint une pluie douce, we had a gentle rain. C'est un supplice trop doux pour lui, it is too gentle a punishment for him. Cette voiture est fort douce, this carriage is very easy. Les mouvements en sont doux, the motions are so easy—so soft. Escalier doux, easy staire. Temps doux, mild weather. Il fait très-doux, it is very mild. Nous commençons à sentir la douce influence du printemps, we are beginning to feel the gentle influence of spring. Il jouit d'un doux sommeil, he enjoys sweet—calm—sleep. Nous menons une vie très-douce, we are living a gentle—a happy—an easy—life. Mon travail est doux, my labour is gentle—moderate. Un gouvernement doux, a mild, a gentle government. Il l'a reçu entre doux et hagard, his reception was neither one thing nor the other. Elle lui donna un doux baiser, she gave him a sweet kiss. Les doux liens du mariage, the sweet—the happy ties of marriage. Il lui sera bien doux de vous revoir, he will be very happy to see you again. Comme il m'est doux de vous retrouver ici, what a happy thing—moment—it is for me to meet you here again! Il avale cela doux comme du lait, he swallows it up like milk—he takes it quietly. [yield.

Filer doux, to knuckle under; to eat humble pie; to Tout doux, gently; so ho!

DOUZAINE, s. f. dozen. J'en ai acheté une douzaine, I bought a dozen of them. On les vend à la douzaine, they are sold by the dozen. Nous avions une douzaine de personnes à dîner, we had about twelve people at dinner. (Fam.) C'est un poète à la douzaine, he is a common place—a sorry—poet. De cent là, il n'y en a pas treize à la douzaine, of such you will not get thirteen in the dozen.

DOUZE, s. m. twelve. C'est aujourd'hui le douze du mois, to-day is the twelfth of the month. C'est le douze de sa maladie, it is the twelfth day of his illness.

DOUZE, adj. numér. twelve. Nous étions douze hommes à table, we were twelve men at table.

Voyez chapitre douze, look at chapter the twelfth. Louis douze, Roi de France, Lewis the twelfth, King of France.

DOUZIÈME, adj. ordin. twelfth.

DOUZIÈME, s. m. twelfth part; twelfth.

DOUZIÈMEMENT, adv. twelfthly.

DOYEN, s. m. dean; (le plus ancien), senior. Il présidait comme doyen d'âge, he presided as senior, elder.

DOYENNÉ, s. m. deanery. (T. de jardinage), the dean's pear.

DOXOLOGIE, s. f. (t. d'église), doxology.

DRACHME, s. f. (mesure), dram; drachma.

DRAGME,

DRAGÉE, s. f. (t. de confiserr), sugar plum. Dragée d'attrape, catch nut. Donner une dragée d'attrape, to hoax. (Fig.) La dragée est amère, the pill is bitter—it is hard to swallow. Il a fallu avaler la dragée, we were obliged to swallow the pill—to put up with it. On lui a tenu la dragée haute, they made him pay dear for it—they kept him long in suspense. (T. de chasse), small shot. Ce fusil écarte la dragée, this gun scatters the shot. (Fig. et fam.) Ecarter la dragée en parlant, to sputter. (T. d'agric.), small seed, (pease, vetches, &c.).

DRAGEOIR, s. m. sugar-plum box.

DRAGEON, s. m. (t. de bot. et d'agric.), sucker; shoot.

DRAGEONNER, v. n. (bot., agric.), to shoot forth suckers.

DRAGIER, s. m. Voyez Drageoir.
DRAGME, s. f. (mesure), dram; drachma.
DRAGOMAN, s. m. Voyez Drogman.
DRAGON, s. m. (animal fabuleux), dragon.
DRAGON, s. m. (t. milit.), dragoon. (Fig.) Cette femme est un vrai dragon, that woman is a very dragon, a termagant. C'est un dragon de vertu, she is an immaculate prude. Cela m'eût été un dragon perpétuel, it would have been a constant cause of sorrow, care. (T. de chirurg.) Avoir un dragon dans l'œil, to have a spot in the eye. (T. d'hist. nat.) Dragon de mer. (Voyez Vive, f.)
DRAGONNADES, s. f. military persecutions of the Protestants under the reign of Louis XIV. (1685—1715).
DRAGONNE, s. f. sword knot, (silver or gold, worn by the military). (Fig. et fam.) Agir à la dragonne, to act carelessly, in a free and easy way. (T. d'hist.) Conversions dragonnes, persecutions of the Protestants under Louis XIV., in which dragoons were the auxiliaries of the priests.
DRAGONNIER, s. m. (hist. nat.), dragon tree
DRAGUE, s. f. drag; (t. de brasseur), grains
DRAGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to drag.
DRAGUEUR, s. m. a drag, a mud boat.
DRAMATIQUE, adj. dramatic. s. m. Il y a bien du dramatique dans cette scène, there is much that is truly dramatical in that scene.
DRAMATISTE, s. m. dramatist.
DRAMATURGE, s. m. a composer of dramas, a dramatist.
DRAME, s. m. drama.
DRAP, s. m. cloth. Un habit de drap, a cloth coat. Tailler en plein drap, to cut from off the piece—to have ample materials. Au bout de l'aune faut le drap, the cloth fails at the end of the yard measure—everything has an end. Il veut avoir le drap et l'argent, he will keep the goods and the money—he will not pay for what he buys. Le champ du drap d'or, the field of the cloth of gold. Drap de pied, foot carpet. Drap mortuaire, pall. Tenir les coins du drap, to carry the pall.
Drap de lit, sheet. Draps blancs de lessive, sheets from the wash. Se mettre entre deux draps, to lie down—to get into bed. (Fig.) Vous m'avez mis dans de beaux draps, you have placed me in a pretty situation! Le voilà dans de beaux draps, he is in a pretty mess!
DRAPEAU, s. m. (t. milit.), flag. Le drapeau Français, the French flag. Il combattait sous le drapeau Anglais, he was fighting under the English flag. Le drapeau du régiment, the colours—the standard—of the regiment. Un porte drapeau, an ensign, a standard bearer. Être sous les drapeaux, to be under the flag—to be engaged in active service. Se rendre au drapeau, to go to the army. Abandonner son drapeau, to desert one's standard—the army. On lui a donné un drapeau, he has been made an ensign. Nous nous rangerons sous vos drapeaux, we will place ourselves under your colours —(fig.), we will enroll ourselves in your party. Chaque prince avait son drapeau, each prince had his own colours.
(Commun.) Le papier se fait avec de vieux drapeaux de linge, paper is made with old rags. Les drapeaux d'un enfant. Voyez Langes.
DRAPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Draper une voiture, to put hangings on a coach in sign of mourning. Le roi drape de violet, the king's carriage has purple hangings. (T. de peinture.) Ces figures sont bien drapées, these figures are well draped. Être drapé à l'antique, to wear an antique drapery. (T. de théât.) Cet acteur se drape bien, this actor drapes—dresses—correctly. (T. d'ameublement.) Ses rideaux étaient élégamment drapés, his curtains form an elegant drapery. (T. de métier.) Bas drapés, thick woollen stockings.
(Fig.) On l'a bien drapé en son absence, he was severely criticised—ridiculed—in his absence.
DRAPERIE, s. f. (t. de commerce), drapery; cloth trade; (t. de peintre), drapery; (t. de tapissier), drapery, hangings.
DRAPIER, s. m. draper.

DRASTIQUE, s. m. (t. de médec.), drastic remedy
DRASTIQUE, adj. drastic.
DRAWBACK, s. m. (t. de commerce emprunté de l'Anglais) (return of the duty paid on the importation of raw materials when re-exported in a manufactured state. cotton has the advantage of the drawback.
DRÈCHE, s. f. (t. de brasseur), barley grains.
DRESSE, s. m. (t. de manége, de chasse), training.
DRESSÉE, s. f. (t. d'épinglier), a bundle of pins.
DRESSER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj. Dresser la tête, to lift up your head. Dresser un mât, une échelle, to erect, to plant, to put up a mast, a ladder. Dresser des quilles, to set up nine pins. Il se dressait sur la pointe des pieds, he stood up on tip-toes. Ne vous courbez pas ainsi, dressez-vous, do not stoop so, stand up—hold yourself upright. Le cheval se dressait sur les pieds de derrière, the horse stood—reared—on his hind legs. Dresser ses mots, il dressa les oreilles, at these words, he pricked up his ears. Ce cheval porte la tête bien dressée, that horse carries his head well up. Dresser des statues, des monuments, to erect statues, monuments, &c. On lui dressa un lit dans le salon, they made up a bed for him in the room. Dresser une tente, un camp, to pitch a tent, a camp. Dresser un échafaud, to erect, to build a scaffold. Dresser le dîner, le dessert, to serve up the dinner, the fruit. Dresser le buffet, to lay out the sideboard. Dresser une volaille, to truss a fowl. Dresser une batterie, to pitch, to raise a battery. (Fig.) On dressa de bonnes batteries contre lui, they erected, prepared good batteries against him. Dresser un piége, une embuscade, to lay a snare, an ambush. Dresser un plan, to draw out a plan. Dresser un acte, to draw up an act. J'ai dressé ses instructions, I drew up—I wrote out—his instructions. Dresser un chapeau, to dress up. Dresser une planche, une pierre, to trim a plank, a stone. (T. de jardinage.) Dresser des allées, to level walks. Dresser des arbres, to clip, to trim trees. (T. d'éducation.) Dresser un écolier, to teach, to tutor, a boy. Dresser un soldat, to train, to drill a soldier. Ce domestique est bien dressé, this man-servant is well trained. (T. de manége, de chasse.) Dresser un cheval, to break in a horse. Dresser des chiens, to train dogs. (T. de marine.) Dresser un navire, un bateau, to trim a ship, a boat. Dresser les vergues, to square, to brace the yards. Dresser la barre, to right the helm.
Cela fait dresser les cheveux à la tête, that makes one's hair stand on end. Les cheveux me dressaient à la tête, my hair stood on end.
DRESSEUR, s. m. trimmer; dresser.
DRESSOIR, s. m. dresser.
DRILLE, s. m. (vieux mot), soldier. (Fam.) C'est un bon drille, he is a good fellow. Pauvre drille, poor devil. Vieux drille, an old rogue.
DRILLES, s. f. rags (used to make paper).
DRISSES, s. f. (t. de marine), halliards.
DROGMAN, s. m. dragoman; interpreter in the East.
DROGUE, s. f. drugs; (fig. et fam.), rubbish; rot. (T. militaire.) Jouer à la drogue, a game at cards in which the loser wears the Drogue, (a forked stick, on his nose.
DROGUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to drug physic; to physic one's self.
DROGUERIE, s. f. drugs. Faire la droguerie, to sell drugs; to carry on the business of a druggist.
DROGUET, s. m. drugget, (sort of thin cloth).
DROGUIER, s. m. a collection of drugs; a medicine chest
DROGUISTE, s. m. (pron. dro-guice-te), druggist.
DROIT, s. m. (privilége, prérogative), right. Les droits de l'homme, the rights of man. Vous avez le droit de commander, you have the right to command. J'ai de mon droit, I use my right. Il a droit à cette place, he has a right to that situation. Il n'y avait pas droit, he had no right to it. Ils avaient droit de vie et de mort sur les citoyens, they had the right—power—of life and death on the citizens. Avoir le droit de faire ght to vote. Le droit d'aînesse, the right of primogeniture. Rédiger de son droit, to give up part of one's right. Les droits du sang, the rights of blood. Vous avez des droits à ma reconnaissance, you have a right—a claim upon—my gratitude. Il avait droit de chasse et de pêche, et il en jouissait, he had the right of shooting and fishing, and he enjoyed it. On lui a conféré les droits de bourgeoisie, they conferred upon him a citizen's right. Droit de cité, municipal right. Il a épousé une fille ayant de tous ses droits, he has married a girl who is of age and has her property at her disposal. Cela ne vous donne pas le droit de le faire, that does not give you the right to do it. Je saurais bien me faire droit, I know how to do myself justice—how to get what is due to me. Cela est contraire à vos droits, that is opposed to your rights. Cela lui revient de droit, that comes to him by right—in his own right. Cela est de tout droit, that is according to right. À bon droit, by just right—justly—rightly. À tort ou à droit, right or wrong—justly or unjustly.

(Jurisp.) Le droit, the law. Faire son droit, to study the law. Il suit un cours de droit, he is attending a course of law lectures. Le droit civil, the civil law. Le droit canon, the ecclesiastical law. Le droit naturel, the law of nature. Le droit des gens, the law of nations. C'est un point de droit, it is a legal point. Faire droit à une requête, to accede to—to grant a request.

(Taxe, impôt), duty; dues. Droit de douanes, custom duty. Droits d'octroi, town dues. Droits réunis, excise. Acquitter les droits, to pay taxes, duty, dues. Frauder les droits, to defraud government—to smuggle. Recevoir les droits, to gather—to receive taxes—dues.

DROIT, E, adj. straight. Cette rue est toute droite, the street is quite straight. En droite ligne, in a straight line. Il a la taille droite et bien prise, he is upright and well set. Être droit comme un jonc—comme un cierge, to be as straight as an arrow. Tenez la tête droite, hold yourself up—straight—.—hold your head up. Ce mur n'est pas droit, this wall is not at right angles—upright. Un angle droit, a right angle. Il ne pourrait se tenir droit sur ses pieds, he could not stand upright on his feet.

C'est un homme droit, he is an upright—a righteous—honest man. Il a l'esprit droit, his mind is right. Il a toujours des intentions droites, his intentions, his views are always right.

La main droite, the right hand. Mettez-vous du côté droit, place yourself on the right side. La rive droite charmante, the right bank is beautiful. Il était mon bras droit, he was my right arm. L'aile droite de l'armée, the right wing of the army.

DROITE, (employée comme subst. f.). Mettez-vous à droite, place yourself on my right (hand). La droite de l'armée fut culbutée, the right (wing) was routed. Tournez à droite, turn on the right. Il lui donnait la droite, he yielded him the right—the place of honour. Le membre de la Droite lui répondit, a member on the right hand side replied to him. Frapper à droite et à gauche, to strike right and left. Il allait demander à droite et à gauche, he used to beg on all sides. Il prend droite et à gauche, he receives from every body.

DROIT, (employé comme adverbe). Allez droit devant vous, go straight on before you. Cette route vous mène droit à la ville, this road takes you straight to the town.

DROITEMENT, adv. rightly; judiciously.

DROITIER, ÈRE, adj. right handed; who uses the right hand.

DROITURE, s. f. uprightness; rectitude. En droiture, directly—in a straight line.

DRÔLE, adj. droll; funny; comical. C'est un drôle comme, he is an odd—a singular—man. Il nous a joué une drôle de tour, he played us a funny trick. Cet enfant est fort drôle, that child is very funny—very amusing.

DRÔLE, s. m. fellow. Je surpris le drôle dans mon jardin, I caught the fellow in my garden. Le petit drôle, the little rogue. (Dans un sens injurieux.) Vous êtes un drôle, you are a low fellow, a blackguard.

DRÔLEMENT, adv. funnily; comically.

DRÔLESSE. s. f. slut.

DROMADAIRE, s. m. dromedary.

DROME, s. f. (t. de marine), square masts, yards. (Dans un bassin), float.

DROSSE, s. f. (t. de marine), truss; tackle.

DROSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Les courants nous drossent, the streams, the currents drive us from our way.

DROUINE, s. f. tinker's budget.

DROUINEUR, s. m. tinker.

DROUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj, to card rough wool.

DRU, E, adj. Ces enfants sont fort drus, these children are all alive—are brisk. Vous voilà bien dru aujourd'hui, how sharp you are to-day. Ces moineaux sont drus, these young sparrows are quite strong.

(T. de jardinage, d'agric.) Les blés sont fort dru, the corn is very thick. Ne semez pas si dru, do not sow so thick, so close.

Il tombait une pluie drue, the rain fell thick and small. Les balles pleuvaient dru comme mouches, the bullets poured upon us as thick as hail.

DRUIDE, s. m. druid.

DRUIDESSE, s. f. a druidess.

DRUIDIQUE, adj. druidic.

DRUIDISME, s. m. druidism.

DRUPE, s. m. (bot.), drupe; pulpy fruit (such as peach, plum, cherry).

DRYADE, s. f. (t. de mythol.), dryad; (bot.), sort of mountain rose tree.

DU (contraction de "de le"). (Voyez De.) Du moins, at least.

DÛ, s. m. (part. p. du verbe Devoir). Donnez-moi mon dû, give me my due—what is due to me. Pour le dû de ma conscience, for the discharge of my conscience

DUALISME, s. m. the dual system.

DUALISTE, adj. dualistic.

DUALISTE, s. m. one who admits the dual system.

DUBITATEUR, s. m. one who doubts.

DUBITATIF, IVE, adj. dubitative.

DUBITATION, s. f. dubitation; doubt.

DUBITATIVEMENT, adv. dubiously; doubtfully.

DUC, s. m. duke. Duc et Pair, a duke and peer. Le Grand Duc de Toscane, the Grand Duke of Tuscany.

DUC, s. m. (hist. nat.), horn-owl.

DUCAL, E, adj. ducal.

DUCAT, s. m. ducat, (a coin of various value).

DUCATON, s. m. ducatoon.

DUCHÉ, s. m. dukedom; duchy. Duché femelle, a duchy which might be enjoyed by a woman, in her own right.

DUCHÉ-PAIRIE, s. m. f. duchy and peerage. (It was the highest title in France, before the Revolution. There were 33.) Voyez Pairie.

DUCHESSE, s. f. duchess; (t. de tapissier), a couch.

DUCTILE, adj. ductile; pliable.

DUCTILITÉ, s. f. ductility; pliability.

DUEGNE, s. f. duenna; governess. (En mauvaise part), hag. Taisez-vous donc, vieille duègne, hold your tongue, old hag—old Go-between.

DUEL, s. m. duel. Se battre en duel, to fight in a duel. Appeler quelqu'un en duel, to challenge, to call out a person. Il a été tué en duel, he was killed in a duel.

DUEL, s. m. (t. de gramm.), dual.

DUELLISTE, s. m. duellist.

DUIRE, v. n. rég. 6me conj. (voyez Conduire), to please; to suit.

DULCIFICATION, s. f. dulcification.

DULCIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dulcify.

DULCINÉE, s. f. (par moquerie), lover; sweetheart.

DULIE, s. f. (t. d'Église). Le culte de dulie, the worship of the saints.

DUMENT, adv. duly.

DUNE, s. f. down. Les dunes de Calais, the downs of Calais.

DUNETTE, s. f. (t. de marine), poop; quarter-deck.

DUO, s. m. (t. de musique), duet. (Fig. et fam.) Il a ont eu un joli duo d'injures, they made a pretty duet of abuses.

DUODÉNUM, s. m. (pron. duodénome) (t. d'anat.), duodenum; the first of the small intestines.

DUODI, s. m. the second day of the Décade or Republican week. Voyez Primidi.

DUPE, s. f. dupe. J'ai été sa dupe, I was his dupe—I was taken in by him. Cet homme est une vraie dupe, that man is a downright dupe—is so easily duped—gulled. Me prenez-vous pour une dupe? do you take me for a dupe—for a fool—for a nincompoop? Il fut la dupe de ce marché, he was the dupe—the victim of that bargain. Ils ont fait bien des dupes, they have duped many—they made many a dupe. Il n'est si dupe que vous le croyez, he is not so easily deceived—taken in—as you imagine.

DUPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dupe; to take in; to gull.

DUPERIE, s. f. deceit; take in; trickery.

DUPEUR, s. m. deceiver. (Fam.) Dupeur d'oreilles, DUPEUSE, s. f. a writer whose style pleases, but who writes nonsense; an ear-catcher.

DUPLICATA, s. m. duplicate. (Fam.) Se marier par duplicata, to contract marriage, while the first wife or husband is living—Bigamy.

DUPLICATION, s. f. (t. de mathém.), duplication.

DUPLICITÉ, s. f. doubleness; duplicity. (Fig.), duplicity; deceitful appearance.

DUPLIQUE, s. f. rejoinder.

DUPLIQUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to rejoin; to put in a rejoinder.

DUQUEL (mot composé de Du et Quel). Voyez [Quel.

DUR, E, adj. hard. Ce fruit est dur, this fruit is hard. Ce bois est dur comme le fer, this wood is as hard as iron. J'avais un lit bien dur, I had a very hard bed. Le pain est dur, the bread is hard. Des œufs durs, hard boiled eggs. Cette viande est dure, this meat is hard—tough. Vin dur, tart wine.

Avoir l'oreille dure, to be hard of hearing. Avoir la tête, l'intelligence dure, to be dull of understanding. C'est une tête dure, he is a blockhead, a stupid fellow. Il a la voix dure, his voice is harsh. Un style dur, a rough style. C'est un homme dur, he is a harsh—unkind—man. Il nous parla d'un ton dur, he spoke to us in a harsh—unkind tone. Esprit dur, harsh—unkind—unfeeling—mind. Il est dur de se voir tromper, it is hard—painful—to see one's self deceived. C'est une dure nécessité, it is a painful—hard—necessity. Nous menons une vie bien dure, we live a hard life. Que les temps sont durs, how hard are the times! Cela est dur à entendre, it is hard—painful to hear such things. Cela est dur à digérer—dur de digestion, it is hard to swallow that. Tableau dur, a stiff picture.

Un fusil, un pistolet dur à la détente, a gun, a pistol hard to pull. Il est dur à la desserre—à la détente, he is close fisted. Ces marchandises sont dures à la vente, these goods do not sell well—are hard to sell.

DUR, adv. Entendre dur, to be hard of hearing. Travailler dur, to work hard.

DURE, s. f. hard ground.

DURABLE, adj. durable.

DURACINE, s. f. (t. de jardinage), sort of peach (having hard flesh).

DURANT, adv. during.

DURCIR, v. a. v. r. v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir.) to harden; to get—to grow—hard.

DURCISSEMENT, s. m. hardening.

DURÉE, s. f. duration; durability.

DUREMENT, adv. hardly; harshly; roughly.

DURE-MÈRE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), dura mater.

DURER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to last; to continue. (Fig.) Le temps dure à celui qui attend, time is long to him who expects. Que le temps me dure, how slowly time passes for me! Faites vie qui dure, manage, husband well your resources. Ne pouvoir durer en place, not to be able to stand still—to be quiet. Il fait si chaud ici, que je n'y puis durer, it is so hot here, that I cannot bear—stand it. Je ne peux durer à ce froid-là, I cannot endure—bear—this cold. On ne saurait durer avec cet homme, it is quite impossible to remain with—to bear with—him.

DURET, TE, adj. hardish; rather hard.

DURETÉ, s. f. hardness; toughness; harshness; roughness. Il nous traite avec dureté, he treats us with harshness—unkindly. Il nous a dit des dureté, he has said hard words—harsh things. Il a une grande dureté d'oreille, he is very hard hearted.

(T. d'anat., de médec.) Il a une grande dureté d'oreille, he is very hard of hearing. Il lui est venu une dure au bras, a hard lump has formed in his arm.

DURILLON, s. m. callosity; hard skin. (Anat. path.) corn. (Dans le marbre, le bois), nail.

DURILLONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to grow hard.

DURISCULE, adj. tough; harsh; rather hard.

DUUMVIR, s. m. (pron. du-ome-vir), duumvir.

DUUMVIRAT, s. m. (pron. du-ome-vira), duumvirate.

DUVET, s. m. down. Coucher sur le duvet, to lie on down. Duvet de cygne, swan's down. Un léger duvet lui couvrait encore le visage, a slight down still covered his cheeks. Le duvet du fruit, the bloom on fruit.

DUVETEUX, TEUSE, adj. downy.

DYNAMIQUE, s. f. dynamics.

DYNAMOMÈTRE, s. m. dynamometer.

DYNASTE, s. m. a small ruler or prince; dynast.

DYNASTIE, s. f. dynasty.

DYSPEPSIE, s. f. (t. de méd.), dyspepsy.

DYSSENTERIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), dysentery.

DYSSENTÉRIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), dysenteric.

DYSSURIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), dysury.

E

E, s. m. (cinquième lettre de l'alphabet). E, sans accent, s'appelle e muet, E, without accent, is called e mute. On l'appelle é fermé avec l'accent aigu, it is called é acute, when it has the acute accent. Et è, ê, ouvert quand il a l'accent grave, ou l'accent circonflexe, and è open when it has the grave or circumflex accent. Voyez Accent.

S. E. abréviation de Son Excellence, Son Eminence, Sud-Est, abbreviation of His Excellence, His Eminence, South-East.

EAU, s. f. water. Eau naturelle, natural water. Eau de source, de roche de fontaine, de puits, spring water. Eau de rivière, river water. Eaux plates, lake water; lakes; ponds. Eau vive, fresh running water. Eau de mare, de citerne, soft water. Cette eau de citerne a un mauvais goût, this water which comes out of our cistern has a very bad taste. Eau du ciel, eau de pluie, rain water. Nous avons grand besoin d'eau, we want rain very much. Il a tombé bien de l'eau, there has been a heavy rain. Le temps est à l'eau, the wind is in the wet corner—bespeaks rain. Il tombe de l'eau, it rains. Eau fraîche, fresh water. Eau clarifiée, filtered water. L'eau de vaisselle, wash, slops. Eau bouillante, scalding water. Un cours d'eau, a stream of water. (t. d' d'eau, a jet of water. Une pièce d'eau, a piece of water. Une nappe d'eau, a sheet of water. Ce ragoût ne sent que l'eau, this dish tastes like water; it has no taste. Je ne bois que de l'eau, I drink nothing but water. C'est un buveur d'eau, he is a water-drinker. Jeûner au pain et à l'eau, to fast on bread and water.

(T. d'Eglise.) Eau baptismale, baptismal water. Eau bénite, holy water. Faire l'eau bénite, to bless, consecrate the water—to make holy water. (Fig., fam.) C'est un donneur d'eau bénite, he is a promise maker—giver. Eau bénite de cour, fine promises of favour, services, &c. without effect.

(T. d'administration.) Les eaux et forêts, the woods and forests.

(T. de médec.) Eau minérale, mineral water. Eaux thermales, hot baths. Aller aux Eaux, to go to the baths —aux eaux de Barèges, to go to Barèges. Prendre les eaux, to drink waters—to take medicinal waters. Il est revenu des Eaux, he has come back from Spa, from Bath, &c.

Prendre de l'eau de poulet, to take light chicken broth. Eau de chicorée, endive tea. Eau de groseilles, gooseberry water. Eau de mélisse, carmelite water. Eau de laitue, luce water. Eau ferrée, ferruginous water. Eau panée, toast water. Eau blanche, mash.—white water. Cette poire a une bonne eau, the juice of this pear is delightful

(T. de parfumeur, de distillateur.) Eau de senteur, perfumed water. Eau de Cologne, Cologne water. Eau de la reine d'Hongrie, Hungary water. Eau de vie, brandy. Eau de vie de sucre, tafia. (T. de bijoutier.) Ces diamants sont de la première eau, these diamonds are of the first water. (T. de chapelier.) Donner eau à un chapeau, to give a dressing to a hat.

Couleur d'eau, bluish. Vert d'eau, sea green; light green.

Eau forte, aqua fortis. Graver à l'eau forte, (voyez Graver.) Les eaux fortes de Rembrandt, copper-plate engravings of Rembraudt. Maria d'eau

Médecin d'eau douce, water-gruel doctor. Maria d'eau douce, (voyez Doux.)

Eau de savon, suds. Eau de naphe, naphtha. Eau d'empois, starch water.

Nous nous promenions au bord de l'eau, we were walking by the river—the water—side. Tomber dans l'eau, to fall in the water—in the river—in the sea.—(fig.) to fail. Mon chien va bien à l'eau, my dog takes the water well. Aller à vau l'eau, to drop down stream. Lancer un navire à l'eau, to launch a ship, a boat. Il savait de l'eau jusqu'au cou, he was in the water up to his neck. Voyager—aller—par eau, to travel by water, by sea. Poisson de bonne eau, fresh water fish free from muddy taste. Ils avaient une batterie à fleur d'eau, they had a battery level with the water. Revenir sur l'eau, to come up again.—(fig.) to recover—to float again. Les eaux sont grandes, sont grosses, the water is very high—is out very much. Durant les grosses eaux, during the floods. Les eaux sont basses, water is low.—(Fig.) Les eaux sont basses, we are nearly out of wine, &c.—wine is running very low. Les eaux sont basses chez lui, money is very low with him. Battre l'eau, to beat the water (in fishing)—(Fig.) C'est battre l'eau avec un bâton—c'est donner un coup d'épée dans l'eau, all that is useless trouble. Nager entre deux eaux, to swim under water; —(fig.), to manage so as to please both parties. Nager à grande eau, to swim out—to swim in deep water.—(fig.), to be in abundance—to have every thing at command. Il faut laisser couler l'eau, we must let the water run—(fig.), we must let things have their run—course. Faire venir l'eau au moulin, to bring grist to the mill—to get means to live. Pêcher en eau trouble, to fish in muddy water. Il est comme le poisson dans l'eau, he is like a fish in water—he is comfortable—he lives in clover. Il jouerait les pieds dans l'eau, he is such a gambler he would play with his feet in water. On dirait qu'il ne sait pas troubler l'eau, you would take him for a ... he is incapable of doing mischief, but—. ... (voyez Bec.) Tant va la cruche à l'eau qu'à la fin elle se casse, you may take the pitcher to the well once too often.

Cela fait venir l'eau à la bouche, that makes your mouth water. Fondre en eau, to melt into tears. Il était tout en eau, he was in great perspiration—he was in a great heat. L'eau lui dégouttait du visage, perspiration was dropping down his cheeks. Suer sang et eau, to toil very hard; to make very great exertions. Il n'y fera que de l'eau claire, he will not succeed—it will end in nothing. Rompre l'eau à un cheval, to stop a horse when drinking. Cet homme là ne vaut pas l'eau qu'il boit, that man is not worth the water he drinks—is useless. Je vous assure que, dans ce marché là, il n'y a pas l'eau à boire, I assure you the profits of this bargain will not pay for the water we drink. Il a été obligé de mettre de l'eau dans son vin, he was obliged to moderate himself. Il se noierait dans un verre d'eau, he is so unlucky, that a feather would sink him. Il n'est pire eau que l'eau qui dort, (voyez Dormir.) Elles se ressemblent comme deux gouttes d'eau, they are alike as two drops of water. C'est le feu et l'eau que ces deux hommes, these two men are as opposite to one another as fire and water. Si on l'envoyait à la rivière, il n'y trouverait point d'eau, he is such an unlucky dog, that he would not even find water in the river, if he went for it. C'est porter de l'eau à la rivière—à la mer, this is carrying coals to Newcastle. Cela s'en est allé en eau de boudin, it came all to nothing. Gens de là de l'eau, people on the other side of the water.

(T. de marine.) Faire de l'eau, to water; to take in fresh water. Faire eau, to leak, to make water. Voie d'eau, leak. Faire une voie d'eau, to spring a leak. Etancher une voie d'eau, to stop a leak. Suivre les eaux d'un navire, to keep in the wake of a ship. Nous nous tenions dans ses eaux, we sailed in her wake. Les mortes eaux, the neap tides. Les vives eaux, the spring tides.

ÉBAHIR, v. r. rég. 2de conj. Il n'y a pas là de quoi tant s'ébahir, there is nothing here to wonder at so much—to be so much amazed at. Nous étions tout ébahis, we were quite amazed—bewildered.

ÉBAHISSEMENT, s. m. amazement.

ÉBARBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to trim; to trim the edges. (T. de métier), to edge; to smooth; to clip.

ÉBARBOIR, s. m. (t. d'orfèvre), scraper.

ÉBARDOIR, s. m. (t. de menuisier), scraper.

ÉBAROUIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to dry up; to desiccate.

ÉBAT, s. m. Il est allé à la campagne, prendre ses ébats, he has gone into the country to enjoy himself—to take his pleasure.

ÉBATTEMENT, s. m. swinging motion of a carriage.

ÉBATTRE, S', v. r. rég. 3me conj. (voyez Vendre), to enjoy one's self; to take one's pleasure, amusement.

ÉBAUBI, E, adj. Vous voilà bien ébaubi! how astonished, astounded you are!

ÉBAUCHAGE, s. m. sketching rough-hewing.

ÉBAUCHE, s. f. sketch; rough draught.

ÉBAUCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sketch; to rough hew.

ÉBAUCHOIR, s. m. sketching chisel.

ÉBAUDIR, S', v. r. rég. 2de conj., to make merry.

ÉBAUDISSEMENT, s. m. amusement; merry making.

ÉBÈNE, s. m. ebony. (Fig.) Elle avait des cheveux d'ébène, she had ebon—jet-black—hair.

ÉBÉNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to give the colour of ebony.

ÉBÉNIER, s. m. ebony tree.

ÉBÉNISTE, s. m. cabinet-maker.

ÉBÉNISTERIE, s. f. cabinet-work.

ÉBERLUÉ, E, adj. struck with dizziness.

ÉBÉTEMENT, s. m. stupefaction.

ÉBÉTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj., to stupify.

ÉBLOUIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to dazzle. Le soleil éblouit la vue, the sun dazzles the sight, the view. (Fig.) C'est une beauté qui éblouit, she is a dazzling beauty. Il est ébloui de sa fortune, he is dazzled by his fortune. Ces belles promesses l'ont éblouï, these fine promises dazzled—seduced him.

ÉBLOUISSANT, E, adj. dazzling.

ÉBLOUISSEMENT, s. m. dazzling. On ne peut regarder le soleil sans éblouissement, you cannot look at the sun without being dazzled. Il me prit un éblouissement, je n'y voyais plus, I was seized with dizziness, I could not see.

ÉBORGNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Une branche d'arbre l'éborgna, a branch of a tree made him blind of an eye—destroyed one of his eyes. Il s'est éborgné en tombant, by his fall he lost one eye. (Fig.) Vous m'avez éborgné, you have almost blinded me. Il est éborgné, he has lost one eye—he is blind of one eye. (T. d'hortic.), to nip off a bud.

ÉBOUFFER. Voyez Pouffer.

ÉBOUILLIR, v. n. irrég. (voyez Bouillir), to boil away, to boil down.

ÉBOULEMENT, s. m. Éboulement de terre, slip of land. Éboulement d'un mur, d'un bâtiment, the falling down, coming down, crumbling down of a wall, a building.

ÉBOULEUX, EUSE, adj. Terre éboulеuse, loose earth.

ÉBOULIS, s. m. heap of sand, earth, stones which have fallen down; heap of rubbish.

ÉBOULER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to fall down; to tumble down; to slip. Cette pile de bois va s'ébouler, this pile of timber will come down.

ÉBOURGEONNAGE, } s. m. (t. de jardinage), ÉBOURGEONNEMENT, } nipping off of buds.

ÉBOURGEONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jard., d'agric.), to nip off buds.

ÉBOURGEONNOIR, s. m. (jardin, agric.), nipping knife.

ÉBOURIFFER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Elle entra tout ébouriffée, she came in with her hair quite disordered. Il avait les cheveux ébouriffés, his hair was disordered. (Fig.) Il a eu un succès ébouriffant, he had a most astounding success. Qu'avez-vous donc? vous avez l'air ébouriffé, what is the matter with you? you look dismayed—you are all in a flutter.

ÉBOUSINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de maçon), to clear a stone of its soft crust, or rubbish, before cutting it into shape.

ÉBRANCHEMENT, s. m. lopping.

ÉBRANCHER, v. a rég. 1ère conj., to lop (a tree of its branches). Les arbres étaient tout ébranchés, the trees were stripped of all their branches.

ÉBRANLEMENT, s. m. shaking; shock. L'ébranlement des dents, the loosening of the teeth. Après un pareil ébranlement, cette muraille pourrait tomber, after such a shock, the wall might fall. Nous sentîmes un grand ébranlement, we felt every thing moving—staggering. L'ébranlement du cerveau, the concussion of the brain.

(Fig.) L'ébranlement des trônes, the tottering—staggering—agitation of the thrones. L'ébranlement de sa fortune nous inquiète, the shock his fortune has received makes us uneasy. Cela même à l'ébranlement du crédit, this must lead to the shaking of credit. L'ébranlement des passions, the agitation of the passions.

ÉBRANLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Les voitures ébranlent la maison, the carriages shake the house—make it tremble. Tout était ébranlé, every thing was shaken, moving. Ces nouvelles ébranlèrent le crédit public, this news shook the public credit. Nos prières l'ont ébranlé, our prayers have shaken him—moved him—staggered him. Rien ne l'ébranla, he remained unmoved. Le temple s'ébranla, the temple shook. Les troupes commençaient à s'ébranler, the troops were staggering—giving way. A ce signal, l'armée s'ébranla, upon this signal, the army moved on—began to move. Ces remèdes lui ont ébranlé les dents, these remedies loosened all his teeth. Le coup lui ébranla le cerveau, the blow produced a concussion of the brain. Rien ne pouvait rétablir son empire ébranlé, nothing could restore his shaking—tottering—falling empire. Ne cherchez point à ébranler sa résolution, do not attempt to shake his resolution.

ÉBRASEMENT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), widening; enlarging.

ÉBRASER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to widen obliquely.

ÉBRÉCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to notch. Un couteau ébréché, a notched knife. Il s'est ébréché une dent, he broke off a piece of one of his teeth. (Fig.) Ses dépenses ont ébréché sa fortune, his expenses have made a gap in his fortune.

ÉBRÉNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to clean, to change (an infant).

ÉBRÉNEUSE, s. f. nurse maid.

ÉBRIÉTÉ, s. f. (t. de médec.), ebriety.

ÉBRILLADE, s. f. (t. de médec.), jerk of the bridle.

ÉBROULEMENT, s. m. (t. de manége), snorting.

ÉBROUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de manége), to snort; (t. de teinturier), to rince.

ÉBROUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Ébrousser un arbre, to strip a tree of its leaves.

ÉBRUITER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to noise about; to divulge. Ces nouvelles-là s'ébruitent bientôt, this news is soon spread about.

ÉBUARD, s. m. wooden wedge (used in splitting wood).

ÉBULLITION, s. f. ebullition; (t. de médec., t. de métier), to beat flat.

ÉCACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to squash, to coin; [rougeur.

ÉCACHÉ, E, adj. Un nez écaché, a pug nose.

ÉCACHEUR, s. m. (t. de métier), gold wire lace drawer.

ÉCAILLE, s. f. Écaille d'huître, oyster-shell. Écaille de tortue, turtle-shell. Un peigne d'écaille, tortoiseshell—a shell—comb. Écaille de poisson, scale. Oter les écailles d'un poisson, to scale a fish. Ces boutons sont garnis d'écailles, these buttons are furnished with scales. (T. de médec., de peinture.) Sa peau se levait par écailles, his skin formed into scales. Le tableau tombe en écailles, the paint of this picture flakes off—comes off into scales. (Fig.) Les écailles lui sont tombées des yeux, the scales fell off his eyes—his eyes are open.

ÉCAILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Écailler un brochet, une carpe, to scale a pike, a carp. Écailler des huîtres, to open oysters. Ce tableau s'écaille, the paint scales off. Cette émaillure s'est écaillée, this enamelling came off into flakes. Écaillé, scaly.

ÉCAILLER, s. m. oysterman.

ÉCAILLÈRE, s. f. oysterwoman.

ÉCAILLEUX, EUSE, adj. scaly.

ÉCAILLURE, s. f. (t. de métier), pealing, scaling of flakes.

ÉCALE, s. f. shell. Écales de pois, pea-shells. Une écale d'œuf, an egg-shell.

ÉCALER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Écaler des pois, to shell peas. Les fèves s'écalent, the beans come out from the shell. Les pois s'écalent à l'eau bouillante, peas lose their skin in boiling water.

ÉCAQUEUR, s. m. barreller of herring.

ÉCARBOUILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to crush.

ÉCARLATE, s. m. scarlet. Une robe écarlate, a scarlet dress. J'ai acheté dix aunes d'écarlate, I bought ten ells of scarlet cloth. (Fig., fam.) Avoir les yeux bordés d'écarlate, to have red eyes—bleared eyes.

ÉCARLATINE. Voyez Scarlatine.

ÉCARQUILLEMENT, s. m. spreading, opening wide.

ÉCARQUILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to open wide. N'écarquillez pas les jambes, do not open your legs so far apart. Il est là, écarquillant les yeux, he stands there opening his eyes quite wide—staring out.

ÉCART, s. m. Pour éviter de recevoir le coup, il fit un écart, to avoid the blow, he stepped aside. Mon cheval fit un écart, my horse started—shied. (T. de manége.) Mon cheval s'est donné un écart, my horse strained and is shying.

On le trouva à l'écart, he was found aside; stood by himself. Je le menai—tirai—à l'écart, I took or drew him—into a corner—aside. Tenez-vous à l'écart, stand aside—apart. Il met une partie de son revenu à l'écart, he puts by—aside—he reserves—part of his income. Mettons nos intérêts à l'écart, let us set our interests aside. On l'a mis à l'écart, on ne lui a pas donné de place, he has obtained no situation, he has been put on the shelf. (T. de jeu de cartes.) Où est votre écart? where are the cards thrown out—discarded? (Fig.) Faire un écart (dans un discours), to swerve—to wander—from the subject. Les écarts de l'imagination, the wanderings—the flights of imagination. Les écarts de la jeunesse, the pranks—errors of youth.

ÉCARTÉ, s. m. (t. de jeu de cartes), écarté. Voyez écarter.

ÉCARTELEMENT, s. m. quartering.

ÉCARTELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to quarter. (T. de blason.) Écarteler d'or, to quarter—to bear quarterly gold.

ÉCARTELURE, s. f. (t. de blason), quartering.

ÉCARTEMENT, s. m. separation; spreading; opening.

ÉCARTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Écartez les jambes, open your legs. Ne vous tenez pas ainsi les jambes écartées, do not stand thus with your legs apart. J'écartai le voile qui cachait la statue, I removed the veil which concealed the statue. Écartez-le un peu du feu, remove it a little from the fire. Écartez ces cheveux qui vous couvrent le front, throw back—aside—push aside the hair which covers your forehead. Écartez la neige qui embarrasse la porte, remove—sweep away—the dust, the snow which obstructs the gate. Laissez-moi de l'autel écarter une mère, suffer me to keep the mother away from the altar. La foule s'écarta, the crowd made way. Nous ne pouvions écarter la foule de la maison, we could not keep the crowd away from the house. La tempête écarta les vaisseaux, the tempest scattered—dispersed—the ships. Ne vous écartez pas de votre devoir, do not go from your duty. Je me suis écarté du vrai chemin, I went out of—I strayed from—the right way. J'ai dit cela pour écarter les soupçons, I said that to remove all suspicion. Vous vous écartez du bon sens, you wander—you ramble—you talk nonsense. Ne vous écartez pas de la maison, do not go away—from the house. Ne vous écartez pas, j'ai à vous parler, do not keep out of the way—be at hand—I have something to say to you. Faites ce que je vous dis, ne vous en écartez pas, do what I tell you, do not deviate from it. Je me suis écarté, pour ne pas entendre, I kept away, I stood aside not to hear. Ces deux lignes s'écartent, the two lines part—separate. (T. de jeu.) Avez-vous écarté? have you thrown out? N'écartez pas cette carte, do not throw this card out. (T. de chasse.) Ce fusil écarte, this gun scatters. Écarter la dragée, (voyez dragée.)

ÉCARTILLEMENT, s. m. Voyez Équarquillement.

ÉCARTILLER. Voyez Équarquiller.

ÉCARTIR. Voyez Cartir.

ECCE HOMO, s. m. crucifix; a picture of the crucifixion. (Fig.) C'est un ecce homo, he is a thin, pale man.

ECCHYMOSE, s. f. (t. de chirurg., pronon. E-ki-mo-se), ecchymosis.

ECCLÉSIASTE, s. m. Ecclesiastes; the preacher.

ECCLÉSIASTIQUE, s. m. Ecclesiasticus; (un prêtre), ecclesiastic, clerk.

ECCLÉSIASTIQUE, adj. ecclesiastic. L'ordre ecclésiastique, the ecclesiastical—the clerical order. Les lois ecclésiastiques, the ecclesiastic laws or discipline. Les biens ecclésiastiques, the church property. Un bon ecclésiastique, a good divine—priest.

ECCLÉSIASTIQUEMENT, adv. Il vit ecclésiastiquement, he lives in a priest-like manner—as a priest should do.

ECCOPROTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), ecoprotic.

ECCRINOLOGIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), eccrinology.

ECERVELÉ, E, adj. brainless; giddy; thoughtless. Voyez ce que vous avez fait, tête écervelée, see what you have done, oh you giddy creature. Il faut être écervelé pour agir ainsi, a person cannot have any brains who acts thus.

ÉCERVELÉ, s. m. giddy creature; thoughtless—

ÉCERVELÉE, s. f. brainless person; hare-brained animal.

ÉCHAFAUD, s. m. (t. de charp.), scaffolding; (t. de théât., de spectacle), scaffold. On avait dressé un échafaud pour la musique, a scaffold had been erected for the music. (T. de jurisp.) Mourir sur l'échafaud, to die on the scaffold. Il porta sa tête sur l'échafaud, he laid his head down on the scaffold.

ÉCHAFAUDAGE, s. m. (t. de charp.), scaffolding. (Fig.) A quoi bon tout cet échafaudage? what is the use of these preparations—of this great work? Un échafaudage de grandes maximes, a heap of great maxims.

ÉCHAFAUDER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to scaffold; to raise, to use scaffolding. Il en coûtera beaucoup pour échafauder, the scaffolding will cost much. (Fig.) Ils furent longs à s'échafauder, it took them a long while to settle themselves—to make their arrangements.

ÉCHALAS, s. m. (t. d'agric.), vine-stick or prop. (Fam.) Se tenir droit comme un échalas, to stand bolt upright. C'est un échalas que cet homme là, that man is as thin as a lath.

ÉCHALASSEMENT, s. m. (t. d'agric.), the propping—the dressing of the vine.

ÉCHALASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to prop vines.

ÉCHALIER, s. m. a fence (to keep cattle away).

ÉCHALOTE, s. f. shallot.

ÉCHAMPIR. Voyez Échampir.

ÉCHANCRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to slope; to cut sloping. (Bot.) Feuilles échancrées, cremated leaves.

ÉCHANCRURE, s. f. slope; cut. (Bot.) Ces feuilles ont une échancrure à leur sommet, these leaves are cremated at the top.

ÉCHANGE, s. m. exchange, barter. Vous avez fait là un échange désavantageux, you made an unfortunate—a disadvantageous exchange—barter. Je lui ai donné mon cheval en échange pour son tableau, I gave him my horse in exchange for—against—his picture. Nous faisons l'échange, we barter. Nous faisons l'échange de nos marchandises contre leurs produits, we barter our goods for—against—their produce. (T. de diplom.) L'échange des pouvoirs n'a pas encore eu lieu, the exchange of powers has not yet taken place. (Fig.) Il y a un échange de services, de civilité entre eux, there is an exchange—an interchange—of services, of civility between them.

ÉCHANGEABLE, adj. exchangeable; fit to be exchanged.

ÉCHANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exchange; to barter; (fam.), to chop. (Fig.) Nous échangeâmes quelques coups de canon, we exchanged—we made an exchange of—a few shots.

ÉCHANSON, s. m. cup-bearer. (Fam.) Je serai votre échanson, I shall pour out your drink—I shall be your cup-bearer.

ÉCHANSONNERIE, s. f. cup-bearer's office; butler's office; clerk of the cellar.

ÉCHANTILLON, s. m. (En parlant de marchandises.) Échantillon de drap, de toile, a pattern, a sample of cloth, of linen. Un échantillon de vin, de bière, de blé, &c., a sample of wine, of beer, of corn, &c. (En général.) Donnez-nous un échantillon de votre savoir, give us a specimen—a sample—of your knowledge. Ils ont publié un échantillon de leur ouvrage, they have published a specimen of their work. (Dimension. force.) Ce bâtiment est d'un grand échantillon, this ship is on a large scale.

ÉCHANTILLONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to test; to try by a standard.

ÉCHAPPADE, s. f. (t. de graveur), slip.

ÉCHAPPATOIRE, s. f. escape; a shift.

ÉCHAPPÉE, s. f. prank; frolic. C'est une échappée de jeune homme, it is a young man's prank, frolic, mad trick. Faire les choses par échappées, to do things by fits and starts. Échappée de lumière, accidental light. Échappée de vue, vista; long vista. (T. de marine.)

Une belle échappée, fine form, fine stern. (T. d'archit.), rounding off; space.

ECHAPPEMENT, s. m. (t. de mécanique), escapement; escapement. Échappement à recul, recoil—escapement. Échappement à repos, dead beat. (T. d'archit.) Voyez Echappée.

ÉCHAPPER, v. n. & r. rég. 1ère conj., to escape. Il a laissé échapper son prisonnier, he suffered his prisoner to escape. Nous n'avons pu échapper, we could not escape. Il s'est échappé de nos mains, he has escaped from our hands. Échapper d'un danger, to escape from —to be saved from—a danger. Quelle maladie que celle dont vous avez échappé, what a disease was that from which you have escaped—you were rescued! La patience lui échappe, his patience escapes him—,—he loses his patience. Rome que tu tenais t'échappe, Rome, which you held in your power, now escapes you. Seigneur, quelque Troyen vous est-il échappé? My Lord, has a single Trojan escaped you—escaped your blows? Cela m'a —m'est échappé—de la mémoire, that escaped—slipped from—my memory. La chose m'échappa des mains, the thing fell from—slipped from—escaped from—dropped from—my hands. En courant, je l'ai laissé échapper, while running, I let it go. Elle laissa échapper un cri, she uttered a cry—,—a cry escaped her. Elle laissa échapper un soupir, she sighed—a sigh escaped her. Des larmes s'échappaient de ses yeux, tears fell—escaped—from her eyes. Quel mot vous est échappé? what word has escaped you? Laisser échapper l'occasion, to miss —to let slip—the opportunity. Son secret lui échappa, his secret escaped from him. La fumée s'échappe par ici, the smoke escapes this way.

Il m'est échappé deux ou trois fautes, two or three mistakes have escaped me. Il lui échappe quelquefois de dire des choses malhonnêtes, it happens to him sometimes to say—to let out—rude things. La chose m'est échappée bien malgré moi, I let it out—the thing escaped me—much against my will.

L'oiseau s'est échappé, the bird has flown away. Le chien rompit sa chaîne et s'échappa, the dog broke its chain and ran away. Échappez-vous, run away. Je viendrai, si je puis m'échapper un instant, I will come, if I can run away for a moment. (Fig.) Il est sujet à s'échapper, he is subject to forget himself Il s'est échappé jusqu'à m'injurier, he forgot himself so far as to insult me.

Échapper à la fureur d'un ennemi, to avoid—to run away from—to be saved from—the fury of an enemy. Échapper à la mort, to escape death. Malgré la rapidité de notre course nous ne pûmes échapper à l'orage, in spite of the swiftness of our march, we could not escape—get away from—the storm. Sa vengeance me poursuit, je ne puis y échapper, his vengeance pursues me, I cannot avoid it—escape it. Ces insectes sont si petits, qu'ils échappent aux yeux, these insects are so small that they escape the eye. Rien n'échappe à son attention, nothing escapes his attention. (Fig.) Elle vit s'échapper le dernier espoir qui lui restait, she saw her only remaining hope die away. Nous l'avons échappé belle, we have had a narrow escape. Un cheval échappé, a runaway horse; (fig.), a mad young man. S'amuser comme un écolier échappé, to be as merry as a boy run away from school. C'est un échappé de Charenton, he has escaped from the Asylum at Charenton—he is a madman.

ÉCHABOT, s. m. (bot.), water chestnut.

ÉCHARDE, s. f. a splinter; thorn.

ÉCHARDONNAGE, s. m. (agric.), clearing the ground of thistles.

ÉCHARDONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pull up thistles; to clear ground of thistles.

ÉCHARNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to clear—to flesh —a hide.

ÉCHARNOIR, s. m. (t. de corroyeur), fleshing knife.

ÉCHARPE, s. f. scarf. Les Espagnols portent l'écharpe rouge, the Spaniards wear a red scarf. Les magistrats portent l'écharpe tricolore en France, magistrates wear the tricoloured scarf in France. Elle avait une belle écharpe de soie, she had on a beautiful silk scarf. Le grand cordon de l'ordre se porte en écharpe, the great ribband of the order is worn as a sash—over the shoulder. (Fig.) Changer d'écharpe, to change colours—to change sides. Avoir le bras en écharpe, to carry the arm in a sling. Le lit est l'écharpe de la jambe, the bed is a sling of the leg—a man with a bad leg must be in bed. En écharpe (loc. adverb.), slantingly; in an oblique or slanting direction.

ÉCHARPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to slash. Son régiment fut écharpé, our regiment was cut to pieces. v. n. to walk, march slantingly. v. r. S'écharper un bras, to put one's arm in a sling.

ÉCHARS, adj. Vents échars, shifting winds.

ÉCHASSE, s. f. stilt. Marcher avec des—être sur des—échasses, to walk on stilts. (Fig.) Il est toujours monté sur des échasses, he is always riding on stilts—stiff and mighty——he is always on his high horse.

ÉCHASSES, } s. f. (hist. nat.), long legged birds.
ÉCHASSIERS, }

ÉCHAUBOULÉ, E, adj. full of—all over—pimples.

ÉCHAUBOULURE, s. f. pimple. Il lui est venu des échaubolures, pimples came over his body.

ÉCHAUDE, s. m. (t. de pâtisserie), cake; cruller. (T. de tapissier), folding stool.

ÉCHAUDEMENT, s. m. scalding.

ÉCHAUDER, v. a. & r. rég. 1ère conj., to scald. Échauder un cochon de lait, to scald—to dip—a sucking pig. Il s'est échaudé le pied avec de l'eau bouillante, he scalded his foot with boiling water. (Fig.) Il ne se mêlera plus, il s'y est échaudé, he will not meddle with it again, he has smarted for it—he has been taken in before. Chat échaudé craint l'eau froide, a scalded cat is afraid of cold water—a burnt child dreads the fire.

ÉCHAUDOIR, s. m. scalding pan—tub.

ÉCHAUFFAISON, s. f. (t. de médec.), heat; effects from an over heated body.

ÉCHAUFFEMENT, s. m. (t. de médec.), heat. Il a un grand échauffement, he is much heated.

ÉCHAUFFER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Faites bien du feu pour échauffer cette chambre, light a good fire to warm this room. Nous le retirâmes de l'eau glacé, nous eûmes bien du mal à l'échauffer, we got him out of the water as cold as ice, we had great difficulty to restore heat—warmth in him. Je ne puis m'échauffer, I cannot get warm. La chambre commence à s'échauffer, the room is getting warm.

(En parlant d'excès.) Cette course rapide l'a échauffé, this quick race has over-heated me. Elle s'est échauffée à danser, she got in a great heat—she overheated herself—in dancing. Les épiceries échauffent le sang, spices heat the blood. Ces choses-là échauffent beaucoup, these things are very heating.

(Fig.) Ne lui échauffez pas les oreilles, do not excite him—do not irritate him. Vous lui avez échauffé le sang—la bile, you excited him—irritated him. Si vous lui résistez, il s'échauffe tout de suite, if you oppose him he gets warm directly. Vous vous échauffez au jeu, you get excited at play. Le jeu commence à s'échauffer, the game is getting high. Voilà le combat, la querelle s'échauffe, the battle, the quarrel is getting warm. Si nous échauffions à ces récits, we got excited—warmed—warm at these accounts.

ÉCHAUFFOURÉE, s. f. unlucky affair; ill-conducted business, bungle. (T. de guerre), unexpected encounter—sudden scuffle; a skirmish.

ÉCHAUFFURE, s. f. (t. de médec.), pimple—heat.

ÉCHAUGUETTE, s. f. watch tower.

ÉCHAULER, v. a. rég. Voyez Chauler.

ÉCHÉANCE, s. f. (t. de commerce), the day on which a bill is due, a term ends. Nous sortirons à l'échéance de notre terme, we will leave when our time is out. Je paierai à l'échéance, I will pay when the bill becomes due. A l'échéance, il n'avait pas de fonds, on payday—on the bill becoming due—he had no cash.

ÉCHEC, s. m. check. L'ennemi reçut là un rude échec, the enemy suffered there severe loss, check. Nous tenions leur armée en échec, we kept their army in check.

Il tenait la population en échec, he kept the population n check—quiet—under control. Cette faveur porta un hec au pouvoir du Cardinal, this favour gave a check the Cardinal's power. Ce premier échec nous décou- agea, this first blow—failure—discouraged us.
(T. de jeu d'échecs.) Échec au roi, check to the king.
ire échec, to give check. Être en échec, to be in check.
échec et mat, check mate. (Fig. et fam.) Le gourmand sane échec et mat à tous les plats, the greedy fellow tacks and clears every dish.
ÉCHECS, s. m. chess. Jouer aux échecs, to play at
ess. C'est un grand joueur d'échecs, he is a great chess-layer. Un jeu d'échecs, chess-men.
ÉCHELETTE, s. f. a small rack.
ÉCHELLE, s. f. ladder. Monter à une échelle, to go p a ladder. Échelle de corde, rope-ladder. Échelle escalade, scaling ladder.
(Fig.) Il est au dernier degré de l'échelle sociale, he on the last step of the social ladder—scale. Après lui, faut tirer l'échelle, after him, the ladder must be taken un—no one could follow after him. Il a tiré l'échelle rès lui, he has taken the ladder after him—no one could llow him. Faire la courte échelle, to scale a wall by imbing upon one another's shoulders. Faire à quelqu'un courte échelle, to help another to obtain an end.
(T. de science), scale. Travailler sur une grande helle, to work on a large scale.
ÉCHELLE, s. f. (t. de géog.), eastern ports in the editerranean. Notre vaisseau a visité toutes les échelles, r ship visited all the ports in the East.
ÉCHELON, s. m. round; rundle. (Fig.) Il est rivé par échelon au grade de général, he reached the k of general step by step. Cette place est un échelon ur arriver à une autre, this office is a first step to another a stepping-stone to come to another. Descendre d'un helon, to come down one step.
(T. militaire.) Ranger des troupes en échelons, to ge troops in echelons.
ÉCHELONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to draw in helons; to form into echelons.
ÉCHENILLAGE, s. m. clearing, destroying caterllars.
ÉCHENILLER, v. a. to destroy, to kill caterpillars.
ÉCHENILLOIR, s. m. an instrument to destroy caterllars.
ÉCHEOIR. Voyez Échoir.
ÉCHEVEAU, s. m. skein.
ÉCHEVELÉ, E, adj. dishevelled; whose hair is ordered.
ÉCHEVIN, s. m. (vieux mot), civil magistrate; alderan. Les maires et échevins d' Orléans, the mayor and ermen of Orleans.
ÉCHEVINAGE, s. m. aldermanship.
ÉCHINE, s. f. spine; backbone. C'était une longue ine, he was a lanky person.
ÉCHINÉE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), chine.
ÉCHINER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to break the ckbone of a person. Il s'est échiné, he broke his back his backbone. (Fig.) Le malheureux s'échine pour ingrats, the poor fellow toils hard for ungrateful etches. On l'a échiné de coups, they beat him to death.
'y allez pas, vous vous ferez échiner, do not go, you ll get beaten—ill used.
ÉCHIQUETER, adj. checkered.
ÉCHIQUIER, s. m. chess-board. (T. de jardin., gric.) Planter des arbres en échiquier, to plant trees ecker-wise. (T. de marine.) Courir, marcher en échi- ier, to sail in a bow and quarter line. (En Angleterre.
r cour des comptes), Exchequer. Le Chancelier de échiquier, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. (T. de he), small fishing net.
ÉCHO, s. m. echo. Il y a un écho ici, there is an o here. Cet homme est leur écho, that man is their o.
ÉCHOIR, v. n. irrég. Échéant, échu, j'échois, tu is, il échoit ou il échet; j'échéais, il échéait; j'échus; errai; j'écherrais; que j'échée; que j'échusse. Ce m'est échu en partage, this estate fell to my lot.

Un si grand bonheur ne m'écherra jamais, so great a happiness will never fall to my lot. (T. de jurisp.) Si le cas y échet, the case occurring. (T. de commerce.) Le terme échoit au mois de juin, the term is up—due—in june. La lettre de change est échue, the bill of exchange is due.
(Fam.) Vous êtes bien échu, you are lucky.
ÉCHOPPE, s. f. stall.
ÉCHOPPE, s. f. (t. de métier), scalpel.
ÉCHOPPER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to use the scalpel.
ÉCHOUAGE, s. m. (t. de marine), stranding.
ÉCHOUEMENT, s. m. running aground; stranding.
ÉCHOUER, v. n. v. a. v. r. reg. 1ère conj., to run aground; to strand. Notre vaisseau échoua sur la côte, our ship ran aground on the coast—was wrecked on shore. La canonnière échoua sur les rochers, the gun-boat struck upon the rocks. Le capitaine échoua son vaisseau, the captain ran his ship aground.
(Fig.) Son entreprise a échoué, his enterprise has failed—has miscarried. Vous y échouerez, you will fail in it.
ÉCHU. Voyez Échoir.
ÉCIMER. Voyez Étêter.
ÉCLABOUSSEMENT, s. m. splashing.
ÉCLABOUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to splash.
ÉCLABOUSSURE, s. f. splashing. Vous êtes couvert d'éclaboussures, you are splashed all over.
ÉCLAIR, s. m. lightning; flash of lightning. Il fait des éclairs, it lightens. On voyait à la lueur des éclairs, the lightning made it visible. Prompt, rapide comme l'éclair, quick as lightning. Il a passé comme un éclair, he passed with the swiftness of lightning. Sa prospérité ne fut qu'un éclair, his prosperity was like a flash—had the duration of a flash of lightning. (Fig.) On ne pouvait soutenir l'éclair de ses yeux, no one could stand his flashing eye—the flashes of her eye.
ÉCLAIRAGE, s. m. lighting.
ÉCLAIRCIE, s. f. (t. de marine), clear spot, clear speck, (in the sky in stormy weather.) (T. d'agric.), clearing.
ÉCLAIRCIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to clear. Le vent a éclairci le temps, the wind has cleared the weather. Cela vous éclaircira la vue, that will clear your sight. Il prit un peu d'eau pour s'éclaircir la voix, he took a little water to clear his voice. Éclaircir de la vaisselle, des armes, to rub up plate, arms, to brighten them up. Éclaircir un sirop, une sauce, to thin a syrup—a sauce. Éclaircir une forêt, des plantes, to thin a forest—plants, &c. Le canon éclaircissait nos rangs, the cannon cleared—thinned—our ranks. Le temps s'éclaircit, the weather is clearing up—is getting brighter. Il faisait mauvais temps, malgré cela il y eut un peu d'éclairci dans la journée, the weather was bad, nevertheless we had a little clearing now and then.
(Fig.) Éclaircir un point, un fait, to clear up a point, a fact. On n'a jamais pu éclaircir cette affaire, they never could clear up—explain—that affair. C'est un doute dont je veux m'éclaircir, it is a doubt on which I wish to satisfy my mind. Éclaircissez cela, il faut savoir la vérité, inquire into that, the truth must be known. Il ignorait les circonstances, je l'en ai éclairci, he knew not the circumstances. I explained them to him. Plus on parle, moins on s'éclaircit, the more we talk, the less we get clear ideas.
Éclaircissez votre front, smooth your brow.
ÉCLAIRCISSEMENT, s. m. explanation. Nous avons eu un éclaircissement, we have had an explanation.
(Fig.) C'est un homme à éclaircissements, he is a touchy man, ever seeking explanations.
ÉCLAIRER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to light Éclairez monsieur, light that gentleman. Un domestique nous éclairait, a servant lighted us—gave us light. Cet appartement est bien éclairé, this room is very light—airy —(le soir), this room is well lighted up. Je suis nourri, logé et éclairé, I have my food, lodging and lighting. Cette maison est trop éclairée, this house is too much exposed.
(Fig.) L'étude l'a éclairé, study has enlightened him. Les esprits commencent à s'éclairer, the minds begin to be enlightened. Il nous a éclairés à ce sujet, he enlightened us on that subject. Cherchez la société des hommes éclairés, seek the company of enlightened—of well informed—men. On éclairait sa conduite, his conduct was spied—watched. Prenez garde, vous serez éclairé de près, take care, for you will be closely watched—observed. Les yeux du chat—les vers luisants éclairent pendant la nuit, the eyes of the cat—the glowworm—shine in the dark. Il éclaire, it lightens. Il a éclairé toute la nuit, it has lightened the whole of the night.

ÉCLAIREUR, s. m. (t. militaire), scout; (t. de marine), cruiser.

ÉCLANCHE, s. f. (t. de cuisine). Une éclanche de mouton, a shoulder of mutton.

ÉCLAT, s. m. splinter. Il fut blessé d'un éclat de lance, he was wounded by the splinter of a spear. Voler en éclats, to fly into pieces—to be shivered. Un éclat de pierre le blessa au visage, a piece of stone struck him in the face. Un éclat de bombe, a splinter of a bomb, a shell.

Un éclat de tonnerre, a peal of thunder. J'entendis un éclat de rire, I heard a burst of laughter. Ils firent de grands éclats de rire, there were loud peals of laughter. Rire aux éclats, to laugh out—to have shouts of laughter. Nous en avons ri aux éclats, we have had a good laugh at it. Ils firent de grands éclats de rire à son entrée, they saluted him on his entering with a loud laugh—they all burst out into a loud laugh on his entering. On entendait des éclats de voix, we heard a loud noise of voices—loud shouts. Elle partit d'un grand éclat de voix, she started with a loud burst. Un éclat de foudre—de tonnerre, a peal—a clap—of thunder. (Fig.) Cette affaire fit de l'éclat, that affair made a noise. Séparons-nous sans éclat, let us part without noise. Croyez-moi, évitez l'éclat, believe me, avoid noise—attracting notice. Cet homme aime l'éclat, that man is fond of display—of noise—of causing a bustle. Nous en viendrons à un éclat, we shall come to a scene—to some violent measure. Faire un éclat, to cause a scene.

On ne saurait soutenir l'éclat du soleil, one could not bear the brilliancy—the brightness of the sun. Ce diamant a beaucoup d'éclat, this diamond has much brilliancy, brightness. Elle a de l'éclat, she is brilliant—she is striking. Quel éclat ces fleurs jettent sur le jardin, what brilliancy, what brightness these flowers spread all around the garden. C'est une action d'éclat, it is a brilliant action. L'éclat de son style nous séduit, the pomp—the brilliancy of his style captivates us. Il parut avec éclat à la cour, he appeared with pomp—with magnificence, at court. Cette pensée a moins de solidité que d'éclat, this thought is less solid than brilliant. Il était ébloui par l'éclat des richesses, the splendour of riches dazzled him. Cela répandit un grand éclat sur sa famille, that reflected great honour on his family.

ÉCLATANT, adj. Une lumière éclatante, a bright, dazzling light. La salle était tout éclatante de lumière, the room was dazzling—brilliant—with light. Elle aime les couleurs éclatantes, she is fond of bright—showy—colours. Sa robe était d'une blancheur éclatante, her dress was of dazzling white. Elle était éclatante de diamants, de pierreries, she was radiant—resplendent—glittering—with diamonds and jewellery.

(Fig.) Nous entendîmes une voix éclatante, we heard a loud voice. Un bruit éclatant, a loud and piercing noise. Il nous a rendu un service éclatant, he has done us eminent service. Cette victoire éclatante amena la paix, this glorious—splendid—brilliant victory brought peace with it. Voilà un témoignage éclatant, here is a striking—astounding—testimony. Une action—un fait éclatant, a great—a remarkable—deed. Il en a tiré une vengeance éclatante, he took a signal—a striking—revenge. Il prononça ces paroles éclatantes, he uttered these striking words. Il revint éclatant de gloire, he returned radiant with glory.

ÉCLATEMENT, s. m. breaking up; cracking.

ÉCLATER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. La chaleur a fait éclater le bois, the heat made the wood split. Le verre éclate au feu, glass snaps—flies—before the fire. La bombe, en éclatant, tua plusieurs hommes, the shell, bursting, killed several men. Le feu éclata pendant la nuit, the fire broke out in the night. La chaudière a éclaté, the boiler of the steam-boat burst. Tout à coup l'orage éclata avec violence, on a sudden the storm broke out violently. La fièvre vient d'éclater, the fever has recently broke out. Leur inimitié vient d'éclater, their hostility has just broken out—declared itself. Il est à craindre que la division n'éclate, it is to be feared the dissension will break out. Ce fut alors qu'il éclata, then it was that he gave way to his feelings—that he made his feelings known. Ils ont tous éclaté contre cette injustice, they all spoke out—inveighed—against the injustice. Il éclata en injures, en reproches contre moi, he broke out into abuse, into reproaches against me. Il a fait éclater son ressentiment, he has shown—displayed his anger. Éclater de rire, to burst out laughing.

L'or et les pierreries éclataient de toutes parts, gold and precious stones shone—glittered—sparkled everywhere. Le génie éclate dans tous ses ouvrages, genius shines forth in all his works. Sa gloire éclate sur tout le monde entier, his glory shines forth in the eyes of the whole world.

ÉCLECTIQUE, adj. eclectic (who selects, chuses).

ÉCLECTIQUEMENT, adv. eclectically.

ÉCLECTISME, s. m. eclectism; eclectic philosophy.

ÉCLIPSE, s. f. eclipse. Éclipse du soleil, de la lune, an eclipse of the sun, of the moon. (Fig.) Il s'est éclipsé, he vanished, he disappeared. D'où venez-vous donc? vous avez fait une longue éclipse, where have you been? what a long absence you have made. Ses écrits ont souffert une longue éclipse, his honour suffered a long eclipse.

ÉCLIPSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to eclipse. Le soleil s'éclipsa tout à coup, on a sudden the sun was eclipsed—disappeared. (Fig.) Corneille a éclipsé ses prédécesseurs, Corneille eclipsed—surpassed—his predecessors. M'ennuyant beaucoup, je m'éclipsai, finding myself wearied, I disappeared—I vanished. Il ne veut pas se faire éclipser, he will not allow himself to be eclipsed—to be surpassed. Tous mes effets se sont éclipsés, all my effects have vanished.

ÉCLIPTIQUE, s. f. (t. d'astron.), ecliptic.

ÉCLIPTIQUE, adj. ecliptic.

ÉCLISSE, s. f. (instrum. de chirurg.), splint; splinter. (Commun.), cheese drainer.

ÉCLISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to splint; to cause with splinters.

ÉCLOPPÉ, E, adj. lame; limping.

ÉCLORE, v. n. irrég. et imparfait. Éclore, ils éclosent; il éclora, ils éclorent; il éclorait, ils écloraient; qu'il éclose, qu'ils éclosent. Ces poussins viennent d'éclore, these chickens are just now coming. La chaleur fait éclore les vers à soie, heat hatches the silkworms. Ils ne sont pas éclos encore, they are not hatched yet.

Le soleil fait éclore les fleurs, the sun causes flowers to open, to blow. Une rose fraîche éclose, a new blown.

Le jour vient d'éclore, day-light is just out—is peeping. (Fig.) Les grands génies que ce siècle vit éclore, those great minds of which this age saw the birth—rise. Tels sont les écrits que la circonstance fit éclore, such are the writings to which the circumstance gave birth. Son projet était prêt d'éclore, his project was on the eve of being brought to light. C'est un de ces petits diplomates éclos en trois mois, he is one of those speculatists hatched in the space of three months.

ÉCLOSION, s. f. hatching.

ÉCLUSE, s. f. sluice. Écluse (à sas), lock. Écluse de chasse, flood gate.

ÉCLUSÉE, s. f. sluice full of water.

ÉCLUSIER, s. m. ÉCLUSIERE, s. f. } sluice, lock-keeper.

ÉCOFRAI, ÉCOFROI, } s. m. cutting-board; a thick bench.

ÉCOINSON, ÉCOINÇON, } s. m. Une armoire en écoinçon, a cupboard.

ÉCOLÂTRE, s. m. (vieux mot), a sort of inspector of schools under ecclesiastical discipline.

ÉCOLE, s. f. school. École de mathématique, mathematical school. École de médecine, school of medicine. École de droit, law school. École de théologie, school of divinity. Il tient une école de dessin, he keeps a drawing school. Nous avons un bon maître d'école, we have a good schoolmaster. Aller à l'école, to be at school. Faire l'école buissonnière, (voyez Buissonnière.) Prendre le chemin de l'école, to take the longest way. Dire les nouvelles de l'école, to blab, to tell the secrets of a community. Toute l'école se révolta, the whole school rebelled. Il est en bonne école, he is at a good school. Faire une école, to make a mistake, a blunder.—(au tric trac), to forget to mark down the points gained. Savez-vous ne cet artiste fait école ? do you know that that artist has many imitators—is becoming the head of a school?

ÉCOLIER, s. m. } Il a beaucoup d'écoliers, he has ÉCOLIÈRE, s. f. } many scholars—pupils. Elle était son écolière, she was my pupil. Tous les écoliers sont en promenade, all the scholars—all the boys—are out walking. Les écolières faisaient bien du bruit, the girls, the school girls made a great noise. Les écoliers de l'université, the scholars—the students of the University. Les écoliers de rhétorique, de philosophie, the scholars, students, in rhetoric—in philosophy. C'est un écolier de sixième, he is a sixth form scholar. Il nous a joué un tour d'écolier, he played us a schoolboy trick. Prendre le chemin des écoliers, to take the longest way. Ce n'est qu'un écolier, he is a mere schoolboy—(fam.), a green-horn. Faire une faute d'écolier, to make a schoolboy's blunder. Parler d'un ton d'écolier, to speak like a schoolboy.

ÉCONDUIRE, v. a. rég. 6*me conj.* (voyez Conduire), to turn out; to send away. (Refuser.) Il nous éconduisit poliment, he refused and dismissed us politely.

ÉCONDUIREMENT, s. m. turning out; dismissing.

ÉCONOMAT, s. m. stewardship; bursarship.

ÉCONOME, s. m. steward; bursar; account keeper; stewardess; manager.

ÉCONOME, adj. economical; saving. (Fig.) C'est un homme très-économe de louanges, he is very sparing of his praises.

ÉCONOMIE, s. f. economy. Elle entend bien l'économie, she understands economy well—she is a good manager. Vous n'avez pas d'économie, you have no economy —you are not economical. Faire des économies, to save. Elle nous apporta ses petites économies, she brought us her little savings. C'est une économie, it is an economy—a saving. C'est une économie de bouts de chandelle, it is mere saving of candle-ends. Écrire sur l'économie domestique, sur l'économie politique, to write upon domestic economy—on political economy. (Fig.) Cela détruirait l'économie de son système, that would destroy the economy—arrangement of his plan.

ÉCONOMIQUE, adj. economical, saving.

ÉCONOMIQUEMENT, adv. economically; with economy.

ÉCONOMISER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to economize; to save. (Gouverner), to manage; to husband. Ses revenus sont bien économisés, his estates, revenues are well managed. (Fig.) Économisez vos forces, votre temps, husband—use your strength—your time with prudence.

ÉCONOMISTE, s. m. f. economist.

ÉCOPE. Voyez Escope.

ÉCORCE, s. f. Écorce d'arbre, bark. Écorce de fruits, de plantes, peel. Écorce d'orange, de citron, orange and lemon peel. (Fig.) Il ne faut pas mettre le doigt entre l'arbre et l'écorce, you must not put your finger between the bark and the tree—you must not interfere between man and wife—between people closely connected. Ne vous arrêtez pas à l'écorce, do not stop at the outside—the superficies.

ÉCORCER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to bark; to peel.

ÉCORCHÉE, s. f. (nat. hist.), a sort of beautiful shell.

ÉCORCHER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.* Écorcher un cheval, un bœuf, to skin, to flay, a horse, an ox. Écorcher une grenouille, un lapin, to skin, to strip an eel, a rabbit. (Fig.) Il crie comme si on l'écorchait, he hallous as if he were hurt. Il crie avant qu'on l'écorche, he cries out before he is touched. Écorcher l'anguille par la queue, to begin at the wrong end. Autant vaut, autant fait celui qui tient que celui qui écorche, an accomplice is as bad as the author of a crime.

Écorcher un arbre, to tear off—to take off—the bark of a tree. Ils l'écorchèrent tout vif, they flayed him alive. Je me suis écorché le bras, I tore the skin off—skinned—my arm. Je suis tout écorché, the skin is quite off. Je me suis écorché le genou à cheval, I galled—I got a sore on—my knee in riding. La selle a écorché mon cheval, the saddle galled my horse. Il a le genou écorché, he has broken knees.

Ces liqueurs fortes écorchent le palais, these strong spirits burn the palate—tear off the skin.

(Fig.) Jamais beau parler n'écorcha la langue, fair words do no hurt. Il nous écorche les oreilles avec son violon, he grates our ears with his violin. Il écorche le français, he murders French. Cet auberyiste écorche ses pratiques, this innkeeper fleeces his customers. Il écorchait tous ses clients, he fleeced—robbed—all his clients.

À-écorche-cul (loc. adv.), in sliding; (fig.), by force; with repugnance.

(T. de peinture.) Étudier l'écorché, to draw the muscles.

ÉCORCHERIE, s. f. slaughter-house. Envoyer un cheval à l'écorcherie, to send a horse to the knacker's. (Fam.) Cette auberge est une écorcherie, you are regularly fleeced at that inn.

ÉCORCHEUR, s. m. horse-flayer; knacker. (Fam.) Cet homme est un écorcheur, that man is a rogue—he will fleece you.

ÉCORCHURE, s. f. J'ai une écorchure à la main, I have an excoriation—a sore—on my hand. Je me suis fait une écorchure au genou, I ture—I grazed the skin off my knee.

ÉCORNER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.* Écorner un taureau, to break the horns of a bull. Un bœuf écorné, an ox without horns. (Fig.) Il fait un vent à écorner les bœufs, the wind is hard enough to blow a bull's horns off.

(Par extension.) Écorner une table, un meuble, to break, to clip the corner of a table, of a piece of furniture. Ces dés sont écornés, these dice are broken—clipped—at the corners. Écorner un livre, to break the cover of a book. (Fig.) On a écorné leurs privilèges, their privileges have been clipped—curtailed. On a écorné sa pension, they have clipped—taken off a little bit of—his annuity.

ÉCORNIFLER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.* Écornifler un dîner, to spunge for a dinner. Il est venu nous écornifler, he came to spunge on us.

ÉCORNIFLERIE, s. f. Il ne vit que d'écornifflerie, he lives by spunging on others.

ÉCORNIFLEUR, s. m. } a spunger; a parasite; a hanger ÉCORNIFLEUSE, s. f. } on.

ÉCORNUSE, s. f. splinter; a bit broken off.

ÉCOSSAIS, s. m. adj. a Scotchman; Scotch language; Scotch.

ÉCOSSAISE, s. f. a Scotch woman. (Étoffe de drap, de laine, &c.), Scotch plaid. Adj. Scotch.

ÉCOSSE, s. f. (géographie), Scotland.

ÉCOSSE, s. f. shell.

ÉCOSSER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to shell.

ÉCOSSEUR, s. m. }
ÉCOSSEUSE, s. f. } sheller; pea, bean sheller.

ÉCOT, s. m. Chacun paie son écot, every one pays for his own share, his part of the reckoning—his scot. Chacun son écot, each his part. (Fam.) Il a bien payé son écot, he paid well for his repast (with his stories, with his agreeable conversation). À combien se monte l'écot ? what is the amount of the fare? L'écot est de vingt francs, the charge is twenty francs. À quel écot êtes-vous ? to which table, party, do you belong? Parlez à votre écot, confine your speaking to your own party.

ÉCOUFLE, s. f. kite. Faire voler une écoufle, to fly a kite.

ECOULEMENT, s. m. running; running off; flowing. (T. de commerce.) Écoulement des produits, the outlet, the disposal of produce.

ÉCOULER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. L'eau s'écoule doucement, the water runs off slowly. L'eau est entièrement écoulée, the water has entirely run off. Le vin s'écoule du tonneau, the wine runs—leaks—from the cask. Faites écouler cette eau, let this water run off. La presse s'écoule lentement, the crowd is going off slowly. Le temps s'écoule vite quand on travaille, time passes away rapidly when you are busy. Allons, le temps est écoulé, come, come, the time is up—has passed—is gone by. L'argent s'écoule vite, money slips away quickly. Que d'années se sont écoulées depuis ce temps là, how many years have passed away since that time. (T. de commerce.) Faire écouler les produits, to dispose of—to sell—to export—goods.

ÉCOURGEON. Voyez Escourgeon.

ECOURONNÉ, E, adj. without—stripped of—a crown.

ÉCOURTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to shorten. Ce manteau est trop écourté, this cloak is too short. Comme on vous a écourté les cheveux, how they cropped your hair! Écourter un cheval, un chien, to dock a horse, a dog. (Fig.) Il fallait abréger cette scène, mais vous l'avez écourtée, that scene wanted abridging, but you have docked it.

ÉCOUTANT, E, s. m. f. hearer. Adj. C'est un avocat écoutant (par plaisanterie), he is a briefless barrister—he does not speak but listens to others.

ÉCOUTE, s. f. Il était dans la tribune aux écoutes, d'où il entendait sans être vu, he was in the reporter's—listener's box, whence he heard all without being seen. Être aux écoutes, to be on the watch—on the alert. (T. de couvent.) Sœur écoute, a nun who attends at the parlour when visitors come, and listens to what is said.

ÉCOUTE, s. f. (t. de marine), sheet. Nous avions les écoutes larguées, we were sailing with flowing sheets. Le bâtiment était sous nos écoutes, the ship was under our lee. Nous avions les écoutes à bâbord, we were sailing on the larboard tack.

ÉCOUTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to listen to. Il écoutait ce qu'on disait, he was listening to what was said. Nous écoutions quelqu'un qui chantait, we were listening to some body who was singing. On nous écoutait à la porte, some one was listening at the door. Prenez garde, on peut nous écouter, take care, we may be overheard. Corrigez-vous donc d'aller écouter aux portes, do abandon that habit of eaves-dropping. Ceux qui écoutent aux portes ont toujours lieu de s'en repentir, eaves-droppers ever repent. Écoutez, j'ai quelque chose à vous dire, hear me, I have something to say to you. Écoutez, voilà ce que je ferais, hear me, this is what I would do. Cet enfant n'écoute personne, this child listens to nobody. Vous n'écoutez que vous-même, you listen to yourself only—you consult your own wishes—your own views only. Si vous aviez écouté nos conseils, cela aurait mieux valu, if you had listened to—followed—attended to—our advice, it would have been better. Il n'écoute que sa colère, he only listens to—follows the dictates of—obeys—his anger. Si j'écoutais mon cœur, if I listened to—followed the movements of—my heart. Écoutez donc ce que l'on vous dit, do listen to—do attend to what is said to you. On vous parle, mais vous n'écoutez pas, you are spoken to, but you do not attend—you pay no attention. Parlez, je vous écoute, speak on, I attend. Vous n'écoutez que d'une oreille, you listen with one ear only—you do not give full attention. On les renvoya sans les écouter, they dismissed them without listening to them—without giving them a hearing. Il écoutait et le riche et le pauvre, he attended equally the rich and the poor. C'est un homme qui sait se faire écouter, he knows how to command—to get—attention when he speaks.

Dieu écouta ma prière, God heard my prayer.

Les princes écoutent les flatteurs, princes hear—listen to—give ear to—flatterers. Jeune fille, n'écoutez pas les amants, young girl, do not give ear to lovers. Il ne veut pas écouter cette proposition, he will not listen to—hear of—this proposal.

(Fig., fam.) C'est un écoute s'il pleut, he is a fine man—always in fear of danger. Vous vous écoutez trop, you are too much concerned about your health. Il s'écoute trop son mal, he is too uneasy about—too watchful of—his disease. Comme cet homme s'écoute, what care that man takes of himself. Il s'écoute parler, he picks out his words—he likes to hear himself speak.

ÉCOUTEUR, s. m. listener. Écouteur aux portes.

ÉCOUTEUSE, s. f. an eaves-dropper.

ÉCOUTEUX, adj. (t. de manége), shy; skittish.

ÉCOUTILLE, s. f. (t. de marine), hatch; scuttle.

ÉCOUVILLON, s. m. mop; malkin.

ÉCOUVILLONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mop; to clear. (Un canon), to sponge.

ÉCRAN, s. m. screen.

ÉCRASAGE, s. m. crushing.

ÉCRASER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Une pierre est tombée et lui écrasa la tête, a stone, in its fall, crushed—smashed—his head. Il fut écrasé sous les ruines, he was buried—crushed under the ruins. Écrasez cette araignée, crush this spider. Écraser des raisins, des pommes, to crush—to pound—grapes, apples. Elle est trop mûre, elle est écrasée en tombant, it is over ripe, it got smashed—squashed—in falling down. Je l'écraserais comme un ver, I would crush him—smash him—like a worm. Ces pertes l'ont écrasé, these losses have smashed him—ruined him—overwhelmed him. Impossible de résister à ce torrent qui écrasait, impossible to resist this overwhelming torrent. La puissance Romaine écrasa toutes les autres, the Roman power crushed all others. Ce travail vous écrase, the work kills you—overwhelms you. Nous sommes écrasés de travail, we are overwhelmed with labour. Il écrase ses peuples d'impôts, he loades—overburdens his people with taxes. Elle est écrasée de visites, she is overwhelmed with calls—visitors.

Il a le nez écrasé, his nose is flat—he has a pug nose. Il a la taille écrasée, he is squabby—he has a squat figure.

ÉCRÊMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to take the cream off (Fig.), to take, to choose the best, the cream of a thing.

Du lait écrêmé, skimmed milk.

ÉCRÊTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. militaire), to take off—to knock off the crest, the top of a bastion, a wall, &c.

ÉCREVISSE, s. f. cray fish. Écrevisse de mer, lobster. Buisson d'écrevisses, a dish of crayfish tastefully arranged. (Médecine.) Yeux d'écrevisses, crab's eyes. Aller comme les écrevisses, to go backwards. Être rouge comme une écrevisse, to be as red as a lobster. (T. d'astron.) Le signe de l'écrevisse, Cancer.

ÉCRIER, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to cry out; to exclaim. S'écrier de douleur, de surprise, &c., to cry out in pain, from surprise.

ÉCRILLE, s. f. grate.

ÉCRIN, s. m. jewel box; casket. (Par extension.) Il lui donna un bel écrin, he gave her a beautiful set of jewels.

ÉCRIRE, v. a. Verbe Radical de la 3me conj. et des Verbes Composés. Écrire, écrivant, écrit, écrivis; j'écrivais; j'écrivis; j'écrirai; j'écrirais; que j'écrivisse; écris, to write. Il écrit bien, he writes well. Montrer, enseigner à écrire, to teach writing, to write. Papier à écrire, writing paper. Maître à écrire, writing master. Écrire sous la dictée, to write from dictation. Écrivons nos conventions, let us write down our conditions. Écrivez cela sur le registre, put that down—enter that down in the book. Il est sans cesse à écrire, he is constantly writing. Avez-vous écrit à votre frère? have you write to your brother? Je leur ai écrit, I wrote to them. I wrote to them to come. Écrivez-lui de bonne encre, write to him severely. Écrire au courant de la plume, to write rapidly—calamo currente. Il n'était pas chez lui; je me suis fait écrire—je me suis écrit à sa porte, he was not at home; I wrote my name on his list. Comment écrit-on ce mot-là? how is that word spelled? Je ne sais pas écrire votre nom, I do not know how to spell your name.

ÉCRIT, s. m. writing; (t. de jurisp.), writing, act

(T. d'auteurs.) Ses écrits sont estimés, his writings are esteemed.

Mettre par écrit, to set down in writing. J'ai ses instructions par écrit, I have his instructions in writing.

ÉCRITEAU, s. m. board; writing; bill. L'écriteau montre que la maison est à vendre, the board, the bill shows that the house is to be sold. Que veut dire cet écriteau? what means this writing, this instruction?

ÉCRITOIRE, s. f. writing-stand; (portatif), inkbottle.

ÉCRITURE, s. f. writing. Je connais votre écriture, I know your writing. Vous avez une belle écriture, you write a beautiful hand. Il a une mauvaise écriture, he writes a bad hand. Les Saintes Écritures, the Holy Scriptures, Writ.

Commis aux écritures (t. de bureaucratie), clerk. Tenir les écritures (t. de commerce), to keep the books. Voyez Faux.

ÉCRIVAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to write much; to scribble.

ÉCRIVAILLEUR (voyez Écrivassier), s. m. scribbler.

ÉCRIVAIN, s. m. writer; author. (T. de marine), clerk, purser; (voyez Agent comptable). Écrivain public, public scrivener. Écrivain expert, sworn writing-master, (who is called in court to judge of writings).

ÉCRIVASSIER, s. m. } scribbler.
ÉCRIVASSIÈRE, s. f. }

ÉCROU, s. m. screw; the worm of a screw.

ÉCROU, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), the entry of a prisoner in the jailer's book.

ÉCROUELLES, s. f. (t. de médec.), the king's evil.

ÉCROUELLEUX, EUSE, adj. scrofulous; having the king's evil.

ÉCROUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to incarcerate; to imprison; to enter the name of a prisoner on the jailer's book.

ÉCROUES, s. f. (vieux mot), accounts of the expense of the king's household.

ÉCROUIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (t. de métier), to hammer-harden iron, copper, &c.

ÉCROUISSAGE, s. m. (t. de métier), hammer-hardening.

ÉCROUISSEMENT, s. m. (t. de métier), hammer-hardening.

ÉCROULEMENT, s. m. falling; tumbling down; (q. v.), fall; ruin.

ÉCROULER, v. r. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. L'édifice s'écroula dans la nuit. the edifice tumbled down—fell—during the night. Vous ferez écrouler ce mur, si vous n'y prenez garde, you will bring that wall down if you do not take care. Il ne restait plus qu'un mur écroulé, the only remains were a ruinous—a tumbled down—wall. (Fig.) L'empire s'écroula de toutes parts, the empire fell—was crumbling down—on all sides. Tout passe, tout s'écroule sous vos yeux, every thing passes away, every thing falls to the ground before you.

ÉCROUTAGE, s. m. (t. de métier), taking off the scurfs, the superficies.

ÉCROÛTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to take the crust off. S'écroûter, to lose crust, the outside.

ÉCRU, E, adj. (t. de manufact.). raw, rough. Soie écrue, raw silk. Toile écrue, unbleached linen.

ÉCTROPION, s. m. (t. de médec.). Voyez Éraillement.

ÉCTYPE, s. f. (t. de numismatique), ectype.

ÉCU, s. m. shield. Il portait l'écu et la lance, he carried shield and lance. L'écu de France, the shield of France.

(T. de monnaie), crown. (This coin is thus named from its having the shield and the crown of the country printed upon one of its sides.) Écu de trois livres, ou petit écu, the three francs crown (used as unit in accounts). Il a cent mille écus de rente (300,000 fr.), he has one hundred thousand crowns a year. Avant la Révolution, il y avait des écus de 6 francs, before the Revolution there were 6 francs crowns. Écu à la couronne, écu à la salamandre, this second word only expresses the distinctive marks of the French crowns, as they were at first. Écu blanc, silver crown.

(Fam.) C'est le père aux écus, he is the man for money—he has plenty of money. Avoir des écus à remuer à la pelle, to handle crowns with a shovel—to have a great deal of money. Il n'a pas un écu vaillant, he is not worth a crown—he is very poor. Voici le reste de notre écu, here is the change of our last crown—here is a sorry sight. Mettre écu sur écu, to heap up crown upon crown. Il n'a plus ni écu, ni targue, he is completely disarmed—he has neither gold nor silver.

ÉCUAGE, s. m. (t. de blason), right to bear a shield.

ÉCUBIER, s. m. (t. de marine), hawse-hole.

ÉCUEIL, s. m. rock; reef. Le vaisseau alla se briser sur un écueil, the ship went to pieces on a rock, on a reef. Cette côte est hérissée d'écueils, the coast is thick with rocks, dangers. On n'avait pas relevé cet écueil, that rock was not laid down on the map. (Fig.) Jeune homme, le monde est plein d'écueils, young man, the world is full of rocks, of dangers.

ÉCUELLE, s. f. porringer; (more commonly) basin; bowl. Écuelle couverte, a porringer with a lid. Une laveuse d'écuelles, a kitchen-maid.

(Fig., fam.) Rogner l'écuelle à quelqu'un, to clip the allowance of a person. Cela est propre comme une écuelle à chat, this is dirty. Il a bien plu dans son écuelle depuis que vous ne l'avez vu, wealth has showered upon him since you saw him last. Il n'y a dans cette maison ni pot ni fers, ni écuelles lavées, there is nothing to eat in that house—there is nothing but disorder and confusion. Manger à la même écuelle, to eat out of the same dish—to live familiarly together. Qui s'attend à l'écuelle d'autrui fait souvent un mauvais dîner, he who reckons upon another man's dinner often dines badly. Ils se raccommoderont à l'écuelle comme les gueux, they will make it up at table—in drinking together.

Archer de l'écuelle, the beggar's driver.

ÉCUELLE D'EAU, s. f. (bot.), marsh penny-wort.

ÉCUELLÉE, s. f. porringer full; basin full.

ÉCUISSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to split.

ÉCULER, v a. rég. 1ère conj., to tread down at the heel. Mes souliers se sont éculés, my shoes fell down at the heel. Il avait des souliers éculés, his shoes were down at the heel.

ÉCUME, s. f. froth; (des animaux), froth; foam; (de la mer), brine; foam. Une pipe d'écume de mer, a meerschaum pipe. L'écume du pot, the scum. Enlevez l'écume qui vient à la surface, remove the scum which comes on the surface.

(Fig.) C'est l'écume de la société, it is the scum, the dregs of society.

ÉCUMER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to foam; to froth. La mer agitée écume, the agitated sea foams. Le malheureux écumait de colère, the wretch foamed with anger. Les vagues écumantes, the foaming—briny waves. Les rochers écumants, the rocks covered with foam.

Écumer la marmite, to skim the pot. Écumer des confitures, to skim preserves.

(Fam. et fig.) Écumer les marmites, to sponge upon others; to pick plates. Écumer les mers, to scour the seas—to rob on the seas—to act as a pirate. Il va partout écumer des nouvelles, he goes about picking up news.

ÉCUMEUR, s. m. (de marmites), sponger; parasite. (De mer), pirate.

ÉCUMEUX, MEUSE, adj. foamy; frothy; briny.

ÉCUMOIRE, s. f. skimmer.

ÉCURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Écurer de la vaisselle, to scour, to clean plate. Comme ces chaudrons sont mal écurés, how badly scoured these pans are. Écurer un puits. Voyez Curer.

ÉCUREUIL, s. m. squirrel. (Fig., fam.) Cet enfant est vif comme un écureuil, that child is as lively as a squirrel.

ÉCUREUR, s. m. }
ÉCUREUSE, s. f. } scourer.

ÉCURIE, s. f. stable. Nous avons une écurie pour six chevaux, we have a six stall stable. Les écuries du roi, the king's mews. Valet d'écurie, groom; stable boy. L'écurie du roi est partie, the king's equipages are gone.

(Fig., fam.) Une chose comme cela, c'est un cheval à l'écurie, a thing of that sort is like a horse in the stable, i. e. it is a constant expense.

ÉCUSSON, s. m. (t. de blason), scutcheon; shield.

(T. de jardinage.) Greffer en écusson, to graft by budding. Ce jardinier fait très-bien un écusson, this gardener is a good grafter.

ÉCUSSONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to graft; to bud.

ÉCUSSONNOIR, s. m. grafting knife.

ÉCUYER, s. m. (suivant d'un chevalier), squire. Il était accompagné de ses écuyers, he was attended by his squires. (A la cour.) Le grand écuyer de France, the king's master of the horse. Écuyer de main—cavalcadour, equerry. C'est un des écuyers de la reine, he is one of the queen's equerries. Permettez-moi d'être votre écuyer, allow me to be your squire—to offer you my arm. Écuyer tranchant, carver. Écuyer de bouche, de cuisine, head cook. (Espèce de titre), esquire. En Angleterre on donne le titre d'écuyer à bien des gens qui n'y ont pas droit, the title of esquire is given to many who have no right to it.

Êtes-vous bon écuyer, bonne écuyère? are you a good horseman—horsewoman? Quel est l'écuyer qui tient ce manége? who is the riding-master who attends this riding school? Les écuyers du roi, the riding masters of the royal mews. Bottes à l'écuyère, jack boots—riding boots.

ÉDENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to break the tooth or teeth off. Mon peigne est tout édenté, the teeth of my comb are all broken off. Une vieille édentée, a toothless old woman.

ÉDIFIANT, E, adj. edifying.

ÉDIFICATEUR, s. m. builder; architect.

ÉDIFICATION, s. f. edification; (construction), building.

ÉDIFICE, s. m. edifice; structure.

ÉDIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to edify. Il est parti mal édifié, he went away ill edified—shocked.

ÉDILE, s. m. (hist. Rom.), edile.

ÉDILITÉ, s. f. (hist. Rom.), edileship.

ÉDIT, s. m. edict.

ÉDITEUR, s. m. editor. Éditeur responsable d'un journal, responsable editor of a newspaper. (T. de commerce.) Libraire éditeur, Éditeur, publisher.

ÉDITION, s. f. edition. Cet ouvrage n'a eu qu'une édition, there was but one edition of that work. Son livre en est à sa dixième édition, his book has come to the tenth edition. Édition princeps, the first or earliest edition of an ancient writer.

ÉDOSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to take off the outer coat; to peel.

ÉDREDON, s. m. eider down. Le crime veille et s'agite sur l'édredon, crime is sleepless and restless on its downy bed. Un édredon lui couvrait les pieds, her feet were covered with an eider down coverlet.

ÉDUCABLE, adj. capable of being educated.

ÉDUCATEUR, s. m. (educator, trix; teacher. Adj. ÉDUCATRICE, s. f.) instructive.

ÉDUCATION, s. f. L'éducation de l'homme commence à sa naissance, the education of man begins at his birth. Il a reçu une bonne éducation, he has had a good education—he has been well brought up. Il s'est consacré à l'éducation de la jeunesse, he devoted himself to the education of youth. Il tient une maison d'éducation, he keeps a school. Il est sans éducation, he has had no education—he is ignorant.

(Connaissance des usages du monde.) Ce jeune homme manque d'éducation, this young man has no manners—is without breeding. Ces demoiselles ont reçu une excellente éducation, these young ladies have been well bred. Sans éducation, ill bred—without manners.

(Économie rurale, animale.) Il s'occupait beaucoup de l'éducation des abeilles, he attended much to the breeding of bees. On néglige l'éducation de cette plante, the breeding—rearing of that plant is much neglected.

ÉDULCORATION, s. f. (t. de chimie), edulcoration; sweetning.

ÉDULCORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chimie), to edulcorate, to sweeten.

ÉDULE, adj. eatable.

ÉDUQUER (voyez Élever), to educate.

ÉFAUFILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to unravel.

EFFAÇABLE, adj. that may be effaced, obliterated.

EFFACER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Effacez ces deux mots, erase these two words. J'en effacerais la moitié, I would rub out—strike out—efface half of it. Le temps a effacé les traits de ce tableau, time has effaced—obliterated—the features of this picture. Cette version est tout effacée, this writing is all rubbed out—erased—effaced. Les années ont effacé sa beauté, years have effaced—blotted out—destroyed her beauty. Le souvenir de cet événement ne s'effacera jamais de ma mémoire, the remembrance of that event will never be effaced—will never fade from my memory. Ces choses-là s'effacent bientôt, these things are soon obliterated—are soon forgotten—blotted out. Elle effaça ses péchés par ses larmes, she washed out her sins with her tears. N'en parlons plus, tout est effacé, let us say no more about it—all is forgotten.

Il efface tout le monde par sa magnificence, he eclipses—he surpasses—all others by his magnificence. Il s'effaçait pour laisser briller les autres, he obscured himself—he kept back—to let others shine. Toute autre gloire s'efface devant la sienne, all glory sinks in the same before—is surpassed by—his own.

(T. d'exercice, de danse, &c.) Effacez l'épaule gauche, keep in your left shoulder. Effacez-vous, keep your body in—make yourself small—stand upright. Ce soldat a les épaules bien effacées, that man keeps his shoulders nicely in.

EFFAÇURE, s. f. erasure.

EFFANER. Voyez Effeuiller.

EFFAREMENT, s. m. fright.

EFFARER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to scare, to frighten; to take fright. Vous vous effarez de rien, you take fright at nothing. Il était tout effaré, he was quite aghast—all scared. D'où vient donc cet air effaré, whence come these scared looks?

EFFAROUCHER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to frighten; to scare away—(le gibier), to make wild—shy. Mon cheval s'est effarouché, my horse took fright. Allons, allons, ne vous effarouchez pas, come, come, do not be frightened—do not be put out. Il est tout effarouché, he is scared—frightened—bewildered. Jeune fille effarouchée, a timid—a shy young girl.

EFFECTIF, s. m. (t. milit.). effective force; troops under arms. L'effectif de son armée était de 20,000 hommes, his effective force amounted to 20,000 men.

EFFECTIF, IVE, adj. effective; real. Fig. C'est un homme effectif, he is a man who does what he says—who suits the action to the word.

EFFECTIVEMENT, adv. indeed; really; actually.

EFFECTUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to effect; to accomplish; to execute. Il a effectué ses promesses, he has executed—carried into execution—his promises. Ces projets ne tardèrent pas à s'effectuer, these plans were soon effected, accomplished.

EFFÉMINER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to effeminate; to become effeminate.

EFFÉMINÉ, s. m. effeminate man.

EFFENDI, s. m. (mot Turc), lord, master. Le reis effendi, le ministre des affaires étrangères turc.

EFFERVESCENCE, s. f. effervescence; (fig.) excitement.

EFFERVESCENT, E, adj. effervescent; (Fig.) Une tête effervescente, a boiling—excited head.

EFFET, s. m. effect. Il n'y a point d'effet sans cause, there is no effect without a cause. Voyons ce qu'il en est avant de décider, let us see the effect of it before we decide. Mettre les choses à effet, to carry things into execution. Il nous donne plus de paroles que d'effets, he gives us more words than deeds. Nous en viendrons bientôt à l'effet, we shall soon come to the execution—to the reality. La chose est demeurée sans effet, the thing remained without effect. Cela a produit un très-bon effet, it has produced a very good effect. Cette guirlande fait un très-mauvais effet, this garland produces a very bad effect—does not look well. Cela faisait un bel effet, hat looked beautiful. C'est une pièce à effet, it is a play ntended for effect. Nos reproches ne firent aucun effet ur lui, our reproches produced no effect—made no im- ression—upon him. Le canon faisait de l'effet, the can- on did execution. (T. de billard.) Effet, spinning of ball—striking it in a way to produce a certain effect— sult. Voyons l'effet, let us see the result.

C'est l'effet d'un bon cœur de faire du bien, it is the operty of a good heart to do good.

À quel effet venez-vous ici? to what purpose—intention do you come here? C'était pour cet effet—à cet effet, was to that purpose—with that intention. C'était à fet de voir s'il nous reconnaîtrait, it was with the in- tion of trying whether he would know us again. En et, in fact; indeed.

(Propriété.) Où sont vos effets? where are your ngs? Ces voitures ne portent pas les effets des ageurs, these carriages do not carry the travellers' ds—effects. On lui a volé tous ses effets, they took his things—effects—from him. Il a cédé tous ses ts à ses créanciers, he has given over all his personal perty—all his goods—all his moveables—to his cre- rs.

(T. de commerce.) Il m'a donné un effet à deux mois, as given me a bill—a note—at two months. Un effet porteur, a draft payable to bearer. Il avait de bons ts en portefeuille, he had good bills—good paper in pocket-book. Les effets publics, funds.

(T. de jurisp.) Effets civils, civil rights.

†EFEUILLAISON, s. f. thinning of the leaves.

†EFEUILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Effeuiller arbre, to strip a tree of its leaves—to thin them. uiller une rose, to pick the leaves of a rose. Ces s s'effeuillent bien vite, these flowers soon lose their es. Une rose effeuillée, a leafless rose.

†EFFICACE, adj. efficacious; effective.

†EFFICACE, s. f. efficacy; efficiency.

†EFFICACEMENT, adv. efficaciously; effectually.

†EFFICACITÉ, s. f. efficacy; efficiency.

†EFFICIENT, E, adj. efficient.

†EFFIGIE, s. f. effigy.

†EFFIGIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to execute in effigy.

†EFFILÉ, E, adj. slender. Avoir la taille effilée, to a slender, thin waist. Un visage effilé, a sharp face.

†FILÉ, s. m. fringe; fringed stuff; unravelled cuffs in mourning.

†FILER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to unravel; to be unravelled.

†FILOQUER. Voyez Effiler.

†FIOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to crop corn; to put in a corn-field to stop its growing too fast.

†FLANQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Efflanquer un d à force de le faire travailler, to work the flesh off se's bones. Le travail vous a efflanqué, work has you lose your flesh. Un grand efflanqué, a tall fellow—a lank fellow. Un cheval efflanqué, a thin ed horse.

†FLEURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. La balle n'a pas ré, elle n'a fait que lui effleurer la peau, the bullet ot penetrate, it only grazed the skin. Je me suis ré la jambe en tombant, I broke my shin—I scratched hin—in falling. Le boulet a effleuré le mur, the ball d—skimmed—the wall.

barque effleurait le rivage, the boat skimmed along shore—sailed close to the shore.

fig.) Les reproches effleurent à peine ce cœur en- reproaches hardly touch—affect—this hardened . Il n'apprend pas, parce qu'il ne fait qu'effleurer oses, he does not learn any thing, because he merely es at things. (T. de fleuriste.) Effleurer un rosier, ip a rose tree of its flowers. (T. de chamoiseur.) rer une peau, to pare a skin.

†FLEURIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (t. de chim.), to esce; to flower.

EFFLORESCENCE, s. f. (t. de chim.), efflorescence.

EFFLORESCENT, E, adj. (t. de chim.), efflorescent.

EFFLOTTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to separate—to be separated from—the fleet.

EFFLUENCE, s. f. (t. de physique), effluence.

EFFLUENT, E, adj. effluent.

EFFLUVE, s. f. effluvia.

EFFONDREMENT, s. m. (t. d'agric.), trenching.

EFFONDRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to trench; to dig; to dress land with manure.

(Langage ordinaire.) Effondrer une armoire, to break open—to break the door of—a closet. Le plancher s'effondra, the floor fell in—sunk in. (T. de cuisine.) Effondrer une volaille, to draw a fowl.

EFFONDRILLES, s. f. dregs; grounds.

EFFORCER, S'. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il s'est blessé en s'efforçant de soulever un fardeau, he hurt himself in straining to—in making efforts to—raise a burden. Ne vous efforcez point à parler, strain not—make no efforts—to speak. (Fig.) Elle s'efforçait de plaire, she endeavoured—she tried to please. Il s'efforçait de paraître calme, he strove to appear calm.

EFFORT, s. m. effort. Il a fait un grand effort pour mériter cette récompense, he has made a great effort to deserve this reward. Sachez qu'on ne fait rien sans efforts, learn that nothing is done without efforts—without exertions. Il fait tout cela facilement, sans effort, he does all that easily—without effort—without trouble. Faites-y tous vos efforts, car votre fortune en dépend, do all you can about—use all your means about—it, for your future welfare depends on it. Nous réunirons tous nos efforts, we will unite all our efforts—all our exertions. C'est un grand effort d'esprit, de mémoire, it is a great effort of the mind—of the memory. Le bel effort que vous faites-là! what an effort—what an exertion! C'est un effort au-dessus de vos forces, it is an effort—an attempt above your power.

Il a fait un effort pour marier son fils, he strained a point to marry his son. Je suis obligé de me faire un effort pour lui parler, I am obliged to force myself—to do violence to my own feelings—to speak to him. Je ferai volontiers cet effort pour lui, I shall readily make this effort—this sacrifice for his sake.

L'effort de l'eau a rompu cette digue, the pressure, the power of the water broke this embankment. L'arbre résista aux efforts des vents, the tree resisted the efforts—the attacks of the wind.

Se donner un effort, to strain—to get a strain.

EFFRACTION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.). Il y a eu effraction, there has been breaking. Vol avec effraction, burglary, house-breaking.

EFFRACTURE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), fracture.

EFFRAIE, s. f. Voyez Fresaie.

EFFRAYANT, E, adj. frightful; fearful. Elle était effrayante de laideur, she was frightfully ugly—her ugliness was frightful.

EFFRAYER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to frighten. Elle effraie les enfants par ses contes, she frightens the children with her stories. Cette nouvelle nous a effrayés, this news frightened us. Vous vous effrayez de peu de chose, you take fright at a trifle—very little frightens you. N'effrayez pas ces oiseaux, do not scare—frighten these birds.

EFFRÉNÉ, E, adj. uncurbed; unrestrained; excessive.

EFFRÉNEMENT, s. m. uncurbed, unrestrained state; violence, excess.

EFFRITER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to impoverish, to exhaust; to become impoverished, exhausted.

EFFROI, s. m. fright; terror. Elle mourut d'effroi, she died of fright. Il portait, répandait l'effroi partout, he carried—spread—terror every where. Pâlir d'effroi, to turn pale from terror.

EFFRONTÉ, E, adj. bold; impudent, shameless. C'est une femme effrontée, she is a bold—impudent woman. Je n'aime pas ces airs effrontés, I do not like these bold looks. Il est effronté comme un page de cour, he is as impudent as a page.

EFFRONTÉ, s. m. } impudent man, woman; hussy.
EFFRONTÉE, s. f. }
EFFRONTÉMENT, adv. impudently; boldly; shamelessly.
EFFRONTERIE, s. f. impudence; boldness; effrontery.
EFFROYABLE, adj. frightful; terrible; dreadful. Elle est d'une laideur effroyable, she is frightfully ugly. Il y avait un monde effroyable à cette assemblée, there was a frightful number of people at that meeting.
EFFROYABLEMENT, adv. frightfully; dreadfully.
EFFRUITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to strip trees of their fruit.
EFFUSION, s. f. effusion. Parler avec effusion, to speak openly—to open one's heart. C'était une effusion de cœur, it was an out-pouring—an overflowing—of the heart.
EFOURCEAU, s. m. a timber-carriage.
ÉGAL, E, adj. Ces lignes sont égales, these lines are equal. Les Français sont égaux devant la loi, the French are equal in the eye of the law. Faire tout égal, to make every thing equal, even. Tenir la balance égale, to keep the balance equal. Tout lui est égal, every thing is equal—indifferent—to him. Cela m'est égal, it is all the same to me. Il m'est égal qu'il vienne ou qu'il ne vienne pas, it is all the same to me whether he comes or not. Il n'est pas égal, his temper is not even—he is uneven. Son pouls est très-égal, his pulse is very even. Ces allées sont bien égales, these walks are very even—very smooth. A l'égal de, equally with; as much as.
ÉGAL, s. m. } equal. D'égal à égal, between equals.
ÉGALE, s. f. }
ÉGALEMENT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.). Voyez Égalisation.
ÉGALEMENT, adv. equally; (pareillement, de la même manière), alike.
ÉGALER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Égalez les portions, equal—equalize—make equal—the portions. La recette n'égale pas la dépense, the receipts do not equal—are not equal to—the expense.
La mort égale tous les hommes, death equalizes—levels—all men—makes all men equal. Jamais personne n'égalera ses talents, no one will ever equal him in talents—his talents will never be equalled by any body. Il n'y a personne qu'on puisse lui égaler, there is nobody to be compared with him—to be considered his equal. Osez-vous vous égaler à eux? do you presume to consider yourself their equal?
(T. de jardinier, de terrassier), to level, to make level; smooth, even. Voyez Égaliser.
ÉGALISATION, s. f. equalization; equalizing.
ÉGALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to equalize; to make equal. (T. de jardinier, de terrassier), to level; to make even, level, smooth.
ÉGALITÉ, s. f. equality. Égalité d'humeur, evenness, uniformity—of humour, of temper. Égalité de pouls, evenness—regularity of pulse. Distribuer avec égalité, to distribute equally—with equality. L'égalité du terrain, the evenness, smoothness of the ground.
ÉGARD, s. m. Il n'a pas eu égard à ma prière, he had no regard to—he did not regard—my prayer. Vous jugez sans égard aux circonstances, you judge without regard to—without paying attention to—circumstances. N'aurez-vous donc aucun égard à sa situation? will you pay no regard—no respect—to his situation? Eu égard à cette circonstance, considering this circumstance.
S'il le fait, c'est par égard pour vous, if he does it, it is out of regard—respect—for you. C'est un homme qui n'a d'égards pour personne, that man regards—respects—no body. On a beaucoup d'égards pour lui, he is much respected. On nous traite avec égard, we are treated with respect—with regard. Ces égards montrent l'homme poli, these regards towards others, these attentions to others show a well bred man. Pour bien vivre en société, il faut des égards, to live happily in society we must consider—respect the feelings, the convenience of others. Vous lui avez manqué d'égards, you forgot yourself with him—you treated him without respect—without regard—without civility.

Il le fera à votre égard, he will do it, out of regard for you—in consideration of you. Je voulais vous parler à l'égard de cela, I wanted to speak to you, in respect to that. C'est à tous égards, ce qu'il vous faut, in every respect, it is what you want.
La lune est petite à l'égard du soleil, the moon is small compared with the sun.
ÉGARREMENT, s. m. wandering; straying from the way; (fig.), wandering.
ÉGARER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Notre guide nous égara, our guide misled us—lost the way. Il nous fit faire d'une lieue, he went three miles out of his way. Je me suis égaré du chemin, I lost my way—I wandered from my way. Nous aimions à nous égarer dans la forêt, we liked to wander in the forest—to walk at random. Nous avons ramassé cette brebis égarée, we picked up this lost sheep. J'ai égaré ces papiers, je ne sais où je les ai, I have lost—misplaced these papers, I cannot find them. Vous égarez tout, you lose every thing—you mistake every thing.
(Fig.) Les méchants l'ont égaré, the wicked misled him—led him astray. La prospérité nous égare quelquefois, prosperity misguides us—makes us go astray—makes us lose our judgment. Il s'égare dans ses discours, he wanders—he rambles in his speech. Les malheurs lui ont égaré l'esprit, these misfortunes have disordered his mind. On s'égare dans ces recherches, the mind wanders—loses itself—in these researches. Mon esprit, ma tête s'égare, my mind—my head is wandering—wanders. Comme il a l'air égaré, how wild he looks. C'est un esprit égaré, his is a disordered mind. Voyez ces yeux égarés, see those wandering looks.
Ce cheval a la bouche égarée, this horse's mouth is spoiled.
ÉGAYER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to enliven. Égayer la conversation, to enliven conversation. Il faut s'égayer quelquefois, we must make merry—amuse ourselves—laugh—sometimes. Nous nous sommes égayés à ses dépens, we laughed—we made merry—at his expense. Il s'égaie quelquefois, he is merry, cheerful sometimes.
Égayer un bâtiment, to give more light to an edifice, to make it more airy, more cheerful.
Égayer du linge. Voyez Aiguayer.
ÉGIDE, s. f. Ægis; shield.
ÉGILOPS. Voyez Anchilops.
ÉGLANTIER, s. m. eglantine; sweet-briar.
ÉGLANTINE, s. f. sweet-briar.
ÉGLISE, s. f. church. Aller à l'église, to go to church. Être dans le giron de l'église, to be within the pale of the church. Se marier en face de l'église, to marry in church—to observe the marriage ceremonies of the church. Église paroissiale, parish church. Être pauvre comme un rat d'église, to be as poor as a church mouse. Homme d'église, a churchman. Entrer dans l'église, to enter the church—to take orders.
ÉGLOGUE, s. f. eclogue.
ÉGOÏSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to egotize; to talk of self.
ÉGOÏSME, s. m. selfishness.
ÉGOÏSTE, s. m. f. selfish man, woman, person.
ÉGOÏSTE, adj. selfish.
ÉGORGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to cut the throat of—to slaughter. Ces deux hommes se sont égorgés pour un mot, these two men cut each other's throat—murdered each other—for the sake of a word.
ÉGORGEUR, s. m. cut-throat; murderer, slaughterer.
ÉGOSILLER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to make one's throat sore, hoarse.
ÉGOUT, s. m. fall, running (of water), dropping, falling (of rain water from the eaves); sewer. (Fig.) Cette ville est un égout, that town is a sink of filth, of corruption).
ÉGOUTTEMENT, s. m. draining; drainage.
ÉGOUTTER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to drip; to run. v. a. to drain.
ÉGOUTTIER, s. m. drainer; scavenger.
ÉGOUTTOIR, s. m. drainer.

ÉGOUTTURE, s. f. urippings; drainings.
ÉGRAFFIGNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to scratch.
ÉGRATIGNER, } Le chat lui a égraffigné—égratigné la figure, the cat has scratched his face.
ÉGRAINAGE. Voyez Égrenage et dérivés.
ÉGRATIGNEUR, }
ÉGRATIGNEUSE,} s. m. f. adj. scratcher.
ÉGRATIGNURE, s. f. scratch. Ce n'est qu'une égratignure, it is a mere scratch. Qui vous a fait cette égratignure? who gave you this scratch?
ÉGRAVILLONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric. de jardinage), to ablaqueate.
ÉGRENAGE, s. m. getting the seed, the grain out; sating, thrashing corn.
ÉGRENER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to shake off—to get t—the seed, the grain. S'égrener, s'égrainer, to lose ed. Le blé est mûr, il s'égrène, the corn is ripe, the seed ops. La sécheresse fait égrener le raisin, the dryness uses the grapes to drop off.
ÉGRILLARD, } s. m. f. adj. C'est un jeune homme
ÉGRILLARDE,} très-égrillard, this young man is ry lively—is a wag. Gardez-vous de ces jeunes égrillards, beware of these young wags—blades. Vous êtes rillard ce soir, you are alive—sprightly—waggish this ning. Voyez cet air égrillard, look at that waggish—ely air.
ÉGRILLOIR, s. m. grate.
ÉGRISAGE, s. m. grinding, rough cutting (of diamonds).
ÉGRISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de joaillier), to nd, to rough-cut a diamond.
ÉGROTANT, E, adj. sickly.
ÉGRUGEOIR, s. m. (t. de cuisine), pounding mortar.
ÉGRUGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pound; to grind.
NGRUGEURE, s. f. powder; dust.
ÉGUEULEMENT, s. m. (t. d'artillerie), spewing, ning of the muzzle of a cannon.
ÉGUEULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Égueuler une che, to break the spout, the mouth of a pitcher. Toutes cruches sont égueulées, all her pitchers are broken at spout. La cruche s'est égueulée, je ne sais comment, s out of this pitcher came off—broke off, I know not w. Le canon s'égueule à force de tirer, the muzzle a gun runs, spews by dint of firing. Leurs canons ient égueulés, their cannons were all damaged at the sale.
Fig., fam.) S'égueuler à force de crier, to make one's hoarse in hallooing.
GUEULE, }
GUEULÉE, } s. m. f. bawler; loud talker; low person.
GYPTIEN. s. m. } Egyptian; gypsy. Voyez Bo-
GYPTIENNE, s. f. } hémien.
H, interj. Eh! qui aurait pu croire cela? oh! who ld have believed it? Eh bien, que faites-vous donc? l, what are you doing? Eh bien, soit, well, let e. Eh quoi, y pensez-vous? what, have you thought at it?
HANCHÉ, E, adj. Voyez Déhanché, e.
HERBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Voyez Sarcler.
HONTÉ, E, adj. (voyez Déhonté, e), shameless; out shame.
HOUPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lop.
JACULATEUR, TRICE, adj. (anat.), ejaculator.
JACULATION, s. f. ejaculation.
JACULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ejaculate.
JACULATOIRE, adj. ejaculatory.
LABORATION, s. f. elaboration.
LABORER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to elaborate; work one's self into. Élaboré avec soin, carefully grained, wrought.
LAGAGE, s. m. pruning; lopping. On lui a donné ayage pour son payement, they gave him the loppings ayment for his labour.
LAGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lop, to prune, to (trees). Élaguer une branche, to cut off a branch.
g.) Il y a là plusieurs passages qu'il faudrait ner, there are several passages which it would be well ut off—to retrench.

ÉLAGUEUR, s. m. pruner; (serpe), pruning knife.
ÉLAN, s. m. (hist. nat., espèce de cerf), elk.
ÉLAN, s. m. Il fit un élan et s'échappa, he gave a sudden bound—jerk—and escaped. Prendre un élan pour sauter un fossé, to make a spring—to take a run—to leap over a ditch. Ce cheval ne va que par élans, this horse goes by fits and starts. Les élans du cerf, the bounds, the springs of the stag.
(Fig.) On ne saurait réprimer ces élans de l'esprit, you cannot check these flights of the mind. Cela comprime les élans du génie national, that stops the flights—the sudden impulses of the national genius. C'était un élan de zèle, it was a burst—a sudden start of zeal. Vous ne sauriez lui parler de cela qu'il ne lui prenne des élans de douleur, you cannot mention that to him, but he is seized with a burst of grief. Élans de dévotion, devout ejaculations. Les élans de l'enthousiasme, the emotions—the raptures of enthusiasm. C'est par un élan intérieur que ces choses se révèlent, it is through an inward emotion that these things are revealed. Ce jeune homme a de l'élan, this youth has warmth—life. Ne me parlez pas de ces gens sans élan, do not speak to me of those people whom no impulse moves—stirs. Ne vous livrez pas trop aux élans du cœur, do not yield too readily to the impulses of the heart.
ÉLANCEMENT, s. m. (t. de chirurg.). Je sens des élancements à la jambe, I feel shootings—twitchings of pain—in my leg. (T. de marine), rake of the stem of a ship.
(Fig.) Les élancements de l'âme vers Dieu, the springing up of the soul to God. Il faisait de grands élancements, he uttered loud ejaculations.
ÉLANCER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Le chien s'élança sur le voleur, the dog sprung upon—rushed upon—the robber. A ce cri nous nous élançâmes hors de la maison, at this cry we rushed out of the house. Il s'élança à sa poursuite, he darted—rushed—out in his pursuit. Son âme s'élance vers Dieu, his soul springs up to God. Tout à coup la cavalerie s'élança, all on a sudden the horse rushed forward. Il s'élance et tombe, he starts up and falls. Le clocher s'élance dans les nues, the tower springs up to the skies.
(T. de médec., de chirurg.) Le doigt m'élance, my finger shoots.
Elle avait la taille élancée, she was tall and light. Elle aime les jeunes gens à la taille élancée, she likes tall and narrow waisted young men. Un cheval élancé, a thin flanked horse. Une branche élancée, a long and thin branch.
ÉLARGIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to widen, to make wider; to grow wider; to enlarge. Élargir des gants, des souliers, to stretch gloves, shoes. (Fig.) Il s'est élargi, he has enlarged—increased—his property.
Élargir un homme, to set a man at liberty; to let him out of prison—to release him.
ÉLARGISSEMENT, s. m. widening; enlarging; stretching; release from prison; setting at liberty. (T. de chirurg.), enlargement.
ÉLARGISSURE, s. f. a piece added to enlarge, to widen.
ÉLASTICITÉ, s. f. elasticity.
ÉLASTIQUE, adj. elastic. Voyez Gomme.
ÉLBEUF, s. m. Elbeuf cloth; cloth manufactured at Elbeuf, (Département de l'Eure).
ÉLECTEUR, s. m. elector.
ÉLECTIF, TIVE, adj. elective.
ÉLECTION, s. f. election. Faire une élection, to have an election. Participer aux élections to have a vote—a right to vote. (Jurisp.) Avez-vous fait élection de domicile? have you appointed—fixed upon—a place, as an established domicile? (T. d'administ.) Pays d'élection was, before the Revolution, a province ruled by an Intendant. Élection was a board before which all matters of taxes were brought. Une Élection was the extent of country ruled by one board. Nous faisions partie de l'élection de Lisieux, we belonged to the board—election—of Lisieux. (T. de théologie.) Vase d'élection, chosen vessel.

ÉLECTORAL, E, adj. electoral. Collége électoral, a board composed of electors, appointed to carry out the election of a "Député." (Voyez Collége.) Prince électoral, a title given to the eldest son of an Elector of the German empire.

ÉLECTORAT, s. m. electorate.

ÉLECTRICITE, s. f. electricity.

ÉLECTRIQUE, adj. electric.

ÉLECTRISABLE, adj. electrisable.

ÉLECTRISATION, s. f. electrification; electrisation.

ÉLECTRISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to electrify; to electrise. v. r. to become electrified. (Fig.) On ne pouvait résister à cette éloquence électrisante, no one could resist this electrifying—stirring—eloquence.

ÉLECTROMÈTRE, s. m. electrometer.

ÉLECTROPHORE, s. m. electrophor.

ÉLECTUAIRE, s. m. (t. de médec.), electuary.

ÉLÉGAMMENT, adv. elegantly.

ÉLÉGANCE, s. f. elegance.

ÉLÉGANT, s. m. a beau; a fashionable man; exquisite.

ÉLÉGANTE, s. f. a belle, a fashionable woman; exquisite.

ÉLÉGANT, E, adj. elegant.

ÉLÉGIAQUE, adj. elegiac.

ÉLÉGIE, s. f. elegy.

ÉLÉMENT, s. m. element. Les quatre éléments, the four elements. La mer est un élément destructeur, the sea is a destroying element. Quels sont les éléments du soufre? what are the elements—the constituent parts—of sulphur? Le contentement est l'élément indispensable du bonheur, content is the indispensable element of happiness. L'air est son élément, air is its element. Il est dans son élément avec les savants, he is in his element among the learned.

Je suis encore aux éléments de cette science, I am still in the elements of this science.

ÉLÉMENTAIRE, adj. elementary.

ÉLÉPHANT, s. m. elephant.

ÉLÉPHANTIASIS, s. f. (t. de médec.), elephantiasis.

ÉLEVAGE, s. m. (t. d'écon. rur.), rearing; breeding.

ÉLÉVATEUR, s. m. adj. (t. d'anat.), elevator.

ÉLÉVATION, s. f. elevation. Cette muraille n'a pas assez d'élévation, this wall has not sufficient height, elevation. Une élévation bornait la vue, a rise—an elevation—stopped the sight. L'élévation de l'hostie (t. de liturgie catholique), the elevation of the host. L'élévation du pouls, the rise, the height of the pulse. A l'élévation de sa voix, on voyait qu'il était en colère, from the rising—elevation of his voice—the high tone in which he spoke—it was evident that he was angry. D'où vient cette élévation soudaine dans le prix des denrées? whence comes this sudden rise in the price of provisions? Faire l'élévation d'un édifice, d'une église, to make the drawing—to draw the elevation—of an edifice, of a church. Tout s'opposait à son élévation, every thing opposed his elevation—his rise. L'élévation des âmes à Dieu, the elevation—the aspiration of the soul to God. Il a beaucoup d'élévation dans l'âme, he has much elevation of mind. Il a beaucoup d'élévation dans le cœur, there is much elevation—high sentiment—in his heart.

ÉLÈVE, s. m. f. pupil; scholar. Former de bons élèves, to make good pupils.

(T. d'écon. rurale.) Cette jument est mon élève, I have bred this mare—this mare is of my own breeding. Il vous montrera de beaux élèves, he will show you fine colts, horses, sheep, &c., bred by him. L'élève du bétail pour la boucherie ne sera pas une source directe de profit, the young cattle fattened for the slaughterhouse will not be a direct source of profit. (Hortic.) Il cultive beaucoup le geranium, il fait des élèves, he cultivates the geranium, he breeds—raises new varieties.

ÉLEVER, v. a. e. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il faudrait élever ce tableau, il est trop bas, this picture wants raising a little, it is too low. Élevez les bras, raise your arms. Le soleil élève les vapeurs, the sun raises up—draws up—vapours. Élevez la voix, on ne vous entend pas, raise your voice, you are not heard. Élevez votre âme, votre cœur à Dieu, raise your soul, your heart to God. Il s'élève aux honneurs, he was raised—elevated—preferred—to honours. Il ne s'élèvera jamais, he will never rise. Il s'éleva au-dessus de tous ses rivaux, he rose above all his rivals. Un nouveau peuple s'élèvera de ses cendres, a new nation will rise from these ashes. Un vent s'éleva, there arose a tempest. Il s'élève bientôt à un haut rang, he soon rose to the highest rank. Pourquoi vous élevez-vous contre moi? why do you rise against me? Un doute s'élève dans mon cœur, a doubt rises in my heart. Tous ses amis l'élevent jusqu'aux nues, all his friends extol him—praise him—extol him to the skies. La lecture élève le cœur, the reading of these books raises—elevates the mind. Cela a élevé des doutes, this has raised doubts. Pourquoi élever des difficultés? why raise difficulties? On lui a élevé des autels, altars were raised—erected—to him. Le temple s'éleva devant nous, the temple rose before us. Des plaintes s'élevèrent de toutes parts, complaints arise—arose up—were heard on him, from all sides. Il s'éleva des hommes superstitieux parmi eux, superstitious men appeared—arose—were among them. La peau s'élève, his skin rises—is blistered—blisters.

On a élevé le prix des denrées à un taux considérable, the price of provisions has been considerably raised—elevated—advanced. A combien tous vos articles s'élèvent-ils? what do all these articles come to—amount to? Le prix s'élèvera encore, the price will rise again. Ces impôts élevés nous ruinent, these high prices ruin us.

Elle n'a pu élever un seul enfant, she could not bring up a single child. Il élève du bétail, he rears cattle. Venez voir les plantes que j'ai élevées, come and see the plants I have raised.

Il a été élevé par un homme instruit, he was brought up by a well informed man. Il élève ses enfants lui-même, he educates his children himself. Fréquenter des gens bien élevés, associate with well bred people. C'est une enfant mal élevée, she is a rude—an ill bred—child. Il a le pouls élevé, his pulse is high. Il a de hauts sentiments élevés, he has high—elevated—sentiments. Il est né dans un rang élevé, he was born in a high rank. Il a un ton de voix élevé, in a high tone of voice.

ÉLEVURE, s. f. blister; rising.

ÉLIDER, v. a. e. r. rég. 1ère conj., to elide; to elision. Cette lettre s'élide dans la prononciation, this letter is elided—is cut off—in pronunciation.

ÉLIGIBILITÉ, s. f. eligibility.

ÉLIGIBLE, adj. eligible.

ÉLIMER, S'. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to wear out.

ÉLIMINATION, s. f. elimination.

ÉLIMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to eliminate; to trench, to cut off.

ÉLIRE, v. a. rég. verbe composé de Lire. Élisant, élu, e, to elect, to choose. (T. de pal.) Élire un domicile, to appoint a place as one's residence.

Élu, one of the members of an election in charge of business of taxes. Voyez Élection.

Être au nombre des élus, to be one of the elect.

ÉLISION, s. f. (t. de grammaire), elision.

ÉLITE, s. f. choice; best part.

ÉLIXIR, s. m. elixir.

ELLE, pron. pers. 3me pers. fem. Elle est belle, she is beautiful. Elle chante bien, she sings well. N'a-t-elle pas dit? has she not told you so? Est-ce à vous qu'elle l'a dit? did she tell you? Cette poire est-elle mûre? is this pear ripe? J'irai sans elle, I will go without her. Ils étaient auprès d'elle, they were near her.

ELLES, pron. pers. fem. 3me pers. plur. they, them. Nous nous moquions d'elles, we laughed at them. Elles sont arrivées, they have arrived.

ELLÉBORE, s. m. hellebore. (Fig. pop.) Il a besoin d'ellébore, he is rather mad.

ELLÉBORINE, s. m. (bot.), bastard hellebore.

ELLIPSE, s. f. (t. de gramm.), ellipse; (t. de géom.) ellipsis.

ELLIPSOÏDE, s. m. (t. de géom.), ellipsoid.

ELLIPTICITÉ, s. f. ellipticity; elliptical character.
ELLIPTIQUE, adj. elliptical.
ELLIPTIQUEMENT, adv. elliptically.
ELME, s. m. Voyez Feu.
ELOCUTION, s. f. elocution.
ÉLOGE, s. m. Cet éloge n'est pas mérité, this praise—eulogy—commendation is not deserved. Cela fait son éloge, this action is his praise. Tout le monde fait son éloge—des éloges de lui, every one praises him—(fam.), sings his praises. On fait un grand éloge de cet ouvrage, that work is much eulogized—praised—they give the greatest praises to that work. Il faisait l'éloge des plats qu'mangeait de tous, he praised the dishes by eating of every one.
Il a écrit l'éloge de Bossuet, he wrote the eulogy—the panegyric on Bossuet. Éloge funèbre, funeral oration. Éloge historique d'un académicien, historical panegyric of an academician.
ÉLOGIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to eulogize; to praise.
ÉLOGIEUX, GIEUSE, adj. commending; praising.
ÉLOGISTE, s. m. eulogist; praiser.
ÉLOIGNEMENT, s. m. L'éloignement de ce domestique infidèle rétablira vos affaires, the removal of that faithless servant will restore your affairs. Il vit en exil dans l'éloignement du monde, he lives peaceably retired from—away from—the world. Il ne m'a pas écrit depuis son éloignement de Paris, he has not written since his going away—his removing—his absence from Paris. L'éloignement nous chagrine, your absence grieves us. L'éloignement de nos demeures ne nous permet pas de nous voir souvent, the great distance between our abodes does not allow us to meet often. L'éloignement des temps nous empêche de juger, the distance of the times prevents us from judging right. On voit Paris dans l'éloignement, one sees Paris in the distance. Il a des biens en éloignement, he has the perspective of property.
Il a de l'éloignement pour l'étude, he has a repugnance to study. J'ai de l'éloignement pour lui, I have a dislike—a repulsive feeling—towards him. Ils vivaient dans l'éloignement de Dieu, they lived in estrangement from God.
ÉLOIGNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Éloignez cette table du feu, remove this table—draw it away—from the fire. Éloignez-les l'un de l'autre, separate them—put them away. Éloignez-les l'un de l'autre, separate them—put them from the other. Tâchez d'éloigner votre fils de ses mauvais amis, try to separate—to keep away—your son from his bad friends. Éloignez-le, send him away. Éloignez-vous, get away. Il s'est tenu éloigné quelque temps, he kept away—at a distance—for some time. Je ne pouvais m'éloigner de ces lieux, I could not get away from this place. Pourquoi vous éloignez-vous de moi? why do you go away from me? Je n'étais pas éloigné, I was not far away—distant. Il nous éloigna de lui, he sent us away from him. Chaque instant nous éloigne de ces heureux jours, every instant separates us more and more from those happy times. Éloignez de vous—éloignez ces pensées, drive away—banish—send away these sad thoughts. Vous vous éloignez de votre but, you go away from—you deviate from your plan. Je crois que vous éloignez du sujet, you depart—you wander—from the subject. Ces soins, ces soucis éloignent le bonheur, these cares, these anxieties drive away happiness. Votre humeur éloigne tous vos enfants de vous, your temper alienates—drives away all your children from you. Ne vous éloignez pas de la vérité, keep to the truth. Cet événement éloigne l'époque de leur mariage, this event delays—retards—removes the moment of their marriage. Que Dieu éloigne ce malheur, may God avert—keep away—that misfortune. Je ne suis pas éloigné d'y consentir, I am not far from being disposed—I am ready enough—to consent to it. Votre opinion s'éloigne peu de la mienne, your opinion is not very different from mine—is near mine. Cela s'éloigne de la vérité, this is far from the truth. On le tient éloigné des affaires, he is kept away from business.
Éloigné de vous, je m'ennuie, away from you, I am dull. Je me trouvai bien éloigné de mon compte, I found things very far from my reckoning. Ne lui en parlez pas, car il en est très-éloigné, do not mention it to him, for he is very averse to it. C'est un parent éloigné, he is a distant relation. Il faut prévoir ces causes éloignées, we must foresee those distant causes. Cela leur fit connaître ces régions éloignées, that made them acquainted with those distant climes. C'est une date éloignée, it is a remote, distant date.
ÉLONGATION, s. f. (t. d'astron., de médec.), elongation.
ÉLONGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to run alongside—to come alongside—of a ship. Élonger la côte, to sail close to the land—alongside. Élonger un cordage, to straighten a rope.
ÉLOQUEMMENT, adv. eloquently.
ÉLOQUENCE, s. f. eloquence.
ÉLOQUENT, E, adj. eloquent.
ÉLU, E. Voyez Élire.
ÉLU, s. m. civil magistrate (elected by the people formerly).
ÉLUCIDATION, s. f. elucidation; explanation.
ÉLUCIDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to elucidate; to explain; to make clear.
ÉLUCUBRATIONS, s. f. lucubrations.
ÉLUDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to elude; to evade; to escape.
ÉLUDEUR, DEUSE, s. m. f. adj., one who eludes; (en mauvaise part), a shuffler.
ÉLYSÉE, s. m. (t. de mythologie), Elysium; the abode of the blessed. Adj. Les Champs Élysées, the Elysian fields. (It is also the name of a public place or walk in the west end of Paris.)
ÉLYSIEN, ENNE, adj. Elysian.
ÉLYSIENS, adj. Les champs Élysiens, the Elysian fields, the happy abode of the dead.
ELZÉVIR, s. m. (name given to certain editions printed by printers of that name).
ELZÉVIRIEN, NE, adj. Édition Elzévirienne, edition printed by Elzevir.
ÉMACIATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), emaciation.
ÉMACIÉ, E, adj. emaciated.
ÉMAIL, s. m. enamel.
ÉMAUX, s. m. enamel works; enamellings.
ÉMAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enamel. Les prés sont émaillés de fleurs, the meadows are enamelled with flowers.
ÉMAILLEUR, s. m. enameller.
ÉMAILLEUSE, s. f. enameller.
ÉMAILLURE, s. f. enamelling.
ÉMANATION, s. f. emanation.
ÉMANCIPATION, s. f. emancipation.
ÉMANCIPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisprudence), to emancipate. (Fig., fam.) S'émanciper, to take liberties; to make free. Il s'émancipe depuis qu'il est sorti de l'école, he takes liberties since he left school. Vous vous êtes émancipé à lui parler peu respectueusement, you forgot yourself so far as to speak disrespectfully to him. S'émanciper de certaines règles, to free one's self from certain rules.
ÉMANDIBULÉ, E, adj. (t. de zool.), destitute of jaws.
ÉMANER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to emanate; to proceed from.
ÉMARGEMENT, s. m. marginal notes, remarks.
ÉMARGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put a note, a remark, an observation in the margin of a document.
ÉMASCULATION, s. f. emasculation.
ÉMASCULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to emasculate.
ÉMBABOUINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to coax; to bewitch. Cette femme l'a embabouiné, that woman has bewitched him. Ne vous laissez pas embabouiner, do not allow yourself to be taken in.
EMBÂCLE, s. m. (t. d'ingénieur), a stoppage formed by ice in a water stream.
EMBAILLONNÉ, E. Voyez Bâillonner.
EMBALLAGE, s. m. packing up. Toile d'emballage, packing canvass.

EMBALLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pack up. (Fig.) Nous l'avons emballé dans la voiture, we packed him up in the carriage.

EMBALLEUR, s. m. packer. (Fig.) Ne croyez pas ce qu'il vous dit, c'est un emballeur, do not listen to him, he is a story-teller—he is a romancer.

EMBANDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dress an infant; to swathe.

EMBANQUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine commerciale), to come to—to arrive at—the fishery of Newfoundland.

EMBARCADÈRE, s. m. (t. de commerce et de marine), wharf for embarking people, shipping goods; wharf; pier.

(T. de chemin de fer), terminus from which people and goods depart. Nous arrivâmes à l'embarcadère deux minutes après le départ du convoi, we reached the station two minutes after the departure of the train.

EMBARCATION, s. f. (t. de marine milit.), boat. Faites armer mon embarcation, order my boat to be manned. (En général.) Nous ne pûmes nous procurer qu'une chétive embarcation, we could only procure a wretched boat.

EMBARGO, s. m. Il avait mis un embargo sur les bâtiments Anglais, he had laid an embargo on English vessels.

EMBARQUEMENT, s. m. embarking of men; shipping; lading of goods.

EMBARQUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to embark men; to ship, to lade goods. Nous nous sommes embarqués à Bordeaux, we embarked at Bordeaux. (Prov.) S'embarquer sans biscuit, to enter into a business—an enterprise—without taking necessary precautions. (Fig.) On l'a embarqué dans une méchante affaire, he was drawn into, involved in a bad business. Il me semble que vous vous embarquez dans une fausse démarche, it seems to me that you are engaging into—taking—a bad step.

EMBARRAS, s. m. Il y a toujours de l'embarras dans cette rue, there is always some stoppage in this street. Cette construction cause de l'embarras, this building stops the way—causes an interruption of the thoroughfare—blocks up the street. L'embarras des carrosses et des charrettes dans les rues de Londres est très-grand, the confusion—impediments—caused by carriages and carts in the streets of London are great. Otez donc cet embarras, do remove this incumbrance. Je ne pouvais me tirer de ces embarras, I could not extricate myself from these difficulties—these crowds—these impediments.

Vous ne nous causez aucun embarras, you do not occasion us any trouble—inconvenience. Je me trouve dans un singulier embarras, I find myself in a strange difficulty. Je voudrais pouvoir vous tirer de cet embarras, I wish I could get you out—relieve you from—that difficulty—embarrassment. Son embarras était visible, his embarrassment—perplexity—was apparent. Une grande famille est un grand embarras, a large family is a great incumbrance. Sa conduite me cause beaucoup d'embarras, his conduct is a cause of much anxiety. Embarras d'esprit, perplexity, indecision. Il y a de l'embarras dans cette affaire, there is confusion in this affair.

(Fig., fam.) Ce parvenu fait bien de l'embarras, that parvenu looks very big—very consequential. Ne faites donc pas de l'embarras, come, do not look so grand—do not make such a fuss.

(T. de médec.), obstruction. Il y a un peu d'embarras, there is a slight obstruction.

EMBARRASSANT, E, adj. embarrassing; perplexing; cumbersome; awkward. Voilà une question embarrassante, this is a puzzling question. Cela est embarrassant à porter, this is awkward to carry.

EMBARRASSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Les voitures embarrassent les rues, the carriages stop—fill—crowd the streets. Ces tables embarrassent votre chambre, these tables cumber—fill up—your room. Toutes ces choses-là m'embarrassent, ôtez-les, all these things cumber me—are in my way; take them away. Ces gros souliers vous embarrassent à marcher, these heavy shoes cumber you in walking—are awkward in walking. Otez votre [illegible] qui vous embarrasse, take off your cloak, it [illegible] you.

Ce que vous dites m'embarrasse beaucoup, what you say puzzles me—perplexes me—mock. Je suis bien embarrassé que faire, I am much perplexed—[illegible] what to do. Il est embarrassé de répondre, he is at a [illegible] what to answer.

Ne vous embarrassez pas de mes affaires, do not trouble yourself about—do not meddle with—my affairs. Il s'embarrasse de tout, he meddles with everything about any thing. Ne vous embarrassez pas de cela, take no concern—do not be uneasy about—that thing. Je m'embarrasse bien de cela, moi, what do I care about that?

Il s'est embarrassé dans son discours, he got confused—embarrassed in his speech. Il avait l'air embarrassé, he looked embarrassed. Sa prononciation est embarrassée, his pronunciation is indistinct. Sa langue s'embarrasse, his tongue gets thick—he does not speak distinctly. Sa poitrine s'embarrasse, his chest is getting obstructed—there is an obstruction in his chest. Sa tête s'embarrasse, he begins to wander—his mind is disordered—confused.

EMBARRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cross with bars, lists. S'embarrer (t. de manége), to catch one's leg in the bars of a stable, of the splinter-bar.

EMBASEMENT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), basement.

EMBARRURE, s. f. (t. de manége), excoriation (from rubbing against the bars).

EMBASTILLEMENT, s. m. sending, confining to the Bastille, which see; (en général), imprisoning; confining.

EMBASTILLER, v. a. to send, to confine to the Bastille; (en général), to confine, to check.

EMBATAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to embattle.

EMBATAILLONNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to form into battalions.

EMBÂTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put on a pad saddle (on a horse, or an ass).

(Fig.) On l'a embâté d'une affaire fort désagréable, he has been saddled with a very disagreeable affair.

EMBÂTONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to arm, furnish, with a stick.

EMBATTRE, v. a. rég. 3me conj. (voyez Rembattre), to put tires on a wheel.

EMBAUCHAGE, s. m. decoying, enticing away (work-people, of soldiers).

EMBAUCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il a fait débaucher les ouvriers, he understands entering into, inducing work-people. On a embauché tous nos ouvriers, all our work-people have been enticed—seduced away. Embaucher des soldats, to induce, to decoy soldiers to desert.

EMBAUCHEUR, s. m. decoy; a crimp.

EMBAUCHOIR, s. m. boot-tree. Mettre des [illegible] l'embauchoir, mettre les embauchoirs à une paire de bottes, to put boots on the boot-tree.

EMBAUMEMENT, s. m. embalming.

EMBAUMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to embalm (a body).

Les fleurs embaument l'air, the flowers perfume the air. Cela vous embaume, it diffuses sweet perfume around. Ce vin embaume, this wine fills the mouth with exquisite fume—leaves a delightful taste in the mouth.

EMBÉGUINER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de mode, formé du mot Béguin, close cap, wrapping up the head and throat, worn by nuns). La vieille s'emboguine, she has put on the beguin—she is now a regular nun.

(Fig.) Il s'est embéguiné de cette femme, he is wrapped up in that woman. Ne vous laissez pas embéguiner de ces opinions singulières, do not suffer yourself to be wrapped up in—taken with—these singular notions.

EMBELLIE, s. f. (t. de marine), calm, a moment's lull of the swell.

EMBELLIR, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to embellish. Cette jeune personne embellit les jours, this girl gets prettier every day. Elle est fort embellie depuis que je ne l'ai vue, she has much improved—she has grown much prettier—since I saw her. Cette ville s'embellit tous les jours, this town is daily improving—embellishing. (Fam. et ironiq.) Cela ne fait que croître et embellir, it is getting worse and worse.

EMBELLISSEMENT, s. m. embellishment; ornament; improvement.

EMBELLISSEUR, s. m. embellisher; ornamental workman.

EMBESOGNÉ, adj. busy.

EMBESOGNEMENT, s. m. business; occupation.

EMBERLUCOQUER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to be taken up with, to be wrapped up in.

EMBLAVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to sow with wheat.

EMBLAVURE, s. f. land sown with wheat.

EMBLÉE, D', (loc. adv.). Prendre une ville d'emblée, to take a town by storm.

EMBLÉMATIQUE, adj. emblematic.

EMBLÈME, s. m. emblem.

EMBOIRE, S', v. irr., to imbibe; to soak in; to run in, to rub with.

EMBOISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to coax; to cajole.

EMBOISEUR, EUSE, s. m. f. coaxer.

EMBOITEMENT, s. m. (t. de chir., d'anat.), joint; jointing.

EMBOÎTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to joint; to put in. Les os sont emboîtés—s'emboîtent—les uns dans les autres, the bones are jointed into one another. Ces planches sont mal emboîtées, these planks are ill jointed.

EMBOITURE, s. f. joint; fitting in; (t. de menuisier), piece.

EMBOLISME, s. m. (t. de chronologie), embolism; intercalation.

EMBOLISMIQUE, adj. embolismic; intercalated.

EMBONPOINT, s. m. plumpness; fatness; good condition. Elle a un peu trop d'embonpoint, she is a little too much inclined to fatness. Vous prenez de l'embonpoint, you are getting fat. Elle a recouvré son embonpoint, she has recovered her good condition—her plumpness.

EMBOQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to feed, to cram animals for the purpose of fattening them).

EMBORDURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to frame—to put a frame to—a picture.

EMBOSSAGE, s. m. (t. de marine). Ligne d'embossage, mooring or a line. Nos bâtiments formaient une ligne d'embossage, our ships were moored on a line.

EMBOSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to moor (with the outside turned to the shore, or to the enemy).

EMBOUCHER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Emboucher une trompette, to blow—to sound—a trumpet. (T. de manége), to bit (a horse). (Fig., fam.) Emboucher une personne, to tutor a person—to prepare him as to what he is to say. On l'a mal embouché, he is badly tutored. C'est un mal embouché, he is a foul mouthed person. La Marne s'embouche dans la Seine, the river Marne empties itself—into the Seine. (T. de marine.) Nous étions embouchés, we had got into the pass—in the canal—in the strait.

EMBOUCHOIR, s. m. mouth-piece. Voyez Embuchoir.

EMBOUCHURE, s. f. (t. de musique), mouth-piece. Il a une bonne embouchure, he has a good mouth. (T. de géog.) L'embouchure de la Seine, the mouth of the Seine. (T. de manége), bit. (T. d'artillerie.) L'embouchure du canon, the mouth of the cannon.

EMBOUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cover with mud; to mud.

EMBOUQUEMENT, s. m. (t. de marine), entering—getting into—a strait, a pass.

EMBOUQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., enter a strait—a pass. Nous étions embouqués, we were in the strait, in the pass.

EMBOURBER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Notre cocher s'était embourbé, our coachman had got the carriage in the mire—in a slough. Nous nous sommes embourbés, we got mired—in the mire. Il était embourbé, he was in the mire—deep in the mire. (Fam.) Vous nous avez embourbés dans une vilaine affaire, you have got us entangled in an unpleasant affair.

EMBOURRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Voyez Rembourrer.

EMBOURSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pocket. Je n'ai rien embourse de l'argent que vous m'avez confié, I pocketed nothing of the money you intrusted to me.

EMBOUTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir) (t. d'archit.), to tip.

EMBRANCHEMENT, s. m. branching off; branch.

EMBRASEMENT, s. m. conflagration.

EMBRASER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. L'ennemi embrasa la ville, the enemy set the town on fire. La maison était embrasée, the house was in flames—was burning. Cette matière s'embrase facilement, this matter catches fire quickly—is soon in a blaze. L'air était embrasé, the air was burning hot. (Fig.) La guerre embrasait l'Europe, war inflamed Europe. L'amour de Dieu embrasait son cœur, the love of God inflamed his heart. A ces glorieux récits son imagination s'embrasait, on hearing these glorious accounts, his imagination was fired with enthusiasm.

EMBRASSADE, s. f. embrace. Ils se firent mille embrassades, they embraced a thousand times—they gave each other a thousand embraces.

EMBRASSEMENT, s. m. embrace.

EMBRASSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il embrassa son père et sa mère, he embraced his father and mother. Ils se tenaient embrassés, they kept locked in each other's arms. Ils s'embrassèrent étroitement, they hugged each other. Il l'embrassa étroitement, he pressed her closely to his bosom. Il lui embrassait les genoux, he embraced—clasped—his knees. Embrasser un enfant, to kiss a child. Faisons la paix, embrassez-moi, come, let us make it up, kiss me. Ils se sont embrassés, they have kissed each other. (Fin de lettre.) Adieu, je vous embrasse, good bye, accept my love. Je vous embrasse de tout mon cœur, accept my sincere—hearty—love.

Cet arbre est si gros que deux personnes ne peuvent l'embrasser, this tree is so large that two persons cannot encircle it. Vous n'embrassez pas bien votre cheval, you do not clasp your horse tight between your legs.

(Fig.) Le lierre embrasse un orme, the ivy is twined round an elm. La mer embrasse la terre, the sea surrounds, encircles the land. La rivière embrasse une plaine immense de ses deux bras, the river encompasses a large plain between its two arms. Cette question embrasse bien des choses, this question embraces many things. N'embrassez pas tant de choses à la fois, do not embrace—undertake—so many things at once. Quelle profession allez-vous embrasser ? what profession will you embrace? Embrasser un parti, to embrace—to espouse a party. Les mathématiques n'embrassent pas l'arithmétique, mathematics do not comprehend arithmetic.

EMBRASURE, s. f. embrasure.

EMBRENER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to foul; to befoul.

EMBROCATION, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), embrocation.

EMBROCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spit; to put on the spit. (Fig.) Embrocher quelqu'un, to run one through the body.

EMBROUILLAMINI, s. m. imbroglio; confusion; confused thing.

EMBROUILLEMENT, s. m. entanglement; confusion.

EMBROUILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to confuse; to entangle, to put out. Il a embrouillé l'affaire, he has confused, messed the affair. Vous nous embrouillez, you confuse us. Tout cela m'embrouille l'esprit, all that confuses my mind. La chose commence à s'embrouiller, the thing is getting confused. Ses idées s'embrouillent, his ideas are getting confused. C'est un style embrouillé où l'on ne comprend rien, it is a confused style, quite unintelligible. Le temps commence à s'embrouiller, the weather is getting cloudy.

EMBROUILLEUR, EUSE, s. m. f. blunderer; one who confuses every thing.

EMBRUMÉ, E, adj. foggy; misty.

EMBRYON, s. m. (anat.), embryo. (Fam.) Ce n'est qu'un embryon, he is a mere dwarf.

EMBUCHE, s. f. ambush. Dresser une embûche, to lay an ambush.

EMBUSCADE, s. f. ambuscade. Se mettre, se tenir en embuscade, to lie in ambuscade.

EMBUSQUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to place, to lie in ambuscade—in wait. Nous les trouvâmes embusqués derrière un rocher, we found them lying in wait—in ambuscade—behind a rock.

EMENDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to correct; to amend.

ÉMERAUDE, s. f. emerald.

EMERGENT, E, adj. emergent.

EMERI, s. m. emery.

ÉMÉRILLON, s. m. (oiseau de proie), merlin; (t. de pêche), shark fishing-hook.

EMÉRILLONNÉ, E, adj. sharp, lively.

ÉMÉRITAT, s. m. (t. d'université), pension and retirement granted to a professor, after 30 years' services.

ÉMÉRITE, adj. Professeur émérite, retired—pensioned professor.

ÉMERSION, s. f. (t. d'astron.), emersion.

ÉMÉRUS, s. m. (pron. é-mé-rüce) (t. de bot.), scorpion senna.

EMERVEILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Cela a émerveille tout le monde, that made every body wonder—struck every body with wonder—astounded every body. Nous en étions tous émerveillés, we all wondered at it. Ne vous émerveillez pas de cela, do not wonder—marvel—at that.

ÉMÉTIC, s. m. (t. de médec.), emetic.

ÉMÉTISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mix up emetic in a potion.

ÉMETTRE, v. a. rég. 7me conj., of compound verbs, (voyez Mettre), to emit; to send forth. (T. de commerce, de finance.) La Banque ne voulut pas émettre de nouveaux billets, the Bank refused to emit new notes.

ÉMEUTE, s. f. riot; seditious tumult.

ÉMIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to crumble.

ÉMIETTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to crumble.

ÉMIGRANT, s. m. emigrant; adj. migrating.

ÉMIGRATION, s. f. emigration.

ÉMIGRÉ, E, s. m. f. an emigrant. (The use of this word is almost restricted to the nobles and priests who left France in 1792, 93, &c.)

ÉMIGRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to emigrate.

EMINCE, s. m. hash; minced meat. Un émincé de veau, minced veal.

ÉMINCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mince; to hash.

ÉMINEMMENT, adv. (pron. é-mi-na-man), eminently; to a high degree.

ÉMINENCE, s. f. eminence; height. Une petite éminence, a mound, a rise. (Fig.) On ne peut contester son éminence comme médecin, his superiority, his high character, as a medical man cannot be contested.

(Titre donné aux évêques et aux cardinaux.) Son Eminence me l'a dit, his Eminence, his Grace, told me so. On lui donne de l'Eminence, he is styled Eminence.

ÉMINENT, E, adj. eminent; high. (Fig.) Occuper une place éminente, to fill an eminent place. C'est un homme éminent en piété, he is eminent for his piety.

Nous étions dans un danger éminent, we were in great, in imminent danger.

ÉMINENTISSIME, adj. (titre donné aux Cardinaux), most eminent.

ÉMIR, s. m. (titre donné en Turquie aux descendants de Mahomet), Emir.

ÉMISSAIRE, s. m. emissary; messenger. (En mauvaise part), spy; scout. Bone émissaire, scape-goat. (T. d'archit.) Canal émissaire, drain; viaduct.

ÉMISSION, s. f. emission. (T. de finance.) Émission de papier monnaie, emission of paper-money. (T. de jurisp. canonique.) Jour de l'émission des vœux, the day of taking the vows.

EMMAGASINAGE, s. m. storing of goods; lodging.

EMMAGASINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to store; to lay in a storehouse.

EMMAIGRIR. Voyez Amaigrir.

EMMAILLOTTEMENT, s. m. swaddling.

EMMAILLOTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to swathe, to wrap up in swaddling clothes.

EMMANCHEMENT, s. m. jointing; joint.

EMMANCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to halt; to set a haft, a handle. Un couteau emmanché d'ivoire, a ivory handled knife. (Fig.) Ces affaires ne s'emmanchent pas ainsi, these things are not handled in the way. (T. de peinture.) Ce bras est mal emmanché, the arm is ill jointed.

EMMANCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine). Nous étions emmanchés, we had entered the [Channel] (called "La Manche," from its form, in French) [sets] knives, &c. in a handle.

EMMANCHEUR, s. m. (t. de métier), workman who EMMANCHURE, s. f. L'emmanchure de mon habit est trop étroite, the armhole of my coat is too tight.

EMMANNEQUINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jardinage), to put in baskets, in hampers, trees and [plants] taken up for transplanting.

EMMANTELÉ, E, adj. mantled; hooded.

EMMARINÉ, adj. used, hardened to the sea.

EMMÉNAGEMENT, s. m. moving furniture into a room, a house.

(T. de marine.) Les emménagements de ce navire sont superbes, the accommodations, the cabins, the [fittings] of this ship are beautiful.

EMMÉNAGER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to move into a residence; to furnish. Je me suis emménagé peu à peu, I got my furniture by degrees. Je suis tout à fait emménagé, my house, my rooms are now completely furnished. (T. de marine.) Ce bâtiment est bien emménagé, this ship is beautifully fitted up—has beautiful accommodations.

EMMENER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (compose de mener), to take away; to lead away. Emmener un homme, take away that man. Il emmena toute sa famille en Ecosse, he took all his family away with him to Scotland. Dans la nuit, on lui emmena tous ses bestiaux, in the course of the night, all his cattle were driven away.

EMMENOTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to manacle.

EMMIELLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to honey; to sweeten with honey. (Fig.) Emmieller [someone], to coax, to coax with sweet words. Des paroles emmielées, sweet—honeyed—words.

EMMIELLURE, s. f. (t. de vétérin.), a [remedy] used to reduce swellings in horses.

EMMITOUFLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to wrap up; to muffle up. (Prov.) Jamais chat emmitouflé n'prit une souris, a muffled cat never caught a mouse—a man must be free from restraint to carry out a purpose.

EMMORTAISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de menuisier), to mortize.

EMMOTTÉ, E, adj. (T. de jardin.) Un arbre n'étant pas emmotté, la racine s'est desséchée, the tree, trees, not having mould round the root, dried up.

EMMUSELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Voyez Museler.

ÉMOI, s. m. emotion; agitation. Toute la ville en émoi, the whole town was in a state of agitation.

ÉMOLLIENT, E, adj. (t. de médecine), emollient.

ÉMOLLIENT, s. m. (t. de médec.), emollient.

ÉMOLUMENT, s. m. emolument.

ÉMOLUMENTÉ, E, adj. paid; salaried.

ÉMOLUMENTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to get, to make a profit.

ÉMONCTOIRE, s. m. (anat.), emunctory.

ÉMONDE, s. f. (t. de vénerie), hawk's dung.

ÉMONDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jardinage), to lop; to prune; to dress.

ÉMONDES, s. f. loppings; cuttings.

ÉMOTION, s. f. Elle ne pouvait cacher son émotion, she could not conceal her emotion. Il n'éprouva aucune émotion, he felt no emotion—he was unmoved.

vit partir sans émotion, she saw his departure unmoved—without emotion.

Il y a de l'émotion dans le peuple, there is agitation—disturbance among the people. (T. de médec.) Il a de l'émotion dans le pouls, there is irregularity in his pulse—his pulse is irregular, fluttering. Je lui trouve encore de l'émotion, I still find him agitated—uneasy. Il faut calmer cette émotion, we must still—calm that agitati n.

ÉMOICELLEMENT, } Voyez Morcellement et mi-
ÉMOICELER, v. } nant.

ÉMOTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to break the clods of earth in a field.

ÉMOUCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to drive flies away.

ÉMOUCHET, s. m. (oiseau de proie), musket hawk; tarsel.

ÉMOUCHETTE, s. f. fly net, fly caparison.

ÉMOUCHEUR, s. m. } a person employed in flapping ÉMOUCHEUSE, s. f. } flies away, or killing them, &c.

ÉMOUCHOIR, s. m. fly-flap.

ÉMOUDRE, v. a. irr. conjugué comme Moudre, to grind, Émoudre des couteaux, des rasoirs, to grind knives, razors, &c. Ce couteau est fraîchement émoulu, this knife is fresh ground. (Fig.) Il se sont battus à fer émoulu, they fought with sharp arms—in earnest. C'est un jeune homme frais émoulu, he is fresh from college. Il a le droit de parler, il est frais émoulu, he has a right to speak, he has recently studied the matter.

ÉMOULEUR, s. m. grinder; knife-grinder.

ÉMOUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to blunt; to take the edge off. Ce rasoir ne coupe pas, il est émoussé, this razor does not cut, it is blunt. La pointe de mon canif s'est émoussée, the point of my penknife is—has got—blunt.

(Fig.) La volupté émousse le courage, pleasure blunts the edge of—enervates—courage. Les plaisirs ne lui ont laissé que des sens émoussés, pleasures have left him with blunted senses. Ce que vous avez pris a émoussé votre appétit, what you have taken has blunted the edge of your appetite. C'est un esprit émoussé, his is a dull mind—without feeling.

ÉMOUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jardinage, d'agriculture), to remove, to clear the moss from trees.

ÉMOUSTILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Un verre de champagne l'a émoustillé, a glass of champagne has made him merry—funny. Il était tout émoustillé, he was quite merry, lively, alive.

ÉMOUVOIR, v. a. irrég., conjugué comme Mouvoir. (T. d'économie animale.) Cette drogue émeut les humeurs, this drug moves—stirs up humours. Il est facile à émouvoir, his bowels are easily moved. Émouvoir les sens, to agitate—to disturb the senses. (Fig.) Émouvoir sa bile, to stir up the bile—to raise the anger. C'est un homme dont la bile s'émeut aisément, he is a man whose bile is soon up—whose anger is soon raised.

La mer commence à s'émouvoir, the sea begins to be disturbed—to be agitated. Le moindre vent suffit pour émouvoir les flots, the least wind is enough to stir up the waves—to agitate the sea. Tout à coup, il s'émut une grande tempête, all on a sudden there arose a great storm. (Fig.) Il s'émut une querelle, there arose a quarrel. Les factieux voulurent émouvoir la multitude, the factions attempted to move—to stir up—to agitate the multitude. Le peuple commençait à s'émouvoir, the people were becoming agitated—excited—were beginning to be moved. Il avait l'art d'émouvoir les passions, he knew how to excite—to move—to stir up passions.

Cette scène m'a vivement ému, I was deeply moved—excited by that scene. Ces paroles l'émurent, these words moved his heart—excited his better feelings. Il était ému de compassion, he was moved with compassion. Elle était émue de joie, she was trembling with joy. Elle était toute émue, she was quite affected by it. Allons, laissez-vous émouvoir, come, come, allow yourself to be moved. Il ne s'émeut de rien, nothing moves him—stirs him. Il verrait tout cela sans s'émouvoir, he could see all that without being moved. Il s'émut à la vue du péril, he was troubled—he was shaken—at the sight of peril. Qu'avez-vous donc? vous paraissez tout ému, what is the matter? you seem excited—agitated. Ses sens étaient émus, she was agitated all over.

EMPAILLAGE, s. m. stuffing.

EMPAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Empailler des chaises, to bottom chairs with straw. Empailler des marchandises, to pack up goods in straw. Empailler des plantes, des arbrisseaux, to cover plants—shrubs with straw. Empailler des oiseaux, des animaux, to stuff birds, animals. On voyait suspendu au plafond un lézard empaillé, a stuffed lizard was seen hanging from the ceiling.

EMPAILLEUR, s. m. } Empailleur de chaises, chair-EMPAILLEUSE, s. f. } stuffer—mender. Empailleur d'oiseaux, bird-stuffer.

EMPALEMENT, s. m. impaling.

EMPALER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to impale.

EMPAN, s. m. span. Long d'un empan, a span long.

EMPANACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to adorn, to distinguish with plumes—a feather. Il portait un casque empanaché, he wore a plumed helmet.

EMPANNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine). Voyez Panne.

EMPAQUETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Empaqueter des habits, du linge, to pack up clothes, linen. Ils s'étaient empaquetés dans la voiture, they had packed themselves up—stowed themselves up—in the carriage. Il s'empaqueta dans son manteau, he muffled himself up in his cloak.

EMPARER, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to seize, to make one's self master of. Il s'était emparé de la citadelle, he had seized—taken possession of—made himself master of the citadel. Il fut obligé de rendre les biens dont il s'était injustement emparé, he was obliged to restore the property he had unjustly taken possession of.

Il s'empare toujours de la conversation, he always takes up all the conversation himself. S'emparer de l'esprit de quelqu'un, to make one's self master of the mind of a person. La peur s'empara de moi, fear seized me—took possession of me.

EMPATEMENT, s. m. (t. d'architt.), basement; foundation.

EMPÂTEMENT, s. m. (t. de médec.), thickening; swelling; (t. de peinture), laying of colours; (t. d'économie domestique), fattening.

EMPÂTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to make sticky, clammy. J'ai les mains tout empâtées, my hands are all sticky. Empâter les couleurs d'un tableau, to lay on colours thickly in a picture. Ces chairs sont bien empâtées, that flesh is thick—is rich. Empâter des poulets, des dindons, to fatten fowls, turkeys.

EMPAUMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to strike (a ball) with a bat—with the palm of the hand. (Fig.) Les frippons l'ont empaumé, rogues have got hold of him. Il s'est laissé empaumer comme un sot, he suffered himself to be led like a fool. Empaumer la parole, to take up the speech. (T. de chasse.) Empaumer la voie, to get on the scent.

EMPAUMURE, s. f. the palm of the hand, of a glove; (t. de rêverie), the upper part of the antlers.

EMPÊCHEMENT, s. m. impediment; obstacle; difficulty.

EMPÊCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to prevent; to hinder. La pluie m'a empêché d'aller me promener, the rain prevented my going out to take a walk. Qu'est-ce qui vous empêche de le faire? what prevents you doing it—you from doing it? Je l'empêcherai bien, si je le veux, I shall soon prevent it, if I like. Je n'empêche pas qu'il fasse—qu'il ne le fasse, I do not prevent—hinder his doing it. Cette muraille empêche la vue, this wall stops the sight. Nous ne pouvons nous empêcher de rire, we could not help laughing. Il faut souffrir ce que l'on ne peut empêcher, we must bear what we cannot help—what we cannot prevent. Il a les mains empêchées, his hands are full—engaged. Il se trouva fort empêché de lui répondre, he was much puzzled what to answer to him. Il fait l'empêché, he looks—he tries to look—busy.

(Fam.) Il est fort empêché de sa personne, he looks awkward—he seems as if he did not know what to do with himself.

EMPEIGNE, s. f. (t. de cordonnier). upper leather.

EMPENNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. en-pène-ner), to feather (an arrow). La flèche empennée, the feathered arrow.

EMPEREUR, s. m. emperor.

EMPESAGE, s. m. starching. Voilà un vilain empesage, the starching of these things is bad—they are badly starched.

EMPESER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to starch. (T. de marine.) Empeser une voile, to wet a sail.

(Fig.) Comme cet homme est empesé! how stiff—formal a man he is. Il a des manières empesées, his manners are stiff.

EMPESEUR, s. m.
EMPESEUSE, s. f. } starcher.

EMPESTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. en-pèce-ter), to infect; to poison. Ces ballots empestèrent toute la ville, those bales of goods infected—spread pestilence every where in—the town. Les corps morts empestaient l'air, the dead bodies infected—poisoned—the air. Cet homme vous empeste de son haleine, that man poisons you with his breath. Cela empeste, that thing stinks horridly. L'air en était empesté, the air was infected by it.

EMPÊTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to entangle. Mon cheval s'est empêtré les pieds dans les traits, my horse got his feet entangled in the traces. (Fig.) N'allez pas vous empêtrer dans cette vilaine affaire, do not go and involve yourself in that nasty business. Pourquoi m'avez-vous empêtré de cet homme-là? why did you saddle me—cumber me—with that man? Avoir l'air empêtré, to look ill at ease—embarrassed.

EMPHASE, s. f. emphasis. Parler avec emphase, to speak emphatically—with emphasis.

EMPHATIQUE, adj. emphatic.

EMPHATIQUEMENT, adv. emphatically.

EMPHYSÈME, s. m. (t. de médec.), emphysema; tumour.

EMPHYTHÉOSE, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), a very long lease.

EMPHYTÉOTE, s. m. a tenant holding a long lease.

EMPHYTÉOTIQUE, adj. Bail emphytéotique, a long lease.

EMPIERREMENT, s. m. (t. d'ingénieur), layer, stratum of stones, forming the bed or foundation of a road.

EMPIÉTEMENT, s. m. encroaching; encroachment.

EMPIÉTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Vous empiétez sur mon terrain, you encroach upon my ground. Il a empiété plusieurs sillons sur le voisin, he has encroached upon the land of his neighbour by several furrows. La mer empiète sur nos côtes, the sea makes inroads on our coasts. (Fig.) Vous empiétez sur mes droits, you encroach on my rights.

EMPIFFRER. v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to stuff; to cram. Elle empiffrait son enfant de confitures, she stuffed her child with sweets. Quand il se fut bien empiffré, il s'endormit, when he had well stuffed, he fell asleep. Il s'est bien empiffré depuis peu, he has lately got very fat.

EMPILEMENT, s. m. piling up; heaping up.

EMPILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pile up; to heap up.

EMPILEUR, s. m. } (t. de métier), workman, work-EMPILEUSE, s. f. } woman who piles up things.

EMPIRE, s. m. empire. L'Empire Français, the French Empire. Les électeurs de l'Empire, the Germanic electors. L'Empire d'Allemagne, the German Empire. Le Saint Empire, the Holy Empire. Le Bas Empire, the Roman Empire (during its decline). L'Empire d'Orient, the Eastern Empire. L'Empire d'Occident, the Western Empire.

(Pouvoir.) Il a beaucoup d'empire sur elle, he has great power—influence over her. Vous exercez un empire absolu sur eux, you have—you exercise—an absolute empire—power—over them. Cédons à l'empire de la raison, let us yield—obey the empire of reason. Sachez prendre de l'empire sur vos passions, learn to command your passions. Il n'a aucun empire sur lui-même, he has no control over himself.

EMPIRER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Les remèdes ont empiré le mal, the remedies have increased the evil. Sa maladie empire, his illness grows worse. Il empire à vue d'œil, he grows worse visibly.

EMPIRIQUE, s. m. empiric; quack.

EMPIRIQUE, adj. empiric; quackish.

EMPIRISME, s. m. empirism; quackery.

EMPLACEMENT, s. m. ground; site; place.

EMPLÂTRE, s. m. (t. de métier.), plaster. Mettre un emplâtre, to put on a plaster. Lever un emplâtre, to raise—to take off—a plaster. (Fig.) Il est seul capable d'emplâtre mettre à cette affaire, he knows not how to put up this business. Elle a un emplâtre de mari, she has a sickly husband. Quel emplâtre que cet homme-là, what a stick that man is.

EMPLETTE, s. f. purchase. Elle est allée faire ses emplettes, she has gone to make purchases—she has gone shopping. Venez voir mes emplettes, come and see my purchases.

EMPLIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Finir), to fill. Emplissez ce verre d'eau, fill this glass with water. Le navire s'emplissait rapidement, the ship was filling up rapidly.

EMPLOI, s. m. (occupation). Venez avec moi, je vous donnerai de l'emploi, come with me, I will give you occupation—something to do—employment. Un homme sans emploi est bien à plaindre, a man without occupation is much to be pitied. Il cherche un emploi, he is endeavouring to get a place—a situation—an office. On vient de lui donner un bel emploi, a beautiful situation has recently been given to him. Quel est votre emploi dans la maison? what is your office in the house?

(T. de théâtre.) Il a l'emploi des valets, he acts the part of valets. Il est chef d'emploi, he is the principal actor in his line.

(Usage.) Faites bon emploi de votre temps, de votre argent, make good use of your time, of your money. Vous n'en avez pas fait bon emploi, you made no good use of it. L'emploi du fer est considérable, the employment—use—of iron is considerable. L'emploi de ce mot dans cette phrase n'est pas convenable, the use of this word, in this sentence, is improper. Vous aurez à rendre compte de l'emploi de ces fonds, you will have to account for the use—the laying out—of these funds. Il y a là double emploi, there is here a double entry of the same sum.

EMPLOYÉ, s. m. government clerk; officer.

EMPLOYER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj.

(Occuper.) Il emploie un grand nombre d'ouvriers, he employs—he occupies—he gives work to—a great number of workmen. Il mérite d'être employé, he deserves being employed. Employez-vous à bon escient, exert yourself to do right. Il s'emploie à tourmenter les autres, his occupation is to torment others. Il n'a jamais employé pour personne, he never exerted himself in behalf of any body. A quoi employez-vous vos enfants? how do you occupy your children—what do you make your children do? Il y a employé beaucoup de temps, he has devoted much time to it.

(Faire usage.) On emploie beaucoup de fer dans les travaux, much iron is used—employed—in these works. A quoi employez-vous votre argent? what use do you make of—what employ do you make of—how do you lay out—how do you spend—your money? Vous employez mal, you make bad use of it. Employez le à faire le bien, au soulagement des pauvres, employ it—use it—in doing good—in the relief of the poor. C'est de l'argent bien employé, this is well spent money. Les jeunes gens ne savent pas toujours employer leur temps, young people do not always know how to employ—to occupy—to use their time. Employer du bois à bâtir, to employ—to use timber in building. Il vaudrait bien mieux employer la douceur, it would be better to use—to have recourse to—to employ—gentleness. J'employerais mille choses pour le convaincre, I would use—employ—the most means to convince him. Je n'emploie plus cet homme-là, I do not employ that man now. Il a été employé par le pouvoir

ment dans les Indes, he was employed by government in India. Vous employez des mots qui ne sont pas convenables, you employ—you use—words which are not suitable. Ces mots ne s'emploient plus, these words are no longer in use. (Fig.) Il a employé le vert et le sec pour y parvenir, he did not leave a stone unturned to secure success. A quoi s'emploie-t-il? what is his occupation—what does he employ himself in? Il s'est employé pour moi avec bienveillance, he kindly exerted himself in my favour.

EMPLUMER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to feather. (Fig.) Cet homme s'est bien emplumé dans cette maison, that man feathered his nest well—has grown rich—in that house. Comme vous vous emplumez, how fat you grow—in what good condition you are!

EMPOCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to pocket; to put into one's pocket.

EMPOIGNEMENT, s. m. arrestation; clutching.

EMPOIGNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to grasp; to seize; to clutch. Le manche est trop gros, je ne puis l'empoigner, the handle is too big, I cannot grasp it. Les gendarmes l'ont empoigné, the police have clutched him. Ils se sont empoignés, on a eu de la peine à les séparer, they grappled, and it was difficult to separate them.

EMPOIS, s. m. starch. Mettre de l'empois, passer du linge à l'eau d'empois, to starch linen.

EMPOISONNEMENT, s. m. poisoning.

EMPOISONNEUR, s. m. (poisoner; (fig.), poisoner; EMPOISONNEUSE, s. f. (corruptor.

EMPOISONNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to poison; (fig.), to poison; to embitter;—(infecter), to infect; to poison; to corrupt.

EMPOISSER. Voyez Poisser.

EMPOISSONNEMENT, s. m. stocking with fish.

EMPOISSONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stock with fish.

EMPORTÉ, E, adj. C'est un homme emporté, he is a violent—passionate man. Elle a le caractère emporté, she has a violent, passionate disposition. Quel emporté, what a violent man.

EMPORTEMENT, s. m. violent fit; passionate moment; violence. C'est un emportement d'amour, it is a transport of love.

EMPORTE-PIÈCE, s. m. a puncheon. (Fig.) C'est un emporte pièce, he is a bitter satirist; he is very biting.

EMPORTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (composé de porter, to carry, en, away, thence), to carry away. On a emporté tous les meubles de la maison, the furniture has been removed—taken away—from the house. Les voleurs lui emportèrent tout, the robbers stripped him of every thing—took every thing away from him. Emportez ce livre, take away this book with you. Il prit la fuite, emportant les fonds qui lui avaient été confiés, he ran away—taking, carrying away with him—the funds intrusted to him. N'emportez pas cela, do not take that. Il a emporté le secret avec lui dans la tombe, he took—he carried away—the secret to his tomb. La rivière a emporté le pont, the river carried away the bridge. Mon cheval s'emporta à travers les champs, my horse ran away with me—carried me away—through the fields. Il lui donna un coup de fouet qui emporta la pièce, he gave him a lash which took the piece off. Ses plaisanteries mordantes emportent la pièce, his bitter jokes are very cutting. Un coup de canon lui emporta le bras, a cannon shot took his arm off. La maladie l'a emporté, the disease killed him—carried him off. Le remède a emporté la fièvre, the remedy cured—took off—the fever. Le vent emporta mon chapeau, the wind blew my hat off. (Fig.) Ne vous alarmez pas de ses menaces, autant en emporte le vent, take no alarm at his threats, they are light as air. Le jus de citron emporte les taches d'encre, lemon juice takes out ink spots. L'ennemi emporta la ville en trois jours, the enemy carried the place in three days. Emporter à la pointe de l'épée, to carry by main force. Emporter d'assaut, to carry by storm. (Fig.) Emporter de haute lutte, to carry a thing off with a high hand. Il a tant de crédit qu'il emporte tout ce qu'il veut, he has so much interest that he carries—obtains—any thing he likes.

(Fig.) La colère l'emporta bien loin, anger carried him away very far. Ne vous laissez pas emporter à la vengeance, do not suffer yourself to be led away—carried away—by revenge. Il s'emporta jusqu'à nous dire des injures, he went so far—he was carried away so far—as to abuse us. Il s'emporte pour rien, he gets in a passion for nothing. Cet écrivain s'emporte quelquefois, that writer sometimes is led away—is carried away—becomes wild, frantic. Ne vous emportez pas contre moi, ce n'est pas ma faute, do not get angry—in a passion—with me, it is no fault of mine. Il est très-emporté, he is very violent—very passionate. Mon cheval s'emporta, my horse became ungovernable—unmanageable.

(L'emporter, to bear the bell, to carry it, to have the superiority over.) Ce vin l'emporte sur tous les autres vins, this wine carries it over—has the superiority over—all other wines. Cet avis l'emporta, this opinion carried it—prevailed. Il l'a emporté sur tous ses rivaux, he carried it—he had the victory—over all his competitors. Sa fierté l'emporta sur ses intérêts, his pride had the better of—carried it over—interest. Emporter la balance, to turn the scale—to carry it—to bear the bell.

La condamnation à mort emporte la confiscation des biens, capital punishment carries along with it the confiscation of property.

EMPOTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pot; to put in pot.

EMPOUILLE, s. f. (t. d'agric.), standing crop.

EMPOURPRÉ, E, adj. purpled.

EMPOURPRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to tinge purple.

EMPREINDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 1me conj. (voyez Craindre), to imprint; to impress. Leurs pas étaient empreints sur la neige, their feet were imprinted—the impression—paint—of their feet was—on the snow. Ces sentiments sont empreints dans le cœur de l'homme, these feelings are impressed—imprinted—in the heart of man.

EMPREINTE, s. f. print; impression; stamp. On voyait sur ces pierres l'empreinte de poissons inconnus, you saw upon these stones, the impression of unknown fishes. Ses ouvrages portent l'empreinte de son génie, his works bear the stamp of his genius.

EMPRESSÉ, E, adj. anxious; eager; desirous. C'est un homme empressé, he is anxious—eager—about every thing. Je l'ai toujours vue empressée à lui plaire, I always saw her anxious—eager—to please him. Vous ne vous êtes pas montré assez empressé, you did not show yourself sufficiently anxious—prompt—,—you did not show sufficient eagerness—readiness—promptitude. Il était empressé de lui plaire, he was anxious to please her. Ils étaient tous empressés autour d'elle, they were all crowding anxiously around her. Sa famille était trop empressée à exécuter ce pieux projet, his family were too eager—too impatient to accomplish his pious project. Faire l'empressé, to affect great anxiety—great eagerness. Il fait l'empressé auprès d'elle, he affects to pay her great attentions—he makes a show of paying attentions to her.

Il est d'un air empressé nous demander nos ordres, he came with eager—anxious—look to solicit our commands. Il lui rendit des soins empressés, he paid her anxious—constant attentions—,—he showed, by his attentions, his eager desire to please her. Des vœux, des désirs empressés, eager desires. Il a l'air empressé, he looks busy, anxious. Ne soyez pas si empressé, je vous prie, be not so busy, I pray you. Vous êtes beaucoup trop empressé, you are really too busy.

EMPRESSEMENT, s. m. eagerness; anxiousness; promptitude. Il nous accueillit avec empressement, he hastened to welcome us—he hastened to show us attentions on our arrival. Vous n'avez pas mis assez d'empressement à le faire, you have not shown readiness enough—anxiety enough—to do it. Il a beaucoup d'empressement à vous servir, he is most anxious—desirous—impatient—to do you service.

EMPRESSER, S'. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. C'est un homme qui s'empresse fort, he is always anxious—prompt—active in doing things. Vous ne vous empressez pas assez, vous n'obtiendrez rien, you are not sufficiently active—anxious, you will obtain nothing. Je me suis empressé de les détromper, I hastened to undeceive them. Vous ne vous êtes pas assez empressé d'aller les voir, you did not show sufficient anxiety—desire—to call upon them. Je m'empresse de répondre à votre lettre, I hasten to answer—I lose no time in replying to—your letter. Empressez-vous un peu plus, come, show a little more attention—desire—anxiety—promptitude.

EMPRISONNEMENT, s. m. imprisonment; confinement. [to confine.

EMPRISONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to imprison;

EMPRUNT, s. m. loan. Faire un emprunt, to contract a loan, to borrow. Cet homme est toujours aux emprunts, that man is ever borrowing. Il monte un cheval d'emprunt, he is riding a borrowed horse. Vivre d'emprunt, to live by borrowing.

EMPRUNTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to borrow. Emprunter de l'argent à gros intérêt, to borrow money on large interest. J'ai emprunté cette somme de—à—mon frère, I borrowed that sum of my brother. A qui avez-vous emprunté ce cheval? of whom did you borrow that horse? La lune emprunte sa lumière du soleil, the moon borrows her light of the sun. C'est une pensée qu'il a empruntée de Virgile, he has borrowed that idea of Virgil. Ce livre a paru sous un nom emprunté, the book appeared under a borrowed name—a fictitious name.

(Fig.) Elle a un air emprunté she looks awkward—ill at ease—unnatural—out of her sphere.

EMPRUNTEUR, s. m. [borrower.

EMPRUNTEUSE, s. f.

EMPUANTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to infect; to poison; to cause to stink. S'empuantir, to become stinking, offensive.

EMPUANTISSEMENT, s. m. getting offensive; becoming stinking—corruptive.

EMPYÈME, s. m. (t. de médec.), a collection of pus in the chest.

EMPYRÉE, s. m. empyreum; the purest part of heaven.

EMPYRÉE, adj. empyreal. [reumatic.

EMPYREUMATIQUE, adj. (t. de chimie), empy-

EMPYREUME, s. m. (t. de chimie), empyreuma.

ÉMU. Voyez mouvoir.

ÉMULATEUR, s. m. [emulator; rival; imitator.

ÉMULATRICE, s. f.

ÉMULATION, s. f. emulation.

ÉMULE, s. m. f. emulator; rival.

ÉMULGENT, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), emulgent.

ÉMULSIF, SIVE, adj. (t. de médec.), emulsive.

ÉMULSION, s. f. emulsion.

ÉMULSIONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mix with an emulsion.

EN, prep. in. En ce temps-là, in that time. Aller en Italie, to go to—into—Italy. Ils voyagent en Allemagne, they are travelling in Germany. Avez-vous été en Angleterre? have you been in England? Il est allé en Angleterre, he is gone to England. Avoir de l'argent en poche, to have money in one's pocket. Il est en lieu sûr, he is in a safe place. Vous verrez cela en tous pays, you will see such things in all countries. Dîner en ville, to dine out. Se mettre en chemin, to start on one's journey. Rester en place, to stand still. Voir en songe, to see in a dream. J'en ai la preuve en main, I have the proof in my hand. Il avait le casque en tête, he had his helmet on his head. Il était tout en eau, he was in a great heat. Être en crainte, to be in fear. Être en affaire, to be engaged—busy. Il était en fureur, he was in a rage. Cet arpent est en blé, en vigne, this ground is sown with corn—planted with vines. Il est en veste, he is in his jacket. Elle surpassait tout le monde en beauté, she excelled every body in beauty. Vous vous êtes comporté en ami, you behaved as a friend. Il l'a fait en haine de lui, he did it in his hatred to him. En plein jour, in broad daylight. On va à Londres en deux heures, we go to London in—in the space of—two hours. Voyez Dans.

Je vous le dirai en vous en retournant, I will tell it you, when we return—as we return. Il nous a conté cela en dînant, he told us that while at dinner. Il mangeait en marchant, he was eating as he walked. Il nous l'a dit en pleurant, he told it us with tears—while weeping.

[EN is used with so many words, that it would be impossible to give here all the phrases compounded of it. Look under the head of the Noun.]

EN, pron. person. (génitif et ablatif; employé commun pour le singulier et le pluriel, le masculin et le féminin), of him, of her, of it, of them; from him, from her, from it, from them.

Vient-il de la ville? Oui, il en vient, is he coming from the town? Yes, he is coming from it—there. Il est arrivé à Londres hier matin, et il en est reparti dans la soirée, he arrived in London yesterday morning, and went away (thence—from it) in the evening. A quelle heure vous en allez-vous? at what time do you go—thence? Nous nous en reviendrons ensemble, we return (thence—from that place) together. Il s'en retourna tranquillement, he was coming quietly (thence, from the place where he had been). Je m'en vais partir, I am about to depart (thence, from this place). Cette affaire est délicate, le succès en est douteux, this is a delicate affair, the success of it is doubtful. C'est un homme fort triste, j'en suis fort affligé, this is a sad man, I grieve at it. Donnez-moi cela, j'en ai besoin, give me that, I want it. I have need of it. Soyez en certain, je n'ai que cause de son refus, be well assured of it, such is the cause of his refusal.

A-t-il des amis? Oui, il en a de très-puissants, has he friends? Yes, he has powerful ones (of them). C'est sa seule récompense, il n'en veut pas d'autre, this is his only reward, he requires no other (of it, of reward). La difficulté est grande, il en est plus déterminé à la vaincre, the difficulty is great, he is the more determined (on that account) to conquer it. Où en êtes-vous? how far are you got?—(where are you about it, about some concern or other). C'en est fait, it is all over (about it). Je ne pouvais croire mes yeux, I could not believe my own eyes (about it). Les deux armées en vinrent aux mains, the two armies came to blows—engaged—(from hostilities) came to an engagement. Ils s'en vinrent aux mains, they rushed upon each other (thence, from the place where they were), sword in hand. Quoiqu'il en soit, whatever it may be (about it, about that). Il s'en est peu fallu qu'il ne fût ruiné, it wanted little to be being ruined—(there was little wanted of it to make him). Je m'en prendrai à vous, s'il arrive du mal, I will lay the blame (of it) on you, if any thing wrong happen. Je vous en veux, I wish you evil (of it)—I am angry with you.

ÉNALLAGE, s. f. (t. de grammaire), enallage.

ENAMOURER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to enamour—to get enamoured.

ENCABLURE, s. f. (t. de marine), cable's length.

ENCADREMENT, s. m. framing; putting into a frame.

ENCADRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to frame; to put into a frame. (Fig.), to introduce; to place in.

ENCAGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put in a cage (fig.), to confine; to imprison. On l'a encagé, they have confined him—they have put him into the cage; (fig.) they have boxed him.

ENCAISSEMENT, s. m. (T. de jardinage.) Les orangers ont besoin d'un encaissement, these orange-trees need new cases or boxes. (T. de commerce.) L'encaissement de ces marchandises a beaucoup coûté, the packing up of these goods into cases cost much. (T. de géomet.) Faire un pont par encaissement, to build a bridge by means of caissons.

(T. de banque), payment, cashing. Je dois faire réserve de l'encaissement dans mon reçu, I must make a reserve in my receipt that it is only on condition that the money will be paid. On nous annonce l'encaissement de nos deux valeurs, we are informed that your two bills of exchange have been paid—that their amount has been received.

ENCAISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pack up in cases; (t. de jardinage), to put into boxes. (T. de all flattering him—doing him homage. Il encense la fortune, he pays homage to riches.

ENCENSEUR, s. m. (ne s'emploie qu'au figuré), praiser; flatterer.

ENCENSOIR, s. m. censer. Tenir l'encensoir, (voyez Turiféraire). (Fig.) Il tient le sceptre et l'encensoir, he holds both the monarchical and ecclesiastical power. On l'accusait d'avoir mis la main à l'encensoir, he was charged with having interfered with church matters. Donner de l'encensoir à une personne, to flatter, to praise a person. Ils lui cassaient le nez à coups d'encensoir, they flattered him—praised him—outrageously.

ENCENSOIR (t. d'astron.), the Censer.

ENCÉPHALE, adj. (t. de médec.), encephalus.

ENCÉPHALIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), encephalic.

ENCHAINEMENT, s. m. concatenation; link; chain; sequel.

ENCHAÎNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enchaîner un chien, to tie a dog up—to fasten, confine a dog—with a chain. On enchaîna les prisonniers, the prisoners were bound with chains. Il était si violent qu'on l'avait enchaîné au mur, he was so violent that he was bound to the wall with a chain—with a cord. Je le tiens enchaîné, I keep him bound—fastened—chained—in chains.

(Fig.) La crainte enchaînait le peuple, fear restrained the people. Un serment enchaîne ma langue, an oath binds my tongue. Ses vertus enchaînaient tous les cœurs, his virtues captivated—enslaved every heart. Elle les tenait enchaînés à son char, she kept them chained to her car. Enchaîner une nation, to bind a nation.

Il a bien enchaîné toutes ses idées, all his ideas are well linked—connected—one with another. Tous ces événements s'enchaînent, all these events are linked—chained one with another.

ENCHAÎNURE, s. f. Voyez Enchaînement.

ENCHANTELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enchanteler du bois, to pile up timber. Enchanteler de la bière, du vin, to put a cask of beer, of wine on a stand—on gawntrees.

ENCHANTEMENT, s. m. Rompre un enchantement, to break an enchantment. Les enchantements de Médée, the enchantments—the incantations—the charms of Medea. Tout cela se faisait comme par enchantement, all that was done as if by enchantment. Il est dans l'enchantement, he is in raptures—in delight. Cette nouvelle l'a mis dans l'enchantement, this news threw him into raptures.

ENCHANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Les bergers enchantaient les bestiaux, shepherds charmed—enchanted—bewitched—cattle. Elle enchantait tout le monde par sa voix, she charmed every body with her voice. Ne vous laissez pas enchanter par elle, do not suffer yourself to be charmed—bewitched—by her. Tout l'enchantait, every thing charmed him—delighted him. Nous ne pouvions nous éloigner de ces lieux enchantés, we could not get away from these enchanted—charmed places. Ces jardins sont enchantés, these gardens are charming. Il portait des armes enchantées, he carried charmed arms.

Elle sera enchantée de vous voir, she will be delighted to see you. Je suis enchanté que tout ait si bien réussi, I am delighted that every thing succeeded so well.

ENCHANTEUR, s. m. enchanter.

ENCHANTERESSE, s. f. enchantress.

ENCHANTEUR, TERESSE, adj. enchanting; charming.

ENCHAPERONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put on a hood, a chaperon. Les chevaliers étaient enchaperonnés, the knights were their hoods—were hooded.

ENCHÂSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to set in; to incase; to set in a frame. Enchâsser un tableau dans une bordure, to set a picture in a frame. Enchâsser un diamant dans une bague, to set a diamond in a ring—to set a ring with a diamond. Les dents sont enchassées dans les os de la mâchoire, the teeth are set in the jaw-bones.

(Fig.) Il a enchâssé ce passage dans un discours, he introduced—he worked in—this passage in the body of his speech. Cette pensée est mal enchâssée, that thought is awkwardly introduced—brought in.

ENCHÂSSURE, s. f. setting in.

ENCHÂTONNEMENT, s. m. (t. d'orfèvre), setting in of a stone in a plain ring.

ENCHÂTONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to set a diamond—a jewel—in a plain ring. S'enchâtonner bien, to fit in well.

ENCHAUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jardinage), to cover up plants with dung—straw—dry leaves, &c., in order to blanch them or guard them against cold.

ENCHÈRE, s. f. (T. de commerce, d'administ.) Vendre à l'enchère, aux enchères, to sell by auction. On va mettre sa maison aux enchères, his house is about to be sold by auction. Ouvrir les enchères, to begin the sale—the auction. Mettre une enchère, to bid—to make a bidding. Couvrir une enchère, to bid over another—to outbid him. Enchère au rabais, contracting with government to do things or furnish them at a lower price than proposed by the officers; here, the biddings are less and less. (Fig.) Il mettait les emplois aux enchères, he gave places to the highest bidders. Sa conscience est aux enchères, his conscience may be bought.

(T. de jurisp.) Folle enchère is the name of the prosecution against the bidder who does not fulfil his bidding, in consequence of which the object is put to sale again at his expense. (It means also the difference between his bidding and the bidding of the new purchaser, and which he is to pay.) Il a payé la folle enchère, he has paid the expenses of a second sale. (Fig.) Payer la folle enchère de quelque chose, en payer la folle enchère, to bear the penalty of a foolish, imprudent act—to pay for it.

ENCHÉRIR, v. a. v. n. rég. 2de conj., to bid more, to outbid (at an auction). Personne n'a enchéri sur moi, no one bid against me—outbid me. (Fig.), to surpass. Néron enchérit sur la cruauté de Tibère, Nero surpassed—exceeded the cruelty of Tiberius. Ce mot enchérit sur l'autre, this word has more expression—is more forcible than the other.

(T. de commerce.) Le blé enchérit, corn is rising in price—is getting dearer. Il a enchéri ses marchandises, he has raised the price of his goods.

ENCHÉRISSEMENT, s. m. rising in price; rise of price.

ENCHÉRISSEUR, s. m. bidder. Adjuger au plus offrant et dernier enchérisseur, to adjudge a thing to the highest and last bidder. Fol enchérisseur. Voyez "Folle Enchère."

ENCHEVÊTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put a halter on a horse, &c. v. r. Mon cheval s'est enchevêtré, my horse got his foot over his halter. (Fig.), to get entangled. Vous allez vous enchevêtrer dans une vilaine affaire, you are running into—you are getting entangled in—a stupid affair. Comme ces choses sont enchevêtrées l'une dans l'autre, how confused these things are—how mixed up one with another.

ENCHEVÊTRURE, s. f. (t. de charpentier), trimmers; (t. de vétérin.), sore, excoriation in the pastern.

ENCHIFRENEMENT, s. m. stuffing—cold—in the head.

ENCHIFRENER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. L'air froid de la nuit m'a enchifrené, the cold air of the night has given me a bad cold in the head. Il est tout enchifrené, he has a stoppage in his head—he has a bad cold.

ENCHYMOSE, s. f. (t. de médec.), enchymosis.

ENCLAVE, s. f. close; boundary; limit.

ENCLAVEMENT, s. m. inclosing; inclosure.

ENCLAVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to inclose; to shut in; to fit in.

ENCLIN, E, adj. Il est enclin à le faire, he is inclined to do it. Je n'y suis pas très-enclin, I am not much inclined to do it. Il était enclin à l'ivrognerie, he was given to intemperance.

ENCLITIQUE, s. f. (t. de grammaire), enclitic.

ENCLORE, v. a. irrég. (voyez Clore), to inclose. Enclore un jardin de murailles, to inclose a garden with walls. Les champs sont enclos de jolies haies, the fields are inclosed—surrounded—with beautiful hedges. On a enclos les faubourgs dans la ville, the suburbs have been inclosed within—taken into the town.

ENCLOS, s. m. close; (enceinte), inclosure.

ENCLOUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (T. d'artillerie.) Nous enclouâmes tout leur canon, we spiked all the guns. (T. de vétérin.) Le maréchal a enclavé son cheval, the farrier drove a nail in my horse's foot—shot my horse's foot. Mon cheval s'est enclavé, my horse is a nail up his foot.

ENCLOUURE, s. f. lameness, sore from being nailed. Mon cheval est boiteux d'une enclouure, my horse is lame from having run a nail up his foot. (Fig.) Voilà la clouure, this is the evil—the mischief.

ENCLUME, s. m. anvil. (Fig.) Il se trouvait entre l'enclume et le marteau, he was between two enemies—an opposed parties. Il faut être enclume ou marteau, one must be either the sufferer or the mischief doer. Donner un ouvrage sur l'enclume, to remodel a work—to begin afresh. (T. d'anat.), incus.

ENCLUMEAU, s. m. hand anvil.

ENCOCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Encocher sa flèche, to put an arrow upon the bow-string.

ENCOFFRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pocket up, to save. Il aime mieux encoffrer que de vivre honorablement, he prefers putting his money by—in his coffers—to living honorably.

ENCOIGNURE, s. f. corner; angle. Je le mettrai dans l'encoignure, dans cette encoignure, I will place it in that corner. (T. de marchand de meubles.) Pièce of furniture filling a corner, an angle.

ENCOLLAGE, s. m. gum; wash.

ENCOLLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to wash with gum.

ENCOLURE, s. f. Ce cheval a une belle encolure, the horse has a beautiful head and neck. (Fig.) Il a l'encolure d'un sot, he has the carriage—the look—the look of a fool. Il en a bien l'encolure, he looks very much like it.

ENCOMBRE, s. m. difficulty; obstacle. Je suis arrivé sans encombre, I arrived without any accident.

ENCOMBREMENT, s. m. encumbering; clogging; being in the way. On évita ainsi l'encombrement des voitures, thus was avoided the impediment—the confusion—the obstruction—caused by the quantity of carriages.

ENCOMBRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to encumber. Les rues en sont encombrées, the streets are cumbered with them.

ENCONTRE, s. f. event; adventure; ill chance.

ENCONTRE, A l', locut. prépos., against. Je ne vais pas à l'encontre de vous, I do not go against you. Les deux bâtiments naviguaient à l'encontre l'un de l'autre, the two ships were sailing in opposite directions.

ENCOQUER. Voyez Coppeler.

ENCORBELLEMENT, s. m. (archit.), corbel.

ENCORE, adv. still, yet. Vit-il encore? is he still alive? Comment, vous êtes encore au lit? what, still in bed? Est-ce fini? Non pas encore, is it done? No, not yet. Je ne l'ai pas encore vu, I have not seen him yet. Il n'est encore que deux heures et demie, it is only half past two, yet. J'attends encore sa réponse, I am still waiting for his answer. Je voudrais la voir encore une fois, I would wish to see her again once more. Donnez-m'en encore, give me some again. Quel encore! what, again! Encore, encore, more, more. Encore! encore une fois! again, once more again.

On dit encore qu'il est en marche, they say he is moreover, that he is coming—on his march. Il est généralement il est libéral, mais encore il est prodigue, he is generally he is liberal, but moreover he is prodigal. Elle a plus qu'un laquais d'ordinaire, encore ne peut-elle le garder un jour entier, she keeps but one servant usually, and she cannot keep him one whole day.

Il est encore plus riche que son frère, he is richer than his brother. Il ne sera pas content, désirera encore plus, they are not satisfied, they require still more. Cela augmentait encore sa tristesse, that increased his sadness more and more. Cela réduit encore sa vie déjà si modique, that reduces his income already so small still more. Encore plus (loc. adv.), still more. Encore moins, still less.

Encore s'il venait, on lui pardonnerait de vivre si attendre, at least, if he came, one might forgive him to have kept us waiting.

ENCORE QUE, conj. (pouvoir le subj.). Encore qu'il soit jeune, il se conduit sagement, although he be young, he behaves prudently.

ENCORNÉ, E, adj. horned; having horns. Haut encorné having high horns.

ENCOURAGEANT, E, adj. encouraging.

ENCOURAGER, v. a. rég. très conj., to encourage. Son exemple encourageait le soldat, his example encouraged the soldier. Il nous encourageait à bien faire, he encouraged—urged us—to act right. Ils s'encourageaient l'un l'autre, they encouraged one another.

ENCOURIR, v. irr. (compose de "en" et "courir"), to incur. Il a encouru la mort, he has incurred the penalty of death. N'encourez-vous pas l'indignation de votre famille? will you not incur the indignation of your friends?

ENCRASSER, v. a. r. r. rég. très conj., to grease; to make greasy; to get greasy, filthy. (Fig.) Vous vous encrassez dans ces mauvaises compagnies, you lower yourself—you debase yourself in that low company.

ENCRE, s. f. ink. Encre à écrire, writing ink. Cette encre est trop blanche, this ink is too thin. Encre de la Chine, Indian ink. Dessin à l'encre de la Chine, a drawing in Indian ink. (Fig.) C'est la bouteille à l'encre que cette affaire, that business is extremely obscure —confused. Il est dans la bouteille à l'encre, he is in the secret. Il lui a écrit de bonne encre, he wrote sharply to him.

ENCRER, v. a. rég. très conj., to ink.

ENCRIER, s. m. inkstand.

ENCROUE, adj. (t. d'eaux et forêts), entangled.

ENCROUTER, v. a. rég. très conj. (t. de maçonnerie), to lay a coat (of plaster, of mortar &c.) on a wall. Enroûté, incrusted. (Fig.) Être encroûté de préjugés, to be cased in prejudices. Un prêtre encroûté, a pedant stuffed with latin.

ENCUIRASSER, S', v. r. rés. très conj., to put on cuirass. (Fig.) Il était encuirassé d'ivoire, his body was covered with a coat of lilk—was a very cake of lilk.

ENCUVER, v. a. rég. très conj., to put into a vat, into a tub.

ENCYCLIQUE, adj. (t. d'Église), encyclical; circular.

ENCYCLOPÉDIE, s. m. encyclopedia.

ENCYCLOPÉDIQUE, adj. encyclopedic.

ENCYCLOPÉDISTE, s. m. encyclopedist.

ENDÉCAGONE. Voyez Hendécagone.

ENDÉMIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), endemic disease.

ENDÉMIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), endemic; peculiar to a place, to a people.

ENDENTER, v. a. rég. très conj. (t. de mécanique), to cog. (Fam.) Avoir la bouche bien endentée, to have fine set of teeth. Être mal endenté, to have bad teeth.

ENDETTER, v. a. r. r. rég. très conj. L'achat de cette terre l'a endetté, the purchase of that estate has involved him in debt. Ne vous endettez pas, do not run—do not get into debt. On dit qu'il est fort endetté, people say he is deep in debt. Il est endetté de vingt mille francs, he owes—he is involved to the amount of —twenty thousand francs.

ENDÉVER, v. n. rég. très conj. Il endévait de rire, he was vexed—he fretted at that. Elle endévorait de voir [illegible] se marier avant elle, she fretted—she fumed—to see her sister marry before her. Faire endéver quelqu'un, to tease—to torment—a person.

Il faut être bien endévé pour faire de ces choses-là, one must be very determined—very obstinate—to act those things. C'est un endévé, he is a perverse fellow—a detestable being.

ENDIABLÉ, E, adj. possessed of the devil. Il faut être endiablé pour faire des choses pareilles, a man must be possessed to do such things. Un chemin endiablé, a detestable road.

ENDIABLER, v. n. rég. très conj., to be vexed; to be raving mad at a thing. Faire endiabler une personne to torment—to harass—a person.

ENDIMANCHER, S', v. r. rég. très conj., to put on one's Sunday best—one's best clothes—to make one's self fine. Ils étaient tous endimanchés, they were all in their best clothes.

ENDIVE, s. f. (bot.), endive.

ENDOCTRINER, v. a. rég. très conj., to instruct; to teach; (fam.), to tutor; to tell a person what he is to do or say.

ENDOCTRINEUR, s. m. (injurieux) a doctrine.

ENDOLORI, E, adj. aching. J'ai si le bras endolori, my arm is aching from it.

ENDOMMAGEMENT, s. m. damage; injury.

ENDOMMAGER, v. a. rés. très conj., to damage; to injure. Le mur était endommagé des coups de canon, the wall was damaged by the guns.

ENDORMANT, E, adj. soporific.

ENDORMEUR, s. m. (copiste); coaxer; one who puts ENDORMEUSE, s. f. } others to sleep. Endormeur de malades, de couleuvres, a make-easier; a servant-injurer.

ENDORMIE, s. f. (bot.), stramonium; thorn-apple. Avoir mangé de l'endormie, to sleep very sound.

ENDORMIR, v. n. r. r. rég. très conj. Composé de "en" et "dormir" (voyez Sentir), to put to sleep; to get, to go to sleep. Je ne pourrais endormir cet enfant, I could not put the child to sleep. Il est endormi, he is asleep. Nous aperçûmes plusieurs personnes endormies, we saw several people asleep. Vous avez l'air endormi, you look sleepy. C'est un endormi, he is a sleepy fellow. Faire l'endormi, to put on a sleepy look—a stupid look. Ce livre vous endort, that book puts you to sleep. (Fig.) Je m'endors, I am going, I go to sleep. Soyez tranquille, c'est un homme qui ne s'endort pas, be easy, he is not the man to go to sleep. Je me suis endormi auprès du feu, I fell asleep by the fire. (Fig.) Il s'est endormi dans le vice, he remained buried in vice. Ne vous endormez pas sur le rôti, do not go to sleep, keep alive. Vous vous êtes endormi sur cette affaire, you went to sleep over that affair. Il nous a endormi de belles paroles, he put us to sleep—he lulled—deluded—us with fine words. Il faudrait endormir sa prudence, you must smuse him —deceive his prudence. S'endormir du sommeil de la tombe, to sleep the sleep of the tomb—to die.

Endormir la douleur, to lull pain. Il a fallu lui endormir le bras avant de le couper, they were obliged to numb his arm previous to amputation. J'avais la jambe tout endormie, my leg was quite numbed—benumbed.

ENDORMISSEMENT, s. m. sleepiness; drowsiness.

ENDOS, s. m. (t. de banque, de commerce), endorsement. Mettez votre endos sur cette lettre de change, endorse—write your endorsement on the back of—this bill.

ENDOSSE, s. f. Vous avez l'endosse de cette affaire, you have the lmion—the trouble—the responsibility of that affair.

ENDOSSEMENT, s. m. endorsement. Voyez Endos.

ENDOSSER, v. a. rég. très conj. Endosser la cuirasse, to put on the cuirass. (Fig.) Endosser le harnais, to put on the costume pertaining to one's profession—to begin business—to set into harness. On l'a endossé d'une vilaine commission, they have saddled him with an ugly business.

(T. de banque, de commerce.) Endosser une lettre de change, to endorse a bill.

ENDOSSEUR, s. m. (t. de banque, de commerce), endorser.

ENLIEUT, s. m. place; spot. Vous verrez l'endroit où il fut tué, you will see the place where he was killed. Est-ce là l'endroit où vous voulez bâtir, is that the place on which you wish to build? Il habite un joli endroit, he inhabits a very pretty place. Nous venons—nous sommes—de mon endroit, we come from the same place. On ne connaît pas cela dans nos endroits, that is not known in our parts. A quel endroit du livre devons-nous commencer? at what part, what chapter—of the book are we to begin? Est-ce-là l'endroit où vous avez reçu le coup, is that the place where you received the blow?

De quel endroit de ce chapon vous servirai-je? to what part—to what side of this capon shall I help you?

En lisant, il nous indiquait les beaux endroits, in reading, he pointed out the beautiful passages to us. Il y a des endroits faibles dans cette tragédie, there are weak parts—passages—in this tragedy. C'est le plus bel endroit de sa vie. it is the finest side—part—of his life.

Il sait se faire voir par son bel endroit, he manages to show his best side—his best point. C'est là son vilain endroit, that is his ugly point—side. Vous le prenez par son endroit sensible, you take him by his weak point.

(En parlant d'Etoffe, de drap.) Quel est l'endroit de ce drap? which is the right side of this cloth? Ce drap est à deux endroits, this cloth has no wrong side—both sides are alike.

A l'endroit (locut. prepos.), towards; with regard to; in respect to.

ENDUIRE, v. a. rég. 6me conj. (Voyez Conduire.) Enduire une muraille de plâtre, to give a coat of plaster to a wall—to do it over with plaster. Enduire une barque de goudron, to pitch a boat—to pay a boat with pitch.

ENDUIT, s. m. plastering; stucco. Enduit de goudron, pitch. (En général), paste; compost; liquid.

ENDURANT, E, patient; enduring. Il est d'une humeur peu endurante, he is not of an enduring temper. Il est peu endurant, he does not bear much—he is soon offended.

ENDURCIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (Voyez Punir.) Le temps endurcit la pierre, time hardens stone. Cette pierre s'est endurcie à l'air, this stone grew harder—hardened—in the air. Le travail endurcit le corps, labour hardens the body. S'endurcir au travail, à la peine, to harden—to inure—one's self to labour, to pain. Nous avons eu de la peine à nous endurcir à ce climat, we had much difficulty to harden—to inure—to accustom—ourselves to this climate. L'avarice endurcit le cœur, avarice hardens the heart. C'est un cœur endurci dans le crime, his heart is hartened in crime. C'est un cœur endurci, he has a hardened heart. La plante du pied s'endurcit à force de marcher, the under part of the foot hardens—gets hard—by dint of walking. Un homme endurci à la peine, a man inured—accustomed—to trouble. Ne vous endurcissez pas aux misères d'autrui, do not harden your heart against—do not become unfeeling to—the sufferings of others.

ENDURCISSEMENT, s. m. hardness of heart, of feeling; obduracy, obdurate sin.

ENDURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. to endure; to bear with. Nous avons eu à endurer la faim et la soif, we had to endure hunger and thirst. Voulez-vous que j'endure un affront semblable? would you have me bear with such an affront? Ces choses ne peuvent s'endurer, these things are not to be borne. Endurerez-vous que l'on fasse tort à vos enfants? will you allow an injury to be done to your children?

ÉNERGIE, s. f. energy.

ÉNERGIQUE, adj. energetic.

ÉNERGIQUEMENT, adv. energetically.

ÉNERGUMÈNE, s. m. one possessed; enthusiastic person.

ÉNERVATION, s. f. enervation; weakness; prostration.

ÉNERVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. La chaleur excessive énerve et accable, excessive heat enervates and oppresses. Les plaisirs énervaient le soldat, pleasures enervated the soldier. Un long repos énerve le courage, long inaction weakens courage. Ces ornements énervent le style, these ornaments enfeeble—weaken the style. Il s'est énervé à force de débauches, his excesses have enervated him. C'est un homme énervé, he is enervated. Je ne pourrais vivre sous ce climat énervant, I could not live in this enervating climate.

ÉNERVEMENT, s. m. enervation.

ENFAGOTER. Voyez Fagoter.

ENFAÎTEAU, s. m. (t. de maçon), ridge-tile.

ENFAÎTEMENT, s. m. lead ridge.

ENFAÎTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to roof a house.

ENFANCE, s. f. childhood. Dans son enfance, during his childhood—his infancy. Ils s'éprouvaient si la vieillesse ni l'enfance, they spared neither the old nor the young. C'est mon ami d'enfance, he was my friend from my infancy—childhood. Sortir de l'enfance, to cease to be a child. Je le connais depuis sa plus tendre enfance, I have known him ever since his earliest infancy. Vous ne faisiez que sortir de l'enfance, you were but just come out of your boyhood—childhood. Faire des enfances, to do childish things. Il est en enfance, he is in his second childhood.

(Fig.) L'enfance du monde, the infancy, the beginning of the world.

ENFANÇON, s. m. a little child.

ENFANT, s. m. child. Quel bel enfant, what a pretty child. Voilà une belle enfant! that is a pretty child—a pretty girl! La pauvre enfant était toute tremblante, the poor girl was all in a tremor. Elle n'a pas d'enfans, she has no children. Il est chargé d'enfants, he is burdened with—a large family. Il laisse quatre enfants en bas âge, he leaves four young children. Elle a deux enfants du premier lit, she has two children by her first husband—marriage. Être en mal—en travail—d'enfant, to be in childbirth. Un enfant mort-né, a still-born child. Un enfant à la mamelle—un enfant qui tette, a child at the breast. Tenir un enfant sur les fonts baptismaux, to stand godfather, godmother to a child. Il fut élevé par ces étrangers comme l'enfant de la maison, these strangers brought him up as their own child—as if he had been their own child. Enfant trouvé, a foundling. On l'a mis aux enfants trouvés, he was placed in the Foundling Hospital. Enfant de chœur, a singing boy, a chorister. (T. milit.) Enfants perdus, forlorn hope. Enfants de troupes, soldiers' children born in the regiment). Il a dîné avec ses petits-enfants, he dined with his grandchildren. Le bonheur est enfant de la vertu, happiness is the child—is the offspring of virtue. Les jeux, les ris, enfants de la gaieté, sports, laughter, the offspring of cheerfulness, &c.

C'est bien l'enfant de sa mère, she is, he is quite the portrait—the counterpart—of his mother. Vous me traitez en enfant, you treat me like a child, as if I were a child. Ce n'est pas un jeu d'enfants, this is no child's play. Innocent comme l'enfant qui vient de naître, as innocent as the child just born. Vous faites l'enfant, you act as child—you act childishly. Que vous êtes enfant, how childish you are. Il n'y a plus d'enfants, there are no children now.

C'est un bon enfant, he is a good fellow—a good natured fellow. C'est une bonne enfant, she is an easy girl—a good natured person. Elle est bien bonne enfant, she is very good natured.

Vous êtes bon enfant de croire cela, how simple you are to believe that.

Les enfants de France, the royal princes and princesses of the House of France. Gouverneur des enfants de France, tutor or governor of the royal family. C'est un enfant de famille, he is a young gentleman—he is a child of good family. Nous n'avions que des enfants de première mille, we had none but well born children. C'est le fils enfant chéri, he is the pet of the family. Les enfants de la souci, a troop of mountebanks who acted in the Champs Elysées formerly. Enfant de Paris, native of Paris—also an one born at sea. Enfant de la balle (terme théâtral), the son of a tennis-court master—(fig.), a person who follows the trade of his master.

(T. d'amitié, de familiarité.) Courage, enfant, courage, courage, my boys, courage. Vous avez un mon enfant, que cela ne se peut pas, you see, my boy, or dear fellow, that it cannot be so. Ma belle enfant, craignez rien, fear nothing, my dear girl.

ENFANTEMENT, s. m. child-birth, labour; fig., produce.

ENFANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Heureux le sein qui l'a enfanté, happy the mother who brought him forth—who gave him birth. Elle a enfanté avec douleur, she had a painful delivery—a difficult labour. Il l'a enfanté dans la misère, you were begotten—you were born—into the world in misery. De tous les enfants qu'elle enfants, il ne lui en reste qu'un, she has only one left of all the children she gave birth to.

(Fig.) L'adulation enfante l'orgueil, adulation begets —produces—pride. Il enfante ce projet, he conceived his plan. Cet auteur enfante avec peine, that author produces—brings forth—with great labour.

ENFANTILLAGE, s. m. childishness. Vous faites des enfantillages, you act like a child. C'est un enfantillage, it is childishness—.—a childish act—way.

ENFANTILLER, v. n. reg. 1ère conj. Voyez Faire des Enfantillages.

ENFANTIN, E, adj. childish.

ENFARINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cover with flour, with meal. (Fig.) Être enfariné d'une opinion, to be imbued with an opinion, a doctrine. Venir la gueule enfarinée, to come inopportunely—with foolish confidence.

ENFER, s. m. hell. Les tourments de l'enfer, the torments of hell. Les enfers, the infernal regions—the state of the dead (according to the Pagans). Les enfers désignaient le Tartare et les Champs Élysées, the infernal regions contained Tartarus and the Elysian Fields. Jésus-Christ est descendu aux enfers, Jesus Christ went down to hell.

(Fig.) Avoir l'enfer dans le cœur, to be tortured—to suffer inwardly the tortures of the damned. Il a l'enfer dans le cœur, his heart is racked with remorse. Cette maison est un enfer, that house is hell itself. C'est un démon d'enfer, he is a demon. C'est une furie d'enfer, she is a fury. L'enfer se déchaîne contre lui, the powers of hell pursue him.

Jouer un jeu d'enfer, to play very high; to gamble. Faire un jeu d'enfer, to keep a very sharp fire. Faire rôtir une cuisse de volaille au feu d'enfer, to grill—to roast the leg of a fowl.

ENFERMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Je les ai enfermés dans la maison, I shut them up in the house. Si vous enfermez ces animaux enfermés, ils ne vivront pas, if you confine those animals shut up, they will not live. Nous avons été enfermés dans la maison, we were locked up in the house. Sa famille l'a fait enfermer, his family have had him confined. Il s'enferme toute la journée dans sa chambre, he shuts himself up the whole day in his room. Enfermez ce linge, shut in—lock up—this linen. Il n'enferme rien, he locks up nothing. Enfermez tout cela sous clef, put all that under lock and key. Leur jardin est enfermé de murailles, their garden is walled in—is surrounded with walls.

(Fig.) Il est allé enfermer son chagrin à la campagne, he is gone to conceal his sorrow in the country. Son cœur s'enferme point de pareille idée, his heart does not admit—harbour—such an idea.

Enfermer l'enfermé, to smell close, musty.

ENFERRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enferrer son ennemi, to run one's enemy through; to run one's sword, &c., through an enemy. Il s'est enferré, he ran his sword through his own body; he fell upon his sword.

(Fig.) Il s'est enferré en nous contant l'affaire, he made a slip—he let the truth out—he contradicted himself in telling us the affair. Il est venu s'enferrer lui-même, he ran—he fell—in the snare, of his own accord. Laissez-les, ils s'enferreront d'eux-mêmes, leave them alone, they will betray themselves—they will run into difficulty themselves.

ENFILADE, s. f. Une longue enfilade de chambres, a long suite, enfilade of rooms; a string, a run of things. (T. de marine.) Donner une enfilade, to enfilade—to rake a ship.

ENFICELER. Voyez Ficeler.

ENFIÉVRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to give, to communicate fever.

ENFILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enfiler une aiguille, to thread a needle. Enfiler des perles, to string pearls. Ils comptent au moyen de petites boules enfilées dans des fils de fer, they make calculations by means of small balls strung on wires. (Fig.) Nous ne sommes pas ici pour enfiler des perles, we are not here for trifles. Cela ne s'enfile pas comme des perles, that is not an easy matter.

Enfiler une rue, un chemin, to run along a street, a way. Il eut bientôt enfilé la rue, he had soon run through the street. Le vent enfile le corridor, the wind blows through the passage—all along the passage. Enfiler le degré, l'escalier, to run down stairs, to escape quickly. Enfiler la venelle, to cut away—to flee away. Il enfila un discours, he engaged in—he entered upon—a long speech.

(T. de guerre.) Enfiler une tranchée, to enfilade—to rake—a trench. Enfiler un bâtiment, to rake a ship. (T. de jeu.) Un escroc l'a enfilé et lui a gagné cinq mille francs, a swindler got him to play and won two hundred pounds from him. (T. d'escrime.) Enfiler son ennemi, to run one's enemy through. (T. de marine.) Enfiler les câbles en virant, to heave the cables by the capstern.

ENFILEUR, s. m. }
ENFILEUSE, s. f. } (t. de métier.), header [Fin.

ENFIN, adv. at last; in fine; finally; after all. Voyez FINALEMENT.

ENFLAMMER, v. a. v. r. 1ère conj. Une étincelle enflamma la maison, a spark set fire to the house—set the house in a blaze. En un moment tout le palais fut enflammé, in an instant, the whole palace was on fire—in flames—in a blaze. Le bois s'enflamme par le frottement, wood catches fire by friction. Nous vîmes tout le vaisseau s'enflammer, we saw the vessel catching fire—burning in every part.

(Fig.) Les liqueurs enflamment le sang, spirits inflame —heat—the blood. Ses yeux s'étaient enflammés de colère, his eyes were red with anger—were flaming with anger. La colère enflammait ses yeux, anger flashed—kindled—in his eyes—.—his eyes flashed—were inflamed with anger. Tous ces récits enflammaient son imagination, all these accounts kindled—heated—his imagination. L'ardeur qui l'enflamme, the ardour—the passion which inflames him. Votre cœur s'enflamme aisément, your heart takes fire easily—is very inflammable. Ne vous enflammez pas si vite, do not get warm so quickly —do not be so inflammable. S'enflammer de colère, to fly in a passion. Au moindre mot, il s'enflamme, at the least word, he takes fire. Enflammé du zèle de la religion, animated—burning—with religious zeal. Il lui jetait des regards enflammés, he looked at him with flashing eye—he cast flaming looks on him. Un tison enflammé, a burning ember.

ENFLÉCHURES, s. f. pl. (t. de marine), rattlings.

ENFLEMENT, s. m. swelling.

ENFLER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to swell. Le vent enflait nos voiles, the wind swelled our sails. L'hydropisie enfle le corps, dropsy swells—inflates—the body. Enfler ses joues, to puff up—to blow out one's cheeks. Enfler un ballon, to inflate a balloon. Sa jambe enfle—la jambe lui enfle, his leg swells—is swelling. Son bras est très-enflé, his arm is much swollen. Les pluies ont enflé la rivière, the rains have swelled the river. La rivière enfle—s'enfle, the river is swelling, is rising. Il est enflé comme un ballon, he is as big as a porpoise.

Enfler la dépense, to swell the expense. Enfler le cahier, to add charges—to swell the number of charges. Il s'entend à enfler le mémoire, he knows how to swell out a bill.

La prospérité l'a enflé, prosperity has puffed him up—has elated him. Il est enflé d'orgueil, he is puffed up with pride. Ce petit succès leur enfla le courage, this little success raised their hearts. Par ses promesses, il enflait leurs espérances, with his promises, he raised their hopes. Ne vous enflez pas de votre succès, do not be puffed up with your success. Il s'enfle d'orgueil, he is swollen blown up with pride. Style enflé, turgid, inflated style.

ENFLURE, s. f. swelling; (fig.), turgidness.

ENFONCEMENT, s. m. recess; corner. La boutique est dans un enfoncement, the shop is in a recess of the street—in a place where the street goes back. Ils se cachèrent dans un enfoncement, they hid themselves in a recess—in a corner. Dans l'enfoncement de la vallée, in the depth of the valley. Dans l'enfoncement du tableau, in the back ground of the picture. Il y a de l'enfoncement dans ce tableau, there is much depth in this picture. (T. de marine), creek.

Ils procédèrent à l'enfoncement de la porte, they proceeded to breaking open of the door.

ENFONCER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Enfoncer un vase dans l'eau, to plunge a vessel in water. Enfoncez votre main dans ce sac, thrust—dip—your hand in this sack. Enfoncez-la plus avant, go—plunge it—deeper. Voudriez-vous enfoncer le trait plus avant? would you drive the weapon deeper—would you strike him deeper? J'enfonce, I sink. Nous enfoncions dans la boue, we sank in the mud. La nacelle enfonça dans l'eau, the boat sank in the water—was immersed. Nous nous enfonçâmes dans le bois, we threw ourselves—we plunged—we penetrated—into the wood. Il s'enfonça dans la caverne, he penetrated into the cavern. Il s'enfonce dans son lit, he plunges into his bed—he covers himself up in his bed. (Fig.) Quand il s'enfonce dans l'étude, on ne peut en arracher un mot, when he buries himself—when he is absorbed—in study, you cannot get a word from him. Il s'y enfonce avec ardeur, he runs into it with ardour. Il était enfoncé dans ses méditations, he was absorbed—deeply engaged—in his meditations. (Fam.) Être enfoncé—avoir l'esprit enfoncé—dans la matière, to be very obtuse—to be heavy and stupid. Il s'est enfoncé dans la débauche, he has plunged—he has sunk—into a disorderly life. Il lui enfonça le poignard dans le sein, he plunged—he thrust—his dagger in his breast. Enfoncer un clou, to drive a nail. Il lui enfonça une côte, he broke one of his ribs. Enfoncer des pieux, to drive stakes. Enfoncer les éperons dans le flanc de son cheval, to thrust spurs in the sides of one's horse. Il a la tête enfoncée entre les deux épaules, his head is buried between his shoulders. Il a les yeux enfoncés dans la tête, his eyes are deep sunk in his head. Il a les yeux si enfoncés, his eyes are so sunken.

Quand il enfonce son chapeau, c'est signe de colère, when he slouches his hat—when he pulls his hat on one side—over his eyes—it is a mark of anger. Ne pourriez vous enfoncer votre chapeau plus avant? cannot you get your head deeper in your hat?

Les brigands enfoncèrent la porte, the brigands broke open—forced open—the door. On enfonça son cabinet, his study was broken into. Ils enfoncent tout, they break open every thing—they force their way—every where. Le plancher s'enfonça, the floor sank down—broke down. Le boulet enfonça le plancher, the cannon ball broke through the floor. Nous enfonçâmes leurs bataillons, we routed—broke—their battalions. Enfoncer une porte ouverte, to make much ado about nothing.

Un bien enfoncé, a deep, a hollow place.

(Fam.) Enfoncé, he is done for; he is ruined; the thing has failed. (This expression has been borrowed of the soldiery, who used the phrase, "Enfoncé jusqu'à la troisième capucine," to express that a man was run through the body up to the stock of the gun, where the third "ring," "capucine," is. Ultimately they used only the word "enfoncé," "dead," "he is done for.") Il s'est enfoncé, he has gone too far.

ENFONCEUR, s. m. one who breaks doors open, who forces his way. (Fam.) C'est un enfonceur de portes ouvertes, he is a boaster—a man who makes more noise than work.

ENFONÇURE, s. f. hollow; cavity; bottom of a cask. Enfonçure de lit, the bottom laths of a bed. (T. de chirurg.) breaking in; depression.

ENFONDRÉ, E, adj. Chemin enfondré, broken road. (Fig.), plunged into; lost in. Enfondré dans la boue, lost in a slough—in a quagmire.

ENFORCIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to strengthen; to grow stronger. Enforci, e, strengthened.

ENFOUIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to bury.

ENFOUISSEMENT, s. m. burying; hiding in the ground.

ENFOUISSEUR, s. m. he who buries—conceals a thing.

ENFOURCHEMENT, s. m. (t. de jardinage), cleft grafting.

ENFOURCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bestride; to vault upon. Ce cheval n'a jamais été enfourché, this horse never was ridden—no man ever threw his leg across this horse.

ENFOURCHURE, s. f. the breech; the fork.

ENFOURNÉE, s. f. Voyez Fournée.

ENFOURNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put in the oven. (Fig.) Nous nous sommes enfournés dans une mauvaise affaire, we thrust ourselves into a bad business.

ENFRANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fringe; to adorn with fringes.

ENFREINDRE, v. a. rég. 7me conj. (voyez Craindre), to infringe.

ENFROQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to give the cowl to a man—to make a monk of him. Il s'est enfroqué, he has taken the cowl.

ENFUIR, S', v. r. non classé; composé de Fuir a. (voyez Fuir.) Il cherche à s'enfuir de la prison, he is trying to flee from prison—to escape from prison. Ils sont enfuis dans la nuit, they fled away—ran away—during the night. Si vous parlez encore de cela je m'enfuirai, if you mention that subject again, I will run away. (Fig.) Le temps s'enfuit rapidement, times flies rapidly. Mon bonheur s'est enfui à jamais, my happiness is gone for ever gone.

Cette cruche s'enfuit, this pitcher runs. Le vin s'est enfui, the wine ran out. (Fig.) Ce n'est pas par là que le pot s'enfuit, it is not there that the fault lies.

ENFUMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to smoke; to blacken with smoke. Enfumer des tableaux pour les faire paraître anciens, to smoke pictures to give them an appearance of old age. Un tableau enfumé, a picture black with smoke. Tous nos meubles sont enfumés, our furniture is spoiled by the smoke. Ouvrez la fenêtre, vous ne voulez pas nous enfumer, open the window, do not wish to smother us with smoke. Enfumer un renard, to smother a fox with smoke, to smoke out a fox.

ENGAGEANT, E, adj. attractive; engaging; captivating.

ENGAGEANTE, s. f. sort of ruffles, worn formerly.

ENGAGEMENT, s. m. engagement. Respectez l'engagement de votre parole, respect the pledge—the engagement of your word. C'est un engagement sacré, it is a sacred engagement. Nous avons rompu notre engagement, we broke our engagement. Vous avez manqué à votre engagement, you failed in—you broke—your engagement. Ne prenez pas d'engagements, si vous ne pouvez pas les tenir, do not engage—make no engagement—if you cannot keep them. Je n'ai point d'engagement pour lundi, I have no engagement for Monday. N'avez-vous pas quelque tendre engagement de cœur? have you not some tender engagement—some tender tie?

(T. milit.) Il a reçu cinquante francs d'engagement, he has received two pounds for his enlistment. Son engagement est pour six ans, his enlistment is for six years—he has enlisted for a space of six years. Nous avons eu quelques engagements, we have had some engagements. Il y a eu un engagement entre nos avant-postes, our advanced posts have had some engagement. (T. de commerce.) L'engagement de ses bijoux, the pledging—the pawning of his jewels saved him. Il nous montra un engagement du mont de piété, he showed us a pawnbroker's duplicate. (T. de jurisp.) Tenir un domaine par engagement, to hold an estate in right of a mortgage. Il n'a point la propriété, ce n'est qu'un engagement, the property is not his, he has only a mortgage upon it.

ENGAGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj.

Il engage tout ce qu'il a, he pawns, he puts in pawn all he has. Ils ont été obligés d'engager leurs meubles, they were obliged to borrow money on their furniture—to pawn their furniture. Il a engagé sa maison à un de ses anciers, he has been obliged to give his house as a mortgage to his creditors. Toutes ses terres sont engagées, all his estates are mortgaged. Il a engagé sa parole qu'il le ferait, he has pledged his word that he would do it. Il engage son honneur de revenir, he pledges his honour that he will come back. N'engagez pas votre parole si vous n'êtes pas certain, do not bind yourself—do not engage if you are not certain. Je m'engage à le faire, I pledge myself to do it. Je m'y engage, I pledge myself—I bind myself—to do it. Cela ne vous engage à rien, that does not bind—oblige—you to any thing. Cette circonstance nous engagea dans des—à faire des—dépenses considérables, this circumstance involved us in—obliged us to run into —led us to—large expenses. Vous vous engagez dans de grandes difficultés, you involve yourself in great difficulties. Nous nous engageâmes dans des rues inconnues, we lost ourselves in—we ran into—unknown streets. La clef s'est engagée dans la serrure, the key got entangled in the lock. Notre navire s'engagea parmi les rochers, our ship got among the rocks. Il s'était engagé les pieds dans une corde, he had got his feet entangled in a rope. Son pied était engagé dans l'étrier, his foot was caught —entangled—in the stirrup. Il doit déjà beaucoup et cependant il s'engage de plus en plus, he owes much already, yet he gets more and more involved. N'allez pas vous engager dans les liens du mariage, do not go and engage in the ties of marriage. Cela ne vous engage-t-il pas à le payer? does not that bind—oblige—you to pay him? Il s'était engagé de payer dix livres par mois, he had engaged—promised—to pay ten pounds a month.

Engager son cœur, to engage one's heart—one's affections. Engager le combat, to engage—to engage in battle with the enemy. Voilà la dispute qui s'engage, the dispute is beginning—the quarrel is commencing.

Engager un soldat, to enlist a soldier. Il vient d'engager deux jeunes gens, he has just enlisted two recruits. Dans son désespoir il s'engagea, in his despair he enlisted. Où sont les nouveaux engagés? where are the new recruits?

Je vous engage à y penser sérieusement, I invite you—advise you—recommend you to think of it seriously. Faites-le, je vous y engage, do it, I advise you. Qui a pu vous engager à une chose pareille? what could induce you to do such a thing? Il n'y avait pas là de quoi vous engager à venir, there is nothing in that to prevail upon you to come. Le beau temps engage à la promenade, the fine weather invites us to walk.

ENGAGISTE, s. m. f. (t. de jurisp.), one who holds a mortgage on an estate.

ENGAINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sheathe.

ENGEANCE, s. f. race; breed. (Par mépris.) Délivrez-nous de cette engeance, rid us of that set.

ENGELURE, s. f. chilblain. J'ai des engelures aux mains, I have chilblains on my feet.

ENGENDRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to engender; to breed, to produce. v. r. to be engendered.

ENGEANCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Qui vous a engeancé de cet homme? who has saddled you with that man?

ENGERBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put into—to send into—sheaves.

ENGEÔLER. Voyez Enjôler.

ENGEOLEUR. Voyez Enjôleur.

ENGIN, s. m. engine; tool.

ENGLOBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to unite; to throw together, in a lump.

ENGLOUTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj., to swallow up. Fig.) Il a englouti toute sa fortune en deux ans, in two years he squandered all his fortune. (En mangeant), to swallow up; to gulp down.

ENGLUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to glue; to be caught in glue.

ENGONCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Elle est tout engoncée dans sa robe, she is smothered—covered up—in her dress. Il a l'air engoncé, he looks awkward—stiff.

ENGORGEMENT, s. m. obstruction.

ENGORGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to obstruct; to stop up; to become obstructed, stopped up. Il a les mains engorgées, his legs are swollen. Les moulins sont engorgés, the water is so high that the mills cannot work.

ENGOUEMENT, s. m. infatuation.

ENGOUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to choke. En avalant un gros morceau, il s'engoua, he choked himself in swallowing a large bit. (Fig.) Il s'engoue de tout ce qui est étranger, he is infatuated—taken up—with every thing that is foreign. Il s'est engoué de cette demoiselle, he has taken a violent fancy to that young lady.

ENGOUFFRER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to ingulph; to run, fall into a gulph, an abyss. Le vent s'engouffre dans la cheminée et fait un bruit effrayant, the wind rushes into the chimney and makes a frightful noise.

ENGOULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to engorge; to swallow up; to gobble up.

ENGOURDIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. Le froid m'a engourdi les mains, the cold has benumbed my hands. J'avais le bras tout engourdi, my arm was quite benumbed, stiff. Mon pied s'engourdit, my foot is getting benumbed. (Fig.) L'esprit s'engourdit par l'oisiveté, the mind becomes dull—torpid—in idleness. C'est une de ces âmes engourdies qui ne sentent rien, he is one of those torpid minds which feel nothing.

ENGOURDISSEMENT, s. m. numbness; (fig.), torpor; dullness.

ENGRAIS, s. m. (t. d'agric., de jardin.), manure. Le guano est un nouvel engrais, guano is a new manure. Vous n'avez pas mis assez d'engrais sur ce champ, you have not sufficiently manured this field.

Il y a de bons engrais dans cette province, there are fine pastures in that province. Mettre des oies à l'engrais, to fatten geese.

ENGRAISSEMENT, s. m. fattening.

ENGRAISSER, v. a. v. r. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Engraisser des bœufs, des moutons, de la volaille, to fatten oxen, sheep, poultry. L'œil du maître engraisse le cheval, the eye of the master makes the horse fat. Vous engraissez beaucoup, you are fattening much—you are getting very fat. Engraisser des terres, to manure lands. Engraisser des habits, du linge. (Voyez Graisser.) Ce vin s'engraisse, this wine is getting thick—ropy. (Fig.) S'engraisser des misères publiques, to fatten—to grow rich —on public misfortunes. Il s'est engraissé dans cette affaire, he has got rich—he has made much money in that business. Il engraisse de malédictions, he is prosperous in spite of the imprecations which are poured upon him.

ENGRANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to house corn; to get it into the barn.

ENGRAVEMENT, s. m. stranding. Notre engravement dura deux heures, we remained stranded for two hours.

ENGRAVER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Vous allez nous engraver, you are going to strand us—to run us aground. Notre bateau s'engrava, our boat ran aground. (T. de marine.) Engraver une futaille, to bury a cask in the ballast.

ENGRÉGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to increase; to augment.

ENGRÊLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to indent; to ingrail. (T. de blason), to ingrail.

ENGRELURE, s. f. purl; (t. de blason), engrailing.

ENGRENAGE, s. m. (t. de mécanique), catching (of one wheel into another).

ENGRENER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to feed, to put corn into the mill hopper. (Fig., fam.) Bien engrener, to make a good beginning.

Engrener des chevaux, de la volaille, to fatten horses, poultry (with corn, seed).

(T. de mécanique.) Ces roues n'engrènent pas bien, these wheels do not fit well into one another—they do not catch. Engrener une pompe, to feed a pump, (to throw a little water into it, to make it work).

ENGRENURE, s. f. (t. de mécanique), cogging, (fixing cogs or teeth to a wheel).

ENGRUMELER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to clot; to coagulate. Engrumelé, e, clotted.

ENGUENILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cover with tatters. Enguenillé, e, tattered, in rags.

ENGUEUSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to deceive; to hoax.

ENGUIRLANDÉ, E, adj. ornamented with garlands.

ENHARDIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir).

to embolden; to encourage. Le succès l'avait enhardi, success had emboldened him—had given him courage. Je ne suis enhardi à aller le voir, I took courage to go to see him. Comment s'est-il enhardi à cela? how did he get courage, boldness to do that?

ENHARMONIQUE, s. m. (t. de musique), enharmonics.

ENHARNACHER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to harness. (Fig. et fam.) Qui vous a enharnaché de la sorte? who has dressed you in this way—made such a figure of you?

ENHERBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sow land with grass.

ÉNIGMATIQUE, adj. enigmatic.

ÉNIGMATIQUEMENT, adv. enigmatically.

ÉNIGME, s. f. enigma. Deviner une énigme, to guess an enigma. Sa conduite est une énigme, his conduct is an enigma. (Fig.) Voilà le mot de l'énigme, that is the secret.

ENIVRANT, E, adj. intoxicating; inebriating.

ENIVREMENT, s. m. intoxication; inebriation; (fig.), infatuation; rapture.

ENIVRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Le vin enivre, wine intoxicates—inebriates—makes drunk. Il s'enivre tous les jours, he gets tipsy—intoxicated every day. Cet homme est enivré, that man is intoxicated. Ne vous enivrez point, do not get tipsy. La fumée du tabac m'enivre, the smoke of tobacco intoxicates me. (Fig.) Rends-lui compte du sang dont tu t'es enivré, give him an account of the blood on which you glutted—with which you were gorged. Le héros s'enivrait d'un douloureux plaisir, the hero fed his mind with this sad pleasure. Il est enivré de sa fortune, his fortune has elated—intoxicated—him. Il en est enivré, he is elated—inebriated with it. Ne vous enivrez pas de vos succès, do not allow yourself to be elated with your success.

ENJAMBÉ, E, adj. Être haut enjambé, to have long legs; to be long legged.

ENJAMBÉE, s. f. Faire de grandes enjambées, to take long steps. Marcher à grandes enjambées, to stride along. Sa maison est à trois enjambées d'ici, his house is close, it is only a few yards distant.

ENJAMBEMENT, s. m. (t. de versification). The running on of the sense from the end of one verse to the beginning of the following: thus—

Le Pape et l'Empereur sont tout. Rien n'est sur terre Que par eux et pour eux. Un suprême mystère Vit en eux, &c. VICTOR HUGO.

It is a fault, and to be avoided.

ENJAMBER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to stride across, over. Il a enjambé par dessus, he strode over it. Voyez comme il enjambe, see how he strides along. Il enjamba le ruisseau, he strode across the stream. (Fig.), to encroach.

(T. de versification), to run on from the end of a verse to the beginning of the next. Voyez Enjambement.

ENJAVELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bind corn into sheaves. Voyez Javeler.

ENJEU, s. m. stake. (Fig.) Retirer son enjeu, to get out of a thing without gain or loss.

ENJOINDRE, v. a. rég. 7me conj. (voyez Craindre), to enjoin, to command. Le père enjoint l'amour de Dieu à ses enfants, the father enjoins the love of God on his children. On enjoignit à tous les officiers de se rendre à leur régiment, the officers were enjoined to join their regiment. Ne vous avais-je pas enjoint de le faire? had I not desired you to do it? Il est enjoint aux habitants de, &c. the inhabitants are desired to, &c.

ENJOINTÉ, E, adj. Court enjointé, short legged.

ENJOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to deceive; to cajole; to wheedle.

ENJOLEUR, s. m. } cajoler; deceiver.
ENJOLEUSE, s. f. }

ENJOLIVEMENT, s. m. embellishment; improvement.

ENJOLIVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to embellish; to improve.

ENJOLIVEUR, s. m. }
ENJOLIVEUSE, s. f. } embellisher.

ENJOLIVURE, s. f. embellishment; ornament.

ENJOUÉ, E, adj. cheerful; lively; playful. (C'est un homme très-enjoué, he is a very cheerful man. Sa conversation est toujours enjouée, his conversation is always cheerful—lively.

ENJOUEMENT, s. m. cheerfulness; playfulness; liveliness. L'enjouement ne convient pas à tous les âges, playfulness is not suited to all ages. J'aime l'enjouement de son caractère, I like the cheerfulness of his disposition. Il y a de l'enjouement dans cette pièce, there is humour in that play.

ENJOUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enliven; to animate.

ENLACEMENT, s. m. entwining.

ENLACER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to entwine. Enlacer quelqu'un dans ses bras, to clasp, to lock a person in one's arms. Les branches s'enlaçaient les unes dans les autres, the branches were entwined. Le reptile l'enlaça dans ses replis, the reptile bound him in its folds. Enlacer des papiers, to tie up papers with a string.

ENLAIDIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to make ugly, to spoil. Ce chapeau vous enlaidit, that bonnet makes you plain—spoils you. Comme cet enfant enlaidit, how plain that child is getting. Il a été jeune beau, mais il a encore enlaidi, he was no beauty, but he has grown plainer still.

ENLAIDISSEMENT, s. m. the getting plainer, uglier.

ENLÈVEMENT, s. m. taking up, taking away, carrying off(things); abduction of, running away with (persons). (D'une femme), elopement. L'enlèvement des Sabines, the rape of the Sabine women.

ENLEVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enlever une pierre avec une grue, to lift up—to raise up—a stone with a crane. Il l'enleva de terre, he lifted him up from the ground. Le ballon s'enleva dans l'air, the balloon rose in the air. Un tourbillon l'enleva, a whirlwind carried him off. Un coup de vent enleva le toit de la maison, a gust of wind carried away the roof of the house. (Fig., fam.) Cela enlève la paille, that settles the difficulty. Enlever une femme, to run away—to elope—with a woman. Elle s'est laissé enlever, she suffered herself to be run away with—she consented to elope. La mort nous les enleva, death took them away from us. Cette maladie l'enleva en deux jours, that illness carried him off in two days. On l'a enlevé de sa maison, he was seized in his own house. Les huissiers lui ont enlevé tous ses meubles, the sheriff's officers—the bailiffs—took his furniture from him. Je m'enlevez tout, you take away all I have from me. Il faudrait enlever ces matériaux, these materials should be removed—carried away. Quelqu'un a enlevé des papiers qui étaient sur cette table, some body has taken away—has removed—some papers which were upon this table. Les prêtres viendront enlever le corps, the priests will come to take up the body. La justice enleva le voleur, the justice of the peace removed the body of the thief—his person. Cet homme enlève tout, that man takes—monopolizes—all. Il a enlevé le plus beau poisson du marché, he has taken—carried away—the finest fish in the market.

Enlever un poste. une citadelle, to carry a post, a citadel. Enlever d'assaut, to carry by storm. Il enleva tous les suffrages, he carried every vote. Il nous a enlevés par son éloquence, he enraptured—transported us—he threw us into rapture—by his eloquence. Le soleil a enlevé les couleurs de ce ruban, the sun has taken off the colours of this ribaud. Un peu de jus de citron enlèvera la tache, a little lemon juice will take off the spot. Cela lui a enlevé la peau, it has taken off his skin.

ENLEVURE, s. f. blister.

ENLIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de maçonnerie), to bind.

ENLIGNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Voyez Aligner.

ENLUMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enluminer des images, des gravures, to colour figures, plates. Enluminer des cartes à jouer, to colour cards. Des cartes enluminées, coloured cards.

S'enluminer le visage, to paint one's face, to rouge. Elle a beau s'enluminer, elle n'en paraît pas plus jeune, it is useless to paint, she does not look younger for it.

fièvre lui avait enluminé le visage, fever had given him a red colour. Il a le teint enluminé, he has a ruddy complexion. Il aime à s'enluminer la trogne, he is fond of drinking. Voyez donc cette trogne enluminée, do look at the red nose—that jolly red face. Enluminer le style, to ornament, to embellish style.

ENLUMINEUR, s. m. (colourer; one who colours ENLUMINEUSE, s. f. (plates, maps, &c.

ENLUMINURE, s. f. colouring; coloured engraving. (Fig.) ornaments; embellishments.

ENNÉAGONE, s. m. (t. de géom.), enneagone; a nine sided polygon.

ENNÉANDRIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), enneander.

ENNEMI, s. m. Cet homme est votre ennemi, that man is your enemy—your foe. Ennemi déclaré, an open enemy—foe. Ennemi mortel, capital, mortal enemy. Nous sommes ennemis jurés, we are sworn enemies. Le grand ennemi, the fiend; Satan. Il est ennemi de soi-même, he is his own enemy.

Ami au prêter, ennemi au rendre, friends when we borrow, enemies when we must return. C'est autant de pris sur l'ennemi, this is so much gained—so much out of the fire. Ces animaux sont ennemis de nature, these animals are natural enemies—foes. Le chat est ennemi de la souris, the cat is the enemy of the mouse. Etes-vous donc l'ennemi de la paix? can you be adverse to—an enemy of—peace? Je suis ennemi des cérémonies, I detest—I hate—ceremonies. La vieillesse est ennemie de l'enfance, old people dislike—hate—youth. L'eau et le feu sont ennemis, water and fire are opposites. Le café est l'ennemi des nerfs, coffee is hostile—inimical—to the nervous system. Nous savons bien que vous n'êtes pas l'ennemi des plaisirs, we know that you are no enemy to pleasure for us—that you have no dislike for—pleasure. Il est l'ennemi du sexe, he is a woman-hater.

L'ennemi était en bataille dans la plaine, the enemy were in battle array in the plain. Passer à l'ennemi, to go over or to the enemy.

ENNEMI, E, adj. hostile; inimical. Nous étions en pays ennemi, we were on hostile ground—in a hostile country. Les forces ennemies se sont retirées, the hostile forces retired. La fortune ennemie, the adverse fortune. Les vents ennemis, the contrary—adverse—winds. Ces couleurs sont ennemies, these colours are discordant.

ENNOBLIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir) (pron. an-no-blir ou an-no-blir), to ennoble. Il s'est anobli par de grandes actions, he has ennobled himself by great actions.

ENNUI, s m. Je ne puis lire ce livre sans ennui, I cannot read this book without fatigue—without feeling weariness. Nous mourions d'ennui à la campagne, we were dying with dulness in the country. Nous éprouvons un ennui mortel, we were excessively dull—low spirited. Elle sèche d'ennui, she is pining away from ennui—Ce morne ennui me tuait, these sad low spirits—that mournful ennui—killed me. Il est difficile de supporter l'ennui d'une vie inactive, it is difficult to bear the wearisomeness—tediousness—of inactive life. Quel ennui que cet homme, how tedious that man is! Il m'est ennui que j'aille passer la soirée avec eux, quel ennui! I dislike to go and spend my evening with them, how tedious! Je reste sans ennui, I remain without feeling dull. C'est un ennui, it is quite tedious. La paresse engendre l'ennui, idleness produces tediousness—wearisomeness—ennui. Il nous écoutait d'un air d'ennui, he listened to us listlessly—with a look of listlessness—indifference. Comment supporter l'ennui de l'absence, how are we to support the long hours of absence.

Les ennuis de la vieillesse, the discomforts—the troubles of old age. Nous avons éprouvé bien des ennuis, we have experienced many vexations. Cet enfant fait l'ennui de [illegible] brow loaded with cares. Cet enfant fait l'ennui de ma vie, that child is the bane—the sorrow—of my life. Chacun a ses ennuis, every one has his sorrows—his vexations.

ENNUYANT, E, adj. tiresome; vexatious; provoking.

ENNUYER, v. a. v. r. v. imp. rég. 1ère conj. Il nous ennuie avec ses contes, he tires us with his stories. Cela m'ennuyait à la mort, that tired me to death. Il m'ennuie d'être séparé de vous, I am tired of being separated from you. Je m'ennuyais à la mort à la campagne, I was wearied to death in the country. Il ennuie à qui attend, time is heavy—seems long—for him who is waiting. Je m'ennuyai d'attendre, I got tired of waiting. Il s'ennuie partout, he is dull every where—, he is pleased—amused no where. Les oisifs sont toujours ennuyés d'eux-mêmes, idle men are ever tired of themselves. Il s'ennuie de tout, he is tired of every thing—nothing pleases him long. C'est bien ennuyant d'attendre, it is very tiresome to wait. C'est un ennuyé qui ne sait que faire, he is an ennuyé who knows not what to do with himself.

ENNUYEUSEMENT, adv. tediously; in a dull manner; irksomely.

ENNUYEUX, EUSE, adj. tiresome, dull, tedious. C'est un homme ennuyeux, he is a tiresome man. Quel ennuyeux personnage! what a tedious—tiresome personage! s. m. f. Renvoyez ces ennuyeux, send away those tiresome people. C'est un ennuyeux, he is a tiresome man.

ENONCER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to express; to state; to enunciate. Cela est mal énoncé, that is badly expressed—worded. Cela n'est pas énoncé dans le contrat, that is not expressed—stated—in the deed. Vous vous énoncez mal, you express yourself badly. Il s'énonce avec facilité, he speaks—he expresses himself—easily.

(T. de jurisp.) Enoncer faux, to make a false statement. Ceci n'est qu'un simple énoncé, this is a mere statement.

ÉNONCIATIF, IVE, adj. enunciative; declarative.

ÉNONCIATION, s. f. enunciation; delivery; statement. Il a l'énonciation facile, he has a happy delivery.

ENORGUEILLIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir) (pron. an-nor-gueillir), to make proud; (fam.), to puff up. Il s'enorgueillissait de sa fortune, he was—he got—proud of his fortune. Ne vous enorgueillissez pas tant, do not get so proud.

ÉNORME, adj. enormous; (fig.), enormous; excessive.

ÉNORMÉMENT, adv. enormously, excessively.

ÉNORMITÉ, s. f. enormity, enormousness.

ENQUÉRANT, E, adj. inquisitive.

ENQUÉRIR, v. r. irrég. S'enquérir, s'enquérant, enquis, e; je m'enquiers; je m'enquérais; je m'enquis; je m'enquerrai; je m'enquerrais; que je m'enquière; que je m'enquisse, to inquire. Enquérez-vous de sa santé, enquire about his health. Je m'en suis enquis à—de—un voisin, I inquired about it of a neighbour.

(T. de jurisp.) Cette femme, enquise de son âge, a répondu . . . that woman being asked her age, replied . . .

ENQUERRE, vieux mot qui signifiait s'enquérir, to inquire. A enquerre, to be inquired into; to be examined.

ENQUÊTE, s. f. inquiry; inquest. (Fam.) Aller aux enquêtes, to set upon an inquiry about some thing.

ENQUÊTER, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (vieux mot), to inquire. Je m'en suis enquêté partout, I inquired about it every where. (Fam.) C'est un homme qui ne s'enquête de rien, he is a man who troubles himself about nothing.

ENQUÊTEUR, s. m. inquirer.

ENRACINER, v.r. rég. 1ère conj., to take root. (Fig.) Cette opinion s'est enracinée dans son esprit, that opinion has taken root—is rooted—in his mind. C'est un mal enraciné, it is a rooted evil.

ENRAGEANT, E, adj. vexatious; provoking.

ENRAGER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Les chiens enragent dans l'été faute d'eau, dogs get mad—madden—in the summer for want of water. On a tué un chien enragé, they have killed a mad dog. Il enrage de soif, he is devoured with thirst. Il enrageait du mal de dents, he was mad with the toothache. Il enrage de faim, he is mad from hunger. J'enrageais de leur parler, I was boiling with the desire to speak to them.

(Fig.) Faire enrager une personne, to tease, to harass, to torment a person. S'il le savait, cela le ferait enrager, if he knew it, it would strive him mad. Elle enrageait de nous voir nous amuser, she was mad—she was vexed—to see us amuse ourselves. Il est enragé contre nous, he is furious with us—he is angry—mad with us. Elle enrageait que nous fussions mieux traités qu'elle, she was mad—it made her mad—because we were better treated than she was. Il faut être enragé pour faire des choses pareilles, one must be mad to do such things. Manger de la vache enragée, to endure hardships. Crier comme un enragé, to scream like a madman. C'est un enragé que cet homme-là, that man is mad.

ENRAYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Enrayer la roue, to lock the wheel. Enrayez, lock the wheel. (Fig. et fam.) Il est temps d'enrayer, it is time to make an end of it.

ENRAYURE, s. f. chain; break.

ENRÉGIMENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to form into regiments.

ENREGISTREMENT, s. m. registering; entry; register.

ENREGISTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. en-re-gi-trer), to register; to enter into a book, a register.

ENRHUMER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Le changement de temps m'a enrhumé, the change in the weather has given me a cold. Je m'enrhume toujours, I always catch a cold—get a cold. Vous êtes enrhumé, you have a cold. Elle est très-enrhumée, she has got a violent—a bad—cold.

ENRICHIR v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (Voyez Punir.) Le commerce enrichit les états, trade enriches a country. Qu'est-ce qui les a enrichis? what has enriched them—made them rich? Vous vous enrichirez bientôt, you will soon get rich. Il s'est enrichi aux dépens d'autrui, he has grown rich at the expense of others. Il a toute la morgue d'un nouvel enrichi, he has all the pride of a man newly become rich.

(Fig.) Enrichir une langue de mots nouveaux, to enrich a language with new words. Lisez beaucoup, enrichissez-vous la mémoire, read much, enrich your memory. L'esprit s'enrichit par la lecture, reading enriches the mind. Il ponrait un habit enrichi de broderies, he wore a coat enriched with embroidery. Il lui donna une boîte enrichie de diamants, he gave him a box enriched with diamonds.

ENRICHISSEMENT, s. m. enriching; ornament.

ENRÔLEMENT, s. m. enlisting; enlistment; enrolment.

ENRÔLER, v. a. v. r. 1ère conj., to enlist; to enroll. J'ai enrôlé six hommes, I enrolled—enlisted—six men. Dans un moment de désespoir, il s'est enrôlé dans un régiment d'infanterie, in a fit of despair he enrolled—enlisted in a foot regiment. S'enrôler dans une troupe de comédiens, to enroll into—to join—a company of actors.

ENROUEMENT, s. m. hoarseness.

ENROUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to make hoarse. Le brouillard m'a enroué, the fog has made me hoarse. Je me suis enroué à force de crier, I made myself hoarse—I got hoarse—by hallooing. Parler enroué, to speak hoarsely, with a hoarse voice. Un homme enroué, a man with a hoarse voice.

ENROUILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to rust, to make rusty; to get rusty. (Fig.) On s'enrouille à la campagne, one gets rusty in the country.

ENROULEMENT, s. m. rolling up.

ENROULER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to roll up.

ENSABLEMENT, s. m. accumulation of sand; sandbank.

ENSABLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to run aground upon a sandbank. Nous nous sommes ensablés, we ran aground.

ENSACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bag; to put in sacks, in bags.

ENSAISINEMENT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), seizin.

ENSAISINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to give possession.

ENSANGLANTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to stain with blood. La terre était ensanglantée, the earth was bloody. Il a ensanglanté son règne, he made his reign bloody—he shed much blood during his reign. Ensanglanter la scène, to spill blood on the stage—to deluge—to stain—the scene with blood. Cet auteur n'a jamais ensanglanté la scène, there are no murders, no violent deaths in that author's plays.

ENSEIGNE (t. milit.), s. m. Un enseigne aux gardes monta le premier à l'assaut, an enseign in the guards mounted the breach the first. (T. de marine.) Enseigne de vaisseau, lieutenant. s. f. Les enseignes flottantes étaient des aigles, the Roman ensigns were eagles. Il a combattu sous ses enseignes, I fought under his standard. Il a obtenu une enseigne, he has obtained the grade of an ensign—of a standard-bearer. (T. de marine.) Grand'enseigne, flag staff.

ENSEIGNE, s. f. sign. A quelle enseigne êtes-vous logé? at what sign (hôtel) are you staying? A l'enseigne de la tête noire, at the sign of the Saracen's head. A la vis. il ne faut point d'enseigne, good wine needs no bush. Nous sommes logés à la même enseigne, we are in the same case—in the same position. Ce tableau n'est bon qu'à une enseigne à bière, this picture is fit only to be a sign for a pot-house. (T. de joaillier.) Enseigne de diamans, diamond knot.

De bonnes enseignes, good proofs, good references. Il ne faut se fier à lui qu'à bonnes enseignes, I would not trust him but upon good security. J'ai été chez moi à telles enseignes que votre domestique m'a dit—I called at your house; and, as proof, your servant told me—. Il nous a donné de bons enseignements, he gave us good information. Sa méthode d'enseignement est bonne, his mode of teaching is good. Enseignement mutuel, mutual teaching. (T. de jurisp.) Voyez Titre.

ENSEIGNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to teach. Il a bien enseigné ses enfants, he taught his children well. Il a enseigné le Latin à mes enfants, he taught Latin to my children—he taught my children Latin. Qui a enseigné à lire? who taught you to read—to spell? La nature nous enseigne que tous les excès sont pernicieux, nature tells us—shows us—that all excesses are pernicious. Pourriez-vous m'enseigner le chemin de L.? could you tell me—show me—the way to L.? Le premier venu vous l'enseignera, any one will tell it you.

ENSELLÉ, E, adj. saddle-backed.

ENSEMBLE, adv. together. Mettre ensemble, to put together. Oter d'ensemble, to separate. Le tout ensemble, the whole, the whole together.

ENSEMBLE, s. m. Il n'y a pas d'ensemble dans ce tableau, there is no unity—no harmony in the picture. Ils ne mettent point d'ensemble dans leurs mouvements, there is no unity—no accord—in their movements. Tout cela forme un joli ensemble, all that forms a pretty ensemble—a pretty reunion. (T. de musique.) Un morceau d'ensemble, a piece of music in parts.

ENSEMENCEMENT, s. m. sowing.

ENSEMENCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sow.

ENSERRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to contain; (t. de jardinage), to put in a hot-house.

ENSEVELIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj., to bury. On l'a enseveli dans un grand drap, the body was laid out in a large sheet. Il était si pauvre qu'il n'a pas laissé un drap pour l'ensevelir, he was so poor, that he did not leave a sheet to be buried in. Ensevelir les morts est une œuvre de charité, to bury the dead is an act of charity.

(Fig.) Le gouverneur s'ensevelit sous les ruines de la place, the governor remained buried under the ruins of the place. Son nom est enseveli dans l'oubli, his name is buried in oblivion. Elle était ensevelie dans le chagrin, she was buried in sorrow.

ENSEVELISSEMENT, s. m. laying out (a corpse); burying (the dead).

ENSEVELISSEUR, s. m. / ENSEVELISSEUSE, s. f. } one who lays out the dead.

ENSORCELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bewitch.

ENSORCELLEMENT, s. m. bewitching; spell; charm.

ENSORCELLEUR, s. m. / ENSORCELLEUSE, s. f. } sorcerer, sorceress; charmer.

ENSOUF–ER. Voyez Soufrer.

ENSUITE, adv. then; afterwards. Ensuite de cela, le quoi, after that, after what.

ENSUIVANT, adj. (t. de jurisp.), following.

ENSUIVRE, S', v. imp. 2de conj., comme Suivre. Le premier chapitre et tout ce qui s'ensuit, the first chapter and all that follows. Il ne s'ensuit pas qu'il vous le donnera, it does not follow that he will give it you. Voilà le mal qui s'ensuivrait de cette démarche, this is the evil which would follow—would ensue from—such a step. S'ensuit-il que cela soit bien? does it follow that it is all right?

ENTABLEMENT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), entablature.

ENTACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il est entaché d'avarice, he is tainted with avarice. Toute la famille était entachée de lèpre, the whole family was infected with leprosy. Cet arrêt l'a entaché en son honneur, this sentence was a stain upon his honour.

ENTAILLE, s. f. notch, cut; slash.

ENTAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to notch; to cut; to slash.

ENTAILLURE, s. f. Voyez Entaille.

ENTAME, s. f. first slice, first cut (of a loaf, of a cheese, &c.).

ENTAMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le coup lui a entamé la peau, the blow grazed his skin. Entamer la mer, to make a slight incision in the flesh. Entamer l'écorce d'un arbre, to cut slightly the bark of a tree. Le crâne est entamé, the scull is slightly injured. Entamer un pain, to begin a loaf—to take the first cut of it. Nous allons entamer ce pâté, we are going to cut into the pie. Ne l'entamez pas, do not cut it. Entamer un sac d'argent, to begin (to draw out of) a bag of money. (Fig.) Je ne savais comment entamer le sujet, I knew not how to begin—to enter upon—the subject. Il entama son discours d'une manière particulière, he began his speech in a strange way. Cette perte a entamé son crédit, this loss has diminished—has given a blow to—his credit. Entamer la réputation d'une personne, to pick a hole in a person's character. Il ne laissera pas entamer son honneur, he will not suffer any one to impeach his honour. Entamer quelqu'un, to encroach upon a person's rights and prerogatives. Se laisser entamer, to give way—to suffer one's self to be led from one's purpose. Personne ne veut entamer, no one will take the first step—make the first advance.

ENTAMURE, s. f. (d'un pain, d'un pâté), first cut; first slice; opening of a pie; beginning of a ham, a joint; incision, cut; grazing (of the skin, flesh).

EN TANT QUE. Voyez Tant.

ENTASSEMENT, s. m. heaping up; heap.

ENTASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to heap up. (Fig.) Nous entassa dans une petite barque, we were all stowed—huddled together—in a small boat. Il est entassé, il a la taille entassée, he is short and thick.

ENTASSEUR, s. m hoarder; miser.

ENTE, s. f. (t. de jardinage), graft; (t. de peinture), stick.

ENTENDEMENT, s. m. understanding; intellect. C'est un homme d'entendement, he has little understanding. C'est un homme d'entendement, he is an intelligent—a sensible man. Il faut qu'il ait perdu l'entendement, he must have lost his judgment—his intellect.

ENTENDEUR, s. m. A bon entendeur salut—peu de mots, à word to the wise.

ENTENDRE, v. a. & r. rég. 3me conj., comme Vendre. J'entendais crier, j'entends du bruit, I hear a noise. Je l'ai entendu venir, I heard him coming. Entendre dûr, to be hard of hearing. Parlez plus haut, je n'entends pas, speak louder, I do not hear. Ils font tant de bruit qu'on ne s'entend pas parler, they make so much noise, that we can't hear ourselves speak. Le bruit s'entend de loin, that is heard from a distance. J'entends clair, I hear well—I am quick of hearing. Entendez ce que j'ai à vous dire, hear what I have to say to you. Pourquoi ne voulez-vous pas l'entendre? why will you not hear him? Avez-vous entendu la nouvelle du jour? have you heard the new actress? Les enfants, pendant sa voix, prirent la fuite, the children, in hearing his voice, ran away. Je ne sais auquel entendre, I know not which to hear first—which to attend to first. Celui qui n'entend qu'une cloche n'entend qu'un son, he who hears but one side knows only half of the story. Il ne veut pas entend-re à ce mariage, he will not hear of—about—that marriage. Je le lui proposerai, nous verrons s'il y veut entendre, I will propose it to him, and we shall see whether he will listen to it. Il n'entend pas de cette oreille, he is deaf on that side—he will not hear anything about that. Il n'y a point de pire sourd que celui qui ne veut pas entendre, none so deaf as he who will not hear. Entendre la messe, le Saint Office, to hear mass, the divine service. A vous entendre, il n'y aurait plus d'espoir, to hear you—from what you say—there would be no hope.

(Entendre dire, entendre raconter.) Où avez-vous entendu dire cela? where did you hear people say that? Je lui ai entendu dire qu'il avait refusé, I have heard him say that he had refused. Je l'ai souvent entendu raconter à mon père, I have often heard my father relate it.

ENTENDRE, to understand, to comprehend. Entendez-vous le sens de cet auteur? do you understand—comprehend—the meaning of this author? Il entend peu les langues étrangères, he understands little of modern languages. Je n'entends pas ce mot, I do not comprehend—understand—this word. Je ne pouvais lui faire entendre cela, I could not make him understand that. Une autre fois je vous punirai, entendez-vous? another time, I will punish you, do you understand me? Il entend le commerce, he understands commerce. Je n'entends rien aux affaires, I understand nothing of business. Je ne m'y entends pas, I do not understand it—I am not up to it. Il s'entend parfaitement à conduire une affaire, he understands perfectly managing—conducting—an affair. Elle n'entend rien à la musique, à la danse, she knows nothing of—she understands nothing—she is no judge—of music, of dancing. Vous n'entendez pas vos intérêts, si vous le faites, you do not understand your interests, if you do it. Il entend à demi-mot, he wants but half a word.

Entendre la plaisanterie, to take a joke, to understand a joke. Prenez garde, il n'entend pas la plaisanterie, mind, he is rather ticklish—he does not take a joke readily. Parlez-lui, il entendra raison, speak to him, he will listen to reason, do speak to him. On n'a jamais pu lui faire entendre raison, we never could make him understand reason. Il n'entend ni rime ni raison, he has neither rhyme nor reason. Il n'entend pas raison là dessus, he will not listen to reason on that subject—he is inflexible. Je vous assure qu'il n'y entendait pas malice, I assure you he meant no more than what he said. Il n'entend malice à rien, he never suspects any thing—he always believes what is said. Il l'a fait sans y entendre malice, he did it without any secret intention—without any evil intention. Il entend finesse à tout, he suspects some cunning end in every thing. Je ne sais quelle finesse vous entendez à cela, I know not what cunning—sly intention—you can suspect in that.

Donner à entendre, faire entendre, to give to understand. On lui donna à entendre qu'il ferait bien de se retirer, they gave him to understand—they gave him a hint—that he would do well to withdraw. Que voulez-vous me faire entendre par là? what do you wish me to understand from that? Faites comme vous l'entendrez, do as you think proper—as you judge it best. Que chacun fasse comme il l'entend, let every one do as he thinks fit. Je m'entends, I know what I mean. Il ne s'entend pas lui-même, he does not understand himself. Cela s'entend—s'entend, that is of course—that is understood.

J'ai toujours entendu qu'il viendrait au printemps, I always understood that he would come in the spring. Comment l'entendez-vous? how do you understand it? Je ne l'entends pas ainsi, that is not my meaning. J'entends parler de sa prose et non de ses vers, I mean to speak of his prose and not of his verses. J'entends agir dans vos intérêts, autant que dans les miens, I mean—I intend to act in your interest, as well as in mine.

Nous ne nous entendons pas, we do not understand one another. Entendons-nous, let us understand each other. Ils ne s'entendent guère, they do not agree very well. Ils s'entendaient pour me tromper, they had an understanding to deceive me. Je m'entendrai avec lui pour le tirer d'affaire, I will have an understanding with him—I will consult—agree—with him, to get him out of difficulty.

ENTENDU, E, p. p. N'en parlez plus, c'est entendu, say no more, it is settled—it is agreed. Vous viendrez, n'est ce pas? Bien entendu, you will come? Certainly—assuredly. Il est bien entendu aux affaires, he understands business well—he is well versed in business. C'est un homme bien entendu, he is a very intelligent man. Il fait l'entendu, he puts on a knowing look—he looks big—consequential. Cela est bien entendu, that is well disposed—well managed—done cleverly. Ce tableau est mal entendu, this picture is ill conceived.

Bien entendu que, on condition—with that understanding.

ENTENTE, s. f. Mot à double entente, a word with a double meaning—a double entendre. L'entente est au diseur, the speaker knows his meaning. Avoir l'entente d'une chose, to understand a thing—to have the right comprehension of it.

ENTENTE CORDIALE, s. f. (t. de politique), amicable understanding (between France and Great Britain).

ENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to graft; to ingraft. (Fig.), to graft, to ingraft.

ENTÉRINEMENT, s. m. ratification; registering.

ENTÉRINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to ratify; to pass. Entériner des lettres de noblesse, to pass, to ratify letters patent of nobility.

ENTERREMENT, s. m. burial; funeral. Être d'un enterrement, to be at a funeral. J'ai assisté à son enterrement, I attended his funeral.

ENTERRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to bury, to inter. On l'a enterré sans pompe, he was buried without pomp. Il a enterré ses enfants, he buried—he survived—all his children. Il fut enterré vivant, he was buried alive.

Il avait enterré son argent, he had buried his money in the ground. Enterrer des oignons de tulipe, to put tulip bulbs in the ground. Il resta enterré sous les ruines, he remained buried under the ruins. Pourquoi allez-vous vous enterrer à la campagne? why do you go and bury yourself in the country?

Enterrer la synagogue avec honneur, to terminate one's career nobly—to make a good finish. Enterrer le carnaval, to make an end of the carnival.

ENTÊTE, E, adj. obstinate, headstrong. Je n'aime pas les entêtés, I do not like obstinate people. Il est entêté de sa noblesse, he is very vain of his nobility. Il est entêté de cette femme, he is much taken with that woman. Entêté de son opinion, self-opinionated.

ENTÊTEMENT, s. m. obstinacy. Avoir de l'entêtement, to be obstinate. Il l'a fait par entêtement, he did it out of obstinacy. Mettre de l'entêtement à une chose, to persevere obstinately in a thing. (Engouement), infatuation.

ENTÊTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Ce parfum m'entête, this perfume gives me the head-ache—affects my head. (Fig.) Les louanges enivrent, praises intoxicate. Qui est-ce qui a pu vous entêter de cet homme-là? what has made you take such a fancy to that man? Il en est entêté, he is infatuated with her.

S'entêter, to get obstinate. Il s'entête à faire des choses difficiles, he perseveres obstinately in doing difficult things.

ENTHOUSIASME, s. m. enthusiasm; rapture—excessive admiration.

ENTHOUSIASMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to charm; to throw into rapture. Se laisser enthousiasmer, to suffer one's self to be charmed. Il est enthousiasmé de cette musique, he is an enthusiast about that music.

ENTHOUSIASTE, s. m. f. enthusiast.

ENTHOUSIASTE, adj. enthusiastic admirer.

ENTHYMÈME, s. m. (t. de logique), enthymeme.

ENTICEER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Des fruits enticés, fruits beginning to get spoiled.

(Fig.) On dit qu'il est enticé d'hérésie, they say he is tainted with heresy. Vous vous enticez de tout ce qui est nouveau, you are taken with every thing that is new. Il était enticé des nouvelles idées, he was taken with the new ideas.

ENTIER, ÈRE, adj. Lui donnez-vous une pomme tout entière? do you give him a whole apple? Nous avons passé une journée tout entière ensemble, we spent a whole day—an entire day together. Il faut lui parler avec une entière confidence, you must speak to him with full—entire—confidence. Il a conservé sa fortune tout entière, he preserved his fortune entire—undiminished. La somme y est tout entière, the sum is quite in full. Cette affaire demande un homme tout entier, this affair requires the whole attention of a man—requires that a man should give his whole attention to it. Je ne lui donne tout entier à ce travail, I give my whole—my undivided—attention to this work. La question reste tout entière, the question remains absolutely the same—unchanged. Voudriez-vous mourir tout entier? would you die and leave nothing behind? Le passage est rapporté en entier, the passage is quoted entirely—at full length. La chose est encore en son entier, the thing is still complete—quite entire. C'est un homme fort entier, he is a very absolute man—he is very obstinate.

Cheval entier, a stallion, an entire horse. (T. de bot.) Une feuille entière, an entire leaf, (with smooth edges). s. m. (T. de mathém.), an integer.

ENTIÈREMENT, adv. entirely; fully; wholly.

ENTITÉ, s. f. entity.

ENTOILAGE, s. m. lining of lace, fine muslin, silk, linen. Entoilage de mousseline, muslin lining.

ENTOILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Entoiler des manchettes, to line lace cuffs. Entoiler une carte géographique, to line a map with linen—to paste a map on linen.

ENTOMOLOGIE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), entomology.

ENTOMOLOGIQUE, adj. entomologic.

ENTOMOLOGISTE, s. m. entomologist.

ENTONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put in tune. (Fam.) Cet homme entonne bien, that man drinks famously. Le vent s'entonne dans la cheminée, the wind rushes down the chimney.

ENTONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to strike up; to begin an air, a tune. Vous entonnez trop haut, you pitch in too high a key. Il entonne juste, he pitches it in the right key. (Fig.) Entonner les louanges d'une personne, to begin to sing the praises of a person.

ENTONNOIR, s. m. funnel. En entonnoir, in the form of a funnel.

ENTORSE, s. f. sprain. Je me suis donné une entorse au pied, I sprained my foot. (Fig.) Donner une entorse à la vérité, to twist the truth. On lui a donné une entorse, they have given him a twist—a stake, (which has diminished his credit, his power, his fortune). Donner une entorse à un passage, to twist the meaning of a passage.

ENTORTILLEMENT, s. m. twisting; winding. (Fig.) Il y a de l'entortillement dans cette phrase, the phrase is twisted.

ENTORTILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to wind—to twist one's self. Le serpent s'entortille autour de la jambe, the serpent twisted itself—wound itself—round the leg. Vous entortillez tellement vos idées qu'on ne peut vous comprendre, you twist your ideas in such a way that you are unintelligible.

Entortillez cela dans du papier, roll that up in paper. Il s'entortille dans son manteau, he rolls himself up in his cloak.

ENTOUR, s. m. environs; adjacent place. Il connaît s'était assuré des entours de la place, the ground around made himself master of the environs of the place. Il a gouverné par ses entours. (Voyez Alentours.)

ENTOURAGE, s. m. ornament; setting. Sa montre avait un entourage de perles, his watch was set in pearls. (Fig.) Vous avez un vilain entourage, you have bad people around you—a bad set of people around you. Voyez Alentours.

ENTOURER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to surround. La ville est entourée de murailles, the town is surrounded with walls. Ses gardes l'entouraient, his guards surrounded him. Nous sommes entourés de dangers, we are surrounded—beset—with dangers. Vous faites le bonheur de ceux qui vous entourent, you make the happiness of all those who are around you. Vous êtes mal entouré, you have a bad circle of friends—of acquaintances. Ses enfants l'entouraient des voix les plus tendres, her children lavished on her the most tender cares. Le prince s'était entouré d'officiers de mérite, the prince had called around him officers of merit. Elle lui donna son portrait entouré de diamants, she gave him her portrait set in diamonds.

ENTOURNURE, s. f. (t. de tailleur et de couturière), armhole.

ENTR'ACCORDER, S', v. r. réf. 1ère conj., to agree.

ENTR'ACCUSER, S', v. a. réf. 1ère conj., to accuse one another.

ENTR'ACTE, s. m. interval of time between the acts. Les entr'actes sont trop longs, the time between the acts is too long. Je vous dirai cela pendant l'entr'acte, I will tell you that between the acts—when the curtain is down.

(Intermède.) On a joué un très-joli entr'acte, they performed a very pretty interlude.

ENTR'ACTE is the name of a publication, sold in the theatres at Paris, and which is read between the acts.

ENTR'AIDER, S', v. r. réf. 1ère conj., to help one another.

ENTRAILLES, s. f. pl. entrails; bowels. On l'a ouvert, et on lui a trouvé les entrailles fort saines, the body was opened and his intestines were found perfectly healthy. Les anciens consultaient les entrailles des animaux, the ancients consulted the entrails of animals. Il a une inflammation d'entrailles, he has an inflammation of the bowels.

(Fig.) Il s'était armé contre ses entrailles, he had armed himself against his own flesh and blood. Cela ne vous touche-t-il pas les entrailles d'un père? will not that move the heart—the feelings—of a father? J'ai des entrailles de mère, I have the entrails—the feelings—of a mother. Cet homme n'a pas d'entrailles, that man has no bowels—no compassion—no feelings. Cet acteur a des entrailles, that actor feels his parts—has feeling.

Fouiller dans les entrailles de la terre, to search in the bowels of the earth.

ENTR'AIMER, S', v. r. réc. 1ère conj., to love one another.

ENTRAÎNANT, E, adj. captivating. Son éloquence entraînante, his eloquence is captivating.

ENTRAÎNEMENT, s. m. L'entraînement des passions, the force—the power—of the passions. L'entraînement de l'exemple, the force of example. L'entraînement a été général, the feeling of admiration—the enthusiasm—was general.

ENTRAÎNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le torrent entraînait tout, the torrent carried—swept away—every thing away. Je l'entraînai hors de la chambre, I led him away out of the room. Ils l'entraînaient en prison, they dragged him away to prison.

(Fig.) Il entraîna tout le monde dans son sentiment, he drew every one to his opinion. Il entraînait tous les cœurs par son éloquence, he carried away—captivated—every heart—he drew every heart to him by his eloquence. Le bon exemple nous entraîne, example leads us away. Ne vous laissez pas entraîner, do not suffer yourself to be led away. La guerre entraîne bien des maux après elle, war drags—draws—many evils in its train. Cela pourrait entraîner des désagréments, that might bring about—produce—cause—some unpleasantness.

ENTRAIT, s. m. (t. de charpent.), tie-beam.

ENTRANT, s. m. Les entrants et les sortants, those who come in, and those who go out.

ENTRANT, E, adj. insinuating; engaging.

ENTR'APPELER, S', v. r. to call one another.

ENTRAVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Entraver un cheval, to put bobbles on a horse's legs.

(Fig.) Il a fait tout ce qu'il a pu pour entraver la négociation, he did all he could to impede—to clog—the negociation.

ENTR'AVERTIR, S', v. r. rég. 2de conj., to warn one another.

ENTRAVES, s. f. (t. de manége), bobbles; (fig.), impediment. Ne mettez pas d'entraves à leur mariage, do not throw impediments in the way of their marriage. Pourquoi vous donner des entraves? why should you impose chains—shackles—upon yourself? La jeunesse a besoin de quelque entrave qui la retienne, youth needs some fetter—some curb—to check it.

ENTRE, prep. between. Il était assis entre nous deux, he was sitting between us two. Entre Paris et Orléans, between Paris and Orleans. Je serai chez vous entre onze heures et midi, I shall be with you between eleven and twelve o'clock. Flotter entre la crainte et l'espérance, to waver between fear and hope. Nous le laissâmes entre la vie et la mort, we left him between life and death. Qu'y a-t-il de commun entre nous? what is there in common between us? Allez diviser cela entr'eux, go and divide that between them. Entre nous, cela n'est pas bien, between ourselves, that is not right. Entre vous et moi, between you and me. Il y a une grande différence entr'elles, there is a great difference between them. Il y a inimitié entre ces deux hommes, there is hostility between these two men. Ils s'aident entr'eux, they help one another mutually. Ils parlaient entr'eux, they were speaking among themselves. Ces gens se sont mariés entr'eux, these people intermarry among themselves.

Elle le tenait entre ses bras, she held him in her arms. L'écrit n'est plus entre mes mains, the writing is no longer in my hands. Je l'ai retiré d'entre ses mains, I have withdrawn it from his hands. C'est un homme entre deux âges, he is neither young nor old. Il fut trouvé entre les morts, he was found among the dead. Entre autres, among others.

Mettre un homme entre quatre murailles, to put a man in prison. Regarder quelqu'un entre deux yeux, to look at a person in the face. Entre la poire et le fromage, at the end of the repast. Il était entre deux vins, he was half tipsy—half seas over. Nager entre deux eaux, to swim under water.—(fig.), to trim between two parties. Nous ferons la route entre deux soleils, we shall perform the journey between the rising and the setting sun. Entre chien et loup, at twilight—at dusk.

ENTRE-BÂILLER, v. a. réf. 1ère conj., to half open a door; to open it ajar. Laissez la porte entre-bâillée, leave the door ajar.

ENTRE-BAISER, S', v. a. réf. 1ère conj., to kiss one another.

ENTRECHAT, s. m. (t. de danse), caper. Battre, passer un entrechat, to cut a caper.

ENTRE-CHÉRIR, S', v. a. réf. 2de conj., to cherish one another.

ENTRE-CHOQUER, S', v. r. réf. 1ère conj., to run against one another; to dash with one another.

ENTRE-COLONNE, ENTRE-COLONNEMENT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), space, interval between two columns.

ENTRE-CÔTE, s. m. (t. de cuisine), a piece of meat (beef) cut off between two ribs.

ENTRE-COUPER, v. a. v. r. réf. 1ère conj. Des canaux entre-coupent la plaine, canals intersect the plain. Le pays est entre-coupé de ruisseaux et de collines, the country is intersected with rivulets and hills.

(Fig.) Ses soupirs entre-coupaient sa voix, his voice was broken with sighs. Il nous parla d'une voix entre-coupée, he spoke to us with broken voice. Son discours était entre-coupé de citations, his speech was interlarded with quotations.

(T. de manége.) Voyez SE COUPER.

ENTRE-CROISER, S', v. r. réf. 1ère conj., to cross one another; to intersect one another.

ENTRE-DÉCHIRER, S', v. r. réf. 1ère conj., to tear one another; (fig.), to abuse one another.

ENTRE-DÉTRUIRE, S', v. réf. 6me conj. (voyez CONSTRUIRE), to destroy one another.

ENTRE-DEUX, s. m. space between two things; ar-tition. Entre-deux de morue, the middle part of the body of a cod-fish.

ENTRE-DEUX, adv. neither the one, nor the other.

ENTRE-DÉVORER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to devour one another.

ENTRE-DIRE, S', v. r. irrég. verbe composé (voyez Dire), to say to one another. S'entre-dire des injures, to abuse one another—to call one another names.

ENTRE-DONNER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to give to one another.

ENTRÉE, s. f. L'entrée de la ville, the entrance of the town. Je l'ai rencontré à l'entrée de la ville, I met him at the gates of the town. L'entrée du port est difficile, the entry—entrance—to the harbour is difficult. Tout à l'entrée, quite at the entrance, at the door. L'entrée d'un chapeau, the crown of a hat. L'entrée de ces bottes est trop étroite, the opening of these boots is too small.

Dès son entrée—à son entrée—on s'aperçut qu'il était ivre, as soon as he entered—from the moment of his entering—they saw he was intoxicated. À l'entrée des juges, l'assemblée se leva, upon the judges entering, all the assembly rose. L'entrée du vaisseau dans le port fut saluée par de vives acclamations, the ship was loudly hailed upon her entering into the harbour. L'entrée du soleil dans le Bélier, the entering of the sun into the sign of the Ram.

L'entrée du roi a été magnifique, the entry—the entrance of the king was magnificent. On lui fit une entrée superbe, they gave him a grand reception upon his entering the town. Il n'a pas encore fait son entrée publique, his public entry has not taken place yet.

(T. d'étiquette.) Il a les entrées à la cour, he has the entry at court—the privilege of being admitted into the royal presence. Les petites entrées, the private admission at court. Les grandes entrées, the public admission at court. Le roi lui a été ses entrées, the king has deprived him of his right of admission at court. Les auteurs ont leurs entrées aux théâtres, authors have free admission at the theatres. Les jours de bénéfices on suspend les entrées de faveur, on benefit nights free admissions are suspended. J'aurais mes entrées chez lui, his house was open to me. N'accordez pas l'entrée de votre maison à tout le monde, do not open your doors to every body. Les Catholiques alors n'avaient pas entrée au parlement, at that time, Catholics were not admitted to parliament.

Depuis son entrée au collège, il a fait de grands progrès, he has improved much since his admission at—since he entered—college. Faire son entrée dans le monde, to enter society—to make one's appearance in society—to be presented. À mon entrée, at my presentation. Vous avez fait là une belle entrée, a pretty beginning—debut you have made! Cette circonstance a donné entrée à beaucoup de désordres, this circumstance introduced much irregularity. Cela lui avait donné entrée dans la faveur du prince, that had given him access to the favour of the prince.

À l'entrée du repas, at the beginning of the repast. Vous trouverez ce passage à l'entrée du livre, you will find this passage at the commencement—the opening of the book. Dès l'entrée de son règne, from the beginning of his reign. D'entrée de, from the beginning; at first; from the first.

(T. de douanes, de finance.) Avez-vous payé les droits d'entrée? have you paid the entrance duty? L'entrée du vin dans la ville paie un droit, a duty is paid upon the entrance of wine in a town. Il faut payer le droit d'entrée de ces marchandises étrangères, you must pay the import duty for these foreign goods. (T. de cuisine.) Il y avait huit entrées, there were eight first course dishes, i. e. eight stews or made dishes. Mangez donc de cette entrée, do take some of this dish—(of this made dish). Un plat d'entrée, a first course dish. (T. de danse, d'opéra.) Entrée de ballet, ballet, a scene of ballet, an interlude of dancing. L'acteur fit une fausse entrée, the actor came in at the wrong time.

ENTREFAITES, s. f. Sur—dans—ces entrefaites, in the meanwhile. Dans l'entrefaite, meanwhile.

ENTRE-FRAPPER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to strike one another.

ENTREGENT, s. m. Cet homme n'a pas d'entregent, that man has no knowledge of the manners of the world of society—does not understand the world. Il a beaucoup d'entregent, he has much of the spirit of society.

ENTR'ÉGORGER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to murder one another; to cut each other's throats.

ENTRELACEMENT, s. m. interweaving; weaving; binding.

ENTRELACER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. to interweave. Elle avait entrelacé ses cheveux de fleurs et de perles, she had woven flowers and pearls in her hair. Ils se tenaient les bras entrelacés, they stood locked—linked—in each other's arms. La félicité et la sécurité s'entrelacent, there, felicity and security are entwined together. Les branches du chèvrefeuille s'entrelacent avec celles de l'ormeau, the branches of the honeysuckle are entwined with those of the young elm tree. Leurs chiffres étaient entrelacés, their cyphers were blended into one.

ENTRELACS, s. m. knot; love-knot.

ENTRELARDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to intersperse; to mix with. Viande entrelardée, streaked meat, meat in which the lean and the fat are in streaks.

ENTRE-LIGNE, s. m. Il ne faut pas écrire à l'entre-ligne, you must not write between the lines—you must not make any interlineation.

ENTRE-LUIRE, v. n. rég. 6me conj. (voyez Luire), to glimmer; to peep through.

ENTRE-MANGER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to eat one another.

ENTREMÊLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mix; to intermingle.

ENTREMETS, s. m. (t. de cuisine), (between-meat courses, i. e. between the second course and the dessert) dishes composing the last course of a dinner, and which are generally sweets; such are custards, jellies, tarts, pies, dressed vegetables, &c.). Nous étions à l'entremets, we were at the last course. On nous donna des artichauts pour entremets, they served us a dish of artichokes at the last course.

ENTREMETTEUR, s. m. (go-between; mediator.

ENTREMETTEUSE, s. f. termeddler.

ENTREMETTRE, S', v. r. rég. 7me conj. (Composé de entre et Mettre), to meddle with; to mediate; to interfere. C'est un homme qui s'entremet de toutes choses, that man meddles with—intermeddles with—things. Je ne me suis pas entremis de cette affaire, I did not meddle with that affair. Il s'est entremis pour les accorder, he interfered to make them agree.

ENTREMISE, s. f. intervention. Je l'ai fait par l'entremise de mon frère, I did it through the intervention—interposition—of my brother. Nous n'avons pas besoin de votre entremise, we do not require your assistance.

ENTRE-NŒUD, s. m. (bot.), internode.

ENTRE-NUIRE, S', v. r. rég. 6me conj. (Composé de entre et Nuire), to injure one another.

ENTRE-PAS, s. m. (t. de manége), act of the pace.

ENTRE-PONT, s. m. (t. de marine), between-decks. Descendre dans l'entre-pont, to go down between decks.

ENTREPOSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de commerce.) Entreposer des marchandises dans un magasin, to have a dépôt—a depository—a store—for goods in a town.

ENTREPOSEUR, s. m. (t. de commerce), warehouse-keeper. Entreposeur de tabac, tobacconist.

ENTREPOT, s. m. (t. de commerce), depot; depository. Ville d'entrepôt, a town where goods are brought and remain stored, until they are exported or sold for consumption. Le Hâvre est l'entrepôt de toutes les Indes Américaines, Havre is the mart of all the Indies. L'entrepôt des vins, wine-stores—cellars in bond. Entrepôt des tabacs, tobacco warehouse. Aller à l'entrepôt, to go to the store—to the warehouse. Elle a un entrepôt de tabac, she has a tobacco warehouse. (N.B. These are under Government regulations in France.)

ENTRE-POUSSER, S', v. r. réf. 1ère conj., to push one another.

ENTREPRENANT, E, adj. enterprising; bold. Vous êtes trop entreprenant, you are too bold, too rash.

ENTREPRENDRE, v. a. rég. 8me classe des verbes composés. (Voyez Prendre.) Vous entreprenez là une tâche difficile, you undertake a difficult task. Il a entrepris de traduire Virgile, he has undertaken to translate Virgil. Un architecte a entrepris de bâtir l'église pour 200 livres st., an architect has contracted—engaged—to build the church for £8000. Si j'entreprends cet homme, il ne l'oubliera jamais, if I take that man in hand—if I set about that man, he never will forget it. Vous avez entrepris sur nos droits, you have encroached on our rights. César entreprit sur la liberté du peuple romain, Cæsar encroached upon—made an attempt upon the liberty of the Roman people. Oserait-il entreprendre sur la vie de son bienfaiteur? would he dare to attempt the life of his benefactor?

T. de méd.) Un rhumatisme lui entreprend tous les membres, rheumatism attacks all his limbs—deprives him of the use of his limbs. J'ai la tête tout entreprise, my head is affected by cold—I cannot breathe. Il est entrepris de la jambe droite, he has no use of his right leg. Il est entrepris de tous ses membres, crippled in his limbs.

ENTREPRENEUR, s. m. contractor. Les entrepreneurs étaient difficiles à trouver, it was no easy thing to get contractors. Entrepreneur de bâtiments, builder. Entrepreneur de navires, constructor—shipwright. Entrepreneur de diligences, coach proprietor.

ENTREPRENEUSE, s. f. a woman who contracts, goes to do certain work.

ENTREPRISE, s. f. undertaking. Vous ne viendrez pas à bout de cette entreprise, you will never accomplish this enterprise—undertaking. Faire une entreprise, to undertake. (Violence), encroachment. T. de commerce.) Placer son argent dans une entreprise, to invest one's money in a speculation—in some special undertaking. Entreprise des messageries, coach-office—waggon-office. Entreprise des boues de Paris, office for the removal of the mud—the cleaning of the streets. Entreprise des pompes funèbres, undertaker's business.

Mettre des travaux à l'entreprise, to have a thing done by contract. Ces choses-là se font à l'entreprise, those things are done by contract.

ENTRE-QUERELLER, S', v. r. réc. 1ère conj., to find fault with one another.

ENTRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Les troupes n'entrèrent pas dans la ville, the troops did not enter the town—did not enter the town. Entrez dans la maison, come into the house, why do you not enter? N'est-il pas entré? why did he not come in—why did he not enter? N'entrez pas chez lui—dans sa chambre—il est occupé, do not go into his room—do not go into his apartment—he is engaged. On n'entre pas, no admittance—they are not admitted—no admission. Nos troupes ne sont pas entrées en Italie, our troops did not enter Italy. Entrer en lice—dans la lice, to enter the lists. (Fig.) Je ne voudrais pas entrer en lice avec vous, I would not enter the lists—to contend—with you. Mon fils vient d'entrer au collége, my son has just entered college. Entrer au service, to enter the army. Entrer dans les ordres, to enter the church—to be admitted into holy—sacred—orders. Il n'a pas voulu entrer dans l'infanterie, he would not enter the infantry. Entrer aux pages, to be received as a page. Il est entré en prison le 23, he was committed on the 25th. Entrer en condition, entrer au service, to enter into service—to become a servant. Depuis qu'il est entré à mon service, since he entered my service. Il est entré en service aujourd'hui, he goes to his place to-day. Entrer en religion, to become a monk—a nun. Elle n'a pas encore entré dans le monde, she has not been presented at court—not out—yet. Elle doit entrer à la cour au printemps prochain, she is to be presented at court at the approaching levee. Entrer en charge, en exercice, to enter upon office. Entrer dans le commerce, dans les affaires, to enter into business. Entrer en affaire, to begin business. Entrer en guerre, to begin war. Entrer en correspondance, to enter into correspondence. Entrer en accommodement, to enter into an arrangement. Entrer en goût, to begin to take a liking. Nous entrons en vacances la semaine prochaine, our holydays begin next week. Entrer en ménage, to begin house-keeping. Nous allons entrer en séance, we will soon begin business—open the meeting. Les troupes vont entrer en campagne, the army will soon begin the campaign—take the field. Entrer en colère, to get into a passion. Entrer dans l'adolescence, to enter the age of adolescence. Elle entre aujourd'hui dans sa 20me année, she is entering her 20th year to-day.

Cette somme n'entre pas dans notre compte, that sum does not enter into—is not comprised in—our account. Cela n'entre pas en ligne de compte, that is not to be taken into the account. Cela n'entre pour rien dans mes arrangements, that has nothing to do with my arrangements.

Entrer en danse, to open, to begin the dance. Entrer en matière, to open the subject. Entrer en paiement, to begin to pay—to make a first payment.

Jamais vous ne lui ferez entrer cela dans la tête, you will never get that into his head. Cette idée ne m'entra jamais dans l'esprit, that idea never entered my mind. Il ne m'est point entré dans l'esprit de le tromper, it did not get into my head to deceive him. Il ne lui est jamais entré dans l'esprit que cela fût, it never came—got—into his head that it was so.

Entrer en scène, to appear—to enter the stage—to come forward. Nous ne faisons qu'entrer à table, we have just now sat down to table—we have but just begun (to eat). Vous entrez trop dans les détails, you enter too minutely into particulars. Je n'entre pas dans cette affaire, I am not concerned in that affair——je n'entre point dans ces affaires—dans ces choses-là, I do not meddle—concern myself—with these things. Il entra dans de longs raisonnements, he entered into long reasonings. Dès ce moment, la défiance entra dans les cœurs, from that moment, distrust entered every heart. Vous n'entrez pas dans ma pensée, you do not penetrate—understand—my thoughts. J'entre dans sa pensée, I comprehend his idea. J'entre dans tous vos sentiments, I enter into—I share—all your feelings. Il n'entrait pas dans mes vues d'y aller, it did not enter into my views to go there. Il entre bien dans la passion de son personnage, he enters into—he describes well—the passions of his personages. Je n'entre point dans ces secrets, I do not search—penetrate—into your secrets. Il entrait dans tous nos plaisirs, he entered—participated—in all our pleasures. Il n'entre jamais dans la conversation, he never joins in the conversation.

Jamais cela n'entrera dans ma poche, that will never get into—in—my pocket. Tout ce monde-là ne saurait entrer dans l'église, all these people cannot get into the church. Ce bois est si dur que la cognée ne saurait y entrer, this wood is so hard, that the axe cannot penetrate it. Le coup entra très-avant, the stroke entered—penetrated deep. Mon chapeau ne m'entre pas bien dans la tête, my head does not get into my hat comfortably.

Quelles sont les drogues qui entrent dans ce remède? what are the drugs which enter into the composition of this remedy? Il y entre du quinquina et de la rhubarbe, bark and rhubarb enter into it—are employed in it. Il entre deux aunes dans cet habillement, this dress takes two yards. Je ne croyais pas qu'il y en entrât tant, I did not think that it would take so much. Faites entrer cela dans votre traité, introduce that in your treatise. Faites entrer ces messieurs, make these gentlemen come in—show them in—open the doors to them. Faire entrer un vaisseau dans le bassin, to take—to put—a ship in dock.

Il entre de l'aigreur dans vos remarques, there is sourness in your remarks. Il entre bien de l'homme dans cette conduite, there is much of the feeling of man in that conduct.

ENTRE-RÉPONDRE, S', v. r. réf. 3me conj. (voyez Vendre), to answer—to reply to—one another.

ENTRE-SECOURIR, S', v. r. réf. 3de conj., verbes composés (voyez Courir), to help one another; to assist each other.

ENTRE-SOL, s. m. (t. d'archit.), in mansions, in large houses is a low story, between the ground floor and the first story, thus called. Nous sommes logés à l'entre-sol, we occupy the—we have apartments in the—entre-sol.

ENTRE-SUIVRE, S', v. r. rég. non classé (voyez Suivre), to follow one another.

ENTRE-TAILLE, s. f. (t. de graveur), interline.

ENTRE-TAILLER, S', v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cut.

ENTRE-TAILLURE, s. f. cut.

ENTRE-TEMPS, s. m. Dans l'entre-temps, in the mean time; in the interval (of time between).

ENTRETENEMENT, s. m. Voyez Entretien.

ENTRETENEUR, s. m. keeper.

ENTRETENIR, v. a. v. r. irrég. verbe composé de entre et Tenir. C'est cette pièce de bois qui entretient toute la charpente, it is that timber which keeps the whole fabric together.

Entretenir un bâtiment, to keep a building in repair. Les routes sont mal entretenues, the roads are not well kept up—are not kept in good repair. Ces arbres s'entretiennent toujours verts, these trees keep green in all seasons. Cette femme s'entretient toujours fraîche, that woman keeps fresh—keeps in good condition. Nous nous sommes long-temps entretenus dans cet état, we kept ourselves a long time in that situation.

Il a bien de la peine à entretenir sa famille, he finds it difficult to keep—to support—to maintain—his family. Il avait de grandes armées à entretenir, he had to keep up large armies. Je l'ai entretenu quatre ans au collége, I kept him—I maintained him—for four years at college. Il s'entretient lui-même de son petit revenu, he keeps himself on his small income. Il s'entretient de tout, he keeps himself in—he supplies himself with—every thing. Il s'entretenait d'habits, mais je lui donnais la nourriture et le logement, he supplied himself with—he paid for his—clothes—but I gave him board and lodging. Entretenir une femme, to keep a woman. Ils entretiennent un grand train, they keep up a great establishment. (Fig.) Ils nous entretenaient de belles espérances, they fed us with—they amused us with—fine hopes. Elle aime à s'entretenir de chimères, she likes to feed on—to indulge in—fancies.

Nous avons entretenu long-temps une correspondance ensemble, we kept up for a long while a correspondence. Entretenez la paix dans la famille, keep up—maintain—peace in your family. Leur bonne intelligence ne s'est pas entretenue long-temps, their good understanding did not keep—last—a long while. Tâchez de l'entretenir dans ces bonnes dispositions, try to keep him up to these happy dispositions.

J'entretenais votre père de nos projets, I was speaking to—conversing with—your father about our plans. De quoi vous entretenez-vous? what are you talking about? Allez l'en entretenir, go and talk to him about it. Nous nous en sommes entretenus long-temps, we conversed a long time on the subject.

Officier entretenu (t. de marine.) Se dit par opposition à officier auxiliaire. (It means an officer regularly admitted in the service, and holding bonâ fide rank.) Femme entretenue, a keep mistress. (T. de blason.), bound; chained.

ENTRETIEN, s. m. keeping in repair. L'entretien de ces bâtiments est coûteux, the keeping up of these buildings is expensive. Son travail ne suffit pas à l'entretien de sa famille, his labour is not sufficient for the keeping—the maintenance—of his family. Son entretien ne lui coûte pas beaucoup, his keep is not very expensive. (Conversation.) Nous avons eu un long entretien, we have had a long conversation. Voulez-vous m'accorder un entretien? will you give me an interview—a moment's conversation? Cela a fait l'entretien du public, that was the theme of public conversation.

ENTRETOISE, s. f. (t. de charpent.), tie-piece; cross-quarter.

ENTREVOIR, v. a. irrég. non classé, composé de entre et Voir, to have a glimpse of; to see imperfectly—to have a faint sight of a thing. Je n'ai fait que l'entrevoir, I had only a glimpse of him. (Fig.) Nous ne faisons qu'entrevoir la vérité, we have only a glimpse of the truth. Nous entrevîmes leurs desseins, we began to see—to have a faint notion of—their designs. J'entrevois des malheurs, I foresee misfortunes. Il me laissa entrevoir qu'il n'y consentirait pas, he hinted to me—he did not conceal from me—that he would never consent to it. S'entrevoir, to see one another.

ENTREVOUS, s. m. (t. de charpent.), space between two joists.

ENTREVUE, s. f. interview. Nous avons eu plusieurs entrevues, we have had several interviews. Nous sommes convenus d'une entrevue, we agreed to have an interview.

ENTR'OUIR, v. a. irrég. verbe non classé (voyez Ouïr), to hear imperfectly; to hear something about a thing.

ENTR'OUVRIR, v. a. rég., verbe composé de entre et Couvrir, to half open. Laissez la porte entr'ouverte, leave the door open-d ajar—on the jar. Il entr'ouvrit la porte et se retira précipitamment, he partly opened the door a little and retired precipitately. Il entr'ouvrit les yeux, he half opened his eyes. La terre s'entr'ouvrit devant lui, the earth opened before him.

ENTURE, s. f. (t. de jardinage), graft.

ENUMÉRATEUR, s. m. one who enumerates.

ENUMÉRATIF, TIVE, adj. enumerative.

ENUMÉRATION, s. f. enumeration.

ENUMÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enumerate.

ENVAHIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to invade: (fig.), to usurp; to encroach upon.

ENVAHISSEMENT, s. m. invasion; (fig.), usurpation.

ENVAHISSEUR, s. m. invader.

ENVELOPPE, s. f. (d'un paquet), wrapper; (d'une lettre), envelope. Mettez votre lettre sous enveloppe, put your letter in an—under an—envelope. Je vous écrirai sous l'enveloppe de mon frère, I will write to you under my brother's cover. (Fig.) Il cache un bon cœur sous cette rude enveloppe, he hides a good heart under that rough outside—appearance; (t. de fortif.), envelope.

ENVELOPPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Envelopper du linge, des habits, to envelope, to wrap up linen, clothes. Il s'était enveloppé dans son manteau, he was wrapped up in his cloak. Ces écailles enveloppent les bourgeons et les protégent, these shells wrap up—envelope—cover—the buds and protect them.

(Fig.) L'ennemi se trouvait enveloppé de toutes parts, the enemy were surrounded on all sides. La ténèbres enveloppaient la terre, darkness covered the earth. Un tourbillon de poussière les enveloppa, a cloud of dust enveloped them. On l'a enveloppé injustement dans cette accusation, he was unjustly involved—included—in that accusation. Vous m'avez bien mal à propos enveloppé dans cette affaire, you have involved me very unseasonably in that concern. Il savait envelopper ses récits d'expressions décentes, he understood how to clothe—to envelop—his narratives in decent language. Les poètes ont enveloppé la vérité sous des fables, the poets have concealed—disguised—truth under the garb of fables. Vous cachez parfaitement votre pensée qu'on ne la comprend point, you disguise your thought so much that one does not comprehend it. Nous nous trouvâmes enveloppés dans la proscription, we found ourselves comprised—included—in the proscription. C'est un esprit enveloppé, he has a confused mind.

ENVELOPPEMENT, s. m. wrapping up.

ENVELOPPEUR, s. m. one who wraps up, envelops, &c.

ENVENIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to envenom—to poison. Il envenimait tout ce qu'il touchait, it poisoned every thing it touched. Cette herbe m'a envenimé la bouche, this herb has poisoned my mouth. Vous envenimerez votre plaie si vous la grattez, you will irritate your wound—you will make it fester—if you scratch it. La plaie s'est envenimée, the wound has festered. Envenimer un discours, to poison a speech—to load with bad feeling—with malice. Quelle langue envenimée what a venomous tongue! Quelqu'un lui a envenimé l'esprit contre moi, somebody has irritated him against me

ENVENIMEUR, s. m. poisoner; one who wickedly misrepresents things—supposes evil intentions.

ENVERGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to send the sails on the yard-arms.

ENVERGURE, s. f. (t. de marine), bending of sails to the yards; width of the sails; length of the sail. Cette voile a 36 pieds d'envergure, this sail is 36 feet broad—spans 36 feet across. Ce vaisseau a beaucoup d'envergure, the sails of this vessel are very broad.

ENVERGURE, s. f. (T. d'hist. nat.) Le condor a 25 pieds d'envergure, the wings of the condor measure 25 feet from tip to tip.

ENVERS, prép. towards. Soyez charitable envers les pauvres, be charitable towards—to—the poor. Vous êtes ingrat envers lui, you are very ungrateful to him.

Envers et contre tous, against all.

ENVERS, s. m. Voilà l'envers, this is the wrong side. Vous avez mis vos bas à l'envers, you put on your stockings the wrong side out. (Fig.) Ses affaires vont à l'envers, his affairs are going wrong. Cet accident lui a tourné l'esprit à l'envers, this accident turned his brains.

ENVI, à l', loc. adverbiale. Ils étudient à l'envi l'un de l'autre, they vie with each other in studying. Ils se nuisent les uns des autres, as if emulating one another, as if they with one another. Les nations accouraient à l'envi devant de Napoléon, the people (or nations) hastened to meet Napoleon, as if who should be first.

ENVIABLE, adj. enviable.

ENVIE, s. f. (jalousie), envy. Son bonheur excitait son envie, his good fortune excited envy. Elle ne connut pas l'envie, she never knew envy. Cet homme fait envie à tout le monde, that man excites the envy of all—is the envy of every one. Ce fruit fait envie, this fruit excites envies that man. Ces fruits font-elles envie? do these things excite your envies—do you long for it—makes your mouth water. Ces choses vous font-elles envie? do these things excite your envies—do you long for them? Elles ne me font nulle envie, I have no wish whatever for them. L'envie le ronge, he is eaten up with envy—with jealousy. Il ne peut voir un homme heureux sans lui porter envie, he cannot see a man happy without feeling envious of him—without envying him. Votre sort est digne d'envie, your lot is enviable. Cela n'est pas digne d'envie, that is not enviable.

(Désir.) Avoir envie de faire une chose, to wish to do a thing. Il avait grande envie d'aller à Paris, he had a great wish to go to Paris. Sachez modérer vos envies, learn to moderate your wishes, desires, Croyez-vous pouvoir satisfaire toutes vos envies? do you think you can gratify all your wishes? Si l'envie lui en prend, if he will satisfera toute qui coûte, if the wish comes upon him he will gratify it, cost what it may. Qui vous en a mis l'envie? what created that wish in you? Il a perdu l'envie, he has no wish for it now. Je lui en ferai perdre l'envie, I made him abandon that wish. Je lui en ferai passer son envie, to satisfy one's wish. Je lui en ferai passer l'envie. I will put him out of conceit with it—I will cure him of that wish. L'envie lui en a passé, his desire is gone—has passed away—he is out of conceit with it. Avez-vous envie qu'il vous trompe? do you wish him to deceive you? Je meurs d'envie que vous soyez content, I long to see you happy. Elle en mourait d'envie, she was dying with the desire for it. Je n'ai nulle envie de vous faire du tort, I have no wish—no desire—to do you harm.

(Besoin.) J'ai envie de dormir, I am sleepy; I have a wish to sleep. J'ai envie de manger, de boire, I am hungry—thirsty. Elle avait envie de vomir, she felt sick. Nous avions envie de rire, we wanted to laugh. Elle mourait d'envie de rire, she was bursting with the desire to laugh.

(Désir, intention.) J'ai bien envie d'aller à Londres avec vous, I have a great mind to go to London with you. Envie de femme grosse, longing. C'est une envie de femme grosse, it is a whim. Il a une envie au visage, he has a grease, it is a whim. Elle a des envies aux doigts, she has a mark on his face. Couper une envie, to cut off the agnails on her fingers.

ENVIRILLIR, v. a. irrég. Voyez Vieillir.

ENVIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to envy. Tout le monde l'envie, every one envies him. Je ne lui envie point sa fortune, I do not envy him his fortune. Je vous envie de l'avoir entendue, I envy your having heard her—I envy you for having heard her. Voilà la place que j'envierais le plus, that is the situation that I would wish for the most. Cette place était bien enviée, that place was much wished for.

ENVIEUX, EUSE adj. envious. s. m. f. Les envieux ne sont pas aimables, envious people are not amiable.

ENVINÉ, E, adj. tasting, smelling of wine.

ENVIRON, adv. about.

ENVIRONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to surround; to encompass. La ville est environnée de murailles, the city is surrounded—encompassed—with walls. La foule nous environnait, the crowd encompassed—beset us. Les dangers l'environnaient de toutes parts, dangers surrounded him on all sides. Nous en étions environnés, we were surrounded with them.

ENVIRONS, s. m. environs; neighbourhood; adjacent parts.

ENVISAGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to look at a person in the face. (Fig.) Je n'ose envisager l'avenir, I dare not contemplate the future. Je n'envisage pas cela comme un bien, I do not look upon this as a good—I do not consider it as a good. Il envisageait la mort sans crainte, he faced death fearlessly.

ENVOI, s. m. Ils font de grands envois de marchandises en Amérique, they execute large orders for America—they send large quantities of goods to America. Nous avons plusieurs envois à faire, we have several parcels of goods to dispatch. On nous annonce un nouvel envoi, a second supply—parcel—is announced. Vous avez dû le recevoir par l'envoi du 25, you must have received it by the messenger—the carriage—which left on the 25th. Faire envoi, to send. J'ai reçu votre envoi, I have received your parcel—what you sent me.

(T. de poésie), address.

ENVOÛTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to charm away the life of a person by means of a wax figure.

ENVOYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. irrég. au futur et au conditionnel, qui font j'enverrai, j'enverrais, &c., to send. Elle nous envoyait de jolis bouquets, she used to send us pretty nosegays. Comment leur enverrez-vous ce paquet? how shall you send this parcel to them? Au premier jour de l'an, nous nous envoyons de petits présents, on new year's day, we send small presents to one another. Il fut envoyé vers le prince, he was sent to the prince. C'est Dieu qui nous envoie ce bonheur, God himself sends us this good fortune. Le vin envoie des fumées à la tête, wine sends fumes to the brains. Les médecins l'envoyèrent bientôt dans l'autre monde, the doctors sent him—dispatched him—soon to the other world.

Avez-vous envoyé chez lui? have you sent to his house to inquire (how he is)? Envoyez chercher ce qu'il vous faudra, send for every thing you want. Nous avons envoyé chercher le médecin, we sent for the doctor. Pourquoi ne m'avez vous pas envoyé chercher? why did you not send for me? (Fig.) Il m'ennuyait, et je l'ai envoyé promener, he tired me, and I sent him about his business.

(T. de marine.) Envoyez! helm a-lee! Nous leur envoyâmes une bordée, we poured—we sent—a broadside into them.

ENVOYÉ (t. de diplom.), envoy. L'envoyé de France près la cour de Modène, the French envoy at the court of Modena.

ÉOLIEN, ENNE, adj. Eolian.

ÉOLIPYLE, s. m. (t. de physique), Eolipile.

ÉOLIQUE, adj. Eolian, Ealic.

ÉPACTE, s. f. (chronol.), epact.

ÉPAGNEUL, s. m. } spaniel dog, spaniel bitch.
ÉPAGNEULE. s. f. }

ÉPAIS, SSE, adj. thick. Les murs sont épais de trois pieds, the walls are three feet thick. Ce drap est trop épais, this cloth is too thick. Le vin est épais, the wine is thick. Les blés sont épais, the corn is thick. Il a les cheveux très-épais, his hair is very thick. On y respire un air épais, you breathe there a heavy air. Avoir la langue épaisse, to speak thick. Avoir la taille épaisse, to be short and thick—to be thick set.

(Fig.) Ignorance épaisse, coarse ignorance. C'est un homme épais, he is a heavy, stupid man. Elle a l'esprit épais, she is heavy, dull—she is thick sculled.

ÉPAIS, s. m. (employé à la place d'Épaisseur). Cette pierre a deux pieds d'épais, this stone is two feet thick. Elle a un doigt d'épais de rouge sur le visage, she has half an inch of paint on her face.

ÉPAIS, adv. thickly. Ne semez pas si épais, do not sow so thick—so thickly. Il a neigé épais de trois doigts, it has snowed three inches deep.

ÉPAISSEUR, s. f. thickness. On avait pratiqué une cachette dans l'épaisseur du mur, a hiding-place had been contrived in the thickness of the wall. Ces planches ont deux pouces d'épaisseur, these boards are two inches thick.

ÉPAISSIR, v. a. n. v. r. rég. 2*de conj.* (voyez Punir), to thicken; to make thicker. Le bouillon a épaissi, the broth has got thicker. Sa langue s'épaissit, his tongue is getting thick—he is beginning to talk thick. Son esprit s'épaissit de jour en jour, he is daily becoming duller, heavier. Sa taille s'épaissit, he is growing corpulent—she is getting lusty—her waist enlarges.

ÉPAISSISSEMENT, s. m. thickening.

ÉPAMPREMENT, s. m. (t. d'agric.), thinning the leaves of the vine.

ÉPAMPRER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.* (t. d'agric.), to thin the leaves of the vine.

ÉPANCHEMENT, s. m. effusion; overflowing. (Fig.) Les épanchements du cœur, the out-pourings—the effusions of the heart.

ÉPANCHER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to pour out; (fig.), to exhale, to give vent to. Venez épancher votre cœur dans mon sein, come and pour the secrets—the sorrows—of your heart in my bosom. J'ai besoin d'épancher mon cœur, I want to open my heart. (T. de médecine.) La bile s'est épanchée dans le système, the bile overflowed—diffused itself—in the system.

ÉPANDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 3*me conj.* (voyez Rendre), to spread. Les eaux s'épandirent dans la campagne, the waters spread in the plain. Voyez Répandre.

ÉPANORTHOSE, s. f. (t. de rhétorique), epanorthosis.

ÉPANOUIR, S', v. r. rég. 2*de conj.* (Voyez Punir.) Les fleurs commencent à s'épanouir, flowers are beginning to blow. Ce bouton s'épanouira bientôt, this bud will soon blow, flower. Une rose épanouie, a full blown rose. Une rose fraîche épanouie, a fresh blown rose.

(Fig.) S'épanouir la rate, to laugh; to make merry. A ces mots son front s'épanouit, at these words, his countenance brightened. Allons, épanouissez-vous, come, smooth that brow—look cheerful. La joie épanouit le visage, joy opens—brightens the countenance. Voyez cet air épanoui, look at that bright—merry countenance. Aimes-tu ces enjouements épanouis? do you like those merry faces ever on the broad grin?

ÉPANOUISSEMENT, s. m. opening—blowing of flowers. (Fig.) Épanouissement de cœur, opening of the heart. Épanouissement de rate, hearty laugh. Épanouissement du visage, brightening of the countenance.

ÉPARER, S', v. r. rég. 1*ère conj.* (t. de manége), to kick.

ÉPARGNANT, E, adj. saving.

ÉPARGNE, s. f. economy; saving. Il a amassé une somme considérable par son épargne, through his economy—his saving—he has amassed a large sum. Il faut aller à l'épargne, we must have recourse to our savings. Cet homme est d'une épargne honteuse, that man is shamefully parsimonious—sparing. Épargne honteuse, parsimony. Elle vit de ses épargnes, she lives upon her savings.

Caisse d'épargne, savings bank. (Autrefois.) L'épargne, the royal treasury. Billet de l'épargne, exchequer bill.

ÉPARGNER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.* Il épargne son argent, he spares his money—he uses it sparingly. Épargnez vos provisions, spare your provisions—husband them carefully. On ne nous épargne pas l'argent, they do not grudge us money—they give us money abundantly. Je n'y épargne pas la peine, I do not spare trouble—I do not mind the trouble I give to it. S'il peut faire le bien, il ne s'y épargne pas, if he can do good, he does not spare himself. Le vin ne fut pas épargné à cette noce, wine was not spared at that marriage. Vous n'avez pas épargné le poivre, you did not spare pepper. Épargner sa vie, spare his life. Épargnez le sang, spare blood.

Je voudrais pouvoir vous épargner cette peine, I would I could save you this trouble. Cela nous épargnera un grand travail, that would save us much labour. Épargnez-vous ce soin, save yourself this care. J'épargne à votre sensibilité le tableau de leurs souffrances, I save—spare—your kind heart the picture of their sufferings. Il n'épargne personne, he spares no body. Il aurait dû épargner sa vieillesse, you ought to have spared his old age—have had regard for—to—his old age. Ils ne se sont pas épargnés, they did not spare one another.

(T. de métier.) Ne pourriez-vous épargner un pli sur le drap? could you not save enough to make a fold—a coat out of the cloth? Cette table a été épargnée de l'épaisseur du bloc, they contrived—managed—to cut out this table in the thickness of the block.

ÉPARPILLEMENT, s. m. scattering.

ÉPARPILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to scatter. Mes papiers se sont éparpillés, my papers are all scattered. Fermez la porte, de peur que ces choses ne s'éparpillent, shut the door, lest these things should be scattered by the wind. (Fig.) Éparpiller son argent, to scatter—to squander—money.

ÉPARS, E, adj. scattered; dispersed. Le troupeau était épars sur la montagne, the flock was scattered on the mountain. Elle courait çà et là les cheveux épars, to and fro, with dishevelled hair.

ÉPARS, s. m. (t. de marine), slight flashes of lightning unaccompanied by thunder.

ÉPARVIN, } s. m. (t. de vétérin.), sparvin.
ÉPERVIN. }

ÉPATER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.* Vous avez épaté un verre, you have broken the foot of that tumbler. Tous les verres étaient épatés, not one of the tumblers had a foot left.

Nez épaté, a flat nose, pug nose.

ÉPAULARD, s. m. (hist. nat.), orca.

ÉPAULE, s. f. shoulder. Il a de larges épaules, he is broad shouldered. Il a les épaules hautes, he is high shouldered. Il portait un fardeau sur ses épaules, he carried a burden on his shoulders. Il a l'épaule démise, his shoulder is out of joint. Il s'est démis l'épaule, he dislocated his shoulder. Prêtez l'épaule à cet homme pour relever son fardeau, lend that man a hand to raise his burden. Pousser de l'épaule, to shove with the shoulder. Il est engoncé—il a la tête enfoncée dans les épaules, his head is buried between his shoulders. Il a été blessé à l'épaule, he is wounded in his shoulder. (T. de cuisine.) Une épaule de mouton, a shoulder of mutton. Il ne jette pas les épaules de mouton par la fenêtre, he does not squander things away.

Hausser, lever les épaules, to shrug one's shoulders. Cela me fait hausser les épaules de pitié, that makes me sick from pity. Mettre quelqu'un dehors par les épaules, to drive, to push a person out by the shoulders. Regarder quelqu'un par dessus l'épaule, to look at a person over the shoulder in sign of contempt. Fig. Oui, oui, il vous paiera par dessus l'épaule, no doubt he will pay you, over the left shoulder—over the left. Il se retira pliant les épaules, he went away looking very humble. Il n'a pas les épaules assez fortes pour cela, he is not strong enough—his back is not broad enough—for that. Je porte cet homme sur mes épaules, that man lies heavy on my shoulders—that man is a burden to me. Il nous a donné—prêté—un bon coup d'épaule, he gave us famous help. On lui mit le mousquet sur l'épaule, they made him shoulder the musket—they made a soldier of him. Pousser le temps avec l'épaule, to temporise; to gain time.

(T. d'esc.) Avoir de l'épaule, to be broad-shouldered.

(T. de fortif.) Épaule de bastion, the shoulder of a bastion. (T. de charpentier.) Épaule de mouton, large, broad axe.

ÉPAULÉ, E, adj. splayed, broken down; out of use; mystified; without credit; disgraced. Ce magasinon n'a que des bêtes épaulées, that horse-dealer has nothing but splayed—broken down—beasts.

ÉPAULÉE, s. f. shove; push. (Fig.) Faire les choses par épaulées, to do things irregularly, by fits and starts.

ÉPAULEMENT, s. m. (t. de fortification), epaulment; mount-work.

ÉPAULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to splay (a hor-e); to break his shoulder. (Fig.), to help; to shove. Il est bien épaulé, he is well supported. Je vous épaulerai de mon crédit, I will give you the assistance—the support of all my interest.

ÉPAULETTE, s. f. Les épaulettes d'une chemise, the shoulder-straps of a shirt.

(T. militaire.) Les simples soldats portent des épaulettes de laine, private soldiers wear woollen epaulets. Les officiers supérieurs ont des épaulettes à graine d'épinards, superior officers wear epaulets of bullion. Il a bien gagné son épaulette de capitaine, he fought well for his captain's epaulet.

ÉPAVE, adj. stray. Un cheval épave, a stray horse. Droit d'épave, the right which the lord of the manor has over strayed objects. Épave maritime, wreck.

ÉPEAUTRE, s. m. spelt; German wheat.

ÉPÉE, s. f. sword. Se battre à l'épée, to fight with swords. Il portait l'épée, he carried a sword. Mettre l'épée à la main, to draw the sword. Ils portèrent le fort l'épée à la main, they carried the fort sword in hand. La garde de l'épée, the hilt of the sword. Il n'a jamais mis l'épée à son côté, he never wore a sword by his side. Savez-vous tirer l'épée? can you fence, do you understand fencing? Il a reçu un coup d'épée, he received a sword wound. Il lui donna un coup d'épée dans la poitrine, he gave him a sword wound—he struck him—in the breast. Il lui passa son épée à travers du corps, he ran him through the body with his sword. Il enfonça l'épée jusqu'aux gardes, he plunged his sword up to him up to the hilt. Rendez votre épée, deliver—surrender—your sword. Remettez l'épée dans le fourreau, sheathe your sword again——make peace. On mit la garnison au fil de l'épée, the garrison was put to the sword. Ceindre l'épée, to gird the sword. Nœud d'épée, sword-knot. Épée flamboyante, flaming sword. Homme d'épée, soldier. Il quitta le barreau pour l'épée, he left the bar for the sword—for the military service. Poursuivre un homme l'épée dans les reins, to pursue a man sword in hand. A vaillant homme courte épée, give a short sword to the valiant. Son épée ne tient pas au fourreau, his sword is ever out of the scabbard—he is always ready to draw the sword. (Fig.) C'est un coup d'épée dans l'eau, it is a useless effort. Son épée est trop courte, he has not credit—power enough for that. Ils en sont aux épées et aux couteaux, they are at daggers drawn—they are bitter enemies. Il se fait blanc de son épée, he stands to—he trusts to—his sword, his courage, his credit. Cette épée use le fourreau, the sword wears out the scabbard, cette épée the mind wears out the body. C'est son épée de bois, it is his trusty sword—it is his protector—his safety counsellor. Mettre quelque chose du côté de l'épée, to put something by, in safety——to save something. Mourir d'une belle épée, to die a noble death—to be slain by a noble enemy. Jouer de l'épée à deux talons, to run away.

ÉPELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spell.

ÉPELLATION, s. f. spelling.

ÉPENTHÈSE, s. f. (t. de gramm.), epenthesis.

ÉPENTHÉTIQUE, adj. epenthetic.

ÉPERDU, E, adj. agitated; distracted, bewildered. Éperdu d'amour, mad, distracted with love.

ÉPERDUMENT, adv. to madness; passionately; distractedly.

ÉPERLAN, s. m. smelt. Manger de l'éperlan, to eat smelts.

ÉPERON, s. m. spur. Les chevaliers portaient les éperons dorés, the knights wore golden spurs. La reine lui chaussa l'éperon, the queen buckled on his spur. Il gagna ses éperons à cette bataille, he won his spurs at that battle. Ce cheval est sensible à l'éperon, this horse does not bear the spur. Donner de l'éperon, to spur, to give the spur. Mon cheval est dur à l'éperon, my horse does not feel the spur. Il lui enfonça l'éperon dans le flanc, he plunged his spurs into his flanks. Ce cheval n'a ni bouche, ni éperon, that horse feels neither bridle nor spur——(Fig.) Cet homme n'a ni bouche ni éperon, that man is stupid—immovable.

(T. de marine), beak; beak-head; (t. de fortif.), counterfort; (t. de maçon), starling; (t. de bot.), spur; (t. d'hist. nat.), spur.

ÉPERONNÉ, E, spurred; having on—wearing—spurs. (Fig., fam.) Il a les yeux éperonnés, he is wrinkled at the corner of his eye—he is marked with the crow's foot.

ÉPERONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put spurs on; to spur——(fig.), to urge on, to excite.

ÉPERONNIER, s. m. spur-maker, seller. (Hist. nat.), sort of peacock.

ÉPERONNERIE, s. f. spur-trade; bridle-trade.

ÉPERVIER, s. m. sparrowhawk. Lâcher l'épervier, to let fly the hawk. (Fam., fig.) C'est un mariage d'épervier, la femelle vaut mieux que le mâle, it is like the marriage of a sparrowhawk, the wife is the better of the two. On ne saurait faire d'une bonne vie épervier, you cannot make a hawk of a buzzard—you cannot make a clever man of a fool. (T. de pêcheur), cast-net. Nous avons pris un grand nombre de perches dans ce coup d'épervier, we caught a great many perch at that throw.

ÉPERVIÈRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), spurrey; genus spergula.

ÉPERVIN, s. m. Voyez Éparvin.

ÉPHÉLIDE, s. f. (t. de médec.), red spot on the skin.

ÉPHÉMÈRE, s. f. ephemera.

ÉPHÉMÈRE, adj. ephemeral.

ÉPHÉMÉRIDE, s. f. ephemeris.

ÉPHOD, s. m. (pron. é-fode), ephod.

ÉPHORES, s. m. (t. d'antiquité), ephori; Spartan magistrates.

ÉPI, s. m. ear (of corn). Les épis sont bien garnis, the ears are very full. Un épi maigre, a thin ear. (Bot.) Ces fleurs sont en épi, these flowers are in the shape of an ear of corn. Épi d'eau, pond-weed. Il a un épi de cheveux, he has a feather. Épi de diamants, a sprig of diamonds. (T. de chirurg.), spica.

ÉPIALE, adj. (t. de médec.). Fièvre épiale, shivering fever.

ÉPICE, s. f. spice. Les épices viennent de l'Inde, spices come from India. Il y a trop d'épices dans ce ragoût, there is too much spice in this stew. Pain d'épice, gingerbread. (Fig.) C'est une fine épice, he is a cunning fellow—a sharp one. C'est chère épice, it is a dear commodity. Dans les petits sacs sont les bonnes épices, small parcels hold good wares. On apporta le vin et les épices, they served wine and preserves.

Ce juge aime les épices, that magistrate likes money. Ça, payez-moi mes épices, come, pay me my fees. (Formerly, the fees of lawyers were paid in épices; and, though money was substituted for them, the word épice was for a long time used as synonymous for droits, honoraires.)

ÉPICÈNE, adj. (t. de gramm.), epicene; of both genders.

ÉPICER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spice; to season. Cette sauce est trop épicée, that sauce is too much seasoned. (Fig.) Ce juge épice rudement, that judge charges most heavily.

ÉPICERIE, s. f. grocery.

ÉPICIER, s. m. grocer. Épicier droguiste, grocer and druggist. (Fam.) Ce livre ira chez l'épicier, that book will fall into the grocer's hands, i. e. will have no success and will be sold for waste paper.

ÉPICRÂNE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), epicranium.

ÉPICURIEN, s. a. m. } Epicurean.
ÉPICURIENNE, s. a. f. }

ÉPICURISME, s. m. (pron. é-pi-ku-rice-me), Epicurism.

ÉPICYCLE, s. m. (t. d'astron.), epicycle.

ÉPIDÉMIE, s. f. epidemic.

ÉPIDÉMIQUE, adj. epidemical.

ÉPIDERME, s. m. epidermis; the cuticle; (bot.), pellicle.

ÉPIER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric., de jardin.), to ear, to come into ear.

ÉPIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spy, to watch. Ses ennemis épient toutes ses actions, they watch, they spy all his actions. Prenez garde, vous êtes épié, be careful, you are watched. Pourquoi voulez-vous que je l'épie? why should I be a spy upon his actions? Épiez le moment favorable, watch for a favourable opportunity.

ÉPIERRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to clear (ground) of stones.

ÉPIEU, s. m. boar-spear; short spear.

ÉPIGASTRE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), the epigastric region.

ÉPIGASTRIQUE, adj. epigastric.

ÉPIGLOTTE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), epiglottis.

ÉPIGRAMMATIQUE, adj. epigrammatic.

ÉPIGRAMME, s. f. epigram.

ÉPIGRAPHE, s. f. epigraph; inscription. Vous avez bien choisi votre épigraphe, you have selected a good motto.

ÉPILATOIRE, adj. depilatory; removing the hair.

ÉPILEPSIE, s. f. epilepsy; falling sickness.

ÉPILEPTIQUE, s. m. f. epileptic.

ÉPILEPTIQUE, adj. epileptic.

ÉPILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to depilate; to take off the hair.

ÉPILLET, s. m. (t. de bot.), small ear.

ÉPILOGUE, s. m. epilogue.

ÉPILOGUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Cet homme épilogue sur tout, that man censures every thing—finds fault with every thing.

ÉPILOGUEUR, s. m. a censurer; a critic.

ÉPINARDS, s. m. spinach. Manger des épinards, to eat spinach. (Fig.) Épaulette à graine d'épinards, epaulet of bullion—a colonel's epaulet. Il porte la graine d'épinards, he wears a colonel's epaulets.

ÉPINE, s. f. thorn. Épine blanche, hawthorn. Épine noire, black thorn. Une haie d'épines, a hawthorn hedge. Il ne croît là que des épines, nothing but thorns grow there. Une épine m'a piqué, a thorn pricked me. Je me suis enfoncé une épine dans le doigt, I ran a thorn in my finger. Il m'entra une épine dans le pied, a thorn ran into my foot. Otez ces épines, take off these thorns—these prickles.

(Fig.) J'étais sur des épines, je marchais sur des épines, I was—I trod—on thorns—I was in great perplexity, in great difficulty. Cette femme est un fagot d'épine, that woman is a very bundle of thorns, i. e. you know not which way to take her. Cette affaire est une épine au pied, that business is a thorn in your side—is a thorny point. Vous m'avez tiré une épine du pied, you have drawn a thorn from my foot—you have relieved me of a great difficulty. Il n'est point de roses sans épines, there are no roses without thorns—there is no pleasure without its pain.

(T. d'anat.) Épine du dos, the spine; the backbone.

ÉPINETTE, s. f. spinet. Jouer de l'épinette, to play on the spinet.

ÉPINEUX, EUSE, adj. thorny; (fig.), captious; ticklish.

ÉPINE VINETTE, s. f. barberry.

ÉPINGARE, s. m. (t. d'artillerie), small gun.

ÉPINGLE, s. f. pin. Attacher avec une épingle, to fasten with a pin. Je me suis enfoncé une épingle dans le doigt, I ran a pin into my finger.

Cela ne vaut pas une épingle, that is not worth a pin. Il est toujours tiré à quatre épingles, he is always formally dressed—so stiff and formal in his dress. Tout est tiré à quatre épingles, all that is so formal—so precise. Il sait toujours tirer son épingle du jeu, he always manages to retrieve his affairs out of the game, i. e. has address. (This expression is taken from the game of pool.) Il a donné cent livres pour les épingles de Madame, he gave £100 for the gloves—private expenses—of his wife.

ÉPINGLETTE, s. f. (t. d'artillerie), pricker; priming wire.

ÉPINGLIER, ÈRE, s. m. f. pin-maker.

ÉPINIER, s. m. thicket; thorny bush.

ÉPIPHANIE, s. f. epiphany; twelfth day.

ÉPIPHONÈME, s. m. (t. de rhétor.), epiphonem.

ÉPIPHORA, s. m. (t. de médec.), epiphora; watery eye.

ÉPIQUE, adj. epic, heroic.

ÉPISCOPAL, E, adj. episcopal.

ÉPISCOPAT, s. m. episcopacy.

ÉPISCOPAUX, s. m. pl. episcopalians.

ÉPISODE, s. m. episode.

ÉPISODIQUE, adj. episodic.

ÉPISPASTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.) epispastic, drawing.

ÉPISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to splice.

ÉPISSOIR, s. m. (t. de marine), fidd.

ÉPISSURE, s. f. (t. de marine), splicing.

ÉPISTOLAIRE, adj. epistolary.

ÉPITAPHE, s. f. epitaph. (Fam.) Il fera l'épitaphe du genre humain, he will out-live all his friends.

ÉPITHALAME, s. m. epithalamium.

ÉPITHÈTE, s. f. epithet.

ÉPITOGE, s. f. a hood worn formerly by judges in France.

ÉPITOME, s. m. (pron. épitome). Je lui ai donné l'épitome de l'histoire Romaine, I have given him the epitome—abridgment of the Roman history.

ÉPÎTRE, s. f. epistle; letter. J'ai reçu de lui une longue épître, I have received a long letter—received from him. Il lui a adressé une épître dédicatoire, he addressed a long dedicatory epistle in verse to him. Chanter l'épître, to chant the epistle. Le côté de l'épître, in Roman Catholic churches, the side on which the epistle is read.

ÉPITROPE, s. f. (t. de rhétor.), epitrope, a concession.

ÉPIZOOTIE, s. f. epizooty, a disease among cattle.

ÉPIZOOTIQUE, adj. epizootic.

ÉPLORÉ, E, adj. in tears, distressed.

ÉPLOYÉ, E, adj. displayed; extended.

ÉPLUCHAGE,
ÉPLUCHEMENT, } s. m. picking

ÉPLUCHER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to pick. Les oiseaux s'épluchent avec leur bec, birds pick their feathers with their beak. Éplucher un os, to pick a bone. Les méchants s'amusent à éplucher les actions, ill-natured people amuse themselves by scrutinizing the actions. Éplucher les fautes d'un ouvrage, to pick out the mistakes in a book.

ÉPLUCHEUR, s. m. } fault-finder; an ill-natured critic.
ÉPLUCHEUSE, s. f. }

ÉPLUCHOIR, s. m. sort of knife used in picking.

ÉPLUCHURE, s. f. pickings; bits.

ÉPODE, s. f. epode.

ÉPOINTÉ, E, adj. (t. de manége). Un cheval épointé, a horse that is hip-shot. Mon chien est épointé, my dog has broken his thigh.

ÉPOINTER, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Épointer un couteau, une aiguille, to blunt—to break the point off—a knife, a needle. Ces aiguilles s'épointent, these needles break at the point. Vous me donnez un couteau épointé, you give me a knife without a point.

ÉPOIS, s. m. (t. de vénerie), tracking of a deer.

ÉPONGE, s. f. spunge; sponge. (Fig.) Cet homme là boit comme une éponge, that man drinks very much—a sponge sucks up water. Passer l'éponge sur une chose, to wipe off—to efface—to forget—a thing. Passer l'éponge to squeeze the sponge, i. e. to make people refund—restore what they have obtained unfairly.

ÉPONGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to wash with a sponge; to sponge up; to dab with a sponge.

ÉPOPÉE, s. f. epopee, an epic poem.

ÉPOQUE, s. f. epoch, era. Il faut connaître les principales époques de l'histoire, we must be acquainted with the principal epochs of history. A toutes les époques de ma vie, at every epoch of life. J'étais à cette époque loin de Paris, I was at that time far from Paris. Nous voici à l'époque de leur arrivée, this is the time—the moment of their arrival. Cela fait époque dans sa vie, this event will be a remarkable epoch in his life. Ces choses font époque, these things are facts ever to be remembered.

ÉPOUDRER, v. a. Voyez Épousseter.

ÉPOUFFÉ, E, adj. panting; out of breath.

ÉPOUFFER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to disappear; to hide; to steal away.

ÉPOUILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to clean from fleas.

ÉPOUMONER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to put out of breath; to get out of breath.

ÉPOUSAILLES, s. f. marriage; wedding; espousals.

ÉPOUSE, s. f. spouse; wife.

ÉPOUSÉE, s. f. bride. (Fig.) Marcher comme une épousée, to walk with modest reserve. Elle est parée comme une épousée de village, she is as fine as a village bride, i. e. she is finely dressed and without taste.

ÉPOUSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to marry. Il a épousé une femme très-riche, he has recently wed a rich wife. Il y a huit jours qu'ils se sont épousés, they were married a week ago. Qui épouse la dettes, épouse les dettes, he who marries the wife, espouses her debts. (Fig.) Je n'épouse aucun parti, I do not espouse—adopt—any party.

ÉPOUSEUR, s. m. a marrying man; one who marries.

ÉPOUSSETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dust; to brush dust off; to brush. Épousseter un cheval, to rub down a horse. (Fam., fig.) On l'a joliment époussété, they handled him—they beat him—famously.

ÉPOUSSETTE, s. f. brush. Voyez Varyette.

ÉPOUVANTABLE, adj. frightful; dreadful; extraordinary.

ÉPOUVANTABLEMENT, adv. dreadfully; frightfully.

ÉPOUVANTAIL, s. m. scarecrow; bugbear.

ÉPOUVANTE, s. f. fright; dread; terror. Ils ont été épouvantés, they took fright—they were seized with fear. L'épouvante était générale, the terror—dread was general.

ÉPOUVANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to frighten; to terrify. La moindre chose l'épouvante, the least thing frightens him. Cette maladie épouvantait l'armée, this disease threw the army into utter dismay. Vous vous épouvantez de rien, you take fright at nothing. Il s'épouvante pour—de—peu de chose, the least thing frightens him.

ÉPOUX, s. m. husband. Il sera votre époux, he will be your husband. L'époux et l'épouse, the husband and the spouse.

Les jeunes époux, they are a young married couple. Les futurs époux, the intended. Les époux, the husband and wife. Les heureux époux partent après la cérémonie pour la campagne, the happy couple—set off for the country immediately after the ceremony.

ÉPREINDRE, v. a. rég. 7me conj. Voyez Craindre. Épreindre des herbes, to squeeze herbs. Épreignez-en strain the juice out of them.

ÉPREINTE, s. f. (t. de médec.), tenesmus, an inward desire to go to stool; (fig.), pressure.

ÉPRENDRE, S', v. r. rég. 8me conj. des Verbes Composés (Voyez Prendre.) Il s'éprend de toutes les femmes qu'il voit, he is smitten by—he is taken by—every woman he sees. Il était très-épris de cette femme, he was much smitten with that woman. Il est épris d'elle pour elle, he is captivated by her—he is enamoured of her. Tout à coup il s'éprit d'une belle passion, all at once he became enamoured. Être épris d'une chose, to be taken with—to be captivated by—a thing.

ÉPREUVE, s. f. proof, trial. Subir une épreuve, to undergo a trial, to be tried. L'épreuve n'en est pas facile, the trial of it is not easy. On va faire l'épreuve de cette machine nouvelle, they are going to try—to make a trial of—that new machine. On lui a fait subir de rudes épreuves, they put him to hard trials. Nous mettrons votre amitié à l'épreuve, we will put your friendship to the proof. Il a supporté courageusement toutes ces épreuves, he bore—he stood courageously—all these trials. Tentons cette épreuve, let us try this proof.

(À l'épreuve.) Je vous donne cette montre à l'épreuve, I give you this watch on trial. La maison est à l'épreuve du feu, the house is proof against fire. À l'épreuve du boulet, cannon ball proof. À l'épreuve de la pluie, waterproof. Cet homme est à l'épreuve de l'argent, that man is proof against money—is incorruptible. Il est à l'épreuve de tout, he is proof against every thing. Il est à l'épreuve de la médisance, he is above slander. Je suis à l'épreuve de la tentation, I am proof against—I am above—temptation. Il est d'un courage à toute épreuve, his courage has been well tried—is unquestionable. Un ami à toute épreuve, a true, a trusty, a well-tried friend. C'est un domestique à toute épreuve, he is a well-tried—faithful servant. Il n'est pas à l'épreuve de la raillerie, he cannot stand—take a joke.

(T. d'histoire.) Épreuve judiciaire, judiciary ordeal. On les soumit à l'épreuve du feu, they were put to the fire ordeal—à l'épreuve du duel, to the ordeal by combat. (T. d'imprimeur et de graveur), proof. Corriger des épreuves, to read proofs. Revoir une épreuve, to read a revise. Voilà une belle épreuve, this is a beautiful proof. (T. de course de chevaux), heat. Ce n'est que la première épreuve, it is only the first heat. (T. de polit.) On fit l'épreuve par assis et levé, the numbers of votes were tried by sitting and standing. Voyez Voter.

ÉPROUVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to try; to make the trial of a thing; to prove. C'est un remède que j'ai éprouvé, it is a remedy which I have tried. Nous avons éprouvé sa probité, we have tried his probity. C'est un homme éprouvé, he is a well-tried man.

(Ressentir.) Il a éprouvé la bonne et la mauvaise fortune, he has experienced good and bad fortune. Nous éprouvâmes une chaleur excessive, we experienced—we felt—very great heat. Son caractère éprouva un grand changement, his disposition underwent—experienced—great alteration.

ÉPROUVETTE, s. m. (t. d'artillerie), eprouvette; (t. de métier), meter; (t. de chirurg.), probe.

ÉPUCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to clean of fleas; to rid of fleas.

ÉPUISABLE, adj. exhaustible.

ÉPUISEMENT, s. m. L'épuisement des eaux a été difficile, the draining—the drawing off—of the waters was no easy matter. Il est dans un épuisement alarmant, he is in an alarming state of exhaustion. Il est dans un grand épuisement, he is in a state of great exhaustion—much exhausted. On ne pouvait expliquer l'épuisement des finances, the exhausted state of the finances was inexplicable.

ÉPUISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exhaust; to dry up. L'armée épuisait les fontaines à son passage, the army, where it passed, exhausted—dried up—the springs. On épuisa les eaux avec des machines, the waters were drawn off by engines. La source de mes larmes est épuisée, the source of my tears is dried up. Les médecins l'ont épuisé de sang, the doctors have drained all his blood. Vous vous épuisez à force de travail, you exhaust yourself—you exhaust your strength—by your labour. Il s'épuisait de fatigues, he wore himself out with fatigue. C'est un homme épuisé, he is a worn out man. Son esprit est épuisé, his mind is exhausted—worn out—spent. Nos provisions s'épuisent, our provisions are getting exhausted. Ma bourse est épuisée, my purse is empty—is drained. Vous avez bientôt épuisé ce sac d'argent, you have soon emptied—exhausted—that bag of money Cette grande application épuise l'esprit, such great application exhausts the mind.

ÉPULIDE, } s. f. (t. de chirurg.), epulis; gum-boil.
ÉPULIE, }

ÉPULOTIQUE, s. f. (t. de médec.), epulotic. s. m. epulotic.

ÉPURE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), draught; model.

ÉPURATION, s. f. purifying; refining.

ÉPURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to purify; to clear; to purge—(en parlant de métaux particulièrement), to refine. La vertu s'épure dans le malheur, virtue gets refined in misfortune. Épurer son cœur de toute affection terrestre, to purify—to clear—one's heart from all earthly affections.

ÉPURGE, s. f. (t. de bot.), spurge.

ÉQUANIMITÉ, s. f. (pron. é-coua-ni-mi-té), equanimity.

ÉQUARRIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to square; to cut square. To knock down and skin a horse, an ass.

ÉQUARRISSAGE, s. m. squaring. Cette poutre a deux pieds d'équarrissage, this timber is two feet square. Bois d'équarrissage, timber (proper for building). Chantier d'équarrissage, a yard where timber is squared—is converted for use. The knocking down and skinning of horses, of asses.

ÉQUARRISSEMENT, s. m. squaring.

ÉQUARRISSEUR, s. m. knacker. Mener un cheval chez l'équarrisseur, to take a horse to the knacker's.

ÉQUARRISSOIR, s. m. rimer; knacker's knife.

ÉQUATEUR, s. m. (pron. é-coua-teur), equator.

ÉQUATION, s. f. (pron. é-coua-cion), equation.

ÉQUERRE, s. f. square; square rule. Je l'ai fait à l'équerre, I did it with a square rule.

Ce mur n'est pas d'équerre, that wall is not square, at right angle. Mettez cela d'équerre, put that on the square—put it straight.

ÉQUESTRE, adj. (pron. é-cu-ècе-tre), equestrian. Statue équestre, an equestrian statue.

ÉQUIANGLE, adj. (pron. é-cui-angle), equiangular, having equal angles.

ÉQUIDISTANT, E, adj. (pron. é-cui-dicetan), equidistant, at equal distances.

ÉQUILATÉRAL, E, adj. (pron. é-cui-la-té-ral), equilateral, having equal sides.

ÉQUILATÈRE, s. m. (t. de géom.), a figure having all sides equal.

ÉQUILIBRE, s. m. equilibrium; balance. Cela est en équilibre, that is in equilibrium—well balanced. Perdre l'équilibre, to lose one's equilibrium. Cela dérangerait l'équilibre de l'Europe, that would derange—destroy the balance of Europe. Cela ferait l'équilibre, that would balance things—put them in equilibrium.

ÉQUINOXE, s. m. equinox.

ÉQUINOXIAL, E, adj. equinoxial.

ÉQUIPAGE, s. m. retinue; train; dress. Il est arrivé avec tout son équipage, he has arrived with all his train, his retinue. Je ne sais d'où il tire l'équipage dans lequel il se montre, I know not where he gets the means to make such an appearance. Vous voilà dans un singulier équipage, here you are in a singular plight. Nous le laissâmes dans un triste équipage, we left him in a sad condition. N'êtes-vous pas surpris de me voir dans cet équipage? are you not surprised to see me in this dress? Il a perdu tout son équipage, he lost all his baggage—all his things. Équipage de guerre, equipment. Équipage de soldat, a soldier's kit. Équipage de chasse, hunting establishment—hunting gear. Les équipages de l'armée, the baggage. Équipage de pompe, pump gear. Équipage de siége, artillery. Équipage de pont, matériel for constructing bridges. (En général), equipment.

(Voiture), carriage. Les équipages de la reine, the queen's carriages and horses. Il a un bel équipage, he has a beautiful carriage. Ces gens-là roulent équipage maintenant, those people ride in their carriage now. (Fam.) Il a l'équipage de Jean de Paris, he drives a magnificent equipage. Il a un équipage de Bohême, he rides in an old and broken down carriage.

(T. de marine), crew. L'équipage était de 2[illegible] hommes; nous avions 200 hommes d'équipage, the crew consisted of 200 men—were 200 in number. (In 1[illegible] Napoléon organized the navy on the footing of [illegible] and formed régiments of sailors, which were [illegible] Équipage de ligne. An équipage de ligne was [illegible] cient to man a line-of-battle ship, or was divided [illegible] two or three smaller ships of war. There were [illegible] de haut bord, and Équipages de flottille.)

ÉQUIPÉE, s. f. Vous avez fait la une belle équipée, what a pretty trick—what a prank you have played. (Fam.) équipée, what a prank!

ÉQUIPEMENT, s. m. equipment; equipping; [illegible]

ÉQUIPER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (T. militaire) Équiper un soldat, to equip a soldier. Équiper un vaisseau, to equip a ship. Il s'équipe pour aller aux Indes, he is equipping himself—getting his outfit—to go to India.

Il a bien équipé son fils avant de l'envoyer en [illegible] he provided his son well before he sent him to col[illegible] Il est bien mal équipé, he is badly supplied. (Ironie) voilà équipé! what a figure you are! Pouvez-vous vous équiper de la sorte? how can you dress in this [illegible] make such a figure of yourself? (Fam.) On l'a joliment équipé, he has been sadly used—terribly beaten.

ÉQUIPOLLENCE, s. f. (pron. é-ki-pol-lèn[illegible], equipollence.

ÉQUIPOLLENT, E, adj. (pron. é-ki-pol-lan[illegible], equipollent. X l'équipollent de, equally with.

ÉQUIPOLLER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to be equipollent to—to equal.

ÉQUITABLE, adj. equitable; just.

ÉQUITABLEMENT, adv. equitably; justly.

ÉQUITATION, s. f. (pron. é-cui-ta-cion), equitation, horsemanship, riding. École d'équitation, riding school.

ÉQUITÉ, s. f. (pron. é-ki-té), equity; [illegible]

ÉQUIVALENT, E, adj. equivalent.

ÉQUIVALENT, s. m. equivalent.

ÉQUIVALOIR, v. n. irrég. non classé (voyez Valoir), to be equivalent to; to be as good as.

ÉQUIVOQUE, E, adj. equivocal.

ÉQUIVOQUE, s. f. equivocation.

ÉQUIVOQUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to equivocate—v. r. to make a slip.

ÉRABLE, s. m. maple tree. L'érable, le bois d'érable est bon pour cela, maple wood is good for that.

ÉRADICATION, s. f. eradication; extirpation.

ÉRAFLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to scratch; to [illegible]

ÉRAFLURE, s. f. scratch.

ÉRAILLEMENT, s. m. (t. de médec.), a [illegible] the eye-lids.

ÉRAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Érailler [illegible] to fray, to scratch satin. Cette étoffe est [illegible] s'érailler, this stuff is liable to fray.

Elle avait les yeux éraillés, she had bloodshot [illegible] —eyes.

ÉRAILLURE, s. f. scratch; fraying.

ÉRATER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On a érate des [illegible] pour voir s'ils pouvaient vivre sans rate, some [illegible] had their spleen cut out, to try if they could live [illegible] Voyez Dérate.

(Fig.) C'est un érate, he is a sharp, cunning, [illegible] man.

ÈRE, s. f. era; epoch.

ÉRÈBE, s. m. (t. de mythologie), Erebus; [illegible] regions.

ÉRECTEUR, adj. s. m. (t. d'anat.), erector.

ÉRECTION, s. f. erection; erecting.

ÉREINTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Vous l'avez [illegible] you have broken his back. Il s'est éreinté, he [illegible] back. Vous travaillez trop, vous vous éreintez, you [illegible] too hard, you kill yourself—you exhaust yourself. Je suis éreinté de fatigue, I am knocked up—I am [illegible] with fatigue.

ÉRÉMITIQUE, adj. Vie érémitique, [illegible] secluded—life.

ÉRÉSIPÉLATEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de médec.), [illegible] sipelatous.

ERYSIPÈLE, s. m. (t. de médec.), erysipelas.
ÉRETHISME, s. m. (t. de médec.), tension of the nous system.
ERGO (mot emprunté du Latin), therefore.
ERGO-GLU, sorte d'interj. (contraction de Ergo glu quunter aves, therefore, birds are caught with lime), ro, your conclusion amounts to nothing.
ERGOT, s. m. spur; talon. Voyez donc comme il se ent sur ses ergots, do look, see how he struts. (Maladie blé), smut.
ERGOTÉ, E, adj. spurred; (en parlant de blé, de), smutty.
ERGOTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to cavil; to dispute.
ERGOTEUR, s. m. } caviller; punctilious.
ERGOTEUSE, s. f. }
ÉRIGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to erect; to raise. vient de lui ériger une statue, they have lately erected ised a statue to him. On a l'intention d'ériger une se ici, they intend to erect—to build—a church here. Ériger un tribunal, to institute a court of justice. on a érigé cette terre en comté, the king erected that to into an earldom.
t'érige en critique, he sets up for a critic. Voulez-v donc vous ériger en censeur? do you pretend to erect self into a censor?
ERIGNE, } s. f. (instrument de chirurg.), a hook.
ERMIN, s. m. (droit de douane, d'entrée et de sortie le Levant). ermin.
ERMINETTE. Voyez Herminette.
ERMITAGE, s. m. hermitage; retreat. A hill in the ct. de la Drome which produces a very fine wine, "vin d'Ermitage."
ERMITE, s. m. hermit. Vivre comme un ermite, to very retired—secluded. Pâté d'hermite, walnuts gs. Quand le diable est vieux, il se fait ermite, makes saints of us.
RODER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to erode; to eat away.
ROSION, s. f. erosion; eating away.
ROTIQUE, adj. erotic, in love, amorous.
ROTOMANIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), delirium ero-RPÉTOLOGIE, s. f. erpetology; history of reptiles.
RRANT, E, wandering; errant. Il est errant on ne e, he is wandering no body knows where. Il mène errante, he leads a wandering life. Le Juif errant, wandering Jew. Un chevalier errant, a knight Les étoiles errantes, erratic stars. Imagination e, wandering imagination.
RRANT, s. m. wanderer.
RRATA, s. m. errata; list of errata, of mistakes.
RRATIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), irregular.
RRATUM, s. m. (pron. er-ra-tome), erratum.
RRE, s. f. rate; pace. Aller grand' erre, aller belle go at a great rate. (Fig.) Ce jeune homme va grand' l aura bientôt mangé son bien, that young man is very fast, he will soon squander his property. Aller mière les erres—d'une personne, to move in—to —the footsteps of a person. (T. de chasse), traces; de marine.) Augmenter, diminuer l'erre d'un vais- to increase, to reduce the velocity—the way of a Ce bâtiment n'a plus d'erre, this ship makes no w. Il a repris son erre, she is making way again.
REMENTS, s. m. (T. de jurisp.) Reprendre les nts d'une affaire, to resume the process of a case.
RER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to wander.
REUR, s. f. error; mistake. Tomber dans l'erreur, into error. Comment le tirer d'erreur? how are get him out of his error? Il faut qu'il y ait erreur erreur, there must be some error—some mistake. faites erreur, you are mistaken—you commit an Vous faites erreur de personne, you mistake—you taken as to—the person. Il y a erreur de fait, there stake—an error—as to the fact. Corrigez cette rrect that mistake. Vous croyez qu'il vous dit la erreur, il vous trompe, you think he tells you the you are mistaken, he deceives you. L'erreur des sens, illusion of the senses. Les folles erreurs de la jeunesse, the errors—the follies—of youth. Sauf erreur, bating all mistakes—error excepted.

ERRONNÉ, E, adj. erroneous; faulty.
ERS, s. m. (t. de bot.), ervum.
ERSE, adj. Langue Erse, Scandinavian—old Irish language.
ÉRUBESCENCE, s. f. erubescence; blushing.
ÉRUBESCENT, E, adj. erubescent; blushing; reddening.
ÉRUCTATION, s. f. eructation.
ÉRUCTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to eruct.
ÉRUDIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj., to teach; to make learned.
ÉRUDIT, s. m. erudite; scholar; learned man.
ÉRUDIT, E, adj. learned.
ÉRUDITION, s. f. erudition; learning.
ÉRUGINEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de médec.), eruginous, yellow.
ÉRUPTIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), eruptive.
ÉRUPTION, s. f. eruption; (t. de médec.), eruption, breaking out.
ÉRYSIPÈLE, s. m. Voyez Erésipèle.
ES (vieux mot contracté de dans les.) Maître es arts, master of arts. Es mains d'un tel, in the hands of so and so.
ESCABEAU, s. m. stool.
ESCABELLE, s. f. stool. (Fam.) Renver ses escabelles, to move one's furniture. Déranger les escabelles de quelqu'un, to interfere with the plans of a person, to put him out.
ESCACHE, s. f. (t. de sellier), scatch; an oval bit.
ESCADRE, s. f. fleet. Chef d'escadre, commander of a fleet—commodore.
ESCADRILLE, s. f. small division; small squadron.
ESCADRON, s. m. squadron; four troops. Chef d'escadron, Lieut. Colonel commanding a squadron. Il partagea sa troupe en deux escadrons, he divided his men into two troops.
ESCADRONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to go through the cavalry exercise.
ESCALADE, s. f. (t. milit.), escalade. Monter à l'escalade, to scale. On tenta l'escalade, they tried scaling the wall. Les soldats criaient, A l'escalade, the soldiers cried, Let us scale the walls. (T. de jurisp.) Entrer dans une maison à l'aide d'escalade, to enter into a house by scaling—by means of an escalade.
ESCALADER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to scale.
ESCALE, s. f. Faire escale dans un port, to put into a port.
ESCALIER, s. m. staircase, steps. Escalier à noyau, winding staircase. Grand escalier, main staircase. Petit escalier, private staircase. On avait pratiqué un escalier dans le mur, a staircase had been contrived within the wall. Escalier dérobé, a private staircase. Au haut de l'escalier, at the top of the staircase. Au bas de l'escalier, at the foot—the bottom—of the staircase. Il montait l'escalier, he was ascending the stairs—coming up stairs. Elle descendait l'escalier, she was coming down—down stairs. (T. de marine.) Escalier de commande, main ladder.
ESCALOPE, s. m. (t. de cuisine), veal cutlets.
ESCAMOTAGE, s. m. slight of hand tricks; conjuring.
ESCAMOTE, s. f. small cork ball used by conjurers.
ESCAMOTER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to conjure. (Voler, dérober.) Un filou lui escamota sa bourse, a swindler stole his purse from him. Ils emportaient tout ce qu'ils pouvaient escamoter, they carried away all they could pilfer—sharp. (T. milit.), to use lightly.
ESCAMOTEUR, s. m. conjurer; juggler.
ESCAMPATIVE, s. f. Vous faites des escampatives (des escampatives) pendant que je dors, you run away—and you play your pranks—while I sleep.
ESCAMPER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to run away; (fam.), to cut.
ESCAMPETTE, s. f. Prendre de la poudre d'escampette, to run away—to cut.

ESCAPADE, s. f. C'est une escapade d'écolier, it is a schoolboy's trick—prank. (T. de manége), fling.

ESCAPE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), apophygee, the lower part of the shaft of a column.

ESCARBOT, s. m. (t. d'entomol.), scarabee, beetle.

ESCARBOUCLE, s. f. carbuncle; garnet.

ESCARCELLE, s. f. (vieux mot), purse, (large leather purse worn outside formerly), pouch.

ESCARGOT, s. m. snail.

ESCARMOUCHE, s. f. skirmish. Nous avons eu une légère escarmouche, we have had a slight skirmish. Aller à l'escarmouche, to go skirmishing.

ESCARMOUCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to skirmish. On ne fit qu'escarmoucher, they only skirmished—it was only a skirmish. (Fig.) Ils escarmouchent toujours, they are always skirmishing—disputing.

ESCARMOUCHEUR, s. m. skirmisher.

ESCAROLE, s. f. sort of broad leaved endive.

ESCAROTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), escharotic; caustic.

ESCAROTIQUE, s. m. (t. de médec.), caustic; escharotic.

ESCARPE, s. f. (t. de fortific.), scarp, escarp.

ESCARPEMENT, s. m. sloping of an escarp; slope.

ESCARPÉ, E, adj. sharp; rough; steep.

ESCARPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cut (a rock, a mountain, the bank of a ditch) straight down.

ESCARPIN, s. m. dress shoe; thin and light shoe; pump. Mettre des escarpins, to put on pumps. (Fam.) Jouer de l'escarpin, to run away.

ESCARPOLETTE, s. f. swing. Se mettre à l'escarpolette, to get in—set on—a swing. (Fig., fam.) C'est une tête à l'escarpolette, he is a giddy fellow.

ESCARRE, s. f. (t. de médec.), scab; crust; eschar.

ESCART, s. m. (trou, ouverture), gap. Demander dix pas d'escart, to ask ten yards in advance.

ESCAVESADE, s. f. (T. de manége.) Donner une escavesade, to give a check with the cavesson.

ESCIENT, s. m. Je parle à bon escient, I speak knowingly—with knowledge of the matter. On l'a fait à mon escient, it was done with my knowledge.

ESCLANDRE, s. m. Il est arrivé un esclandre dans leur famille, there has happened something unpleasant—a shocking event in their family. Ne faites pas d'esclandre, make no noise about it. Il est venu faire un esclandre chez nous, he came and made a scene at our house.

ESCLAVAGE, s. m. slavery; (fig.), thraldom; fetters. (T. de joaillier), necklace.

ESCLAVE, s. m. f. slave. (Fig.) Il est esclave de ceux qui sont puissants, he is the slave of—basely submissive to—all those who have pawer. Il a une âme esclave, he is basely minded. Vous serez esclave, si vous entrez au service de cet homme-là, you will be a slave if you enter into that man's service. Il est esclave de sa parole, he is a slave to his word. C'est un métier d'esclave, it is downright slavery.

ESCLAVER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. to enslave; to fetter.

ESCLAVON, NE, s. m. f. Slavonian.

ESCLAVON, s. m. Slavonic language.

ESCLAVONIE, s. f. Slavonia.

ESCOBARD, s. m. deceitful man; false man; a shuffler.

ESCOBARDER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to deceive; to use deceit; to shuffle.

ESCOBARDERIE, s. f. shuffle; deceit.

ESCOFFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to do for one, to kill him. Il y en a eu trois ou quatre d'escoffiés, three or four were done for.

ESCOFFION, s. m. (vieux mot), sort of head-dress worn formerly by women of the lower class; coif.

ESCOGRIFFE, s. m. a sharper; a tall and lank fellow; a great noodle.

ESCOMPTE, s. m. (t. de commerce), discount. Il fait l'escompte, he discounts bills. Il m'a pris dix pour cent d'escompte, he charged me ten per cent. discount. Escompte en dehors, the sum paid down for discount.

ESCOMPTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to discount. Il m'a escompté quelques billets, he discounted a few bills for me.

ESCOMPTEUR, s. m. (t. de commerce), bill-broker.

ESCOPE, s. f. (t. de marine), scoop. Vider de l'eau avec une escope, to scoop out water.

ESCOPETTE, s. f. sort of rifle or gun in use formerly.

ESCOPETTERIE, s. f. firing; musketry.

ESCORTE, s. f. escort. La reine avait reçu des soldiers d'escorte, the queen had an escort of twenty men. On l'envoya à Paris sous bonne escorte, he was sent to Paris under safe escort—guard. Permettez-moi de vous servir de—de vous faire—escorte, allow me to be your escort. (T. de marine), convoy.

ESCORTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to escort. (T. de marine), to convoy.

ESCOUADE, s. f. (t. milit.), squad; small party.

ESCOURGÉE, s. f. a thick leather whip. Il a reçu une bonne escourgée, he had a thorough whipping.

ESCOURGEON, s. m. early barley.

ESCOURRE, s. m. (T. de marine.) Scie ecorre, back water!

ESCOUSSE, s. f. Prendre son escousse, to take a spring, a run, (before leaping).

ESCRIME, s. f. fencing; sword exercise. Maître d'escrime, fencing master. Salle d'escrime, fencing room.

ESCRIMER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. to fence. Ces deux hommes escriment l'un contre l'autre, these two men fence—are fencing together. (Fig.) Il est amusant de les voir escrimer l'un contre l'autre toutes les fois qu'ils se rencontrent, it is amusing to hear them daily wrangle every time they meet.

Il s'escrime mais sans effet, he toils hard—he exerts himself, but without result. S'escrimer des pieds et des mains, to struggle hard, to use hands and feet. L'un s'escrimait du bec, one defended himself with his beak. Et vous, vous vers? Oui, je m'en escrime quelquefois, to write verses? To be sure, I try sometimes. Il s'escrime à tout, he dabbles in every thing. S'escrimer contre un convict. S'escrimer des mâchoires, to eat with good appetite.

ESCRIMEUR, s. m. fencer; (fig.), disputant.

ESCROC, s. m. swindler; sharper.

ESCROQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Ils ne s'escroquèrent sa montre, they swindled him out of his watch. Il escroque tout le monde, he cheats—he swindles—everybody. Il n'y a pas d'étranger qu'il n'ait escroqué, there is not a stranger but he has cheated—taken in. Il escroque son dîner où il peut, he spunges for—begs his dinner—wherever he can.

ESCROQUERIE, s. f. swindling; cheating; rogery.

ESCROQUEUR, s. m. }
ESCROQUEUSE, s. f. } swindler.

ESCULENT, E, adj. esculent; good to eat.

ESPACE, s. m. space. Mesurer l'espace, to measure space. Vous ne laissez pas assez d'espace, you do not leave space—distance—enough. Il demande un congé de six ans, he asks a space—a term of six years. (T. d'imprimeur.) Mettre une espace, to space; to put in a space.

(Fig.) Cet homme est toujours dans les espaces imaginaires, that man is in the clouds—in the regions of air—he is ever dreaming.

ESPACEMENT, s. m. space; interval; (t. d'imprimerie), spaces.

ESPACER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to space; to dispose to place at proper intervals.

ESPADON, s. m. broad sword; (t. d'hist. nat.) sword-fish.

ESPADONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fight with the broadsword.

ESPAGNOL, s. m. }
ESPAGNOLE, s. f. } Spaniard.

ESPAGNOL, E, adj. Spanish.

ESPAGNOL, s. m. Spanish language; Spanish.

ESPAGNE, s. f. (t. de géog.), Spain.

ESPAGNOLETTE, s. f. sort of window fastening.

...re in France, probably come from Spain. (T. de drapier), ...ort of rattern.

ESPALIER, s. m. wall-trees. Fruit d'espalier, wall-...uit. (Ancien terme de marine), the rower who pulled ...ovie.

ESPALMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (T. de marine.) Espalmer un bâtiment, to clean the bottom of a ship; to ...y a ship.

ESPALMEUR, s. m. (t. de marine), calker.

ESPARCETTE, s. f. (t. d'agric.). Voyez Saintfoin.

ESPARS, s. m. (t. de marine), spars.

ESPÈCE, s. f. species; sort; kind. Ils ne sont pas le même espèce, they are not of the same species—sort ...kind. De quelle espèce de drap voulez-vous? what sort ...cloth do you wish? Je ne lui ai adressé aucune espèce reproches, I addressed him no sort—no kind of reproach. Quelle espèce d'homme nous amenez-vous? what sort—...uelle espèce d'homme nous amenez-vous? what sort—...ul of a man—do you bring us? Il en a de toute ...èce—de toutes les espèces, he has some of every kind. Espèce humaine, the human species. Il a une espèce ...alet de chambre, he has a sort of a valet. C'est un ...losophe de nouvelle espèce, he is a new sort—a new ...ries of philosopher. (T. de jurisp.), case.

ESPÈCES, s. f. pl. specie; coin. Payer en espèces, ...ay in specie. Ces espèces n'ont plus cours, that coin ...o longer current.

ESPÉRANCE, s. f. hope. Nous n'avons plus d'espé-...ce, we have no hope—no more any hope. J'avais ...érance de le voir, I had hope to see him. C'est un ...o homme de belle espérance, he is a youth of great ...ise. Il a trompé nos espérances, he disappointed ...expectations. Vivre d'espérance, to live on hope. ...ur des espérances, to have expectations (of fortune). ...eune homme est l'espérance de sa famille, that young ...n is the hope of his family.

ESPÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hope. Il espère ...récompense, he hopes for a reward. Je n'espère ...de lui, I expect nothing from him. J'espère le voir ...ain, I hope to see him to-morrow. Nous espérons ...ils reviendront bientôt, we hope that they will soon ...m. Espérez-vous qu'il revienne? do you hope—do ...expect—that he will return? Nous n'espérons plus ...guérisse, we no longer expect—hope for—his getting ...well. Je n'espère pas que vous le fassiez, I do not expect ...will do it. Je n'espère pas de le faire, I do not hope ...xpect—to do it. J'espère en Dieu, I hope in God. ...'espère qu'en lui, my only hope is in him.

ESPIÈGLE, adj. Cet enfant est espiègle, that child ...ull of tricks—frolicsome, mischievous.

ESPIÈGLE, s. m. f. wag. Viens ici, petit espiègle, ...e here, mischievous little fellow. C'est un tour ...piègle, it is a waggish trick—a child's trick.

ESPIÈGLERIE, s. m. a mischievous trick; a child's ...; fun; play; trick. Ces enfants sont pleins d'espiè-...ie, these children are full of fun.

ESPINGOLE, s. f. blunderbuss.

ESPION, s. m. spy. Napoléon avait des espions par-... Napoleon had spies everywhere. Cet homme ne ...roit pas en espions, that man is ill informed of what ...es.

ESPIONNAGE, s. m. espionage.

ESPIONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spy. Cet ...me espionne tout ce que l'on dit et fait, that man ...tells all that is said and done. Prenez garde, il vous ...ionne, mind him, he is a spy on you—he spies—he ...on—you.

ESPLANADE, s. f. esplanade; terrace.

ESPOIR, s. m. hope. Il a l'espoir d'être récompensé, ...ense—he has a hope—to be rewarded.

ESPONTON, s. m. half pike; (t. de marine), board-...pike.

ESPRINGALE, s. f. (t. de milit.), a sort of sling.

ESPRIT, s. m. (Esprit, substance incorporée), spirit. Dieu est un ...rit, God is a spirit. Le Saint Esprit, the Holy Ghost. ...Esprit de ténèbres, the spirit of darkness. Le malin ...rit, the evil spirit—the fiend. C'est l'Esprit Saint qui ...spire, the Holy Spirit inspires him. Un esprit im-...monde, an unclean spirit. L'esprit de Dieu n'est point en lui, the spirit of God is not in him. C'est là que sont les esprits bienheureux, there are the blessed.

On dit qu'il revient des esprits dans cette maison, they say there are spirits—ghosts—in that house. Il a peur des esprits, he is afraid of ghosts—of spirits. Esprit follet, goblin, elf.

L'esprit est plus noble que le corps, the spirit—the soul is nobler than the body. Il rendit son esprit à Dieu, he returned his soul to God. Rendre l'esprit, to give up one's breath—to breathe one's last—to die.

(Esprit, intelligence, facultés intellectuelles), mind. Il a l'esprit éclairé, he has an enlightened mind. Elle a l'esprit faible, she is weak-minded. Elle a l'esprit droit, she has an upright mind. Son esprit n'était pas cultivé, his mind was not cultivated—not polished. Il s'était emparé de son esprit, he had made himself master of his mind. Je suis bien dans son esprit, he thinks favourably of me—he has a good opinion of me. Ces livres lui ont gâté l'esprit, these books have corrupted his mind. Où avez-vous donc l'esprit? what are you thinking of? Il a perdu l'esprit, he has lost his wits. L'esprit lui a tourné, his mind became disordered—deranged. Cet homme à l'esprit aux talons, that man never thinks of what he says. Il a de l'esprit naturel, mais pas d'éducation, he has natural abilities, but no education. C'est un des meilleurs esprits de l'assemblée, he is one of the best heads of the assembly. C'est un bon esprit, he is a sensible man—a well regulated mind. C'était un pauvre esprit, his was a poor head. Un esprit fort, a free-thinker; a sceptic. Bel esprit. Voyez Beau.

(Esprit, vivacité de conception, talent.) C'est un homme de beaucoup d'esprit, he is a very clever man—he has great parts—powers. Qu'il a d'esprit, how clever he is! C'est un esprit bouché, he is a stupid fellow—he is incapable of understanding any thing. Il a l'esprit borné, he is narrow minded. C'est un esprit lent, paresseux, he has a sluggish mind. Il n'y a point d'esprit dans ce livre, there is no talent—no wit—in this book. Il met de l'esprit à tout, he throws wit into every thing. Faire de l'esprit, to be witty—to be facetious—to make jokes. C'est un esprit brillant, he is a brilliant genius.

(Esprit, humeur, disposition.) Il a l'esprit gai, he has a cheerful mind—disposition. C'est un esprit doux et facile, she has an easy and gentle disposition. C'est un esprit remuant, he is a restless person. Elle a l'esprit de rebours, she is a cross-grained person. Il y avait parmi eux un esprit de vertige, there was among them a sort of infatuation.

(Esprit, idées, sentiments.) Il n'a pas l'esprit de sa classe, he has not the spirit—the mind—of his class. Avoir l'esprit du monde, to understand the manners—the ways—of the world. L'esprit national se perd dans l'absence, national spirit is lost in absence. L'esprit de corps entretient l'union, the esprit de corps (sympathy in sentiments, similarity of opinion in matters of rights, &c.), maintains union. Il faut avoir l'esprit de son état, one must have ideas—notions—consistent with one's station in life. Il a l'esprit des affaires, he understands business. Il n'a pas l'esprit de son âge, he has not the spirit of his age—the habits, the ways natural to his age.

(Sens.) Vous n'avez pas saisi l'esprit de ce passage, you have not caught the meaning—the sentiment—of this passage.

Esprit (t. de chimie), spirit. Esprit de vin, spirit of wine. (T. de grammaire Grecque.) Esprit doux, soft breathing; esprit rude, hard breathing. (T. de toilette), bird of paradise.

ESPRITS, s. m. plur. minds. Il voulait calmer les esprits, il les irritait, he wished to calm the minds, instead of that he irritated them. Comment rappeler ces esprits égarés? how can we recall these wandering minds?

La peur glace les esprits, fright chills the spirits. A-t-elle repris ses esprits? has she recovered her senses? Nous avons eu bien de la peine à lui faire revenir les esprits, we have had much trouble to make her recover her senses—come to herself again. Perdre ses esprits, to faint.

Donnez-moi le temps de reprendre mes esprits, give me time to recover—to come to myself—a little. Il reprit bientôt ses esprits, he came to himself soon.

ESQUICHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jeu de cartes), to finesse; to play a low card to disguise holding a high one. S'esquicher, to shuffle.

ESQUIF, s. m. skiff; boat.

ESQUILLE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), splinter; a fragment of a broken bone. Il est sorti une esquille de la plaie, a splinter came out of the wound.

ESQUINANCIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), quinsy.

ESQUINE, s. f. (t. de manége), the back of a horse. (T. de médec.) Voyez Squine.

ESQUIPOT, s. m. money box.

ESQUISSE, s. f. (pron. ècze-kice), sketch; outline; draught. Il m'en a donné une légère esquisse, he gave me a slight sketch of it. Voici l'esquisse de son poème, this is the outline—the draught of his poem.

ESQUISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sketch. Esquisser un paysage, to sketch a landscape. (Fig.) Cet ouvrage n'est qu'esquissé, the work is only sketched—it is only a sketch of the work.

ESQUIVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. ècze-ki-vé), to avoid, to escape; to turn away from. Esquiver une personne, to avoid—to shun a person. S'esquiver, to escape; to give the slip; to steal away.

ESSAI, s. m. trial; essay. Nous allons faire l'essai de la machine, we are going to try—to make a trial of—the machine. Je n'en ai pas encore fait l'essai, I have not yet tried it—made a trial of it. J'ai ce cheval à l'essai, I have this horse on trial. Ce tableau est son coup d'essai, this picture is his first trial. Cet essai donne de grandes espérances, this trial—this first trial—gives great hopes.

Prendre des essais de vin, to take samples of wine.

Il a écrit un essai sur la peinture, he has written an essay on painting.

ESSAIM, s. m. swarm; (fig.), multitude; swarm.

ESSAIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to swarm.

ESSANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rince in cold water.

ESSARTEMENT, s. m. (t. d'agric.), grubbing; clearing.

ESSARTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to grub, to clear (rough ground).

ESSAYER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Essayer un cheval, to try a horse. Essayer un fusil, to try a gun. Essayer un habit, des bottes, to try on a coat, boots. Voulez-vous que je vous essaie? shall I try on your coat? Essayer le goût du public, to test the public taste. Essayer de l'or, de l'argent, to test—to assay gold, silver.

J'ai essayé de le persuader, mais en vain, I tried to convince him, but in vain. Essayez de marcher, try to walk. Il s'essayait à nager, he was endeavouring to swim—trying his ability in swimming. Il est sûr de le faire, il s'y est essayé, he is sure to do it, he has tried it before. Prenez cet homme à votre service, essayez-en deux ou trois mois, take that man into your service, make a trial of him for two or three months. Voulez-vous que nous nous essayions à la course? shall we try which runs fastest? Je n'en veux pas, j'en ai essayé, I do not want any, I have tried them—I know what they are.

Essayez-y, well, try!

ESSAYEUR, s. m. assayer.

ESSE, s. f. linch-pin; (t. d'archit.), an iron brace or tie in the shape of an S; (en général), hook.

ESSENCE, s. f. essence. (T. de parfumeur.) Essence de roses, essence of roses. (Eaux et forêts.) Un bois d'essence de chêne, a wood of oaks. Quelles sont les essences qui composent la forêt? what are the different species of trees which compose the forest?

ESSENTIEL, LE, adj. essential.

ESSENTIEL, s. m. essential. L'essentiel est que vous veniez, the essential—the essential point—is that you should come.

ESSENTIELLEMENT, adv. essentially.

ESSETTE, s. m. cooper's hammer.

ESSEULÉ, E, adj. deserted; left alone.

ESSIEU s. m. axle-tree. Des essieux, axle-trees.

ESSOR, s. m. flight. L'aigle prend l'essor, poral an essor, the eagle takes its flight. (Fig.) Ce jeune homme a pris son essor, that young man has shaken off all restraint—has taken his flight. Dans son essor, il s'élève, in his high flight—in his soaring—he forgets himself. Donner l'essor à son génie, to give freedom to—full play to—career to—to leave unshackled—one's genius. Ne l'arrêtez pas dans son heureux essor, do not stop him in his noble flight—happy range.

ESSORAGE, s. m. rising; soaring on high.

ESSORANT, E, adj. flying; soaring.

ESSORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dry, by exposing in the air.

ESSORILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to crop the ears of a dog. (Fig.) Qui vous a essorillé de cette manière? who has crept you in this manner?

ESSOUFFLEMENT, s. m. loss of breath.

ESSOUFLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Cet escalier m'a essoufflé, these stairs have put me out of breath. Je me suis essoufflé en courant, I got out of breath—I lost my breath—in running. Il était tout essoufflé, he was quite out of breath.

ESSUL, s. m. drying ground.

ESSUIE-MAIN, s. m. (des essuie-mains), towel, round towel (hung up for people to wipe their hands upon).

ESSUYER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to wipe. Essuyez cette table, wipe this table. Vous n'avez pas bien essuyé ces verres, you have not wiped these glasses well. Essuyez vos larmes, wipe off—dry—your tears. Allez essuyer ses larmes, go and try to console her—to dry her tears. Donnez-moi quelque chose, que je m'essuie les mains, give me something to wipe my hands. Essuyez la sueur de votre front, wipe off the perspiration from your head.

Il a plu toute la nuit, mais le soleil a bientôt essuyé les chemins, it has rained all night, nevertheless the sun has soon dried the roads.

(Souffrir, éprouver.) Nous avons essuyé une rude tempête, we met with a great tempest. Ne vous exposez pas à essuyer un refus, do not expose yourself to a refusal. Nous avons essuyé des pertes, des malheurs, we have experienced—sustained—losses, misfortunes. Dans le monde il vous faudra essuyer bien des désagréments, in the world you will have to bear—to encounter—with many unpleasant things.

EST, s. m. (pron. ècze-te), east. La province s'étend de l'est à l'ouest, the province runs from east to west. La maison est à l'est, his house lies in the east. Il souffle un vent d'est, an easterly wind is blowing. Le vent est à l'est, the wind is easterly—is in the east. Nous faisions route vers l'est, we were running in an easterly direction—we were going eastwards. Avez-vous été dans l'Est? have you travelled in the East?

EST, Il, 3me personne du verbe Être, (pron. il è), he is.

ESTACADE, s. f. stoccade; (dans un port de mer), boom. (In this word and following down to Estrapade, prononcez ècze-ta-cade, ècze-ta-fette, &c.)

ESTAFETTE, s. f. express; courier; messenger.

ESTAFIER, s. m. armed foot-man. (Fam.) Il est accompagné de quatre grands estafiers, four tall ill-looking fellows attended him.

ESTAFILADE, s. f. cut; slash. Il lui fit un estafilade au visage, he gave him a slash in the face. Il a une estafilade à votre manteau, your cloak has a great tear—rent.

ESTAFILADER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il l'a estafilade le visage, he gave him a slash—a gash—in the face. Je me suis estafilade en me rasant, I gave myself a cut in shaving.

ESTAME, s. f. worsted.

ESTAMINET, s. m. smoking room, and public house, (now) a divan.

ESTAMPE, s. f. engraving; print.

ESTAMPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stamp; to print.

ESTAMPILLE, s. f. stamp, (t. de commerce, mark.

ESTAMPILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stamp; to mark.

ESTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to appear, to stand. (Fig.), to hesitate, to pause at a thing.

ESTÈRE, s. f. sort of mat made of rush made in Provence and in Italy.

ESTERLIN, s. m. (t. d'orfèvre), sterling; a weight [beautiful. of 28½ grains.

ESTÉTIQUE, s. f. æsthetics; the sentiment of what is ESTIMABLE, adj. estimable; worthy.

ESTIMATEUR, s. m. appraiser. Il faudra appeler ces estimateurs, we shall be obliged to call in appraisers. (Sens moral.) C'était un juste estimateur du mérite, he was a just appreciator of merit.

ESTIMATIF, adj. m. (t. d'art, de commerce.) Il a fait un devis estimatif des dépenses, he has drawn up an estimate of the expenses.

ESTIMATION, s. f. estimate; valuation. (Sens moral), esteem, estimation. [of judging.

ESTIMATIVE, s. f. (t. de philos.), judgment; faculty

ESTIME, s. f. esteem; favourable opinion. J'ai beaucoup d'estime pour lui, I have much esteem for him. Il s'estime de tous, he enjoys the esteem of all—he is esteemed of all. C'est un homme perdu d'estime et de réputation, he is without esteem and character. La musique était en grande estime chez ce peuple, music was held in great estimation among these people.

(T. de marine), reckoning; dead reckoning.

ESTIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (apprécier), to value; to appraise. Nous avons fait estimer les meubles et la maison, we have had the furniture and the house appraised—valued. Combien estimez-vous ce diamant? at how much do you value this diamond? Les chevaux anglais sont très-estimés, English horses are much valued. On estime peu la bière de France, French beer is not thought much of. Ce jeune homme s'estime trop, this young man values himself too much—has too high an opinion of himself. Je m'estime heureux de vous avoir été utile, I consider myself fortunate in having been useful to you.

(Avoir une opinion favorable.) Je ne vous aime ni vous estime, I neither love nor esteem you. Elle est fort estimée, she is much esteemed. Il se fait estimer partout, he gets the esteem of all every where. Nous nous estimons réciproquement, we esteem each other—one another.

(Croire, présumer.) Il estimait cette place imprenable, he presumed this place was impregnable. Nous estimons qu'ils arriveront demain, we think—we reckon—that they will arrive to-morrow.

ESTIVAL, E, adj. Des fleurs estivales, estival, summer flowers. (Estivaux is not in use; d'été must be substituted. Les fruits d'été, estival fruits.)

ESTOC, s. m. (pron. ècc-tok), long pointed sword. Parler upper d'estoc et de taille, to cut and thrust. Parler estoc et de taille, to speak at random. (T. d'eaux et forêts.) Couper un arbre à blanc d'estoc, to cut a tree down to the ground. Faire une coupe à blanc d'estoc, to cut down trees without leaving any one standing. Être ruiné à blanc d'estoc, to be utterly ruined. Dites-vous cela de votre estoc? do you say that of yourself? Faire estoc, to slip the upper card under the others. Il vient de bon estoc, he comes from a good stock, family. Ses talents lui viennent de son estoc, his wealth has regularly descended to him.

ESTOCADE, s. f. thrust; (fig.), sudden attack.

ESTOCADER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to thrust; to give a thrust. (Fig.) Il y a plaisir à les voir estocader, it is amusing to see them disputing.

ESTOMAC, s. m. (pron. ece-to-ma), stomach. Il a bon estomac, his stomach is good. Ne vous chargez pas d'estomac, do not load your stomach so. Il a mal à l'estomac, he has a pain in his chest. Il lui donna un coup de poing dans le creux de l'estomac, he struck him a blow with his fist in the pit of the stomach. Il a un estomac d'autruche, he has the stomach of an ostrich. Estomac d'une poularde, the breast of a fowl. Où trouverez-vous un estomac qui ait plus de force que le mien? where will you find more powerful lungs than mine?

ESTOMAQUER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il s'est estomaqué de ma réponse, he took offence at my answer. Il en est tout estomaqué, he is quite offended at it.

ESTOMPE, s. f. stump. Dessin à l'estompe, estompe, stump-drawing. Dessiner à l'estompe, to draw with stumps.

ESTOMPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stump in.

ESTOUFFADE, s. f. (t. de cuisine empruntè de l'Italien "istuffato"). Des pigeons à l'estouffade, steamed pigeons.

ESTRADE, s. f. estrade, a place raised from the ground. Le trône était placé sur une estrade, the throne was placed on a dais—a raised platform. (Fig. et fam.) Battre l'estrade, to go and reconnoitre—to procure intelligence. Batteur d'estrade, scout.

ESTRAGON, s. m. tarragon; (a herb used in salad).

ETRAMAÇON s. m. double-edged sword; the edge of the sword. Il a reçu un coup d'estramaçon, he received a sword cut.

ESTRAMAÇONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to slash; to cut and slash.

ESTRAPADE, s. f. strappado. Donner l'estrapade à un criminel, to strappado a culprit, (a punishment consisting in hoisting a man to the top of a beam, and letting him drop). Planter l'estrapade, to put up the beam for the strappado. (Fig.) Se donner l'estrapade, to torture one's brains.

ESTRAPADER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to strappado; to torture.

ESTRAPASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de manége), to over-ride, to over-work a horse (in the riding-school).

ESTROPIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to maim, to disable. Un coup de feu l'estropia, a shot maimed him—disabled him—for ever. Il est estropié, he is maimed, disabled. On a renvoyé tous les estropiés, all that are disabled have been dismissed. Il est estropié du bras droit, he is lame in the right arm. Une paralysie l'a entièrement estropié, a paralytic stroke has disabled him of—deprived him of—the use of his limbs. (Fig.) Vous estropiez ce passage, you mutilate, you mangle this passage. Il estropie sa propre langue, he murders his mother tongue. Le nom est estropié, the name is altered—mangled.

ESTURGEON, s. m. sturgeon.

ESULE, s. f. (t. de bot.), spurge; esula.

ET, conj. (pron. è), and. Nous chantons et nous dansons, we sing and dance. Et véritablement on ne saurait le nier, and truly, it could not be denied. Sans force et sans vertu, without strength and virtue. Il était et mon frère et mon ami, he was both my brother and my friend.

ET CÆTERA, (pron. ète-cé-té-ra).

ETABLAGE, s. m. stabling; stablage. Il m'a fait payer six sous par tête d'établage, he charged me sixpence a beast—a horse for stabling.

ÉTABLE, s. f. stable. Étable à cochons, pigsty.

ÉTABLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stable. Il y a de quoi établer vingt vaches et cinquante moutons, there is stabling enough for twenty cows and fifty sheep.

ETABLI, s. m. (t. de métier), bench. Établi de tailleur, shop-board. Établi de boutique, counter.

ÉTABLIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir). Établissez bien les fondements de votre édifice, lay well—establish firmly—the foundation of your edifice. Le mur est établi sur le roc, the wall is established—is firmly settled—planted—on the rock. Cette table n'est pas bien établie sur ses pieds, this table does not stand firm upon its legs.

Établir sa maison, to establish, to set up one's household. Il a établi un commerce considérable à Paris, he has established—set up a large commercial house in Paris. Où allez-vous établir votre demeure? where do you intend to establish—to fix—to set up—your abode? Ils sont allés s'établir à Paris, they have gone to settle in Paris. Établir une manufacture, une imprimerie, to set up—to establish—a manufactory—a printing office. Sur quoi établissez-vous donc cette grande réputation? upon what do you ground—do you rest—that high reputation? Il a établi tous ses enfants, he settled—he established—he has provided for—all his children. Sa fille est bien établie à Paris, his daughter is well settled—well married—in Paris. Il s'établit dans un fauteuil et s'endormit, he settled himself in an arm-chair and fell asleep. La correspondance s'est bientôt établie, the correspondence was soon established. Sur quoi établissez-vous ce raisonnement? what do you ground—rest—this reasoning upon? Etablissons d'abord les faits, first of all let us lay down—state—facts. Etablir des impôts, to lay on—impose—taxes. Respectons les lois établies, let us respect the laws that are in force—the established laws. Qui vous a établi juge de nos affaires? who has constituted you—appointed you—a judge in our concerns? Il établit le gouvernement impérial en 1805, he established—instituted—the imperial government in 1805. Etablir une nouvelle doctrine, to inculcate—to lay down—a new doctrine. Ce mot est établi, that word is established—is in use. Le vent s'est établi au nord, the wind is fixed—settled—in the north. Cela est établi, il n'y a plus à en douter, this is a settled matter—an established point, there is no doubt about it.

ÉTABLISSEMENT, s. m. L'établissement de cette manufacture a dû coûter beaucoup, the establishing—the forming of this factory must have cost a great deal. Il a réussi dans l'établissement de sa fortune, he succeeded in establishing his fortune. L'établissement d'une garnison devint nécessaire, it became necessary to establish a garrison. Nous eûmes bientôt terminé l'établissement des quartiers, we had soon quartered our troops. On ne permet pas l'établissement d'aucun étalage dans les rues, stalls are not allowed to be stationary in the streets. Nous avons visité les établissements publics, we have visited the public establishments.

Il a beaucoup travaillé pour l'établissement de sa famille, he worked hard to settle—to provide for—to establish—his family. Il lui a procuré un bel établissement, he procured him a good situation. Il s'occupe de l'établissement de sa fille, he is thinking about marrying—settling—his daughter. Il a été heureux dans l'établissement de ses filles, he settled—married—his daughters happily.

(T. de marine.) Établissement d'un port, the time at which it is high water.

ÉTAGE, s. m. story, floor. Ils occupent une maison à cinq étages, they live in a house of five stories. Je loge au second étage, I lodge on the second floor—up two pair of stairs. Le premier étage, the first floor. Cette maison n'a qu'un étage, that house has a ground floor only.

(Fig.) Coiffure à double étage, a head-dress rising in two stages. C'est un sot à triple étage, he is a downright fool. Elle avait un menton à triple étage, she had a treble chin. Il y avait là des gens de tout étage, there were there people of all grades. Les gens de bas étage, low people.

ÉTAGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Étager les cheveux, to cut the hair in ridges.

ÉTAI, s. m. Proprement, support. (T. de marine), stay. Le grand étai, the main stay.

ÉTAIM, s. m. carded wool.

ÉTAIN, s. m. pewter. Vaisselle d'étain, pewter plates. Etain en feuille, tin foil.

ÉTAL, s. m., plur. Etaux, stall.

ÉTALAGE, s. m. (t. de commerce), laying out goods on a stall. Il n'a pas assez de place pour l'étalage de ses marchandises, he has not room sufficient for the laying out—the display—of his goods. Il n'a de bon que l'étalage, he has nothing good but the show. Tout cela n'est de l'étalage, all that is mere show—is good only for show.

(Fig.) Il fait un grand étalage de ses richesses, he makes a great display of his riches. Quel étalage d'argenterie, what a display of plate!

ÉTALAGISTE, s. m. (t. de comm.), stall-keeper.

ÉTALER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de comm.), to unpack goods; to lay them out on a stall. Il est défendu d'étaler les dimanches, stall-keepers are not allowed to bring their goods out on Sundays. Etaler sa marchandise, to display one's goods. (Fig.) Il étale un grand luxe, he displays—makes a display of great luxury. Il aime à étaler son érudition, he is fond of displaying—making a display, a show of his learning. Etaler ses plantes au soleil, lay out—spread out—these plants in the sun. Il aime à s'étaler sur un sofa, he likes to lie at full length—to stretch himself out—on a sofa. Ils étaient étalés sur l'herbe, they were lying on the grass. Il s'est étalé tout de son long par terre, he lay sprawling at full length on the ground.

ÉTALE, adj. (t. de marine.) La mer est étale, the sea is now slack water. Le vent est étale, the wind is steady.

ÉTALIER, s. m. butcher's boy or man; one who serves at a stall.

ÉTALINGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to clinch, to bend the cable.

ÉTALON, s. m. stallion.

ÉTALON, s. m. standard (of weights and measures).

ÉTALONNAGE, s. m. stamping, marking of weights and measures.

ÉTALONNEMENT,

ÉTALONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stamp, to mark weights and measures.

(T. de haras), to cover.

ÉTALONNEUR, s. m. assayer.

ÉTAMAGE, s. m. tinning; lining with tin.

ÉTAMBOT, s. m. (t. de marine), stern-post.

ÉTAMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to tin. Etamer une glace, to foliate, to silver a looking-glass.

ÉTAMEUR, s. m. tinman.

ÉTAMINE, s. f. sort of woollen or silk stuff; bolting cloth. Passer par l'étamine, to bolt; to sift. (Fig.) Passer par l'étamine, to be sifted; to be scrutinized—to be examined. (T. de marine), bunting.

ÉTAMINE, s. f. (t. de bot.), stamen; stamina.

ÉTAMINIER, s. m. bunting manufacturer.

ÉTAMPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to punch.

ÉTAMURE, s. f. tinning; silvering; foliating.

ÉTANCHE, adj. (t. de marine), Navire étanche, a tight ship; a ship which does not take in water.

ÉTANCHEMENT, s. m. staunching; stopping.

ÉTANCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On ne pouvait étancher le sang, they could not stop—stanch—the blood. Il y avait un courant d'eau qu'on ne pouvait étancher, there was a stream of water which could not be stopped—dried up. Etancher un sec, to quench one's thirst. (Fig.) Jamais on ne pourrait étancher ainsi des honneurs qui le consument, it would be impossible to quench—to satisfy—that thirst for honours which consumes him. (T. de marine.) Etancher une voie d'eau, to stop a leak. Le vaisseau est étanché, the ship is now water-tight—free from water.

ÉTANÇON, s. m. stanchion; prop; stay.

ÉTANÇONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to prop; to support.

ÉTANG, s. m. pond. Vider, pêcher un étang, to drain a pond. Peupler un étang, to stock a pond. Ouvrir la bonde d'un étang, to open the sluice of—to let out the water of—a pond.

ÉTANT, p. prés. Voyez Être.

ÉTANGUE, s. f. large nippers.

ÉTAPE, s. f. (t. milit.), soldiers' allowance (when on a march). Il fournit l'étape aux soldats qui passent par ici, he has contracted to supply food to the soldiers who pass by this town. Il a reçu son étape et compte se mettre en route demain, he received his allowance in money. L'étape est marquée d'ici, the resting-place is still a good way off. (Fig.) Brûler l'étape, is to go on without stopping. Donner un soldat son étape, to give a soldier his route—to send him into the other world. (T. de commerce), market; mart. Le Hâvre est une ville d'étape, Havre is a staple town.

ÉTAPIER, s. m. the furnisher of provisions to soldiers on their march; surtler.

ÉTAT, s. m. Il était dans un triste état, he was in a sad state—condition. Ils sont en pitoyable état, they are in a pitiful state. Il est dans un état à faire pitié, he is in a pitiable state. Nous ne sommes pas dans un état à faire cette dépense, we are not in a position—circum-to run into that expense. Il est hors d'état de vous servir, he is not in a position to serve you—it is quite out of his power to serve you. Il est dans un état de souffrance, he is in an ailing state. Mourir en état de grâce, to die in a state of grace. Il a envoyé s'informer de l'état de votre santé, he has sent to inquire after your health. Comment va l'état de votre santé? how is your health? L'état de sa santé s'améliore, the state of his health is improving.

La maison est-elle en bon état? is the house in good repair? Il faut la mettre en bon état, it must be put in a fit state. Mettre une place en état de défense, to put a place in state of defence. Ayez soin que tout soit en état, take care that everything be in a proper state. Mettez-le en état de le faire, enable him—put him in a state to do it. Vous m'avez mis hors d'état d'y aller, you took it out of my power to go—you disabled me from going. Tenir une chose en état, to keep a thing ready—to keep a thing in its place. Tout demeure en état, everything remained the same. A Dieu ne plaise qu'il meure, car il n'est pas en état, God forbid that he should die now, for he is not in a fit state. Se mettre en état, to prepare one's self. L'état de nature, the natural state. L'état de société, the social state. Voilà l'état de la question, that is the state of the question.

Faire état. Nous faisons état de partir demain, we propose—we intend—to set off to-morrow. Nous faisons peu d'état de cet homme, we consider that man very little—we hold him of little consequence. Je fais peu état de ses menaces, I care little for his threats. Faites état de cette somme, rely on—depend upon—that sum.

Tenir un grand état de maison, to keep a large establishment. Il était obligé de tenir un état, he was obliged to live in state—to keep state.

L'état des officiers de la maison d'un prince, the list of the officers of the household of a prince. Il est sur l'état des pensions, he is on the pension-list. Donnez-moi l'état de vos dépenses, furnish me with a statement—an account—of your expenses. J'en ai fait un état, I made a statement of it. Etat de la France en 1815, an account of the state of France in 1815. Etat d'armement (t. de marine), list of the crew; statement of the ship's armament. Etat de service, an official statement of a soldier's or seaman's services.

Vivre selon son état, to live according to one's estate—to live in station in society. L'état de mariage est le plus heureux, the married state is the happiest. Il a embrassé l'état de son père, he has embraced his father's profession—he follows. Il avait du goût pour l'état militaire, he had a taste for the military state—profession. On lui dispute son état, they dispute as to his civil state—right. Il s'agit de mon état, my civil rights are at stake.

(T. d'admin.) Actes de l'état civil, the registers of the civil, of the municipality. Officiers de l'état civil, civil officers, municipal officers; registrar of births, marriages, and deaths.

ETAT, s. m. (t. de polit. et d'admin.), state; government. L'état monarchique, the monarchical state. Servir l'état, to serve the state—one's country—one's government. Il parlous d'affaires d'Etat, we are speaking of state affairs. (Finan.) La moindre chose est pour lui une affaire d'état, the least thing is for him an affair of state—a important affair. La raison d'état ne l'a pas voulu, state reasons did not allow it. Faire un coup d'état, a great political measure—a great stroke. Ce coup d'état lui fit perdre la couronne, that political stroke—stroke of state policy—that coup d'état—cost him the crown. C'était un grand homme d'Etat, he was a great statesman. Ministre, secrétaire d'Etat, minister of state, secretary of state. Conseiller d'Etat, councillor of state. Criminel d'Etat, a state-criminal. Crime d'état, state-crime.

Le Tiers-Etat, the Commons. Les Etats Généraux, the States-General. Les Etats étaient une assemblée des trois ordres du royaume, the States-General were an assembly of the three orders. Les Etats se tenaient à Blois, the States-General were held at Blois. Congédier les Etats, to dismiss the States. Pays d'Etats, the Provinces of France which managed their own taxes independently of government. Etats provinciaux, state-assemblies which attended to the affairs of one province only. Député aux Etats, a member of the States. Les cahiers des Etats, papers delivered to the Députés by their constituents, containing their instructions.

L'Etat Ecclésiastique, the Roman States; the States of the Church. Cela ne se voit pas dans les Etats de sa Majesté, that is not to be seen in his Majesty's dominions. Etendre ses Etats, to extend one's dominions. La France est un grand Etat, France is a large country—a great State. Les Etats de Venise, the Venetian States. Les Etats Unis d'Amérique, the United States of America.

(T. milit.) Etat-major, the staff. Chef d'état-major, chief of the staff. Officier d'état-major, staff officer. Etat-major d'un bâtiment de guerre, the officers of a man of war. Aller faire signer un ordre à l'état-major, to go and get an order signed at the staff office. Etat-major des places, officers and non-commissioned officers commanding and employed in fortified places.

ÉTAU, s. m. vice; screw. Etau à main, hand-screw.

ÉTAUX. Voyez Etal.

ÉTAYEMENT, } s. m. propping; supporting.
ÉTAIEMENT, }

ÉTAYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to prop; to support.

ÉTÉ, s. m. summer. Nous étions alors en été, we were then in summer. L'été est la plus belle saison, summer is the finest season. Dans les jours d'été, in the summer days. (Fig.) Il est dans son été, he is in the strength of his age.

ÉTEIGNOIR, s. m. extinguisher.

ÉTEINDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 7me conj. Voyez Craindre.

To extinguish, to put out. Le soleil a éteint le feu, the sun has extinguished—put out—the fire. Eteignez cette lumière, put out this light. Le feu s'est éteint, the fire has gone out. Prenez garde que le feu ne s'éteigne, take care lest the fire should go out. Son amour s'est bientôt éteint, his love soon died away. Son ardeur s'éteint, his ardour is dying away—is passing off. Ce vieillard s'éteint, the old man is dying—is going off. Sa voix s'éteignit, his voice died away. Elle s'éteignit doucement dans les bras de ses enfants, she went off—she died—gently in the arms of her children. La souffrance a éteint l'éclat de ses yeux, suffering dimmed the brightness of her eyes. Elle avait les yeux éteints, her eyes were dull—dimmed. Elle nous parlait d'une voix éteinte, she spoke with faint—dying voice. Eteindre l'ardeur de la fièvre, to abate—to quench the ardour of fever. Eteindre une rébellion, to extinguish a rebellion. Rien ne pouvait éteindre son ressentiment, nothing could appease—calm—extinguish his resentment. Eteindre la mémoire d'une chose, to abolish—to smother—the remembrance of a thing. Ils auraient voulu éteindre cette race impie, they wished to extinguish that impious race. La race est éteinte, the race is now extinct. Leur famille s'éteignit, their family became extinct. Eteindre une rente, to redeem an annuity. Eteindre une dette, to extinguish—to pay off—a debt.

(T. de métier, d'art.) Eteindre les lumières d'un tableau, to subdue the lights of a picture. Eteindre de la chaux, to slake lime.

ÉTENDAGE, s. m. drying apparatus; drying room.

ÉTENDARD, s. m. (dans la cavalerie), ensign. Porte-étendard, ensign; standard-bearer. Déployer un étendard, to hoist up colours—a flag. J'ai combattu sous ses étendards, I fought under his banner—his colours. Lever l'étendard de la révolte, to raise the standard of revolt.

ÉTENDOIR, s. m. printer's peel; drying room.

ÉTENDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 3me conj. Voyez Rendre Etendre du beurre sur du pain, to spread butter upon bread. Étendre une emplâtre, to spread a plaster. Étendre de la toile à sécher, to spread out linen to dry. Elle étendait son linge sur les haies, she was spreading out her linen to dry on the hedges. Il y avait là du linge étendu, there was linen laid out to dry. (Fam.) Il s'entend à étendre le parchemin, he understands how to fill up skins (of parchment)—how to draw out legal deeds to great length.

Ce tapis n'est pas bien étendu, this carpet is not properly stretched out. J'étendis mon manteau sur le plancher pour me coucher, I laid my cloak—I spread it—on the floor to sleep upon it. En étendant trop ses troupes, il s'était affaibli, he had weakened himself by extending too much his line of battle. Vous avez étendu le sens de ce mot, you have extended the meaning of this word. Vous avez étendu ses pouvoirs, you have extended his powers. Mon pouvoir ne s'étend pas jusque là, my power does not extend—go—reach so far. Sa propriété s'étend jusqu'à la rivière, his land extends to—reaches as far as—the river. Vous vous êtes joliment étendu de ce côté-là, you have famously increased—enlarged—your property on that side. (Fig.) Vous vous êtes trop étendu sur ce sujet, you dwelt too lengthily on that subject. Comme il s'étendait sur ses louanges, how he expatiated on—how he dwelt upon—how lengthily he spoke of—his praises. Napoléon avait étendu les limites de la France, Napoleon had carried farther—removed—extended—the limits of France. (Fam.) Étendre la courroie, to stretch the strap, i. e. to stretch out—to extend one's privileges—advantages. Il a des secrets pour étendre la vie, he has secrets to extend—to prolong life. La vie de l'homme ne s'étend guères au delà de cent ans, the human life seldom extends—goes beyond one hundred years. Sa voix s'étend, his voice is getting more compass. La voix ne s'étendrait pas jusque-là, the voice would not reach so far.

Étendre les bras, to stretch out one's arms. Étendez la jambe, stretch out your leg. Étendre les ailes, to open—to extend one's wings. Étendez-vous un peu sur le sofa, cela vous reposera, lie down on the sofa a little while, it will rest you. Ils étaient étendus sur l'herbe, they were lying down on the grass. Dix mille hommes étaient étendus sans vie sur le champ de bataille, ten thousand men lay dead on the field of battle. On l'étendit sur un lit, they laid him on a bed. Étendez-vous bien, stretch yourself out. Ne vous étendez pas ainsi, cela n'est pas décent, do not sprawl so, it is not decent. D'un coup de poing, il l'étendit à ses pieds, with one blow of his fist, he laid him down—(fam.), he laid him sprawling—at his feet. Après un combat de cinq minutes, il étendit son ennemi sur le carreau—mort sur la place, after fighting for five minutes, he laid his enemy dead at his feet.

De cette fenêtre la vue s'étend sur un joli paysage, from this window the sight extends over a pretty landscape. Étendez la vue de ce côté, look out—stretch out your sight—on that side. La plaine s'étend à gauche, the plain extends on the left. Elle s'étend à perte de vue, it extends as far as the eye can reach. On a une vue très-étendue, you have a very extensive prospect. Aussi loin que la vue peut s'étendre, as far as the sight can reach.

Vous avez des vues étendues, you have large—extensive—views. C'est un esprit fort étendu, he has a very comprehensive mind—an enlarged mind. Il a des connaissances étendues, he has very extensive knowledge.

(T. de science), to expand.

ÉTENDUE, s. f. (t. de physique), extension. L'étendue appartient au corps, extension belongs to a body. (Longueur.) L'étendue d'une ligne, extent, length of a line. (Surface.) Dans toute l'étendue du royaume, in the whole extent of the kingdom. La vaste étendue des mers, the vast expanse—extent of the seas. La vie de l'homme est d'une étendue bornée, the life of man has a limited extent—duration.

(Fig.) Ne dépassez pas l'étendue de vos pouvoirs, do not outstep the extent—the limits of your powers. Je connus alors toute l'étendue de mon malheur, I understood then the whole extent of my misfortune. Telle est l'étendue de ses connaissances, such is the extent of his knowledge. C'est un esprit d'une vaste étendue, he has a very comprehensive mind. Elle a une voix d'une grande étendue, her voice has a large compass. Vous devriez donner plus d'étendue à ce chapitre, you should extend this chapter—moins d'étendue—you should contract this chapter.

ÉTERNEL, s. m. God; the Eternal.

ÉTERNEL, LE, adj. eternal; everlasting. (Fam.) C'est un causeur éternel, he is an everlasting talker.

ÉTERNELLE, s. f. Voyez Immortelle.

ÉTERNELLEMENT, adv. eternally; for ever; everlastingly.

ÉTERNISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il a éternisé son nom, he has made his name immortal—has eternized—immortalized his name. C'est ainsi que les abus s'éternisent, so it is that abuses become perpetuated.

ÉTERNITÉ, s. f. eternity. Il ne songe point à l'éternité, he does not think of eternity—of after life. (Fam.) En voilà pour une éternité, this will last for ever.

ÉTERNUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to sneeze. J'ai envie d'éternuer, I want to sneeze.

ÉTERNUMENT,
ÉTERNUEMENT, s. m. sneezing; sneeze.

ÉTÉSIEN, adj. m. (t. de marine). Les vents étésiens, the Etesian winds.

ÉTÊTEMENT, s. m. lopping, being loppel.

ÉTÊTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lop (a tree). Être une épingle, un clou, to take off, break off, the head of a pin, of a nail.

ÉTEUF, s. m. (pron. étu devant une consonne et à la fin de la phrase). tennis ball. (Fig.) Courir après un éteuf, to run after one's own. Renvoyer l'éteuf, to return the ball, i. e. to give tit for tat.

ÉTEULE, s. f. (t. d'agric), stubble.

ÉTHER, s. m. ether. Respirer de l'éther, to inhale to breathe ether.

ÉTHÉRÉ, E, adj. ethereal.

ÉTHÉRISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to etheralize, to combine with ether.

ÉTHIOPS, s. m. (pron. é-tiopce; t. de chim., Æthiops mineral.

ÉTHIQUE, s. f. (t. de science), ethics; morals.

ÉTHMOÏDAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), ethmoidal.

ÉTHMOIDE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), ethmoid.

ÉTHNIQUE, adj. ethnic; pagan; heathen. (t. de gram.) Mot ethnique, ethnical word; name of country.

ÉTHNOGRAPHE, s. m. ethnographer; one who writes on the history of nations.

ÉTHNOGRAPHIE, s. f. ethnography; history of nations.

ÉTHOLOGIE, s. f. ethology; treatise, discourse on morals.

ÉTHOPÉE, s. f. ethopeia, a description of manners and passions.

ÉTIAGE, s. m. low-water mark in a river.

ÉTIER, s. m. small watercourse in sea salt works.

ÉTINCELANT, E, adj. sparkling; glittering.

ÉTINCELER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to sparkle; to glitter. Cette étoile étincelle, that star sparkles—glitters. Ses yeux étincellent d'esprit, her eyes are bright—sparkle with wit. Les yeux lui étincelaient de colère, his eyes shot fire from anger—gleamed with anger.

(T. de blason.) Écu étincelé, stellated shield.

ÉTINCELLE, s. f. spark.

ÉTINCELLEMENT, s. m. sparkling.

ÉTIOLEMENT, s. f. (t. de culture), etiolation: blanching (produced on plants which are kept in a dark place). (Fig.), paleness; debility produced by want of open air, the light, and living in inactivity.

ÉTIOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to etiolate, to weaken, to blanch, to whiten plants by keeping them in the dark. (Fig.) Ce n'était pas une jeune fille étiolée, elle était forte et active, she was not an etiolated being—a person deprived of her natural powers through an inactive and secluded life, she was strong and full of life.

ÉTIOLOGIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), etiology.

ÉTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), phthisical; consumptive fire; lean. Il est mort étique, he died of phthisis, of consumption. Fièvre étique, consumptive fever. Quel visage étique, what a thin face! On nous donna un poulet étique, they gave us a miserably thin chicken.

ÉTIQUETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to label; to put a label, a number, upon a thing.

ÉTIQUETTE, s. f. label; ticket.

ÉTIQUETTE, s. f. (cérémonial des cours, de la société), etiquette. Manquer à l'étiquette, to offend against etiquette. Dîner d'étiquette, a state-dinner party. Cet homme est fort sur l'étiquette, that man is punctilious in matters of—stands much upon—etiquette. La gêne de l'étiquette, the restraint of etiquette.

ÉTIRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pull out; to draw out.

ÉTISIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), phthisis; consumption. Tomber en étisie, to become phthisical, consumptive. Être dans l'étisie, to be in a consumption.

ÉTOFFE, s. f. stuff. Il vend des étoffes de soie, des étoffes de laine, he sells silk stuffs—woollen stuffs. Cette étoffe est de bonne qualité, this stuff—cloth—is of good quality. Votre tailleur a épargné—a plaint—l'étoffe dans votre habit, the tailor has been sparing of the cloth in your coat. (Fam.) On n'a pas plaint l'étoffe, the materials have not been spared—used sparingly.

(Fig.) Il y a de l'étoffe dans ce jeune homme; on en fera quelque chose, something may be made of this young man; there is stuff in him. C'est un homme de mince étoffe, he is a man of mean condition. Il n'y avait que des gens de cette étoffe, there were people of that sort only.

(T. d'imprimerie.) Payer les étoffes, to pay for extra charges beyond printing.

ÉTOFFER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Ce chapeau est mal étoffé, the stuff has been spared in this hat—it is poor. Sa maison est bien étoffée, his house is well furnished. Votre lit est maigrement étoffé, your bed is meanly furnished. C'est un homme bien étoffé, he is well accommodated with everything—he has everything at command. Voyez comme cela est bien étoffé, feel how rich—how full that is.

ÉTOILE, s. f. star. Les étoiles fixes, the fixed stars. Les étoiles errantes, the erratic stars. Étoile tombante, shooting star. J'ai vu tomber, filer une étoile, I saw a star (a meteor) fall. L'étoile du berger, Venus; (also) morning star, evening star. Coucher à la belle étoile, to sleep in the open air. Il lui fit voir des étoiles en plein midi, he made him see stars in broad daylight—he struck him on the eyes and dazzled him—he made him believe anything.

Vous êtes né sous une étoile malheureuse, you were born under an unlucky star, planet. On ne peut aller contre son étoile, you cannot go against your fate. Ce n'est pas un mérite qui le fait réussir, c'est son étoile, it is not his merit which makes him succeed, it is his star—his fate—his fortune. Son étoile commence à pâlir, his star is getting dim—his good fortune is beginning to fail.

(Fig., fam.) (t. d'imprim.), asterisk. Si vous ne savez pas son nom, mettez M.  (Monsieur trois étoiles), if you do not know his name, put Mr. ——, put a dash for it. (T. d'hist. nat.) Étoile de mer, star-fish. L'étoile de la Légion d'Honneur, the star of the Legion of Honour.

ÉTOILER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Vous avez étoilé cette bouteille, you have starred—cracked—this bottle. Je ne sais pas comment ce flacon s'est étoilé, I do not know how this bottle got that crack.

Le ciel est étoilé, the sky is starry. La voûte étoilée, the starry heaven—vault.

ÉTOLE, s. f. (part of the priestly vestments of the Roman Catholics when officiating), stola, (a sort of flat scarf).

ÉTONNAMMENT, adv. astonishingly.

ÉTONNANT, E, adj. astonishing. Il a une mémoire étonnante, he has an astonishing memory. Il est étonnant s'il ne soit pas arrivé, it is astonishing that he has not arrived. C'était étonnant—une chose étonnante—de les voir ensemble, it was an astonishing thing to see them together. C'est un homme étonnant, he is an astonishing—an extraordinary man.

ÉTONNEMENT, s. m. astonishment. Il nous remplit d'étonnement, he fills us with astonishment—with surprise. Cela m'a frappé d'étonnement, that struck me with astonishment. Il l'a fait au grand étonnement de tout le monde, he did it to the astonishment of all. Je ne puis revenir de mon étonnement, I cannot recover from my astonishment. Elle était ravie d'étonnement, her amazement threw her into rapture. (T. de médec.) Il lui est resté un étonnement de cerveau, his brains are still shaken from the concussion.

ÉTONNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to astonish; to surprise. Cette nouvelle a fort étonné tout le monde, this news astonished everybody. Vous l'étonnerez bien quand vous le lui direz, you will surprise him much when you tell it him. Je fus bien étonné de le voir, I was much astonished to see him. Nous sommes étonnés qu'il ne vous ait pas écrit, we are much surprised that he did not write to you. (Fig.) Je m'étonne de vos manières, I wonder at—I am astonished at—your manners. Je m'étonnais de vous voir lui parler, I wondered at seeing you speak to him. C'est une chose qui n'a pas lieu de vous étonner, there is nothing for you to wonder at—to be surprised at—in this thing. C'est une chose dont je m'étonne, it is a thing at which I wonder—I am surprised. Vous en étonnez-vous? are you surprised at it? Nous nous étonnons que vous n'ayez pas réussi, we wonder that you did not succeed.

Il ne s'étonne de rien, he is surprised at nothing—nothing moves him. Le feu de l'ennemi n'étonna pas nos troupes, the fire of the enemy did not move—disturb—disconcert our troops.

Il a toujours l'air étonné, he always looks astonished. Il est toujours étonné, he is always in amazement. D'où vous vient cet air étonné? whence comes your amazement?

ÉTONNER, v. a. to stun.

ÉTOUFFADE, s. f. Voyez Estouffade.

ÉTOUFFANT, E, adj. Il fait une chaleur étouffante, the heat is sultry—oppressive—smothering—suffocating.

ÉTOUFFEMENT, s. m. oppression; difficulty of breathing.

ÉTOUFFER, v. a. v. n. v. r. 1ère conj., to suffocate; to smother. En dormant, elle étouffa son enfant, she smothered her child while asleep. Hercule étouffa Antée dans ses bras, Hercules stifled Antæus in his arms. Déplacez-la, elle étouffe, unlace her, she is suffocating—she cannot breathe. Il étouffa au milieu des tourments, he was suffocated in the midst of his torments. On étouffe dans cette chambre, one is suffocated—there is no breathing—in this room. La chaleur m'étouffe, the heat stifles me—oppresses me—prevents my breathing.

Les mauvaises herbes étouffent le blé, the weeds choke the corn. Étouffer du charbon, to smother a coal fire. Étouffer des sons, to subdue, to smother sounds. Étouffer la douleur, to smother pain. Étouffer des cris, to smother—to stifle—cries. Nous entendions des cris étouffés, we heard smothered cries. Il nous dit d'une voix étouffée, he said to us with a stifled voice. Étouffez ces soupçons, stifle this suspicion. Cela étouffe l'imagination, it smothers imagination. On a étouffé l'affaire, the affair was hushed up. Étouffez vos soupirs, vos plaintes, restrain—suppress your sighs, your complaints.

Nous étouffions de rire, we were out of breath—choking—with laughter.

ÉTOUFFOIR, s. m. extinguisher. (Dans un piano), muffler.

ÉTOUPE, s. f. tow. (T. de marine), oakum. (Fig.) Mettre le feu aux étoupes, to take suddenly a rash resolution—to act desperately. Le feu prit aux étoupes, everything was in a blaze—in an uproar.

ÉTOUPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to calk, to stop with tow, with oakum. Étouper des trous, to stop holes. Étouper les fentes d'un tonneau, to stop—fill up—the cracks of a cask. S'étouper les oreilles, to stop one's ears with cotton.

ÉTOUPIÈRE, s. f. (t. de marine), woman employed in making oakum.

ÉTOUPILLE, s. f. (t. d'artillerie), quick match.

ÉTOUPILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'artillerie), to provide guns with quick matches.

ÉTOUPILLON, s. m. (t. d'artillerie), fid; plugget of oakum (inserted in the gun to keep it from damp).

ÉTOURDERIE, s. f. On ne peut le corriger de son étourderie, he cannot be corrected of his giddiness—thoughtlessness. Il est d'une étourderie inconcevable, his giddiness, thoughtlessness, is inconceivable. Il a fait bien des étourderies dans sa jeunesse, he has made many blunders—done many giddy things—in his youth. Je fis—j'eus—l'étourderie de lui dire mon secret, I was so giddy as to tell him my secret. Encore une étourderie, another blunder! Ne faites donc pas d'étourderies, come, do not be giddy—be steady. C'est une étourderie de jeunesse, it is a young person's thoughtless action.

ÉTOURDI, s. m. } a giddy, thoughtless person. Vous
ÉTOURDIE, s. f. } êtes un étourdi, you are a giddy one.

ÉTOURDI, E, adj. Ce jeune homme est bien étourdi, that youth is very giddy. (Fig.) Notre homme ne fut ni fou ni étourdi, our man was not astounded; he knew what he was about, and acted accordingly. Il est étourdi comme un hanneton, he is as mad as a March hare.

ÉTOURDIE, À L', loc. adv. Agir à l'étourdie, to act giddily.

ÉTOURDIMENT, adv. giddily.

ÉTOURDIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Voyez Punir. Le branle de la voiture m'étourdit, the swinging of the carriage makes me giddy. Le vin l'avait étourdi, the wine had made him giddy. Ce grand bruit nous étourdit, that great noise stuns us. Il lui porta un coup sur la tête qui l'étourdit, he dealt him a blow on the head which stunned him. Je me sens encore tout étourdi, I still feel quite giddy—quite stunned. (Fig.) Cette nouvelle nous étourdit, that news stunned us—struck us with astonishment. Vous nous en voyez encore tout étourdis, you see us still amazed—stunned at it. (Fig.) Vous m'étourdissez avec votre caquet, you tire me—you distract me—with your prattle. Ne nous étourdissez plus de vos affaires, do not harass—annoy—us any longer with your affairs. Il vient nous étourdir les oreilles de ses plaintes, he comes and stuns our ears with his complaints. Ils nous étourdissaient les oreilles de leurs cris, they dinned their cries—lamentations—into our ears. Nous en étions étourdis, we were stunned with it.

Étourdir la grosse faim, to eat a little to stay hunger, to take off the edge of the appetite. Étourdir la douleur, to numb—to lull—to benumb—to stupify—pain. J'ai la main tout étourdie, my hand is quite numbed. Il va dans le monde pour étourdir sa douleur, he goes into company to lull his grief. Il cherche à s'étourdir, he tries to lull—to forget—his sorrow. Laissez-moi m'étourdir, leave me to forget—to deceive myself—to drive away thought. Il s'étourdit sur les temps à venir, he drives away—he tries to drown—the thoughts of the future.

(Fam.) Il est encore tout étourdi du bateau, he has not yet recovered from the last accident.

(T. de cuisine.) Étourdir la viande, to parboil meat. Étourdir de l'eau, de la bière, to take the chill off water, beer.

ÉTOURDISSANT, E, adj. stunning; deafening.

ÉTOURDISSEMENT, s. m. giddiness. Avoir des étourdissements, to feel giddy—to be subject to dizziness. (Fig.), amazement; stupor.

ÉTOURNEAU, s. m. starling. (Fig.), giddy youth; youngster.

ÉTOURNEAU, adj. Cheval étourneau, a flee-bitten horse.

ÉTRANGE, adj. strange; singular. Je trouve bien étrange que vous l'ayiez refusé, I think it strange that you should have refused it.

ÉTRANGEMENT, adv. strangely.

ÉTRANGER, s. m. foreigner.

ÉTRANGÈRE, s. f. } poliment reçus en Angleterre, foreigners are politely received in England. Il a épousé une étrangère, he married a foreign lady. On n'admet pas les étrangers à ce privilège, aliens are not admitted to that privilege.

Il y avait là des étrangers, there were strangers. Ne laissez entrer aucun étranger, let no stranger come in. Je ne suis pas étranger, je suis de la ville—de la famille, I am no stranger, I am of this town—of this family.

ÉTRANGER, s. m. (t. de géog.). Nous envoyons nos marchandises à l'étranger, we send our produce—our goods—abroad—to foreign parts. Il a beaucoup voyagé à l'étranger, he travelled much in foreign parts—has been abroad—left the country—in 1815. Sa famille passa à l'étranger en 1815, his family went abroad—left the country—in 1815.

ÉTRANGER, ÈRE, adj. Il connaît deux ou trois langues étrangères, he is acquainted with two or three foreign languages. Il a l'air étranger, he has the look of a foreigner. Elle a l'accent étranger, she speaks with a foreign accent. Les ministres étrangers se retirèrent, the foreign ministers retired. Ministre des affaires étrangères, minister for foreign affairs.

Il a toujours été étranger à la politique, he never meddled—had anything to do—with politics. Ces considérations me sont tout à fait étrangères, these considerations are quite foreign to me—have nothing to do with me. Je connais cette affaire, je n'y suis point étranger, I know this affair, I am not a stranger to it. Ce fait m'est étranger à la cause, this fact is foreign to—nowise connected with—has nothing to do with—the cause. Il est étranger aux manières du monde, aux sciences, aux arts, he is a stranger to—he is unacquainted with—the manners of the world, sciences, &c. Vous nous parlez là de choses étrangères, you speak there of extraneous things. Interrogez-le, je suis sûr qu'il n'y est pas étranger, ask him, I am confident that he knows something of it. Il est étranger à l'intrigue, he is a stranger to—unconcerned in—the intrigue. Recevoir des impressions étrangères, to receive external impressions. Corps étranger (t. de médec.), extraneous matter, body.

Cet homme est étranger dans son pays, that man is a stranger in his own country—he knows nothing of—he takes interest in nothing. Cet homme n'est étranger à aucune part, that man is at home everywhere. Je suis étranger à cette association, I am not connected with that association.

ÉTRANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to send away.
S'étranger, to go away.

ÉTRANGETÉ, s. f. strangeness.

ÉTRANGLANT, E, adj. surprising; astounding.

ÉTRANGLEMENT, s. m. strangling; choking: strangulation. Il y a des indices d'étranglement, there are marks of strangulation. On a lié à cette artère un étranglement, a bone produced strangling—strangulation. L'étranglement d'une hernie, the strangulation of a rupture. La tige de cette plante a plusieurs étranglements, that is, are several contractions (knots) in the stem of this plant.

ÉTRANGLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Les voleurs l'ont étranglé, the robbers strangled him. Ce morceau de pain l'étrangla, that piece of bread choked—suffocated—him. Il le tenait à la gorge et voulait l'étrangler, he held him by the throat and wanted to throttle him. Ne serrez pas si fort, vous m'étranglez, do not squeeze so, you choke me. Cet enfant s'étrangle à force de pleurer, that child is choking itself with crying. J'étrangle de soif, I am choking with thirst.

(Fig.) Vous avez étranglé les manches de mon habit, you have made the sleeves of my coat too tight. Comme tout cela est étranglé, how small—narrow—scanty—all that is. Étrangler une affaire, to state a fact laconically—not to give particulars. Vous avez étranglé cette scène, you have not developed this scene sufficiently.

ÉTRANGUILLON, s. m. (t. de vétérin.), strangles.
Poire d'étranguillon, choke pear.

ÉTRAPE, s. m. (t. d'agric.), stubble sickle.

ÉTRAPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to cut stubble.

ÉTRAVE, s. f. (t. de marine), stem.

ÊTRE, s. m. being. Dieu est un être infiniment bon, God is a being infinitely good. Vous êtes un être singulier, you are a singular being.

Dieu nous a donné l'être, God gave us existence.

ÊTRE, v. substantif, to be. Être. étant. été. je suis, tu es, il est, nous sommes, vous êtes, ils sont. J'étais, je Je fus, &c. Je serai, &c. Je serais, &c. Que je sois, que tu sois, qu'il soit, que nous soyons, que vous soyez, qu'ils soient. Que je fusse, &c. Sois, qu'il soit, soyons, soyez, qu'ils soient.

Vous n'étiez pas lorsque cela est arrivé, you were not alive when that happened. Son père n'est plus, his father is no more—does not now exist. Vous me regretterez quand je ne serai plus, you will regret me when I am no more. (Prov.) On ne peut pas être et avoir été, you cannot be and have been. Cela ne sera pas, it shall not be. Cela sera, it shall be. Cela ne saurait être, that cannot be.

Je ne suis pas riche, I am not rich. Il est encore jeune, he is young still. Elle est belle femme, she is a handsome woman. Mon père était avocat, my father was a barrister. N'êtes-vous pas Allemand? are you not a German? L'arbre est l'ornement de nos jardins, the tree is the ornament of our gardens. Il n'est pas disposé à vous servir, he is not inclined to serve you. Votre frère est-il à la maison? is your brother at home? Il était au lit, he was in bed. Nous étions à table, we were at table. Il est à Rome, he is at Rome, in Rome. Nous serons bientôt en Italie alors, we shall be in Italy then. Être en vie, to be alive. Être à l'abri, to be under shelter. Nous sommes en paix, we are at peace. Je suis encore à jeun, I have not yet broken my fast.

(Être à.) Il est à s'habiller, he is dressing. Elle est toujours à se plaindre, she is always complaining. Ils sont toujours à jouer, they are always playing. Il ne sera pas long-temps à revenir, he will soon return. Je n'ai pas été long-temps à l'ouvrage, I was not long at the work. Je suis, tout à vous, I am entirely yours. Le pauvre jeune homme est bien à plaindre, the poor youth is much to be pitied. Suis-je donc à blâmer? am I then to be blamed—to blame? Vous n'êtes pas à ce que je vous dis, you do not attend to what I say. Je serai à vous dans un moment, I shall be with you—I shall attend to you—in an instant. J'y suis, I have it—I guess. Vous n'y êtes pas, you have not got it—you have not guessed it. Je n'y suis pour personne, I am at home to nobody. Monsieur n'y est pas, my master is not at home. J'y suis pour vous, I am at home to you. Il n'est plus à lui, he is not himself—he is not in his senses—he is beside himself.

Cette belle maison est-elle à vous? does that beautiful house belong to you—is that beautiful house yours? Ces gants ne sont-ils pas à vous? are not these gloves yours? Il n'est pas à moi, that does not belong to me. Si cet enfant était à moi, je le punirais, if that child was mine, I would punish him. Cette terre n'est plus à mon oncle, my uncle's estate is no longer my uncle's—does not belong to him now. Je travaille au mois, I work—am employed—by the month. Cet ouvrier est à la tâche, that man works by the piece. La victoire est à nous, victory declares for us.

C'est devant vous, he is—he stands—before you. Elle est bien loin de nous, she is very far from us. Je ne suis pas loin d'y consentir, I am not far from consenting. Etes-vous pas avec lui? were you not with him? Je vis quand est-ce que vous n'êtes plus avec lui? how long is it since you left him? Je suis très-bien avec lui, I am very comfortable with him—I am on good terms with him. Nous sommes mal ensemble, we are at variance—we are on bad terms. Elle était sans fortune, she was without fortune. Nous ne sommes pas sans amis, we are not without friends.

(Être de.) De quel endroit êtes-vous? from what place are you? Je suis de Paris, I am of—I come from—Paris. Ce vin est de Bourgogne, this wine comes from Burgundy. Ce tableau est de Raphaël, this picture is by Raphael. De quelle profession est-il; est-il d'église, de robe? to what profession does he belong—of what profession is he? Is he a churchman or a soldier? Je suis de garde, de service, aujourd'hui, I am on guard, on duty, to-day. Il est d'une grande générosité, he is a man of great generosity—he is a very generous man. Elle est d'une impatience extrême de le voir, she was very impatient to see him. Il était d'un caractère extrêmement vif, he was of an impetuous disposition. N'êtes-vous pas du même avis? do you not agree in opinion—are you not of the same opinion? Il est toujours du parti du plus fort, he always sides with—takes the side of—the strongest. Je ne suis pas de votre parti, I am not on your side. Ils étaient d'intelligence pour la tromper, they understood each other—they had an understanding—to deceive her. Êtes-vous de la noce? are you to be at the wedding—are you one of the wedding party? Je n'étais pas de la fête, I was not at that festival. Voulez-vous être des nôtres? will you be one of us—will you be with us? Nous étions du même régiment, we belonged to the same regiment. Voulez-vous être de moitié avec moi? will you go halves with me? Cet homme est de tout, that man is concerned with everything—(fam.) has a finger in everything. Cela est d'usage, that is according to custom. Cela est de droit, this is by right.

(En être.) Où en êtes-vous? how far have you got—where are you now? Où en est-il de son entreprise? how far has he got with his undertaking? Je n'en suis pas à moitié, I have not come to half. Nous en sommes restés à page quarante, we stopped at page 40. En sommes-nous là? have we come to this? Il ne sait où il en est, he knows not which way to turn—what to do. En êtes-vous là? have you come to that? J'en suis pour deux cents francs, I am in it for—it costs me—two hundred francs. Il en a été pour sa peine, he has had his trouble for nothing. Il en est des peintres comme des poètes, it is with painters as with poets. Je suis pour lui, I am for him—I am in his favour. Il est pour Horace, moi je suis pour Ovide, he is for Horace, I am for Ovid.

(C'est.) C'est un médecin, he is a physician. C'était un homme très-habile, he was a very clever man. C'étaient des fêtes continuelles, there were continual festivities. C'était un tapage affreux, it was a horrid din. Qu'est-ce que c'est que ce grand bâtiment, what is that great building? C'est une manufacture, it is a factory. C'est une tabatière, it is a snuff-box. C'est une femme très-aimable, she is a very amiable woman. N'est-ce pas une vieille dame que j'ai vue hier chez lui? is it not an old lady whom I saw yesterday at his house? Ce n'est pas une chose facile à faire, it is not an easy thing to do. C'est un homme singulier que votre frère, your brother is a singular man. C'est être fou que de songer à cela, one must be mad to think of that. Vous ne savez pas ce que c'est que d'attendre, you know not what it is to wait. Est-ce vous qui avez fait cela? was it you who did it? Ce n'est pas moi, c'est lui, it is not I, it is he. Ce sont eux qui me l'ont dit, they have told it me. Sont-ce là les livres que vous demandiez? are those the books which you were asking for? N'est-ce pas là qu'il demeure? is not that the place where he lives? C'est là l'endroit où il fut arrêté, this is the place where he was arrested. Ce n'est pas là qu'il le désire, that is not the place where he wishes to have it. Ce ne sera pas lui, ce sera mon frère, it will not be he, it will be my brother. Est-ce elle? is it she? Ce sont les gardes qui passent, they are the guards who are passing. Ce sont mes parents qui me l'ont dit, my relations are those who told it me. Ce ne furent que fêtes, there were nothing but festivals. Sont-ce les Anglais qui ont fait cela? did the English do that? Ce seront les grenadiers qui feront le service, the grenadiers will do duty. Fût-ce mes fils, je les punirais, though they were my sons, I would punish them. Sont-ce les honneurs que vous ambitionnez? are they honours which you crave? Ce n'est pas de cela qu'il s'agit, that is not the thing in question. Ce fut mon frère qui nous avertit, it was my brother who warned us. Ce furent ses enfants qui le trahirent, they were his children—his children were those—who betrayed him. Est-ce à moi à jouer? is it my turn to play? C'est à lui à commencer, it is for him to begin. Ce n'est pas à vous à me parler ainsi, it is not for you to speak to me in this manner. C'était à ma sœur à y aller, it was my sister's part to go. C'est à prendre ou à laisser, it is for you to take it or to leave it. C'est-à-dire, that is to say. Qu'est-ce à dire? what means this? Voilà ce que c'est, that is the thing. S'il ne l'a pas fait c'est qu'il ne l'a pas voulu, if he did not do it, it was because he would not. Ce sera qu'il n'en voudra pas, it will be because he will not have it.

(Cela.) Cela est-il du jeu? does that belong to the game? Non, cela n'en est pas, no, that forms no part of it. Cela est bien de lui, that is just like him. Cela est bien de son caractère, how consistent with his disposition that is. Cela est de toute justice, that is according to all justice. Cela n'est pas du compte, that forms no part of the account.

(Il est.) Il n'est pas agréable de voir ces choses-là, it is not pleasant to see these things. Était-il bien de lui parler ainsi? was it right to speak to him in that manner? Il est heureux qu'il ne soit pas venu, it is lucky that he did not come. Il serait bon de savoir à quoi s'en tenir, it would be well to know what we are to think of it. Quelle heure est-il? what is it o'clock—what is the time? N'est-il pas temps de partir? is it not time to go? Avertissez-moi quand il sera temps de partir, tell me when it is time to go. Il est tard, it is late.

Il est, près de ces lieux, une retraite ignorée, there is, close to these places, an unknown retreat. Il est des hommes généreux qui —, there are generous men who —. Il n'en est plus, there are none left. Qu'en serait-il, si j'y allais? what would the consequence be, if I went? Il n'en sera rien, nothing will happen. Il en sera ce qu'il plaira à Dieu, it will be as it pleases God. Il s'est répandu un bruit étrange, a strange report was spread about. Il s'est commis un crime dans cet endroit, a crime was committed in this place. Il s'est tenu une assemblée au milieu de la nuit, an assembly was held in the midst of the night.

N'était que—si ce n'était que—je suis de vos amis, were it not that I am a friend of yours.

ÊTRE, verbe auxil. Je suis aimé, I am loved. Elle était détestée, she was detested. Quand est-il revenu? when did he return? Il n'est pas revenu, he has not returned. Je me suis arrêté, I have stopped. Pourquoi ne vous êtes-vous pas dépêché? why did you not stop? Je suis tombé, I have fallen. Ces fromages sont faits de lait de chèvre, these cheeses are made with goat's milk. Vous lui parlerez quand il sera levé, you will speak to him when he is up. Nous nous sommes dit des injures, we abused one another.

ÊTRES, s. m. Il connaît les êtres de la maison, he knows the different parts of the house—he knows how to find his way well in that house.

ÉTRÉCIR, v. a. v. r. rég 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to narrow, to straiten. On a étréci le chemin, the road has been made narrower—has been straitened. J'ai fait étrécir les manches de mon habit, I have had the sleeves of my coat straitened. La rivière va en s'étrécissant, the river goes on getting narrower and narrower. Cette toile s'étrécira au blanchissage, this linen will shrink in washing. Étrécir un cheval, to narrow a horse.

ÉTRÉCISSEMENT, s. m. narrowing; straitening; shrinking.

ÉTREINDRE, v. a. rég. 7me conj. (voyez Craindre), to embrace; to clasp. Étreindre les nœuds de l'amitié, to bind the ties of friendship. Qui trop embrasse mal étreint, he who grasps too many things at once does not get fast hold of them.

ÉTREINTE, s. f. bond; embrace.

ÉTRENNE, s. f. new year's gift; Christmas-box Je leur ai donné à chacun une étrenne, I gave each of them a Christmas-box. (T. de marchand.) Voilà mon étrenne de la journée, this is the first thing I have sold to-day. (Premier usage.) Il n'a pas encore servi, vous en avez l'étrenne, it has not been used yet, you have the handselling of it.

ÉTRENNER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Mon oncle m'a étrenné d'une montre, my uncle has given me a watch for a new year's gift—for a Christmas-box. (T. de marchand.) Je n'ai pas encore étrenné aujourd'hui, I have not yet sold anything to-day. (Employer pour la première fois.) Nous allons étrenner notre voiture, we are going to handsel—to try—our new carriage. C'est vous qui l'étrennez, you have the first use of it.

ÉTRÉSILLON, s. m. (t. d'archit.), prop.

ETRÉSILLONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. to prop with props.

ÉTRIER, s. m. stirrup. Se lever sur les étriers, to rise in the stirrup. Il est ferme sur les étriers, he sits firm on the stirrup. Nous avions le pied à l'étrier, we were about mounting our horses—we were on the point of starting. (Fig.) Il a le pied à l'étrier, he has made a beginning—he is now starting in life. Nous arrivâmes toujours le pied à l'étrier, we were always moving from place to place. Porter les étriers longs, courts, to ride long, short. Courir à franc étrier, to ride post. Perdre ses étriers, to lose one's seat. Boire le vin de l'étrier, to drink the stirrup-cup. (Fig.) Nous lui avons bu l'étrier, we helped him in his enterprise.

(T. de chirurg.), stirrup bandage. (T. d'orfèv.), iron hook.

ÉTRILLE, s. f. curry-comb. Donner un coup d'étrille à un cheval, to curry—to rub a horse. (Fig.) Ce coquin est une étrille, you will be fleeced at that gambling-house.

ÉTRILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to curry, to rub a horse. (Fig.) Étriller un homme, to beat, to thrash a man—to give him a good thrashing. Nous les étrillerons bien, we will give them a good beating. Il a été dans une maison de jeu où on l'a bien étrillé, he was taken to a gambling-house where he was famously fleeced.

ÉTRIPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gut. (Agric.) Étriper un arbre, to cut a tree badly; to mangle it. (Fig.) Aller à étripe cheval, to ride a horse furiously. (T. de marine.) Ce cordage s'étripe, this rope is worn twisted—worn out.

ÉTRIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to make scanty, not full. Cette scène est étriquée, this scene is not sufficiently developed—is mean—is incomplete. Ces rideaux sont étriqués, these curtains are too scanty.

ÉTRIVIÈRE, s. f. stirrup leather. Donner des coups d'étrivières, donner les étrivières, to lash, to strap a person. Il a reçu les étrivières, he has been lashed, etc. (Fig.) Il s'est laissé donner les étrivières, he has submitted with base treatment—(fam.), he has eaten humble pie.

ÉTROIT, E, adj. narrow. Nous logeons dans une rue étroite, we are lodged in a narrow street. Mes souliers sont trop étroits, my shoes are too small, too tight. Cet habit est étroit, a tight coat. Vous vous resserrez dans des bornes étroites, you confine yourself within narrow limits.

(Fig.) Nous formâmes alors une étroite amitié, we formed then a very close friendship. Vous prenez cela dans le sens étroit, you take the thing too literally—too strictly. C'est un esprit étroit, he is narrow-minded—he has a narrow mind.

À l'étroit, loc. adv., narrowly; close. Nous sommes logés à l'étroit, we are narrowly lodged—(fam.), we are close quarters. Nous sommes obligés de vivre à l'étroit, we are obliged to live sparingly—closely—(fam.), we are obliged to pinch.

ÉTROITEMENT, adv. narrowly; closely. Nous sommes étroitement unis, we are closely united. Observez le carême étroitement, to keep Lent closely, strictly. Cela est étroitement défendu, that is strictly forbidden.

ÉTROITESSE, s. f. narrowness.

ÉTRONÇONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jardinage), to lop.

ÉTUDE, s. f. study. Il s'applique à l'étude des sciences, he applies himself to the study of the sciences. Il n'aime pas l'étude, he is not fond of study. Il a fait une étude particulière, I made a particular study of it. Il est allé à la campagne pour s'appliquer à l'étude, he has gone into the country to apply to study.

Faire ses études, to study. Où avez-vous fait vos études? where were you at school—at college? Il a fait de mauvaises études, he has not had a regular course of education. Il a fait de bonnes études, he has had a sound education. Il a beaucoup d'études, he has much learning. C'est un homme sans étude, he is a man of no learning—without knowledge.

(T. de dessin.) Étude de tête, study of a head. Tête d'étude, model of a head. Il a un joli recueil d'études, he has a pretty collection of studies.

(Soin, souci; affectation, effet.) Elle fait une

…ade, she pleases without effort—without affectation. Il …songe qu'à ses plaisirs, c'est là son étude, he thinks of …thing but his pleasure, that is his only care—study. Salle d'étude, étude, school room; pupil room. Maître …étude, superintendent master (usher—when boys are …pacing their lessons). (T. d'avoué, de notaire), …ambers. Il y a cinq clercs dans cette étude, there are …e clerks in that office. L'acte a été fait et passé en …étude, the act was done and executed at his office. Il …vendu son étude, he has sold his connexion. Son étude …lui vaut deux cent mille francs, his office—his clients—are …th 200,000 fr.

(T. d'ingénieur.) Il a fait l'étude de ce chemin de …, he drew out the plans—the project—of this railway.

ÉTUDIANT, s. m. Étudiant en médecine, medical …dent. Étudiant en droit, law student. Il y a bien …étudiants à cette université, there are a great many …ents in this university.

ÉTUDIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to study. Il étudie …langues modernes, he studies modern languages. Il …fait en médecine, en droit, he was studying physic, …law. Nous avons étudié ensemble, we studied—we …e at school—at college—together. Vous n'avez pas …fait votre rôle—votre leçon, you have not studied your …your lesson. Ses manières sont étudiées, his manners …studied—affected—are not natural.

Étudiez-vous à plaire, study to please others—make it …study to please. Je ne m'y suis jamais étudié, I …e made it my study.

(T. d'ingénieur.) Étudier un plan de chemin de fer, …rvey the ground—to make an estimate of expenses—…railroad.

ÉTUDIOLE, s. f. scrutoire; writing desk.

ÉTUI, s. m. case. Étui de ciseaux, scissar case. Étui …chapeau, hat-box or case. Étui de mathéma…s—mathématical instrument case. (T d'entomologie), …fly's case.

ÉTUVE, s. f. stew, bagnio, bath. Cette chambre est …étuve, this room is a stew—is an oven. (T. d'art, de …), drying room or place.

ÉTUVÉE, s. f. stew; steamed things. Il nous a …une bonne étuvée de pigeons, he gave us a good …to stew. Manger une carpe à l'étuvée, to eat a stewed …Mettre ce poisson à l'étuvée, stew this fish.

ÉTUVEMENT, s. m. stewing.

ÉTUVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.). Étuver …blessure, to bathe—to foment—a wound. (T. de ….) Je ferais étuver ces pigeons, I would stew these …m.

ÉTUVISTE, s. m. the master of a stew, a bathing …

EUMOLOGIE, s. f. etymology.

EUMOLOGIQUE, adj. etymological.

EUMOLOGISTE, s. m. etymologist.

EU, E, *p. p. d'*AVOIR.

EUCHARISTIE, s. f. (pron. eu-ca-rice-tie), eucharist, …oly sacrament.

EUCHARISTIQUE, adj. eucharistic.

EUCOLOGE, s. m. euciology; prayer-book.

EUCRASIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), a good temperament.

EUDIOMÈTRE, s. m. (t. de chimie), eudiometer; an …rument to ascertain the purity of the air.

EUDIOMÉTRIE, s. f. (t. de chimie), eudiometry.

EUDIOMÉTRIQUE, adj. eudiometric.

EUFRAISE, s. f. (t. de bot.), euphrasia.

EULOGIES, s. f. (t. de liturgie), eulogies.

EUMÉNIDE, s. f. Eumenide; fury.

EUNUQUE, s. m. eunuch.

EUPATOIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.). Eupatoire d'Avi…, eupatory; water hemp.

EUPHÉMISME, s. m. (t. de rhétorique), euphemism.

EUPHONIE, s. f. euphony; agreeable sound.

EUPHONIQUE, adj. euphonic; sounding agreeably.

EUPHORBE, s. m. (t. de bot.), euphorbium.

EUROPÉEN, s. m. / EUROPÉENNE, s. f. } European.

EUROPÉEN, ENNE, adj. European.

EURYTHMIE, s. f. eurythmy; beautiful order.

EUSTACHE, s. m. common knife (wooden handled).

EUX, pron. pers. masc., them. Pour eux, for them. Avec eux, with them. Ce sont eux qui l'ont fait, they have done it.

ÉVACUANT, ANTE, adj. (t. de médec.), evacuant; opening.

ÉVACUATIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), evacuative.

ÉVACUATION, s. f. evacuation.

ÉVACUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to evacuate; to be evacuated. (T. milit.) Nos troupes évacuèrent la province, our troops evacuated the province. Nous fûmes obligés d'évacuer l'artillerie sur une autre place, we were obliged to remove the artillery to another place. (Lang. ordin.) Le peuple évacua la grande place, the populace evacuated—cleared—the square. Faites évacuer la salle, clear the hall—order the hall to be cleared.

ÉVADER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to escape; to run away.

ÉVAGATION, s. f. wandering of the mind.

ÉVALUATION, s. f. valuation.

ÉVALUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to value. On évalue ce travail à dix mille francs, that work is valued at 10,000 francs.

ÉVANGÉLIQUE, adj. evangelic.

ÉVANGÉLIQUEMENT, adv. evangelically; conformably to the gospel.

ÉVANGÉLISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to evangelize; to preach the gospel.

ÉVANGÉLISTE, adj. evangelist.

ÉVANGILE, s. m. gospel. Les quatre évangiles, the four gospels. Il croit cela comme l'évangile, he takes that for gospel. (Fig. et fam.) C'est l'évangile du jour, that is the news of the day—the current report.

ÉVANOUIR, S', v. r. v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to faint, to swoon. Elle s'est évanouie en apprenant cette nouvelle, she fainted upon hearing this news. Nous aperçûmes une femme évanouie sur la route, we saw a woman in a swoon—in a fainting fit—on the road. (Fig.) Cette grande fortune s'est bientôt évanouie, that great fortune soon vanished—disappeared.

Cet accident l'a fait évanouir, that accident made her faint—threw her into a swoon. Ce que vous dites fait évanouir mes espérances, what you say destroys—dispels—all my hopes.

ÉVANOUISSEMENT, s. m. swoon; fainting fit. Nous eûmes de la peine à le faire revenir de son évanouissement, we had some difficulty to recover him from his fit—from his swoon.

ÉVAPORABLE, adj. evaporable.

ÉVAPORATION, s. f. evaporation. (Fig.) Il y a un peu d'évaporation dans son fait, there is a little levity—thoughtlessness—in his ways.

ÉVAPORER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to evaporate. L'esprit de vin s'évapore aisément, spirits of wine evaporate easily. Faire évaporer, to evaporate.

(Fig.) Sa colère s'évapore en menaces, his anger evaporates—vents itself—in threats. Il aime à évaporer sa bile, he likes to evaporate his bile—to vent it. Ce jeune homme s'évapore, this young man is getting irregular. C'est un évaporé, he is a giddy, thoughtless fellow.

ÉVASEMENT, s. m. the opening, widening (at the mouth) of a cup or any vessel. Évasement d'une bouche à feu, enlargement of a piece of ordnance, at the mouth.

ÉVASER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to open, to widen (at the orifice). Évaser un arbre, to cut it so as to make it become bushy. Ce verre est trop évasé, this glass is too wide. Il a le nez évasé, his nostrils are too large.

ÉVASIF, IVE, adj. evasive.

ÉVASION, s. f. evasion; escape.

ÉVÊCHÉ, s. m. bishopric. Être logé à l'évêché, to be lodged at the bishop's palace—at the palace.

ÉVEIL, s. m. Je lui en ai donné l'éveil, I gave him a hint about it—I called his attention to it. Il alla donner l'éveil dans sa compagnie, he went and gave the alarm to his company.

ÉVEILLER, v. a. v. r. 1ère conj., to wake. Un grand bruit m'éveilla à quatre heures, a loud noise awoke me—roused me—at four o'clock. Je ne me suis pas éveillé, I did not wake. Je m'éveille au moindre bruit, I wake at the least noise. Vous aviez promis de m'éveiller à cinq heures, you had promised to come and wake—and call—me at five o'clock. Vous n'êtes pas éveillé, you are not awake.

(Fig.) Il est triste, il faut l'éveiller un peu, he is dull, you should rouse him a little. Cette circonstance éveilla ses soupçons, this circumstance raised—excited—awoke—his suspicions.

Il est éveillé comme une potée de souris, he is as sharp as a needle. Il a l'air éveillé, he looks sharp. Qu'avez-vous donc? vous êtes bien éveillé aujourd'hui, what is the matter with you? you look very sharp to-day. Il est fort éveillé sur ses intérêts, he is wide awake where his interests are concerned. C'est un petit éveillé, he is a sharp—quick—little fellow. Comme elle a les yeux éveillés, how sharp her eyes are!

ÉVÉNEMENT, s. m. event. Cet événement dérangea mes affaires, this event disordered all our affairs. Les événements de ce drame sont bien amenés, the incidents in this drama are well brought in. Notre entreprise a eu un heureux événement, our undertaking has had a happy issue—end. J'en prends l'événement sur moi, I take the result—the consequences upon myself. A tout événement, at all hazards—at all events. Cela a fait événement dans notre famille, that was an event in our family.

ÉVENT, s. m. Cette viande sent l'évent, that meat is tainted. Ce vin a de l'évent, this wine is stale—has a disagreeable taste. Mettre des choses à l'évent, to air things; to expose them to the air, to purify them. Donner de l'évent à une pièce de vin, to air a cask of wine.

(Fig.) Ce jeune homme a la tête à l'évent, that young man is thoughtless—is giddy. (T. d'artillerie), windage.

ÉVENTAIL, s. m. fan. Jouer de l'éventail, to play with a fan. A qui sont ces éventails? whose fans are these? (T. de jardinage.) Les arbres sont taillés en éventail, the trees are cut in the shape of a fan.

ÉVENTAILLISTE, s. m. fan-maker.

ÉVENTAIRE, s. m. a flat basket on which some dealers exhibit and carry their goods.

ÉVENTER, v. a. v. r. rég. lère conj., to fan. Voulez-vous que je vous évente? shall I fan you? Elle s'éventait avec son mouchoir, she was fanning—cooling—herself with a handkerchief.

(Fig.) Éventer des meubles, to air furniture. Éventer du vin, to let wine get flat (by exposure to the air). Éventer une mine, to spring a mine.—(fig.), to find out—to discover—a secret. Ces choses-là s'éventent à l'air, these things are affected by exposure to the air. Il nous donna du vin éventé, he gave us some flat wine. C'est une tête éventée, he has a giddy—thoughtless—head.

ÉVENTOIR, s. m. (t. de cuisine), large feather fan.

ÉVENTRER, v. a. rég. lère conj., to rip; to cut open; to empty the stomach of the bowels. Éventrer un pâté, to cut open a pie.

ÉVENTUALITÉ, s. f. eventuality.

ÉVENTUEL, LE, adj. eventual; casual.

ÉVENTUELLEMENT, adv. eventually.

ÉVÊQUE, s. m. bishop. Évêque in partibus (infidelium), a bishop in foreign parts, countries. Se faire d'évêque meunier, to descend—to come—from a high office to a low one. Un chien regarde bien un évêque, a cat may look at a king.

ÉVERSION, s. f. eversion; overturning.

ÉVERTUER, S', v. a. rég. lère conj., to exert one's self; to strive. Il s'est évertué pour se tirer de la misère où il était, he has exerted himself—made efforts—to extricate himself from the poverty in which he was. Allons, évertuez-vous, come, do strive.

ÉVEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de marine), leaky; spongy.

ÉVICTION, s. f. eviction.

ÉVIDEMMENT, adv. evidently.

ÉVIDENCE, s. f. evidence; clearness. La vérité soupçonnée est bien près de l'évidence, suspected truth is almost evidence. Cela est de toute évidence, that is quite evident. Mettre un fait en évidence, to establish the evidence of a fact.

(Fig.) Mettre en évidence, to make conspicuous—to expose to view. J'étais là en évidence, I was conspicuous there.—I was exposed to view—to public attention.

ÉVIDENT, E, adj. evident. N'est-ce pas là une preuve évidente? is not that a clear—evident proof? Il est évident d'après cela qu'ils vivaient plus long-temps que nous, from that, it is evident that they lived longer than we do.

ÉVIDER, v. a. rég. lère conj. (en parlant de sculpt.), to flute, to groove. (T. de tailleur, de couturier), to scollop. (En parlant de linge.) Évider une chemise, to rinse out the starch; to make linen limp. (T. de jardin.) Évider un arbre, to cut off the inner branches of a tree.

ÉVIDEUR, s. m. (t. de chirurg.), an instrument to cleansing sores.

ÉVIDOIR, s. m. (t. de métier), a tool for cutting work a tube; grooving chisel.

ÉVIER, s. m. sink.

ÉVINCER, v. a. rég. lère conj., to evict; to dispossess, to oust.

ÉVITABLE, adj. avoidable.

ÉVITAGE, s. m. (t. de marine), space for a ship to ÉVITÉE, s. f. swing round. La coisse fut son évitée, the ship is swinging round.

ÉVITER, v. a. rég. lère conj. Éviter to escape, to avoid—to escape—a blow. Nous avons heureusement évité le danger, we happily avoided the danger. Pourquoi l'évitez-vous? why do you shun him? Depuis quelque temps, nous évitons de le voir, de lui parler, for some time, we have avoided seeing him—speaking to him. Nous nous évitons l'un l'autre, we shun—we avoid one another. (Fam.) J'aurais voulu vous éviter cette peine, I wish I had saved—spared—you this trouble.

(T. de marine.) Notre vaisseau évitait au vent, à la marée, our ship was swinging round with the wind—with the tide.

ÉVISCÉRATION, s. f. act of evisceration.

ÉVISCÉRER, v. a. rég. lère conj., to eviscerate; to embowel.

ÉVOCABLE, adj. evocable.

ÉVOCATION, s. f. evocation; conjuring up of spirits. (T. de loi), appeal; evocation.

ÉVOCATOIRE, adj. having the power of appeal; summoning.

ÉVOLUTION, s. f. evolution; movement.

ÉVOQUER, v. a. rég. lère conj., to evoke; to conjure up.

EX, prép. latine, employée comme une espèce de préfixe, late. L'ex-ministre vit dans la retraite, the late—ex—minister lives in retirement.

EXACERBATION, s. f. exacerbation.

EXACT, E, adj. exact.

EXACTEMENT, adv. exactly.

EXACTEUR, s. m. exactor; extortioner.

EXACTION, s. f. exaction; extortioner.

EXACTITUDE, s. f. exactitude; exactness; accuracy. (d'un compte).

EXAGÉRATEUR, s. m. EXAGÉRATRICE, s. f. one who exaggerates.

EXAGÉRATIF, IVE, adj. exaggerating.

EXAGÉRATION, s. f. exaggeration.

EXAGÉRER, v. a. rég. lère conj., to exaggerate.

EXALTATION, s. f. exaltation; (sans accès), excitement; infatuation.

EXALTER, v. a. s. r. rég. lère conj., to exalt; to praise highly. (T. de chimie), to exalt. (Fig.) Ces vous exaltez facilement, you are easily excited—elated. Il cherchait à exalter les esprits, he was endeavouring to excite the minds. Il a la tête exaltée, he has an excited mind. C'est un exalté, he is an enthusiast—an excited—man.

EXAMEN, s. m. (pron. ègz-za-min), examination. Il se prépare à passer l'examen, he is preparing for examination. Il a déjà subi—passé deux examens, he has already passed two examinations. On nous a fait subir un examen difficile, he subjected us to a difficult exam-nation, Il a passé l'examen du baccalauréat, he has passed the examination for the degree of bachelor. Avez-vous fait l'examen des comptes? have you examined the accounts? Examen de conscience, self-examination.

EXAMINATEUR, s. m. } examiner.
EXAMINATRICE, s. f. }

EXAMINER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to examine; to examine one's self.

EXANTHÈME, s. m. (t. de médec.), exanthema.

EXARCHAT, s. m. (pron. ègh-zar-ha), exarchate.

EXARQUE, s. m. (pron. ègh-zarke), exarch.

EXASPERATION, s. f. exasperation.

EXASPERER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to exasperate. Il doit exaspéré, he was exasperated—exsited.

EXAUCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hear favourably. Dieu a exaucé ma prière, God has heard—has listened to my prayer.

EXCAVATION, s. f. excavation.

EXCÉDANT, E, adj. fatiguing; harassing.

EXCÉDENT, s. m. excesient.

EXCÉDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to excede; to go beyond. La recette excède la dépense, the receipt exceeds the expense. Vous avez excédé la somme de deux cents francs, you have exceeded the sum by two hundred francs. N'excédez pas votre pouvoir, do not exceed—go beyond—outstep—your power.

Vous excédez ce pauvre homme de travail, you overwork—you overwhelm the poor man with work. Allez-vous-en, vous m'excédez, go away, you harass me—you weary me. Ils nous ont excédés de bonne chère, they regaled us with good cheer. Il s'excède de fatigue, he overworks himself. Vous vous êtes excédé, you have exhausted your strength. Nous sommes excédés de ses visites, we are quite pestered with his visits. Il est excédé de débauches, his constitution is broken by his intemperance. Ne me parlez pas de cela, j'en suis excédé, do not say any more about that, I am tired of it.

EXCELLEMMENT, adv. excellently; perfectly.

EXCELLENCE, s. f. excellence; perfection. Par excellence.) Ce peintre réussit par excellence dans le portrait, this painter succeeds eminently in portraits. Cicéron est l'orateur par excellence, Cicero is eminently—par excellence—the orator. Titre donné aux ambassadeurs, ministres, gouverneurs, &c.) J'ai exécuté les ordres de Votre Excellence, I have executed your Excellency's order. Son Excellence n'est pas encore revenue, his Excellency (the Ambassador, Governor) has not returned yet. On lui donne de Votre Excellence, mais il n'y a pas droit, they style him "your Excellency," but he has no right to it. (T. d'école.) Il a obtenu le prix d'excellence, he has obtained the prize for merit (given to the pupil who has obtained himself in the first place, the whole year).

EXCELLENT, E, adj. excellent; perfect; exquisite. Il a des qualités excellentes, he has excellent qualities. Nous avons mangé des fruits excellents, we have eaten exquisite—delicious fruit.

EXCELLENTISSIME, adj. most excellent. (Titre d'honneur.) Excellentissimes Seigneurs, most Excellent Lords.

EXCELLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Il s'efforce d'exceller dans sa profession, he endeavours to excel in his profession. Les chevaux Arabes excellent sur la plupart des autres chevaux, Arabian horses excel—surpass—are superior to—all other horses.

EXCENTRICITÉ, s. f. (t. de mathém.), excentricity. (Fam. et fig.) Cet homme se fait remarquer par l'excentricité de ses manières, that man makes himself conspicuous by the eccentricity—singularity—of his manners.

EXCENTRIQUE, adj. (t. de mathém. et de mécanique), excentric. (Fam.) Vous demeurez dans un quartier excentrique, you live in a part of the town which is eccentric—too far from the centre of affairs. (Fig. et fam.) C'est un homme excentrique, he is an eccentric man. Il a des manières fort excentriques, he has very eccentric—singular—manners.

EXCEPTÉ, (p. p. du verbe Excepter, employé comme préposition), except. Toutes ses filles sont mariées, excepté la plus jeune, all his daughters are married except the youngest. Il travaille toute la semaine excepté le dimanche, he works the whole week, Sunday excepted—with the exception of Sunday.

EXCEPTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to except.

EXCEPTION, s. f. exception. Ils y étaient tous sans exception, they were all there without exception. Nous n'avons fait exception de personne, we have excepted no body. Cela ne souffre point d'exception, that does not admit of exception. A l'exception de, with the exception of—except.

EXCEPTIONNEL, LE, adj. exceptional.

EXCÈS, s. m. excess. Commettre, faire des excès, to commit excesses. Il mourut d'un excès de joie, he died from excessive joy—in an excess of joy. Faire des excès de bonne chère, to eat excessively—to commit excesses in eating. A l'excès, to an excess—excessively. Il est prudent jusqu'à l'excès, he is prudent to an excess. Par excès, through an excess. On l'a renvoyé pour excès de pouvoir, he was dismissed for abuse of power. (T. de jurisp.) Se porter à des excès, to commit violence, abuses (on a person).

EXCESSIF, IVE, adj. excessive. Tout ce qui est excessif est vicieux, all that is excessive is vicious. Cet homme est excessif en tout, that man carries every thing to excess.

EXCESSIVEMENT, adv. excessively; to an excess.

EXCIPER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to allege.

EXCIPIENT, s. m. (t. de chimie), recipient; vehicle.

EXCISE, s. f. excise; (droits réunis en Angleterre).

EXCISION, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), excision; cutting off.

EXCITANT, s. m. (t. de médec.), excitant; stimulant.

EXCITANT, E, adj. exciting; stimulating; exciting.

EXCITATIF, IVE, } citative.

EXCITATEUR, s. m. } exciter.
EXCITATRICE, s. f. }

EXCITATEUR, TRICE, adj. exciting.

EXCITATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), excitation; excitement.

EXCITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to excite. Son exemple excitait les soldats, his example excited—encouraged—the soldiers. Il excitait les peuples à la révolte, he excited the people to rebellion. Ces choses là excitent l'appétit, these things excite—provoke—appetite. Ses succès excitèrent l'envie, his success excited envy. Exciter à pitié, to move one to compassion. Exciter l'envie, to stir up envy. Il s'excitait au combat, he roused himself to fight.

EXCLAMATION, s. f. exclamation. Faire des exclamations, to utter exclamations—to exclaim. (T. de gram.) Point d'exclamation, note of admiration.

EXCLURE, v. irrég. non classé. Exclure. excluant, exclu, e, exclus, e; j'exclus—nous excluons, &c. J'excluais; j'exclus; j'exclurai; j'exclurais; que j'exclue; que j'exclusse; exclus, to exclude. Pourquoi l'exclut-on de cette société? why is he excluded—shut out—from that society? La charte exclut les étrangers non-naturalisés de la Chambre, the law excludes foreigners from the "Chambre des députés." Qu'est-ce qui vous en exclut? what excludes you from it? Les femmes sont exclues—(autrefois, exclues)—de ces emplois, women are excluded from—shut out from—these offices. Le penchant naturel à la bienfaisance exclut l'avarice, a natural inclination to beneficence excludes—precludes—is incompatible with—avarice.

EXCLUSIF, IVE, adj. exclusive.

EXCLUSION, s. f. exclusion. Son exclusion nous parut très-injuste, his exclusion appeared very unjust to us. Je ne donne l'exclusion à aucune personne, I make no exception of any body—I exclude nobody.

A l'exclusion de, exclusively of; with the exclusion of.

EXCLUSIVEMENT, adv. exclusively.

EXCOMMUNICATION, s. f. excommunication.

EXCOMMUNIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to excommunicate. Les excommuniés ne pouvaient entrer dans l'église, people who were excommunicated—under sentence of excommunication—were not allowed to enter the church. (Fam.) Il a une face d'excommunié, he looks like a vagabond. Il est fait comme un excommunié, he has the look of a ruffian.

EXCORIATION, s. f. excoriation.

EXCORIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to excoriate; to excoriate one's self.

EXCRÉMENT, s. m. excrement.

EXCRÉMENTEUX, EUSE, EXCRÉMENTIEL, LE, adj. excrementitious.

EXCRÉTEUR, adj. (t. d'anat.), excretory.

EXCRÉTION, s. f. (t. de médec.), excretion.

EXCRÉTOIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), excretory.

EXCROISSANCE, s. f. excrescence.

EXCURSION, s. f. excursion; (sens moral), digression.

EXCUSABLE, adj. excusable. Vous n'êtes pas excusable de l'avoir fait, you are not excusable for having done it.

EXCUSATION, s. f. excuse.

EXCUSE, s. f. J'ai de bonnes excuses à donner, I have good excuses to give. Je ne suis pas sans excuse, I am not without an excuse. Il a pris le mauvais temps pour son excuse, he made the bad weather his excuse. Je viens vous faire mes excuses de n'être pas venu, I come to apologize for not having come. Lui avez-vous fait vos excuses? have you begged his pardon—have you apologized to him? Il exige—il demande—des excuses, he insists upon an apology.

EXCUSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Voulez-vous bien m'excuser auprès de M. votre père? will you be so kind as to excuse me to your father? Vous l'excuserez après l'avoir entendu, you will excuse him after having heard him. Excusez-moi de n'être pas venu, pardon me for not having come. Excusez-moi de venir, excuse my coming—dispense with my coming. Elle dit qu'elle ne vous excusera pas, she says she will not excuse you—release you. Je voudrais pouvoir m'excuser, I wish I could excuse myself. Il n'est pas généreux de vous excuser sur un autre, it is not generous to throw the fault upon another. On m'a invité à ce dîner, mais je m'en suis excusé, I was invited to that dinner, but I sent to excuse myself—to ask to be excused. Excusez-moi, excuse me—I beg pardon. Je vous prie de me tenir pour excusé, I entreat you to have me excused.

EXEAT, s. m. (mot emprunté du Latin, pron. ég-zéa.) L'évêque lui a donné son exeat, the bishop gave him an exeat, (permission to go and take duty in another diocese). Le maître ne veut pas donner d'exeat aux élèves, the master will not give permission to go out to the pupils. (Fam.) On lui a donné son exeat, they have dismissed him.

EXÉCRABLE, adj. execrable; detestable.

EXÉCRABLEMENT, adv. execrably, detestably.

EXÉCRATION, s. f. execration; detestation. Il est en exécration à tout le monde, he is the execration of every body. Je l'ai en exécration, I detest—abominate—him. Cette action est une exécration, this action is a detestable thing—is an abomination. (T. d'église), desecration.

EXÉCRATOIRE, adj. (t. d'église), desecrating.

EXÉCRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to execrate; to detest. Il est exécré de tout le monde, he is detested of all.

EXÉCUTABLE, adj. executable; which can be executed.

EXÉCUTANT, E, adj. performer (in music).

EXÉCUTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to execute. Il a exécuté son dessein, he has executed his design. Vous n'avez pas exécuté mes ordres, you have not executed my orders. Vous ne pourrez exécuter tout ce que vous entreprenez, you will not be able to execute, to accomplish all you undertake. Exécuter un testament, to execute a will. Les lois doivent s'exécuter, the laws must be executed. Exécuter un morceau de musique, to execute—to perform—a piece of music. Exécuter un criminel, to execute—to put to death—a criminal. Il s'est exécuté lui-même dans sa prison, he destroyed himself with his own hands in prison. Exécuter un débiteur, to distrain on—to serve an execution against a debtor. (Fam.) Vous voyez que je m'exécute de bonne grâce, you see I do things well. Il s'est bien exécuté, he did the thing handsomely.

EXÉCUTEUR, s. m. executor; performer. Exécuteur testamentaire, testamentary executor; executor. Je l'ai nommée mon exécutrice, I have appointed her my executrix. Exécuteur de la haute justice—des hautes œuvres, executioner.

EXÉCUTIF, IVE, adj. executive. Le pouvoir exécutif, the executive power—the king—the head of the state.

EXÉCUTION, s. f. execution. L'exécution de son projet est facile, the execution of your plan is an. Mettre à exécution, to carry into execution. L'exécution d'un morceau de musique, d'un tableau, &c. the performance—accomplishment—of a piece of music, of a picture. C'est un homme d'exécution, he is an active man; he is good for execution. Elle a une exécution brillante, her execution is brilliant. Exécution militaire, military execution. L'exécution de l'assassin doit avoir lieu demain, the execution of the murderer is to take place to-morrow. (T. de jurisp.) Saisie exécution, execution.

EXÉCUTOIRE, adj. (t. de jurisp.), executory.

EXÉCUTOIRE, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), writ of execution.

EXÉGÈSE, s. f. (t. didactique), exegesis; explanation.

EXÉGÉTIQUE, adj. exegetic.

EXEMPLAIRE, s. m. model; example. J'ai un vieil exemplaire de cet ouvrage, I have an old copy of this book. On a tiré cet ouvrage à deux mille exemplaires, they have printed—struck off—two thousand copies of the book. J'ai un bel exemplaire de cette médaille, I have a beautiful copy of that medal.

EXEMPLE, s. m. Cette femme est un exemple de vertu, that woman is an example—a pattern—of virtue. Ne vous réglez pas sur son exemple, do not be guided by her example. Prenez exemple sur lui, take example from him. C'est un homme d'exemple, he is a pattern—example to follow. Vous leur donnez un bien mauvais exemple, you give them a very bad example. Il n'a pas eu à l'exemple de son père, he has done it after the example of his father.

Nous ferons un exemple de lui, we will make an example of him.

Ce que vous dites-là est sans exemple, what you say is without an example—is unprecedented. Donnez-nous un exemple, give us an example of it. Un à vingt exemples dans l'histoire, you may find one examples—instances—of it in history. Cela n'a pas exemple, that cannot be given—produced—as an example.

Un exemple d'écriture, a copy. Avez-vous fini? montrez-moi votre exemple, have you done? come and show me your copy.

Par exemple, for instance.

Par exemple! voilà qui est fort singulier, well, that is odd enough. Ah, par exemple! c'est ce que je voudrais voir, well! well! this is famous! I should like to see it.

EXEMPT, E, adj. (pron. eg-zan, zante), exempt, free from. Nous sommes exempts du service militaire, we are exempt from military duty. Nul n'en est exempt, no one is free, is exempt from it. Je ne suis pas exempt de la vie exempte de peine, my life is not free—exempt—from sorrows. Cet ouvrage est exempt de fautes, this work is free from faults.

(Fam.) Cet homme est exempt de bien faire, this man is an idler—a do-nothing.

EXEMPT, s. m. Exempt de police, police officer—police constable. (Autrefois.) Exempt des gardes, officer of the armed police.

EXEMPTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to exempt—to free from. On les a exemptés de tout impôt, they have been exempted—freed from—taxes. Vous ne pouvez vous exempter d'aller lui faire visite, you cannot excuse—excuse—yourself from paying him a visit.

EXEMPTION, s. f. (pron. eg-zanp-sion), exemption.

EXEQUATUR, s. m. (mot latin, prononcé eg-zé-

…r), (t. de diplom.). Le roi a signé l'exequatur du …nsul, the king has signed the exequatur of the …ew consul—permission to exercise the duties of his office.

EXERCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Exercer des soldats, …exercise—to drill—to train soldiers. On exerce les …roupes à courir, à nager, the troops are practised—exer…cised—in running, in swimming. Il exerce ses chevaux …ans la plaine, he is exercising his horses in the plain. Exercer des chiens à chasser, to train—to practise dogs …to hunting. Il faut que j'aille un peu exercer mes …ambes, I must go and exercise my legs a little. Les …acteurs, les danseurs s'exerçaient, the actors, the ballet …dancers were practising. Tous les jours il exerçait ses …matelots à la manœuvre, he drilled—he trained his sailors …daily in manœuvring. S'exercer à faire des armes, to …practise—to exercise in—fencing. Vous exercez-vous à …la composition? do you practise composition—do you …exercise yourself in composition? Vous ne vous y exercez …pas assez, you do not practise it enough—you do not try …enough. Exercez-vous à la patience, exercise—exercise …yourself in—patience. Son esprit est bien exercé, his …mind is well trained—well practised. Ces choses-là …exercent la mémoire, l'esprit, these things exercise the …memory—the mind.

Quelle profession exercez-vous? what profession, what …business do you follow—do you practise? Il exerce la …médecine depuis vingt ans, he has practised in physic for …twenty years. Exercer une charge, to exercise—to do …the duties of—an office. Il y avait quinze ans qu'il exerçait …sa charge, he had been in possession—in the discharge …of that office for fifteen years. Il exerce les fonctions …de juge, he is discharging—fulfilling—the duties of a …judge. Exercer le pouvoir avec modération, to exercise …one's power with moderation. Tous les grands orateurs …vont exercer leur éloquence sur ce sujet, all the great …orators will use—exercise—their eloquence on that sub…ject. Exercer la charité, la bienfaisance, to practise …charity, beneficence. Il exerçait sa vengeance sur eux, …he exercised his revenge upon them. Elle exerce un …tel empire sur lui, she exercises, she has great empire …over—over him. Vous n'avez pas exercé assez de …surveillance, you have not exercised—used—watchfulness …enough.

Vous avez exercé ma patience, you have tried my …patience. Dieu se plaît quelquefois à exercer les bons, …God takes pleasure sometimes in trying the good.

EXERCICE, s. m. exercise; practice. Cela ne s'apprend que par un long exercice, that can be learned only …by long practice. Se tenir en exercice, to keep one's self …in exercise—in practice.

(T. milit.) Faire l'exercice, to be drilled. Faire …l'exercice à feu, to exercise in firing. Le colonel a fait …faire l'exercice au régiment, the colonel made the regi…ment go through the drilling exercise. Nous faisions …l'exercice sur les remparts, we exercised—we were drilled …on the ramparts.

Il se promène pour faire de l'exercice, he walks for the …sake of exercise. Il faut faire de l'exercice, you must …take exercise. (Fig.) Il donne de l'exercice à ses domes…tiques, he keeps his servants busily employed—he gives …them plenty to do.

Avez-vous fait vos exercices? have you gone through …your daily exercises—practice—drilling? Apprendre ses …exercices, to learn fencing—gymnastics—dancing. Il …excelle dans tous les exercices du corps, he succeeded …in all bodily exercises.

On ne s'apprend que par un long exercice, that can …be learned only by much practice. Vous ne vous tenez …pas à l'exercice, you do not keep yourself in practice. Il …faut que je me remette en exercice, I must get into …practice again.

L'exercice d'une profession, the exercise of a profession …—the discharge of the duties of it. Cet édifice est con…sacré à l'exercice du culte, that building is devoted to the …performance of public worship. Il a vécu dans l'exercice …de les vertus, he lived in the exercise—practice—of …virtue. Exercices spirituels, spiritual exercises.

Il s'oppose à l'exercice de vos devoirs, nothing op…poses the discharge—the execution—the exercise of your …duties. Il était dans l'exercice de ses fonctions, he was …in the discharge of—he was discharging—his duties. Être en exercice, to be on duty—in residence—(à la …cour), in waiting. Il entre en exercice demain, he will …be in office to-morrow. (T. d'administ.) Année d'exercice, the official year (the portion of the year occupied …in the discharge of certain duties). Les comptes de …l'exercice 1835 ne sont pas encore réglés, the accounts of …the year 1835 are not passed as yet.

EXERCITATION, s. f. exercitation; great labour.

EXÉRÈSE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), extraction; cutting off.

EXERGUE, s. m. (t. de numismatique), exergue.

EXFOLIATION, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), exfoliation.

EXFOLIER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to exfoliate. (T. de chirurg.), to exfoliate; to come off in scales.

EXHALAISON, s. f. exhalation.

EXHALANT, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), exhaling.

EXHALATION, s. f. exhalation; process, moment of exhaling.

EXHALER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to exhale. La rose exhale une douce odeur, the rose exhales—emits—a sweet scent. L'odeur qui s'exhale de ces marais est bien …mauvaise, the smell which is exhaled—emitted—by the …marsh is very offensive. Il s'exhalait une odeur fétide …de cette caverne, a noxious effluvia arose from—came out of—that cavern.

(Fig.) Exhaler sa colère, sa douleur, to vent—to give vent to—one's anger, pain. La douleur s'est exhalée en …plaintes, he complained—lamented—gave vent to his sorrow.

EXHAUSSEMENT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), height.

EXHAUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'archit.), to raise higher. Ce plafond est trop exhaussé, the ceiling is too high.

EXHÉRÉDATION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), exheredation; disinheriting.

EXHÉRÉDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to disinherit.

EXHIBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'adminis., de jurisp.), to exhibit, to produce.

EXHIBITION, s. f. (t. d'adminis., de jurisp.), exhibition; production; showing up.

EXHILARANT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), exhilarating.

EXHORTATION, s. f. exhortation.

EXHORTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exhort. Nous l'avons exhorté à obéir à son père, we exhorted him to obey his father.

EXHUMATION, s. f. exhumation; disinterment.

EXHUMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exhume, to disinter; (fig.), to rake up.

EXIGEANT, E. Vous êtes bien exigeant, you are very exacting—you require too much—you are so difficult to please. Ne vous montrez pas si exigeant, do not expect so much—do not show that you expect so much.

EXIGENCE, s. f. Votre exigence est déraisonnable, your demand—your request—is unreasonable. Rien ne …peut satisfaire son exigence, nothing can satisfy his wishes. Vous êtes d'une exigence insoutenable, you are exacting to an unbearable degree. Vous poussez trop …loin l'exigence, you carry too far your unreasonable wishes.

Selon l'exigence, according to the exigency of the case.

EXIGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Je n'exige que des …choses raisonnables, I require—ask—demand—nothing but what is reasonable. Les généraux exigèrent des con…tributions de guerre, the generals required—demanded—military contributions. Je n'exige pas qu'il le fasse, I do not require him to do it. Votre naissance exige cela …de vous, your birth requires—demands—that of you. C'est une place qui exige beaucoup d'assiduité, this place requires much assiduousness.

Vous exigez trop, you require too much—you exact. On ne peut être plus exigeant, impossible to be more exacting. Exigez-vous que cela soit? do you insist upon its being so? Cet usurier exige de gros intérêts, that usurer will have—demands—large interest.

EXIGIBLE, adj. exigible; that may be required.
EXIGU, GUË, adj. exiguous; small; slender.
EXIGUITÉ, s. f. exiguity; smallness; slenderness.
EXIL, s. m. exile. On l'a envoyé en exil, he has been sent into exile. Son ambassade est un honnête exil, his embassy is an honourable exile.
EXILER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to exile. On l'a exilé en Afrique, he has been exiled to Africa. Elle l'a exilé de sa présence, she has exiled him from her presence.
EXILÉ, E. J'ai rencontré deux ou trois exilés, I met two or three exiles.
EXISTANT, E, adj. extant.
EXISTENCE, s. f. existence. Nous tenons notre existence de Dieu, we hold our existence from God. Rien ne saurait prolonger notre existence, nothing could prolong our existence—our life. Respectez ceux à qui vous devez l'existence, respect those to whom you owe your existence—your life.
(Fig.) Il avait une belle existence dans le monde, he held a nice position in society. Cela nous procure une existence plus agréable, it procures us a happier existence —life. Il n'a point d'existence, he has no position—he holds no rank—in society.
EXISTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to exist; to be; to live. Il existe toujours, he is still existing—living. Elle n'existe plus, she is no more—she has ceased to live—to exist. Vous n'existiez pas alors, you did not exist—were not in existence—at that time. Il a bien de la peine à faire exister sa famille, he has great difficulty in maintaining his family. Avec cette fortune on peut exister, one may live—exist—on such a fortune.
EXOCET, s. m. Voyez Mugc.
EXODE, s. m. Exodus; Second Book of the Old Testament.
EXOMPHALE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), exomphalus; umbilical rupture.
EXOPHTHALMIE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), exophthalmy.
EXORABLE, adj. exorable.
EXORBITAMMENT, adv. exorbitantly.
EXORBITANT, E, adj. exorbitant.
EXORCISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exorcise.
EXORCISME, s. m. exorcism.
EXORCISTE, s. m. exorcist.
EXORDE, s. m. exordium; beginning.
EXOSTOSE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), exostosis, a tumour on a bone.
EXOTÉRIQUE, adj. exoteric; exterior; public.
EXOTIQUE, adj. exotic; coming from foreign countries.
EXPANSIBILITÉ, s. f. expansibility.
EXPANSIBLE, adj. expansible.
EXPANSIF, IVE, adj. expansive.
EXPANSION, s. f. expansion. (Fig.) Avoir de l'expansion, to be communicative.
EXPATRIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to expatriate; to expatriate one's self; to leave one's country.
EXPECTANT, E, adj. expectant. (T. de médec.) Médecine expectante, gentle medicine, leaving much to nature.
EXPECTATIF, IVE, adj. expectative.
EXPECTATIVE, s. f. expectation; (t. de jurisp.), reversion; (t. d'université), a thesis written by a candidate for the degree of Doctor.
EXPECTORANT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), expectorating; expectorative. s. m. expectorative.
EXPECTORATION, s. f. expectoration.
EXPECTORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to expectorate.
EXPÉDIENT, s. m. expedient. Prendre des expédients, to have recourse to expedients—to means. Tâchez de trouver quelque expédient, endeavour to find out some expedient—some way—some contrivance. Nous n'en sommes pas encore aux expédients, we have not come to expedients yet.—(Sam.), we are not reduced to shifts yet.
(T. de pratique.) Aller à l'expédient, to settle a thing amicably.

EXPÉDIENT, adj. m. Je ne crois pas qu'il soit expédient de le faire, I do not think it expedient—proper to do it.
EXPÉDIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Expédier une affaire, to expedite—to dispatch an affair. Il est bien expédié la besogne, he had soon dispatched—done—his work. Ce médecin expédie bientôt ses malades, the physician dispatches—kills—his patients quickly. Il expédia son dîner en deux minutes, he swallowed—finished—his dinner in two minutes. Nous lui comptâmes cinq cents francs qu'il expédia en quinze jours, we gave him five hundred francs which he spent in a fortnight. On les eut bientôt expédiés (fam.), they were soon at end of them.
Expédier des marchandises, to send—to forward goods. Nous leur expédiâmes un courrier, we dispatched a messenger to them.
(T. de pratique.) Expédier un contrat, to write out to make out a deed.
EXPÉDITEUR, s. m. (t. de commerce), consignor; he who sends goods to another.
EXPÉDITIF, IVE, adj. expeditious; quick.
EXPÉDITION, s. f. expedition; quickness; dispatch. Pour la plus grande expédition, or —, for greater dispatch, quickness, they —. Je ne vous demande que l'expédition, I ask of you only expedition, dispatch. C'est un homme d'expédition, he is an expeditious man—he is the man for the dispatch of business.
L'expédition de ces marchandises n'aura lieu que le mois prochain, these goods will not be sent before next month. Nous avons de grandes expéditions à faire, we have large consignments of goods to make.
(T. milit.) Les Français ont fait plusieurs expéditions sur ces côtes, the French made several expeditions to the shores. Expédition navale, naval expedition.
(T. de prat., de jurisp.), copy; duplicate.
(T. d'adminis.) Le courrier attend son expédition, the messenger is waiting for his dispatches.
EXPÉDITIONNAIRE, s. m. (t. de commerce), commissioner; consignee. Adj. (t. de bureaucratie) Commis expéditionnaire, copyist; clerk.
EXPÉRIENCE, s. f. experience. C'est un homme qui a beaucoup d'expérience, that man has much experience. Je le sais par expérience, I know that from experience. (Epreuve.) Nous allons en faire l'expérience, we are going to make the experiment. Nous avons fait plusieurs expériences chimiques, we made several chemical experiments.
EXPÉRIMENTAL, E, adj. experimental.
EXPERIMENTATEUR, s. m. experimentalist; one who makes experiments.
EXPÉRIMENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to experiment; to try. J'ai expérimenté la vertu de ce remède, I have tried—experienced—the virtue of this remedy. Les remèdes les plus expérimentés sont les plus sûrs, the most tried remedies are the safest. C'est un homme expérimenté dans cet art, he is a man of much experience in that art. Il n'employait que des hommes expérimentés, he employed none but experienced men.
EXPERT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.). Le tribunal a nommé des experts pour vérifier l'ouvrage des maçons, the court appointed arbitrators—surveyors—to examine the bricklayers' work. Les parties sont convenues d'experts, the parties have referred the matter to arbitration—to the decision of skilled arbitrators—of umpires—of experts.
EXPERT, E. adj. expert.
EXPERTISE, s. f. valuation, appraising by competent men).
EXPERTISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to value—to estimate the cost, the price of things.
EXPIATEUR, s. m. } atoner; one who expiates.
EXPIATRICE, s. f. }
EXPIATION, s. f. expiation. Il voulait aller en expiation de ses fautes, he would go to Rome in expiation of his faults. Sacrifice d'expiation, an expiatory sacrifice.
EXPIATOIRE, adj. expiatory.
EXPIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to expiate, to pay for.

EXPIRANT, E, adj. expiring; dying.
EXPIRATEUR, s. m. adj. (t. d'anat.). Muscles expirateurs, expiratory muscles.
EXPIRATION, s. f. expiration, end. (T. de physiologie), expiration, breathing out.
EXPIRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to expire. (Fig.), to die, to end. (T. de physiologie), to breathe out (the air, to end.

EXPLÉTIF, IVE, adj. (t. de gramm.), expletive; not necessary.
EXPLICABLE, adj. explicable.
EXPLICATEUR, s. m. exhibiter (in a show).
EXPLICATIF, IVE, adj. explicative, explicatory.
EXPLICATION, s. f. explanation. Cela ne demande pas d'explication, that requires no explanation. Cela donne l'explication d'un fait que je ne comprenais pas, that gives me the explanation of—explains to me—a fact which I could not make out. J'ai eu une explication avec lui, I have had an explanation with him. Je ne me refuse pas à une explication, I do not refuse having an explanation. Le professeur commence l'explication du texte, the lecturer is beginning the explication of the text.
EXPLICITE, adj. explicit.
EXPLICITEMENT, adv. explicitly.
EXPLIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to explain. Comment expliquez-vous cela? how do you explain that? Expliquez-vous, si vous voulez que l'on vous comprenne, explain yourself if you wish to be understood. Il nous a expliqué clairement le jeu de la machine, he explained clearly how the engine works. Lui avez-vous expliqué vos intentions? have you explained your intentions to him? Permettez que je m'explique, allow me to explain myself. Sa conduite s'explique d'elle-même, his conduct explains itself sufficiently. Cela explique pourquoi il n'est pas venu, that accounts for his not coming—explains why he did not come. Il s'est enfin expliqué, he has spoken at last—he has made known his wishes, his meaning. Vous êtes-vous expliqué avec lui? have you had an explanation with him? Nous nous en sommes expliqués, we have had an explanation about it. Il faut le faire expliquer—s'expliquer, you must make him explain. Vous, Messieurs, expliquez-vous, et ne vous disputez donc, come, come, gentlemen, explain yourselves, do not dispute. (T. d'école.) Il explique assez bien les auteurs, he explains the classics tolerably. Ce passage est mal expliqué, this passage is badly construed—ill explained—unintelligible. Expliquer la Bible, to explain, expound the Bible.
EXPLOIT, s. m. exploit; deed; feat. C'est un bel exploit, it is a noble deed. Il s'est signalé par ses exploits, he has made himself great, illustrious, by his deeds. (t. de jurisp.) Quel bel exploit vous avez fait là, a great thing you have done there! (t. de jurisp.) Exploit d'assignation, summons (for appearance in court). Signifier un exploit, to serve a writ. Exploit de saisie, a writ of capias. (Fam.) Eviter un exploit, to avoid having a writ served.
EXPLOITABLE, adj. (t. de jurisp.), liable to be legally seized. Ces bois-là ne sont pas encore exploitables, that timber—those trees are—not yet fit for cutting. Cette mine n'est pas encore exploitable, that mine cannot yet be worked.
EXPLOITABILITÉ, s. f. capability of returning profit—of producing commercial advantages.
EXPLOITANT, adj. (t. de pratique), serving summonses, writs, &c.
EXPLOITANT, s. m. person managing, undertaking a commercial enterprise.
EXPLOITATION, s. f. enterprise, concern of a commercial nature. Ils furent obligés d'abandonner cette exploitation, they were obliged to give up that concern—enterprise—that speculation. Il est à la tête d'une grande exploitation commerciale, he is the director—manager—of a large commercial concern. L'exploitation de cette terre et de ces bois rapporte beaucoup, the farming of that land and felling of these woods brings in large profits. Exploitation industrielle, manufacturing concern. Exploitation agricole, farming concern—enterprise. Exploitation des mines, working of mines. Exploitation des diligences de Rouen à Caen, stage coach-office, between Rouen and Caen.
EXPLOITER, v. a. reg. 1ère conj. Il exploite sa terre lui-même, he cultivates—works—his estate himself. Exploiter une mine, to work a mine. Exploiter un chemin de fer, to manage—direct—a railway concern. (Fam.) Exploiter la curiosité publique, to speculate on public curiosity. Il a bien exploité sa place, he has made the best of his situation. Il s'entend à exploiter les choses, he knows how to derive advantages—profits—from things. Vous avez bien exploité, a fine concern—business you have made of it!
(T. de jurisp.), to serve warrants, writs, summonses.
EXPLOITEUR, s. m. one who makes little profits in every way; who takes advantage of the weakness of others, to make unfair gains.
EXPLORATEUR, s. m. explorator; (fig.), spy.
EXPLORATION, s. f. exploration.
EXPLORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to explore.
EXPLOSION, s. f. explosion; bursting out; (fig.), breaking out.
EXPORTATION, s. f. exportation.
EXPORTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to export. Marchandises exportées, exports, exported goods.
EXPOSANT, s. m.
EXPOSANTE, s. f. } (t. de jurisp.), petitioner.
EXPOSANT, s. m. (t. de commerce), exhibiter; (t. de mathé.), exponent.
EXPOSÉ, s. m. statement; exposition; showing. Il en a fait un simple exposé, he gave a simple statement of it. Exposé de la situation du royaume, an account—a summary—of the situation of the kingdom.
EXPOSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On exposait tout cela en spectacle, all these things were made a show of—were exposed to view. Il a exposé deux tableaux, he has exhibited two pictures. On exposa le corps sur un lit de parade, the body was exposed—laid out—on a bed of state. Les criminels furent exposés sur la place publique, the culprits were exhibited—exposed to public view. Exposer le Saint Sacrement, to expose the Host. Exposer des marchandises en vente, to offer goods for sale—to lay them out for sale. Nous sommes trop exposés à la vue publique ici, we are too much exposed to public view here.
Notre maison est mal exposée, our house has a bad aspect. Ma chambre est exposée au midi, my room has a southern aspect—looks to the south.
Il faudrait exposer ces meubles à l'air, these things should be exposed to the air—put out to be aired. Exposer du linge au soleil pour le sécher, to lay out linen in the sun to dry. Exposez cela à l'air, hang this out in the air.
Exposez-nous vos intentions, let us know your intentions—make them known to us—lay them before us. Vous n'exposez pas bien le fait, you do not state the fact correctly. J'en ai exposé les motifs, I have stated—made known—the reasons of it. Exposer vrai, to make a true statement. Exposer faux, to make a wrong statement.
J'exposerais ma vie pour elle, I would venture my life for her sake. Vous vous exposez au plus grand danger, you expose yourself to the greatest danger—you run the risk of the greatest danger. Je ne voudrais pas m'exposer à lui déplaire, I would not run the risk of offending her. Vous vous exposez trop, you expose yourself too much—you run too great a risk.
Exposer un enfant, to expose—to drop—an infant.
EXPOSITION, s. f. exposition; declaration; exhibition (of pictures, works of arts, &c.). (Aspect), aspect. Interpretation (of difficult passages).
EXPRÈS, s. m. express.
EXPRÈS, ESSE, adj. express.
EXPRÈS, adv. on purpose; purposely. Il le fait exprès pour me tourmenter, he does it on purpose to torment me. Il semble fait exprès pour cela, he seems to have been made on purpose for that.

EXPRESSÉMENT, adv. expressly, purposely; on purpose.

EXPRESSIF, IVE, adj. expressive.

EXPRESSION, s. f. expression; (t. de chimie), extraction; pressing out.

EXPRIMABLE, adj. expressible; that can be expressed.

EXPRIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to express. Vous avez bien exprimé votre idée, you have expressed your idea well. Il s'exprime bien, he expresses himself well—he speaks well. Les muets s'expriment par des gestes, dumb people express themselves by their gestures. (T. de chimie), to express; to squeeze out.

EXPROPRIATION, s. f. expropriation.

EXPROPRIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to expropriate.

EXPULSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to expel; to expulse.

EXPULSIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), expulsive; expelling.

EXPULSION, s. f. expulsion.

EXPULTRICE, adj. f. expulsive.

EXPURGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to expurgate; to purify.

EXPURGATION, s. f. expurgation; purification.

EXQUIS, E, adj. exquisite; (des choses à manger ou à boire), delicious.

EXQUISEMENT, adv. exquisitely; deliciously.

EXSUCCION, s. f. exsuction.

EXSUDATION, s. f. (t. de physiq.), exudation.

EXSUDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exude.

EXTANT, adj. extant.

EXTASE, s. f. ecstasy. Être en extase, to be in ecstasy. Elle était ravie en extase, she was in raptures—she was thrown into ecstasy.

EXTASIER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj. On ne peut entendre cette belle musique sans s'extasier, you cannot hear that beautiful music without falling into rapture, into ecstasy. Il s'extasie à la moindre chose, the least thing throws him into ecstasy.

EXTATIQUE, adj. ecstatic.

EXTENSEUR, s. m. (t. d'anat.), extensor. Adj. Le muscle extenseur, the extensor muscle.

EXTENSIBILITÉ, s. f. extensibility; capability of being extended.

EXTENSIBLE, adj. extensible.

EXTENSION, s. f. extension.

EXTÉNUATION, s. f. extenuation (of a fault, of a crime); (voyez Atténuation). (Affaiblissement.) Il est dans une grande exténuation, he is much weakened, reduced, extenuated.

EXTÉNUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Sa maladie l'a exténué, his disease has reduced his strength—has weakened him much. Il s'exténue à force de veilles et de travail, he weakens his powers by dint of sitting up late and working. Je suis exténué de fatigue, I am knocked up—I am overwhelmed with fatigue. Comme il a le visage exténué, how wan and pale his face is.

EXTÉRIEUR, E, adj. Les parties extérieures du corps, the external parts of the body. Les ornements extérieurs du palais, the external—outside—ornaments of the palace. Il mène une vie toute extérieure, he leads a public life.

Le commerce extérieur, the foreign trade. La politique extérieure commence à se brouiller, our foreign relations—our political situation abroad—are getting embroiled. Avez-vous vu le ministre des relations extérieures? have you seen the minister for foreign affairs?

EXTÉRIEUR, s. m. exterior; outside. Je n'ai vu que l'extérieur du château, I saw the outside of the castle only. Nous entendîmes un grand bruit à l'extérieur, we heard a great noise outside.

Les nouvelles de l'extérieur sont bonnes, our news from abroad—foreign news—are good. A l'intérieur, comme à l'extérieur, tout est tranquille, all is quiet at home and abroad. Quel est l'état de nos relations avec l'extérieur? what is the situation of our affairs abroad?

Les jeunes gens s'occupent beaucoup de leur extérieur, young men think much of the outside—of their outward appearance. Il a un bel extérieur, his face, he is very handsome. Il prévient par son extérieur, his appearance is prepossessing. L'intérieur ne répond pas à l'extérieur, the inside is not so good as the outside. Soignez votre extérieur, take care of your appearance.

EXTÉRIEUREMENT, adv. outside; externally; outwardly.

EXTERMINATEUR, s. m. exterminator; destroyer.

EXTERMINATRICE, s. f. L'ange exterminateur, the destroying angel.

EXTERMINATION, s. f. extermination, destruction. C'est une guerre d'extermination, it is a war to extermination—of destruction.

EXTERMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exterminate; to destroy.

EXTERNAT, s. m. day-school.

EXTERNE, s. m. f. (t. d'école), day-boy, day-girl; day-scholar.

EXTERNE, adj. external.

EXTINCTION, s. f. extinction. L'extinction d'un incendie, the extinction of a fire. L'extinction d'une famille, the extinction of a family. L'extinction de la chaux, the slaking of lime. Il m'a pris une extinction de voix, my voice failed me—became extinct all of a once. Vendre à l'extinction des feux, des bougies, to sell by inch of candle. Extinction d'une rente, redemption of an annuity.

EXTIRPATEUR, s. m. extirpator; (t. d'agric.), extirpator; an instrument to root out weeds.

EXTIRPATION, s. f. extirpation.

EXTIRPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to extirpate, (fig.) to extirpate, to root up.

EXTORQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to extort.

EXTORSION, s. f. extorsion.

EXTRACTIF, IVE, adj. extractive.

EXTRACTION, s. f. extraction. Faire l'extraction d'une balle, to extract a ball (from a wound). Il est d'une noble extraction, he is of noble extraction; he is of noble descended.

EXTRADITION, s. f. Il s'était réfugié en pays étranger, mais le gouvernement demanda son extradition, he had taken refuge in a foreign country (abroad), but the government asked his being sent away.

EXTRADOS, s. m. (t. d'archit.), the outward curve of a vault.

EXTRADOSSÉ, E, adj. is said of an arch which forms a circle outside as well as inside—but not of a flat top.

EXTRAIRE, v. a. v. irrég. (voyez Traire.)

EXTRAIT, s. m. extract. Extrait de naissance, certificate of birth. Extrait baptistère, certificate of baptism. Extrait mortuaire, certificate of death. (Abrégé.) (T. de loterie.) Voyez ce mot.

EXTRAJUDICIAIRE, adj. extrajudicial.

EXTRAJUDICIAIREMENT, adv. extrajudicially.

EXTRAORDINAIRE, adj. extraordinary. C'est un événement extraordinaire, it is an extraordinary—singular—remarkable—event. Il n'y a rien d'extraordinaire à cela, there is nothing extraordinary in that. Les dépenses extraordinaires de l'état, the extraordinary expenses of the state. Courrier extraordinaire, extraordinary messenger. Nous avons eu une séance extraordinaire aujourd'hui, we had an extraordinary meeting to-day. La chose est extraordinaire, the thing is extraordinary—singular. Un costume extraordinaire, what an extraordinary—singular—unusual costume!

EXTRAORDINAIRE, s. f. Nous avons fait une extraordinaire, we have done an unusual thing. L'extraordinaire monte à trente livres, the extraordinaries—additional things—the extraordinaries—come to 30 L'extraordinaire des guerres, the irregular expenses—additional expenses—of the war-department.

EXTRAORDINAIREMENT, adv. extraordinarily; unusually; additionally; singularly.

EXTRAVAGAMMENT, adv. extravagantly; absurdly; singularly.

EXTRAVAGANCE, s. f. extravagance, folly. Il a dit mille extravagances, he said a thousand extravagant things.

EXTRAVAGANT, E, adj. extravagant; mad; foolish.

EXTRAVAGUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to talk incessantly; to talk nonsense. (D'un malade), to wander.

EXTRAVASATION, s. f. (t. de médec., d'hist. nat.), extravasation.

EXTRAVASER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to be extravasated.

EXTRAVASION. Voyez Extravasation.

EXTRÊME, adj. extreme.

EXTRÊME, s. m. extreme. Se jeter dans les extrêmes, to run into extremes. Pousser tout à l'extrême, to carry every thing to an extreme—to excess. (T. de théâtre.), extremes.

EXTRÊMEMENT, adv. extremely.

EXTRÊME-ONCTION, s. f. extreme unction; the sacrament administered to the dying in the Romish church.

EXTREMIS, In (loc. adv. pron. ine-ex-trê-mice), at the point of death.

EXTRÉMITÉ, s. f. Les extrémités du corps, the extremities of the body. Couper l'extrémité des cheveux, to cut off the extremity—the end—the tip end of the hair. Il est logé à l'extrémité de la ville, he is lodged at the farthest end of the town. Il est à l'extrémité, he is dying. Nous étions réduits à l'extrémité, we were reduced to extremity. Vous allez toujours à l'extrémité, you always carry things to the extreme.

Ne le poussez pas à l'extrémité, do not provoke him. Il s'est porté à la dernière extrémité contre lui, he behaved in the most violent way to him. Nous voilà dans une fâcheuse extrémité, we are in an uncomfortable extremity—predicament.

EXTRINSEQUE, adj. extrinsic.

EXUBÉRANCE, s. f. exuberance, luxuriance.

EXUBÉRANT, E, adj. exuberant; luxuriant.

EXULCÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to exulcerate. Les intestins sont exulcérés, his intestines are exulcerated.

EXUTOIRE, s. m. (t. de médec.), issue; blister.

EX-VOTO, s. m. offering; memento. Ce tableau est un ex-voto offert par un matelot sauvé d'un naufrage, this picture is an offering made by a sailor saved from shipwreck.

F

FA, s. m. (t. de musique), Fa; f. Jouer dans la clef de fa, to play in f. Ce fa est dièse, this f is sharp.

FABAGO, s. m. } (t. de bot.), bean caper.
FABAGELLE, s. f. }

FABLE, s. f. fable. Avez-vous lu les fables de La Fontaine? have you read La Fontaine's fables? Il connaît la Fable, he is well acquainted with mythology—with the fables of paganism. (Fig.) Je regarde cela comme une fable. I look upon this as a story—as a fabulous story. Ce n'est point une fable; cela est parfaitement vrai, this is no fable, it is perfectly true. Vous serez la fable du peuple, you will be the laughing-stock and the common talk—of the people.

FABLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to tell, to compose fables.

FABLIAU, } s. m. stories, tales in verse, composed in FABLIAUX, } the 12th and 13th centuries.

FABLIER, s. m. an author of fables; a collection of fables.

FABRICANT, s. m. } manufacturer. Il est fabricant
FABRICANTE, s. f. } de soieries à Lyon, he is a silk manufacturer at Lyons.

FABRICATEUR, s. m. } fabricator; maker; forger.
FABRICATRICE, s. f. }

FABRICATION, s. f. fabrication; making; (en mauvaise part), forging; fabricating; coining.

FABRICIEN, s. m. churchwarden.

FABRIQUE, s. f. (T. d'église.) La fabrique de l'église St. Jean, the parish officers of the Church St. John. Il faut vous adresser à la fabrique, you must apply to the parish officers—to the churchwardens, &c. La fabrique de cette église est très-riche, the property of the church is considerable. Une dame a quêté pour la fabrique, a lady made a collection for the funds of the church. (The property here alluded to has nothing to do with the income of the parish priest; it is used for keeping the church in repair, purchasing ornaments, assisting the poor, &c.)

FABRIQUE, s. f. (Fabrication), manufacturing; make. Ces draps sont de la fabrique de Louviers, these cloths are Louviers manufacture—make. Cela est de bonne fabrique, this is well manufactured. Marchandises de fabrique, goods made in large quantities, like Sheffield wares, Manchester goods. Il a mal un couteau de fabrique, it is a common knife. Il a une belle fabrique de draps, he has a beautiful cloth manufactory. Ces soieries sont de fabrique de Lyon, these silks are of Lyons make—manufacture. Je vous donne ces choses au prix de fabrique, I give you these things at cost price. (Fam.) Cela est de sa fabrique, that is of his own fabrication. Ce sont deux hommes de même fabrique, these two men are of the same sort.

Voilà une fabrique élégante, that is an elegant building. Il peint bien les fabriques, he paints buildings, edifices well.

FABRIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to manufacture; to make. (Fig.) Fabriquer une histoire, to invent, to fabricate a story. Fabriquer un testament, &c., to forge a will.

FABULEUSEMENT, adv. fabulously.

FABULEUX, EUSE, adj. fabulous.

FABULISTE, s. m. fabulist.

FAÇADE, s. f. façade; front.

FACE, s. f. face. Il avait la face entièrement couverte de taches, his face was entirely covered with spots. Dieu détourne sa face du pécheur, God turns his face away from the sinner.

Il a une grosse face, he has a large face. Voyez donc cette face réjouie, do look at that jolly face. Il a la face enluminée, he has a red face—a carbuncled face. Une face de carême, a blank—pale—wan face. Il a une face de réprouvé, there is something horrid in the expression of his face. Avoir une face de prédestiné, to have a blooming—happy—countenance. (Fam.) Couvrir la face, to give a slap on the face. Face d'homme porte vertu, there is power in the face of man—i. e. a man always gains something by being present. (Apparence.) Telle était alors la face des affaires, such was then the appearance of things. La face des eaux, the surface—the face—of the waters. Cela changea la face du monde entier, that altered the face of the whole world. Cette affaire a plusieurs faces, that affair has several sides—points of view. Elle se présentait à moi sous une autre face, it presented itself to me under a different aspect—point of view. (T. de peinture.) L'ensemble de la figure a dix faces, the length of the whole figure is equal to ten heads. (T. d'archit.) La face d'une maison, the front of a house. Ce bâtiment a 60 pieds de face, the frontage—front—of this building is 60 feet. La face du côté du jardin, the side looking on the garden. (T. de peint.) Les faces d'une pyramide, the faces of a pyramid.

Regarder quelqu'un en face, to look at a person in the face. Osez-vous bien me regarder en face? do you dare to look at me? Il regardait le danger en face sans sourciller, he looked peril full in the face without blinking. Je le lui dirai en face, I will tell it him to his face. Je lui résisterai en face, I will resist him openly. Je me trouvai face à face avec lui, I found myself face to face with him—in his presence. Nous logeons en face de l'église, we live opposite the church. Mettez-vous en face de nous, place yourself opposite to us. En face d'eux, opposite to them. En face, est l'église, opposite is the church. Nous voilà face à face, expliquons-nous, now we are—now we have met—face to face, let us have an explanation. Je le ferais à la face du monde entier, I would do it in the face of the whole world. De prime face, at first, from the first.

(Faire face.) Sa maison fait face à la nôtre, his house faces ours—stands opposite to ours. Nous faisions face à l'ennemi, we faced the enemy—we stood in front of the enemy. Faire volte face, to turn round. (Fig.) Ses moyens ne lui permettent pas de faire face à ces dépenses, à ses engagements, his means do not permit him to meet that expense—to meet his engagements. Il fera face à tout, he will meet every demand—he will accomplish every thing—satisfy every body. Je ferai face à tout, I will do every thing that is required.

(De face.) Vu de face, cet édifice est imposant, seen in front—taking a front view—that building is imposing. Son portrait est pris de face, his portrait is a full face.

FACÉ, E, adj. faced; full faced. Un homme bien facé, a man having a good face.

FACÉTIE, s. f. (pron. fa-cé-cie), facetiousness; joke; facetious saying. Il est en humeur de dire des facéties, he is in the humour to be facetious—to say facetious things.

FACÉTIEUSEMENT, adv. facetiously.

FACÉTIEUX, EUSE, adj. facetious.

FACETTE, s. f. facet. Diamant à facettes, a diamond with cut facets.

FACETTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de lapidaire), to cut a stone with facets. Cette pierre est bien facettée, that diamond is beautifully cut.

FÂCHER, v. a. v. r. v. imp. rég. 1ère conj. Prenez garde de le fâcher, take care not to make him angry—not to offend him. Il se fâche de tout, he takes offence at every thing—he gets angry at every thing. Elle est bien fâchée contre vous, she is very angry with you. Je me fâcherai sérieusement si vous en parlez, I shall be really angry if you mention it. Je me suis fâché contre lui, I got angry with him—I took offence at him. Il a toujours l'air fâché, he always looks angry. Il est fâché tout de bon, he is really angry. Ne nous fâchons pas, let us not get angry. Si vous vous fâchez, je ne dis plus rien, if you get angry I say no more. Soit dit sans vous fâcher, be it said without offence.

Cet événement me fâche beaucoup, that event grieves me much. Votre refus l'a beaucoup fâché, your refusal gave him much pain. Je suis bien fâché de cela, I am very sorry for that. Il est bien fâché de ne vous avoir pas vu, he is very sorry not to have seen you. C'est un malheur dont je suis bien fâché, it is a misfortune which I regret much. J'en suis fâché, I am sorry for it. Je suis fâché qu'il n'ait pas réussi, I am sorry he has not succeeded. Il a l'air fâché, he looks displeased.

Il me fâche de vous quitter, it grieves me—I am sorry—to leave you.

FÂCHERIE, s. f. displeasure; quarrel. La cause la plus féconde en fâcheries, c'est la politique, politics produce more quarrels—more misunderstandings—than any thing else.

FÂCHEUX, EUSE, adj. Nous avons de fâcheuses nouvelles, we have grievous—untoward news. C'est une fâcheuse rencontre, it is an unlucky accident. Cet homme est fâcheux, that man is difficult to please—is cross. Il a une humeur fâcheuse, he is cross-tempered—he has a vexatious temper. Il est dans une fâcheuse position, he is in a sad—in a grievous—position. Voilà un fâcheux chemin, this is a very bad road. Ce que vous dites-là est bien fâcheux, what you say is very grieving—vexatious—unfortunate. Il est fâcheux qu'il lui ait pas plu, it is sad—unfortunate—that he did not please him. Il est fâcheux d'être seul reçu, quand on vient avec de bonnes intentions, it is hard—vexatious—to be badly received when you come with good intentions.

FÂCHEUX, s. m. importunate man or woman; intruder.

FÂCHEUSE, s. f. intruder. Voilà le fâcheux de l'affaire, this is the unpleasantness of the affair.

FACIAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), facial.

FACIENDE, s. f. (mot emprunté de l'Espagnol), intrigue; party.

FACILE, adj. m. f. easy. Il n'y a rien de si facile à faire, there is nothing so easy to do. C'est une opération facile, it is an easy operation. Il n'est pas facile de se contenter, it is not easy—an easy thing—to satisfy one. Ce passage est facile à comprendre, this passage is easy to be understood—to understand. Il est facile de le empêcher, it is easy to prevent it. Cela est plus facile à dire qu'à faire, it is more easy to say so than to do it. Cet homme est de facile accès, that man is of an easy approach—is very approachable. Il a le travail facile, he works easily—with facility. Ses vers sont faciles, his verses are easy—are not elaborate. C'est l'ouvrage d'une plume facile, this is the work of a ready pen.

C'est un homme facile, he is an easy—a complaisant man. Il est d'une humeur facile, his temper is easy—even. Vous êtes trop facile envers lui, you are too indulgent to please him—too indulgent to him. Je ne l'aurais pas cru si facile, I could not have believed him so easy.

FACILEMENT, adv. easily.

FACILITÉ, s. f. facility; ease. Je doute de la facilité de cette méthode, I doubt the facility of that method. Il l'a fait avec facilité, he did it with ease, with facility. Il commence à parler avec facilité, he begins to speak with facility. Il a une grande facilité à parler, he is at great ease in speaking—he speaks with great ease. Il a beaucoup de facilité pour apprendre, he has much facility in learning. Il y a beaucoup de facilité dans son style, there is much facility—ease—in his style. On vous donnera toutes les facilités possibles, you will have all facilities afforded you.

Il est d'une grande facilité en affaires, his facility—readiness—in affairs is great. N'abusez pas de sa facilité, do not take advantage of his facility—of his easy temper. Cette facilité de mœurs l'expose à être trompé, his easy temper exposes him to be deceived.

FACILITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to facilitate.

FAÇON, s. f. (Travail, forme.) La façon de cet habit est toute nouvelle, the fashion—the make—of this coat is quite new. La façon coûte plus que la matière, the making costs more than the materials. Combien prend-il de façon? how much does he charge for the making? Cet ouvrage est de sa façon, this work is of his own fashioning—of his own making. C'est un conte de sa façon, it is a story of his own invention. Voilà un tour de votre façon, this is a trick of your own. (T. de pratique.) Par un arrêt, drawing up of a decree.

(Manière.) Telle est sa façon de vivre, such is the way in which he lives. Est-ce là votre façon d'agir? is this your way of acting—is this the way you act? Vous êtes vêtu d'une étrange façon, you are dressed in a singular way—manner—style. Faites de cette façon, do thus—in this way. Ces façons de faire ne sont pas propres à plaire à personne, these ways, these manners—these styles—please any body. Vous avez de vilaines façons, you have ugly ways. Il a de bonnes façons—des façons aimables, he has amiable ways—manners. C'est sa façon, it is his way. Chacun a sa façon, every one has his way. La façon de notre pays, after the fashion of our country. Il a parlé d'une étrange façon, people speak of him in a strange way. De la façon que je l'ai dit, as it is said—from the way I said it, it will be believed. Mettons-le de la façon qu'il vous plaira, put it in the way you please. De façon qu'ils se sont arrangés, so that they have thing. Je lui parlerai de la bonne façon, s'il revient ere, I will speak to him in a fine style, if he comes n. Maintenant qu'il est riche, il s'en donne de la ne façon, now he is rich, he indulges in every way—refuses himself nothing. De toute façon, any how—ny way. Changez de façon, alter your ways. Faites le cette façon, do it this way. Il faut d'une façon ou utre que je le voie, I must see him, one way or another. e façon de parler, by way of speaking. C'est une on de parler, it is a way of speaking. De quelque on que ce soit, any how, in any way. En nulle façon n aucune façon, by no means. Ce sont des gens d'une ine façon, they are people of a certain way—fashion. te n'a ni mine ni façon, it has neither grace nor good esance. Cet homme n'a ni mine ni façon, that man ithout grace or good looks. Il le portait en façon de olier, he wore it in the fashion of a belt.

C'est une façon de savant, he is a sort of learned man.

(Cérémonie.) Ne faites pas de façons, make no ceremonies. Vous voyez que nous ne faisons point de façons e vous, you see we make no ceremonies—we stand upon remony—with you. Je viens sans façon vous demander à dîner, I come freely—as a friend—to ask you give me some dinner. C'est un homme sans façon, he s free and easy man—a plain man. Allons, allons, ut de façons, come, come, no ceremonies. Voilà bien façons, why all these ceremonies?

(T. de métiers.) Donner une première façon à un mp, to give a first dressing to a field. Ce coffre est un d'ébène, this casket is in imitation of ebony. ndre en façon de marbre, to imitate marble in owing.

FAÇONDE, s. f. (vieux mot), eloquence; (en mauvaise part), loquacity; superabundance of words.

FAÇONNER, v. a. e. r. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fashion; ire. Vous avez mal façonné tout cela, you have ly fashioned—arranged that. Façonner un vase, to , to give the last form to a vase. (Fig.) Je l'ai onné à ma manière, I fashioned—I formed—I moulded m—in my own way. Le monde le façonnera, the rld will improve him—will form him—will instil ne manners into him. Ils se sont façonnés au joug, y got accustomed to the yoke. (T. d'agric.) Façonner pièce de terre, to give a dressing to a piece of land. Pourquoi façonner ainsi? why do you stand on ceremony in this way—why make these ceremonies?

Soie façonnée, figured silk.

FAÇONNIER, IÈRE, adj. You are too façonnier, are too ceremonious—you pay too much attention ceremonies. Elle est si façonnière, she is so formal—[facsimile.

FAC-SIMILE, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. fac-si-mi-lé), [ercise.

FACTEUR, s. m. maker. Allez chez le facteur d'instruments, go to the instrument maker. (T. de commerce.) Nous avons un facteur à Londres, we have a factor, an ent, in London. (T. d'administ.) Le facteur n'est encore venu, the letter-carrier—the postman—has not me yet. (T. de mathém.), factor, (the multiplier or multiplicand).

FACTIEUX, s. m. adj. m. } factious. On a banni les FACTIEUSE, s. f. adj. f. } factieux, the factious people e been banished. Il a l'esprit factieux, he has a ious mind, spirit.

FACTICE, adj. factitious; (fig.), fictitious.

FACTICEMENT, adv. factitiously; fictitiously.

FACTION, s. f. faction. L'assemblée était divisée en tions, the assembly was divided into factions—parties. milit.) Être de faction, to be on duty—a sentry. est mon tour de faction, it is my turn to be on duty. l fait six heures de faction, I was six hours on duty. tir de faction, to come off—to be relieved from duty. oyage ordin.) Je me suis mis en faction à sa porte, ainted myself at his door. Il m'a fait faire faction e la rue, he kept me waiting—dancing attendance in street.

FACTIONNAIRE, s. m. sentry.

FACTORERIE, } s. f. factory.
FACTORIE, }

FACTOTUM, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. fac-to-tome), factotum; jack of all work.

FACTUM, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. fac-tome) (t. de pratique), statement; writing.

FACTURE, s. f. (t. de commerce), invoice; (t. de musique), composition. (T. de versification.) Il entend bien la facture du vers, he understands well the composition of the verse.

FACULTATIF, TIVE, adj. facultative.

FACULTÉ, s. f. faculty. Les facultés physiques et morales, physical and moral faculties. Cet animal est doué d'une faculté singulière, this animal is gifted with a singular faculty—powers. Il n'a pas la faculté de bien parler, he does not possess the faculty of speaking well. Nous lui avons accordé la faculté de faire, &c., we granted him the faculty of — &c. Chacun est taxé suivant ses facultés, every one is rated according to his faculties—abilities.

(T. d'université), faculty. Il est doyen de la faculté de droit, he is dean of the faculty of law. La faculté de médecine, the faculty of medicine. La faculté l'a abandonné, the doctors have given him up.

FADAISE, s. f. silly thing; insipid things. Il ne dit que des fadaises, he says nothing but foolish things—he talks nothing but nonsense. Il a la tête pleine de fadaises, his head is full of insipid ideas.

FADE, adj. Cette viande est fade, this meat is tasteless; insipid. Cela a un goût fade, it has an insipid taste. Se sentir le cœur fade, to feel sickly—a distaste.

(Fig.) Une beauté fade, a mawkish—insipid—beauty. Elle avait le teint fade, her complexion was pale—without any animation. Sa conversation est fade, his conversation is insipid—wants animation.

FADEUR, s. f. insipidity; tastelessness. (Fig.) Je ne pouvais supporter plus long-temps la fadeur de ses discours, I could not bear any longer his insipid—unmeaning speeches. Il ne fait que dire des fadeurs, he says nothing but insipid things—he talks mawkishly. Dire des fadeurs à une femme, to pay silly compliments to a woman.

FAGOT, s. m. faggot. Nous brûlons du fagot, we burn faggots. (Fam.) L'âme d'un fagot, the small wood inside the faggot. Prendre un air de fagot, to warm one's self at the fire. (Fig.) Il y a fagots et fagots, men are not all alike. Cet homme sent le fagot, that man is tainted with heresy—he will be burnt alive. C'est un fagot d'épines, he is like a bundle of thorns—i. e. he is cross; you cannot approach him without being pricked. (Fam.) Conter des fagots, to tell idle stories. Vous êtes fait—habillé—comme un fagot, you are all of a bunch—you are an odd figure.

(T. de métiers.) Nous avions cent futailles en fagot, we had one hundred casks put up into bundles. Les vaisseaux étaient pourvus de chaloupes en fagot, the ships were provided with boats (in pieces) tied up in bundles.

FAGOTAGE, s. m. small wood (fit alone for faggots); tying up small wood into faggots.

FAGOTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to faggot; to tie up wood into faggots. (Fig. et fam.) Voilà qui est bien mal fagoté, this is bunglingly arranged—what a clumsy thing this is! Comme vous vous fagotez, how awkwardly you dress—what a figure you make of yourself. Qui vous a fagoté comme cela? who has made such a figure of you—who has dressed you in this way?

FAGOTEUR, s. m. faggot-maker; (fig.), bungler. Fagoteur de romans, a novel scribbler.

FAGOTIN, s. m. name given to a monkey dressed to play tricks in a show; a clown; a mountebank; a merry Andrew.

FAGOUE, s. f. (t. d'anat.). Voyez Iliz (de veau).

FAGUENAS, s. m. fusty smell; bad odour, from a sickly, unclean body.

FAIBLE, } adj. Cette planche est trop faible pour un FOIBLE, } pareil poids, this plank is too feeble—weak for such a burden. Cette monnaie est faible, this coin is light. J'aime le thé faible, I am fond of weak tea. Nous avons fait là un faible repas, we have made a light repast. Nous eûmes bientôt épuisé nos faibles ressources, we had soon exhausted our slender resources. Il ne faut y en mettre qu'une faible quantité, it only requires a very small—trifling—quantity. Notre gouvernement est faible, our government is weak—wants energy. Il est bien faible depuis sa maladie, he has been weak ever since his illness. Elle est si faible qu'elle ne saurait marcher, she is so weak that she cannot walk. C'est un homme faible, il cède à tout le monde, he is a weak—easy—man, he yields to every body. Il est faible de corps et d'esprit, he is weak in mind and body. Il a les jambes faibles, his legs are weak. Elle a la vue faible, she is weak-sighted—she has weak eyes. (Fig.) Il a les reins trop faibles pour une pareille entreprise, he is too weak in the back for such an undertaking. C'est un esprit faible, he is weak-minded. Il faut aussi voir le côté faible de la chose, you must also see the weak side—point—of the thing. N'abusez pas d'un sexe faible et timide, do not take advantage of a feeble and timid sex.

J'ai la mémoire faible, my memory is bad. Je n'en ai conservé qu'un faible souvenir, I have only a faint remembrance of it. Cela ne vous en donne qu'une faible idée, that gives you a weak—faint—light—imperfect—idea of it. C'est-là une faible raison, this is a weak—a poor—reason. On méprisait leur faible autorité, their weak authority was despised. Nous n'avons que de faibles espérances, we have but slender hopes. Dans la faible enfance, in helpless childhood. C'est une bien faible consolation, this is very poor comfort.

Vous l'avez attaqué par son côté faible, you attacked him on his weak side. C'est là son côté faible, that is his weak point—the attackable point.

Il est faible de caractère, he is weak-minded. Notre armée était faible de cavalerie, our cavalry was weak, was our weak point. Ce cheval est faible de reins, this horse is weak in the back. Ce tableau est faible de couleur, this picture is weak in colouring.

FAIBLE, s. m. Protéger le faible contre le fort, to protect the weak against the strong. (En parlant de choses), the weak part, point, &c. C'est là son faible, such is his foible—his weak point—his weakness. Avoir du faible pour quelqu'un, to have an inclination—a weakness—for some one. Le fort portant le faible, one thing with another.

FAIBLEMENT, adv. weakly; feebly; lightly.

FAIBLESSE, s. f. weakness; feebleness. Sa faiblesse ne lui permet pas de partir, his weakness does not allow him to go away. Cette faiblesse nous donne des craintes, that weakness alarms us. Il lui est resté une faiblesse de jambes, it has left weakness in his legs. Faiblesse d'estomac, weakness of stomach—of digestive powers. Elle souffre de faiblesse d'estomac, she suffers from dyspepsy—from a weak stomach. Faiblesse de voix, feebleness of voice. Faiblesse de jugement, d'esprit, de mémoire, weakness—feebleness of judgment—of mind—of memory. Quelle faiblesse de courage, what faint-heartedness. Dans la faiblesse de l'âge, in the feebleness of old age.

Tomber en faiblesse, to faint, to swoon. Ne faites pas de bruit, elle revient d'une faiblesse, make no noise, she is just recovering from a fainting fit. Tout à coup, il lui a pris une faiblesse, on a sudden, she fainted away—she fell into a syncope.

(Sens moral.) C'est un homme d'une grande faiblesse, he is extremely weak—his weakness is very great. Allons, allons, point de faiblesse, come, come, no weakness. Cachez votre faiblesse, conceal your weakness. Avez-vous la faiblesse de le faire? are you weak enough to do it? Elle a accepté par faiblesse de caractère, she accepted through weakness. Les faiblesses du cœur nous causent bien des chagrins, the weakness—the foibles—of the heart often cause us sorrows.

On pardonne à une mère sa faiblesse pour son enfant, one forgives in a mother her weakness for her child. Vous avez trop de faiblesse pour votre fils, you are over indulgent to—you are too fond of—your son. Elle avait une petite faiblesse pour lui, she had a slight inclination for him. J'avoue ma faiblesse pour la pâtisserie, I own my weakness for pastry.

L'ennemi d'aperçut bientôt de la faiblesse de nos retranchements, the enemy became aware very soon of the weakness of our intrenchments. La faiblesse de nos ressources ne le lui permet pas, his slender means do not allow him. Malgré la faiblesse du nombre, in spite of the smallness of the number. Faiblesse de style, weakness of style.

FAIBLET, TE, adj. weakish; rather weak, feeble.

FAIBLIR, v. n. rég. Ide conj. (voyez Finir), to lose strength; to weaken; to get weak; to give way. L'ennemi commençait à faiblir, the enemy was beginning to give way. Ce vin faiblit, this wine is getting weak.

FAÏENCE, s. f. (ce mot vient de Faenza, ville d'Italie où la fabrication de la poterie de terre se fit d'abord). (En général), earthenware. Faïence fine, china. Faïence commune, earthenware, crockery.

FAIENCERIE, s. f. pottery; earthenware manufactory; earthenware goods; china.

FAIENCIER, s. m. earthenware man; china man.

FAILLIBILITÉ, s. f. fallibility.

FAILLIBLE, adj. fallible.

FAILLIR, v. n. son classe, dont l'analyse suit la conjugaison est irrégulier, mais qui se conjugue exactement régulièrement comme les verbes de la seconde conjugaison. Faillir; faillant; faillissant; failli. Je faux, tu faux, il faut, nous faillons, vous faillez, ils faillent. Je faillis, tu faillis, il faillit, nous faillîmes, vous faillîtes, ils faillirent; je faillissais, &c. ou je faillais, &c. ou je faillissais; je faillis, &c.; je faudrai ou je faillirai, &c.; je faudrais ou je faillirais, &c.; que je faillisse, &c.; que je faillisse, &c.; que je faillisse, &c.; faille, &c.; Elle n'aurait point failli (avec les nuances requises), she would not have failed but for last example. L'auteur a failli en plusieurs endroits, the author has fallen into error—has committed mistakes—in several places. Le jour commençait à faillir, daylight was beginning to fail. La mémoire m'a failli, my memory failed me. Cet ami ne lui faudra—faillira—point en besoin, a friend will not fail him when in need. L'édifice a failli par le pied, the edifice failed in the foundation. Sa race a failli, the race has failed—has become extinct. J'ai failli de—à—tomber, I was near falling. Il y a failli mourir, he was at the point of death—he was near dying. J'ai failli oublier vos commissions, I was near forgetting your commissions. (T. de commerce.) Mon banquier a failli de —, my banker failed to the amount of —. Quand on ne le voit pas, c'est un faillit, he is not visited, he is failed—he is a bankrupt.

Le cœur me faut, I am sick. Au bout de l'eau ne faut le drap. (Voyez Aune.) J'irai sans faillir, I will go without fail. Nous sommes arrivés à jour failli, we arrived as the day was failing—at the close of day.

FAILLITE, s. f. (t. de commerce). Être en faillite, to fail; to be in a state of bankruptcy. Quel est le motif de cette faillite? what are the assets of that bankrupt? Il a fait une faillite frauduleuse, he made a fraudulent bankruptcy.

FAIM, s. f. hunger. Souffrir la faim, to suffer hunger. Avoir faim, to be hungry. Avoir une faim dévorante, to be ravenously hungry. Il est mort de faim, he died of hunger—he was starved to death. Je meurs de faim, I am dying with hunger—I am starving. Ce n'est pas mourir de faim, he has nothing to eat—he is not starving. C'est la faim qui épouse la soif, they are both very poor. Avoir une faim canine, to be as hungry as a wolf. Faim valle, the hungry evil.

FAÎNE, s. f. beech nut.

FAINÉANT, s. m. } idler; sluggard; sloth.
FAINÉANTE, s. f. }

FAINÉANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to idle away; to do nothing.

FAINÉANTISE, s. f. idleness; sluggishness.

FAIRE, v. a. v. n. v. r. irrég. 6me conj. des verbes composés. Faire, faisant, fait, e. Je fais, tu fais, il fait, nous faisons, vous faites, ils font; je faisais, &c.; je fis, &c.; je ferai; je ferais; que je fasse; que je fisse, qu'il fît; que il fasse, faisons, faites, qu'ils fassent. Produire, créer, composer), to make; (accomplir, pratiquer, exécuter), to do.

Faire fait vous faites à la seconde personne pluriel, re makes vous faites in the second person plural.

Dieu a fait le ciel et la terre, God made heaven and th. Faire du vin, du cidre, to make wine, cider. ue quoi fait-on du sucre? what is sugar made of? Ce llour fait bien un habit, that tailor makes a good coat. oiseau fait son nid, the bird makes—builds—its nest. fait un livre, he is making—composing—a book. Il ait de bons officiers, he has made good officers. Le ciel un miracle en sa faveur, the heavens did—worked—formed—a miracle in his favour. Vous faites du bruit, make a noise. Faire une entreprise, to plan an erprise. Faire des enfants, des petits, to have children young ones.

Faire du bien, to do good. Faire du mal, to do harm. ire bien, to do well, right. Faire mal, to do ill, to do ong. Il a fait des siennes, he has played tricks of his s—he has played his pranks.

Il fera quelque chose pour vous, he will do something you. Il n'a rien fait aujourd'hui, he has done nothing day. La nature a tout fait pour lui, nature did everyng for him. Il fait bien tout ce qu'il fait, he does l whatever he does. Faites ce que le devoir ordonne, what your duty bids. Que ferez-vous dans la soirée? t will you do in the evening? Je n'ai rien à faire, ave nothing to do. Que fait-il à la campagne? what e doing in the country? On ne peut faire qu'en tant, it is only by practice that we become perfect. il ne faire le faut, it is a thing which must absolutely e done—there is no choice, that must be done. Il a fait son mieux, he has done his best. Laissez-le faire, e him alone. Il veut en faire à sa tête, he will have way. Ils font à qui mieux mieux, they are trying to ass each other—they try who will do it best. Il a t fait—il a si bien fait—qu'il en est venu à bout, he done so well—he has managed so well—that he has mplished it. Il n'aime pas tant le jeu qu'il faisait, s not so fond of playing as he was. Il danse mieux u'il faisait, he dances better than he did. Qu'est-ce cela vous fait? what is that to you? Cela ne vous fait rien, that is nothing to you. Qu'est-ce que cela fait? what does that matter? Cela ne fait rien, that is thing—matters nothing. Le remède lui a fait du bien, medy has done him good. Cela lui a fait du rin, that has given—caused—him much sorrow—pain. t des heureux, to make people happy. Cela lui fera envieux, that will cause him to be envied—excite .

Ces choses-là ne se font pas, such things are not done. Je crois pas que cela puisse se faire, I do not think it can be done. Ce traité s'est fait secrètement, the y was secretly made. Paris ne s'est pas fait en un Paris was not built in a day. Ce mariage ne se fera de, that marriage will never take place. Il s'est fait aux dépens d'autrui, he became rich at the expense ers. Elle aime à se faire belle, she likes to dress . Nous commençons à nous faire vieux, we are ning to get old. Il veut toujours se faire de fête, ll always interfere—meddle—have something to do th the concerns of others. Ce jeune homme s'est bien à Paris, this young man has improved much in . Il commence à se faire, he is beginning to form lf. Ce vin s'est fait en peu de temps, this wine has ly ripened—quickly become fit to drink. Il s'est Protestant, he has turned Protestant. Comment se l qu'il ne soit pas arrivé? how is it that he has not rived? Je vais vous dire comment cela se fait, I xplain to you how it is. Il n'en veut faire qu'à sa e will have his own way.

aire deux lieues à pied, to walk two leagues—to distance of two leagues. J'ai fait vingt milles à l, I have gone—rode—twenty miles on horseback. avons fait 200 milles en quatre heures par le n de fer, we have travelled—gone—two hundred les four hours by the railroad. Cette voiture fait milles à l'heure, this carriage goes ten miles per—an ur.

voudrait qu'il se mariât, mais il n'en fera rien, people would wish him to get married, but he will do no such thing.

Se laisser faire, not to resist—to let people have their way with us. Il s'est laissé faire, he let them do as they pleased with him—he offered no resistance.

Je ne sais que faire à cela, I know not what to do—I cannot help it. Je n'y aurais que faire, I cannot help it. Que voulez-vous que j'y fasse? how can I help it—what would you have me do?

(Ne faire que.) Il ne fait que jouer, he does nothing but play. Je n'ai fait qu'exécuter vos ordres, I only executed your commands. Elle ne fait que croître et embellir, she becomes prettier every day. (Fam.) Cela ne fait que croître et embellir, it gets worse every day. Il ne fit qu'entrer et sortir, he only went in and out. Je n'ai fait qu'aller et revenir, I only went and returned. Cela ne fera que l'irriter, that will only irritate him. Il ne fait que de sortir, he is but just now gone out. Elle ne fait que d'arriver, she has only just now arrived.

(T. de peinture.) Il fait l'histoire, he paints historical pictures. Il fait très-bien le portrait, he paints portraits well.

(T. de marine.) Faire le nord, to sail north. Faire le sud, to sail south.

(T. de théâtre; représenter.) Il faisait Cinna, he acted the part of Cinna. Il faisait les amoureux, he acted the lovers—the part of the lovers. Il a très-bien fait son personnage, he has acted his part well. (Fam.) Vous faites là un sot personnage, you cut a silly figure. Vous faites le grand seigneur, you assume the manners of a nobleman. Il faisait le mort, he shammed dead—he pretended to be dead. Faire le généreux, to put on the air—the look—of a generous man. Il fait le maître, he assumes the tone of a—he puts on the air of a—master.

Faire maison nette, to turn out all the servants—to make a clear house. Il m'a fait sa dupe, he deceived me—he made me his dupe. Faire les deniers bons, to make up what is wanting in a sum—to make one's self answerable for a deficiency. Il fait d'une mouche un éléphant, to make mountains of molehills—to magnify things. On ne saurait faire d'une buse un épervier, you cannot make a clever man out of a fool—you cannot make a silken purse out of a sow's ear. C'est un homme qui fait de cent sous quatre livres et de quatre livres rien, that man always makes bad bargains—makes nothing of what he has. On le fait mort, they say he is dead. Il se fait plus riche qu'il ne l'est, he says he is richer than he really is. Cet enfant faisait tout son bonheur, that child was all his happiness. L'habit ne fait pas le moine, the cowl does not make the monk—we must not judge from appearance. La plume fait le bel oiseau, fine feathers make fine birds. Il fait la pluie et le beau temps dans cette maison, every thing is directed by his will in that house. Faire d'une chose comme des choux dans son jardin, to dispose of a thing as you would of the cabbages of your own garden—of a thing of your own. Comme il te fait, fais lui, do unto him as he does unto you—(Fam.), give him tit for tat.

Avoir fort à faire, to have much to do. Vous aurez fort à faire, si vous entreprenez de le corriger, you will have a hard task—a great deal to do—if you undertake to correct him.

Domestique à tout faire, a servant of all work. C'est un homme à tout faire, he is capable of every thing—he is a man whom nothing would stop. Il fait pour moi, he does, he acts for me. C'est à faire à perdre deux cents francs, it is risking a loss—it is a thing in which I venture a loss—of 200 francs. (Fam.) Il a fait à moi, he has done with me—I have no more to do with him.

(T. de marchand.) Combien faites-vous ce drap? how much do you ask for this cloth? Vous le faites trop cher, you ask too much for it. Il m'a fait son cheval cinquante guinées, et il me l'a laissé pour quarante, he asked me fifty guineas for his horse, and he let me have it for forty.

(T. de jeu de cartes.) A qui est-ce à faire? who is to deal? Je viens de faire, I have just dealt.

L'argent fait plus auprès de lui que tout autre chose, money has more power—effect—upon him—than any other thing. Ce que vous dites là fait pour moi, what you say is for me—serves me—is in my favour.

(Faire dans le sens de dire.) Je le croyais, fit-elle, I thought so, said she. J'irai avec vous, lui fis-je, I will come with you, said I to him.

(T. de médec.) Il fait du sable, he discharges sand, gravel. Il fait sous lui, he dirties his linen—he has no power to stop his evacuations.

Il fait ; (impersonnel). Il fait un temps superbe, the weather is beautiful. Quel temps fait-il ce matin? how is the weather this morning? Il a fait mauvais temps toute la semaine, the weather has been bad the whole week. Il fera beau temps demain, you will have fine weather—it will be fine—to-morrow. Fait-il chaud? is it warm? Comme il a fait froid! how cold it has been! Il fait bien du vent, it is very windy—there is much wind. Il fait du brouillard, it is foggy. Il fait un brouillard épais, there is a thick fog. Comme il fait doux! how mild it is! Il fait du verglas, there is sleet. Il ne fait pas encore jour, it is not daylight yet. Il fera bientôt nuit, it will soon be dark. J'étais à cette bataille, il y faisait chaud, I was at that battle, we had hot work.

Il se fait tard, it is getting late. Nous fûmes obligés de partir parce qu'il se faisait nuit, we were obliged to go because it was getting dark. Il se fit un tremblement de terre, there was—there happened—an earthquake. Il se fait bien des choses que l'on ne peut expliquer, many things happen which cannot be explained. Se peut-il faire que vous n'en sachiez rien? can it be that you know nothing of it? Allez-vous sortir par le vent qu'il fait? are you going out in such windy weather? Voyez comme il fait de la pluie, see how it rains. Il a fait un grand coup de vent, there has been a wind storm. Il fait crotté, it is dirty. N'allez pas dans cet endroit-là, il n'y fait pas sûr, do not go there, it is not safe.

Il fait bon au soleil, it is nice—comfortable—in the sun. Comme il fait bon ici! how nice—comfortable—it is here! Il n'y faisait pas bon, it was not pleasant—comfortable. Il ne fait pas bon aller disputer avec lui, it will not do to go and quarrel with him. Il n'y ferait pas bon, it would not be pleasant. Il ne fait pas bon marcher, it is unpleasant walking. Il fait cher vivre ici, it is dear here—living is dear here. Allez en Bretagne, il y fait bon vivre, go into Brittany, living is very reasonable there—things are cheap. Comment cela se fait-il? how is that? Comment se fait-il qu'il ne soit pas arrivé? how is it that he has not arrived?

(Faire suivi d'un infinitif.) L'opium le fera dormir, opium will cause him to sleep—will make him sleep. Je ne puis faire dormir cet enfant, I cannot make that child sleep. Faites boire un verre de vin à cet homme, make that man drink a glass of wine. Les remèdes l'ont fait mourir, the remedies made him die—killed him. J'ai fait mettre un poulet à la broche pour mon souper, I caused—I ordered—a chicken to be roasted for my supper. Faites porter ces choses en haut, have these things taken up stairs.—.—order these things—cause these things—to be taken up stairs. Faites-le courir, make him run. Faites-lui boire un verre de vin, make him drink a glass of wine. Voulez-vous que je fasse appeler le médecin? shall I send for the doctor? Faites lui dire que j'ai besoin de lui, send word to him that I want him. Faites lui savoir que son père le demande, have him informed—let him be told—that his father wants him. Faites-le lui savoir, have him informed of it. Il faut que je me fasse faire un habit, I must have a coat made. Je le ferai faire à ce tailleur, I will cause that tailor to make it. Il fait bâtir une maison, he has a house built. Elle s'est fait peindre, she has had her portrait made—painted. Faites les entrer, make them come in. Si vous voulez me laisser la lettre, je la lui ferai tenir, if you will leave me the letter, I will have it forwarded to him. Nous ne pourrions nous faire entendre, we could not make ourselves heard—understood. Il se faisait aimer partout, he made himself beloved everywhere. On fait à savoir que la vente aura lieu le 25, advice is given—the public are informed—that the sale will take place on the 25th.

(Faire que.) Voilà ce qui fait que je suis arrivé [illegible] that is the cause that I arrived so late. Qu'est-ce qui fait qu'ils sont mal ensemble? what is the reason that [illegible] not on good terms? C'est là ce qui fait que la vache va mal, that is the cause why the machine does not go well. Fasse le ciel qu'il réussisse, may heaven grant that he succeed. Faites que tout soit prêt à son arrivée, do so that everything be ready at my arrival. Fasse-je faire que cela n'arrivât pas? was it in my power to prevent its happening—could I act so that it should not happen? Nous ferons en sorte qu'ils n'aient pas lieu de se plaindre, we shall do so—we shall contrive so—that they may have no reason to complain.

(Faire, se faire, accoutumer.) Les voyages n'ont pas fait à la fatigue, travels have inured me—accustomed me—to fatigue. Je ne pouvais me faire au climat, I could not get inured to the climate. Avec de la bonne volonté on se fait à tout, with good will, one gets used to everything. Je ne puis me faire à leurs aliments, I cannot accustom myself—get used—to their food. Nous y sommes faits, we are used to it.

(Faire de.) Qu'avez-vous fait de votre fils? what have you done with your son? Je ne sais ce qu'il en a fait, I do not know what he has done with it. Elle veut faire un médecin de son fils, she wishes her son to be a medical man. Ils voulaient en faire un soldat, they wished to make a soldier of him. Je ferais un joli jardin de ce champ, I would turn this field into a pretty garden. Vous faites une vile profession du plus noble des arts, you have made a vile profession of the noblest of arts. Elle fait ce qu'elle veut de lui, she does what she pleases with him. Vous pouvez en faire des choux et des raves, you may do what you please with it. Que voulez-vous que je fasse de cela? what am I to do with that? Si vous ne savez que faire de ces meubles, donnez-les-moi, if you do not want the things, give them to me.

Le roi l'a fait chevalier de la Légion d'Honneur, the king has made him—created him—a knight of the Legion of Honour.

N'avoir que faire d'une personne, d'une chose, to want, not to wish for a person, a thing. Je n'ai que faire de ce livre, I have no occasion for—no need of—this book. Vous n'avez que faire d'aller là, you have no occasion to go there. Je n'ai que faire de vos observations, I have no need of your remarks.

(Avoir à faire de.) Je n'ai pas à faire de ses conseils, I have no need of his advice. J'ai bien à faire de ses avis, what need have I of his advice!

FAIRE, s. m. Ce tableau est d'un beau faire, the picture is of a beautiful execution—beautifully executed. Il y a loin du vouloir au faire, it is far between wishing and doing.

FAIT, p. p. Il vend des habits tout faits, he sells ready made clothes. Cela est fait à la main, it is done with the hand. Aussitôt dit aussitôt fait, no sooner said than done. Est-ce fait? is it done? Je ne suis pas encore fait, I have not done yet. C'en est fait, il a été vaincu, over. C'en est fait de lui, de son bonheur, it is all over with him, with his happiness. C'est comme si c'était exprès, it is as if it were done on purpose. Il n'est pas fait pour cette place, he is not fit for that place. Suis-je fait pour vous servir? was I made to serve you? Apprenez que je ne suis pas fait pour trompe, learn that I am incapable of deceiving—that I am not formed to deceive. Ces nouvelles étaient bien faites pour nous alarmer, these news were of a nature to alarm us. Que vous voilà fait! what a figure you are! Il était fait comme un voleur, he looked like—he had the appearance of—a ruffian. Elle était faite comme il faut, she was shabbily dressed—her appearance was common. Il est bien fait, he is well made. Il est fait au tour, his figure is perfect. Elle était bien faite de sa personne, she had a good figure—she was well formed. Elle a la taille bien faite, her figure is good. Il a la jambe bien faite, he has a good leg—he has a well-shaped leg. Il est mal homme mal fait, a tall unshapen man. Elle est mal faite, her figure is bad—she is badly formed. (Prov. fam.) Qu'il le fasse, cela lui rendra la jambe [illegible] him do it, it will improve his leg—it will do him no ol. Vous avez l'esprit mal fait, you are bad tempered you take things ill. C'est un homme fait, he is a man mature age. Ce n'est plus un jeune homme, c'est un me fait, he is no longer a youth, he is a full-grown—grown-up—man. Ce fromage n'est pas encore fait, that ese is not good—is not ripe—yet. Ce mot n'est pas it, this word is not regularly accepted—is not authorized.

(T. de marine.) Nous partîmes par un vent fait, we ed with a steady wind.

FAISABLE, adj. feasible; practicable. Cela est-il isable? may that be done—is that feasible?

FAISAN, s. m. pheasant. Coq faisan, a cock pheasant.

ule faisane ou faisande, hen pheasant. Faisan doré, den pheasant.

FAISANCES, s. f. p. (t. de fermage), services, duties be performed.

FAISANDEAU, s. m. young pheasant.

FAISANDER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il faudrait ser faisander ce gibier, that game ought to be kept e time. Vous avez trop laissé faisander ce lièvre, have kept this hare too long—it is too high. Le ier n'est bon que quand il est faisandé, game is good y after having been kept—when it is high—when it has gh care.

FAISANDERIE, s. f. game preserve (for pheasants); country.

FAISANDIER, s. m. game preserver, keeper.

FAISCEAU, s. m. bundle. Faites-en un—liez-les en faisceau, make a bundle of them. (T. militaire.) tre des fusils en faisceau, to pile up muskets. A ce il, les soldats coururent au faisceau, at that noise, the rs ran up to their guns—to the rack. (T. d'hist.), on. On portait les faisceaux devant les consuls, fasces e carried before the consuls.

FAISCEAU, s. m. (t. d'anat.) Un faisceau muscles, a bundle of muscles.

FAISEUR, s. m. maker. Ses robes sont de la bonne

FAISEUSE, s. f. faiseuse, her dresses come from the maker. C'est un mauvais faiseur de livres, he is a book maker.

FAIT, s. m. fact; deed; act. Chacun répond de ses s, every one is answerable for his deeds, his own acts. pourra raconter dignement ces hauts faits d'armes? will relate worthily these high military deeds? m.) Qui ne connait pas vos faits et gestes? who is acquainted with your high deeds—with your great gs? Il a joint le fait à la menace, he has joined the to the threat. Ses faits ne répondent pas à ses pro-ses, his actions do not accord with his promises. Se er est le fait d'un sot, to boast is the deed—the act—fool. Vous ne représentez pas bien le fait, you do represent the fact correctly. C'est un fait singulier, a singular fact. Toute sa doctrine s'appuie sur des t, his doctrine rests upon facts. Vous dénaturez les s, you misrepresent facts. La bonne volonté est réputée le fait, we must take the will for the deed. C'est ait exprès, it is done on purpose.

cela est du fait de mon frère, that is my brother's doing. a fait de mon fait, that is my doing—I have done it. e saurait le nier, car on l'a pris sur le fait, he cannot it, for he was taken—caught—in the fact. Il est de qu'ils ne se sont pas compris, it is a fact that they did understand one another. Cela est un fait, cela est de that is a fact—that is incontestable. Le fait est que vous croie pas, the fact, the truth is that I do not ve you. Je voudrais le voir pour la rareté du fait, sh I could see it, for the singularity of the fact—of thing.

Exposons d'abord le fait, first of all, let us lay down fact. Voilà le fait, such is the fact—the case—the tion. Vous vous écartez du fait, you go from the —from the question. Venons au fait, let us come point—to the question. Je mets en fait que ces personnes ne savraient, &c., I assert it as a fact—I down—that three two persons could not, &c. Au que ne voulez-vous? come to the point—to the business—and tell me what you require? Au fait, que pée? after all (having well considered the fact), what do I risk? Il y a un peu de malice dans son fait, there is a little mischief in his doings—in what he does—in his conduct.

En venir au fait, to come to action—to the execution. Il parlait hardiment, mais quand il fallut en venir au fait, il recula, he spoke very boldly, but, when it became necessary to act, he drew back.

Êtes-vous sûr de votre fait? are you certain of what you say, advance? Il se croyait sûr de son fait, mais il n'a pas réussi, he thought he was sure of what he undertook, but he did not succeed.

Être au fait, to understand. Mettre au fait, to show the way—to instruct. Se mettre au fait, to learn how to do; to get information. Je ne suis pas au fait de cette affaire, I do not understand—I am not acquainted with—I am not well up to—that business. Mettez-moi au fait de ce qui s'est passé, tell me what has happened. Elle est au fait de tout cela, she understands well all that. Je fus alors au fait, then I understood it all—I was all up to it. Voulez-vous bien découper ce canard pour moi, car je n'y suis pas au fait, would you carve this duck for me for I do not understand it—I cannot manage it. Ma bonne est bien au fait du ménage, my maid understands housekeeping well. Vous n'êtes pas au fait, you do not do it right.

C'est un homme qui entend bien son fait, he understands his business—his affair—his interest—well.

Ce n'est pas là mon fait, that is not the thing for me—the thing which suits me. Voilà justement votre fait, that is exactly the thing for you—what suits you. Cette place est exactement mon fait, that place is the very thing I want. Cette jeune personne est votre fait, that young lady is the wife for you. La société n'est pas son fait, he is not fit for society—he is ill at ease in company.

(Fam.) Il est bientôt mangé son fait, he had soon squandered his own—his fortune. On partagea la succession et chacun eut son fait, the succession was divided and every one had his share—his own.

Je lui donnerai son fait, I shall be revenged on him; I will give him his due. Il lui donna son fait, he gave him what he deserved. Nous lui avons dit son fait, we spoke out to him—we told him the plain truth.

(T. de jurisp.) On l'a interrogé sur les faits, he has been examined upon the facts. Prendre le fait de quelqu'un—prendre fait et cause pour quelqu'un, to espouse the cause of a person—to stand up for him. Voies de fait, acts of violence—blows. Il y a eu voies de fait, there have been blows—they have laid violent hands upon one another—violence has been used.

(Loc. adv.) Dans le fait, indeed, in reality, really. Par le fait, by the very fact. De fait, really, in act, de facto. Il était annoncé, et, de fait, il arriva, he was announced, and indeed he arrived. Tout à fait, entirely. Si fait, on the contrary; yes, yes. Je ne crois pas qu'il y ait été. Si fait, il y a été, I do not think he has been there. Yes, yes—I beg your pardon—he has been. Si fait, je vous connais bien, on the contrary, I know you well. Vous avez entendu ce que je viens de dire? Non. Si fait, si fait, you have heard what I said? No. Yes, yes, you have. En fait de, in matter of. En fait de littérature il est bon juge, in matters of literature, he is a good judge. Maître en fait d'armes, master in arms—fencing master. [a house.

FAÎTAGE, s. m. (t. d'archit.), ridge-piece; roofing of FAÎTARDISE, s. f. idleness; sluggishness.

FAÎTE, s. m. (d'une maison, d'un édifice), roof; (d'un arbre), ridge, height. (Fig.) Napoléon parvint au faîte des grandeurs, Napoleon reached the height of honours.

FAÎTIÈRE, s. f. Tuile faîtière, ridge-tile. Lucarne faîtière, window in the roof of a house. Faîtière d'une tente, tent-pole.

FAIX, s. m. burden; load. Ce faix est pesant, this burden is heavy. Il plaît sous son faix, he bent under his burden—load. (Fig.) Le peuple gémissait sous le faix des impôts, the people were groaning under the burden of taxes.

(T. d'archit.) Ce bâtiment a pris son faîx, this building has settled.

FALAISE, s. f. cliffs. Les falaises du Hâvre, Havre cliffs.

FALAISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. La mer falaise, the sea breaks on the cliffs.

FALARIQUE, s. f. (t. de guerre, antique), falarica.

FALBALA, s. m. flounce; furbelow.

FALLACE, adj. fallacious; deceiving.

FALLACIEUSEMENT, adv. fallaciously; deceitfully.

FALLACIEUX, EUSE, adj. fallacious; deceiving.

FALLOIR, v. imp. irrég., tiré, dans son sens primitif, de fallo, fallere, "manquer, ne pas être complet;" mais ayant maintenant un sens beaucoup plus étendu, et servant à exprimer la "nécessité d'avoir et de faire." Falloir, fallu; il faut, il fallait, il a fallu, il faudra, il faudrait; qu'il faille, qu'il fallût.

(Sens primitif et littéral.) La somme n'est pas complette, il y faut vingt francs, the sum is not complete, there are 20 francs missing, short, wanting. Il n'y a pas encore un mois qu'il est parti, il s'en faut de deux jours, it is not quite one month since he went, it wants two days. Il s'en faut de beaucoup que leur nombre ne soit complet, there are many wanting for their number to be complete. Il s'en est peu fallu que je ne vinsse, it wanted but little that I should have come—for me to have come. Il a fini son ouvrage au peu s'en faut, he has finished his task or very little short of it. Il s'en est peu fallu qu'il ne fût tué, it required but little more that he should have been killed—,—he was very near being killed. Vous demandez si elle est jolie, tant s'en faut qu'au contraire, (qu'elle ne le soit), you ask if she is pretty, there is so much wanting from her being so, i. e. far from it—quite the contrary. Tant s'en faut qu'il y consente, qu'au contraire il fera tout pour l'empêcher, there is so much wanting to his consenting—he is so far from consenting—that, on the contrary, he will do all to prevent it. Il s'en faut beaucoup, very far from it—there is much wanting to it. Il ne s'en faut guères, there is not much more required—it is nearly so. Il s'en faut beaucoup qu'ils soient du même mérite, they are very far from being equal in merit. Peu s'en est fallu que je ne tombasse, I was very near falling.

(Nécessité d'avoir.) Il dit qu'il lui faut vingt francs, he says that 20 francs are wanted by him, i. e. that he must have—he wants 20 francs. Il me faut un cheval, I want—I must have—a horse. Il faut des outils à ces ouvriers, these men want—must have—tools. Combien vous faut-il pour votre marchandise? how much must you have—do you want—for your goods? Vous demandez plus qu'il ne vous faut, you ask more than you ought to have. Il vous faudra de la patience, si vous enseignez, you will require—want—patience, if you teach. Il ne leur faut que du temps, they want time only. Vous êtes l'homme qu'il me faut, you are the man I want.

(Nécessité, obligation de faire, d'agir.) Il faut souffrir ce que nous ne pouvons empêcher, we must—men must—bear with what cannot be prevented. Il a fallu l'écouter jusqu'au bout, we were obliged to hear him to the end. Il faudra bien y aller, I shall be obliged to go. Je ne croyais pas qu'il fallût faire ce voyage, I did not think it necessary to perform that journey. Puisque vous ne pouviez pas le payer, il fallait du moins lui parler poliment, since you could not pay him, you ought at least to have spoken civilly to him. Dans votre embarras, il fallait venir me trouver, in your difficulty, you ought to have come to me.

Il faut que j'aille le voir, I must go and see him. Que faudra-t-il que vous fassiez? what must you do—what shall you be obliged to do? Il faut absolument que je le voie, I must absolutely see him. Ne faut-il pas que votre frère revienne demain, must not your brother return to-morrow? Il fallait que quelque idée l'occupât beaucoup, car il ne voyait rien, some idea must have engaged his attention, for he saw nothing.

Encore faut-il que je sache à quoi m'en tenir, after all—yet—I must know what to think—what I am to expect.

Il faudra voir, we shall see—we must see. Il fallait voir comme ils étaient polis, you should have seen—it would have done you good to see—how polite they were. Il a fait l'insolent, aussi faut-il voir comme on l'a traité, he was insolent, but you ought to have seen how he was treated. Il me menace de me faire remuer; c'est qu'il faudra voir, he threatens to have me turned out, we shall see.

(Comme il faut.) Il ne reçoit chez lui que des gens comme il faut, he receives none but people of respectable distinction. Ce jeune homme est très-comme il faut, the young man is very gentlemanly. Elle est très-comme il faut, she is lady like. Il n'est pas très-comme il faut, he is rather low—ungentlemanly. (Adv.) Jouer comme il faut, to act well, properly. Il a été puni comme il faut, he was soundly punished.

FALOT, s. m. lantern. Sa bonne servait elle, un falot à la main, her maid walked with, carrying a lantern. (Dans les feux d'artifices), bomb.

FALOT, E, adj. ludicrous; funny.

FALOT, s. m. ludicrous, funny man.

FALOTEMENT, adv. ludicrously; funnily.

FALOURDE, s. f. large fagot.

FALQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (T. de man.) Faire falquer un cheval, to make a horse make falcades.

FALSIFICATEUR, s. m. falsifier; falsificator.

FALSIFICATION, s. f. falsification.

FALSIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to falsify, to alter (des métaux, des marchandises), to adulterate. Falsifier la monnaie, to deteriorate coin.

FALUN, s. m. beds of shells found at some depth in the ground.

FALUNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to manure land with sea-weeds and shells.

FALUNIÈRE, s. f. bed of shells found in land.

FAME, s. f. fame.

FAMÉ, E, adj. famed. Cet homme est bien famé, that man is of good repute. Elle est très-mal famée, she is of bad repute, she has a bad name.

FAMÉLIQUE, adj. famished; devoured by hunger. Voyez ce visage famélique, look at that wretched face. Il a l'air d'un famélique, he looks as if he were starved.

FAMEUX, EUSE, adj. famous. C'est un homme fameux par son éloquence, he is famous for his eloquence. Nous redoutions cette mer fameuse en naufrages, we dreaded that sea so famous for its shipwrecks. C'est un fameux imbécille, he is a terrible fool. Voilà une fameuse erreur, here is a famous blunder for you.

FAMILIARISER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il a le mauvais goût de se familiariser avec tout le monde, he has the bad taste to get familiar with—to treat himself with—every body. Vous vous familiarisez trop, you get too familiar. Il n'a jamais pu se familiariser avec ses manières, he never could familiarize himself to—accustom himself to—their manners. Vous ferez bien de vous familiariser avec les langues étrangères, you will do well to make yourself familiar with foreign languages. Ils tirait des coups de pistolet pour familiariser les chevaux au bruit des armes, they fired pistols to accustom horses to the report of fire-arms.

FAMILIARITÉ, s. f. familiarity. J'ai beaucoup de familiarité avec lui, we are very familiar—there is much intimacy between us. En user avec familiarité avec les gens, to act familiarly with people—to treat people familiarly. Prendre des airs de familiarité, to assume familiar manners. Ne vous permettez pas ces familiarités, do not permit yourself such familiarity.

FAMILIER, ÈRE, adj. familiar. Son ton familier déplait beaucoup, his familiar tone is very disagreeable. Ne prenez pas ces airs familiers avec lui, do not take, assume, these familiar ways, manners with his body. Il fait le familier avec tout le monde, he uses a familiar tone with every body. Il est familier avec le ministre, he is on intimate terms with the minister. Ce sont les amis familiers de la maison, they are the household—intimate—friends of the house. Les Dieux familiers, the household gods. Démon familier, ost beaucoup trop familier, he is much too familiar.

la est bon dans le discours familier, that may do in fa-ion conversation. Ce mot est devenu familier dans e langue, that word has become familiar in our lange. L'Italien m'était très-familier alors, Italian was familiar to me then—I could speak Italian with t facility then. Je commençai par me rendre l'Al- and familier, I began with familiarizing myself with man. Il me semble que ses traits me sont familiers, ney I know him—that his features are known to me.
travail vous est familier, that occupation is familiar ou. s. m. C'est un des familiers de la maison, he is of the intimate friends of the house. Les familiers de quisition, the officers of the Inquisition.
AMILIÈREMENT, adv. familiarly.
AMILLE, s. f. family. Tous les ans, il réunit sa lle, every year, he assembles his family—he gets his dren together. Il a une grande famille, une famille reuse, he has a large, a numerous family. Avez-vous famille? have you any children—any family? Nous us en famille, we live all together—we live among elves. Nous sommes en famille, nous vous traiterons cérémonie, we are quietly by ourselves—we are only own family—we will treat you without ceremony.
'est pas de la famille, he does not belong to the family.
uit un dîner de famille, it was a family dinner. Nous ous que notre dîner de famille à vous offrir, we have our usual—family—dinner to offer you. Deux re ceux qui ont péri étaient pères de famille, two of who perished were men with families. Il est père mille, he has children—he has a family. Il fut père de famille, he was a kind father. Les pères de lle venaient les premiers, the fathers—the heads of lies—came first in order. Vous n'agissez pas en bon de famille, you do not act as a good, a kind—pru-father. Fils de famille, fille de famille (t. de .), minor; young person under guardianship. Des s de famille, young gentlemen, young ladies, well children. Nous n'avons que des fils—des enfants mille dans ce collége, we have gentlemen's sons only college. Il s'est retiré au sein de sa famille, he tired into the bosom of his family.
est de bonne famille, he is well born—he is of a good . Dites-moi votre nom de famille, tell me your y name. Il est de famille de robe, his fathers were judicature. Il est le chef de la famille, he is the of the family. Ils ont tous un air de famille, they all a family look—likeness. La famille Clau-
, the Claudian family—race.
de genus. et de bot.), family; genus.
MINE, s. f. famine.
NAGE, s. m. turning up fresh cut grass or hay;
NAISON, s. f. haymaking (properly turning up cut grass for the purpose of drying it).
NAL, s. m. lantern. Le vaisseau portait tous ses
, the ship had all her lanterns up. Nous aperçûmes eul sur la côte, we saw a light—a beacon light—on
ast. (Fig.), light; guide.
NATIQUE, s. m. f. fanatic.
NATIQUE, adj. fanatical.
NATISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fanatize; to fanatical.
NATISME, s. m. fanaticism.
NE, s. f. the leaves of trees when they fall or turn . Balayer les fanes, to sweep the dry leaves have fallen from the trees). (Fam.) La fane sse à fumier, the foliage, the leaves are turning
. (T. de bot.), calyx.
NER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Faner du foin, to the grass (fresh cut) to dry it. La grande chaleur les fleurs, the great heat dries up—fades—withers—
. (Fig.) La réclusion lui a fané le teint, recluhas failed her complexion. Les fleurs se fanent bien- ôt, soon fade away. Comme sa beauté s'est fanée, aded her beauty is. C'est une beauté un peu fanée, uty has lost some of its freshness.
NEUR, s. m.
NEUSE, s. f. haymaker.

FANFAN, s. m. (T. caressant.) Mon pauvre fanfan, my poor child; my dear little child.
FANFARE, s. f. blast. Sonner une fanfare, to blow, to sound a blast; a hunting air.
FANFARON, s. adj. m. swaggerer; boaster; fanfaron. Il n'est pas brave, il n'est que fanfaron, he is not brave, he is a mere swaggerer. Épargnez-nous ces discours fanfarons, spare us all this boasting. Il est terrible quand il prend son air fanfaron, he is quite terrific when he puts on his big looks—his swaggering appearance.
FANFARONNADE, s. f. fanfaronnade; swaggering; boasting.
FANFARONNERIE, s. f. swaggering; boasting.
FANFRELUCHE, s. f. bawble; tinsel.
FANGE, s. f. mud; mire. (Fig.) Il est né dans la fange, he was born in the lowest station. Je l'ai tiré de la fange, I took him out of the dregs of the people. Il vit dans la fange, he is living in the lowest way—in the most corrupt state. Il est plongé dans la fange, he is plunged deep in vice—in corruption.
FANGEUX, EUSE, adj. muddy; miry.
FANON, s. m. Le fanon d'un taureau, dewlap. Les fanons d'une baleine, whalebone; (d'un cheval), forelock. (Ornement que le prêtre officiant porte au bras gauche dans l'Église Catholique), maniple, fanuel. Fanons de mître, the pendants of a mitre. Fanons d'une bannière, the pendants of a banner.
FANONS, s. m. (t. de chir.), cradle; splints.
FANTAISIE, s. f. fancy; imagination. Cela ne vous est-il jamais venu en fantaisie? did that ever come into your head—your fancy? Il avait en fantaisie qu'il se porterait mieux à la campagne, he had in his head a fancy that he would be better in the country. Otez cela de votre fantaisie, drive that out of your fancy—head. Il veut vivre à sa fantaisie, he wishes to live according to his fancy. Cela est bien exécuté à ma fantaisie, to my opinion—according to my fancy—that is well executed.
Quelle fantaisie est-ce là de venir à cette heure? what whim is it to come at this hour? Il y a été par fantaisie, he went out of whim. Elle est pleine de fantaisies, she is full of whims—caprices. Je n'en ai pas eu la fantaisie, it was not my fancy—I had no fancy to do it—no humour for it.
Robe de fantaisie, fancy dress. Il aime à acheter des objets de fantaisie, he is fond of buying fancy objects. Magasin de fantaisies, fancy shop. Portrait de fantaisie, fancy portrait. Jouer une fantaisie, to play a fantasia. (Fam.) Fantaisies musquées, crutcheta, whims.
FANTASMAGORIE, s. f. phantasmagoria; sort of magic show (in which phantoms, figures are made to appear).
FANTASMAGORIQUE, adj. phantasmagoric.
FANTASQUE, adj. fantastical; singular; capricious.
FANTASQUEMENT, adv. fantastically; singularly, capriciously.
FANTASSIN, s. m. foot soldier.
FANTASTIQUE, adj. fantastical.
FANTOCCINI, s. m. (mot Italien). Aller voir les fantoccini, to go to see a puppet-show; the dancing dolls.
FANTÔME, s. m. fantom; fantasm. Il lui apparut un fantôme au milieu de la nuit, in the midst of the night a spirit—a phantom—appeared before him. Il crut voir le fantôme de sa mère, he thought he saw the image of his mother.
(Fig.) Vous vous faites des fantômes de tout, you see an object of fear in every thing—every thing alarms you. Otez vous ces fantômes de l'esprit, banish all these fancies from your mind.
Ce n'est plus qu'un fantôme de roi, he is only an idea—a mere shadow—of a king. Les grandeurs humaines ne sont que de vains fantômes, human greatness is a mere chimera, is an idle fancy. Courir après un vain fantôme de bonheur, to run after a vain shadow of happiness.
(T. de chirurg.), a figure.
FAON, s. m. (pron. fan), fawn.
FAONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fawn.

FAQUIN, s. m. scoundrel; rascal; low fellow; rogue. (T. de jeux), wooden figure.

FAQUINERIE, s. f. roguery.

FAQUIR, s. m. fakir; Turkish priest.

FARANDOLE, s. f. farandole; a round dance in Provence.

FARCE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), stuffing; a sauce. Faire une farce à une dinde, to make stuffing for a turkey.

FARCE, s. f. (t. de théât.), farce. On a joué une farce après la tragédie, after the tragedy they acted a farce. Ce n'est plus du comique, ce n'est que de la farce, this is not comedy, it is mere farce. (Prov.) Tirez le rideau, la farce est jouée, draw the curtain, the play is over—i. e. it is all over.

Faire des farces, to play tricks. Il a voulu nous jouer une farce, he wanted to play us a trick. Il est allé à Paris faire ses farces, he has gone to Paris to play his pranks—to enjoy himself.

FARCEUR, s. m. (t. de théât.), a buffoon; an actor

FARCEUSE, s. f. who performs in farces; (fig.), one who plays tricks, who cracks jokes. Vous êtes un mauvais farceur, your jokes are in bad taste—are badly timed—inopportune. (Très-fam.) Dites donc, farceur, allez vous rester là, I say, you fellow, do you mean to stay there?

FARCIEN, s. m. (t. de vétérin.), farcy.

FARCINEUX, EUSE, adj. attacked with—having—the farcy.

FARCIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir) (t. de cuisine), to stuff. Farcir une dinde de marrons, to stuff a turkey with chestnuts. Vous vous farcissez l'estomac de viande, you stuff—you fill—your stomach with meat.

(Fig.) Il a farci son livre de Grec et de Latin, he has stuffed—interlarded—his book with Greek and Latin quotations. Pourquoi lui farcir la mémoire de toutes ces règles? why stuff his memory with all these rules?

FARCISSURE, s. f. stuffing.

FARD, s. m. paint; rouge. Elle met du fard, she paints; she rouges. Elle a deux doigts de fard sur le visage, she has an inch thick of paint on her face.

(Fig.) Il y a plus de fard que de beauté dans ce discours, there is more tinsel—flimsy ornaments—than true beauty in this discourse. Parlez-moi sans fard, speak to me without disguise—openly. C'est un homme sans fard, he is a man without disguise—he uses no deceit.

FARDEAU, s. m. burden; load; (fig.), burden; load.

FARDER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to rouge; to paint. Elle se farde tous jours, she always paints. (Fig.) Farder la vérité, to disguise truth. Farder un discours, to gloss over a speech—to ornament it. Ils ont le cœur encore plus fardé que le visage, their hearts are still more disguised than their faces. (T. de métier.) Farder de la marchandise, to give goods a gloss, a lustre—to merchandise; to trim it—to deceive the purchaser. C'est de la marchandise fardée, the bad quality of these goods is disguised under their glossy appearance.

FARDER, v. n. v. rég. 1ère conj. Ce mur farde, this wall is sinking—giving way. (T. de marine.) Cette voile farde bien, that sail fills well.

FARFADET, s. m. spirit; an elf; (fig.), a frivolous man.

FARFOUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to rummage; to fumble. Quelqu'un a farfouillé mes papiers, somebody has been rummaging about—tumbling over—my papers. Pourquoi farfouillez-vous là? what are you rummaging about for?

FARIBOLE, s. f. nonsense. Conter des fariboles, to talk nonsense. Il est venu nous conter des fariboles, he came to tell us idle stories.

FARINACÉ, E, adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), farinaceous.

FARINE, s. f. flour. Fleur de farine, flour, best flour. Farine blutée, sifted flour.

Marchand de farine, mealman. Grosse farine, coarse meal. (Fig.) Ce sont tous gens de même farine, they are all people of the same sort. D'un sac à charbon il ne sauraît sortir de blanche farine, what else can you expect from a fool but foolish things? Reprocher la farine à quelqu'un, to reproach one with his low extraction. Quand Dieu envoie la farine, le diable cache le sac, when God sends us flour, the devil takes away the sacks—our own vices often deprive us of the blessings of life. Jean Farine, simpleton.

FARINET, s. m. sort of dice marked on one [illegible]

FARINEUX, EUSE, adj. covered with—white with—flour.

Ces pois sont très-farineux, these peas are very farinaceous. J'aime les pommes de terre farineuses, I like mealy potatoes.

(T. de médec.) Dartre farineuse, white tetter. Il a la peau farineuse, his skin is scurfy. (Bot.) Les feuilles de cet arbre sont farineuses, the leaves of the tree have a sort of bloom upon them. (T. de peinture) Coloris farineux, dusty, pale colouring. (T. de méd. et de foudeur.) Figure farineuse, mealy figure.

FARINEUX, s. m. On lui ordonne les farineux, a medical men prescribe for him farinaceous food.

FARINIER, s. m. mealman.

FAROUCHE, adj. wild. Ces animaux sont très farouches, these animals are very wild. (En parlant des personnes.) Comment civiliser ces peuples farouches, how can you civilize these wild—savage—people? Ce n'est un homme farouche, he is an unsociable—shy—man. Cette jeune personne est si farouche! this young girl is so shy! Je n'aime pas ces manières farouches, I dislike those stern—unsociable—manners. Comme il a l'air farouche! how wild he looks! Cette vertu farouche, this stern—easily alarmed—virtue. Son farouche orgueil éloignait tout le monde, his stern pride repelled everybody.

FARRAGO, s. m. gibberish; unintelligible [illegible]

FASCE, s. f. (t. de blason), fesse.

FASCÉ, adj. (t. de blason), fascé d'or.

FASCICULE, s. m. small bundle; fascicle.

FASCICULÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), fasciculated.

FASCIÉ, E, adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), fasciated.

FASCINAGE, s. m. (t. de fortification), wall protected with fascines.

FASCINATION, s. f. fascination; fascinating.

FASCINE, s. f. (t. milit. et d'ingénieur), fascine.

FASCINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fascinate.

FASÉOLE, s. f. bean.

FASIER, FASEYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), voiles fasient, the sails shiver—flap.

FASHION, s. f. (mot emprunté de l'Anglais) Toute la fashion était là, all the fashionable people were there.

FASHIONABLE, adj. fashionable.

FASHIONABLEMENT, adv. fashionably; according to fashion.

FASTE, s. m. Le faste qui environne les grands, the pomp, the luxury which attends greatness. Il a un grand faste dans sa maison, he displays great luxury in his house. C'est un homme de faste, he is a man of display—luxurious—man. Je hais le faste, I dislike pomp—display. C'est un homme sans faste, he is an unostentatious man.

Il entre un peu de faste dans ses actions, there is a little ostentation—a little vain display—in what he does. Le faste de vertu ne m'en impose pas, that great show of virtue does not deceive me.

FASTES, s. m. pl. annals; records. Ce fait a sa place aux fastes de la monarchie, this deed is inscribed in the annals of the monarchy.

FASTIDIEUSEMENT, adv. fastidiously.

FASTIDIEUX, EUSE, adj. fastidious; [illegible]

FASTIGIE, E, adj. (t. de bot.), fastigiated.

FASTUEUSEMENT, adv. luxuriously; pompously.

FASTUEUX, EUSE, adj. pompous; luxurious; [illegible] tations.

FAT, s. m. (pron. fate), fop. Cet homme est bien fat, that man is very foppish. Vous répondez en fat, you answer like a fop.

FATAL, LE, adj. pl. masc. fatals; fatal.

FATALEMENT, adv. fatally.

FATALISME, s. m. fatalism.

FATALISTE, E, adj. fated.

FATALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to predestinate; to estine.
FATALISTE, s. m. fatalist.
FATALITÉ, s. f. fatality. Il y a de la fatalité à la, there is a fatality in that.
FATIDIQUE, adj. fatidical.
FATIGANT, E, adj. fatiguing. Ce travail est bien tigant, this work is fatiguing. Étude fatigante, toil- ome, irksome study. Homme fatigant, tiresome, tedious an.
FATIGUE, s. f. fatigue; labour; toil. J'étais excédé harassé—rendu de fatigue, I was worn out with fatigue; was overwhelmed. Vous ne pourrez supporter la tigue du voyage, you will not be able to bear the toils— fatigue of the journey. Les fatigues du métier, the chcips of the business, of one's occupations. Homme de fatigue, a drudge, a hard worker. Un eval de fatigue, a hack. Un habit de fatigue, a work- y suit, dress.
(T. de marine.) Les forçats sont à la fatigue, the con- ts are out at work.
FATIGUER, v. a. & r. rég. 1ère conj. Notre pro- nade n'a fatigué, our walk has tired—fatigued me. uis fatigué, j'ai besoin de repos, I am tired, I want t. Cette lumière vive me fatigue la vue, this great ht fatigues my eyes. Je me fatigue bientôt, I get tired y soon. Vous vous fatiguez beaucoup pour des ingrats, u toil very hard for ungrateful people. Je me fatiguais vi expliquer ce qu'il auditait aussitôt, I tired myself explaining to him—I toiled hard to explain to him— t he forgot almost immediately. Taisez-vous, je suis qué de vous entendre parler ainsi, hold your tongue, I tired to hear you speak in this way. Je me sens gue, I feel tired. Vous avez l'air fatigué, you look cord. N'êtes-vous pas fatigué de ce travail? are you tired with this work? Quand vous vous serez bien gué, vous n'en serez pas plus riche, when you have ored hard—overworked yourself—you will not be the er for it. Nos troupes fatiguées avançaient lentement, troops much fatigued advanced slowly. Notre vais- fatiguait, our ship laboured—strained. Son style fatigué, his style is laboured.
Fatiguer une salade, to turn, to mix a salad. Fatiguer terre, to exhaust a piece of land. Fatiguer l'ennemi, eraw the enemy.
FATRAS, s. m. heap. Un fatras de lierres, a heap of s. Je ne comprends rien à ce fatras, I understand ing of this stuff.
FATUAIRE, s. m. enthusiast; one who is inspired.
FATUITÉ, s. f. fatuity; foppishness. Cet homme ne ue des fatuités, that man speaks very foppishly—says ing but foppish things.
FAUBER, s. m. (t. de marine), more.
FAUBOURG, s. m. suburb. (Fig.) On y voit la ut les faubourgs, you see town and country—every —there.
s Paris, the name faubourg is still retained in speaking ose suburbs which are now part of the town itself, which, formerly, were distinct and separated from it by s St. Denis, St. Antoine, &c. are examples of this .)
FAUBOURIEN, s. m. } an inhabitant of a suburb.
FAUBOURIENNE, s. f. } Les faubouriens, the people the suburbs. adj. Dans le genre faubourien, in the ubian style.
FAUCHAGE, s. m. mowing.
FAUCHAISON, } s. f. haymaking time; mowing time.
FAUCHE, }
FAUCHÉE, s. f. the day's work of a mower; the quantity s mowed without sharpening the scythe again. Il a coupé s foix en une fauchée, he mowed our hay in one day.
FAUCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mow. On fauche ise et l'orge, oats and barley are mowed. (T. de ege.) Ce cheval fauche, this horse is lame in the fore (Fig.) Faucher le grand pré, to row in the galleys. Il ramera faucher le grand pré, you will be sent to the eys. La mort fauche tout, death mows down—destroys ats down—every thing.

FAUCHET, s. m. (t. d'agric.), hay rake; wooden rake.
FAUCHEUR, s. m. mower; reaper. (Entom.), spider field spider.
FAUCHON, s. m. falchion.
FAUCILLON, s. m. hook; sort of sickle to cut down thorns, large weeds, &c.
FAUCON, s. m. hawk. Déceffer le faucon, to unhood the hawk. Chasser avec le faucon, to hawk.
FAUCONNEAU, s. m. (t. d'artillerie), falconet.
FAUCONNERIE, s. f. falconry; hawking.
FAUCONNIER, s. m. falconer. Le grand fauconnier, the lord high falconer.
FAUCONNIÈRE, s. f. pouch or game bag used by falconers. (Commun.), a bag carried at the bow of the saddle.
FAUFILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de tailleur, de couturière), to baste.
(Fig.) Il sait se faufiler dans les meilleures compagnies, he knows how to worm himself—how to get admission—into the best company. Il se faufile partout, he forces himself—he worms his way—every where. Il est bien faufilé, he has got into good company. Il est faufilé avec de vilaines gens, he has formed acquaintance with disreputable people.
FAULX. Voyez Faux.
FAUNE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), an account of the animals of a country.
FAUNE, s. m. Faun (rural demi-god among the Romans).
FAUSSAIRE, s. m. f. forger.
FAUSSE, adj. f. Voyez Faux.
FAUSSEMENT, adv. falsely.
FAUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Fausser la lame d'un couteau, to bend the blade of a knife. Vous avez faussé le canon de mon fusil, you have bent the barrel of my gun. Fausser une clef, to bend, to twist a key. Fausser une serrure, to hamper a lock. Cette règle s'est faussée, this rule has got crooked—is not straight. Cela lui a faussé la voix, that spoiled his voice, made it untrue.
(T. milit.) Redressez ce rang, il se fausse, this line is out of the straight line, make it straight—correct it. Fausser une épée, to bend a sword. Fausser une cuirasse, to bend, to indent a cuirass. Que puis-je faire de cette clef faussée? of what use can this bent key be to me? (Fig.) Ces lierres lui ont faussé l'esprit, these books have given a false turn to—have vitiated—his mind. Vous faussez le sens de ce passage, you force—you twist —the meaning of this passage. Vous avez faussé votre parole, votre promesse, you have broken your word, your promise. Fausser compagnie, to give the slip. Il nous a faussé compagnie au moment où nous avions besoin de lui, he gave us the slip at the moment we wanted him.
FAUSSET, s. m. tap; faucet.
(T. de musique), falsetto. Chanter en fausset, to sing in a falsetto. Il a la voix en fausset, he has a squeaking voice.
FAUSSETÉ, s. f. duplicity; deceit. Cet homme a de la fausseté, that man has duplicity—is deceitful. Sa fausseté sera démasquée, his falseness—his duplicity—shall be exposed. Il est d'une grande fausseté, he is very deceitful.
La fausseté de ce raisonnement est évidente, the fallacy of this reasoning is evident. Ce que vous dites est une fausseté, what you say is an untruth. Cette histoire est pleine de fausse tés, that story is full of untruths—of lies. On l'accuse de fausseté, they accuse him of lies—of untruths—of duplicity. On a reconnu la fausseté de cette nouvelle, the news has been acknowledged to be false.
La fausseté de ces écritures est visible, it is visible that these writings are spurious, false. Il est difficile de corriger la fausseté dans l'esprit, it is difficult to correct an unsound judgment.
FAUTE, s. f. (Sens moral.) Repentons-nous de nos fautes, let us repent our sins—our faults. Tâchez de réparer vos fautes, try to repair—to make up for—your faults. Ne lui pardonnez-vous pas cette faute légère? will you not forgive him this slight error? Elle a commis une grande faute, she has committed a great fau.t—a great sin—a great error. Tomber en faute, to sin—to fail—to fall.

Ce n'est pas ma faute s'il n'est pas revenu, it is no fault of mine if he has not come back. On en rejétera la faute sur vous, they will lay the blame upon you. La faute en est à vous, the fault is yours. Il y va de ma faute, I am to blame—it is my fault. Je l'ai pris en faute, I caught him committing the offence. C'est la faute de mon domestique, qui ne m'a pas éveillé à temps, it is the fault of my servant, who did not call me in time. C'est par la faute de mon domestique, qui a pris la mauvaise route, it is by the mistake of my servant, who took the wrong road.

Il y a bien des fautes dans cet ouvrage, there are many errors—mistakes—faults—in this book. Vous avez fait une ou deux fautes, you have made one or two mistakes. Faute de jugement, error in judgment. Faute de grammaire, mistake in grammar. Faute d'impression, wrong print, mistake of the printer. Faute de langage, error in language. Qui fait la faute la boit, he who commits the mistake must bear its consequences.

FAUTE (want, deficiency). Faire faute, not to be sufficient; to be missing. Nous avions faute de gens, we had not servants enough—there was a scarcity of servants. Il y avait faute d'argent, there was want—scarcity—of money. On ne vous fera faute de rien, you will not want anything. Il ne se fait faute de rien, he spares nothing—he denies himself nothing. Je suis venu ici pour me divertir, je ne m'en ferai pas faute, I came here to enjoy myself, I will not miss anything—I will not deny myself anything. Pourquoi n'est-il pas venu, il nous a fait bien faute, why did he not come, we missed him so. Cet argent que j'ai perdu au jeu me fait faute maintenant, I miss now the money I have lost at play. Si n'y faites pas faute, and so do not fail. Je viendrai sans faute, I will come without fail. S'il arrivait faute de lui, s'il venait faute de lui, if he were to fail us—.—if he should chance—happen—to die.

(Faute de.) Je ne puis voyager faute d'argent, I cannot travel for want of money. Faute de s'entendre, for want of understanding one another.

FAUTEUIL, s. m. arm-chair. (Fig.) Tenir, occuper le fauteuil, to fill the chair—to preside. Céder le fauteuil à un autre, to give the chair to another. Demander le fauteuil vacant, to stand for the vacant place (in the French Academy).

FAUTEUR, s. m. } abettor; supporter; follower.
FAUTRICE, s. f. }

FAUTIF, IVE, adj. faulty; wrong.

FAUVE, adj. Les bêtes fauves sont le cerf, le chevreuil, et le daim, fallow beasts are the stag, the roebuck, and the deer. Nous avons chassé une bête fauve, we have been hunting a stag, a deer, &c.

FAUVE, s. m. fallow. Le pelage du cerf passe du fauve au blanc, the coat of the stag from fallow becomes white. Il y a du fauve dans cette forêt, there are stags, deer, in that forest.

FAUVETTE, s. f. linnet.

FAUX, s. f. scythe. Aiguiser une faux, to sharpen a scythe. Tout tombe sous la faux impitoyable du temps, every thing falls under the merciless scythe of time.

FAUX, FAUSSE, adj. false; deceitful. C'est un homme faux, he is false—deceitful—untrue. Défiez-vous de ces gens au cœur faux, aux dehors trompeurs, beware of those people with deceiving looks and false—treacherous—hearts. Elle a la mine fausse, she has a deceitful countenance—a double face. Ce que vous dites est faux, what you say is false—untrue. Il est faux que vous y ayez été, it is false—untrue—that you have been there. Pourquoi nous donner ces fausses nouvelles? why give us this false news? On a répandu de faux bruits, false reports have been spread. Elle me donnait de faux avis, she gave me false—perfidious—counsels.

Il employa de faux témoins, he employed false—corrupt—witnesses. On a découvert que le contrat était faux, it was found out that the deed was forged. Fausse monnaie, forged—spurious—base—coin. Les faux-monnayeurs sont arrêtés, the coiners—the forgers—are apprehended. Un faux mariage, a sham marriage. Il porte une fausse barbe et de faux cheveux, he wears a false beard and hair. Il y avait un faux plafond, there was a double ceiling. Ce diamant est faux, this diamond is false.

Tel est l'esprit faux du jour, such are the false notions of the day. Cette fausse éloquence séduit, this false eloquence captivates. Il a l'esprit faux, he is wrong-headed—his judgment is wrong. Les esprits faux se trompent, men whose judgment is not correct are deceived. Tous ces faux moyens ne mènent à rien, all these false means lead to nothing. Cette fausse honte l'empêche de bien faire, that false shame—false modesty—prevents him from doing well. Elle a la voix fausse, her voice is discordant—not true—she sings out of tune. Vous avez fait quantité de fausses notes, you made numbers of wrong notes. Cette note est fausse, this note is out of tune—is discordant. Vous avez touché une fausse corde, you played on the wrong string. Cette corde est fausse, this string is not true. Ils entrèrent à l'aide de fausses clés, they entered by means of false keys. Cette clé est fausse, this key does not fit—is not correct. Ce vers est faux, this verse does not scan—is not correct. Il y a un faux pli, there is here a crease. Ses armes sont fausses, his armorial bearings are spurious—are not according to the rules of heraldry.

Faux sauvage, smuggling of salt.

Faire faux bond, to rebound in the wrong way. La balle fit un faux bond, the ball bounded wrong. Faire faux bond à un ami, to disappoint a friend—to fail him. N'allez pas faire un faux pas, do not go on a wrong step; (literally) to trip. Vous vous êtes mis dans une fausse position, you had put yourself in a false—a wrong—position. Ces faux jours trompent l'acheteur sur la couleur des marchandises, these false lights deceive the purchaser in the colours of the goods. Ce tableau est dans un faux jour, this picture is in a wrong light. Mon fusil fit faux feu, my gun missed fire. La flotte faisait fausse route, the fleet sailed in a wrong course. (To deceive.) Nous fîmes une fausse sortie, we made a sham sally. Elle a fait une fausse couche, she has had a miscarriage. Mon avoué me ruine en faux frais, my attorney ruins me with accessary expenses.

Méfiez-vous de lui, c'est une fausse pièce, beware of him, he is a deceitful one. Ne vous fiez pas à sa fausse douceur, do not give faith to his assumed—false—politeness.

FAUX, s. m. Discerner le faux d'avec le vrai, to distinguish the falsehood from the truth. Plaider le faux pour savoir le vrai, to give out a falsehood as true, to find truth out from others. Crime de faux, forgery. Il s'est rendu coupable de faux, he has committed the crime of forgery. S'inscrire en faux contre ce que nous venons de dire, to dispute the truth of what you say.

FAUX, adv. falsely. Dater faux, to put a wrong—a false—date to a deed. Chanter faux, to sing out of tune. Jurer faux, to swear to a falsehood—to a wrong notion. Accuser à faux, to accuse unjustly. Porter à faux, to rest properly on a support. Ce raisonnement pèche à faux, this argument rests upon a wrong principle. Ce balcon porte à faux, this balcony is out of the perpendicular—does not bear truly.

FAUX-FUYANT, s. m. escape; (fig.) evasion, subterfuge, hole.

FAVEUR, s. f. Accordez-nous cette faveur, grant us that favour. Il les avait comblés de faveurs, he had loaded them with favours—with kindness. Le refuseriez-vous cette faveur? could you refuse him the favour? Faites-moi la faveur de lui en parler, do me the favour—the kindness—to mention it to him. Il est à faveur que vous veniez loger chez lui, he would consider it—take it—as a favour, if you would come and stay at his house. Je tiendrais cela à faveur, I would look upon it as—esteem it—a favour.

Il doit tout à la faveur, he owes every thing to favour. C'est un homme de faveur, he gets every thing by favour. Ce sont des places de faveur, they are situations given—obtained by favour. On l'a nommé

…ur, he was favoured. Il cherchait à gagner la faveur …prince, he was trying to get into favour with the prince. …est en grande faveur auprès du prince, he is in high …uit—favour—with the prince. Il briguait la faveur du …ple, he tried to ingratiate himself with the people—… gain the good will—the affection of—the populace. Il …usait de sa faveur pour faire des injustices, he took …vantage of his credit—of his influence—to do injustice. Ses ouvrages n'ont pas pris faveur, his works have not …into favour—into credit. Ces nouvelles marchandises …pris faveur rapidement, these new goods became …ularities rapidly. Nous avions deux mois de faveur, we had two months …s. (Commerce.) J'ai encore le jour de faveur pour …n billet, I have still the day's grace to pay my …. On accorde trois jours de faveur en Angleterre, …give three days' grace in England. …bonne conduite prévient en sa faveur, his excellent …duct prepossesses in his favour. Tout cela nous avait …enus en sa faveur, all that had prepossessed us …vorably. …s la excuse en faveur de sa jeunesse, he has been …ved in favour of—on account of—in consideration of …s youth. Je suis sûr qu'en votre faveur il y con…ra, I am sure he will consent in your behalf. Tout …onde était en sa faveur, all were for him—in his favour. …e ferais en faveur d'un ami, I would do it in favour …r the sake of a friend. Nous nous sommes sauvés à …veur de la nuit, we escaped under favour of the night. …n faveur d'un déguisement il se déroba aux poursuites …e justice, by means of a disguise he eluded the pursuit …stice.

…T. de théâtre.) Les entrées de faveur sont suspendues, …ree tickets—free admissions—gratuitous entrance—…spended. On accorda un tour de faveur à l'auteur, …munitée—the managers, in favour of the author, …ded that his play should take precedence of all others, …d order arranged.

…eurs de Vénus, venereal disease.

…AVEUR, s. f. (t. de rubannier), very narrow silk …e.

…s chevaliers portaient les faveurs de leurs dames, …knights wore the favours of their ladies. Tous ses …partisans une rosette de faveurs bleues à son élection, …election, his friends wore a knot of blue favours. …ppel était attaché avec des faveurs roses, the parcel …ied up with narrow pink ribbons.

…VORABLE, adj. favourable. Tout le monde lui a …vorable, every body was favourable to him—was in …vour. Cela ne donne pas de lui une idée favorable, …es not give a favourable idea of him.

…VORABLEMENT, adv. favourably.

…VORI, s. m. (favourite. Les favoris du roi n'au…

…VORITE, s. f.) vont pas à s'en réjouir, the king's …rites will have no cause to rejoice at it. C'est le …eur, et conséquemment le favori de la famille, he …youngest, consequently the favourite—the darling—…family. Cette actrice est la favorite, that actress …favourite. Il fut long-temps le favori de la fortune, …long while, he was the favourite—the favoured—of …e.

…de toilette,) Il portait de gros favoris, he wore …whiskers. Ses favoris sont en collier, his whiskers …under his chin (in the form of a collar).

…VORI, RITE, adj. favourite. C'était son mot favori, …his favourite word.

…VORISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to favour. Les …s le favorisaient toujours, the masters always fa… him—showed favour to him. Le gouvernement …favorise son entreprise, the government did not …—countenance—encourage—his enterprise. Il a …il pour favoriser le développement de l'industrie, he …ry thing to help—to encourage—the developement …stry. *Elle ne l'a pas même favorisé d'un seul …*she dit not even favour him with—bestow upon …single look. La nature l'a favorisée de ses dons, …favoured her with her gifts. Elle n'est guère …ée des dons de la nature, she is not much gifted by …ature. Partons, puisque le vent nous favorise, let us depart since the wind favours us—is in our favour.

FAYENCE. Voyez Faïence, &c.

FÉAGE, s. m. (t. de féodalité), tenure in fief.

FÉAL, E, adj. faithful. A nos amés et féaux, to our beloved and faithful, &c. s. m. C'est mon féal, he is my faithful friend.

FÉBRICITANT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), feverish.

FÉBRIFUGE, s. m. (t. de médec.), febrifuge; (adj.), febrifuge; anti-febrile.

FÉBRILE, adj. febrile.

FÉCAL, E, adj. fecal.

FÈCES, s. f. (t. de chim.), faces; sediment.

FÉCOND, E, adj. fecund; productive; fertilizing.

FÉCONDANT, E, fecundating.

FÉCONDATION, s. f. fecundation.

FÉCONDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fecundate; to make productive; (fig.), to fertilize; to enrich.

FÉCONDITÉ, s. f. fecundity; fruitfulness.

FÉCULE, s. f. fecula.

FÉCULENCE, s. f. feculence.

FÉCULENT, E, adj. feculent.

FÉDÉRAL, E, adj. federal.

FÉDÉRALISER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to federalize; to form a confederation.

FÉDÉRALISME, s. m. (pron. fé-dé-ra-lice-me), federalism.

FÉDÉRALISTE, adj. m. f. federalist.

FÉDÉRATIF, IVE, adj. federative.

FÉDÉRATION, s. f. federation. Voyez Hist. de France, 14 Juillet, 1790, et Mai, 1815.

FÉDÉRÉ, E, adj. s. m. federate, (member of the Federation of 1790). Les états fédérés, the federate, confederate, states.

FÉE, s. f. fairy. La baguette d'une fée, the wand of a fairy. Les enfants aiment les contes de fées, children like fairy tales. Cette femme est une fée, that woman is a witch. Elle travaille comme une fée, her work is like fairy work.

FÉER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enchant; to charm.

FÉERIE, s. f. fairy art; fairy power. Cet ouvrage est une vraie féerie, that work is truly enchanting—marvellous. Cela est une féerie, this is fairy land.

FEINDRE, v. a. v. n. rég. 7me conj. (voyez Craindre), to feign; to pretend; to dissemble. Cet homme est incapable de feindre, that man is incapable of dissembling, of feigning. Elle a feint une maladie pour ne pas y aller, she pretended an illness—she feigned to be ill—to avoid going. Il feignait d'être en colère, he feigned to be in a passion. Cet auteur feint des personnes qui n'ont jamais existé, that author imagines personages who have never existed. Je ne feindrai pas de vous dire ce que je pense, I shall not hesitate to tell you what I think.

Feindre en marchant, to walk lame.

Tout cela est feint, all that is feigned; pretended. Ce n'est qu'une feinte réconciliation, it is only a pretended—feigned—reconciliation. Il y avait une porte feinte, there was a blind—a false—door.

FEINTE, s. f. Il n'est pas de vos amis—ce n'est que feinte, he is no real friend of yours, it is mere feint—pretence. Parlez sans feinte, speak without disguise. Ses feintes n'ont pas réussi, all the appearance he put on did not succeed. La feinte est inutile, dissimulation is useless. (T. d'escrime), feint. (T. de manége), claudication.

FEINTISE, s. f. disguise. Voyez Feinte.

FELDSPATH, s. m. (t. de minér.), feldspar.

FÊLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. L'eau bouillante a fêlé cette tasse, boiling water cracked this cup. Toute notre faïence est fêlée, all our china is cracked. Prenez garde, ce pot se fêlera tout près du feu, take care, this pot will crack near the fire.

Les pots fêlés sont ceux qui durent le plus, cracked pots last the longest, i. e. people of weak health take good care of themselves and live long. Il a la tête fêlée, he is cracked—he is mad.

FÉLICITATION, s. f. felicitation; congratulation. Je viens d'apprendre son mariage; j'irai lui en faire mes félicitations, I have just heard of his marriage, I will go and offer him my congratulations upon it.

FÉLICITÉ, s. f. felicity; happiness. Il met en cela toute sa félicité, he sets all his happiness in that.

Les félicités de ce monde, the joys of this world.

FÉLICITER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Je l'ai félicité sur—de—son mariage, I have congratulated him on his marriage. C'est une chose dont je vous félicite, it is a thing on which I congratulate you—wish you joy. Je viens vous en féliciter, I come to wish you joy of it—to congratulate you upon it. Je me félicite d'y avoir pensé, I congratulate myself on having thought of it—I rejoice that I thought of it.

FÉLON, NE, adj. felonious; rebellious; treacherous. s. m. felon, rebel.

FÉLONIE, s. f. felony; rebellion.

FELOUQUE, s. f. felucca.

FÉLURE, s. f. crack.

FEMELLE, s. f. female. La vache est la femelle du bœuf, the cow is the female of the ox.

La loi salique exclut les femelles du trône, the salic law excludes the females from the throne of France.

C'est une adroite femelle, she is a cunning one. Quelle étrange femelle, what a strange person she is. (T. de marine), gudgeons.

FEMELLE, adj. Une perdrix femelle, a hen partridge. C'est un démon femelle, she is a she-devil. (T. de bot.) Plante femelle, female plant.

FÉMININ, E, adj. feminine. s. m. Cet adjectif est au féminin, this adjective is in the feminine gender.

FÉMINISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de gramm.), to make of the feminine gender. (Morally), to make effeminate.

FÉMINITÉ, s. f. the feminine quality.

FEMME, s. f. (pron. fame), woman. Les femmes sont naturellement timides, women are timid naturally. C'est une femme mariée, she is a married woman. Il portait des habits de femme, he wore women's clothes. Il était habillé en femme, he was dressed as a woman.

Le mari et la femme, the husband and the wife. On dit qu'il bat sa femme, people say he beats his wife. Elle n'est pas femme, elle est encore fille, she is not a married woman, she is single still. Les femmes et les filles, married and unmarried. Il n'a pas encore de femme, he is not married—he has no wife as yet. Il va prendre femme, he is going to take a wife—to get married. Chercher femme, to look out for a wife. La voilà bientôt femme, she will soon be a woman—a grown up woman. Les Espagnoles sont femmes à quatorze ans, Spanish girls are marriageable at fourteen. Elle vit en honnête femme, she lives as an honest woman should do. Femme de bien, honest, worthy woman. C'est une femme veuve, she is a widow. Femme publique—femme de mauvaise vie—femme perdue, a public woman. Femme en puissance de mari, feme covert.

Femme de chambre, lady's maid. La duchesse appela toutes ses femmes auprès d'elle, the Duchess summoned all her women—all her maids—into her presence. Elle est femme de chambre chez Madame L—, she is lady's maid in the family of Mrs. L—. Appelez ma femme de chambre, call my maid. Femme de chambre dans un hôtel, chamber-maid at an inn. Femme de charge, housekeeper. Femme de ménage, housekeeper. Femme de journée, char-woman—woman who works by the day. Sage femme, midwife.

Dites donc, ma bonne femme, bonne femme, quelle heure est-il? I say, good old lady, what is it o'clock? Nous avons rencontré une bonne femme, we met an old woman.

Ce que femme veut, Dieu le veut, woman must have her will. C'est une maîtresse femme, she is a clever woman. Elle est bien femme, she has all the ways of her sex—she is a true woman. Le diable bat sa femme, is said when it rains and the sun shines together. C'est une envie de femme grosse, it is a whim, a caprice—a longing.

FEMMELETTE, s. f. a small woman; a light, whimsical little woman. (Fig.), an effeminate man.

FÉMUR, s. m. (t. d'anat.), femur; thigh-bone.

FENAISON, s. f. haymaking; haymaking season.

FENDANT, s. m. a cutting blow; a slash. (Fig.) Faire le fendant, to look very bold; to put on the bully—a bully.

FENDERIE, s. f. (t. de forges), slitting-mills.

FENDEUR, s. m. splitter; cleaver. Fendeur de bois, wood-cutter. (Fig. et fam.) Un fendeur de naseaux, a bully; a hector.

FENDILLER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to split; to crack.

FENDOIR, s. m. cleaving knife.

FENDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 3me conj. (voyez Tondre), to split; to cleave. Il fend du bois pour payer sa taxe, he splits—cleaves—breaks wood for his fuel. Il a fendu la tête d'un coup de sabre, he split open his head at one cut. Fendre la terre, to open the ground with the plough. La wécheresse fend la terre, the heat cracks the ground. La terre se fendait de toutes parts, the ground was cracked—was full of chinks—every where. La gelée a fendu cette pierre, the frost split this stone. Cette muraille se fend, this wall is cracking—has chinks—clefts. Mes bottes se sont fendues, my boots have split. Notre nacelle fendait l'onde, our boat ploughed—cut the waves. Il nous fallut fendre la presse, we had to force our way—to cut our way—through the crowd. La glace se fendit sous nos pieds, the ice cracked—split—under our feet. Les eaux de la Mer Rouge se fendirent en deux, the waters of the Red Sea divided, &c. (Fig.) Cela fendrait un cheveu en quatre, he would split a hair.

(Fig.) Vous me fendez la tête avec votre bruit, you split my head with your noise. Cela me fend le cœur, that rends my heart. Le cœur me fend de le voir souffrir ainsi, it rends my heart to see them suffer so. C'est une scène à fendre le cœur, it is a heart-rending scene.

(T. d'escrime.) Se fendre, to open one's legs—to make a lunge.

Ce verre est fendu, this glass is cracked. Elle a les yeux bien fendus, her eyes are large and well shaped. Il a la bouche fendue jusqu'aux oreilles, his mouth extends from ear to ear. C'est un homme bien fendu, he is well-shaped—he is long legged.

FÊNE. Voyez Faîne.

FENESTRÉ, E, adj. (pron. fe-nè-tré) (t. de bot.)

FENETRAGE, s. m. the windows of an edifice.

FENÊTRE, s. f. window. Fenêtre à balcon, window with a balcony. Elle se met à la fenêtre, she goes to the window. Elle se tient à la fenêtre toute la matinée, she keeps at the window the whole morning. Jeter par la fenêtre, to throw out at the window. Sauter par la fenêtre, to leap out at the window. Ouvrir la fenêtre, to open the window.

Cette maison n'a ni portes ni fenêtres, there is not a door or a window left in that house—it is in a most dilapidated state. Cet homme jette tout par les fenêtres, the man throws his money out at the window, he squanders his money. Chassez-le par la porte, il rentrera par la fenêtre, turn him out at the door, he will come in again at the window.

(T. d'anat.), opening.

FENIL, s. m. (t. d'agric.), hay-loft, hay-chamber.

FENOUIL, s. m. fennel.

FENOUILLET, s. m. sort of apple; fennel apple.

FENOUILLETTE, s. f. (espèce d'eau de vie), fennel water.

FENTE, s. f. chink; cleft; crevice. La fente d'une chemise, the opening of a shirt in front.

FENTON, } s. m. (t. de métier), iron tie.
FANTON, }

FENUGREC, s. m. (t. de bot.), fenugreek, bird's foot.

FÉODAL, E, adj. feudal. Les temps féodaux, feudal times.

FÉODALEMENT, adv. feudally.

FÉODALITÉ, s. f. feudality.

FER, s. m. iron. Une mine de fer, an iron mine. Minerai de fer, iron ore. Fer battu, wrought iron. Fer forgé, forged iron. Fer doux, soft iron. Fer cassant, brittle iron. Fil de fer, iron wire. Femme de fer, iron dross. Pont de fer, an iron bridge. On l'enferme dans une cage de fer, in an iron in an iron cage. Battre le fer à froid, to hammer when cold.

T. de métier.) Fer de lacet, lace tag. Fer à friser, ling iron. Fer à découper, stamping iron. Fer de ew, punch. Mettre les fers au feu, to put the irons he fire; (fig.), to prepare for work. Les fers sont au the irons are heating—we are going to begin. Fer r à cheval—fer de cheval, horseshoe. Nous avions grande table en fer à cheval, we had a large table in horseshoe form. Mon cheval a un fer qui loche, one y horse's shoes is loose. (Fig.) Il y a là un fer loche, there is something loose here. Mon cheval he les quatre fers en l'air, my horse rolled down on ground his four legs up in the air. Il tomba les re fers en l'air, he fell headlong on the ground. a ne vaut pas les quatre fers d'un chien, this is not th any thing. Mettre un fer, to put on a shoe. Des de bottes, boot irons. Des fers cramponnés pour la e, rough shoes. (Fig.) Il faut payer les vieux avant de quitter le maréchal, pay your debts re going to a new merchant. Fer à repasser, iron moothing iron. (T. de marine.) Fer à calfât, lking iron.

T. de jurisp.) Cela ne tient ni à fer ni à clou, this is a fixture—,—(commun.), that does not hold fast.

Fig.) Il a une santé de fer, he has an iron constitu. C'est un corps de fer, he is made of iron. Il reignait de ses bras de fer, he held him tight in his arms. Ecoutez donc, on n'est pas de fer, why, a is not made of iron. Il userait du fer, he would e out iron. Cet homme digérerait du fer, that man ld eat iron—would digest iron. Il faut battre le fer dant qu'il est chaud, you must strike iron while it is —you must use the opportunity when it offers. une tête de fer, he is an indefatigable—persevering —he is an obstinate man. Dans le siècle de fer, he iron age. Il les tenait sous un sceptre de fer, he them under an iron sceptre.

Le fer (t. de combat), sword; dagger; arm. Il lui ssa le fer dans le sein, he plunged his sword, his ger, his steel, in his breast. Il périt sous un fer cide, he perished under a murderous weapon. Ils taient le fer et le feu partout, they carried fire and rd everywhere. Se battre à fer émoulu, to fight with p swords—without mercy. Il manie bien le fer, he dles the sword well—he is a good sword's-man uarer le fer, to cross swords. Battre le fer, to fence. un grand batteur de fer, he is a great fencer—he great fighter. Il y a long-temps qu'il bat le fer, he old sword's-man—(fig.), he is an old practitioner. fer d'une pique, the head—the point of a pike.

Les fers, chains, fetters, captivity. Porter les fers, to captive. Il tendit les mains aux fers, he submitted be fettered—he held out his hands to be handcuffed. porte ses fers, he is her slave—he wears her chains. tre un homme aux fers, to put a man in irons—in ison. Il est condamné aux fers, he is condemned to il labour.

FER-BLANC, s. m. tin.

FERBLANTIER, s. m. tinman.

FER-CHAUD, s. m. (t. de métier.), heartburn.

FERET, s. m. (t. de minéral.), hematite.

FERIAL, E, adj. (t. d'église), ferial. Office férial, office of the day.

FERIE, s. f. (t. d'église), a week day. Faire l'office la férie, to do the office of the day. C'est aujourd'hui seconde férie, to-day is Monday. In the Catholic urch, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday designated 2e, 3e, 4e, 5e, 6e férie. It also means ay of rest—a holyday. Il n'y eut plus assez de jours s l'année pour donner place à toutes les féries, there re not days enough left in the year to admit all the ydays.

FERIÉ, E, adj. (t. d'église). Jour férié, a holyday—day in which no business is transacted. Le jour de oël est un jour férié, Christmas-day is a holyday.

FERIN, INE, adj. savage, cruel. Il a un air férin, looks savage—there is something of the wild beast in his looks. (T. de médecine.) Il a une toux férine, he has a malignant cough.

FERIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (n'est usité que dans cette phrase), L'ennemi prit la ville sans coup férir, the enemy took the town without striking a blow. (Vieux Français.) Il est féru contre lui, he is very angry with him. Il est féru d'elle, he is struck with her.

FERLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine). Ferler les voiles, to furl the sails.

FERMAGE, s. m. rent. Il doit deux ans de fermage, he owes two years' rent for his farm. Ses fermages lui rapportent dix mille livres de rente, his land rental amounts to 10,000*l.* a year.

FERMANT, E, adj. Meuble fermant, a piece of furniture which locks with a key. A jour fermant, at the close of the day. Ils sont rentrés à portes fermantes, they returned at the closing—shutting up—of the gates.

FERME, adj. Le plancher n'est pas ferme, the floor is not firm—steady. La glace est très-ferme, the ice is quite hard—firm. Ce poisson a la chair ferme, this fish has a firm flesh.

C'est un esprit ferme, his mind is firm—he is firmly minded.

Être ferme à cheval, to sit firmly on a horse. Il est ferme sur ses étriers, he sits firm in his stirrups. Vous ne nous tenez pas ferme, you do not sit firm. Il attendit l'ennemi de pied ferme, he stood—awaited—without flinching for his enemy. Nous vous attendrons de pied ferme, we shall wait for you without moving—resolutely—till you come.

C'est un ami ferme, he is a staunch friend. Il lui répondit d'un ton ferme, he answered firmly. Il demeure ferme dans son opinion, he adheres firmly—steadily—resolutely—to his opinion. Vous n'avez pas la main ferme, your hand is not firm—steady. Tenez ferme, hold fast—hold steadfastly—(fig.), be firm—do not give way. Il parla d'une voix ferme, he spoke in a firm—steady—voice.

Enfin nous nous trouvâmes en terre ferme, at last we found ourselves on terra firma—on firm land. (A Venise.) Les nobles de terre ferme are those Venetian nobles who have estates on the Italian continent.

Fort et ferme, stoutly; resolutely.

FERMÉ, adv. firmly.

FERME, s. f. farm. Il vient de louer une ferme considérable, he has lately hired a large farm. Nous avons une belle cour de ferme, we have a large farm-yard. Nous aperçûmes une belle ferme, we saw a beautiful farm-house.

Donner, bailler à ferme, to farm, to lease out. Donner à ferme les chaises de l'église, to farm out the chairs of the church.

(T. d'ancienne adminis.) Les Fermes du Roi, the king's revenues, taxes. Il a une belle place dans les Fermes, he has a good situation in the Excise, in the taxes. (Formerly, the taxes of a province were collected by the agents of a contractor called "Fermier Général," who agreed to give a stipulated sum annually to government. This system was abolished in 1789.)

FERMEMENT, adv. firmly; resolutely.

FERMENT, s. m. ferment; fermentation.

FERMENTATIF, IVE, adj. fermentative.

FERMENTATION, s. f. fermentation; fiery agitation; ferment.

FERMENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ferment; (fig.), to ferment; to move. L'esprit de rébellion fermentait, a rebellious spirit was fermenting.

FERMER, v. a. & v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to shut; to close. Fermez la porte, shut the door. Fermez la porte à clef, lock up the door. La porte est fermée au verrou et à clef, the door is bolted and shut up with lock and key. Fermez votre chambre, shut the door of your room. Cette maison est-elle fermée? is that house shut up—closed? Fermez la fenêtre, close—shut—the window. Fermez le tiroir, shut the drawer. Fermez les rideaux tout à fait, draw the curtains quite close. Les marchands ferment boutique —les boutiques—à huit heures, shopkeepers shut up shop —close the shops—shut up—at eight o'clock. Les théâtres, les lieux publics, sont fermés, the theatres, public places, are shut up—closed. Les écoles sont fermées, the schools are closed. Tous les chemins sont fermés par la neige, all the roads are stopped up by the snow. Un banc de sable ferme la rivière, a sand-bank obstructs the river—impedes—obstructs—the entrance of the river. La foule nous fermait l'entrée du temple, the crowd prevented our entering into the temple. Cette carrière lui est fermée à son âge, at his age that career is no longer open to him.

Les portes ferment mal, the doors close badly. La porte a été fermée toute seule, the door shut—closed—of itself. La plaie n'est fermée, the wound has closed.

Fermez la porte après vous, shut the door after you. J'ai fermé la porte sur lui, I closed the door upon him. J'ai fermé ma porte à ce vilain homme, I closed my door to that disagreeable man. On lui ferma la porte au nez, they shut the door in his face. Je lui ai fait fermer ma porte, I have desired my servants not to admit him—to shut my door to him. Toutes les portes lui sont fermées, every door—house—is closed to him. Allons, allons, fermez la porte à ces pensées, come, come, shut out these thoughts. Cette circonstance lui ferma la porte aux emplois, that thing shut him out of all offices—any office. Il ferma la porte aux abus, he closed the door against abuses. (Fig., prov.) Il faut qu'une porte soit ouverte ou fermée, a door must be open or close, i. e. you must do one thing or the other.

Fermez la main, shut—close—your hand. Il tient la main fermée, he keeps his hand shut.

Fermez la bouche, shut your mouth. D'un mot je lui fermai la bouche, with one word I stopped his mouth.

Fermez les yeux, shut your eyes. Je n'ai pas fermé l'œil de toute la nuit, I did not close my eyes the whole night. Il n'avait pas un ami pour lui fermer les yeux, he had not a friend to close his eyes. Je partis aussitôt qu'il eut fermé les yeux, I left immediately after his death. Elle ferme les yeux sur les fautes de son fils, she winks at—overlooks—her son's faults. J'ai fermé les yeux là-dessus, I did not see it—notice it. Je l'ai signé les yeux fermés, I signed it with my eyes closed—without looking at it.

Fermez l'oreille à la flatterie, shut your eyes against flattery. Quand on lui demande quelque chose, il ferme toujours les oreilles, he always shuts his ears, if you ask him for anything.

Fermez la marche, to close the procession.

Tout est fermé, all is closed. La ville est fermée de murailles, the town is inclosed within walls. Le coffre est fermé à clef, the box is locked up.

FERMES, s. f. (t. de charpente), girders.

FERMETÉ, s. f. (lit. et fig.), firmness.

FERMETURE, s. f. fastenings.

FERMIER, s. m. farmer. Son fermier ne le paie pas, his farmer does not pay him. (T. d'admin. ancienne.) Fermier général, contractor. Voyez Traitant.

FERMIÈRE, s. f. farmer's wife; farmer.

FERMOIR, s. m. clasp. (T. de métier), ripping chisel.

FÉROCE, adj. ferocious; savage; fierce. Les bêtes féroces le dévorèrent, he was devoured by wild—ferocious beasts. C'est un homme féroce, he is a cruel, a ferocious man. Quel air féroce il a! what a ferocious countenance he has!

FÉROCITÉ, s. f. ferocity; fierceness. Le tigre a de la férocité, the tiger has ferocity. La férocité de son caractère, the ferocity of his nature, of his disposition. Ils l'attaquèrent avec férocité, they attacked him ferociously.

FERRAILLE, s. f. old iron. Aller chez le marchand de ferraille, to go to the old iron dealer—the dealer in old stores.

FERRAILLEUR, s. m. old iron dealer. (Fig. et fam.) C'est un grand ferrailleur, he is a great fencer, a great sword's man—he is fond of fencing. (Expression de mépris), bully.

FERRANT, MARÉCHAL, s. m. blacksmith; farrier.

FERREMENT, s. m. fastening of iron.

FERRE-MULE, s. f. cheat. Voyez Ferrer.

FERRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Ferrer une porte, to bind, to fasten a door (with iron). Ma malle est ferrée de cuivre, my trunk is fastened with copper. Ferrer un laquais, to tag—to put a tag to—a lace. Ferrer un bâton, to tip a cane, a stick. Ferrer un cheval, to shoe—to put a shoe on—a horse. Nos chevaux étaient ferrés à glace, our horses were rough-shod. Faites-le ferrer à glace, have it rough shod. (Fig.) Cet homme n'est pas facile à ferrer, that man is not very manageable. C'est un homme ferré sur les mathématiques, that man is strong in mathematics. Il est ferré à glace sur ce sujet, you could not trip him—upset him—on that subject. (Fig., fam.) C'est un ouvrier de charrettes ferrées, he is a beggarly braggadocio. Ferrer la mule, to charge for more than one has paid in purchasing for another. Il a la pomme ferrée, he has an iron mouth, palate—he can swallow boiling things.

Le chemin est ferré, the road is paved—has a coat of stones. Son style est ferré, his style is harsh, unfeeling. (T. de chimie.) De l'eau ferrée, chalybeate water.

FERRET, s. m. tag. (Fig.) Je n'en donnerais pas un ferret d'aiguillette, I would not give a tag—a pin—for it.

FERRETIER, s. m. old iron dealer.

FERREUR, s. m. one who puts on tags.

FERRIÈRE, s. m. a smith's fuel bag.

FERRONNERIE, s. f. iron works; hard ware.

FERRONNIER, s. m. } hardware man; ironmonger.
FERRONNIÈRE, s. f. }

FERRUGINEUX, EUSE, adj. ferruginous.

FERRURE, s. f. iron fastening; horse-shoeing.

FERTILE, adj. fertile; rich; abundant.

FERTILEMENT, adv. fertilely; abundantly.

FERTILISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fertilize.

FERTILITÉ, s. f. fertility.

FÉRU. Voyez Férir.

FÉRULE, s. f. ferule. Le régent lui a donné un coup de férule, the master gave him one stroke of the ferule—struck him once with his ferule. On le mit sous la férule de ce fameux docteur, he was placed under the rod of that famous doctor. C'est lui qui tient la férule, he holds the rod.

FERVEMMENT, adv. fervently; with fervor; ardently.

FERVENT, E, adj. fervent; ardent.

FERVEUR, s. f. fervour; ardour.

FESSE, s. f. buttock; rump. Les fesses d'un cheval, the rump of a horse. (Fig.) Il a eu précisément chaud aux fesses, he was famously frightened. Il n'y va que d'une fesse, he does the thing weakly, without energy. Je m'en bats les fesses, I care not about it. Il en a eu un coup sur les fesses, he has suffered some loss.

(T. de marine.) Ce bâtiment a la fesse ronde, the stern is round-stemed.

FESSE-CAHIER, s. m. paper whipper, i. e. scribbler.

FESSÉE, s. f. Il a eu une bonne fessée, he has been soundly whipped.

FESSE-MATHIEU, s. m. an usurer; one who lends on pledges and at a high interest. (It is thought that the expression is a corruption of "face de Matthieu," a likeness of St. Matthew, or of fait ce que faisoit Matthieu, he does what St. Matthew did, i. e. lends money at usurious interest. St. Matthew was a publican, and hence it is concluded that he was an usurer.)

FESSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to whip. Elle fessa ses enfants sans pitié, she whipped her children unmercifully.

(Fig.) Cet homme fesse bien sa vie, that man leads his wife copiously, without any inconvenience. Il gagne sa vie à fesser le cahier, he earns his livelihood by scribbling.

FESSEUR, s. m. } dogger; whipper.
FESSEUSE, s. f. }

FESSIER, s. m. (fam.), buttock; backside.

FESSIER, ÈRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), belonging to the hind part (of men).

FESSU, E, adj. who has a large backside, buttocks.

FESTIN, s. m. banquet. Il vient de donner un grand festin, he has lately given a banquet, a feast.

…à là un festin de noces, you give us a feast fit for a …ing.

…ov. prov.) Il n'est festin que de gens chiches, there …thing like a miser's feast. C'est là ce que nous avions …ost festin, this is all we had to feast on—to eat—and …are.

…STINER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Il nous a bien …é, he feasted us well. Nous ne fîmes que festiner …ant quinze jours, we did nothing but feast for a fort…

…STON, s. m. festoon; garland. (T. de couturière),

…p.

…STONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to festoon; to scollop.

…STOYER. Voyez Festiner.

…TE, s. f. feast; festival. On célébrait ces fêtes avec …e these festivals were celebrated with pomp. C'était …e de Cérès, it was the feast—the festival of Ceres.

…s fêtes de l'église sont nombreuses, the feasts—the …ays—of the church are numerous. C'est fête aujour…—c'est aujourd'hui jour de fête, to-day is a holyday.

…er une fête, to keep a holyday. On faisait la fête …t Jean, they were keeping St. John's holyday—feast.

…êtes de Pâques, the Easter days. Fêtes carillonnées, …reat feasts of the church (thus called on account of …ging of the bells).

…est demain votre fête, to-morrow is your saint's day …England) to-morrow is your birth-day. Nous …ité lui souhaiter une bonne fête, we went to wish …many happy returns of the day—to pay him our …liments on the day. Il a grandement payé sa fête, …ve a splendid feast on his saint's day—(in England) …a birth-day.

…était la fête patronale du village, it was the day of …atron saint of the village—the patronal holyday of the …e.

…est un sorcier, il devine les fêtes quand elles sont …n, he is a conjurer, he foretells things when they have …ened. Ne chômons pas la fête avant qu'elle ne soit …, let us not keep a holyday before it comes—let us …joice in anticipation of a good thing.

…a donné de grandes fêtes à son mariage, there were …rejoicings on the occasion of his marriage. Les …publiques ont duré trois jours, the festivities, the …ings lasted three days. Je suis d'une grande fête …ie, I am invited to some great festival—doings—to…ve. Je ne m'étais jamais trouvé à pareille fête, I …never been at such a feast—.—I had never been in …a predicament. On nous fit fête, we were feasted. …le monde lui faisait fête, everybody cheered him—…ed him. C'est un trouble-fête, he is a mar-plot—he …s disturbance wherever he goes. Il veut toujours se …de fête, he will always meddle with everything—…a finger in everything. Je me faisais fête de le …, I rejoiced at the idea of seeing him again. On …faisait une fête, they anticipated much pleasure

…TE-DIEU, s. f. Corpus Christi day. This day, …erated to the Mystery of Transubstantiation, comes …e Thursday after Trinity Sunday, but is now kept on …llowing Sunday. The host is carried in procession …e streets, where temporary altars are erected. It is …f the most brilliant ceremonies of the Roman Catholic …ch.

…TER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On fête aujourd'hui la …-Pierre, to-day is the feast of Saint Peter. Ce jour…it plus compris parmi les fêtes fêtées, that day is no …r included among the days kept holy in the church. …e fête plus ce jour-là, that day is no longer kept holy. …C'est un saint qu'on ne fête point, that man is …n high repute—they do not pay him much respect. …une personne, to keep a person's saint's day—(in …and) birth-day—.—to make him presents—to treat …on the occasion. On l'a bien fêté à son retour des …, many public dinners were given to him on his …from India. Comme elle est fêtée partout, how well …received every where.

…TFA, s. m. (mot Turc ou Arabe), decree, decision …e Mufti.

FÉTICHE, s. m. fetich (idol, god worshipped among the negroes of Africa).

FÉTICHISME, s. m. fetichism or feticism, the worship of idols among the black Africans.

FÉTICHISTE, s. m. f. adj. fetichist; worshipper of fetiches.

FÉTIDE, adj. fetid.

FÉTIDITÉ, s. f. fetidness.

FÉTOYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. familier). Voyez Fêter.

FÉTU, s. m. a bit of straw, a straw.

Je n'en donnerais pas un fétu, I would not give a straw—a rush for it. Cela ne vaut pas un fétu, it is not worth a straw. Tirer au court fétu. Voyez Tirer; Paille. C'est un cœur-fétu, he toils hard and does not advance.

FÉTU EN CUL, s. m. the tropical bird.

FEU, s. m. fire.

Le culte du feu, fire-worship. Une colonne de feu guidait les Israélites, a column of fire guided the Israelites. Un globe de feu parut dans les airs, a globe of fire appeared in the air. Faire sortir du feu d'un caillou, to strike fire out of a stone.

L'Etna vomissait des feux, Mount Etna threw up fires.

(Terme commun.) Faisons du feu, let us have some fire—let us light a fire. Nous n'avions pas de feu, we had no fire—we were without a fire. Voilà bon feu, here is a good fire. Attiser le feu, to arrange the fire. Vous avez éteint le feu, you have put the fire out. Le feu s'est éteint, the fire is out, has gone out. Il nous fit un feu de reculée, he made us a fire that made you stand back, i. e. a scorching fire. Il aime beaucoup le coin de son feu, he is fond of his fire-side—of sitting before his fire. Il fait bon au coin du feu, it is nice by the fire. Allez lui dire cela au coin de son feu, pour voir, well, go, sit by his fire and tell him that in his face, to see. Quand on a le ventre à table et le dos au feu, on s'inquiète peu comment va le monde, when a man sits with a table before him and a good fire at his back, he cares little how the world goes on. Le pauvre malheureux n'a ni feu ni lieu, the poor wretch has neither fire nor home. Feu de bois, wood fire. Feu de charbon, coal fire. Je me meurs de froid, laissez-moi prendre une poignée de feu, I am starving with cold, let me warm my hands a little. Je ne sais pas ce que c'est que de prendre l'air du feu, I know not what it is to come near—to look at—the fire. Nous n'avons que trois chambres à feu, we have three rooms only with fire-places. Nous avons toujours cinq feux chez nous, we have always five fires burning at our house. Il y a deux cents feux dans cet endroit, there are two hundred fires (houses, families) in this place. Il n'y a pas de garniture de feu dans cette chambre, there are no fire-irons in this room.

Mettre les fers au feu, to put irons in the fire—(fig.), to begin. Il a trop de fers au feu, he has too many irons in the fire—he undertakes too many things at once. (T. de commerce.) Ces marchandises se vendent bien, le feu y est, these goods sell well, they have a great run—everybody is after them. Jeter de l'huile dans le feu, to pour oil on the fire—to irritate—to excite.

J'entends crier "au feu." I hear people cry out "fire." Tout le monde courait au feu, every one was running to the fire. Le feu était à la maison voisine, the fire was in the adjoining house. On ne sait pas comment le feu a pris, no one knows how the fire caught. Un incendiaire mit le feu à la maison, an incendiary set fire to the house. Le feu se mit à sa robe, the fire caught her dress. On mit le feu aux poudres, they set fire to the powder magazine. (Fig.) Si vous mettez si vite le feu aux étoupes, vous vous en repentirez, if you are so violent in your determinations, you will soon repent it. L'ennemi mit le pays à feu et à sang, the enemy put the country to fire and sword. Tout était en feu, every thing was in flames—in a blaze. Un tas de foin prit feu de lui-même, a heap of hay took fire of itself. Ce bois est mouillé; il ne prend pas feu, this wood is wet, it will not take fire—it does not burn. Le toit de chaume prit bientôt feu, the roof, which was thatched, soon caught fire. (Fig.) Vous prenez feu bien vite, you soon take fire—get in a passion. Du cuisdre mot qu'on lui dit, il prend feu, if you say one word only to him, he takes fire—he gets in a passion.

(T. de cuisine.) Pot au feu, the pot (in which fresh beef is put to boil). Nous n'avons que le pot au feu, we have only our daily fare. On ne met pas le pot au feu tous les jours dans cette maison, the pot does not boil every day in that house. Il n'y a ni écuelles lavées ni pot au feu, there are there neither pots on the fire, nor plates washed—,—there is no cooking. Ils font bonne chère et bon feu, they keep a good table and a good fire. Il ne faut pas donner le feu si ardent à la viande, you should not roast meat with so brisk a fire. Le cuisinier est dans son coup de feu, the cook is now giving the last turn to the roast.

Armes à feu, fire-arms, muskets. Bouches à feu, cannon, mortars. Nous entendîmes des coups de feu dans la nuit, we heard shots in the night. Mon fusil fit long feu, my gun hung fire. Il fit feu des deux coups, he fired both barrels. Il fit feu sur nous, he fired upon us. Feu! fire! (T. de guerre.) Toute la ligne fit feu, the whole line fired. Nous entendions un feu de mousqueterie, we heard a fire of musketry. Un feu de file, file firing. Feu roulant, constant fire. (Fig.) Ils faisaient un feu roulant de sarcasmes et de plaisanteries, they kept up a constant fire of sarcasms and cutting jokes. Feu de peloton, platoon fire. Le feu était vif et bien nourri, the fire was sharp and well kept up. Feu croisé, cross fire. Nous étions sous le feu de la batterie, we were under the fire of the battery. L'artillerie faisait un feu rasant, the artillery kept up a raking fire. Le vaisseau fit feu des deux bords, the ship poured in both broadsides. Feu de tribord, fire larboard. Le vaisseau mettait tous ses feux, the ship was hanging out all her lights. L'ennemi faisait un feu d'enfer, the enemy kept up a very brisk fire. Accoutumer des chevaux au feu, to accustom horses to the firing of guns, of musketry. Ce soldat n'a jamais vu le feu, that man never smelt gunpowder. Ces jeunes conscrits allaient au feu comme on va à la noce, these young recruits marched to the fire with the alacrity of those who go to a wedding.

On tira un feu d'artifice superbe, there were beautiful fireworks. On va tirer un feu d'artifice, they are going to let off some fireworks. Lance à feu, match. Feu grégeois, Greek fire—wild fire. On alluma partout des feux de joie, bonfires were everywhere lighted.

(Phrases.) Le feu lui sortait par les yeux, his eyes shot —flashed—fire. N'y voir que du feu, not to understand a thing—not to make it out—to be dazzled by it. C'est le feu et l'eau que ces deux personnes, these two persons agree like fire and water—are the opposite of one another. Il jetait feu et flamme, he threw out fire and flame—he was in a violent passion. On peut lui parler à présent qu'il a jeté son feu, you may speak to him now he has vented his passion. Il a jeté tout son feu dans son premier ouvrage, he exhausted his genius—he spent all his powers—in his first work. Le feu s'est mis dans ses affaires, disorder, confusion has got into his affairs. Il fut condamné au supplice du feu, he was condemned to be burnt alive—to the torture of fire. On le fit mourir à petit feu, they tortured him to death on a slow fire. Parlez donc, vous me faites mourir à petit feu, do speak out, you torture me to death—you kill me by inches. J'en suis tellement certain que j'en mettrais la main au feu, I am so sure of it, that I would lay my hand in the fire that it is true—i. e. that I would take my oath of it. Il n'est feu que de bois vert, nothing like green wood to give a good fire, i. e. no one is so active in danger as a young man. Faisons feu qui dure, let us husband our resources—let us make things last. Mettre le feu sous le ventre à quelqu'un, to use means to compel a person to do a thing. C'est un feu de paille, it is a mere flash. Il n'y a pas de fumée sans feu, there is no smoke without a fire. Je me mettrais au feu pour lui, I would go through fire and water for him. Il jette feu et flamme, he frets and fumes—he is in a great rage. (Fig.) Faire feu des quatre pieds, to use every effort to succeed.

Les feux de la nuit, the stars of night—the lights of heaven. Le feu du ciel, lightning. Feu follet, ignis fatuus; will o' the wisp. Faire feu follet, to make much noise and little work. Le feu St. Elme, St. Elmo's fire, the night fire. Le feu St. Antoine, St. Antony's fire, erysipelas.

Les feux de la côte, the fires—lights—beacons on the coast. Les feux d'un bâtiment, the lights of a ship. Pêcher au feu, to fish with lights. Feux de pêche, fishing fires.

(Fig.) Le feu de la jeunesse, the fire of youth. Il voudrait éteindre le feu qui le dévore, he would wish to extinguish the fire which devours him. Le feu de son imagination est encore dans tout son éclat, he has still all the fire—the vivacity of imagination. Il a les yeux pleins de feu, his eyes are full of fire. Il avait les yeux tout en feu, his eyes were flashing—full of fire. Ces bruits étaient toute la ville en feu, these reports set all the town in a blaze. Il était tout de feu, he was full of fire—of enthusiasm. Ses feux sont trahis, his love is betrayed.

Ce vin a trop de feu, this wine is too fiery. Ce vinaigre m'a mis la bouche en feu, this sauce has set my mouth on fire.

(T. de métier.) Il sentait un feu dans les entrailles, he felt great heat in his intestines. (T. de manége.) Donner le feu à un cheval, to fire a horse.

FEU, E, adj. (tiré du Latin fuctus, "feathered," dit Bescherelle), the late. Feu mon père disait souvent, my late father used to say —. J'ai ouï dire à feu ma sœur —, I have heard my late sister say —. La feue reine de Prusse était belle, the late Queen of Prussia was beautiful. La feue princesse, the late princess. Les dessins sont de la Princesse Royale, feue Reine de Wurtemberg, these drawings are by the Princess Royal, late Queen of Wurtemberg. (Some modern writers make feu an adjective to agree in both cases with and without the article.)

FEUDATAIRE, s. m. f. feudatory; vassal.

FEUDISTE, s. m. feudist; a writer on feuds.

FEUILLAGE, s. m. foliage; boughs; leaves. Ils nous retirâmes sous le feuillage, we retired under the foliage. On lui fit un arc de triomphe de feuillage, they built a triumphal arch with green branches, boughs. Il lit de feuillage, a bed of leaves. (Tapissier.) foliage.

FEUILLAISON, s. f. the time at which the trees put forth their leaves come out.

FEUILLANT, s. m. a monk of the order of the Feuillants, (strict Bernardine), founded at Feuillans in Languedoc.

Feuillants, a club opposed to the "Jacobins" formed in 1792, and who assembled at the late Convent of the Feuillants in Paris, from which they took the name.

FEUILLANTINE, s. f. sort of very light pastry.

FEUILLARD, s. m. (t. de tonnelier), hoop. Cooper's used to make hands; also light narrow bands of iron.

FEUILLE, s. f. leaf. Les feuilles tombent, the leaves are beginning to drop, to fall. Cet arbre tremblait comme une feuille, the tree was quivering with fear. Vin de trois feuilles, wine three years old. Donnez-moi une ou deux feuilles de papier, give me one or two sheets of paper. Un paravent de trois feuilles, a screen in three sheets, leaves. Une feuille de carton, a sheet of pasteboard. Une feuille d'argent, d'or, a sheet of silver, gold. Corps d'ouvrage en feuille, to cut a log of mahogany into leaves. Le talc se détache par feuilles, talc comes off in flakes.

(T. d'imprimerie.) Une feuille d'épreuve, a proof sheet. Tirer une bonne feuille, to pull a sheet well. Ce volume est en trente feuilles, this volume is in thirty sheets. L'ouvrage est encore en feuilles, the work is in sheets still. Une feuille volante, a fly leaf.

(T. d'adminis. milit.) Feuille de route, marching order. Ma feuille de route n'est pas encore signée, my order is not signed yet.

Feuille publique, journal. Les feuilles publiques n'en ont pas parlé, the newspapers have not mentioned it. Cette feuille périodique ne paraît plus, that periodical does not appear now.

Feuille d'audience, calendar of the sitting days.

présence, list of the present members, list of presence.
feuille des bénéfices, sheet of the livings in the king's La feuille des pensions, the pension list.
T. de chirurg.), scale.
'EUILLÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), leafy, foliaged.
'EUILLE, s. m. foliage. Ce peintre entend bien le ille, that painter understands the painting of foliage.
'EUILLÉE, s. f. foliage. [leaves.
'EUILLE-MORTE, adj. of the colour of dead
'EUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (T. de peinture.) at un talent rare que de bien feuiller, to paint a foliage l is a rare talent. Les arbres commencent à feuiller, trees are beginning to have leaves.
'EUILLET, s. m. leaf. Un feuillet contient deux es, a leaf contains two pages. (T. d'anat.), third nach of ruminating animals.
'EUILLETAGE, s. m. (t. de pâtissier), puff paste.
'EUILLETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Je n'ai pas lu ivre, je ne l'ai que feuilleté, I did not read the book ugh, I merely turned over the leaves. Il me faut feuil- r bien des livres pour faire celui-ci, I have to turn the leaves of—to look over—many books to compose
. (T. de pâtisserie.) Feuilleter de la pâte, to make paste—light pastry.
'EUILLETÉ, E, adj. (t. de pâtisserie), puff paste.
'EUILLETON, s. m. This name is given to the om of the page of newspapers, reserved to literature, feuilleton of the present day contains not only articles riticism, on the drama and literature in general, but novels written by the popular writers of the day, ch appear there before they are published in the form book.
(T. de législ.) Feuilleton des Pétitions is a printed er containing a summary of the petitions before the hambres," on which reports are to be made, and the hambres" to debate.
'EUILLETONISTE, s. m. a writer in the feuilletons.
il un inépuisable feuilletoniste, he is an inexhaustible er of "feuilletons."
'EUILLETTE, s. f. half a hogshead.
'EUILLU, E, adj. Cet arbre est bien feuillu, this is leafy—has a thick foliage—is full of leaves.
'EUILLURE, s. f. (t. de charpente), rabbet.
'EURRE, s. m. straw.
'EUTRAGE, s. m. felting.
'EUTRE, s. m. felt. Chapeau de feutre, felt hat.
mmuns feutre, a wretched hat.
'EUTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to felt. Feutrer une
, to pad a saddle.
'EUTRIER, s. m. felt-maker.
'EVE, s. f. bean. Fève de haricot ou haricot, haricot
. Grosses fèves de marais, Windsor beans. Fèves
spagne, scarlet runners. Fèves de café, coffee berries.
de Tonka, Tonquin bean.
Fig.) C'est lui qui a été roi de la fève, he was the , on twelfth night; (a bean is concealed in the cake; ever gets the slice in which it is, is the king.) Il a trouvé ève au gâteau, he has found the bean—he has hit the k. Donner un pois pour avoir une fève, to give a to catch a herring. S'il me donne des pois, je lui urai des fèves, if he give me pease I will return him ans—i. e. if he offend me, I will retaliate—I will give a Roland for an Oliver.
'EVEROLE, s. f. horse-bean; dried haricots.
'EVRIER, s. m. February. Ils sont venus le quinze vrier, they arrived on the 15th February.
'I, interj. Ah fi, ce que vous dites-là est mal, fie upon , what you say is wrong. Fi donc! fie—for shame!
ais plaisir que la crainte accompagne, fie on the pleu, which fear attends. Je n'en fais pas fi, I do not me it—I do not say nay to it.
'IACRE, s. m. hackney coach. (These carriages were troduced in Paris under Louis XIV. The first were at Hôtel St. Fiacre, thence their name and their patron nt.) Prendre un fiacre à la course ou à l'heure, to ge a hackney coach by the fare, or by the hour.
Fiacre nous a bien conduits, that coachman drove us
.

(Fig.) Vous jouez comme un fiacre, you play abominably.
FIANÇAILLES, s. f. pl. affiancing; betrothing.
FIANCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to betroth; to affiance. Ils sont fiancés, they are betrothed.
FIBRE, s. f. fibre. Les fibres se relâchent en temps chaud, fibres become relaxed in hot weather. (Fig.) Cet homme a la fibre délicate, that man is of a delicate constitution.
FIBREUX, EUSE, adj. fibrous.
FIBRILLE, s. f. fibril.
FIBRINE, s. f. (t. de chimie), fibrine.
FIC, s. m. (t. de métier) (fig.), an excrescence.
FICELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to tie up with packthread. Ce paquet est mal ficelé, this parcel is badly tied up. (Fam.) Cette femme est toujours bien ficelée, that woman is always neatly dressed.
FICELEUR, s. m. packer.
FICELLE, s. f. packthread.
FICELLIER, s. m. packthread reel.
FICHANT, E, adj. (T. d'artillerie.) Feu fichant, fichant—pitching—fire. (Fam.), vexatious, provoking.
FICHE, s. f. (t. de métier), plate; peg; (t. de jeux), fish. J'ai perdu deux fiches, I lost two fish. Fiche de consolation, a fish paid round to the winner. (Fig.) Il était ruiné; ce petit héritage est une fiche de consolation, he was ruined, that small legacy will comfort him a little—will make up for it in a small degree. (T. d'archit.) Ce pieu a un mètre de fiche, this stake is one mètre deep in the ground. (T. d'ingénieur), mark.
FICHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Ficher un clou, to drive a nail. Ficher un pieu en terre, to plant a stake in the ground. Elle avait les yeux fichés en terre, her eyes were fixed—riveted—in the ground. (Fig.) Il s'est fiché cette idée dans la tête, he has taken that idea into his head. (Très-fam.) Vous fichez-vous de moi? are you making game of me? Je ne fiche de cela, I do not care for that.
FICHE (t. de blason), sharp; acute.
FICHET, s. m. peg (used to mark the game).
FICHU, s. m. neck handkerchief.
FICHU, E, adj. (très-fam.) Il nous a donné un fichu dîner, he gave us a sorry dinner. C'est un esprit mal fichu, he has an ill conditioned temper. Ce poisson a un fichu goût, that fish has a queer taste. C'est un homme fichu, he is done for. C'est autant de fichu, it is so much lost.
FICHUMASSÉ, adj. (très-fam.), vexed; disappointed.
FICHUMENT, adv. queerly; ridiculously.
FICOIDE, s. m. (t. de bot.), sort of fig.
FICTIF, IVE, adj. fictitious. Poids fictifs, very light weight used in assaying.
FICTION, s. f. fiction. Je vous parle sans fiction, I speak to you truly; without disguise.
FICTIVEMENT, adv. fictitiously.
FIDÉI-COMMIS, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), feoffment in trust.
FIDÉI-COMMISSAIRE, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), feoffee; trustee.
FIDÉJUSSEUR, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), surety.
FIDÉJUSSION, s. f. surety given.
FIDÈLE, adj. faithful. Il avait des amis fidèles qui accoururent à son secours, he had faithful friends who came to his assistance. Il était fidèle à tenir sa parole, he kept his word faithfully. Je servi fidèle à mes principes, I shall be faithful to my principles. C'est un domestique fidèle, he is a faithful—trust-worthy—servant. Il nous en a laissé un récit fidèle, he left us a faithful account of it. J'ai la mémoire fidèle, my memory is faithful—is correct.
FIDÈLE, s. m. C'est mon fidèle, he is my faithful friend, servitor, &c. Les fidèles se rendaient à l'église, the faithful were repairing to church.
FIDÈLEMENT, adv. faithfully.
FIDÉLITÉ, s. f. fidelity; faithfulness. Sa fidélité était à toute épreuve, his fidelity was proof against every thing. Prêter serment de fidélité à son prince, to take the oath of allegiance to one's prince. Il lui a fait serment de fidélité, he swore fidelity to him. C'est un homme d'une grande fidélité, he is a most faithful—trustworthy man. Vous n'avez pas traduit ce passage avec fidélité, you have not translated this passage faithfully—with correctness. On ne peut douter de la fidélité de ce témoin, the truth of that witness cannot be questioned. Je ne puis compter sur la fidélité de ma mémoire, I cannot depend upon the faithful correctness—the correctness of my memory.

FIDUCIAIRE, adj. (t. de jurisp.), fiduciary.

FIEF, s. m. (t. de féodalité), fief. Fief dominant, a fief held in chief. Fief servant, a fief holding of another. Franc fief, freehold.

FIEFFER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enfeoff.

FIEFFÉ, E, adj. Homme fieffé, vassal; a man holding an office in fief. (Fig., fam.) C'est un fripon fieffé, he is a downright—an arrant rogue. Un ivrogne fieffé, a very—a downright—drunkard.

FIEL, s. gall. Cela est amer comme du fiel, that is bitter as gall. (Fig.) Cet homme est plein de fiel, that man is full of gall—of malignity. Répandre son fiel, to vent one's animosity, hatred, malice. C'est un homme sans fiel, he is a man without malice. Il se nourrit de fiel, he feeds upon his malice—his bitterness of feelings. S'abreuver de fiel, to live in hatred—in ill will to others. Aucun fiel n'a jamais empoisonné ma plume, no bad feeling—no feeling of hatred—ever poisoned my pen.

FIENTE, s. f. dung.

FIENTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dung; to mute.

FIER, ÈRE, adj. proud. C'était un homme très-fier, he was a very proud man. De quoi est-il donc si fier? what is he so proud of? Je n'aime pas les gens fiers et orgueilleux, I do not like proud and vain people. Vous êtes fier de votre naissance, you are proud of your birth. Il est bien fier d'avoir réussi, he is proud of having succeeded. Ne faites pas le fier, do not look so proud.

(Fam.) Nous avons eu une fière alarme, we have had a famous alarm. C'est une fière imprudence que vous avez faite là, you have committed a famous imprudence. Ah oui, vous êtes un fier marcheur! oh yes indeed, you are a famous walker.

FIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Je lui fierais sans hésiter tout ce que j'ai de plus cher au monde, I would unhesitatingly intrust to him all I have dearest in the world.

FIER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to trust. Ne vous fiez pas à lui, do not trust him. Je ne sais à qui me fier, I know not whom to trust. Vous pouvez vous fier à sa parole, you may trust his word. Voilà de belles paroles, mais je ne m'y fie pas, these are fine words, but I have no confidence in them—I do not trust them. Fiez vous à elle du soin de cette affaire, trust her—have confidence in her—as to the management of this affair—leave the management of this affair to her. Je me fierais de toute chose à lui, I would intrust every thing to him. Je ne m'en fierai qu'à mes propres yeux, as to that, I will trust my own eyes only. Je me fie sur vous pour me tirer d'embarras, I rely upon you to extricate me—to get me out of difficulty.

(Fam.) Ah oui, fiez-vous y, trust to it, if you like. Nage toujours et ne t'y fie pas, pull away and trust not—i. e. do not rely upon the exertions of others, trust to your own only.

FIER-A-BRAS, s. m. (fam.), bully.

FIÈREMENT, adv. proudly; (fam.), famously; capitally.

FIERTÉ, s. f. shrine.

FIERTÉ, s. f. pride; (t. de peinture), strength, vigour.

FIÈVRE, s. f. fever. Il a la fièvre, he is ill of a fever. Accès de fièvre, a fit of fever. La fièvre lui a repris, his fever has returned. La fièvre l'a quitté, his fever has left him. Il avait une fièvre de cheval, he was in a burning fever. Cela lui donne la fièvre, that throws him in a fever. J'en ai la fièvre, rien que d'y penser, the thought of it throws me in a fever. Sentir la fièvre, to have feverish breath. Il a couru la fièvre cette année, the fever has been prevalent this year. Que la fièvre te serre, may the fever come upon you. Tomber de fièvre en chaud mal, to fall from the frying-pan into the fire.

FIÉVREUX, EUSE, adj. feverish.

FIÉVREUX, s. m. pl. persons ill of the fever. Il y a eu bien des fiévreux cette année, there have been many people attacked of fevers this year. Voici la salle des fiévreux, this is the ward for those who have fever.

FIÈVROTTE, s. f. light fever.

FIFRE, s. m. fife. Le fifre du régiment, the fifer of the regiment. Je joue du fifre, I play on the fife.

FIGEMENT, s. m. congealing.

FIGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to congeal; to coagulate. Le sang s'est figé, the blood got clotted—coagulated. La graisse se fige, fat coagulates in getting cold.

FIGUE, s. f. Des figues fraîches, fresh figs. Des figues sèches, dried figs.

(Fig.) Il y a consenti moitié figue et moitié raisin, he consented neither willingly nor unwillingly. Ils vont ensemble moitié figue, moitié raisin, they live together neither happily nor unhappily.

Faire la figue à quelqu'un, to make one's fingers at a person. Il leur fait la figue, he snaps his fingers at them (in defiance or in contempt). Voyez FRANCS fig et l'histoire de cette phrase.

FIGUERIE, s. f. fig-tree plantation, orchard.

FIGUIER, s. m. fig-tree.

FIGURANT, s. m. (t. de théât.), figurante.

FIGURANTE, s. f. given to those persons who dance in ballets or appear on the stage in some pageantry and when an assemblage is represented.

FIGURATIF, IVE, adj. figurative.

FIGURATIVEMENT, adv. figuratively.

FIGURE, s. f. figure, form, shape. Cela représente la figure de la terre, it represents the figure—the appearance of the earth. Jupiter prit la figure d'un aigle, Jupiter took the form—assumed the appearance of an eagle. Ce n'était pas une figure humaine, it was not a human face.

Elle a une jolie figure, she has a pretty face. Elle a bien de figure, her face is good. Voilà un enfant d'une jolie figure, here is a pretty child's face—that child has a pretty face. Sa figure a changé depuis sa maladie, his face is much altered since her illness. Je connais cette figure-là, I know that face. Il a une sotte figure, he has a stupid countenance. Quelle agréable figure! what an agreeable countenance!

Vous faites-là une triste figure, you cut a sad appearance—a poor figure. Il faisait bonne figure dans le monde, he cut a good figure in company. Ils vont faire figure, they like to make an appearance—[illegible] cut a dash.

(T. de peinture, de gravure), figure; plate. Figure de grandeur naturelle, full-size figure. Demi figure, half-size figure. (Sens mystique.) L'Ancien Testament était la figure du Nouveau, the Ancient Testament was the type of the New. (T. de mathém.), diagram. (T. de danse), figure. Je ne connais pas bien la figure, I do not know the figures well. (T. de grave, [illegible] figure.

FIGURÉMENT, adv. figuratively.

FIGURER, v. a. v. r. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Il avait figuré une danse de bergers et de bergères, he had figured—represented—a dance of shepherds and shepherdesses. Le tout ensemble figure as row rooms, the whole represents a vase turned upside down. Les quatre tiens figuraient l'année par un serpent qui se mord la queue, the Egyptians represented the year under the figure of a serpent biting his tail. Ces deux tableaux figurent bien ensemble, these two pictures match well together—have a pretty effect. Cet homme a figuré pendant la révolution, that man figured—made himself conspicuous—at the time of the revolution. Il a figuré à la cour, he figured at court. Il ne figure plus sur la liste de la garde, he does not any longer figure—appear—on the very list. Il n'a pas figuré d'une manière très-honorable, he did not figure very honourably (T. de théât.) Vous avez bien rien à dire, vous ne ferez que figurer, you will have nothing to say, you will only appear.

Figurez-vous deux armées prêtes à en venir aux mains, figure—picture—represent—to yourself two armies [illegible]

…ain battle. On se figure souvent les choses autrement qu'elles ne sont, we often imagine things different from what they are. Je m'étais figuré qu'il me rendrait ce service, I had imagined that he would do me that service. Je le figurais jeune et beau, I represented him to myself young and beautiful.

Plan figuré d'une maison, representative plan of a house. Copie figurée d'une écriture, fac simile of a piece of writing. Pierres figurées, figurate stones. Danse figurée, dance with figures.

Pris au sens figuré, this is the figurative sense. Il faut faire une différence entre le sens propre et le sens figuré, you must make a difference between the literal and the figurative sense.

FIGURINE, s. f. (t. d'antiquaire emprunté de l'Italien) figurine; statuettes; small figures or statues (T. de peinture), accessory figures in the back ground of a picture.

FIGURISME, s. m. figurism; principles, notions of those who look upon the Old Testament as typical of the New.

FIGURISTE, s. m. one who casts statuettes in plaster of Paris; also a partisan of figurism.

FIL, s. m. thread. Fil de lin, flax thread. Donnez-moi un fil—un brin de fil, give me a bit of thread. Une aiguillée de fil, a needleful of thread. Des bas de fil, thread stockings.

(T. de métiers.) Fil de perles, a string of pearls. Fil d'argent, silver wire. Fil d'archal, wire. Fil de laiton, brass wire. Fil à plomb, plumb line. (T. de marine.) Fil de carret, rope yarn. Fil de câble, cable yarn. Fil de Bretagne, packthread.

Il faudrait avoir le fil d'Ariane, one must have Ariadne's thread or clue. Sa vie ne tient qu'à un fil, his life hangs only by—hangs only on—a thread. Le fil de la vie, the thread—the link of life. Tendre les fils d'une intrigue, to lay out—to prepare—the threads of an intrigue. Je donnerai du fil à retordre, I will give him plenty to do—I will cut out work for him. Ce sont des finesses de fil blanc, these are coarse tricks easily found out.

Il nous a raconté la chose de fil en aiguille, he related the thing to us minutely—from point to point. Coudre de fil en aiguille les voilà mariés, and thus, proceeding from the beginning to the end, we see them married. A toile ourdie Dieu envoie le fil, to him who has a beginning God sends the means of ending. Brouiller le fil, to confuse, to entangle matters.

(T. d'hist. nat.) Les fils de la Vierge, gossamers, air-threads. Fil d'araignée, de ver à soie, cobweb; thread of the silkworm.

Mon rasoir n'a pas le fil, my razor has no edge—does not cut. Oter le fil à un couteau, to take the edge off a knife. Donnez un peu le fil à ce couteau, do give an edge to this knife—sharpen it a little. C'est un gaillard de fil (fam.), he is a cunning blade. On passa la garnison au fil de l'épée, the garrison was put to the sword.

Couper une étoffe de droit fil, to cut cloth, linen in the direction of the stuff. Vous n'allez pas de droit fil, you do not cut straight—(fig.), you do not proceed straight forward. Couper de la viande dans le fil, to cut meat in the direction of the grain. Suivez le fil du bois, follow the grain of the wood. Vous allez à contre fil, you go against the grain. Notre barque suivait le fil de l'eau, our boat followed the stream—dropped down the stream. Nous allions contre le fil de l'eau, we were going against the stream.

Reprenons le fil des événements, let us resume the thread—the chain—of events. Vous avez interrompu le fil de mes idées, you have broken the chain—the train—of my ideas.

FILAGE, s. m. spinning.

FILAGINE, F, adj. (t. de bot.), filaceous.

FILAGRAMME, s. m. (t. de papeterie), water mark.

FILAMENT, s. m. filament.

FILAMENTEUX, EUSE, adj. filamentous.

FILANDIERE, s. f. spinner. (T. de mythol.) Les filandières, the spinning sisters, the Parcæ.

FILANDRE, s. f. gossamers; air-threads. (Common.) strings. Cette viande est pleine de filandres, this meat is stringy. (Hist. nat.), thread worm, filanders.

FILANDREUX, EUSE, adj. stringy, full of stringy substances.

FILANT, E, adj. ropy.

FILASSE, s. f. hemp, flax (prepared for spinning), tow. Filasse de montagne, asbestos. (Fam.) Cette viande est bien mauvaise, ce n'est que de la filasse, this meat is very bad, it is nothing but shreds—this meat is so stringy it is not eatable.

FILASSIER, s. m. } dealer in hemp, in flax.
FILASSIERE, s. f. }

FILATEUR, s. m. spinner.

FILATURE, s. f. spinning factory.

FILE, s. f. Il y avait une longue file de gens qui traversaient la place un à un, a long line of people traversed the square one by one. Ils allaient à la file—file à file, they were going one by one—one after another. Mettez-vous à la file, put yourself behind. Prenez la file des voitures, get into the line of the carriages. Je suivais la file, I followed the stream—the line—the procession. Rompre la file, to break through the line.

(T. milit.) Chef de file, head of a file, leading file. Se placer en serre-file, to close the line. J'étais le serre-file, I was the last—I closed the line. Ranger les files, to draw out—to dispose—the lines. Serrez les files, close the lines. Par file à droite, to the right, face. Par file à gauche, to the left, face. Feu de file, file firing. (T. de marine.) Être chef de file, to be the head of the line. La frégate était en serre-file, the frigate closed the line—came last.

FILE, s. m. File d'or, gold wire.

FILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spin. Elle filait du lin, she was spinning wax. Filer au fuseau, to spin with a spindle. Machine à filer, spinning machine. L'araignée file sa toile, the spider spins her web. Les Parques lui filaient des jours d'or et de soie, the Fates span for him a silken and golden thread. Cet homme file sa corde, that man is spinning a rope to hang himself—is on the way to the gallows. Filer de l'or, des métaux, to wire-draw gold, metals, &c.

Filer une intrigue, to spin out an intrigue. Il aime à filer de longues périodes, his pleasure is to spin out long periods—(very fam.) a long yarn. Voilà cinq ans qu'ils filent le parfait amour, they have been loving sentimentally for the last five years. Ils ont filé deux ans le parfait amour, avant de se marier, they played the sentimental lovers for two years before they married. Il file le parfait amour auprès d'une femme qui se moque de lui, he is all love and sentiment for a lady who laughs at him.

Filer sa carte, to shift the card—to smuggle it. Filer ses cartes, to uncover one's cards slowly. Filer des sous, to draw out sounds.

(T. de marine.) Filer le câble, to pay out cable. Notre vaisseau filait sur son ancre, our vessel was driving from her anchor. Filer l'écoute, ease off the sheet. File l'écoute tout à fait, let fly the sheet. Ne file plus, keep fast. File la ligne de sonde, heave the lead. Nous filions neuf nœuds à l'heure, we were running nine knots an hour.

(T. militaire.) Je fis filer ma compagnie par cette petite rue, I made my company file off through that little street. (Commune.) Je crois qu'il est temps de filer, I think it is time to be off. Allons, filez, come, cut away—be off.

Filer doux, to subdue one's tone—to submit—to speak submissively.

Le chat file, the cat purs.

Ce vin commence à filer, this wine is getting ropy.

FILERIE, s. f. spinning-house; rope-yard.

FILET, s. m. string. Sa vie ne tient plus qu'à un filet—il n'a plus qu'un filet de vie, his life hangs only by a thread.

Cette racine est pleine de filets, that root is full of fibres. Les filets de cette fleur sont velus, the filaments of that plant are hairy.

(T. d'anat.) Avoir le filet, to be tongue-tied. Cette femme-là n'a pas le filet, that woman is not tongue-tied. On a été obligé de lui couper le filet, it was necessary to cut the string, which kept him tongue-tied.

(T. de métier.) Couverts à filets, spoons and forks fiddle-edged. Le filet d'une pièce de monnaie, the edge of a coin. Mettre un filet au bas de la page, to put a rule at the foot of the page. Le filet d'une vis, the worm of a screw. Filets d'ornement, ornamenting fillets.

(Instrument de pêche et de chasse), net. Pêcher au filet, to fish with a net. Nous avons pris tout ce poisson d'un coup de filet, we caught all that fish at one draught. Voilà un beau coup de filet, that is a fine cast or throw —.—(fig.), that is a lucky haul. Tendre des filets, to set nets—snares. Monter un filet, to trim a net. Un filet de soie retenait ses cheveux, a silk net kept up her hair. La balle est dans les filets, the ball is in the net. (Fig.) Elle voulait le prendre dans ses filets, she tried to catch him in her snares—in her nets.

Filet (t. de manège), sort of light bridle. Tenir un cheval au filet, to keep a horse with a bridle on, to prevent his eating. (Fig.) Tenir une personne au filet, to keep a person in suspense—waiting. Je suis au filet, I am in suspense—in a state of uncertainty.

(T. de quantité.) Le ruisseau se divise en petits filets, the brook divides into small streamlets—rivulets. Cette source ne donne qu'un petit filet d'eau, this spring gives a small stream of water. Donnez-moi un filet de vin, give me a drop of wine. Elle a un petit filet de voix, she has only a small—thin—voice.

(T. de cuisine.) Filet de bœuf, the under part of a sirloin of beef. Manger du filet de sanglier, de chevreuil, to eat "filet" of wild boar, of deer, &c. Des filets de sole, de merlan en friture, fried "filets" (slices of the fleshy part of) sole, whiting, &c.

(T. de marine.) Filets de bastingage, nettings.

FILEUR, s. m. } spinner.
FILEUSE, s. f. }

FILIAL, E, adj. filial.

FILIALEMENT, adv. filially.

FILIATION, s. f. filiation.

FILICULE, s. f. (t. de bot.), sort of capillary plant.

FILIÈRE, s. f. (t. de métier), screw plate; drawing plate for wire. (T. de charp.), rafter.

(Fig.) Il faut passer par la filière, we must go through an ordeal—undergo trials. On l'a fait passer par toutes les filières, they have raised all sorts of difficulties against him—they have tried him in every way. Il me faut voir une filière de gens, I had to wait upon a string of people.

(T. de marine.) Filière d'envergure, line.

FILIFORME, adj. filiform.

FILIGRANE, s. m. filigree work. Voyez Filagrane.

FILIN, s. m. (t. de marine), rope; yarn; any rope except cables.

FILIPENDULE, s. f. (t. de bot.), sort of spirea.

FILIPENDULE, adj. hanging from threads. Araignée filipendule, the hanging spider—money-spinner.

FILLE, s. f. girl. Elle a six filles et deux garçons, she has six girls and two boys. Il y avait de très-jolies filles, there were very pretty girls. Qui est cette jeune fille? who is that young girl? Elle est encore fille, she is a maiden still—she is still unmarried. Elle mourra fille, she will die single—unmarried—an old maid. Les vieilles filles ne sont pas toujours aimables, old maids are not always amiable. Elle mourut fille (vierge), she died a virgin.

(T. de parenté.) La mère et la fille sont ici, the mother and daughter are here. Elle est la fille cadette, she is the youngest daughter. Fille légitime, legitimate daughter. Elle était fille de roi, she was a king's daughter. C'est sa petite fille, she is his grand-daughter. Arrière petite fille, great-grand-daughter. Ma belle fille, my daughter-in-law—(also) my step-daughter. Viens, ma fille, j'ai à te parler, come here, daughter—my dear—I have to speak to you. Mes filles vous attendent, my daughters are waiting for you. Ma fille (à une étrangère), écoutez-moi, my dear girl, listen to me.

Les filles d'honneur de la reine, the maids of honour of the queen. Les filles de France, the king's daughters. Les filles de Mémoire, the Muses. Les filles d'Enfer, the Furies. La fille aînée des rois de France, the university of Paris. La fille de tant de princes, the daughter, the descendant of so many princes. La vérité est la fille du temps, truth is the daughter of time. Les filles de Cîteaux, the nuns of Cîteaux.

(T. de service.) Fille de boutique—fille de comptoir, shop girl. Fille de chambre, chambermaid—lady's maid. Fille de service, maid—servant. La fille, chamberlain. N'oubliez pas la fille, do not forget to give something to the maid. Dites donc, la fille! I say, young woman!

Les filles repenties, penitent women. On l'a envoyé aux filles repenties, she was sent to the penitentiary.

FILLETTE, s. f. young girl. Bonjour toutes, adieu fillettes, when age comes, we must say good bye to love.

FILLEUL, s. m. god-son.
FILLEULE, s. f. god-daughter.

FILOCHE, s. f. sort of silk net, thread net.

FILON, s. m. (t. de mine), vein.

FILOSELLE, s. f. floss silk. Des bas de filoselle, floss silk stockings.

FILOU, s. m. pickpocket; cheat. Les filous ont pris sa montre, the pickpockets stole his watch from him. C'est un filou, il vous trompera, he is a cheat, he will deceive you.

FILOUTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Filouter somebody, to rob; to steal; to cheat a person of something; to rob a person. Il l'a filouté de cinquante francs, he cheated him of 50 francs.

FILOUTERIE, s. f. cheat; cheating. Il ne vit que par filouterie, he lives by cheating only.

FILS, s. m. son. C'est son fils légitime, he is his legitimate son. Il est fils unique, he is an only son. Voilà mon beau-fils, he is my son-in-law—(also) my step-son. Voilà mon petit fils, you see my grandson. Mon arrière petit fils, my great-grandson. Viens ici, mon fils, come here, my son. J'ai acheté cela chez L— et fils aînés, I bought it at the house of L— and son, successors. C'est le fils de la maison, he is the son—he is my master's son—he is our young gentleman. Il ne faut pas parler ainsi aux fils de famille, one ought not to lead masters astray—to young gentlemen under age. Le fils de l'homme, Christ. Le roi de France était le fils aîné de l'Église, the king of France was the eldest son of the church. Les fils de Mars, the sons of Mars—warriors. Il est bien fils de son père, how completely he is his father's son—how like his father he is! Il n'est pas fils de bonne mère qui ne l'eût fait, there is no mother but would have done it. C'est un fils dénaturé, he is an unnatural son.

FILTRANT, E, adj. filtrating.

FILTRATION, s. f. filtration.

FILTRE, s. m. filter.

FILTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to filtrate.

FILURE, s. f. spinning.

FIN, s. f. end. Je ne suis pas encore à la fin de mon travail, I have not come to the end of my work. Écoutez-moi jusqu'à la fin, listen to me to the end. Sur la fin d'un beau jour, on the close—at the end—of a fine day. L'affaire tire à sa fin, the affair is drawing to an end. C'est sans fin, it is endless. Il faut mettre fin à cela, we must put an end to all that. Il a fini sa vie à la fin, he died happily—he made a good end. Il a fait une mauvaise fin, he died unhappily—he came to a bad end. Mettre une entreprise à fin, to terminate—to accomplish an enterprise. Il faut faire une fin, we must make an end. Le cerf était sur ses fins, the stag was at bay. Sa fin approchait, his end—his death was approaching. Enfin la fin, vous voilà, here you are, at last. Il en jouira jusqu'à la fin, he will enjoy it to the end. Sur la fin de ses jours, at the close of his life.

(T. de commerce.) J'ai des sommes considérables à payer fin courant, I have large payments to make at the end of the present month. Fin avril, at the end of April. Pour fin de toutes demandes, in full of all demands.

(But, intention.) Quelle fin vous proposez-vous? what —what aim do you propose? Je l'ai fait à bonne I did it with good intent—good purpose. Il tendait te fin, he tended to that end—he had that end in . Il en est venu à ses fins, he has accomplished his —his purpose. C'était à ses fins, it was with that that—intention. Faisons un procès verbal de l'état ieux, à telle fin que de raison, let us, at all events, e up a statement of the state of the places. Je vous ume pour vous en servir à telle fin que de raison, I it to you, to use it according to circumstances—as it happen.

T. de jurisp.) Fin de non recevoir, exception tending ove that the demand of the adverse party is not ad-dible.

IN, E, adj. La pointe en est trop fine, the point is fine—too acute. Votre écriture est trop fine, your ing is too fine—too small. J'aime une plume bien fine, a very fine pen. Des herbes fines, herbs, sweet herbs. a la taille fine, she has a slender—thin—fine waist. traits sont extrêmement fins, her features are extremely cate—fine. Il a la jambe fine, he has a well shaped a small ankle. Voyez, comme cette toile est fine, ow fine this linen is! Elle avait les cheveux très- her hair was very fine.

ne veut que des mets fins, he will take nothing but —nice—dishes. Les vins fins sont coûteux, fine wines expensive. Je vous ai apporté tout ce qu'il y avait ieu fin, I brought you the finest there was. C'est la fleur, it is the very best. C'est la fine fleur de aterie, he is the very flower of chivalry. Tout cela e or fin, all that is of fine—pure gold. Elle avait un ier en perles fines, she wore a necklace of fine pearls.

a l'oreille fine, he has a sharp—nice—acute—ear. l'esprit fin, he has a fine—delicate—mind. Cette ée est fine, it is a fine—delicate—nice—thought. e distinction est trop fine, this distinction is too fine e mince. Il a le nez fin, he has a sharp nose. (T. de ine.) Notre bâtiment est un fin voilier, our ship is uick sailer. (T. de musique et de peinture.) Elle l la touche fine, she had a nice—a delicate—touch. 'est un homme très-fin, he is a very cunning man. e les yeux fins, his eyes are sharp—quick. Sa con- a été fine, his conduct was shrewd—cunning. ez cette physionomie fine, see that shrewd coun- ce. Il fait le fin, he pretends to be cunning—he o a cunning look. Je l'ai sondé, mais il a fait le I probed him, but he affected secrecy. Ils jouent au fin, they are trying who shall be the sharpest—the cunning—which shall take the other in. C'est fin e fin, it is diamond cut diamond. Plus fin que lui pas bête, he is no fool who is more cunning—sharper he is. C'est une fine mouche—un fin matois, &c. he cunning one. Il est une fine lame, he is a cunning e. C'est un gros fin, he is no mighty cunning! llons, voyons, dites-nous le fin mot, come, come, tell e secret. Et c'est là tout le fin mot de l'affaire, this is all the secret—all the mystery! Voilà le fin lâché, the secret is out. Ils étaient en partie fine, were having a snug party;—(fam.), they were out on y. Tirer le fin du fin, to get all that can be got. il le fort et le fin de son art, he knows every part of rt. Il arrive du fin fond de la Russie, he is just ng from the remotest parts of Russia. Puisse-t-il au fin fond de la mer, may he go to the very bottom e sea.

NAGE, s. m. (vieux mot), limits; confines.

NAL, E, adj. final.

NALE, s. m. (t. de musique), finale.

NALEMENT, adv. finally.

NANCE, s. f. finances; money. Il est un peu de finance, he is rather short of money. Il est mal es finances, money matters are not prosperous with Ses finances sont basses, his finances are low. rfois), payment made to the king in purchasing an ut ministre des finances, he is Lord of the Treasury nd of the Exchequer. L'hôtel des finances, the ury. Les finances étaient dans un mauvais état, the finances were in a bad state. (Autrefois.) Le surintendant des finances, the superintendant of the treasury. Un homme de finance, a banker; (formerly), a contractor a man who farmed the revenues of the state. Entrer dans la finance, to begin business as a banker. Écriture de finance, round hand.

FINANCER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pay; (fam.), to come down with money.

FINANCIER, s. m. financier; (formerly), contractor, a person connected with the receipt of taxes; (now), a rich man, a man of money. (T. de théâtre.) Jouer les financiers, to act the parts of men in business, of rich uncles, &c. in plays.

FINANCIER, ÈRE, adj. Il s'est ruiné dans ses opérations financières, he ruined himself in his monetary transactions or speculations. Législation financière, financial legislation. Colbert créa une nouvelle ère financière, Colbert created a new financial era. Écriture financière, round hand.

(T. de cuisine.) "A la financière" is the name given to several rich and nice dishes, such as Vol au vent à la financière; Côtelettes à la financière; Poulet à la financière.

FINANCIÈREMENT, adv. financially.

FINASSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to act cunningly; to play cunning; to use low cunning.

FINASSERIE, s. f. low cunning.

FINASSEUR, s. m. } sly man, woman; one who uses FINASSEUSE, s. f. } low cunning, who never speaks out.

FINAUD, E, adj. cunning, sly. s. m. f. C'est une finaude, she is a sly puss.

FINEMENT, adv. cunningly; slyly; nicely; delicately.

FINESSE, s. f. fineness. Avez-vous remarqué la finesse de ce tissu? have you noticed the fineness—the fine quality of this tissue? Le fil de l'araignée est d'une extrême finesse, the web of the spider is extremely fine.

On admirait la finesse de ses traits, people admired her fine—delicate features—,—the fineness—delicacy—of her features. Il a l'ouïe d'une grande finesse, he is gifted with great quickness of hearing—,—his hearing is extremely quick. Les aveugles acquièrent une grande finesse de tact, the blind acquire great nicety of touch. Quelle finesse de goût, how delicate—nice—fine her taste! Ses paroles, ses idées sont pleines de finesse, his words—his ideas—are refined—are full of refinement—of nicety. La finesse de ses vues, the perspicacity—acuteness of his views. Quelle finesse dans son regard! what shrewdness in his look! Il y a trop de finesse dans cette distinction, this distinction is too fine—too subtle—too nice. Cet acteur joue avec finesse, this performer acts with point—with quaintness—,—with nice perception of his part. Il y a de la douceur et de la finesse dans son regard, there is gentleness and shrewdness in her look. Il répondit avec finesse, he replied shrewdly. Connaître les finesses d'une langue, to be acquainted with the niceties—elegancies of a language. N'admirez-vous pas la finesse de son placeau? do you not admire the niceness of his touch?

(Ruse, artifice.) Cet homme a beaucoup de finesse, that man has much cunning. Il a la finesse du renard, he is as cunning as a fox—he has the cunning of the fox. Suppléer à l'habileté par la finesse, to make up for ability by cunning. User de finesse, to use cunning—shrewdness.

Faire finesse d'une chose, to make a mystery of a thing. Je ne sais pas pourquoi il en fait finesse, I know not why he makes a mystery of it—why he should keep it a secret. Je n'y entends pas finesse, I mean no cuoning. Il entend finesse à tout, he sees some cunning—some mystery in every thing. N'y cherchez pas finesse, do not seek a mystery in it—a trick in it.

J'ai découvert sa finesse, I discovered—found out—his trick. Il fait des finesses à tout le monde, he plays tricks with every body. Il est au bout de ses finesses, he has exhausted all his tricks—all his means. Ses finesses ne trompent personne, his cunning tricks deceive nobody.

Ce sont des finesses cousues de fil blanc, they are plain—gross—tricks.

FINET, TE, adj. slyish; waggish. M. Finet, Mr. Slyboots.

FINETTE, s. f. sort of light cotton or woollen stuff.

FINI, } s. m. finish.
FINIMENT, }

FINIR, v. a. réy. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to finish; to end. Il a fini son ouvrage, he has finished—ended—terminated—his work. Aurez-vous bientôt fini? shall you have done soon? Je n'ai pas encore fini, I have not done yet. Vous avez mal fini ce que vous aviez si bien commencé, you have badly finished what you began so well. Ses ouvrages ne sont pas assez finis, his works are not sufficiently finished. Cela finit en pointe, it ends in a point. Le mot finit par une voyelle, the word ends in a vowel. Mon bail finira à Pâques, my lease ends—expires—at Easter. Finissez, have done. Dès qu'il s'y met, il n'en finit plus, when once he begins, there is no end.

Il a fini par consentir, he ended by consenting. Cela finirait par me déplaire, that would end in displeasing me. L'art est de finir à propos, the art is to end in time. Il est temps d'en finir, it is time to make an end of it. Je n'en finirais pas, si je vous disais tout, I should never end were I to tell you all. J'en aurai bientôt fini, I shall soon have done with it. Nous finissions de dîner quand il arrivа, we had just done dinner when he arrived. Je n'ai pas fini d'écrire, I have not done writing.

Il a mal fini, he has ended badly. Ainsi finit ce prince, thus ended that prince. Vous finirez mal, you will make a bad end. C'est un homme fini, he is done for—broken down.

FINI, E, adj. finite.

FINI, s. m. finite; finish. Cela est d'un beau fini, that is well finished.

FINISSAGE, s. m. finishing.

FINISSEUR, s. m. (t. de métier), finisher.

FINLANDAIS, s. m. adj. } Finlander.
FINLANDAISE, s. f. adj. }

FINOT, TE, adj. slyish; waggish. C'est un finot, he is a slyboots.

FIOLER, v. n. réy. 1ère conj., to bibble; to tipple.

FIOLE, s. f. vial; bottle.

FION, s. m. (Fam.) Cet homme a le fion, that man has the right way. Donner le fion à une chose, to give the finish—the character—last stroke—to a thing.

FIORITURES, s. f. pl. (t. de musique), fioriture; embellishments. Faire des fioritures, to throw in notes, to make fioritures.

FIRMAMENT, s. m. firmament; sky.

FIRMAN, s. m. (Edit, ordre du Grand Seigneur), firman.

FISC, s. m. fisc.

FISCAL, E, adj. fiscal.

FISCALITÉ, s. f. fisc; laws on taxes.

FISSIPÈDE, adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), fissipede.

FISSURE, s. f. fissure; crack.

FISTULE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), fistula.

FISTULEUX, EUSE, adj. fistulous.

FIXATION, s. f. fixation; fixing; assessment.

FIXE, adj. Les étoiles fixes, the fixed stars. Le siége de la douleur était fixe, the seat of the pain was fixed. C'est une idée fixe, it is a fixed idea—a predominant idea.

Il vend à prix fixe, he sells at a set price. Je lui donne une somme fixe par an, I give him a regular—a settled—sum yearly. Donnez-moi une heure fixe et je viendrai, appoint an hour—give me an appointed hour—and I will come. Il n'a point de demeure fixe, he has no regular—no settled—no fixed—abode. C'est un revenu fixe, it is a regular income. Il n'y a rien de fixe dans le monde, there is nothing settled in the world. Nous sommes à poste fixe ici, we are settled here. Elle avait le regard fixe, her eyes were fixed. Elle me regardait d'un œil fixe, she looked at me with fixed eyes.

(T. de chimie), fixed.

Le baromètre est au beau fixe, the barometer marks settled fine weather.

FIXEMENT, adv. fixedly; steadily; unfixedly.

FIXER, v. a. rép. 1ère conj., to fix. Fixer un clou contre un mur, to fix a ladder against a wall. Fixer ses yeux sur cet objet, fix your eyes upon that object. Je saurais fixer mon attention—mes idées, I could fix my attention, my ideas. N'avez-vous pas fixé un jour? have you not fixed—appointed a day? Elle est allée se fixer à la campagne, she has gone to fix—to settle in the country. Mes soupçons se sont fixés sur lui, my suspicions have fixed upon—have attached to him. Le gouvernement a fixé le prix des denrées, government fixes—settles—the price of provisions. Mon attention se fixa sur lui, my attention fixed upon him. Il avait les yeux fixés sur moi, his eyes were fixed—riveted—on me. Il n'est pas encore fixé sur ce qu'il doit faire, he has not yet determined what he is to do. Je suis fixé maintenant, I am fixed now—I have now determined.

FIXITÉ, s. f. fixity; fixedness.

FLACCIDITÉ, s. f. flaccidity; flaccidness.

FLACON, s. m. flagon. Un flacon (d'eau de senteur), scent-bottle.

FLAGELLANTS, s. m. Flagellants, a set of fanatics (1260).

FLAGELLATION, s. f. flagellation; scourging; whipping.

FLAGELLER, v. a. v. r. réy. 1ère conj., to flagellate; to whip; to scourge. Il se flagellait jusqu'au sang, he scourged himself till the blood came.

FLAGEOLER, v. n. réy. 1ère conj. Les genoux me flageolaient, his legs trembled—shook—under him.

FLAGEOLET, s. m. flageolet. Jouer du flageolet, to play on the flageolet. Nous dansions au son du flageolet, we danced to the sound of the flageolet. (Fam.) Il a monté sur des flageolets, his legs are like drumsticks.

FLAGORNER, v. a. réy. 1ère conj., to lard, to flatter basely; (fam.), to humbug. v. a. Il sait flagorner aux oreilles de son maître, he goes and tells his master every thing—,—he dins every thing in his ears.

FLAGORNERIE, s. f. base flattery; humbug.

FLAGORNEUR, s. m. } base flatterer; fawner.
FLAGORNEUSE, s. f. }

FLAGRANT, E, adj. striking; flagrant. Il fut pris en flagrant délit, he was caught in the fact.

FLAIR, s. m. (t. de chasse), scent.

FLAIRER, v. a. réy. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse), to scent (communément.), to smell. (Fig.) Il a flairé cela de loin, he got scent of that long before the end.

FLAIREUR, s. m. parasite; sponger.

FLAMAND, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), flaming.

FLAMAND, s. m. adj. } Flemish. Parler flamand, to FLAMANDE, s. f. adj. } speak Flemish.

FLAMBANT, E, adj. flaming; burning. (Fam.) Un flambant neuf, brau new. (T. de blason), flaming.

FLAMBART, s. m. five mal; burning ember.

FLAMBE, s. f. Voyez Iris.

FLAMBEAU, s. m. Ses domestiques portaient des flambeaux devant lui, his servants carried torches before him. Ils avaient un flambeau de cire à la main, they had wax tapers in their hands. Dîner aux flambeaux, to dine by candle-light. Mettez des flambeaux sur la table, put candlesticks upon the table. On lui fit présent de deux beaux flambeaux dorés, they made him a present of a pair of beautiful gilt candlesticks.

(Fig.) Le flambeau de la vie allait s'éteindre, the spark of life was about to be extinguished. Le flambeau du jour, the light of day. Le flambeau de la vie, light—the torch—of night—,—the moon. Les flambeaux de la nuit, the stars. Allumer les flambeaux de l'hymen, to light the torch of hymen—to marry. Allumer le flambeau de la guerre, to kindle the fires of war. Il est allé porter le flambeau de la foi chez les barbares de la Nouvelle Zélande, Selwyn is gone to carry the light of faith among the barbarians of New Zealand.

FLAMBER, v. a. v. n. réy. 1ère conj., to blaze; to burn bright. Flamber du linge, to air linen. (T. de cuisine.) Flamber un poulet, to singe a fowl; to singe. (T. d'artillerie), to flash off (a gun).

fam.) C'est un homme flambé, he is a lost man—he one for. Votre a gent est flambé, allez, your money is , you may depend upon it. C'est une affaire flambée, is lost business.

LAMBERGE, s. f. (mot familier), sword; a flaming ord. Mettre flamberge au vent, to draw swords. (This the name of the sword of Roland, in books of alry.)

LAMBOYANT, E, adj. blazing. Comète flamboyante, blazing comet. L'épée flamboyante, flaming ord. (T. de peinture), waving. Contours flamboyants, aving outline.

LAMBOYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to glitter.

LAMINE, s. m. (hist. Romaine), flamen.

LAMME, s. f. flame; blaze. Il périt dans les mes, he perished in the flames. La maison était en flammes, the house was all in a blaze—all in mes. Ce bois ne fait pas de flamme, this wood does burn bright—does not blaze. Le volcan ne jetait de flammes, the volcano did not burn—did not throw flames. Souffrir dans les flammes éternelles, to suffer e fires of hell. Les flammes du Bengal, Bengal s. (Fig.) Il cachait sa flamme, he concealed his ous flame. Il jette feu et flamme contre vous, he ging—he is venting his passion—against you. L'en- nous apporte le fer et la flamme, the enemy brings nd sword among us.

(T. de marine), pendant; (t. de vétérin.), fleam.

LAMMECHE, s. f. flake of fire; spark.

LAMMEROLE, s. f. (espèce de feu follet), ignis s; will o' the wisp.

LAMMETTE, s. f. (voyez Flammerole) (t. de gie), scarificator.

LAN, s. m. (t. de mannayage), planchet; (t. de se), sort of light cake, made of flour, milk, eggs and

LANC, s. m. (pron. flan) (t. d'anat.), flank, side. Il blessé dans le flanc droit, he was wounded in the ède. Le prêtre interrogeait le flanc de la victime, rêt examined the entrails of the victim. Le fils ses flancs ont porté, the son whom her womb con- —whom she bore in her womb. Se battre les flancs quelque chose, to toil very hard—to give one's self trouble about nothing. Il pressait les flancs de ersier, he was spurring the sides of his steed. Ce l bat du flanc, that horse has a short breath—is n-winded. Les flancs de la montagne étaient s, the sides of the mountain were barren. Prêter se à la critique, to expose one's self to criticism. (t. de militaire.) Faire par le flanc droit, right about march! Prêter le flanc à l'ennemi, to have one's exposed to the enemy's attack, fire. On nous t de flanc, we were attacked in flank. Le flanc bastion, the flank, the side of a bastion. (T. de marine.) Nous étions flanc à flanc, we were side of them—side by side. Prendre le flanc à mi, to bring one's broadside to bear upon the LANCONNADE, s. f. (T. d'escrime.) Je lui ai (une terrible flanconnade, I touched him, hit upon the side—in his body terribly.

LANCHET, s. m. (t. de cuisine), the fleshy part of ; flank of beef.

LANDRE, s. f. Flanders; Belgium. (T. de com-) (Fam.) Faire Flandre, to fail—to run to Flan- -to run away from one's creditors. Il est en Flandre, run to Flanders, i. e. he is ruined.

LANDRIN, s. m. (fam.), a tall gawky fellow.

LANELLE, s. f. flannel.

LANQUANT, E, adj. (t. de fortif.), flanking.

LANQUEMENT, s. m. flanking.

LANQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'archit., de e.), to flank. Cette façade est flanquée de tours, out—façade—is flanked by turrets.

(fam.) Quatre plats flanquaient le rôti, four supported the roast. Il lui flanqua son assiette foyare, he threw—he hurled—his plate in his face. flanqua un coup de poing, he hit him a blow. Il vint se flanquer à côté de moi, he came and thrust himself by my side. Je me flanquai contre la muraille, I hid—I ran—against the wall. Elle a flanqué sa médecine par la fenêtre, she threw her medicine out of the window.

FLAQUE, s. f. puddle (of water).

FLAQUER, s. f. dab.

FLAQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (fam.), to dash. Il lui flaqua un verre d'eau au visage, he dashed a glass of water in his face.

FLASQUE, adj. Un homme flasque, a weak man, a man without energy. La chaleur rend le corps flasque, heat makes the body weak—the flesh flabby. (Fig.) Son style est flasque, his style is weak; without energy; feeble.

FLASQUE, s. m. (t. d'artillerie), cheek.

FLÂTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de vétérin.), to fire, to cauterize (a dog in the head to prevent madness).

FLATTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On vous flatte parce que vous êtes riche, you are flattered—they flatter you because you are rich. Elle aime qu'on la flatte, she likes to be flattered. Il est trop honnête homme pour flatter le vice, he is too much of an honest man to flatter vice. Ce succès brillant flatte le cœur d'une mère, these brilliant successes flatter—please—the heart of a mother. Ne me flattez point, dites-moi la vérité, do not flatter me—do not deceive me—tell me the truth. Cela flatte son orgueil, it flatters—it pleases her pride. Le peintre l'a flattée, the painter has flattered her. Ce portrait est flatté, this portrait is a flattering one. Il flattait leurs goûts—leurs vices, he flattered—he humoured—their tastes —their vices. La musique flatte l'oreille, music pleases the ear. Son médecin l'a flattée, her physician deceived her—gave her false hopes. Flatter une plaie, une maladie, to treat a wound, a disease too gently—too tenderly. Il se flatte de réussir, mais j'en doute, he flatters himself with the hope of succeeding, but I doubt it. Ne vous flattez pas de cela, do not flatter yourself with that hope. Je me flatte qu'elle sera contente, I hope—I flatter myself —that she will be pleased. Je puis le dire sans me flatter, I can say so without flattering myself. C'est une chose dont il se flattait depuis long-temps, it is a thing with which he had long flattered himself.

Flatter un chien, to pat—to caress a dog. Elle flattait son cheval de sa jolie main, she patted her horse with her pretty hand.

FLATTERIE, s. f. flattery.

FLATTEUR, s. m. flatterer. Défiez-vous des flat-

FLATTEUSE, s. f. } teurs, beware of flatterers. Les flatteurs l'ont perdue, flatterers have ruined her.

FLATTEUR, EUSE, adj. flattering. Il a toujours quelque chose de flatteur à vous dire, he has always something flattering—pleasing—to say. Vous faites une distinction flatteuse en sa faveur, you make a flattering distinction in her favour. On ne pouvait résister au son flatteur de sa voix, none could resist the fascinating—pleasing—sound of her voice.

FLATTEUSEMENT, adv. flatteringly.

FLATUEUX, EUSE, adj. flatulent; windy.

FLATUOSITÉ, s. f. (t. de médec.), flatulency; wind.

FLÉAU, s. m. (t. de métier), flail. Jouer du fléau, to handle the flail. Les gerbes sont sous le fléau, the sheaves are now being thrashed. (Fig.) C'est un fléau du ciel, it is one of the scourges—plagues—of heaven. La famine est un fléau terrible, famine is a terrible plague—scourge. Un mauvais fils est un fléau, a bad son is a scourge. Cet homme est mon fléau, that man is my torment—is my plague.

Le fléau d'une balance, the beam of a balance. Le fléau d'une porte cochère, the bar of a coach-house door.

FLÈCHE, s. f. arrow. Tirer une flèche, to shoot an arrow. Il fut tué à coups de flèches, he was shot with arrows. Le bois d'une flèche, the shaft of an arrow. (Fig.) Faire flèche de tout bois, to use every means—to make use of every resource—to accomplish an end. Tout bois n'est pas bon à faire flèche, every means will not answer the same end. Il ne savait plus de quel bois faire flèche, he knew not what to do—he was completely at a loss what to do.

Notre clocher a une jolie flèche de pierre, there is a pretty stone steeple on our church tower. La flèche d'un carr.sse, the beam of a carriage. Flèche de lard, a flitch of bacon.

FLÉCHIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to bend. La poutre fléchissait, the beam was bending. Mes genoux fléchissent sous moi, my knees are bending under me. Il fallut fléchir le genou, we were obliged to bend—to bow the knee. Tout fléchissait sous le joug, every thing bowed under the yoke. Allez, tâchez de fléchir votre père, go, try to bend—to appease—to move—your father. Il ne fléchit pas aisément, he does not relent—yield—readily. Ne vous laisserez-vous pas fléchir à nos prières? can you hear our prayers without bending—relenting? will you not suffer yourself to be appeased—to be moved? Il commence à fléchir, he is beginning to give way—to relent. L'armée fléchissait devant l'ennemi, the army was giving way before the enemy.

FLÉCHISSEMENT, s. m. bending; yielding.

FLÉCHISSEUR, s. m. (t. d'anat.), flexor.

FLEGMAGOGUE, adj. phlegmagogue.

FLEGMATIQUE, adj. phlegmatic.

FLEGME, s. m. (t. de médec.), phlegm. (Fig.) Le flegme de cet homme m'étonne, the phlegm of that man astonishes me. C'est un homme de grand flegme, that man is very phlegmatic.

FLEGMON, s. m. (t. de médec.), phlegmon.

FLEGMONEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de médec.), phlegmonous.

FLÉTEAU, s. m. (grand poisson de mer plat), halibut.

FLÉTRIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir). La chaleur flétrit les fleurs, the heat fades the flowers. Les fleurs se flétrissent, flowers fade away. Les années flétrissent la beauté, years fade beauty. Sa beauté commence à se flétrir, her beauty is beginning to fade. Cette action a flétri ses lauriers, that deed tarnished—withered—his laurels. Le malheur flétrit l'âme, misfortune blights the heart. Flétrir l'innocence, to corrupt—to stain—innocence. On a flétri sa mémoire, they stained his memory. Il est à jamais flétri, he is for ever disgraced—dishonoured. Il fut flétri de la main du bourreau, he was branded by the hand of the public executioner. Vous m'avez flétri du nom de traître, you have dishonoured me—you have stained me—with the name of a traitor.

Des fruits flétris, withered—dried up—fruit. Ses charmes flétris ne le tentaient plus, her withered charms no longer tempted him. Comme elle a la peau flétrie! how shrivelled her skin is! Il est flétri dans l'opinion publique, he is lost—disgraced—in public opinion.

FLÉTRISSANT, E, adj. dishonouring; staining; blighting.

FLÉTRISSURE, s. f. withering, fading (of flowers, of plants). Ces fleurs sont encore sans la moindre flétrissure, these flowers have as yet retained their freshness. Le temps n'a pas causé la moindre flétrissure à sa beauté, time has not faded—impaired—her beauty, in the least. (Fig.) C'est une flétrissure à sa réputation qui ne s'effacera jamais, it is a stain on his reputation never to be effaced. La peine de la flétrissure est abolie, branding is abolished. On apperçut une flétrissure sur son épaule, a brand—a mark—was found on his shoulder.

FLEUR, s. f. Venez voir nos fleurs, come and see our flowers. Elle cultive les fleurs, she cultivates flowers. Le papillon voltige de fleur en fleur, the butterfly flutters from flower to flower. Aller au marché aux fleurs, to go to the flower market. Cet orage a moissonné toutes nos fleurs, the storm has cut off—destroyed—all our flowers. Elle portait des fleurs artificielles, she wore artificial flowers. Ces étoffes à fleurs sont bien belles, these flowery stuffs—stuffs with figured flowers—are beautiful. (Fig.) Le serpent est souvent caché sous la fleur, the serpent is often concealed under the flower—pleasure is often attended with danger. Son chemin était semé de fleurs, her path was strewed with flowers. Allons jeter des fleurs sur sa tombe, let us go and throw flowers upon his tomb. Il aime les fleurs de rhétorique, he is fond of flowery rhetoric.

Fleur d'arbre, blossom, bloom. La fleur du pommier est jolie, the blossom of the apple-tree is very pretty. Les arbres sont couverts de fleurs, our trees are covered with blossoms.

Fleur (du fruit), bloom. Ces fruits ont encore toute leur fleur, these fruits have kept their bloom. Un orage en enlève la fleur, a breath takes off their bloom. (Fig.) La beauté n'est qu'une fleur, beauty is but a flower that quickly decays. La fleur du teint, the bloom—the freshness—of complexion. Elle a perdu cette fleur d'innocence qui fait le charme de la jeunesse, she has lost that bloom—that freshness—of innocence which is the greatest charm of youth. Tout cela est neuf, you have the first bloom—all that is new, you have the first use of it. Il est mort dans la fleur de l'âge, he died in the flower—in the prime—of age. Elle est dans la fleur de la beauté, she is in the bloom of beauty. Je vous montre la fleur de ce que j'ai, I send you the best—the cream—all I have. Ces jeunes gens sont la fleur de l'école—du régiment, these youths are the flower—the best—the cream of the school, of the regiment. C'est la fleur de la galanterie que cela, that is the very flower of gallantry. Don Quichotte était la fine fleur de la chevalerie, Don Quixote was the flower of chivalry. C'est la fleur des pois que ce jeune homme-là, that youth is the very acme—of elegance.

Fleur de farine, the best flour. Fleurs, voyez Fleurs blanches, chlorosis, green sickness. Fleur de soufre, flower of sulphur. Fleur de lis, lily flower de blason), flower de lis. Les fleurs de lis, (in heraldry) the lilies. Fleur d'amour, amaranth. Fleur de la passion, grandadilla. Fleur de Constantinople, nasturtium—gold. Fleur de St. Jacques, rag wort. Fleur de soleil, sunflower.

A fleur de (loc. adv.). On rasa la maison à fleur de terre, they levelled the house to the ground. Les fondements sont à fleur de terre, the foundations are even with the ground. Il a de gros yeux à fleur de tête, he has large ox eyes—gooseberry eyes. La côte est pleine de rochers à fleur d'eau, the coast is studded with rocks level with the water. Le boulet passa à fleur de terre, the ball passed even with the ground. La balle a passé à fleur de corde, the ball grazed the rope. (Fig.) L'affaire passa à fleur de corde, the affair was near succeeding. Cette médaille est à fleur de coin, this medal looks as if just out of the mint.

FLEURAISON, s. f. blooming season. Observez cet arbre à sa fleuraison, watch that plant when flowering.

FLEUR-DE-LISÉ, E, adj. (t. de blason), with the flower de lis.

FLEURDELISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mark (with an iron stamped with a fleur de lis.

FLEURER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to smell; to emit odour. Cela fleure bon, that smells nice. Cela fleure comme baume, that is as sweet as balm—Cela fleure bon, his business promises well. Sa réputation fleure comme baume, his character—his fame—is good.

FLEURET, s. m. coarse silk thread; fleuret, floss silk, ribband.

FLEURET, s. m. (t. d'escrime), foil. Il manie bien le fleuret, he handles the foil well—he is a good fencer. Il lui porta un coup de fleuret, he touched him with the foil.

FLEURETIS, s. m. (t. de musiq.), vocal accompaniment composed at sight.

FLEURETTE, s. f. flowret. Conter fleurette (phrase imitée du Latin "Roman loqui," et de l'Italien "parla sfiori"), to speak sweet things, to tell tales of love. Il conte fleurettes à toutes les femmes, he makes love to every woman.

FLEUREUR, s. m. pick-plate; a spunger; one who hunts for his dinner.

FLEURIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to flower. Cette plante fleurit au mois d'août, this plant blows—flowers—blooms—in August. Cet arbre a fleuri cette année, that plant (plant) has not had ers this year. Voyez ce beau tissu fleuri, only see floriid—rich—complexion. Son style est trop fleuri, style is too flowery—too florid.

FLEURIR, v. n. 2de conj. irrég. au part. présent et à parfait (qui font florissant, je florissais, mais cone comme Punir dans les autres temps), to flourish.
arts florissaient alors, the arts were flourishing then.
empire florissant s'écroula en quelques mois, a few ths and his flourishing empire fell.
FLEURISME, s. m. taste for flowers; (fig.), floweriof a speech, of language.
FLEURISTE, s. m. f. florist. Je ne suis pas fleuriste, n no florist. I do not understand flowers. C'est le ier fleuriste de Londres, he is the first horticulturist nurserymen—in London.
FLEURON, s. m. (t. de bot.), floweret; floscule. (T. chit.), ornament. (Fig.) Il a perdu le plus beau on de sa couronne, he lost the finest gem of his coronet n of his greatest privileges. Le roi vit tomber un à tous les fleurons de sa couronne, the king saw all the leges—all the dignities—of his crown fall one by one.
d'imprimerie), vignette, ornament.
FLEUVE, s. m. great river. Les principaux fleuves rope sont le Rhin, le Rhône, le Var, le Humber, le
, la Tamise, le Danube, l' Escaut, le Don, le Nieper,
, le Tibre, l' Arno, le Tage, &c., the principal rivers urope called "fleuves" are the Rhine, &c. (Fig.)
endre le fleuve de la vie, to drop down the stream of FLEXIBILITÉ, s. f. flexibility.

FLEXIBLE, adj. flexible.
FLEXION, s. f. flexion.
FLEXUEUX, EUSE, adj. flexuous.
FLEXUOSITÉ, s. f. flexuousness.
FLIBOT, s. m. (mot corrompu de l' Anglais fly-boat), boat.
FLIBUSTE, s. f. piracy (voyez Flibustier). Faire buste, to plunder at sea; to go as a pirate.
FLIBUSTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to go out at sea to
ter. Voyez Flibustier.
FLIBUSTIER, s. m. (mot composé de l' Anglais freer), pirates, first known under the name of buccaneers, merica, and who plundered the Spaniards on the seas.
FLIC-FLAC (imitation du bruit du fouet), crack,
k.
FLINT-GLASS, s. m. (mot Anglais), crystal.
FLOCON, s. m. Flocon de laine, flock of wool. Flocon ge, flake of snow. (En général), tuft.
FLOCONNEUX, EUSE, adj. tufty; flaky.
FLON-FLON, s. m. the merry sound of the violin, of g.
FLONDRE, s. f. flounder (sort of flat fish).
FLORAISON, s. f. Voyez Fleuraison.
FLORAL, E, adj. floral. Voyez Jeux Floraux.
FLORE, s. f. Flora; (catalogue of flowers produced in untry).
FLORÉAL, s. m. the eighth month of the republican
r. See Calendrier Républicain.
FLORENCE, s. m. sort of light taffeta.
FLORENCÉ, E, adj. (t. de blason), terminated in a e-lis.
FLORES (mot Latin, pron. florèce). Faire flores, to , to live merrily. Also, to gain repute; to make lf conspicuous.
FLORIN, s. m. (monnaie d' Italie et d' Allemagne),

FLORISSANT, adj. part. prés. Voyez Fleurir.
FLOSCULEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de bot.), flosculous.
FLOT, s. m. wave. Le vent soulève les flots, the wind the waves. Périr dans les flots, to perish in the La Seine baigne ce village de ses flots, the Seine the village with its waves. Le bateau est à flot, floats. Mettre du bois à flot, to drop timber
eam. Jeter du bois à flot perdu, to let timber an stream. Le flot vient—il y a flot, the tide is in. Flot et jusant, ebb and tide. Le flot remonte dans cette rivière, the tide comes up very high in r.

(Fig.) Des flots de sang ont baigné la terre, streams of blood have deluged the land. Le vin coulait à longs flots, wine flowed in large streams—abundance. Que de flots de larmes elle a versé! what a deluge—what streams—of tears she shed! On ne pouvait contenir les flots de la multitude, they could not check the masses of the multitude. Il regardait avec admiration les flots de sa belle chevelure, qui se jouait dans les vents, struck with admiration, he gazed upon her waving hair playing—flowing—with the wind.

FLOTTABLE, adj. floatable (is said of a stream able to carry timber).
FLOTTAGE, s. m. floating (of timber down stream).
FLOTTAISON, s. f. (t. de marine). La ligne de flottaison, water line.
FLOTTE, s. f. fleet. (T. de pêche), float.
FLOTTEMENT, s. m. floating; (fig.), hesitation.
FLOTTER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Flotter du bois, faire flotter du bois, to float timber down stream. Du bois flotté, timber brought down by stream.

Les débris du vaisseau flottaient sur les ondes, the wreck of the ship floated on the waves. On a vu des îles flottantes, people have seen floating islands. Un panache flottait sur son casque, a plume waved on his helmet. Son voile flottait au gré des vents, her veil waved with the winds. L'étendard de la rébellion flottait dans la plaine, the standard of rebellion waved over the plain. Elle portait une longue robe flottante, she wore a loose flowing robe. Sa main, sur les chevaux, laissait flotter les rênes, his hand let the reins hang loose on the back of his horses.

J'étais là, flottant entre le bien et le mal, I was there wavering—fluctuating—uncertain—between good and evil. C'est un esprit flottant, it is a wavering mind. On flottait entre eux, the people fluctuated—balanced—between them. Elle flotte, elle hésite, she wavers and hesitates.

FLOTTEUR, s. m. a waterman (who floats timber down a river).
FLOTTILLE, s. f. flotilla; a squadron of small vessels.
FLOU, adv. (t. de peinture), lightly; softly; fluidly. Adj. light; soft; fluid.
FLUCTUATION, s. f. fluctuation.
FLUCTUEUX, EUSE, adj. agitated; hesitating.
FLUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to flow; (t. de médec.), to flow; to run.
FLUET, TE, adj. weakly; spare; light.
FLUEURS, s. f. (t. de médec.). Fluxeurs blanches, green sickness.
FLUIDE, s. m. fluid.
FLUIDE, adj. fluid; fluent.
FLUIDITÉ, s. f. fluidity; fluidness.
FLUOR, adj. (t. de minéralogie). Spar fluor, fluor spar.
FLÛTE, s. f. flute. Jouer de la flûte (traversière), to play on the (German) flute. Flûte à bec, flageolet. Jeu de flûtes (d'orgues), flute-stop. Il est première flûte à l'opéra, he plays first flute—he is the first flute-player—at the opera. Flûte à l'oignon: voyez Mirliton. (Fig.) Ajustez—accordez—vos flûtes, tune your flutes, i. e. agree among yourselves. Ils ne savaient accorder leurs flûtes, they cannot agree—come to an agreement. Il est du bois dont on fait les flûtes, he is an easy man—he does every thing he is asked. Ce qui vient de la flûte s'en retourne au tambour, what comes by sound of the flute goes away by beat of drum—what is dishonestly acquired is as easily dissipated. Il ira au Paradis en soie, car il est monté sur deux flûtes, he will enter Paradise merrily, for he stands upon two flutes (spindle-shanks).

(T. de boulanger), a long and thin roll. (T. de marine), a store-ship. Equiper un vaisseau en flûte, to arm a man-of-war en flûte.

FLÛTEAU, s. m. common flute or pipe; a child's whistle. (T. de bot.), water plantain.
FLÛTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to play on the flute. Des sons flûtés, soft sounds (like those of the flute). Elle a une petite voix flûtée, she has a soft voice. (Fam.), to tipple.
FLÛTEUR, s. m. } flute-player; piper.
FLÛTEUSE, s. f. }

FLÛTISTE, s. m. flute-player; flutist.
FLUVIAL, E, adj. fluvial, fluviatic.
FLUVIATILE, adj. fluviatile.
FLUX, s. m. Le flux remonte jusqu'à Caen, the tide, the flood comes up to Caen. Le flux et le reflux ont lieu toutes les 24 heures, the ebb and tide come once in 24 hours 49 m. (Fig.) La fortune a son flux et son reflux, fortune has its ebb and flow.
(T. de médec.) Avoir un flux de ventre, to have a looseness, a diarrhœa. Un flux de sang, a bloody flux. Un flux de bile, a bilious flux, &c.
(Fig.) Quel flux de paroles! what a flood of words! Tâchez donc d'arrêter ce flux de bourse, do try to stop that extravagance—that run of his money. Un flux de larmes, a flood of tears. (T. de jeu de cartes.) Avoir un flux de cœur, to have a flush in hearts. (T. de chimie), flux.
FLUXION, s. f. (t. de médec.). Il est sujet aux fluxions, he is subject to colds—to swellings in the face. Elle a une fluxion sur les yeux, she has a cold in her eyes. Il est mort d'une fluxion de poitrine, he died of an inflammation on his lungs. Fluxion catarrhale, catarrhal defluxion—inflammation.
(T. de mathém.), fluxion.
FLUXIONNAIRE, adj. (t. de médec.), subject to colds, to defluxions.
FOC, s. m. (t. de marine), jib (sail).
FOARRE, s. m. (vieux mot), straw. Faire à Dieu barbe de foarre, not to pay tithe—to pay tithes in objects of little value.
FŒTUS, s. m. (t. d'anat., pron. fé-tuce), fœtus; embryo.
FOI, s. f. faith. Telle est la foi Chrétienne, such is the Christian faith—religion. C'est un homme sans foi, he is without faith—without religion. Il vacille dans sa foi, he wavers in his faith. Il a changé de foi, he has changed his religion. C'est un homme qui n'a ni foi ni loi, he obeys neither the law nor the gospel. Il a fait sa profession de foi, he has declared his faith—(Fig.) Voilà ma profession de foi, such are my sentiments. Il a fait sa profession de foi politique, he has made a declaration of his political sentiments.
Ma foi, oui, yes, indeed. Ma foi, non, no, indeed. Ma foi, je ne sais, really, I do not know. Par ma foi, je n'irai pas, upon my word, I shall not go. Foi d'honnête homme, on the faith of an honest man.
Etes-vous de bonne foi? are you in earnest? Je le croyais de bonne foi, I believed him a sincere—a true—man. Il l'a fait de bonne foi, he did it truly—sincerely. C'est un homme sans foi, he is not a sincere man. Il est de peu de foi, he is not much to be trusted. Il y a de la mauvaise foi dans cela, there is a want of truth—of honesty in that. Vous y mettez de la mauvaise foi, you do not act sincerely. En bonne foi, le croyez-vous? really—candidly—truly—do you believe it?
Il a violé la foi conjugale, he has broken his marriage vow—the conjugal faith. Vous lui avez manqué de foi, you have broken your faith to him. Je n'ai jamais manqué de foi à personne, I never broke my faith to any body. Manquer à la foi jurée, to break one's faith—promise—pledge. Il est prisonnier sur la bonne foi, he is prisoner on parole. Ils ont agi sur la foi des traités, they acted on the faith of treaties.
Je n'ai aucune foi à cela, I have no faith—no confidence—in that. J'ajoutai foi à ses paroles, I gave credit to his words. Il est digne de foi, he is a credible man—he is worthy of belief.
Faire foi de, to prove, to testify. Ses ouvrages en font foi, his works testify it—prove it. Je vous tiens à foi et hommage, I hold you bound to faith (allegiance) and homage. En foi de quoi, in proof of which—.
FOIBLE. Voyez Faible, et suivants.
FOIE, s. m. liver. Il avait le foie trop grand, his liver was too large. Manger du foie de bœuf, to eat ox liver. (T. de médec.) Avoir des chaleurs de foie, to have red spots in the face. (Fig.) C'est une petite chaleur de foie, it is a little heat of passion. (T. de chimie), hepar.

FOIN, s. m. hay. Une botte de foin, a truss of hay. Je n'ai pas encore fait mes foins. I have not cut my hay yet. Voilà une belle pièce de foin, here is a fine hay-field. Un grenier à foin, a hay-loft. Une meule à foin, a hay-rick. (Fig.) Il a mis du foin dans ses bottes, he has feathered his nest—he has taken care of himself. C'est chercher une aiguille dans une botte de foin, it is looking for a needle in a bottle of hay, i. e. it is looking for what cannot be found.
FOIN D'ARTICHAUT, s. m. choke.
FOIN, interj. fie! Foin de lui, fie upon him.
FOIRE, s. f. fair. On ouvre la foire demain, the fair is to be opened to-morrow. Foire franche, toll-fair. (Voyez Franc, adj.) La foire fermera bientôt, the fair will soon be closed. Que me donnerez-vous pour votre foire? what will you give me for a fairing? Donnez-lui sa foire, give him a fairing. Ces gens-là s'entendent comme larrons en foire, they understand one another as pickpockets do. Il se fait pas toutes les foires en Champagne, there are a few things which he (or it) know yet. Il a bien couru les foires, he is an old stager. Ne nous pressez pas tant, la foire n'est pas encore ouverte, do not be in such a hurry, there is no occasion for such fair—merchants—are not going yet.
FOIRE, s. f. (t. de médec.). Voyez Dévoiement.
FOIRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to discharge the testines (in an attack of looseness).
FOIREUX, EUSE, adj. one attacked with loose. Avoir la mine foireuse, to look pale, ill.
FOIS, s. f. Une fois par an, once a year. Je vous dis encore une fois, I tell it you once more. Une autre fois, ne le faites pas, another time, another day do not do it. Une fois parti, je n'y pense plus, once gone, I think no more about it. Il y avait une fois un roi et une reine, once upon a time, there was a king and a queen. C'est la première, la seconde fois, it is the first, second time. Deux fois, twice. Il l'a fait en deux fois, he did it in twice. Trois fois, thrice. En trois fois, in three times. Combien de fois? how many times? Je ne l'ai vu que cette fois là, I saw him that time only. Trois fois trois font neuf, three time three make nine.
Il n'en a pas fait à deux fois, he did it without without hesitating—without minding matters. De fois à autre, now and then. D'autres fois, at other times. A la fois, at once. Toutes fois et quantes fois que, every time that. Encore une fois, once more. Une fois pour toutes, once for all.
FOISON, s. f. abundance. A foison, to abundantly.
FOISONNEMENT, s. m. (t. de chaufournier), swelling out of lime when in the process of slaking.
FOISONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to be abundant, to abound. Charité foisonne, dearness causes plenty; to multiply; to produce.
FOL, LE. Voyez Fou.
FOLÂTRE, adj. playful; frolicsome.
FOLÂTRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to play; to romp; to frolic.
FOLÂTRERIE, s. f. gambols; frolics; games.
FOLIACÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), foliaceous.
FOLICHON, ONNE, adj. wanton; playful.
FOLIE, s. f. (démence), insanity; madness. Il tient de la folie, there is madness in him. Il y a de la folie dans cette femme-là, there is a touch of madness in that woman. Il aime sa femme à la folie, he is fond of his wife to madness—he is excessively fond of his wife. Dans un accès de folie, in a fit of madness.
J'aime à voir cette aimable folie, I like to see that charming mirth. Les enfants de la folie, the children of mirth and joy. Quelle folie les animait! what a joyful spirit animated them! Ils ont fait bien des folies, they have played many pranks—done many odd things. A la campagne, nous nous livrons à toutes sortes de folies, when in the country, we do all sorts of mad things—we have all sorts of sports. Il nous a dit mille folies, he told us a thousand foolish things, he spoke much nonsense to us. Il ne dit, il ne fait que des folies, he says, he does nothing but foolish things.

Il n'a jamais fait de folies, he has always behaved ll—he never committed any thing wrong. Il aura de peine à réparer ses folies de jeunesse, he will find it a d matter to make up for the follies of his youth.
Il a fait la folie de vendre sa maison, he did the foolish of selling his house. Il a eu—fait—la folie d'aller les rcher à Paris, he was mad enough to go to Paris after
m. Qui fait la folie doit la boire, as you brew you st drink—l. e. he who commits a fault must bear with consequences. Elles ont la folie de vouloir se marier, are mad to get married. Comment! elle a eu cette e! what, was she mad enough for that? Il y a de la e à—c'est folie que de—y penser, it is madness in you ink of it. Ce serait folie que d'attendre, it would madness to wait.
Chacun a sa folie dans ce monde, every one has his ie—his whims—his hobby—in this world. Les eaux sont sa folie, pictures are his hobby.
Faire folie de son corps, to prostitute one's self.
Avez-vous vu la folie Beanjon, have you seen Beanjon's lie (is said of an odd building, erected at an extravagant ense).
OLIÉ, E, adj. (t. de science), foliated.
OLIO, s. m. front page. Les folios sont incommodes, s in folio, folios are an inconvenient size. Voyez au
de la page, look at the number of the page.
OLIOLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), foliole; leaflet. Le e est composé de cinq folioles, the calyx is formed of sides.
OLLEMENT, adv. foolishly; madly.
OLLET, TE, adj. waggish; playful. C'est un n follet, he is full of tricks; he is waggish. Le poil commence à lui venir, a light down begins to mantle cheeks. Ces petits oiseaux n'avaient encore que du follet, these little birds were covered with down only.
Esprit follet, a sprite; an elf. Feu follet, ignis fatuus, o' Lantern, will o' the wisp. Cette passion cessera ôt, ce n'est qu'un feu follet, that passion will soon
, it is a mere blaze.
OLLICULAIRE, s. m. pamphleteer; a scribbler.
OLLICULE, s. m. (t. de bot.), follicle.
OMENTATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), fomentation.
OMENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to t; (fig.), to foment; to excite.
ONCE, E, adj. deep. Vert foncé, deep green. J'aime uleurs foncées, I am fond of deep colours.
ONCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cash up; to supply
nds. C'est un homme foncé, he is a moneyed man.
t de tonnelier.) Foncer un tonneau, to bottom a (Fig.) C'est un homme foncé dans ces matières, well grounded—he is thoroughly versed—in these rs.
NCIER, ÈRE, adj. Propriétaire foncier, landed
ier. Le seigneur foncier, the lord of the manor.
re foncière, charges on the estate. Impôt foncier— butions foncières, land taxes. Vous n'avez pas de ses richesses foncières, you have no conception riches in land—landed property.
NCIER, adj. thoroughly acquainted with a thing;
versed in it.
NCIÈREMENT, adv. thoroughly; at the bottom;
main.
NCTION, s. f. function. Il fait les fonctions de
, he performs the functions—the duties of mayor.
N'interrompez pas dans l'exercice de ses fonctions.
interrupt him in the exercise of his duties. Il ne fait que, mais il en fait les fonctions, he is not a but he fulfils the office of one. Il entre en fonction ain, he will enter into office to-morrow. Quelles sont nctions? what are your duties? Il fait fonction retaire auprès de lui, he acts as a secretary with (T. d'économie animale.) Les sens ont chacun ses ns, the senses have each its functions. L'estomac ne fait plus—ne fait plus—ses fonctions régulières, the h no longer performs its regular functions. A quatre-vingts ans il fait encore bien toutes ses fonctions, e is still in the enjoyment of all his faculties—he inks and sleeps well.

Cela fait fonction de porte, that acts as a door—does for a door. (T. d'art.) Les fonctions d'une machine the work of a piece of machinery.

FONCTIONNAIRE, s. m. functionary.

FONCTIONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (T. d'art.)
Cette machine fonctionne bien, this engine works well.
Je ne puis la faire fonctionner, I cannot set it going.

FOND, s. m. bottom. Le fond d'un puits, the bottom of a well. Le fond du sac, the bottom of the sack. Sa maison est dans le fond de la vallée, his house is situated at the bottom of the valley. Au fond du bois, in the heart of the wood. Vous le trouverez tout au fond de la cour, you will find him quite at the bottom—at the very end—of the court. Il vit retiré au fond de son palais, he lives retired in the interior of his palace. Elle mourut au fond d'un cloître, she died in the retreat of a cloister.
Le fond d'un pâté, the bottom crust of a pie. Boîte à deux fonds, a box with a double bottom. Gardez cela au fond de votre cœur, keep that in your heart—in your inmost heart. Je vous le dis du fond de mon cœur, I tell it you from my inmost heart—from my heart. Qui pourrait pénétrer au fond de son cœur? who could fathom his heart? Un fond de lit, the lathing, sacking of a bed.
Carrosse à deux fonds, double seat carriage. Mettez cela au fond de la voiture, put that inside—in the body of—the carriage. Le fond d'un pantalon, the breech of a pair of pantaloons. Le fond d'un théâtre, the back scene of a stage. Toile de fond, back scenery. Voilà le fond de l'affaire, that is the ground—the main point—of the business. C'est une affaire qui n'a ni fond ni rive, it is an unfathomable—impenetrable—affair. Faire fond sur une personne, to rely upon a person. Voyez le fond de ce tableau, look at the back ground of that picture. Cela est peint sur un fond bleu, it is painted upon a blue ground. A fond, thoroughly. Au fond, after all. Dans le fond, in the main. De fond en comble. Voyez Comble.

(T. de mer.) C'est une mer sans fond, it is a bottomless sea. Il y a cent brasses de fond, it is 100 fathoms deep. Nous n'avons pas pu toucher le fond, we could not reach the bottom. Des bas fonds, shallows—shoal water.
Le fond est bon, the ground is good. Nous mouillâmes sur un fond rocailleux, we anchored on a shelly bottom.
Aller au fin fond de la mer, to go to the very bottom of the sea. Couler un vaisseau à fond, to sink a ship.
(Fig.) Nous l'avons coulé à fond, we ruined him—we sunk him. Couler à fond une affaire, to accomplish an affair—to finish it. On les a mis à fond de cale, they were put in the ship's hold. Au fond de la cale, at the bottom of the hold.

(T. de rivière.) Je touche le fond, I touch the bottom
—I am in my depth. Je perds le fond, I do not touch ground—I am out of depth. On voit au fond de l'eau, you may see the bottom of the water. Il n'y a pas de fond ici, it is very deep here.

FONDAMENTAL, E, adj. fundamental.

FONDAMENTALEMENT, adv. fundamentally.

FONDANT, E, adj. melting; (t. de médec.), dissolvent;
(t. d'art), flux.

FONDATEUR, s. m. founder. Louis XIII. est le fondateur de l'Académie Française, Louis XIII. was the founder of the French Academy.

FONDATRICE, s. f. foundress.

FONDATION, s. f. Commencer la fondation d'un bâtiment, to begin the foundation of an edifice. Creuser la fondation, to excavate—to dig for—the foundation.
Ce prince fit plusieurs fondations pieuses, that prince established several religious foundations.

FONDEMENT, s. m. foundation. Faire asseoir les fondements, to lay the foundation. La montagne fut ébranlée jusque dans ses fondements, the mountain was shaken even to its very basis. Romulus jeta les fondements de l'Empire Romain, Romulus laid the foundation—the basis—of the Roman Empire.

(Fig.) Détruire la justice, c'est saper les fondements de l'état, to destroy justice is to undermine the foundation of the state. Il attaque les fondements de la philosophie d'Aristote, he attacks the very basis—the fundamental principles—of the philosophy of Aristotle. Il n'y a point de fondement à faire sur son amitié, there is no dependence nor reliance—to be placed on his friendship.

Ce bruit est sans fondement, that report is without ground—is groundless. Il se plaint avec fondement, he complains with cause—he has ground for complaint.

FONDEMENT, s. m. (t. d'anat.), fundament.

FONDER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to found. Fonder une maison sur le roc, to build a house upon a rock. Il a fondé une Académie, he founded an Academy. Fonder une église, to found a church. Le Prince Albert a fondé un prix de langue Française à Eton (en Angleterre), Prince Albert founded a prize at Eton for the French language. Fonder la cuisine, to provide for food.

Sur quoi fondez-vous cette demande? what do you rest—found—that request upon? Je me fonde sur ce qu'il a dit, I rest on the ground of what he said. Toute mon espérance se fonde en vous, all my hope rests on you—is placed on you. L'amitié fondée—qui se fonde sur l'intérêt n'est pas solide, that friendship which rests—is grounded—is founded—upon interest is not secure. Vous n'êtes pas fondé à le croire, you have no ground—no reason to believe it. N'étais-je pas fondé à croire que vous vouliez nous quitter, had I not good reason to believe—was I not fully justified in believing that you would quit us? Vos craintes sont bien fondées, your fears are well founded.

FONDERIE, s. f. foundery.

FONDEUR, s. m. founder.

FONDRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 3me conj., to melt. Le soleil a fondu la neige, the sun has melted the snow. Fondre du plomb, to melt lead.

Fondre une statue, une cloche, des caractères d'imprimerie, to cast a statue, a bell, printing types, &c. (Fig.) Il est temps de fondre la cloche, it is time to come to action—to accomplish what has been decided upon. La glace se fond au soleil, the ice melts in the sun. Le ciel se fond en eau, the heavens are melting into water—it is pouring. Faites fondre le sucre, let the sugar melt. Cet homme fond à vue d'œil, that man loses flesh visibly—is getting very thin. A la vue de son fils, elle fondit en larmes, at the sight of her son, she melted into tears. Je fonds en eau, I am melting—I am in a great heat.

(T. de médec.) Fondre les humeurs, to dissolve humours. Fondre une obstruction, to remove an obstruction.

Fondre un ouvrage avec un autre, to throw together—to mix—one work with another. Fondre les couleurs les unes avec les autres, to blend colours together. Ces deux couleurs se fondent bien ensemble, these two colours blend well—match well together.

Tout à coup il s'est fondu, all at once, he melted away—he vanished—he disappeared. Vous le retrouverez, il ne saurait être fondu, it cannot be melted, you will find it again. Tout ce qu'il tient, fond entre ses mains, every thing he has melts in his hands—disappears—is lost.

La terre fondit sous ses pieds, the earth opened under his feet. La ville entière fondit, the whole town disappeared—sank. Le plancher fondit sous nos pieds, the floor sank under our feet.

On ne sait où l'orage est allé fondre, we know not where the storm broke. D'où venaient ces maux qui fondirent sur nous, whence came those evils which fell upon us. Nous fondîmes sur l'ennemi, we fell upon—pounced upon—the enemy.

Cette maison est fondue dans celle de —, the possessions of that house have passed into that of —.

Jouer au cheval fondu, to play at leap-frog.

FONDRIÈRE, s. f. bog; slough.

FONDRILLES, s. f. dregs; grounds; lees.

FONDS, s. m. the ground, the soil. Vous avez bâti sur mon fonds, you have built upon my ground—my estate. C'est un mauvais fonds, it is bad land, bad soil. Le fonds est à moi, mais je n'en ai pas tout l'usufruit, the land is mine, but I do not enjoy the whole produce of it. Il est riche en biens fonds, he is rich in landed property—in houses. Il a vendu le fonds et le tréfonds, he has sold the estate and all its dependences.

Fonds, funds, money. Placer des fonds, to invest funds, money. Il a mangé le revenu et le fonds, he squandered interest and capital. Je suis en fonds, I am cash—I am in cash. J'ai les fonds nécessaires, I have the necessary funds. Placer des fonds à fonds perdu, to sink money on an annuity. Vendre en bon à fonds perdu, to sell—sink an estate for—on a life annuity. Fonds d'amortissement, sinking fund.

Fonds publics, public funds. Les fonds sont à la baisse, the funds are falling. Cette nouvelle a fait monter les fonds, these news caused a rise in the funds. Fonds constitués, constituted funds. Les fonds du Trésor, the Treasury. Bureau des fonds, (in railway parts), the account office.

Fonds de commerce, stock. Il va vendre son fonds, he is about to sell his stock. Il a un fonds bien monté, his stock is well supplied. Article de fonds, leading article (in a newspaper). Il y a un fonds d'épicerie à vendre, there is a grocer's stock to be sold. (Fig.) Cet homme a un grand fonds de savoir, that man has a great fund of knowledge. J'ai un grand fonds d'estime pour lui, I have a great fund of esteem for him. Il n'a pu y mettre cela de son propre fonds, he did not get that out of his own stock—out of his own fund. Il est toujours en fonds pour faire des folies, his imagination is ever ready to perpetrate, to play tricks. La chimie est un fonds bien riche que l'on n'épuisera jamais, chemistry is a rich ground—mine—which can never be exhausted.

FONDUE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), a dish made of eggs and cheese.

FONGER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. qui se conjugue sur la 3me personne du singulier. Ce papier fonge, that paper runs, blots.

FONGIBLE, adj. Choses fongibles (t. de jurisp.), articles of consumption (eatables, money, &c.; Choses non fongibles, articles which cannot be consumed (furniture, books, jewellery).

FONGOSITÉ, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), fungosity.

FONGUEUX, EUSE, adj. fungous.

FONGUS, s. m. (pron fon-ghuss), fungus.

FONTAINE, s. f. Elle était assise au bord d'une fontaine, she was sitting on the brink of a spring. La place était ornée d'une belle fontaine, the square was ornamented by a beautiful fountain. De l'eau de fontaine, spring water. Il ne faut pas dire, "Fontaine, je ne boirai jamais de ton eau," i. e. we must never say we shall never be in need of that—"I shall never want your services." Tournez la fontaine, turn the cock. Fontaine de cuisine, de salle, a small cistern (to wash one's hands). La fontaine de Jouvence, a fabulous spring of which the water restored youth.

(T. d'anat.) La fontaine de la tête, the palate. (T. de médec.) Elle avait une fontaine au bras, she had an issue in her arm.

FONTANELLE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), fons pulsatilis.

FONTAINIER, s. m. master of the water-works.

FONTICULE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), cautery.

FONTANGE, s. f. a knot of ribbon, worn on the head (by the Duchesse de Fontange, from whom it took its name, 1674).

FONTE, s. f. melting. La fonte des neiges, the melting of the snow. (Médec.) La fonte des humeurs, the dissolving of humours. Fonte de galons, melting of gold and silver lace. La fonte des couleurs, the blending of colours in a picture. La fonte d'une statue, the casting of a statue.

Fer de fonte, cast iron. Marmite de fonte, cast iron boiler. Canon de fonte, brass cannon. (T. d'imprimerie) Cette fonte n'est pas belle, this font is not good.

FONTE, s. f. (t. de sellier), holster.

FONTS, s. m. Les fonts, the font. Les fonts de baptême—baptismaux, baptismal font. Je me suis trouvé sur les fonts de baptême, I stood godfather to—I am your godfather—I was one of the sponsors at the christening.

FOR, s. m. (t. de jurisdiction ecclésiastique).

he was brought before the Dans le for de la cononscience.
ormerly), a duty on wine

Propriétaire forain, non d forain, itinerant dealer
(T. de marine.) Rade Traite foraine, a duty
on of goods.
robber. (Fig.) Forban

ayage), overplus of weight

This word, which is now ier," is made from "tra- to which the convicts are e un forçat, to work very
e.
'a pas de force, he has no t beaucoup de force, he great. Elle était d'une une femme, her physical man. Il est d'une force strong—powerful—.—his vous la force de porter.
ugh to carry this trunk?
ould not be strong enough force, he has lost all his mmence à retrouver ses
—to recover his strength.
forces, that will give you forces, he is gaining his force me manquèrent, me
, my strength failed me.
force, you do not use—
e voudrais pas mesurer
t measure strength with s forces, do not rely too cal powers. Quand il
parler, when he arrived,
l no power to speak. Il
Il compte trop sur la relies too much on the tion. Il a une grande head. Telle est la force er of imagination. La ture. Son style a de la
as power. Il raisonne
Ce raisonnement est sans werless. La force de la has neither physical nor

g. Je n'ai pas la force rage—the heart—to tell de supporter cette vue, I ough to—bear that sight.
e le lui dire, I had suffi-to say any thing to him.
ngth—power. Nous ne
e not equal in strength—not equal. Je ne suis
rong as you are—(fig.),
t your equal. C'est un e, he is a first-rate violin
'une grande force sur le yer on the piano. Elle ily a second-rate player.
aux échecs, I am about about of your rate—at forces. I resisted with all sa force, she ballooed
e, to use force—strength.
e were obliged to yield point de force humaine man power could compel in the vigour of life.
ur, the power, strength of the water threw down the wall. La force du vent est incroyable, the power of the wind is incredible. La force de la poudre à canon, the strength of gunpowder. La force du coup le renversa, the violence of the blow struck him down.

La force du gouvernement, the force—the strength—of government. Nos forces de terre et de mer, our land and sea forces, armies, troops. Il fallut céder à des forces majeures, we were obliged to give way to superior forces. Notre force commerciale est grande, our commercial power is great. Recourir à la force armée, to call in the soldiery.

Force m'est de partir, I am obliged—compelled to go. Force lui fut de payer, he was compelled to pay. Force nous a été d'y aller, we have been obliged to go.

A force de prier nous l'avons décidé, by dint of entreaties we determined him. Il a payé ses dettes à force de travailler, by dint of working, he paid his debts. A force de soins, by dint of care. A force de bras, by strength of arm. A force ouverte, openly, by open compulsion, force. A toutes forces, absolutely.

De force, forcibly, by force, against one's will. Ils entrèrent dans sa maison de vive force, they entered his house forcibly—by main force. Vous le ferez de gré ou de force, you shall do it willingly or by force—whether you will or no—nolens volens. S'il continue à geler de cette force, nous patinerons demain, if it goes on freezing in this way—to that degree—we shall skate to-morrow. Le cœur me bat avec force, my heart beats strongly.

Faire force de rames, to ply the oar. Faire force de voiles, to crowd sail.

Force (t. de science), force; power.

Maison de force, gilet de force, &c. Voyez Maison, Gilet, &c.

FORCE, adv. many. Nous avons force amis, we have many friends. Il y a force gens qui m'en prêteront, lots of—many—people will lend me some.

FORCE, LA, s. f. a prison in Paris (faubourg St. Antoine).

FORCÉMENT, adv. forcibly; necessarily.

FORCEMENT, s. m. (t. d'administ.). Forcement de recette, the right of compelling the tax-gatherers of government to make up the sums they have neglected to demand.

FORCENÉ, s. m. adj. one out of his senses; mad; FORCENÉE, s. f. adj. madman; madwoman.

FORCEPS, s. m. (instrument de chirurg., pron. forcèpse), forceps.

FORCER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Forcer une porte, to force a door—to break it open. Forcer un corps de garde, to force the guard. Il força tous les obstacles, he forced all the obstacles. Forcer la consigne, to break through the order. Forcer une serrure, to force a lock. Forcer une clef, to wrench a key. Je ne voulais pas le voir, il a forcé ma porte, I did not wish to see him, but he forced my door. Il savait forcer le respect, he knows how to command respect.

Je ne vous forcerai pas à faire—de faire—ce qui vous est désagréable, I will not compel you to do what is unpleasant to you. On le força de signer, they forced him —compelled him—constrained him—to sign. Je ne veux pas qu'on me force la main, I will not be forced—I do not like people to try to force me. Si vous forcez votre voix, vous la gâterez, if you strain your voice, you will spoil it. Forcez un peu la voix, raise your voice a little. Forcer un cheval, to over-ride, over-drive a horse—to over-work him —,—to work him beyond his strength. Ne vous forcez pas, do not strain yourself. Je me suis forcé pour y aller, I did myself a little violence in going there. Des pleurs forcés, forced tears. Travaux forcés, hard labour. C'est un rire forcé, it is a forced laugh.

(T. de marine.) Nous forçâmes de voiles, we carried a press of sail. Il faut que nous forcions de rames, we must pull away. Dans un coup de vent forcé, in stress of weather. Notre mât est forcé, our mast is strained—has sprung—is wrung.

FORCES, s. f. pl. shears.

FORCETTES, s. f. small shears.

FORCLORE, v. a. irrég., dont on n'emploie que l'infinitif et le part. forclos, (t. de jurisp.), to debar; to exclude, Il fut déclaré forclos, he was declared excluded.

FORCLUSION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), exclusion.

FORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bore.

FORESTIER, ÈRE, adj. Les lois forestières, the forest laws. Arbres forestiers, forest trees, timber trees. Garde forestier, forest guard—forester—ranger. Agents forestiers, officers of the Woods and Forests administration. Villes Forestières, (Lauffenbourg, Rheinfeldt, Waldshut, Beckingen, four German towns in the vicinity of the Black Forest).

FORÊT, s. m. forest. L'administration des Eaux et Forêts, the Board of Woods and Forests. (Fig.) Vous êtes là dans une forêt, you were there as in a wood—as in a out-of-the-way place.

FORET, s. m. (t. d'arts), gimlet. Mettre le foret dans un tonneau, to bore, to tap, a cask.

FORFAIRE, v. n. irrég., dont on n'emploie que l'infin. et le part. Si le juge vient à forfaire, if the judge should prevaricate. Elle a forfait à son honneur, she has forfeited her honour. v. a. Forfaire un fief, to forfeit an estate to the king.

FORFAIT, s. m. atrocious crime, misdeed. Il a reçu le prix de ses forfaits, he received the punishment of his crimes.

FORFAIT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), contract. Traiter à forfait pour des travaux, to engage by contract to do some labour. Vendre, acheter à forfait, to purchase, to sell goods by the gross.

FORFAITURE, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), prevarication. (T. de féodalité), forfeiture; confiscation.

FORFANTE, s. m. (mot Italien.), boaster.

FORFANTERIE, s. f. (mot Italien), boasting.

FORGE, s. f. forge. La forge d'un serrurier, the forge of a locksmith. La forge d'un maréchal ferrant, the shop—the forge—of a blacksmith. Mener un cheval à la forge, to take a horse to the farrier. (Fig.) Cet ouvrage est encore tout chaud de la forge, this work is just come out of the workshop.

FORGEABLE, adj. forgeable; that can be forged.

FORGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to forge. Forger a froid, to hammer cold metal. Forger à chaud, to forge in the usual way. (T. de manège.) Ce cheval forge, that horse cuts.

(Fig.) Forger un mensonge, to forge, to invent a story. C'est une histoire que vous avez forgée, it is a story which you have invented—forged. Elle se forge toujours des chimères, she is ever creating—imagining—all sorts of things. Il aime à forger des mots, he likes to coin words. C'est un mot forgé, it is an invented—a newly coined—word.

FORGERON, s. m. blacksmith. (Fig.) En forgeant on devient forgeron, practice makes perfect.

FORGEUR, s. m. forger; blacksmith; (fig.), inventor; coiner.

FORHUIR, v. n. (que l'on n'emploie qu'à l'infinitif) (t. de chasse), to call in dogs (with the horn).

FORJETER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'archit.), to project; to jut out.

FORLIGNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to swerve (from the right path). Elle a forligné, she has swerved from the right line—she has forfeited her honour.

FORLONGER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse), to get ahead, to leave the hounds behind. Le cerf s'était forlongé, the stag had got ahead.

FORMALISER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to take offence at—to be shocked at. Cet homme se formalise de tout, that man takes offence at every thing. De quoi vous formalisez-vous? what are you offended at—what are you shocked at?

FORMALISME, s. m. formalism.

FORMALISTE, adj. formalist. Il est trop formaliste, he is too much of a formalist—he thinks too much of forms.

FORMALITÉ, s. f. formality; form. (T. de légist., d'administ.) Ce sont des formalités qu'il faut remplir, they are forms—formalities—which must be observed—attended to. (Cérémonie.) Ces gens-là passent leur vie en formalités et en bienséances, those people spend their lives in observing the forms of etiquette and decorum.

FORMAT, s. m. size of a book. Le format en 12 est le plus commode pour la lecture, the duodecimo size is the most convenient for reading. Grand format, large size.

FORMATION, s. f. formation; forming. La formation de cet abcès embarrassait les médecins, the formation of that abscess puzzled the physicians. Il occupait à la formation d'un régiment, he was busy forming a regiment—the formation of a regiment occupied him.

FORME, s. f. form. La forme de ce poisson est singulière, the form—the conformation—of this fish is singular. Elle portait un chapeau d'une forme élégante, she wore a bonnet of an elegant shape—form. Cette dame a de formes élégantes, that lady is elegantly shaped—well-formed. Il avait les formes polies, his manners were polite. C'était en forme de ballon, it was in the shape—the form—of a balloon. Il lui apparut sous la forme d'un vieillard, he appeared to him under the appearance—figure—form of an old man. Sous la forme gazeuse, under a gaseous form.

(T. de métier, d'art.) Mettre un chapeau en forme, to put a hat on the block. Mettre un soulier sur la forme, to put a shoe on the last. La forme de ce chapeau est trop basse, the crown of that hat is too low. Vos souliers n'ont pas conservé leur forme, your shoes have lost their shape. Forme d'imprimeur, a printer's form. Forme de marine), dry dock. (T. de chasse.) Le lièvre a fait sa forme, the hare kept to his form.

J'ai vu la misère sous toutes ses formes, I saw poverty under all its appearances—shapes. Il employa les formes oratoires, he had recourse to rhetorical forms. La forme du compliment était heureuse, the form of his compliment was happy. Est-ce là la forme d'un billet à ordre? is this the form of—the way of drawing—a bill to order? Je lui ai dit deux mots par—en forme—d'avis, I said to him one or two words to him in the way—shape—of advice. Vous n'êtes pas dans les formes, you deviate from—you do not keep within the usual forms. Nous avons traité la chose dans les formes, we treated the thing according to form. Ce contrat est en bonne forme, this deed is regular—according to form. Vous n'êtes pas en forme—dans les formes, you are out of order—you are not in order. Je l'ai fait dans les formes, I did it formally—according to form. Ne manquez pas aux formes, do not neglect the forms—observe forms. Il faut respecter les formes de la société, we must respect the forms—the observances—customs of society. On nous l'a demandé seulement pour la forme, they requested it of us merely as a matter of form. Sans forme de procès, without any formality—ceremony. En la forme accoutumée, in the usual form. En bonne forme, according to rule.

FORMEL, LE, adj. formal; explicit.

FORMELLEMENT, adv. formally; explicitly.

FORMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to form; to create; to shape; to make. Dieu forma l'homme à son image, God created—made man in his own image. Il a projeté de former un pas, he could not make—form a step. C'est un homme bien formé, he is a well shaped—well formed man. Nous formâmes un cercle pour l'écouter, we formed a circle round him to listen to him. Elle forme de si agréables avec cet instrument, she produces agreeable—draws out of that instrument. Nous formâmes notre plan en Italie, we formed—made—acquaintance in Italy. C'est son vaste esprit qui forma cette vaste entreprise, it is his great mind formed—conceived—this great enterprise. Le soldat se forme à la fatigue, the soldier gets used to fatigue. La lecture forme l'esprit, reading forms the mind. Ce jeune homme s'est bien formé à Paris, the young man improved much—formed himself—at Paris. Les météores se forment dans l'air, meteors are formed in the air. Il se forma un parti violent contre lui, a violent party was formed against him. Sa taille commence à se former, her figure is forming. Je ne pouvais me former une idée, I could not form an idea of it. Il se forme des chimères, he imagines—he creates—wild fancies.

taillon se forma sur la place, the battalion formed in e square.
FORMICA LEO. Voyez Fourmi-lion.
FORMICANT, adj. (t. de médec.). Pouls formicant, micating pulse.
FORMIDABLE, adj. formidable.
FORMIER, s. m. (t. d'art.), last-maker. [in birds.
FORMUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to forward moulting
FORMULAIRE, s. m. formulary.
FORMULE, s. f. formula; form. (Fig.) Laissons certaines formules de politesse, let us set aside these forms more politeness. Je n'aime pas la formule qui termine lettre, I do not approve of the form in which his letter erminated.
FORMULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to word. Je ne sais comment formuler cet acte, I know not how to word act. (T. de mathém.), to draw a formula.
FORNICATEUR, s. m. fornicator.
FORNICATRICE, s. f. fornicatress.
FORNICATION, s. f. fornication.
FORNIQUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fornicate; to mit fornication.
FORPAÎTRE, v. n. irrég. (voyez Paître) (t. de vénerie), to go out of their haunts to feed.
FORS, prép. except; but; save. Tout est perdu fors l'honneur, all is lost except honour.
FORT, E, adj. Cet homme est extrêmement fort, that is extremely strong—powerful. Il nous faudrait un cheval plus fort, we should have a stronger horse—a ver horse. Il a la main forte—Il est fort de la main, as a strong—powerful hand. Il a la main trop forte, hand is too large. Elle a les membres trop forts pour femme, her limbs are too large for a woman. Il a épousé une femme forte et vigoureuse, he married a stout vigorous woman. Il est fort de reins, he is strong in back. Il a la voix forte, he has a loud voice. Un coup de tonnerre me réveilla, a loud clap of thunder le me. Il n'a pas la tête forte, his head is not g. C'est un esprit fort, he is a strong-minded man. J'aime pas les esprits forts, I do not like free thinkers. Je suis plus fort que vous, I am stronger than you. Je plus fort que lui aux échecs, I play chess better than es. Vous êtes trop fort pour moi, you are too strong me—I am no match for you. Elle est très-forte sur piano, she is a good player on the piano. Elle n'est très-forte, she does not play very well. Elle est forte les langues, she is a good linguist. Je ne suis pas sur l'Anglais, I am not very well acquainted with lish—I am not a very good English scholar. De s murailles entouraient la ville, strong walls surrded the town. Cette planche n'est pas assez forte. board is not strong—thick—enough. Donnez-nous que chose de plus fort, give us something stronger—et. Un ruban plus fort, stouter ribbon. Ce n'est une ville forte, it is not a strong—a fortified—city. Nous nous enfermâmes dans une place forte, we shut ourse up in a fort—in a strong hold. Nous laissâmes un détachement à la porte, we left a strong—a large—chment at the gate. Nous fîmes une forte résistance, ade a stout resistance. Nous étions forts d'infan- we were strong in infantry. La côte est-elle forte ater? is it hard work to get up the hill—is the hill simb? Vous lui donnez là une tâche trop forte, give him too hard a task. Mon cheval a la bouche my horse is hard mouthed. Il faisait une forte ce à Paris, he spent heavily—his expenses were —at Paris. Vous me demandez une trop forte somme, k me too large—too heavy a sum. Notre ordinaire pas trop fort, our usual meals are not very copious. ez-nous un plat un peu fort, give us a dish rather . Les vins sont forts, the wines are strong. Le fait-il assez fort? is the coffee strong enough? Ce est trop fort, this tobacco is too strong—too potent. us donnez du beurre fort, they gave us strong—rank ter. Il a l'haleine forte, his breath is strong—is sant—stinks. Elle vient de faire une forte maladie, e just had a severe illness. Cela me fit une forte ession, that produced a strong impression on me. Il avait une forte inclination pour elle, he had a strong—a violent—inclination for her. L'expression est trop forte, the expression is too strong. Cela me paraît un peu fort, that appears to me rather strong. Cela est plus fort que moi, I cannot help it—resist it. A plus forte raison, and much more. La jeunesse est forte à passer, youth is a difficult age to pass. (Fam.) Être fort en gueule, to have plenty of gabble.

Je me fais fort de l'amener ici, I engage—I pledge myself—to bring him here. Elle se fait forte qu'il viendra, she pledges herself that he will come. Ces gens-là se font forts de leur crédit, these people trust to—have great confidence in—their credit. Prêter au denier fort, to lend at high interest.

Il fait un temps fort, the weather is bad; is heavy. Il a fait une pluie forte toute la nuit, there has been a heavy rain the whole night.

FORT, s. m. (on employé comme substantif). La critique est son fort, criticism is his strong point. Le raisonnement n'est pas votre fort, reasoning is not your fort. Protéger le faible contre le fort, to protect the weak against the strong. Le plus fort est fait, the most difficult —the hardest—the largest part—is done. Le fort de la boule, the bias of a bowl. Mettez cette poutre sur son fort, place this beam on its strongest side. Nous étions dans le fort du bois, we were in the thickest part of the wood. Le fort de l'hiver, the heart—depth—of winter. Au fort de la tempête, at the height of the tempest. Dans le fort de la passion, in the height of passion. Dans le fort de sa douleur, il s'écriait—, while in the height—depth—of his grief, he cried. Le fort de l'épée, the strong part of the blade. Du fort au faible, taking them all together, large and small. Savoir le fort et le fin d'une affaire, to know all the bearings—all the points—of an affair. Connaître le fort et le fin d'un art, to know all the parts of an art.

Les forts de la halle, (this name is given almost absolutely to the porters of the corn-market in Paris).

(T. militaire), fort. L'ennemi attaqua le fort dans la nuit, the enemy attacked the fort in the night.

FORT, adv. Il pleut fort, it rains hard. Il vente fort, the wind blows hard. Cela est fort facile, that is very easy. Elle lui plaît fort, she pleases him much. J'en suis fort surpris, I am much surprised at it. J'ai cette observation fort à cœur, I have taken that observation much to heart. Vous prenez les choses trop à cœur, you take things too much to heart. Fort bien, fort mal, very well, very ill. Si fort, so much, so hard, so loud. Ne criez pas si fort, do not speak so loud. Frappez plus fort, knock louder. Je l'ai vu, mais de fort loin, I saw him, but from a great distance.

FORTE, adj. (t. de musique, emprunté de l'Italien, pron. forté), forte; (hard, loud). [getically.

FORTEMENT, adv. strongly; firmly. (Fig.), ener-

FORTE-PIANO, s. m. (mot emprunté de l'Italien, pron. forté-piano). Jouer du forte-piano, to play on the piano-forte.

FORTERESSE, s. f. fortress.

FORTIFIANT, s. m. (t. de médec.). Prendre des fortifiants, to take nourishing—strengthening—things.

FORTIFIANT, E, adj. strengthening.

FORTIFICATION, s. f. fortification. Nos fortifications sont fortes, our fortifications are strong. Il entend bien la fortification, he understands fortification—the art of fortifying—well. On travaille à la fortification de cette place, they are fortifying—they are raising fortifications to—that place.

FORTIFIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to fortify; to strengthen. Cet enfant se fortifie tous les jours, that child is daily gaining strength. (T. milit.) On a fortifié la place, the place was fortified. Nous nous fortifiâmes contre leurs attaques, we fortified ourselves against their [attacks.

FORTIN, s. m. small fort.

FORTIORI, A (loc. Lat.), still more; much more.

FORTITRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de vénerie). Le cerf a fortitré deux fois, the stag avoided the dogs twice.

FORTRAIT, E, adj. (t. de manège), over-worked; over-ridden.

FORTRAITURE, s. f. (t. de manège), over-fatigue.
FORTUIT, E, adj. fortuitous; casual.
FORTUITEMENT, adv. fortuitously; casually.
FORTUNE, s. f. fortune; chance; fate. Je n'ai pas à me plaindre de la fortune, I have no complaint to make of fortune. La fortune lui a été bien favorable, fortune was favourable to him. Lui et moi, nous courons la même fortune, he and I we run the same chance—,—we pursue the same career—we are in the same case. Il court fortune d'être riche un jour, he runs a chance of being rich one day. (Fam.) Voulez-vous courir la fortune du pot? will you take pot luck with us? J'eus la bonne fortune de le rencontrer, I had the good fortune to meet him. J'avais vingt ans quand cette bonne fortune m'arriva, I was twenty years old when that good luck happened to me. C'est un homme à bonnes fortunes, he is in favour with the ladies—he has great success with the ladies. Il est allé tenter—chercher—fortune aux Indes, he went to India in search of fortune. Vous êtes en fortune aujourd'hui, you are fortunate—you are in luck—to-day. Allons, allons, il faut faire contre fortune bon cœur, come, we must bear up against—we must oppose a stout heart against—bad fortune. Vous le savez, la fortune est aveugle, you know it, fortune is blind. Profitons de ce retour de fortune, let us avail ourselves of this good turn of fortune. Il vient d'éprouver un revers de fortune, he has experienced lately a reverse of fortune. Il faut brusquer la fortune, we must try to force fortune (by some energetic act, effort). Il a attaché un clou à la roue de la fortune, he drove a nail in the wheel of fortune, i. e. he fixed fortune while favourable to him. Il est l'artisan de sa propre fortune, he is the maker—builder of his own fortune. Il parvint à une haute fortune, he arrived at—reached—a high position. Ses ennemis tâchent de traverser sa fortune, his enemies try to oppose—to thrust spokes in the wheel of—his good fortune. C'est un homme—un fils—de fortune, he is a new man—an enriched man. Nous avions plusieurs officiers de fortune, we had several officers risen from the ranks.

Biens de la fortune, wealth, riches. Elle est sans fortune, she has no fortune. Ces gens-là ont une grande fortune, those people are rich—have a large fortune. Il ne laissa pas de fortune à ses demoiselles, he left no fortune to his daughters. Elle doit sa fortune à une tante, she owes her fortune to an aunt. Il court après la fortune, he is a fortune-hunter—he runs after money. Il a fait fortune aux Indes, he made a fortune—he enriched himself—in India. Il fera bientôt fortune, he will soon get rich.

(T. de marine.) Mât de fortune, a jury mast. Affronter la fortune de la mer, to run the dangers of the sea. Voile de fortune, lug sail.

De fortune (loc. adv.), by chance; by hazard.
FORTUNÉ, E, adj. fortunate; happy. O terre fortunée! O happy land!
FORT-VÊTU, s. m. (vieux mot). It was used in speaking of a man who dressed finely and above his station.
FORUM, s. m. (t. d'Hist., pron. for-rôme), the forum.
FORURE, s. f. (t. de métier), bore. La forure d'une clef, the bore of a key.
FOSSE, s. f. Il y avait une grande fosse où on jetait les ordures, there was a large hole—pit—in which rubbish was thrown. Elle tomba dans une fosse, she fell into a hole. Fosse à fumier, dung pit. Fosse d'asperges, asparagus bed. Fosse à chaux, lime pit. Fosse de céleri, celery trench. Fosse à cuir, tan pit. Fosse d'aisances, a privy. Daniel dans la fosse aux lions, Daniel in the lions' den. On le mit dans une basse fosse—dans un cul de basse fosse, he was thrown into a low dungeon.

Il repose dans sa fosse, he reposes in his grave. Il lui creusa une fosse de ses mains, he dug her grave with his own hands. Cet homme a déjà un pied dans la fosse, that man has already one foot in the grave. Il creuse sa fosse, he is digging his own grave, (by his intemperance, his imprudence). Sa femme a mis les clefs sur la fosse, his widow gave up her right of inheritance—her claims to his property.

(T. d'anat.), pit. (T. de marine.) La fosse aux lions, the boatswain's store-room or pit. Fosse au câble, tier. Fosse aux voiles, sail pool. Il y a des fosses sur cette côte, there are small bights or bays on —pits. (T. de fortif.), fosse.

FOSSÉ, s. m. ditch. Tomber dans un fossé, to fall into a ditch. Ces prairies sont coupées de fossés pour l'écoulement des eaux, these meadows are intersected with trenches for the drainage of the waters. Le rebord du fossé, the height—top—of the bank of a ditch. Fossé en fond de cuve, a ditch which is narrow at the bottom and wide at the top. (T. de fortif.), vat; ditch. Ce qui tombe dans le fossé est pour le soldat, what falls in the ditch is for the soldier. (Fig.) Soldier's luck. Se faire un fossé, to take a desperate resolution. Au bout du fossé la culbute, at the end of the ditch is a tumble, i. e. hang we may, we will try it.

FOSSETTE, s. f. dimple. (T. de jeu), pitch-and-hole. Jouer à la fossette, to play at pitch-and-hole.
FOSSILE, s. m. fossil; adj. fossil.
FOSSILISER, Se, v. r. rég. Ière conj., to become fossilized.
FOSSOYAGE, s. m. grave-digging.
FOSSOYER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to excavate ditches.
FOSSOYEUR, s. m. grave-digger.
FOU, FOL, s. m. } madman; mad woman.
FOLLE, s. f. } lunatic. Il y a deux ans qu'il est fou, he has been mad these two years. Le chagrin l'a rendue folle, sorrow deprived her of reason—caused her insanity. Vous me rendrez fou avec vos questions, you will drive me mad with your questions. Il y a de quoi rendre fou, there is enough to make a man mad. Il est furieux, that madman is violent. Elle est folle de joie, she was mad with joy. Voyez ce mot; you will see that old fool. Il fait le fou, he pretends to be mad. Devenir fou, to run mad. C'est être fou que de faire des choses pareilles, one must be mad—none but madmen such things. Hôpital des fous, Lunatic Asylum—madhouse.

Ils font les fous, they play pranks. Chacun a sa marotte, every madman has his hobby. Plus on est fous plus on rit, the more the merrier. Nous nous amusâmes comme des fous, we were very merry—we laughed like madmen. Elle était faite comme une folle, she was a most ridiculous figure. Qui ne sait pas être fou n'est pas sage, he is not truly wise who does not make merry sometimes. Tout fou ne blanchit jamais, the hair of a madman never turns gray. Un fou avise bien un sage, a madman sometimes advises a wise one. La fête des fous (t. d'hist.), a ridiculous ceremony in honour of the ass on which they carried our Lord. (Voyez Histoire de France, fête du roi, the king's buffoon. (This office was abolished by Louis XIV.)

(T. de jeu d'échecs), bishop. Le fou de roi, king's bishop.

FOU, FOL, FOLLE, adj. mad; foolish. Il est fou, he is mad. On la croit folle, people think she is mad. Il est fou à lier, he is as mad as a March hare. Il faut qu'il soit fou, pour se conduire ainsi, he must be mad—insane—to behave so. Êtes-vous folle de me faire pareille demande, are you mad to ask me such a question? Vous êtes fou de vous fâcher de cela, you are mad—angry at that. Quel fol espoir! what silly hope! Il est fou de sa femme, he loves his wife to madness. Ne faites pas de folles dépenses, do not run into foolish—extravagant—expenses. Dépenser un argent fou, to spend madly—excessively. Il demande un prix fou de ce cheval, he asks an exorbitant price for that horse. J'ai un mal de tête fou, I have a dreadful head-ache. Je ris de rire m'a pris, I was seized with an ungovernable fit of laughing. Folle enchère. Voyez ENCHÈRE.

FOUACE, s. f. sort of roll, eaten in Normandy.
FOUAGE, s. m. (t. de féodalité), hearth-money.
FOUAILLE, s. f. (t. de vénerie), flesh given to the hounds.
FOUAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to whip; to flog.
FOUDRE, s. f. La foudre est tombée sur l'église, lightning fell upon the church. Il fut frappé de la

…ire, he was struck with lightning. Un coup de foudre, …troke of lightning. Jupiter tenait la foudre entre ses …ins, Jupiter held the bolt—the thunder—in his hands. …pide comme la foudre, as quick as lightning. Cette …velle fut comme un coup de foudre, that news was like …ap of thunder. Les foudres du Vatican, the thunder …the Vatican—the bolt of excommunication. C'était un …re de guerre, that man was like the thunder of war. …t un foudre d'éloquence, he is a thunder of eloquence. …s prières lui firent tomber la foudre des mains, our …ers made the bolt (his arms) fall from his hands.

FOUDRE, s. m. vat; large cask.

FOUDROIEMENT, s. m. thundering; striking with …ning.

FOUDROYANT, E, adj. thundering. Jupiter fou-…ant, Jupiter the thunderer. Apoplexie foudroyante, …e of apoplexy. Il lui a écrit une lettre foudroyante, …rote to him a thundering letter. Cette réponse est …oquente, this answer is overwhelming. Il nous jetait …egards foudroyants, he cast upon us withering looks …ks flashing with anger.

FOUDROYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to strike with …er, with lightning. L'artillerie foudroyait notre …, the artillery battered our town. (Fig.) Il fou-…a l'hérésie, he crushed heresy. Dans ses discours, il …oyait le vice, in his speeches, he fulminated against …. Il les foudroyait de ses regards, he crushed—…rced—them with his looks. Sa réponse nous foudroya, …nswer was a clap of thunder to us—threw us into …dismay.

FOUÉE, s. f. bat fowling.

FOUET, s. m. whip. Donner un coup de fouet à un …, to whip a horse—.—to give a lash—a cut—to a …. Conduire à coups de fouet, to drive with the whip—…d the whip. Chasser à coups de fouet, to drive away …the whip—to whip off—away. Ce cheval est dur …uet, that horse does not mind the whip. Il faut …r du fouet, you must use the whip. Les postillons …uent leur fouet, drivers crack their whip. Donnez-…i bout de fouet, give me a bit of whipcord. …homme fait claquer son fouet, that man cracks his …. (fig.) is a great boaster. Il lui donna un coup de …ans la figure, he struck him in the face with his …. (Fig.) Il faut donner un coup de fouet à cette …e, that business wants a stroke of the lash. Il va …depuis qu'il a eu un petit coup de fouet, he gets on …since they gave him a slight cut—lash—of the whip. …ner le fouet à un enfant, to whip, to flog—a child. …ut le fouet, he is afraid of the rod. Condamné au …ondemned to be whipped. Il a eu le fouet sur la …publique, he was flogged on the public square. …e le fouet sous la custode, to flog a man in the …—(fig.), to reprimand in private. (T. d'artillerie.) …de canon tiré de plein fouet, firing a gun at …

FOUETTER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to whip; to …. (Fig.) Donner des verges pour se faire fouetter, …ply a rod to be whipped with—to supply arms …t one's self. Il n'y a pas là de quoi fouetter un …t is a mere trifle. Il a bien d'autres chiens à …r, he has other fish to fry. (T. de cuisine.) …er des œufs, to beat up—to whip—eggs. Fouetter …rème, to whip cream. (Fig.) Ce n'est que crème …e, this is mere froth. (T. de marine.) Les voiles …ent le mât, the sails flap on the mast.

…pluie fouette contre les vitres, the rain beats against …indow. La neige nous fouettait dans le visage, the …ow in our faces. Ce canton a été fouetté du …rm, a blight has blown over this district. (T. …) Fouetté, e, streaked. (T. d'artillerie.) La …e fouettait sur la rivière, the battery had a fire …on the river.

FOUETTEUR, s. m. flogger. C'était un grand fouet-…r was very ready to flog—fond of flogging.

FOUGASSE, s. f. (t. d'artillerie), fougasse; small …

FOUGER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (T. de chasse.) Le …r fouge, the wild boar ploughs—grubs up.

FOUGÈRE, s. f. bot. La cendre de fougère sert à faire du verre, fern ashes are used in the manufacturing of glass. Danser sur la fougère, to dance on the green—on the heath. Quand le vin vit dans la fougère, when the wine sparkles in the glass. (T. de charp.) Assemblage à brins de fougère, diagonal joining.

FOUGON, s. m. (t. de marine), kitchen.

FOUGUE, s. f. Être en fougue, to be excited. Dans la fougue, in a moment of excitement. Quand la fougue est passée, when the excitement—the passion—is over. Ce cheval a trop de fougue, that horse is too spirited—has too much mettle.

La fougue de la jeunesse, the fire, the heat of youth. Il ne peut dompter la fougue de son caractère, he cannot conquer—subdue—the impetuosity—the ardour of his disposition. La fougue du poète, the fire of the poet.

(T. de marine), mizen. Mât de fougue, mizen top mast. Perroquet de fougue, mizen top sail.

FOUGUEUX, EUSE, adj. impetuous; fiery; passionate.

FOUILLE, s. f. excavation.

FOUILLE AU POT, s. m. (T. de cuisine.) Les fouille au pot étaient émerveillés, the scullions wondered.

FOUILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Fouiller la terre, to dig—to search into the ground. Fouiller une mine, to work a mine. L'homme avide va fouiller dans les entrailles de la terre, man, always eager, searches in the very entrails of the earth. Les sangliers, les cochons fouillent, wild boars, pigs grub up the earth. Les taupes fouillent, moles make holes under ground.

Les douaniers ne nous ont pas fouillés, the custom-house officers did not search us. On a fouillé le bois, the wood was searched. Fouillez-vous, search about your person. Je me suis fouillé partout, I searched in every pocket—I turned every pocket inside out. Il aime à fouiller, he is fond of rummaging. Ne fouillez pas dans ma commode, do not rummage my drawers. Avez-vous fouillé jusqu'au fond? did you seek—look—to the very bottom? (Fig.) Fouiller dans l'histoire, dans les archives, to seek into history—into annals—.—to make researches. Fouiller dans l'avenir, to dive—to pry—into futurity.

FOUILLIS, s. m. confusion; medley.

FOUINE, s. f. pole-cat; marten. (Fig.) Cette femme est fouine, that woman ferrets out every thing. (T. de pêche), spear. Prendre du poisson à la fouine, to spear fish. (T. d'agric.), hay-fork.

FOUINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to hide; to cut away.

FOUIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to dig.

FOUISSEMENT, s. m. digging up; excavation.

FOULAGE, s. m. (t. de métier), fulling; pressing.

FOULANT, E, adj. Pompe foulante, forcing pump.

FOULARD, s. m. (Indian) silk pocket handkerchief. Les femmes portent le foulard sur la tête, women wear silk handkerchiefs as a head-dress. (Fam.) Faire le foulard, to pick pocket handkerchiefs—to pick pocket.

FOULE, s. f. crowd. Il y avait une foule de spectateurs, there was a crowd of spectators. Nous ne pouvions traverser la foule, we could not make our way through the crowd. Il y aura foule à l'opéra, the opera will be crowded. Ils accouraient en foule, they came in crowds. Les biens viennent en foule dans sa maison, wealth crowds—swarms—in that house. De tristes idées se présentaient en foule à mon esprit, melancholy ideas came in crowds into my mind.

Une foule de gens vous diront qu'il n'en est rien, a crowd of people will tell you it is not so. Cette foule de nobles réunis dans la Prusse se crut assurée d'un appui, that crowd of nobles, assembled in Prussia, now thought themselves assured of a support. Une foule de citoyens remplissaient les rues, a crowd of citizens filled the streets. (It seems that the verb may be made to agree with foule, or with the noun substantive following.)

(T. de métiers), fulling; pressing.

FOULER, v. f. (t. de chasse), fowling; (t. de manège), foot's print.

FOULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Fouler l'herbe, to tread grass. Je foulais avec joie le sol de la patrie, I trod with joy the land of my country. Il foule avec indifférence la tombe de ses ancêtres, he treads unfeelingly the tomb of his ancestors. Fouler un lit, to tumble a bed. Fouler une robe, to crush, to rumple a dress. Fouler des pommes, du raisin, to press, to crush, to squeeze apples, grapes. Fouler le cuir, to tread leather. Fouler du drap, to full, to mill cloth. Fouler un chapeau, to press a hat. Cette presse foule également, this crowd presses equally. (Fig.) Les grands foulent les petits, the great crush—oppress the little. Fouler aux pieds, to tread under foot. Fouler aux pieds les préjugés, to trample prejudices under foot.

(T. de chirurg., de médec.) Se fouler le pied, to sprain one's foot. Je me suis foulé le poignet, I sprained my wrist. La selle lui a foulé l'épaule, the saddle galled his shoulder. Il a les jambes foulées, his legs are sprained.

FOULERIE, s. f. (pour les draps), fulling mill.

FOULOIR, s. m. (de chapelier), working board; (t. d'art.), ramming rod; (t. de chir.), stupper.

FOULOIRE, s. f. (t. de chapelier), working board.

FOULON, s. m. Machine à foulon, fulling mill. Terre à foulon, fuller's earth. Chardon à foulon, fuller's thistle, teasle.

FOULONNIER, s. m. fuller.

FOULURE, s. f. (t. de médec.), sprain; gall or sore. (T. de met.), fulling; pressing; dressing; (t. de vénérie), soiling.

FOUR, s. m. oven. Mettre le pain au four, to put bread in the oven. Ils ont un grand four, they have a large bakehouse. Cuir au four, to bake. Des raisins cuits au four, dried raisins. Donner le four trop chaud, to put things in an over heated oven. Aller au four, to go to the bakehouse. Four de campagne, field oven—portable oven. Il y fait chaud comme dans un four, it is as hot as in an oven. Il fait noir comme dans un four, it is as dark as pitch. Ne soyez pas si fier, vous viendrez cuire à mon four, do not be so proud, you will want my services some day. Ce n'est pas pour vous que le four chauffe, these things are not for you—we are not working for you.

Four à chaux, lime-kiln. Four à briques, brick-kiln. Four de verrerie, glass-works.

FOURBE, s. f. cheat; imposture.

FOURBE, s. m. f. impostor; cheat; trickster.

FOURBE, adj. deceitful; crafty; roguish.

FOURBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to deceive; to trick.

FOURBERIE, s. f. trickery; roguery. Faire une fourberie, to play a trick—to trick. On connaît sa fourberie, we know his roguery.

FOURBIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to furbish; to polish.

FOURBISSEUR, s. m. furbisher; armourer. Se battre de l'épée qui est chez le fourbisseur, to dispute on a thing with which you have nothing to do.

FOURBISSURE, s. f. furbishing.

FOURBU, E, adj. (t. de vétérin.), foundered.

FOURBURE, s. f. (t. de vétérin.), foundering.

FOURCHE, s. f. fork. Fourche de bois, wooden fork. Fourche à faner, hayfork. Fourche d'étable, pitchfork. (Fig.) Faire une chose à la fourche, to do a thing clumsily; as if with a pitchfork. Les fourches patibulaires, the gallows. Fourche d'arquebuse, an arquebuse fork. Le chemin fait la fourche, voyez soin de prendre à droite, the road forks, mind you take the right side. Il a eu là ses fourches Caudines, there he met with a discomfiture.

FOURCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fork; to branch out. Mes cheveux se fourchent, my hair split. Cet animal a le pied fourché, that animal has a cloven foot. Cette famille n'a point fourché, there has been one branch only in that family. La langue lui a fourché, he made a slip of the tongue. (T. de blason) Croix fourchée, a cross fourchée.

FOURCHETTE, s. f. (t. de table), fork. Les fourchettes d'argent ont remplacé les fourchettes d'acier, silver forks have superseded steel ones. Une fourchette à quatre dents, a fork with four prongs. Déjeuner à la fourchette, to eat meat at breakfast.

Mousquet à fourchette, a musket with its fork. Fourchette de carosse, the prop. La fourchette (du pied du cheval), the frog. La fourchette d'un poulet, the merry-thought of a fowl. La fourchette de l'estomac, the Brechet. (In general), fork.

FOURCHON, s. m. prong (of a fork).

FOURCHU, E, adj. forked; cloven. (Fig.) Un l'arbre fourchu, to stand on one's head with the legs up.

FOURCHURE, s. f. forking, branching off.

FOURGON, s. m. waggon (with a lid); (t. mil.) baggage cart or waggon; (t. de boulanger, &c.), a tin poker. (Fig.) La pelle se mêque de fourgon, the calls the kettle blackface.

FOURGONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to use the poke the fire. (Fig.) Ne fourgonnez point dans votre coffre, do not rummage about in—do not this box.

FOURMI, s. f. ant. (Fig.) J'ai des fourmis dans les jambes, I have pins and needles in my legs—my tingle.—to feel a pricking in the legs. Un homme a des œufs de fourmi sous les pieds, you say that man is standing on pins and needles, he is still a minute. Se faire plus petit qu'une fourmi, make one's self infinitely small—to stand not in the presence of another.

FOURMILIÈRE, s. f. ant-hill. (Fig.) (petite), swarm.

FOURMI-LION, s. m. (hist. nat.), an feeds on ants.

FOURMILLEMENT, s. m. (t. de médec.), tingling.

FOURMILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to abound. Les rues fourmillent d'étrangers, swarming with strangers. Les gens de loi lawyers swarm—abound. Cet ouvrage fourmille fautes, that work is crammed full of mistakes. (T. médec.) Les jambes, les mains me fourmillent, and hands are tingling.

FOURMILLIER, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.),

FOURNAGE, s. m. charge for baking.

FOURNAISE, s. f. furnace. La fournaise the burning furnace. (Creuset): On éprouve l'or la fournaise, gold is proved in the crucible.

FOURNEAU, s. m. (t. de cuisine), stove. (anglais, dans lequel on brûle du charbon de terre, kitchen range. Fourneau potager, small stove. Fourneau à papier, chafing-dish. Le d'une pipe, the bowl of a pipe.

(T. d'artillerie.) Faire jouer un fourneau, fire to the chamber of a mine. (T. de mine, &c.), furnace.

FOURNÉE, s. f. batch. (Fig.) Prendre sur la fournée, to take something on account. nommer plusieurs généraux, mais mon frère de cette fournée, several generals are to be my brother is for another batch.

FOURNIER, s. m. } baker; public baker.
FOURNIÈRE, s. f. }

FOURNIL, s. m. bakehouse.

FOURNIMENT, s. m. (t. militaire), such as belts, scabbards, &c. supplied to toyer son fourniment, to clean one's nement), dressing-case (containing powder, (T. de chasse), powder-flask, shot-belt, &c.

FOURNIR, v. a. v. n. r. rég. 2de conj. Punir). Notre fermier nous fournit de d'argent, our farmer supplies us with corn, money. Qui vous fournissait de ce drap besoin? who supplied you with every thing Nous en sommes mal fournis, we are badly it. Je me fournis chez lui, I get what I Voilà dix ans qu'il fournit la maison, supplied—the house for ten years. Nous fonds si vous voulez travailler, we will the funds if you will work. Il fournissait l'armée, he supplied the army with victuals. nous les détails nécessaires, furnish us the required particulars. La somme n'est il reste encore 30.0 francs à fournir, plete, you have still 500 francs to furnish. francs pour fournir la somme, we must have te the sum. Cela lui fournissait des raisons de se e, that furnished him with matter of complaint. ui qui fournit à la dépense, he pays—he provides r expenses. Je ne puis fournir à cette dépense, t meet all that expense. Je ne puis fournir à tout eul, I am not equal to all that work. On ne peut à tout, one cannot do every thing—answer every —meet every exigency. Cet étui n'est pas that case is not garnished. La bibliothèque est ourie, the library is well stocked. Il porte une bien fournie, he wears a thick—bushy—beard. es bois bien fournis, this wood is very thick. Leur st bien fournie, their table is well served—sup- Tout cela est bien fourni, all that is full, well ished. Voyez Carriere.

RNISSEMENT, s. m. (t. de commerce), amount be paid by each partner to the general fund or of a company.

RNISSEUR, s. m. contractor; purveyor. Les eurs de l'armée, the army contractors. Il est le eur de la maison, he is the purveyor of the house.

RNITURE, s. f. On ne l'a pas payé de ses four- de blé, de vin et de bois, he has not been paid for plies of corn, wine and wood. Il fuisait les four- de la maison, he supplied the house. Il avait s ces grandes fournitures, he had undertaken those pplies. La fourniture d'une salade, the dressing ad. Fournitures de tailleur, trimmings.

RRAGE, s. m. forage; fodder for cattle. (T. re). foraging. (T. d'artillerie), wads (made of r hay).

RRAGER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (T. de , to forage. Nos troupes fourrageaient, our troops —went out foraging. On a fourragé tout le pays, le country has been plundered—pillaged. On a ge mes papiers—dans mes papiers, some one has ged my papers—has been fumbling about my RRAGÈRE, adj. (t. d'agric.) Plantes fourra- russ, straw, beans, &c., fodder.

RRAGEUR, s. m. forager; foraging party.

RRÉ, s. m. thicket. Il se cachèrent dans le they hid in a thicket—in the brushwood.

RREAU, s. m. Fourreau (d'épée), scabbard, (de pistolet), pistol case; (de paraplaie), um- ase; (de chaise, de fauteuil, de meuble), case, Tirer l'épée du fourreau, to unsheath—to draw ord. (Fig.) Coucher dans son fourreau, to lie down without undressing. La lame use le fourreau, inal wears out the body. (T. d'anat.), sheath; abillement), frock; pinafore.

RRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Fourrez la dans ce trou, put—thrust—your hand in that hole. rre toujours ses mains dans ses poches, he always s his hands in his pockets. Il y a des trous à y r le bras, there are holes large enough to throw— s—your arm through. Où l'avez-vous fourré, have you put it? Fourrez tout cela dans votre thrust all that in your pocket. Il s'était fourré t lit, he had crept under the bed. Elle le fourra ans armoire, she hid him—put him—forced him closet. (Fig.) Il ne sait où se fourrer, he knows not to go—in which place to put himself. Il cherche l'endroit où se fourrer, he is endeavouring to find occupation—some place. Où me suis-je fourré? have I got? Je me suis fourré dans l'embarras, I myself into difficulty. Il se fourre à la cour, he is t in court. Il se fourre dans toutes les sociétés, tes himself—worms himself—into every society. le fourrez dans une vilaine affaire, you involve compromise him—in an ugly business. Il fourre atin partout, he thrusts Latin in every where. Il erra un coup d'épée dans le ventre, he sheathed— ent—his sword in his stomach. Elle lui fourre de ureaux dans la bouche, she crams all sorts of food into his mouth. Elle lui fourre toujours à manger, always cramming him. Il me fourra quelque chose la main, he thrust something in my hand. Vous lui avez fourré tout cela dans la tête, you put all that in his head. Il s'est fourré cette idée dans l'esprit, he took —he got—that idea into his head. Il fourre tout dans son centre, he eats every thing—he spends all his money in stuffing. Il fourre son nez partout, he pokes his nose in every where. Pourquoi allez-vous fourrer le nez où vous n'avez que faire? why will you go where you have no business—why will you meddle with what does not concern you?

Pays fourré, woody country. Bois fourré, brushwood. Il lui porta un coup fourré, he gave him an underhand blow—,—he did him a bad office slyly. Ils ont fait un coups fourré, they have done one another injury. Langue fourrée, neat's tongue. (Fig.) C'est un innocent fourré de malice, he is as sly as can be, with his appearance of simplicity.

FOURRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to fur. Il porte une robe fourrée d'hermine, he wears a robe furred with ermine. Il faut bien se fourrer en hiver, you must put on warm things—cover yourself warmly—in winter.

FOURREUR, s. m. furrier.

FOURRIER, s. m. (t. milit.), non commissioned officer, under the authority of the "Sergent major;" who keeps the accounts of the company, attends to deliveries of all kinds, and has charge of quarters. He does no duty; in battle, he guards the colours. (There were "Fourriers généraux," "Fourriers marqueurs," whose office was to attend to quarters in barracks, and lodgings on a march; they were suppressed in 1792.)

FOURRIÈRE, s. f. The office which supplies the royal palaces with fuel.

(T. de jurisp.) Mettre un cheval en fourrière, to put a horse in the pound.

FOURRURE, s. f. furs; fur lining. (T. d'agric.), tuft of plants, left by the cattle in pasture grounds; (t. de marine), service; (t. de charp.), small wedges; furring; (t. de blason), vair.

FOURVOIEMENT, s. m. straying; wandering from the right path.

FOURVOYER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Ce guide nous a fourvoyés, our guide led us astray. L'obscurité nous fit fourvoyer, darkness made us lose our way—take the wrong way. Je me suis fourvoyé, I went astray—I lost my way. (Fig.) Vous vous êtes fourvoyé dans cet écrit, you have fallen into errors—mistakes—in that writing.

FOUTEAU, s. m. (hêtre), beech tree.

FOUTELAIE, s. f. beech wood plantation.

FOYER, s. m. hearth; fire-place. Foyer d'un fourneau, furnace of a stove; hearth stone. Aimer à garder son foyer, to be fond of home—to love one's fire-side. Combattre pour ses foyers, to fight for one's home—country. Rentrer dans ses foyers, to return into one's country. Il ne revit jamais ses foyers, he never saw his country—his birth-place—his home again. (T. de science), focus, centre. (Fig.) Paris est le foyer des lumières, Paris is the centre of learning. C'est là qu'est le foyer de la rébellion, there is the centre—the heart of rebellion. (T. de théâtre), green room.

FRAC, s. m. dress-coat.

FRACAS, s. m. noise; bustle; havoc. Le torrent roule ses eaux avec fracas, the torrent makes a great noise. Le tonnerre a fait du fracas en tombant, the thunder made much damage—havoc, in falling.

Les hommes vains aiment le fracas, vain men are fond of noise and bustle. Je n'aime pas le fracas du monde, I do not like the noise—the bustle—of the world. Il entre avec fracas, he makes a noise when he enters. Elle a fait bien du fracas par sa beauté, she made a great noise—she was much talked of—on account of her beauty.

FRACASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to break; to [shatter.

FRACTION, s. f. fraction. Fraction décimale, decimal fraction.

FRACTIONNAIRE, adj. fractional.

FRACTURE, s. f. fracture.

FRACTURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le coup lui fractura le bras, the blow fractured his arm.

FRAGILE, adj. fragile; brittle; apt to break; (fig.), weak, frail; perishable.

FRAGILITÉ, s. f. frailty; brittleness; fragility.

FRAGMENT, s. m. fragment.

FRAI, s. m. spawn; fry.

FRAICHEMENT, adv. freshly; coolly; (récemment), lately; recently.

FRAICHEUR, s. f. freshness; coolness. Ce fruit est dans toute sa fraîcheur, that fruit has all its freshness—bloom. Elle a la fraîcheur de la rose, she has all the freshness—all the bloom—of a rose. (T. de médec.), cold. Elle a une fraîcheur, she has a cold. (T. de marine), slight wind.

FRAICHIR, v. n. rég. 3de conj. (voyez Punir). (T. de marine.) Le vent fraîchit, the wind freshens—is freshening.

FRAIRIE, s. f. (fam.), entertainment; repast; feast. Ces gens là sont de frairie tous les jours, those people feast every day.

FRAIS, FRAÎCHE, adj. fresh. Les nuits sont encore fraîches, the nights are still fresh—cool. Il fait un joli petit vent frais, there is a nice cool wind. Comme vous avez les mains fraîches! how cool your hands are! (T. de marine.) Il fait un vent frais, it blows fresh.

Un verre d'eau fraîche, a glass of cool—fresh water. Donnez-nous du vin frais, du cidre frais, give us wine fresh open, cider fresh drawn. Du pain frais, new bread. Des œufs frais, new laid eggs. Des figues fraîches, fresh—green—figs. Nous mangeons des pois frais en hiver, we eat green peas in winter.

(Fig.) Cette nouvelle est toute fraîche, this news is quite recent—fresh. Sa lettre est de fraîche date, his letter is of recent date. Il est tout frais de l'école—du collége, he is fresh from school—from college. Laissez-moi vous le raconter pendant que je suis encore tout frais, let me relate it to you while I have it fresh—while it is fresh in my memory. J'en ai le souvenir tout frais, it is quite fresh in my remembrance—in my memory—in my mind. Nous voilà frais! we are in a pretty mess!—we are pretty figures!

Après une heure de repos, nous nous remîmes en route tout frais, after one hour's rest, we resumed our journey quite fresh—quite reposed. Nos troupes étaient toutes fraîches, our troops were quite fresh.

Elle est fraîche comme une rose, she is as fresh—as blooming—as a rose. Cette robe n'est pas fraîche, that gown is not new.

FRAIS (employé comme adverbe). Il vente frais, it blows fresh—there is a fresh wind. Il aime à boire frais, he likes to drink cool drinks. Des roses fraîches cueillies, roses fresh—freshly—gathered. Il est tout frais arrivé, he has arrived quite recently—he has quite fresh come.

FRAIS, s. m. Il fait un frais agréable, it is delightfully cool—the coolness is quite agreeable. Je prenais le frais à la fenêtre, I was enjoying the cool air at the window. Ne vous tenez pas au frais, do not stand in the cold. Mettre du vin au frais, to put wine to cool. Chercher le frais, to look out for cool places. Respirer le frais, to take in—breathe in—the fresh air.

FRAIS, s. m. expenses; cost. Faire de grands frais, to run into great expenses. Il ne fait pas ses frais, he does not cover his expenses. C'est moi qui supporte les frais de son voyage, I bear all the expense—all the cost—all the charges—of his journey. Frais de bureau, expense in writing materials. Frais d'impression, expense in printing—printer's charges. J'avancerai les frais, I will advance the cost. Cela se fait à mes frais et dépens, that is done at my own cost—at my own expense. A frais communs, at our, at your common expenses. Il y a un tas de frais, there is a heap of expenses. Nous le fesons à moitié frais, we share the expenses—the cost. A grands frais, expensively. A peu de frais, at little expense—cost. Vous me constituez en frais, you run me into—you cause me much—expense. Se mettre en frais, to run into expenses—(fig.), to make great efforts. (En parlant de billard, de jeux, &c.) Nous ne jouons que les frais, we only play for the expense—for the table, &c.

(Fig.) Recommencer sur nouveaux frais, to begin again. Faire les frais de la conversation, to take the principal part in the conversation. C'est lui qui a fait tous les frais de son érudition, it is from the author that he has taken all his learning.

FRAISE, s. f. strawberry. Nous avons mangé des fraises, we have eaten strawberries. (T. de botan.) Fraise de veau, (the mesentery), the parcel of small guts. Manger une fraise de veau au gros sel, to eat a calf's paunch plain boiled. (T. de toilette.) On a porté une grande fraise de fraise, the frill is no longer worn. Il portait une grande fraise à l'Espagnole, he wore a large ruff in the Spanish fashion. (T. de fortif.) Les enceintes étaient garnis d'une fraise, the works were strengthened with a row of palisades.

FRAISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to plait (as ribbons). (T. de pâtissier.), to beat, to roll paste well. (T. de fortif.), to strengthen—to defend—with palisades.

FRAISETTE, s. f. cuff; plaited cuffs worn by children.

FRAISIER, s. m. strawberry plant.

FRAISIL, s. m. (prononcez. frè-zil), the ashes—the cinders—of coal in a forge.

FRAMBOISE, s. f. raspberry.

FRAMBOISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mix—to flavour—with raspberries.

FRAMBOISIER, s. m. raspberry bush or plant.

FRAMÉE, s. f. (t. d'ancienne armure), sort of spear.

FRANC, s. m. (now, since the French revolution, a monetary unit), franc. Il a dix mille francs de rente, he is worth ten thousand francs a year. Deux francs pour cent francs, &c., two francs, four francs, &c. Cela vaut un franc, a half franc. Un quart de franc, a quarter of a franc. La livre sterling, au pair, vaut vingt-cinq francs 21 centimes, pound sterling, when at par, is worth 25 francs. Voyez Marc.

FRANC, CHE, adj. (pron. fran devant une consonne, franque devant une voyelle). Je suis franc de port, I am free—I am at liberty to act as I please. Le franc arbitre, the free will. Agir de son franc arbitre, to act according to one's free will. (T. de féodalité.) Les Francs archers furent créés par Charles VII., the Free—Independent Archers were created by Charles VII. Franc bourgeois, freeholder. Franc-alleu, freehold.

(Libre.) Il est franc de toute passion, he is free from passion. C'est un homme franc d'ambition, he is free from—devoid of—ambition. Il jouit de ses biens franc de toutes demandes, he enjoys his property free from all demands. Il est franc et quitte de toutes dettes, he is free from all debts. (T. de commerce.) Les villes franches, the free towns. Nous entrâmes dans un port franc, we entered a free port—a port exempt from duties. (T. d'admin.) Il reçoit ses lettres franches de port, he receives his letters postage free. Il a ses ports francs, he does not pay for his letters—he receives them postage free. Cette lettre est franche, this letter is free. (Fig.) Il aime à avoir ses coudées franches, he likes to have room—to be unrestrained. Avoir part franche, to have clear share—a share free of all demands, of all charges. Point de franche lippée, no meal is to be had for—free from trouble—free from all expense. Il a son franc parler, he is a free speaker—he speaks his mind—he speaks freely. Ce cheval est franc du collier, this horse pulls freely. Cet homme est franc du collier, (fig.) he is ready—wants no driving—no reminding.

(Candide, sincère.) C'est un homme franc, he is a man of open—a frank—a sincere—man. Sa conduite est franche, his conduct is open. C'est un franc Gascon, he is an upright—a sincere—man. Je vous dis la vérité toute franche, I tell you plain truth. Je vous dis en vérité franc et net, I tell you plainly—without reserve or disguise—my own thought.

(Vrai, absolu.) C'est un franc Breton, no true Breton, a Breton born. C'est un franc coquin, he is a downright—a true—a downright—knave. Une franche coquette, she is a downright coquette. C'est un franc voleur, he is an arrant thief. C'est une franche défaite, it is a downright defeat.

(Naturel.) Un moineau franc, a (sparrow), true sparrow.

r à balle franche, to fire with a clean bullet. Cette e est franche, this soil is free from stones and sand—is Estier.) Nous avons passé trois jours francs à la agne, we spent three clear days in the country. Il usé douze pieds francs, he cleared twelve feet at one

T. de jardinage.) Arbre franc, tree producing good without its being grafted. Pêcher franc, a natural ach—peach-tree. Des noix franches, nuts (gathered tree that has not been grafted). (T. de marine.) Ce eau est franc, this ship is free from water. *Le franc
.* voyez Tillac. (T. de navigation.) Suivre le c bord, to follow the edge of the river—the free towing

RANC (employé comme adverbe). Il lui a parlé c, he spoke plainly—openly—to him. Il lui dit la e franc et net, he spoke the plain truth to him—he him the truth very plainly—very flatly.

ANC, s. m. } (Les Francs s'emparèrent de la Gaule ANQUE, s. f.} en 418, it was in the year 418 that anks took possession of Gaul. Il avait épousé une que, he had married a Frankish woman. (T. mo-.) Les Turcs ont maltraité les Francs, the Turks nd the Europeans. (Employé comme adj.) Les s Françaises, the European armies. Parler la langue nque, to speak the lingua Franca. (That tongue is in Africa, and is composed of French, Italian, Spanish, and Turkish words. The verbs are not conjugated, always put in the infinitive: "Se non sabir, ti abir, se non sabir, tazir, tazir."—Molière, in the ois Gentilhomme.)

ANÇAIS, s. m. (Frenchman; French woman. *Il
ANÇAISE, s. f.} a long-temps étudié le caractère rançais, he has long studied the character of the . Les Françaises ont beaucoup de grâces, the s women are full of grace. Etudier le Français, dy the French language. Le Français est plus à parler qu'à écrire, French is easier to speak than
e. Je ne comprends pas le Français, I do not un-nd French. Il écorche le Français, he murders
. Il écrit en Français avec facilité, he writes in with ease.

ANÇAIS, E, adj. Les auteurs Français, the writers. Il a épousé une femme Française, he d a French lady. Il est de l'école Française, he e French school. Il suit les modes Françaises, he the French fashions. Il s'habille à la mode aise—à la Française, he dresses in the French
. Le théâtre Français—les Français, is the name playhouse at the corner of the Palais Royal, in the Richelieu, where none but tragedies or plays of mmd class are acted.

ANÇAIS, used adverbially. Parlez Français, si oulez qu'on vous entende, speak plain French, if you be understood. Je lui parlerai Français, I will artly, smartly to him. Je vous dis la vérité en nçais, I tell you the truth plainly—without equi-

ANC-ÉTABLE, DE, (loc. adv., t. de marine). Les eires s'abordèrent de franc-étable, the two ships, vessels ran against one another, head to head.

NCHEMENT, adv. frankly; openly.

NCHIR, v. a. rég. 2*de conj., voyez Punir.
ir un fossé*, to clear, to leap over a ditch. Il a les Alpes, he passed over the Alps. Rien ne il franchit toutes les difficultés, nothing stops overcomes all difficulties. Il a franchi les bornes ir, he outstepped the bounds of duty. (Fig.) franchissez le mot, come, speak out.

NCHISE, s. f. (t. de jurisp.). Cette ville jouit ises franchises, that town enjoys certain immu-exemptions—rights—privileges. Il a gagné sa e, he has gained his freedom—he has served his ership. Il jouit de la franchise, he enjoys—he freedom. L'hôtel d'un ambassadeur est un lieu dise, an ambassador's house is a privileged place.
nchises des ambassadeurs, the privileges—the rights of ambassadors. Cette église est une franchise, that church is a sanctuary.
93

(T. de morale.) C'est un homme plein de franchise, he is a man full of candour—of frankness. (T. d'arts), freedom; ease.

FRANCISATION, s. f. naturalisation in France. Acte de francisation, an act, a deed declaring a person to be naturalized French.

FRANCISCAIN, s. m. Franciscan (a monk of the order of St. Francis).

FRANCISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to Frenchify; to become French. [French).

FRANCISQUE, s. f. francisca (a weapon used by the FRANC-MAÇON, s. m. freemason.

FRANC-MAÇONNERIE, s. f. freemasonry.

FRANCO, s. m. (t. de commerce), franco; without any charge.

FRANÇOIS, s. m. Francis. } For other meanings, see FRANÇOISE, s. f. Frances. } Français, &c.

FRANCOLIN, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), heathcock, a game bird larger than a partridge. That bird is quite dumb when in captivity; thence the proverb: Muet comme un francolin pris.

FRANC-PENSEUR, s. m. freethinker.

FRANC-QUARTIER, s. m. (t. de blason), franc quarter.

FRANC-RÉAL, s. m. sort of pear.

FRANC-SALÉ, s. m. (t. de féodalité), an allowance of salt to be taken out of the store.

FRANC-TAUPIN, s. m. (t. d'hist.), name given formerly to soldiers employed in digging, excavating, &c.

FRANGE, s. f. fringe.

FRANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fringe.

FRANGIBILITÉ, s. f. frangibility.

FRANGIBLE, adj. frangible; that can be broken.

FRANGIER, s. m. } fringe maker.
FRANGIÈRE, s. f.}

FRANGIPANE, s. f. (t. de pâtissier). Tourte à la frangipane, a tart with cream and almonds. (T. de parfumeur.) Pommade à la frangipane, almond pomatum.

FRANGIPANIER, s. m. (t. de bot.), sort of laurel which gives a sort of milky and caustic juice.

FRANQUE. Voyez Franc, adj.

FRANQUETTE, s. f. A la franquette; à la bonne franquette, plainly; simply.

FRAPPANT, E, adj. striking.

FRAPPART, adj. (a contemptuous epithet applied to monks given to luxury; but originally, because, when begging, they knocked (frappaient) from door to door). Le père Frappart.

FRAPPE, s. f. (t. d'imprimeur), a set of casts fur type. (T. de monnayage), a stamp.

FRAPPE-MAINS, s. m. (t. de jeux). Jouer à frappe-mains, to play at hot cockles.

FRAPPEMENT, s. m. striking.

FRAPPER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Pourquoi le frappez-vous? why do you strike him? La pierre le frappa à la tête, the stone struck him—hit him—on the head. Il le frappa au visage, he struck him—he smote him—in the face. Dans son agitation, il se frappait la figure, in his agitation, he struck his own face. Il fut frappé du tonnerre, he was struck by the lightning. Il le frappa avec un bâton, he struck him—hit him—with a stick. Dans son impatience, il frappait la terre du pied, in his impatience, he stamped the earth with his foot. Cet étranger vint lui frapper sur l'épaule, the stranger came and tapped him on the shoulder. Vous frappez comme un sourd, you strike too hard. Il veut frapper les grands coups, he will come and try strong measures—strike decisive blows. En Normandie, on conclud un marché en frappant dans la main, in Normandy, a bargain is concluded by striking the hands. On frappe à la porte, some one knocks at the door. Voyez qui frappe, see who it is that knocks. Il frappait l'air de ses cris, he struck the air—he made the air resound—with his cries. Frapper des mains, to clap, to beat hands. Tout le monde lui frappait des mains, every body clapped his hands wherever he appeared. La mort nous frappe au moment où nous ne nous y attendons pas, death strikes us when we least expect it. Il est frappé à mort, he is struck with death. (Fig.) Cette idée me frappe, that idea strikes me. J'étais frappé d'étonnement, I was struck with astonishment. J'en étais frappé, I was struck with it. Il se frappe aisément, he is easily struck—smitten. Ils furent tous frappés d'anathème, they were all anathematised. Voilà tout ce qu'il y a de frappant dans cette affaire, this is all there is striking—remarkable—in that affair.

(T. de table.) Frapper du vin de glace, to ice wine. Le vin est frappé, the wine is iced. Faire frapper, to put in ice. (T. de marine.) Frapper une manœuvre, to lash, to fasten a rope.

FRAPPEUR, s. m. } striker.
FRAPPEUSE, s. f. }

FRASQUE, s. f. (mot emprunté de l'Italien frasca, et pron. fra-cque), trick. Il m'a fait plusieurs frasques, he played me several tricks.

FRATER, s. m. (pron. fra-tair); (in derision), surgeon. (T. de marine et de troupes), barber.

FRATERNEL, LE, adj. fraternal; brotherly.

FRATERNELLEMENT, adv. fraternally; brotherly; in a brotherly way.

FRATERNISER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fraternize.

FRATERNITÉ, s. f. fraternity; brotherhood. Ils vivaient dans une grande fraternité, they lived in close fraternity—friendship. Il y avait fraternité d'armes entre eux, there was a brotherhood in arms between them.

FRATRICIDE, s. m. fratricide.

FRAUDE, s. f. fraud; deceit; fraudulence. Faire la fraude, to smuggle. Être pris en fraude, to be caught smuggling, defrauding government. En fraude, loc. adv., fraudulently.

FRAUDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to defraud; to cheat; to act fraudulently. Frauder les droits, to defraud government.

FRAUDEUR, s. m. } smuggler; a cheat; one who acts
FRAUDEUSE, s. f. } fraudulently.

FRAUDULEUSEMENT, adv. fraudulently.

FRAUDULEUX, LEUSE, adj. fraudulent; deceitful.

FRAULER. Voyez Frôler.

FRAXINELLE, s. f. (t. de bot. et de médec.), fraxinella; bastard dittany.

FRAYANT, E, adj. (qui occasionne des frais), costly; expensive.

FRAYER, v. a. v. n. v. r. 1ère conj. On fraie un chemin à travers la prairie, they are beating—cutting—a path through the meadow. La route est toute frayée, the road is regularly beaten. Nous nous sommes frayés un passage dans le bois, we opened a passage through the wood. (Fig.) Nous lui avons frayé le chemin aux honneurs, we paved the way for him—we opened the way for him—to honours. Les anciens nous en ont frayé la route, the ancients showed us the way—paved the way for us—to it. (Frôler, frotter.) La roue m'a frayé la cuisse, the wheel rubbed—grazed—my leg. Cet écu doit avoir frayé beaucoup, that crown must have circulated much—it is much worn.

Je ne fraie point avec ces gens-là, I do not mix with—I do not frequent the society of—these people. Nous ne frayons point ensemble, we do not associate together. (T. d'hist. nat.), to spawn.

FRAYEUR, s. f. fright; fear. Il tremblait de frayeur, he was trembling with fear. Il fut saisi de frayeur, he was seized with terror.

FRAYOIR, s. m. (t. de chasse), mark from rubbing.

FREDAINE, s. f. prank; trick. Je sais vos fredaines, I know of your tricks—of your pranks. Il a fait ses fredaines, he has played his tricks, his pranks.

FREDON, s. m. (t. de musique), quaver. Faire des fredons, to quaver; to hum a tune.

FREDONNEMENT, s. m. quavering; humming.

FREDONNER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to hum a tune; to quaver.

FRÉGATE, s. f. frigate. Il est capitaine de frégate, he is captain of a frigate in the navy (post captain). (Ornithologie), sea-swallow.

FRÉGATON, s. m. sort of Venetian ship of war, of burden of 400 tons; also a fishing boat.

FREIN, s. m. (t. de manége), bridle; curb; bit. Le cheval n'aime pas le frein, that horse does not like the bridle—the curb. Il faut mettre son frein, he has his bit. Il prit le frein aux dents, he took the bit between his teeth and ran away. Il ronge son frein, he gnaws his bit. (Fig.) L'honneur est un frein à nos passions, honour acts as a check on our passions. Il rompt le frein qui le retenait, he broke—shook off—the curb—the bridle—which checked him. Il ronge son frein en silence, he gnaws the curbs—chews the bridles—in silence. Mettez un frein à votre langue, bridle your tongue. Celui qui met un frein à la fureur des flots, he who can check—curb—the fury of the waves. A vieille mule, frein doré, an old mare requires a gilt bit.

(T. de mécanique, t. de chemin de fer), break. Mettre le frein pour arrêter, turn the break to stop the carriage. (T. d'anat.), ligament; string.

FRELAMPIER, s. m. (t. de mépris), a man of no thing; a quack. (Autrefois), libertine; a rake.

FRELATAGE, s. m. adulteration.

FRELATER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to adulterate. Le vin est frelaté, that wine is adulterated. (Fig.) Je vous dis là n'est point frelaté, what I tell you is embellished—is exactly true.

FRELATERIE, s. f. Voyez Frelatage.

FRELATEUR, s. m. one who adulterates.

FRELATEUSE, s. f. any liquids.

FRÊLE, adj. frail; weak.

FRELON, s. m. bumble bee; large wasp; drone. (Fig.), drone. Il ne faut pas irriter les frelons, you must not go among hornets—do not meddle with those who are already irritated.

FRELUCHE, } s. f. a tuft, a tassel (of silk, &c.). (Fig.), FRELUQUE, } &c.) (Fig.), gossamer.
FRELUCHES, }
FRELUQUES, } s. f. light, trifling things, worth
FRELUQUET, s. m. fop; puppy; vain beau; silly fellow.

FRÉMIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj., to shudder. Je frémis quand j'y pense, I shudder when I think of it. Cela fait frémir, it is enough to make one shudder. Je vois le danger qu'il court, I shudder at the danger he runs. Je frémissais de les avoir pour voisins, I trembled—I shuddered—at the idea of having them for neighbours. Il frémissait de colère, he trembled with anger—with rage. La cloche frémit long-temps après qu'elle a cessé de sonner, the bell vibrates a long time after it has ceased to ring. Les vagues se brisaient en frémissant contre le rocher, the groaning—quivering—wave broke against the rocks. La mer frémit, the sea is agitated—a ruffled. La terre frémissait sous mes pieds, the earth trembled under my feet.

L'eau ne bout pas, elle frémit, the water does not boil, it only simmers.

Frémissant de courroux, trembling with rage. J'entendions l'airain frémissant, we heard the vibrating—quivering bell.

FRÉMISSEMENT, s. m. Je ne puis l'entendre sans frémissement, I cannot hear it without shuddering. Il frémissements de rage, trembling with rage. Il eut un long frémissement par tout le corps, I was seized with a shuddering—quivering—all over my body. Le frémissement des airs—des flots, the agitation of the air—waves. Le frémissement d'une cloche, the vibration of a bell.

FRÊNAGE, s. f. ash-tree plantation.

FRÊNE, s. m. ash tree. Du bois de frêne, ash wood. Frêne sauvage, mountain ash.

FRÉNÉSIE, s. f. frenzy; madness. Il fut saisi de frénésie, he was seized with a frantic fit. Son amour jusqu'à la frénésie, his love is madness.

FRÉNÉTIQUE, adj. frantic; mad.

FRÉNÉTIQUE, s. m. f. madman; mad woman.

FRÉQUEMMENT, adv. frequently.

FRÉQUENCE, s. f. (pron. fré-kanse), temps, you spoil your clothes in a very short time. (Fig.) Il a fripé son bien, he has squandered his property.

FRIPERIE, s. f. old clothes. J'ai traversé la friperie, I have passed the frippery—the old clothes market. Un marchand de friperie, an old clothes merchant. Cet habit sent la friperie, this coat has been bought at the frippery—at the old clothes market. (Fig.) On se jeta sur sa friperie, they fell upon his frippery, i. e. upon him.

FRIPE-SAUCE, s. m. a bad cook—a glutton.

FRIPIER, s. m. old clothes-man or woman. (Fig.)

FRIPIERE, s. f.] Un fripier d'écrits, a plagiarist.

FRIPON, s. m. adj. rogue; knave; cheat; roguish.

FRIPONNE, s. f. adj.] Cet homme est un fripon fieffé, that man is a downright rogue—cheat. C'est un tour de fripon, this is a roguish trick—a piece of knavery. Venez ici, petit fripon, come here, little rogue. C'est une franche friponne, she is a downright rogue. Elle a l'air fripon, she looks roguish—sly.

FRIPONNEAU, s. m. a little rogue.

FRIPONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cheat. Il m'a friponné deux cents francs, he cheated me out of two hundred francs. Il a friponné une demi-douzaine de personnes, he deceived—he cheated—half a dozen persons. Friponner au jeu, to cheat at play. Cet homme gagne sa vie à friponner, that man gains his living by cheating—by swindling.

FRIPONNERIE, s. f. cheating; roguery. Vous faites une friponnerie, you do an act of roguery; you cheat. Il y a de la friponnerie à cela, there is roguery—dishonesty—in that. Sa vie est une friponnerie continuelle, his life is a continuous act of cheating.

FRIQUET, s. m. a sparrow of small sort. (T. de cuisine), a ladle. (Fig.), a smart little fellow; a little beau.

FRIRE, v. a. irrég. et défectif. Frire, frit, e; je fris, tu fris, il frit; je frirai, &c.; je frirais, &c. It has no other tense, and is used most commonly with faire: faire frire. Nous avons une cuisinière qui frit bien le poisson, we have a cook who fries fish well. Dès ce soir, on vous fera frire, and this very evening you shall be fried. (Fig.) Va-t-en, Jean, on te frit des œufs, away with you, John, they are laughing at you. Il n'y a pas de quoi frire dans cette maison, there is nothing (to fry) to eat in that house. Le pauvre malheureux n'a plus de quoi frire, the poor wretch has nothing to eat—is ruined.

FRISAGE, s. m. curling; rolling.

FRISE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), frieze. (T. de drapier), frieze. (T. de fortif.) Des chevaux de frise, chevaux de frise. (T. de marine.) La frise de l'éperon, the trail board.

FRISER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Qui vous a frisé? who curled your hair? Mes cheveux frisent naturellement, my hair curls naturally. Où est le fer à friser? where are the curling irons? Elle aime à se faire friser, she is fond of having her hair curled—of having her hair dressed. Friser du drap, to nap—to curl the nap of cloth.

La balle lui a frisé le visage, the ball passed close to—grazed—his face. Vous avez frisé la corde, you passed very close to—you all but touched—the rope.—(fig.), you have had a very narrow escape of—you have narrowly escaped—the rope. Il frise la quarantaine, he borders on—he is close upon—forty. Il frise l'impertinent, he is almost impertinent. (T. d'imprimerie.) Cette presse frise, this machine prints double—not clear.

Des choux frisés, Scotch cale.

FRISOTTER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (mot familier), to dress, to curl.

FRISQUETTE, s. f. (t. d'imprimerie), frisket.

FRISSON, s. m. shiver; shivering. Le frisson de la fièvre, the cold shivers—the cold of fever. Le frisson m'a pris, I was seized with cold shivering. (Fig.) Un frisson de terreur se répandit dans l'assemblée, a shudder ran through the assembly. J'en ai le frisson, I shudder at it.—it makes me shudder. Sentir un doux frisson, to feel a sweet emotion.

FRISSONNEMENT, s. m. shiver; shivering; shudder. Voyez Frisson.

FRISSONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to shudder; to shiver. Je frissonne de froid, I shiver with cold. Je frissonne de peur, I tremble—I shudder—with fear. Ce détails vous font frissonner, these particulars make you shudder.

FRISURE, s. f. curling; dressing of the hair. Le vent a dérangé sa frisure, the wind disordered her hair—spoiled her curls. (T. de drapier), knots.

FRITILLAIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), crown imperial.

FRITTE, s. f. (t. de verrerie), frit.

FRITURE, s. f. Friture au beurre, frying with butter. Votre friture n'est pas fraîche, your fritter is not fresh. Ce poisson est excellent en friture, this fish is very good fried. Il ne mange jamais de friture, he never eats anything fried.

FRIVOLE, adj. frivolous; trifling.

FRIVOLITÉ, s. f. frivolity; frivolousness. Il est d'une extrême frivolité, he is extremely frivolous.

FROC, s. m. gown, monk's cowl, gown. Prendre le froc, to put on the monk's cowl—to become a monk. Jeter le froc aux orties, to throw up one's post. It is believed that the runaway monks hid their gowns among the weeds, in the fields.)

FROCARD, s. m. (t. de dérision), a monk.

FROID, s. m. cold. Je crains le froid, I fear cold. Je mourais de froid, I was dying with cold. J'ai froid, I feel cold. Le froid des arts se fait sentir, the cold—the ice—of years is felt. Je suis très sensible au froid, I feel cold very much. Je gèle de froid, I am freezing. Il est tout roide de froid, he is stiff with cold.

(Avoir froid.) J'ai froid, I am cold. J'ai eu froid sur la voiture, I was very cold outside. J'ai froid aux mains, my hands are cold. N'avez-vous pas froid aux pieds? are you not cold in your feet? J'ai froid au dos, my back was cold. Vous aurez froid aux mains, si vous ne mettez pas de gants, your hands will be cold, if you do not wear gloves. Vos mains sont comme glace, your hands are as cold as ice.

(Faire froid.) Il fait bien froid, it is very cold. Il fera froid cette nuit, it will be cold to-night. Il fait bien froid dans cet appartement, this room is very cold—it is very cold in this room.

(Fig.) Il lui répondit avec un froid calcul, he replied to him with his usual coolness. Il y a du froid entre eux, there is coldness—a coolness—between them. Cet homme est d'un froid qui glace, that man is so cold that he—has a coldness about him which—chills my body. Il y a un peu de froid dans cette pièce, this piece is rather cold. C'est un homme qui souffle le froid et le chaud, that man blows hot and cold. Cela ne fait ni froid ni chaud, that is perfectly indifferent to me. Cela ne fait ni froid ni chaud à l'affaire, that matter advances nor retards the affair—that is nothing to the affair.

FROID, E, adj. cold. C'est un pays froid, it is a cold country. Les matinées sont froides, mornings are to be cold. Ce vêtement est trop froid pour le temps, this dress is too thin—too cold for the season. Il fait un temps froid, it is cold weather.

Tous les mets sont froids, all the dishes are cold. Il nous a donné un déjeuner froid, he gave us a cold breakfast. (T. de médecine.) Les semences froides, cold seeds. Les humeurs froides, cold humours. (T. de cuisine.) Il ne nous a donné que des viandes froides, he gave us cold viands only (ham, tongue, meat, &c.).

(Fig.) C'est un homme froid, he is a cold man. C'est une âme froide, he is cold hearted. Il nous a fait un froid accueil, he gave us a cold reception—he received us coldly. Tout le monde demeura froid, every one remained unmoved—cold. C'est une tête froide, he is cool headed. Il a fait le froid, he looked unconcerned—disinterested. Il lui répondit avec un froid mépris, he replied with cold contempt. Il a l'air froid, his manner is cold. Son style est froid, his style is cold—tame. Ce dessin est froid, that drawing is cold.

De sang froid, in cold blood. Il commit le crime de sang froid, he committed the crime coolly—unconcernedly. Il n'écoutait pas de sang froid, he did not listen coolly—oolly—in cold blood. Je suis de sang froid, I am —in cold blood. Perdre son sang froid, to lose s coolness.

I se trouve rien de trop chaud, ni de trop froid, he s every thing—every thing suits him. La cuisine otte maison est bien froide, they keep a poor table— cook little enough in that house.

ROID, (employé comme adv.). Battre à froid, to mer cold (iron, gold, &c.). Je ne sais pas pourquoi e bat froid, I do not know why he is so cold to me. attit froid à ma proposition, he received my proposal y—he threw cold water on my proposal. A froid, y; in cold blood.

ROIDEMENT, adv. coldly; (fig.), coldly; coolly.

ROIDEUR, s. f. coldness; (fig.), coolness; cold- ; cold blood. Il y a de la froideur entre eux, there oldness—coolness, between them. Vos froideurs me ssent, your coldness repulses me.

ROIDIR, v. a. v. n. rég. 2*de conj.* (voyez Punir), et cold. Son amitié s'est bientôt froidie. Voyez roidir.

ROIDURE, s. f. coldness; cold; cold season; (poé- sant), winter.

ROIDUREUX, EUSE, adj. Voyez Frileux.

ROISSEMENT, s. m. rubbing; crushing; bruising.

ROISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bruise. Je suis froissé, I am bruised all over. Froisser des cailloux contre l'autre, to rub stones one against another. Il a la lettre dans sa main, he crumpled the letter in and. Vous avez froissé votre robe, you have rumpled dress.

fig.) Il ne faut pas froisser l'opinion des autres, must not clash with the opinion of others. Cela ue mes intérêts, that clashes with my interests. Pour- le froissez-vous, why do you hurt his feelings? Les s étaient froissés, their hearts were wounded.

ROISSURE, s. f. bruise; bruising; rumple; rump-

RÔLEMENT, s. m. rumpling. Nous entendions le ment des feuilles, we heard the rumpling—the light —of the dead leaves. Je sentis le frôlement de sa I felt the slight touch of her dress. Le frôlement de ngue contre le palais, the light touch—the grazing— tongue against the palate.

RÔLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to touch lightly; to OMAGE, s. m. cheese. Fromage de lait de chèvre, milk cheese. Fromage à la crême, cream cheese. égoutter des fromages, to drain cheese. Fromage à ce, ice cream cheese. Fromage de cochon, sausage cheese.

fig.) Entre la poire et le fromage, at the end of the . Manger du fromage, to fret—to be dissatisfied. des fromages (t. de jeu), to make cheeses.

OMAGER, s. m. } cheesemonger.

OMAGERE, s. f. }

OMAGER, s. m. cheese mould.

OMAGER, s. m. (t. de bot.), wool-tree.

OMAGERIE, s. f. cheese factory.

OMAGEUX, EUSE, adj. cheesy; caseous.

OMENT, s. m. wheat corn. Froment barbu, bearded . Pain de froment, wheaten bread.

OMENTACÉE, adj. (t. de bot.), frumentaceous.

OMENTÉE, s. f. Manger de la fromentée, to eat ey.

ONCEMENT, s. m. Le froncement des sourcils, itting—frowning—of one's brows.

ONCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Pourquoi froncez- les sourcils ainsi, why do you knit your brows so— do you frown? Cela fronce la peau, that puckers s—makes the skin all rugged. La peau de ce ommence à se froncer, the skin of that fruit is begin- to become rugged. (T. de couturière), to gather.

ONCIS, s. m. gathering; folds.

ONDE, s. f. sling (to throw stones with). (Parti ique dans la minorité de Louis XIV. 1648—1652.) uerre de la Fronde commença à propos de quelques Bursaux, the war of the Fronde began on account of some financial edicts. (T. de chirurg.), a bandage in the form of a sling.

FRONDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sling; to hurl; to throw. Fronder des pierres, to throw stones with a sling —to throw stones. Les enfants s'amusaient à fronder, the children amused themselves with a sling—with throwing stones with a sling. Il lui fronda une assiette à la tête, he hurled a dish at his head.

(Fig.) Un conseiller du Parlement dit un jour (1645) qu'il frouderait l'opinion de son adversaire, a councillor said he would hurl his opposition against, i. e. oppose—blame—attack—the opinion of his adversary. Cet homme fronde tout, that man blames—opposes—finds fault with —every thing.

FRONDEUR, s. m. slinger; man armed with a sling. C'est un habile frondeur, he is very dexterous with a sling. (Fig.) C'est un frondeur éternel, he is ever blaming—finding fault with—criticising—things. On rencontre toujours des frondeurs, one always meets with censurers—fault-finders.

FRONT, s. m. forehead. Il a le front large, he has a broad forehead. Il a des rides au front, his forehead is wrinkled. Il avait un diadême sur le front, he wore the diadem on his brow—the diadem encircled his forehead—his brow. Mon cheval a une étoile au milieu du front, my horse has a star in the middle of his forehead. (Fig.) La rougeur couvrait son front, a blush covered her brow. Allons, allons, déridez votre front, come, come, smooth that brow. Levez le front, look up—show your face. Il courba son front sous le malheur, he bends—humbles—his look under misfortune. Il a toujours le front riant, he always wears a smiling countenance. Prendre un front sévère, to put on a severe countenance. Il n'oserait pas montrer son front, he would not dare to show his face. D'un front toujours égal, with unmoved countenance. Sur son front, on his face. C'est un homme qui n'a point de front—sans front, he is a man without shame. Il faut avoir un front d'airain pour soutenir de pareilles choses, you must be brazen-faced to maintain such things. Quel front, what impudence—how brazen faced! Il eut le front de venir ici, he had the hardihood—the boldness—to come hither. De quel front vient-il ici, by what right does he—how can he be so impudent as to—come here? C'est un front qui ne rougit jamais, it is one of those faces which never blushes. Avoir du front, to have boldness. (Fig.) Ces rochers cachent leur front dans les nues, these rocks hide their heads in the clouds.

Conduire les affaires de front, to manage, conduct affairs abreast. Ils marchaient de front, they walked abreast. (T. milit.) Attaquer l'ennemi de front, to attack the enemy openly—in front. Le front d'une armée, the front of an army. Le front du bastion, the front of the bastion. Le front de bandière, the line of a camp—of an army. Faire front, to oppose—to stand against—to face.

FRONTAL, E, adj. frontal.

FRONTAL, s. m. (t. de chirurg.), frontlet; a band round the head.

FRONTEAU, s. m. frontlet; (t. de manége), head band.

FRONTIÈRE, s. f. frontier. Adj. C'est une place frontière, it is a frontier town.

FRONTISPICE, s. m. frontispiece.

FRONTON, s. m. pediment.

FROTTAGE, s. m. Le frottage d'un plancher, the rubbing—brushing—of the floor.

FROTTEMENT, s. m. rubbing.

FROTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rub. Frottez-lui la tête avec un morceau de flanelle, rub his head with a piece of flannel. Il se frottait les mains de joie, he rubbed his hands with joy. On frotta la blessure avec de l'huile, they rubbed his wound with oil. Elle est toujours à frotter ses meubles, she is always rubbing her furniture. En France, on frotte les appartements, in France, they brush—they rub—they rub with wax—the floors.

(Fig.) Il a été frotté d'importance, he was severely beaten. Je lui frotterai les oreilles, I will box his ears.

Je lui frotterai les oreilles s'il n'est pas sage, I will chastise him—I will pull his ears, if he does not behave well. Ne vous frottez pas à cet homme-là, have nothing to do with that man. Je ne vous conseille pas de vous y frotter, I do not advise you to have any thing to do with it—to meddle with it. Qui s'y frotte s'y pique, whoever meddles with it, will suffer for it.

FROTTEUR, s. m. a person who cleans apartments—

FROTTEUSE, s. f. } rubs and brushes floors, &c.

FROTTOIR, s. m. rubbing cloth; scrubbing brush. (T. de machine électrique), cushion.

FROUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse), to pipe (to catch birds).

FRUCTIDOR, s. m. Twelfth month of the Republican year. Voyez Calendrier Républicain.

FRUCTIFÈRE, adj. fructiferous; bearing fruit.

FRUCTIFICATION, s. f. fructifying; fructification.

FRUCTIFIER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fructify; to bear fruit. (Fig.) Vos avis ont bien fructifié, your advice has borne good fruit.

FRUCTUEUSEMENT, adv. fruitfully; with fruit; with success.

FRUCTUEUX, EUSE, adj. fruitful; fruit bearing; fecund.

FRUGAL, E, adj. (L'Académie dit que cet adjectif n'a point de pluriel masculin; cependant on voit quelquefois, "frugaux" et "frugals.") C'est un homme extrêmement frugal, he is a very frugal man. Nous fîmes un repas frugal, we made a frugal repast.

FRUGALEMENT, adv. frugally.

FRUGALITÉ, s. f. frugality.

FRUGIVORE, adj. frugivorous; who lives on fruit.

FRUIT, s. m. fruit. J'aime le fruit, I like—am fond of—fruit. Le fruit n'est pas encore mur, the fruit is not ripe yet. C'est un fruit doux, it is a sweet fruit. Il y a un grand nombre d'arbres à fruit dans mon jardin, there is a great quantity of fruit trees in my garden. Fruit précoce, hâtif, early fruit. Fruit à noyau, stone fruit. Fruit à pepin, kernel fruit (apples, pears). Fruit à confiture, dessert fruit. Fruits rouges, early fruit, (cherries, gooseberries, raspberries, strawberries). Des fruits secs, dried fruit. Fruits à l'eau de vie, fruit preserved in brandy. Conserver des fruits, to preserve fruits. On n'aurait pas encore servi le fruit, they had not yet brought in the fruit. (Fig.) Il est le seul fruit de leur union, he is the only child of their marriage. Elle a détruit son fruit, she destroyed her child.

Les fruits de la terre, the fruits—the produce—of the earth. Cette terre n'est pas à moi, je n'en ai que les fruits, this estate is not mine, I have only the produce of it. Les fruits naturels, the natural produce (as wood, hay, cattle). Les fruits industriels, agricultural produce (as wine, corn, &c.). Les fruits civils, rents, income, (from lands, houses, &c.).

(Fig.) Advantage, result, effect. Je n'ai tiré aucun fruit de cette affaire, I derived no fruit—no advantage, from this affair. C'est le fruit de vos soins, it is the result—the fruit—of your care. J'ai travaillé sans fruit, I worked without good resulting from it—without fruit—uselessly. Ses efforts ne tardèrent pas à porter leur fruit, his endeavours soon bore their fruit. Travailler avec fruit, to work with effect—with happy results. Faire du fruit, to do much good.

FRUIT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), reduction in thickness; inclination.

FRUITÉ, adj. (t. de blason), fructed.

FRUITERIE, s. f. fruit loft; fruitery; fruit trade—business; fruit office.

FRUITIER, s. m. }
FRUITIÈRE, s. f. } fruiterer.

FRUITIER, s. m. fruit loft; fruitery.

FRUITIER, adj. m. Arbre fruitier, fruit-tree; fruit bearer.

FRUITION, s. f. fruition; enjoyment.

FRUSQUIN, s. m. (mot familier, pron. fruce-quin), all one has.

FRUSTE, adj. (pron. fruce-te), defaced; spoiled by time.

FRUSTRATOIRE, adj. (pron. fruce-tra-toire), frustratory.

FRUSTRATOIRE, s. m. (t. de métier., pron. fruce-tra-toire), digester; hot drink; negus.

FRUSTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to frustrate.

FUCUS, s. m. (t. d'hist. naturelle, pron. fu-cus), sea-weed.

FUGACE, adj. (t. de métier. et de bot.), fugitive; of short duration.

FUGITIF, TIVE, adj. fugitive. (En poésie.) Vers fugitives, light pieces.

FUGUE, s. f. (t. de musique), fugue. (Fig.) Faire une fugue, to run away.

FUIE, s. f. small pigeon-house.

FUIR, v. n. v. a. unclassed. Fuir; fuyant, e; je fuie; je fuis, fis, &c.; je fuyais, &c.; je fuis, fis, &c.; je fuirais, &c.; que je fuie, &c.; que je fusse, &c.; qu'il fuie; fuyons, fuyez, qu'ils fuient. Les troupes commencèrent à fuir, the troops began to fly. Il a fui, he has fled—run away. Le sommeil fuit de mes yeux, sleep flies—has deserted—my eyes. Le sommeil fuit le coupable, sleep flies away from the guilty. Fuyez cet homme, il vous trompera, fly from—escape—avoid—the man, for he will deceive you. On ne peut fuir sa destinée, it is impossible to avoid—to escape—to run from—one's fate. Ces hommes se fuient, these men avoid one another. Pourquoi me fuyez-vous? why do you fly me? Se fuir soi-même, to flee from one's self.

(Fig.) L'hiver a fui, le printemps lui succède, winter has fled; the spring succeeds it. Cette succession ne saurait lui fuir, this succession cannot escape him. (T. de peinture.) Ces objets ne fuient pas, these objects do not recede.

Ce tonneau fuit, this cask runs.

Voyez S'Enfuir.

FUITE, s. f. flight. Chercher son salut dans la fuite, to seek one's safety in flight. Sa fuite précipitée ne le permit pas, his hasty—his precipitate—flight did not allow us to do it. La fuite des années, the flight of years. Leur fuite eut lieu dans la nuit, their flight—their escape took place in the night. Mettre les gens en fuite, to put the people to flight—to drive them away. Prendre la fuite, to take to flight—to run away—to flee. Être en fuite, to run away—to have escaped. La fuite du vice, the running away from vice. (Fig.) Vous usez de fuite pour ne pas dire la vérité, you have recourse to evasion—to shuffling—to avoid speaking the truth.

Fuite de gaz, escape of gas. La fuite du vin, the leaking—the running—of wine.

FULGURATION, s. f. (t. de chimie), fulguration.

FULIGINEUX, EUSE, adj. fuliginous.

FULGURAL, E, adj. concerning lightning.

FULMINANT, E, adj. fulminating; thunder. Poudre fulminante, fulminating powder.

FULMINATION, s. f. fulmination.

FULMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fulminate—to thunder; (fig.), to vent one's passion; to storm.

FUMAGE, s. m. lackering.

FUMANT, E, adj. smoking; hot; smoking hot. Une épée de sang fumant, a sword reeking with blood. Les murs étaient encore fumants de carnage, the walls were still smoking with slaughter. Fumant de colère, quite fuming with anger.

FUMÉE, s. f. smoke. La fumée nous empêchait de voir, the smoke prevented our seeing. Des tourbillons de fumées s'élevaient dans l'air, volumes of smoke rose in the air. Ce tableau est noirci par la fumée, this picture is all smoky—is all blackened by smoke. La fumée du tabac, the smoke, the smell of must. Noir de fumée, lamp black. On apercevait la fumée des vaisseaux, you saw the smoke—the steam—of the steam-vessels afar. (Fig.) Il n'y a point de fumée sans feu, where there is smoke there is fire. Tous ses honneurs furent en allèrent en fumée, all his fine plans vanished into smoke. C'est un vendeur de fumée, he is a seller of empty promises. Manger son pain à la fumée du rôt, to witness the pleasures—the enjoyments—of others without having any share of them. Il se repaît—il nourrit

…he feels an smoke—on empty things. Les fumées …meil, de l'ambition, the fumes of pride, of ambition. …ée s'attache au blanc, black smoke sticks to any …hite—i. e. calumny sticks to innocence. …élava une fumée de la plaine, de la rivière, a fog—…an exhalation—rose from the plain—from the …

…de chasse.) Les fumées du cerf, the fumets of the …

…IER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le volcan fumait …the volcano was still smoking. Cette cheminée …his chimney smokes. Il fume dans cette chambre, …es in this room. Comme les chevaux fument, the …are smoking. Les prés fument, the meadows are …g. La terre fumait encore de leur sang, the earth …ll smoking—reeking—with their blood. Fumez-… do you smoke? Je fumais un cigare, I was …g a cigar. Fumer une pipe, to smoke a pipe. Il …ouvent sans pipe, he smokes—he fumes—often …a pipe. Je l'ai fait fumer, I vexed him—I an-…im.

(agric.) Fumer une terre, to dung—to manure—

(T. de cuis.) Fumer un jambon, to smoke a ham. …un jambon dans la cheminée pour qu'il se fume, to …a ham in the chimney to smoke.

…IERON, s. m. smoky coal, wood; smoky ember.

…IET, s. m. game taste. Ce gibier a beaucoup de this game is very high. Ces perdrix n'ont pas de these birds are not high—have no taste.

…ETERRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), fumitory.

…EUR, s. m. } smoker.
…EUSE, s. f. }

…EUX, EUSE, adj. Ce vin est fumeux, this wine …sends vapours to the head.

…IER, s. m. dung; dunghill. (Fig.) Cela n'est …mier, this is mere dross—trash.

…IGATION, s. f. (t. de médec. et de chimie), fumi-

…IGATOIRE, adj. perfuming; smoking. Boîte …oire, fumigating box—instrument.

…IGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to per-…o purify by fire or smoke.

…ISTE, s. m. a tradesman who attends to chimnies, …AMBULE, s. m. f. (mot composé du Latin funis— …rope-dancer; funambulist.

…ÈBRE, adj. funereal; (fig.), gloomy, sad, of bad Cette image funèbre sera toujours présente à mes …at sad—sorrowful—image will ever be present …e.

…ÉRIR, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to rig (a …e.

…RAILLES, s. f. plur. On fera ses funérailles his funeral will take place to-morrow. On lui …unérailles superbes, his funeral was very grand. …i à ses funérailles, I attended his funeral.

…RAIRE, adj. funereal; funeral.

…STE, adj. (prov. fu-nèce-te), fatal; (fig.), fatal; …lancholy; hurtful.

…STEMENT, adv. fatally; (fig.), unhappily, …ly.

…STER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to exercise a fatal …on—to sadden.

…CULAIRE, adj. funicular; (t. de mécanique), by …ropes.

…N, s. m. (t. de marine). Franc funin, white, un-…e. Funin, running rigging, rope.

…s. m. Au fur et à mesure, in proportion as, with,

…(Fur, says Mr. Bécherelle, comes from Forum, …sentence would mean "according to the value …tity of things done or supplied.")

…T, s. m. ferret. Chasser au furet, to hunt with …. (Fig.) Cet homme est un vrai furet, he is a …he is a man who pries into every thing.

…TAGE, s. m. ferreting; hunting with ferrets; …reting; hunting; prying into.

…TER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hunt with the …fig.), to ferret out; to search; to pry into things.

Il est toujours à fureter des nouvelles, he is ever after news.

FURETEUR, s. m. } ferreter. Fureteur de nouvelles, FURETEUSE, s. f. } news-hunter.

FUREUR, s. f. rage; fury; madness. Mettre une personne en fureur, to drive one to madness—to make a man furious. Quand sa fureur lui prend, when his rage—his fury—comes upon him. Il entre en fureur, he becomes furious—mad. Aimer avec fureur—à la fureur, to love to distraction—to madness. N'irritez point sa fureur, do not excite his rage—his passion. Il était transporté de fureur, he was beside himself with rage—with passion. La fureur l'emporte, il ne sait ce qu'il dit, his rage is master of him, he knows not what he says. Il était en fureur, he was mad with anger—he was furious. Avec fureur, with rage; furiously. Sauvez-moi de sa fureur, save me from his rage—fury. Les fureurs poétiques, poetical frenzy. Il est saisi d'une fureur divine, he is seized with divine ardour—rapture, &c. Les fureurs de l'amour, the transports of love. Les fureurs de la guerre, the disasters—havoc—rage—of war. La fureur de l'orage, the fury—the violence—of the storm.

Il a la fureur de faire des vers, he has a rage for making verses. Elle a la fureur de se mêler des affaires des autres, she has a terrible inclination—a rage—to meddle with the affairs of others. C'est une fureur, it is a rage. Cette mode fait fureur, that fashion is quite the rage. Il a la fureur du jeu, he has a passion for gambling.

Fureurs utérines (t. de médec.), furor uterinus.

FURIBOND, E, adj. furious; mad. Il lui faisait des yeux furibonds, he looked at her furiously. s. m. f. C'est un furibond, he is a furious man.

FURIE, s. f. Il était en furie, he was furious—he was in a fury. Dans sa furie le lion s'élançait sur lui, in his fury the lion sprang upon him. Dans la furie du combat, in the rage—the fury of the battle. Laissez passer cette première furie, let their ardour—their impetuosity pass away.

FURIE, s. f. Oreste était tourmenté par les furies, Orestes was tormented by the furies. (Fig.) C'est une furie que cette femme-là, that woman is a very fury. Ce créancier est comme une furie attachée à ses pas, that creditor, fury like, follows all his steps.

FURIEUSEMENT, adv. furiously; with rage; (fig.), prodigiously; terribly.

FURIEUX, SE, adj. furious. Il est devenu furieux, he became furious—violent. Il la regardait d'un air furieux, he cast upon her furious—angry—looks. Il est furieux de leur résistance, he is furious—mad—at their resistance. Il est furieux d'avoir été trompé, he is furious—enraged—at having been deceived. Il est furieux que son dessein n'ait pas réussi, he is furious that his plan did not succeed. Nous avons eu une tempête furieuse, we had a furious tempest. (Fig.) Vous me donnez là une furieuse tâche, you inflict upon me a terrible task. Ils faisaient une furieuse dépense, they were incurring a terrible—an extravagant—expense. Il lui donna un furieux coup de poing, he gave him a desperate—terrible blow. (T. de blason.) D'azur au taureau furieux, azure with a bull rampant.

FURIEUX, s. m. } madman; mad woman.
FURIEUSE, s. f. }

FURIN, s. m. (T. de marine.) Le pilote nous conduisit en furin, the pilot took our ship into deep water—the offing.

FUROLLES, s. f. exhalations from the earth—from the sea.

FURONCLE, s. m. Il lui est venu un furoncle au bras, a furuncle—a boil—came on his arm.

FURTIF, IVE, adj. furtive—ly; by stealth. Il entra d'un pas furtif, he entered by stealth—with furtive steps. Il lui jetait à la dérobée des œillades furtives, he cast stealthy looks at her. Il sentit une main furtive qui se glissait dans sa poche, he felt a sly hand getting into his pocket.

FURTIVEMENT, adv. secretly; by stealth; clandestinely.

GAIETÉ, s. f. D'où vient cette gaieté, whence comes ...is mirth—this merriment? Il a montré beaucoup de gaieté dans le caractère, he showed a very cheerful disposition. Il a repris sa gaieté, he has recovered his cheerfulness—his cheerful disposition. Il a de la gaieté, he is cheerful—he has cheerfulness in him. Il y a de la gaieté dans son style, his style is cheerful. Il l'a fait de gaieté de cœur, he did it wantonly—deliberately.

Ne vous permettez pas de ces petites gaietés, do not allow yourself these jokes, another time.

GAILLARD, s. m. Il lui envoya un gros gaillard, he GAILLARDE, s. f. sent him a lusty fellow. Que ferez-vous de ce gaillard là? what will you make of that fellow? C'est un gaillard, he is a merry fellow—he is a hearty fellow. Défiez-vous de lui, c'est un gaillard, mind him, he is a merry fellow. C'est une gaillarde, she is a merry woman—a bold woman.

GAILLARD, E, adj. Vous êtes bien gaillard aujourd'hui, you are very merry to-day. Il est d'humeur gaillarde, he is of a merry humour. Cet homme est encore gaillard malgré son âge, that man is still hearty spite of his age. Prenez garde, il est un peu gaillard, mind, he is rather gay. Tenir des propos gaillards, to speak freely—to say smutty things. Ils sortirent de table très-gaillards, they left the table rather merry—tipsy. Vous conviendrez que cela est gaillard, you will own that that is bold.

(T. de marine.) Il fait un vent gaillard, it blows a brisk wind.

GAILLARD, s. m. (t. de marine). Le gaillard d'avant, the forecastle. Le gaillard d'arrière, the quarter-deck.

GAILLARDE, s. f. sort of merry-dance. (T. d'imprimerie), bourgeois.

GAILLARDEMENT, adv. merrily; (fam.), boldly.

GAILLARDISE, s. m. cheerfulness; frolic. Il l'a fait par gaillardise, he did it in a frolic—in joke. (Fam.) Dire des gaillardises, to say smutty things.

GAIN, s. m. Il fait un gain considérable, his gain—his profit—is considerable. Il vit de son gain, he lives upon his profit. Voici le gain de la soirée, here is the winning of the evening. Le gain de cette bataille leur fait honneur, the winning of that battle does them great honour. On lui donne gain de cause, they say he has gained his cause. J'ai gain de cause, I have won the cause.

GAÎNE, s. f. sheath; case. (T. de bot.), case.

GAÎNIER, s. m. sheath—case—maker. (T. de bot.), judas tree.

GAÎTÉ, s. f. Voyez Gaieté.

GALA, s. m. gala. Il était en habit de gala, he was in his gala dress. C'est jour de gala aujourd'hui, to-day is gala day.

GALAMMENT, adv. Il se conduit galamment envers toutes les dames, he always shows gallantry—he always behaves politely to the ladies. Il a fait les choses galamment, he did the thing handsomely—like a gentleman. Il s'habille galamment, he dresses with good taste—in good style.

GALANT, s. m. Il fait le galant auprès des dames,

GALANTE, s. f. he is gallant with—attentive to—the ladies. (Fam.) Tout à coup le galant prit la fuite, all on a sudden the fellow ran away. C'est le galant de toutes les dames, he is the lover—the admirer—of every lady. C'est un galant, prenez garde, he is sweet with the ladies, mind him. Il fait le galant auprès des dames, he is very attentive to the ladies. Notre galant s'avisa d'un tour singulier, our fine fellow took it into his head to play a singular trick. C'est un vert galant, he is still a spark.

GALANT, E, adj. C'est un galant homme, he is an honest man. Il s'est tiré de cette affaire en galant homme, he got out of this affair like an honest man. Vous êtes un galant homme d'être venu nous voir, you are a fine fellow to have come to see us. Vous seriez un galant homme, si vous veniez ce soir, you would be a fine fellow, if you came this evening.

C'est un homme galant, he is a gallant man—he is a lady's man. Il a l'esprit galant, l'humeur galante, he is naturally gallant. Il lui disait des choses galantes, he was telling her sweet—pretty—things.

Tout ce qu'il dit et fait est galant, all he does and says is in good taste—is stylish—a gentlemanly. Ceci est galant, this costume is in good taste—is fashionable. Rien de plus galant que son boudoir, there is nothing more elegant—more pleasing—than her sitting-room. Voilà un repas tout à fait galant, this feast is quite stylish. Femme galante, gay woman.

GALANTERIE, s. f. gallantry. Il est de la plus grande galanterie dans tout ce qu'il fait, he acts with gallantry—he shows polite attention—in every thing he does. Il a beaucoup de galanterie auprès des femmes, he is very gallant—very polite—with the ladies—he is full of attention to the ladies. Dire des galanteries, to make—to say—sweet things. Cette galanterie lui a plu, the compliment pleased her. C'est une galanterie que de faire, it is an attention—a polite attention—a compliment —he pays to you. Il donna des galanteries aux dames, he made presents to the ladies. La galanterie est un peu forte, the trick is rather too plain.

Elle a eu des galanteries dans sa jeunesse, she had her affairs—adventures—in her youth. Elle aime la galanterie, she is fond of gallantry, of love intrigues.

GALANTIN, s. m. C'est un galantin, he is a fellow with his gallantry—he is an affected fellow.

GALANTINE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), (sort of mince meat, mixed up with many ingredients and then served as a savoury cold dish; it is served up with jelly). Galantine de poulet; galantine de veau, de faisan, &c.

GALANTISER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to pay gallant with—to court—the ladies.

GALAXIE, s. f. (t. d'astron.), galaxy; milky way.

GALBANUM, s. m. (pron. gal-ba-nome), a plant—the gum drawn from it. Galbanum, (fam. et fig.) vous nous donnez là du galbanum, you trick us—you deceive us—you give us false hopes. (T. d'antiquité), sort of green or yellow colour.

GALE, s. f. itch. Il est couvert de gale, he is covered with the itch. Il a attrapé la gale, he has caught the itch. Il a la gale aux mains, he has the itch in his hands. (Fam.) Cet enfant a la gale à la tête, that child has a scald head. (Maladie des animaux), scab; mange. (Fig. et fam.) Il est méchant comme la gale, he is bad as the itch. Il n'a pas la gale aux dents, he has the itch in his teeth, i. e. he eats with good appetite. (T. de bot.), scurf.

GALÉ, s. m. (t. de bot.), sweet myrtle.

GALÉE, s. f. (t. d'imprim.), galley.

GALÉACE, s. f. sort of galley.

GALÈGE, s. m. (t. de bot.), goat's rue.

GALÈNE, s. f. (t. de mineral.), galena; glance.

GALÉNIQUE, adj. according to Galen; Galenic.

GALÉNISME, s. m. Galenism; system of Galen.

GALÉNISTE, s. m. a disciple, a follower of Galen; Galenist.

GALÉOPSIS, s. m. (t. de bot.), galeopsis; dead nettle.

GALER, Se, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rub one's self—those who have the itch.

GALÈRE, s. f. (autrefois vaisseau de guerre), galley; ship. Il commandait une galère du roi, he commanded one of the king's galleys or ships. La chiourme d'une galère, the crew of a galley. Tenir galère, to keep a galley at one's expense; (as formerly, among the Knights of Malta).

(T. moderne.) Il est condamné aux galères à perpétuité, he is condemned to the galleys—to the hulks—to hard labour—for the term of his life. Les galères sont à Brest, Rochefort, L'Orient, Toulon, the hulks—the convicts—are at Brest, Rochefort, L'Orient, Toulon. C'est un échappé de galères, he has escaped from the galleys—from the hulks—from hard labour.

(Fig., fam.) Voyez la galère! toujours sur cette galère! Cette place est une vraie galère, this place is very hard—you might as well be a convict. Vous faites là un travail de galère, you are doing the work of a galley-slave. Mais que diable allait-il faire dans cette galère?

…se, taken from the eleventh scene of the second act of …tière's Fourberies de Scapin, has become proverbial), …what the deuce had he to do in that galley—i. e.— …t business had he to go there?

…ALERIE, s. f. gallery. Avez-vous vu la galerie …Louvre? have you seen the Louvre gallery? Il a …belle galerie de portraits, he has a beautiful gallery …ortraits. Cette galerie règne tout autour de la cour, …gallery goes all round the court. (T. de théâtre.) …ait à la galerie, I was in the gallery. (T. de marine.) …alerie d'arrière, the stern gallery. (T. de fortif.)

…fig.) La galerie décida en ma faveur, the standers- …lakers-on—decided in my favour. Je ne me soucie …d'amuser la galerie, I do not care to amuse the …rs-on—the spectators—the public. Elle est d'un …faire galerie, she is of an age to look on—to be …flower.

…LÉRIEN, s. m. convict; galley slave. Les galériens …chaînés deux à deux, the convicts are chained two …wo. (Fig.) Mener une vie de galérien, to lead a …ife—to live like a galley slave. Je travaille comme …lérien, mais j'avance, I work hard—I work like a …but I get on.

…LERNE, s. f. (t. de marine). Il souffle un vent de …, it blows a north-westerly wind.

…LET, s. m. La côte est couverte de galets, this …s covered with shingle. Nous nous promenions …galet, we were walking on the shingle—(more …) on the strand. Jouer au galet, to play at shuffle- …hole.

…ETTE, s. m. (sort of flat, thin cake). La galette …gal du bas peuple, galette is the treat of the lower …. (T. de marine), biscuit; sea biscuit.

…EUX, EUSE, adj. itchy; having the itch. (Fig.) …ent galeux se gratte, let him scratch who has the …whom the cap fits let him wear it. s. m. f. On …aleux dans une chambre séparée, those who have …are put in a separate room. C'est un galeux, …e itch.

…ien galeux, a mangy dog. Arbre galeux, a scurfy …ne brebis galeuse, a scabby sheep.

…HAUBAN, s. m. (t. de marine), back stay.

…LÉE, s. f. (t. de géog.), Galilee.

…LÉEN, s. m. adj. (pron. Ga-li-lé-en), Galilean.

…LÉENNE, s. f. adj. (pron. Ga-li-lé-ène), Galilean …Galilean.

…MAFRE, s. m. a mountebank exhibition (in …f Napoleon's empire, now abolished).

…MAFRÉE, s. f. a hash (made of all sorts of …a hotchpot; gallimaufrey. Il ramassa tous les …t il leur fit une galimafrée, he gathered all the …together and made a hotchpot with them.

…MATHIAS, s. m. (pron. ga-li-ma-tiâ). (Galli …as once said, instead of gallus Mathiæ, by a bar- …was pleading and got confused.) Je ne com- …m à ce galimathias, I can make nothing of …erish. C'est du galimathias double, that is …ible both to you and to me.

…N, s. m. (t. de marine Espagnole), transport …loyed formerly in bringing silver and gold …Mexican and Peruvian mines to Spain). La …arrivée avec les galions, the fleet has arrived …alleons.

…TE, s. f. (t. de marine), galiot (ship going …nd oars). (T. d'artillerie maritime.) Galiote …omb ketch. (Communément.) Je suis venu …liote de St. Cloud, I came by the St. Cloud …[gall nut.

…OT, s. m. white resin.

… s. f. (t. de bot.), gall. Noix de galle,

…AN, E, adj. Gallican.

…ISME, s. m. Gallicism. Ses écrits sont …allicismes, his writings are full of Gallicisms.

GALLINACES, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), gallinaceous birds.

GALLIQUE, adj. (t. de chim.), gallic. L'acide gallique, the gallic acid. (T. d'hist.) Poésies galliques, gallic poetry.

GALLON, s. m. (t. de mesure pour les liquides), gallon.

GALOCHE, s. f. Il porte toujours des galoches, he always wears galoshes; socks. (Fig., fam.) Il a un menton de galoche, he has a long—pointed chin—.—he has a nut-cracker face.

GALOCHIER, s. m. galosh, sock maker.

GALON, s. m. lace. Son habit était couvert de galons d'or, his coat was covered with gold lace. (T. d'épicier), a box in which sweets are put.

GALONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lace. Il portait un habit tout galonné d'or, he wore a coat all laced with gold.

GALONNIER, s. m. gold, silver lace-maker.

GALOP, s. m. gallop. Ils allaient au grand galop, they were going at a full gallop. Nous allions au petit galop, we wear going at a hand gallop. Elle mit son cheval au galop, she put her horse into a gallop. Ce cheval va bien le galop, that horse gallops well. Prendre le galop, to get into a gallop.

(Fig.) Il s'en va le grand galop, he is going away as fast as he can. Je ne pus pas le comprendre, car il allait le galop, I could not understand him, for he was speaking as fast as he could.

(T. de danse), gallop. Elle ne danse pas le galop, she does not danse the gallop.

GALOPADE, s. f. galloping. Il n'y a qu'une galopade, it is only a short gallop from here. Nous ferons une galopade après dîner, we shall take a short gallop after dinner.

GALOPER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gallop. (Fig.) Il galope jour et nuit, he is ever galloping—on the move—day and night. J'ai galopé par tout Paris sans pouvoir le trouver, I galloped all over Paris without being able to find it. Vous galopez; lisez plus doucement, you are going so fast! read more slowly. Ne galopez pas ce cheval, do not put that horse into a gallop. Les gendarmes le galopent, the gendarms are in pursuit of him—run after him—.—pursue him. La peur le galope, fear has taken hold of him. La fièvre le galope, he has a violent fever upon him.

GALOPIN, s. m. an errand boy; a scallion. (Fig.), young rogue; boy. (Par mépris), blackguard, low fellow. (Mesure de vin), half a pint.

GALOUBET, s. m. a flute (having three holes only; it is still played upon, in Provence, with the tambourine).

GALUCHAT, s. m. sea-dog skin (used in covering boxes, scabbards, &c.).

GALVANIQUE, adj. (t. de physique), galvanic.

GALVANISME, s. m. galvanism.

GALVANISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to galvanize. (Fig.), to restore life; to animate.

GALVANO-MAGNÉTIQUE, adj. galvano-magnetic.

GALVANO-MAGNÉTISME, s. m. galvano-magnetism.

GALVANOMÈTRE, s. galvanometer.

GALVARDINE, s. f. galvardine; loose great coat.

GALVAUDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ill use people with words; to spoil things. Il eut bientôt galvaudé toute sa fortune, he had soon squandered—dilapidated his fortune.

GAMACHES, s. f. pl. spatterdashes; great boots worn over all.

GAMBADE, s. f. gambol. Faire des gambades, to play gambols—to gambol. Il faisait mille gambades de joie, he leapt with joy. (Fig.) Payer en gambades, to pay one with tricks—with grimaces. Voyez Monnaie de singe.

GAMBADER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to gambol; to skip; to play tricks.

GAMBADELETTE, s. f. little leaps; little tricks.

GAMBADEUR, s. m. } one who skips, dances, gam-GAMBADEUSE, s. f. } bols.

GAMBILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Cet enfant ne fait que gambiller, that child is ever moving—kicking his legs about—is never still.

GAMBIT, s. m. (t. de jeu d'échecs). Jouer le gambit, to play the king's or the queen's, or the bishop's pawn two squares.

GAMELLE, s. f. bowl; porringer. (T. milit. et de marine.) Manger à la gamelle, to eat at a mess—to mess together. La gamelle des officiers, the officers' mess or table.

GAMIN, s. m. street boy; brat. Vous agissez en gamin, you act like a boy. Le gamin de Paris, the Parisian street boy. (Gamine is seldom used.)

GAMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (famil.), to play in the streets; to play tricks in the streets.

GAMINERIE, s. f. boy's tricks.

GAMME, s. f. (t. de musique), gamut; scale. Il apprend la gamme, he is learning the gamut. Il passe la journée à faire des gammes, he spends the day in running the scales.

(Fig.) Chanter à quelqu'un sa gamme, to scold one—to reprimand him. Changer de gamme, to alter one's tone. Je lui ferai changer de gamme, I will make him alter his tone—his tune. Je ne sais pas ce qu'il a, mais il est hors de gamme, I don't know what is the matter with him, but he is confused—he is out of sorts.

GANACHE, s. f. nether jaws of a horse. Ce cheval est chargé de ganache, that horse has a heavy lower jaw. (Fig.) Napoléon disait que l'Empereur d'Allemagne était une ganache, Napoleon used to say that the Emperor of Germany was a nincompoop—thick sculled fellow.

GANGLION, s. m. (t. de chirurgie et d'anat.), ganglion.

GANGRÈNE, s. f. (t. de chirurg., pron. can-grè-ne), gangrene; mortification. On ne put arrêter la gangrène, they could not stop the gangrene. On craint que la gangrène ne s'y mette, they fear lest it should gangrene—mortify.

GANGRENER, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Sa jambe se gangrène, his leg is mortifying—gangrening. Sa jambe est gangrenée, his leg has mortified. Il fallut couper le bras gangrené, they were obliged to amputate the gangrened—gangrenous arm. (Fig.) Il a l'âme gangrenée, his mind is corrupt.

GANGRENEUX, EUSE, adj. gangrenous.

GANGUE, s. f. (t. de minéralogie), gangue. Ce métal a pour gangue une terre sablonneuse, the matrix of that metal is a sandy soil.

GANSE, s. f. (t. de passementier), braid; edging. (Boutonnière), loop.

GANT, s. m. glove. Gants de peau, leather gloves. Gants de peau de chèvre, de chevreau, kid gloves. Des gants de daim, de chamois, doe skin gloves. Gants de soie, silk gloves. Gants de fil, thread gloves. Mettez vos gants, put on your gloves. Otez vos gants, take off your gloves. Gants fourrés, gloves with the hair inside; fur gloves. (Fig.) Être souple comme un gant, to be as supple—as easy—as a glove. Vous n'en avez pas les gants, you have not the humour—the gloves—of it. Il s'en donne les gants, he takes the credit of it. L'amitié passe le gant, excuse my gloves—friends need not take their gloves off. Jeter le gant, to throw the glove—to challenge. Je ramasse le gant, I pick up the glove—I accept the challenge. Elle a perdu ses gants, she has had a love-adventure.

GANTE, s. f. a wooden brim (superadded to a caldron; t. de brasserie).

GANTELÉE, s. f. (t. de bot.), foxglove; sort of campanula.

GANTELET, s. m. (t. d'armure), gauntlet. (T. de métier), glove. (T. de chirurg.), bandage.

GANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put on gloves. Gantez-vous, put your gloves on. Il est toujours bien ganté, his gloves always fit him well. Ces gants me gantent bien, these gloves fit me well.

GANTERIE, s. f. glove-trade; the art of making gloves.

GANTIER, s. m. }
GANTIÈRE, s. f. } glover.

GARANCE, s. f. (t. de bot.), rubia; madder.

GARANCE, s. f. red colour. Les troupes prussiennes ont des pantalons garance en France, the troops are trowsers in France. Teindre en garance, to dye with madder.

GARANCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dye with madder—to dye red.

GARANT, E, adj. Tout homme est garant de ses faits et actions, every man is responsible for his actions. Je ne suis point garant de l'événement, I am not answerable for—I am not the guarantee of—the event. Répondez-vous garant de cet homme, will you be responsible for—will you be guarantee of—that man?—will you be that man's bondsman? Il cite pour garant de ses rêves, he gives such historian as a voucher for his dreams, he says. Ce qu'il a fait est le garant de ce qu'il fera, what he has done is the guarantee—the security—for what he will do.

GARANTIE, s. f. guarantee, —ty; security. J'ai vendu sa terre sans garantie, he sold his estate without giving any guarantee. Il m'a vendu cette montre avec garantie pour un an, he sold me that watch with a guarantee that it would go well for a year. Il me donne toutes les garanties possibles, he offers us every possible—security. Quelle garantie donnez-vous de cela? what security will you give me for it? Il s'oblige à me garantir si l'affaire manque, he obliges himself to make me good—to indemnify you—if the affair fails. Il jouit de la garantie des fonctionnaires publics, he enjoys the privilege attached to persons of public officers. Garantie individuelle, the protection of the law.

GARANTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Je garantis ma dette, I will warrant—guarantee—the debt. Si vous achetez mon cheval, je vous le garantis de tout défaut, if you buy my horse I warrant it free from all vice. Il me garantit Londres, he warrants them from London. Qui me garantit que vous reviendrez? who will guarantee me—assure me—that you will come again? Je vous garantis que cela ne se fera pas, I warrant you that it will not be so. Lui garantissez-vous le fait? will you warrant for—will you be a guarantee for—the fact? Je ne le garantirais pas, that may be, but I will not vouch for it—I would not be bound for it. Cela ne vous garantit-il pas son honnêteté? does not that assure you of his honesty—is not that a certificate that he is honest? On me l'a assuré, mais je ne garantis pas I have been assured of it, but still, I will not warrant it is true.

Qui me garantira des pertes? who will indemnify me for losses? Je vous garantis de tout inconvénient, I will guard you against all inconvenience.

Ce rideau me garantit du soleil, that curtain protects me against—keeps me from—the sun. Qui me garantira du danger? who will protect me against danger? Ce manteau vous garantira du froid, this cloak will secure you—will secure you against—will keep you from—cold. Je l'en ai garanti, I guarded him against it. Je ne suis comment me garantir du froid, I know not how to guard myself against cold. Tâchez de vous garantir de ce danger, try to guard yourself against this danger.

GARANTI, E, p.p. employé comme adj., warranted; guaranteed.

GARBURE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), pottage made of rye bread, cabbage and grease in the south of France.

GARÇE, s. f. girl. J'ai deux garçons et deux garces, I have two boys and two girls. (In very bad sense, prostitute.

GARCETTE, s. f. (t. de marine), gasket. Garcette de bonnette, keys, buttons of the bonnets. Garcettes de ris, ris points. On le menaça de la garcette, he was threatened with the cat o' nine tails.

GARÇON, s. m. Il a trois garçons et une fille, he has three boys and two girls. Ils n'ont que des garçons, they have boys only.

C'est un beau garçon, he is a handsome fellow. Ce pauvre garçon me fait pitié, I pity the poor fellow.

…th. C'est un garçon de belle taille, he is a fine, tall …ow. C'est un garçon de six pieds, he is a fellow—…d—a youth—about six feet high. C'est un garçon …e de talent, he is a fellow—a youth—full of talent. …all ages.) Cela est ainsi, mon garçon, mon pauvre …on, it is as indeed, my boy—my poor fellow. Il est …garçon, he is a good natured fellow—he is a good …w. Me voilà joli garçon, I am a pretty fellow—here I in a pretty mess! Vous êtes un brave garçon d'être …ne voir, you are a fine fellow to have come to see …. Il est encore garçon, he is still a bachelor—un…ried. Ménage de garçon, a bachelor's establishment—…e. Faire—mener—vie de garçon, to lead a bachelor's …. Je donne un dîner de garçon, I am going to give a …elor's dinner. Je vis ici en garçon, I live here as a …e man. Les garçons de la noce, the bridesmen. Les …ns de la fête, the stewards—the masters of the cere…es. Vous êtes encore petit garçon auprès de lui, you …till very inferior to him. Faire le méchant garçon. …z Méchant.

…t la cour.) Garçons de la chambre, valets, footmen. …' de boutique, d'auberge, de service.) Garçon de …pe, shop-boy. Tous ses garçons sont dehors, all his …his men—are out. Garçon charpentier, carpenter's …yman—boy—man. Garçon tailleur, tailor's man. …on de bureau, office man—errand boy. Garçon de …e, man. Garçon de caisse, counting-house man. …dix garçons dans sa boutique, dans son magasin, …s ten men—journeymen—in his shop, magazine, &c. …on d'auberge, de café, waiter. Appelez le garçon, …e the waiter.

…RÇONNET, s. m. a boy; a little boy.

…RÇONNIÈRE, s. f. (is said of a girl who is rough …manner, who likes to play), romp.

…RDE, s. f. keep. Ces fruits ne sont pas de garde, …uits do not keep. Ils sont de bonne garde, they …ep long. (Fig.) Vous êtes de bonne garde, you …ell.

…ai confié la garde de la maison, I entrusted …the guard—the keeping—of my house. Il laisse …la garde de ce domestique, he trusts every thing to …akes every thing under the care of—that servant. …ai-je pas confié la garde de ces choses-là? …ot entrusted to you the care—the keeping—of these …Elle est sous ma garde, she is under my guard …rotection. Je laissai mes chevaux à la garde d'un …que, I left my horses to the care of a servant. Je …nds en ma garde, I take them into my keeping, …my protection. Nous sommes à la garde de Dieu, …under the protection of God. Mon chien est de …arde, my dog is a good watch-dog.

…ndre garde, to notice.) Il est venu, mais nous n'y …as pris garde, he came, but we did not notice it. …nez pas garde à ce qu'il dit, do not mind—do not …what he says. Ne prenez pas garde à moi, don't …e. A votre place, je n'y prendrais pas garde, …in your place, I would not take notice of it—I …ot observe it. Prenez garde aux guerres que vous …treprendre, consider well—mind—the wars you …t to undertake. Prenez garde, mind.

…ndre garde, to mind, take care.) Prenez garde à …ous faites, take care what you do. Il ne prend …rien, he takes no care of any thing. Voulez-vous …ndre garde à cet enfant? will you mind—take …that child? Prenez garde de tomber, take care …fall. Prenez garde de vous tromper, take …u do not mistake. *Prenez garde qu'il ne vous …*take care he does not deceive you. Je prendrai …qu'il ne me voie, I will take care that he does not …Garde à vous! attention!

…mer de garde.) Donnez-vous bien de garde de …ler, beware how you speak to him about it. Je …vais bien de garde d'y aller, I would take good …to go. Il s'en est donné bien de garde, he took …e not to do it—he took good care not. Avoir de …faire une chose, to take care not to do a thing. …ur ses gardes, to be on one's guard. Vous ne le …pas, il est toujours sur ses gardes, he is always on his guard. Je l'ai mis sur ses gardes, I put him on his guard. (T. de cartes.) J'avais garde à carreau, I was guarded in diamonds.

(T. d'escrime.) Allons, en garde, come, in guard. Se mettre en garde, to put one's self in guard. La garde (d'une épée, d'un sabre), the guards (of a sword, of a sabre).

(T. milit.) Garde, guard. Êtes-vous de garde? are you on guard—on duty? J'étais de garde à sa porte, I was on duty—on guard—at his door. Descendre la garde, to come off guard. A la garde descendante, nous en parlerons, we will speak of it, when we come off guard—duty. C'est la garde montante, it is the relieving guard. Non, c'est la garde descendante, no, they are the guard coming off duty. Monter la garde, to mount guard. La garde est de trois heures, the duty lasts three hours—we are three hours on duty. Chacun fait sa garde, each mounts guard—is on duty. (Fig.) Monter une garde à quelqu'un, to reprimand—to scold—one. Laissez-moi, ou je vais crier à la garde, leave me alone, or else I will call up the guard. A la garde! guard! guard! Garde-avancée, advanced guard. Garde de camp, quarter guard. Grand' garde, main guard. On me donna vingt-quatre heures de corps de garde, I was kept twenty-four hours at the guard-room. La garde Nationale fut organisée en 1789, the National guard was organised in 1789. La garde Nationale remplaça la milice bourgeoise, the National guard succeeded the civil militia. Garde à pied et à cheval, foot guard, horse guard. Garde royale, royal guard. On lui donna une garde d'honneur, they gave him a guard of honour. Il est officier aux gardes, he is an officer in the guards.

GARDE, s. m. keeper. J'avais laissé deux gardes pour avoir soin de la maison, I had left two keepers, to take care of the house. Garde de la bibliothèque, keeper of the library. Garde-forestier, forester. Garde-champêtre, keeper. Garde-chasse, game-keeper. Garde d'artillerie, non commissioned artillery officer, keeper of the store.

Garde du commerce, bailiff, officer. (There are ten in Paris; they arrest debtors, on the judgment of the Tribunal de Commerce: they were instituted in 1808.) Garde à frais, bailiff (paid by the debtor, staying in a house until the execution is levied). Garde de nuit, watchman (appointed to take care of goods during the night).

(In the following words Garde, coming from the verb garder, is not to be put in the plural.)

GARDE-BOIS, s. m. firester; wood-keeper.

GARDE-BOUTIQUE, s. m. Ces marchandises sont des garde-boutique, these articles are not of good sale, they remain in the shop.

GARDE-CENDRES, s. m. finder.

GARDE-CHAÎNE, s. m. (t. d'horloger.), chain-guard.

GARDE-CHASSE, s. m. game-keeper.

GARDE-CHIOURME, s. m. guard (who in the hulk keeps watch over the convicts).

GARDE-CÔTES, } s. m. coast-guard.
GARDE-CÔTE, }

GARDE-CROTTE, s. m. (t. de carossier), mud-guard, splash-board.

GARDE DU CORPS, s. m. life guards-man.

GARDE-FEU, s. m. fire-guard; fender.

GARDE-FOU, s. m. balustrades, posts, railings, (to prevent people from falling down).

GARDE-MAGASIN, s. m. warehouse-keeper; store-keeper.

GARDE-MALADE, s. m f. nurse, keeper.

GARDE-MANCHE, s. m. sham sleaves (put on over the others, to prevent their being soiled).

GARDE-MANGER, s. m. safe.

GARDE-MARINE, } s. m. Navy cadet.
GARDE DE LA MARINE, }

GARDE-MARTEAU, s. m. (woods and forests), office who marks the trees fit to cut.

GARDE-MEUBLE, s. m. store-room; (in small establishments), lumber-room.

GARDE-PÊCHE, s. m. river keeper.

GARDE-ROBE, s. f. wardrobe. Officier de garde- robe, an officer of the stole. An easy chair. (Fam.) Aller à la garde-robe, to go to stool—to the water-closet. Plaisanteries de garde-robe, jokes rather free.

GARDE-ROLE, s. m. keeper of the rolls.

GARDE-SACS, s. m. a name given formerly to lawyers.

GARDE-SEAUX, s. m. keeper of the seals (of state).

GARDE-TEMPS, s. m. time-keeper.

GARDE-VAISSELLE, s. m. plate-keeper; gentleman of the ewry.

GARDE-VUE, s. m. screen, shade.

GARDER, v.a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to keep. Gardez cela, keep that. J'ai gardé cette montre pendant dix ans, I kept that watch for ten years. On garde le mouton —ou le mouton se garde—un mois en hiver, mutton can be kept for a month in winter. Gardez vos places, vos rangs, keep your places, your ranks. Gardez les arrêts, keep—remain under—arrests—.—keep to your quarters. Je ne le garderais pas à votre place, I would not keep him in your place.

Je ne lui garde pas rancune, I bear him no malice. Je ne vous garde aucun ressentiment, I bear you no grudge. Garder une poire pour la soif, to keep—to reserve something for future wants. Nous vous en garderons un peu, we will keep—reserve—save—some for you. (Fig.) Il vous en garde une bonne—il vous le garde bonne, he keeps a rod in pickle for you. Vous auriez dû en garder une partie, you should have kept some in store—reserved some —.—laid by some.

J'ai gardé ce rhume un mois entier, I kept that cold for a whole month. Il garde le lit, he keeps his bed—he is confined to his bed. Garde-t-il la chambre, is he confined to his room? Garder un malade, to nurse a sick person—to watch him. Je l'ai gardé jour et nuit, I watched him—sat watching him—day and night.

(Retenir.) Il garde dans ses mains des sommes qu'il devrait nous payer, he keeps—he retains—sums of money which he ought to give us. Lisez sa lettre, mais ne la gardez pas, read his letter, but do not keep—detain it. Il ne garde rien sur l'estomac, he keeps nothing on his stomach.

(Réserver.) Gardez cela, en cas que vous en ayez besoin, keep—reserve—preserve that, in case of need. Sachez garder le secret, learn to keep—preserve—a secret.

(Avoir soin de; préserver.) Gardez cela pour moi, take care of that—keep that—for me. Gardez cet enfant en mon absence, do mind—take care of—that child in my absence. Je lui avais donné ma montre à garder, et il l'a perdue, I gave him my watch to take care of, and he lost it. Qui est-ce qui gardera la boutique, who will mind—take care of—the shop? Il gardait les manteaux à la porte, he took care of the cloaks at the door. Cet homme gardait les troupeaux, that man guarded—watched—tended—the flocks. (Fig. et fam.) Avons-nous donc gardé les cochons ensemble? have we been swineherds together? (to a man who is too familiar). Il gardait ses champs, he looked after—he watched over—our fields.

(Observer, respecter.) Garder les bienséances, le decorum, to observe forms—decorum. Garder les commandements de Dieu, to keep God's commands. Gardez-moi votre parole, keep your word to me. Il ne garde aucune—pas de—mesure, he has no regard—he stops at nothing—he keeps no bound. Gardez un peu plus de cautions, be a little more cautious. Il n'a pas gardé son ban, he broke his sentence of exile—(he returned before he had finished his time).

(Protéger.) Que Dieu vous garde, may God keep you—protect you. Les troupes gardaient la ville, the troops guarded the town. Qui vous gardera de ce danger, who will guard you—protect you—from this danger? Ces arbres nous gardent du soleil, these trees guard us—preserve us—shelter us—from the sun. Gardez-vous du froid, guard yourself against cold. (T. de cartes.) J'étais gardé en cœur, I was guarded in hearts.

(Se garder.) Je me garderai bien d'y aller, I shall take good care not to go. Gardez-vous de le voir, beware of seeing him—take care not to see him. Qu'il s'en garde bien, let him take care not—.—let him beware of it.

Gardez-vous de toucher, take care not to fall. Il n'a pas pu se garder de ce danger, he could not guard against that danger.

En donner à garder à une personne, to impose on a person—to deceive a person—to delude him by telling him untrue things. (Fig.) Garder les moutons, garder les manteaux, to be kept waiting—to dance attendance.

GARDES d'une serrure, s. f. wards of a lock.

GARDEUR, s. m. } keeper.
GARDEUSE, s. f. }

GARDIEN, s. m. } keeper. (D'une bibliothèque.)
GARDIENNE, s. f. } custos. (Idol.) tutelary guardian angel. (T. de manuf.) Le pas gardien, the guardien, the superior.

GARDOIRE, s. m. safe; stew.

GARDON, s. m. (sort of fish), roach. Il est comme un gardon, he is as sound as a roach.

GARE, impératif de Garer. Voyez le Tem.

GARE, s. f. basin (sort of wet dock at the end, and by the sides, of a canal). Nous nous rangeâmes dans la gare, we placed ourselves aside—at the end, or in the basin.

GARENNE, s. f. warren. Lapin de garenne.

GARENNIER, s. m. keeper of a warren.

GARER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Garer un bateau, to enter a boat in the basin. Les bateaux étaient garés pour laisser passer les autres, (in a canal in one of which ought to stand close to shore to allow the others to pass). (Fig.) Garez-vous d'un fou, beware of—guard against—a madman. Je ne savais comment me garer de ce coup, I knew not how to avoid that blow. Garez-vous, stand aside.

GARE (impératif employé comme interjection), take care! by your leave. Il vous renverse en criant gare, he knocks you down without crying gare—i. e. without giving any notice. Gare devant, take ahead there. Gare qu'il ne vienne vous surprendre, care lest he should come upon you unawares. Gare la bombe, mind the bomb. Gare la tête, mind your head. Gare l'eau, take care below.

GARGAMELLE, s. f. (fam. et vieux), throat.

GARGARISER, Se, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (i. e. to gargle. Gargarisez-vous souvent la gorge, gargle your throat often. (Fig.), to tickle.

GARGARISME, s. m. (t. de médec.), gargle.

GARGOTAGE, s. m. mess; ill cooked food.

GARGOTE, s. f. low eating-house; pot-house.

GARGOTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to live too frequent—low eating-houses, pot-houses; to game.

GARGOTIER, s. m. } low eating-house keeper.
GARGOTIÈRE, s. f. }

GARGOUILLE, s. f. (archit.), spout, (a deformed monstrous figure principally seen out sideways).

GARGOUILLEMENT, s. m. grumbling, rattling.

GARGOUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to splash—to play in water; to dabble.

GARGOUILLIS, s. m. splashing of water, (lying in the gutters).

GARGOUSSE, s. f. (t. d'artillerie), cannon cartridge.

GARIGUE, s. f. waste; waste land.

GARNEMENT, s. m. C'est un vilain garnement, he is a nasty wretch—gaol for nothing fellow.

GARNI, s. m. furnished rooms. Je loge en garni, I live in furnished apartments.

GARNIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Finir), to furnish. Il a garni son salon de meubles élégants, he furnished his drawing-room with elegant furniture. Habillez-vous contre le froid, garnissez-vous contre le froid, arm yourself—guard yourself—against cold. Les rues sont garnies de voitures, the streets are furnished—garnished—with carriages. Bien garni de diamants, portrait enriched with diamonds. Il a une bourse bien garnie, he has a well lined purse. Garnir des chaises, des fauteuils, to stuff chairs and arm-chairs. Des étrangers garnissaient les deux côtés de la route, strangers lined the two sides of the road. Des vaisseaux garnissaient le port, vessels filled the harbour. Des statues garnissaient la terrasse, the terrace was ornamented—filled—adorned the terrace. Le rois, twelfth-night cake. Gâteau de miel, (Fig.) Il a trouvé la fève du gâteau, he ut, he is the king—he has met with some- -he made a lucky discovery. Ils ont partagé ey divided the cake—the booty—profits.

NFANT, s. m. f. one who spoils children dulgence, kindness.
ÉTIER, s. m. one who undersells, who does reap.
ÂTE, s. m. a bad baker; a bad cook.
AUCE, s. m. bad cook.
v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to spoil. La vielle blés, the blight has spoiled the corn. Le gâté cet habit, the tailor spoiled your coat. me suis gâté la main, I spoiled my hand. 'affaire, he will spoil the business. Comme enfants, how she spoils—indulges—her chil- u gâtez le métier, you spoil the trade. La res livres gâte l'esprit, the reading of these es the mind. C'est un enfant gâté, he is a .
apier il a gâté, how much paper he has wasted! êtes gâté dans l'opinion publique, you have rself in public opinion.
r a gâté la viande, the heat has spoiled— meat. Ces viandes se gâtent bien vite, these get bad—tainted. Tout ce fruit est gâté, all bad—is spoiled—is rotten.
E, adj. m. f. La main gauche, the left hand. che d'un cheval, the left foot—the near foot— Tournez à gauche, turn to your left. Prenez o on his left side. Ils demeurent à main live on the left side. Il le frappa de la e, he struck him with the left hand. Les rivent de droite à gauche, the Hebrews write left.
uche d'une armée, the left wing of an army. la gauche, he formed the left wing.
l est bien gauche, all that is very awkward. gauche, he is very awkward. Quel air gauche n awkward look he has! Il lui fit un com- gauche, he paid him a very awkward—ill pliment. Il est bien gauche s'il n'en profite ry silly, if he does not avail himself of it.
, loc. adv. Il prend à droite et à gauche, he and left—from the right and the left hand. auche, turn to the left. (Fig.) Vous prenez e, you take every thing wrong. Vous donnez us cher, you are quite mistaken, my dear sir. froite et à gauche, to ask on all sides. .) Par file à gauche, to the left face!
E, s. f. left hand. (T. de parlement.) La asse se leva, the left side got up as one man.
EMENT, adv. awkwardly; clumsily.
ER, s. m. adj. left handed man—woman; one ÈRE, s. f. adj. who uses the left hand.
ERIE, s. f. Il a toute la gaucherie d'un nou- e has all the awkwardness of a new comer. fait toujours quelque gaucherie, that man is tting some blunder—some clumsy thing. Il ncherie en tout, he is awkward—clumsy—in IR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. Il aurait reçu le it un peu gauchi, he would have received e had not turned aside a little. (Fig.) Je es gens qui gauchissent, I do not like people t act fairly—who shuffle—who equivocate. er.) Cette planche gauchit, this plank warps. SSEMENT, s. m. warping; (fig.), shuffling. s. f. (t. de teinturier), luteola; gond. s. f. (t. de cuisine), porridge made of Indian , Se, v. r. rég. 2de conj. (vieux mot), to re- audir de quelqu'un, to laugh at somebody. IOLE, s. f. smutty jokes. Il aime la gau- fond of smutty jokes. Il leur contait des e was telling them funny stories.
, s. f. honeycomb. (T. de pâtisserie), wafer. On mangea des gaufres, they ate wafers. (Fig.) C'est lui qui est la gaufre dans cette affaire, he is the victim—he is between two fires—in that affair.

GAUFRER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to stamp; to figure. Du velours gaufré, stamped—figured—velvet.

GAUFREUR, s. m., one who stamps, figures cloth,

GAUFREUSE, s. f. paper, &c.

GAUFRIER, s. m. wafer iron.

GAUFROIR, s. m. stamp, iron used to stamp, to figure cloth, &c. stamping iron.

GAUFRURE, s. f. stamping; figuring.

GAULE, s. f. pole; switch. (Ancien nom de la France.) Gaul.

GAULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Gauler des noix, to beat down walnuts with a pole. En automne on gaule les pommes, apples are beaten down with poles, in autumn.

GAULIS, s. m. twig; rod. (T. de chasse.) Détourner des gaulis, to break down twigs, rods, to mark the lair of the beast.

GAULOIS, s. m. } Gaul. C'est un vrai Gaulois, he is GAULOISE, s. f. } a true, sincere man. Probité gauloise, old probity. Il a les manières gauloises, he is antiquated—his manners are those of old times. Ce que vous dites, c'est du Gaulois, you talk old French. (Adj.), [Gallic.

GAUPE, s. f. slut; trollop.

GAURES, s. m. Voyez Guèbres.

GAUSSER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Se gausser des gens, to mock—to laugh at—people; to jeer.

GAUSSERIE, s. f. mockery; jeer.

GAUSSEUR, SEUSE, adj. one who likes to laugh at others; mocker.

GAVION, s. m. throat.

GAVOTTE, s. f. gavot. On ne danse plus la gavotte, the gavot is no longer a fashionable dance.

GAYAC, s. m. Voyez Gaïac.

GAZ, s. m. Eclairage au gaz, lighting with gas. Un conduit de gaz, a gas pipe. Nous payons l'éclairage tant par bec de gaz, we pay for lighting at so much per burner.

GAZE, s. f. gauze. (Fig.) Ses plaisanteries sont couvertes de gaze, his jokes are veiled. Il faut jeter la dessus un voile de gaze, you should throw a veil upon this.

GAZEIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gasify; to convert into gas.

GAZÉIFORME, adj. having the form of gas.

GAZELLE, s. f. gazelle; antelope.

GAZER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gauze; (fig.), to cover —conceal—with a veil.

GAZETIER, s. m. one who writes in gazettes—in newspapers; a journalist.

GAZETIN, s. m. small gazette, journal.

GAZETTE, s. f. gazette; journal. (Fig. et fam.) Cette femme est la gazette du quartier, that woman is the newsmonger of the neighbourhood.

GAZEUX, EUSE, adj. gaseous.

GAZIER, s. m. gauze-maker.

GAZIFÈRE, adj. gasiferous.

GAZOMÈTRE, s. m. gasometer, (instrument to make gas, and to measure the gas consumed in houses, &c.)

GAZON, s. m. turf. Lever des gazons, to cut turfs.

GAZONNEMENT, s. m. turfing.

GAZONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to turf.

GAZOUILLEMENT, s. m. warbling; chirping. (Fig.) Le gazouillement d'un ruisseau, the gurgling; purling of a rivulet. (D'un enfant), prattle.

GAZOUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to warble; to chirp. (Des enfants), to prattle. (D'un ruisseau), to purl; to gurgle.

GAZOUILLIS, s. m. Voyez Gazouillement.

GEAI, s. m. jay. C'est le geai paré des plumes du paon, he is like the jay dressed in the peacock's feathers.

GÉANT, s. m. giant. Il marche à pas de géant, he is going in gigantic strides—he strides like a giant.

GÉANTE, s. f. giantess.

GÉHENNE, s. f. La géhenne, gehenna; hell.

GÉINDRE, v. n. rég. 7me conj. (voyez Craindre), to moan.

GÉLATINE, s. f. gelatin; (t. de cuisine), jelly.

GÉLATINEUX, EUSE, adj. gelatinous.

GELÉE, s. f. frost. Il y a eu de la [illegible] frost—there has been a frost. Une forte gelée, a hard frost. Une gelée blanche, hoar frost.

(T. de cuisine, &c.), jelly. Gelée de veau, calf [illegible]. Gelée de groseilles, currant jelly.

GELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to freeze. Il gèle fort, it is freezing hard. Il gèle serré, it freezes keenly. Il gèlera cette nuit, it will freeze to-night—there will be frost to-night. Le froid a gelé tous les légumes, the cold has frozen all the vegetables. L'eau se gèle, the water is freezing. Les pieds lui ont gelé, his feet are frozen. Je suis gelé, I am perished with cold. Il gèle dans cette chambre, one is frozen—one perishes with cold—in this room. (Fig.) Cet homme gèle ceux qui le approchent, that man freezes—chills—those who come to him. Il n'a pas le bec gelé, his lips are not frozen—he speaks pretty plainly.

GÉLIF, tive, adj. (t. d'eaux et forêts). Arbre gélif, a tree split by the frost.

GÉLINE, s. f. a hen.

GÉLINOTTE, s. f. a poultry yard hen. Gélinotte des bois, sort of wild fowl resembling the partridge.

GÉLIVURES, s. f. cracks in trees [produced by the frost].

GÉMEAU, s. m. twin. Les gémeaux, Gemini, the signs of the Zodiac).

GÉMINÉ, adj. (t. de bot.), geminated; double. (T. de jurisp.), repeated; reiterated.

GÉMIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Finir). Il gémit de douleur, he is groaning—moaning with pain. Ils gémissaient sous le poids du malheur, they were groaning under the weight of misfortune. Il pleure sur les pécheurs, he wept over—he bewailed the sins of the sinners. De quoi gémissez-vous? what are you groaning at—lamenting? Je gémis de vous voir faire votre perte, I groan to see you running to ruin. La terre gémissait sous ses pas, the earth groaned under his steps. (Fig.) Faire gémir la presse, to press to work—to publish much.

Il nous dit d'une voix gémissante, he told us in a lamentable voice. Tout un peuple gémissait, a whole nation groaning.

GÉMISSEMENT, s. m. groan; groaning; moaning; lamentation.

GEMMATION, s. f. (pron. Jem-ma-cion.), gemmation; budding.

GEMME, adj. gemmeous.

GÉMONIES, s. f. pl. (t. d'antiquité), place of execution.

GÉNAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), of the cheek.

GÊNANT, E, adj. inconvenient. Voyez Gêne.

GENCIVE, s. f. gums. Il a les gencives gâtées, his gums are much swollen.

GENDARME, s. m. (formerly), man-at-arms. Les gendarmes du roi, the king's men-at-arms; now, policemen. Les gendarmes ont remplacé les Maréchaux en 1791, the gendarmes succeeded the Maréchaux in 1791. Les gendarmes ont arrêté le voleur, the policemen apprehended the robber.

(Fig.) Cette femme est un vrai gendarme, that woman is a downright virago. (T. de joaillier.) Il y a des gendarmes dans ce diamant, there are specks—blemishes in this diamond.

GENDARMES, s. m. pl. sparks which [illegible] out of a wood fire.

GENDARMER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to [illegible] fly into a passion.

GENDARMERIE, s. f. formerly, the regular troops; (now) the companies of armed police [illegible] all over France. Il y a gendarmerie à pied et gendarmerie à cheval, there are gendarmes on foot and on horseback. On fut obligé d'appeler la gendarmerie, they were obliged to call in the gendarmes.

GENDRE, s. m. son-in-law.

GÊNE, s. f. On a aboli la gêne en France, the torture—the rack has been abolished in France. Il fut mis à la gêne pour lui faire dire sa complice, he was put to the rack to make him confess his accomplice.

…rtured him to make him say where was his

…aises de vous causer de la gêne en venant*, I am
…o cause you inconvenience if I come. Elle est à …dans sa robe, she is much inconvenienced—ill at
…n her dress. Je n'en ressens aucune gêne, I feel
…nvenience from it. Nous y serons sans gêne, we …t at ease. Vous ne me causerez aucune gêne, you
…use me no inconvenience; you will not incon-
…e me in the least. *(Fam.) C'est un homme sans
…e tout le monde*, he is free and easy—,—he is …home with every one. *Ces visites vous mettent à
…nch calls are an inconvenience. C'est une gêne
…elle que de les recevoir*, it is a constant inconvenience
…ve them. Ne vous mettez pas à la gêne pour moi,
…ot yourself out of the way on my account. *Ces
…t dans la gêne*, these people are in bad circum-
…-in distress. J'ai connu la gêne, I know what
…-what distress is. *Ne vous mettez pas l'esprit à
…* do not torture—rack—your brains.

…ÉALOGIE, s. f. genealogy. *Il est toujours sur
…logie*, he is always speaking of his genealogy.

…ÉALOGIQUE, adj. genealogical.

…ÉALOGISTE, s. m. genealogist.

…ÉE, p. a. r. rég. 1ère conj. *Ma cuirasse me
…y* cuirass is too tight, is inconvenient. *Mes
…—mes bottes me gênent*, my shoes, my boots pinch
…e too tight. Il était gêné, he was tight—pinched
…ase—inconvenienced (in his clothes). *Cet homme
…dans ses manières*, that man is awkward—ill at
…s his ways. *Nous sommes gênés, il n'y a pas de
…e* are crowded—we are pressed together—there is …enough. Gênez-vous un peu que je m'assèye, little room—stand a little aside—squeeze yourself
—that I may sit down. Sa démarche est gênée,
—his demeanour is awkward—stiff. *Cela gêne
…lation du sang*, that impedes—stops—the circu-
…f the blood. Je ne puis y aller sans que cela me cannot go without its being inconvenient to me.
…ue je vous gêne, am I in your way? *Vous me
…* you inconvenience me there. *Ces arbres gênent
…ese trees* impede—stop—the view. *Cette table,
…es me gênent*, that table, these things are in my
…a présence nous gênait, his presence inconvenienced
…a restraint upon us. Il était gêné par les circon- circumstances were a restraint upon him—he was …ed. Je ne puis dire la vérité, et cela me gêne, I speak the truth, and it is a restraint—a check—
…e.
*…a ne vous gêne pas de venir—de me payer, vous
…riez*, if it does not inconvenience you to come—
…ne—it would oblige me. Ils sont très-gênés, they …eat distress. Vous pourriez payer en vous gênant
you might pay, if you would suffer a little incon-
…e. Gênez-vous un peu, suffer a little—put yourlittle inconvenience. Elle s'est gênée pour vous
the inconvenienced her-self to oblige you.
…n homme qui ne se gêne pour personne, he stands
…remonies—he puts himself out of the way—for Elle ne s'est point gênée pour le lui dire, she hesitate to say so to him—,—she did not mince
…o tell it him. *Voulez-vous que je me gêne avec
…ould* you have me stand upon ceremony with Ne vous gênez pas, pray, do not stand upon cere-

…ÉRAL, s. m. general. Général de brigade, major Lieutenant général ou général de division,
…ut-general. Il y avait nombre de généraux,
…re a number of generals. Fermier général was …a man who contracted with government to pay
…n for the taxes of a province, and who levied them
…agents—(now) Receveur général, receiver general taxes). Madame la générale, the lady of the …se and so. Le général de l'ordre, the general of …f monks.

…ÉRAL, E, adj. general. C'est une règle générale,
…general rule. On assembla les Etats Généraux,
…eral States were assembled.

En général, loc. adv. in general; generally.

GÉNÉRALAT, s. m. rank of general; generalship.

GÉNÉRALE, s. f. general (a beat of drum calling troops and national guards to arms). On bat la générale, the drums are beating the general. Quand on bat la générale, les troupes courent aux armes, when they beat the general, the troops run to arms.

GÉNÉRALEMENT, adv. generally. Généralement parlant, speaking in general terms—generally.

GÉNÉRALISATION, s. f. generalisation.

GÉNÉRALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to generalise. Cette idée est toute particulière, elle ne saurait se généraliser, such an idea is peculiar, and cannot be generalised.

GÉNÉRALISSIME, s. m. generalissimo; the chief commander of an army.

GÉNÉRALITÉ, s. f. generality; general matters. (Ancien terme d'administration), extent of the jurisdiction of a fermier général, for the reception of taxes. En 1789, il y avait vingt-cinq généralités, in 1789 there were 25 généralités in France. St. Denis était de la généralité de Paris, Saint Denis was in the généralité (jurisdiction) of Paris.

GÉNÉRATEUR, adj. m. } generative; generating.
GÉNÉRATRICE, adj. f. }

GÉNÉRATIF, VE, adj. generative.

GÉNÉRATION, s. f. generation; race. De génération en génération, from generation to generation. (T. d'anat.), generation. Traité de la génération des animaux, a treatise on the generation of animals. (T. de musique, de géom.), generation; production.

GÉNÉREUSEMENT, adv. generously. Combattre généreusement, to fight valiantly, courageously. Il nous a récompensés généreusement, he rewarded us liberally.

GÉNÉREUX, SE, adj. generous. Il s'est montré ennemi généreux, he showed himself a generous enemy. Il les récompensa de sa main généreuse, he rewarded them with his generous hand. Voilà une action généreuse, this is a generous—noble—magnanimous action. Prenez un verre de vin généreux, take a glass of generous wine. La terre est généreuse, the soil here is generous, bountiful. Un lion généreux, a noble lion.

GÉNÉRIQUE, adj. (t. de didactique), generic; generical.

GÉNÉROSITÉ, s. f. generosity. Tout le monde parle de sa générosité, every body speaks of his generosity. Il y aurait de la générosité à lui épargner cette peine, there would be generosity—it would be generous—to save him that trouble. C'est un homme plein de générosité, he is full of generosity—of magnanimity.

GÉNÈSE, s. f. Genesis.

GÉNESTROLE, s. f. (t. de bot. pron. génèce-trole), genista tinctoria.

GENÊT, s. m. (t. de bot.), broom; furze. Genêt épineux, prickly broom. Genêt à balai, broom. Balai de genêt, a broom.

GENET D'ESPAGNE, s. m. Spanish horse; genet.

GÉNÉTHLIAQUE, adj. Poème généthliaque, a poem on the birth of a child.

GENETTE, s. f. (hist. nat.), genet; an animal smaller than a martin.

GENETTE, À la, (loc. adv.). Aller à cheval à la genette, to ride with very short stirrups.

GENÉVRIER, s. m. (t. de bot.), juniper plant.

GÉNIE, s. m. genius. Le génie de Socrate, the genius of Socrates. C'était son bon génie qui l'inspirait, his good genius inspired him. Je ne sais quel mauvais génie me poursuit, I know not what evil genius pursues me. Un génie tutélaire l'accompagne, a tutelar genius attends him. C'est le génie de la France, he is the genius of France.

Napoléon avait le génie de la guerre, Napoleon possessed the genius of war. J'invoque en vain le génie de la poésie, in vain I invoke the genius of poetry.

Cela n'est pas suivant le génie de la langue, this is not according to the genius of the language. Le génie des nations, the national genius.

Cet homme a du génie, that man is gifted with genius —talent—natural abilities. Il a du génie pour ces sortes d'affaires, he has a genius for things of this kind. Encouragez ce génie naissant, encourage this young—this rising—genius. C'est un homme de petit génie, he has a poor mind. C'est un pauvre génie que cet homme, that man has a poor mind—is a poor genius. Il travaille de génie, he works from inspiration. Laissez-le suivre son génie, leave him to follow his bent—his natural inclination. C'est-là une expression de génie, that is an expression full of genius.

Les génies des contes Arabes, the genii of the Arabian tales. On voyait des génies voltiger sur sa tête, genii were seen fluttering over his head.

GENIE, s. m. (t. milit.), engineering. Le génie militaire, military engineering. Il est dans le génie militaire, he is a military engineer. Les troupes du génie, the troops of the engineers. Les mineurs et les sapeurs font maintenant partie du corps du génie, the miners and sappers now form a part of the corps of engineers. Génie maritime, naval engineers. Génie civil, civil engineers. Génie géographe, surveying engineer. Ecole de génie, engineering school.

GENIEVRE, s. m. juniper. Bois de genièvre, juniper plant. Graine de genièvre, juniper berries. Manger du genièvre, to eat juniper berries. Boire du genièvre, to drink gin or geneva.

GENISSE, s. f. heifer.

GENITAL, E, adj. (t. de didactique), genital. Faculté génitale, genital faculty. Parties génitales—organes génitaux, the genitals.

GENITIF, s. m. (t. de grammaire). Ce mot devrait être au génitif, that word ought to be in the genitive case, in the genitive.

GENITOIRES, s. f. pl. testicles.

GENITURE, s. f. progeny; offspring.

GENOU, s. m. knee. L'os du genou, the knee cap. Les genoux me manquaient, my knees failed under me. Avoir les genoux en dedans, to be knock-kneed. Nous avions de la boue jusqu'aux genoux, we were up to our knees in mud.

Je l'ai tenu sur mes genoux, I held him on my lap—I nursed him.

Mettre un genou en terre, to put one knee to the ground. Ils étaient à genoux, they were kneeling. Il est à genoux devant le pouvoir, he is ever on his knees before—bending the knee to—power. Mettez-vous à genoux, kneel down. A genoux, down on your knees—kneel down. Je vous le demande à genoux, à deux genoux, I implore it of you on my knees, on both my knees. Je me jetai—je tombai—à ses genoux, I threw myself at her feet. Fléchir le genou, to bend the knee.

GENOUILLERE, s. f. knee-cap; knee-armour.

GENOVÉFAIN, s. m. canon of St. Geneva.

GENRE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat. et de bot.), genus. Ces plantes ne sont pas du même genre, these plants do not belong to the same genus.

Il y a différents genres d'animaux, there are various species of animals. (T. de médec., d'anat.) Le genre nerveux, the nervous system.

Le genre humain, human kind.

(Commerce.) Ils ont des marchandises de tous les genres, they have goods of every sort—kind. Il est bien assorti en tout genre, he is well assorted in every way. Cela est bon dans son genre, that is good in its way—in its sort. Je voudrais quelque chose dans le même genre, I wish to get something in the same way. Il s'est créé un genre à lui, he created a style—a way—of his own. C'est un genre maniéré, it is a studied style. Cela est dans le genre épique, that is in the epic style. Ce genre de vie ne me conviendrait pas, that style—manner—way—sort—of life would not suit me. Il excelle dans le genre épique, he excels in the epic style.

(T. de mode.) C'est-là le beau genre, that is the fashionable way. Cet homme est—a un fort—mauvais genre, that man's manners are in bad taste. Vous ne connaissez pas le bon genre, you know not the fashionable way—what is good taste.

(T. de peinture.) Tableau de genre is a picture representing scenes of private life, portraits, small fruits.

(T. de grammaire), gender. Cela est du genre masculin, that is of the masculine gender.

GENS, s. m. f. plur. (ce mot n'est de genre que toujours au pluriel.) Le droit des gens, the rights of people, of nations. Il faut respecter le droit des gens, we must respect the rights of people—of nations.

GENS (dans un sens plus restreint), people. Les gens de la campagne, country-people. Les gens de la ville, towns-people. Beaucoup de gens le croient, many people believe it. Il y avait peu de gens, there were few people. Qui sont ces gens-là? who are those people? Ces gens sont fort riches, they are very rich people. Il est commode de toutes gens, he likes all sorts of people.

(Gens avec un adjectif.) Vous êtes de bonnes gens, you are kind people. Ces bonnes gens voulaient me donner à dîner, the good people wanted to give me dinner. Les bonnes gens du village se rappelaient, faitement, the good old people of the village remembered well. Ce sont les meilleures gens du monde, they are the people in the world. Ce sont de bonnes gens, they are good sort of people. Toutes les vieilles gens—les bonnes gens—accouraient pour le voir, all the good old people came to see him. (Si l'adjectif vient après, il faut mettre gens au masculin.) Ces gens imprudents! oh, these imprudent people have done it. Tous ces gens-là bien connus, all these people are well known. Ce sont des gens sensés, they are reasonable people.

Il y a gens et gens, there are men and men, there are different sorts of men. Je me connais en gens, I know my people. Vous vous moquez des gens, do you see you are laughing at us, to speak thus. Il n'y a pas de gens, the place is quite solitary. Bon logement pour bêtes et gens, good accommodation for man and beast. Il y avait là des gens que je ne connaissais pas, there were there whom I knew not.

Les gens de robe, gens de loi, lawyers. Les gens d'église, churchmen. Les gens de guerre, gens d'épée, military men. Gens de lettres, men of letters—literary men. Gens de mer, sea-faring men. Gens d'affaires, business men, agents.

(T. milit.) Nos gens ont battu l'ennemi, our men beat the enemy. Il y périt dix de nos gens, ten of our men perished there. Mes gens étaient fatigués, my people were fatigued. (Commune.) Tous nos gens sont arrivés, all our people—company—arrived? (T. de société.) Il envoya deux de ses gens, he sent two of his servants. J'arrivai avec mes gens, I arrived with my people—my servants.

GENT, s. f. (vient du Latin gens, gentis. Il n'est seulement dans le style burlesque, et quelquefois en parlant d'animaux). La gent moutonnière, the sheep tribe. La gent trotte-menu, the rat tribe.

(Autrefois.) La gent circoncise, the Jews. La gent qui porte turban, the Turkish nations. La gent humaine, the human race.

GENT, E, adj. gentle; sweet.

GENTIANE, s. f. (t. de bot.), gentian.

GENTIL, s. m. gentile; pagan.

GENTIL, LE, adj. pretty; nice. (Fig. et fam.) Il fait le gentil, to act pretty manners. Cela peint le gentil, this is more than pretty. Vous faites-là un gentil mensonge, a pretty thing you are doing there. Je trouve gentil de parler ainsi, how charming you are in this way.

GENTILHOMMAILLE, s. f. (par dérision).

GENTILHOMME, s. m. gentleman, (a man of family). Un pauvre gentilhomme de campagne, a poor country gentleman—squire. Vous n'êtes pas gentilhomme, vous n'aurez pas ma fille, you are not of noble blood—you are not of noble descent—you shall not have my daughter. Foi de gentilhomme, on the faith of a gentleman—of a man of noble descent. Le gentilhomme du roi, the king's gentlemen. Gentilhomme de la chambre du roi, gentleman of the king's bed-chamber.

Before the French Revolution, that word was used absolutely to express a man nobly descended. Lastly troduced, in French, in some phrases, in the com-se of gentleman. Se comporter en gentilhomme, to like a gentleman. Vous l'avez traité en gentil- you treated him like a gentleman. Cela n'est gentilhomme, that is not the act of a gentleman.

TILHOMMERIE, s. f. gentility.
TILHOMMEAU, s. m. (fam.), a poor gentleman;
f poor family and means.
TILHOMMESQUE, A la, loc. adv., like a [man.
an.
TILHOMMIÈRE, s. f. a residence for a gentle-
TILITÉ, s. f. the Gentiles.
TILLÂTRE, s. m. a would-be gentleman; a man ful nobility; petty country squire.
TILLESSE, s. f. Cet enfant est plein de gen- that child is very engaging—has very engaging Il a fait mille gentillesses, he did a thousand ings. Il a dressé son chien à mille gentillesses, ht his dog all sorts of pretty tricks. Il dit des ses à toutes les dames, he says sweet things to all es. (Ironiquement.) Voilà de ces gentillesses nime point, I do not like these tricks—these ways.
epentira de cette gentillesse, he will repent that ionith.) Il a mille gentillesses dans son cabinet.
thousand pretty things in his closet.
TIMENT, adv. prettily. (Fam.) Vous voilà
t arrangé, what a pretty figure you are.
UFLEXION, s. f. genuflexion.
ÉNTRIQUE, adj. (t. d'astron.), geocentrical
DÉSIE, s. f. geodesia; surveying.
DÉSIQUE, adj. geodesical.
GNOSIE, s. f. (pron. jé-og-nozie), geognosis; sort
y.
GRAPHE, s. m. geographer.
GRAPHIE, s. f. geography.
GRAPHIQUE, adj. geographical.
LAGE, s. m. (pron. jô-la-ge), dues paid to the coming in and going out of a prison; the es.
LE, s. f. (pron. jô-le), jail. Aller à la geôle,
the jailer's office, rooms.
LIER, s. m. (pron. jô-lié), jailer.
LIÈRE, s. f. jailer's wife.
LOGIE, s. f. (pron. jé-o-logie), geology.
LOGIQUE, adj. geological.
LOGUE, s. m. geologist.
MANCIE, s. f. geomancy.
MANCIEN, s. m. } geomancer.
MANCIENNE, s. f. }
MÉTRAL, E, adj. geometral; geometrical.
MÉTRALEMENT, adv. geometrically.
MÈTRE, s. m. geometrician.
MÉTRIE, s. f. geometry.
MÉTRIQUEMENT, adv. geometrically.
ORGIEN, s. m. } an inhabitant of Georgia.
ORGIENNE, s. f. }
ORGIQUES, s. f. georgic.
RANIUM, s. m. (pron. jé-ra-nioume), geranium.
RANT, E, s. m. f. Tous les journaux ont un gé- rant responsable, all newspapers (in France) have a responsible manager. Le rédacteur gérant, the managing editor. Associé gérant, managing partner. Il fut un bon gérant, he was an honest manager.
GERBE, s. f. sheaf. Lier le blé en gerbes, to tie up corn in sheaves. (Fig.) Une gerbe d'eau, a jet of water.
Une gerbe de feu (t. d'artifice), a garb.
GERBÉE, s. f. a bundle of straw (fresh beaten and given to cattle for fodder).
GERBER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to form into sheaves.
Gerbeler), to put casks into bundles.
GERBOISE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), sort of rats.
GERBURE, s. f. (t. d'entomo.), moth. Voyez Gerçure.
GERCEMENT, s. m. cracking.
GERCER, v. a. v. r. rég. Ière conj., to crack; to Le froid lui a gercé les lèvres, the cold chapped
Mes lèvres se sont gercées, my lips cracked—

Ce mur gerce, this wall is cracking.
GERÇURE, s. f. crack; chap; cleft.
GÉRER, v. n. rég. Ière conj., to manage; to conduct.
Il a géré nos affaires honnêtement, he managed—conducted—our affairs honestly.
GERFAUT, s. m. gerfalcon; sort of hawk.
GERMAIN, E, adj. (born of brothers, sisters). Cousin germain, m., cousine germaine, f. first cousin (cousin descended from an uncle or an aunt). Issu de germain, descended from first cousins. Il a le germain sur moi, he is my father's—or my mother's—first cousin. s. m. Les germains, the first cousins.
GERMANDÉE, s. f. (t. de bot.), germander.
GERMANIQUE, adj. Germanic.
GERMANISME, s. m. Germanism; German idiom.
GERME, s. m. germe Un œuf sans germe, an addled egg. (Fig.), germ: cause; seed. Ils apportèrent les germes de la peste, they brought with them the seeds of the plague. Cette dispute fut le germe de la désunion, that quarrel was the seed—the germ—of disunion. (T. de manége), eye; mark.
GERMER, v. n. rég. Ière conj., to germinate; to sprout; to bud; to shoot. Les blés commencent à germer, the corn is beginning to shoot. (Fig.) La parole de Dieu a germé dans son cœur, the word of God fructified in his heart. L'esprit de révolte germait en secret, the spirit of rebellion was secretly rising. Faire germer, to cause to grow.
Des haricots germés, germinating beans. De l'orge germé, spired barley.
GERMINAL, s. m. the seventh month of the Republican year. Voyez Calendrier Républicain.
GERMINATEUR, TRICE, adj. productive.
GERMINATIF, IVE, adj. Faculté germinative, germinating—productive—power.
GERMINATION, s. f. germination; the act of sprouting; growing.
GERMINER, v. n. rég. Ière conj. Voyez Germer
GERMOIR, s. m. (t. de jardinage), breeding bed; breeding pot. (T. de brasseur), steeping trough.
GÉROFLÉE. Voyez Giroflée.
GÉRONDIF, s. m. (t. de gram.). Le verbe est au gérondif, the verb is in the gerund.
GÉRONTE, s. m. (t. de théâtre). Cet acteur joue les gérontes, that actor plays the parts of fathers, uncles, or any respectable, honest, elderly man; sometimes also of credulous old men, as in Molière's Fourberies de Scapin.
GÉRONTOCRATIE, s. f. power, influence of old men.
GERZEAU, s. m. Voyez Estrope.
GÉSIER, s. m. gizzard.
GÉSINE, s. f. (vieux mot; t. de médec.). Elle est en gésine, she is confined in childbirth.
GÉSIR, v. n. irrég. (n'a que le participe présent, gisant, et il gît, nous gisons, ils gisent. Je gisais, &c.). Voyez Gît.
GESSE, s. f. (t. de bot.), sort of pear; seed.
GESTATION, s. f. gestation.
GESTE, s. m. (pron. ghèce-tes), gesture; action; sign. Il fait trop de gestes en parlant, he gesticulates too much when speaking. Faites un geste et vous êtes mort, one sign—one gesture and I kill you.
GESTES, s. m. pl. deeds; feats. (Ironic.) On sait vos faits et gestes, we know your great doings.
GESTICULATEUR, s. m. a man who gesticulates, who speaks with much action.
GESTICULATION, s. f. gesticulation.
GESTICULER, v. n. rég. Ière conj., to gesticulate; to act.
GESTION, s. f. (pron. ghèce-tion), management; managing.
GIBBEUX, SE, adj. (pron. jib-beux), gibbous.
GIBBOSITÉ, s. f. (t. de médec.), gibbosity.
GIBECIÈRE, s. f. (t. de chasse), game-bag; (t. d'escamoteur), pouch; (communém.), pouch.
GIBELET, s. m. small gimlet. (Fig.) Il a un coup de gibelet, he is a little cracked, mad.
GIBELIN, s. m. (t. d'hist.), name of those who adopted the emperor's party, in the 12th, 13th and 14th, century.

GIBELOTTE, s. f. (t. de cuisine). Gibelotte de lapin, stewed rabbit.

GIBERNE, s. f. (t. milit.), cartouch box.

GIBET, s. m. gallows; gibbet. On l'attacha au gibet, he was fastened to the gallows. Il est condamné au gibet, he is condemned to the gallows—to be hanged. On pendit Coligny au gibet de Montfaucon, Coligny was hung at Montfaucon (near Paris). (Fig.) Le gibet n'est que pour les malheureux, poverty is a crime, while the rich are saved. Le gibet ne perd point ses droits, sooner or later the culprit is punished.

GIBIER, s. m. game. Gros gibier, stag, deer, wild-boar, &c. Menu gibier, hare, partridge, pheasant, snipes, woodcock, &c. Il y a beaucoup de gibier ici, there is much game here. (Fig.) Cela n'est pas de son gibier, this is no game for him. Cet homme est un vrai gibier de potence, that man is a Newgate bird. Gibier à commissaire (de police), bad women, street-walkers.

GIBOULÉE, s. f. April shower.

GIBOYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to hunt; to shoot. Il aime à giboyer, he is fond of hunting.

GIBOYEUR, s. m. hunter; sportsman.

GIBOYEUX, EUSE, adj. full of game.

GIFLE, s. f. slap in the face.

GIFLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Je le gifflerai, I will slap his face.

GIFLEUR, s. m. a bully; one who beats others.

GIGANTESQUE, adj. gigantic. s. m. Il aime le gigantesque, he likes what is gigantic.

GIGANTOMACHIE, s. f. (t. d'hist.), gigantomachia; the battle of the giants.

GIGOT, s. m. Un gigot, un gigot de mouton, a leg of mutton. (Fam.) Etendre ses gigots, to stretch one's legs. (T. de modes.) Des manches à gigot, was said of sleeves, very large above and tapering down to the wrist. (T. de manége), hind legs of the horse.

GIGOTTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to shake one's legs; to kick up one's legs—heels.—to move one's legs. Etre bien gigotté, to be well limbed.

GIGOGNE, La mère, s. f. (t. de théâtre), mother goose, (an old woman taking care of children).

GIGUE, s. f. (En plaisantant.) Longues gigues, long legs. (En Normandie.) C'est une grande gigue, she is a long-legged girl. (T. de danse.) Danser une gigue, to dance a jig, a light dance. (T. de cuisine.) Une gigue de chevreuil, a haunch of venison (of fallow deer).

GILET, s. m. waistcoat. Gilet de flanelle, flannel waistcoat.

GILLE, s. m. (pron. gi-le) (t. de théâtre, de saltimbanque), clown. (Fig.) C'est un vrai gille, he is a downright silly man.

GIMBLETTE, s. f. small crisp biscuit; mixed biscuits; Lenan's biscuit.

GINGAS, s. m. bed-tick; the stuff of which mattresses are made.

GINGEMBRE, s. m. ginger. Broyer du gingembre, to grind ginger.

GINGUET, TE, adj. poor; mean. (Fam.) Il a l'esprit ginguet, he has a frivolous mind. Boire du ginguet, to drink light, poor wine.

GINSENG, s. m. (t. de bot.), ginseng, (a plant well known in China).

GIRAFE, s. f. (hist. nat.), camelopard.

GIRANDE, s. f. (t. de feu d'artifice), bouquet. (T. de fontainier), a cluster of water-jets.

GIRANDOLE, s. f. girandole; a candlestick with several branches. (T. de feu d'artifice), a cluster of sky-rockets. (T. de toilette.) Une girandole de diamants, a cluster of diamonds; earrings.

GIRASOL, s. m. (t. de bot.), girasol; sunflower; (t. de joaillier), sort of opal.

GIRATOIRE, adj. rotatory.

GIRAUMONT, s. m. (t. de bot.), sort of pumpkin.

GIROFLE, s. m. cloves. Le girofle nous vient des Indes, cloves come from India. Deux ou trois clous de girofle rendraient cette sauce meilleure, two or three cloves would improve this sauce.

GIROFLÉE, Cuuelle, s. f. is the bark of the clove.

GIROFLÉE, s. f. (t. de bot.), gilly flows (commonly called) stock; wall flower.

GIROFLIER, s. m. (t. de bot.), clove-tree.

GIRON, s. m. Il dormait dans le giron de sa mère, he was asleep in the lap of his mother. Le giron de l'église, the pale of the church. (T. d'escal.) Les marches ont quinze pouces de giron, the steps are fifteen inches width. (T. de blason.), gyron.

GIRONDE, s. f. name of a party in the French revolution, formed of the Députés de la Gironde, and those who adopted their opinions.

GIRONDIN, s. m. name of the party who adopted the opinions of the Députés de la Gironde. Lamartine écrit l'histoire des Girondins, Lamartine has written the history of the Girondins.

GIRONNÉ, adj. (t. de blason), gyronné.

GIROUETTE, s. f. weathercock. (T. de marine) vane. (Fig.) C'est une girouette, he is a changeable fellow; a weathercock.

GIROUETTERIE, s. f. fickleness, changeableness (particularly in politics).

GIROUETTISME, s. m. (politique), fickleness, instability of public opinion.

GISANT, E, part. près. de Gésir, lying.

GISEMENT, s. m. (t. de marine). Je connais le gisement des côtes, I know well the bearings of the coasts—how these coasts lie. (T. de mines.) Le gisement, the mineral lies in such a direction.

GIT, 3*me pers. sing. de Gésir*. C'est là que gît le lièvre, such a one. (Fig.) C'est là que gît le lièvre, there lies the secret of the affair—here lies the hare. Tout gît en cela, all consists in that. (T. de marine.) La côte gît nord et sud, the coast lies from north to south.

GITANO, s. m. a name sometimes given to a gipsy.

GITANA, s. f. } especially in Spain.

GÎTE, s. m. home; abode. Il n'a pas de gîte, he has no fixed home. Son gîte est dans la rue, in the street, there is his abode. Je n'avais pas de quoi payer mon gîte, I had not wherewith to pay my lodging. Je cherche un gîte, I am looking out for an inn or for the night.

(T. de chasse.) Un lièvre en son gîte, a hare in its form was thinking. Comme le lièvre dort au gîte, like the hare he comes home in the evening. (T. de mécan.), the fixed wheel of a mill; the socle of the bellows.

GÎTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to lodge; to lie. Je ne sais où il a été se gîter, I know not where he has gone.

GIVRE, s. m. rime; hoar frost; (t. de blason), gore.

GIVRÉ, E, adj. covered with rime; white as with frost.

GLABRE, adj. (t. de bot.), smooth; without hair.

GLAÇANT, E, adj. freezing.

GLACE, s. f. (eau glacée), ice. La glace peut le porter, it bears. Nous irons patiner sur la glace, we shall go and skate on the ice. Vous êtes froid comme glace, you are as cold as ice. En Italie, on boit le vin avec de la glace, in Italy, wine is drunk with ice in it. Nous fîmes rafraîchir de glace deux bouteilles de champagne, we ordered two bottles of champagne to be iced. Nous mangeâmes des cerises à la glace, we had iced cherries. Fouetter des chevaux à la glace, to rough-shoe horses. (Fig.) Il est un homme ferré à glace, he is armed at all points. Rompre la glace, to break the ice. Cet homme est de glace, that man is as cold as ice. Il a un cœur de glace, he is insensible—his heart is of ice. Regarder quelqu'un comme un air de glace, to look coldly upon one. Il sonne avec un air de glace, to look coldly upon one, to freeze him with one's looks. Les glaces de l'âge, the frosts of age.

(T. d'ameublement), glass; looking-glass. Nous avons une glace superbe, we have a large glass—a superb looking-glass. (T. de carros.) Lever, baisser la glace, to lift up, to let down the glass.

(T. de confiseur), ice. On nous donna des glaces au chocolat, they gave us chocolate ices. (T. de cuisine), jelly.

GLACER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Le froid ace les rivières, the hard frost freezes the rivers. ation ne glace jamais, this spring never freezes. ang commence à se glacer, our pond is getting ew.

A cette vue mon sang se glaça, at the sight my rdled. La peur me glaça le sang dans les veines, illed the blood in my veins. Cette eau me glace , that cold water chills—freezes—my hands. Ce e glace le visage, this wind freezes the face. La vieillesse glace le sang, old age chills the Les ans lui ont glacé le cœur, years have chilled Cela glace l'imagination, it chills imagina- cevoir nous glaça d'horreur, this account chilled us with horror. Un amant glacé, a cold—frozen Il a un débit qui glace, his delivery chills you. s sont glacées, your hands are like ice. Il nous ponse glacée, he gave us a very cold answer. confiseur.) Glacer des marrons, des fruits, to estuits, fruit. (T. de cuisine.) Glacer de la to cover meat with jelly. (T. de drapier.) drap, to glaze cloth, to give it a gloss. EUX, CEUSE, adj. (t. de joaillier.) Ce est glaceux, this diamond has flaws. IAL, LE, adj. Il fait un vent glacial, the ezing. Mer glaciale, icy sea. (Fig.) Il a acial, his look is freezing. IALE, s. f. (t. de bot.), ice-plant. IER, s. m. confectioner who he sells ice; ice-man. IER, s. m. (t. de montagne), glacier. IÈRE, s. f. ice-house. (Fig.) Cette salle est glacière, that room is like an ice-house—is ex- cold. ES, s. m. (t. de fortification), glacis; (t. de , varnish. ON, s. m. piece of ice; icicle. ATEUR, s. m. gladiator. EUL, s. m. (t. de bot.), iris; sword grass. ssant, spatula fatida. RE, s. f. (t. de médec.). Il a l'estomac plein de stomach is full of viscous matter; glair. La uf, the glair, white, of an egg. ER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de relieur), to mer the cover of a book with white of eggs. REUX, EUSE, adj. slimy; muculent. SE, s. f. clay. Terre glaise, potter's earth. SER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to clay; to line SEUX, SE, adj. clayey. SIÈRE, s. f. clay pit. VE, s. m. sword. Le roi a la puissance du king has the power of the sword. Le glaive the power of the church. IA. Voyez Lama. LAGE, s. m. glossing. D, s. m. acorn. On a dit que les premiers vaient de gland, it has been said that the earlier n upon acorns. Gland de terre, chickling— (T. de passementier), tassel. (T. d'anat.), glaud. DE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), gland; (sometimes) DÉ, E, adj. (t. de vétérin.), glandered. (T. de cursed. DÉE, s. f. Faire la glandée, to gather acorns. des cochons à la glandée, to turn out pigs to feed est. DULAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), glandular. DULE, s. f. glandule. DULEUX, EUSE, adj. glandulous. E, s. f. glean; handfull. Une glane d'oignons, nions. Voici une belle glane de poires, here is l bunch of pears. ER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to glean. (Fig. et l a peu laissé à glaner derrière lui, he left ome after him. EUR, s. m. } EUSE, s. f. } gleaner. URE, s. f. gleanings; what has been gleaned. IR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir) Cri du id renard et des petits chiens), to yelp. (Fam.) Cette femme, au lieu de chanter, glapit, that woman does not sing, she squeaks.

GLAPISSANT, E, adj. (des animaux), yelping; (des personnes), squeaking.

GLAPISSEMENT, s. m. (des animaux), yelping; (des personnes), squeaking.

GLAS, s. m. knell; passing-bell. Sonner le glas, to toll the bell—to ring a knell. (T. milit.) Tirer un glas, to fire a salute at a funeral.

GLAUCOME, s. m. (t. de médec.), glaucoma (a disease in the eye).

GLAUQUE, adj. (t. de bot.), light pale green. Les feuilles de la capucine sont glauques, the leaves of the nasturtium are of a light—pale—green.

GLÈBE, s. f. glebe. (Fig.) Il arrosoit la glèbe de ses sueurs, he moistened the earth with his sweat.

GLÈNE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), glene; cavity; socket.

GLÉNOÏDALE, } adj. (t. d'anat.), glenoïdal.
GLÉNOÏDE, }

GLETTE, s. m. (mot allemand), litharge.

GLISSADE, s. f. (t. de danse), glissade. (Commun.) Il fit une glissade et tomba, his food slipped and he fell.

GLISSANT, E, adj. slippery. (Fig.) C'est un terrain glissant, this is slippery ground.

GLISSE, s. m. (pas de danse), sliding step.

GLISSEMENT, s. m. sliding.

GLISSER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to slip. L'échelle glissera, si vous ne la retenez, the ladder will slip, if you do not hold it back. Il fait glissant dans les rues, it is very slippery in the streets. J'ai glissé—le pied m'a glissé, my foot slipped. (Fig.) Le pied lui a glissé, he made a mistake. Prenez garde que le pied ne vous glisse, take care lest you should trip—go astray. Les enfants aiment à glisser sur la glace, children like to slide on the ice. (Fig.) C'est à vous à glisser, it is for you to slide —it is your turn to go. Glisser avec des patins, to skate. Il glissa les mains dans ses poches, he thrust his hands in his pockets. Il lui glissa un papier dans la main, he slid—he put secretly—a paper into her hand.

(Fig.) L'orateur a glissé sur ce fait, the orator touched lightly upon—glided lightly over—that fact. Il faut glisser là-dessus, you must touch lightly upon that. Mes remontrances ne font que glisser sur lui, my remonstrances make no impression upon him—only glide over him. Ne pourriez-vous pas en glisser un mot dans votre discours, could not you slide—slip—a word of it into your speech? Je lui en ai glissé deux ou trois mots à l'oreille, I whispered—I dropped—two or three words about it into his ears. C'est lui qui a glissé cette erreur parmi le peuple, he introduced this error among the people.

Il m'a glissé des mains, he escaped from my hands—he slipped out of my hands. Si vous n'y prenez garde, il vous glissera des mains, if you do not mind, he will slip from you—he will escape you.

Je me glissai dans la chambre, I crept into—I got by stealth into—the room. Les voleurs se glissèrent le long du mur, the robbers glided—crept—all along the wall. Le serpent se glisse sous l'herbe, the serpent glides under the grass. Comment s'est-il glissé dans cette société? how did he creep—worm himself—into that society? Les erreurs se glissent facilement, errors creep in easily. Il s'est glissé bien des fautes dans ce livre, many errors have crept into this book. Vous avez laissé glisser des fautes impardonnables, you have allowed to pass impardonable mistakes.

GLISSEUR, s. m. glider; slider. (Avec des patins), skater.

GLISSOIRE, s. f. slide.

GLOBE, s. m. globe. Il a fait le tour du globe, he has gone round the globe. Les globes célestes, the heavenly spheres. Décrire toutes les parties du globe terrestre, to describe all the parts of the terrestrial globe. J'ai acheté une paire de globes, I bought a pair of globes—of spheres.

Le globe de l'œil, the ball of the eye. Des globes de feu, fire-balls.

GLOBULAIRE, adj. globular.

GLOBULE, s. f. globule.

GLOBULEUX, EUSE, adj. globulous.

GLOIRE, s. f. glory. Il aime la gloire, he likes glory—honour. Il souffrirait tout pour la gloire, he would suffer much for the sake of glory. Il a toute la gloire de cette action, he has all the honour—glory—of that action. Gloire soit à Dieu, glory be to God. Il est la gloire de son siècle, he is the glory—the honour—of his age. Je le dirai partout à sa gloire, I will say so every where to his honour. Il se fait gloire de l'avoir fait, he makes a—makes it his—boast of having done it. Il en fait gloire, he makes a boast of it.

Je manquerais à ma gloire, si je le faisais, I should forget my honour—my own dignity—if I did it.

La gloire le perdra, vanity—pride—will ruin him. Tout cela n'est que fausse gloire, all that is but false glory. (T. de théâtre), glory.

GLORIA, s. m. a compound of coffee, brandy and sugar, taken at coffee time, after dinner. Faire du gloria, to mix gloria.

GLORIEUSEMENT, adv. gloriously; honourably.

GLORIEUX, SE, adj. glorious. Il revint glorieux, he came back glorious. Il a fait une action glorieuse, he did a glorious action.

Il n'y a pas de quoi être si glorieux, there is not anything to be glorious—to be vain—about. De quoi est-il si glorieux? what is he so vain of—so proud of? Il est sot et glorieux, he is foolish and vain. Les glorieux sont détestables, vain—pompous—proud—men are abominable. C'est une petite glorieuse, she is a vain little thing.

GLORIFICATION, s. f. glorification.

GLORIFIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Glorifier Dieu, to glorify God. Se glorifier d'une chose, to glory in a thing—to be proud of a thing. Il se glorifie de l'avoir fait, he glories in—he boasts of—having done it. Un père se glorifie dans ses enfants, a father puts his glory—his boast—in his children.

GLORIOLE, s. f. vain glory.

GLOSE, s. f. gloss, comment; experience. C'est la glose d'Orléans, qui est plus obscure que le texte, it is like the comment of Orleans, it is more obscure than the text, (is said of any bad—obscure—explanation.) Point de glose, parlez simplement, no comment, speak simply.

GLOSER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to gloss; to comment upon; to explain. C'est un homme qui aime à gloser sur tout, he likes to censure—to criticize every thing.

GLOSEUR, EUSE, } s. m. f. glossator; commentator;
GLOSATEUR, } one who criticizes.

GLOSSITE, s. f. (t. de médec.), glottis.

GLOSSOPETRE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), glossopetra, (petrified tongues of serpents).

GLOTTE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), glottis.

GLOUGLOUTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to cackle (like turkeys).

GLOUGLOU, s. m. the gurgling noise of the liquor running out of the bottle. Qu'ils sont doux, vos petits glouglous! how sweet your clear gurgles are!

GLOUSSEMENT, s. m. cackling; cackle (of the hen).

GLOUSSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to cackle.

GLOUTERON, s. m. (t. de bot.), burdock.

GLOUTON, s. m. glutton; one who eats inordinately.

GLOUTON, NE, adj. gluttonous. D'un esprit glouton, with gluttonous appetite.

GLOUTONNEMENT, adv. gluttonously; with the voracity of a glutton.

GLOUTONNERIE, s. f. gluttony; voracity—rapacity—in eating; extreme fondness for eating.

GLU, s. f. glue. (T. d'oiseleur.), birdlime. Prendre des oiseaux à la glu, to catch birds with birdlime.

GLUANT, E, adj. sticking; clammy. J'ai touché à quelque chose de gluant, I touched something sticky. Vous avez les mains gluantes, your hands are sticky. (Fig.) C'est qu'il a les mains gluantes, his hands are sticky—he is sure to get something.

GLUAU, s. m. a lime twig (to catch birds with).

GLUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to glue. Gluer des planches, to glue boards together. Ces confitures lui ont gluë les mains, these sweets have made his hands sticky.

GLUI, s. f. thick rye straw (used in thatching).

GLUME, s. m. (t. de bot.), glume; (mus.) husk.

GLUTEN, s. m. (pron. gluténe) (t. d'hist. nat.),

GLUTINATIF, IVE, adj. glutinative; tenacious.

GLUTINEUX, SE, adj. glutinous.

GLYCONIEN, s. m. (t. de poésie Grecque), Glyconian verse.

GLYPTIQUE, s. f. glyptica; glyptography; art of engraving.

GNOME, s. m. gnome; an imaginary being supposed to be friendly to man.

GNOMIDE, s. f. gnomide; female of the gnome.

GNOMIQUE, adj. gnomical; sententious.

GNOMON, s. m. (t. d'astron.), gnomon; a dial; an instrument to calculate the altitude of GNOMONIQUE, s. f. gnomonics; the art of making solar dials.

GNOSTIQUES, s. m. p. Gnostics; early heretics who boasted supernatural knowledge.

GO, Tout de, loc. adv. Cela va tout de go, that goes on—easily—without any difficulty.

GOBBE, s. f. gobbet. Donner une gobbe à un chien, to give a dog a gobbet to poison him.

GOBELET, s. m. goblet; a mug, a cup. (T. des Officiers du gobelet, (officers, clerks who have the care of the bread, and fruit in their management), officers of battery.

(T. d'escamoteur.) Joueur de gobelets, a conjuror—juggler. Faire passer une muscade sous un gobelet, to throw a ball under a cup. Faire des tours de gobelets, to perform juggler's tricks.

GOBELINS, s. m. name of a famous manufactory of tapestry in Paris.

GOBELOTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to tipple.

GOBE-MOUCHES, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), the capa or fly-catcher. (Fig., fam.), gadder; one who believes any thing; a silly man.

GOBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gulp down; to swallow. Il a gobé une couple d'œufs frais. puis il se mit à, he gulped down—he swallowed quickly—a couple of eggs and went away. (Fig. et fam.) Il gobe tout ce qu'on lui dit, he swallows down all that is said to him. Il ne fait que gober des mouches, he gads about—he does nothing. (Pop., fam.) Les gendarmes l'ont gobé en sortant chez lui, the police grabbed him as he was coming out of his house.

GOBERGER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il se plaisait de ces gens là, he was making fun—laughing at—these people. Il se goberge dans un bon fauteuil, he is at his ease—he is lounging—in a comfortable armchair. Ils sont à se goberger à la campagne, they are amusing themselves in the country.

GOBERGES, s. f. laths (which make the GOBET, s. m. gobbet, a mouthful. (Fig., fam.) Prendre un homme au gobet, to catch a man by surprise.

GOBETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to point; to fill up plaster; to stop up crevices—joints.

GOBIN, s. m. a hunchback.

GOBLIN, s. m. goblin, a hobgoblin.

GODAILLE, s. f. drink; guzzling. Il aime la godaille, he is fond of drinking—guzzling.

GODAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to guzzle. Il aime à godailler, he would sit whole day.

GODAILLEUR, s. m. a tippler; one who is GODELUREAU, s. m. a fop; a spark (used to tempt). Elle est toujours entourée d'un tas de godelureaux, she is ever surrounded by numbers of spark fellows.

GODENOT, s. m. a juggler's puppet. (Fam.) Il est fait comme un godenot, he is an ill shaped fellow.

GODER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Cette manche gode, sleeve puckers.

GODET, s. m. a small cup; mug (without handle). foot). (T. de peinture.) Les peintres se servent pour mettre leurs couleurs, painters use small cups their colours in.

DICHE, } s. m. simpleton.
DICHON, }

DICHON, NE, adj. simple; silly.

DIVEAU, s. m. (t. de cuisine), sort of stewed veal

DRON, s. m. (t. d'orfèvrerie), ornaments, beading the edges of plate; (t. de repasseuse), plait.

DRONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ornament with beading. Feuille godronnée (t. de bot.), leaf.

ÉLAND, s. m. (pron. gué-lan), sea gull.

ÉLETTE, s. f. (t. de marine) (pron. gô-lette),

ÉMON, s. m. (pron. go-é-mon), sea weed.

ÉTIE, s. f. (pron. go-é-cie), gaety, invocation of FFE, adj. m. f. awkward; ill shapen.

GAILLE, s. f. merry-making; a bout. Ils sont ille, they have a bout to-day.

GO, A, loc. adv. (familier), vivre à gogo, to live

GUENARD, E, adj. jocose; facetious. Il est ur goguenarde, he is of a facetious humour.

GUENARDER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to joke; to GUENARDERIE, s. f. bad jokes.

GUETTES, s. f. pl. merry things; droll things. en goguettes, to be good humoured—facetious.) Chanter goguettes à quelqu'un, to abuse a NFRE, s. m. glutton; greedy fellow.

NFRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to eat greedily; to NFRERIE, s. f. gluttony; stuffing.

TRE, s. m. wen; goitre. Les femmes sont plus u au goitre que les hommes, women are more subject goitres than men.

TREUX, s. m. } goitrous; one having a goitre.
TREUSE, s. f. }

TREUX, EUSE, adj. goitrous.

LFE, s. m. gulf.

MME, s. f. gum. Gomme arabique, gum arabic. élastique, India rubber; caoutchouc.

MME-GUTTE, s. f. gamboge.

MMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gum.

MMEUX, EUSE, adj. gummy; gummous.

MMIER, s. m. (t. de bot.), gum-tree.

ND, s. m. hinge. Faire sauter les gonds, to break es off. (Fig.) Il me mit hors—il me fit sortir gonds, he put me off the hinges—he put me in a —I was beside myself. (T. de marine.) Les la gouvernail, the pintles and braces of the rudder. de subord, port hooke.

NDOLE, s. f. gondola. Nous nous promenons en , we go about in a gondola.

NDOLIER, s. m. gondolier.

NFALON, s. m. (mot Italien), a standard; a flag.

NFALONIER, s. m. (titre Italien), standard bearer.

NFLEMENT, s. m. swelling; (t. de médec.), dis-

NFLER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to swell; to swell out. Après avoir mangé, l'estomac lui when he has eaten, his stomach swells. Cette pâte , this paste will swell out. Le ballon se gonfle, loon is swelling out—is filling up. Il avait les ollen, his eyes were swollen. (Fig.) Sa fortune flé d'orgueil, his fortune swelled him with pride—him up with pride.

NIN, s. m. C'est un maître gonin, he is a down- gue. Il nous a joué un tour de maître gonin, he an a cunning trick—the trick of a rogue.

NORRHÉE, s. f. (t. de médec.), gonorrhea.

ND, s. m. (t. de pêche). Etablir un gord, to esta- fishery.

RDIEN. Voyez Nœud

GORGE, s. f. throat. Avoir mal à la gorge, to have a sore throat. Il a le mal de gorge, he has a sore throat. Un os lui est resté dans la gorge, a bone stuck in his throat. Il s'est coupé la gorge, he cut his own throat. Les assassins lui ont coupé la gorge, the murderers cut his throat. Je ne voudrais pas me couper la gorge avec lui. I should not like to fight him. Ils se couperont la gorge, si vous ne les séparez, they will cut each other's throat if you do not separate them. Les choses trop épicées vous prennent à la gorge, these things too highly spiced catch you in your throat—make you cough. Le malheureux tendait la gorge à ses assassins, the poor unhappy man held his throat to his murderers. Ils le prirent à la gorge, they throttled him—they seized him by his throat. Ils lui tiennent le poignard à la gorge, il ne peut résister, resistance is impossible, they hold a dagger to his throat. (Fig.) Cette affaire me coupe la gorge, that thing cuts my throat—ruins me. Ils le tiennent à la gorge, they hold him by the throat. Crier à pleine gorge, to cry out—to call as loud as you can. Rire à gorge déployée, to laugh out. Ce rire ne passe pas la gorge, he laughs from the teeth outward—his laugh is not natural. Faire gorge chaude d'une chose, to laugh at a thing—to make merry with it. Ne le lui dites pas, car il en ferait gorge chaude, do not tell it him, for he would only make a joke of it. (T. de chasse), quarry. Chanter de la gorge, to sing in the throat. Vous en avez menti par la gorge, you lie in your throat. Je lui ferai rentrer ces paroles dans la gorge, I will make him eat up his own words. Rendre gorge, to restore; to disgorge.

Cette femme à la gorge très-belle, that woman has a beautiful bosom—neck. Elle a trop de gorge, her neck is too large—too full. Elle cache sa gorge, she covers up her neck—her bosom—her breast.

Les gorges des montagnes, the passes, the defiles of mountains. (T. de fortif.), gorge. (T. général), opening; mouth; hollow.

GORGE DE PIGEON, s. m. f. Sa robe est gorge de pigeon, her dress is pigeon-neck colour.

GORGÉE, s. f. Prenez quelques gorgées de bouillon, take a few mouthsful of broth. Il l'avala d'une gorgée, he swallowed it at one gulp. Boire à petites gorgées, to sip.

GORGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On les a gorgés de vin et de viande, they gorged—filled—them with wine and meat. (Fig.) On le gorgea de biens, they loaded him—filled him—with wealth. Les soldats se gorgèrent de boire, the soldiers glutted themselves with drink—drank their full. Ils se gorgèrent de butin, they filled—loaded—themselves with booty.

(T. de mêlee.) Il a les jambes gorgées, his legs are swelled.

GORGERETTE, s. f. tucker; (armour of the neck) gorget.

GORGERIN, s. m. (pièce d'armure du cou), gorget.

GOSIER, s. m. gullet; throat. Il a le gosier très-étroit, his gullet—his swallow is very narrow. Un os lui est resté dans le gosier, a bone stuck in his throat. J'ai mal au gosier, my throat is sore—I have a sore throat. Il a le gosier paré, his throat is paved; he can drink any thing. J'ai le gosier sec, my throat is dry—I am thirsty. Le gosier du rossignol produit de beaux sons, the nightingale's throat produces—sends out—beautiful sounds. Comme cette femme a le gosier flexible! how flexible that woman's throat—voice—is! Lier plusieurs notes d'un coup de gosier, to run several notes at one breath. Chanter à plein gosier, to sing out. (Fig.) Il casse le gosier, he speaks with emphasis.

GOSSAMPIN, s. m. (t. de bot.), gossampinus; sort of cotton-tree, resembling the pine.

GOTHIQUE, adj. Gothic.

GOTHIQUE, s. m. Gothic. Il y a du gothique dans cette écriture, this writing is Gothic.

GOUACHE, s. f. (t. de peinture). Peindre à la gouache, to paint in body colours. Voilà une jolie gouache, this picture in body colours is pretty.

GOUAILLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. [mot popu- banters—every one. Pourquoi se gouaille-t-il de moi, why does he mock me—deride me?

GOUAILLERIE, s. f. joke; bantering.

GOUAILLEUR, s. m. banterer; one who laughs, jokes

GOUAILLEUSE, s. f. at others.

GOUAILLEUR, EUSE, adj. bantering; mocking.

GOUDRON, s. m. tar.

GOUDRONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to tar; to pay with tar.

GOUDRONNEUX, adj. tarry; pitchy.

GOUFFRE, s. m. gulf; pit; abyss. Il tomba dans un gouffre, he fell into a pit, an abyss. Tout se perd dans le gouffre du passé, all is lost in the abyss of the past. Il tomba dans un gouffre de malheurs, he fell into an abyss of misery. Le gouffre de l'éternité, the bottomless pit of eternity. (Fig.) C'est un gouffre que cet homme-là, that man is a dreadful squanderer.

GOUGE, s. f. (instrument de menuisier), gouge.

GOUINE, s. f. (low word), strumpet.

GOUJAT, s. m. (autrefois) varlet; a soldier servant. (Commune.), clod; an apprentice; labourer; a vulgar fellow.

GOUJON, s. m. (petit poisson), gudgeon. Voulez-vous que nous allions pêcher du goujon, shall we go and fish for gudgeon? (Fig.) On lui a fait avaler le goujon, they made him believe any thing—they took him in. Goujon de mer, black goby. (T. de marine), pin; bolt. Goujon de pommes (t. de peinture en bâtiments), pin. (En général), iron pin—gudgeon.

GOULÉE, s. f. mouthful.

GOULET, s. m. (d'une bouteille), neck. (T. de marine), narrow entrance, pass. (T. d'artillerie), fuze hole of a shell.

GOULIAFRE, s. m. greedy gut; a glutton.

GOULOT, s. m. neck, mouth (of a bottle).

GOULOTTE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), little channel; water conduit.

GOULU, E, adj. greedy; gluttonous; (des animaux), voracious. Pois goulus, peas of which the shell is eaten.

GOULU, s. m. Le goulu de mer, the shark.

GOULUMENT, adv. greedily; (des animaux), voraciously.

GOUPILLE, s. f. a pin.

GOUPILLON, s. m. a sort of brush used by Catholic priests for the aspersion of holy water. Le prêtre asperge l'assemblée avec un goupillon, the priest throws holy water on the congregation with a "goupillon." (En général), brush.

GOURD, E, adj. J'ai les mains gourdes, my hands are numb—stiff with cold. (Fig.) Je vous assure qu'il n'a pas les mains gourdes, I can assure you that he is nimble fingered enough.

GOURDE, s. f. gourd; pumpkin. Les pélerins portaient la gourde, pilgrims used to carry a gourd (a water-bottle). (Fam.) Ce sont des gourdes qu'il vous conte-là, they are stories—lies—which he is telling you.

GOURDIN, s. m. cudgel; stick. Il était armé d'un gros gourdin, he was armed with a thick stick, cudgel. (T. de marine), a bit of rope.

GOURDINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cudgel; to cane. Il a été joliment gourdiné, he has been well cudgelled.

GOURE, s. f. adulterated drug.

GOUREUR, s. m. one who adulterates drugs; (commerce.), a cheat.

GOURGANDINE, s f. bad woman; strumpet.

GOURGANE, s. f. (t. de jardinage), a small species of Windsor bean.

GOURMADE, s. f. a blow with the fist; a cuff; a GOURMAND. s. m. (adj. greedy man; greedy woman.

GOURMANDE, s. f. (Des animaux), voracious; rapacious. Les gourmands recherchent beaucoup ce mets, epicures are very fond of this dish. (T. de jardinage.) Branche gourmande, parasitical branch.

GOURMANDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lecture; to reprimand. Vous l'avez gourmandé trop sévèrement, you lectured—you reprimanded—him too sharply. Gourmander ses passions, to check—to master—one's passions. (T. de manége.) Gourmander un cheval, to [illegible] horse roughly. (T. de cuisine.) Un carré de mouton gourmandé de persil, a neck of mutton garnished with parsley.

GOURMANDISE, s. f. greediness.

GOURME, s. f. (t. de vétérin.), strangles. (Le pulant des enfants.) Il jette sa gourme, he is throwing off his ill humours. (Fig.) Ce jeune homme jette sa gourme, that young man is sowing his wild oats.

GOURMER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj., to curb. (Fam.) Ses camarades l'ont bien gourmé, his school-fellows have famously beaten him. Les uns se gourment, here they are fighting.

Être gourmé, to be stiff, formal.

GOURMET, s. m. judge—connoisseur—of wine. C'est un excellent gourmet, he is a capital judge of wine. Gourmet sur les vins, wine-taster.

GOURMETTE, s. f. (t. de manége), a curb-chain. (Fig.) Ce jeune homme a rompu sa gourmette, that young man has broken his curb—has thrown off restraint. Vous lui lâchez trop sa gourmette, you give him his head—his liberty—too much.

GOUSSAUT, s. m. adj. Un cheval goussaut, a set horse—a small strong horse. (Fam.) Ce fou est un franc goussaut, that man is a downright fellow.

GOUSSE, s. m. (t. de bot.), cod; husk; shell. Une gousse d'ail, a clove of garlic.

GOUSSET, s. m. arm-pit. Sentir le gousset, to have a strong smell from the arm-pit. Goussets (t. de chemise), gussets.

Il tira sa montre de son gousset, he took his watch out of his fob. Fouillez dans votre gousset, look in your pocket, in your fob. Il a le gousset bien garni, his pocket is well filled—he has plenty of money.

GOÛT, s. m. taste. Ce fruit est d'un goût [illegible] that fruit has an agreeable taste. Cela est sans goût, it is tasteless. Cette viande est de bon goût, the meat is well tasted—had tasted—. Cela est de mauvais goût, that meat is ill tasted—had tasted—. Quel est le goût? what taste has it? Cela a un goût de pourri, it is like something that is rotten. Je n'y trouve aucun goût, I find no taste in it—it is quite tasteless to me. Cette sauce est de haut goût, this sauce is too high tasted—is highly seasoned.

Cet homme a perdu le goût, that man has lost his taste—the sense of taste. Il a le goût fin, he has a keen taste. Il ne prend goût à rien, he likes nothing—he quite relishes nothing. Le goût commence à lui revenir, his taste is returning.

(Fig.) Cette femme a du goût, that woman has taste. Il a du goût en peinture, he has a taste for painting. Il manque de goût, he wants taste. Il est sans goût, he is not without taste—he has taste. On ne peut disputer sur les goûts, it is of no use disputing about tastes. Prendre goût à une chose, to begin to like it. Ce sont des ouvrages de goût, they are works of taste. Cela est de fort mauvais goût, this is in very bad taste.

Cela n'est pas dans le goût Français, this is according to French style—taste—fashion. Il fait des vers dans le goût de Victor Hugo, he writes very bad verses in the style of Victor Hugo. Cela lui formera le goût, that will form his taste. (T. de musique) Fioriture de goût, embellishments.

GOÛTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il ne goûte pas ce qu'il mange, he does not taste what he eats. Je n'ai pas goûté sans le goûter, I swallowed it without tasting. Il goûte pas ce qu'il mange, he does not taste—enjoy—what he eats. (Fig.) Il sait goûter les plaisirs de la campagne, he knows how to enjoy the pleasures of the country. Il goûtait les douceurs du sommeil, he was enjoying the sweets of sleep. Je n'ai jamais pu goûter [illegible] I never could like—enjoy—that man. Elle goûte fort votre société, she enjoys—appreciates—your company greatly. Le public ne goûte pas cet auteur, the public likes the public taste is not for—the public does not like—such kinds of works. Il ne goûte ni les vers ni les romans, he likes—he appreciates—neither verse—nor romance.

auteur fort goûté, he is much appreciated as an author.
nt goûté de tous, he is appreciated by all.
Le cuisinier doit toujours goûter la sauce, the cook t always to taste his sauce. Il s'entend à goûter le he understands tasting wine.
Voulez-vous goûter à—de—notre vin, would you taste wine? J'en ai goûté, il est excellent, I have tasted it, excellent. J'en prendrai un peu, seulement pour y
ter, I will take a little, merely to taste it. (Fig.) a goûté du métier, he has had a taste of the profession.
i goûté, I have had a taste of it. Il veut goûter de
, he will taste of every thing.
GOÛTER, s. m. (autrefois) (repast between dinner supper, composed of fruit, cheese, sweets, &c.), a sort collation.
GOUTTE, s. f. drop. Il n'y en a pas une goutte, e is not a drop of it. Des gouttes de pluie com- ent à tomber, drops of rain are beginning to fall.
ez une goutte de bouillon, take a drop of broth. Je is pas une goutte de sang dans les veines, I had not drop of blood left in my veins. Goutte à goutte, by drop.
Prendre, boire la goutte, means to take some brandy or spirits undiluted, in a small glass. Les ouvriers ont à prendre la goutte le matin, working people like tle brandy in the morning.
GOUTTE, adv. not at all. Le pauvre homme ne voit te, the poor man is quite blind. Ouvrez la porte, n n'y voit goutte, open the door, for it is quite dark
—you cannot see here. Je n'entends goutte à ce qu'il
I do not understand at all what he says.
GOUTTE, s. f. (maladie), gout. Voilà quinze jours
l a la goutte, he has had the gout for the last fortnight.
la goutte aux pieds, he has the gout in his feet.
Goutte sereine, gutta serena. Goutte sciatique, sciatica.
GOUTELETTE, s. f. a small drop.
GOUTTEUX, EUSE, adj. gouty.
GOUTTIÈRE, s. f. gutter. Se promener sur les gout-
s, to walk (of cats) on the roof of houses.
GOUVERNAIL, s. m. rudder; helm.
GOUVERNANCE, s f. government.
GOUVERNANTE, s f. housekeeper. (Des enfants), ness. (D'une province), lady governess.
GOUVERNEMENT, s. m. government. Le gou- ment de la France est monarchique, the government France is monarchical. J'en ferai la demande au rnement, I will address a request for it to government.
lui avait donné le gouvernement de Normandie, they given him the government of Normandy. Le gou- ment d'une banque est difficile, the direction—the agement—of a bank is no easy thing. Je laisse tout
s gouvernement, I leave every thing under his direc-
—in his management. C'est lui qui a le gouvernement es affaires, he has the conduct—management—of all affairs.
GOUVERNE, s. f. guidance; direction.
GOUVERNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to govern; to
; to manage. Ce prince gouverne sagement son ume, that prince governs his kingdom wisely. Dieu verne l'univers, God rules the world. Le père gouverne enfants, the father governs his children. Elle gouverne sa maison, she manages—rules—her house badly.
ns cette maison, la femme gouverne, in that house, the commands—rules. Vous avez mal gouverné ces affaires, you managed—conducted—those affairs badly.
a bien gouverné ses ressources, he husbanded his re-rces well. Sachez gouverner vos passions, learn to mand—to master—your passions. Il se gouverne
, he behaves well. (T. de gramm.) Ce verbe gouverne datif, that verb governs the dative case.
(T. de marine.) Gouverner un navire, to steer a ship.
Normand ne gouverne pas, this ship does not answer helm.
GOUVERNEUR, s. m. governor. Il était gouverneur cette province, he was the governor of that province.
est gouverneur de la banque de France, he is governor
Do we pay more tutor—of the Prince of Wales has not yet been appointed.

GOYAVE, s. f. guava.
GOYAVIER, s. m. guava-tree.
GRABAT, s. m. stump bedstead. (Commun.), a poor, wretched bed or couch. (Fam.) Il est sur le grabat, he is ill in bed.
GRABATAIRE, s. m. bed-ridden person. (T. d'hist.), a sect, who deferred baptizing until the last moment.
GRABUGE, s. m. Il y a eu du grabuge entr'eux, there was quarrelling—a squabble—among them. Il y a toujours du grabuge en ménage, there is always some quarrel—some noise—in that family.
GRÂCE, s. f.
(Faveur.) Accordez-moi cette grâce, do grant me this favour. Je vous le demande en grâce, I ask it of you as a favour. Il vous a comblé de grâces, he has loaded you—filled you—with favours. Faites-moi la grâce de lui en parler, do me the favour to speak to him about it.
Il distribue ses grâces, he distributes his favours. Puissent mes efforts trouver grâce auprès de vous—devant vous, may my endeavours find grace—favour—with you. Il est en grâce auprès du prince, he is in favour with the prince. Il est dans les bonnes grâces du maître, he is in favour with the master.
Cela lui est venu par la grâce de Dieu, that came to him by God's mercy. De Dieu grâce, providentially. Par la grâce de Dieu, by God's mercy. Pour la grâce de Dieu, n'y allez pas, for God's sake, do not go there. De grâce (Dei gratiâ), for God's mercy—pray. Dieu m'a accordé cette grâce, God granted this grace to me.
(T. de commerce.) En Angleterre, on donne trois jours de grâce pour payer un billet, in England, they give three days' grace to pay a bill.
(Pardon.) Il ne mérite aucune grâce, he does not merit forgiveness. Il a obtenu sa grâce, he has obtained his pardon. Le roi lui a fait grâce, the king pardoned him. Le peuple entier criait Grâce, grâce! the people in a mass cried out, Grace, pardon!
(Fam.) Faites-moi grâce de vos observations, je vous en prie, spare me your remarks I pray you. Il ne nous a pas fait grâce d'une seule ligne, he did not spare us—excuse us—one single line. Faites-moi grâce d'y aller, dispense with my going—excuse my going.
(T. de théologie.) Sans la grâce, il n'est point de salut, without the grace of God, there is no salvation. Il est mort dans la grâce, he died in God's grace. Elle est en état de grace, she is in a state of grace.
Nous sommes en l'an de grâce 1848, we are in the year of our Lord 1848.
(Remercîments.) Grâces à Dieu, thanks to God. Grâces à lui, cela n'a pas eu lieu, thanks to him, that did not take place. Dire grâces, to say grace. Voulez-vous bien dire les grâces? will you be good enough to say grace?
(T. de mythologie.) Les trois Grâces, the three Graces.
(Fam.) Il n'a pas sacrifié aux Grâces, he has not sacrificed to the Graces—he is not graceful—he does not study to be graceful.
Elle met de la grâce dans tout, she is graceful in every thing. Il a bonne grâce à cheval, he is a graceful rider—he looks well on horseback. Cet acteur est plein de grâce, that performer is very graceful—is full of grace. De bonne grâce, readily—with a good grace. De mauvaise grâce, unwillingly, with a bad grace. Vous avez bonne grâce à vous plaindre, it becomes you indeed to complain. Il aurait bonne grâce à le demander, it belongs to him indeed to ask for it.
Bonnes grâces, s. f. pl. the curtains—the ornaments—(Titre d'honneur d'un Duc, des Archevêques en Angleterre). Sa Grâce le Duc de Buccleuch, his Grace the Duke of Buccleuch.
GRACIABLE, adj. pardonable; that can be pardoned.
GRACIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pardon.
GRACIEUSEMENT, adv. graciously; kindly.
GRACIEUSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to treat kindly, graciously.
GRACIEUSETÉ, s. f. kindness; favour; gracious,

GRACIEUX, EUSE, adj. graceful; agreeable. Il y a quelque chose de gracieux dans tout ce qu'elle fait, she is graceful—there is something graceful—in all she does. Cette dame est fort gracieuse, this lady is gracious—affable. Il nous fit une réception gracieuse, he gave us a very gracious reception.

GRACILITÉ, s. f. slenderness.

GRADATION, s. f. gradation.

GRADE, s. m. (t. milit.), grade; rank. (T. Universitaire), degree, grade. Prendre ses grades, to take one's degrees. Il vient d'obtenir le grade de docteur, he has just obtained the degree—grade—of doctor.

GRADÉ, adj. Un militaire gradé, a commissioned officer (is said of subaltern officers coming from the ranks). [stand.

GRADIN, s. m. steps. (T. d'archit., d'ameublement), GRADUATION, s. f. graduation.

GRADUEL, LE, adj. gradual.

GRADUEL, s. m. (livre d'hymnes), gradual.

GRADUELLEMNT, adv. gradually; by degrees.

GRADUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to graduate. Ce thermomètre est mal gradué, this thermometer is incorrectly graduated. Il faut graduer les difficultés de la langue, we must regulate the difficulties of the language. Mon fils Henri est gradué de l'université de Paris, my son Henry is a graduate of the University of Paris.

GRAILLEMENT, s. m. hoarseness.

GRAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to call the dogs by sound of horn.

GRAILLON, s. m. remnant; scrap of meat, of fat (from the table). Cela a un goût de graillon, that does not taste fresh—it has a musty taste. Sentir le graillon, to smell something greasy, musty. (Fam.), gob. Cette Marie graillon m'ennuie, that slovenly slut tires me.

GRAIN, s. m.

Le grain est très-gros cette année, corn—seed—grain—is very large this year. Ce blé est mal battu, on y a laissé quantité de grains, this corn is badly thrashed, they have left a quantity of grains in it. La récolte des grains est belle, the corn harvest is very good. Les grains blancs, corn. Les gros grains, corn, wheat. Les menus grains, barley, oats, rye, &c. Poulets de grain, barn-door fowls. (Fig.) Être dans le grain, to be in luck—to be engaged in a useful—prosperous—concern.

Grain de raisin, a berry, a grain of grapes. Grain de poivre, a grain—a berry of pepper. Grain de moutarde, mustard seed. Grain de grenade, a pip—a kernel—of the pomegranate. Un grain d'encens, a little incense. Des grains d'or, particles of gold. Des grains de verre, glass beads. Un grain de petite vérole, a pit, a mark of the small pox. Un chapelet à gros grains, a chaplet or rosary with large beads. Epaulette à gros grains, a colonel's epaulet—the epaulet worn by superior officers in France.

Un grain, one grain. Je n'en ai pas un grain, I have not one grain of it. (Fig.) Cet homme n'a pas un grain de bon sens, that man has not one grain of common sense. Il y a là un petit grain de folie, there is in that a little grain of folly—he is rather cracked.

Le grain de bois est beau, this wood is beautifully grained. Vous allez contre le grain, you are going against the grain.

Un grain de vent, a squall of wind. Voilà un grain noir qui vient, here is a dark squall coming.

GRAINE, s. f. seed. Graine de laitue, lettuce seed. J'en ai de la graine, I have seed of it. Monter en graine, to come to seed. (Fig.) Méfiez-vous de cette mauvaise graine, distrust that bad seed. Cette fille monte en graine, that girl is coming to seed—is getting beyond the marriageable age. Il porte les épaulettes à graine d'épinards, he wears large bullion epaulets—the epaulets of a superior officer. C'est de la graine de niais que vous nous donnez-là, what you say may catch fools—it will not do for us.

GRAINIER, s. m. } seedsman; seedswoman.
GRAINIÈRE, s. f. }

GRAISSAGE, s. m. greasing.

GRAISSE, s. f. grease; fat. La graisse l'incommode, he is too fat—his grease inconveniences him. Cette poularde a un doigt de graisse, that fowl has one inch thick of fat. Enlevez cette graisse, take off that grease. Une tache de graisse, a spot of grease. (Fig., fam.) Ce n'est qu'un peloton de graisse, it is a mass of fat. La graisse l'empêche pas de courir, his fat does not prevent him from running—he is very thin. Ce vin tourne à la graisse, the wine is getting ropy. La graisse de la terre, the fatness of the ground.

GRAISSER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to grease. Vous allez vous graisser les mains, you will grease your hands. Comme vous graissez vos habits, how you grease your clothes. Ce vin commence à graisser, this wine is getting ropy. (Fig., fam.) Graisser le cuisinier, to eat a good breakfast, at lunch. Graisser ses bottes, to make one's preparations for going on a journey—to elope. (Fig.) Graisser le marteau—graisser la patte à un portier, to fee—to bribe—a porter to get admittance. Graisser ses épaules à quelqu'un, to cane a person.

GRAISSEUX, EUSE, adj. greasy; fat.

GRAMEN, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. gra-men), grass.

GRAMINÉE, adj. m. f. (t. de bot.), gramineous plants.

GRAMMAIRE, s. f. grammar.

GRAMMAIRIEN, s. m. grammarian.

GRAMMAIRIEN, NE, adj. grammarian.

GRAMMATICALEMENT, adv. grammatically.

GRAMMATICAL, E, adj. grammatical.

GRAMMATISTE, s. m. grammatist.

GRAMME, s. m. (poids décimal de mesure). Mille grammes dans le kilogramme, the kilogramme contains one thousand grammes.

GRAND, E, adj. Homme grand, a tall man. Un grand homme, a great man. Alexandre le grand, Alexander the Great. Vous êtes plus grand que moi, you are taller than I. Qui est le plus grand? who is the tallest? Ils habitent une grande maison, they inhabit a large house. C'est une femme très-grande, she is a tall woman. Il est de grande taille, he is of a high stature. Un grand arbre, a high tree. Il demeure à une grande distance, he is living at a great distance. Un grand pas, a great—a large—step. Il faisait de grands pas, he was taking large steps. Il marchait à grands pas, he was striding along. L'armée marchait à grandes journées, the army was proceeding by forced marches. Il allait grand train, he was going very fast. C'est une grande ville, it is a large town. Une grande rue, a large street. La grande rue, the high street. La grande salle, the large room. Elle a la bouche très-grande, she has a large mouth. Elle a les yeux grands, she has large eyes. Elle ouvrait—elle faisait—de grands yeux, she looked with astonishment. (Fig.) Vous avez les yeux plus grands que le ventre, you will not eat so much as you think—your eye is bigger than your belly.

Leurs enfants sont déjà grands, their children are already grown up. Quand je serai grand, when I am grown up—a man. Vous n'êtes pas assez grand pour aller seul, you are not old enough to go alone. Il est déjà grand garçon, he is already a big boy. Vous êtes une grande fille, here you are a big girl. Une grande personne, a grown up man—woman. Les enfants veulent toujours les grandes personnes, children imitate those who are grown up.

Il y a deux grands milles, it is two long miles. J'ai attendu deux grandes heures, I waited two long hours.

(Moralement), great. Grande douleur, great grief. Elle est d'une grande beauté, she has great beauty. Il a laissé de grands souvenirs, he left great souvenirs. Un grand peuple, they are a great nation.

Il n'y avait pas grand monde au spectacle, there was not many people at the play. Je n'ai pas grand argent, I have not much money. Il aime le grand monde, he likes high company. Les grands dignitaires de l'état, the great dignitaries of the state. C'est un grand seigneur, he is a nobleman. Les plus grands seigneurs de la cour étaient, the highest personages—noblemen—were there. Il tranche du grand seigneur, he affects the nobleman. Il tranche du grand, he affects the manners of a great man. Il a le cœur grand, he has a noble—magnanimous heart. Grand maître de l'université, the up

…r of the University. Grand maître des cérémonies. …gh—the great—master of the ceremonies. Le grand …ner, the high almoner. Le grand maître de l'ar…ie, the master-general of the ordnance. Le grand …e, the high priest. Grand officier de la Légion …neur, great officer of the Legion of Honour. Les …s refuserent, the high people refused. Il s'attacha …grand, he attached himself to a nobleman. Un …d d'Espagne, a Spanish grandee. …l'époque des grandes eaux, in the time of inundations …en the waters are out. …grand jour, day-light. Il fait grand jour, levez-…donc, it is broad day-light, do get up. Mettre les …s au grand jour, to give publicity to things—to bring …to light. Ne vous exposez pas au grand air, do not …re in the open air. (Fig.) Il se donne de grands …he gives himself great airs. Il aime les grands … he likes big words. Je le ferai de grand cœur, I …to it most readily—with all my heart. Nous sommes …les amis, we are great friends. …grand' peine, hardly. Faire grand' chère, to live …. La grand' messe, the high mass. La grand' mère, …randmother. …y a quelque chose de grand dans cela, there is some…great in that. …de grand.) Il s'est fait peindre en grand, he had …elf painted at full length. Il fait les choses en …d, he does things greatly. Il travaille en grand, he …s on a large scale. Il pense, il agit en grand, he …s, he acts nobly. (Autrefois.) Vivre à la grande, …e nobly—like noble people.

GRAND' CHOSE, s. f. Ce n'est pas grand' chose, …s no great thing. Il n'y a pas grand' chose à gagner, …le no great thing to gain.

GRAND CROIX, s. m. Il est grand' croix de l'ordre, a knight grand cross of the order.

GRAND JUGE, s. m. lord high justice.

GRAND LIVRE, s. m. Le grand livre de la dette …que, the great book of the public debt. Tout cela …scrit au grand livre, all that is registered in the great …. (T. de commerçant), ledger.

GRAND-MERCI (loc. elliptique.), I thank you; much …ed to you.

GRAND' MÈRE, s. f. grandmother.

GRAND' MESSE, s. f. high mass.

GRAND OCÉAN, s. m. great ocean.

GRAND-ONCLE, s. m. great-uncle.

GRAND-PÈRE, s. m. grandfather.

GRAND SIRE, s. m. grandfather; ancestor.

GRAND' TANTE, s. f. great aunt.

GRAND TURC, s. m. great Turk; the Sultan.

GRAND, s. m. Voyez Grand, adjectif.

GRANDAT, s. m. Voyez Grandesse.

GRANDE, s. f. Elle est grande d'Espagne, she is a …ish grandee.

GRANDE BRETAGNE, s. f. Great Britain.

GRANDE MARÉE, s. f. high-tide.

GRANDELET, TE, adj. tallish.

GRANDEMENT, adv. greatly. (Extrêmement.) Il …trompe grandement, he is sadly deceived. Vous avez …dement raison, you are all in the right.

GRANDESSE, s. f. (dignité en Espagne), grandeeship. …e trois grandesses dans cette maison, there are three …s of Grandee in that house. Toute la grandesse s'y …va, all the grandees opposed it.

GRANDEUR, s. f. Ces deux hommes sont de la …même grandeur, these two men are of equal size—height—…re. Cela est de la grandeur d'un pied, that thing is …foot in size. Il y en a de toutes les grandeurs, there …some of all sizes. Quelle est la grandeur de ce parc? …t is the size—the extent—of that park? …Telle est la grandeur de son entreprise, such is the …ness—the magnitude—of his enterprise. La grandeur …péril ne le détournera point, the greatness of the danger …not deter him from it. …Voyez la grandeur de Dieu, admire the greatness of …. Il travaillait dès lors à sa future grandeur, …was then working for his future greatness. Quelle grandeur d'âme, what greatness of mind. Il méprise les grandeurs de ce monde, he despises the grandeur of this world.

GRANDEUR (titre adressé aux Ecêques et archevêques), Grace.

GRANDIOSE, adj. (emprunté de l'Italien), grandiose; [grand.

GRANDIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. (Voyez Punir.) (Des personnes), to grow tall. Comme cet enfant grandit, how tall that child is getting—growing. Il grandit en sagesse, he is growing in wisdom. Il grandissait en renommée, he was rising in fame——he was growing great in fame. L'empire grandit sous son règne, under his reign, the empire increased. (Fig.) Croyez vous grandir en rabaissant les autres, do you imagine you will raise yourself by depreciating others? (Des choses.) Comme ces arbres grandissent, how much these trees grow! La pluie a fait grandir le blé, rain made the corn to grow.

GRANDISSIME, adj. m. f. very great.

GRANGE, s. f. barn. Batteur en grange, corn thresher.

GRANIT, s. m. (pron. gra-nite), granite.

GRANITIQUE, adj. granitical.

GRANULATION, s. f. granulation.

GRANULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to granulate.

GRANULEUX, EUSE, adj. granulous.

GRAPHIQUE, adj. graphical.

GRAPHIQUEMENT, adv. graphically.

GRAPHOMÈTRE, s. m. graphometer; an instrument for surveying.

GRAPPE, s. f. Une grappe de raisin, a bunch of grapes. Cet arbre porte son fruit par grappes, that tree bears its fruit in bunches. (Fig.) Mordre à la grappe, to bite—.—to seize readily a proposal—an opportunity. (T. d'artillerie.) Grappe de raisin, grape shot. (T. de vétérinaire), scratches.

GRAPILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to glean in a vineyard. (Fig.), to scrape; to make little profits; to pilfer.

GRAPILLEUR, s. m. [gleaner; (fig.), pilferer; one

GRAPILLEUSE, s. f. who makes little profits.

GRAPILLON, s. m. small bunch.

GRAPPIN, s. m. (t. de marine), grappling; grappling iron. Grappins d'abordage, boarding-grapplings—irons. Grappin à main, hand grapnel. (Fig.) Quand il a mis le grappin sur vous, vous ne pouvez en échapper, when he has once taken hold of you, you cannot run away from him. (T. de marine), small anchor.

GRAS, SE, adj. fat. Ces vaches ne sont pas grasses, these cows are not fat. Il y avait là un gros homme gras, there was there a large—fat—man. Comme vous êtes gras, how fat—plump you are! Il est gras à lard, he is as fat as a pig. Cette viande est grasse à lard, that meat is as fat as bacon. Enlevez les matières grasses, you must take off the greasy—the fat—matters. Ce bouillon est trop gras, that broth is too fat—too rich. Nous mangeons de la soupe grasse, we eat meat soup. (Fig.) On tuera le veau gras à votre retour, they will kill the fatted calf on your return. Il en est sorti gras, he came away in good condition—having enriched himself. Quand vous l'aurez fait, vous n'en serez pas plus gras, when you have done it, you will not be the fatter. Après dîner, il avait la langue un peu grasse, his tongue was rather thick after dinner.

Vous avez les mains grasses, essuyez-les, wipe your hands, they are as greasy. Il porte un vieux chapeau tout gras, he wears an old greasy hat. Le pavé est gras, the pavement is slippery. Ce vin est gras, the wine is thick. La terre est grasse ici, the soil here is strong—rich. Il dit quelquefois des choses fort grasses, he says sometimes obscene—smutty—things.

Cause grasse, (was a mock trial, which at Christmas young lawyers held for amusement).

Les jours gras, shrove tide—.—Sunday, Monday, Tuesday before Lent. Les rues sont pleines de masques le Mardi gras, on shrove Tuesday, the streets are crowded with maskers. Avoir la vue grasse, not to see plain.

GRAS, s. m. fat. Les Français, en général, n'aiment pas le gras, the French, generally, dislike fat. Ne me donnez pas de gras, do not give me any fat. On servit en gras et en maigre, the dinner was served with meat and fish. Riz au gras, rice boiled in gravy. Le gras de la jambe, the fat of the leg (the calf).

GRAS, adv. Nous faisons gras toute la semaine, we eat meat every day. Faites-vous gras les jours maigres, do you eat meat on fast days? Parler gras, to speak thick, with a thick tongue.

GRAS DOUBLE, s. m. (t. de cuisine), tripe.

GRAS-FONDU, s. m. (t. de vétérin.), sort of inflammation in the intestines of horses from hard labour. (Fig., fam.) Il ne mourra pas de gras-fondu, there is no danger of his dying of fat.

GRASSEMENT, adv. Vivre grassement, to live in plenty—generously. Il paie grassement, he pays amply—generously.

GRASSET, TE, adj. plumpish; fatty.

GRASSETTE, s. f. (t. de bot.), butterwort; sanicle.

GRASSEYEMENT, s. m. lisping; lisp. (Difficulté de prononcer l'r); (commune), burr.

GRASSEYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to lisp.

GRASSEYEUR, s. m. } one who lisps.

GRASSEYEUSE, s. f. }

GRASSOUILLET, TE, adj. fattish; fat; plumpish; plump.

GRATERON, s. m. (t. de bot.), burr; burdock.

GRATICULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de peint.), to copy a drawing by means of squares.

GRATIFICATION, s. f. gratuity.

GRATIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le roi a gratifié tous ses officiers, the king has given a gratuity to all his officers. (Commune.) Vous me gratifiez d'une qualité que je ne mérite pas, you honour me with—you give a—quality I do not deserve. Pourquoi me gratifiez-vous de vos bêtises? why should you throw your faults upon me?

GRATIN, s. m. (t. de cuisine), rasped crust of bread put over viands, and browned. Du bœuf au gratin, beef with rasped crust of bread; the burnt part of any thing which adheres to the saucepan, &c.

GRATIOLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), hedge-hyssop.

GRATIS, adv. (mot Latin, pron. gra-tice), gratis.

GRATITUDE, s. f. gratitude.

GRATTE-CUL, s. m. (t. de bot.), hip; berry of the [rose tree.

GRATTELEUX, EUSE, adj. itchy; having the itch.

GRATELLE, s. f. sort of itch.

GRATTE-PAPIER, s. m. paper-scribbler; quill-driver; a drudge.

GRATTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to scrape; to scratch. Gratter une muraille, to scrape a wall. Gratter la terre, to scratch the earth. Grattez-les avec un couteau, vous en enlèverez la crotte, scrape them with a knife, you will get the mud away. Grattez ces mots, rub out these words. Il y a plusieurs mots grattés, there are several words scratched—rubbed—out. Autrefois on ne frappait pas à la porte d'une chambre, on grattait, formerly, people did not knock at the door of a room, they scratched. (Fam.) J'ai gratté le papier pendant vingt ans, for twenty years was I a quill-driver (in a lawyer's office).

Il n'est pas poli de se gratter la tête, it is not polite to scratch one's head. Vous enflammerez la plaie, si vous vous grattez, you will enflame the wound, if you scratch yourself. (Fig.) Il le gratte où il lui démange, he scratches him where he itches—i. e. he humours him. Il lui gratte l'épaule, he tries to please him.

GRATTOIR, s. m. sort of knife used to scratch out words. Effacez ces mots avec le grattoir, scratch out these words with the scraping knife.

GRATUIT, E, adj. gratuitous; unfounded; free. Ce que je lui donne est gratuit, what I give him is gratuitous—is of my free accord. Il y a une école gratuite de dessin, there is a free drawing-school. Ses consultations sont gratuites, his consultations are gratis. Vous lui faites-là une insulte bien gratuite, you offer him an insult he has not deserved—a gratuitous insult.

GRATUITÉ, s. f. gratuity; free gift.

GRATUITEMENT, adv. gratuitously; gratis; freely. Vous avancez cela gratuitement, you advance that without ground—gratuitously.

GRAVETIER, s. m. the gravel—the rubbish—i. e. the dustman. Ce mot est formé de "gravois", gravetier.

GRAVATIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), heavy.

GRAVE, adj. (sens physique), heavy. (Sens moral) grave; serious; weighty. Il a toujours l'air si grave, he always looks so grave, so serious. C'est un sujet grave, that is a very serious—important—grave matter. La maladie est grave, his illness is serious. (T. de gram.) L'accent grave, the grave accent. (T. de musique) La voix est belle dans les tons graves, his voice is fine in the grave—full—tones. (Grave est quelquefois substantif.) Il passe du grave à l'aigu, he passes from the grave to the acute.

GRAVELÉE, adj. f. (mot chimique). Cream of tartar; dried tartar.

GRAVELEUX, EUSE, adj. Fruit graveleux, any gritty fruit. Cette terre est graveleuse, this soil is gravelly. (T. de médec.), gravelly. Il est goutteux et graveleux, he has the gout and the gravel—he is both gouty and gravelly. (Fig.) Ses contes sont un peu graveleux, his stories are rather free—smutty.

GRAVELLE, s. f. (t. de médec.), gravel; stone.

GRAVELURE, s. f. obscene, smutty thing.

GRAVEMENT, adv. gravely; (t. de musique), gravely; slowly.

GRAVER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to engrave (fig. morally), to engrave; to impress; to imprint. Graver sur planche de cuivre, to engrave on copper plate. Graver une inscription sur sa tombe, they engraved—put an inscription on his tomb. Comme cette médaille est bien gravée, how well engraved this medal is. Graver l'eau forte, to etch. Graver en taille douce, to engrave on copper plate. Graver en bois, to engrave on wood. Graver des caractères d'imprimerie, to cut the mould—for printing characters. (Fig.) Ces bontés sont gravées dans mon cœur, your kindness is engraved—printed—in my heart. Ces choses restent profondément gravées dans l'esprit, these things remain deeply engraved—impressed—on the mind.

Il a le visage gravé de petite vérole, his face is marked—pitted—with small-pox.

GRAVEUR, s. m. f. engraver.

GRAVIER, s. m. gravel; (t. de médec.), gravel.

GRAVIR, v. a. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Finir), to climb; to climb up. Gravir sur un mur, to climb up a wall, a tree. Gravir une montagne, un rocher, to climb a mountain—a rock.

GRAVITATION, s. f. (t. de physique), gravitation.

GRAVITÉ, s. f. (peinture), gravity; (fig.) gravity; seriousness.

GRAVITER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to gravitate.

GRAVOIS, s. m. rubbish; gravel.

GRAVURE, s. f. engraving; print.

GRÉ, s. m. (Ce mot vient du Latin gratus) grace; inclination; ployer dans le sens de goût, plaisir, volonté, inclination.

(Goût, plaisir.) Cela est-il à votre gré, is it according to your taste? A mon gré, ce discours est beau, in my opinion, that speech is beautiful. Cela est à mon gré, that suits me—is after my taste. On ne peut pas être au gré de tout le monde, you cannot be to the taste of every body—please every body.

(Volonté, inclination.) Il y est allé de son plein gré, he went there of his own free will—accord. Cela est contre mon gré, that is against my will. Il le fera de gré ou de force, he shall do it whether he will or no—nolens, volens. Vous pouvez, à votre gré, partir ou rester, you may stay or go, as you like—please. Le vaisseau allait au gré des vents, our ship went at the pleasure—mercy—of the winds. Vous ferez à votre gré, you shall act according to my will—as I please. Ils vont gré à gré, amicably, with common accord. Cela se fera malgré moi, it is quite against me. Voyez SAVOIR.

Prendre en gré, to like; to feel pleasure in. Il m'a pris en gré, he took a liking to me. Prenez en gré ce que je vous donne, take well—do not be offended at—the advice I give you. Il faut prendre en gré les afflictions que Dieu nous envoie, we must submit patiently to the afflictions which God sends us.

voir gré d'une chose à quelqu'un, to feel obliged—to bliged for a thing to one. Allez-y, il vous en aura gré, go, he will be obliged to you for it.
voir gré à une personne d'une chose, "to know there ed will in one, for doing a thing," means to be obliged to for it. Je lui sais gré de ce qu'il a fait, I feel ed to him for what he has done. Venez, nous vous aurons bon gré, come, we shall be obliged to you for Je me sais bon gré de ne l'avoir pas fait, I am well ed with myself that I did not go. Il s'en saura gré, ll applaud himself for it. Je vous en sais mauvais
I am angry with you for it. Je me sais bien mauvais le m'y avoir pas été, I am angry—vexed—disappointed
I did not go. [bird.
RÈBE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), grebe; sort of aquatic REC, s. m. adj. } Greek. L'église Grecque, the RECQUE, s. f. adj. } Greek church. Apprendre le
, to learn Greek. (Fig. et fam.) Cet homme n'est pas
, that man is not clever. Cela est du Grec pour moi, not understand this, it is Greek to me.
RÉCISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to give to a word a k form—a Greek termination.
RECQUE, s. f. fret; fretwork; Grecian ornament.
REDIN, s. m. }
REDINE, s. f. } blackguard; low fellow; rogue; slut.
REDINERIE, s. f. beggary; roguery.
REEMENT, }
REEMENT, } s. m. (t. de marine), rigging.
RÉER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rig.
RÉEUR, s. m. rigger.
REFFE, s. m. registrar's, clerk's office.
REFFE, s. f. (t. d'agric.), graft.
REFFER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to graft. Se greffer, grafted.
REFFIER, s. m. clerk. Greffier à peau, an engrosser archment.
REFFOIR, s. m. grafting knife.
RÉGEOIS, adj. Un feu grégeois, Greek fire.
RÉGORIEN, NE, adj. Gregorian.
RÈGUES, s. f. (vieux mot qui signifie culottes). Il a de l'argent dans ses grègues, he got money—he cud himself. (Fig.) Tirer ses grègues, to run away.
a dans ses grègues, something bad happened to him.
fuion ses grègues, he died there.
RÊLE, adj. thin; slender. Il a les jambes grêles, slim legged. Il parle d'un ton grêle, he speaks in a l voice.
RÊLE, s. f. hail. Il tombe de la grêle, it is hailing, is falling. (Fig.) Il reçut une grêle de coups, a er of blows fell upon him. Il est méchant comme la
, he is as bad as possible.
RELER, v. impers. rég., to hail. Voyez donc comme êle, see how it hails. Toutes les vignes ont été grêlées, the vines have been spoiled by the hail. Ce pro- taire a été grêlé, his lands have been devastated by . (Fig.) Grêler sur le persil, to exercise one's e, authority, &c. over the little. Il a l'air grêlé, oks wretched—poor. Il est tout grêlé de marques petite vérole, he is pitted all over with small-pox.
RELIN, s. m. (t. de marine), small cable; stream
e.
RÊLON, s. m. large hail stone.
RELOT, s. m. little bell. Les chevaux de rouliers ent des grelots, the horses of waggoners carry a quan-of bells. (Fig.) Attacher le grelot, to tie the bell bell the cat. Trembler le grelot, to quake with (T. de bot.) Fleur en grelot, bell flower; camula.
RELOTTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to shiver; to
ke. Le pauvre enfant grelottait de froid, the poor
d was shivering with cold.
RELUCHON, s. m. (fam.), the favoured man.
REMIAL, s. m. (t. d'église), gremial; a sort of cloth on the knees of the officiating priest (in the Catholic urch) while he is sitting.
RÊMIL, s. m. (t. de bot.), gold moss; pearl herb.
RENADE, s. f. pomegranate; (t. d'artillerie), nade; hand grenade.

GRENADIER, s. m. pomegranate tree. (T. militaire), grenadier. Jurer comme un grenadier, to swear like a trooper. C'est un vrai grenadier que cette femme là, that woman is a downright dragoon.
GRENADIÈRE, s. f. grenade-pouch. Porter son fusil à la grenadière, to sling a musket over the shoulder;
to carry it in a sling.
GRENADILLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), passion-flower.
GRENADIN, s. m. (t. de cuisine), sort of fricandeau.
(T. de géog.), an inhabitant of Grenada.
GRENAILLE, s. f. small shot; granulated metal; inferior corn used principally for feeding poultry.
GRENAILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to granulate.
GRENAT, s. m. (t. de joaillier), garnet.
GRENAUT, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), gurnet.
GRENELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to grain.
GRENER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to produce seed; to come to seed. Grener du tabac, to powder, to reduce tabacco to powder. Grener du sel, to pound salt.
Grener de la poudre à canon, to grain, corn gunpowder.
Grener une peau, to grain a hide or skin. Un beau grené, a fine grain.
GRENETERIE, s. f. the corn trade.
GRENETIER, s. m. } corn-dealer; seedsman; granary
GRENETIÈRE, s. f. } keeper.
GRENETIS, s. m. milling round a coin.
GRENETTES, s. f. (t. de peinture), sort of cakes of yellow colour prepared at Avignon called also "graines d'Avignon."
GRENIER, s. m. granary. Grenier à blé, corn granary. Grenier à foin, hayloft. Les greniers publics sont pleins, the public granaries are full. La Sicile est le grenier de l'Italie, Sicily is the granary of Italy. On établit des greniers d'abondance, they established granaries in case of scarcity. Le grenier à sel, the salt warehouse.
Nous avons de grands greniers, we have large lofts, garrets. Il mourut dans un grenier, he died in a garret.
Mettez ces vieux meubles au grenier, place that old furniture in the lumber-room. (Fam.) On le chercha de la cave au grenier, they looked out for him from the cellar to the garret. C'est un homme qui va du grenier à la cave, he is a man who rambles—talks—unconnectedly, on every thing.
GRENOUILLE, s. f. frog. (T. d'imprimerie), sole;
socket.
GRENOUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to ripple.
GRENOUILLÈRE, s. f. a marsh; a fen; frog ground.
(Fam.) Leur jardin est une grenouillère, their garden is full of frogs. Ils ont bâti leur maison dans une grenouil- lère, they built their house in a marsh, among the frogs.
GRENOUILLET, s. m. (t. de bot.), Solomon's seal.
GRENOUILLETTE, s. f. (t. de bot.), wild ranunculus; (t. de médec.), a tumour which forms under the tongue.
GRENU, UE, adj. Les épis sont bien grenus cette année, the ears are very full this year. (T. de métier.)
Ce maroquin est bien grenu, this morocco is beautifully grained. Huile grenue, clotted oil. (T. d'hist. nat.), granulous.
GRÈS, s. m. sandstone (much used as paving stone).
Casser du grès, to break stones. Aiguiser un couteau sur un grès, to sharpen a knife on a whetstone. Une bouteille de grès, a stone bottle.
GRÉSIL, s. m. sleet.
GRÉSILLEMENT, s. m. sleeting.
GRÉSILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to burn up; to parch. Le soleil a grésillé mes fleurs, the sun burnt up —parched up—my flowers. Le parchemin est tout gré- sillé, this parchment is all shrivelled.
GRÉSILLER, v. imp. rég. 1ère conj., to sleet.
GRÉSILLONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to chirrup.
G-RÉ-SOL (loc. musicale). Ce morceau est en G-ré-sol, this piece is in G.
GRESSERIE, s. f. Cette tour est bâtie de gresserie, this tower is built in stone work. Il tient un magasin de gresserie, he keeps a shop for stone pottery.
GRÈVE, s. m. sand; beach; strand. Aller se pro- mener sur la grève, to go and walk on the sands. La grève était couverte de débris, the sands, the beach was covered with wrecks. (T. d'hist.) La Grève (situated opposite the Palais de Justice) was the place of execution in Paris till 1830. Il fut exécuté en place de Grève, he was executed on the Grève. (Fam.) Les Anges de Grèves, the workmen standing on the Place de Grève waiting for work. Faire grève, to strike. Les charpentiers ont fait grève, the carpenters have all struck.

GRÉVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to aggrieve; to injure. En quoi êtes-vous grevé, in what are you aggrieved—injured? Irez-vous vous grever pour le bien des autres, will you go and burden yourself for the sake of others? Le pays est grevé de taxes, the country is loaded—burdened—with taxes. Son bien est grevé d'hypothèques, his property is burdened—is loaded—with mortgages. Être grevé de substitution, to inherit a life interest only.

GRÈVES, s. f. (t. milit.), greaves.

GREVETTES, s. f. (vieux mot), small greaves.

GREVEUX, EUSE, adj. heavy; grievous.

GRIANNEAU, s. m. young grouse.

GRIBLETTE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), pork collops.

GRIBOUILLAGE, s. m. scribbling; scrawl; bad painting.

GRIBOUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to scribble; to scrawl.

GRIBOUILLETTE, s. f. scramble. Jouer à la gribouillette, to scramble for (nuts, money, &c.).

GRIECHE. Voyez Pie, Ortie.

GRIEF, s. m. grievance; vexation; injury.

GRIEF, VE, adj. grievous; serious; severe.

GRIEVEMENT, adv. grievously; seriously; severely.

GRIEVETÉ, s. f. grievousness; enormity.

GRIFFADE, s. f. (t. de fauconn.), clawing.

GRIFFE, s. f. claw. Cet animal est armé de griffes, that animal is armed with claws. Mon chat me donna un coup de griffe, my cat scratched me—clawed me. (Fig.) Il me donna un coup de griffe, he gave me a slap—he made a very unkind remark. Tomber entre les griffes du lion, to fall into the lion's jaws—claws—clutches. (Fig.) Gare à lui s'il tombe jamais entre mes griffes, woe to him if ever he should fall into my claws—clutches. J'ai eu bien de la peine à me tirer de ses griffes, I had much difficulty to get out of his clutches.

(T. de jardinage.) Des griffes d'anémones, de renoncules, roots of anemonies, of ranunculuses. (T. de brevetage.) Apposer une griffe, to stamp a thing with a name—signature. Tous les exemplaires portent la griffe de l'auteur, every copy bears the stamp of the author's signature.

GRIFFER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to claw.

GRIFFON, s. m. griffon; (animal fabuleux; t. de blason), griffon. (Hist. nat.) Elle a un joli griffon, she has a pretty shagged dog.

GRIFFON, NE. s. m. f. adj. scribbler.

GRIFFONNAGE, s. m. scribbling; scrawl.

GRIFFONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to scrawl; to scribble.

GRIFFONNEUR, s. m. } scribbler; one who writes
GRIFFONNEUSE, s. f. } badly.

GRIGNON, s. m. the hard crust of a loaf; a crust.

GRIGNOTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to munch. (Fig.) Il y trouve à grignoter dans cette affaire, he finds some little pickings in that affair.

GRIGNOTIS, } s. m. (t. de gravures), dotting; dotted GRIGNOTTE, } lines.

GRIGOU, s. m. C'est un vieux grigou, he is an old miser. Il vit comme un grigou, he lives like an old miserly fellow.

GRIL, s. m. (pron. gril), gridiron. (Fig.) J'étais sur le gril, I was on hot coals—I was in agony.

GRILLADE, s. f. steak. Manger une grillade de bœuf, to eat a beefsteak. Une grillade de veau, a veal steak. Manger une cuisse de dinde à la grillade, to eat a leg of turkey grilled. Faire une grillade, to grill.

GRILLAGE, s. m. grating. (T. de cuisine), grilling; broiling. (T. de manuf.), singeing.

GRILLAGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to close, to shut with a grating.

GRILLAGEUR, s. m. one who makes gratings.

GRILLE, s. f. grate; iron gate. Mettre une grille des fenêtres, to shut windows with gratings. Fermez la grille, close the iron gate. On a mis une grille pour empêcher les oiseaux de passer, a grating was put to stop the birds. On ne parle aux religieuses qu'à travers la grille, nuns are spoken to through a grating. Ouvrez la grille, open the gate—the iron gate. Grille de fer, iron grate.

GRILLER, v. a. n. a. rég. 1ère conj., to grill; to broil; to cook on the gridiron. Faire griller des côtelettes, to grill—to cook on the fire—mutton chops. Il est resté si près du feu qu'il s'est grillé les jambes, he kept so near the fire, that he scorched his legs. Le soleil nous a grillés, the sun broiled us. Le soleil a grillé ces plantes, the sun has scorched these plants. Faire griller du pain, to toast bread. Du pain rôti, toasted bread.

(Fig., fam.) Je grillais de la voir, I was burning with impatience to see her. Je grille de vous embrasser, I burn—I am all impatience—to embrace you.

GRILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enclose, fence, or with an iron gate; to put a grating. (Fig.) Griller une fille, to cloister—to shut up in a convent—a young lady. Une fenêtre grillée, a grated window. (T. de fin.) Loge grillée, a grated box.

GRILLET, s. m. } round bell—a bank's bell.
GRILLETTE, s. f. }

GRILLETÉ, adj. (t. de blason), having bells.

GRILLON, s. m. cricket.

GRIMAÇANT. Voyez Grimacer.

GRIMACE, s. f. face. Il fait des grimaces, he makes faces. Il faisait des grimaces horribles, he was making horrid faces. Le petit garçon nous fit des grimaces, the child made faces at us. (Fam.) Nous avons été le voir, mais il nous a fait la grimace, we went to see him, but he looked sour at us—gave us a bad reception. Votre habit fait la grimace, your coat puckers. Il en fait la grimace, mais c'est tout, he pretends—makes a show of it—but that is all. Les politesses sont souvent que des grimaces, attentions—polite words—are often vain pretences—grimaces.

GRIMACER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to make faces; to grimace. (Fig.) Le collet de cet habit grimace, the collar of that coat grimaces—does not sit well.

GRIMACIER, ÈRE, adj. who makes grimaces. Cette femme est fort grimacière, that woman grimaces—is a grimacer. Il n'est point dévot, ce n'est qu'un grimacier, he is not a religious man, he is only a grimacer.

GRIMAUD, s. m. (t. de collége), lower boy; a scribbler.

GRIME, s. m. (t. de théâtre). Jouer les grimes, les pères grimes, to act the part of credulous, ridiculous old men. C'est un excellent grime, he acts the part of old men capitally.

GRIMELIN, s. m. brat; little boy; (t. de pêche), one who plays low; one who plays cautiously.

GRIMELINAGE, s. m. low play; mean play; cautious play.

GRIMELINER, v. n. a. rég. 1ère conj., to play low; to play cautiously; to make little gains, little profits. Il tâche à grimeliner quelque chose sur cette affaire, he is trying to make some little profit on this business.

GRIMER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de théâtre), to paint one's face—to wrinkle one's face.

GRIMOIRE, s. m. black book. Il faut que je consulte le grimoire, I must consult the black book—the book of magic. (Fig.) C'est du grimoire pour moi, it is gibberish to me. Je n'entends point ce grimoire, I cannot understand that gibberish.

GRIMPANT, E, adj. creeping. C'est une plante grimpante, it is a creeping plant—a creeper.

GRIMPER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to creep; to climb. Il grimpa au haut d'un arbre, he climbed to the top of a tree. Il faut joliment grimper pour arriver chez eux, one must climb famously to reach your house.

GRIMPEREAU, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), wood-pecker.

GRIMPEURS, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), creepers.

GRINCEMENT, s. m. Grinding of teeth, gnashing of teeth.

GRINCER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Grincer des ats, to gnash—to set the teeth. La scie fait grincer les ats, the saw sets the teeth on edge.
GRINGALET, s. m. small fellow; bit of a fellow.
GRINGOLÉ, E, adj. (t. de blason), snake headed.
GRINGOTTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to warble; to GRINGUENAUDE, s. f. filth. [hum.
GRIOTTE, s. f. sort of black cherry.
GRIOTTIER, s. m. cherry tree, bearing griottes.
GRIPPE, s. f. fancy. Il a des chevaux magnifiques, at sa grippe, he has beautiful horses, it is his fancy—unis. Prendre une chose, une personne en grippe, to ceive a dislike for a thing—a person. Il l'a pris en ceive a dislike against him. (T. de mêlée.) ppe, be conceived a dislike against him. (T. de mêlée.) voir la grippe, to be ill of the influenza.
GRIPPER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to claw; to atch. On lui a grippé son argent, they clutched—they ed upon—all his money. Les grands lui grippent t ce qu'il a, the big boys choose him of every thing he s. Les gendarmes l'ont grippé en sortant, the police- clutched him as he was going out. Cet homme est ne préjudices—to have crotchets. La taffetas se grippe, ffeta shrivels.
GRIPPE-SOU, s. m. catch-penny; one who makes le profits.
GRIS, E, adj. grey. Elle a les yeux gris, she has grey s. Il est tout gris, he is quite grey—grey headed. Un ome à tête grise, a grey headed man. Gris de fer, iron y. Il s'habille de gris, he wears grey colours. Vert gris, verdigris. Gris pommelé, dapple grey. La t tous les chats sont gris, at night all cats are grey. fig., fam.) Il nous a fait mine grise, he gave us a bad eption.
Il fait un temps gris, the weather is cloudy.
Il était un peu gris après dîner, he was rather tipsy—f nous avez—after dinner.
GRISAILLE, s. f. (t. de peinture), grey, light paint- y crayon drawing. (T. de perruquier), mixture of ow and grey hair.
GRISAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to paint with grey ours.
GRISÂTRE, adj. greyish.
GRISER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to make tipsy. griser, to get tipsy.
GRISET, s. m. a young chaffinch.
GRISETTE, s. f. sort of grey stuff formerly worn by men of the common class, and from which circumstance daughters of tradesmen derived the name Grisette, ich is now given to mantua-makers, and to those who rk at their needle, colour plates, serve in shops, &c. 'épouse une jolie grisette, he married a pretty grisette. grisette ne porte jamais de chapeau, grisettes never ar bonnets. C'est un homme qui ne voit que des grisettes, t man frequents grisettes only.
N. H.) In Paris, the word grisette is not generally taken good part; in some provinces, it means strictly a trades- n's daughter.
GRISOLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. L'allouette grisole, lark chirps.
GRISON, NE, adj. greyish. Il a le poil grison, his r is greyish. Elle va épouser un vieux grison, she is ot to marry an old grey head. (Autrefois), a man in ery suit, in plain clothes. Il le fit suivre par deux ons, he ordered two of his men in plain clothes, to ow him.
Grison faisait la sourde oreille, Grizzle, i. e. the ass, pre- ded to be deaf.
GRISONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to turn grey; to ome grey.
GRISOU, s. m. (t. de mineur), fire-damp; inflammable foul air.
GRIVE, s. f. thrush. (Fig.) Être soul comme une e, to be as drunk as an owl.
GRIVELÉ, E, adj. dappled; speckled.
GRIVELÉE, s. f. pilfering; illegal profits.
GRIVELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pilfer; to make ine—illegal—profits.

GRIVELERIE, s. f. pilfering; illegal—undue—profits.
GRIVELETTE, s. f. small thrush.
GRIVELEUR, s. m. pilferer.
GRIVET, s. m. sort of ape.
GRIVETTE, s. f. sort of blackbird.
GRIVOIS, s. m. (autrefois), cunning, witty, nimble soldier.
GRIVOISE, s. f. (autrefois), a soldier's wench.
GRIVOIS, E, adj. cunning; merry; sharp.
GRIVOISE, s. f. a sort of snuff-box formerly used by soldiers.
GRIVOISER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to associate with merry men, merry women; to make merry.
GROG, s. m. (mot emprunté de l'Anglais, mélange d'eau de vie, de gin ou de rhum, avec de l'eau froide), grog. On distribua le grog aux matelots, grog was distributed among the sailors.
(T. de café.) Donnez-moi un verre de grog chaud, give me a glass of brandy and water, warm. Il prend toujours son grog froid, he always takes his brandy and water cold.
GROGNARD, E, adj. grumbling. Cette femme est toujours grognarde, that woman is a grumbler—is always grumbling.
GROGNARD, s. m. (t. milit. appliqué aux vieux soldats des armées de Bonaparte), grumbler. C'est un vieux grognard, he is an old grumbler. Napoléon aimait ses vieux grognards, Napoleon liked his old soldiers of Italy and Egypt, (who grumbled to lose their general in the Emperor.)
GROGNEMENT, s. m. grunting. (Marque de mécontentement), grumbling.
GROGNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to grunt. (Fig. en parlant des personnes), to grumble.
GROGNERIE, s. f. grunting; (des personnes), grumbling.
GROGNEUR, s. m.
GROGNEUSE, s. f. } grumbler.
GROGNON, adj. m. f. C'est l'homme le plus grognon que je connaisse, he is the worst tempered man—he is the greatest grumbler that I know. Laissez-le, c'est un grognon, leave him alone, he is a bad tempered man—he is ever grumbling.
GROGNONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to grumble.
GROGNONNERIE, s. f. grumbling.
GROLLE, s. f. rook.
GROIN, s. m. snout; (en parlant des personnes), chops.
GROMMELER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to mumble.
GRONDEMENT, s. m. Un grondement sourd, a low, rumbling noise.
GRONDER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Je l'ai grondé de sa négligence, I scolded him for his neglect. De quoi me grondez-vous, what do you scold me for? Il gronde toujours ses domestiques, he is ever scolding—finding fault with—his servants. Il nous a bien grondés de n'être pas venus, he scolded us famously for not having come. (Des animaux.) Mon chien, en entendant un bruit léger, se mit à gronder, on hearing a slight noise, my dog began to growl. (T. de musique.) Gronder une chanson, un air, to mumble —to hum—a tune, an air.
'Le tonnerre grondait dans le lointain, the thunder grumbled at a distance.
GRONDERIE, s. f. scolding.
GRONDEUR, EUSE, adj. Il est grondeur, he is a scolder—he is always scolding. Elle a un mari grondeur, she has a scolding husband. Cette femme est une grondeuse, that woman is a scold.
GRONDIN, s. m. Voyez Rouget.
GROS, SE, adj. Un gros homme, a big—a stout—man. Une grosse femme, a big, a large woman. Voyez Grosse. Il y a des arbres très-gros, there are very big trees—large trees. Il a la tête trop grosse, his head is too big—too large. Il avait les dents très-grosses, he had very large teeth. Il a un gros ventre, he has a big belly. Il a les jambes très-grosses, his legs are very thick—very stout. Il est gros comme un bœuf, he is as big as an ox. Le gros bout, the big—the large end. Une grosse poire, a large pear. Une grosse corde, a thick rope. (Fig.) Toucher la grosse corde, to touch the main spring. Il a la joue grosse d'une fluxion, his cheek is swollen from a cold. Un gros butor, a heavy man—,—a heavy—stupid—clod.

De la grosse toile, coarse, strong cloth. De gros pain, coarse bread. De gros souliers, thick—strong—shoes. De la grosse viande, butcher's meat. De gros vin, heavy wine. Gros bétail, large cattle. Gros gibier, large game. Gros grains, large corns.

Les gros cultivateurs, the large farmers; gros fermier, large—rich farmer. Gros bourgeois, rich—substantial citizen. C'est un gros financier, he is a rich—large—banker. Les gros marchands, the large merchants. C'est un gros boulanger, he is a large baker. Un gros bourg, a large place, township. Les gros murs d'un bâtiment, the principal walls of a building.

(Fig.) Il a plus d'esprit qu'il n'est gros, he has more wit than bulk. Il fait le gros dos, he looks big—,—he puts on big looks—important looks. C'est un des gros colliers—des gros bonnets—de l'ordre, he is one of the dons—of the big wigs—of the order. Il a le cœur gros de soupirs, his heart is big with sorrow. Les yeux gros de larmes, his eyes big with tears. On l'a mal traité, il en a le cœur gros, he has been ill used, his heart is big with it. Les temps sont gros de malheurs, the times are pregnant with misfortunes. Gros de savoir, big with learning. Gros d'haleine, short breathed—broken winded. Il n'a qu'un gros bon sens, he has only plain good sense. Ils ont eu une grosse querelle, they have had a serious quarrel. Ils se sont dit de gros mots, they came to high words—,—de grosses vérités, harsh truths. Se parler des grosses dents, to show one's teeth. Jouer gros jeu, to play high. Il a un gros rhume, he has a severe cold. Faire la grosse voix, to disguise one's voice—to speak big.

La rivière est très-grosse, the river has risen considerably. La mer est grosse, the sea is heavy. Nous avons eu gros temps, we had very heavy—stormy—weather.

GROS, s. m. Le gros de l'arbre a douze pieds de circonférence, the thickest part of the tree is twelve feet round. Il lui donna un coup d'épée dans le gros de la jambe, he gave him a sword wound in the thickest part of the leg. Le gros du monde s'y refuserait, the greatest part of the world would refuse it. Le gros de l'armée se retira sur N—, the main body of the army retired upon N—. Les détails sont faibles, mais le gros de l'ouvrage est bon, that work is poor in detail, but is good as a whole. J'ai une domestique qui fait le gros de l'ouvrage, I have a servant who does the heavy work. Le gros ne vaut pas le casuel, the fixed part of his revenue is not so good as the casual.

Le gros de l'eau (t. de marine), the high tides.

En gros (loc. adv.). Vendre en gros, to sell wholesale. Il fait le commerce en gros, he does business wholesale. Il nous a dit la chose en gros, he told us the thing in the main—without details. Il n'y avait que douze personnes, tout en gros, there were only twelve people altogether.

GROS (mesure de poids), a dram.

GROS, adv. On gagne gros à ce métier, one may earn much in that business. Je n'y ai pas gagné gros, I did not make much by it. Vous ne couchez pas gros, you don't stake much. C'est un homme qui couche gros, he stakes high—he ventures much.

GROSEILLE, s. f. currant. Jelée de groseilles, currant jelly. Des groseilles rouges, des groseilles blanches, red and white currants. Grosses groseilles, groseilles à maquereau, gooseberry (thus called because they serve as a sauce for mackerel). Compote de groseilles vertes, green gooseberry jam.

GROSEILLER, s. m. currant-tree; gooseberry-tree.

GROSSE, s. m. (t. d'écrit.), round hand. Il écrit la grosse, he does write round hand. (T. de loi, de pratique), engrossing. La grosse en a vingt rôles, the engrossment contains twenty sheets. (T. de commerce.) Une grosse de couteaux, de boutons, a gross—12 dozen—knives, buttons. Ces choses-là ne se vendent pas à la grosse, these things are not sold by the gross.

GROSSE, adj. f. Grosse aventure (t. de commerce), bottomry. Cette femme est grosse, that woman is pregnant—in the family way. Une grosse femme, a big woman.

Une femme grosse, a pregnant woman. Elle est grosse de sept mois, she is in the seventh month of her pregnancy—she is seven months gone. Elle était grosse de huit mois, she had gone three months—she was three months gone. C'est une envie de femme grosse, it is the longing of a pregnant woman.

GROSSERIE, s. f. ready made goods; goods sold by the gross.

GROSSESSE, s. f. pregnancy. Elle est à la fin de sa grossesse, she is near her term—her time.

GROSSET, TE, adj. largish; biggish.

GROSSEUR, s. f. size. Cet arbre a huit pieds de grosseur, that tree is eight feet in bulk—circumference. Sa grosseur n'a pas de rapport avec sa longueur, it in bulk does not correspond with its length. (T. de chirurg.) tumor; swelling.

GROSSIER, ERE, adj. Un homme grossier, a rude—rude—gross—man. Ce sont des paroles grossières, these are coarse—gross words. Il nous a tenu de gros grossiers, he gave us very rude—gross—speeches. La taille grossière, his person is thickly—solidly—made. Une nourriture grossière, coarse food. Drap grossier, coarse cloth. Des meubles grossiers, rough made furniture—coarse furniture. Langage grossier, coarse language. Que vous êtes grossier, how rude—gross—you are! Ces peuples grossiers ne savent rien, these rude—uneducated—people know nothing. Je ne fréquentez pas ces peuples grossiers, do not associate with these coarse—vulgar—people. Des expressions grossières, coarse—vulgar expressions. Ignorance grossière, rude—ignorance. C'est une erreur grossière, it is a gross mistake. Je n'en ai qu'une idée grossière, I have only a rough—imperfect—idea of it.

GROSSIÈREMENT, adv. grossly; coarsely; rudely. Il lui a dit des grossièretés, he said very rude things to her.

GROSSIR, v. a. v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Finir.) Cet habit vous grossit la taille, that coat makes you look bigger—thicker. Les pluies ont grossi la rivière, the late rains have swollen the river. Cela grossirait un volume, that would enlarge—thicken—the volume too much. Cette lunette grossit beaucoup, that glass magnifies much. La peur grossit les objets, fear magnifies things. Pourquoi chercher à grossir nos torts, why do you try to exaggerate—to add to—to magnify—our faults? Il grossit sa voix, he spoke with a gruff—a loud voice—,—he disguised his voice.

Vous grossissez tous les jours, you are getting fat every day. Les grains commencent à grossir, the corn is beginning to swell. Son armée grossissait, his army was enlarged—increased. La fonte se grossissait à vue d'œil, the crowd increased every moment. La rivière grossit, the river swells. La balle grossit—se grossit, the ball goes on gathering. L'orage grossit, the storm thickens. Comment payer cette dette toujours grossissante, how can we pay that ever increasing debt.

GROSSISSEMENT, s. m. enlargement; increase. Ces verres produisent un grossissement merveilleux, these glasses magnify objects wonderfully.

GROSSOYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de pratique) to engross.

GROTESQUE, adj. (pron. grotèsk) grotesque; ridiculous; odd.

GROTESQUE, s. m. Tomber dans le grotesque, to fall into the burlesque.

GROTESQUEMENT, adv. grotesquely; oddly.

GROTTE, s. f. grotto.

GROUILLANT, E, adj. alive; moving.

GROUILLEMENT, s. m. rumbling.

GROUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. to move; to budge. Personne ne grouille encore dans la maison, no one is as yet moving—stirring—in the house. La tête lui grouille, his head is shaking. Le ventre lui grouille, his intestines are rumbling. Ce fromage grouille de vers, this cheese is swarming—all alive with—worms.

GROUP, s. m. (t. de commerce), a bag of specie sent from one place to another.

ROUPE, s. m. group.
ROUPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to group.
RUAU, s. m. gruel. Pain de gruau, first flour ed.
RUE, s. f. crane. (Fig.) Faire le pied de grue, to d on one foot waiting, i. e. to dance attendance. Nous ez vous pour des grues, do you take us for fools—for people? Elle allongeait son grand cou de grue, she stretching out her long, scraggy neck.
RUE, s. f. (t. de mécan.), crane.
RUERIE, s. f. (t. d'eaux et forêts), a court held by Waters and Forests.
RUGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to crunch; to munch, ger une croûte, to munch a crust. Il grugeait un eau de sucre, he was eating—munching—a lump of
e. (Fig. fam.) Ils auront bientôt grugé tout cela, will soon have squandered all that. Il est bientôt
'est fait, he had in a short time dispatched—squan-d—all his property. Ce sont des gens qui le grugent, people eat him up—plunder him.
RUME, s. f. (t. d'eaux et forêts). Vendre du bois en ue, to sell timber in the rough—undressed.
RUMEAU, s. m. cloth.
RUMELER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to clot; to bee clotted.
RUMELEUX, EUSE, adj. clotted; grumous; (de es), lumpy; (de fruits), stony.
RUYER, ÈRE, adj. (t. de chasse au faucon), for crane. Un faucon gruyer, a hawk used to chase the e.
RUYER, s. m. (t. des eaux et forêts), a sort of ma-ate or judge.
RUYÈRE, s. m. Gruyere cheese (made at Gruyère, in itzerland).
UANO, s. f. guano (substance, thought to be the dung birds, found in abundance in the islands of the South and lately brought to Europe, where it is used as ure).
UARACHA, s. f. (t. de danse), Spanish step, thus
d.
UÉ, s. m. ford. Nous trouverons un gué un peu plus bas, we shall find a ford a little higher up. Passer, tra- ver, une rivière à gué, to ford a river. Sonder le gué, sound the ford.—(fig.), to sound the business—to see matters stand—to put out a feeler.
UÉ O! interj. C'est la gaudriole, o Guê!
UÉABLE, adj. fordable.
UÈBRE, s. m. name of the old Persians—fire-worshers.
UÊDE, s. f. (t. de bot.), woad; a plant used in ing blue.
UÉDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (vieux mot), to to eat much. Le voilà bien guêdé, he is well
d.
UÉER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rince; to wash.
UELFE, s. m. (prou. Ghel-fe), name of the partisans the Pope, in the 11th and 12th century.
UELFES, ORDRE DES, s. m. the Guelphic order
ded in 1815, in Hanover.
UENILLE, s. f. rag; tatter; (fig.), trifling thing; inificant thing.
UENIPE, s. f. slut; strumpet.
UENON, s. f. ape; (fig.), ugly woman; strumpet.
UENUCHE, s. f. young ape. (Fam.) Cette femme est une guenuche coiffée, that woman is so ugly, one might ake her for an ape in pettycoats.
UÊPE, s. f. wasp. Il a été piqué d'une guêpe, he been stung by a wasp.
UÊPIER, s. m. wasp's nest. (Fig.) Ne vous en- gagez pas là dedans; c'est un vrai guêpier, do not engage that thing, you will find it is a hornets' nest.
UÊPIN, adj. (vieux mot, synonyme de poli, fin, rusé).
Un guêpin, he is a smart, cunning, skilful fellow.
Il était le sobriquet des Orléannais.) Les guêpins d'Or- léans, the Cunning ones of Orleans. (T. de l'Université d'Orléans), students.
UERDON, s. m. reward.
UERDONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to reward.

GUÈRE, en prose, (adv. Il n'y a guère (de temps) GUERES, en vers,) qu'il est venu, it is not long since he came. Quiconque ne voit guère n'a guère à dire aussi, he who does not see many things has not much to say. Il n'y a guère que lui qui travaille, he is almost the only one who works. Il n'y a guère moins de trente ans, it is not very short of 30 years. Il ne s'en est guère fallu qu'il ne réussit, he wanted very little to have succeeded. Ils sont ruinés ou guère s'en faut, they are ruined, or very near—or not far from it. Il n'a guère moins de vices que de sottise, he is almost as vicious as he is stupid. On ne peut guère parler de cela, one cannot say much about that.
Naguères, (il n'y a guère de temps), not long ago; recently.
GUÉRET, s. m. ploughed land not sown, fallow land.
(En poésie.) Les guérets, the fields; the corn-fields.
GUÉRIDON, s. m. stand; small round table.
GUÉRIR, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir.)
Le médecin à guéri ma sœur de cette maladie, the doctor cured my sister of that disease. Ce remède guérit la fièvre, that remedy cures the fever—is good against fever.
De quoi cela guérit-il, what does that cure—heal? (Fig.)
De quoi cela me guérira-t-il? what good will that do me? Médecin, guéris-toi, toi-même, doctor, cure yourself. Il ne guérira pas de cette maladie, he will not recover from—he will not be cured of—this disease. La plaie guérit, the wound is healing. Ce baume guérira la brûlure, that ointment will heal your burn.
(Fig.) Il est difficile de guérir un esprit si malade, it is difficult to cure a mind so diseased. Guérissez-vous de cette ambition, cure yourself of that ambition. C'est un défaut dont il ne se guérira jamais, it is a fault which he will never correct. Elle est bien guérie de son amour, she has fully recovered from her love.
GUÉRISON, s. f. recovery; cure. Votre guérison a été prompte, your cure—recovery—was quick.
GUÉRISSABLE, adj. curable; that may be cured.
GUÉRITE, s. f. sentry box. (Fig.) Gagner la guérite, to run away; to seek safety. (T. d'archit.), small tower; small belvidere. (T. de tailleur.) Cet habit est un sac, on dirait qu'on vous a pris mesure sur une guérite, that coat is like a sack; one would say you have been measured by a sentry box.
GUERRE, s. f. war. La guerre de trente ans, the thirty years' war. Nous aurons la guerre, we shall have war. Faire la guerre aux peuples voisins, to carry on —to make—to wage—war with the neighbouring nations.
Aller à la guerre, to go to the army. Vaisseau de guerre, ship of war. Machine de guerre, war-engine.
Il sait bien, il entend bien la guerre, he understands war well. C'est un grand homme de guerre, he is a great warrior—soldier. Il a obtenu les honneurs de la guerre, he obtained the honours of war. C'est un foudre de guerre, he is the very thunder of war. Guerre intestine, civil war. C'est une guerre à mort, it is a war of destruction—without mercy. Faire la petite guerre, to carry on a war of skirmishing, of plundering—,—to have a sham fight. Le renard fait la guerre aux poules, the fox is the enemy of poultry.
(Fig.) Faire bonne guerre à quelqu'un, to wage war openly, honestly. Tout cela est de bonne guerre, all that is honest and fair. Voilà deux ans que nous nous faisons la guerre, we have been at war for the last two years. A la guerre, comme à la guerre, we must accommodate ourselves to circumstances. Il est toujours en guerre avec ses voisins, he is always at war—on bad terms—with his neighbours. M'en faites-vous la guerre, do you find fault with me for that—would you quarrel with me for that? Allons, allons, ne faites pas ainsi la guerre aux mots, come, come, do not quarrel so about words. Je lui fait de guerre lasse, I consented to do it at last from mere fatigue—from being tired—of contending.
GUERRIER, s. m. (adj. warrior; female warrior. Il GUERRIÈRE, s. f.) appela ses guerriers autour de lui, he called all his warriors round him. Il a l'air guerrier, he looks warlike. Comment réprimer cette humeur guerrière, how can we check this warlike humour?

GUERROYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to wage, to carry on, war.

GUERROYEUR, s. m. warrior.

GUET, s. m. (ancien mot), watch; town watch. Le guet a pris deux voleurs cette nuit, the watch—the patrol have caught two thieves to-night. Il y avait deux officiers du guet, there were present two officers of the watch. Le mot du guet, the pass-word. (Fig.) Ils se sont donné le mot du guet, they agreed in concert—they had an understanding.

Etre au guet, to be on the watch. Elle avait l'œil et l'oreille au guet, she was looking and listening—she kept her eyes and her ears open.

GUET À PENS, s. m. cut-throat; snare; trap.

GUÊTRE, s. f. gaiters. (Fig.) Tirer ses guêtres, to go, to run away. Il y laissa ses guêtres, he died there—he remained on the field of battle.

GUÊTRER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to put on gaiters.

GUETTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to watch. On le guettait, he was watched—spied. Il y avait long-temps qu'il guettait l'occasion, he had long watched for the opportunity.

GUETTEUR, s. m. (marine), man on the watch.

GUEULARD, E, s. m. f. bawler.

GUEULE, s. f. mouth (of animals). La gueule d'un chien, the mouth of a dog. Il s'avança sur nous gueule ouverte, it came upon us with open mouth. En un tour de gueule, in a minute, quickly.

La gueule d'un four, du canon, the mouth of an oven, of the cannon. La gueule d'un sac, the mouth of a bag. La gueule d'une bouteille, the mouth of a bottle.

(Fig., fam.) Le laisserez-vous à la gueule du loup, will you leave him in the jaws of danger? Il en a menti par la gueule, he has told a lie in his throat. Il vint la gueule enfarinée, he came full of hope—of expectations. Cet homme n'a que la gueule, that man is a mere boaster. Il a toujours la gueule ouverte, he is ever crying out. Il est fort en gueule, voilà tout, he is a very great talker, that is all. Il a la gueule pavée—ferrée, his mouth must be paved.

GUEULÉE, s. f. mouthful; (fig.), obscene words.

GUEULER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to bawl; to cry out.

GUEULES, s. m. (t. de blason), gules.

GUEUSAILLE, s. f. beggarly people; poor low people; rabble.

GUEUSAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to associate with low people; to idle time away.

GUEUSARD, s. m. rascal; beggar.

GUEUSE, s. f. sow—pig—of iron (used for ballast).

GUEUSER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to beg. Il s'en allait gueusant son pain, he went about begging for his bread.

GUEUSERIE, s. f. beggary; poverty; misery; beggarliness; dishonest thing. (Fig.), trash; common things.

GUEUX, s. m. \adj. poor man; poor woman; beggar.

GUEUSE, s. f. Mener une vie de gueux, to live like a beggar, to lead a beggarly life. Les gueux remplissent les rues, the streets are filled with beggars—with poor people. Ils sont fort gueux, they are very poor. Il est gueux comme un rat d'église, he is as poor as a church mouse. Ne vous fiez pas à lui, c'est un gueux, do not trust him, he is a rogue. C'est un gueux revêtu, he is a low fellow in fine clothes. C'est une gueuse, she is a strumpet.

GUI, s. m. (t. de bot.), mistletoe.

GUICHET, s. m. wicket; small door. Les portes sont fermées, mais le guichet est encore ouvert, the gates are shut, but the wicket is still open. On lui faisait passer la nourriture par le guichet, they passed his food through the wicket. (Fig.) Il fut pris au guichet, he was caught just as he was near the door.

GUICHETIER, s. m. turnkey.

GUIDE, s. m. guide. La jeunesse a besoin de guide, youth wants a guide. Permettez-moi de vous servir de guide, allow me to be your guide. (T. de libraire.) Le guide du voyageur, the traveller's guide. Guide-âne, ass's guide; directory. (T. milit.) Bonaparte créa un corps de guides, Bonaparte created a corps of guides.

GUIDE, s. f. (t. de maturier, de cocher), rein. Les guides lui tombèrent des mains, the reins fell from his hands. Conduire à grandes guides, to drive four in hand, to drive very fast.

GUIDER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to guide; to conduct; to direct. Il vous faudra un homme pour vous guider, you will require a man to guide you. Une faible lumière nous guidait, a light glimmer guided us. Il nous a guidés à la gloire, he guided us—he led us—to glory. C'est lui qui me guide dans mes affaires, he advises me—he is my guide—in his affairs. Guider un vaisseau, to direct a ship. Guider un cheval, to guide—to drive—a horse.

GUIDON, s. m. (t. milit.), guidon, standard. (Terme de marine), broad pendant.

Guidon des finances, the financier's guide. Guidon-renvoi, mark of reference.

GUIGNARD, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), sort of plum.

GUIGNE, s. f. cherry; black heart cherry.

GUIGNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to leer; to look (fig.), to watch; to have in one's eye.

GUIGNIER, s. m. black heart cherry tree.

GUIGNON, s. m. ill luck. J'ai du guignon aujourd'hui, I have ill luck to-day. Je joue de guignon—je suis de guignon, I have bad luck—I am unlucky.

GUILDIVE, s. f. Voyez Tafia.

GUILÉE, s. f. Voyez Gilmière.

GUILLAGE, s. m. (t. de brasserie), fermenting.

GUILLAUME, s. m. (t. de menuisier), plane.

GUILLE, s. f. cunning; deceit; decoy.

GUILLEDON, s. m. Courir le guilledon, to run at night—to go out on bad errands.

GUILLEMETS, s. m. inverted commas.

GUILLEMETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put inverted commas.

GUILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to ferment.

GUILLERET, TE, adj. merry; sharp. Vous voilà guilleret aujourd'hui, you look quite sprightly—quite merry—to-day.

GUILLERI, s. m. chirrup.

GUILLOCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to engrave in Indian turning.

GUILLOCHIS, s. m. Indian turning.

GUILLOIRE, s. f. (t. de brasserie), fermenting tub.

GUILLOTINE, s. f. instrument of death (named after Doctor Guillotin, in 1790).

GUILLOTINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to guillotine—to behead.

GUIMAUVE, s. f. marsh-mallow.

GUIMBARDE, s. f. Jew's harp. Jouer de la guimbarde, to play on the Jew's harp. Sort of waggon.

GUIMPE, s. f. nun's stomacher.

GUINDAGE, s. m. erection; lifting up.

GUINDANT, s. m. (t. de marine), the height of a mast.

GUINDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lift up, to hoist (T. de marine.) Guinder les mâts, to hoist up the masts. Les mâts de perroquets sont guindés, the topmasts are hoisted up an end.

(Fig.) Il se guinde l'esprit, he stretches his mind. Il est si guindé, he is so stiff—so formal. Son style est guindé, his style is stiff.

GUINGAM, s. m. gingham; sort of cotton cloth.

GUINÉE, s. f. guinea. Cela lui coûte cent guinées, that cost him fifty guineas.

GUINGOIS, adj. athwart; crooked. Cette chambre est toute de guingois, this room is all crooked—out of shape. Il a l'esprit de guingois, he is cross grained.

GUINGUETTE, s. f. tea-gardens; (fam.) country house.

GUIPURE, s. f. lace.

GUIRLANDE, s. f. garland.

GUISE, s. f. guise, way. J'en veux faire à ma guise, I will do as I like—according to my way. En guise de, loc. adv. instead of—in the shape of.

GUITARE, s. f. Jouer de la guitare, to play on the guitar.

UITARERIE, s. f. all the guitar players.
UITARISTE, s. m. f. player on the guitar; a pro-nal guitar player.
STATIF, VE, adj. (t. d'anat.), tasting. Les nerfs
ifs, the nerves of taste.
STATION, s. f. act of tasting.
TTE. Voyez Gomme gutte.
TTURAL, E, adj. guttural.
MNASE, s. m. gymnasium.
MNASIARQUE, s. m. the chief of the gym-
n. [nastic.
MNASTIQUE, adj. (pron. jime-nace-tique), gym-
MNASTIQUE, s. f. gymnastics.

GYMNIQUE, adj. gymnic.
GYMNIQUE, s. f. gymnics.
GYMNOSOPHISTE, s. m. gymnosophist. Indian philosophers addicted to the contemplation of nature.
GYMNOSPERMIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), gymnospermia.
GYNANDRIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), gynandria.
GYNÉCOCRATIE, s. f. (pron. ji-né-co-cra-cie), gynarchy; government where women may reign.
GYPSE, s. m. (t. de minéralogie), gypsum.
GYPSEUX, EUSE, adj. gypseous.
GYROMANCIE, s. f. gyromancy.
GYROVAGUE, s. m. sort of wandering monk, who did not belong to any order or monastery.

H

N.B. Les guillemets marquent quand l'H est aspiré.

s. m. f. H.
, interj. Ha, vous voilà! ah, here you are! Ha,
, vous nous trompez? what, you rascal, you deceive
Ha, ha, ha, imitation du rire.
IBILE, adj. C'est un homme habile, he is a clever Il emploie des ouvriers habiles, he employs men—able men. Il est habile en tout, he is in every thing. Il est habile à profiter de tous les yens, he is clever in taking advantage of every thing.
trouvé ce jeune homme peu habile à apprendre, I et find that young man very apt to learn. Ce ien est très-habile, that surgeon is very skilful.
historien, clever—learned—historian. C'est un orateur, he is an able—clever—skilful orator.
-vous de lui, c'est un habile fripon, mind him, clever rogue. (T. de jurisp.) Ils ne sont point à succéder, they are not able to inherit.
IBILEMENT, adv. cleverly. Ces négociations ibilement conduites, these negociations are cleverly dly—managed. Il a fait l'opération fort habile- ent performed the operation very skilfully.
IBILETÉ, s. f. Il a de l'habileté, mais il se trompe uvent, he has cleverness—he is clever—still he is ol sometimes.
IBILITÉ, s. f. (t. de jurisp.). On leur disputait habileté à succéder, they contested their fitness—ity—to inherit.
IBILITER, v. a. rég. ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to ility—to render able, capable—(to do a thing), to
.
ILLAGE, s. m. (t. de cuisine, de rôtisseur), dress-
, de métiers), dressing. Les bouchers entendent ge des moutons, &c., butchers understand the of sheep, &c.
ILLEMENT, s. m. Elle portait un bel habille- ent wore a beautiful dress—apparel. Prenez plus de vos habillements, do take more care of your —of your garments. Cet habillement ne vous va
t dress—costume, does not become you.
billement de ma famille me coûte beaucoup, the of my family costs me a great deal. On fa- ait le drap pour l'habillement des troupes, here is e cloth for the clothing of the troops.
ILLER, v. a. v. n. rég. ère conj., to dress; to put clothes. Le valet habille son maître, the valet his master. Venez, m'habiller, come and dress Cette femme de chambre habille mal sa maîtresse, aid—woman—does not dress her mistress well.
-vous de vous habiller, make haste to dress—to our things—your clothes. Je me suis habillé en utes, I dressed in ten minutes. Quel tailleur ille, what tailor makes your clothes? Voilà dix l m'habille, he has made my clothes—supplied clothes—for the last ten years. Il habille très- bien, he dresses—he makes—well. Cette étoffe habille bien, that stuff sits well on the body. Cet habit vous habille mal, that coat fits you badly. On dirait que vous vous habillez à la friperie, you look as if you got your clothes at the old clothes' shop. S'habiller de bleu, to dress in blue. Vous habillez-vous en militaire ce soir, do you put on a military dress—shall you put on a military dress this evening? Il les habillait à la fran- çaise, he dressed them in the French way. Elle habillait les pauvres, she clothed the poor. Habiller les troupes, to clothe the troops. On l'avait habillé en arlequin, they had dressed him up like Harlequin.
(T. techniques.) Habiller du gibier, de la volaille, un mouton, &c., to dress game, poultry, a sheep, &c.
Habiller un arbre, to cover up a tree. Habiller une pensée en vers, to dress, to clothe a thought in verse.
Habiller un conte, to disguise a story. Habiller le sucre, to wrap up sugar.
HABIT, s. m. Habits d'homme, men's clothes. Habits de femme, women's clothes. Il était en habit décent, he was decently dressed. Habit d'été, summer clothing.
Habit d'hiver, winter clothing—costume. Habit du matin, morning dress. Habit habillé, dress-coat; evening dress. Habit complet, complete suit. Habit de cheval, riding dress. Habit de cour, court dress. Habit de campagne, country dress. Habit de deuil, mourning dress.
Habit de parade, official—state—dress. Habit de noce, marriage dress. Les gens étaient en habit de fête, the people were in their best dresses—in their holyday clothes.
Elle portait son bel habit du dimanche, she was in her Sunday clothes—in her Sunday best. Ils étaient en habit militaire, they wore the military dress. Il porte toujours l'habit bourgeois, he is always dressed in plain clothes. Habit ecclésiastique, ecclesiastical dress. Il mettait ses habits pontificaux, he was putting on his pontifical robes. Allez changer d'habit, go and change your clothes. Habit court, black dress; plain dress; habit long, the cassock.
Comme cet habit est mal fait! how badly this coat is made! Boutonnez votre habit, button up your coat. Il porte un habit noir, he wears a black coat.
Prendre l'habit, to take the veil, to put on the cowl; to become a nun, a monk. (Prov.) L'habit ne fait pas le moine, the coat does not make a man—does not tell us who he is.
HABITABLE, adj. habitable; fit to be inhabited
HABITACLE, s. m. (t. de marine), binnacle.
HABITANT, s. m. } inhabitant. (T. des colonies), HABITANTE, s. f. } inhabitant—planter—of Guadeloupe, Cuba, &c.
HABITATION, s. f. abode; dwelling; habitation.
On lui donna un joli endroit pour habitation, they gave him a pretty place for his dwelling—abode. C'est ici que je fais mon habitation, here I dwell—this is my house

—my habitation. Il faut, pour cela, connaître les habitations des animaux, for that purpose, it is necessary to be acquainted with the abodes—retreats—of animals. (T. de colonies), plantation. (T. de jurisp.) Habitation charnelle, cohabitation.

HABITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Nous habitons la campagne, we inhabit—we live in—the country. Nous habitons dans un joli endroit, we dwell—live—inhabit in a very pretty place.

(T. de jurisp.) Habiter avec une femme, to cohabit with a woman.

HABITUDE, s. f. habit. Vous avez-là une bonne habitude, you have a good habit. C'est une faute d'habitude, it is an habitual fault. J'ai pris l'habitude de fumer, I contracted the habit—custom—of smoking. Je le fais par habitude, I do it out of habit. Je ne suis pas dans cette habitude, this is not my habit—I am not accustomed to do this. J'ai l'habitude—pour habitude—de fumer après dîner, my habit—custom—is to smoke after dinner. Je suis un homme d'habitude, I am a man of habits. Je ne pourrais jamais me corriger de cette habitude, it is a habit I could never get rid of—correct. La vertu est l'habitude de faire le bien, virtue is a—the—habit of doing what is right. L'habitude aux bonnes choses est dangereuse, the habitual enjoyment of good things is dangerous. Il a l'habitude des privations, he is accustomed to privations.

Cet homme a des habitudes à la cour, that man has acquaintances at court. J'ai habitude chez eux, I frequent their house. Il a perdu toutes ses habitudes, he has lost all his acquaintances—all the persons he was used to see.

Cette maladie a changé l'habitude du corps chez lui, that disease has changed his habit of body.

Je l'ai reconnu de loin à l'habitude du corps, I recognised him at a distance by his carriage alone.

D'HABITUDE, loc. adv., habitually; customarily. (Adj.) C'est un péché d'habitude, it is an habitual—ordinary—fault.

HABITUEL, LE, adj. habitual; usual; customary.

HABITUELLEMENT, adv. habitually; usually; customarily.

HABITUER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Habituez vos enfants à l'obéissance, accustom your children to obedience. Il les habituait au froid et à la fatigue, he inured them to cold and fatigue. Je ne puis m'habituer à me lever de bonne heure, I cannot accustom myself—acquire the habit—to get up early. Nous y sommes habitués, we are used to it.

Prêtre habitué. Voyez Prêtre.

(T. de café, de marchand, &c.) Ce monsieur est un de nos habitués, that gentleman is one of our customers, is one of our visitors. Les habitués de l'orchestre, the regular frequenters of the orchestra.

'HÂBLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (ce mot et les deux suivants sont pris de l'Espagnol "Hablar"), to talk big; to boast.

'HÂBLERIE, s. f. boasting; big lies.

'HÂBLEUR, s. m. boaster; one who talks very big.

'HACHE, s. f. axe. Se servir d'une hache, to use an axe. Il abattit la porte en deux coups de hache, he broke the door down with two blows of his axe. Ils abattirent l'arbre à coups de hache, they cut the tree down with their axe. Nous entendîmes des coups de hache, we heard the blows—the strokes—of an axe. Mettre—porter—la hache dans un bois, to begin cutting down a wood.

Hache à main, hatchet. Hache d'armes, battle-axe. Hache d'abordage, boarding axe.

(Fig.) Cela est fait à coups de hache, this is done clumsily. Il a un coup de hache à la tête, he is cracked. Il a un petit coup de hache, he is rather cracked. (T. d'arpentage.) Son pré fait hache sur le mien, his meadow land is dovetailed with—runs into—mine. Périr sous la hache, to be beheaded; to perish by the axe. Aller au bois sans hache, to go about a thing unprepared.

'HACHÉE, s. f. punishment formerly inflicted on soldiers which consisted in their being made to march with a saddle or a dog tied across their shoulder.

'HACHE PAILLE, s. m. a chaff cutter.

'HACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. La grêle a haché les blés, the hail has cut up the corn. La sorcière hacha toutes ses mesures, the makers cut up—cut into shreds—all our rigging. Les soldats hachèrent en pièces, the robbers cut him all to pieces. Ils se sont hachés en—par—morceaux, they cut each other to pieces—they mangled one another.

Hacher du mouton, to hash, to mince, to chop mutton. Hacher de la paille, to chop straw. (Fig.) Ce n'est pas découper la viande, c'est la hacher, that is not carving, that is mangling meat.

(Fig.) Je me ferais hacher en morceaux, I would die first de le faire, I would suffer myself to be cut to pieces rather than do it. Je les hacherais avec comme de la pâte, I would make mince-meat of them.

(T. de dessin.) Hacher un dessin, to hatch a drawing.

(T. de maçon.) Hacher une pierre, une marbre, to cut a stone, a wall, &c.

'HACHEREAU, s. m. }
'HACHETTE, s. f. } hatchet.

'HACHIS, s. m. (t. de cuisine), hash.

'HACHOIR, s. m. (t. de cuisine), chopping-knife.

'HACHURE, s. f. (t. de dessin), hatching; (t. de blason), hatching; etching.

'HAGARD, E, adj. haggard, wild. Il a l'air hagard, he looks haggard, wild. Voyez cet œil hagard, see that wild look.

'HAGIOGRAPHE, s. m. hagiographer; a writer of religious books.

'HAGIOGRAPHIE, s. f. hagiography.

'HA 'HA, s. m. haw, haw, (an opening in the wall of a park, with a ditch, in defence, in front).

'HAHÉ, interj. (t. de chasse), beware there!

'HAIE, s. f. hedge. Nos prairies sont entourées de haies, our meadows are surrounded with hedges. Les soldats formaient une double haie, the soldiers were in a double line—row—all down the street. Nous bordâmes la haie sur deux rangs, we lined the road—the street—the place—in a double row.

'HAIE, interj. gee ho.

'HAILLON, s. m. rag. Que ferez-vous de ces haillons, what will you do with these rags? Il était couvert de haillons, he was covered with rags—with tatters.

'HAINE s. f. hatred; hate. Il lui porte une haine implacable, he bears him—has for him—implacable hatred. Je n'ai point de haine contre lui, I bear him no hatred. Avoir quelqu'un en haine, to have a person in hatred. Haine pour le vice, he hates—he has a hatred for—vice. Nous lui avons inspiré la haine de nos gens, we inspired him with a detestation for falsehood. Il est en haine de, out of hatred for. Haine aux tyrans, let tyrants be detested.

'HAINEUX, EUSE, adj. full of hatred; malicious; spiteful.

'HAINEUSEMENT, adv. hatefully.

'HAIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Haïr, hatred, to hate; je hais, tu hais, il hait, nous haïssons, vous haïssez, ils haïssent; je haïssais, &c.; je haïs, &c.; je haïrais, &c.; que je haïsse, &c.; que je haïsse, to hate; to detest. Mais le roi qui le hait veut qu'on le haïsse, but the king who hates him, would also have me hate him. Nous ne haïssons les méchants que par intérêt, we hate—detest—the wicked only through interest. Elle le haïssait à la mort, she detested him to death—had a detestation of him.

(Fam.) Je ne hais pas le plaisir, I rather like pleasure. Ces choses-là haïssent le froid, these things hate cold. Je me haïrais de l'accepter, I would hate myself—I should not forgive myself—if I accepted it. Il est haï de tout le monde, he is detested by every one. Ils se haïssent au point, they love one another.

'HAIRE, s. f. sack cloth.

'HAISSABLE, adj. hateful; detestable.

'HAISSEUR, s. m. hater; one who hates, detests.

'HALAGE, s. m. Chemin de halage, towing path. Chevaux de halage, towing horses.

HALBRAN, s. m. young wild duck.
HALBRENÉ, adj. in sad plight.
HÂLE, s. m. Il fait un grand hâle, the air is hot dry—is very sultry. Le hâle fane les herbes, the ...er does wither the grass. Ne vous exposez pas au ..., do not expose yourself to this burning air.
HALEINE, s. f. breath. Il a l'haleine douce comme ...ofant, his breath is as sweet as a child's. Il a ...eine mauvaise, his breath is bad. Retenir son haleine, ...p—to hold—one's breath. Prenez haleine un peu, ...reathe a little. Il a l'haleine courte, he has a short ...—he is short winded—.—(Fam., fig.) Cet auteur ...courte haleine, that author is short breathed, i. e. has exhausted himself. Prendre une longue haleine, to ...a long breath. Être hors d'haleine, to be out of ...th. Se mettre hors d'haleine, to put one's self out of ...th. Il y a, dans cet ouvrage, des phrases à perte ...leine, there are in that work very long-winded ...es. Ils couraient à perte d'haleine, they were ...ng themselves out of breath—i. e. very fast. Re...z haleine un peu, do take breath a little while. ...n'y a pas—il ne fait pas—une haleine de vent, ...s not a breath of wind. Donnez un peu haleine à ...cheval, do breathe your horse a little. Votre cheval ...e d'haleine, your horse puffs—breathes hard. ...dictionnaire est un ouvrage de longue haleine, this ...ionary is a long-winded work. J'ai écrit deux pages ...une haleine, I wrote two pages all at one breath—...t once—without stopping. Il a bu le verre tout ...haleine, he quaffed it all at one breath. ...ils le finissent pendant qu'ils sont en haleine, let ...finish it whilst they are at it. Il le fait pour se ...en haleine, he does it to keep himself in exercise. ...'ai pas eu haleine aujourd'hui, I am not disposed ...the humour—to-day.
HALENÉE, s. f. whiff. Il nous donna, en passant, ...e bouffée fort désagréable, as he passed he gave us a ... of his breath, which was very disagreeable.
HALENER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to smell the breath of ...ne. (T. de chasse), to get scent. (Fig., fam.) ...e flairer.
HALER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to haul. ... la bouée à bord, to haul up a buoy on board. ... la bouline, to haul the bowline. Se haler dans ... to haul the wind. Haler un bateau, to tow a ...
...m.) Haler des chiens après un homme, to hallos ...ge—to set them—upon a person.
HÂLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Le soleil lui a hâlé le ... the sun burnt her complexion—her complexion is ...nut. Elle est toute hâlée, she is quite sun-burnt—...d.
HALETER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to pant. Il arriva ...eletant, he came in panting—panting for breath.
HALEUR s. m. towing-man; a man pulling at the ...ne.
HALITEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de médec.). Il a la peau ...eux, his skin is warm and moist.
HALLAGE, s. m. duty levied on goods for sale in ...rd places; market duty.
HALLALI, s. m. (t. de chasse), whoop!
HALLE, s. f. market hall. Halle aux blés, corn ...et. J'étais allé à la halle aux cuirs, I had gone to ...ather market. Le langage des halles, Billingsgate ...age.
HALLEBARDE, s. f. halberd.
HALLEBARDIER, s. m. halberdier.
HALLEBREDA, s. m. f. (expression populaire), a ...wky man or woman.
HALLIER, s. m. thicket.
HALLIER, s. m. market-keeper; merchant, dealer ...ns a stall on a market-place; market-man, dealer.
HALLUCINATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), hallucina... (Commune), wandering of the mind; aberration.
HALO, s. m. halo.
HALOTECHNIE, s. f. (t. de chimie), on the pre... of salts.
HALOT, s. m. wild rabbit's hole.

'HALTE, s. f. (t. milit.), halt. Faire halte, to make halt. Pendant la halte, during the halt. Nous avons faits six lieues sans faire halte, we went six leagues without halting. On nous cria "halte-là," they cried out to us "stop there."
(Commune.) Halte-là, Monsieur; n'allez pas plus loin, stay, stop, Sir; go no farther. Nous arrivâmes à notre halte avant la nuit, we reached our halting place, before night.
'HALURGIE, s. f. (t. de chim.), the art of preparing salts.
'HAMAC, s. m. hammock.
'HAMADRYADE, s. f. (t. de mythologie), hamadryad; wood nymph.
'HAMEAU, s. m. hamlet.
HAMEÇON, s. m. fish hook. Le poisson a pris l'hameçon, the fish took the hook. Il a mordu à l'hameçon, it has taken the bait. Prendre du poisson à l'hameçon, to angle; to fish with an angle. (Fig., fam.) Cet homme est facile à attraper, vous verrez qu'il prendra l'hameçon, it is easy to take that man in: you will see that he will take the bait.
HAMEÇONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hook; to catch.
'HAMPE, s. f. La hampe d'une hallebarde, the shaft or pole of a halberd. La hampe d'un écouvillon, the shaft, handle, of a sponge. La hampe d'un pinceau, the stick of a brush.
'HAN, s. m. (mot Arabe), an inn.
'HAN, interj. imitation of the noise made by a labourer, when striking hard.
'HANAP, s. m. (vieux mot), hanaper; cup.
'HANCHE, s. f. hip. Avoir de grosses hanches, to have large hips. Cette femme a les hanches trop larges, that woman has too large hips. Mettre les poings sur les hanches, to set the arms a-kimbo. (T. de manége), haunch. Mettre un cheval sur ses hanches, to throw a horse upon its haunches. (T. de marine.) On aborda par la hanche de babord, they attacked the ship on the larboard quarter. Par la hanche du vent, on the windward quarter.
HANEBANE, s. f. (t. de médec.), henbane; jusquiam.
'HANGAR, s. m. shed.
'HANNETON, s. m. maybug; cockchafer. (Fig.) Il est étourdi comme un hanneton, he is as giddy as a cockchafer.
'HANOVRE, s. m. (t. de géog.), Hanover.
'HANOVRIEN, s. m. } adj. Hanoverian.
'HANOVRIENNE, s. f. }
'HANSCRIT, s. m. Voyez Sanscrit.
'HANSE, s. f. Hanse towns.
'HANSÉATIQUE, adj. Ville Hanséatique, Hanseatic town.
'HANSIÈRE. Voyez Haussière.
'HANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to frequent; to haunt. (Fig.) Cet homme a bien hanté les foires, he is an old roadster—he has gained experience.
HANTISE, s. f. frequentation; frequenting; company.
HAPPE, s. f. (t. de métier), iron circle; cramp.
'HAPPE-CHAIR, s. m. bailiff; catch-pole.
'HAPPE-FOIE, s. m. a sea bird.
'HAPPE-LOPIN, s. m. a greedy dog; a greedy person.
HAPPELOURDE, s. f. false stone; (t. de manége), jade. (Des personnes.) Cette femme est une vraie happelourde, she is a silly, handsome woman.
'HAPPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to catch; to seize upon.
'HAQUENÉE, s. f. riding horse; lady's riding horse. Haquenée du gobelet, formerly, the horse that carried the king's dinner. (T. de manége.) Aller la haquenée, to amble. (Fam.) Aller sur la haquenée des cordeliers, to travel on foot. (Fam.) Qui est cette grande haquenée? who is that tall, awkward woman?
'HAQUET, s. m. dray; cart.
'HAQUETIER, s. m. dray-man; cart-man.
'HARANGUE, s. f. speach; harangue. Il leur fit une longue harangue à ce sujet, he addressed them a long speech on the subject.

'HARANGUER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to harangue; to deliver a speech to; to speak before. Il harangua devant le roi, he spoke before the king. (Fam.) Il est toujours à haranguer, he is always speechifying—holding forth.

'HARAS, s. m. stud for the breed of horses.

'HARASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to harass; to weary. Nos troupes légères harassaient l'ennemi, our light troops harassed the enemy. Vous harassez votre cheval, you harass—over-work—your horse. Je suis harassé de fatigue, I am harassed—overcome—with fatigue. Il a l'esprit harassé, his mind is harassed.

'HARCELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to harass; to torment; to provoke. Il est toujours à me harceler, he is always tormenting me. Ils harcelaient nos troupes, they harassed our troops.

'HARDE, s. f. (t. de chasse), troop, herd, of wild beasts, of stags, deer, &c.

'HARDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse), to tie up dogs by six, and four.

'HARDES, s. f. pl. clothes. Il avait de bonnes hardes, he had good clothes. Il vendait ses hardes pour boire, he sold his clothes to get drink.

'HARDI, E, adj. bold, rash. C'est un homme très-hardi, he is a very bold man. C'est un de ces esprits hardis, he is one of those bold—resolute—minds. Il est hardi à parler, à entreprendre, he is bold, rash in talking, in undertaking. Il lui fit une réponse hardie, he gave him a bold answer. Ce dessin est hardi, this is a bold design.

'HARDIESSE, s. f. boldness. Il a eu la hardiesse d'y aller seul, he had the boldness—he was bold enough to go alone. Il y a ici hardiesse de conception, there is in this boldness of conception. Excusez si je prends la hardiesse de vous en parler, pardon me if I am bold enough to talk to you about it. (Fig.) Vous prenez de trop grandes hardiesses, you take too great liberties. Il y a des hardiesses heureuses dans cet ouvrage, there are bold liberties—happy liberties in that work.

'HARDIMENT, adv. boldly. Il a agi hardiment, he has acted boldly. Je vous dirai hardiment ce que j'en pense, I will tell you plainly what I think about it.

'HAREM, s. m. (mot Arabe), harem.

'HARENG, s. m. herring. Le hareng frais est très-bon, fresh herring is very good. Aimez-vous le hareng salé, are you fond of salt herring? Un hareng saur, a red herring.

(Fig.) Nous étions pressés comme des harengs, we were crowded—jammed—like herrings in a barrel. La caque sent toujours le hareng, bad education is felt through life—the cask always retains its taint.

'HARENGEAISON, s. f. the herring season.

'HARENGÈRE, s. f. herring woman. (Fam., fig.) C'est une harengère, she is a low, vulgar woman—she is like a Billingsgate woman.

'HARGNEUX, EUSE, adj. Un homme hargneux, a cross—snappish man. C'est un esprit hargneux, he has a morose—peevish—mind. Elle a un vilain chien hargneux, she has an ugly snappish dog. (Fig.) Quel chien hargneux que cet homme! what an intractable dog that man is!

'HARICOT, s. m. bean; haricot bean. On nous servit un plat de haricots blancs, they gave us a dish of white beans—haricots. Des haricots à l'eau, plain boiled haricots. Haricots verts, French beans. (Fam.) On l'envoya passer vingt-quatre heures à l'hôtel des haricots, he was sent for four and twenty hours to the police room of the national guard.

(T. de cuisine.) Un haricot de mouton, a mutton haricot (stewed mutton with turnips).

'HARIDELLE, s. f. a jade.

HARMONICA, s. f. (t. de musique), musical glasses; harmonica.

HARMONIE, s. f. harmony. Il y a beaucoup d'harmonie dans ce morceau de musique, there is much harmony in that piece of music. Ce langage est dépourvu d'harmonie, this language is without harmony—is devoid of harmony. Cela tendait à détruire l'harmonie de son politique, this thing tended to destroy the harmony of the political world. Tâchez de mettre les choses en harmonie, endeavour to harmonize these things—to put them in harmony.

(Fig.) Ils vivent dans la plus grande harmonie, they live in the greatest harmony—concord—unity.

HARMONIER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to harmonise.

HARMONIEUSEMENT, adv. harmoniously.

HARMONIEUX, EUSE, adj. harmonious.

HARMONIPHON, s. m. harmoniphon; a new musical instrument in shape like a piano, played upon by means of keys.

HARMONIQUE, adj. harmonic.

HARMONIQUE, s. m. harmonics.

HARMONISTE, s. m. harmonist.

'HARNACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to harness. (Fig. et fam.) Qui vous a harnaché de la sorte? who has dressed you in this way—who made you such a figure?

'HARNAIS, s. m. harness. Une paire de beaux harnais dorés, a set of gilt harness. Des harnais de chevaux de carrosse, cart harness. La reine montait un cheval dont le harnais était enrichi de pierreries, the queen rode a horse whose trappings were enriched with jewels. Cheval de harnais, draught horse.

'HARNOIS, s. m. armour; harness. (Fig.) Endosser le harnois, to become a soldier. Tous ceux qui avaient d'endosser le harnois, all were obliged to take up arms. Il a blanchi sous le harnois, he grew old in arms—in service. (Par extension.) Endosser le harnois, to enter a profession—to put on the dress belonging to it. Après deux mois de repos, il fallut reprendre le harnois, after two months rest, we were obliged to resume our usual pursuits. Il s'échauffe en son harnois, he is getting warm.

'HARO, s. m. (t. de jurisp. en Normandie) it is said, comes from the old exclamation, Ha! Rou! Ery" has been pronounced over her. to be arrested. A ces mots on crie haro sur lui, words, they cried out "Have at him." Tout le monde haro, all exclaimed against him, her, it.

HARPAGON, s. m. (a proper name used by Molière) the personification of Avarice), a miser.

'HARPAILLER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to carouse; to scuffle.

'HARPE, s. f. harp. Jouer de la harpe, to play on the harp. Joueur de harpe, a harper. Harpe éolienne, eolian harp. (T. de maçonnerie.) Voyez Pierre de tente.

'HARPÉGE. Voyez Arpège.

'HAPÉGER. Voyez Arpéger.

'HARPER, v. a. v. r. Il l'a harpé, he caught hold of him. Ils se sont harpés, they grappled with each other. (Autrefois), to play on the harp.

'HARPIE, s. f. harpy. C'est une harpie que cette femme-là, that woman is a downright harpy.

'HARPISTE, s. m. f. harpist.

'HARPON, s. m. harpoon. Jeter, lancer le harpon, to throw, to hurl the harpoon.

'HARPONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to harpoon; to strike with a harpoon.

'HARPONNEUR, s. m. harpooner.

'HART, s. f. the band of a faggot. (T. de pratique.) Il fut condamné à peine de la hart, he was condemned to the rope—the halter—to be hanged. Il mérite la hart, he deserves the rope. Il sent la hart, he smells of the gallows.

'HASARD, s. m. C'est un heureux hasard, it is a happy chance. Je m'en remets au hasard, I leave it to chance. C'est le pur effet du hasard, it is a mere piece of chance. Il sait profiter des chances que le hasard présente, he knows how to take advantage of the chances which hazard—chance—throws in his way. Nous nous sommes rencontrés par hasard, we met by chance. Il a eu un coup du hasard, by a stroke of fortune. Ce serait grand hasard s'il en revient, it will be a great chance

…ecover from it. Le hasard nous a bien servis, chance …fortune—served us well.
Les jeux de hasard sont défendus, games of hazard are …rbidden.
Il arrivera le hasard, he cheats at play.
Quoiqu'il arrive, j'en prends le hasard sur moi, what …r may happen, I take the chance upon me. Osez-…s courir les hasards? do you dare to run the hazard …he dangers—the perils of it? Les hasards de la guerre …t à craindre, the perils—the dangers—of war are to be …ed.
Il fait les choses au hasard, he does things at random. …dites pas ainsi les mots au hasard, do not speak thus …random. Je le ferai, au hasard de vous déplaire, I …do so, at the risk of displeasing you. J'irai, au …ard de ne pas le trouver, I will go, at the chance of …finding him at home. A tout hasard, at all events.
J'ai acheté cette voiture de hasard, I bought this car- …e second-hand. Il vend des choses de hasard, he …second-hand things.
HASARDER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Vous hasardez …e fortune, you venture—risk—expose—your fortune. …hasarderais ma vie, s'il le fallait, I would venture …expose—my life, if it were necessary. Je hasardai …aller, I ventured to go. Je n'oserais me hasarder à …l demander, I would not venture—risk—to ask it of …. Hasarder le paquet, to venture it. Je hasarderai …parole en deux pour voir quel effet cela fera, I will …one word or two to see the effect it will produce. Ce …là des mots hasardés, these are words spoken at …—not well considered.
Vous vous hasardez trop, you venture—you expose …self—too much. Je me hasardai à y aller, I ven- …d to go.
(T. de cuisine.) Ce gigot est hasardé, this leg of …n is tainted—has been kept too long.
HASARDEUSEMENT, adv. hazardously; with …er; with risk.
HASARDEUX, EUSE, adj. hazardous. Cela est …hasardeux, that thing is very hazardous—dangerous …rilous.
HASE, s. f. doe; hare; cony, female of the hare.
HAST, s. m. Arme d'hast, all arms with a staff or …e, such as a pike, halbert, &c.
HASTAIRE, s. m. (t. d'antiq.), a pike man; a man …d with a javelin, a pike, &c.
HATE, s. f. haste. Il fait tout avec hâte, he does …thing hastily. J'ai hâte de partir, I am in a …t to go. J'ai hâte d'en finir, I long to have done. …rande hâte, en toute hâte, with haste, with all haste. …l faites tout à la hâte, you do every thing hastily.
HATELET, s. m. (t. de cuisine), Dutch oven.
HATELETTE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), things done in the …h oven, roast kidneys; roast slices of veal, &c.
HATER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Ces malheurs …le sa mort, these misfortunes have hastened his death. …r l'heure du dîner, to hasten—to advance—the …of the dinner—,—to put the dinner forward. Je l'ai …d'une demi heure, I put it forward half an hour. …grande chaleur hâtera les fruits, this great heat …forward the fruit. Hâtez le pas, si vous voulez …er, you must hurry on—mend your step—if you …to arrive in time. Il ne se hâte pas trop de payer, …not in a great hurry to pay. Hâtez-vous d'aller le … do make haste—do hasten—to go and see him. Ne …âtez point dans vos jugements, do not judge hastily …precipitately. Ne m'arrêtez pas, car je suis hâté, do …tain me, I am in a hurry. La saison est très-… the season is very forward.
HATEUR, s. m. a person, in the king's kitchen, who is …that viands are cooked in time.
HATIER, s. m. (t. de cuisine), spit rack.
HATIF, IVE, adj. Des fruits hâtifs, early fruit. …mons des cerises hâtives, we have early cherries. (moral.) Je crains un peu ces esprits hâtifs, I am …afraid of those precocious minds.
HATIVEAU, s. m. early pear.
HATIVEMENT, adv. early. Il fait fleurir ces …hâtivement, he gets these flowers early by forcing.

HATIVITÉ, s. f. early produce; forwardness.
HAUBANS, s. m. pl. (t. de marine), shrouds. Haubans de chaloupe, lashings of a boat. Rider les haubans, to set up the shrouds. Mollir les haubans, to ease the shrouds.
HAUBERGEON, s. m. hauberk. (T. de jurisp. féodale.) Fief de haubergeon, a fief which obliged the tenant to follow the king in war.
HAUBERT, s. m. hauberk; coat of mail.
HAUSSE, s. f. Mettre une hausse à des souliers, à des bottes, to put something under shoes, boots, to make them higher. Mettre des hausses aux pieds d'un meuble, to raise the feet of a piece of furniture.
HAUSSE, s. f. (t. de commerce et d'agiotage), rise (in the value of public funds). Jouer à la hausse et à la baisse des fonds, to play on the rise and fall of public funds. Ces marchandises sont en hausse, these goods are rising (in price). (Fig.) Napoléon disait que les mœurs publiques étaient en hausse, Napoleon used to say the public morals were improving.
HAUSSE-COL, s. m. gorget (worn by French officers, in the army and navy, on duty). (Anciennement on disait hausse-cou.)
HAUSSEMENT, s. m. raising. Haussement d'épaule, shrugging of the shoulder. Haussement des monnaies, rise in the value of money.
HAUSSER, v. a. v. r. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to raise. Je ferai hausser cette muraille, I shall have that wall raised higher. Il va faire hausser sa maison d'un étage, he is going to have his house raised one story. Hausser ce tableau un peu, on ne le voit pas bien, put that picture higher—raise that picture—a little, one does not see it well. Haussez vous un peu, vous verrez mieux, raise yourself a little, you will see better. Se hausser sur la pointe des pieds, to stand on tip-toes. Hausser le bras, raise your arm. Hausser la parole, to raise one's voice—to speak in a high tone. Hausser la voix, to speak louder—to raise one's voice. Hausser le ton, to speak in a higher tone. Cela lui a haussé le cœur, le courage, that thing raised his—gave him more—heart, courage. Hausser les épaules, to shrug one's shoulders. Il haussait les épaules de pitié, de mépris, he shrugged his shoulders in pity, in compassion. Cela fait hausser les épaules, that creates nothing but contempt. Hausser un instrument, to raise an instrument—the tone of it. (Fig.) C'est un homme qui ne se hausse, ni ne se baisse, that man is neither excited, nor depressed by circumstances—is never high nor low—whom nothing moves. Sa position a-t-elle haussé d'un cran quoiqu'il soit devenu riche? has his position got one peg higher though he is now rich?
Le temps se hausse, the weather is clearing up. La rivière a haussé de six pouces, the river has risen six inches. Elle haussa tout à coup, it rose all on a sudden.
(T. de commerce, d'agiotage.) Le prix du blé a haussé, the price of corn is higher—has risen. Les fonds haussent, the public funds are higher—have risen. Ils hausseront encore, they will rise still more.
HAUSSIÈRE, s. f. (t. de marine), hawser.
HAUT, s. m. (hauteur), height. Cette maison a soixante pieds de haut, this house is sixty feet high. On les voyait du haut de la colline, they were seen from the top—summit—of the hill. Il tomba du haut de la maison sur le pavé, he fell from the top of the house on the pavement. Je vis dans le haut de la maison, I live in the upper part of the house—up stairs. Voyez au haut, look in the upper part.
Sur le haut du jour, in the middle of the day. Il faut toujours céder le haut du pavé aux dames, you must always give the wall—the right side of the wall—to ladies.
Mettez cela au haut de la page, put that at the top of the page. Le haut du corps, the chest, the bust.
(Fig.) Ce que vous me dites me surprend; je tombe de mon haut, what you say astonishes me; I am astounded. Je tombai de mon haut en l'apprenant, I was struck all of a heap—I stood aghast—when I learned it. Il le regardait du haut en bas, he looked at him from foot to foot with contempt—he measured him with a look of contempt. Traiter une personne de haut en bas, to treat a person with contempt. Du haut de sa grandeur, from the top—height—of his dignity. Gagner le haut (des champs), to run away—to take flight.

Les hauts et les bas de la fortune, the ups and downs of fortune. Faut-il donc souffrir les hauts et les bas de vos humeurs, am I then to bear your high and low humours?

(T. de musique.) Dans le haut de sa voix, in the upper tones—notes—of his voice.

HAUT, E, adj. Une haute montagne, a high mountain. Il y a une tour très-haute, there is a very high tower. Cette table est trop haute pour écrire commodément, that table is too high to write conveniently. C'est un homme de haute taille, he is a man of high stature. Il est bien plus haut que son frère, he is much taller than his brother. Il a le front haut, he has a high forehead.

Les hautes régions de l'air, the upper—higher—regions of the air. Les hauts étages de la maison sont plus commodes, the upper stories of the house are more convenient. Cela se voit dans le haut pays, that is seen in the upper country. La haute Egypte, upper Egypt. La haute Bretagne, upper Britanny. Les hautes Pyrénées, the upper Pyrenees. Ce que vous dites-là c'est du haut Allemand, what you say is high Dutch—i. e. is unintelligible.

Il prend toujours le haut bout, he always takes the upper end—the best place—at table. Il y a une chambre haute et une chambre basse, there is an upper and a lower chamber. Il avançait—il marchait la tête haute, he advanced carrying his head high. Il peut aller partout la tête haute, he may lift up his head—carry his head high—any where. Il porte la tête haute, he looks proud. Il a le regard haut, he looks proud—haughty. Il portait l'épée haute, he carried his sword high. Il avait la visière haute, he had his visor up—raised. Il est obligé de leur tenir la bride haute, he is obliged to hold them tight in hand. Il a tenu la bride haute dans cette affaire, he was firm—he would not yield—in that affair. Ne lui prêtez pas votre argent, car il fera haut le pied, do not lend him your money, for he will run away. Allons, allons, haut le pied, come, come, away with you.

(T. de marine, de mer, de rivière.) Ce bâtiment est trop haut de bord, this ship is too high above the water. Un vaisseau de haut bord, man of war, ship of the line. Les hautes voiles d'un vaisseau, the upper sails of a ship. L'eau est fort haute ici, the water is very deep here. Les eaux sont hautes, the waters are out. Nous partirons à la haute mer, we shall sail at high water. La marée n'est pas encore haute, it is not high water yet. Les hautes marées, the high tides. La mer est haute aujourd'hui, the sea is very rough to-day. Aller, gagner la haute mer, to go out at sea.

(T. de musique.) Cette flûte est trop haute, il faut la baisser d'une note, this flute is too sharp, it must be lowered one note. Il a la voix haute, his voice is loud. Elle n'est pas agréable dans les hautes tons, it is not pleasant in the high notes.

Vous avez la parole trop haute, Monsieur, you speak too haughtily, Sir. Elle poussait les hauts cris (voyez Cri). Jamais nous n'avons eu une parole plus haute que l'autre, we never had one word higher the one than the other.

Il y a eu haute messe aujourd'hui, there was a high mass to-day.

Les hautes dignités de l'empire, the high dignities of the empire. La haute administration, the high administration. Les hauts faits, the mighty—the high—deeds. Les hautes classes, the upper classes. C'est un homme haut placé, he is in a high position. Il jouit d'une haute réputation, he enjoys a high reputation. La haute justice, the criminal court. Le maître des hautes œuvres, the executioner. Haute trahison, high treason. Très-haut et très-puissant seigneur, most high and most mighty Lord.

Ce jeune homme est haut en couleur, this young man is fresh coloured. C'est un jeune homme de haut appétit, that young man is gifted with a large—good—appetite. Il aime les choses de haut goût, he is fond of rich food. Il tombe du haut mal, he has fits of epilepsy.

(T. de commerce.) Les prix sont fort hauts, prices are very high. Les fonds sont hauts aujourd'hui, the funds are high to-day. L'argent est haut, money is at high interest of money is high. (T. de métier.) Cette machine est à haute pression, this is a high pressure engine.

Le carême est haut cette année, lent falls late this year. (Fig.) Vous nous mettez le carême bien haut, you set too much——we shall have to wait so long before you perform your promises.

HAUT, adv. L'aigle monte très-haut, the eagle soars very high. Il s'élève si haut qu'on le perd de vue, he soars so high that you lose sight of him. Ces arbres montent pas si haut, these trees do not come to such a height. Parlez haut, speak loud, louder. Vous parlez trop haut, you speak too loud. Vous le prenez trop haut, you carry it too high. Vous le prenez bien haut, Monsieur, you talk very loud—very big—Sir. Ce mot me vient de plus haut, that blow comes from higher up. Je pensais tout haut, I was thinking aloud. Je le lui ai dit haut et clair, I told it him plainly—clearly. Haut le pied, partons, let us move on, let us go. Ne le prêtez pas d'argent, c'est un haut le pied, do not lend him money, he will run away. Les chevaux s'en retournent haut le pied, the horses were sent back loose. Haut la main, with a tight hand.

Ainsi que nous l'avons dit plus haut, as we said before—higher up. Vous prenez les choses de trop haut, you take up things too far back.

(En haut, up stairs.) Vous le trouverez en haut, you will find him up stairs. Tout nous vient d'en haut, all comes to us from above. Là haut, dans le ciel, there above in heaven. (T. de marine.) En haut les gens du monde, all hands up. En haut en vigie, a hand up to look out.

Il nous traite de haut en bas, he treats us contemptuously. Il nous regardait de haut en bas, he looked down upon us from top to bottom. (T. de mélec.) Aller par en haut et par bas, to be moved upwards and downwards.

'HAUT À BAS, s. m. (vieux mot), pedlar.

'HAUT-A-HAUT, s. m. a cry to call up the hunters.

'HAUTAIN, E, adj. haughty; proud; lofty. Il a d'un ton hautain, he speaks in a haughty tone.

'HAUTAINEMENT, adv. haughtily, loftily.

'HAUTAINETÉ, s. f. haughtiness; loftiness.

'HAUTBOIS, s. m. Jouer du hautbois, to play on the oboe, hautbois. C'est un excellent hautbois, he is an excellent oboe player.

(Fam.) Jouer du hautbois, to fell trees.

'HAUT-DE-CHAUSSE, s. m. (vieux mot), breeches. Cette femme porte le haut-de-chausse, that woman is the mistress—wears the breeches, in her family. Voyez CULOTTE.

'HAUTE CONTRE, s. f. (t. de musique), counter-tenor. Il chante la haute-contre, he sings the counter-tenor part. Nous avons une très-belle haute-contre, we have a very excellent counter-tenor.

'HAUTEMENT, adv. Je le lui ai dit hautement, I told it him openly—boldly—resolutely.

'HAUTESSE, s. f. (titre que l'on donne au Grand Seigneur), highness.

'HAUTEUR, s. f. height. La hauteur de cette montagne est considérable, the height of that mountain is considerable. Ce mur a huit pieds de hauteur, that wall is eight feet high. Un mur à hauteur d'appui, a wall breast high. Cette plante est de la hauteur de deux pieds, that plant is two feet high. Cet oiseau vole à une grande hauteur, that bird flies very high—to a considerable height. La pauvre femme tomba de sa hauteur, the poor man fell down at full length.

Les ennemis occupèrent les hauteurs, the enemy occupied the heights. La campagne était inondée, il fut obligé de chemin par les hauteurs, the plain was overflowed with water, he was obliged to come over the hills.

Fig.) Vous lui parlez avec hauteur, you speak to with haughtiness. Je ne puis supporter ses hauteurs, most bear his haughty manners. D'où lui vient cette eur? whence comes that pride—that haughtiness, in ? On admire la hauteur de son génie, people admire periority of his genius. Il ne parvint à cette hau-qu'après de longs efforts, he arrived at this superiority long efforts. Peu de gens sont à hauteur de ce few persons are up to this great genius. Il n'est à la hauteur de son siècle, he is behind his times— Ces bonnes gens ne sont pas à la hauteur des con-naissances actuelles, these good people are behind the wledge of the time.

T. d'astron.) La hauteur d'un astre, the altitude planet. Prendre la hauteur du soleil, to observe altitude of the sun. (T. de marine.) Nous étions hauteur de l'Ile de Wight, we were off the Isle of ht. Nous les rencontrâmes à la hauteur du Cap, met them off the Cape. La mer a deux cents brasses hauteur, the sea is two hundred fathom deep. (T. .), depth. L'escadron était à dix hommes de hauteur, squadron was ten men deep.

HAUT-LE-CORPS, s. m. Il fit un haut-le-corps nous voyant paraître, he started—he made a move-n of surprise—in seeing us appear. (T. de manége), a ed.

HAUTURIER, RIÈRE, adj. (t. de marine). Pilote urier, a pilot expert at sea.

HÂVE, adj. Il a le visage hâve, he looks pale, wan, ured.

HAVIR, v. a. v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir). de cuisine.) Un trop grand feu havit la viande, too t a fire burns—scorches—the meat (when roasting). viande havit à un trop grand feu, the meat scorches ens—before too quick a fire.

HAVRE, s. m. harbour; sea port. Le Hâvre is the e of a sea port, in France, at the mouth of the Seine.

HAVRE-SAC, s. m. knapsack.

HÉ, interj. Hé, l'ami, que je vous parle, here! i, let me speak to you. Hé, vous voilà, oh, is it ? Hé qu'ai-je fait, Good heavens! what have I ? Hé quoi, vous n'êtes pas parti? what! are you one? Hé bien, voyons, que ferez-vous? well, let ey, what will you do? Hé, là, mon petit ami, come, e, my little friend. Hé, hé, pourquoi pas, why, not? Hé, qu'y a-t-il donc? why, what is the er?

HEAUME, s. m. (t. de blason.), helmet.

HEAUMER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to make helmets; ut a helmet on a person.

HEAUMIER, s. m. helmet-maker.

HEBDOMADAIRE, adj. hebdomadary; weekly.

HEBDOMADIER, s. m. (t. d'église), canon in re-ce for the week. [lodge.

HÉBERGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (mot fam.), to HÉBÉTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to stupefy; to hebetate; ake stupid. Cet homme est hébété par l'usage de de vie, that man is stupefied from the practice of king brandy. Il agit comme un hébété, he acts like n stupefied—deprived of his senses.

HÉBRAÏQUE, adj. Hebraic, Hebrew. Ce sont des ctères Hébraïques, these are Hebraic—Hebrew—acters.

HÉBRAÏSANT, s. m. hebraist.

HÉBRAÏSME, s. m. Hebraism.

HÉBREU, s. m. Hebrew. (Fam.) Vous me parlez reu, you speak Hebrew to me, i. e. what you say is delligible.

HÉCATOMBE, s. f. hecatomb.

HECTARE, s. m. (nouvelle mesure décimale de super-qui contient 10,000 mètres quarrés), a superficial sure of about 1¼ acre.

HECTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), hectic. Il a une y hectique, he has a hectic fever.

HECTISIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hectic.

HECTOGRAMME, s. m. (nouvelle mesure décimale de contenant cent grammes), new measure of weight, t 3 ounces.

HECTOLITRE, s. m. (nouvelle mesure décimale de liquide, contenant cent litres), new measure containing nearly 8 bushels.

HÉGIRE, s. m. (mot Arabe), Hegira.

HEIDUQUE, s. m. (vieux mot), Hungarian foot-soldier; sort of footman in livery.

'HEIN, interj. interrog. Eh! Vous viendrez, hein? you will come, ey? won't you? Hein, que dites-vous, what you do say, ey?

HÉLAS, interj., alas! Hélas, que me dites-vous? alas! what have you said? Il fait des hélas, à vous percer le cœur, he is lamenting enough to break your heart.

'HÉLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine). Héler un vaisseau en mer, to hail a ship at sea.

HÉLIANTE, s. m. (t. de bot.), helianthus; sort of sunflower.

HÉLIANTHÈME, s. m. (t. de bot.), dwarf sunflower.

HÉLIAQUE, adj. (t. d'astron.), heliacal.

HÉLIASTES, s. m. pl. (t. d'antiq.), name given to the members of a tribunal at Athens, who sat from the rising of the sun.

HÉLICE, s. f. (t. de géom. et d'archit.), helix; a spiral line. Un escalier en hélice, a spiral staircase.

HÉLICON, s. m. (montagne de Béotie, consacrée aux Muses), mount Helicon. (Fig.) Il est du bas de l'Hélicon, he crawls at the foot of mount Helicon, i. e. he is a wretched, bad, poet. [tric.

HÉLIOCENTRIQUE, adj. (t. d'astron.), heliocen-

HÉLIOSCOPE, s. m. (instrument astronom.), helioscope.

HÉLIOTROPE, s. m. (t. de bot.), heliotrope; sunflower.

HELLÉBORE, s. m. Voyez Ellébore.

HELLÉNIQUE, adj. Hellenic; Hellenian, Grecian.

HELLÉNISME, s. m. Hellenism; a Greek turn.

HELLÉNISTE, s. m. Hellenist; a Greek scholar.

HÉLOSE, s. f. (t. de médec.), helosis; convulsion of the eye.

HELVÉTIE, s. f. (t. de géog. pron. El-vé-cie), Helvetia, Switzerland.

HELVÉTIQUE, s. m. adj. Helvetian; Helvetic; Swiss.

HEM, interj. pour appeler, here!

HÉMATITE, s. f. Pierre hématite, blood-stone; hematite.

HÉMATOCÈLE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), hematocele.

HÉMATOSE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hematosis; formation of blood.

HÉMATURIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), evacuation of blood.

HÉMÉROCALLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), day-lily.

HÉMICYCLE, s. m. hemicycle.

HÉMIPLEXIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hemiplegy; palsy of half the body.

HÉMIPTÈRES, adj. plur. (t. d'entomologie), hemiptera.

HÉMISPHÈRE, s. m. hemisphere.

HÉMISPHÉRIQUE, adj. hemispheric.

HÉMISTICHE, s. m. hemistich; half a long verse.

HÉMOPTYSIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hemoptisis; spitting of blood.

HÉMORRAGIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hemorrhage; flux of blood.

HÉMORROÏDAL, E, adj. (t. de médec.), hemorrhoidal.

HÉMORROÏDES, s. f. pl. (t. de médec.), hemorrhoids; piles.

HÉMOSTATIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), a remedy for hemorrhage.

HENDÉCAGONE, adj. (t. de géom.). Figure hendécagone, a figure of eleven sides, an hendecagon.

HENDÉCASYLLABE, adj. hendecasyllable, a word of eleven syllables.

'HENNIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to neigh.

'HENNISSEMENT, s. m. neighing.

HÉPAR, s. m. (t. de chimie), hepar; hepar sulphuris.

HÉPATIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), hepatic.

HÉPATIQUE, s. f. (t. de bot.), hepatica.

HÉPATITE, s. f. (t. de médec.), inflammation of the liver. (T. de minér.), hepatitis; blue stone.

HEPTACORDE, s. m. (t. de musique), heptachord; an instrument with seven cords.

HEPTAGONE, adj. (t. de géom.), having seven sides; an heptagon.

HEPTAMÉRON, s. m. a work done in—divided into—seven days.

HEPTANDRIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), heptander.

HÉRALDIQUE, adj. heraldic; belonging to heraldry.

'HÉRAUT, s. m. (t. de féodalité), herald. Le roi dénonça la guerre par un héraut, the king sent a herald to declare war. Un héraut d'armes, a herald at arms.

HERBACÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), herbaceous. Cette plante est de consistance herbacée, the plant is herbaceous.

HERBAGE, s. m. (t. de table, de cuisine). Les Italiens vivent beaucoup d'herbages, the Italians live principally on herbs—vegetables. (En parlant des animaux.) Il y a de beaux paturages en Normandie, there are fine grazing grounds, lands in Normandy. En hiver, on met les bestiaux à l'herbage, cattle are put in pastures in winter.

HERBE, s. f. (t. de cuisine et de médec.). Les herbes potagères, pot-herbs—vegetables. Nous avons abondance d'herbes potagères dans notre jardin, we have abundance of vegetables in our garden. Une salade d'herbes, a salad of herbs. On met des herbes fines dans la salade, they mix small herbs with salad. Aimeriez-vous une omelette aux fines herbes, would you like an omelet with small herbs? (T. de jardinage.) Ce jardin est plein d'herbes—de mauvaises herbes, this garden is full of weeds. Les herbes sauvages couvrent ces ruines, wild plants cover these ruins. (Fig.) Méchante herbe croît toujours, ill weeds grow apace. (T. de médec.) Nous cueillons des plantes médicinales, we gather medicinal plants—herbs. (Prov.) Il a marché sur quelque mauvaise herbe, he must have trod upon some mischievous herb. Sur quelle herbe avez-vous donc marché, on what plant did you tread to-day?—i. e. what is the matter with you?

L'herbe des champs, the grass of the fields. Les animaux mangent l'herbe, animals live upon grass. L'herbe commence à poindre, the grass is beginning to grow. L'herbe est épaisse, touffue, the grass is thick—tufted. Mettre un cheval à l'herbe, to put a horse to grass. L'herbe croît dans les rues, grass is growing in the streets. Se coucher sur l'herbe, to lie down on the grass. Ce cheval aura quatre ans aux herbes, this horse will be four years old next spring. (Fig.) Blé en herbe, corn in the blade. Manger son blé en herbe, to eat one's corn in the blade, i. e. to spend one's revenue before hand. C'est un avocat en herbe, he is a barrister in prospectu; he is a future barrister. Couper l'herbe sous le pied à quelqu'un, to cut the ground from under his feet, i. e. to supplant a person. Employer toutes les herbes de la Saint Jean, to make use of every resource.

HERBEILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse). Le sanglier à herbeillé ici, the wild boar grazed here.

HERBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lie down on the grass.

HERBETTE, s. f. tender grass. Danser sur l'herbette, to dance on the grass.

HERBEUX, EUSE, adj. grassy; full of grass.

HERBIER, s. m. herbal; a collection of plants. (In speaking of an ox), voyez Panse.

HERBIÈRE, s. f. greengrocer; a seller of herbs.

HERBIVORE, adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), herbivorous.

HERBORISATION, s. f. herborisation; seeking plants in the fields—simples.

HERBORISER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to herborise; to search for plants, for simples.

HERBORISEUR, s. m. herbalist.

HERBORISTE, s. m. herbalist; one acquainted with plants.

HERBU, E, adj. grassy; full of grass.

HERCULE, s. m. Hercules; one of the demi-gods; a robust, strong man; one of the constellations.

HERCULÉEN, NE, adj. Herculean. Il est d'une taille, d'une force herculéenne, his size, his strength are Herculean. Il a le mal herculéen, he has got the colic—he is an epileptic.

HÈRE, s. m. a poor, miserable being. (On dit que mot vient de l'Allemand "herr" employé par dérision.)

HÉRÉDITAIRE, adj. hereditary.

HÉRÉDITAIREMENT, adv. hereditarily, by inheritance.

HÉRÉDITÉ, s. f. right of inheritance.

HÉRÉSIARQUE, s. m. heresiarch.

HÉRÉSIE, s. f. heresy. (Fam., fig.) Ce homme ne fera point d'hérésie, he will never be the head of a sect, i. e. he will never set the Thames on fire. Cette hérésie litteraire de parler ainsi, it is a heresy in literature to speak thus.

HÉRÉTICITÉ, s. f. heretical nature, tendency.

HÉRÉTIQUE, adj. heretical.

HÉRÉTIQUE, s. m. f. heretic.

HÉRISSER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Le lion hérisse sa crinière, the lion bristles his mane. Le coq hérisse les plumes de son cou, the cock bristles his feathers. Ses cheveux s'hérissaient d'horreur, his hair bristled with—stood on end from—horror. Elle s'avança, les cheveux hérissés, she advanced, her hair standing on end—dishevelled.

La côte est hérissée de rochers, the coast is bristled—armed—defenced—with rocks—is bristled with rocks. Les rochers qui hérissent les flancs d'une montagne, the rocks which bristle—defend—the sides of the mountain. Des buissons, des épines hérissent les bords du sentier, bushes, thorns are bristling on each side of the path. Le port est hérissé de mâts, the port is thick—is crowded with masts. La vie est hérissée d'épines, life is surrounded with—is thick set with—thorns. Les champs se hérissent d'épines, the fields are bristled with thorns. (T. de bot.) Une tige hérissée, a stem bristled with points. (T. de maçon.) Hérisser un mur, to roughcast a wall.

(Fig.) Cet homme est toujours hérissé, that man is ever like a bundle of thorns, i. e. is ever crabbed. Un pédant hérissé de Grec et de Latin, a pedant full of Greek and Latin.

'HÉRISSON, s. m. hedgehog. (T. de mécan.) a cranting wheel. Hérisson de roue, the nave of a wheel with the spokes driven in.

HÉRISSON, NE, adj. crabbed. Il l'homme hérisson, his humour is somewhat crabbed.

HÉRISSONNER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to crabbed. (T. de blason.) Hérissonné, rolled up like a hedgehog.

HÉRITAGE, s. m. inheritance. Faire un héritage, to inherit large property.

HÉRITER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Il a hérité d'une grande fortune d'un oncle qu'il avait, he inherited a large fortune from an uncle he had. Il a hérité de grands biens de lui, he inherited property from him. Il a hérité de les chères de ses ancêtres, he inherited the glory of his ancestors. Il a hérité de leur haine, he inherited their hatred. Il a hérité de cette maladie de sa mère, he inherited—he took the disease from his mother.

HÉRITIER, s. m. heir. Il est l'héritier

HÉRITIÈRE, s. f. heiress. grande fortune, heir of a large fortune. Il n'a point laissé d'héritier, left no heir. Il va épouser une riche héritière, about to marry a rich heiress.

HERMAPHRODISME, s. m. (t. de Médec.),

HERMAPHRODITE, s. m. hermaphrodite; both sexes. (T. de bot.) Ce sont des plantes hermaphrodites, these plants are hermaphrodite.

HERMÉNEUTIQUE, adj. hermeneutical;

HERMÈS, s. m. (mot d'antiq., prose.) of Mercury upon a sort of shaft placed by the ancients.

HERMÉTIQUE, adj. hermetical

HERMÉTIQUEMENT, adv. hermetically.

HERMINE, s. f. ermine. Sa robe était d'hermine, her dress was furred with ermine. (T. de blason.) Herminé, e, ermined.

HERNIAIRE, adj. m. f. (t. de chirurg.), concerning hernia; attending a hernia.
HERNIE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), hernia. Hernie étranglée, a strangulated hernia. Il a une hernie, he has a hernia.
HERNIOLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), herniaria.
HERNUTES, s. m. pl. Les mêmes que les Frères Moraves.
HÉRODIENS, s. m. (t. d'hist. sacrée), Herodians; the sectarians.
HÉROI-COMIQUE, adj. heroi-comic.
HÉROÏDE, s. f. Les Héroïdes d'Ovide, the Epistles of Ovid.
HÉROÏNE, s. f. heroine.
HÉROÏQUE, adj. m. f. heroic. Il a fait preuve d'un courage héroïque, he showed heroic courage. (T. de mépr.) On attribue à ces plantes des vertus héroïques, they attribute most powerful qualities to those plants.
HÉROÏQUEMENT, adv. heroically.
HÉROÏSME, s. m. heroism.
HÉRON, s. m. heron.
HÉRONNEAU, s. m. young heron.
HÉRONNIER, IÈRE, adj. (t. de chasse). Faucon hérônier, the hawk dressed for catching herons. (Fam.) Cette femme est héronnière, that woman is as thin as a heron.
HÉRONNIÈRE, s. f. heronry.
HÉROS, s. m. hero. Alexandre fut un héros, Alexander was a hero. Cet homme est son héros, that man is the admiration—her hero.
HERPES, s. f. Herpes marines, natural treasures—things thrown up by the sea.
HERSAGE, s. m. harrowing.
HERSE, s. f. harrow; (t. de fortif.), herse; portcullis; (t. d'église), sort of candlestick.
HERSER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to harrow. Hersé (t. de blason), with a herse.
HERSEUR, s. m. harrower.
HÉSITATION, s. f. hesitation. Il a récité le discours sans hésitation, he delivered the speech without hesitating or without hesitation. Ses perpétuelles hésitations font voir de ses intentions, his constant doubts make people see his real intentions.
HÉSITER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to hesitate. J'hésitais entre oui ou non, I hesitated whether I should go or no. Il n'hésite point à y aller, I hesitate not to go. Il n'hésita point, he did not hesitate (to do it).
HÉTÉROCLITE, adj. heteroclite; (fam.), odd; singular; irregular.
HÉTÉRODOXE, adj. heterodox.
HÉTÉRODOXIE, s. f. heterodoxy.
HÉTÉROGENE, adj. heterogeneous; (fam.), of different kind, nature.
HÉTÉROGÉNÉITÉ, s. f. heterogeneity.
HÉTÉROSCIENS, s. m. (t. de géog.), heteroscians.
HETMAN, s. m (haut dignitaire chez les Cosaques), an chief.
HÊTRE, s. m. beech-tree. Le hêtre sert aux ouvrages de menuiserie, beech is used in joiner's work.
HEUR, s. m. (vieux mot qui n'est en usage que dans cette phrase). Il n'y a qu'heur et mal'heur dans ce monde, all is good fortune or bad fortune in this world. Si j'eu l'heur de vous plaire, was he so fortunate as to please you? he the good fortune—to please you?
HEURE, s. f. (division du jour), hour. La journée divisée en vingt-quatre heures, the day is divided into twenty-four hours. Quelle heure est-il, what is it o'clock—what o'clock is it? N'est-il pas encore six heures, is it not six o'clock yet? Il n'est que cinq heures et demie à ma montre, it is only half past five by my watch. Il est quatre heures au cadran, it is four o'clock by the sun-dial. Je ne puis voir l'heure maintenant, il n'y a pas de soleil, I cannot see the hour by the sun-dial; the sun does not shine. Il vient de sonner cinq heures—cinq heures viennent de sonner, it has just struck five o'clock. Mettez votre montre à l'heure, afin que nous partions exactement, set your watch by the hour, that we may start exactly. Il me faudra trois quarts d'heures pour y aller, I shall want three quarters of an hour to go. Nous en avons encore pour deux heures de marche avant d'arriver, we must yet walk on for two hours before we arrive. J'ai attendu deux grosses heures, I waited for two long hours. Avancer l'heure, to put the hour forward—to anticipate. Retarder l'heure, to put the hour backwards, to put off.

(Des occupations, des engagements.) On doit se rassembler à dix heures du matin, they are to meet at ten in the morning—A. M. A trois heures d'après midi, at three oclock in the afternoon—P. M. A dix heures du soir, a ten in the evening. A trois heures de nuit, at three o'clock after midnight. A l'heure du midi, at twelve o'clock. A deux heures de relevée, at two in the afternoon. Prenons jour et heure, let us fix—appoint—the day and hour. Il a fixé lui-même l'heure; lundi à dix heures du matin, he himself fixed the hour; on Monday at 10 in the morning. Revenez demain à pareille heure, come again to-morrow at the same hour. Vous venez à des heures indues, you come at inconvenient—unsuitable—hours. Vous venez, vraiment, à une belle heure, you choose indeed a pretty moment to come. Je ne puis vous voir, l'heure est trop avancée, I cannot see you, the hour is too far advanced in the day—is too late. Nous partîmes à une heure avancée du jour, we set off at a late hour in the day. Venez à l'heure, n'y manquez pas, come at the hour—exactly—fail not. A l'heure dite, at the appointed hour. Nous irons à l'heure de son lever, we will go at the hour of his getting up. Nous en parlerons à l'heure du dîner, we will speak of it at dinner time. A l'heure de la promenade, at walking time—at the hour of walking out.

C'est un homme qui fait tout à ses heures, that man has his regular hours for every thing. Il a ses heures de travail et de récréation, he has his regular hours for work and for recreation. Toutes ses heures sont marquées, all his hours are occupied—are employed. Je n'ai pas une heure à moi, I have not a moment I can call my own. Je le ferai à mes heures de loisir—à mes heures dérobées, I will do it at my leisure hours—when I am disengaged. Vous devriez vous donner quelques heures de relâche, you should take some hours respite—rest. Je ne suis pas sujet à l'heure, I am the master of my own time—I am not bound by time.

(Heure synonyme de moment.) Il attend l'heure de commencer, he is waiting for the moment to begin. L'heure fatale approche, the fatal hour—moment—time is coming. Il nous confia ce secret à sa dernière heure, he intrusted this secret to us in his last moments—when he died. Mon heure n'est pas encore venue, my hour—my last moments—have not come yet. C'est l'ami de toutes les heures, he is the friend of all hours—of all times—of every moment. Voici la bonne heure pour aller le voir, this is the good time—moment—to go and see him. J'ai passé-là de bien mauvaises heures, I spent there many a sad moment. J'ai vu l'heure qu'il allait refuser, I saw the moment he was going to refuse.

(Quart d'heure.) J'ai passé un bien mauvais quart d'heure, I spent a very unhappy moment. Le quart d'heure de grâce est passé, the half hour's grace is passed. Il a de bons et de mauvais quarts d'heures, he has good and bad moments—he is not always in the same humour. Le quart d'heure de Rabelais, the moment to pay. Oui, nous avons fait un bon dîner, mais voilà le quart d'heure de Rabelais, we have certainly made a good dinner, but, like Rabelais, we must pay for it, and this is the difficulty.

(Loc. adverbiales.) A l'heure que je vous parle—à l'heure qu'il est—on ne fait plus de ces choses, nowadays—now—people no longer do these things. Ils seront arrivés à l'heure que je vous parle, they must have arrived at this very moment. Ce n'est plus la mode à cette heure, it is no longer the fashion now. Venez de bonne heure, come early—in good time. Une autre fois, venez de meilleure heure, come earlier another time. Sur l'heure, directly—instantly. Je n'en veux pas pour l'heure, I do not want any now—for the present. Il vient nous déranger à toute heure, he comes, every moment, to disturb HOMMAGE, s. m. (T. de féodalité.) Rendre l'hommage, to do homage. Faire la foi et hommage, to take the oath of fealty and do homage.

(Commandement.) Nous devons hommage au Créateur, we owe homage to the Creator. Ils lui rendent un hommage sincère, they pay him sincere homage. Rendre hommage à la vérité, to speak the truth.

Nous irons lui rendre nos hommages, we will go and pay him our respects. Je viens vous présenter mes hommages, I come to offer you my respects.

Il a fait hommage de son ouvrage au roi, he has presented his book to the king. Acceptez cela comme un hommage de ma reconnaissance, deign to accept that as a testimony of my gratitude.

HOMMAGÉ, E, adj. (t. de féodalité), held by homage.

HOMMAGER, adj. Vassal hommager, vassal held to do homage.

HOMMASSE, adj. (En mauvaise part.) Femme hommasse, masculine woman.

HOMME, s. m. man. Dieu créa l'homme à son image, God created man in his image. Tous les hommes sont égaux devant Dieu, all men are equal in the eyes of God.

Il est venu un homme vous demander, a man came and asked for you. Un petit homme mince, a short—little—thin man. C'était un gros homme fort grand, he was a large man very tall. Un homme de grande taille, a man of high stature. Un homme de petite taille, a man of low stature. C'était un homme d'âge, he was an elderly man. Ce n'est pas encore un homme fait, he is not yet grown up to manhood—he is not yet a man. Il nous fallait des hommes faits, we wanted able men—full grown men. C'est un habile homme, he is a clever man. C'est un—il est—bel homme, he is a handsome man. Qui est donc ce petit bout d'homme? what can this dwarf—that bit of man—be?

(Homme avec quelques adjectifs.) Un homme grand, a tall man. Un grand homme, a great—an illustrious—man. C'est un honnête homme, he is an honest man. C'est un homme honnête, he is an honest man. Le bon homme n'en veut pas, the old man does not want any. Mon vieux bon homme, my good old man. Demandez-lui, vous verrez que c'est un bon homme, ask him, you will find him a good man—a good sort of man. Dessiner, découper de petits bons hommes, to draw, to carve little figures (as children do). Ce petit bon homme fera son chemin, that little boy—man—will make his way. Il est toujours son petit bon homme de chemin, he pursues the even tenour of his way. Vivre aux dépens du bon homme (en temps de guerre), to live at the expense of the peasantry. C'est un pauvre homme, he is not a man of bright abilities—he is not a strong man in mind or body. Cet homme est pauvre, that man is poor. C'est un méchant homme, he is a mischievous man. C'est une bonne pâte d'homme—un bon cœur d'homme, he is a good sort of man—he is a good-natured fellow. Il y avait beaucoup de jeunes hommes (jeunes gens), there were a great many young men. C'était un beau jeune homme, he was a handsome young man. Dites donc, jeune homme, approchez, I say, young man—my lad—youngster—come hither.

(T. milit.) Nous avions une armée de six cent mille hommes, we had an army of six hundred thousand men. Cinq cents homme de pied, five hundred foot-soldiers.

(Professions, métiers, occupations, particularités.) Un homme de guerre, a military man—a warrior. Napoléon était un grand homme de guerre, Napoleon was a great soldier—a great captain. Un homme d'église, a churchman—an ecclesiastic. Un homme de robe, a lawyer—a man of the long robe. Homme de lettres, a literary man. Homme de métier, a mechanic. Homme de peine, de journée, a labourer, a journeyman. Homme de fatigue, a working man. Homme de mer, seafaring man. Homme de cheval, a horseman. Homme d'état, statesman. Homme de loi, lawyer, a notary, a conveyancer, an attorney. Homme de commerce, a commercial man. Homme d'affaires (dans le commerce), agent, broker. L'homme d'affaire d'un propriétaire, the agent—steward of a land owner. Ayez confiance en lui, c'est un bon homme d'affaires, have confidence in him, he understands business well.

C'est un homme de bien, he is an honest man—a man of worth. Un homme de cœur, a courageous man. Homme d'honneur, an honourable man—a man of honour. C'est un homme comme il faut, he is a gentleman—he is a gentleman. Homme de naissance, a gentleman by birth—a man of birth. C'est un homme de rien, he is a common man—a man of the people. Homme de rien, a man of nothing—a nobody. Un homme de peu, a man of no consequence. Homme du monde, a gentleman—a man of the world. Homme de poids, a man of importance, of consequence. Homme de sac et de corde, a man fit for the gallows—for hanging—a rogue. C'est un homme marqué à l'A, an excellent man—a good man.

Il y a une grande différence d'homme à homme, men are not all alike. C'est un homme sans façon, a plain, easy man. Je suis votre homme, parlez, I'm the man, speak out. Il est l'homme de M. L., he is the representative—the man of M. L. Ce n'est pas là l'homme que d'agir ainsi, it is not the act of a man to do thus. C'est le roi des hommes, he is the king of his fellows. Il n'y a tête d'homme vivant qui fasse, there is not a living man who dares to do it. C'est un homme à tout faire, he is a man of all work—ready for anything. Il n'est pas homme à faire de ces choses-là, he is not the man to do these things. C'est un homme à prendre, he is a man whom you must consider. (Populaire.) Je veux avec mon homme souper chez vous, I will come with my husband to sup with you.

Homme de couleur, a man of colour. Homme des bois, homme sauvage, an orang-outang.

HOMOCENTRIQUE, adj. Voyez Concentrique.

HOMOGÈNE, adj. homogeneous; of the same nature.

HOMOGÉNÉITÉ, s. f. homogeneity.

HOMOLOGATION, s. f. homologation.

HOMOLOGUE, adj. homologous.

HOMOLOGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to homologate.

HOMONYME, s. m. adj. homonymous.

HOMONYMIE, s. f. homonymy.

HOMOPHONIE, s. f. humphony; likeness of sound.

HON, interj. oh, oh! ah, ah!

HONCHETS, s. m. pl. Voyez Jonchets.

*HONGRE, s. m. adj. Un cheval hongre, a gelding.

*HONGRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to geld.

*HONGROYEUR, s. m. a tanner who prepares hides after the Hungarian method.

HONNÊTE, adj. C'est un homme de mœurs honnêtes, he is a man of honest morals. Il est d'une honnête famille, he is descended of an honest—of a respectable family. Je vous amène trois honnêtes gens, I bring you three honest men—three respectable people. Il n'a que d'honnêtes gens, he only visits respectable people. Il jouit d'une honnête aisance, he enjoys a decent—competent fortune. Vous n'avez pas employé de moyens honnêtes, you did not use honest—fair—means. Une femme honnête, an honest woman. C'est un honnête homme, he is an honest man—a man of worth. Il y a un honnête homme qui vous demande, there is a gentlemanly person inquiring for you.

Il n'est pas honnête de se louer soi-même, it is indecent to praise one's self. C'est une excuse honnête, it is a fair—a suitable—excuse. On lui accorda une honnête pension honnête, they gave him a fair reward. Habit honnête, a suitable—an honourable—garb. Il porte ses habits honnêtes, he was decently—respectably—dressed. Son discours fut d'une longueur honnête, his speech was respectably—fairly—long.

Il nous a fait un accueil honnête, he gave us a …te reception. Ce monsieur est fort honnête, that gen… …an is very civil—polite.

…ONNÊTE, s. m. what is honest.

…ONNÊTEMENT, adv. honestly; respectably; de… …ly. Politely, civilly. Il nous a reçus très-honnête…, he received us very civilly—very politely. Il vit …honnêtement de son revenu, he is living respectably—…onably—honestly—on his income. Il est honnête… …meublé, his house is decently furnished. (Fam.) …e est honnêtement laide, she is sufficiently ugly. Il est …honnêtement crotté, he is muddy enough.

…ONNÊTETÉ, s. f. Qui pourrait douter de l'hon… …de ses principes? who could doubt the honesty of …principles? C'est un homme d'une grande honnêteté, …a man of great integrity—honesty.

…ôte est contre l'honnêteté, that is against propriety—…ney. Ne blessez jamais les règles de l'honnêteté, …offend against the rules of decorum—of propriety. …nnêteté des mœurs, the purity of manners. Cela …répugne à l'honnêteté, this is repugnant to modesty—…esty.

…sieur a beaucoup d'honnêteté, that gentleman is …ely polite——his politeness is very great. Il n'a pas …nnêteté de venir me voir, he had not the politeness—…ility—to come to see me. Jamais il ne nous a fait …indre honnêteté, he has never paid us the least atten…

Il nous a fait toutes les honnêtetés possibles, he …ed us every polite attention he could. Il en a usé …honnêteté, he acted with politeness—politely.

…ONNEUR, s. m. honour. Il ne souffrira pas que …attaque son honneur, he will not suffer people to …his honour. Sauvez son honneur, save his honour. …outiendra l'honneur de sa famille, he will support the …r of his family. Mon honneur y est intéressé, my …r is concerned in it. C'est un homme perdu d'hon… that man has lost all sense of honour. C'est une …e à son honneur, that is a stain on his honour. Il y …va mon honneur, my honour is at stake. Faire …ction d'honneur, to make an honourable reparation. …ez-vous votre honneur en ces choses-là? do you place …nour in things of that sort? Un homme d'honneur, …ourable man. Allez où l'honneur vous appelle, go …honour calls you. Cela lui faisait honneur, that …n honour—was an honour to him. Il fait honneur …issance, he does honour—he is an honour—to his

…ner d'honneur une personne, to touch the honour of …n. Il s'est piqué d'honneur, he made it a point of …. Il est trop délicat sur le point d'honneur, he is …e on the point of honour. Il prend tout au point …eur, he thinks everything concerns his honour. Il …a un point d'honneur d'y aller, he makes it a point of …to go. Avoir une affaire d'honneur, to have an …d'honour—to fight a duel.

…e jure, sur l'honneur, I swear it upon my honour. …erai, d'honneur, (foi d'homme d'honneur), I will do …my honour. Il m'a donné sa parole d'honneur, …e me his word of honour. (Fig.) Il y va quelque…is c'est en tout bien et tout honneur, he goes there …es, but it is with honourable intentions. Elle …on honneur, she values her honour. Il tient à son …de le faire, he thinks it due to his honour to do it. …nfisait à l'honneur, he has acted against—he has …—his honour. La chose est difficile, mais il en …à son honneur, it is difficult, but still he will ac…it to his honour—to his credit. Cela lui a fait …n d'honneur, that did him much honour. C'est …onneur que vous me faites, si vous le croyez, you …too much honour if you believe that. Vous me …ez de l'honneur, you do me much honour. Sauf …neur, with your respect—permission.

…dition, renommée.) Vous acquerrez de l'honneur, …again—acquire—honour. Cette action lui a fait …e d'honneur, that action did him much honour. …ni profit ni honneur à le faire, there is neither …e honour in doing it. Il est mort au champ …r, he died on the field of honour—of battle. Il …e lit d'honneur, he expired on the bed of honour.

Napoléon fonda l'ordre de la légion d'honneur en 1802, Napoleon founded the order of the Legion of honour in 1802. L'empereur lui donna la croix—la croix d'honneur—sur le champ de bataille, the emperor gave him the cross of honour, on the field of battle. Dans la révolution on donnait des armes d'honneur aux soldats qui se distinguaient, in the time of the revolution they gave arms of honour to those who distinguished themselves.

Chevalier d'honneur, a knight of honour. Les dames, les filles d'honneur de la reine, the ladies, the maids of honour of the queen. Conseiller d'honneur, honorary counsellor. On lui donna une garde d'honneur, they gave him a guard of honour.

On fit de grands honneurs aux restes de Napoléon, they paid great honours to the remains of Napoleon. On le reçut avec les honneurs militaires, he was received with military honours. Il fut privé des honneurs funèbres, he was deprived of funereal honours. La garnison sortit avec les honneurs de la guerre, the garrison marched out with the honours of war. Il avait les honneurs du Louvre, he had the entry of the Louvre. Les honneurs royaux étaient portés par des grands seigneurs, the regalia were carried by noblemen. Il parviendra aux plus grands honneurs, he will arrive at the highest honours.

Faire les honneurs d'une chose, to do the honours of a thing. C'est à vous à faire les honneurs de la maison, it is for you to do the honours of the house. Voulez-vous bien faire les honneurs de ce plat? will you do the honours of—will you be so kind as to help—that dish?

(T. de jeu.) Les honneurs, the honours. La partie d'honneur, the rubber game. Nous avons gagné la partie d'honneur, we won the third game. Nous ne jouons pas pour de l'argent, nous jouons pour l'honneur, we are not playing for money, we play for love.

Il m'a fait l'honneur de venir me voir, he did me the honour to come to see me. M. A. prie M. B. de lui faire l'honneur de dîner chez lui demain, Mr. A. requests Mr. B. to do him the honour to come and dine with him to-morrow. J'ai l'honneur de vous annoncer, &c., I have the honour to announce to you, &c. Cet homme fait honneur à son siècle, that man does honour to his age—.—il est l'honneur de son siècle, he is the honour—the ornament—of his age. Nous avons fait honneur à son repas, we did honour to his repast. (T. de commerce.) Faire honneur à un billet, to honour a bill of exchange. Il fait honneur à ses affaires, he pays honestly for everything—he meets honourably every demand.

Être en honneur, to be in honour. Il mit les sciences en honneur, he caused the sciences to be held in honour.

Je lui cédai l'honneur du pas, I yielded to him the precedence.

HONNIR, v. a. rég. 2*de conj.*, to cover with shame; to disgrace. Honni soit qui mal y pense, let him be covered with shame who thinks evil of it.

HONORABLE, adj. m. f. honourable. Il appartient à une famille honorable, he belongs to an honourable family. Cela lui est tout à fait honorable, that is very honourable for him. Mon honorable collègue, my honourable colleague.

Faire amende honorable, to do penance. Il a été obligé de lui faire amende honorable, he was obliged to make reparation and beg his pardon.

HONORABLEMENT, adv. honourably.

HONORAIRE, adj. honorary.

HONORAIRE, s. m. fee; honorary.

HONORER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to honour. Honorer Dieu, to honour God. Honorer son père et sa mère, to honour one's parents. J'honore cet homme, I honour—I respect—that man. Elle honore son sexe, she does honour to her sex. Il m'honore de son amitié, he honours me with his friendship. Il ne m'a pas honoré d'une réponse, he has not honoured me with an answer. J'ai reçu la lettre dont vous m'avez honoré, I received the letter with which you have honoured me. Je m'honore de son estime, I take his esteem as an honour.

HONORÉ, E, adj. honoured. Mon cher et très-honoré confrère, my dear and much honoured colleague.

HONORES, Ad, (mots latins, pron. o-do-no-rèce), honorary. C'est une place ad honorès, it is an honorary office.

HONORIFIQUE, adj. honorary.

'HONTE, s. f. shame. Je ne puis, sans honte, faire cet aveu, I cannot, without shame, make such an avowal to you. La honte suit les mauvaises actions, shame is the attendant of bad actions. J'aurai la honte d'être puni, I shall have the shame—the disgrace—of being punished. Il vous en restera la honte, you will have the shame—the disgrace of it. Il le couvrit de honte, he covered him with shame—with ignominy. Il est la honte—il fait la honte—de sa famille, he is the shame—the disgrace—of his family. Quelle honte de faire des choses pareilles, what a shame it is to do such things! Je le dis à ma honte, I tell it to my shame. Mille bruits en courent à ma honte, a thousand bad reports were disseminated to my shame—disgrace. Il y a honte à mentir, it is a shame—a disgrace—to speak untruths.

Avoir honte, to be ashamed. J'ai honte de l'avoir fait, I am ashamed of having done it. J'en ai honte, I am ashamed of it.

Faire honte. Vous me faites honte, you make me ashamed; you do me shame. Un bon écolier fait honte aux paresseux, a diligent boy shames the idle ones.

Avoir perdu toute honte, to have lost all sense of shame; to be brazen-faced. Mettre bas toute honte, to set aside all sense of shame.

Mauvaise honte, bashfulness. Il est plein de mauvaise honte, he is very bashful. Rougir de honte, to blush with shame. Revenir avec sa courte honte, to come back with the shame of having failed. Il a bu toute honte, he has lost all sense of shame—he is dead to shame.

'HONTEUSEMENT, adv. shamefully; with shame; timidly.

'HONTEUX, EUSE, adj. N'êtes-vous pas honteux de ces choses-là? are you not ashamed of these things? Je suis honteux de vous avoir manqué de parole, I am ashamed of not having kept my word to you. Vous l'avez rendu honteux, you made him ashamed. Les pauvres honteux, the poor who do not beg, and, from timidity, do not make their poverty known.

(Timide.) Ce jeune homme est encore honteux devant les étrangers, that youth is yet quite bashful before strangers. Ne soyez donc pas si honteux, come, be not so timid—bashful. Elle a l'air honteux, she looks timid—bashful.

Cela est honteux, that is shameful. Vous avez commis une action honteuse, you committed a shameful action. Il est moins honteux de convenir de ses torts que de chercher à les justifier, it is less shameful—blameable—to own one's faults than to try to justify them.

(T. de médec.) Mal honteux, venereal disease. Les parties honteuses, the natural parts.

(Fam.) Le morceau honteux, the last bit of a thing. Il est la partie honteuse de cette compagnie, he is the shame of that company.

HÔPITAL, s. m. (pron. o-pi-tal), hospital. Il a fondé un hôpital, he founded an hospital. Ils visitent les hôpitaux, they visit hospitals. Il est mort à l'hôpital, he died in a hospital. Hôpital militaire, a military hospital. Le vaisseau hôpital, the floating hospital—the hospital ship. Hôpital ambulant, a field hospital. Mettre une fille de mauvaise vie à l'hôpital, to send a woman of bad life to the house of correction.

Soyez en sûr, vous irez mourir à l'hôpital, be sure of it, you will come to the parish—you will die in the poor-house. Vous l'avez réduit à l'hôpital, you ruined him—you beggared him—you reduced him to poverty. Vous prenez le chemin de l'hôpital, you are on the way to the poorhouse. Ils sont tous malades; c'est un hôpital que leur maison, they are every one ill; their house is a real hospital.

'HOQUET, s. m. Avoir le hoquet, to have the hiccups. Le hoquet de la mort, the death-rattle. Être au dernier hoquet, to be at the last gasp.

(Choc), stumbling stone; shock.

'HOQUETON, s. m. (sort of) military cassock. (Par extension.) Les hoquetons du chancelier de France, the archers of the chancellor of France (thus called because they wore the hoqueton).

HORAIRE, adj. horary.

'HORDE, s. f. a horde; a band.

'HORION, s. m. thump; blow.

HORIZON, s. m. (T. de géog., d'astro.), horizon. Le soleil est à l'horizon, the sun is in the horizon. Il apercevait une voile à l'horizon, a sail was perceived on the horizon. (Fig.) L'horizon politique se couvre de nuages, the political horizon is cloudy.

HORIZONTAL, E, adj. horizontal.

HORIZONTALEMENT, adv. horizontally.

HORLOGE, s. f. clock. L'horloge de l'église sonne, the church clock is too slow. Quelle heure est-il à l'horloge? what o'clock is it by the clock? Horloge solaire, sun-dial. Horloge d'eau, clepsydra. Horloge de la mort, (an insect) death-watch.

HORLOGER, s. m. clockmaker.

HORLOGERIE, s. f. clockwork; clockmaker's shop.

HORMIS, prep. except.

HOROSCOPE, s. m. horoscope. Faire l'horoscope d'une personne, to calculate, to draw, the nativity of a person.

HORREUR, s. f. (pron. or-reur), horror. Nous avons vu les horreurs de la guerre et de la famine, we have seen the horrors of war and famine. Ils ont commis de grandes horreurs, they committed horrors—horrid things—unspeakable things—enormities. C'est une horreur qu'on ait osé le faire, it is a horrid thing—action. J'ai été saisi d'horreur, I was horrified—struck with horror. Les horreurs de la mort, the horrors—the awfulness of death. Non, je n'oublierai jamais l'horreur de ce supplice, I never can forget the horrors of that execution. Il connut alors l'horreur de sa situation, he then saw how horrid his situation was.

(Crainte, terreur.) Ils répandaient l'horreur et la terreur, they spread terror—alarm—every where. L'horreur de ces lieux déserts me remplit l'âme, the horrors of these solitary places filled my mind. Dans le temple il se sentait pénétré d'une sainte horreur, within the walls of that temple one felt penetrated with solemn awe. En le regardant, sur son lit de mort, je me sentais frappé d'une secrète horreur, when beholding him upon his death-bed I felt struck with secret awe—horror. La tempête est une belle horreur, a storm is an awful thing to see. Comment vous l'horreur de cette prison, can you conceive the horror—the horridness—of that prison? (Fam.) Il m'a dit des horreurs de cet homme-là, he told me horrid things about that man. On raconte des horreurs de ce banditti, they relate shocking things—abominable things—of these men.

Cela fait horreur à voir, it is horrible to see. Ce que vous nous racontez est à faire horreur, what you tell us is horrid—makes one shudder with horror. Vous me faites horreur, you strike me with horror. Cela fait horreur à penser, it is horrid only to think of it. On ne peut penser sans horreur, one cannot think of it without shuddering of horror. Il pâlit d'horreur, he turned pale with horror.

J'ai horreur de ces choses-là, I have a horror of—I detest—these things. On se peut imaginer des enfants trop d'horreur pour le mensonge, children cannot be inspired with too much detestation—horror—of falsehood. L'ivrognerie est pour moi un objet d'horreur, drunkenness is my detestation—has always been an object of detestation to me. Je tiens cela en horreur, I have a horror of—I detest—abominate—these things.

Cet homme est en horreur partout, that man is an object of abhorrence—detestation—everywhere. C'est l'horreur de la nature humaine, he is the abomination of mankind. Cela lui est devenu en horreur, life is an object of horror to him.

(Fam.) C'est une horreur que cette femme, that woman is horridly ugly—that woman is a frightful thing. Avec ce costume vous êtes une vraie horreur, you are an object of fright in this costume. O ciel, l'horreur, how horrid—how shocking! Sa maison, qu'il dit être une horreur, his house, which he described as being a frightful thing.

ORRIBLE, adj (pron. or-rible), horrible; horrid. objet est horrible à voir, it is horrid to see. Il a fait mort horrible, he died a horrible death. Oh, moment ible, oh horrible—dreadful—moment. fait un temps horrible, the weather is horrible—is ing. Il fait un froid horrible, the cold is horrible—ie. Il fait une dépense horrible, his expenses are e—are terrible. Vous avez fait une faute horrible, committed a terrible mistake.

ORRIBLEMENT, adv. (pron. or-riblement), hor- ; abominably; terribly. Il a souffert horrible- he suffered terribly. Elle est horriblement laide, she ridly—frightfully—terribly—ugly. Il est horrible- fâché contre vous, he is extremely angry with you.

ORRIPILATION, s.f. (pron. or-ripilation), (t. de e), cold shuddering which makes the hair stand on ORS, prep. Hors de la ville, out of the town. Il re de la maison, he is out of the house. Ne parlez ors de votre rang, do not speak out of your rank—of place. Hors d'ici tout à l'heure, go out this instant. hors de son bon sens, he is out of his mind. Nous hors de danger, here we are out of danger. Il était l'haleine, he was out of breath. Il était hors de lui, e out of his senses. Il est hors d'affaires, he is out nger—out of difficulty. Il était hors de combat, he nabled—he was unable to fight. Hors de service, for service—unserviceable. Ce que vous dites est de propos, what you say is out of season. Ces habits ors de saison, these clothes are unseasonable. Il est hors de page, (to have finished the time of service ing's pages of honour), to be at liberty. Le voilà oureux, il est hors de page, he is very happy now, at liberty.

de palais, de jurisp.) On les mit hors de cour, they both dismissed from the court. Il est hors de cause, e is dismissed. On l'a mis hors la loi, they have ed him. Elle est hors la loi, she is an outlaw.

ORS, except. Ils y sont tous, hors deux ou trois, re all there except two or three. Ils lui ont fait and possible hors de le battre, they did him all the they could, except beating him.

ORS D'ŒUVRE, s. m. (t. de table), this name is to fresh butter, radishes, anchovy, figs, melon, served on the table after the soup.

.) Cette histoire est un hors d'œuvre, this story no part of the book—,—it is a thing superadded.

de joaillier.) Ce diamant est hors d'œuvre, this ed is not mounted.

RTENSIA, s. m. (t. de bot.), hortensia.

RTICULTEUR, s. m. horticulturist.

RTICULTURE, s.f. horticulture; cultivation of SPICE, s. m. (pron. oce-pice), hospital; asylum.

SPITALIER, LIÈRE, adj. (pron. o-ce-pitalié, hospitable. Ces peuples sont très-hospitaliers, people are very hospitable. Il a trouvé dans ce ette retraite hospitalière, he found in that country itable retreat—an asylum.

religieuses hospitalières, the nuns who visit hos-d'hist.) On appelait les chevaliers de Malte spitaliers, the knights of Malta were called Hos-

SPITALITÉ, s.f. (pron. oce-pitalité), hospitality. a donné l'hospitalité pour la nuit, he gave us dity for the night. Il exerce très-bien l'hospitalité, ery hospitable—he practises hospitality well. Je ai prendre l'hospitalité chez vous, I shall come and to receive me as your guest.

SPODAR, s. m. (t. de dignité Russe), hospodar.

STIE, s.f. a live offering; (non consacrée), wafer. it un nombre d'hosties et les consacra, he took a e of wafers and consecrated them; (consacrée), the A l'élévation de l'hostie, at the elevation of the Il a reçu la sainte hostie, he received the sacrament oly host.

STILE, adj. hostile.

HOSTILEMENT, adv. hostilely; in a hostile manner; with hostility.

HOSTILITÉ, s.f. hostility.

HOTE, s. m. (maître d'auberge), host; hostess.

HÔTESSE, s.f. (Maître d'un hôtel), landlord, landlady. Je voudrais parler à l'hôte, tell the landlord I wish to speak to him. Nous mangions à table d'hôte, we took our meals at "table d'hôte." (Fig.) Qui compte sans son hôte, compte deux fois, he must reckon twice, who reckons without his host. Cet homme est l'hôte et l'hotellerie, that man does every thing in that house.

(Maître de maison qui reçoit.) Notre hôte est fort poli, our host is very polite to us. Notre hôtesse nous a bien traités, our hostess treated us well. Il nous a fait bon visage d'hôte, he gave us a kind reception.

(Celui qui est reçu, logé), guest. J'avais un hôte amusant à dîner, I had a very amusing guest at dinner. Ma maison est occupée par des hôtes incommodes, my house is occupied by very troublesome guests. Les hôtes des bois, the guests of the wood.

HOTEL, s. m. formerly the king's household. Mansion house, the residence of a person of rank. Il a un hôtel superbe dans la rue de Rivoli, he has a magnificent mansion, house in the street of Rivoli. Caen possède encore de très-beaux hôtels, Caen has still fine old houses. L'hôtel de Ville est beau, the Guildhall is beautiful. L'hôtel de la Préfecture, the Prefecture. Hôtel du gouverneur, the government house. Hôtel des Invalides, the hospital for disabled soldiers founded, in Paris, by Louis XIV. Maître d'hôtel, the house steward.

HÔTEL, an inn, a hotel. Il tient un hôtel à Londres, he keeps an hotel in London. Hôtel meublé, hôtel garni, furnished hotel, family hotel.

HÔTELAGE, s. m. lodging.

HÔTEL-DIEU, s. m. (Hôtel de Dieu), house of God; large hospital—asylum—founded in some of the principal towns of France.

HÔTELIER, s. m. innkeeper; landlord.

HÔTELIÈRE, s.f. landlady.

HÔTELLERIE, s.f. inn.

'HOTTE, s.f. (a deep and long basket, wide at the mouth and narrow at bottom, carried on the back, and used to carry bread, linen, &c.). Il a porté la hotte, he carried the basket. Il a long temps porté la hotte du chiffonnier, he was long a ragman. Hotte poissée, a pitched basket to carry wine in a wine-press. Hotte de cheminée, the funnel.

'HOTTÉE, s.f. a basketful.

'HOTTEUR, EUSE, s. m., f. carrier.

'HOUBOU, s.f. (not burlesque). C'est une vieille houbou, she is a decrepit—a cross—old woman.

'HOUBLON, s. m. hop. On fait la bière avec du houblon, beer is made with hops.

HOUBLONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to put hops in. Cette bière n'est pas assez houblonnée, there are not hops enough in that beer.

'HOUBLONNIÈRE, s.f. hop ground.

'HOUE, s.f. (instrument de labourage), hoe.

'HOUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Houer un jardin, la terre, to hoe the garden, the land, &c.

'HOUILLE, s.f. coal; pit coal.

'HOUILLER, ÈRE, adj. Terrains houillers, coal ground.

'HOUILLÈRE, s.f. coal mine.

'HOUILLEUR, s. m. coal miner; collier.

'HOUILLEUX, EUSE, adj. full of coal; producing coal.

'HOULAN, s. m. German hussar.

'HOULE, s.f. (t. de mer), swell. Il y a beaucoup de houle, there is a great deal of swell.

'HOULETTE, s.f. shepherd's crook. Porter la houlette, to be a shepherd. (T. de jardinage), spud; a shovel.

HOULEUX, EUSE, adj. La mer est houleuse, there is much swell; the sea is very rough.

HOULIER, s. m. a thief; an associate of people of bad life. [out people.

'HOUPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse). to call

'HOUPPE, s. f. tuft. Il porte une houppe sur son bonnet carré, he wears a tuft on his trencher-cap. Le harnais des chevaux était garni de houppes, the harness of the horses was adorned with tufts. Houppe à poudrer, a puff, a powder-puff.

HOUPPELANDE, s. f. a large top coat.

HOUPPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to tuft. (T. de bot.) Graine houppée, tufted seed.

'HOUPPETTE, s. f. Voyez Pompon.

'HOURAILLIS, s. m. a pack of bad dogs.

'HOURDAGE, s. m. (t. de maçonnerie), rough masonry.

'HOURDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rough-work; to rough-cast.

'HOURDIS, s. m. (t. de maçon.), rough work.

'HOURET, s. m. (t. chasse), bad dog; bad hound.

'HOURI, s. f. Houri, a nymph of Mahomed's paradise.

'HOURQUE, s. f. hourque; sort of Dutch ship; a bad sailer.

'HOURRA, s. m. hurra; a cry with which popular persons, high personages are saluted in England. Quand la reine passa les écoliers la saluèrent de leurs hourras accoutumés, when the queen passed, the boys saluted her with their usual hurras.

'HOURVARI, s. m. (t. de chasse), a cry to recall the dogs when at fault. (Fam.) Il y avait là un étrange hourvari, there was a strange din, buzz.

HOUSEAUX, s. m. pl. spatterdashes. (Fig.) Il y a laissé ses houseaux, he died there. Voyez Trousses.

'HOUSPILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pull about; to tousle. Il est toujours à le houspiller, he is always pulling him about. On l'a joliment houspillé dans ce pamphlet, he was very ill-treated—ill-used—in that pamphlet. Ils se sont houspillés, they quarrelled—they wrangled.

'HOUSPILLON, s. m. a glass of water, given as a fine, to one, who at table has committed some fault, some breach.

'HOUSSAGE, s. m. cleaning; brushing; dusting of furniture.

'HOUSSAIE, s. f. a plantation of holly.

'HOUSSE, s. f. housing, trapping. Housse de carrosse, hammer-cloth. Housse de fauteuil, d'ameublement, covering.

'HOUSSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dust, to clean furniture.

'HOUSSINE, s. f. switch.

'HOUSSINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to switch; to dust with a cane, a switch. Houssiné, e, dusted; switched.

'HOUSSOIR, s. m. dusting-brush; a feather broom. Il faudrait donner un coup de houssoir dans cet appartement, you should just dust this room.

'HOUX, s. m. holly. Houx frelon ou housson, the knee-holly, the butcher's broom.

'HOYAU, s. m. (t. de jardinage), mattock; grubbing hoe.

'HUAILLE, s. f. cry of the mob; vociferation; rabble.

'HUARD, s. m. the sea eagle.

'HUBIR, v. a. v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to feed well. Il faudra se hubir, you must be pleased with what you have. (En parlant des oiseaux, des animaux.) Voyez comme ce chat se hubit, see how this cat bristles.

'HUBLOT, s. m. (t. de marine), scuttle. Fermez les hublots, secure the scuttles.

'HUCHE, s. f. La huche au pain, the bread-bin. Pétrir du pain dans la huche, to knead bread in the trough —the kneading trough. La huche du moulin, flour bin.

'HUCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse), to whistle dogs. Voyez Se Jucher.

'HUCHET, s. m. (t. de chasse), a horn to call people who are at a distance.

'HUE, (t. de charretier). Voyez Dia.

'HUÉE, s. f. hooting. La canaille le poursuivait de ses huées, the rabble followed him with their hootings—shoutings. Cette pièce excita les huées du parterre, that piece drew the hootings of the pit.

'HUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hoot. A peine eut-il parlé qu'on le hua, hardly had he spoken than he was hooted him.

'HUETTE. Voyez Hulotte.

HUGUENOT, s. m. (Huguenot. (This word, via the German "eidgenossen," alliés ou la foi, and signifying people of Geneva adopted.) Now means heretic. Un vieux huguenot, he is an old heretic.

HUGUENOTE, s. f. (t. de cuisine), sort of sauce. Manger des œufs à la huguenote, to eat eggs (and) mutton gravy.

HUGUENOTISME, s. m. huguenotism.

'HUHAU. Voyez Hue.

HUI, adv. (du Latin hodie). Ce jour d'hui, Aujourd'hui or huit, this day week.

HUILE, s. f. oil. Huile d'olive, olive oil, sweet oil. Huile essentielle, essential oil. Huile rance, rancid oil. Huile de ricin, castor oil. Huile ou beurre de coco, cocoa-nut oil. Huile de baleine, train oil. Peinture à l'huile, to paint in oil. Tableau à l'huile, oil painting. (Fig.) Il tirerait de l'huile d'un mur, he would get oil out of a wall—he would get something out of nothing. Jeter de l'huile dans le feu, to pour oil on the fire—to add fuel to the fire. Les écrits de cet homme sentent l'huile, the writings of that man smell of the night. C'est une tache d'huile, it is like a spot of oil, it is effaceable. On l'a frotté d'huile de cotret, they gave him a cudgelling. Plus d'huile dans la lampe, life is exhausted.

(T. d'église.) Il est bien malade, on his deathbed—il a reçu—les Saintes Huiles, he is very low, he received the extreme unction—the last sacrament.

HUILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to rub with oil.

HUILEUX, LEUSE, adj. oily.

HUILIER, s. m. oil cruet; cruet stand.

HUILIÈRE s. f. oil jar.

HUIS, s. m. door. (T. de jurisp.) A huis clos, with closed doors—privately. Demander le huis clos, to have a business to be transacted privately—with closed doors.

HUISSERIE, s. f. wood work of a door.

HUISSIER, s. m. usher; page. Huissier audiencier, faites faire silence, beadle, order silence. Huissier crieur, public crier (at a public sale by auction). Huissier priseur, appraiser. Huissier, a bailiff, a sheriff's officer under the avoué, attorney, serving warrants, summoning people, &c.

'HUIT, s. m. eight. Le huit (huite) de mai, the eighth of the month. C'est le huit (huite) de la lune, it is the eighth day of the moon. (T. de jeu de cartes) Quatre huits (huites), trois huits (huites), I had three eights.

HUIT, adj. eight. Il y avait huit hommes (et) huit dames, (huit dames), there were eight gentlemen and eight ladies.

Henri huit d'Angleterre, Henry the Eighth of England. Article huit, article the eighth.

Ils reviendront d'aujourd'hui en huit, they will come to-day week. De mardi en huit, Tuesday week. Tous les huit jours, every week. Dans huit jours, in a week—this day se'nnight.

'HUITAIN, s. m. a stanza of eight verses.

'HUITAINE, s. f. eight days; a week. La date de remise à la huitaine, the thing is postponed for a week. Dans la huitaine, in a week. Assigné à huitaine, summoned to appear within a week.

'HUITIÈME, s. m. eighth.

'HUITIÈMEMENT, adv. eighthly.

'HUÎTRE, s. f. oyster. Huître à l'écaille, the real oyster. Une clayère d'huîtres, a basket of oysters. Ouvrir, écailler des huîtres, to open oysters. Huîtres marinées, pickled oysters. (Fig.) Cet homme est une huître à l'écaille, that man is a stupid—foolish—person. Vous raisonnez comme une huître, you argue stupidly.

HULOTTE, s. f. screech owl.

HUMAIN, s. m. man, human being. Dieu est maître des humains, God is the master of men—mankind.

HUMAIN, E, adj. human; humane. Le genre humain, mankind. Telle est la vie humaine, such is human l s'avait pas la forme humaine, he had not a human rm—he was deformed. Qui ne connaît pas les fai- ases du cœur humain, who knows not how weak the man heart is! Les choses humaines, human affairs. (possédait une intelligence plus qu'humaine, the wers of his mind were more than human. Il n'a rien umain, there is nothing human in him. Les lettres umaines (the Latin and Greek letters taught at the iversities), humanities.

C'est un homme très-humain, he is a very humane man. ne connais pas de cœur plus humain, I know not a re humane—a kinder—heart.

HUMAINEMENT, adv. (comme un homme), humanly.

ième bonté, humanité), humanely. Humainement par- t, speaking as a man. Il les a traités humainement, treated them humanely.

HUMANISER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to humanize; civilise; to make sociable. Le commerce des Euro- s humanisa ces peuples sauvages, intercourse with opeans civilized—softened the manners of—these sages. Il s'humanisera en voyant la société, he will me more civilized by frequenting society. Elle manise, she is becoming more gentle—more sociable. l savant qu'il est, il sait s'humaniser avec les gens maires, though a learned man he can associate with inary people.

UMANISTE, s. m. (t. d'université), humanist; one professes the high branches of the Greek and Latin erature at the Universities.

UMANITÉ, s. f. humanity; man; mankind; hueness; kindness. L'humanité de Jésus Christ, the anity—the human nature of Christ. Cela est au
s de l'humanité, this is above the powers of man—mman powers. Ces hommes sont les bienfaiteurs de manité, these men are the benefactors of mankind. t un homme plein d'humanité, that man is full of olence, kindness, humanity.

UMANITÉS, s. f. pl. (t. d'université), humanities; igh branches of Greek and Latin literature taught e Universities.

UMBLE, adj. humble, lowly.

UMBLEMENT, adv. humbly.

UMECTANT, s. m. (t. de médec.), moistening; etting thing.

UMECTATION, s. f. humectation.

UMECTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to humectate; nect; to wet; to moisten.

UMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Humer un bouillon, to p a basin of broth. Il huma une couple d'œufs et rut, he sucked a couple of fresh eggs and went Humer l'air, le vent, to inhale the air, the breeze.

UMÉRAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), humeral.

UMÉRUS, s. m. (t. d'anat., pron. u-mé-rûce), humerus.

UMEUR, s. f. (sens physique), humour. Il est le mauvaises humeurs, he is full of bad humours. chargé d'humeurs, his body is covered with humours. dement d'humeurs, the overflowing of the bile. e les humeurs, to reduce humours. Emouvoir les rs, to disturb—to move the humours (the bile). s humeurs froides, he has the king's evil.
s moral), humour, temper. Il a l'humeur douce, le, he has a gentle, agreeable temper. Il a une noire, his temper is gloomy—he has a gloomy Il y a incompatibilité d'humeur entr'eux, their s are incompatible—disagree. Doù vous vient meur chagrine, whence comes this morose humour? l'humeur, he is in bad humour, he is ill humoured. l'humeur inégale, he has a very uneven temper. le mauvaise humeur aujourd'hui, he is bad tem-
-croso—in bad humour, to-day. Allez le voir, il onne humeur, go to him, he is good humoured—in mour. Il met de l'humeur à tout ce qu'il fait, every thing with bad temper—he shows temper ry thing. Nous avons à essuyer sa mauvaise
, we have to bear with her bad temper. Il est
s, malgré cela, il a des moments d'humeur, he is ut still, he is subject to fits of bad humour—temper. homme d'humeur, he is unequal—he is capricious —he is whimsical. C'est un homme qui n'a point d'humeur, he is always the same.

Il n'est pas d'humeur à le faire, he is not in the humour to do it. Il est en humeur de rire, he is in the humour—disposed—to laugh. Il est en humeur de bien faire, he is in the humour to do right. Prendre de l'humeur, to become bad humoured. Chacun a ses humeurs, every one has his humours. C'est une mauvaise humeur qui l'a pris, it is a fit of bad humour which came upon him.

HUMIDE, adj. humid; damp; moist. L'humide élément, water. Les plaines humides, the watery plain—the sea. L'humide empire, the waters, the sea.

La terre est toute humide de la pluie, the earth is quite damp—moist—from the rain. L'air est humide, the air is humid, damp. Ce linge est humide, this linen is damp. Dans un lieu humide, in a damp place. Vous avez les mains humides, your hands are moist, damp. Après la saison humide, after the wet—humid—season.

Il est d'un tempérament humide, he is of a phlegmatic—pituitous—constitution.

HUMIDEMENT, adv. damply.

HUMIDITÉ, s. f. humidity; dampness; moisture.

HUMILIANT, E, adj. humiliating; mortifying.

HUMILIATION, s. f. humiliation; mortification. C'est un grand sujet d'humiliation pour lui, it is for him a great cause of humiliation. C'était une grande humiliation que de manquer une si belle entreprise, it was a great mortification for him to fail in so noble an enterprise.

HUMILIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Dieu humilie les superbes, God humbles—humiliates—the proud. On l'a humilié, they humbled—mortified—him. Humiliez-vous devant Dieu, humble yourself before God.

HUMILITÉ, s. f. humility. Il est rempli d'humilité, he is filled with humility—he is very humble. En toute humilité, loc. adv., most humbly.

HUMORAL, E, adj. (t. de médec.), humoral.

HUMORISME, s. m. humorism.

HUMORISTE, s. m. humorist; a man who indulges in peculiar views and ways of thinking.

HUMUS, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. u-mûce), vegetable earth. [topmast.

'HUNE, s. f. (t. de marine), the top. Mât de hune,

'HUNIER, s. m. (t. de marine), topsail.

'HUPPE, s. f. tuft. (T. d'hist. nat.), the lapwing.

'HUPPÉ, E, adj. tufted. (Fig.) Il y avait nombre de messieurs et des plus huppés, there were a good many gentlemen, and of the highest. Les plus huppés y sont pris, the most cunning are caught.

'HURE, s. f. Une hure de sanglier, a wild boar's head. Une hure de saumon, the jowl of a salmon, &c. (Fam.) Il a une vilaine hure, what an ugly muzzle!

'HURAU, s. m. Voyez Huc; Dû.

'HURLEMENT, s. m. howling. (Des personnes.) Il poussait des hurlements affreux, he was roaring, yelling with rage. Elle fit des hurlements lorsqu'elle apprit cette nouvelle, she shrieked aloud when she heard these news.

'HURLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to howl. Toute la nuit le chien n'a fait que hurler, the dog howled the whole night. Il hurlait de rage, he was howling—roaring—with rage.

HURLUBERLU, s. m. Agir en hurluberlu, to act inconsiderately; to act like a giddy—thoughtless one.

HUSSARD, s. m. hussar.

HUSSARDE, Vivre à la, loc. fam., to live on plunder.

'HUTTE, s. f. hut.

'HUTTER, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to lodge (in huts). (T. de marine), to lower the topmasts.

HYACINTHE, s. f. (t. de bot.), hyacinth. (Minéralogie), hyacinth.

HYADES, (t. d'astron.), hyades.

HYBRIDE, adj. (t. de grammaire), hybrid; irregular.

HYDATISME, s. m. (t. de médec.), hydatism.

HYDRAGOGUE, adj. (t. de médec.), hydragogue; a discharge of waters.

HYDRATE, s. m. (t. de chimie), hydrate.

HYDRATÉ, E, adj. hydrated; solved in water.

HYDRAULIQUE, s. f hydraulics.

HYDRAULIQUE, adj. hydraulical.
HYDRE, s. f. hydra.
HYDROCÈLE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hydrocele.
HYDROCÉPHALE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hydrocephalus.
HYDROCHLORATE, s. m. (t. de chimie), hydrochlorate.
HYDROCHLORIQUE, adj. (t. de chimie), hydrochlorical.
HYDRODYNAMIQUE, s. f. hydrodynamics.
HYDROGÈNE, s. m. hydrogen.
HYDROGRAPHE, s. m. hydrographer.
HYDROGRAPHIE, s. f. hydrography.
HYDROGRAPHIQUE, adj. hydrographical.
HYDROLOGIE, s. f. hydrology.
HYDROMEL, s. m. hydromel.
HYDROMÈTRE, s. m. hydrometer.
HYDROMÉTRIE, s. f. hydrometry.
HYDROPHOBE, s. m. f. adj. hydrophobic.
HYDROPHOBIE, s. f. hydrophobia.
HYDROPIQUE, s. m. (t. de médec.), hydropic; dropsical.
HYDROPISIE, s. f. dropsy.
HYDROPNEUMATIQUE, adj. hydropneumatic.
HYDROSCOPE, s. m. hydroscope.
HYDROSCOPIE, s. f. hydroscopy.
HYDROSTATIQUE, s. f. hydrostatics.
HYDROSULFATE, adj. hydrosulphate.
HYDROTIQUE, adj. Voyez Hydragogue.
HYÉMAL, E, adj. hyemal; belonging to winter.
HYÈNE, s. f. hyena.
HYGIÈNE, s. f. science of health.
HYGIÉNIQUE, adj. hygeian.
HYGROMÈTRE, s. m. hygrometer.
HYGROMÉTRIE, s. f. hygrometry.
HYGROMÉTRIQUE, adj. hygrometric.
HYMEN, s. m. (pron. i-mène), hymen; marriage. (T. d'anat.), hymen.
HYMENÉE, s. m. hymen, marriage.
HYMENOPTÈRE, adj. (t. d'entomologie), hymenoptera.
HYMNE, s. m. hymn.
HYPALLAGE, s. f. (t. de grammaire), hypallage.
HYPERBATE, s. f. (t. de grammaire), hyperbate.
HYPERBOLE, s. m. (figure de rhétorique), hyperbole.

HYPERBOLIQUE, adj. hyperbolical. (T. de géom.) hyperbolical.
HYPERBOLIQUEMENT, adv. hyperbolically.
HYPERBORÉE, adj. m. f. hyperborean; ancient.
HYPERCRITIQUE, s. f. hypercriticism.
HYPERDULIE, s. f. Le culte d'hyperdulie, the worship of the Virgin.
HYPOCONDRE, s. m. adj. (t. d'anat.), hypochondriac.
HYPOCONDRIAQUE, adj. hypochondriacal; affected with hypochondriac.
HYPOCHONDRIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hypochondria.
HYPOCRAS, s. m. hypocras; a drink made of wine, sugar, cinnamon, &c.
HYPOCRISIE, s. f. hypocrisy.
HYPOCRITE, s. m. f. adj. hypocrite; hypocritical.
HYPOGASTRE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), hypogastrium; the lower part of the belly.
HYPOGÉE, s. m. (t. d'antiquité), hypogeum; an under ground.
HYPOSTASE, s. f. (t. de théolog.), hypostasis; person.
HYPOSTATIQUE, adj. hypostatical.
HYPOTHÉCAIRE, adj. mortgage; given in mortgage.
HYPOTHÉCAIREMENT, adv. by mortgage.
HYPOTHÉNUSE, s. f. (t. de géom.), hypothenuse.
HYPOTHÈQUE, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), mortgage. (Fam.) Hypothèque was a sort of drink after dinner, was composed of brandy, sugar, fruit, &c.
HYPOTHÉQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mortgage, to hypothecate. Tous ses biens sont hypothéqués, all his property is mortgaged.
HYPOTHÈSE, s. f. hypothesis.
HYPOTHÉTIQUE, adj. hypothetical.
HYPOTHÉTIQUEMENT, adv. hypothetically.
HYSSOPE, s. f. (t. de bot.), hyssop. Il croît puis le cèdre jusqu'à l'hyssope, he knows everything.
HYSTÉRIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hysteria; hysterics.
HYSTÉRIQUE, s. f. adj. hysterical.
HYSTÉRITE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hystera.
HYSTÉROCÈLE, s. f. (t. de médec.), hysterocele.
HYSTÉROTOMIE, s. f. (t. de chir.), hysterotomy. Cæsarean operation.

I

I, s. m. i; has only one sound in French, which resembles that of EE; the accent put sometimes upon i makes it longer, but does not alter its sound. When, after a vowel, i is marked with a diæresis, ï, it must be sounded alone and distinctly. Haï (ha-i), Moïse (Mo-i-se).

(Fam.) Malgré son âge, cet homme est droit comme un I, in spite of his old age, that man is as straight as an arrow. Cet homme n'est bon qu'à mettre les points sur les i, that man is fit only to put the dot upon the i, i.e., is a precise, narrow-minded man. Il faut mettre les points sur les i avec lui, you must be very precise with him.

IAMBE, s. m. (t. de versification), iambic verse.
IAMBIQUE, adj. (t. de versification), iambic. Vers iambiques, iambic verses.
IBÈRE, } s. f. (t. de géog. ancienne), Iberia.
IBÉRIE, }
IBÉRIEN, NE, s. m. f. inhabitant of Iberia; Iberian.
IBIDEM, mot Latin souvent employé pour "et ainsi de suite comme ci-dessus," and so on as before.
IBIS, s. m. (pron. i-bice), ibis; Egyptian bird.
ICARIENNE, MER, s. f. (t. de géog.), the Icarian sea.
ICELUI, } pron. dém. m. f. this; that; the said, the ICELLE, } aforesaid.
ICHNEUMON, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), ichneumon (an animal in veneration among the Egyptians).

ICHNOGRAPHIE, s. f. (t. d'architect.), ichnography; the ground-plan of an edifice.
ICHOREUX, SE, adj. (t. de chir.), ichorous; ichorose.
ICHTHYOLITHE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), ichthyolite; a fossil fish.
ICHTHYOLOGIE, s. f. ichthyology; the history of fishes.
ICHTHYOLOGISTE, s. m. ichthyologist; one well acquainted with the natural history of fishes.
ICHTHYOPHAGE, adj. ichthyophagous; living on eating—fish.
ICI, adv. de lieu, here. Venez ici, come here. Votre présence est ici nécessaire, your presence is necessary. Ici la paix, là la guerre, here is peace, there is war. Venez par ici, come this way. Sortez d'ici, get out thence—of this place. Hors d'ici, get out of this place—away with you. Venez jusqu'ici, come hither, come so far as this place. Ici et là, here and there. N'approchez pas d'ici, do not come near this place. En partant d'ici à deux heures vous arriverez à Paris, in leaving this place—going away thence—at two, you will arrive at four. Ils demeurent ici près, they live close by—hard by. Etes-vous le maître ici, are you the master of this place—of this house? Ici—d'ici à Paris nous comptons cinq lieues, here—lace and Paris—from here to Paris we reckon twenty agues. Ici bas, here below. Les affaires d'ici-bas, ridly affairs.

Adv. de temps. Jusqu'ici il se comporte bien, hitherto behaves well. D'ici-là je pourrai vous le dire, in the nwhile—between this and that time—I shall be able ell you.
ICOGLAN, s. m. (mot Turc), a page of the Sultan.
ICONOCLASTE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.; pron. i-co-noce-tr), iconoclast, a breaker of images.
ICONOGRAPHE, s. m. iconographer.
ICONOGRAPHIE, s. f. iconography; the description ncient images, statues, &c.
ICONOLÂTRE, s. m. (t. d'hist.), iconolater; a wor-per of images.
ICOSAEDRE, s. m. (t. de géog.), icosaedron; a figure twenty sides.
ICOSANDRIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), icosander.
ICTÈRE. Voyez Jaunisse.
IDÉAL, E, adj. ideal. C'est un personnage idéal, it ideal personage. Il cherche le beau idéal, he seeks beauty. Tout cela c'est de l'idéal, all that is pure ism—is chimerical.
IDÉALISATION, s. f. ideal isation; imagining.
IDÉALISER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, to idealise; to ose.
IDÉALISME, s. m. idealism.
IDÉE, s. f. idea. Donnez-moi l'idée d'une montagne, ne the idea—an idea—of a mountain. *Je n'en ai
e idée*, I have no idea—no notion of it. Suivez idée, follow my idea. Vous vous faites une fausse de cela, you take a wrong—an erroneous—notion of Voilà l'idée que j'en avais conçue, such is the idea—otion—I had of it. Qui vous a donné cette idée?
gave you this idea? Vous avez-là des idées fort s, your ideas are very sad. Vous avez eu là une heureuse, you had there a happy idea.
Il m'est venu à l'idée ce matin, this occurred to me—mind—this morning. J'ai dans l'idée qu'ils ne iront pas, I have an idea—it runs in my mind—that will not come. On ne peut lui ôter cela de l'idée, annot get that idea out of his head.
Idée, ideally; in mind.
IDEM, mot Latin, the same; ditto.
IDENTIFIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to identify;
ome identified.
IDENTIQUE, adj. identical.
IDENTIQUEMENT, adv. identically.
IDENTITÉ, s. f. identity.
IDÉOLOGIE, s. f. ideology.
IDÉOLOGUE, s. m. ideologist.
IDES, s. f. pl. (d'autig. Romaine), ides. Les ides de ars fatales à Jules César, the ides of March tal to Cæsar.
IDIOME, s. m. (t. de gramm.), idiom; language. De uel idiome vous servez-vous? what idiom—what lan—do you use? L'idiôme Français, the French L'idiôme Provençal, Gascon, &c., the Provençal, econ dialect.
IDIOPATHIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), idiopathy; orilisease.
IDIOT, E, adj. idiot; a silly, foolish person.
IDIOTISME, s. m. (t. de médec.), idiotism; idiocy;
ss.
de langage), idiotism; Gallicism, Anglicism, sm; and as it applies to any of these three lanes.
IDOINE, adj. m. f. the same.
IDOLÂTRE, s. m. f. idolater.
IDOLÂTRE, adj. idolatrous. (Fam., fig.) Elle est re de ses enfants, she idolizes her children. Cet l'idolâtre, that man is his own idol.
IDOLÂTRIE, s. f. idolatry. Aimer à l'idolâtrie, dolâtrie, to idolize.
IDOLE, s. f. idol. Il en fait son idole, it is his idol dolizes her. L'avare fait son idole de l'argent, the makes an idol of his money. Il est l'idole du jour, he idol—the favourite—of the day. Elle est belle, il est vrai, mais c'est une vraie idole, she is handsome, it is true, but she is inanimate—she is like a piece of marble.
IDYLLE, s. f. idyll; short pastoral poem.
IF, s. m. yew tree.
IGNARE, adj. ignorant; ignoramus.
IGNÉE, adj. (pron. ig-ne), igneous; containing fire.
IGNICOLE, adj. m. f. (pron. ig-ni-cole), fire-worshipping.
IGNITION, s. f. (pron. ig-ni-tion), ignition; combustion.
IGNOBLE, adj. ignoble; common; vulgar. Il a l'air ignoble, he looks vulgar—common. Ce sont-là des sentiments bien ignobles, these are very base sentiments.
IGNOBLEMENT, adv. ignobly; basely.
IGNOMINIE, s. f. ignominy; infamy; shame.
IGNOMINIEUX, EUSE, adj. ignominious; infamous; shameful.
IGNORAMMENT, adv. ignorantly.
IGNORANCE, s. f. ignorance. Il est d'une grande ignorance, his ignorance is very great—he is dreadfully ignorant. J'étais dans l'ignorance de tout ce qui se passait, I was left in ignorance of every thing that passed.
Ce livre est plein de grosses ignorances, that book is full of great proofs of ignorance. Prétendre cause d'ignorance, to allege ignorance.
IGNORANT, E, adj. ignorant. Il est si ignorant qu'il ne sait pas lire, he is so ignorant that he cannot even read. Il est ignorant des manières du monde, he is ignorant of the manners of the world. J'en suis aussi ignorant que l'enfant à naître, I am as ignorant of it as the child unborn.
s. m. C'est un ignorant, he is an ignoramus. Il fait l'ignorant là-dessus, he pretends ignorance on that point.
IGNORANTIN, FRÈRE, s. m. a member of a religious order, who devote themselves to the education of the lower classes. There are some in most towns in France.
IGNORER, v. a. rég. 1*ère conj.*, not to know; to be ignorant of. Il ignore ce qui est arrivé, he knows not what happened. Il n'ignore rien, he knows all. J'ignore qu'il fût arrivé, I was ignorant of his having arrived
—I knew not that he had arrived. Heureux qui ignore les hommes, happy is he who knows not men. Il s'ignore lui-même, he knew not his own power. J'ignore l'art de flatter, I know not the art of flattering.
IGNORÉ, E, p. p. employé comme adj., unknown; concealed.
IL, pron. pers. 3e pers. sing., he. Il est ici, he is here.
Monsieur votre père est-il arrivé? is your father come?
Parle-t-il? does he speak? Vient-il? does he come?
Ce livre est-il bien écrit? is this book well written?
(IL, nominatif d'un verbe impersonnel.) Il fait beau temps, it is fine. Il pleut, it rains. Il neige, it snows.
Il en est de doux, there are some who are gentle.
ILE, s. f. island. Les îles, West Indies, the islands of the archipelago of Mexico.
ILÉON, s. m. (t. d'anat.), ilium; one of the small intestines.
ILIAQUE, adj. m. f. (t. d'anat. et de médec.), iliac.
Os iliaques, iliac bones. Passion iliaque, iliac passion;
great pains in the abdomen.
ILLÉGAL, E, adj. illegal; contrary to law; unlawful.
ILLÉGALEMENT, adv. illegally; unlawfully.
ILLÉGALITÉ, s. f. illegality.
ILLÉGITIME, adj. (des personnes), illegitimate;
(des choses), unlawful.
ILLÉGITIMEMENT, adv. illegitimately; unlawfully.
ILLÉGITIMITÉ, s. f. illegitimacy; illegality.
ILLETTRÉ, E, adj. illiterate; unlettered; ignorant of letters.
ILLICITE, adj. illicit; prohibited.
ILLICITEMENT, adv. illicitly; unlawfully.
ILLIMITÉ, E, adj. illimited; unlimited; boundless.
ILLISIBLE, adj. illegible.
ILLUMINATEUR, s. m. illuminator.
ILLUMINATIF TIVE, adj. illuminative.

ILLUMINATION, s. f. (physique et morale), illumination.

ILLUMINÉ, E, p. p. employé comme adj., illuminati (a secret sect in Germany); also the philosophers of the eighteenth century; visionary.

ILLUMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj, to illuminate, On illumina toute la ville, the whole town was illuminated, Puisse Dieu vous illuminer, may God enlighten you—illuminate your mind.

ILLUMINISME, s. m. doctrine of the illuminati.

ILLUSION, s. f. illusion; illusiveness. C'est une illusion des sens, it is a deception—an illusion—of the senses. Détruire l'illusion, to destroy the illusion. Vous laisserez-vous tromper par ces illusions du démon? will you suffer these deceptions of the evil spirit to lead you astray? C'est un homme plein d'illusions, he is full of illusions—of vain chimeras. Le jour vint dissiper ces vaines illusions, daylight came to destroy all these visions. Il se fait illusion à soi-même, he deceives himself. Il est dans l'illusion, he is under an illusion.

ILLUSOIRE, adj. illusory; deceptive; fallacious.

ILLUSOIREMENT, adv. deceptively; fallaciously.

ILLUSTRATION, s. f. illustration; celebrity; explication; illustration.

ILLUSTRE, adj. illustrious; famous; noted. Ce peintre est un des illustres de son temps, that painter is one of the celebrities of his time. Il s'est rendu illustre par ses talents, he made himself illustrious by his talents.

ILLUSTRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il illustra son nom, he made his name illustrious—celebrated. Il s'est illustré par ses hauts faits, he made himself illustrious by his noble deeds.

ILLUSTRISSIME, adj. most illustrious.

ILOT, s. m. eyot; a small island.

ILOTE, s. m. (t. d'histoire ancienne), helot; Spartan slave.

ILOTISME, s. m. helotism; slavery.

ILS, pron. pers. 3e personne plurielle, they.

IMAGE, s. f. image. Cette statue est l'image du bonheur, this statue is the image of happiness. Vous voyez votre image, you see your image—your likeness. Cette image trompeuse, this deceitful image. Il vend des images, he sells pictures—prints. Appelez le marchand d'images, call in the print-seller. Les enfants s'amusent avec des images, children amuse themselves with looking at prints—at images. Cette femme est une belle image, that woman is a beautiful statue; she has no animation. Il est sage comme une image, he is as quiet as a statue. Vous avez été bien sage, vous aurez une image, you behaved well, you shall have a silver penny.

Dieu a fait l'homme à son image, God created man in his own image. Il est l'image de son père, he is the very image—portrait—of his father. Son image me poursuit partout, her image pursues me every where. Je me fais une triste image de leur situation, I entertain a poor idea of their position. Il fait une image vraie du péril, he gives a true representation—a faithful image—a true idea of danger.

IMAGER, ÈRE, s. m. f. print-seller.

IMAGINABLE, adj. imaginable; that can be imagined.

IMAGINAIRE, adj. imaginary. Cela n'a qu'une valeur imaginaire, it has only an imaginary value. Il se perd dans les régions imaginaires, he is lost in the visionary regions. C'est un malade imaginaire, he is a hypochondriac—he fancies he is ill.

IMAGINATIF, IVE, adj. imaginative.

IMAGINATION, s. f. imagination. Il a beaucoup d'imagination, he has much imagination. Il n'y a pas d'imagination dans ce poème, there is no imagination—no fancy—in this poem.

C'est une pure imagination, this is sheer imagination—fancy. Elle a d'étranges imaginations, she has very odd fancies. Il se repaît d'imaginations, he feeds on visionary things. Ce sont des imaginations creuses, these are vain—empty thoughts.

IMAGINER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to imagine; to fancy. On ne peut rien imaginer de plus agréable, nothing more agreeable can be imagined.

Vous vous imaginez toujours qu'on parle de vous, you always fancy they are speaking of you. Ne vous imaginez pas qu'il soit vieux, do not imagine him—fancy him—to be old—that he is old. Comment vous imaginez-vous l'être imaginé, own that you fancied—you imagined—it. Je ne saurais m'imaginer que cela soit ainsi, I cannot imagine that it is so.

(Inventer.) Je ne sais qu'imaginer pour m'en tirer, I know not what to imagine—to contrive—to get out of it. Qui a imaginé de mettre l'escalier ici? who has had the fancy of placing—who contrived to place—the staircase here?

IMAN, s. m. iman; a Turkish priest.

IMARET, s. m. a Turkish hospital.

IMBÉCILE, adj. Ces malheurs l'ont rendu imbécile, these misfortunes have made him imbecile—deranged his reason. C'est un imbécile, he is a fool—a silly fellow. Peut-on être plus imbécile? is it possible to be a greater fool? Imbécile de corps et d'esprit, weak in mind and body.

IMBÉCILLEMENT, adv. foolishly; stupidly.

IMBÉCILLITÉ, s. f. imbecility; stupidity. Il est tombé dans l'imbécillité, he has fallen into imbecility—foolishness. Il est d'une imbécillité rare, his folly can hardly be equalled.

IMBERBE, adj. beardless. Ces imberbes veulent tout régenter, these beardless dictators—youngsters—will govern every thing.

IMBIBER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. La terre sèche, elle imbibera bientôt cette eau, the earth will soon imbibe this water. La terre s'imbibe, the earth imbibes—soaks in—the water. Donnez à la terre de s'imbiber, give time to the ground to soak in—the moisture.

Imbibez la compresse d'eau de vie, dip the compress in brandy. Mettez-y un linge imbibé d'huile, put a linen dipped in oil. L'éponge n'est pas assez imbibée d'eau, the sponge is not sufficiently filled with water.

IMBIBITION, s. f. imbibition.

IMBRIQUÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), imbricated; laid over one another.

IMBROGLIO, s. m. (mot Italien), confusion.

IMBU, E, adj. imbued. Il revint de son voyage imbu de principes généreux, he returned from his travels imbued with generous principles.

IMITABLE, adj. m. f. imitable; that can be imitated.

IMITATEUR, TRICE, s. m. f. adj. imitator; imitative. Il a l'esprit imitateur, he is of an imitative disposition. Il est l'imitateur des vertus de son maître, he is the imitator—the follower—of the virtues of his master.

IMITATIF, IVE, adj. imitative.

IMITATION, s. f. imitation. A l'imitation de mon frère, in the imitation of his brother.

IMITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to imitate. Imitez les grands hommes, let us imitate great men. Cela est facile à imiter, it is not easy to imitate that. Ce poème est imité de l'Allemand, this poem is translated from the German.

IMMACULÉ, E, adj. immaculate; spotless.

IMMANENT, E, adj. imminent; inherent.

IMMANGEABLE, adj. uneatable; that cannot be eaten.

IMMANQUABLE, adj. infallible; that must happen.

IMMANQUABLEMENT, adv. infallibly; without fail.

IMMARCESSIBLE, adj. unfading; that cannot be faded.

IMMATÉRIALITÉ, s. f. immateriality; immateriality.

IMMATÉRIEL, LE, adj. immaterial; immaterial.

IMMATÉRIELLEMENT, adv. immaterially; incorporally.

IMMATRICULATION, s. f. matriculation; registering.

IMMATRICULE, s. f. matriculation; register.

IMMATRICULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to matriculate; to enter one's name in a register.

IMMÉDIAT, E, adj. immediate.
IMMÉDIATEMENT, adv. immediately.
IMMÉMORIAL, E, adj. immemorial; beyond the memory of man.
IMMENSE, adj. immense.
IMMENSÉMENT, adv. immensely.
IMMENSITÉ, s. f. immensity; vastness; great, boundless extent.
IMMERSION, s. f. immersion. (T. d'astron.), immersion.
IMMEUBLE, s. m. adj. m. f. real property; landed property; houses. On a vendu tous ses biens, meubles et immeubles, all his property has been sold, real and personal.
IMMINENCE, s. f. imminence.
IMMINENT, E, adj. imminent; threatening.
IMMISCER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to take upon oneself. (Commune.) Ne vous immiscez pas dans leur querelle, do not interfere—do not mix yourselves with—their quarrel.
IMMIXTION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), immission.
IMMOBILE, adj. immovable; motionless.
IMMOBILIER, ERE, adj. Il a hérité des biens immobiliers, he inherited the real property. Il est héritier immobilier de cette famille, he is the heir of the entailed property of that family. Ce sont tous biens immobiliers, they are all entailed estates.
IMMOBILISATION, s. f. realisation.
IMMOBILISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to realise property; to make it inalienable.
IMMOBILITÉ, s. f. immobility; immovableness.
IMMODÉRÉ, E, adj. immoderate.
IMMODÉRÉMENT, adv. immoderately; with excess.
IMMODESTE, adj. immodest; indecent.
IMMODESTEMENT, adv. immodestly; indecently.
IMMODESTIE, s. f. immodesty; indecency.
IMMOLATION, s. f. immolation; sacrifice.
IMMOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to immolate; to sacrifice. Autrefois on immolait des victimes humaines, formerly, they immolated—sacrificed—human victims. Le Christ s'est immolé pour nous, Jesus Christ offered himself as a sacrifice for us. Il l'immola à sa rage, he sacrificed him to his rage.
(Fig.) Il immolerait tout à sa gloire, he would sacrifice all to his own glory. Elle lui a tout immolé, she has sacrificed every thing for him. Il s'immola au bien de l'état, he sacrificed himself for the welfare—good—of the state. Allons, je m'immole, come, I sacrifice myself—I make the sacrifice of my feelings.
IMMONDE, adj. unclean; impure. L'Esprit immonde, the unclean spirit—the Devil.
IMMONDICE, s. f. filth; dirt. Défense de faire des immondices ici, it is forbidden to deposit dirt—filth—here.

IMMORAL, E, adj. immoral; vicious; dishonest.
IMMORALITÉ, s. f. immorality. Cet homme est d'une immoralité révoltante, the immorality of that man is disgusting.
IMMORTALISER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to immortalize. Ses belles actions ont immortalisé son nom, his noble actions have immortalized his name—have rendered his name immortal. Il s'est immortalisé, he has immortalized himself.
IMMORTEL, LE, adj. immortal. L'âme est immortelle, the soul of man is immortal. Sa mémoire sera immortelle, his memory will be for ever immortal.
IMMORTELS, s. m. pl. the gods of paganism; the celestial deities.
IMMORTELLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), everlasting flower.
IMMORTIFIÉ, E, adj. immortified.
IMMUABLE, adj. m. f. immutable.
IMMUABLEMENT, adv. immutably.
IMMUNITÉ, s. f. immunity; exemption.
IMMUTABILITÉ, s. f. immutability.
IMPAIR, E, adj. odd; uneven. Nous sommes ici en nombre impair, we are in uneven number.
IMPALPABLE, adj. impalpable.
IMPANATION, s. f. (t. de théologie), impanation.

IMPARDONNABLE, adj. unpardonable; that cannot be pardoned.
IMPARFAIT, E, adj. imperfect. Cet ouvrage est imparfait, this work is imperfect—unfinished. Ce volume est imparfait, this volume is imperfect—incomplete. (T. de gramm.) Il y a l'imparfait de l'indicatif et du subjonctif, there is the imperfect of the indicative and of the subjunctive. Ce verbe est à l'imparfait, that verb is in the imperfect.
IMPARFAITEMENT, adv. imperfectly; incompletely.
IMPARISYLLABIQUE, adj. (t. de gramm.), imparisyllabic.
IMPARTABLE, adj. (t. de jurisp.), impartible.
IMPARTAGEABLE, adj. impartible.
IMPARTIAL, E, adj. impartial.
IMPARTIALEMENT, adv. impartially.
IMPARTIALITÉ, s. f. impartiality; disinterestedness.
IMPASSE, s. f. court.
IMPASSIBILITÉ, s. f. impassibility.
IMPASSIBLE, adj. impassible; unmoved; unaffected.
IMPASTATION, s. f. impastation.
IMPATIEMMENT, adv. impatiently; with impatience.
IMPATIENCE, s. f. impatience. Il souffre avec impatience, he bears his sufferings with impatience. J'ai une grande impatience de le revoir, I am all impatience to see him again—I long much to see him. Je suis dans une impatience extrême d'arriver, I am extremely impatient to arrive.
(Impatiences.) Cet homme est si lent dans tout ce qu'il fait, qu'il vous donne des impatiences, that man is so slow in all he does that one feels fits of impatience.
IMPATIENT, E, adj. impatient. Ne soyez pas si impatient, do not be so impatient. J'étais impatient de le voir, I was impatient to go—I longed to go.
IMPATIENTANT, E, adj. teazing; tiresome; tedious.
IMPATIENTER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj., to make one lose patience; to put out of patience; to tire.
Ne vous impatientez pas, do not lose patience—do not torment yourself—do not fret. A la fin, je m'impatiente de tous ces délais, at last, I am tired with all these delays.
IMPATRONISER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to make one's self at home; to get a footing.
IMPAYABLE, adj. Ce tableau est impayable, that picture is invaluable—without price—.—you could not pay too much for it. C'est un ouvrier impayable, he is an invaluable workman. (Fig. et fam.) Ce que vous nous racontez est impayable, what you tell us is excellent—is capital.
IMPECCABILITÉ, s. f. (t. de théol.), impeccability; exemption from sin.
IMPECCABLE, adj. impeccable.
IMPÉNÉTRABILITÉ, s. f. impenetrability.
IMPÉNÉTRABLE, adj. impenetrable. Il n'y a rien d'impénétrable aux yeux de Dieu, nothing is impenetrable to the eyes of God.
IMPÉNÉTRABLEMENT, adv. impenetrably.
IMPÉNITENCE, s. f. impenitence; obduracy.
IMPÉNITENT, E, adj. impenitent. Mourir impénitent, to die impenitent, unrepenting.
IMPENSES, s. f. pl. expenses for repairs, keeping up, &c.
IMPÉRATIF, IVE, adj. imperative; authoritative; commanding. (T. de grammaire.) s. m. imperative mood. Ce verbe doit être à l'impératif, this verb ought to be in the imperative mood.
IMPÉRATIVEMENT, adv. imperatively; authoritatively.
IMPÉRATOIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), master wort.
IMPÉRATRICE, s. f. empress.
IMPERCEPTIBLE, adj. imperceptible; not perceptible (to the eye, to the touch).
IMPERCEPTIBLEMENT, adv. imperceptibly.
IMPERDABLE, adj. that cannot be lost.
IMPERFECTION, s. f. imperfection; defect; fault. (T. d'imprimerie), waste.

IMPERFORATION, s. f. (t. d'anat., de médec.), imperforation.

IMPERFORÉ, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), imperforated.

IMPÉRIAL, E, adj. imperial. Les ornements impériaux, the imperial insignia—robes. L'aigle impériale, the imperial (German) eagle. Les impériaux, the German troops—the German ministers. Couronne impériale (t. de bot.), crown imperial.

IMPÉRIALE, s. f. game at cards. (T. de voiture.) Voyager sur l'impériale, to travel on the roof of a coach—outside. Impériale d'un lit, top of a bed, tester. (T. de toilette), voyez Royale.

IMPÉRIEUSEMENT, adv. imperiously.

IMPÉRIEUX, EUSE, adj. imperious; domineering; urgent; pressing.

IMPÉRIOSITÉ, s. f. imperiousness.

IMPÉRISSABLE, adj. imperishable; not subject to decay.

IMPÉRIT, E, adj. incapable; unable.

IMPÉRITIE, s. f. (pron. im-pé-ri-cie), incapacity; want of ability.

IMPERMÉABILITÉ, s. f. impermeability.

IMPERMÉABLE, adj. impermeable; impervious to water.

IMPERSONNEL, ELLE, adj. (t. de grammaire), impersonal.

IMPERSONNELLEMENT, adv. impersonally.

IMPERTINEMMENT, adv. impertinently.

IMPERTINENCE, s. f. impertinence. Il m'a fait cent impertinences, he did a hundred rude things to me.

IMPERTINENT, E, adj. impertinent; rude. Il a l'air impertinent, he looks rude, impertinent. C'est un impertinent, he is an impertinent fellow.

IMPERTURBABILITÉ, s. f. imperturbation; calmness.

IMPERTURBABLE, adj. imperturbable; that cannot be moved.

IMPERTURBABLEMENT, adv. calmly; steadily.

IMPÉTRABLE, adj. impetrable; that can be obtained.

IMPÉTRANT, E, adj. one who has obtained a grace, a favour.

IMPÉTRATION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), impetration.

IMPÉTRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to impetrate.

IMPÉTUEUSEMENT, adv. impetuously; with impetuosity; violently.

IMPÉTUEUX, EUSE, adj. impetuous; violent.

IMPÉTUOSITÉ, s. f. impetuosity; impetuousness; violence.

IMPIE, adj. impious.

IMPIE, s. m. L'impie n'a point de consolation, the unbeliever—the impious man—has no comfort.

IMPIÉTÉ, s. f. impiety; impiousness. Il affiche l'impiété, he makes a show of his impiety—incredulity. Il dit des impiétés, he says impious things.

IMPITOYABLE, adj. m. f. merciless; without mercy; pitiless. C'est un homme impitoyable, he is a merciless man—a man without mercy. Elle est impitoyable sur les fautes les plus légères, she has no mercy for the most trifling faults.

IMPITOYABLEMENT, adv. unmercifully; without mercy.

IMPLACABLE, adv. implacable; inexorable.

IMPLANTATION, s. f. implantation.

IMPLANTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to implant; to plant; to fix.

IMPLEXE, adj. (du théâtre ancien), implex; intricate.

IMPLICATION, s. f. implication.

IMPLICITE, adj. m. f. implicit. J'ai une foi implicite à tout ce qu'il dit, I receive with implicit faith all he says.

IMPLICITEMENT, adv. implicitly. Cela fut implicitement convenu, that was implicitly agreed upon.

IMPLIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (of persons), to implicate, to involve. On a voulu l'impliquer dans cette affaire, they tried to implicate him in that affair. Je voudrais ne pas me trouver impliqué, I would wish not to be involved—implicated. (Of things.) Cela implique que vous les connaissiez, that implies that you are acquainted with them. Cela me semble impliquer contradiction, it seems to imply a contradiction.

IMPLORER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to implore; to entreat. Implorer le bras séculier, to have recourse to justice.

IMPOLI, E, adj. impolite, impolitic; uncivil. Il serait impoli de le faire, it would be rude to do it.

IMPOLIMENT, adv. impolitely; uncivilly; rudely.

IMPOLITESSE, s. f. impoliteness; incivility. Ce fut une impolitesse de le faire, it is an impoliteness to do it. Je n'ai reçu que des impolitesses de lui, I have been excessively rude to me—I have had nothing but rudeness from him.

IMPOLITIQUE, adj. impolitic.

IMPOLITIQUEMENT, adv. impolitically.

IMPONDÉRABLE, adj. imponderable.

IMPOPULAIRE, adj. unpopular.

IMPOPULARITÉ, s. f. unpopularity.

IMPORTANCE, s. f. importance. L'affaire est de grande importance, the affair is of great importance—consequence. Il met de l'importance aux plus petites choses, he attaches importance to the most trifling things.

Sa place lui donne de l'importance, his situation gives him a man of great importance—consequence. C'est l'homme d'importance, he assumes the man of consequence. Il se donne des airs d'importance, he puts on consequential looks. (Fam.) Je l'ai grande d'importance, I could beat him famously. Nous les avons étrillés d'importance, we beat them famously.

IMPORTANT, E, adj. important. Il m'a rendu service important, he rendered me an important service. Cela est plus important que vous ne pensez, that is more important than you think. Il est important de partir, it is important—of consequence—it matters much that you should go. Cela n'est pas fort important, it does not matter much—that is not of great consequence.

IMPORTANT, s. m. C'est un important, he is a consequential fellow. Faire l'important, to be consequential. L'important est de savoir s'ils ont pris the principal—the most important point—is to know whether they have come back.

IMPORTATION, s. f. (t. de commerce), importation (of things imported), imports.

IMPORTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de commerce), to import.

IMPORTE, Il, v. imp. rég. 1ère conj. Cela n'importe en rien, that does not concern him in any way. Mon affaire m'importait bien plus qu'à lui, that more concerned me—regarded me—much more than him. Qu'importe une chose qui importe? is it a thing of moment? Que vous importent ces choses? what matter that to you? Il importe beaucoup que nous y soyons, it is much th that you should be there. Il lui importe peu d'y aller, it was of great importance much to him to go there. Il faut que cela arrive, n'importe par qui, it must be done, no matter by whom. Je périrai, n'importe, I shall perish in it, no matter. Que vous importe qu'il le fasse ou non? what is it whether he does it or no? Donnez-m'en un, n'importe quel, give me one, no matter which.

IMPORTUN, E, adj. importunate; troublesome. Je craint de vous être importun, he fears being troublesome to you. C'est un importun, he is a troublesome man. (Of things.) Tout cela est bien importun, all troublesome. Une pluie importune, a troublesome rain. Cette visite est bien importune, that visit was at an inopportune moment—is very incivil.

IMPORTUNÉMENT, adv. importunately; importunately.

IMPORTUNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to importune. Il ne faut pas importuner ses amis, you must not importunate—trouble your friends. Ce n'est pas l'importuner que vous en sollicitez only by dint of importunities that you can thing of him. Ce bruit m'importune, that noise me—annoys me—troubles me. Je suis importuné demandes, de visites, I am harassed—tormented—with equests, with visits.

IMPORTUNITÉ, s. f. importunity.
IMPOSABLE, adj. imposable; that may be taxed.
IMPOSANT, E, adj. imposing; commanding. Il il en campagne des forces imposantes, he brought into e field considerable forces.
IMPOSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Imposer les mains, impose, to lay on hands. Il imposa un nom à chaque lante, he gave a name to each plant.
Vous m'avez imposé une tâche difficile, you have posed on me a difficult task. Ce titre lui impose de randes obligations, that title imposes on him great obligations. Le vainqueur impose sa loi aux vaincus, the conqueror gives his laws to the conquered. On imposa tribut sur les provinces, a tribute was imposed—laid on the provinces. On vient d'imposer de nouvelles ontributions, new taxes have lately been laid. On m'a posé à deux cent francs, I was rated at two hundred ancs. Nous nous imposâmes tous pour le tirer de prison, all agreed to pay a certain sum to get him out of ison. On lui impose un crime dont il est innocent, tend to force on him a charge of which he is innocent.
y lay a crime to his charge of which he is innocent.
ne prétends pas vous imposer mon opinion, I do not force upon you my opinion on you. Il voulait nous poser un homme qui ne nous convenait pas, he wanted force upon us a man who did not suit us.
Imposez silence, command silence. Sachons imposer ence aux passions, let us silence our passions. Il sut poser silence à ses ennemis, he succeeded in silencing enemies.
Se figure imposer le respect, his countenance commands pect—veneration. Ce spectacle extraordinaire nous mposait, the extraordinary spectacle struck us with awe.
En imposer, to deceive. Vous ne sauriez nous en im-ser, you could not deceive us.
(T. d'imprimerie.) Imposer, to impose.
MPOSITION, s. f. L'imposition des mains, the position—the laying on—of hands. L'imposition des ms, the imposition of name. L'imposition des droits, taxes, the imposition, the laying on of taxes. Il est ceur des impositions, he is a receiver of taxes. (T. ole.) On lui a donné une imposition, he has had an position—a punishment.
MPOSSIBILITÉ, s. f. impossibility. Il y a de l'imibilité à cela, there is an impossibility in that. Il de toute impossibilité que cela soit, it is quite im-ible that it should be so—there is absolute impos-lity that it should be.
MPOSSIBLE, adj. m. f. impossible. Cette chose est impossible, that is impossible for him. Il n'est ssible d'y aller, it is impossible for me to go. Rien ui est impossible, nothing is impossible for him. Il 'impossible qu'il soit arrivé, it is impossible that he ld have arrived.
MPOSSIBLE, s. m. A l'impossible nul n'est tenu, one is obliged to do impossibilities. Je ferais l'imible pour lui, I would do anything for him. Cet me gagne l'impossible, that man earns enormously.
us tentez l'impossible, you try impossibilities. (T. de que.) Réduire quelqu'un à l'impossible, to force one to traffict himself. Si, par impossible, on redevenait e, if, supposing what is not possible, we grew young n.
MPOSTE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), impost.
MPOSTEUR, s. m. impostor; (of things), calumnious, iving. Ne croyez pas à ces bruits imposteurs, do not faith to these false—deceiving—reports.
MPOSTURE, s. f. imposture; calumny; deceit.
g.) Comment se défendre de l'imposture des sens?
are we to guard ourselves against the illusions—ptions of the senses?
MPÔT, s. m. tax; duty. Impôt territorial, foncier, tax; property tax. L'assiette de l'impôt, the assess-t of taxes. Impôt sur les personnes, poll-tax; capion. On a mis un nouvel impôt sur les vins, a new has been put on the wines. Impôt sur les feux, th-money. Le luxe est un impôt que la vanité paie à l'industrie, luxury is a tax which vanity pays to the industrious.
IMPOTENCE, s. f. (t. de médec.), impotency.
IMPOTENT, E, adj. impotent; lame. s. m. impotent.
IMPRATICABLE, adj. impracticable.
IMPRÉCATION, s. f. imprecation. Il fit mille imprécations, he uttered a thousand imprecations—curses.
IMPRÉGNER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to impregnate. Vos habits sont imprégnés de l'odeur de tabac, your clothes are impregnated with the smell of tabacco. (Fig.) Les préjugés dont son esprit était imprégné s'opposaient à sa fortune, the prejudices with which his mind was impregnated opposed his fortune.
IMPRENABLE, adj. impregnable; (fig.), unattainable.
IMPRESCRIPTIBILITÉ, s. f. imprescriptibility.
IMPRESCRIPTIBLE, adj. imprescriptible.
IMPRESSES. Voyez Intentionnelles.
IMPRESSION, s. f. impression. L'impression de ce cachet n'est pas bonne, the impression of that seal is not good. On demanda l'impression de son rapport, they asked that his report should be printed. On l'envoya à l'impression, it was sent to be printed. On va en faire une nouvelle impression, they are to have a new impression of it. C'est une ancienne impression fort estimée, it is an old impression—edition—much esteemed.
Cet accident fit une impression profonde sur mon cœur, this accident made a deep impression on my heart. J'éprouvais une impression désagréable, I felt an unpleasant impression. Ce discours fit beaucoup d'impression, that speech made a great impression. Nous en avons conservé une vive impression, we have retained a lively impression of it.
Il est sensible à l'impression de l'air, he feels the impression—the effect of cold air.
IMPRESSIONNABLE, adj. easily impressed upon; impressive; excitable.
IMPRÉVOYANCE, s. f. improvidence; want of foresight.
IMPRÉVOYANT, adj. improvident; not foreseeing.
IMPRÉVU, E, adj. unforeseen; unexpected.
IMPRIMER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Imprimer un sceau sur de la cire, to impress a seal on wax. Leurs pas s'imprimaient sur la neige, their footsteps were imprinted on the snow. Il imprime en taille douce, he prints copper-plate. On imprime des toiles, &c., they print stuffs. Qui a imprimé ce livre? who printed this book? On imprime très-correctement ici, they print very correctly here. Cet homme a la manie de se faire imprimer, that man likes to see himself in print. On l'imprime en ce moment, he is now in the press—his work is now printing. Il va se faire imprimer, he is going to get his work printed. Non seulement il l'a dit, mais il va le faire imprimer, he has not only said it, but he is going to put it in print.
(T. de physique.) Cette roue imprime un mouvement à toute la machine, that wheel sets the whole machinery in motion. Elle lui imprime une grande vitesse, it gives it—communicates to it—great rapidity. (Fig.) Cette découverte imprimait aux idées une direction nouvelle, this discovery gave a new direction to the ideas of man.
(Fig.) Il imprime à tous ses ouvrages un cachet original, he gives to all his works a stamp of originality. Ce que nous apprenons dans la jeunesse s'imprime mieux dans l'esprit, what we learn in youth is better engraved on the mind. La présence de cet homme imprime le respect, the presence of that man inspires you—fills you—with respect. Les images des objets s'impriment dans l'imagination, the images of external objects engrave themselves on the mind. Ce spectacle inouï imprimait la terreur, that unheard of sight filled us—inspired us—with terror.
IMPRIMÉ, p. p. employé comme subs. m. Il court des imprimés, printed papers circulate about.
IMPRIMERIE, s. f. printing; the art of printing
Printing office; press.
IMPRIMEUR, s. m. printer; printer's man. Imprimeur libraire, printer and publisher.

IMPROBABILITÉ, s. f. improbability.
IMPROBABLE, adj. improbable. Il est improbable qu'il le fasse, it is not probable—likely—that he should do it.
IMPROBATEUR, TRICE, s. m. f. adj. censurer; one who disapproves.
IMPROBATION, s. f. improbation; censure; disapprobation.
IMPROBITÉ, s. f. improbity; dishonesty.
IMPRODUCTIF, IVE, adj. unproductive.
IMPROFITABLE, adj. unprofitable.
IMPROMPTU, s. m. (mot Latin), is said of any thing done extempore, at once, without any preparation. Il nous donna un charmant dîner impromptu, he gave us a charming dinner, contrived on the moment, extempore. (T. de poésie.) Voilà un charmant impromptu, here are pretty verses done on the moment—on the occasion.
IMPROPRE, adj. improper, not suitable; unfit.
IMPROPREMENT, adv. improperly; unfitly.
IMPROPRIÉTÉ, s. f. impropriety; unfitness.
IMPROUVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to disapprove; to blame.
IMPROVISATEUR, s. m.) (mot emprunté de l'Italien) IMPROVISATRICE, s. f.)), improvisatore, one who composes extempore, without any preparation; extempore.
IMPROVISATION, s. f. a speech composed extempore. Son improvisation frappa l'assemblée, his extempore speech—improvisation—struck the audience.
IMPROVISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to extemporize; to compose at once without any preparation. Elle improvisa des vers charmants, she extemporized charming verses. Il improvisa une jolie fête, he imagined—he got up extempore—a pretty fête.
IMPROVISTE, A l', (loc. adv.), unexpectedly; suddenly.
IMPRUDEMMENT, adv. imprudently.
IMPRUDENCE, s. f. imprudence. Vous avez fait de grandes imprudences, you have done very imprudent things. Vous avez fait une imprudence, you committed an imprudence. Il y aurait de l'imprudence à y aller, there would be imprudence—it would be imprudent—to go.
IMPRUDENT, E, adj. imprudent. Vous avez été bien imprudent de lui confier vos secrets, you were very imprudent to intrust your secrets to him.
IMPUBÈRE, adj. adolescent; not yet adult.
IMPUDEMMENT, adv. impudently.
IMPUDENCE, s. f. impudence. Il a eu l'impudence de venir ici, he had the impudence to come here.
IMPUDENT, E, adj. impudent; shameless; bold.
IMPUDEUR, s. f. impudicity, immodesty; impudence. Avec impudeur, boldly; with impudence.
IMPUDICITÉ, s. f. impudicity; indecent action; immodesty.
IMPUDIQUE, adj. immodest; impudent.
IMPUDIQUEMENT, adv. immodestly; indecently.
IMPUGNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to impugn; to attack.
IMPUISSANCE, s. f. want of power; incapacity, impotence. Je suis dans l'impuissance de faire ce que vous me demandez, it is out of my power—I am quite incapable—to do what you want. (T. de médec.), impotency.
IMPUISSANT, E, adj. powerless; unavailing; (t. de médec.), impotent.
IMPULSIF, IVE, adj. impulsive.
IMPULSION, s. f. impulsion; impulse. Cette découverte donna l'impulsion, this discovery gave the impulse—the impetus. Je l'ai fait à l'impulsion de mon frère, I did it at the instigation of my brother.
IMPUNÉMENT, adv. with impunity; without punishment.
IMPUNI, E, adj. unpunished.
IMPUNITÉ, s. f. impunity.
IMPUR, E, adj. impure. (Fig.) Il est né d'un sang impur, he was born from impure blood—from a corrupt race.
IMPURETÉ, s. f. impurity. (Fig.) Vivre dans l'impureté, to live in corruption; in impudicity. Le livre est plein d'impuretés, that book is full of obscenities.

IMPUTABLE, adj. imputable; to be ascribed. Un accident n'est imputable qu'à sa maladresse, that accident is attributable—is imputable to his awkwardness. (T. de finances.) Ces sommes sont imputées sur la propriété du père, these sums are chargeable to the property of the father.
IMPUTATION, s. f. imputation; (t. de finance) charge.
IMPUTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On lui impute les fautes qu'il n'a point commises, they impute faults to him which he has not committed. Ne me l'imputez pas, ce n'est pas ma faute, do not lay it to me; it is not my fault. Pourquoi m'imputer à crime une chose que je ne puis empêcher, why should you impute to me as a crime a thing which I could not help? On impute à négligence, they will impute—attribute—that to neglect. (T. de finance.) Il faut imputer ces avances sur le revenu de cette année, these advances must be charged to his income of this present year.
INABORDABLE, adj. (pron. in-nn-bor-dab'l) unapproachable; inaccessible.
INACCEPTABLE, adj. unacceptable; that cannot be accepted.
INACCESSIBLE, adj. inaccessible.
INACCOMMODABLE, adj. unaccommodating (of things), that cannot be arranged, accommodated.
INACCORDABLE, adj. Des caractères inaccordables, irreconcilable tempers. C'est une demande inaccordable, it is a request that cannot be granted.
INACCOMPLI, E, adj. unfinished.
INACCOSTABLE, adj. unapproachable.
INACCOUTUMÉ, E, adj. unaccustomed; (fig.) unusual.
INACHEVÉ, E, adj. unfinished.
INACTIF, IVE, adj. inactive.
INACTION, s. f. inaction.
INACTIVITÉ, s. f. inactivity.
INADMISSIBILITÉ, s. f. inadmissibility.
INADMISSIBLE, adj. inadmissible.
INADVERTANCE, s. f. inadvertence. (Manque d'esprit), absence; thoughtlessness.
INALIÉNABILITÉ, s. f. unalienability.
INALIÉNABLE, adj. unalienable.
INALLIABLE, adj. unalliable; (fig.), that cannot be allied, reconciled.
INALTÉRABLE, adj. unalterable.
INAMISSIBILITÉ, s. f. (t. de théol.), unalienability.
INAMISSIBLE, adj. (t. de théol.), unalienable; that cannot be lost.
INAMOVIBILITÉ, s. f. inamovibility.
INAMOVIBLE, adj. for life; that cannot be removed. Ces emplois sont inamovibles, these situations are for life.
INANIMÉ, E, adj. lifeless; (fig.), unanimated.
INANITÉ, s. f. inanity; emptiness.
INANITION, s. f. inanition; want of food.
INAPERCEVABLE, adj. imperceivable; not to be perceived.
INAPERÇU, E, adj. unperceived.
INAPPÉTENCE, s. f. (t. de médec.), suppression of appetite.
INAPPLICABLE, adj. inapplicable.
INAPPLICATION, s. f. want of application or attention.
INAPPLIQUÉ, E, adj. without application or attentive.
INAPPRÉCIABLE, adj. inappreciable; that cannot be valued, appreciated; inestimable.
INAPTITUDE, s. f. inaptitude; unfitness.
INARTICULÉ, E, adj. inarticulate.
INATTAQUABLE, adj. that cannot be assailed.
INATTENDU, E, adj. unexpected.
INATTENTIF, TIVE, adj. inattentive.
INATTENTION, s. f. inattention.
INAUGURAL, E, adj. inaugural.
INAUGURATION, s. f. inauguration.
INAUGURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to inaugurate; to dedicate.

INCAGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (vieux mot), to defy; challenge.
INCALCULABLE, adj. incalculable.
INCAMÉRATION, s. f. an act by which an estate comes the property of the l'ope.
INCANDESCENCE, s. f. incandescence.
INCANTATION, s. f. incantation; charm.
INCAPABLE, adj. unable; incapable. Il est incapable de marcher, de se tenir debout, he is unable to alk; to stand up. Il est incapable de faire cela, he is capable to do that. Je suis incapable de vous tromper, am incapable of deceiving you. Cet homme est absolu-ent incapable, that man is quite incapable. Cette terre t incapable de produire, that land is incapable of pro-ucing.
INCAPACITÉ, s. f. incapacity. (T. de jurisp.) re frappé d'incapacité, to be disqualified. On lui pose son incapacité, they objected to him his in-acity. [ment.
INCARCÉRATION, s. f. incarceration; imprison-INCARCÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to incarcerate.
INCARNADIN, E, adj. incarnadine; flesh-coloured.
INCARNAT, s. m. incarnate; rose-colour; flesh-colour.
INCARNATION, s. f. incarnation.
INCARNER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to incarnate; to me the flesh upon one's self. Le Verbe incarné, the ernate Word, Son of God.
Fig. et fam.) C'est la vertu incarnée que cette me, this woman is the personification of virtue. C'est able incarné, he is the very d— incarnate.
INCARTADE, s. f. Il lui a fait une incartade fort à propos, he offered him an affront very inconsi-ely. Ce jeune homme a fait mille incartades, that ng man played a thousand pranks. Que signifie cette riade? what is the meaning of this freak?
INCENDIAIRE, s. m. f. incendiary; adj. incendiary; gnatory.
INCENDIE, s. m. fire; conflagration. Il y a eu un r incendie, qui a détruit la moitié de la ville, a large as destroyed half the town. On ne pouvait arrêter ndie, they could not stop the fire.
Fig.) Leur politique sut prévenir l'incendie près ater, their policy prevented the fire which was ready eak out.
INCENDIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to burn: to set fire to destroy by fire. On a fait une quête pour les in-és, a collection has been made for those who suffered re—who were burnt out. Sa maison a été incendiée, use was destroyed by fire—burnt down.
INCERTAIN, E, adj. uncertain; doubtful. Tout est fort incertain, all that is very uncertain. Je suis tain de ce qui doit m'arriver, I am uncertain of what happen. Je suis incertain de ce que je ferai, I doubtful—I know not—what I shall do. L'homme est ne quitte pas le certain pour l'incertain, a pru-man does not leave a certainty for an uncertainty.
INCERTAINEMENT, adv. with uncertainty; doubt-INCERTITUDE, s. f. incertitude; uncertainty; doubt. certitude où nous sommes ne nous permet pas de positivement, the incertitude in which we are does llow us to speak positively. Je suis dans l'incer-de ce que je dois faire, I am in doubt as to what to do. L'incertitude du temps ne nous permet pas rtir, the uncertainty of the weather—the weather so unsettled—does not allow us to go. Ces choses-s laissent dans une pénible incertitude, these things us in painful suspense.
INCESSAMMENT, adv. soon; without delay; without son; incessantly. [another.
INCESSIBLE, adj. that cannot be given, transferred to INCESTE, s. m. (pron. in-cèce-te), incest; (des per-, incestuous person.
INCESTUEUSEMENT, adv. incestuously.
INCESTUEUX, EUSE, adj. incestuous.
INCHOATIF, IVE, adj. (pron. in-coa-tif; t. de mme), inchoative; inceptive.
INCIDEMMENT, adv. incidentally.

INCIDENCE, s. f. (t. de grim.), incidence.
INCIDENT, s. m. incident. Il survint un incident qui nous fit renoncer à nos projets, there happened an incident which made us give up our intentions. (Commerc.) Au lieu de répondre, il souleva des incidents instead of answering, he raises difficulties—he cavils.
INCIDENT, E, adj. incidental.
INCIDENTAIRE, s. m. caviller, one fond of raising difficulties.
INCIDENTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to raise difficulties; to cavil.
INCINÉRATION, s. f. (t. de chimie), incineration.
INCINÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chimie), to burn to ashes; to incinerate; to reduce to ashes.
INCIRCONCIS, E, adj. uncircumcised.
INCIRCONCISION, s. f. uncircumcision.
INCISE, s. f. (t. de gramm.), incidental phrase.
INCISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'art), to make an incision into. Le chirurgien lui a incisé le bras, the surgeon made an incision in his arm. On incise un pin, pour en tirer la résine, they make an incision into the fir-tree to let the resin flow. (T. de médec.), to cut, to INCISIF, IVE, adj. incisive. [solve.
INCISION, s. f. incision.
INCITANT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), incitant; tonic.
INCITATION, s. f. incitation; incitement; instigation.
INCITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to incite; to stir up. Qui vous a incité à faire ces choses là, who incited you—urged you—to do these things?
INCIVIL, E, adj. uncivil; rude.
INCIVILEMENT, adv. uncivilly; rudely.
INCIVILITÉ, s. f. incivility, incivility; rudeness; want of courtesy. C'est une incivilité de faire ces choses là, it is a want of courtesy—very rude—to do these things. Il y aurait de l'incivilité à le lui demander it would be uncourteous—rude—to ask it of him.
INCIVIQUE, adj. uncitizen-like.
INCIVISME, s. m. incivism.
INCLÉMENCE, s. f. unmercifulness; severity. (Fig.) L'inclémence du temps nous a retenus, the inclemency—severity—of the season—stopped us.
INCLÉMENT, E, adj. unmerciful; unkind; severe. (Fig.) Un ciel inclément, inclement, unpropitious heaven.
INCLINAISON, s. f. inclination. Il n'y a pas assez d'inclinaison pour l'écoulement des eaux, there is not sufficient slope for the running off of the water. (T. de mathem.), inclination.
INCLINANT, adj. (t. de mathem.), inclinier; an inclined dial.
INCLINATION, s. f. inclination. (Fig.) Il a les mêmes inclinations que son père, he has the same inclinations—bent—tastes as his father. Encourager cette inclination pour l'agriculture, do encourage that inclination for agriculture. Il a un peu d'inclination à médire, he is rather given—inclined—to slander. Il a de l'inclination pour la musique, he has an inclination to—for—music. Je me sens de l'inclination pour elle, I feel an inclination for her. Je ne me sens aucune inclination pour elle, I feel no inclination for her. Il a fait un mariage d'inclination, he has made a love-marriage. C'est un mariage d'inclination, it is a love-match. Il avait une inclination, he had a certain penchant—inclination. (Fam.) Je bois à vos inclinations, I drink to your love. La chasse est son inclination, hunting is his favourite passion.
INCLINER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to incline; to tilt. Inclinez la vase un peu, do incline—do tilt the vessel a little. Il me semble que cette colonne incline un peu sur la gauche, it seems to me that that column inclines—bends—somewhat to the left. Ces deux lignes droites inclinent l'une vers l'autre, these two straight lines are inclined one towards the other. On incline un peu les mâts vers l'arrière, they incline the masts a little astern. Le vent est si fort qu'il incline—fait incliner—les arbres, the wind is now so high that it bends the trees. La route incline à droite, the road inclines to the right. Inclinez le corps, bend, incline your body. Voyez comme les arbres s'inclinent, see how the trees bend.

L'univers s'incline devant son créateur, the world bows down before its creator. Je m'inclinai respectueusement devant lui, I bowed respectfully before him. Inclinez-vous, do bow, do bow down.

(Fig.) Nous inclinons à la miséricorde, we incline—we are inclined to mercy. J'incline pour cet avis, I incline to that opinion. Nous inclinons à prendre ce parti, we are inclined to take that determination. La victoire inclina long-temps de notre côté, victory, for a long time, inclined—leaned—on our side. Moi, j'incline à aller à Paris, as for me I am for going to Paris. Il paraît incliner pour le barreau, he seems to be inclined—to have an inclination—a bent—for the bar.

INCLURE, v. a. irrég. qui n'a que l'infinitif et le part. passé, inclus, e. Vous trouverez sa lettre ci-incluse, you will find his letter here inclosed. Ayez la complaisance de remettre l'incluse à mon frère, be so kind as to give my brother the letter here inclosed.

INCLUSIVEMENT, adv. inclusively.

INCOERCIBLE, adj. incoercible.

INCOGNITO, adv. subst. m. (mot emprunté du Latin, pron. in-co-gni-to). Le prince voyageait incognito, the prince travelled incognito—under a fictitious name. Je suis ici incognito, I am here incognito—secretly—under a disguised name. Il garde le plus strict incognito, he observes the strictest incognito—secrecy.

INCOHÉRENCE, s. f. incoherence.

INCOHÉRENT, E, adj. incoherent.

INCOLORE, adj. uncoloured; not coloured; without colour.

INCOMBUSTIBILITÉ, s. f. incombustibility.

INCOMBUSTIBLE, adj. incombustible.

INCOMMENSURABILITÉ, s. f. incommensurability.

INCOMMENSURABLE, adj. (t. de géom.), incommensurable.

INCOMMODE, adj. inconvenient. Cela est très-incommode, that is very inconvenient. C'est un homme incommode, he is a troublesome—intrusive man. L'église est incommode, the church is incommodious.

INCOMMODÉMENT, adv. inconveniently.

INCOMMODER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. La moindre chose l'incommode, the slightest thing inconveniences him. Cette chose vous incommode-t-elle, does that inconvenience you—is that in your way? On est fort incommodé dans ces voitures, one is much inconvenienced—one is very uncomfortable—in those carriages. Il a une grosse toux qui l'incommode fort, he has an ugly cough which is very troublesome—distressing to him. J'en ai été très-incommodé, I was much inconvenienced by it. Ce sont des dépenses qui l'incommodent, these expenses inconvenience him. Ces arbres incommodent la vue du château, these trees impede—stop—the sight of the house.

J'ai mangé quelque chose qui m'a incommodé, I ate something which disordered me—which made me unwell—which disagreed with me. Il est incommodé d'un bras, he is disabled of an arm. (T. de marine.) Vaisseau incommodé, a ship in distress.

INCOMMODITÉ, s. f. C'est une grande incommodité que d'être mal logé, it is a great inconvenience—it is very uncomfortable—to be narrowly lodged. Nous avions bien à souffrir des incommodités du voyage, we had much to suffer from the inconveniences—the discomforts—of the journey. Je crains que ces dépenses ne lui causent de l'incommodité, I am afraid these expenses will cause him inconvenience. (T. de marine.) Un vaisseau faisait signal d'incommodité, a ship made signals of distress.

(T. de médec.) Il a de grandes incommodités, he has great infirmities. Les incommodités de l'âge sont son excuse, the infirmities of age are his excuse.

INCOMMUNICABLE, adj. incommunicable; unimpartible.

INCOMMUNICABILITÉ, s. f. incommunicability.

INCOMMUTABILITÉ, s. f. incommutability; unalienability.

INCOMMUTABLE, adj. incommutable; unalienable.

INCOMMUTABLEMENT, adv. incommutably.

INCOMPARABLE, adj. incomparable; matchless; who has not his fellow.

INCOMPARABLEMENT, adv. incomparably.

INCOMPATIBILITÉ, s. f. incompatibility.

INCOMPATIBLE, adj. incompatible.

INCOMPÉTEMMENT, adv. incompetently.

INCOMPÉTENCE, s. f. incompetence.

INCOMPÉTENT, E, adj. incompetent.

INCOMPLET, ÈTE, adj. incomplete; imperfect.

INCOMPLEXE, adj. incomplex.

INCOMPRÉHENSIBILITÉ, s. f. incomprehensibility.

INCOMPRÉHENSIBLE, adj. incomprehensible.

INCOMPRESSIBILITÉ, s. f. (t. de phys.), incompressibility.

INCOMPRESSIBLE, adj. incompressible.

INCONCEVABLE, adj. inconceivable. Il est inconcevable qu'il ne soit pas arrivé, it is inconceivable that he is not yet arrived.

INCONCILIABLE, adj. irreconcilable.

INCONDUITE, s. f. bad conduct; misconduct.

INCONGRU, E, adj. incongruous; inconsistent.

INCONGRUITÉ, s. f. incongruity; irregularity.

INCONGRUMENT, adv. incongruously.

INCONNU, E, adj. unknown. J'étais dans un pays inconnu, I was in an unknown country. Il employa de moyens inconnus, he had recourse to unknown means. Il vit inconnu, he lives unknown. J'éprouvais en moi-même inconnu, I felt a strange agitation. Elle a épousé un homme inconnu, she married a stranger, an unknown person.

INCONSÉQUENCE, s. f. inconsistency; contradiction of things; inconsistent things.

INCONSÉQUENT, adj. inconsistent; illogical; inconsiderate.

INCONSIDÉRATION, s. f. inconsiderateness; inattention; thoughtlessness.

INCONSIDÉRÉ, E, adj. inconsiderate; inattentive.

INCONSIDÉRÉMENT, adv. inconsiderately; heedlessly.

INCONSOLABLE, adj. inconsolable. Il est inconsolable de sa perte, he is inconsolable for his loss. Il est inconsolable, he is inconsolable in it.

INCONSOLABLEMENT, adv. inconsolably.

INCONSTAMMENT, adv. inconstantly.

INCONSTANCE, s. f. (des personnes), inconstancy; fickleness. (Des choses.) L'inconstance de temps, instability—variableness—of the weather. L'inconstance des vents, the instability of the winds. L'inconstance de la fortune, the fickleness—changeableness—of fortune.

INCONSTANT, E, adj. inconstant; fickle; changeable; unstable.

INCONSTITUTIONNEL, LE, adj. unconstitutional.

INCONTESTABLE, adj. incontestable.

INCONTESTABLEMENT, adv. incontestably.

INCONTESTÉ, E, adj. uncontested; undisputed.

INCONTINENCE, s. f. incontinency.

INCONTINENT, adj. incontinent.

INCONVENANT, E, adj. improper; unbecoming.

INCONVÉNIENT, s. m. inconvenience. (Sans remédier à cet inconvénient, how will you remedy the inconvenience? Je n'y vois pas d'inconvénient, I see no inconvenience, no objection, no difficulty.

INCORPORALITÉ, s. f. incorporality.

INCORPORATION, s. f. incorporation.

INCORPOREL, ELLE, adj. incorporeal.

INCORPORER, v. a. et r. rég. 1ère conj. to incorporate. Ces deux substances se sont incorporées par frottement, these two substances do not easily incorporate.

INCORRECT, E, adj. incorrect.

INCORRECTION, s. f. incorrectness.

INCORRIGIBILITÉ, s. f. incorrigibility.

INCORRIGIBLE, adj. incorrigible.

INCORRUPTIBLE, adj. incorruptible.

INCORRUPTIBILITÉ, s. f. incorruptibility; incorruptibleness.

INCRASSANT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), incrassative.

INCRÉDIBILITÉ, s. f. incredibility.

INCRÉDULE, adj. incredulous; (t. de théol.) unbeliever.

INCRÉÉ, E, adj. uncreated.

INCRIMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to incriminate; to charge, to accuse of a crime.

INCROYABLE, adj. incredible. Il a fait des choses incroyables, he has done incredible things. Vous me dites-là une chose incroyable, you tell me an incredible thing. Je souffrais des maux incroyables, I suffered excessive—extraordinary pains. (Impersn.) Il est incroyable combien il a fait de sottises, it is incredible how many follies he has committed. Il n'est pas incroyable qu'il fasse des miracles, it is not incredible that he should perform miracles. s. m. Voulez-vous que je croie l'incroyable? am I to believe incredible things?

(T. d'hist.) Sous le Directoire, les incroyables étaient les Dandys, les élégants de l'époque, under the Directory (Oct. 1795), the "Incroyables" were the Dandys, the elegants of the time.

INCROYABLEMENT, adv. incredibly; excessively.

INCROYANCE, s. f. unbelief; infidelity.

INCRUSTATION, s. f. (pron. in-cruce-ta-cion.), incrustation. (T. d'art.) Ce meuble est orné d'incrustations, the furniture is enriched with inlayings (of gold, silver, &c.).

INCRUSTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'art), to inlay. Incruster d'or une tabatière, to inlay a box with gold. Ces pistolets sont incrustés de filets d'argent, these pistols are inlaid with silver, &c. Cela s'est incrusté dans la pierre, it became imbedded in the stone.

INCUBATION, s. f. incubation.

INCUBE, s. m. incubus.

INCULPATION, s. f. inculpation. Comment vous justifierez-vous de cette inculpation, how can you clear yourself from this charge?

INCULPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to charge; to accuse. Il s'inculpe d'une faute qu'il n'a pas commise, he is accused of—charged with—a fault he has not committed. Il a inculpé une personne, the accused.

INCULQUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. On lui a inculqué de bons principes dans l'esprit, they inculcated good principles in his mind. Ces choses s'inculquent facilement dans la mémoire, these things are easily inculcated in the memory.

INCULTE, adj. uncultivated. Des terres incultes, uncultivated—waste—lands. Un esprit inculte, an uncultivated—a rude—mind. Des mœurs incultes et sauvages, uncultivated—wild manners.

INCULTURE, s. f. uncultivated state; want of cultivation.

INCURABILITÉ, s. f. incurability; incurable state.

INCURABLE, adj. incurable; (fig.), incurable; irremediable.

INCURIE, s. f. carelessness; negligence; want of care.

INCURIOSITÉ, s. f. want of curiosity; indifference; curiosity.

INCURSION, s. f. incursion; inroad.

INCUSE, adj. f. (t. de numismatique). Une médaille incuse, a medal imperfectly struck.

INDE, s. f. (t. de géog.), India. Il a beaucoup voyagé dans l'Inde, he travelled much in India. Il est allé chercher fortune dans les Indes, he has gone to India—in the Indies—in search of fortune. Ils introduisirent le Mahométisme dans l'Inde, they introduced Mahometanism in India.

Les Indes orientales, les Grandes Indes, the East Indies. Les Indes Occidentales, the West Indies. L'Inde anglaise, the East Indies, the English possessions in India. La compagnie des Indes, the East India company.

(T. de teinturier.) Inde; bois d'Inde, m. (voyez Campêche). Inde, Bleu d'Inde, (voyez Indigo). (T. de hist. nat.) Coq d'Inde, turkey.

INDÉBROUILLABLE, adj. that cannot be cleared, disentangled.

INDÉCEMMENT, adv. indecently; unbecomingly.

INDÉCENCE, s. f. indecency. Il y a de l'indécence à parler ainsi, it is indecent to speak thus—there is indecency in speaking thus. Ce livre est plein d'indécences, the book is full of obscenities, of obscene things.

INDÉCENT E, adj. indecent; improper; obscene. Il est indécent à un jeune homme de se conduire ainsi, it is improper—unbecoming in a young man—to behave in this manner.

INDÉCHIFFRABLE, adj. undecypherable; that cannot be decyphered; obscure. (Des personnes.), unfathomable; inexplicable.

INDÉCIS, E, adj. undecided; not determined; not settled; vague; doubtful.

INDÉCISION, s. f. indecision. Je suis encore dans l'indécision du parti que je dois prendre, I am still in indecision as to the resolution I shall take.

INDÉCLINABILITÉ, s. f. (t. de gramm.), indeclinability.

INDÉCLINABLE, adj. indeclinable.

INDÉCOMPOSABLE, adj. indecomposable.

INDÉCROTTABLE, adj. not to be cleaned. (Fig.) C'est un homme indécrottable, he is an unmanageable man.

INDÉFECTIBILITÉ, s. f. indefectibility.

INDÉFECTIBLE, adj. indefectible.

INDÉFINI, adj. indefinite; (t. de gramm.), indefinite.

INDÉFINIMENT, adv. indefinitely.

INDÉFINISSABLE, adj. that cannot be defined; undefinable. (Des Personnes.) C'est un homme indéfinissable, he is an inexplicable man.

INDÉLÉBILE, adj. indelible; ineffaceable; not to be blotted out.

INDÉLIBÉRÉ, E, adj. indeliberate; not considerate; inconsiderate.

INDÉLICAT, E, adj. indelicate. Vous êtes bien indélicat d'agir ainsi, you are very indelicate to act as you do.

INDÉLICATESSE, s. f. indelicacy.

INDEMNE, adj. (t. de jurisp., pron. in-dèmne). Rendre indemne, to indemnify. Sortir indemne, to come out of a business free, clear from loss, &c.

INDEMNISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., (pron. in-dèmne-ni-zer). Il faut l'indemniser des pertes qu'il a faites, he is to be indemnified for the losses he has had. Il s'est indemnisé du dommage qu'il a souffert, he has indemnified himself for the loss he has incurred.

INDÉPENDAMMENT, adv. independently.

INDÉPENDAMMENT (employé comme prépositon), independently of.

INDÉPENDANCE, s. f. independence. Il faudra renoncer à votre indépendance, you will have to give up your independence. C'est un esprit d'indépendance, he is an independent mind.

INDÉPENDANT, E, adj. independent. Tout cela est indépendant des circonstances, all that is independent of circumstances. La nation est indépendante, the nation is independent.

INDESTRUCTIBILITÉ, s. f. indestructibility.

INDESTRUCTIBLE, adj. indestructible.

INDÉTERMINATION, s. f. indetermination; unsettledness; irresolution.

INDÉTERMINÉ, E, adj. indeterminate; undecided; irresolute.

INDÉTERMINÉMENT, adv. indeterminately.

INDÉVOT, E, adj. indevout; not devout. s. m. unbeliever.

INDÉVOTEMENT, adv. indevoutly.

INDÉVOTION, s. f. want of devotion; indevotion.

INDEX, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. in-dèxe), index. Le doigt index, the index finger. Voyez à l'index, look in the index. Mettre une chose à l'index, to prohibit—to forbid—a thing.

INDICATEUR, s. m. indicator; denunciator; informer. (T. d'anatomie), index.

INDICATIF, adj. indicative.

INDICATIF, s. m. (t. de gramm.), indicative. Le verbe est à l'indicatif, the verb is in the indicative.

INDICATION, s. f. indication; sign; mark. Il fut arrêté dans la foule sur l'indication d'un tel, he was arrested in the crowd upon the indications given by such a one. Toutes ces indications sont fautives, all these indications are faulty. Son embarras est une indication de ut faute, his confusion is a sign—a proof—of his being guilty. (T. de médec.), indication.

INDICE, s. m. Quel indice avez-vous que cela soit? what proof—evidence—have you that it be so? On ne condamne pas un homme sur de simples indices, a man is not to be condemned upon mere presumption. Cette action est l'indice d'une belle âme, that action is the indication of a noble mind. On a mis ce livre à l'indice. Voyez Index.

INDICIBLE, adj. unspeakable.

INDICTION, s. f. convocation. (T. de chronol.), indiction, (a cycle of fifteen years).

INDICULE, s. m., petit indice. Voyez Indice.

INDIEN, NE, s. f. adj. Indian. Il a épousé une jeune Indienne, he married a young Indian woman. Parlez-vous l'Indien? do you know—do you speak—the Indian language—the Sanscrit?

INDIENNE, s. f., étoffe de coton peinte, qui vient des Indes, chintz. Des rideaux d'Indienne, chintz curtains. Je ne suis fait faire cette Indienne-ci, I have had this chintz dressing-gown made. (Imitation), printed calico; printed stuffs. Elle avait une jolie robe d'Indienne, she had on a pretty printed dress.

INDIFFÉREMMENT, adv. (pron. in-diffé-ra-ment), indifferently; coldly; without concern; without distinction; indiscriminately.

INDIFFÉRENCE, s. f. indifference; coldness. D'où lui vient cette indifférence? whence comes that indifference? J'ai de l'indifférence pour ces choses, I am indifferent to these things. Il a de l'indifférence pour sa famille, he is indifferent to—he shows indifference for—his family. C'est un homme plein d'indifférence, he is a man most indifferent to all things.

INDIFFÉRENT, E, adj. Le choix entre ces deux moyens est indifférent, the choice between these two ways is quite indifferent—immaterial. Il est indifférent de suivre l'une ou l'autre route, whether we follow the one or the other way is a matter of perfect indifference—is quite immaterial. Il nous a envoyé des choses indifférentes, he sent us but indifferent—middling—things.

Nous parlions de choses indifférentes, we were speaking of indifferent things. Tout cela m'est parfaitement indifférent, all that is quite immaterial to me. Il nous est indifférent que cela soit ou non, it is quite immaterial—indifferent—whether it be so or no.

Il l'aime, mais il lui est indifférent, he loves her, but he is indifferent to her—she does not care about him. Quel être indifférent! what a cold being—,—what an unconcerned—uninterested—person! Il est indifférent à tout, he is indifferent to every thing—,—he feels no interest for any thing. Elle n'est pas indifférente aux louanges, she is not insensible to praise. Elle le revit d'un œil indifférent, she saw him again with indifference. Il n'a pas le cœur si indifférent qu'il voudrait le paraître, he is not so cold-hearted—so uninterested—as he would appear. Il fut étonné de les retrouver si indifférents, he was surprised, when he saw them again, to find them so cold—so unconcerned.

s. m. f. Les indifférents jugent avec impartialité, people who are unconcerned—uninterested—judge things with impartiality. C'est une belle indifférente, she is a cruel beauty.

INDIGENCE, s. f. indigence; poverty. Secourir l'indigence, to succour the poor—the indigent. Quelle indigence d'idées, what poverty of ideas.

INDIGÈNE, adj. indigenous. s. m. Les indigènes, the natives; the indigenous people.

INDIGENT, E, adj. indigent; poor.

INDIGESTE, adj. not easy of digestion; heavy; crude; indigestible; (fig.), undigested.

INDIGESTION, s. f. indigestion. Il a des indigestions, he has—he suffers from—indigestion.

INDIGÈTE, adj. Un dieu indigète, a local divinity.

INDIGNATION, s. f. indignation.

INDIGNE, adj. unworthy. Il est indigne de vos bontés, he is unworthy—undeserving—of your kindness. Il est indigne que vous lui témoignez tant de bonté, he does not deserve that you should show him so much kindness. Elle en est indigne, she is unworthy—undeserving—of it. Il est indigne de foi, he is unworthy of belief. Ce crime est indigne de pardon, that crime is unworthy of pardon. Je suis votre serviteur indigne, I am your unworthy servant.

Vous vous êtes rendu coupable d'une action indigne, you have committed—you are guilty of—a dastardly action. Rougissez, ô homme indigne, blush, O man—base—man. C'est un indigne, he is a despicable man.

INDIGNEMENT, adv. unworthily; shamefully.

INDIGNER, v. a. réj. Ière conj. Cette action indigne tout le monde contre lui, that action shocked every one—excited the indignation of all—against him.

Je suis indigné de sa conduite, I am indignant at his conduct. Elle en est indignée, she is angry at it—shocked at it. Il s'indigne de voir que—, he is angry to see that—. Elle s'est indignée de ses propositions, she felt indignant—offended—at these proposals.

INDIGNITÉ, s. f. indignity; affront; offence; enormity. Ces malheureux ont commis des indignités, these wretches have committed atrocities—atrocious things. Quelle indignité! what a shame!

INDIGO, s. m. indigo. L'indigo vient de l'Inde, indigo comes from India. Teindre en indigo, to dye blue—indigo blue.

INDIGOTERIE, s. f. indigo plantation.

INDIQUER, v. a. réj. Ière conj. Indiquez-moi, plus jeune, show me the youngest. Je lui indiquai la chose du doigt, I pointed at the thing with my finger. N'indiquez-vous pas la place que je vous indique? do you not see the spot I point out to you?

Indiquez-moi le lieu où il demeure, tell me the place where he lives. Je pourrais vous indiquer sa loge, si vous voulez, I could name—recommend—a good box, if you wanted it. Ce poteau indique le chemin, the post shows—marks—the way. La table s'indique aux pages, the table of contents does not tell us—does not point out—the pages. Comment indiquer les causes de ces phénomènes? how are we to indicate the causes of these phenomena? Qui peut indique de la pluie, it indicates—bespeaks—rain. Quelle heure a-t-on indiquée? what hour was appointed? Il arriva à l'heure indiquée, he arrived at the appointed hour. (T. de médecine.) Votre pouls indique la fièvre, your pulse indicates that you want bleeding. (T. d'arts.) D'un coup de crayon il indique un chemin, with one stroke of his pencil he gives you an idea of a road. Tout cela est à peine indiqué, all that is hardly drawn out—,—the outline is hardly marked out.

INDIRECT, E, adj. Nous sommes venus par un chemin indirect, we came by an indirect road. Une lettre m'est venue par des voies indirectes, a letter reached me by indirect means. Il a des vues indirectes, he has indirect—crooked—underhand views. (T. de grammaire.) C'est le régime indirect, it is an indirect regimen. (T. de finance.) Les contributions indirectes. Voyez Contributions.

INDIRECTEMENT, adv. indirectly.

INDISCIPLINABLE, adj. indisciplinable; unmanageable, unruly.

INDISCIPLINÉ, E, adj. indisciplined; unruly.

INDISCRET, ÈTE, adj. indiscreet; unthinking; incorrection; inconsiderate; injudicious. Cet homme est indiscret, that man is indiscreet—talks too much—tells what he knows. Ces paroles indiscrètes lui ont fait tort, these inconsiderate—imprudent—words have done him injury. Votre curiosité est indiscrète, your curiosity is improper—you are too inquisitive. Sa conduite a été grandement indiscrète, his conduct is truly inconsiderate.

INDISCRET, ÈTE, s. m. f. Éloignez les indiscrets, drive away the inquisitive.

INDISCRÈTEMENT, adv. indiscreetly; heedlessly; inconsiderately.

INDISCRÉTION, s. f. indiscretion, want of reflection; inconsiderateness. Il a beaucoup d'indiscrétion, his indiscretion is great; he is very indiscreet. Il a fait d'une grande indiscrétion, he is extremely indiscreet—inconsiderate. Y aurait-il de l'indiscrétion à vous demander si—, would there be indiscretion in asking you ...—would it be indiscreet to ask you if—. Il a fait de grandes indiscrétions, he has done many indiscreet things —many inconsiderate things.

INDISPENSABLE, adj. indispensable,

INDISPENSABLEMENT, adv. indispensably; necessarily.

INDISPONIBLE, adj. not to be disposed of.

INDISPOSÉ, E, adj. unwell. Il y a huit jours que je me sens indisposé, I have been unwell this week.

INDISPOSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Quelque chose l'a indisposé contre vous, something has indisposed him against you—has made him unfavourable to you.

INDISPOSITION, s. f. Il est remis de son indisposition, he has recovered from his indisposition. Y a-t-il long-temps que cette indisposition dure? have you been ill long—how long has this indisposition lasted? Je ne sais d'où lui vient cette indisposition contre moi, I know not whence comes his disinclination to serve me—his indisposition towards me.

INDISSOLUBILITÉ, s. f. indissolubleness; indissolubility.

INDISSOLUBLE, adj. indissoluble.

INDISSOLUBLEMENT, adv. indissolubly. [Bued.

INDISTINCT, E, adj. indistinct; confused; undefined.

INDISTINCTEMENT, adv. indistinctly; confusedly; indiscriminately.

INDIVIDU, s. m. individual; person. (Fam.) Qui est individu? who is that man—that fellow? Il a de son individu, he takes care of his own dear self.

INDIVIDUALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to individualize; to distinguish.

INDIVIDUALITÉ, s. f. individuality.

INDIVIDUEL, LE, adj. (pron. in-di-vi-du-el), individual.

INDIVIDUELLEMENT, adv. individually.

INDIVIS, E, adj. undivided. (T. de jurisp.) Ils possèdent cette terre par indivis, they possess that estate undivided.

INDIVISÉMENT, adv. (t. de jurisp.). jointly; undivisedly.

INDIVISIBILITÉ, s. f. indivisibility. [videdly.

INDIVISIBLE, adj. indivisible.

INDIVISIBLEMENT, adv. indivisibly.

INDIVISION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), joint possession.

IN-DIX-HUIT, s. m. adj (T. de librairie.) Un livre in-dix-huit—un in-dix-huit, a book in eighteens—18mo volume.

INDOCILE, adj. indocile; untractable; unmanageable.

INDOCILITÉ, s. f. indocility; untractableness; unteachableness.

INDOLENCE, s. f. indolence; inaction; want of action.

INDOLENT, E, adj. indolent; lazy; inactive.

INDOMPTABLE, adj. (pron. in-don-ta-ble), untameable; (fig.), unconquerable; irresistible.

INDOMPTÉ, E, adj. (pron. in-don-té), unbroken; untamed; unconquered.

IN-DOUZE, s. m. adj. (T. de librairie.) Un volume in-douze, un in-douze, a twelves volume; a duodecimo volume.

INDU, E, adj. Il vient toujours à des heures indues, he always comes at unseasonable—improper—inconvenient hours.

INDUBITABLE, adj. indubitable; not to be doubted; undoubtable.

INDUBITABLEMENT, adv. indubitably; unquestionably.

INDUCTION, s. f. induction.

INDUIRE, v. a. rég. 6ème conj. (voyez Conduire), to induce. C'est lui qui m'a induit à le faire, it was he who induced me to do it. Rien ne pourrait m'y induire, nothing could induce me to do that. Il m'a induit en—erreur, he led me into error. Ne nous induisez pas en tentation, do not lead us into temptation. (T. de logique.) Qu'induisez-vous de là? what do you infer—infer—from that? Je n'en induis rien de bon, I infer—conclude—nothing good from it.

INDULGEMMENT, adv. with indulgence; with forbearance.

INDULGENCE, s. f. Vous avez trop d'indulgence pour eux, you are too kind to them—you are too indulgent —you indulge them too much—you show them too much indulgence. C'est son indulgence qui les a perdus, his indulgencies have ruined them—he has indulged them to their ruin. Il use d'indulgence, he acts with forbearance —with patience. Il a besoin d'indulgence, he needs forgiveness—forbearance. Les critiques ont été d'une extrême indulgence pour lui, the critics have spared him most indulgently—have been most indulgent to him.

(T. de l'église de Rome.) L'église accorde des indulgences aux fidèles, the church gives indulgences—pardons —to the faithful. Il y a une indulgence pour quarante jours, there is an indulgence—a pardon—for forty days (to those who during that day will perform certain religious ceremonies). Les indulgences plénières, full forgiveness, pardon.

INDULGENT, E, adj. Vous êtes trop indulgent pour vos enfants, you are too kind—too indulgent to your children—you indulge them too much. Il faut être indulgent pour ses amis, we must be forgiving to our friends. Vous êtes trop indulgent pour vous-même, you are too ready to forgive yourself—too ready to forgive—to excuse—yourself. Montrez-vous critique indulgent, show yourself to be a kind—indulgent—critic.

INDULT, s. m. (pron. in-dulte); (à Rome et dans l'église Romaine), indult; a privilege on certain livings. (En Espagne), a tax of the king on American merchandise.

INDULTAIRE, adj. a person having, holding, an indult.

INDÛMENT, adv. unduly.

INDUSTRIE, s. f. Cet homme a beaucoup d'industrie, that man has much industry. Il emploie son industrie à supporter sa famille, he uses his industry to maintain his family. C'est un homme d'industrie, he is an industrious man. Il y a de l'industrie à faire de ces choses, it requires industry—talent—some art—to do these things. Il vit de son industrie, he lives by his own exertions. (Métier, profession mercantile.) Cette petite industrie leur donne du pain, that little trade—business—gives them bread. Vous devriez exercer quelque industrie, you ought to do something—to have some occupation—some trade.

Vivre d'industrie, to live by one's wits. Chevalier d'industrie, a swindler.

Industrie, manufacture; mechanic art. Le roi protège le commerce et l'industrie, the king protects trade and manufacture. L'industrie Française fait de grands progrès, French manufactures are greatly improving. La nature des contrées détermine à quelle branche d'industrie on doit s'adonner, the nature of the country shows what branch of manufacture should be cultivated.

(T. d'écon. polit.) L'industrie agricole, agricultural labour. Industrie commerciale, commercial interest. L'industrie manufacturière, manufacturing interest. Industrie coloniale, colonial produce.

INDUSTRIEL, LE, adj. Les arts industriels, the mechanical—the manufacturing—arts. Les produits industriels, the manufactured produce.

INDUSTRIEL, s. m. (t. de commerce), mechanic; manufacturer. Il faut protéger les industriels, manufacturers must be protected. C'est un honnête industriel, he is an honest mechanic.

INDUSTRIEUSEMENT, adv. industriously; with art.

INDUSTRIEUX, EUSE, adj. industrious; dexterous. C'est un homme d'un esprit industrieux, he is a very active—clever—industrious man.

INDUT, s. m. (t. d'église). This name is given, in the Roman Catholic church, to the priest who, in full canonicals, assists the officiating priests at the altar.

INÉBRANLABLE, adj. immovable. Cette masse est inébranlable, this mass is immovable. Ce roc est inébranlable à l'impétuosité des vents, that rock stands firmly —without being moved by—the impetuosity of the winds. (Fig.) Il est inébranlable aux coups de l'adversité, he is unmoved—unshaken—by the strokes of adversity. Mon parti est pris, je suis inébranlable, I have taken a determination—.—I am immovable—nothing can move me from it.

INÉBRANLABLEMENT, adv. firmly; immovably.

INÉCHU, E, adj. unexpired.

INÉDIT, E, adj. inedited; unpublished.

INEFFABILITÉ, s. f. ineffableness; unspeakableness.

INEFFABLE, adj. ineffable; unspeakable.

INEFFAÇABLE, adj. indelible; not to be effaced.

INEFFICACE, adj. inefficacious; ineffectual.

INEFFICACITÉ, s. f. inefficacy; want of effect; inefficaciousness.

INÉGAL, E, adj. unequal. (Raboteux), uneven; rough. (Irrégulier), irregular. (Fig.) Il est inégal dans sa conduite, he is uneven—he is not always the same—in his conduct. C'est un écrivain bien inégal, that writer is very unequal—irregular.

INÉGALEMENT, adv. unequally; unevenly.

INÉGALITÉ, s. f. inequality; unevenness; irregularity; asperity.

INÉLÉGANCE, s. f. inelegance.

INÉLÉGANT, E, adj. inelegant.

INÉLIGIBLE, adj. ineligible.

INÉNARRABLE, adj. inenarrable; that cannot be related.

INEPTE, adj. inept; unfit; unsuitable.

INEPTIE, s. f. (pron. i-nèpe-cie), ineptitude; unfitness; absurdity.

INÉPUISABLE, adj. inexhaustible.

INERME, adj. (t. de bot.), inerm; inermous.

INERTE, adj. inert: (fig.), inert; dull; sluggish.

INERTIE, s. f. (pron. i-ner-cie), inertness. Force d'inertie, vis inertiæ. (Fig.), inertness; inactivity.

INESPÉRÉ, E, adj. unexpected—unhoped for.

INESPÉRÉMENT, adv. unexpectedly.

INESTIMABLE, adj. inestimable; invaluable; above price.

INÉVITABLE, adj. unavoidable.

INÉVITABLEMENT, adv. unavoidably.

INEXACT, E, adj. unexact; incorrect; inaccurate.

INEXACTEMENT, adv. incorrectly; inaccurately.

INEXACTITUDE, s. f. inexactness; incorrectness; inaccuracy.

INEXCUSABLE, adj. inexcusable.

INEXÉCUTION, s. f. inexecution; non-performance.

INEXERCÉ, E, adj. unexercised; unpractised.

INEXIGIBLE, adj. that cannot be required—demanded.

INEXORABLE, adj. inexorable.

INEXORABLEMENT, adv. inexorably.

INEXPÉRIENCE, s. f. inexperience.

INEXPÉRIMENTÉ, E, adj. inexperienced.

INEXPIABLE, adj. inexpiable.

INEXPLICABLE, adj. inexplicable; unintelligible.

INEXPRIMABLE, adj. inexpressible; unutterable.

INEXPUGNABLE, adj. (pron. in-nex-pug-nable), inexpugnable; impregnable.

INEXTINGUIBLE, adj. (pron. i-nex-tin-gu-ible), inextinguishable.

IN EXTREMIS, at the last extremity.

INEXTRICABLE, adj. inextricable.

INFAILLIBILITÉ, s. f. infallibility.

INFAILLIBLE, adj. infallible.

INFAILLIBLEMENT, adv. infallibly.

INFAISABLE, adj. (pron. in-fe-sable), that cannot be done.

INFAMANT, E, adj. disgraceful; infamous; degrading. On lui imposa une peine infamante, they inflicted on him a degrading penalty.

INFAMATION, s. f. degradation.

INFÂME, adj. infamous. La chose est infâme, the thing is infamous—odious. Faire un trafic infâme, to carry on an infamous—a shameful—business. (Fam.) On nous logea dans un taudis infâme, we were placed in an abominable hovel.

INFÂME, s. m. Les infâmes ne sont pas reçus en témoignage, infamous—branded—degraded—persons are not admitted to give testimony.

INFAMIE, s. f. infamy. Vivre dans l'infamie, to live in infamy—to lead an infamous life. L'infamie a plus à craindre que la mort, infamy is more to be fear[ed] than death. Il est noté d'infamie, he is branded with [in]famy. Cette peine emporte l'infamie, that punishment [in]famy—degradation—with it.

Il est couvert d'infamie, he is covered with [in]shame. C'est une infamie de manquer à sa parole, it [is] shameful—an infamy—to break your word. Il a commis cent infamies, he did a thousand infamous things. Il a dit mille infamies, he treated him infamously—abused him most outrageously.

INFANT, s. m. infante, [a title given to the] INFANTA, s. f. infanta, [and Portuguese] daughters of the king, except the heir apparent.

INFANTERIE, s. f. infantry. Nous avions deux hommes d'infanterie, we had ten thousand [men—of] INFANTICIDE, s. m. infanticide. (Des personnes) infanticide.

INFATIGABLE, adj. indefatigable; untiring.

INFATIGABLEMENT, adv. indefatigably; [un]wearied.

INFATUATION, s. f. infatuation. On ne peut guérir de son infatuation, he cannot be cured of [his] infatuation. Il est dans une grande infatuation de sa noblesse, he is much infatuated with his nobility.

INFATUER, v. a. v. n. réj. 1ère conj., to [in]fatuate. Je ne puis voir ce qui vous a infatué de cet homme, I cannot see what has infatuated you with that [man]. Il laisse infatuer de sa richesse, he suffers himself [to be] infatuated with his riches. Il s'infatue de la beauté qu'il voit, he is taken—prepossessed—with [the] beauty he meets with. Il est infatué de sa personne, he is much taken—infatuated—with his own person. Il est si infatué de son talent, he is so vain—he has [such an] idea—of his talents!

INFÉCOND, E, adj. barren; infertile.

INFÉCONDITÉ, s. f. barrenness; want of [fer]tility.

INFECT, E, adj. infectious.

INFECTER, v. a. réj. 1ère conj., to infect. Ces lieux sont infectés de la peste, these places are infected [with the] plague.

INFECTION, s. f. infection.

INFÉODATION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), enfeoffment.

INFÉODER, v. a. réj. 1ère conj., to enfeoff.

INFÉRER, v. a. réj. 1ère conj., to infer. J'infère rien de bon, I infer nothing good from it.

INFÉRIEUR, E, adj. inferior; lower. La région inférieure de l'air, the lower region of the air. La mâchoire inférieure, the lower jaw. La Germanie inférieure, Lower Germany. La Seine inférieure, the Lower [Seine].

Vous lui êtes bien inférieur en mérite, you are [in]ferior to him in point of merit. Les classes inférieures de la société, the inferior classes of society. Les nations inférieures en forces, our forces were [in]ferior to theirs.

INFÉRIEUR, s. m. Les inférieurs doivent aux supérieurs, inferiors owe respect to their [su]periors.

INFÉRIEUREMENT, adv. in an inferior [man]ner.

INFÉRIORITÉ, s. f. inferiority.

INFERNAL, E, adj. infernal.

INFERTILE, adj. barren; unproductive; [un]fertile.

INFERTILITÉ, s. f. infertility; barrenness.

INFESTER, v. a. réj. 1ère conj., to infest. La Grèce était infestée par des brigands, France was infested with robbers. Les mers sont infestées de pirates, the seas are infested with pirates. L'air en était infesté, the air was infested with them.

INFIBULATION, s. f. (t. de téterin.), infibulation.

INFIBULER, v. a. réj. 1ère conj., to infibulate.

INFIDÈLE, adj. unfaithful; faithless. Il a été infidèle à sa femme, he is unfaithful to his wife—he is [false] to her. Il est infidèle à sa parole, he is not faithful—he does not keep—his word. C'est un ami infidèle, he is an unfaithful friend. Un domestique infidèle, an faithful—a dishonest—servant. La mer est très infidèle, the sea is a treacherous element. La victoire lui devint infidèle, victory abandoned him—left him. Vous en a fait un rapport infidèle, he gave you an inexact account of it. Cette copie est infidèle.

not exact—is not true. J'ai la mémoire infidèle, I ve a bad memory—an incorrect memory. Cette glace infidèle, this mirror is not true—faithful.
INFIDÈLE, s. m. f. Elle voulait ramener l'infidèle, wished to bring back the faithless man.
Il est allé convertir les infidèles, he has gone to convert infidels.
INFIDÈLEMENT, adv. faithlessly; unfaithfully.
INFIDÉLITÉ, s. f. unfaithfulness; infidelity. Com- ment pardonner son infidélité? how can I pardon him infidelity—his faithlessness—his want of fidelity?
Il y a beaucoup d'infidélités dans ce livre, there are inexact—incorrect—things—inaccuracies—in this Il a fait des infidélités à sa femme, he has been ithful to his wife many times. Mon domestique a mis des infidélités, my servant has been dishonest—ucted dishonestly. Son infidélité comme historien, copiste, est étonnante, his inaccuracy—his inexle as a writer, as a copyist, is astonishing. L'infi- lé de la mémoire, the want of memory—the failing of ory. Il y a de grandes infidélités dans cette tra- on, this translation is very inaccurate, very faulty.
T. de théol.) Il vit dans l'infidélité, he lives in infi-y.
INFILTRATION, s. f. infiltration.
INFILTRER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to infiltrate.
INFIME, adj. lowest. Les rangs infimes de la société, west ranks of society.
INFINI, E, adj. infinite; numberless; boundless. La nce est infinie, the goodness of God is infinite.
attends un temps infini, I waited for him an immense La distance est infinie, the distance is immense—lless. Il y avait un monde infini, there was an —a numberless—quantity of people. Nous vous des obligations infinies, we owe you infinite—many gations.
INFINI, s. m. infinite. A l'infini, adv. ad infinitum, nt end.
INFINIMENT, adv. infinitely; extremely.
INFINITÉ, s. f. infinity; great many.
INFINITÉSIMAL, E, adj. infinitesimal.
INFINITIF, s. m. (t. de gramm.) infinitive. On met e à l'infinitif, the verb is put in the infinitive.
INFIRMATIF, IVE, adj. annulling; making void.
INFIRME, adj. infirm; feeble; frail.
INFIRMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to make void; to
; to invalidate.
INFIRMERIE, s. f. hospital; infirmary.
INFIRMIER, ÈRE, s. m. f. an attendant in an hospital;
e.
INFIRMITÉ, s. f. infirmity. Il a une infirmité bien
e, he has a very troublesome infirmity. (Morale- feebleness; weakness.
INFLAMMABLE, adj. inflammable; combustible.
INFLAMMATION, s. f. inflammation; combustion;
INFLAMMATION, inflammation.
INFLAMMATOIRE, adj. (t. de médec.), inflammatory.
INFLÉCHIR, S', v. r. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to become—inflected.
INFLEXIBILITÉ, s. f. inflexibility; inflexibleness;
ling nature.
INFLEXIBLE, adj. inflexible; unbending.
INFLEXIBLEMENT, adv. inflexibly.
INFLEXION, s. f. inflexion.
INFLIGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Telles sont les que les lois infligent au coupable, such are the ons which the laws inflict on the guilty. Vous lui fligé une punition trop sévère, you inflicted on him ve a chastisement.
INFLORESCENCE, s. f. (t. de bot.), inflorescence.
INFLUENCE, s. f. influence. Je ne puis me sous- à son influence, I cannot escape his influence. Cet a beaucoup d'influence à la cour, that man has influence—much credit—at court.
INFLUENCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to influence. Il

INFLUENT, E, adj. influential.
INFLUENZA, s. f. (t. de médec.). Voyez Grippe.
INFLUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. La lune influe sur les marées, the moon has an influence on the tides. Une bonne éducation influe sur le reste de la vie, a good education has—exercises—an influence over the rest of life.
IN-FOLIO, s. m. adj. (t. d'imprimerie). Les in-folio sont incommodes à lire, folios—folio volumes—are inconvenient for reading.
INFONDRE, v. a. rég. 4ème conj., to infuse.
INFORMABLE, adj. not to be forced.
INFORMATION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), inquiry. On travaille à des informations sur cette affaire, they are making inquiries on that business.
(Langage commun.) Il est allé aux informations, he has gone to make inquiries. J'ai pris des informations;
tout est en règle, I have inquired—I have made inquiries
—I have had references—all is right.
INFORME, adj. informe; shapeless. (T. de jurisp.), informal; irregular.
INFORMER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to inform;
to acquaint (a person with a thing); to tell. Informez- moi régulièrement de ce que vous verrez, inform me of—tell me—acquaint me with—every thing you see regularly. C'est une chose dont je suis bien informé, it is a thing as to which I am well informed—acquainted. Je me suis bien informé, I inquired well—I made good inquires. Je m'informai de la vérité du fait, I inquired into the truth of the fact. Vous êtes-vous informé de sa santé? have you inquired how he is? Allez-vous informer de sa santé, go and inquire how her health is—how she is. Je m'en suis informé, I inquired about it.
(T. de jurisp.) Les magistrats informent contre lui, the magistrates are receiving informations against him—are inquiring into the accusation against him.
INFORMÉ, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), inquiry. Après plus ample informé on n'a rien découvert, after further inquiry nothing was found out.
INFORTUNE, s. f. misfortune; ill fortune; calamity.
INFORTUNÉ, E, adj. unhappy. Je plains son sort infortuné, I pity his unhappy lot. Père infortuné, unhappy—unfortunate father. Je plains les infortunés, I pity the unhappy—the unfortunate.
INFRACTEUR, s. m. infractor; one who acts against,
INFRACTRICE, s. f. who violates, breaks, &c.
INFRACTION, s. f. infraction; violation.
INFRÉQUENTÉ, E, adj. unfrequented; solitary.
INFRUCTUEUSEMENT, adv. fruitlessly; unprofit-ably.
INFRUCTUEUX, SE, adj. fruitless; unprofitable;
unavailing.
INFRUCTUOSITÉ, s. f. barrenness; (fig.), unavail-ingness.
INFUS, E, adj. Il croit avoir la science infuse, he thinks he has intuitive learning—that he was born with innate learning.
INFUSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to steep; to infuse. Il faut l'infuser à froid, you must infuse it—steep it—in cold water. Vous ne donnez pas au thé le temps d'infuser, you do not give the tea sufficient time to infuse —to draw.
INFUSIBLE, adj. infusible.
INFUSION, s. f. infusion.
INFUSOIRE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), infusory.
INGAMBE, adj. Il est encore ingambe, malgré son âge, he is still alert—active—in spite of his age—he makes still good use of his legs.
INGÉNIER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to contrive; to manage.
INGÉNIEUR, s. m. engineer. Ingénieur des ponts et chaussées, surveyor—engineer—having the care of roads and bridges. Ingénieur militaire, military engineer.
Ingénieur maritime, naval constructor—engineer. In- génieur géographe, surveyor. Ingénieur, optician; instrument maker.
INGÉNIEUSEMENT, adv. ingeniously.
INGÉNIEUX, SE, adj. ingenious; full of ingenuity.

INGÉNU, E, adj. ingenuous; candid; frank; simple-minded. Ce jeune homme est ingénu, this young man is ingenuous—frank. Il fit une réponse fort ingénue, he made a very simple—candid answer. D'un air ingénu, with a simple air. D'une bouche ingénue, with candid lips. Cette jeune personne est si ingénue, this girl is so simple-hearted—simple-minded. Faire l'ingénu, to pretend innocence—to affect simple-mindedness. Avez-vous lu l'Ingénu de Voltaire? have you read the simple-minded young man of Voltaire?

(T. d'histoire), frank; native; ingenuous. (T. de théâtre.) Il joue les ingénus, he acts the parts of simple-minded youths. Elle joue les ingénues, she acts the parts of young girls—simple, innocent girls. Voyez Agnès.

INGÉNUITÉ, s. f. ingenuousness; simplicity; candour. (T. de théâtre.) Jouer les ingénuités, to play, act, the part of simple-minded girls.

INGÉNUMENT, adv. ingenuously; candidly; frankly.

INGÉRER, S', v. r. réfl. 1ère conj., to meddle with things; to take upon one's self. Il s'ingère de choses qui ne le regardent point, he meddles with what does not concern him. Il s'ingère de tout, he meddles with every thing. Il s'ingère de donner des avis, he takes upon himself to give people advice.

INGRAT, E, adj. ungrateful. La patrie ne fut point ingrate envers lui, his country was not ungrateful to him. Allez, vous êtes un ingrat, away with you, you are an ungrateful fellow—man—one.

(Fig.) Vous faites-là un travail ingrat, you are performing an unthankful—a thankless—task. C'est un sujet bien ingrat, it is a very poor subject. La terre est ingrate, the land is barren—unprofitable.

INGRATITUDE, s. f. ingratitude. On lui reprocha son ingratitude, they reproached him with his ingratitude. C'est une noire ingratitude, this is black ingratitude.

INGRÉDIENT, s. m. ingredient.

INGUÉRISSABLE, adj. incurable; not to be cured; not to be healed.

INGUINAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat., pron. in-gu-i-nal), inguinal.

INHABILE, adj. unable; unskilful. C'est un artiste inhabile, he is an unskilful artist. Il est inhabile à ces choses, he is unable to do these things. Un mineur est inhabile à tester, a minor is unable to make a will.

INHABILETÉ, s. f. unskilfulness; inability.

INHABILITÉ, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), incapacity

INHABITABLE, adj. uninhabitable.

INHABITÉ, E, adj. uninhabited.

INHÉRENCE, s. f. inherence.

INHÉRENT, E, adj. inherent.

INHIBER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to inhibit; to prohibit; to forbid.

INHIBITION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), inhibition; prohibition.

INHOSPITALIER, LIÈRE, adj. inhospitable.

INHOSPITALITÉ, s. f. inhospitality.

INHUMAIN, E, adj. inhuman; cruel; barbarous. (In mockery.) O beauté inhumaine, O cruel beauty; cruel one!

INHUMAINEMENT, adv. inhumanly; cruelly; barbarously.

INHUMANITÉ, s. f. inhumanity; cruelty; barbarousness. Ils ont commis des inhumanités, they committed inhuman—barbarous—things.

INHUMATION, s. f. inhumation; burying; interment.

INHUMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bury; to inter.

INIMAGINABLE, adj. unimaginable; inconceivable.

INIMITABLE, adj. inimitable.

INIMITIÉ, s. f. enmity.

ININTELLIGIBLE, adj. unintelligible.

INIQUE, adj. iniquitous.

INIQUEMENT, adv. iniquitously; unjustly.

INIQUITÉ, s. f. iniquity.

INITIAL, E, adj. (pron. i-ni-cial), initial.

INITIALE, s. f. initial.

INITIATION, s. f. (pron. i-ni-cia-cion), initiation.

INITIATIVE, s. f. beginning. Prendre l'initiative, to begin—to make the first step.

INITIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. i-ni-cié), to initiate. On les initiait aux mystères de Cérès, they were initiated into the mysteries of Ceres. Nous l'initiâmes dans notre société, we initiated him—we admitted him—into our society.

INITIÉ, E, adj. (pron. i-ni-cié), initiated.

INJECTER, v. a. rég. conj. (t. de méd.), to inject; to make injections; to inject.

INJECTION, s. f. injection. Faire des injections, to make injections; to inject.

INJONCTION, s. f. injunction. On lui fit de strictes injonctions de rester à la caserne, they gave him strict injunctions—commands—to stay in barracks.

INJURE, s. f. injury; wrong. Il faut pardonner les injures, we must forgive wrongs—injuries. Il faut souffrir les injures, let us learn to bear with wrongs—with wrongs. Réparez les injures que vous lui avez faites, repair the injuries—the wrongs—you have done him. Vous faites injure à son honneur, you injure his honour—you injure him in his honour. Vous faites injure de le croire—si vous le croyez, you do him wrong if you believe it. Il n'a jamais fait injure à personne, he has never done harm to any one.

Dire des injures à une personne, to throw a person's insult him. Ils en vinrent aux injures, they came to high words—to insults. Il éclata en injures contre lui, he broke into abuse—abusive language—against him. Il le chargea d'injures, he loaded him with gross insults. Une injure grossière, a gross insult, Ils se sont dit mille injures—(fam.), ils se sont chargés d'injures, they abused each other like pickpockets. Dites des injures, dites m'en tant que vous voudrez, as many as you call me as many as you like.

Garantissez-vous des injures du temps, keep yourself from the inclemency of the weather. Ces arbres montrent les injures du temps, these trees show—the attacks of time.

INJURIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to abuse, to insult. C'est un homme qui injurie tout le monde, that man abuses every one.

INJURIEUSEMENT, adv. injuriously; abusively; insultingly.

INJURIEUX, SE, adj. injurious; insulting; abusive. Le sort injurieux, the adverse—inimical—fate.

INJUSTE, adj. unjust.

INJUSTEMENT, adv. unjustly.

INJUSTICE, s. f. injustice. Vous avez commis des injustices, you have committed injustices—acts of injustice. Ne me faites pas l'injustice de croire que je l'ai oublié, don't do me the injustice to believe that I have forgotten you.

INLISIBLE, adj. illegible.

IN MANUS. Voyez Manus.

INNAVIGABLE, adj. not navigable; unnavigable.

INNÉ, E, adj. innate, natural.

INNOCEMMENT, adv. (pron. i-no-ce-man), innocently; (fam.), foolishly.

INNOCENCE, s. f. (pron. i-no-ce-ce), innocence; (fam.), simplicity; ignorance.

INNOCENT, E, adj. (pron. i-no-ce-can), innocent. Il est innocent comme un enfant, he is as innocent as a child. C'est un remède innocent, it is an innocent—innocuous—remedy—an innocuous, a harmless remedy. Cet écrit est bien innocent, that writing is very harmless. C'est un animal innocent, it is a harmless animal. (Simple.) Vous êtes bien innocent, you are very innocent—simple—to believe it.

INNOCENT, s. m. (Peint.) innocent.

INNOCENTE, s. f. de lui, c'est un innocent de malice, mind him, for he conceals his cunning under an appearance of simplicity. Vous jouez l'innocent, you pretend—affect—innocence—ignorance. Ne soyez donc pas comme un innocent, do not act like a simpleton. (T. de cuisine.) Une innocente, a young pigeon pie.

INNOCENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to declare innocent; to prove innocence; to acquit.

INNOCUITÉ, s. f. (pron. i-no-cu-ité), unnocuousness, harmlessness.
INNOMBRABLE, adj. innumerable.
INNOMBRABLEMENT, adv. innumerably.
INNOMMÉ, E, adj. (pron. ine-no-mé), unnamed.
INNOMINÉ, E, adj. innominate; unnamed.
INNOVATEUR, s. m. (pron. ine-no-va-teur), innovator.
INNOVATRICE, s. f. (pron. ine-no-va-trice), innovatrice.
INNOVATION, s. f. (pron. ine-no-va-cion), innovation.
INNOVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. ine-no-ver), to innovate.
INOBSERVANCE, s. f. inobservance, inobservation.
INOBSERVATION, } tion.
INOCCUPÉ, E, adj. unoccupied.
IN-OCTAVO, adj. (t. de librairie). Le format in-octavo est le plus ordinaire, the form in octavo—the octavo size—is the most common.
INOCULATEUR, s. m. } (t. de médec.), inoculator,
INOCULATRICE, s. f. } one who inoculates.
INOCULATION, s. f. inoculation.
INOCULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to inoculate. Les médecins inoculent la petite vérole, doctors inoculate the small-pox.
INOCULISTE, s. m. one in favour of inoculation.
INODORE, adj. inodorous; without smell.
INODORIFÉRANT, E, adj. inodorous; yielding no smell.
INOFFENSIF, IVE, adj. inoffensive; harmless.
INOFFICIEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de jurisp.), inofficious.
INOFFICIOSITÉ, s. f. inofficiousness.
INONDATION, s. f. inundation; flood; overflow. L'inondation couvrait toute la plaine, the inundation—waters—covered the plain.
(Fig.) Cette inondation des barbares changea la face du pays, this overflow of the barbarians changed the face of the country.
INONDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. La rivière a débordé, elle inonde tout le pays, the river has overflowed its banks, whole country is inundated. (Fig.) La pluie nous inondait, the rain deluged us. Vous m'avez inondé, you have deluged me—you have wetted me all over. Des larmes inondaient son visage, his face was deluged with tears. L'Asie fut inondée par les Tartares, the Tartars overran Asia. La foule inondait les lieux voisins du théâtre, the crowd inundated—filled—the places next the theatre. Le public est inondé de mauvais écrits, the public is inundated—overrun—with bad writings.
INOPINÉ, E, adj. unforeseen; unexpected; unlooked for.
INOPINÉMENT, adv. unexpectedly.
INOPPORTUN, E, adj. inopportune; unseasonable.
INOPPORTUNITÉ, s. f. unseasonableness; inconvenience.
INORGANIQUE, adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), inorganic.
INOUBLIABLE, adj. never to be forgotten; that cannot be forgotten.
INOUI, adj. C'est une chose inouïe, it is an unheard thing. Ils ont commis des cruautés inouïes, they committed unheard of cruelties. Il est inouï que cela soit arrivé, it is an unheard of thing that such should have happened.
IN PACE. Voyez Pace.
IN PARTIBUS. Voyez Partibus.
IN PETTO. Voyez Petto.
IN PLANO, adj. s. m. (t. d'imprimerie). Le format in-plano is printed on one side only.
IN-PROMPTU. Voyez Impromptu.
INQUART, s. m. (t. de chim.), quartation.
IN-QUARTO, adj. s. m. (t. de libraire, pron. in-quarto), in quarto; quarto. Cette planche est remplie in-quarto, de volumes in-quarto that shelf is filled with quarto volumes.
INQUIET, ÈTE, adj. uneasy. Elle est inquiète de son fils, she is uneasy about—on account of—her son. Qu'est-ce qui la rend inquiète? what makes her uneasy? Elle est inquiète de ne pas recevoir de nouvelles de lui, she is uneasy because she does not hear of him. Elle a l'air inquiète, she looks uneasy—anxious. Elle jetait sur lui des regards inquiets, she cast uneasy—anxious—looks upon him.
La jalousie est une passion inquiète, jealousy is an uneasy—restless—passion. J'éprouvais une inquiète curiosité, I felt an anxious curiosity. Il est si inquiet, qu'il ne peut rester en place, he is so restless that he cannot stay one moment quiet. Il est d'humeur inquiète, he is of a restless—uneasy—unquiet disposition. Une inquiète ambition le dévore, a restless ambition devours him—masters him.
Le malade a été inquiet toute la nuit, the patient was restless—agitated—the whole night. Il a eu un sommeil inquiet, he had a broken sleep—an agitated—a restless—sleep.
INQUIÉTANT, E, adj. Ces nouvelles sont inquiétantes, the news is alarming—gives cause of uneasiness. Sa position est inquiétante, his situation makes us—makes him—uneasy. L'état du malade n'a rien d'inquiétant, there is nothing alarming—nothing to be uneasy about—in the state of the patient.
INQUIÉTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Son absence m'inquiète, his absence makes me uneasy. Que cela ne vous inquiète pas, let not that disturb you—make you uneasy. Cela m'inquiète beaucoup, that makes me uneasy. Cela m'inquiète fort peu, that does not trouble me much. Ne vous inquiétez pas ainsi, il reviendra, do not make yourself uneasy—do not trouble yourself thus—he will return. De quoi vous inquiétez-vous? what are you uneasy about—what disturbs you? Il s'inquiète de rien, the least thing makes him uneasy. Je m'en inquiète fort peu, I care little about it.
On ne vous inquiétera pas, soyez en sûr, they will not come to disturb you, be sure of it. On l'inquiéta sur son droit de propriété, they disturbed him—they annoyed him—about his right of property.
INQUIÉTUDE, s. f. uneasiness; restlessness. L'inquiétude m'a empêché de dormir, uneasiness kept me awake. Cette affaire leur donne de graves inquiétudes, that affair is a cause of grave anxiety for them. Je suis dans de grandes inquiétudes, I am very uneasy—I am in uneasiness. Je l'ai tiré de son inquiétude, I relieved him of his anxiety—uneasiness. Ce jeune homme donne bien de l'inquiétude à ses parents, this young man is a cause of much uneasiness—anxiety—to his family. N'en ayez aucune inquiétude, do not make yourself uneasy—be easy—about it. Il est tourmenté par cette inquiétude si naturelle à l'homme, he is tormented by that restlessness so natural to man.
Le malade est dans de grandes inquiétudes, the patient is very restless—is in a state of restlessness. J'ai des inquiétudes aux jambes, I have pains in my legs.
INQUISITEUR, s. m. inquisitor.
INQUISITION, s. f. inquisition. L'Inquisition d'Espagne était toute puissante, the Inquisition of Spain was all powerful.
INQUISITORIAL, E, adj. inquisitorial.
INSAISISSABLE, adj. unseizable; that cannot be seized. (Fig.), imperceptible.
INSALUBRE, adj. unhealthy; insalubrious.
INSALUBRITÉ, s. f. insalubrity; unwholesomeness.
INSATIABILITÉ, s. f. insatiableness; greediness of INSATIABLE, adj. insatiable. [appetite.
INSATIABLEMENT, adv. insatiably.
INSATISFAISANT, E, adj. unsatisfactory.
INSAVEUR, s. f. tastelessness.
INSAVOUREUX, EUSE, adj. tasteless.
INSCIEMMENT, adv. unknowingly.
INSCRIPTION, s. f. inscription. Je cherche à déchiffrer cette inscription, I am trying to decypher this inscription. Il y a une inscription qui défend de passer, there is a writing—a notice—a written board—to prohibit people from passing. Il a requis son inscription sur la liste des jurés, he required that his name should be entered on the jury list. (T. de finances.) Il a dix mille francs de rente en inscriptions sur le grand livre, his name is entered on the great book of government annuities, to the amount of 10,000 fr. a year. (T. d'adm.

nistration.) Inscription hypothécaire, the registering of a mortgage deed at the public office appointed for that purpose. (T. de marine.) Inscription maritime, voyez Quartier. (T. d'université, de collége.) Il a pris ses inscriptions au collége de —, he has entered at such college—he kept his terms at the college of —. Il a toutes ses inscriptions, he has kept all his terms. Il ne lui manque qu'une inscription, he has only one more term to keep. Il a perdu une inscription pour avoir manqué aux cours, he has lost one term because he missed the lectures. (T. de sciences.) Il est membre de l'académie des inscriptions et belles-lettres, he is a member of the Academy of inscriptions and letters, (one of the branches of the Institut de France).

INSCRIRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 5me conj. des verbes composés, (voyez Ecrire). On a inscrit son nom sur la liste des souscripteurs, his name has been inscribed on—entered upon—registered on—the list of subscribers. Je me suis inscrit, I put my name down. Toute la noblesse s'est fait inscrire à la porte, the whole of the nobility put their names down—inscribed themselves at his door. Tous les visiteurs inscrivent leur nom sur un registre, the visitors write their name down in a book. Je m'inscris en faux contre cela, I declare that to be false. Il a inscrit son nom au temple de Mémoire, he inscribed his name in the temple of Memory. Etes-vous inscrit, is your name registered—written down? (T. de mathém.) Inscrire une figure dans une autre, to inscribe a figure in another.

INSCRUTABLE, adj. inscrutable; unsearchable.

INSECTE, s. m. insect.

IN-SEIZE, s. m. adj. (t. de libraire). Un volume in-seize, a volume in sixteens.

INSENSÉ, E, adj. C'est un homme insensé, he is insensate—destitute of sense—foolish—alienated. Il faut être insensé pour se conduire ainsi, a man must be deprived of his senses to act thus. Jeune insensé, qu'allez-vous faire, o mad young man, what are you going to do?

INSENSIBILITÉ, s. f. insensibility.

INSENSIBLE, adj. Il est insensible, he is senseless. Le mouvement est insensible à l'œil, the movement is insensible—imperceptible—to the eye.

(Sens moral.) Serez-vous insensible à nos maux, can you be insensible to our sufferings? Il n'est pas insensible aux louanges, he is not insensible to praise—he likes praise. C'est un homme insensible, he is an unfeeling—insensible man.

INSENSIBLEMENT, adv. insensibly; by degrees; [slowly.

INSÉPARABLE, adj. La chaleur est inséparable du feu, heat is inseparable from fire. Ces deux amis sont inséparables, these two friends are inseparable.

INSÉPARABLEMENT, adv. inseparably.

INSÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to insert. Cet article a été inséré dans le journal, this article was inserted in the paper. (T. de jurisp., de pratique.) Son observation fut insérée au procès verbal, his observation was inserted in the report. Elle y sera insérée, it will be inserted in it.

INSERMENTÉ, adj. Les prêtres insermentés, (t. d'hist. de la Révolution Française), the priests who had not taken the oath to the Republic, the unsworn priests.

INSERTION, s. f. insertion.

INSIDIEUSEMENT, adv. insidiously.

INSIDIEUX, EUSE, adj. insidious; treacherous; sly.

INSIGNE, adj. signal. C'est un bonheur insigne, it is a great—a signal—happiness. Je lui ai des obligations insignes, I have great—signal—obligations to him. C'est un insigne fripon, he is a signal—arrant—thief.

INSIGNE, s. m. insigne; badges; marks of one's rank and grade. Les insignes royaux, the royal insignia.

INSIGNIFIANCE, s. f. insignificance.

INSIGNIFIANT, E, adj. insignificant.

INSINUANT, E, adj. insinuating.

INSINUATION, s. f. insinuation; (t. de jurisp.), registering.

INSINUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Insinuer un instrument dans une plaie, to insinuate—to introduce—an instrument into a wound. (Fig.) Ne pourriez-vous insinuer cette condition dans le marché, could you not introduce—insert—this condition in the bargain? Insinuez-lui que cela ne se peut pas, insinuate—intimate—to him that it cannot be. Nous nous sommes attachés à leur insinuer de bons principes, we have applied ourselves to instilling in their minds good principles. Pour l'amour s'insinua dans mon cœur, insensibly love insinuated himself—penetrated—into my heart. Tâchez de vous insinuer dans son esprit, try to insinuate yourself into—to get ground—upon his mind. Il s'est insinué dans toutes les sociétés, he had insinuated himself—worked himself—pushed himself—into every company.

INSIPIDE, adj. insipid; tasteless. [Sea sense.] insipid, dull, heavy.

INSIPIDITE, s. f. insipidity; tastelessness. (fig. moral), insipidity; dulness; heaviness.

INSISTANCE, s. f. insisting.

INSISTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to insist; to persist. Il insiste à demander cette somme, he insists—he persists severes—in asking that sum. Il insiste fortement sur ce point, he insists strongly on that point.

INSOCIABILITÉ, s. f. unsociableness.

INSOCIABLE, adj. unsociable.

INSOLATION, s. f. insolation; drying by the heat of the sun.

INSOLEMMENT, adv. (pron. in-so-la-man).

INSOLENCE, s. f. insolence. Il est plein d'insolence, he is full of insolence. Il a eu l'insolence de le prier, he had the insolence to speak to him. Cela n'a pas sa dernière insolence, this is extremely insolent. Il dit mille insolences, he did a thousand insolent things.

INSOLENT, E, adj. insolent. C'est un homme bien insolent, he is a very insolent man. Seriez-vous assez insolent pour le faire, would you be so insolent as to do it? would you have the insolence to—do it? Il est devenu insolent depuis qu'il est riche, he has become insolent since he became rich.

INSOLENT, s. m. f. C'est un insolent, he is a insolent man.

INSOLITE, adj. unusual; extraordinary.

INSOLUBILITÉ, s. f. insolubility; the impossibility to solve a question.

INSOLUBLE, adj. insoluble; that cannot be solved; that cannot be dissolved.

INSOLVABILITÉ, s. f. insolvency; inability to pay.

INSOLVABLE, adj. insolvent; not able to pay.

INSOMNIE, s. f. (pron. in-somne-nie), want of sleep; restlessness.

INSONDABLE, adj. unfathomable.

INSOUCIANCE, s. f. carelessness. Il est d'une grande insouciance, he is extremely careless about it.

INSOUCIANT, E, adj. careless. Il est bien insouciant pour le lendemain, he is careless about to-morrow—he takes no thought about to-morrow.

INSOUMIS, E, adj. unsubdued; not submissive.

INSOUTENABLE, adj. untenable; insupportable; that cannot be supported.

INSPECTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to inspect.

INSPECTEUR, s. m. inspector. L'inspecteur est en tournée, the inspector is on his circuit—he is on his inspection.

INSPECTION, s. f. inspection; examination; (t. d'administration), inspection. Il a fait l'inspection des troupes, he inspected the troops—he made the inspection of the troops.

INSPIRATEUR, TRICE, adj inspiring.

inspiratory.

INSPIRATION, s. f. inspiration. Cela est d'inspiration, that was done by inspiration. Il a eu de heureuses inspirations, he has happy inspirations. (Marine.) C'est par votre inspiration que je l'ai fait, it was by your suggestion that I did it. (T. de dévotion) inspiration.

INSPIRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. C'est seulement que la nature nous inspire, it is a feeling with which nature inspires into us. La jalousie lui inspira cette vaine action, jealousy inspired him to do this vain action. Il m'inspire une grande estime, he inspires in me teem for him. Ses richesses lui ont inspiré de l'orgueil, a opulence has inspired him with pride. Sa conduite spire des soupçons, his conduct gives rise to—inspires—ities—suspicions. C'est la charité qui l'inspire, cha- e animates—directs—him. A cette conduite on reconnaît le ministre qui l'inspirait, from that conduct, they ognised the minister at whose instigation—by whose vice—he acted. (Fam.) Je fus bien inspiré quand j'y ai, I had a happy idea when I went. (T. de médec.), inspire.

INSPIRÉ, s. m. } inspired person.
INSPIRÉE, s. f. }

INSTABILITÉ, s. f. instability; mutability.

INSTALLATION, s. f. installation; inthroning (of a bop).

NSTALLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to install. m.) Les marchands s'installent sur la place, the hants lay their goods—place their stalls—on the place. Il vient d'entrer dans son nouvel appartement, I have ust installé dans mon nouvel appartement, I have installed myself in my new room. Il s'installe dans un fauteuil et prend un air important, he settles—he establishes himself—in an arm-chair, and puts on a look of importance.

NSTAMMENT, adv. earnestly.

NSTANCE, s. f. Je l'en ai sollicité avec toutes les instances possibles, I urged him to do it by every entreaty in my power. Je vous le demande avec instance, I earnestly request it of you. Il nous a fait de vives instances, he most kindly entreated us.

(T. de jurisp.), action; prosecution; suit. Je suis en instance près du tribunal de —, I have an action—a suit—before the court of —. Tribunal de première instance, a civil court which takes cognizance of all disputes, not exceeding in value a certain amount. (There is one in each arrondissement.)

A cette décide.) Que répondez-vous à cette instance? what do you to reply to this argument?

NSTANT, E, adj. earnest; urgent. Je n'ai pu me refuser à ses instantes prières, I could not refuse his earnest entreaties. Le péril est instant, the danger is instant imminent—urgent.

NSTANT, s. m. an instant; a moment. Je ne suis qu'un instant, I shall a moment only. Nous l'attendons d'un instant à l'autre, we expect him every moment. Je reviens dans un instant, I shall return in a moment—presently. Un instant, ne partez pas encore, one moment, do not go yet. A chaque instant, every moment. A l'instant, dans l'instant, presently.

NSTANTANÉ, E, adj. instantaneous; in a moment.

NSTAR, A l', (locution prépositive), in imitation of.

NSTAURATION, s. f. instauration.

NSTIGATEUR, TRICE, s. m. f. instigator.

NSTIGATION, s. f. instigation. Il l'a fait à l'instigation de son frère, he did it at the instigation of his brother.

NSTIGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to instigate.

NSTILLATION, s. f. (pron. ince-til-la-tion), instillation.

NSTILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. ince-til-ler), to instill.

NSTINCT, s. m. instinct.

NSTINCTIF, IVE, adj. instinctive.

NSTINCTIVEMENT, adv. instinctively.

NSTITUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to institute.

NSTITUT, s. m. institution; constitution. C'est un institut, it is a pious institution. Il voulait devenir l'institut, he wished to become the head of a society of an order.

(Acad. de société savante.) L'Institut de France. L'Institut Royal de France fut organisé en 1795, the Institute of France, i. e. the Society of arts, letters, sciences, was formed in 1795. On considère comme un grand honneur d'être membre de l'Institut, it is considered a great honour to be a member of the Institute of France.

INSTITUTES, s. f. (t. de droit), institutes; laws.

INSTITUTEUR, s. m. } {institutor; one who institutes,
INSTITUTRICE, s. f. } founds. Institutor, tutor, teaches. Donnez-lui un bon instituteur, give him a good instructor. Elle avait une institutrice fort-instruite, she had a well-informed governess—instructress.

INSTITUTION, s. f. institution. Avez-vous vu l'institution des aveugles? have you seen the institution—the establishment—for the blind? School; boarding-school. Qui est le chef de cette institution? who is the head of that school? Elle tient une institution de demoiselles, she keeps a young ladies' school. L'institution de la jeunesse est importante, the education of youth is of great importance.

INSTRUCTEUR, s. m. instructor; teacher. (T. de jurisp.) Juge instructeur is a magistrate who has to collect all the evidence of a delict, and to send the accused to trial, unless proofs are wanting. (T. militaire.) Sergent instructeur, drill sergeant.

INSTRUCTIF, IVE, adj. instructive.

INSTRUCTION, s. f. Il s'occupe beaucoup de l'instruction de ses enfants, il y travaille lui-même, he thinks much of the instruction—of the education—of his children, he even attends to it himself. On leur donne une bonne et saine instruction, they receive a good and sound education. Il y a en France un ministre de l'instruction publique, there is in France a minister of public instruction. L'instruction publique est de la dernière importance, public instruction is of the utmost importance. Il a reçu une instruction domestique, he received a domestic education—he was taught at home. C'est un homme qui a beaucoup d'instruction, he has much learning—he is well informed. Il est absolument sans instruction, he is without any knowledge whatever. Il manque d'instruction, he is deficient in education—he is uneducated—he has no knowledge.

J'irai prendre vos instructions, I will come and take your instructions—your orders. Vous n'avez pas suivi mes instructions, you have not attended to my instructions—directions—orders.

On travaille à l'instruction de ses procès, they are preparing for his trial, i. e. collecting evidence.

INSTRUIRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 69me conj. Voyez Conduire. Il instruit ses enfants lui-même, he teaches—he instructs—his children himself. Il nous instruisait à faire des armes, he taught us to fence—he instructed us in fencing. Il instruit bien, he teaches well. L'exemple instruit mieux que les préceptes, example teaches better—is a better master—than precept. Il cherche à s'instruire, he tries to get information—he seeks knowledge. Il s'est instruit lui-même, he is self-taught—he has taught himself. Il aime à s'instruire, he likes to acquire knowledge. Il est instruit, he is well informed. Cet homme n'est pas du tout instruit, that man is without instruction—without knowledge—is ignorant. Il fut instruit par l'expérience, he was taught by experience. S'instruire dans un art, to learn an art.

Instruisez-moi de tout ce qui se passe, inform me of all that happens. On ne m'en a pas instruit à temps, I was not informed of it in time. Je vous en instruirai, I will inform you of it—I will apprize you of it. Je veux m'en instruire par mes yeux, I wish to see it—to be informed of it—with my own eyes. Il est bien instruit de cette affaire, he is well informed of this affair.

Instruire les animaux, to teach animals. J'avais instruit mon chien à rapporter, à ouvrir la porte, I had taught my dog to fetch and carry—to open the door.

(T. de jurisp.) Instruire un procès, to collect—to investigate—evidence for a trial. L'affaire n'est pas encore instruite—on n'a pas encore instruit contre lui, the preliminary investigations are not ready yet.

INSTRUMENT, s. m. instrument; tool. (Fig.) Vous avez servi d'instrument à sa vengeance, you have been the tool—the instrument—of his revenge. Doit-je donc servir d'instrument à sa perte? am I then to be the instrument of his ruin? Sa sœur fut l'instrument de sa chute, his sister was instrumental to—was the instrument of—his fall. (T. de jurisp.) Ce papier est un instrument authentique, that paper is an authentic document.

INSTRUMENTAIRE, adj. Témoin instrumentaire, an instrumental proof—evidence.

INSTRUMENTAL, E, adj. instrumental.

INSTRUMENTATION, s. f. instrumentation.
INSTRUMENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'homme de loi), to instrument—deeds, &c.
INSU, s. m. (de in et savoir). A mon insu, unknown to me. Je l'ai fait à leur insu, I did it unknown to them. Il s'est marié à l'insu de ses parents, he married unknown to his friends. A l'insu de tout le monde, unknown to everybody.
INSUBORDINATION, s. f. insubordination.
INSUBORDONNÉ, E, adj. insubordinate.
INSUFFISAMMENT, adv. insufficient!
INSUFFISANCE, s. f. insufficiency.
INSUFFISANT, E, adj. insufficient.
INSUFFLATION, s. f. insufflation.
INSULAIRE, adj. insular. Les insulaires de la mer pacifique, the islanders of the Pacific.
INSULTANT, E, adj. insulting; offensive.
INSULTE, s. f. insult; offence; outrage. Il lui a fait de grosses insultes, he offered him gross insults. Vous lui faites insulte, you insult him—you do him an outrage. (T. de guerre.) On a mis la place à l'abri de toute insulte, they have guarded this place against all attacks.
INSULTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to insult; to outrage; to abuse. Il l'insulta chez lui, he insulted him—abused him—in his own house.
Voudriez-vous insulter à leur malheur? would you insult their misfortune—ridicule their misfortune? Leur faste est une insulte à la détresse publique, their luxury is an insult to public misfortune. (T. militaire.) Insulter une place, to attack a place.
INSUPPORTABLE, adj. insupportable; unbearable. Il est devenu insupportable à tout le monde, he has become unbearable—,—no one can bear him.
INSUPPORTABLEMENT, adv. insupportably.
INSURGENTS, s. m. pl. insurgents.
INSURGER, S, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to rise in insurrection; to rebel. Une troupe d'insurgés, a crowd of insurgents—of rebellious people.
INSURMONTABLE, adj. insurmountable; unconquerable.
INSURRECTION, s. f. insurrection.
INSURRECTIONNEL, LE, adj. insurrectional.
INTACT, E, adj. untouched; pure; entire; honest.
INTACTILE, adj. intactible; intangible.
INTARISSABLE, adj. inexhaustible; that cannot be exhausted.
INTÉGRAL, E, adj. integral. Le calcul intégral, the integral calculus.
INTÉGRALEMENT, adv. integrally.
INTÉGRALITÉ, s. f. integrality.
INTÉGRANT, E, adj. (t. scientifique), integrant.
INTÉGRATION, s. f. integration.
INTÈGRE, adj. honest; incorruptible.
INTÉGRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de mathém.), to integrate; to make perfect.
INTÉGRITÉ, s. f. integrity; wholeness; entireness; (fig.) honesty. C'est un homme d'une parfaite intégrité, he is a man of consummate integrity—honour.
INTELLECT, s. m. (pron. in-tel-lecte), intellect; understanding.
INTELLECTIF, IVE, adj. intellective.
INTELLECTUEL, LE, adj. intellectual.
INTELLIGEMMENT, adv. intelligently.
INTELLIGENCE, s. f. intellect; understanding. Cet enfant est plein d'intelligence, that child is full of intellect—of cleverness—,—is extremely intelligent. Cela ne convient pas à toutes les intelligences, that is not suitable to all understandings—comprehensions. Il a l'intelligence vive, he has a quick understanding—he is gifted with a quick intellect. C'est un homme d'une vaste intelligence, he is a man of vast comprehension—intellect. L'intelligence est précoce en lui, intellect—understanding—is precocious in him. C'est un enfant plein d'intelligence, that child is very intelligent—is full of abilities. C'est une de ces intelligences grossières, he is one of those gross—heavy—intellects. Son intelligence est bornée, his intellect—mind—comprehension—is confined. Il faut étendre un peu la sphère de l'intelligence, we must extend a little the sphere of understanding. L'intelligence de cet homme a quelquefois surprenante, the intelligence of the man is sometimes astonishing.

Il s'est acquitté de sa commission avec intelligence, he acquitted himself of his commission cleverly—with ability. Il a fait preuve d'intelligence dans cette occasion, he showed much cleverness—understanding—in the fair.
(Entendement.) Il a l'intelligence des langues orientales, he understands the ancient languages.
(Accord, amitié.) Nous vivons en bonne intelligence, we live in good intelligence—on good terms—in understanding. Un accident rompit notre bonne intelligence, an accident interrupted our good understanding.
(Correspondance.) Il y a de l'intelligence entre eux, there is an understanding between them. Ils se firent des signes d'intelligence, they looked at each other significantly. Ils se regardaient d'un air d'intelligence, they looked at one another significantly—as if they understood one another. Je crois qu'ils sont d'intelligence pour me tromper, I think they understand each other—are in understanding—to deceive me. Ils entretiennent entre eux des intelligences secrètes dans toutes les villes, they keep a secret correspondence—intelligences—in every town. Une intelligence nous manqua tout à coup, this secret communication failed us all at once.
(T. didactique.) Les intelligences divines, the divine beings. Dieu est la souveraine intelligence, God is the supreme spirit—intelligence.
INTELLIGENT, E, adj. L'homme est un être intelligent, man is an intellectual being. Cet enfant est très intelligent, that child is very intelligent—clever. Il est fort intelligent dans les affaires, he understands affairs well—he has a good understanding of affairs.
INTELLIGIBLE, adj. intelligible. (T. de théologie) intellectual.
INTELLIGIBLEMENT, adv. intelligibly.
INTEMPÉRANCE, s. f. intemperance; excess.
INTEMPÉRANT, E, adj. intemperate.
INTEMPÉRE, E, adj. intemperate.
INTEMPÉRIE, s. f. inclemency; intemperateness of the weather).
INTEMPESTIF, IVE, adj. (pron. in-tan-pe-stif) intempestive; untimely.
INTEMPESTIVEMENT, adv. intempestively.
INTENDANCE, s. f. direction; management (du gouvernement), intendance; government.
INTENDANT, s. m. L'intendant de la province—, the intendant—the governor—of the province. Il est intendant de la maison du roi, he is superintendant—director—of the king's household. Il était intendant des finances, he was superintendant of the finances. Intendant militaire, military commissioner. Intendant de la marine, commissioner of the navy. Il a un intendant qui le vole, his steward robs him. Il est si riche, qu'il lui faut un intendant, he is so rich, that he is obliged to have a steward.
INTENDANTE, s. f. the lady of an intendant.
INTENSE, adj. intense.
INTENSITÉ, s. f. intensity; intenseness.
INTENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. On lui a intenté un procès, they brought—entered—an action against him. Qui a intenté cette accusation contre lui, who has made—this charge against him.
INTENTION, s. f. Dites-nous quelle est votre intention, tell us what is your intention—your purpose—your design—tell us what you intend—purpose—to do. Il a de mauvaises intentions, he is ill-intentioned—he designs. Vous verrez que j'ai de bonnes intentions, you will see that my intentions are good. Avec quelle intention—intention—de partir? do you intend to go? Je ne suis pas allé à Londres comme j'en avais l'intention, I did not go to London as I intended—as was my intention to do. L'intention de votre père est que vous partiez de là, your father's wish—desire—is that you should go immediately. Il l'a fait de bonne intention, he did it with a good intention—intent—purpose. Faire une chose sans intention, unintentionally—without purpose.

Il l'a fait à votre intention, he did it in your intention—for your sake. (T. d'église Romaine.) On va célébrer ne messe à l'intention de Madame L., a mass is going be said for the soul of Mrs. L.

INTENTIONNÉ, E, adj. Une personne bien intentionnée, a well-intentioned person. C'est un homme mal intentionné, he is an ill-intentioned man.

INTENTIONNEL, LE, adj. intentional.

INTERCADENCE, s. f. (t. de médec.), intermittence.

INTERCADENT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), intermittent.

INTERCALAIRE, adj. intercalar; intercalary.

INTERCALATION, s. f. intercalation; insertion.

INTERCALER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to intercalate; to insert.

INTERCEPTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to intercept.

INTERCEPTION, s. f. interception.

INTERCESSEUR, s. m. intercessor.

INTERCESSION, s. f. intercession.

INTERCOSTAL, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), intercostal.

INTERCURRENT, E, adj. f. (t. de méd.), intercurrent.

INTERDICTION, s. f. interdiction.

INTERDIRE, v. a. irrég. 3ème conj. des verbes comme Dire. Voyez Dire. La ville lui est interdite, he is interdicted from entering the town—,—the entry of the town interdicted—forbidden—to him. Je lui ai interdit ma e, I interdicted—forbade—my door to him. *Les méde*ins lui interdisent le vin, the doctors forbid him wine. Pourquoi leur interdisez-vous ces plaisirs? why do you id them these pleasures? Une affaire m'interdit le ir de vous voir, some business deprives me—does not e me—the pleasure of seeing you.

L'évêque l'a interdit, the bishop has interdicted him—aken from him the privileges of his office. Le ministre l'a interdit de ses fonctions, the minister has interd him—has suspended him.

(T. de jurisp.) Faire interdire une personne en démence, to interdict an insane person.

(T. com.) La peur l'avait interdit, fear had deprived of speech. Il demeura tout interdit, he stood quite ionless—quite confused.

INTERDIT, s. m. interdict.

INTÉRESSANT, E, adj. interesting; attractive. Voyez the.

INTÉRESSER, *v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Nous l'avons in*é dans cette spéculation pour qu'il s'en occupe, we him an interest—we interested him—in that speculaon to get him to attend to it. J'y suis intéressé pour nne considérable, I have a large interest in it. Cela us intéresse pas, that does not interest—concern—re—you. En quoi cela vous intéresse-t-il? in what that concern you? *Cette affaire intéresse mon hon*ny honour is interested—concerned—in that affair. ere m'intéresse beaucoup, that book interests me—ates me—much. Cette conversation ne m'intéresse , that conversation does not interest—amuse me—. Sa jeunesse intéresse tout le monde, every one es interest for him on account of his youth. *Je m'in*e beaucoup à lui, I feel an interest in him—I am rned for him. On s'intéresse à sa position, one feels terest in his situation. Tout le monde est intéressé—cerne—à ce qu'il réussisse, every one is interested in ccess—in his succeeding. La chose a réussi parce on père s'y est intéressé, the affair succeeded because ther interested himself in it.

t homme est fort intéressé, that man is very interested atters. Ce sont des politesses intéressées, these are ntal—selfish—civilities. Tous les intéressés étaient nts, all people concerned—all the partners—were pre-INTÉRÊT, *s. m. L'intérêt général l'emporte sur l'in*rêt particulier, public interest—good—is greater than e interest. Je fais cela pour votre intérêt, I do it for nterest. Eclairez-le sur ses intérêts, enlighten him ur own interests. C'est un intérêt léger qui cause leurs, a trifling matter—concern—causes their dispute. ait soin de vos intérêts, I shall take care of your in—concerns. Il y va de votre intérêt, your interest ake. Il ne perd pas de vue ses intérêts, he does not lose sight of his interests. Il est de mon intérêt que cela se fasse, it is to my interest that it should be done. Avez-vous intérêt que cela se fasse, are you interested that it should be done? Il n'écoute rien quand il s'agit de son intérêt, he does not listen to any reason when his own interest is at stake.

Nous l'avons mis dans votre intérêt, we brought him to side with you—we put him in your interest. Je prends intérêt à vous, I take an interest in you. Nous prenons le plus grand intérêt à votre douleur, we take the greatest interest in—we sympathize greatly with—your sorrows. Croyez que nous prenons le plus vif intérêt à tout ce qui vous regarde, be assured that we take the greatest interest in all that concerns you. Prenez-vous intérêt à cette affaire? are you interested in that affair? Cette chose est digne d'intérêt, that is worthy of interest. (T. de commerce.) On lui a donné un intérêt, they have given him an interest—a share. J'ai un intérêt dans cette spéculation, I have an interest—a share—in that speculation.

Ces gens-là font tout par intérêt, these people do everything out of interest—from interested motives. C'est l'intérêt qui le guide, interest is his guide. Il est au-dessus de l'intérêt, he is above interest—above interested considerations.

Cette pièce est sans intérêt, this drama is uninteresting. Sa conversation est pleine d'intérêt, his conversation is full of interest—very interesting. Il y a beaucoup d'intérêt dans son livre, there is much interest in his book—much to captivate—to charm you. Cela manque d'intérêt, that is void of interest.

(T. de finance, d'affaire.) L'intérêt légal est à cinq pour cent, the legal interest is at five per cent. Il lui fait —lui paie—l'intérêt de cette somme, he pays him the interest of that sum. Il prête de l'argent à gros intérêt, he lends money on large interest. Il y a intérêt simple et intérêt composé, there are simple interest and compound interest. (T. de jurisp.) Il réclame dommages et intérêts, he claims damages and interest. Mettre une personne hors d'intérêt, to indemnify a person—to satisfy his interests.

INTERFOLIACÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), interfoliaceous.

INTERFOLIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de libraire), to interleave. Ce volume est interfolié, this volume is interleaved.

INTÉRIEUR, E, adj. Les parties intérieures, the inner—interior—parts. Les provinces intérieures du pays, the inner—interior—provinces. Tels sont les sentiments intérieurs de l'âme, such are the secret—inner—sentiments of the soul. La paix intérieure de l'âme, the inner peace of the soul. Le for intérieur, the conscience. La mer Caspienne est une mer intérieure, the Caspian Sea is a mediterranean sea. Il sent une chaleur intérieure, he feels an internal—inward—heat.

La vie intérieure, retired life. Cet homme est fort intérieur, that man is always so absorbed in his own thoughts. Le commerce intérieur va bien, the home-trade flourishes. Les provinces intérieures sont tranquilles, the inner provinces are quiet.

INTÉRIEUR, s. m. Je n'ai pas vu l'intérieur de ce temple, I have not seen the inside of this temple. L'intérieur du corps, the inside—the inner part—of the body. Un cri se fit entendre de l'intérieur de la maison, a cry was heard from the inside of the house. Nous n'osions pénétrer dans l'intérieur des terres, we dared not penetrate into the land—into the country. Nous nous avançâmes dans l'intérieur, we advanced into the land.

(T. de commerce, d'administ.) Le ministre de l'intérieur, the home minister. Tout cela se consomme à l'intérieur—dans l'intérieur, all that is consumed at home. A l'intérieur et à l'extérieur, at home and abroad.

C'est un homme qui se plaît dans son intérieur, that man likes home. Il n'est pas heureux dans son intérieur, he is not happy in his own family—at home. Pénétrez dans l'intérieur des familles et vous verrez, get into families—penetrate into the interior—inside—of families and you will see.

Dieu seul connaît l'intérieur de l'homme, God alone knows the inmost thoughts—the heart—of man.

(T. de diligence.) L'intérieur est plein, the whole inside is taken. Je pris une place de l'intérieur, I took a place inside. (T. de peinture.) Il fait de jolis tableaux d'intérieur, he makes pretty pictures of home-life.

INTÉRIEUREMENT, adv. inwardly.

INTERIM, s. m. (mot latin, pron. in-té-rime). Il gouvernait par intérim—dans l'intérim, he governed in the interim, i. e. while the titular was absent. Il est chargé de l'intérim, he is in charge per interim.

INTÉRIMAIRE, adj. Le ministre intérimaire, the minister acting during the interim.

INTERJECTION, s. f. (t. de grammaire), interjection.

INTERJETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.). Ils interjetèrent appel, they lodged—moved—an appeal.

INTERLIGNE, s. m. N'écrivez pas dans l'interligne, do not write between the lines. Vous laissez de trop grands interlignes, you leave too great a space between the lines. (T. d'imprimerie), lead; rule.

INTERLIGNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'imprim.), to leave a space between the lines.

INTERLINÉAIRE, adj. interlinear.

INTERLOCUTEUR, s. m. } interlocutor; one who INTERLOCUTRICE, s. f. } speaks.

INTERLOCUTION, s. f. interlocution; dialogue; conversation.

INTERLOCUTOIRE, adj. interlocutory; examination.

INTERLOPE, s. m. adj. interloper; one who traffics unfairly; one who interferes with the interests of another. C'est un commerce interlope, this business is interloping.

INTERLOQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to examine. (Fam.) Sa réponse m'a interloqué, his answer confused me—embarrassed me.

INTERMÈDE, s. m. (t. de théâtre), interlude. (T. de chimie), intermediary.

INTERMÉDIAIRE, adj. intermediate.

INTERMÉDIAIRE, s. m. intermediary; intermediate. Je me les suis procurés par l'intermédiaire de M. L., I got them through—by the means of—Mr. L.

INTERMÉDIAIREMENT, adv. by means of.

INTERMÉDIAT, E, adj. intermediate.

INTERMINABLE, adj. interminable; endless.

INTERMISSION, s. f. intermission. Sans intermission, without ceasing, without interruption.

INTERMITTENCE, s. f. (t. de médec.), that is intermittent.

INTERMITTENT, E, adj. intermittent.

INTERMUSCULAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), intermuscular.

INTERNE, adj. internal. (T. d'école.) Il a vingt écoliers internes, et trente externes, he has twenty boarders, and thirty day-boys.

INTERNER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Les réfugiés ont reçu l'ordre d'interner, the refugees have received order to go into the country—into the interior. On l'internera, he will be shut in. Interner des marchandises, to introduce goods into the country. S'interner avec un ami, to form a close union with one.

INTERNONCE, s. m. internuncio; a chargé d'affaires.

INTEROSSEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. d'anat.), interosseous.

INTERPELLATION, s. f. (pron. in-ter-pel-la-tion), interpellation; address.

INTERPELLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.). Il fut sommé et interpellé de répondre, he was summoned and requested to answer. (Langage ordin.) Il m'interpella d'une manière peu polie, he addressed me all at once in no very civil way. J'interpelle votre conscience, I appeal to your conscience.

INTERPOLATEUR, s. m. interpolator; who adds notes, remarks, of his own on a book.

INTERPOLATION, s. f. interpolation; remark; note.

INTERPOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to interpolate; to insert; to add in.

INTERPOSER, v. n. v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. La lune s'interpose entre le soleil et la terre, the moon interposes itself between the sun and the earth. (Fig.) Il interposa son autorité, he interposed his authority. Des amis se sont interposés pour les réconcilier, friends have interposed to reconcile them.

INTERPOSITION, s. f. interjection.

INTERPRÉTATIF, IVE, adj. interpretive.

INTERPRÉTATION, s. f. interpretation.

INTERPRÈTE, s. m. f. interpreter. Vous me conduisez ce passage en interprète fidèle, you translate the passage like a faithful interpreter—you have faithfully interpreted this passage. Ils se parlent par interprètes, they talk to each other by means of an interpreter. Vous vous bien vous servir d'interprète? will you be kind enough to be our interpreter? On employa les interprètes jurés, they employed the public interpreters. Ils sont les interprètes de l'âme, the eyes are the interpreters of the soul.

INTERPRÉTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to explain. Comment interprétez-vous ce passage? how do you interpret—explain—this passage? (Fig.) Vous avez mal interprété ma pensée, you have badly interpreted—have misinterpreted—my meaning. Vous interprétez malicieusement ma conduite, you interpret my conduct ill-naturedly.

INTERRÈGNE, s. m. (pron. in-ter-règne), interregnum; interreign.

INTERROGANT, E, adj. (pron. in-te-ro-gan), interrogating.

INTERROGATEUR, s. m. }
INTERROGATRICE, s. f. } interrogator.
INTERROGATIF, IVE, adj. interrogative.

INTERROGATION, s. f. interrogation. Je sais répondre à toutes vos interrogations, I can answer all your questions—interrogations. (T. de grammaire) Ici un point d'interrogation, put here a note of interrogation. (T. de jurisp.) On lui a fait subir de longues interrogations, they made him undergo a long examination. INTERROGATOIRE, s. m. (t. de jurisp.). L'interrogatoire a été bien long, his interrogatory—his examination—was a long one. On lui a fait subir un interrogatoire, he was obliged to undergo an examination. Avez-vous lu son interrogatoire? have you read his examination?

INTERROGER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Pourquoi m'interrogez-vous? why do you ask me questions? why do you question me? Il s'aime pas qu'on l'interroge dessus, he does not like to be questioned upon that point. Avec quelle impatience nous nous interrogeâmes—nous nous était arrivé, how eagerly we asked each other what had happened to each other. C'est lui qui interrogeait les candidats, he it was who examined the candidates. (Consulter.) Interrogez l'histoire et vous, consult history and you will see. Interrogez votre science, consult—ask—examine—your own knowledge. (T. de jurisp.) Le juge n'a pas encore interrogé l'accusé, the judge has not yet examined the witness.

INTERROMPRE, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Veuillez vendre), to interrupt. Ne l'interrompez pas quand il parle, do not interrupt him when he is speaking. Il fut obligé de s'interrompre au milieu de son discours, he was obliged to interrupt himself—to break—in the midst of his speech. N'interrompez pas un orateur, do not interrupt—do not break—do not disturb—him.

INTERROMPU, E, p. p. employé comme adj. Les travaux sont interrompus, the works have stopped—cannot proceed. Le sens de la phrase est interrompu, the sense of the sentence is broken. Une chaîne de montagnes non interrompue, an unbroken—uninterrupted—chain of mountains. Il en a depuis dix ans la poitrine rompue, for the last ten years he has expectorated ruptedly. (Fam.) Jouer aux propos interrompus, to play at cross purposes.

INTERRUPTEUR, s. m. } interrupter; one who INTERRUPTRICE, s. f. } interrupts.

INTERRUPTION, s. f. interruption. Sans interruption, without interruption, to work without intermission—incessantly.

INTERSECTION, s. f. intersection.

INTERSTICE, s. m. interstice.

INTERVALLE, s. m. interval. Il y a deux lieues de deux lieues entre les deux endroits, there

-an interval—of two leagues between the two places. Il a là l'intervalle d'une octave, there is here the space of octave. Il revint après un long intervalle de temps, returned after a long interval—space—of time. Il est pas toujours dans sa folie, il a de bons intervalles—s intervalles lucides, he is not always mad, he has lucid ments—intervals of reason. Il le fait par intervalles, does it at intervals.

INTERVENIR, v. n. rég. 6ème conj. des verbes composés, Inter Venir, to intervene; to interfere. Intervenant, intervening.

INTERVENTION, s. f. intervention.

INTERVERSION, s. f. interversion.

INTERVERTIR, v. a. rég. 2ème conj. (voyez Punir), intervert; to change.

INTESTAT (mot emprunté du Latin, pron. in-tèce-ta), est mort intestat, he died without a will. Hériter ab estat, to inherit an intestate property.

INTESTIN, E, adj. intestine; internal; domestic.

INTESTIN, s. m. intestine.

INTESTINAL, E, adj. intestinal.

INTIMATION, s. f. intimation.

INTIME, adj. intimate; inmost; secret. Ce sont des amis intimes, they are intimate friends. Nous avons des relations intimes, we have a familiar—intimate—intercourse. J'en ai la conviction intime, I have an inward secret—conviction of it—I am convinced of it in my t.

INTIMEMENT, adv. intimately; closely; secretly.

INTIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to intimate; to announce; (t. de jurisp.), to summon.

INTIME, s. m. defendant.

INTIMIDATION, s. f. intimidation.

INTIMIDER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to intimidate. Ne t'intimiderez jamais, you will never intimidate man. C'est un homme qui ne s'intimide pas facile- that man is not easily intimidated.

INTIMITÉ, s. f. intimacy.

INTITULATION, s. f. title; entitling.

INTITULER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to entitle. ment ce livre est-il intitulé? how is the book entitled at is the title of the book? Ce monsieur s'intitule is de —, that gentleman assumes—takes—the title uquis of—.

INTITULÉ (pris substantivement), label; title. Quel intitulé de l'acte? how is the act entitled?

INTOLÉRABLE, adj. intolerable; not to be borne.

INTOLÉRANCE, s. f. intolerance.

INTOLÉRANT, E, adj. intolerant.

INTOLÉRANTISME, s. m. intolerance.

INTONATION, s. f. (t. de musique), intonation. ses intonations sont justes, all his intonations are —are in tune.

INTRADOS, s. m. (t. d'archit.), the inside of an arch.

INTRADUISIBLE, adj. untranslateable; not to be ated.

INTRAITABLE, adj. intractable. Il est d'une humeur intraitable, he has an intractable temper. Il est inflexible sur ce point, he is quite obstinate on that score will not hear about it.

INTRANSITIF, IVE, adj. (t. de gramm., pron. in-tran-zi-tif), intransitive. Parler est un verbe intransitif, k is an intransitive or neuter verb.

INTRANT, s. m. (vieux mot en usage autrefois à l'université de Paris), a member chosen to elect the rector.

INTRENTE-DEUX, adj. s. m. (t. de libraire), a vo- in 32mo.

INTRÉPIDE, adj. intrepid.

INTRÉPIDEMENT, adv. intrepidly.

INTRÉPIDITÉ, s. f. intrepidity.

INTRIGANT, s. m. adj. } C'est un intrigant, he is an INTRIGANTE, s. f. adj. } intriguer —an intriguing —a meddler—a crafty man. Renvoyez cette intrigante, dismiss that meddling woman. C'est une femme intrigante, she is a very cunning—meddling—woman ull of intrigues.

INTRIGUE, s. f. intrigue. Il a mal mené cette intrigue, he managed that intrigue badly. J'eus bientôt dévoilé leur intrigue, I soon discovered their intrigue—their secret plots. C'est un homme d'intrigue, he is an intriguing man—he is a man full of intrigue. Il vit d'intrigue, he lives by his wits. Vous aurez de la peine à vous tirer d'intrigue, you will have some difficulty to get out of it—of the mess.

Il a des intrigues partout, he has intrigues—love affairs —everywhere. Elle a eu plusieurs intrigues, she has had several adventures.

INTRIGUER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to intrigue; to perplex. Tout le monde intriguait pour le perdre, every one was intriguing—plotting—to ruin him. Ils sont toujours à intriguer, they are ever intriguing—plotting—together. Cela m'intrigue beaucoup, that thing perplexes —puzzles—me much. Il s'est intrigué pour obtenir cette place, he has used every means in his power to obtain that place. Il s'intrigue partout, he forces his way everywhere. Cette pièce de théâtre est bien intriguée, the plot of this play is very well contrived. (T. de bal masqué.) Un petit domino noir est venu m'intriguer, a little black domino came to puzzle me—harass me—perplex me—by his questions. On ne nous connaissait pas, conséquemment on ne pouvait nous intriguer, we were not known, consequently no one would meddle with—perplex—us.

INTRINSÈQUE, adj. intrinsic.

INTRINSÈQUEMENT, adv. intrinsically.

INTRODUCTEUR, s. m. } introducer; one who intro-INTRODUCTRICE, s. f. } duces.

INTRODUCTIF, IVE, adj. introductive.

INTRODUCTION, s. f. introduction. Cela vous servira d'introduction à la cour, that will be an introduction at court for you. Je lui ai donné quelques lettres d'introduction, I gave him a few letters of introduction—of recommendation. L'introduction de ces marchandises était défendue en France, it was forbidden to introduce these goods in France. C'est à lui que l'on doit l'introduction de cette coutume, it is to him they are indebted for the introduction of—for having introduced—this custom.

INTRODUIRE, v. a. rég. 6ème conj. (voyez Conduire), to introduce. Il m'introduisit dans le cabinet du roi, he introduced me into the king's closet. On nous introduisit dans une grande salle, we were introduced into a large hall. C'est un usage bizarre qui s'est introduit chez nous, it is an odd custom which has introduced itself—which has penetrated—among us. L'air qui s'introduit dans les poumons, the air which penetrates—introduces itself—into the lungs.

INTROÏT, s. m. introit; the beginning of the mass.

INTROMISSION, s. f. intromission; introduction.

INTRONISATION, s. f. enthroning.

INTRONISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to enthrone.

INTROUVABLE, adj. not to be found.

INTRURE, v. a. v. r., verbe défectueux dont il n'y a que l'infinitif et le participe passé, intrus, e, to intrude.

INTRUS, E, p. p., employé comme subst. et comme adj., intruder, intruded. Nous nous aperçûmes qu'il y avait plusieurs intrus parmi nous, we saw that there were several intruders among us. On ne sait comment il s'est intrus dans cette place, no one can tell how he intruded himself into that office.

INTRUSION, s. f. intrusion.

INTUITIF, IVE, adj. intuitive.

INTUITION, s. f. intuition.

INTUITIVEMENT, adv. intuitively; by intuition.

INTUMESCENCE, s. f. (t. de chirurgie), intumescence; swelling.

INTUSSUSCEPTION, s. f. (t. de médec.), intussusception.

INUSITÉ, E, adj. unusual; not in use.

INUTILE, adj. useless. Ce sont des regrets inutiles, these regrets are useless. Ce livre n'a été absolument inutile, that book was quite useless to me. Il est inutile de lui en parler, it is useless to speak to him about it. Il a fait des efforts inutiles, he made useless—unavailing—efforts.

Laisser quelqu'un inutile, not to use a person's services.

INUTILEMENT, adv. uselessly; without any use; vainly.

INUTILISABLE, adj. that cannot be used; that cannot be made use of.

INUTILITÉ, s. f. uselessness. On le laisse dans l'inutilité, they do not employ his services—he is allowed to remain idle. Ce discours est rempli d'inutilités, his speech is full of useless things.

INVAINCU, E, adj. unconquered.

INVALIDE, s. m. disabled soldier. L'Hôtel des Invalides à Paris fut fondé par Louis XIV., the hospital for disabled soldiers, in Paris, was founded by Louis XIV. La forteresse était défendue par une douzaine d'invalides, the fortress was defended by a dozen old disabled soldiers. Il est allé recevoir ses invalides, he has gone to receive his pension. (T. de marine.) Les invalides de la marine, a fund levied upon the pay of officers and sailors for the support of those who are disabled, (3 per cent).

INVALIDE, adj. infirm; sickly; invalid; (t. de jurisp.), invalid; void; null.

INVALIDEMENT, adv. (t. de jurisp.), invalidly; without validity.

INVALIDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to invalidate.

INVALIDITÉ, s. f. invalidity; invalidness.

INVARIABILITÉ, s. f. invariableness.

INVARIABLE, adj. invariable.

INVARIABLEMENT, adv. invariably.

INVASION, s. f. Les Tartares firent une invasion dans la Pologne, the Tartars made an invasion into Poland. (Fig.) Comment arrêter l'invasion de cette maladie? how are we to stop the invasion of that disease?

INVECTIVE, s. f. invective; abuse. Il se répandit en invectives contre lui, he poured forth abuse against him. Il s'emporte toujours à des invectives, he always gets into a run of abuse.

INVECTIVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to abuse, to utter invectives against a person.

INVENDABLE, adj. unsaleable; that cannot be sold.

INVENDU, E, adj. unsold.

INVENTAIRE, s. m. inventory; list; catalogue. Cet article ne se trouve pas dans l'inventaire, that article is not down in the inventory. (T. de jurisp.) Il est héritier sous bénéfice d'inventaire, is said of an heir who undertakes to pay the debts of the succession only up to the amount of the goods in the inventory.

J'ai acheté cela à un inventaire, I bought this at a public sale. Voyez Encan.

INVENTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to invent; to contrive. Il a inventé un nouvel instrument, he has invented a new instrument. Qui a inventé ce moyen? who contrived this method? Il est toujours à inventer quelque histoire, he is ever imagining some story.

(Fig., fam.) Il n'a pas inventé la poudre, he will not set the Thames on fire.

INVENTEUR, s. m. inventor.

INVENTRICE, s. f. inventress.

INVENTIF, IVE, adj. inventive.

INVENTION, s. f. invention. Avez-vous vu la nouvelle invention? have you seen the new invention? Cela est-il de votre invention? is that your own invention—have you invented that? Il a pris un brevet d'invention, he has taken out a patent—he is a patentee. Cette invention a obtenu un brevet, this invention was patented. Voilà une bonne invention, here is an excellent contrivance.

INVENTORIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to take an inventory.

INVERSABLE, adj. that cannot be turned over.

INVERSE, s. f. Il a fait l'inverse de ce que je lui ai dit, he has done the reverse of what I told him. Dans la proposition inverse, in the inverse proposition.

INVERSE, adj. Les objets sont réfléchis dans l'eau en sens inverse, all objects are reflected, in water, in a reversed way. Il a pris la direction inverse, he took the opposite way.

INVERSION, s. f. (t. de gramm.), inversion.

INVERTÉBRÉ, E, adj. invertebrated.

INVESTIGATEUR, s. m. (pron. in-vè-co-ti-gateur), investigator.

INVESTIGATRICE, s. f. investigator.

INVESTIGATION, s. f. investigation.

INVESTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to invest; to clothe; to array; to surround; to seize. Il l'avait investi du droit de vie et de mort, he had invested him with the right of life and death. Les troupes ont investi la place, the troops have invested—surrounded—the place.

INVESTISSEMENT, s. m. (t. milit.), investment; surrounding.

INVESTITURE, s. f. (t. d'église), investiture.

INVÉTÉRER, S', v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to get deep, to take root; to become rooted—inveterate. Le mal s'est tellement invétéré que l'on ne le peut guérir, the evil has got such deep root—has become so inveterate—that it is now incurable. Ne laissez pas invétérer ces erreurs, do not allow such errors to become inveterate—to get deep root. C'est un mal invétéré, it is an inveterate—deep rooted—evil.

INVINCIBLE, adj. invincible; (fig.), unconquerable, unsurmountable.

INVINCIBLEMENT, adv. invincibly; unconquerably.

INVIOLABILITÉ, s. f. inviolability.

INVIOLABLE, adj. inviolable; sacred.

INVIOLABLEMENT, adv. inviolably; sacredly.

INVISIBILITÉ, s. f. invisibleness; invisibility.

INVISIBLE, adj. invisible. Cela est invisible à l'œil nu, that is invisible to the naked eye. (Fig.) Un homme est invisible, on ne le trouve jamais chez lui, the man is not to be seen, he is never at home. Tout à coup il devint invisible, all of sudden he disappeared—vanished.

INVISIBLEMENT, adv. invisibly.

INVITATION, s. f. J'ai reçu une invitation à un bal, I received an invitation to a ball. On a fait des invitations aux corps constitués, invitations have been sent—made—to the public functionaries. Je n'ai pas reçu l'invitation de n'y rendre, I have had no invitation to go there. En voici l'invitation, here is the invitation for it.

INVITATOIRE, s. m. (t. de liturgie catholique), invitatory.

INVITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il vous a invité à dîner chez lui, jeudi prochain, he has invited us to dine with him on Thursday next. Ils ont eu bal et on ne nous n'y sommes pas invités, they have a ball to-night—we have not been invited to it. Il est venu m'inviter à aller à la campagne avec lui, he came to invite me to go in the country with him. Je me suis invité moi-même, I invited myself without ceremony. Les invités sont tous arrivés, all the people invited—all the guests have arrived.

(Fig.) Je vous invite à y aller, I advise you to it. Nous vous invitons à vous réconcilier, we recommend you to get reconciled. La raison, le bon sens, vous y invitent, reason, good sense, urge you to do it.

INVOCATION, s. f. (t. d'église catholique), invocation. Cette chapelle est sous l'invocation de la Vierge, the chapel is under the patronage—the protection—of the holy Virgin.

INVOLONTAIRE, adj. involuntary.

INVOLONTAIREMENT, adv. involuntarily.

INVOLUCRE, s. m. (t. de bot.), involucre.

INVOLUTION, s. f. involution.

INVOQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to invoke; to call upon. (T. de jurisp.), to appeal to, to make mention of.

INVRAISEMBLABLE, adj. not likely; unlikely; improbable.

INVRAISEMBLANCE, s. f. improbability; unlikelihood.

INVULNÉRABLE, adj. invulnerable, that cannot be wounded.

IODE, s. m. (t. de chimie), iodine.

IONIEN, s. m. adj. Ionian. Le dialecte Ionien

IONIENNE, s. f. adj. Ionian dialect.

IONIQUE, adj. Ionic.

IOTA, s. m. (l'i des Grecs). Il n'a pas avancé d'un trait pas un seul iota, he is so exact that he would it the slightest thing.

CACUANA, s. m. (t. de médec.), ipecacuanha.
O FACTO, (phrase adverb. empruntée du Latin), fact itself.
SCIBLE, adj. irascible; passionate; subject to

TO, Ab, (phrase adv. empruntée du Latin). C'est ument ab irato, this is a will made by a man in a

, s. f. (vieux mot), ire; anger.
S, s. m. (pron. i-ri-ce) (t. de bot.). Iris. Racine iris root. (T. d'astron.), rainbow. (T. d'anat.),

S, s. f. (t. de mythol.), Iris.
SÉ, E, adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), iris-like; having the of the rainbow.
LANDAIS, s. m. adj. } Irish. Je ne suis pas Ir- LANDAISE, s. f. adj. } landais, I am not an Irish-

LANDE, s. f. (t. de géog.), Ireland.
ONIE, s. f. irony. Il dit cela par ironie, he says of irony.
ONIQUE, adj. ironical.
ONIQUEMENT, adv. ironically.
QUOIS, s. m. adj. } (t. de géog.), name of a nation
QUOISE, s. f. adj. } of North America, the Mo-(T. d'ironie et de familiarité.) Quel Iroquois!
Hibernian looking fellow!
RACHETABLE, adj. (pron. ir-ra-che-table), irre-mable; that cannot be redeemed.
RADIATION, s. f. (t. de science), irradiation.
RADIER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to irradiate; to di-

RAISONNABLE, adj. irrational; without reason.
RATIONNEL, LE, adj. (t. de géom.), irrational.
RÉCONCILIABLE, adj. irreconcilable.
RÉCONCILIABLEMENT, adv. irreconcilably.
RÉCUSABLE, adj. that cannot be objected to.
RÉDUCTIBILITÉ, s. f. irreducibleness; that can-reduced.
RÉDUCTIBLE, adj. irreducible; that cannot be

RÉFLÉCHI, E, adj. thoughtless; heedless; not ed; done or said without consideration.
RÉFLEXION, s. f. want of reflection, thought; in-ateness.
RÉFORMABLE, adj. that cannot be reformed, re-

RÉFRAGABLE, adj. irrefragable.
RÉGULARITÉ, s. f. irregularity.
RÉGULIER, ÈRE, adj. irregular. (T. de droit Ce prêtre est devenu irrégulier, that priest has gularized.
RELIGIEUSEMENT, adv. irreligiously; wickedly.
RELIGION, s. f. irreligion; impiety; wickedness.
REMÉDIABLE, adj. irremediable; not to be re-

REMÉDIABLEMENT, adv. irremediably; withedy.
REMISSIBLE, adj. irremissible; not to be parect to be remitted.
REMISSIBLEMENT, adv. irremissibly.
RÉPARABLE, adj. irreparable.
RÉPARABLEMENT, adv. irreparably.
REPENTANCE, s. f. irrepentance.
REPENTANT, E, adj. who does not repent; har-

RÉPRÉHENSIBLE, adj. irreprehensible; blame-e from fault.
RÉPRÉHENSIBILITÉ, s. f. irreprehensibleness.
RÉPRÉHENSIBLE, adj. irreprehensible; faultless.
RÉPRÉHENSIBLEMENT, adv. irreprehensibly;
ly.
RÉPROCHABILITÉ, s. f. irreproachableness.
RÉPROCHABLE, adj. irreproachable; free from blameless.
RÉPROCHABLEMENT, adv. irreproachably.

IRRÉSISTIBLE, adj. irresistible.
IRRÉSISTIBLEMENT, adv. irresistibly.
IRRÉSOLU, E, adj. irresolute; in doubt; wavering.
IRRÉSOLUMENT, adv. irresolutely; without firmness. [tainty.
IRRÉSOLUTION, s. f. irresolution; doubt; uncer-IRRESPECTUEUX, EUSE, adj. disrespectful; wanting in respect.
IRRÉVÉREMMENT, adv. irreverently.
IRRÉVÉRENCE, s. f. irreverence; act of disrespect.
IRRÉVÉRENT, E, adj. irreverent; wanting in reverence.
IRRÉVOCABILITÉ, s. f. irrevocability; irrevocableness.
IRRÉVOCABLE, adj. irrevocable.
IRRÉVOCABLEMENT, adv. irrevocably.
IRRIGATION, s. f. (t. d'agric.), irrigation; watering.
IRRITABILITÉ, s. f. irritability; excitability.
IRRITABLE, adj. irritable; excitable.
IRRITANT, E, adj. exciting; irritating. (T. de jurisp.), annulling; making void.
IRRITATION, s. f. irritation; exasperation; excitement.
IRRITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to irritate. Un rien suffit pour l'irriter, the least thing is enough to irritate him. Votre conduite l'a irrité, your conduct has irritated him—has made him angry. Il est fort irrité contre vous, he is very angry with you. Il s'irrite, prenez garde, mind, he is getting irritated. Pourquoi vous irritez-vous ainsi? why do you get so irritated? Les sauces irritent l'appétit, sauces excite appetite. Cela a irrité sa goutte, that has irritated his gout. Ce bruit m'irrite les nerfs, that noise irritates my nerves. Ma fureur s'en irritait, my rage was excited—irritated—by it. Craignez un père irrité, dread an angry—an irritated—father. La mer est irritée, the sea is angry—is rough.
IRRORATION, s. f. (t. de didactique), irroration;
IRRUPTION, s. f. irruption. [watering.
ISABELLE, adj. Elle avait une robe de couleur isabelle, she wore a robe Isabel (of brown colour). History says that Isabel of Austria (1598) swore not to change her linen till Ostend was taken. The siege lasted three years, during which her linen had become of a brownish colour. Cheval isabelle, a brown horse. Il monte un isabelle foncé, he rides a dark brown horse.
ISCHION, s. m. (t. d'anat., pron. ice-hion), hip-bone.
ISCHURÉTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), ischuretic.
ISCHURIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), ischury; stoppage of urine.
ISIAQUE, adj. of Isis; belonging to Isis.
ISLAMISME, s. m. islamism; Mohammedanism.
ISOCÈLE, adj. (t. de géom.), isosceles.
ISOCHRONE, adj. (t. de mécan.), isochronous.
ISOCHRONISME, s. m. (t. de mécan.), isochronism;
uniformity of time.
ISOLATION, s. f. isolation. (T. d'élect.), insulation.
ISOLEMENT, s. m. Il vit dans l'isolement, he lives in solitude—alone—in loneliness. Cet état d'isolement lui est pénible, that solitary state is painful to him. (T. d'élect.), insulation.
ISOLÉMENT, adv. separately; solely; singly.
ISOLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Pour isoler son palais, il a fait abattre les maisons qui l'entouraient, to isolate his palace, to have it stand alone, he has pulled down all the houses which surrounded it. Il habite une maison isolée, he inhabits a single house—a detached house. I l'attira dans un endroit isolé, he drew him into a lonely spot. Sa maison est isolée, his house stands alone.
Pourquoi vous isolez-vous ainsi? why do you live so lonely—away from others? C'est un homme isolé, he is a lonely man. Elle se trouva bien isolée après la mort de son mari, she found herself very lonely—very solitary—after the death of her husband. On l'isola de ceux qui auraient pu lui être utiles, they kept him away from those who could have done him service. Isoler un objet de ceux qui l'entourent, to separate an object from the surrounding ones.

) La lumière jaillit du choc des opinions, out llision of opinions comes forth light.
LLISANT, E, adj. Il a dans son jardin des llissantes, there are spouting—gushing—waters—orden.
LISSEMENT, s. m. spurting out; gushing out.
s. m. jet. Elle avait un collier de jais, she ecklace of jet. Cela est noir comme jais, this is as jet. Jais artificiel, (a glass imitation), bugle. du jais de toutes couleurs they wear bugle of ours.
AGE, s. m. (t. de féodalité), a duty paid to the n wine sold retail.
AP, s. m. (t. de médec., pron. ja-lape), jalap.
, s. f. large pail or tureen.
T, s. m. pebble; stone, (formerly used as a missile). à jalet, a cross-bow with which small stones own.
ON, s. m. stick, small pole (used by land sur- (Fig.) Ces grandes époques sont des jalons à quels on se dirige dans l'étude de l'histoire, these ches are at its were land-marks which guide you udy of history.
ONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'arpenteur). e sticks; to mark out the ground by means of (Fig.) Ces savants jalonnèrent la route pour s viendraient après eux, these learned men marked oute for those who should follow them.
ONNEUR, s. m. (t. milit.), a soldier who stands ain direction, to mark out the ground.
OUSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to be envious of; to be jealous of. Il jalouse ses concurrents, he is of his competitors.
OUSIE, s. f. jealousy. La jalousie la tourmente, tormenta her. Sa femme lui donne beaucoup de his wife excites his jealousy, gives him great e jealousy. Il entretenait une basse jalousie, he ed base feelings of jealousy. Il y a souvent de la entre les gens du même métier, there often exists between people of the same trade—profession. deur dissipait de la jalousie à ses voisins, his good excited the jealousy—the envy—of his neigh- (T. milit.) Tenir un pays en jalousie, to keep a on the alert.
OUSIE, s. f. Venetian blinds. Levez la jalousie, the blinds. *Voulez-vous que je baisse la ja*hall I let the blinds down?
e de jalousie, symphonia.
OUX, E, adj. jealous. Il est jaloux de sa femme, alous of his wife. Elle est jalouse des caresses il à ses enfants, she is jealous—envious—of the he makes to his children. Un voile jaloux ses charmes, an envious veil concealed her ) Il est jaloux de ses droits, he is jealous of his Je suis jaloux de lui plaire, I am anxious to please (T. de marine.) Ce bâtiment est jaloux, this boat crank—rolls much.

AIS, adj. never. Il ne reviendra jamais, he will come back. Avez-vous été à Rome? have you Rome? Non, jamais, no, never.
mais vous venez me voir, if ever you come to see t-on jamais vu chose pareille, have you ever seen thing? C'est un brave homme, s'il en fut jamais, fine fellow, if ever there was one. Dieu soit béni is, God be for ever blessed. Adieu pour jamais, ll for ever. Au grand jamais, never. Pour jamais, r.
AMBAGE, s. m. (t. d'arch.), pier. Jambage de e, the jamb of a fire-place. Les jambages d'une the door posts.
d'écriture.) Il fait encore des jambages, he is still g straight strokes. (T. de féodal.) *Droit de jam*he right a lord had of putting his leg in the bed of e on the wedding night.
AMBE, s. f. leg. Il a les jambes grosses, he has legs. Il est haut de jambes, he has long legs. Il mbe bien faite, he has a well formed leg. Il a la jambe tout d'une venue comme celle d'un chien, his leg is straight and thin like that of a dog. Il a mal à la jambe, he has a sore leg. Il s'est fait mal à la jambe, he hurt his leg. Il s'est cassé la jambe en tombant de cheval, he broke his leg in falling from his horse. Il ne peut pas se tenir sur ses jambes, he cannot stand on his legs. Il porte une jambe de bois, he has a wooden leg. Il a de bonnes jambes, he has good legs, i. e. he walks well. Je n'ai plus de jambes, my legs have failed me, i. e. I cannot walk, stand. Aller—courir, à toutes jambes, to go, to run as fast as your legs will carry you. Je lui romprai bras et jambes, I will break his bones. Si vous lui ôtez cela, vous lui coupez bras et jambes, if you deprive him of that, you take away every resource—you leave him totally unprovided. Prendre ses jambes à son cou, to cut along—to run away swiftly. Jouer des jambes, to run away. Il a encore ses jambes de quinze ans, he is still alert—quick—he has his young legs still. Il a renouvelé de jambes, he renewed his corporeal strength. Je vous conseille de faire des jambes de vin, I advise you to drink a glass of wine or two to give you strength to walk. (Ironiq.) Vous n'en aurez pas la jambe mieux faite, that will not improve your leg, if you do it, i. e. it is perfectly useless. Maintenant qu'il l'a exécuté, cela ne lui fait-il pas une belle jambe, now he has done it, does it not improve his leg, i. e. does he get any thing by it? Jeter le chat aux jambes de quelqu'un, to throw the fault upon another—to get him into difficulty. Jeter quelqu'un par dessous la jambe, to manage one easily—to do what you like with him. Elle montait à cheval jambe de çà, jambe de là, she rode astride. (T. de médec.) Jambes des Barbades, elephantiasis known in the West Indies. (T. d'arch.) Jambes de force, rafters.

JAMBÉ, E, adj. Cet homme est bien jambé, that man has good legs—well shaped legs. Il est mal jambé, he has bad legs.

JAMBETTE, s. f. a small pocket knife; a clasp knife.

JAMBIER, ÈRE, adj. (t. d'anat.). Les muscles jambiers, the muscles of the legs.

JAMBON, s. m. ham. J'ai mangé une tranche de jambon, I have eaten a slice of ham.

JAMBONNEAU, s. m. a gammon; a small ham.

JAN, s. m. (t. de jeu de trictrac). Faire son petit jan, to fill the left hand table. Faire son grand jan, to fill the right hand table.

JANISSAIRE, s. m. Janizary, (Turkish foot-soldier). Le corps des Janissaires a été cassé en 1826, the Janizaries were abolished in 1826.

JANSÉNISME, s. m. Jansenism; (doctrine of Jansenius 1640, in the time of Louis XIV.).

JANSÉNISTE, s. m. f. Jansenist, a partisan of Jansenius. (Langage ordinaire), puritan. (T. d'habillement.) s. f. sort of mitten; sort of petticoat.

JANTE, s. f. a felloe (of a wheel).

JANVIER, s. m. January. Il est arrivé le dix Janvier, he came on the tenth of January. L'année commence au premier Janvier, the year begins on the first of January.

JAPON, s. m. (t. de géog.), Japan. Il est allé au Japon, he has gone to Japan. Il a de très-beau Japon, he has very fine Japanese china.

JAPONAIS, s. m. adj. } Japanese.
JAPONAISE, s. f. adj. }
JAPONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to japan.
JAPPEMENT, s. m. barking.
JAPPER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to bark.
JAQUE, s. f. (vieux mot). Il portait une jaque de maille, he wore a coat of mail.
JAQUEMART, s. m. jack of the clock-house; a figure which is made to strike the hours, in clocks. (Fam.) Il est armé comme un jaquemart, he is armed like a scarecrow.
JAQUETTE, s. f. jacket. Il était encore à la jaquette, he still wore a child's coat. (Fam.) Trousser la jaquette à un enfant, to flog a child.
JAQUIER, s. m. (t. de bot.). sort of fig tree.
JARDIN, s. m. garden. Jardin fruitier, a fruit garden. Jardin potager, kitchen garden. Jardin fle- glais, pleasure grounds. Jardin des plantes, ou jardin botanique, a botanical garden. Il est à travailler dans son jardin, he is working in his garden. (Fam.) Il fait de mes affaires comme des choux de son jardin, he uses my things as he would the cabbages of his own garden, i. e. as if they were his own. Pourquoi venez-vous jeter des pierres dans mon jardin? why do you cast stones at me? Cela n'est pas cru dans ton jardin, come, come, that is none of your own growth.

JARDINAGE, s. m. gardening; vegetables. Il entend bien le jardinage, he understands gardening. Il menait une voiture de jardinage au marché, he was driving a cartful of vegetables to market.

JARDINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to garden; to work in a garden. Il se plaît à jardiner, he takes pleasure in gardening.

JARDINET, s. m. a small garden.

JARDINEUSE, adj. f. (t. de joaillier). Cette émeraude est jardineuse, that emerald is not bright—it is of a dingy colour.

JARDINIER, s. m. } gardener. Nous avons un très-
JARDINIERE, s. f. } habile jardinier, we have a very clever gardener. Il est jardinier-fleuriste, he is a florist.

(T de cuisine.) Nous avions une jardinière excellente, we had an excellent "jardinière;" a dish composed of vegetables highly seasoned. (T. d'ameublement.) Une jardinière élégante ornait le salon, an elegant flower-stand ornamented the saloon.

JARDONS, s. m. (t. de vétérin.), jardes.

JARGON, s. m. gibberish. (Fam.) Les Bohémiens ont un jargon particulier, the gypsies have a cant of their own. Je n'entends pas le jargon des petits maîtres, I do not understand the jargon of young men of fashion. (T. de joaillier), sort of diamond of a yellow tinge.

JARGONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to jargon; to talk gibberish.

JARNAC, s. m. En 1547, le Seigneur de Jarnac en combattant avec le seigneur de la Châtaigneraie porta à ce dernier un coup imprévu au jarret, qui le fit tomber. De là, donner un coup de Jarnac, to give an underhand blow, a treacherous blow.

JARNI. } Corruption de "Je renie," je renie
JARNI BLEU. } Dieu: jurements dont les paysans se servaient, a sort of oath.

JARNICOTON, s. m. Corruption de "Je renie Coton;" jurement substitué à "Je renie Dieu," dont Henri IV. avait l'habitude, et dont l'Abbé Coton le reprenait sans cesse, a sort of oath.

JARRE, s. f. jar.

JARRET, s. m. ham. Il a du jarret, he has strong legs. Pliez le jarret, bend your legs, your knee. Tendez le jarret, stretch out your legs. Le pauvre malheureux a roidi le jarret, death has stiffened the poor fellow's legs. Il est ferme sur ses jarrets, he stands firm on his legs—he stands unmoved. C'est un coupe jarret, he is a cut-throat—a ruffian.

Un jarret de veau, a knuckle of veal. Un jarret de bœuf, a shin of beef. Couper les jarrets à un cheval, to hamstring a horse. (T. d'archit.), a fault; a defect.

JARRETÉ, E, adj. gartered. (T. de danse.) Ce danseur est jarreté, this opera dancer has thick knees.

JARRETIERE, s. f. garter. Attachez votre jarretière, tie up your garter. L'ordre de la jarretière fut institué en 1314, the order of the Garter was instituted in 1314.

JARS, s. m. gander. (Fig., pop.) Il entend le jars, he is a cunning fellow—he knows what is what.

JAS, s. m. (t. de marine). Le jas d'une ancre, the stock of an anchor.

JASER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to chatter; to talk; to babble.

JASERIE, s. f. chattering; chat; babbling.

JASEUR, s. m. } chatterer; babbler. Prenez garde,
JASEUSE, s. f. } c'est un jaseur, mind him, he babbles—he is a babbler.

JASMIN, s. m. jessamine.

JASPE, s. m. (t. de sûrer.), jasper.

JASPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to marble. Cette tulipe est jaspée, this tulip is variegated. Le relieur a jaspé la tranche de ce livre, the bookbinder has marbled this book.

JASPURE, s. f. (t. de relieur), marbling.

JATTE, s. f. bowl; pan. Je lui ai donné une pleine de soupe, I gave him a bowlful of soup. Il a le lait dans de grandes jattes de terre, they put the milk into large earthen pans. (Fam.) Cid de pan, a person who has lost the use of his legs, and moves by means of a large wooden bowl, in which he sits.

JATTÉE, s. f. a panful; a bowlful.

JAUGE, s. f. gauge; measure; gauging rod.

JAUGEAGE, s. m. gauging.

JAUGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to gauge; to measure.

JAUGEUR, s. m. gauger.

JAUNATRE, adj. yellowish.

JAUNE, s. m. Je n'aime pas le jaune, I am not fond of yellow—I do not like the yellow colour. Ce bleu jaune, it is a bright yellow colour. Un jaune d'œuf, the yolk of an egg JAUNE, adj. yellow. Elle portait une robe jaune, she wore a yellow dress. Comme il a le teint jaune, et comme his complexion is! Il est jaune comme un coing, he is as yellow as a quince. Voyez Bec jaune.

JAUNET, s. m. (t. de bot.), buttercup, (fam.) a piece. Il lui a donné deux jaunets, he gave him two pieces.

JAUNET, TE, adj. yellowish.

JAUNIR, v. a. v. n. rég. 2de conj. Voyez Finir. Le soleil jaunit les moissons, the sun turns the harvest yellow. Les blés jaunissent, the corn is getting—turning—yellow. Vous jaunissez à vue d'œil, you are getting very yellow—your complexion is getting yellow. Les blés jaunissent, the ripening wheat.

JAUNISSE, s. f. (t. de métier.), jaundice.

JAVART, s. m. (t. de vétérinaire), a swelling in a horse's pastern.

JAVEAU, s. m. an alluvious deposit.

JAVELER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (T. d'agric.) Il faut javeler ces blés, this corn must be made into sheaves. Le blé javelle, the corn is ripening.

JAVELEUR, s. m. (t. d'agricul.), harvest man who binds corn into sheaves.

JAVELINE, s. f. javelin. Lancer un javelot, to hurl—to throw—a javelin.

JAVELLE, s. f. (t. d'agric.), sheaf. (T. de vannier), bundle. Mettez une javelle au feu, put a bundle of wood—a small fagot—into the fire. (T. de tonnelier) Le tonneau est tombé en javelle, the cask fell to all lots into a bundle.

JAVELOT, s. m. javelin.

JE, pron. pers. I. Je fais, I do. Je n'y manquerai pas, I shall not fail. Eh bien, ne vous l'ai-je pas dit, well, did I not say so? Que ferai-je, what shall I do? Dussé-je en périr, were I to die for it. Peut-être, may be I shall go. Aussi puis-je vous l'assurer, I can assure you of it. En vain prétendrais-je le convaincre, in vain should I pretend to convince him of it.

Je ne sais quoi, I know not what. Je ne sais quoi que c'est, c'est un je ne sais quoi qui, some charm, I not say what it is, it is I know not what—something which charms you.

JEAN, (nom employé dans quelques phrases.) Ce n'est un Jean, he is a tomcompoop—a ninny—a silly fellow. Ris t'en, Jean, on te frit des œufs, you may laugh, John, they have a rod in pickle for you. Il fait Jean de Lagny, he pretends ignorance of it. Jean lapin, a rabbit. Jean farine, a silly fellow.

La Saint Jean (St. John's festival), midsummer day. Nous allons le mettre à l'école à la Saint Jean, we put him to school at midsummer.

JECTISSES, adj. pl. f. Ce sont des terres jectisses. Voyez Terres rapportées.

JÉHOVAH, s. m. (nom de Dieu en Hébreu, Iahveh, Iahvah).

JÉJUNUM, s. m. (mot latin, pron. jéjunome, à l'anat.), jejunum, an intestine.

JÉRÉMIADE, s. f. lamentation; doleful complaint.

ÉSUITE, s. m. Jesuit (a member of the order founded gnatius of Loyola, 1534). (Dans le langage commun), ecrite; false; (in some provinces of France), a turkey.
e Jesuits introduced the turkey into France.)
ÉSUITESSE, s. f. a nun of the order of female Jesuits, ded 1534, abolished 1631.
ÉSUITIQUE, adj. jesuitical; (fig.), hypocritical;

ÉSUIT QUEMENT, adv. jesuitically; (fig.), hypocally.
ÉSUITISER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to act like a Je-
; to deceive by false appearances.
ÉSUITISME, s. m. Jesuitism; (fig.), cunning; de-, prevarication.
T, s. m. Un jet de pierre, a stone throw—cast. Il ure à un jet de pierre, his residence is within a stone's . La jet des bombes nous incommodait fort, we were inconvenienced by the throwing of shells. Armes bows, cross-bows, &c. Un jet de lumière, a ray ght. Un jet d'eau, a water-spout; a jet of water.
et d'abeilles, a swarm of young bees. Un jet de filet, e of a net. Il a pris tout ce poisson d'un jet, he t all that fish at one cast—haul. *J'ai achété le
I bought the cast—the haul. Cette canne est d'un et, this cane is without joints—knots. Il a un très-jet, he has a beautiful reed—cane. (T. de marine.) ole jet, to throw goods overboard at sea. Calculer au à la plume, to cast up with counters and with the pen.
de fonderie.) Cette statue est d'un seul jet, this statue ast at once—is of one cast. (T. d'agric., de jardi-.) Ces arbres ont donné de beaux jets, these trees beautiful shoots. (T. de fauconn.), jess.
g) Il a écrit cette pièce de vers d'un seul jet, he three verses at once—on the spur of the moment.
premier jet, at the first attempt.
TÉ, s. m. (t. de danse), "jeté."
TÉE, s. f. jetty; pier; (dans l'intérieur), cause-

TER, v. a. & r. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (commencement), re; to cast. *Il nous jeta quelques pièces de mon-
*; he cast—he threw—at us a few coins. Les enfants ent à jeter des pierres, children amuse themselves throwing stones. Pourriez-vous jeter une pierre à de la rivière, can you throw a stone across the river?
une javeline, to hurl a javelin. Ils jetaient leurs s pour s'enfuir plus vite, they cast away—they threw —their arms to run away quicker. Vous jetez tout ère, you throw everything down. Ne jetez rien par nêtre, throw nothing out of the window. C'est un me qui jette l'argent par les fenêtres, he is an extragant fellow who throws money away. Jeter bas une se, to pull a house down. Jeter des larmes, to drop . Il ne jeta pas une seule larme, he did not shed one e tear. Elle jeta les hauts cris, she cried aloud.
jette de gros soupirs, she fetches heavy sighs—she heavily. (T. de fonderie), to cast. Jeter une statue, at a statue. Jeter en moule, to cast in a mould.
). Cela ne se jette pas en moule, that is not so easily
. (T. de marine.) Jeter l'ancre, to cast anchor.
le plomb—la sonde, to heave the lead. Ce diamant de l'éclat, this diamond throws out fire. La fontaine beaucoup d'eau, the spring throws out much water.
des étincelles, to sparkle. Il fallut jeter les mar-dises à la mer, we were obliged to throw the goods board at sea. Elle jeta un châle sur ses épaules, she a shawl over her shoulders. Il jeta ses cartes sur le, he threw down his cards on the table. C'est lui jeta les fondements de la ville, it was he who laid the ations of the town. On jeta un pont sur la rivière, threw a bridge across the river. On les jeta dans un t, they were thrown—cast—into a dungeon. Il faut un voile sur ces malheurs, let us cast a veil over these rtunes. Ces arbres jettent de profondes racines, trees throw out deep roots. *Cet arbre n'a pas jeté
t*, that tree did not shoot at all. Les abeilles jettent fois l'an, bees swarm twice in the year. La plaie beaucoup, the wound suppurates much. *Mon cheval gourme, my horse has the glanders. (Fig.) Eh bien, a-t-il jeté son venin, well, has he cast out his venom?

Il s'est jeté par la fenêtre, he threw himself out of the window. Je me jetterais dans le feu pour lui, I would run into the fire for him. Il se jeta dans le danger, he rushed into danger. Il s'y jeta à corps perdu, he rushed headlong into it. Il se jeta dans mes bras, he threw himself into my arms. Ils se jetèrent dans les bras l'un de l'autre, they threw themselves into each other's arms. Les chiens se jetèrent sur le voleur, the dogs fell upon the thief. Ils étaient tellement affamés qu'ils se jetèrent sur les vivres, they were so famished that they made a rush at—that they fell upon—the provisions. Il se jeta dans la politique, he rushed into politics. Après une jeunesse dissolue elle s'est jetée dans la religion, after having passed a dissolute youth she became suddenly religious. Je me jetai à ses pieds, I fell—I threw myself—at his feet. Nous nous jetâmes à l'eau, we jumped into the water. Nous nous jetâmes après lui, we jumped in after him. Nous nous jetâmes à sa poursuite, we ruined in pursuit of him. Le Rhône se jette dans la mer, the Rhone throws itself—empties itself—into the sea. Vous allez vous jeter dans de grands embarras, you will throw yourself into great difficulties.

(Fig.) J'ai jeté mes idées sur le papier, I threw my ideas into writing. Jetez un coup d'œil là-dessus, please to cast your eyes—your looks—upon this—to give a look at this. Elle lui jetait des œillades en dessous, she cast sly looks at him. J'ai jeté les yeux sur vous pour y aller, I cast my eyes upon you to go there. Cela nous jette dans l'embarras, that throws us into difficulty. Voulez-vous que nous jetions au sort, shall we cast lots? Le sort en est jeté, il faut que cela soit, the die is cast, it must be so. Le sort nous avait jetés loin de notre patrie, fortune had cast us away far from our country.

(Phrases.) Jeter de l'huile sur le feu, to throw oil upon the fire—to excite others. Je n'en jetterais pas ma part aux chiens, I would not give my share of it to the dogs—I would not give up my pretensions—my claims to it. Jeter son bien par la fenêtre, to be very extravagant—to be lavish of one's expenses. Jeter le manche après la cognée, to give up a thing—to despair accomplishing it—to throw the helve after the hatchet. Je jette ma langue aux chiens, I give it up, i. e. I cannot guess. Il n'est pas bon à jeter aux chiens, he is not fit for anything. On nous jette ces marchandises à la tête, these goods are given for nothing. Ne pensez pas que je lui jette ma fille à la tête, do not imagine I would give him my daughter without his asking for her. Il nous a jeté de la poudre aux yeux, he cast dust in our eyes, i. e., he dazzled us. Il a jeté son plomb sur cette place, mais il ne l'aura pas, he has cast an eye upon—he wishes to have—that place, but he shall not have it. Jeter le grappin sur une chose, to seize hold of a thing. Jeter le froc aux orties, to throw out one's gown among the nettles, (an allusion to the monks and priests who threw their gown away in the field, and gave up their profession to mix among the world again), i. e., to give up one's profession. Jeter son bonnet par dessus les moulins, not to care for what people will say—not to care for public opinion—,—not to know any more what happened. Jeter son dévolu sur quelque chose, to fix one's choice upon a thing. Cet homme là jette un mauvais coton, that man has an ugly appearance—has an ugly look. Il jette un vilain coton, he is losing his credit—his character. Il jette feu et flamme, he is in a great rage—he is furious. Allons, avez-vous jeté votre feu, come, have you vented all your anger? Jeter une personne à la porte, to turn a man out of doors. Il nous en a jeté un mot ou deux, he threw out a few hints to us. Il a toujours quelque chose de désagréable à vous jeter au nez, he has always something unpleasant to throw in your teeth.

JETON, s. m. counter. (Fig.) Il est faux comme un jeton, he is as false as a brass shilling.

JEU, s. m. play; sport. Je ne veux pas interrompre vos jeux, I will not interrupt your sports—your amusements. Continuez vos jeux, go on with your sports—games. Cela est un jeu d'enfant, that is child's play. Les anciens célébraient leurs victoires par des jeux, the ancients celebrated their victories by games. On fit des jeux sur le tombeau d'Achille, they celebrated games on the tomb of Achilles. On célébrait des jeux floraux à Toulouse tous les ans, they had annual floral games at Toulouse. Jeux militaires, gymnastics. (T. d'arch.) Jeu d'eau, water fountain. (T. d'escrime.) Je connais son jeu, I know his play.

Il y a plusieurs espèces de jeux, there are several sorts of games. Jeu de mail, racket. Jeu de paume, tennis court. A quel jeu jouent-ils, what game are they playing? Au jeu de paume, at tennis. Jeu de billard, billiard. J'aime le jeu de billard, I am very fond of billiards. Jeu de boule, bowling green—game at bowls. Jeu de cartes, a pack of cards. Jeu de hasard, chance game—hazard. Elle m'a donné un jeu d'échec, she gave me a set of chess men.

Le jeu, gambling. Elle aime le jeu, she is fond of cards—she likes gambling. Sa passion pour le jeu le ruinera, his great fondness for play—for gambling—will be his ruin. Jouez le jeu, play the game. Suivez les règles du jeu, follow the rules of the game. Je vous conseille de quitter le jeu, I advise you to give up playing—play—gambling. Nous nous sommes mis au jeu de bonne heure, we begun playing—we sat down to play—early. Il ne veut pas qu'on lui parle quand il est au jeu, he will not be spoken to when he is at play. Y a-t-il longtemps que vous êtes au jeu, have you been long playing? Nous sommes à deux de jeu, we are each within two games of winning the set—(Jeg.) we are equal—we are a match for each other. Les maisons de jeu sont abolies, gambling houses are abolished. Jouer gros jeu, to play high. Jouer petit jeu, to play low. Nous jouons très-petit jeu, we play very low. Ces gens-là jouent un jeu d'enfer, those people are playing enormously high. Faire le jeu, to stake—to put into the pool. Regardez votre jeu, look at your game—your hand. Avez-vous beau jeu, have you a good game—good hand? (Fig.) Je vous fais beau jeu, I give you fair play. Tenez mon jeu, hold my cards. Il a le jeu serré, he plays close. Êtes-vous du jeu, do you play? Entrer au jeu, to come in. Il m'est rentré vilain jeu, I took up bad cards. On voit votre jeu, we see your cards. Il mit jeu sur la table, he threw his cards upon the table—he threw up his cards. Jouer bon jeu, to play fair. Tromper au jeu, to cheat at play. Il a perdu beaucoup au jeu, he has lost much at play. Ce n'est pas jouer à jeu égal, that is not playing on equal terms. Il a le jeu dans sa main, he has the game in his hand.

Jeu de mot, a pun. Ce ne sont que jeux d'esprit, these are mere puns—mere witticisms—mere jokes. Il y a des jeux de la nature fort remarquables, there are very strange sports of nature; (lusus naturæ). Tels sont les jeux de la fortune, such are the sports of fortune. C'est un jeu du hasard, it is a chance—an effect of hazard.

(T. de marine.) Un jeu de voiles, a suit of sails. Un jeu d'avirons, a set of oars. (T. de musique.) Un jeu d'orgues, an organ. Un jeu de flûte, the flute stop. (T. de machine.) Le jeu du piston, the play of the piston. Le jeu de cette machine va bien, this machinery works well. (T. de théâtre.) On n'aime pas le jeu de cet acteur, the play—the action—of that actor is not liked. Jeu de bourse, a play on the funds.

(Phrases.) Le jeu n'en vaut pas la chandelle, it is not worth the while. Mettre quelqu'un en jeu, to name a person without his consent—to bring his name into question. Couvrez votre jeu, conceal your game. Prendre une chose en jeu, to take a thing in joke. Cela passe le jeu, this is beyond a joke. Vous vous faites un jeu de la tourmenter, you make it a joke—a pleasure—to torment her. C'est un jeu à vous casser les bras, you risk the breaking your arms at that game. Jeu de mains, jeu de vilains, rough play is bad. Ce n'est qu'un jeu, it is mere play—mere joke. De bon jeu, fairly—in fair play. Jouer à jeu sûr, to be sure of one's game—success. Bon jeu, bon argent, in earnest. Il sait adroitement tirer son épine du jeu, he can cleverly get out of it unhurt. C'est un jeu qu'ils jouent, it is a game they are playing—this is mere pretence. Mettre une chose en jeu, to make a thing to act—to bring it into play. On verra beau jeu, si la corde se rompt, you will see wonders if the mesa fall out. Jouer le jeu serré, to play close.

JEUDI, s. m. Thursday. Je l'ai vu jeudi, I saw him on Thursday. De jeudi en huit, on Thursday next. Nous nous rassemblons tous les jeudis, we meet on Thursday—on Thursdays. Jeudi gras, the Thursday before Lent. (Form.) La semaine des trois jeudis, Maundy Thursday. Jeudi saint, Maundy Thursday.

JEUN, A, (loc. adv.). Je suis à jeun, I have not broken my fast. Vous ne devriez pas rester si longtemps à jeun, you should not stay so long without eating—on an empty stomach.

JEÛNE, s. m. fast; fasting. Rompre son jeûne, to break one's fast. C'est aujourd'hui jour de jeûne, it is a fast-day. Un trop long jeûne ruine la santé, too long a fast injures the health. Nous observons les jeûnes ordonnés par l'Église, we observe the fast-days ordained by the church.

JEUNE, adj. young. Quel est le plus jeune de ces deux, which is the youngest of the two? Il est le plus jeune de deux ans, he is younger by two years. Je l'ai connu tout jeune, I knew him in his youth. Il est encore fort jeune, he was very young when he wrote it. Cette idée enflammait son jeune courage, that idea inflamed his youthful ardour—courage. Le jeune âge, infancy—youth. Dans mon jeune temps, in my youth—in my younger days.

Cette couleur est jeune, this colour suits young people. Cette mise est trop jeune pour vous, this dress is too young—gay—for your age. Elle a la voix si jeune, she has so fresh—so young. Il a le cœur jeune, he is still young—he has the heart of a young man. Ce jeune homme, a youngster. Vous avez la barbe trop jeune pour cela, you are too young for that. Denys le jeune, Dionysius the younger. Son nom est sur la porte: Delon, jeune, pharmacien, his name is above the door: Delon, junior, druggist. Cet homme a encore les goûts d'un jeune homme, that man has still the tastes of a young man. Qu'il est jeune, how young—giddy—he is! Il est fou comme un jeune chien, he is as mad as a March hare. Jeune de vieux poisson, young flesh, old fish (ore gaul).

JEUNEMENT, adv. lately; recently.

JEÛNER, v. n. reg. Ière conj., to fast; to keep a fast. C'est jeûner trop long-temps, this is fasting too long—eating too long a fast.

JEUNESSE, s. f. youth. La jeunesse passe bien vite, youth passes off quickly. J'ai passé ma jeunesse en France, I spent my youth in France. Il a encore de la jeunesse, malgré ses quarante ans, in spite of his forty years of age he still looks young. Dans sa première jeunesse, in his earliest youth. Dès sa jeunesse, from his youth. Il est aveugle de jeunesse, he is blind from his youth. Il faut que jeunesse se passe, young men will be young. Enseigner la jeunesse, to teach young people. C'est-là que la jeunesse de la ville se rassemble, it is there that the young men—the youths—of the town meet.

Vous avez-là une jolie jeunesse pour servante, you have a pretty young maid for your servant.

JEUNET, TE, adj. Elle est encore jeunette, she is still youngish.

JEÛNEUR, s. m. } faster; one who fasts.
JEÛNEUSE, s. f. }

JOAILLERIE, s. f. jewellery; jeweller's trade.

JOAILLIER, s. m. }
JOAILLIÈRE, s. f. } jeweller.

JOBARD, s. m. a silly man.

JOBARDERIE, s. f. silly thing; silliness.

JOBBERIE, s. f. (mot empruntè de l'Anglais) job; jobbing.

JOBISME, s. m. } (mot emprunté de l'Anglais, and on a changé le sens), a tiger; a groom.

JOCKEY, s. m. } trouble dans la commerce.

JOCKO, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat., espèce de singe) orang outang.

JOCRISSE, s. m. silly fellow; a ninny; a simpleton. (En parlant d'un homme faible), un vrai jocrisse. (Au théâtre.) Brunet jouait les Jocrisses à merveille, Brunet acted the part of silly servants admirably.

JOIE, s. f. joy. Elle pleurait de joie, she was crying

. Il ne se sentait pas de joie, he did not feel him-
joy. Quelle joie elle aura de le revoir, how joy-will be to see him again! Il est ivre de joie, he with joy. Nager dans la joie, to be in a sea of . J'ai eu la joie de la revoir, I had the joy—the —to see her again. Il est toujours en joie, he is ppy—merry. Vive la joie, joy—pleasure—for Vous le trouverez dans la joie de son cœur, you d him in the delight—joy—of his heart. Elle fait de ses parents, she is the delight—the joy—of her . S'en donner à cœur joie, to enjoy a thing fully tely. Il est comblé de joie, he is overwhelmed
y.
de joie, bon-fire. Fille de joie, a prostitute, a of pleasure.
INANT, E, (part. prés. employé comme adj.). Il dans la maison joignante à la mienne, he inhabits ne contiguous—next—to mine.
NDRE, *v. a. v. r. v. n. rég. 7ème conj. Voyez
re. Il faudrait joindre ces deux planches ensemble*, e necessary to join these two boards together.
les mains, clasp your hands together. Nous avons deux maisons, we joined—united—the two houses.
ait une table des matières à l'ouvrage, I joined——added—a table of contents to the work. Joignez ue la chose est nécessaire, add to that that the thing sary. Il a bien de la peine à joindre les deux e l'année, he has much difficulty to make both et. Il sait joindre l'utile à l'agréable, he knows join—to unite—the useful to the agreeable. Il douceur à la majesté, he joins—he unites—gentle-to majesty. Joignez vos efforts aux miens, unite—our efforts with mine. On lui ordonna d'aller l'escadre, he was ordered to go and join the fleet.
attention d'aller les joindre à la campagne, he in-go and join them in the country. Si une fois je joindre je lui dirai ce que je pense, if ever I can n I will tell him what I think. Il va doucement, ma bérudité joint, he walks slowly, I shall soon have overtaken—him. Nous ne pourrons nous joindre, not meet. Toutes ces bonnes qualités se trouvaient en lui, all these excellent qualities were united in Ils se sont joints contre leurs ennemis, they joined united—against their enemies. Il s'est joint à y parvenir, he united with him to accomplish it.
porte se joint pas, that door does not close well—ir close. trouverez ci-joint copie de sa lettre, you will find closed—here annexed—a copy of his letter. Je joie copie de sa lettre; vous la trouverez ci-jointe, a copy of his letter; you will find it enclosed.
T QUE, } conj. added to which.
T A CE QUE, }
T, s. m. joint; articulation. Je ne pouvais pas le joint, I could not find the joint. (Fig.) Il a joint, he has found out the way to do it. (T. de rie, de maçonnerie.) Remplir les joints des pierres, ums—bricks. On ne voit pas les joints, you ceive the joints.
TE, E, adj. (t. de vétérinaire.) Ce cheval est é, this horse is long-legged—long-limbed. Court-ong-limbed.
TÉE, s. f. handful.
TOIEMENT, s. m. (t. de maçonn.), jointing.
TOYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de maçonnerie), TURE, s. f. joint; articulation. [to joint.
, E, adj. pretty. Une jolie femme, a pretty wo-Un joli homme, a handsome man. C'est un joli me, he is a handsome—good-looking—fine—officer.
est joli garçon, he is a very handsome—good-lookng man. Elle a de jolis yeux, she has pretty Elle est jolie à croquer, one could eat her up, she etty. Elle porte toujours de jolies choses, she wears pretty things. Ce jeune homme est un joli ng young man is a nice fellow. Il vient d'obtenir e place, he has obtained a nice situation. Voilà illage, this is a pretty—a pleasing—village.
(Ironiq.) Vous voilà joli garçon, you are a nice youth—you have made a pretty figure of yourself. Vous êtes joli de me proposer des choses pareilles, you are a pretty fellow to propose such things to me. Il s'est fait joli garçon par ses folies, his extravagances have placed him in a pretty mess. Vous avez fait-là du joli, what you have done is pretty!

Le joli de l'affaire est qu'elle ne veut pas de lui, the best of the joke is that she will not have him.
JOLIET, TE, adj. rather pretty.
JOLIMENT, adv. prettily. (Fam.) Vous vous êtes joliment trompé, you are famously mistaken.
JOLIVETÉ, s. f. pretty thing; toy; trifle.
JONC, s. m. reed; cane. Il a une jolie canne de jonc, he has a pretty cane. Jonc de marais, rush; reed. Nattes de jonc, a rush-mat. Liez-les avec du jonc, tie them up with a piece of rush. Il est droit comme un jonc, he is as straight as an arrow. (T. de joaillier.) Elle porte un jonc au doigt, she wears a plain ring on her finger.
JONCHÉE, s. f. flowers with which streets are strewed.
Il y avait une jonchée devant sa porte, they had strewed flowers before her door. A jonchées, in handfuls.
(T. de cuisine.) Une jonchée de crême, a cream cheese
(in a rush basket).
JONCHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. L'église était jonchée de fleurs, the church was strewed with flowers. *(Fig.)
Plus de vingt mille morts jonchaient le champ de bataille*, above twenty thousand men lay dead on the field of battle —strewed the field of battle.
JONCHETS, s. m. p. (espèce de jeu), spillikens. Il s'amusait à joner aux jonchets, he was amusing himself with a game at spillikens.
JONCTION, s. f. junction.
JONGLERIE, s. f. juggling; (fig.), quackery; (autre-fois), art of making verses.
JONGUE, s. f. (bâtiment chinois), junk.
JONGLEUR, s. m. juggler; (fig.), juggler; quack.
JONQUILLE, s. f. jonquil.
JOUAIL, s. m. (t. de marine). Voyez Jas.
JOUAILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to play very low;
to play for pleasure.
JOUBARBE, s. f. (t. de bot.), house-leek; julaah.
JOUE, s. f. cheek. Il avait les joues toutes rouges, his cheeks were red. Il la baisa à la joue, he kissed her cheek. Il a les joues creuses—convexes, his cheeks are hollow—are stuck together—his face is thin. Couvrir la joue à quelqu'un, to slap a person's face. Cet enfant vous tend la joue, the child holds his cheek—face—for you (to kiss it).
Coucher en joue; mettre en joue, to aim (i. e., to bring the gun close to the cheek to take aim at a thing). (T. militaire.) En joue. feu, present, fire! (Fig.) Il la couche en joue, mais il ne l'aura pas, he aims at her, but he shall not get her.
(T. de marine), bow. (T. général), cheek.
JOUÉE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), cheek; (the thickness of the wall of a window, of a door).
JOUER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Cet enfant aime à jouer, that child is fond of playing. Ils sont à jouer ensemble dans la cour, they are playing together in the yard. Ne jouez pas avec les armes à feu, do not play with fire-arms. Il se jouait avec une balle, he was playing with a ball.
(Fig.) Il joue avec la vie, he trifles with his life. Il jouerait avec la vie, he would sport—trifle—with the most important thing. C'est un homme qui se joue de tout, he trifles with—makes game of—laughs at—everything. Pre-nez garde, cet homme se joue de vous, take care, that man plays with you—makes game of you—laughs at you.
Ces hommes se jouent des choses les plus sacrées, these men trifle with the most sacred things. Il se joue du travail le plus difficile, he plays with the most difficult things. Cette femme m'a joué un vilain tour, that woman played me an ugly trick. La fortune se joue des projets des hommes, fortune defeats—laughs at—the plans of men.
Je vous conseille de n'aller pas vous jouer à cet homme, I advise you not to venture—to trifle—with that man. Cela est trop sérieux, ne vous y jouez pas, that is too serious a thing, do not meddle with it.

A quel jeu jouez-vous, what game are you playing at? Nous jouons aux échecs—au billard—au volant, &c., we are playing at chess—at billiard—at shuttlecock, &c. Pièce touchée, pièce jouée, who touches moves. Je jouais aux cartes, mais je n'y joue plus, I used to play at cards, but I do not now. Jouer le whist—au whist, to play whist. Il joue bien, he plays well. Je joue de mon mieux, I am playing my best. Vous jouez de malheur, you are unlucky. (Fig.) Je joue toujours de malheur, je ne vous trouve jamais chez vous, I am always unlucky, I never find you at home. Cet homme-là joue de bonheur, that man is lucky. On dit qu'il joue, they say he gambles. Il jouerait les pieds dans l'eau, he would play with his feet in water. Que jouez-vous, what are you playing for? Nous jouons pour l'honneur, we play for love—we play for nothing. Nous jouons une guinée la partie, we are playing for a guinea a game. Nous jouons petit jeu, we play low. On joue gros jeu dans cette maison, they play high in that house. Ne jouez pas cette carte, do not play that card. Jouez en cœur, play hearts. Vous ne jouez pas le jeu, you do not play the game. Jouons une partie aux échecs, let us have a game at chess. Il joue à coup sûr, he is sure to win. Il vous jouerait par dessous jambe, he would beat you easily—he would play you under his leg.

(T. de théâtre.) Ils s'amusent à jouer la comédie, they amuse themselves with acting plays. Joue-t-on la comédie dans votre ville, are there any actors in your town—are there any performers? (Fig.) Ces gens-là jouent la comédie, these people are acting a part—they are not acting sincerely. C'est une comédie que vous jouez, you are acting a farce. Il a très-bien joué son rôle, he has acted his part very well. (Fig.) Il est appelé à jouer un grand rôle, he is called upon—intended—to act an important part. Quel rôle insignifiant vous jouez, what an insignificant part you are acting. Molière a joué les faux dévots dans le Tartuffe, Molière ridiculed the hypocrites in the Tartuffe.

(T. de machine.) Ce ressort ne joue pas bien, this spring does not act well—play well. (Fig.) Il a fait jouer tous les ressorts, he brought every means he could into play—to act. Les grandes eaux de Versailles joueront dimanche, the water-works of Versailles will play next Sunday.

Faire jouer une mine, to spring a mine. Faire jouer le canon, to fire cannon—to bring the artillery to play upon. Faire jouer les pompes, to pump a ship. Ce navire joue beaucoup, this ship works much.

(Phrases.) Vous jouez à tout perdre, you are playing a game to lose everything. Il joue à se faire renvoyer, the game he plays exposes him to be dismissed. Il joue au plus sûr, he takes the safest side—he plays the safest game. Ne jouez pas au plus fin avec lui, don't play cunning with him. Jouer des gobelets, to play tricks with cups and balls, (like a conjurer); (fig.), to play tricks. Jouer des mains, to play roughly—to scuffle. Jouer du drapeau, to wave a flag. Jouer du bâton, to play with a single-stick. Jouer des jambes, to run away—to cut along. Jouer de la prunelle, to ogle; to leer. Jouer des couteaux, to fight with swords. Jouer de la poche, to pay. Jouer de pouce, to count down money—to pay.

JOUEREAU, s. m. a bad player; one who plays very low.
JOÜEREAU, }

JOUET, s. m. plaything. (Fig.) Il est le jouet de la fortune, he is the plaything—the sport—of fortune. Pendant deux jours nous fûmes le jouet des vents, for two days we were the sport of the winds. Croyez-vous donc que je vous servirai de jouet, do you think I shall be your plaything? (T. de manége), a small chain. (T. de marine.) Jouets de pompes, iron clamps of pumps.

JOUEUR, s. m. } player; gambler. C'est un joueur,
JOUEUSE, s. f. } he is a gambler. Il est bon joueur, he plays very good-naturedly. Il est mauvais joueur, he is bad-tempered at play. (T. de musique.) Joueur de flute, flute-player. C'est un bon joueur de violon, he is a good violin-player—he plays well on the violin. (En général.) Joueur de gobelets, a conjurer—juggler. C'est un joueur de marionnettes, a man who plays dancing dolls. Joueur de farces, a mountebank.

JOUFFLU, E, adj. one who has [illegible]. C'est un gros jouffla, he is a fat fellow.

JOUG, s. m. (pron. jou-gue), yoke. (Fig.) Nous avions peine à supporter le joug, we found it difficult to bear with the yoke.

JOUJOU, s. m. plaything; toy.

JOUIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir) to enjoy; to possess. Il jouit d'une terre considérable, he possesses a considerable estate. Il a hérité d'une grande fortune, mais il n'en a pas joui longtemps, he inherited a large fortune, but he did not enjoy it long. Vous paraissez jouir d'une bonne santé, you seem to enjoy good health. Vous me donnez du plaisir de le voir à la campagne, we shall have the pleasure of seeing him in the country. Ce sont les avantages dont vous ne savez pas jouir, those are blessings which you know not how to enjoy.

Vous semblez jouir de mon malheur, you seem to take a pleasure—an enjoyment—of my misfortune.

JOUISSANCE, s. f. enjoyment; possession.

On ne vous trouble pas dans la jouissance de votre bien, you are not disturbed in the possession of your property. Il a pleine et entière jouissance de ses biens, he has the full and entire possession of his property. Il n'a point la propriété de cette terre, il n'en a que la jouissance, he has not the estate is not his property, he has only the use of it. Entrer en jouissance, to come into possession.

Pour lui ce travail est une jouissance, that labour is to him an enjoyment—a pleasure. Il recueille toutes les jouissances de la vie, he gives up all the enjoyments—all pleasures—of life.

JOUISSANT, E, adj. (t. de jurisp.), in possession.

JOUR, s. m. (le jour naturel, astronomique) day. Ils rodent le jour et la nuit dans le parc, they are roaming in the park by day and night. Ne fait-il pas encore, is it not daylight yet? Nous nous lèverons dès le jour, we shall get up at peep of day. Il vient au jour, at dawn—at daybreak. Il fait grand jour, it is broad daylight. Le jour baisse, the light is declining. Il travaille de nuit et de jour, he works by night and by day. Il l'a fait en plein jour, he did it in broad daylight. Elle n'aime pas le grand jour, she does not like broad daylight. Ce donne peu de jour à l'appartement, a sort of twilight lights the room. Apportez cela au jour—au grand jour—que je le voie, bring that in the daylight—in broad daylight—that I may see it. Je ne pouvais pas voir, j'avais le jour trop faible, I could not see distinctly, the light was too faint. Il fait le jour, he shuns the light. Il n'est pas fait pour le jour, vous ne l'y trouverez que le soir, he is never at home in the daytime, he is only there in the evening. Elle est belle comme le jour, she is beautiful as the day. Il fait un beau jour de printemps, it is a lovely day. Il viendra nous voir dans les beaux jours, he will come to see us in the fine summer days.

(Jour civil.) Quel jour est-ce aujourd'hui, what day have we? Il vient toujours le premier jour de l'année, he always comes on the first day of the year. Le jour d'hier, yesterday. Le jour d'après, the next day. Il y a passé huit jours chez eux, I spent a week with them. Il y a huit jours qu'il est parti, he went away a week ago. Revenez dans quinze jours, come again this day fortnight. Il y a quinze jours qu'il est arrivé, he arrived a fortnight ago. Ses jours s'écoulent dans le travail, he passes his days away in labour. Il y travaille tous les jours, he works at it every day, and the whole day. C'est mon habit de tous les jours, it is my every-day coat. C'est un événement de tous les jours, it is an every-day occurrence. Nous ne sortons pas les jours ouvrables, we do not go out on working days. Je l'ai vu le jour de son triomphe, I saw her on her day of triumph. Est-ce aujourd'hui le jour de jour, are you on duty to-day? Nous relevons la garde jour à l'autre, we expect him from day to day.

Le jour du dimanche, Sunday. Le jour de Pâques, Easter-day. Le jour de l'an—le premier jour de l'an, New Year's day. Est-ce jour gras aujourd'hui, is it meat-day? Non, c'est jour maigre, no, it is fish-day. Les jours gras, carnival—the three days before Lent.

(Phrases.) Faire un bon jour to take the [illegible]

t dans son mauvais jour, to-day is his bad day—he his day of bad humour. Il a des jours de quiété, he days of cheerfulness. C'est mon jour de barbe, this is shaving day. Mourir plein de jours, to die full of s—very old. Avez-vous pris jour, have you appointed r? Je prendrai votre jour, your day will suit me. gens vivent au jour la journée, these people live from to mouth—these people care not about to-morrow. aque jour suffit sa peine, sufficient to the day is the hereof. Faire du jour la nuit, et de la nuit le jour, n day into night, and night into day. Brûler le to light candles in the daytime—to burn daylight. l jour chez lui, is he up yet? Il n'est jour que fort chez elle, she gets up late—she receives people very nonly—every day. Ne vous mettez pas à tous les do not make yourself so common—do not make an -day man of yourself. C'est le Saint du jour, he is eat man of the day. Tel est le goût du jour, such aste of the day. Le pauvre homme en est à son der- our, the poor fellow has come to his last day. Il ue je mette ma correspondance à jour, I must clear rrespondence up to the day. Je suis à jour, I am the day. Cette proposition est claire comme le jour, roposal is as clear as the day. C'est le jour et la these things are the very opposite. Ces deux frères ressemblent pas plus que le jour et la nuit, these two es are as unlike as light and darkness. Voir le jour, —to see the light of heaven. Depuis que je vois le nce I came to life. Il ne voit plus le jour, he lives ver. Je n'oublierai pas que je lui dois le jour, I ever forget that I owe my life to him. Respectez ui vous ont donné le jour, respect those who gave e. Elle mourut en lui donnant le jour, she died at h—in giving him life. Il y a long-temps que ces n'ont vu le jour, it is a long time since these things to light—have been seen. Vous l'avez mis ome to light—have placed it in a wrong light— a faux jour, you have placed it in a wrong light— ise light. (Fig.) Vous représentez l'affaire sous e jour, you place the affair in a wrong light. Son e n'a pas encore vu le jour, his work has not come yet—has not been published. Il va mettre son e au jour, he is going to publish his work. Je met- conduite au jour, I will publish his conduct—I ake it known. Il n'ose se produire au grand jour, not expose himself to daylight. rencontrai un jour que je me promenais, I met day when I was walking. Un beau jour il vous ssera, some fine day he will abandon you. de commerce.) On a trois jours de grâce en An- you have three days grace in England, to meet de peinture.) Dans ce tableau le jour vient de in this picture the light comes from the right side. le à son jour, place it in its proper light. Ce observe bien les jours et les ombres, that painter nds well the lights and shades. (Fig.) Nous irer un jour de ce côté, we mean to have a light— r—on that side. Nous avons deux jours sur la voisine, we have two lights—two windows—to he neighbouring house. le menuisier, &c.) Ces planches sont mal jointes, du jour entre elles, these planks are badly joined, the light between them. Palissade à jour, an ce. (Fig.) Il s'est fait jour au travers des en- he opened himself a passage through the enemy. tard la vérité se fait jour, sooner or later truth Je ne vois point jour à le faire, I do not see clear to do it. Je ne vois pas jour à le servir, I ee my way clear to serve him.

RNAL, s. m. journal; diary. Il tient un journal voyage, he keeps a diary of his journey. (T. hand.) Ne l'avez-vous pas mis sur le journal journal, did you not write it down in the day-i pas lu les journaux, I have not read the news. Donnez-moi le journal, give me the newspaper—nal.

365

JOURNALIER, s. m. day-labourer; labourer.

JOURNALIER, ERE, adj. daily. (Fig.) Il a l'esprit journalier, his mind is fickle. Il est trop journalier, on ne peut compter sur lui, you cannot depend upon him, he is too uncertain—fickle—capricious.

JOURNALISME, s. m. newspapers; public press. Le journalisme est le quatrième pouvoir de l'état, the press is the fourth power of the state.

JOURNALISTE, s. m. journalist; writer in a journal or newspaper.

JOURNÉE, s. f. day-time; day. J'ai bien employé ma journée, I employed my day well. Ne venez pas dans la journée, do not come in the day-time. Ces gens là vivent au jour la journée, these people live from hand to mouth.

Il travaille à la journée, he works by the day. Un homme de journée, a day-labourer. Une femme de journée fait son ménage, a char-woman. manages his household affairs. Voilà ma journée, here is my day's work—my day's gain. Il me doit huit journées, he owes me eight days' work—labour. On a diminué mes journées, they have reduced our wages. Il voyageait à petites journées, he was travelling by short stages—by easy marches—— à grandes journées, by forced marches. (T. milit.) Nous avons eu une rude journée, we had a hard —tion—battle.

JOURNELLEMENT, adv. daily.

JOUTE, s. m. joust; tilt; tilting. Il y aura joûte sur l'eau, there will be a boat-race—a boat-joust. La joûte des coqs, cock-fighting.

JOUTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to joust; to tilt. Faire joûter des coqs, to have a cock fight. (Fig.) Je n'oserais pas joûter contre lui, I would not dare to wrestle—dispute —with him.

JOUTEUR, s. m. tilter. (Fig.) Prenez garde, c'est un rude joûteur, take care, he is a rough antagonist.

JOUVENCE, s. f. youth. Il a bu de la fontaine de jouvence, he has drunk at the fountain of youth, i. e., he is young again.

JOUVENCEAU, s. m. } a youth; a lass.
JOUVENCELLE, s. f. }

JOVIAL, IALE, adj. (sans pluriel masculin), jovial; merry.

JOVIEN, NE, adj. belonging to Jupiter.

JOYAU, s. m. jewel; gem. Les joyaux de la couronne, the jewels of the crown.

JOYEUSEMENT, adv. joyfully; merrily; gladly.

JOYEUSETÉ, s. f. merry, playful thing.

JOYEUX, EUSE, adj. joyful; merry; glad.

JUBÉ, s. m. (t. d'archit. ecclésiastique), a gallery at the entrance of the choir, from which the lessons are read. (Fig.) Je le ferai venir à jubé, I will compel him to come to terms—to submission.

JUBILAIRE, adj. of the jubilee; belonging to the jubilee.

JUBILATION, s. f. jubilation; rejoicing.

JUBILÉ, s. m. jubilee. (Fig.) Faire jubilé, to mix up cards so that no one loses or wins.

JUBILÉ, adj. Chanoine jubilé, a canon who has held his stall fifty years.

JUCHER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to roost. Les poules juchent dans le poulailler, the fowls roost in the hen-house. Quand les poules se juchent, when the hens go to roost. (Fig.) Il est allé se jucher au quatrième étage, he has gone to perch himself in a fourth story. (T. de vétérin.) Voyez Bouleté.

JUCHOIR, s. m. roosting perch; roost; perch.

JUDAÏQUE, adj. judaical; judaic.

JUDAÏSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to judaize.

JUDAÏSME, s. m. Judaism.

JUDAS, s. m. C'est un Judas, he is a traitor. C'est un baiser de Judas, it is a treacherous kiss. Il a un poil de Judas, he is red haired.

(T. de menuiserie), peep-hole; a small trap window. Voyez par le Judas qui c'est, look in at the peep-hole; see what it is.

JUDELLE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), sort of aquatic bird

JUDICATURE, s. f. judicature.
JUDICIAIRE, adj. judiciary; judicial.
JUDICIAIRE, s. f. judgment.
JUDICIAIREMENT, adv. judicially.
JUDICIEUSEMENT, adv. judiciously.
JUDICIEUX, EUSE, adj. judicious.
JUGE, s. m. judge. Juge de paix, justice of the peace. (Langage commun.) Il est bon juge en poésie, he is a good judge of poetry. Je vous en fais juge, décidez, I leave you to be the judge, decide. Il n'est pas bon juge de ces choses-là, he is not a good judge of these things—he does not understand them. Décidez, voyez votre juge, decide, be our judge. Je vous prends pour juge, I take you for our judge. Je ne veux point m'établir juge de ces choses-là, I do not wish to establish myself the judge of these things.
JUGEMENT, s. m. judgment; sentence. Il prononça le jugement, he pronounced sentence—judgment. Il a subi son jugement, he has suffered—undergone—his sentence. On va la mettre en jugement, she is going to be brought to her trial—she is going to be tried. Que dirons-nous au jugement dernier? what shall we say at the last judgment? Jugement de Dieu, ordeal.
Je m'en rapporte à votre jugement, I leave it to your opinion—judgment. Il donne son jugement sans hésiter, he pronounces—he gives his opinion—unhesitatingly. Je me rends à votre jugement, I yield to your opinion—to your way of thinking—to your judgment. Vous faites un faux jugement de moi, you judge me wrongfully.
Il n'a pas de jugement, he has no judgment. Cela lui formera le jugement, that will form his judgment. La colère lui ôte le jugement, his anger deprives him of his judgment—good sense.
JUGER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.). On doit juger leur procès demain, their law-suit is to be decided to-morrow—the judge is to pronounce on their law-suit to-morrow. Il me semble qu'il a bien jugé, he appears to have judged rightly—to have pronounced a right sentence.
On l'a jugé à mort, he was sentenced to death. Il fut jugé à payer les frais, he was sentenced—condemned to pay expenses. On ne l'a pas encore jugé, he has not been tried yet. Examinez bien l'affaire avant de juger, examine the affair well before pronouncing. On l'a jugé par contumace, he was found guilty in default of appearance. Juger sur l'étiquette du sac, to judge a thing from the label—i. e., lightly, from a trifling knowledge.
(Langage commun), to judge; to form an opinion. Vous le jugez trop sévèrement, you judge him too severely. Jugez-nous, nous nous en rapportons à vous, be our judge—decide between us, we refer it to you. Il s'est jugé trop sévèrement, he has judged himself too severely.
Je juge favorablement de lui, I judge favourably of him. Vous jugez d'autrui par vous-même, you judge of others by yourself. Il juge bien de la poésie, he is a good judge of poetry.
Jugez combien je fus surpris de le voir, you may judge—only think—how much I was surprised to see him. Jugez-vous cela nécessaire—que cela soit nécessaire? do you think that necessary? Je l'ai jugé nécessaire—à propos, I thought it necessary—fit. Que jugez-vous que je doive faire? what do you think I ought to do? J'ai jugé nécessaire d'y aller, I thought it necessary to go. L'en jugez-vous capable—jugez-vous qu'il en soit capable? do you think him—judge him—capable of it? Qu'en jugez-vous? what do you think of it? Je ne sais qu'en juger, I know not what to think of it.
(T. de jeu.) Il est bien placé pour juger des coups, he is well placed to judge of the strokes—the cases.
JUGULAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), jugular. s. f. On l'a saigné à la jugulaire, he was bled in the jugular vein.
JUGULAIRE, s. f. (t. milit.), the chin straps of a shako, of a helmet.
JUIF, s. m. adj. Jew; Jewish.
JUIVE, s. f. adj. Jewess; Jewish.
JUILLET, s. m. July. Il est né en juillet, he was born in the month of July. Il arrivera le trois de juillet, he will arrive on the 3rd of July.

JUIN, s. m. June. La campagne est belle en mois de juin, the country is beautiful in the month of June. C'est le douze de juin, to-day is the twelfth of June.
JUIVERIE, s. f. Il demeure dans l'ancienne Juiverie, he lives in the Old Jewry. Il lui a fait une juiverie, he played him a Jewish trick.
JUJUBE, s. f. jujub; jujube.
JUJUBIER, s. m. jujub tree.
JULE, s. m. (nom d'une pièce de monnoie Romaine) giulio.
JULEP, s. m. (t. de médec., prononc. ju-lèpe), julep.
JULIENNE, adj. (t. de chronologie). Année julienne Julian year.
JULIENNE, s. f. (t. de bot.), rocket. Nous avons de belles julienne, we have beautiful rockets. (T. de cuisine), a soup in which are put vegetables cut very fine, invented by a cook of the name of Julien. A la Julienne, loc. adv., awkwardly; clumsily.
JUMARD, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), jumart (the offspring of a bull and cow, or she ass or mare).
JUMEAU, adj. m. twins. Elle accouche de deux jumeaux, she was delivered of two twins.
JUMELLE, adj. f. Deux frères jumeaux, the two brothers twins. C'est sa sœur jumelle, she is his twin sister. Deux lits jumeaux occupaient l'alcove, two beds of similar dimensions filled the alcove. Une pomme jumelle, a double apple.
JUMELÉ, E, adj. (t. de blason), gemelled.
JUMELLES, s. f. (t. de charp.), cheek; side piece. (T. d'optique), double opera glass.
JUMENT, s. f. mare. (Prov.) Jamais coup de pied de jument ne fit de mal à un cheval, never did a mortal blow give a man a black eye, i. e., a man ought never to take offence at a woman's abuse.
JUNON, s. f. (t. d'astron.), Juno.
JUNTE, s. f. (mot Espagnol), junta.
JUPE, s. f. (t. d'habillement), petticoat. Cette femme met trois jupes, that woman wears three petticoats. Troussez vos jupes, pick up—hold up—your petticoat.
JUPITER, s. m. (prov. Je-pi-ter), Jupiter.
JUPON, s. m. under petticoat.
JURANDE, s. f. (vieux mot), the wardenship of a company.
JURAT, s. m. ancient name of the magistrates of Bordeaux.
JURATOIRE, adj. (t. de jurisp.). On l'a laissé à sa caution juratoire, he was released on his personal bail, who was sworn.
JURÉ, E, adj. sworn. Chirurgien juré, a sworn surgeon. Il est juré vendeur de volaille, he is a sworn dealer in poultry—he has a patent to sell poultry. Les maîtres jurés de la compagnie, the sworn masters of the company.
JURÉ, s. m. juryman. Récuser un juré, to object to a juryman. Voici la liste des jurés, this is the list of the jurymen. Jugement par jurés, trial by jury.
JUREMENT, s. m. Il fit—il proféra—un horrible juron, he uttered—proffered—an horrible oath. Je vous crois pas malgré vos jurements, I do not believe you in spite of your swearing.
JURER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to swear. Je jure son Dieu qu'il est innocent, he swears in God's name he is innocent. Je vous jure qu'il n'en est rien, I swear to you that it is not so. Ils se sont juré une amitié nelle, they swore eternal friendship to one another. Ils ont juré sa perte, they swore his ruin.
Je n'en jurerais pas, I would not take my oath of it—I would not swear that it is so. Je l'ai juré, I swore it—I took my oath of it—believe me. Il se faut jurer respect—obéissance—au roi, I swear respect—obedience to the king. Il ne faut jurer de rien, we must not swear at anything.
Il jure abominablement, he swears horribly. Ne jurez pas, do not swear.
(Fig.) Le vert jure avec le bleu, green jars with blue. Ces airs-là jurent avec vos cheveux gris, those airs ill suit—ill agree with—ill become—your grey hair. Le violon juré sous l'archet, the violin untuned under the bow.

…URÉ, part. pass. Ils sont vaincus jurés, they are …en enemies.

…URER, s. m. swearer.

…URI, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), jury. Le juri fut in-…stitué en France en 1791, the trial by jury …instituted in France in 1791. Il y a en France un …de jugement, mais il n'y a point de juri d'accusation, …petty jury exists in France, but not the grand jury. …exposition comm.) A Paris il y a un jury de l'exposition …produits de l'industrie, there is, in Paris, a jury …mittee) to decide on the exhibition of national …uce.

…US, s. m. Jus de viande, gravy. Jus de pommes, …citron, d'orange, apple, lemon, orange juice. Donnez-…un peu de jus, give me a little gravy. Il aime le …de la treille, he is fond of wine. Le jus de réglisse …pour guérir les rhumes, Spanish liquorice is good …old.

…USANT, s. m. (t. de marine), the ebbing, the fall of …tide.

…USQUE, } prép. N'irez-vous pas jusqu'à Paris?
…USQUES, } shall you not go so far as Paris? Vous …irez pas aller jusque là, you will not be able to go …. Jusqu'où allez-vous? how far are you going? …ez jusqu'ici, come thus far—so far. Les choses …ont jusque-là, things went so far. Faudra-t-il at-…re jusqu'à demain? are we to wait till to-morrow? …chose va bien jusques à présent, the thing has gone on …hitherto. Jusques à quand nous ferez-tu attendre? …long will you keep us waiting? Les nouvelles n'en …pas encore venues jusqu'à nous, the news of it has not …reached us. Ils ont tué jusqu'aux enfants, they …spared even the very children. Il satisfait jusqu'à …moindres désirs, he gratifies even his least desires. …ont crié jusqu'à s'enrouer, they shouted even till they …ne hoarse. Il alla jusqu'à nous dire des injures, …ent so far as to insult us. Le vice règne jusque …le trône, vice reigns even on the throne. Il resta …là ce qu'on l'eût contenté, he remained until they had …led him. On n'a rien vu de semblable jusqu'à ce …nothing like it has been seen until now—hitherto. …est pas jusqu'aux valets qui ne s'en mêlent, even the …themselves meddle with it.

…SQUIAME, s. f. (t. de médec.), henbane.

…SSION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.). Lettres de jussion, …ns; commands.

…STAUCORPS, s. m. doublet; close coat.

…STE, adj. (en parlant des personnes). Cet homme …ste, that man is just. Dieu est le protecteur des …, God is the protector of the just—of the upright. …agistrat est juste, that magistrate is just—upright. …-il donc ainsi, juste ciel, juste Dieu, is it indeed …od heavens! Il a reçu la juste punition de sa crime, …ses choses.) Il a reçu la juste punition de sa crime, he received the just—merited—punishment for his …s.

…ns moral.) Il éprouvait une juste colère, he felt a …nger. Elle en sentait un juste orgueil, she felt a …mable pride. Vos craintes ne sont pas justes, your …ensions are not just—justified. Elle a de justes …spérances, she has well founded hopes. Il n'a pas de …prétentions, his pretensions are not well founded. …une comparaison juste, the simile—comparison—is …correct—just. Vous ne vous en faites pas une …texte, you have no just—exact—idea of it.

…ns physique.) Cette balance est-elle juste? are …cales exact—correct? Le poids n'est pas juste, the …is not just—exact—correct. Cet habit est trop …, this coat is too tight. Ces souliers vous sont …justes, your shoes are too tight. Elle aime que …soit juste, she likes every thing to be made tight. …montre n'est pas juste, my watch is not correct. …ne peut pas entrer, c'est trop juste, that cannot …it is too tight. Vendre à juste prix, to sell at a …rice. Votre calcul n'est pas juste, your calculation …exact—correct—accurate. *Mon fusil n'est pas …*my gun is not correct.

…n'a pas la voix juste, her voice is not correct.

(Il est juste.) Cela est-il juste? is that right? Non, il n'est pas juste de lui demander cela, no, it is not right to require that of him. Il est juste que vous le dédommagiez de sa perte, it is right—just—that you should make his loss up to him. Non, il n'est pas juste que cela soit, no, it is not right that it should be so.

JUSTE, adv. justly; exactly; correctly. Peser, mesurer juste, to weigh, to measure, exactly. Cela entre juste, it fits in tightly. Vous avez deviné juste, you guessed exactly—rightly. Il raisonne juste, he reasons—argues—rightly. Vous ne parlez pas juste, you do not talk rightly. Chantez donc juste, do sing in tune. Voilà tout juste l'homme qu'il nous faut, that is precisely the man we want. Il est arrivé tout juste à l'heure du dîner, he came precisely at the dinner hour. Dites-nous au juste combien cela coûte, tell us exactly how much that costs. Je voudrais savoir au juste quel âge il a, I wish I knew exactly—precisely—how old he is. Vous êtes chaussé trop juste, your shoes are too tight.

JUSTE, s. m. a dress; a jacket.

JUSTEMENT, adv. justly; precisely; exactly.

JUSTE-MILIEU, s. m. (t. de politiq.), moderate party; those who avoid extremes—keep a middle course.

JUSTESSE, s. f. exactness; precision. Cette balance est d'une grande justesse, these scales are very exact. La justesse de la voix, the correctness—exactness—of the voice. Son coup d'œil est sans justesse, his eye is not exact—accurate. Il chante avec justesse, he sings very correctly—accurately. Il a répondu avec justesse, he replied with exactness.

JUSTICE, s. f. justice; equity. C'est un homme plein de justice, he is a man full of justice—of equity—,—he is a righteous man. On vante partout sa justice, his equity is everywhere praised. Craignez la divine justice, fear divine justice. Cela est de toute justice, that is perfectly just—nothing can be more just. Il a traité tous ses enfants avec justice, he has treated all his children justly. Marcher dans les voies de la justice, to tread in the path of justice.

Il est ministre de la justice, he is minister of justice. Il est chargé d'administrer la justice, he is charged to administer justice. On va le mettre en justice, he is about to be tried—to be brought to his trial. Elle dit qu'elle l'appellera en justice, she says she will prosecute him. Vous n'avez pas le droit de vous faire justice à vous-même, you have no right to take justice into your own hands. (Fig.) Soyez franc, faites-vous justice, be candid, do yourself justice. Vous ne me rendez pas justice, you do not do me justice. On a fait justice de ces brigands, these brigands have been punished. (Fig.) La comédie fait justice des vices de la société, the stage exposes the vices of society. On doit faire justice demain, there is to be an execution to-morrow. On a envoyé chercher l'exécuteur de la haute justice, the executioner was sent for. C'est un repris de justice, he has suffered the sentence of the law. Je me pourvoirai en justice, I shall have recourse to law. La justice en connaît en ce moment, the magistrates are now informing about it. Vous n'en aurez pas justice, you will not obtain justice. Mais j'ai la justice de mon côté, but I have justice on my side. Il compte trop sur la justice de sa cause, he relies too much on his right. Il dit que c'est un déni de justice, he says it is denying him justice. Nous demandons justice —que justice se fasse, we ask that justice should be done.

La justice de paix, the justice of the peace. La justice criminelle, criminal justice. Nous avons une cour de justice dans notre ville, we have a court of justice in our town. Ils avaient droit de haute et de basse justice, they had the right of high and low justice.

La justice—les gens de justice, the law officers. La justice est à sa recherche, the constables—the law officers—are after him. La justice est descendue chez lui, the law officers made a perquisition in his house. (Fam.) Il a peur de se brouiller avec la justice, he is afraid of falling out with the law officers—of being prosecuted.

JUSTICIABLE, adj. dependant on; amenable to under the jurisdiction of. Vous n'êtes pas justiciable de cette cour, you are not under—within the jurisdiction—of that court.

JUSTICIER, v. a. reg. 1ère conj., to execute; to inflict the penalty of the law upon a criminal.

JUSTICIER, s. m. a judge; justiciary.

JUSTIFIABLE, adj. justifiable.

JUSTIFIANT, E, adj. justifying.

JUSTIFICATIF, TIVE, adj. Le mémoire est accompagné de pièces justificatives, the memorial is accompanied with vouchers. Donnez-nous vos pièces justificatives, give us your proofs—your attesting documents. Voilà un fait justificatif, that is a justifying fact.

JUSTIFICATION, s. f. justification.

JUSTIFIER, v. a. v. r. reg. 1ère conj., to justify. Comment pouvez-vous le justifier de ce crime? how can he be justified—cleared—of this crime? Il a justifié ma confiance, he has justified—proved himself worthy of—my confidence. L'événement a justifié son conseil, the event has proved his advice to be good—has justified it. (Prouver.) Il a justifié du dépôt que l'on a fait, he has given proofs of the deposition that was made. C'est un fait que vous ne pouvez justifier, it is a fact you could not prove. (T. d'imprimerie.) to rectify.

JUTEUX, EUSE, adj. juicy. Cette orange est très juteuse, this orange is very juicy.

JUXTAPOSER, v. r. reg. 1ère conj., to [illegible] placed in juxtaposition.

JUXTAPOSITION, s. f. juxtaposition.

K

KABAK, s. m. (mot Russe), a Russian public-house.

KABIN, s. m. (t. d'hist.), a marriage among Mahomedans, for a limited period.

KABANI, s. m. (mot Oriental), a lawyer; an agent in the East.

KADI-ASKER, s. m. (mots Arabes), judge; sort of Lord Chief Justice in Turkey.

KADRIS, s. m. Turkish monk; a sort of dancing priest.

KAKOUANNE, s. f. sort of tortoise.

KAKATOES, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat., pron. ka-ka-touĕ), kakatoo.

KALÉIDOSCOPE, } s. m. kaleidoscope. (An instru-CALÉIDOSCOPE, } ment which presents an infinity of beautiful coloured designs, to the eye; varied ad infinitum, by turning the instrument round. The kaleidoscope was invented in London, some years ago.)

KALI, s. m. (t. de bot.), kali; soda.

KAMICHI, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), a long legged bird.

KAMTSCHADALE, s. m. f. an inhabitant of Kamtschatka.

KAMTSCHATKA, s. m. Kamtschatka, a Russian province in Eastern Siberia.

KAN, } s. m. Khan (a Tartarian prince).
KHAN, }

KANASTER, s. m. kanaster, sort of wicker basket in which tobacco is brought from America. Fumer du tabac de kanaster, to smoke kanaster.

KANDJAR, }
KANGIAR, } s. m. sort of African and Asiatic dagger.

KANGUROO, } s. m. kangaroo, (an animal from New KANGAROU, } Holland).

KANTIEN, NE, adj. Kantian; belonging to Kant.

KANTISME, s. m. Kantism; the philosophy of Kant.

KANTISTE, s. m. adj. a partisan of Kant; of Kantism.

KARI, s. m. (t. de cuisine), kari powder. Il nous a donné un excellent kari, he gave us an excellent kari.

KAROLINGIEN, NE, adj. Carlovingian.

KÉABE, s. m. (t. d'hist.), Kaaba, sort of sanctuary in the temple of Mecca: it is in great veneration.

KÉDRON, } s. m. (t. de géog.), Cedron; a river of CÉDRON, } Syria.

KEEPSAKE, s. m. (mot Anglais), keepsake. Il lui a donné un joli keepsake, he gave her a pretty keepsake.

KÉLASA, s. m. (t. de myth. Indienne), the [illegible] of the Indians.

KENTIEN, NE, s. m. f. adj. an inhabitant of the county of Kent; of Kent; Kentish.

KÉRATONYXIE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), the operation of the cataract.

KERMÈS, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat., pron. kermès), cochineal. Kermès minéral (t. de médec.), mineral kermes.

KERMESSE, s. f. (t. local), parish feast. Les kermesses sont communes en Flandre et au nord de la France, the parish festivals—wakes—are common in Flanders and in the north-east of France. Les paysans en habits de fête, allaient à la kermesse, the peasants in their best dresses, were going to the village feast.

KHALIFE, s. m. Voyez Calife, &c.

KHAN, s. m. Voyez Kan.

KILO, s. m., abrégé de Kilogramme.

KILOGRAMME, s. m. measure of weight, of the decimal system; it is about two pounds English.

KILOLITRE, s. m. measure for liquids of the decimal system, about half a hogshead. (Voyez Litre.)

KILOMETRE, s. m. measure of distance of the decimal system, about a quarter of a league. (Voyez Mètre.)

KINA, } s. m. Voyez Quinquina.
KINO, }

KIOSQUE, s. m. (mot Arabe), kiosq; a pavilion.

KIOSQUIFORME, adj. having the form of a pavilion.

KIRSH, } s. m. (mot allemand) cherry
KIRSHENWASSER, } water; a liquor much used in Germany and Switzerland.

KOPEC, s. m. Voyez Copec.

KNOUT, s. m. (mot Russe, pron. knoute), the lash. Recevoir le knout, to receive the lash—the punishment of being whipped.

KORAN, s. m. Voyez Coran.

KREUTZER, s. m. small German coin.

KYRIELLE, s. f. litany. (Fam.) Il lui a dit une longue kyrielle d'injures, he addressed him a long catalogue—a list of abuses. Il y avait une kyrielle de noms, there was a long suit of unknown names.

KYSTE, s. m. (t. de chirurg.). Voyez [illegible]

L

, (article défini). Voyez La, Les.
, (pron. person.). Voyez Le, La, Les.
, s. m. (t. de musique), f. Le la est-il naturel, is natural? Donnez-moi le la, give me the f. Mettez à votre violon, put a third string on your violin.
ade, there. Mettez-le-là, put it there. C'est là été arrêté, it is there he was arrested. Demeurez- y there. D'ici-là, nous comptons deux lieues, we two leagues hence to that place. Venez demain, j'aurai tout arrangé, come to-morrow, mean-
I shall have arranged everything. Que dites-vous of are you saying there? Sont-ce là les personnes us attendez, are those the people you expect?
là ce que vous vouliez? is that what you asked C'est là qu'on les voit, it is there, they are seen.
C'est cet homme-là? who is that man? Ne lui dites est cet homme-là? do not tell him of those things.
ces choses-là, do not tell him of those things.
-moi ce livre-là, give me that book. Ne portez- ous cet habit-là? do you not wear that coat?
celui-là et laissez-moi celui-ci, take that and leave Je parle de celle-là, I am speaking of that.
ne sont pas bons, those are not good.
haut, there above. Là-bas, yonder. Là-dessous, under. Là-dehors, there outside. Que pensez
-dessus? what do you think about this? Qu'avez voir là-dedans? what have you to see in that?
là-dedans, do look within.
ces tiens-là, I am satisfied with that. Demeurons- et us stop there. Nous en sommes restés-là, we there.
, thence, from this place. A quelques pas delà, ps beyond—from that place. Sortez delà, get ce. A quelques jours de là, il mourut, he died a s after. Delà, sont venus tous nos malheurs, ame all our misfortunes. Que voulez-vous in- dà? what would you infer from that? Dès-là, t moment. Ils sont allés par-là, they went that Il a commencé par-là, he began with that. Qu'en- ous par-là? what do you mean by that? Par-ci, here and there. Nous vous attendrons jusque-là, wait till then. Nous irons jusque-là, we shall
c. Il a pu vous insulter jusque-là! could he ino so far! - Reculez vous jusque-là, pray, get back rle de cet homme. là, qui disait des choses si sin-

I speak of that man, why you know, that man d to say such odd things.
la, gently; softly; so, so. La, la, Monsieur, us reverrons, softly, Sir, we shall meet again.
t vous trouvez vous? La, la, how are you? So, so.
ARUM, s. m. (pron. la-ba-rome), the standard of an Emperors.
ŒUR, s. m. labour; work. Il vit de son labeur, by his work. Ces terres sont en labeur, these cultivated. Bêtes de labeur, draught cattle.
IAL, E, adj. labial.
É, E, adj. (t. de bot.), labiated.
LE, adj. liable to fail; imperfect. Il a la labile, his memory is liable to fail—is imperfect.
ORATOIRE, s. m. laboratory.
ORIEUSEMENT, adv. laboriously; indus-

ORIEUX, EUSE, adj. laborious. Il mène une ieuse, he leads a laborious—an industrious—life.
travail laborieux, it is a laborious task. C'est e laborieux, he is a very industrious man—, he working man.
EUR, s. m. ploughing; dressing. Il a donné deux labours à cette pièce, he has given two ploughings to this piece of land. Donner un premier labour, to break up the ground. Labour à la bêche, spade husbandry. Labour à bras, husbandry by the hand—manual labour. Labour à deux fers de bêche, trenching two spade deep.

Cette terre est en labour, this field is ploughed—is ready for seed.

LABOURABLE, adj. arable.

LABOURAGE, s. m. husbandry; ploughing. Il entend bien le labourage, he understands the cultivation of land well—he is a good husbandman. Le labourage de ces terres coûte peu, the ploughing—dressing costs little.

LABOURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Labourer la terre, to plough the ground. Labourer à trois charrues, to use three ploughs. Des terres labourées, ploughed lands. Labourer des vignes, to dress vine-plants. Labourer des arbres au pied, to dig up the earth round the root of trees.

(T. de marine.) Notre vaisseau labourait, our ship dragged her anchor. L'ancre labourait, the anchor dragged. (T. d'artillerie.) Le canon labourait la plaine, the cannon ploughed the ground. (T. de morale et de métap.) Vous aurez bien à labourer avant de devenir riche, you will have hard work before you get rich. Je suis las de labourer ma vie, I am tired of the turmoils of life. Son existence a été bien labourée, his life has been checkered—tormented.

LABOUREUR, s. m. ploughman. C'est un gros laboureur, he is a rich farmer—husbandman. Ce pauvre laboureur était chargé de famille, that poor man—ploughman had a heavy family.

LABYRINTHE, s. m. labyrinth; (fam.), intricacy; maze.

LAC, s. m. lake.

LACÉDÉMONE, s. f. (t. de géog.), Sparta; Lacedemon.

LACÉDÉMONIEN, ENNE, s. adj. Spartan; Lacedemonian.

LACER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to lace. Voulez-vous que je vous lace, shall I lace you? Elle se lace elle-même, she laces herself. Ces bottines se lacent facilement, these boots are easily laced. (T. de marine.) Lacer une voile, to lace a sail. (T. d'hist. nat.), to line.

LACÉRABLE, adj. fit to be torn up, lacerated.

LACÉRATION, s. f. laceration.

LACÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lacerate; to tear.

LACERNE, s. f. (t. d'antiq.), sort of woollen cloak worn by soldiers.

LACERON, s. m. Voyez Laiteron.

LACET, s. m. (t. d'habillement), lace; stay-lace; shoe-lace. Lâchez-lui son lacet, loosen her lace. (Fig.), snare. Je me suis laissé prendre aux lacets de cet intrigant, I suffered myself to be caught in the snares of that wily man. (T. de chasse), springe, gin. (En Turquie), the bowstring.

LÂCHE, adj. loose. Ce nœud est trop lâche, this knot is too loose. Danser sur la corde lâche, to dance on the slack rope. Il faut tenir cette corde un peu lâche, let the rope be rather slack.

Cette étoffe est trop lâche, this stuff is not close enough—is too loose. Avoir le ventre lâche, to be lax, to have a looseness upon one. Il fait un temps lâche, the weather is close, faint. Il écrit d'un style lâche, his style is flat, languid, flagging—without energy.

Il est lâche au travail, he is very feeble in labouring—he works weakly—without energy. Il mène une vie lâche et efféminée, he leads an inactive—slothful and effeminate life. Les grands chevaux sont plus lâches que les petits, large horses have less strength—less ardour—than little ones.

Un homme lâche, a cowardly man. Comme cet homme est lâche, how cowardly—dastardly that fellow is! Sa conduite est lâche, his conduct is base—cowardly. C'est être bien lâche que d'abandonner son ami, it is very mean—very base—very cowardly—to abandon one's friend. Il a fait-là une action bien lâche, he has done a very base action. Cela vient d'une âme lâche, that comes from a base—low—dull heart—d'un esprit lâche, from a sluggish heart. (T. de marine.) Un bâtiment lâche, a ship which carries a slack helm.

LÂCHE, s. m. cowardly, dastardly man; coward. Il n'y a que les lâches qui en agissent ainsi, none but cowards would act thus. (Fam.) C'est un grand lâche, he is a tall—sluggish—fellow.

LÂCHEMENT, adv. loosely; weakly; dastardly, in a cowardly manner; basely.

LACHER, v. a. n. rég. 1ère conj. Lâchez la corde un peu, loosen—slacken the rope a little. Lâchez-lui son corset, loosen her stays. Les pruneaux lâchent le ventre, French plums relax.

Lâcher prise, to let go one's hold—to yield. Je le tenais à la main, mais, tout à coup, je l'ai lâché, I held it in my hand, but, all at once, I let it go. On a lâché le prisonnier, they let go the prisoner. On lâchera les huissiers après lui, they will set the bailiffs after him.

(T. de manège.) Lâchez la bride à votre cheval, give your horse the bridle. Lâchez-lui la main, give him the rein. (Fig.) Vous lâchez trop la bride à ce jeune homme, you give too much liberty to that young man—you give him his way too much. Il lâche la bride à ses passions, he abandons himself—he gives too much way—to his passions.

(T. de jeu de cartes.) Comment? vous lâchez la main, what! do you let that trick go? (Fig.) Ne lâchez pas la main, do not give up—yield. Lâcher pied, to run away. (Fig.), to yield, to give way. (T. d'escrime.) Lâcher la mesure, to draw back; (fig.), to yield, to give way.

Lâcher les eaux, to let the waters run. Lâcher les écluses, to open the sluices. Vous avez lâché le robinet, you let the tap run. Le malade lâche tout sous lui, the patient does every thing under him.

Il lâcha un mot dont il s'est repenti, he let go—he let slip—a word which he repented. J'en suis fâché, mais le mot est lâché, I am sorry, but the word is gone from my lips—has escaped me. Le mot est lâché, vous ne pouvez vous en défaire, the word is gone, you cannot unsay it. Vous en avez trop lâché devant eux, you said too much before them.

(T. de chasse.) Lâcher les chiens, to turn the dogs out.

Lâcher un coup de fusil, to fire a shot. Il lui lâcha un coup de pistolet dans la tête, he sent the shot into his head. Le vaisseau nous lâcha toute sa bordée, the ship fired—sent—her broadside into us. Il lui lâcha un soufflet, he gave him a slap on the face.

La corde se lâche, the rope becomes slack—unbends—slip. Le fusil se lâcha tout à coup, the gun went off, all of a sudden.

LÂCHETÉ, s. f. cowardice; dastardliness; low action, baseness.

LACINIÉ, adj. (t. de bot.), laciniated.

LACIS, s. m. net work; (t. d'anat.), plexus.

LACONIQUE, adj. laconical.

LACONIQUEMENT, adv. laconically.

LACONISME, s. m. laconism.

LACRYMA-CHRISTI, s. m. Lachryma-Christi, (excellent wine grown at Naples).

LACRYMAL, E, adj. lachrymal.

LACRYMATOIRE, s. m. lachrymatory.

LACS, s. m. (pron. las), string; springe; gin; fillets.

LACTATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), suckling; lactation.

LACTÉ, E, adj. lacteous; milky. Diète lactée, milk diet. Les veines lactées, the lacteal vessels. La voie lactée, the milky way. (T. de bot.) Plants with milky plant.

LACTÉIFORME, adj. resembling milk in appearance.

LACTIFÈRE, adj. lactiferous; producing milk.

LACTIVORE, adj. lactivorous; living upon milk.

LACUNE, s. f. gap; blank.

LADRE, s. m. } (Ladre vient de Lazare, corr. f.
LADRESSE, s. f. } Lue) leprous; leprous woman. En 1200, il y avait tout de ladres en France, qu'on bâtit pour eux des hôpitaux dans presque toutes les villes, there were so many lepruns people in France, in 1200, the hospitals were founded for them in almost every town.

(En parlant du porc.) Un porc ladre, a measly pig. Cette chair est ladre, this flesh is measly.

LADRE, adj. (dans la suite des temps, et par suite des habitudes retirées et parcimonieuses des ladres, il est devenu synonyme d'avare), miserly, mean; sordid, niggardly. C'est un homme très-ladre, he is a very miserly—avaricious man. C'est un ladre, he is a miser. C'est un ladre vert, he is avaricious to the backbone.

LADRERIE, s. f. leprosy. Il est entaché de ladrerie, he is attacked with leprosy. On fut obligé de brûler des ladreries partout, they were obliged to build houses for the lepruns every where. (Lang. ordin.) Ce porc a des grains de ladrerie, this pork is measly.

(Ladrerie veut aussi dire avarice.) La ladrerie de cet homme est affreuse, the avarice of that man is horrible—that man is dreadfully avaricious—miserly.

LADY, s. m. (mot Anglais, pron. Lédi). Titre qu'on donne aux femmes de Lords, de Baronets et de Chevaliers, et aux filles de Ducs, Marquis et Comtes.

LAGOPHTALMIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), a disease of the eyelids; lagophthalmia.

LAGUNE, s. f. (usité de l'Italien), lagoon. Les lagunes de Venise, the lagunes of Venice.

LAI, E, adj. Un frère lai, a lay-brother. Les ecclésiastes et les lais, the clergymen and the laymen.

LAI, s. m. lay.

LAICHE, s. f. (t. de bot.), sweet-grass.

LAID, E, adj. ugly. Elle est très-laide, she is very ugly. Elle avait les mains très-laides, she had very ugly hands. Ce que vous dites-là est bien laid, what you say is very ugly—very unbecoming. Il a eu de laides amours, a person who is loved is always very handsome. Vous avez vu le beau, maintenant voici le laid, you have seen the best side of the business, here is the ugly side.

LAIDERON, s. f. C'est une laideron, she is a fright—a fright one. C'est une laideron qui ne déplait pas, that young person is rather agreeable.

LAIDEUR, s. f. ugliness; deformity. Cela est d'une horrible laideur, the ugliness of that woman is horrid—that woman is horridly ugly. J'ai vu cela dans toute sa laideur, I threw saw vice in all its deformity.

LAIE, s. f. wild sow. (T. d'eaux et forêts.) Il avait percé une laie de 3 pieds de large, they had made a road about three feet wide.

LAINAGE, s. m. wool: fleece; (t. de commerce), trade; (t. de fabricant de draps), napping.

LAINE, s. f. wool. Laine crue, raw wool. Bête à laine, sheep; wool bearing animals. Woolly-haired (negro, black). Laine de salamandre, asbestos. Laine de Moscovie, Muscovy wool.

(Fig.) Il ne se laisse pas manger la laine sur le dos, he does not allow people to take liberties with him—he is not an easy man. Tirer la laine, to pull about.

LAINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de fabricant de draps), to nap (cloth).

LAINERIE, s. f. (t. de commerce), woollen manufactory.

LAINEUX, EUSE, adj. woolly.

LAINIER, s. m. woollen mercheant.

LAIQUE, } s. m. adj. lay.
LAIC, }

LAIS, s. m. young wood; standard tree. (T. de forêts.)

LAISSE, s. f. leash. Une laisse de limiers, a leash of greyhounds. (Fam.) Mener quelqu'un en laisse, to lead a person by the nose.

ASSES, s. f. pl. (t. de chasse), lesses; dung of a &c.

ISSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. J'ai laissé ma dans le jardin, I left my sister in the garden. Je le seul, I leave him alone. Depuis quand avez-vous Paris, how long have you left Paris? Ils ont laissé s, they have abandoned the country. Laissez-le ces jours avec nous, leave him—allow him to remain ew days with us. Les voleurs le laissèrent pour mort, bbers left him for dead. Nous avons laissé les pa- à son avocat, we left the papers with his counsel. Je ai le livre sur la table, I will leave the book upon ble. Laissez-le-là, leave it there. Laissez cela, —let—that alone. Il nous a laissés-là, he dropped re—he abandoned us. J'ai laissé sa lettre à son ique, I left the letter with his servant. On l'a laissé s sans, they left him in my care—they trusted him care. Je vous en laisse le soin, I leave you the d it. Décidez, je vous en laisse le maître, it is for decide, I leave you the master of it. Il laisse ses chez le banquier, he leaves his cash with his banker ets it remain at his banker's. Laissez cela, n'y tou- ez, leave that—let that—alone, meddle not with it. -le, il le fera bien sans vous, leave him alone, he it well enough without you. Laissez-nous donc illes, pray, leave us alone. Laissez-moi en paix, me at peace. Laissez donc, nous savons qu'en pa- ire us alone, we know what to think of it. Laissons n'en parlons plus, let us drop that subject, let us say re about it. Allez-vous me laisser dans l'embarras, ou leave me in difficulty? Vous laissez tout à dire, you leave everything without order—in confu- Ne laissez pas traîner les choses, do not leave about. Il faudrait laisser ce passage, it would be o omit that passage. C'est à prendre ou à laisser, ay take it or leave it.

laissé de grands biens après sa mort, he left great at his death. Il laissera un beau nom après lui, leave a great name after him. Il nous a laissé un eritage, he left us a small inheritance. Je vous en l'honneur et le profit, I leave you the honour and of it. Les voleurs lui laissèrent sa montre, the rob- ft him his watch. Nous avons laissé la grande rouge sur la droite, we left the great red house on t-hand side. Il y a laissé la vie, there he left his e lost his life. Ce vin laisse un goût désagréable dans che, that wine leaves a disagreeable taste in the . (T. de manége.) Laissez-lui la bride sur le cou, ur horse his head. (Fig.) Vous lui laissez trop la ur le cou, you leave him too much liberty—freedom. isser suivi d'un infinitif.) Laissez-nous quelque faire, leave us something to do. Que nous lais- ous à boire, what will you leave us to drink? Cela ien à penser, that leaves much to think. Son ou- ge parfait, il ne laisse rien à désirer, his work is it leaves nothing to wish for. Laissez-les jouer, n play. Laissez-nous travailler, nous n'avons pas de jouer, let us work, we have not time to play. -nous jouir du plaisir de votre présence, let us— u—enjoy the pleasure of seeing you. Laissez-le n peu, let him run a little. Laissez-lui dire ce emande, let him say—allow him to say—what he Il laisse faire à cet enfant tout ce qu'il veut, he ermits—allows—that child to do anything he likes. s avons laissés boire, we left them drinking. Je aisse reposer un peu, I let her—allowed her—to rest Laissez-le dire, let him speak. Laissez-moi ire cela—laissez que je vous explique cela, allow —let me—explain that to you. Laissez à ceux qui chas à faire de ces folles dépenses, leave it to the run into these mad expenses. J'ai laissé tomber tière, I dropped my snuff-box. Il s'est laissé he fell down. Vous laisserez-vous tromper, will low yourself—suffer yourself—to be deceived? Il se prendre tout ce qu'il a, he lets them take all he m him. Laissez aller, let go. Il laisse tout aller, fects everything. Ne vous laissez pas aller à la do not yield to anger. Laissez-vous aller au mouvement du navire, abandon yourself—give way—to the motion of the ship. Allons, allons, laissez-vous aller, come, come, do not resist any more—do yield. Il se laisse aller à la paresse, he abandons himself to idleness. Il s'est laissé mourir de faim, he starved himself. Il laisse ses enfants mourir de faim, he lets his children starve. Je ne suis laissé dire qu'il était revenu, I heard that he had returned. Se laisser mourir, to die. Il s'est laissé battre, he was beaten. Cela se laisse manger, that is eatable. Ne vous laissez pas peindre, do not allow them to know your thoughts—your intentions. Il se laisse mener—gouverner—par le nez, he allows himself to be led by the nose. Ne laissez pas voir votre pensée, do not suffer them—allow them—to know what you think. (T. de médec.) Laisser tout aller sous soi, not to have power of retention.

(Ne pas laisser de, to do a thing notwithstanding the difficulties—the obstacles.) Il a plu toute la nuit, mais il n'a pas laissé d'aller à la campagne, it has rained the whole night, but he did not give up going into the country —but he has gone into the country nevertheless. Malgré leurs brouilleries il n'a pas laissé de lui écrire, in spite of their quarrels, he has written to him nevertheless. Vous pouvez en douter, mais cela ne laisse pas d'être vrai, you may doubt it, but it is true nevertheless. Il est pauvre, mais il ne laisse pas d'être honnête homme, he is poor, but nevertheless he is an honest man for all that. Cela ne laisse pas d'être embarrassant, that is very puzzling nevertheless.

Laisser aller (employé comme subst.). Il n'a point de laisser aller, he has no forbearance—he does not yield to circumstances. Cette femme a un laisser aller charmant, there is something charming in the easy manners of that woman.

LAIT, s. m. milk. Elle ne vit que de lait, she is on a milk diet—she lives on milk only. Café au lait, milk and coffee (taken at breakfast). Soupe au lait, milk soup. Vache à lait, milch-cow. (Fig.) Cet homme fait de vous une vache à lait, that man draws everything he wants of you. Ce malade est une vache à lait pour le médecin, that sick man is a good income for the doctor. Cochon de lait, sucking pig. Veau de lait, a young calf.

Prenez un verre de petit lait, take a glass of whey. Lait de beurre, butter-milk. Lait coupé, milk and water; milk and broth, &c. Il avale cela doux comme du lait, it goes down like milk. Il s'emporte comme une soupe au lait, he boils over like milk. C'est lui bouillir du lait que de lui dire du bien de ses enfants, it is gratifying to him—it pleases him—to speak well of his children to him.

(T. de médec.) Cet enfant a été nourri de deux laits, that child has had two nurses. Fièvre de lait, puerperal fever. Elle est malade d'un lait répandu, she is ill from an overflow of milk. Son lait est échauffé, her milk is heated. Prendre un lait de poule, to take a remedy consisting of the yolk of one or two eggs beaten up with hot water and sugar.

Nous sommes frères de lait, we are foster-brothers—we have sucked the same milk. Les dents de lait, the first teeth. (Fig.) Il a une dent de lait contre lui, he owes him an old grudge.

Couleur soupe de lait, cream colour.

LAITAGE, s. m. milk; milk-diet.

LAITANCE, LAITE, s. f. soft roe of fish; milt.

LAITÉ, E, adj. Un hareng laité, a herring with a soft roe. (Fig.) Il a un ton de poule laitée, he speaks with a cracked voice—he has no vigour.

LAITERIE, s. f. dairy.

LAITERON, s. m. (t. de bot.), sow-thistle.

LAITEUX, EUSE, adj. milky.

LAITIER, s. m. (t. de fonderie), scummy matter (over the surface of boiling metal).

LAITIÈRE, s. f. dairy maid; milk-woman; nurse. Vache laitière, milch-cow.

LAITON, s. m. brass wire.

LAITUE, s. f. lettuce.

LAIZE, s. f. (t. de manufacture), width.

LAMA, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), llama. (Divinité Indienne), Lama.

LAMANAGE, s. m. (t. de marine), pilotage of ships at the mouths of rivers—at the entrance of seaports.

LAMANEUR, s. m. (t. de marine), coasting pilot.

LAMANTIN, } s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), syren; manatee;
LAMENTIN, } mermaid.

LAMBEAU, s. m. shred; bit; scrap.

LAMBEL, s. m. (t. de blason), lambel.

LAMBIN, E, adj. s. m. f. slow goer; humdrum; loiterer; one who does things slowly.

LAMBINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to act slowly; to loiter.

LAMBOURDE, s. f. (t. de charp.), joist.

LAMBREQUINS, s. m. pl. (t. de blason), mantling.

LAMBRIS, s. m. wainscot; wainscoting. Les lambris de ce salon sont en marbre, the walls of this drawing-room are covered with marble. (Fig.) Le bonheur n'est pas sous les lambris dorés, happiness is not within gilt walls. Elle était heureuse sous son modeste lambris, she was happy in her homely abode. Les lambris sacrés, the sacred walls—the temple. Les célestes lambris, the heavenly abode.

LAMBRISSAGE, s. m. wainscoting.

LAMBRISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to wainscot.

LAMBRUCHE, } s. f. wild vine.
LAMBRUSQUE, }

LAME, s. m. plate. L'inscription était sur une lame de cuivre, the inscription was on a brass plate. (T. de bot.), blade. (T. de toilette.) Sa robe était couverte de lames d'or, her dress was enriched with spangles of gold. (En parlant de pierre), scale.

(T. de fourbisseur, coutelier), blade. Couteau à deux lames, a knife with two blades. Un couteau à lame d'argent, a silver-bladed knife. Une lame à deux tranchants, a two-edged blade. La lame d'une épée, d'un sabre, the blade of a sword, of a sabre. (Fig.) C'était la première lame du régiment, he was the best fencer—swordsman—in the regiment. Elle vous attrapera, c'est une fine lame, she will take you in, for she is a cunning one.

(T. de mer), wave. Les lames se brisaient sur la côte, the waves broke on the shore. Prendre la lame debout, to lay the bow to the sea. La lame est courte, we have a short sea. Les lames de fond, the ground swell. L'entre deux des lames, the trough of the sea. Se baigner à la lame, to bathe in the sea.

LAMELLE, E, } adj. (pron. la-mel-le), leafy, LAMELLEUX, EUSE, } lamellated.

LAMENTABLE, adj. lamentable; to be lamented.

LAMENTABLEMENT, adv. lamentably; mournfully.

LAMENTATION, s. f. lamentation.

LAMENTER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il lamente la perte de son père, he weeps—mourns for—laments—the death of his father. Pourquoi vous lamentez-vous, what are you lamenting for—grieving at? Il se lamente fort de la perte de son emploi, he is grieving at—lamenting—the loss of his situation.

(T. d'hist. nat.) Le crocodile lamente, the crocodile whines.

LAMENTIN, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), lamentin.

LAMIE, s. f. white shark. (Être fabuleux), Lamia, a monster which, under the appearance of a beautiful woman, devoured little children.

LAMINAGE, s. m. flattening metal; drawing it into thin plates.

LAMINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to flatten metals.

LAMINOIR, s. m. flatting mill.

LAMPADAIRE, s. m. lamp-bearer.

LAMPADISTE, s. m (t. d'antiq.), a person who raced by the light of torches.

LAMPAS, s. m. sort of Chinese silk stuff used principally to cover furniture. (T. de vétér.) lampass (a small lump of flesh—tumour—which comes in the mouth of a horse). (Pop.) Il s'humecte volontiers le lampas, he is fond of drink—he rather likes to wet his whistle.

LAMPE, s. f. lamp. Lampe à trois becs, a lamp with three burners. (Fig.) Il n'y a plus d'huile dans la lampe, the oil is exhausted in the socket—life is failing. Ses ouvrages sentent la lampe, his works have been written by the midnight-lamp. (T. d'archit.) Œil de lampe, eye of lamp. (T. d'imprimerie.) Le fers et vers de culs de lampes, the hook is ornamented with pretty pieces.

LAMPÉE, s. f. Il avala d'abord trois ou quatre lampées, he swallowed at first three or four draughts—glasses—of wine.

LAMPER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il vint bientôt à bout d'une bouteille de vin, he had soon drank—swallowed up—the whole bottle of wine. Il aime à lamper, he is fond of drinking—guzzling.

LAMPERON, s. m. socket; wick-holder.

LAMPION, s. m. glass lamp; fire pot.

LAMPISTE s. m. lamp-seller; lamp-maker.

LAMPROIE, s. f. lamprey (sort of eel).

LAMPROYON, }
LAMPRILLON, } s. m. small lamprey.

LANCE, s. f. lance; spear. Autrefois on combattait avec la lance, in former times people fought with a lance. Il amenait avec lui dix lances fournies, he was jingling with him ten lances and their appendages. Le bois de la lance, the haft—wood—of the lance. Tenir la lance en arrêt, to hold the lance in rest. Ils s'avancèrent la lance baissée, they advanced against one another with their lances couched. Ils baissaient la lance devant lui, they bowed—quand il passait, when the prince passed by—bowed their lances—they saluted him with their lances. Il fallut baisser la lance devant lui, he was obliged to humble himself before him. Lance à oreillons, eared—pointed lance. Lance courtoise, a lance with blunt—inoffensive—head. Rompre une lance avec un autre, to enter the lists with one—to fight him. (Fig.) Il a rompu bien des lances en votre absence, I have had many a battle for you in your absence. Ce fut la couronne ne tombe point de lance en quenouille, a fine the crown does not pass from the male to the female. Il est reçu à bras et sans lance, he came by it in a legal plight. La lance d'un drapeau, the pole—the staff of a standard.

(T. de chirurg.), lancet. (T. d'artif.) Lance à feu, a port-fire.

LANCER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj. Lancer un trait, to lance—to hurl—to throw—a dart. On lançait des pierres aux assiégeants, they threw—they hurled—stones at the besiegers. Le soleil lançait ses rayons sur nous, the sun darted—shot forth—its rays over us. Dieu lance le tonnerre, God hurls the thunder. Il lui donna un coup de pied, he gave him a kick. (Fig.) Il lui lança des regards de colère, he cast angry looks at him. Il lui lançait de douces œillades, he cast sweet looks at her. Il a lancé mille épigrammes contre lui, he darted a thousand jokes against him. Il vient de lancer un nouvel ouvrage, he has just sent out a new work. (T. du chass.) Lancer le cerf, le sanglier, to turn out—to force out—a stag, a wild boar. (T. de marine.) Lancer un vaisseau, to launch a ship. (T. de manége.) Lancer un cheval, to set him off. Le voilà lancé, he is off.

Il se lança le premier dans l'eau, he rushed into the water the first. Ils se sont tous lancés sur lui, they all rushed upon him. Le voilà qui se lance dans le monde, there he is making his way in society. C'en est fait, me lance, it is all over, I rush forward—I am launched. Il n'ose pas se lancer, he dares not venture. Il se lance maintenant, he is launched now.

LANCETTE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), lancet.

LANCIER, s. m. lancer.

LANCINANT, E, adj. (t. de médec.), shooting. Il éprouve une douleur lancinante, she feels a shooting pain.

LANCOIR, s. m. (t. hydraul.), mill-dam.

LANÇON, s. m. sort of fish; young pike.

LANDAMMAN, s. m. (pron. lan-da-mane), landamman (Suisse), landsman.

LANDAU, s. m. landau; sort of carriage.

LANDAULET, s. m. small landau.

LANDE, s. f. Les landes de Bordeaux, the heaths (sandy grounds) of Bordeaux. (Fig.), a barren tract.

LANGAGE, s. m. language in a book.

ANDGRAVE, s. m. (titre Allemand), landgrave.
ANDGRAVINE, s.f. (titre Allemand), landgravine.
ANDIT, s. m. name of a fair at Paris and St. Denis, ANDIT, early in June. A holyday given to the stu-
s at the time of the fair. Fees paid to the professors.
ANDIER, s. m. Voyez Chenêt.
ANERET, s. m. lanner; sort of hawk.
ANGAGE, s. m. language. Les bêtes ont aussi leurs ages, the beasts have also their language. Elle entend le langage des yeux, she understands well the lange of the eyes. Il parlait un langage inconnu, he e a language which no one knew. Ce mot ne s'em- pas dans le langage figuré, this word is not used in ative language. Il fait des fautes de langage, he ks incorrectly—his language is faulty. Voilà bien le age de la colère, this is indeed the language of passion.
e lui tenez un langage qu'il n'aime pas, you speak a uage to him which he does not like. Ils tiennent tous ne langage, they all say the same thing. Vous avez changé de langage depuis hier, you have greatly al-your tone—language—since yesterday.
ANGE, s. m. swaddling-clothes.
ANGOUREUSEMENT, adv. languishingly.
ANGOUREUX, EUSE, adj. languishing. Il parle tes langoureux, he speaks in a languishing manner.
est encore tout langoureux, he is still quite languid.
f. Faire le langoureux, to look languishingly.
ANGOUSTE, s. f. sort of large lobster.
ANGOUSTIÈRE, s. f. large lobster net.
ANGUARD, s. m. } tattler; a great talker.
ANGUARDE, s. f. }
ANGUE, s. f.
nat. organe), tongue. Il a la langue épaisse, he has d tongue. Vous avez la langue chargée, pâteuse, tongue is foul. Montrez-moi votre langue, show me tongue. (Fig.) Il leur montrait la langue en signe pris, he showed them his tongue, as a mark of con-
. Le chat a la langue fort mince, the cat has a very ongue. Quand le chien a soif, il tire la langue, a dog is thirsty, he lets his tongue hang out. (Fig.) e verrait tirer la langue d'un pied qu'il ne les nait pas, he would see them give signs of the of distress, but he would not relieve them. Je me mords la langue en mangeant, I bit my tongue in . (Fig.) Je m'en suis souvent mordu la langue, I bit my tongue from regret at having said it. J'allais dire, mais je me suis mordu la langue à temps, I ping to tell it him, but I bit (stopped) my tongue in J'ai soif à avaler ma langue, I could swallow my from thirst. (Fig.) Je m'ennuyais à avaler ma
, I was so dull that I almost swallowed my tongue yawning).
de cuisine.) Nous avons mangé une langue de bœuf uit, we ate a stewed tongue. Une langue fourrée, e tongue.
gue du discours.) Il ne sert bien de sa langue, he a good use of his tongue. Il a la langue grasse, w—(fig.), he speaks thick—he is tipsy. Elle a la bien pendue, her tongue is well hung. Elle a la bien affilée, she has a very sharp tongue. Il avait ue nouée, he was tongue-tied. Cela lui a dénoué é—la langue, that has untied—loosened—his tongue.
gue lui va toujours, his tongue is ever moving—he talking. Il a la langue bien longue—il ne saurait
a langue, he cannot hold his tongue. Il n'est pas de sa langue, he is not master of—he cannot —his tongue. Cet homme n'a point de langue, an has no tongue—is ever silent. Parlez donc;
que vous n'avez point de langue? do speak; have tongue? Vous ne savez conduire votre langue, must manage your tongue. La langue m'a fourché, gue tripped, i. e., I spoke differently from what I J'ai le mot sur le bout de la langue, I have it on of my tongue. Défiez-vous de lui, c'est une de langue, c'est une langue de vipère, mind him, an evil tongue—he has a viper's tongue. Un coup
ue, backbiting—slander. Il vous donnera un coup ne s'il le peut, he will slander you if he can. Un coup de langue est pire qu'un coup de lance, the tongue gives a deeper wound than a lance. Quelle langue que cette femme-là! what a tongue that woman has—what a talker that woman is! Il faut tourner sa langue sept fois dans sa bouche avant de parler, you must turn your tongue seven times in your mouth before you speak. Beau parler n'écorche point la langue, fair words break no bones—good words cost nothing. Jeter sa langue aux chiens, to give it up—(not to be able to guess a riddle, &c.). Qui langue a à Rome va, he that has a tongue in his head may go where he pleases.

(Idiôme), tongue; language. La langue Anglaise est difficile, the English tongue is difficult. Les langues mortes ou savantes, the dead or learned languages. On n'étudie pas assez les langues vivantes, the living tongues are not sufficiently learned. Il parle bien sa langue, he speaks his own language correctly. Il enseigne les langues, he teaches languages. Il est professeur en langue grecque, he is professor of Greek. Il est maître de langue Italienne, he is a teacher of Italian. La poésie est la langue des dieux, poetry is the language of the gods.

Prendre langue, to take tongue, i. e., to inquire how matters stand—are—,—to learn news—,—to get intelligence.

La langue de France, the French. La langue d'Aragon, the Aragonese. (T. de chasse.) Donner de la langue, to give tongue.

(T. de géog.) Langue de terre, neck of land—tongue—narrow piece of land. (T. de bot.) Langue de cerf, hart's tongue. Langue de chien, hound's tongue. Langue de serpent, adder's tongue.

LANGUETTE, s.f. (t. de métier), tongue; languet; needle.

LANGUEUR, s.f. (T. de médec.) Il est attaqué d'une mortelle langueur, he is attacked with a mortal languor—pining away. Elle est en langueur, she is in a state of languor—she is wasting away. Il est mort de langueur, he wasted away—he lingered away and died.

(Fig.) Le travail l'a mis dans un état de langueur dont il ne peut se tirer, hard work threw him into a state of languor—drooping—from which he cannot extricate himself. Une secrète langueur le mine, some secret sorrow—pain—makes him pine—wastes him away. Ses yeux sont pleins de langueur, her eyes are languishing. La nature entière est en langueur, all nature is languishing—drooping.

Langueur d'estomac, laborious digestion—sluggishness of the stomach. Il y a de la langueur dans cet ouvrage, this work lingers—is lingering—is slow.

LANGUEURS, s. f. pl. Il ne sent point encore les langueurs de l'âge, he does not yet complain of the weakness—dejection—of old age. Je ne pourrais supporter les langueurs d'une vie sans occupation, I could not bear with the tedious hours of unoccupied time.

LANGUEYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to examine a hog's tongue (to decide whether the animal is wholesome or not). (Fig.) Pour savoir les secrets d'un maître, il faut languéyer les valets, to arrive at the secrets of the master, you must get the valets to speak.

LANGUEYEUR, s. m. one who examines hogs' tongues and decides whether they are sound or not.

LANGUIER, s. m. smoked hog's tongue.

LANGUIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. Voyez Punir. Il y a trois ans qu'il languit, he has been lingering for these three years. Je languis d'ennui à la campagne, I am lingering—languishing—with ennui in the country. Nous languissons de faim et de misère, we are perishing with hunger and wretchedness. Tuez-le tout de suite, ne le faites pas languir, kill it at once, do not keep it lingering. Ne me faites pas languir après m'avoir promis de me dire la vérité, do not keep me lingering—in suspense—after having promised me the truth. Je languissais de le revoir, I almost died with the wish—I longed—to see them again.

(Fig.) Vos fleurs languissent faute d'eau, your plants are drooping for want of water. Tout languit dans la nature, every thing in nature is languishing—drooping. Cette pièce languit sur la fin, this play flags towards the end. En ce moment (1848) tout languit en France, at this time (1848) every thing lingers—drums—flags—in France. L'affaire ne va pas, elle languit, the affair does not get on, it languishes.

LANGUISSAMMENT, adv. languishingly.

LANGUISSANT, E, adj. languishing; lingering; drooping; pining; faint; flagging.

LANICE, adj. Bourre lanice, flocks of wool.

LANIER, s. f. lanner; the hen of the hawk.

LANIÈRE, s. f. strap; lash.

LANIFÈRE, adj. lanigerous; bearing wool.

LANSQUENET, s. m. (t. de jeu de cartes). Jouer au lansquenet, to play at lansquenet. (T. d'hist.), German foot-soldier.

LANTERNE, s. f. lantern. Il ne sort pas sans lanterne le soir, he does not go out without a lantern at night. Lanterne à réverbère, a lantern with reflectors. Lanterne sourde, dark lantern. Montrer la lanterne magique, to exhibit the magic lantern.

(T. d'archit.), lantern; dome; turret. (T. de mécan.), trundle. (T. de marine.) Lanterne à mitraille, case shot. (T. général), lantern; case.

(T. d'hist.) Dans la première révolution, 1789, on mit un ecclésiastique à la lanterne, in the first revolution, 1789, an ecclesiastic was hanged on a lamp-post. Mettre à la lanterne, to hang.

(Fig., fam.) Il est venu nous conter des lanternes, he came to tell us cock and bull stories. Lanternes que tout cela, all that is nonsense. Cet homme veut nous faire croire que des vessies sont des lanternes, that man would make us believe anything.

LANTERNER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to loiter; to lose time. Voilà un mois que vous me lanternez, you have been amusing me for the last month. Que venez-vous me lanterner? what do you come to tell me—what nonsense do you talk about?

(T. d'hist.) Lanterner, to hang on a lamp-post; to hang.

LANTERNERIE, s. f. indecision; loitering; frivolous tales; nonsense.

LANTERNIER, s. m. lantern maker—seller—lighter.

LANTERNIER, ERE, adj. silly man or woman; quiter; punctilious about nothing.

LANTIPONNAGE, s. m. frivolous talk; nonsense.

LANTIPONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to talk nonsense.

LANTURELU, s. m. nonsense.

LANUGINEUX, EUSE, adj. lanuginous; downy.

LAPER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lap.

LAPEREAU, s. m. young rabbit.

LAPIDAIRE, s. m. lapidary.

LAPIDAIRE, adj. lapidary.

LAPIDATION, s. f. lapidation; stoning.

LAPIDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lapidate; to stone.

LAPIDIFICATION, s. f. lapidification; the act of forming stones.

LAPIDIFIER, v. a. v. r. 1ère conj., to turn into stone; to petrify.

LAPIDIFIQUE, adj. lapidific.

LAPIN, s. m. a buck rabbit; a coney; a rabbit.

LAPINE, s. f. Lapin de clapier, de garenne, sauvage, wild rabbit. Lapin domestique, domestic rabbit. Gibelotte de lapin, a rabbit stew. (Pop.) Il est brave comme un lapin, he is bran new. (A Paris.) Monter en lapin, to ride with the driver, to sit with him.

LAPIS-LAZULI, s. m. (t. de minér.), lapis lazuli.

LAPON, s. m. adj. } Laplander; Lapland man; Lap-
LAPONE, s. f. adj. } land woman.

LAPONIE, s. f. (t. de géog.), Lapland.

LAPS, s. m. (pron. lapsé), space. Nous y avons passé un certain laps de temps, we spent there a space of time.

LAPS, E, adj. (t. de droit de canon). Il est laps et relaps, he has fallen and fallen again.

LAQUAIS, s. m. footman; lackey.

LAQUE, s. f. lac; gum lac.

LAQUE, s. m. lacker.

LAQUETON, s. m. a young footman.

LAQUEUX, EUSE, adj. pale; watery.

LARAIRE, s. m. (t. d'antiq.), a niche, a place where the household gods were placed.

LARCIN, s. m. larceny; theft. (En parlant de livres), plagiarism. (Fig. et poét.) Faire un larcin, to steal a kiss.

LARD, s. m. bacon. Une flèche de lard, a flitch of bacon. Il est gras à lard, he is fat enough to eat bacon of. J'ai mangé une tranche de lard à déjeuner, I had a slice of bacon—(if hot) a rasher of bacon—at breakfast. Du lard jaune, old, rancid bacon. Gras à quatre doigts de lard, that hog has four inches of fat. Un poulet bardé de lard, a chicken with a slice of bacon round it. Du lard (de baleine), blubber.

(Fam.) Cet homme est vilain comme lard jaune, the man is very miserly—very mean. Il fait lard, il fait chat, a bed late (to get fat). Venir comme lard en pois, to come opportunely. Il ne jette pas son lard aux chats, he does not give away what he has.

LARDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lard. (Fig.) Il le larda de coups d'épée, he gave him several sword cuts—he pierced him like a sieve. Larder quelqu'un de grammes, de brocards, to lampoon. Il larde ses écrits de citations Latines, he stuffs his writings with Latin quotations.

LARDOIRE, s. f. larding-pin.

LARDON, s. m. bacon (cut for larding).

LARDON, s. m. sarcasm; joke. Chacun lui donna son lardon, every one cracked his joke on him—threw a sarcasm at him. Vous aurez aussi votre lardon, they will have a cut at you—you will have your turn.

LARE, s. m. household god. (Fig.) Aller aux lares, to go and see one's native place—patriotic attachment to family—again.

LARGE, adj. wide; broad. Cette étoffe n'a pas assez large, that stuff is not wide. Il avait un large bord à son chapeau, he wore a broad rivand in his hat. Cette rivière n'est pas large ici, the river is not wide—that river has no width here. Cet homme est large des épaules, that man has broad shoulders—is broad shouldered. Mon jardin est plus long que large, my garden is longer than wide. Il porte un chapeau large de bord, he wears a hat with a broad brim. Cette toile a une demi-aune de large, that cloth is half an ell wide.

Une large blessure, a great wound. (T. de manége.) Ce cheval est large du devant, that horse is broad-chested.

Ce sont de ces gens qui ont la conscience large, those people have a broad—large—conscience. Faire part d'autrui large courroie, to make free with another's property—things. Il a des idées larges, he has liberal—ideas. Il lui a donné des pouvoirs très-larges, he gave him large powers.

LARGE, s. m. Prenez le large, get away. Gagner le large, move off; move away. Vous êtes logé bien au large, you are largely lodged—you have a roomy house. Faites vous plus au large, do take more room. (Fig.) Une petite succession l'a mis plus au large, this small succession has made him more at ease. Se promener au large, en large—de long en large, to walk to and fro. Cela a donné du long et du large, he has been famously used. Au long et au large, to and fro; far and wide.

(T. de marine.) Prendre, gagner le large, to put out to sea—to run out to sea. La mer vient du large, the sea comes from the offing. Nous tenions au large, we stood out of—off—the harbour. Le vent est au large, the breeze is from the sea.

LARGEMENT, adv. widely; liberally.

LARGESSE, s. f. liberality; largess. Faire largesse, largess money; doles.

LARGEUR, s. f. width; breadth.

LARGUE, adj. (t. de marine). Nous avons eu le vent largue, we had the wind on the quarter. Faire largue. Voyez Large.

LARGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to go; to let off; to ease.

LARIGOT, s. m. sort of flute. (Fig.) Boire à tire-larigot, to drink excessively—like a fish. Voyez for l'étymologie de Larigot.

LARIX, s. m. Voyez Mélèze

ARME, s. f. tear. Répandre, verser des larmes, to eurs. Il l'en conjura les larmes aux yeux, he end him with tears in his eyes. Les larmes lui en sont aux yeux, tears came to his eyes. Il arrosait ses de ses larmes, he bathed her hands with his tears.
eux étaient gros de larmes, his eyes were big with Pleurer à chaudes larmes, to weep bitterly.
en larmes, to melt into tears. Nous la trouvâmes es larmes, we found her bathed in tears. Elle ure de larmes—elle vit dans les larmes, she feeds on ars. Je viendrai mêler mes larmes aux vôtres, I ome and weep—sympathize—with you. Sechez—
—nos larmes, dry your tears. Il a toujours la à l'œil, he has always a tear in his eye. Elle est
s aux larmes, she had recourse to tears. Elle a s des larmes de commande, she has always tears Ce sont des larmes de crocodile, they are ritical tears. Il a le don des larmes, he can émover he likes. Rire aux larmes, to laugh to nez-moi, je vous prie, une larme de vin, pray, give drop of wine. Larme de vigne, gutta vitis. Larmes

(t. de bot.), Job's tear.
me de verre, Rupert's drop.
RMIER, s. m. (t. d'archit.), eaves; weather-board.
RMIERES, s. f. } eye-veins.
RMIERS, s. m. } RMOIEMENT, s. m. dropping of tears; running of weeping.
RMOYANT, E, adj. weeping; lachrymose.
RMOYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to shed tears; to

RON, s. m. } thief; robber. L'occasion fait RONNESSE, s. f. } le larron, the occasion makes el. (Fam.) Il donne sa bourse à garder au he entrusts his interest—his concerns—to a rogue.
ntendent comme larrons en foire, they understand ier like pickpockets. (T. d'imprimerie), a blank.
relteur), a leaf uncut.
RONNEAU, s. m. a petty thief.
RONNER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to rob; to steal.
RONNERIE, s. f. roguery; robbery.
VE, s. f. (t. d'entom.), larva; chrysalis.
VES, s. f. (t. d'antiq.), larvæ; shades of the dead.
RYNGE, E, } adj. (t. d'anat.), laryngeal.
RYNGIEN, NE, }
RYNGOTOMIE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), laryngotomy.
RYNX, s. m. (t. d'anat.), larynx.
fatery, alas! good God!
, SE, adj. tired; wearied. Je suis las de marcher, ired of walking. Je suis tellement las que je ne e remuer, I am so tired that I cannot move. Je s de le lui demander, I am wearied—tired—of him for it. (Fig.) Je suis las de voir cet homme- s tired of seeing that man. Nous en sommes tous are all tired of it. Il y a consenti de guerre has consented, from being tired of it.
CIF, IVE, adj. lascivious, lustful.
CIVEMENT, adv. lasciviously.
CIVETÉ, s. f. lasciviousness; lust; looseness
ER, s. m. (t. de bot.), sort of plant.
QUETTE, s. f. skin of a young ermine.
SANT, E, adj. tiring; wearisome; fatiguing.
SER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Ce travail me ucoup, this occupation tires me much. Cette danse lasse beaucoup, that sort of dance is very
g. Une longue contention lasse l'esprit, too long wearies the mind. Il me lasse avec ses vieux tires me—fatigues me—wearies me—with his
s. Vous lassez ma bonté, you tire my kindness.
lasse à marcher, I tire myself—I fatigue myself
ing. C'est un homme qui ne se lasse de rien, that tired of nothing. On se lasse de tout, one gets every thing. Vous vous êtes bientôt lassé de la e, you soon got tired of the country.
ITUDE, s. f. lassitude; weariness; fatigue. Je lassitude, I sink from lassitude. Je ne sais d'où cette lassitude, I know not whence comes this lassitude. J'y ai renoncé par lassitude, I gave it up from weariness.

J'ai des lassitudes aux jambes qui ne me permettent pas de rester tranquille, I feel a restlessness in my legs, I cannot be quiet a moment.

LATANIER, s. m. sort of plane tree.
LATENT, E, adj. latent; inward; secret.
LATÉRAL, E, adj. lateral.
LATÉRALEMENT, adv. laterally; sidewise.
LATICLAVE, s. m. (t. d'antiq.), laticlave, a tunic worn by the Roman senators.
LATIN, s. m. adj. Il apprend le Latin, he learns Latin. Il écrit en bon Latin, he writes in good Latin. Tout le monde apprend la langue Latine, every one learns the Latin tongue. J'ai un dictionnaire Latin Français, I have a Latin and French Dictionary. C'est du Latin de bréviaire, this is bad Latin—monkish Latin. Il s'exprime en Latin de cuisine, he speaks dog Latin—low Latin. On se moque en général des gens de Latin, the savants—erudites are generally ridiculed. Le pauvre homme est au bout de son Latin, the poor man is posed—knows no more what to say. Les docteurs y perdent leur Latin, the doctors themselves have failed—have vainly wasted their trouble—are puzzled. Soyez tranquille, je sais bien mon Latin—j'entends le Latin, leave me alone, I know what I am about—I am too cunning for them. Cracher du Grec et du Latin, to be ever quoting Greek and Latin. Parler Latin devant les Cordeliers, to venture to speak on learned subjects before professors.

Je demeure dans le pays Latin, I live in the quarter of the University (of Paris). Son langage sent le pays Latin, his language bespeaks the scholar—the University man.

L'église Latine, the church of Rome—the Western church (in reference to the Greek church or Eastern church). Les Latins et les Grecs diffèrent de croyance, the people of the church of Rome and those of the church of Constantinople differ, &c. Suivant le rit Latin, according to the Roman rite.

(T. de marine.) Bâtiment latin, lateen vessel. Voile latine, lateen sail, (this has chiefly reference to Eastern vessels).

LATINEUR, s. m. (en ridicule), one who affects to talk, to quote Latin.
LATINISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to latinize. (T. de controverse.) C'est un Grec Latinisé, he has been converted from the Greek church to the Roman.
LATINISME, s. m. latinism.
LATINISTE, s. m. latinist.
LATINITÉ, s. f. latinity. La basse latinité, low Latin.
LATITUDE, s. f. (t. de géog.), latitude. Paris est à quarante huit degrés de latitude nord, Paris is in the 48th degree of northern latitude. (Fig.) Ne leur laissez-vous pas trop de latitude? do you not give them too much latitude?
LATITUDINAIRE, adj. } latitudinarian.
LATITUDINAIRIEN, NE, adj. }
LATITUDINARISME, s. m. latitudinarianism.
LATRIE, s. f. (t. de théol.). Culte de latrie, latria, i. e. worship of adoration.
LATRINES, s. f. privy.
LATTE, s. f. (t. de charp.), lath.
LATTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lath.
LATTIS, s. m. lathwork.
LAUDANUM, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. lau-da-nome, t. de pharmacie), laudanum.
LAUDATEUR, s. m. praiser; lauder.
LAUDATIF, IVE, adj. laudative; laudatory.
LAUDES, s. f. (mot Latin, pron. lau-dèce, t. de liturgie Cathol.), the part of the office after Matins.
LAURÉAT, s. m. adj. laureate.
LAURENTINE, s. f. sort of flowery silk stuff.
LAURÉOLE, s. f. (sort of laurel), laureola; spurge laurel.
LAURIER, s. m. laurel; bay tree. Laurier rose, rose bay. Laurier cerise, cherry laurel. Laurier-tin, wild laurel.

Les vainqueurs portaient des couronnes de laurier, the conquerors wore laurel crowns. Il est chargé de lauriers, he is loaded with laurels—with honours. Il est allé cueillir, moissonner, des lauriers, he has gone to reap laurels. Il se repose sur ses lauriers, he enjoys his laurels—his honours—,—he rests on his honours. Il a flétri ses lauriers, he has stained his laurels.

LAVABO, s. m. (t. d'église), napkin (with which the priest wipes his hands at mass) Name of a printed card placed on the altar, beginning with these words, "Lavabo manus meas inter innocentes, &c." and read at the commencement of the mass.

(T. de toilette), washhand-stand.

LAVAGE, s. m. washing; (fam.), slop. Cette soupe n'est que du lavage, this soup is mere slop; it is so thin. Vous vous trouverez mal de ce lavage, you will be the worse for it, if you drink all that slop. (T. de métallurgie), washing. (T. de médec.) De la médecine en lavage, a remedy much diluted.

LAVAGNE, Pierre de, s. f. sort of slate of which the quarry is near Genoa.

LAVANCHE. Voyez Avalanche.

LAVANDE, s. f. lavender. Eau de lavande, lavender [water.

LAVANDIER, s. m. launderer.

LAVANDIÈRE, s. f. laundress.

LAVARET, s. m. sort of trout, in the lakes of Switzer- [land.

LAVASSE, s. f. heavy rain, shower; (fam.), slop; tasteless—insipid stuff.

LAVE, s. f. lava.

LAVEMENT, s. m. washing; (t. de médec.), clyster.

LAVER, v. a. v. rég. 1ère conj. Laver du linge, to wash linen. Laver la vaisselle, to wash plates. La pluie a lavé les rues, the rain has cleaned the streets. Lavez donc la figure à cet enfant, do wash that child's face. Voulez-vous vous laver les mains, do you wish to wash your hands? Je me suis lavé les pieds, I washed my feet. Elle nous donna à laver, she gave—presented—us water to wash our hands. Ne voulez-vous pas laver avant le repas, do you not wish to wash your hands before eating? Il n'y a point de pierre à laver dans la cuisine, there is no sink in the kitchen. Le fleuve lave les murs de notre ville, the river bathes the walls of our town. (T. d'imprimerie.) Laver du papier, to wet—to dip—paper. (T. de médec.) Laver une plaie avec du vin, to bathe—to dab a wound with wine.

(Fig.) Rien ne peut laver cette tache, nothing can wash that stain away. Je laverai cette injure dans son sang, I will wash that insult in his blood. Vous ne pourrez vous laver de cette accusation, you will not be able to clear yourself of that charge. Je lui laverai la tête, I will scold him—lecture him—read him a sharp reprimand. A laver la tête d'un More, on perd sa lessive, you waste your trouble if you try to wash a blackamoor white. Je m'en lave les mains, I wash my hands of it.

(T. de dessinateur, d'ingénieur.) Laver un plan, to wash, to colour a plan.

LAVETTE, s. f. dishcloth.

LAVEUR, s. m. Laveur de vaisselle, a scullion—one LAVEUSE, s. f. } who washes the dishes. (Général.), washer.

LAVIS, s. m. (t. de dessin, d'ingénieur), colouring.

LAVOIR, s. m. Lavoir de cuisine, scullery; sink. (En général), a washhouse; a watering place. (In a Church vestry), laver.

LAVURE, s. f. Lavure de vaisselle, wash. (Fam. en parlant d'un mauvais bouillon), slop. (En général), wash; scouring; sweeping.

LAXATIF, IVE, adj. laxative.

LAYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pierce a forest, a wood with a road, a path. Voyez Laie.

LAYETIER, s. m. box-maker; packing-case maker.

LAYETTE, s. f. drawer; small box or casket; child-bed linen; child's clothes.

LAZARET, s. m. lazaretto. Nous fûmes obligés de rester un mois au lazaret, we were obliged to remain a whole month (in quarantine) at the lazaretto.

LAZULI. Voyez Lapis.

LAZZI, s. m. (mot Italien, pron. lat-zi), joke; pun.

LE, LA, LES, art. défini. Le roi, la reine et les princesses vont au spectacle de la cour, the king and the queen and the princesses are going to the play. Le soldat est brave, the soldier is brave. Le vin de France est bon, the wine of France is good. Je parlais de plaisir de la chasse, I was speaking of the pleasure of hunting. Les Français sont braves, the French are brave. L'obéissance est due aux lois, obedience is due to the laws. Honorez vos père et mère, honour your father and mother. Les devoirs des mères, such are the duties of mothers. Cet homme a tremblé devant l'ennemi, the soul in shaken by it. Il sera ici à neuf heures ou le 10, they will arrive on the 9th or the 10th.

LE, LA, LES, (pron. parce, que), pron. pers. Je le verrai ce soir, I shall see him to-night. Vous me le donnerez demain, you will give it me to-morrow. Donnez-le-moi, you have taken my pen—give it me. Vous cherchez vos frères? les voici dans le jardin, you are looking for your brothers? here they are in the garden. Je ne les ai pas vus depuis longtemps, I have not seen them for a long while. Le reste, la voilà, there she is. Quand il sera revenu, faites-le moi savoir, when he has returned, inform me of it. Je l'ai reconnue à l'instant, I recognised her by her voice.

LE, relatif d'un verbe, d'un adj. Je le ferai, si je le puis, I will do it, if I can (do it). Vous n'êtes pas sa mère? Soyez-le donc, you are not his mother? be so then. Etes-vous contente? Oui, je le suis, are you pleased? Yes, I am so. Elle n'est pas si riche que vous le dites, she is not so rich as you say. Si cet homme peut vous nuire, il vous le fera, qu'il le fera, if that man can injure you, he will do it.

LÉ, s. m. breadth. Marche à six lés, a six breadths mound. Il faudrait y mettre un lé de plus, you ought to put one breadth more.

LÈCHE, s. f. thin slice.

LÈCHEFRITE, s. f. dripping-pan.

LÉCHER, v. a. v. rég. 1ère conj. Le chien lèche son maître, il meurt en léchant la main qui l'a frappé, he licks his master, he dies licking the hand that struck him. Le serpent lèche sa proie avant de l'avaler, the serpent licks its prey before swallowing it. Il s'en léchait encore les barbes, he licked his beard (in thinking of it). Qui l'aurait cru? cela, il n'a qu'à s'en lécher les barbes, who would have thought it? he may wish he may get it. Il n'a pas même léchait les doigts, they licked their fingers after it). C'était bon, mais il ne nous en a donné doigt, it was good, but he gave us little of it. Cet écrivain lèche trop ses ouvrages, this author labours—his works too carefully. Cet ouvrage est bien léché, he is an unlicked cub. Lécher l'ours, to polish a cause.

LEÇON, s. f. lesson. Avez-vous dit votre leçon, have you said your lesson? J'ai pris trois leçons de danse, I have taken a lesson in dancing. Elle a pris des leçons de chant, she has had lessons in singing. Il ferait leçon, he would teach it—give lessons in it. Il donne des leçons d'histoire, he gives lessons in history. (En parlant d'un professeur.) Il donne les leçons de théologie à l'Université, he teaches—he gives lessons—the law—divinity at the University. Il ne fait pas ses leçons régulièrement, I do not attend his lessons regularly. Il a fait une savante leçon aujourd'hui, he gave a learned lecture to-day.

Il a agi maladroitement, cependant je ne lui ferai pas leçon, he has acted awkwardly, yet I will not give him a lesson him well. Faire une leçon à quelqu'un, to read a lecture to one.

Sachez mettre à profit les leçons de l'expérience, learn to turn to account the lessons of experience.

(T. de littér.) Il faut confronter les différentes leçons de ce passage, we must compare the different readings of that passage. (Fam., fig.) L'amateur a ses leçons, ainsi, du moins il y a une autre leçon, the amateur has his lessons, at least so, at least they relate it in a different way.

LECTEUR, s. m. reader. Cet ouvrage a peu de lecteurs, that book had not many readers—was not much read. C'est un grand lecteur, he is a great reader. C'est un bon lecteur, he is a good reader. Il vient d'être nommé lecteur du roi, he has been appointed Reader to the king.

…ter. (Fig.) C'est un avis au lecteur, it is a …ice—a warning.
…llège, d'université), professor, lecturer.
…RE, s. f. Enseigner la lecture, to teach read-
…ime beaucoup la lecture, he is very fond of Je vais vous en faire la lecture, I will read it
On en a fait lecture, it was read over. La …a lettre m'a rassuré, the perusal of his letter …d me. Il s'est formé l'esprit par la lecture …teurs, he formed his mind in reading the good
Il a peu de lecture, he has read little. Il a …e lecture, he is well read—he has read much. …rri de la lecture des anciens, his mind is en- …n the reading of the ancients. Il n'a pas …es lectures, he has derived little profit from his

…ésit.) Le comité de lecture a rejeté la pièce, …committee rejected the play. Cette pièce ne …pas à la lecture, that play does not bear

…de lecture, reading-room.
…E, adj. legal; lawful.
…KEMENT, adv. legally; lawfully.
…SATION, s. f. legalizing. Il est chargé de …tion de ces actes, he has to legalize these acts.
…LISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to legalise; to …lentic.
…LITE, s. f. legality; authenticity.
…T, s. m. legate. Latus à latere, a cardinal sent …e with plenipotentiary powers.
…TAIRE, s. m. f. legatee; legatary. Légataire …a residuary legatee.
…TEUR, TRICE, s. m. f. legator.
…TION, s. f. legation; (t. de diplom.), legation.
…TOIRE, adj. having—governed by—a legate.
…adj. (t. de marine), in ballast; light.
…NDAIRE, adj. legendary; fabulous.
…NDE, s. f. legend; a long, fastidious series, list.
…nation.), legend.
…ER, ÈRE, adj. light. Un corps léger, a light
…t est léger comme une plume, he is as light as a
…cela est léger comme l'air, that is as light as air.
…oiture très-légère, his carriage is very light.
…légères, light troops. Il est dans la cavalerie … is in the light cavalry. Ce cheval est léger à … that horse is light in hand. J'y suis allé de …léger, I went there on foot. Il marche d'un …r, he walks with a light foot—lightly. Il est …course, he runs swiftly. Je me sens si léger …ui, I feel so nimble—so light—so active to-day.
…t avoir la main légère, you must have a light
…Vous avez la main légère, you are too quick …hand. Ces fripons-là ont la main bien légère, …ses are very quick fingered. Il faut avoir la …re, you must act nimbly.
…léger d'argent, he has a light purse. J'ai le …léger, I sleep lightly. Ces viandes sont légères …ac, these things are light on the stomach. Ce …ger, this wine is light. J'ai fait un repas léger, …light meal. Comme tout cela est léger, how …that is. Une vapeur légère s'élevait dans la … light vapour rose in the plain.
…moral et figuré.) *On l'a puni pour une faute …*hey punished him for a light—slight—fault.
…si très séparés pour un sujet léger, you separated …—for a slight—insignificant cause. Il a une …tion de l'histoire, he has a slight notion of history.
…peuple léger, they are a fickle—volatile—nation.
…vous avez le cœur léger! how thoughtless you are … light-hearted man you are! C'est un homme … is an inconsiderate—frivolous man! Elle est …e dans sa conduite! how inconsiderate—thought- …prudent is her conduct! Il lui a tenu des propos … spoke triflingly to him.
…style léger, he has an easy—light—style. Il …ans la poésie légère, he succeeds in light poetry.
…légère (loc. adv.), slightly; lightly. Il est vêtu …re, he is lightly clothed. Vous agissez à la légère,

…you act very thoughtlessly—inconsiderately. Armé à la légère, lightly armed.
LÉGÈREMENT, adv. lightly; slightly; elegantly. (Sens moral), inconsiderately.
LÉGÈRETÉ, s. f. lightness; slightness; nimbleness. Il a une grande légèreté de main, his hand is very light. Il court avec légèreté, he runs nimbly—swiftly.
(Sens moral), inconsiderateness; thoughtlessness; fickleness.
s. f. Ce sont des légèretés qui tiennent à son âge, these slight—inconsiderate—actions belong to his age.
LÉGION, s. f. legion. L'ordre de la Légion d'honneur fut fondé par Bonaparte en 1802, the order of the Legion of Honour was founded by Bonaparte in 1802.
LÉGIONNAIRE, s. m. f. adj. legionary. (Sens moderne), a member of the Legion of Honour.
LÉGISLATEUR, s. m. } lawgiver.
LÉGISLATRICE, s. f. }
LÉGISLATIF, IVE, adj. legislative.
LÉGISLATION, s. f. legislation.
LÉGISLATURE, s. f. legislature.
LÉGISTE, s. m. legist.
LÉGITIMAIRE, adj. legitimate.
LÉGITIMATION, s. f. legitimation; legalising.
LÉGITIME, adj. legitimate; lawful.
LÉGITIME, s. f. legitimate, lawful portion of a son or daughter. Demander sa légitime, to claim one's portion, (as recognised by law).
LÉGITIMEMENT, adv. legitimately; lawfully; legally.
LÉGITIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to legitimate; to make legal; to legalize. (Acception commune), to justify. Rien ne légitime son ingratitude envers lui, nothing can authorise, justify his ingratitude towards him.
LÉGITIMISTE, s. m. f. adj. (t. de polit.), legitimist. (Since 1830, in France, and the accession of Queen Isabelle, in Spain, a partisan of Henri de Bourbon, Duc de Bordeaux, in France, and of the male branch, in Spain.)
LÉGITIMITÉ, s. f. legitimacy; genuineness. (T. politique), legitimity.
LÈGS, s. m. (pron. lé), legacy.
LÉGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bequeath; to leave.
LÉGUME, s. m. vegetables. Nous vivons de légumes, we live on vegetables. En hiver, on mange des légumes secs, in winter we eat dried pulse. Les légumes verts sont bons ici, green vegetables—greens—are excellent here. La carotte est un bon légume, carrot is a good vegetable.
LÉGUMINEUX, SE, adj. leguminous. s. m. vegetable; legumen.
LEMME, s. m. (t. de mathém.), lemma.
LÉMURES, s. f. lemures; hobgoblins. Voyez Larves.
LENDEMAIN, s. m. Ils arrivèrent le lendemain, they arrived the day after—the next day. La chose fut différée jusqu'au lendemain, the thing was put off until the next day. Personne n'est sûr du lendemain, no one is certain of to-morrow. Il ne pense pas au lendemain, he does not think of to-morrow. Je le vis le lendemain de son arrivée, I saw him the day after his arrival.
LÉNDORE, s. m. f. C'est un lendore, he is a sleepy fellow—a humdrum.
LÉNIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to lenify; to mitigate.
LÉNITIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), lenitive; palliative.
LENT, E, adj. slow. Que cet homme est lent, how slow that man is! Il est lent à parler, he is slow of speech—he speaks slowly. Il a l'esprit lent, his mind is slow—dull. Il est attaqué d'une fièvre lente, he is attacked by a slow fever. Il fait des progrès lents, his improvement is slow. Il est si lent dans tout, he is so slow in every thing. L'eau est fort lente, the stream is slow—sluggish.
LENTE, s. f. nit. Il a des lentes dans les cheveux, his hair is nitty.
LENTEMENT, adv. slowly.
LENTEUR, s. f. slowness; sluggishness. Ces len- teurs me fatiguent, these slow ways—that want of promptitude—these delays—fatigue me.

LENTICULAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat. et de médec.), lenticular.

LENTICULÉ, E, adj. lentiform.

LENTILLE, s. f. (t. de jardinage), lentil. On mange des lentilles en carême, people eat lentils in lent. Lentille de marais, duck's meat; lenticula palustris. (T. de physiol.). Il a le visage couvert de lentilles, his face is all over freckles. (T. de mécan.) Lire avec une lentille, to read with a lens—magnifying glass. Lentille de pendule, the weight of a pendulum.

LENTISQUE, s. m. mastic tree.

LÉONIN, E, adj. leonine; having the nature of the lion. (T. de poésie.) Des vers léonins, leonine verses.

LÉOPARD, s. m. leopard.

LÉPAS, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.; pron. le-pâce), lepas; (commerce), limpet.

LÉPIDOPTÈRE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), lepidopteron.

LÈPRE, s. m. leprosy. (Fig.), corruption.

LÉPREUX, s. m. adj. } leper; leprous.
LÉPREUSE, s. f. adj. }

LÉPROSERIE, s. f. a hospital for lepers.

LEQUEL, Laquelle, Lesquels, Lesquelles, pron. rel. distinctif. C'est un homme duquel je vous réponds, he is man for whom I can answer. Il a tenu des discours auxquels je n'ai rien compris, he made several speeches which I did not understand. C'est une condition sans laquelle je ne consentirai à rien, it is a condition without which I never will consent to anything. Il y a une petite édition de ce livre laquelle (qui) se vend à bon marché, there is a small edition of that book which is sold cheap. Lequel aimez-vous le mieux des deux, which do you like best of the two? Choisissez entre nous lequel (celui que) vous voulez pour compagnon, choose from among us which you will have for your companion. Avec cette assiduité, ce zèle avec lesquels il travaille, with that assiduity and zeal with which he works. C'est l'homme à la générosité duquel il doit tout, this is the man to whose generosity he owes everything he has.

Celui-là seul avait le droit de demander le triomphe sous les auspices duquel la guerre s'était faite, that man alone under whose auspices the war had taken place could claim the triumph.

LÉROT, s. m. the smaller dormouse.

LES, art. défini. Voyez Le.

LÉSE, (mot formé du Latin læsus). Il a commis un crime de lèse-majesté, he has committed an act of high treason against the king. C'est un crime de lèse-nation, it is high treason against the nation. Si vous ne prenez pas ce remède c'est un crime de lèse-faculté, if you do not take that remedy you commit an offence against physic.

LÉSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hurt; to do injury; to wound; to aggrieve. Je craindrais de vous léser, i should fear to hurt you—to do you injury. Le coup a lésé les parties nobles, the blow injured the vital parts. Il n'y a personne de lésé dans cette affaire, no one is injured in that affair.

LÉSINE, s. f. niggardliness; stinginess; meanness.

LÉSINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to act meanly—with niggardliness; to give grudgingly.

LÉSINERIE, s. f. mean act; niggardly conduct. Il a fait des lésineries, he acted meanly. Il est d'une lésinerie insoutenable, he is excessively mean.

LÉSION, s. f. injury; damage; (t. de chirurg.), injury; hurt.

LESSE, s. f. Voyez Laisse.

LESSIVE, s. f. wash. On fait la lessive deux fois par an chez nous, we have a general wash twice a year at home. Ce linge est blanc de lessive, this linen is clean from the wash. Avez-vous donné votre lessive à laver, have you sent your dirty linen to the wash? (Fig.) Il a fait une forte lessive, he has encountered a severe loss at play. (T. de chim.), ley, wash.

LESSIVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to wash in ley; to wash. Il a fallu lessiver deux fois ce linge, they were obliged to wash the linen twice. (T. de chimie), to wash.

LEST, s. m. (pron. lèse-te), ballast. Notre navire est sur son lest, our ship was in ballast.

LESTAGE, s. m. (pron. les-taje), lastage; [illegible] a ship with ballast.

LESTE, adj. nimble; active. Il est encore fort leste pour son âge, he is still very active—very nimble—for his age. Ce vêtement est fort leste, that costume is very [illegible]. Il a un équipage fort leste, he drives a light [illegible]. (Fig.) Il est fort leste en affaires, he is very quick in business. Ces propos sont fort lestes, these expressions are very free. Il fit une réponse fort leste, he replied in a very free way. Sa conduite n'était fort leste, his conduct was very thoughtless—inconsiderate.

LESTEMENT, adv. nimbly; quickly; [illegible] thoughtlessly.

LESTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ballast. Il a lesté l'estomac, he lay in a stock. Je me suis lesté avant de partir, I took in a good repast before [illegible]

LESTEUR, s. m. (t. de marine), [illegible] last lighter.

LÉTHARGIE, s. f. lethargy. Voilà quarante heures qu'il est en léthargie, he has been in a [illegible] in a trance—these forty-eight hours. (Fig.) [illegible] sorti de sa léthargie, he has at last thrown off his [illegible]

LÉTHARGIQUE, adj. lethargic; (fig., [illegible]

LÉTHIFÈRE, adj. lethiferous; deadly; [illegible]

LETTRE, s. f. (Caractère.) L'A est la première de l'alphabet, A is the first letter of the alphabet. Commencez par une lettre majuscule—use [illegible] with a capital letter. Lettre ronde, round hand. Lettre courante, running hand. Il imite la lettre [illegible] tates—his hand is like—[illegible]. Cet enfant ne sait pas encore ses lettres, that child knows [illegible] yet. Ecrivez votre nom en toutes lettres, write your name in full. (Fig.) Je lui ai dit la chose en toutes lettres, I told him the thing fully—[illegible] disguise. Son nom est écrit en lettres rouges au [illegible] his name is written down in red letters in my [illegible] I shall not forget the injury—the wrong—[illegible]

(T. d'imprimerie.) Ce passage doit être en lettres italiques, this passage should be in italics. Lever la lettre, to compose; to pick up the type. La lettre manque, il n'y a plus de lettre, there is no more type.

(T. de gramm.) Les lettres sont divisées [illegible] en consonnes, the letters are divided into vowels [illegible] voyelles. Il ne faut pas prononcer toutes les lettres, [illegible] every final letter is not to be sounded.

(Fig.) S'en tenir à la lettre, to abide by the [illegible] s'arrête trop à la lettre, he sticks too close to [illegible] Il ne faut pas prendre ce que je dis à la lettre, [illegible] not take what I say literally—to the letter. Il faut s'entendre à la lettre, that must be understood [illegible] Il traduit trop à la lettre, he translates too [illegible] too closely. Cela est écrit à la lettre, that is [illegible] Nous exécuterons vos ordres à la lettre, we will [illegible] your orders most punctually. Il faut aider à la lettre un peu, you must help a little—i. e., supply [illegible] wanting to be clear—to make a thing intelligible.

(T. de littérature.) Cultiver les lettres, to [illegible] ters—literature. Il aime les belles-lettres, he [illegible] literature. Les Saintes-Lettres, the Holy [illegible] Les gens de lettres, literary people. La lettre [illegible] teroul, he will ever be regretted by literary [illegible] body of men of letters. C'est un homme de lettres distingué, he is a literary man of great [illegible]

(Epître.) Nous n'avons pas reçu de lettres aujourd'hui, we have had no letters to-day. Je lui ai donné une lettre de recommandation, I gave him a letter of [illegible]

(T. de cour.) Lettre close, a king's letter [illegible] à person, bearing the royal sign manual, [illegible] the minister). Il a reçu une lettre close pour [illegible] Paris, he has received a royal letter [illegible] Paris. (Fig.) Ce sont lettres closes, that is [illegible] Lettres de cachet was an order of the king, [illegible] a letter, for the arrest of an individual, the [illegible] was to be filled in by the nobleman [illegible] hands it was entrusted; they were abolished by [illegible] Lettres royaux, letters patent. (T. de dipl., [illegible]

e, letter of credence—credentials. Lettre de ré-
, letter of recall—of congé. (T. de bureaucratie.) de passe, an order to pass from one regiment into —from one place into another. Lettre de service, o join (a regiment, a place, &c.). Le ministre a une lettre circulaire aux préfets, the minister sent his letter to the prefects. (T. de commerce.) Lettre ge, bill of exchange. Tirer une lettre de change, a bill of exchange. Tirer à lettre vue, to draw at Lettre de crédit—de créance, letter of credit.
circulaires, circular notes. Lettre de marque, marque. Lettre de voiture, invoice.
TRÉ, E, adj. C'est un homme lettré, he is a let-man—a learned man—a man of literature. Un non-lettré, an illiterate man. s. m. Les lettrés de e, the learned men in China.
TRINE, s. f. (t. d'imprimerie), small type used ing for references.
CORRHÉE, s. f. (t. de médec.), leucorrhea.
DÉ, s. m. (t. d'hist.), a noble vassal; a faithful

R, pron. pers. plur. de Lui, datif. Il ne leur re-
, he refuses them nothing. Je leur en ai parlé, I ed it to them. Vos fleurs ont besoin d'eau, donnez- your flowers want water, give them some. Ec- ez des nouvelles, send news to them.
R, pron. poss.; plur. leurs. Est-ce là leur maison, their house? Venez voir leurs chevaux, come and their horses. Les sages conservent leurs amis, les dent les leurs, the wise preserve their friends, fools
rs. Je m'intéresse à eux et aux leurs, I feel an in them and theirs. Qu'ils gardent ce qu'ils ont, ne rien du leur, let them keep what they have, I nothing of theirs.
RIÈRE, s. m. (t. de chasse), lure; decoy; (fig.), rap.
RRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chasse), to de-lure. (Fig.) On l'a leurré de cet espoir, they deceived—him with that hope. Il se leurre de e, he deceives himself with that hope. Il s'est rrer, he allowed himself to be deceived.
AIN, s. m. leaven; yeast. Ce levain est trop vieux,
t is too old. Du pain sans levain, unleavened (T. de médec.), flatulency. Ce mal-là ne se ra facilement, il en reste toujours quelque levain, one is not easily cured, there always remains some-
it. (Fig.), leaven; seeds. Il y a chez eux un e discorde, there is among them a leaven—seeds ord.
ANT, adj. m. rising. Adorer le soleil levant, to e rising sun. Le soleil levant regarde cette mai- house looks towards the morning sun.
ANT, s. m. (t. de géogr.), the East. Du levant ant, from east to west. La France a l'Allemagne
, France has Germany in the east.
e commerce.) Ce que nous appelons le Levant, ce Turquie, l'Asie mineure, la Syrie, la Perse, &c., French call the East—the Levant—are Turkey, or, Syria, Persia, &c. La mer du Levant, the ussan. Les échelles du Levant, the seaports in ant. Il est allé dans le Levant, he has gone to
—to the Levant. Le commerce du Levant ne va trade in the Levant is stagnant.
ANTIN, s. m. adj. a man, a woman, of the Le-ANTINE, s. f. adj.) vant. Le commerce levantin, nt—eastern—trade. Il ne connaît pas les usages
, he does not know the customs of the East—Le-

ANTINE, s. f. levantine, sort of silk cloth.
s. f. (t. de jeu de mail), a mallet; a bat.
s. f. La levée des grains lui appartient, the the crop of corn—belongs to him. Nous jouis- ardin, mais nous n'avons pas la levée des fruits, the enjoyment of the garden, but we have no right the fruit. La levée des taxes—des impôts— ecevoir au gouvernement, the levying—collecting the sitting. Il y avait deux témoins à la levée des scellés, there were two persons witnessing the removal—the breaking up—of the seals. Faire la levée d'un corps, to remove a corpse. Le clergé vient à la maison mortuaire faire la levée du corps, the clergy come to the house of the deceased to remove—take away—the body. La levée des lettres se fait deux fois par jour, the closing of the letter-box—the taking up of letters—takes place twice a day. (T. de chirurg.) La levée d'un appareil, the removal—taking up—of a dressing. (T. milit.) Levée de troupes, a levy—raising—of troops. On va faire une levée en masse, there is to be a levy en masse. La levée d'un siége, the raising of a siege. La levée de son camp nous étonna, the breaking up of his encampment astonished us. Il a obtenu la levée de ses arrêts, he obtained the removal of his arrest. Levée de boucliers, demonstration—show—of opposition. On fit une levée de boucliers bien imprudente, they made a very imprudent demonstration. (T. d'ingénieur.), causeway; embankment. Il entend bien la levée des plans, he understands drafting well. (T. de jeu de cartes), trick. (T. de tailleur, de couturière.) Faire la levée d'un habit, d'une chemise, to take up the necessary quantity of cloth, of linen, to make a coat, a shirt. (T. de mécanique), lift.

LEVER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Levez cela plus haut, raise that higher. Je ne puis lever les pieds, je suis si fatigué, I cannot lift up—raise—my feet, I am so tired. Je ne pourrais lever ce poids, I could not lift up that burden. L'ambre lève la paille, amber attracts—lifts up—a straw. Levez les glaces, il fait trop chaud dans la voiture, raise—draw up—the glass, it is so hot here inside. Elle levait les mains au ciel, she raised her hands to heaven. Levez la voix, raise your voice. (T. de jurisp.) Levez la main, hold up your hand. J'en lèverais la main, I would take my oath of it. Je l'ai vue au moment où elle levait son voile, I caught a glimpse of her as she was lifting up her veil. Nous arrivâmes comme on levait le rideau, we arrived as they were raising—drawing up—the curtain. Prenez garde, il lève l'oreille, take care, he is pricking up his ears, i. e., he is listening. Elle n'osait lever les yeux, she dared not raise her eyes—look up. Levez la tête, lift up your head—look up. Il lève la tête orgueilleusement, he carries his head very high. Il va partout tête levée, he carries a high head everywhere. Il osa lever la main sur son père, he dared to raise—to lift—his hand against his father. Il leva son sabre sur lui, he raised his sword against him. Il leva l'épaule d'un air de mépris, he raised his shoulders with an air of contempt. Levez donc ce pauvre enfant, do lift up that poor child—put him up on his feet. A quelle heure levez-vous les enfants, at what time do you dress the children in the morning? Ils ont levé l'étendard de la révolte, they have raised the standard of revolt. Il lui leva son masque, he lifted up her mask. (Fig.) Elle a entièrement levé le masque, she has entirely thrown off the mask—all disguise—all restraint.

Lever les impôts, to collect—gather—taxes. Lever les fruits d'un jardin, to gather the fruits of a garden. Lever les grains d'une terre, to get in the harvest—the crop—of an estate.

(T. milit.) Le pont-levis est levé, the drawbridge is up. On la lève à dix heures, it is drawn up at ten o'clock. On leva le siége, they raised the siege. Il leva son camp précipitamment, he broke up his camp in a hurry. Lever le pied, to decamp; to go away. Lever le piquet, to decamp. Lever la garde, to relieve guard. Lever une armée, to raise—to levy—an army. Lever des soldats, to raise—to recruit—soldiers.

(T. d'ingénieur.) Lever un plan, to draw a plan; to make a draft. Il leva le plan de la place, he drew a plan of the place. (T. de jurisp.) Lever les scellés, to remove—to break up—the seals.

(T. de chasse.) Faire lever le sanglier, to start the wild boar. Faire lever des perdrix, to spring birds. (Fig.) Qui est-ce qui lèvera le lièvre, who will start the subject first?

lift up the cover. Levez ces plats—ces assiettes, take up—remove—these dishes—these plates. (T. de jardinage.) Lever des plantes, to move—to take up—plants. (T. d'imprimerie.) Cet homme lève la lettre promptement, that man picks up the type, i. e., composes very quickly. (T. de jeu de cartes.) Levez les cartes, take up the cards—the trick. J'ai levé deux mains, I made—took up—two tricks.

Les prêtres sont venus lever le corps, the clergy came to take up the body.

La séance est levée, the sitting is over—is broken up. Le président leva la séance, the chairman broke up the meeting. Lever des difficultés, des doutes, to remove difficulties, doubts, &c. Lever une cuisse, une aile, to take up a leg, a wing. Lever une tache, to take out a spot. Lever un habit, une chemise, to cut off—to purchase—the necessary quantity of cloth, of linen, for a coat, a shirt, &c. (T. de marine.) Lever l'ancre, to weigh anchor.

La pâte ne se lève pas, the dough does not rise. Les plantes commencent à lever, the plants are beginning to come up—to shoot—to grow.

Se lever, to rise; to rise up; to stand up. Quand le maître passe tous les élèves se lèvent, when the master passes, all the boys stand up—get up. A quelle heure vous levez-vous, at what time do you get up—do you rise? Nous nous sommes levés fort tard aujourd'hui, we got up—we rose—late to-day. N'est-il pas encore levé, is he not up yet? Il faut se lever de bien matin pour l'attraper, you must be very cunning to catch him. Nous nous levions de table quand il arriva, we were rising from table when he arrived. Le jour se lève de bonne heure, it is daylight early. L'aurore se levait, the day was coming. Le vent se lève, the wind is rising.

Voter par assis et par levé, (voyez Voter). Prendre quelqu'un au pied levé, to catch one at the moment he is going—.—(fig.). to take him at his word.

LEVER, s. m. Le lever du soleil, the sunrise. Au lever de l'aurore, at the break of day. Nous arrivâmes au lever de la toile, we came in as they were drawing up—at the rising of—the curtain.

Je viendrai à l'heure de votre lever, I will come at the hour of your getting out of bed. (T. de cour.) Les rois avaient leurs grands et leurs petits levers, the kings had their public and private levees. Avez-vous été au lever de la reine, did you attend the queen's levee?

LEVER-DIEU, s. m. (t. de liturgie romaine), the elevation of the host.

LEVIER, s. m. (t. de mécan.), lever.

LEVIS, adj. Voyez Pont.

LÉVITE, s. m. Levite.

LÉVITE, s. f. sort of great coat.

LÉVITIQUE, s. m. Leviticus.

LEVRAUDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to harass; to dodge.

LEVRAUT, s. m. leveret.

LEVRE, s. f. lip. La lèvre supérieure, the upper lip. La lèvre inférieure, the nether—under—lip. Elle a les lèvres plates, she has thin lips. Elle avait les lèvres si fraîches, her lips were so fresh—so rosy.

Il ne le dit que du bout des lèvres, he speaks what he does not feel—think—,—he says it from his lips, not from the heart. Rire du bout des lèvres, not to laugh sincerely. Son rire ne passe pas ses lèvres, his laughter does not go beyond his lips. J'avais le mot sur le bord des lèvres, I had the word on the tip of my tongue. Cet homme a le cœur sur les lèvres, he is an open-hearted man. Ne pas desserrer les lèvres, not to open his lips—not to speak. Il s'en est mordu les lèvres plus d'une fois, he bit his lips—he repented it—more than once. (T. d'anat., de chirurg., de bot.), lip.

LEVRETTE, s. f. greyhound bitch.

LEVRETTÉ, E, adj like a greyhound.

LÉVRIER, s. m. greyhound. (Fig., fam.) La justice mit ses léviers après lui, the magistrates sent their beagles after him.

LEVRON, s. m. greyhound pup; young greyhound.

LEVURE, s. f. yeast.

LEXICOGRAPHE, s. m. lexicographer.

LEXICOGRAPHIE, s. f. lexicography.

LEXICOGRAPHIQUE, adj. lexicographical.

LEXIQUE, s. m. lexicon.

LEZ, adv. (vieux mot qui signifie auprès de), Plessis-lez-Tours, the Plessis near Tours.

LÉZARD, s. m. lizard.

LÉZARDE, s. f. Ce mur est plein de lézardes, the wall is cracked all over—is full of cracks.

LÉZARDÉ, E, adj. full of cracks; cracked.

LIAIS, s. m. sort of flag-stone; Portland stone, used by sculptors.

LIAISON, s. f. (T. de métier.) On a mis une liaison de ces planches, the joint of these boards is not well. La soudure est une espèce de liaison, solder is a sort of things together—as a sort of binding. (T. d'écr.) strokes; hair-strokes. (T. de musique), connecting (T. de cuisine), thickening. (T. de grammaire), (words together); conjunction.

(Fig.) Il n'y a pas de liaison dans ce qu'il dit, there is no connexion between the ideas. La liaison des idées est bien observée, the scenes are well linked together. Il y a liaison étroite entre eux, there is a close tie—a —between them. Il a fait de mauvaises liaisons, he formed bad connexions—acquaintances. Il y a une de parenté entre eux, they are connected by bonds of LIAISONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bind.

LIANE, s. f. (t. de bot.), bind-weed; bind-wood.

wild hog.

LIANT, E, adj. binding; supple; (fig.), affable.

LIANT, s. m. affability; conciliating way; suppleness.

LIARD, s. m. farthing. Il n'a pas un liard, he is not worth a farthing.

LIARDER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to economize; to sums.

LIASSE, s. f. Une liasse de papiers, a file of papers. Mettre des papiers en liasse, to file papers.

LIBAGE, s. m. (t. de maçon.), rough stones in the foundations of a building).

LIBATION, s. f. libation. (Fig.) Faire des libations, to drink hard.

LIBELLE, s. m. pamphlet; libel. C'est un libelle, he is a libel-writer.

LIBELLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. li-bé-lé), to draw; to libel; to word.

LIBELLISTE, s. m. libeller; pamphleteer.

LIBER, s. m. (pron. li-bèr), rind; inner bark upon which the ancients wrote.

LIBERA, s. m. (mot Latin, t. de l'église romaine). On a chanté un libéra pour le repos de son âme, they sung a psalm for the repose of his soul. (Fig.) Je crois que nous chanterons un libéra, we will rejoice when we are exempted.

LIBÉRABLE, adj. capable of being liberated; exempted.

LIBÉRAL, s. m. (t. polit.), liberal; one who is for the cause of reform.

LIBÉRAL, E, adj. liberal; generous. C'est un homme libéral, il vous soulagera, he is liberal—generous—he will relieve you. Il est libéral de louanges, he is very free of his praises. La nature a été libérale envers lui, nature was liberal to him. Il a reçu une éducation libérale, he received a liberal education.

(T. de polit.) Il a adopté les opinions libérales, he has adopted liberal opinions.

LIBÉRALEMENT, adv. liberally; generously.

LIBÉRALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to liberalize. Se libéraliser, to liberalize; to adopt liberal ideas; to get liberal.

LIBÉRALISME, s. m. (t. polit.), the doctrine of liberal ideas; liberalism.

LIBÉRALITÉ, s. f. liberality; generosity.

LIBÉRATEUR, s. m. adj (liberator; deliverer.

LIBÉRATRICE, s. f. adj. liberating.

LIBÉRATIF, IVE, adj. liberating.

LIBÉRÉ, E, adj. liberated. Forçat libéré, discharged convict.

LIBÉRER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to liberate; to free from. Je veux me libérer de cette dette, I will liberate myself—free myself—from that debt.

ravail, il s'est enfin libéré de ses dettes, by his labour t at last cleared—freed—himself from debt.
ERTÉ, s. f. liberty; freedom. Ces peuples jouis- sent d'une pleine liberté, these people enjoy full liberty—
m. La liberté naturelle a ses bornes, natural liberty limits. La liberté de la presse, the liberty—free-of the press. On a rendu la liberté aux prisonniers, ave the prisoners their liberty—their freedom. On d'une grande liberté dans cette maison, you enjoy reedom—you are perfectly free—in that house. Ma est mon seul bien, my freedom—liberty—is my ost. Cette femme lui a fait perdre sa liberté, he his freedom through that woman. Vous lui par- e trop de liberté, you speak to him too freely—with ch liberty. Je n'aime pas cette liberté, I do not at freedom—that liberty. Vous prenez des libertés, e liberties. J'ai pris la liberté de vous écrire, I e liberty to write to you. Je lui ai donné la liberté nner dans mon jardin, I gave him the liberty—mission—to walk in my garden.
it tout avec liberté et grâce, he does everything nd gracefully. Il y a une grande liberté de pin- au ce tableau, there is great ease—great freedom—t in this picture. Cette serrure ne joue pas avec e liberté, that key—that lock—does not act easily —enough.
ville a perdu toutes ses libertés, that town lost all rties—immunities. (T. de médec.) Liberté de openness of the bowels.
berté, loc. adv., at liberty; free; freely.
RTICIDE, s. m. f. adj. liberticide; one who destroys liberty, freedom.
RTIN, s. m. adj. } libertine; rake; dissolute; li-RTINE, s. f. adj. } centious; libertine; disor-(En parlant des enfants.) C'est un petit libera troublesome—good for nothing—little fellow.
RTINAGE, s. m. libertinage; dissoluteness;
sness.
RTINER, v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to live disordissolutely. Se libertiner, to become disorderly. ent des enfants.) Il ne fait que libertiner, he ing but play—idle—all day.
DINEUX, EUSE, adj. libidinous; lustful; las-

URET, s. m. an engine to catch mackerel with.
AIRE, s. m. bookseller. Imprimeur libraire,
d bookseller. Libraire-éditeur, publisher.
AIRIE, s. f. book-trade. Il tient une belle li- Londres, he has—keeps—a large bookseller's shop
n. (Vieux mot.) La librairie du roi, the king's
M. de Thou était maître de la librairie du roi, ou was the king's librarian.
ATION, s. f. (t. d'astron.), libration.
, adj. L'homme est né libre, man was born free.
mes sont libres, man is free to act as he pleases—s free. L'homme a son libre arbitre, man has free will. Vous n'êtes plus prisonnier; allez, libre, you are no longer a prisoner; you may e free. Elle est encore libre, she is still free—
d. La nation cessa d'être libre, the nation
e free. On est fort libre dans cette maison, ite free—one enjoys perfect freedom—ease—in
.
rs sont libres, the seas are free (from enemies,
Les chemins sont libres, vous pouvez partir, go, the roads are free (from obstruction). Lais- espace libre, leave me an open space. Cette lle libre, is this place free—unoccupied? J'ai e libres dans cette maison, I have free access in . Il a le cœur libre, his heart is free—is disenn'a pas l'esprit libre, his mind is preoccupied.
me est trop libre dans ses paroles, that man is his words—too loose. Il a des manières trop manners are too free—too bold. Ces vers sont these verses are very free—are obscene. Il en e traduction libre, he wrote a free translation of ole sur papier libre, write it upon plain paper.
et se rester d'être libre de soins et de soucis, who can say he is free from cares and uneasiness? N'êtes- vous pas libre de refuser ou d'accepter, are you not free—at liberty—to refuse or to accept? Libre à vous de par- tir, you are at liberty to go. Il ne lui est pas libre d'en décider, he is not at liberty to decide.
Il est libre dans sa taille, his figure is free—is easy.
Il a encore le corps libre, his body is still free and easy.
Cette machine n'est pas libre, that machinery does not act well—freely. Il a la voix libre, his voice is free—he speaks freely—easily. (T. de médec.) Il a le ventre libre, his stomach is loose.

LIBREMENT, adv. freely. J'en use librement avec vous, I act freely with you.

LICE, s. f. list. Entrer dans la lice, to enter the lists.
(Fig.) Je n'oserais entrer en lice avec vous, I would not dare to enter the lists with you.

LICE, s. f. bitch.

LICENCE, s. f. permission. (T. de commerce), permit.
(T. d'univers.) Il est sorti de licence, he has taken the degree of licentiate. Entrer en licence, to read—to study —for the degree of licentiate. (T. de poésie, d'art), licence; liberty. Licence poétique, poetical licence.
(Abus de la liberté, dérèglement.) Vous prenez trop de licences, you take too great liberties—you make too free.
La licence détruit la liberté, licentiousness destroys freedom.

LICENCIEMENT, s. m. dismissal; disbanding of troops.

LICENCIÉ, s. m. (t. d'université), licentiate. Licen- cié en droit, licentiate in law; (that degree is something between the master's degree and the doctorate. In France and in Spain it authorizes the person who holds it to practise in law or in physic.)

LICENCIER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dismiss; to disband. v. r. to take liberties; to forget one's duty.

LICENCIEUSEMENT, adv. licentiously.

LICENCIEUX, EUSE, adj. licentious; disorderly, loose.

LICET, s. m. (mot latin, pron. li-cète), permit.

LICHEN, s. m. (t. de bot., pron. li-kène), lichen.

LICITATION, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), auction.

LICITE, adj. licit; lawful.

LICITEMENT, adv. licitly; lawfully.

LICITER, v. a. v. n. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de ju- risp.), to sell by auction. Cette propriété se licitera quelque jour, that property will be sold by auction some day or other.

LICOL, Voyez Licou.

LICORNE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), unicorn. Licorne de mer, narwhal; unicorn fish.

LICOU, LICOL, s. m. halter.

LICTEUR, s. m. (t. d'hist. ancienne), lictor.

LIE, s. f. lees; dregs; grounds. Du vin sur la lie, wine upon its lees. Tirer du vin jusqu'à la lie, to draw wine to the lees—to the very dregs. Cette bière sera bonne jusqu'à la lie, that beer will remain good to the last drop.
(Fig.) Ne me parlez pas de ces gens, c'est la lie du genre humain, don't mention those people to me, they are the very dregs of the people. Il a bu le calice jusqu'à la lie, he drank the cup to the dregs.

LIE, adj. (vieux mot qui signifie joyeux, gai). Faire chère lie, to lead a merry life.

LIÉGE, s. m. cork-tree; cork.

LIEN, s. m. tie; band. Il faut retenir cela avec des liens, all that must be kept together with ties—with bands.
Défaites ce lien, untie this knot. Il a rompu ses liens, he broke his bonds—his chains—his ties. Il traîne son lien, he drags his chains.

(Fig.) Il trouve ses liens bien doux, he loves his chains —his captivity. Le lien du mariage est sacré, the tie of marriage is sacred. Des liens d'intérêt nous unissent, we are united by interest. Elle était le lien de la famille, she was the tie—the bond—of the family—.—she kept the family together.

LIENTERIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), lientery; a flux of the bowels.

LIENTÉRIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), lienteric.

LIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Liez cela avec un bout de corde, tie that—tie that up—with a bit of string. Liez le plus serré, tie it up tighter. Liez vos souliers, tie your shoes. Les voleurs l'avaient lié à un arbre, the robbers had tied him up—bound him—fastened him—to a tree. On lui lia les mains derrière le dos, they bound his hands behind his back. (Fig.) J'ai les mains liées, my hands are tied up—bound. La crainte de vous déplaire me lie la langue, the fear of offending you ties—binds—stops—my tongue.

(T. d'écriture.) Vous ne liez pas vos lettres, you do not link your letters together. (T. de musique.) Lier les notes, to slur notes together. (T. de maçon.), to bind together. (T. de cuisine.) Lier une sauce, to thicken a sauce. Cette sauce est mal liée, this sauce is too thin—it is not sufficiently thickened.

(Fig.) Nous liâmes conversation, we engaged in conversation. Lier amitié avec une personne, to join in friendship with a person. Nous sommes liés d'amitié, we are bound in—connected by—friendship—by ties of friendship. Nous ne sommes pas liés, we are not intimate. Il ne se lie pas facilement, he does not form an intimacy quickly. Ils se sont liés dès qu'ils se sont vus, they became intimate the first time they met. Nous avons lié une partie de plaisir, we formed—we planned—a party of pleasure.

Votre promesse vous lie, your promise binds you. Nous nous sommes liés par serment, we bound ourselves by an oath. Ma fortune est liée à la vôtre, my fate is bound—attached—to yours. Ses idées sont mal liées, his ideas are badly joined—connected. Tout cela est mal lié, all that is unconnected.

(T. de jeu.) Jouer en parties liées, to play a rubber.

LIERRE, s. m. ivy. Lierre terrestre, ground ivy.

LIERRÉ, E, adj. resembling ivy.

LIESSE, s. f. (vieux mot.), joy.

LIEU, s. m. place. Vous le trouverez en ce lieu, you will find him in this place. C'est son lieu natal, it is his native place. Il est en ces lieux, he is here in this place. Il change toujours de lieu, he is ever changing his place. Mettez chaque chose en son lieu, put everything in its proper place. Ceci n'est pas un lieu public, this is no public place. Aller sur les lieux, to go on the spot. Les magistrats se rendirent sur les lieux, the magistrates repaired to the spot. Le pauvre homme n'a ni feu ni lieu, the poor fellow has no home—no retreat of his own.

Lieu de plaisance, country seat—house. Lieu d'asile, an asylum. État des lieux, state of a house, of a farm. Il fréquente les mauvais lieux, he frequents bad houses. On l'a mis en lieu de sûreté, they put him in a place of safety.

Il s'est allié en bon lieu, he married into a good family—he connected himself well. J'ai entendu faire votre éloge en bon lieu, I heard your praises in good company—in a good house. Je tiens cette nouvelle de bon lieu, I have this news from a good source. C'est un homme de bas lieu, he is a low-born man—a man of low extraction. Il vient de bon lieu, he comes of a good family. Il sent le lieu où il a été, he has the manners—taste—habits—of his class.

Il tient le premier lieu dans la ville, he holds the first rank—place—in the city. Chacun viendra en son lieu, each will come in his place—turn.

En premier lieu, in the first place—firstly. En second lieu, in the second place—secondly, &c. Ce n'est pas ici le lieu de parler de cela, this is not the place for speaking of that. Nous en parlerons en temps et lieu, we shall talk of it in proper time and place. Je le ferai en son lieu, I shall do it in its proper place.

J'ai lieu de me plaindre, I have reason—motive—subject—to complain. Donnez-moi lieu de vous obliger, give me the opportunity to oblige you. Il n'y a pas lieu de craindre, there is no reason to fear. Je n'ai pas donné lieu à vos emportements, I gave no cause for your violence. Il n'y a pas lieu de—à—de délibérer, there is no occasion—room—for deliberating.

Avoir lieu, to take place. La cérémonie n'aura pas lieu, the ceremony will not take place.

Tenir lieu de, to be in the place of—to be as, &c. Il m'a tenu lieu de père, he was as a father to me. Mes meubles lui tiennent lieu de jeunesse, my chums are in place of youth. Votre amitié me tient lieu de tout, my friendship is everything to me.

Au lieu de (loc. prép.). Vous viendrez au lieu de votre frère, you will come instead of—in the room of—your brother. Il ne fait que courir au lieu de travailler, he does nothing but run about instead of working.

Il ne pense qu'à ses plaisirs au lieu qu'il devrait s'occuper de ses affaires, he thinks only of his pleasures whereas he ought to attend to his business.

Lieux communs, common-place things; topics.

Lieux, s. m. privy.

LIEUE, s. f. (mesure itinéraire), league (about three miles). Nous avions fait dix lieues à pied, we had walked ten leagues. La lieue de poste est plus courte, the posting league is shorter. Lieue marine, sea-league. Il y a une lieue de pays d'ici, from this place it is a good three leagues.

(Fig.) Vous en êtes à cent lieues, you are a hundred miles off from it. Il n'écoute pas, il est à cent lieues d'ici, he does not attend to what is said, he is elsewhere. J'étais sûr qu'il viendrait, je l'en savais à cent lieues, I was sure he would come, I felt he was miles off. Il sent son fripon d'une lieue, you may see he is a rogue miles off.

LIEUR, s. m. binder; the man who binds sheaves.

LIEUTENANCE, s. f. lieutenancy.

LIEUTENANT, s. m. lieutenant. Sous-lieutenant, ensign. Lieutenant de cuirassiers, lieutenant of cuirassiers. Lieutenant en pied, first lieutenant in a ship of war. Lieutenant-général, (général de division), lieutenant-general. (Autrefois.) Lieutenant du roi, an officer in command of a place, in the absence of the governor. Lieutenant général de police, now préfet de police, the chief of the police in Paris. (T. de jurisp.) Lieutenant civil, a civil magistrate. Lieutenant criminel, criminal judge or magistrate.

LIEUTENANTE, s. f. the lady of a lieutenant.

criminel, &c.

LIEVRE, s. m. hare. Il est peureux comme un lièvre, he is as timid as a hare. Gentilhomme à lièvre, a term of a gentleman who lived on the produce of his estate. Vouloir prendre des lièvres au son du tambour, to make too much noise about a thing which ought to be kept secret. Il ne faut pas courir deux lièvres à la fois, you must not run two hares (attempt two things) at once. C'est là que gît le lièvre, here lies the hare, here's the main point.

Avoir un bec de lièvre, to have a hare-lip.

LIGAMENT, s. m. (t. d'anat.), ligament.

LIGAMENTEUX, EUSE, adj. ligamentous (bot.), full of fibres; fibrous.

LIGATURE, s. f. (t. de chirurg.), ligature (musique), ligature.

LIGE, adj. (t. de féodalité), liege.

LIGNAGE, s. m. lineage; race.

LIGNAGER, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), a person of the same lineage—race. adj. Retrait lignager, a power to a relation to redeem a family estate sold to a stranger.

LIGNE, s. f. line. Une ligne droite, a straight line. Ces deux lignes se coupent, these two lines cross each other.

(T. de géog.) Ligne équinoxiale, the equinoctial line. La ligne méridienne, the meridian. Passer la ligne, to cross the line—the equator.

(T. d'ingénieur.) Bâtir un mur en ligne droite, to build a wall in a straight line. On a marqué la ligne, they have been marked with the line. Vous devriez les planter à la ligne, they ought to be planted with the line. Tracer une ligne droite, to trace a line of demarkation.

(T. milit.) Les troupes de ligne, the troops of the line. Nous avions dix régiments de ligne, we had ten regiments of the line. J'étais officier dans la ligne, I was an officer in the line. Se mettre en ligne, to form in line. Se mettre en ligne de bataille, to form a line of battle. L'armée marchait en ligne, the army marched in line.

re que les troupes entrûrent en ligne, as the troops en-the line of battle. Telle était notre ligne d'opéra- such was our line of operation. (T. de fortif.), line.
de marine.) Vaisseau de ligne, a ship of the line.
de marche, line of march. Ligne d'eau, water-Ligne de sonde, lead-line. Petite ligne de sonde, line. La ligne du plus près, the close hauled line.
d'écriture, d'imprimerie.) Vous ne faites pas vos droites, your lines are not straight. Il y a trente à chaque page, there are thirty lines in each page.
vous demande que deux ou trois lignes. I ask you te two or three lines only. Il faudrait mettre ce ge à la ligne, this passage ought to be a distinct pa-h—should begin the line. A la ligne, begin a pa-h—open a line.
de pêche.) Pêcher à la ligne, to fish with rod and Ligne dormante, lines; dead lines.
draies.) J'y vais en droite ligne, I am going there ht on—directly. Il a toujours marché sur la même he has ever followed the same line—he has never ed. Suivez la ligne de l'honneur, follow the line of
r. Marcher sur la même ligne, to follow—to tread the same line—.—To be equal in merit, in talent.
en première ligne, to be the first—to be in the first En première ligne, first. C'est un homme hors de he is a man out of the common—of a superior order.
spiéral), line.
GNETTE, s. f. small line; thread.
GNEUL, s. m. shoemaker's twine; thread.
GNEUX, EUSE, adj. ligneous; resembling wood.
GUE, s. f. league; an alliance; a confederacy. Les Grises, the confederacy of the Grisons.
GUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to league together;
into a league—a confederacy; to enter into a plot.
GUEUR, s. m. } leaguer. (T. d'hist. du temps de GUEUSE, s. f. } Henri III. et de Henri IV.)
LAS, s. m. lilac. adj. lilac colour.
LIACÉE, adj. (t. de bot.), liliaceous.
MAÇE, s. f. } slug.
MAS, s. m. }
MAÇON, s. m. snail. Limaçon de mer, periwinkle. mant.), cochlea. (T. d'archit.) Escalier en lima- ending staircase.
MAILLE, s. f. filings.
MANDE, s. f. (sorte de poisson plat), Dutch plaice.
MAS, s. m. Voyez Limace.
MBE, s. m. (t. de mathém. et d'astron.), limb; edge;
BES, s. m. limbo.
ME, s. f. file. Lime sourde, dead lime. (Fig.) Pas- lime sur un ouvrage, to file—to polish—a work. Y le dernier coup de lime, to give it the finishing—ing—stroke.
ME, s. f. lime; lemon.
MER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lime; (fig.), to polish;
ect; to improve.
MIER, s. m. (t. de chasse), hound; limmer. (Fig.) de police, police agent; bulldog.
MITATIF, IVE, adj. restrictive; confining; limihaving power to limitate.
MITATION, s. f. limitation; restriction.
MITE, s. f. limit; bound; boundary. La rivière limite à ma propriété, the river is the boundary of operty. Ils voulaient étendre les limites du pays, ished to extend—to carry farther—the limits of the
y. On fut obligé de mettre des limites à son pou- they were obliged to put bounds—limits—to his

MITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to limit; to set to.
MITROPHE, adj. bordering upon; contiguous to.
MON, s. m. lime; mud, soil, slime. (Fig.) Il
t pétri d'un autre limon, he thinks he is made of e stuff.
MON, s. m. shaft. Il a cassé les deux limons, he both shafts.
MON, s. m. lemon.
MONADE, s. f. lemonade.

LIMONADIER, s. m. } (voyez Cafetier), one who LIMONADIÈRE, s. f. } keeps a coffee-shop where you may have ices, lemonade, coffee, bottled beer, liqueurs, &c.
LIMONEUX, EUSE, adj. limous; slimy; muddy.
LIMONIER, s. m. shaft-horse. (T. de jardinage), lemon-tree.
LIMONIÈRE, s. f. shafts of a cart, carriage, &c. It is said of a four-wheeled vehicle having shafts instead of a pole.
LIMOSINAGE, } s. m. (t. de maçon.), name given to LIMOUSINAGE, } walls, &c. built with small stones and mortar.
LIMOUSINER, } v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de maçon.), to LIMOSINER, } build with small stones. (Fig.) Limousiner un article, to botch—to do roughly—an article. Il a limousiné cela, he botched that.
LIMPIDE, adj. limpid; clear; transparent.
LIMPIDITÉ, s. f. limpidness; clearness; transparence.
LIMURE, s. f. filing.
LIN, s. m. flax. Toile de lin, linen cloth. Graine de lin, linseed. Il portait une longue robe de lin, he wore a large flaxen—linen—gown. Elle portait une robe gris de lin, she wore a gridelin dress.
LINAIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), wild flax.
LINCEUL, s. m. shroud; winding-sheet.
LINÉAIRE, adj. lin ar; (t. de bot.), linear.
LINÉAL, E, adj. lineal.
LINEAMENT, s. m. lineament; feature.
LINGE, s. m. linen. Gros linge, coarse linen. Linge fin, fine linen. Linge plain, plain linen. Ouvrière en linge, sempstress. Blanchisseuse de linge, laundress, washerwoman. Linge de corps, body linen. Linge de table, table linen. On baigna la blessure avec des linges chauds, they fomented the wound with warm cloths. Linge à barbe, shaving cloth.
(Fig.) Cet homme n'a pas plus de force qu'un linge mouillé, that man has no more strength than a wet chicken.
LINGER, s. m. } one who keeps a linen shop—who sells LINGÈRE, s. f. } linen; a sempstress.
LINGERIE, s. f. linen press; linen room; linen trade; linen making.
LINGOT, s. m. ingot. Un lingot d'or, an ingot of gold.
(T. de chasse), slug.
LINGOTIÈRE, s. f. ingot mould.
LINGUAL, E, adj. lingual.
LINGUISTE, s. m. (prou. lin-gu-iste), linguist.
LINGUISTIQUE, adj. (prou. lin-gu-istic), linguistic LINIÈRE, s. f. flax ground.
LINIMENT, s. m. (t. de médec.), liniment.
LINON, s. m. lawn.
LINOT, s. m. linnet, cock linnet. } (Fam.) Avoir une
LINOTTE, s. f. hen linnet. } tête de linotte, to be giddy; to be harebrained. Siffler la linotte, to tipple; to drink much—.—to be caged.
LINTEAU, s. m. (t. d'archit.), lintel.
LION, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), lion. Le lion rugit, the lion roars.
LIONNE, s. f. lioness. La lionne défend ses petits avec rage, the lioness defends her young ones with rage. Il s'est défendu comme un lion, he defended himself like a lion. (Fig.) Il prend le partage du lion, he takes the lion's share. Il faut coudre la peau du renard à celle du lion, we must unite cunning to force. (T. nouveau.) C'était le lion du jour, he was the wonder of the day. C'est une lionne du premier ordre, she is a wonder of the first water. Amenez-nous votre lion, bring your wonder with you.
Lion marin, sea-lion. (T. d'ast.), Leo. (T. de bot.) Dent de lion, dandelion.
LIONCEAU, s. m. lion whelp.
LIPOGRAMMATIQUE. adj. lipogrammatic.
LIPOTHYMIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), lipothymy; privation of the senses, of all power.
LIPPE, s. f. blubber-lip. (Fig.) Faire une vilaine lippe—faire sa lippe, to pout; to make a mouth.
LIPPÉE, s. f. mouthful. Il a eu là une bonne lippée, he had a good meal. C'est un chercheur de fraiche lippée, he is a parasite—he tries to get a good bellyful for nothing.

LIPITUDE, s. f. (t. de médec.), lippitude; soreness of the eye.

LIPPU, E, adj. thick-lipped; blubber-lipped.

LIQUATION, s. f. (pron. li-couation), operation of melting metals.

LIQUEFACTION, s. f. (pron. li-ku-é-fac-tion), liquefaction.

LIQUÉFIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. li-ké-fié), to liquefy; to become liquefied.

LIQUEUR, s. f. L'eau est une liqueur, water is a liquid. Il en découle une liqueur gluante, a sticky liquid runs from it. La bière, le vin, l'eau de vie sont des liqueurs dangereuses, beer, wine, brandy are dangerous liquors. Les liqueurs des Iles sont bien bonnes, the West Indian liqueurs are excellent. Liqueurs fraiches, cool drinks. Ce vin a de la liqueur, that wine is too sweet.

LIQUIDATEUR, s. m. liquidator; one who settles, liquidates, &c.

LIQUIDATION, s. f. (pron. li-ki-dation), liquidation.

LIQUIDE, adj. liquid. Le liquide élément, water. Le liquide empire, la plaine liquide, the sea. (Fig.) Il a vingt mille francs d'argent clair et liquide, he has twenty thousand francs in money clear and free from debt.

LIQUIDE, s. m. drink. Il fournit des liquides à l'armée, he supplies the army with liquids. Il ne vit que de liquides, he lives on liquids.

LIQUIDER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to liquidate. Il a liquidé toutes ses dettes, he has liquidated—paid off—his debts. Je me suis liquidé envers lui, I have liquidated myself—I have cleared my obligations—towards him.

LIQUIDITÉ, s. f. liquidity.

LIQUOREUX, RUSE, adj. sweet; luscious. Ces vins sont trop liquoreux, these wines are too sweet—too luscious.

LIQUORISTE, s. m. liqueurs seller.

LIRE, v. a. rég. non classé. Lire, lisant, lu, e; je lis; je lisais; je lus; je lirai; je lirais; que je lise; que je lusse; lis, qu'il lise, lisons, lisez, qu'ils lisent; to read. Je n'ai pas encore lu sa lettre, I have not read his letter yet. Nous lisons l'histoire de France, we read the history of France. Le maître leur lit Horace, the master reads—explains—Horace to them. Je ne sais pas lire dans l'avenir, I cannot read the future.

LIRON. Voyez Lérot.

LIS, s. m. (pron. lice), lily. Nous avons de beaux lis dans notre jardin. we have beautiful lilies in our garden. Elle avait un teint de lis et de roses, her complexion was of lilies and roses. Elle était blanche comme un lis, she was as white—as fair—as a lily.

(T. de blason.) Fleur de lis (pron. li), flower-de-lis. Les rois de France portaient la fleur de lis dans leur écu, the French kings had the flower-de-lis in their shield.

Les lis (pron. lice) ne régnent plus en France, the lilies have ceased to reign over France.

Il avait la fleur de lis sur l'épaule, he was branded on the shoulder.

LISERÉ, s. m. narrow riband of gold, of silk, &c. Ce mouchoir a un liséré rose, this handkerchief has a pink border.

LISERON, } s. m. bindweed.
LISET, }

LISEUR, s. m. } reader.
LISEUSE, s. f. }

LISIBLE, adj. legible. (Que l'on peut lire), readable.

LISIBLEMENT, adv. legibly.

LISIÈRE, s. f. list. Mettre des lisières de drap à une porte, to list a door.

Mener un enfant à la lisière, to hold—guide—a child with a leading-string. (Fig.) Il sera toujours à la lisière, he will ever remain in leading-strings.

La lisière d'un bois, d'une forêt, the edge of a wood, of a forest.

LISSE, adj. smooth; sleek. Cela est lisse comme le verre, that is as smooth as glass.

LISSE, s. f. warp.

LISSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to smooth, to make smooth, sleek; to glaze.

LISSOIR, s. m. polisher; rubber.

LISTE, s. f. Voici la liste des officiers, here is a list of the officers. Je ne suis pas sur la liste, my name is not on that list. Voici la liste des promotions, here the list of the promotions.

La liste civile, the civil list.

LISTEL, s. m., plur. Listeaux (t. d'archit.), the reglet.

LISTON, s. m. (t. de blason), scroll; list.

LIT, s. m. bed. Bois de lit, bedstead. Lit à l'acajou, d'acajou, mahogany bedstead. Le fond d'un lit, the bottom—the lath—the sacking—of a bed. Lit de repos, a couch. Lit à quenouilles, à piliers, four-post bedstead. Lit de parade, state bed. Lit à la duchesse, a bed with the curtains hanging from the ceiling. Lit de sangle, a stretcher. Lit à tombeau, tent bedstead. Lit en forme d'armoire, à rideaux, stump bedstead. Lit en forme d'armoire, a box bedstead. Lit de veille, pallet. Lit de camp, camp bed. Lit de grandeur, full-sized bed. Lit de bibi (t. d'ec.), dining bed. Voyez Chevet. La ruelle du lit, see Ruelle. Lit de plumes, feather bed.

Il couche dans ce lit, he sleeps in this bed. Il l'a pris au sortir—au sant—du lit, I caught him as he was coming out—jumping out—of bed. Descendre de son lit, to come down from one's bed. Il était encore au lit, he was still a-bed. Comment, encore au lit! still in bed! Il garde le—il se tient au—lit, he keeps his bed. Il ne quitte pas le lit, he does not leave his bed. Vous n'avez pas fait mon lit, you have not made my bed. Bassinez mon lit, warm my bed. (Fig.) Comme on a fait son lit, on se couche. as one makes his bed, so must he lie.

Où voulez-vous que l'on monte ce lit? where is the bed to be put up? Ils ne font qu'un lit, they are married—they sleep in the same bed. Ils font lit à part, they have each a separate bed—they do not sleep together. Il couche sur la terre, c'est là son lit, he sleeps on the ground—that is his bed.

Il est mort dans son lit, he died in his bed—a natural death. Il est au lit de mort—sur son lit de mort, he is on his death-bed. Il l'a avoué à son lit de mort, he confessed it on his death-bed—at his death. Lit de misère, she is confined. J'ai passé douze nuits à le lit de douleur, I spent two months on the bed of suffering—of sickness. Être à plat de lit, to be very ill in bed. Il est mort au lit d'honneur, he died in action—on the bed of honour. Lit de justice, throne.

Il a eu quatre enfants du premier lit, et trois du second, he had four children by his first marriage and three by the second.

Le lit d'une rivière, the bed of a river. (T. de maçon.) Lit de briques, &c., a row, a layer, a bed of bricks, &c. (T. de géol.), stratum, layer. (En général), layer, row.

LITANIE, s. f. litany. (Fig. et fam.) Il nous fit une longue litanie de ses malheurs, he gave us a long list of his misfortunes.

LITEAU, s. m. (t. de chasse), the wolf's lair. (t. de lingerie.) Serviettes à liteaux, table napkins with red or red stripe or border.

LITÉE, s. f. (t. de chasse), reunion of wolves—of animals in the same haunt; lair.

LITHARGE, s. f. litharge.

LITHARGÉ, E, adj. adulterated; as wine that has been past.

LITHIASIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), formation of stone in the human body; disease of the eyelids.

LITHOCOLLE, s. f. (t. de jouaillier), cement of cement.

LITHOGRAPHE, s. m. lithographer.

LITHOGRAPHIE, s. f. lithography; the art of printing press.

LITHOGRAPHIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lithograph.

LITHOGRAPHIQUE, adj. lithographic.

LITHOLOGIE, s. f lithology; treatise on—history of stones.
LITHOLOGUE, s. m. lithologist; one learned in the knowledge of stones.
LITHONTRIPTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), lithontriptic; a remedy to dissolve the stone in the bladder.
LITHOPHAGE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), lithophage; stone eater.
LITHOPHYTE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), lithophyte; stone plant.
LITHOTOME, s. m. (t. de chirurg.), an instrument to cut the stone.
LITHOTOMIE, s. f. (t. de chirurgie), lithotomy; stone cutting.
LITHOTOMISTE, s. m. (t. de chirurg.), lithotomist; one who operates on the stone.
LITHOTRITOR, s. m. (t. de chirurg.), lithotritor; stone triturator.
LITHOTRITIE, s. f. (t. de chirurg., pron. li-tho-tri-lithotrity; the triturating of the stone.
LITIÈRE, s. f. litter; straw (used for beds for horses). Cheval est sur la litière, that horse is lying down—is ill. (Fig.) Tous ses gens sont sur la litière, all his people are ill—unwell. Faire litière d'une chose, to use anything profusely, as of no value.
LITIÈRE, s. f. litter. Dans l'Inde on voyage en litière, in India they use litters for travelling.
LITIGANT, E, adj. litigant.
LITIGE, s. m. litigation. Cette terre est en litige, that estate is litigated. Cela pourrait occasionner un litige, that might cause a litigation—a legal dispute.
LITIGIEUX, EUSE, adj. litigious; contentious.
LITISPENDANCE, s. f. while the litigation—law-suit is pending.
LITORNE, s. f. (espèce de grive), fieldfare.
LITRE, s. f. a black cloth hung in churches in sign of mourning, and on which armorial bearings used to be placed.
LITRE. s. m. new decimal measure of capacity, ten cubic décimètres cubic, a little more than a pint.
LITRON, s. m. (vieille mesure), a quart measure.
LITTÉRAIRE, adj. literary.
LITTÉRAIREMENT, adv. in a literary point of view; considered as a literary subject.
LITTÉRAL, E, adj. literal.
LITTÉRALEMENT, adv. literally.
LITTÉRALITÉ, s. f. literality.
LITTÉRATEUR, s. m. literary man.
LITTÉRATURE, s. f. literature.
LITTORAL, s. m. littoral; coast. adj. Oiseaux littoraux, birds which frequent the coasts—the sea-shore.
LITURGIE, s. f. liturgy.
LITURGISTE, s. m. a man learned in liturgical subjects.
LIURE, s. f. cord; rope. (T. de marine), seizings; lashings.
LIVIDE, adj. livid; discoloured.
LIVIDITÉ. s. f. lividity; lividness.
LIVRAISON, s. f. (t. de commerce), delivery. (T. de librairie.) Publier un ouvrage par livraisons, to publish in parts.
LIVRE, s. m. Un livre imprimé, a printed book. Un livre cousu, a book plainly sewn. Un livre cartonné (à la Bradel.), a book in boards. Un livre in octavo, an octavo book. Un livre in 12°, a duodecimo book. Un livre en feuilles, a book in sheets. Je n'ai que quelques livres pareilles, I have only a few odd volumes. Lisez-moi un bon livre, read it, it is a good book. Ce sont des livres élémentaires, they are elementary books. C'est un livre de bibliothèque, it is a good library book—a book of reference. Cet homme parle comme un livre, that man speaks like a book. C'est un dévoreur de livres, he is a very bookworm. Il n'a jamais mis le nez dans un livre, he never looked into a book. Je réussirai, ou je ferai mes livres, I shall succeed, or I will destroy my books. Son ouvrage se divise en douze livres, his work is divided into twelve books. Il lit la musique à livre ouvert, he reads music at sight.

(T. de commerce, d'affaires.) Livre de comptes, account book. Livre de caisse, cash book. Livre de magasin, account of stock. Livre d'acceptations, bill book. Tenir les livres, to keep accounts. Il entend bien la tenue des livres, he understands book-keeping. Livre journal, day-book. Le grand livre, the ledger.

Vous trouverez son nom sur le grand livre, you will find his name in the great book.

LIVRE, s. f. (mesure de poids), pound. La viande se vend à la livre, meat is sold by the pound. Donnez-moi une livre et demie de sucre, give me a pound and a half of sugar. Une demi livre, half a pound.

LIVRE, s. f. (t. de monnaie). La livre est de 20 sous, the French livre is worth 20 sous. Il a dix mille livres de rentes, he has ten thousand francs a year. Partager une somme au marc la livre, to divide a sum at so much per pound. (On dit Franc maintenant.)

LIVRÉE, s. f. livery. Ses domestiques portent une riche livrée, his servants wear a rich livery. Nous avons rencontré la livrée—les gens de livrée—du prince, we met the prince's household—servants.

(Fig.) Ils portaient la livrée de la misère, they wore the garb of misery—the appearance of poverty. Il portait la livrée de sa dame, he wore the colours of his lady.

LIVRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Livrer des marchandises, to deliver up goods. Je dois lui livrer l'ouvrage fini dans un mois, I am to deliver up the work complete to him in a month. Livrer un ouvrage à l'impression, to deliver up—to give a work—to the press. (Fig.) Tel vend qui ne livre pas, such promises who does not fulfil. La ville fut livrée au pillage, the town was abandoned to plunder.

Judas livra notre Seigneur aux Juifs, Judas delivered up—betrayed—our Lord to the Jews. Le traître délivra la ville à l'ennemi, the traitor delivered up the town to the enemy.

L'ennemi refusa de livrer bataille, the enemy refused to give battle.

(Fig.) Je vous le livre pieds et poings liés, I give him to you bound hand and foot, i. e., he will do anything you please to command.

Il se livre à ses passions, he abandons himself to his passions. Ne vous livrez pas à cet homme-là, do not trust—do not confide—in that man. C'est un homme qui ne se livre pas facilement, he does not open his mind very readily. Il craint de se livrer, he is afraid of exposing himself.

LIVRET, s. m. a little book (in which workmen keep an account of their various employments, signed by their masters).

LIXIVIATION, s. f. (chim.), lixiviation.
LIXIVIEL, LE, adj. (chim.), lixivial.
LLAMA. Voyez Lama.
LOBE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), lobe. (T. de bot.), lobe.
LOBÉ, E, adj. (t. de bot.), lobate, lobed.
LOBULE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), lobule.
LOCAL, E, adj. local.
LOCAL, s. m. locality.
LOCALITÉ, s. f. locality.
LOCATAIRE, s. m. f. tenant; lodger.
LOCATIF, VE, adj. of location.
LOCATION, s. f. location; hiring.
LOCATIS, s. m. (pron. lo-ca-tice), a hack; a hired horse.
LOCH, s. m. (pron. lok), log. Jeter le loch, to heave the log. Ligne de loch, log-line. Table de loch, log-book.
LOCHE, s. f. (sorte de poisson), loach.
LOCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to be loose. J'entends un fer qui loche, I hear one of his shoes clattering—rattling—being loose. (Fig.) Il a toujours quelque fer qui loche, there is always something wrong with him. Il y a quelque fer qui loche, there is a screw loose somewhere.
LOCHIES, s. f. (t. de médec.), lochia; evacuations.
LOCMAN. Voyez Lamaneur.
LOCOMOTEUR, TRICE, adj. locomotive.
LOCOMOTIF, TIVE, adj. locomotive.

LOCOMOTIVE, s. f. locomotive engine; machine; engine of a steam-carriage.
LOCOMOTION, s. f. locomotion.
LOCOMOTIVITÉ, s. f. locomotivity.
LOCULAIRE, adj. (t. de bot.), divided into cells; cellular.
LOCULEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de bot.), divided into cells.
LOCUSTE, s. f. (entom.), locust; grasshopper.
LOCUTION, s. f. phrase; mode of expression.
LODS, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), due.
LOF, s. m. (t. de marine), luff; weather side. Aller au lof, to go to windward. Lof un peu, luff a little. Virer lof pour lof, to veer the ship. Lof à la risée, luff while it blows.
LOFFER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to luff.
LOGARITHME, s. m. logarithm.
LOGARITHMIQUE, adj. logarithmic. s. f. logarithmic.
LOGE, s. f. Cet ermite s'est bâti une petite loge, the hermit built a small hut, cabin, for himself. Le portier n'était pas dans sa loge, the doorkeeper was not in his lodge. Les marchands occupent des loges à la foire, the merchants occupy booths at the fair. Elle entre sans crainte dans la loge du lion, she enters fearlessly the lion's lodge—cage. La loge d'un chien, the kennel of a dog. (T. de bot.), cell. La loge d'un fou, the cell of a madman. (T. de théâtre), box. J'ai une loge à l'opéra, I have a box at the opera. Elle m'a prêté sa loge, she lent me her box. J'étais aux premières loges, I was in the first row of boxes. Ce n'est pas mon jour de loge, to-day is not my day to use the box. La loge d'un acteur, the dressing-room of an actor.
Loge de francs-maçons, a freemasons' lodge. Ils tiennent loge ce soir, they hold a lodge to-night. Ils sont en loge, the lodge is now being held.
LOGEABLE, adj. lodgeable; inhabitable; fit to be inhabited.
LOGEMENT, s. m. lodging. Je ne sais où trouver un logement pour la nuit, I know not where to get lodging for the night. Voici mon logement, that is my abode—where I lodge. Mon logement est trop resserré, my abode is too confined. Où est le logement du jardinier? where does the gardener lodge? J'ai un logement garni, I occupy furnished rooms—a furnished apartment.
(T. milit.), quarter; quarters. Le logement des officiers est superbe, the officers' quarters are magnificent. C'est le maréchal des logis qui fait les logements des troupes en marche, the sergeant billets the troops who are on the march. Nous sommes sujets au logement des gens de guerre, we are liable to have soldiers billeted upon us. Billet de logement, billet.
LOGER, v. n. v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Où logez-vous? where do you lodge—live? Nous logeons ensemble, we abide—dwell—together. Loger à la belle étoile, to sleep in the open air. Je ne sais où je logerai tout mon monde, I know not where I shall find room for all my people. Il nous a fort mal logés, he accommodated us badly—he gave us bad lodgings. Je suis logé au cinquième, I am lodged on the fifth story. Je ne sais où me loger, ne pourriez-vous me donner un lit? I know not where to lodge—get lodgings—to get rooms for the night, for a few days, could you not give me a bed? Il s'est logé dans un hôtel, he has taken rooms—a lodging—in an hotel. Nous sommes logés à l'étroit, we are closely—narrowly—lodged. (T. de chirurg.) La balle s'est logée dans l'épaule, the bullet lodged itself in his shoulder. (Fig.) Nous en sommes logés-là, such is our situation. Il en est logé-là, he is reduced to that.
(T. milit.) En marche, on loge les soldats chez le particulier, when on their march, soldiers are billeted—quartered—on private persons. Se loger, to lodge; to take quarters.
LOGETTE, s. f. small lodge.
LOGEUR, s. m. } lodger.
LOGEUSE, s. f. }
LOGICIEN, s. m. } logician.
LOGICIENNE, s. f. }

LOGIQUE, s. f. logic; reasoning.
LOGIQUE, adj. logical.
LOGIQUEMENT, adv. logically.
LOGIS, s. m. La maîtresse du logis, the lodging-mistress—of the house. Nous avons un logis incommode, we are inconveniently lodged—. . . . abode—is inconvenient. Un corps de logis à louer, (if hired) is inconvenient. On m'attend au logis, I am expected at home.
(T. d'auberge.) Bon logis à pied et à cheval, accommodation for man and beast. Cette auberge a bon logis, you will find good accommodation . . . inn.
(T. milit.) Maréchal des logis, quartermaster . . . cavalry; sergeant of infantry. Marquer, tracer le logis, to mark out quarters.
LOGODIARRHÉE, s. f. flux of words.
LOGOGRAPHIE, s. f. logography; the art of writing very fast.
LOGOGRIPHE, s. m. logogriph; a riddle.
LOGOMACHIE, s. f. logomachy; dispute about words.
LOI, s. f. law. Porter, établir une loi, to enact a law. Homme de loi, a lawyer; magistrate; judge. L'usage fait loi, custom is law. Je ne fais pas mes lois, je les ai sorties tous les jours, I make it a law to go out every morning. Il n'a ni foi ni loi, he is a man without principles, without religion. Il veut imposer loi à tout, he will command—dictate—everywhere. Sujet est la loi de la maison, his word is law in the house. Nécessité n'a point de loi, necessity has no law. Tenir à la loi, to infringe—to break—the law. Venir à la loi, to have recourse to law. Vous êtes sous la loi d'une personne, you are under her laws—power. Subir, souffrir la loi d'une personne, to submit to the will—law—of another.
LOI, s. f. (t. de monnayage). Voyez Aloi.
LOIN, adv. far. Nous allons loin, we are going far. Y a-t-il loin d'ici à Londres? is it far from here to London? Ses branches s'étendent au loin, its branches extend afar off. (Fig.) Il a été très-loin dans les mathématiques, he went very far in the mathematics. Le jeune homme ira loin, that young man will go far. La question va plus loin qu'on ne pense, that question goes farther than you think. Il n'ira pas loin, he will not go far, i. e., he will soon die, or he will soon make a mistake in it. Il ne voit pas plus loin que son nez, he sees no farther than his nose—he has no foresight. Il n'ira pas loin, I shall soon be revenged.
(De loin.) Il vient de loin, he is coming from a long distance. Il parle de loin, I speak of things happened long ago. Il voit de loin, he sees things a way off—he foresees things long before they occur. Je vous vois venir de loin, I see what you are about—what are your intentions. Il est revenu de loin, he recovered from a severe malady. La jeunesse revient de loin, young people recover from the last gasp. Nous ne sommes pas parents, mais de loin, we are related, but distantly. Ne me parlez de loin, you speak to me of things long passed.
(De plus loin, d'aussi loin que.) De plus loin que je me visse, il accourut à ma rencontre, as soon as he saw me he came to meet me. De plus loin que je m'en souvienne, as far as I can remember. Ce que vous dites, je l'ai su de plus loin que je m'en souvienne, what you say I knew as far back as I can remember—happened long, long ago.
(Au loin), afar off. Il s'en est allé au loin, he went afar off. Au plus loin que ma vue puisse s'étendre, as far as my sight can reach.
(Loin en loin, loin à loin.) Plantez vos arbres loin en loin, these trees must be planted at distances. Je ne me voir de loin en loin, he comes to see me now and then—at times.
(Loin de, bien loin de.) Ils demeurent loin de la ville, they live far from the town. Cela est loin de ma pensée, that is far from my thought. Loin d'ici, . . . —far from here—wicked men. Nous sommes loin de compte, we are still far from being right. Je suis loin de le nier, from being straight. Je suis loin de le souhaiter, from wishing it. Il est bien loin de se repentir, very far from repenting.

LOINTAIN, E, adj. distant; remote.
LOINTAIN, s. m. distance. (T. de peinture.) Le ointain d'un tableau, the background of a picture.
LOIR, s. m. dormouse.
LOISIBLE, adj. permitted; right.
LOISIR, s. m. leisure. Je n'ai pas de loisir, I have leisure. Il emploie utilement ses heures de loisir, he employs usefully his leisure hours. Je le ferai à loisir—at my loisir, I shall do it at my leisure. Il s'en repentira à loisir, he will have time—leisure—to repent it. Je n'ai pas eu le loisir d'y penser, I had no leisure—time—to think of it. Donnez-moi le loisir de le faire, give me time to do it.
LOK, s. m. Voyez Looch.
LOMBAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), lumbar; pertaining to loins.
LOMBARD, s. m. money-lender; pawnbroker. (The first established houses for money lending in Paris, came from Lombardy in 1400; hence the name.)
LOMBES, s. m. (t. d'anat.), loins.
LONDRIN, LONDONNIEN, NE, s. m. f. Londoner.
LONDRES, s. m. (t. de géogr.), London.
LONG, UE. adj. long. Donnez-moi une corde plus longue, give me a longer cord. Le chemin est long, the road is long. Mon jardin est long de 200 pas, my garden is two hundred yards long. Ces rideaux ont deux pas de long, these curtains are two yards long. Elle a la taille longue, she is long waisted. Il a les jambes longues, il vous rattrapera, he has long legs, he will overtake you. Il va faire un long voyage, he is about to make a long journey. Les jours sont longs maintenant, the days are long now. Nous avons un long bail, we have a long lease. Il fait un voyage de long cours, he is making a long sea voyage. Cet ouvrage est bien long, that work is long—is lengthy. Il nous a fait un discours bien long, he addressed us in a very long speech. Donnez-moi la longue vue, give me the telescope—the eyeglass. Il porte un habit long, he wears the cassock—the ecclesiastic dress. C'est un ouvrage de longue haleine, it is a long-winded work. Il ne la fera pas longue, he will not live long. Comme vous êtes long, how slow you are. Il est long à faire ce qu'il fait, he is long—slow—in everything he does. Ces arbres sont longs à pousser, these trees grow slowly—are slow in growing. (T. de grammaire.) Cette syllabe est longue, this syllable is long. (T. de métier.) Scie de long, long sawyer. Il a les dents bien longues, he is sharp set—he is very hungry. Il a les bras longs, he has long arms—he will reach you——he has extensive power. Le long (comme substantif). Vous avez pris le plus long, you have taken the longest way—(fig.), the longest means. Il observe les longues et les brèves, he observes the longs and shorts, i. e., he is very punctilious. Il en sait les longues et les brèves, he knows all the particulars of it. Il sait long, he knows what is what—he is a cunning one. Monsieur a dit long sur ce sujet, he told us many things on the subject. Il était étendu tout de son long, he was stretched at full length. (Loc. adverb.) Mettez-le de long, put it lengthwise—its long side. Tirer de long, to run away—to cut it. (Fig.) Il n'y va pas de bon cœur, il tire de long, he does not do the thing heartily, he procrastinates. Se promener au long et en large—de long en large, to walk to and fro. Au long, at length. Tout au long, at full length. Je connais de longue main, I have long known him. Il a tout le long du jardin, du bois, de la rivière, all along the garden, the wood, the river. Il en a eu tout le long de la vie, he has been ill used in every way—he has experienced all sorts of evil treatment. Tout le long du carême, during the whole Lent—all through Lent. Il faut s'user à la longue, everything wears out in time—by long run.
LONGANIMITÉ, s. f. longanimity; patience.
LONGE s. f. thong. Mener un cheval à la longe, to lead a horse with a string—a thong. (Fig.) Marcher sur sa longe, to be entangled in one's speeches—in one's measures.

(T. de cuisine.) Une longe de veau, a loin of veal.
LONGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. L'armée longeait la rivière, the army was marching by the side of the river. La bois longe la côte, the wood runs along the hill.
LONGÉVITÉ, s. f. longevity; great length of life.
LONGIMÉTRIE, s. f. longimetry; art of measuring distances.
LONGITUDE, s. f. (t. de géogr.), longitude.
LONGITUDINAL, adj. longitudinal.
LONGITUDINALEMENT, adv. longitudinally.
LONG-JOINTÉ, E, adj. long-jointed.
LONG-TEMPS, adv. long; long time; a long while ago. Cela dure long-temps, that lasts a long while. Il a négligé trop long-temps ses études, he has neglected his studies too long. Il ne saurait vivre long-temps, he cannot live long. Cela est arrivé il y a long-temps, that happened a long while ago.
LONGUEMENT, adv. lengthily.
LONGUET, TE, adj. longish; rather long.
LONGUEUR, s. f. length. Cette cour a 200 pas de longueur, this court is 200 yards in length—long. Combien cette épée a-t-elle de longueur, how long is this sword—what is the length of that sword? La longueur des jours et des nuits, the length of the days and nights. Il y a des longueurs dans cet ouvrage, there are lengthy—tedious—passages in that work. Je suis ennuyé de ses longueurs, I am tired of his delays—of his slowness. Traîner en longueur, to procrastinate—to defer—to be postponed, deferred. En longueur, lengthways.
LOOCH, s. m. (mot arabe, t. de médec.), loch.
LOPIN, s. m. bit. On lui en a donné un bon lopin, they gave him a good bit—lump—of it.
LOQUACE, adj. (pron. lo-cua-ce), loquacious; talkative.
LOQUACITÉ, s. f. (pron. lo-cua-cité), loquacity; talkativeness.
LOQUE, s. f. rag; tatter.
LOQUET, s. m. latch. La porte ferme au loquet, the door fastens with a latch.
LOQUETEAU, s. m. small latch.
LOQUETTE, s. f. small bit.
LORD, s. m. lord. (Titre anglais, donné aux ducs, marquis, comtes, vicomtes, et barons; aux fils des ducs et des marquis, et au fils aîné d'un comte.)
LORGNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to eye; to look at with a glass; (fig.), to ogle; to cast sheep's eyes upon a person, upon a thing. Il y a long temps qu'il lorgne cette place, he has long had an eye upon that situation.
LORGNERIE, s. f. ogling; eyeing; leering.
LORGNETTE, s. f. opera-glass.
LORGNEUR, s. m. an ogler; one who uses a glass to look at a person.
LORGNEUSE, s. f. ogler.
LORGNON, s. m. eyeglass.
LORIOT, s. m. (espèce d'oiseau), loriot; witwall.
LORS, adv. Pour lors, at that time; then. Dès-lors, from that time—that moment.
LORS DE, (loc. prépos.), at the time of.
LORSQUE, conj. when. Je le leur dirai lorsqu'ils viendront, I will tell it them when they come. Il était bien jeune lorsqu'il se maria, he was very young when—at the time when—he married. Lors même qu'il se trompe, even when he makes a mistake.
LOS, s. m. (vieux mot), praise; honour; (anc. jurisp.), will; consent; opinion.
LOSANGE, s. m. lozenge. Taillé en losange, cut in the shape of a lozenge. (T. de blason), s. f. lozenge.
LOT, s. m. lot. Le gros lot lui est échu, the biggest lot—the largest prize—fell to him. (Fig.) Mon lot est d'être toujours trompé dans mes espérances, my fate is always to be deceived in my expectations.
LOTERIE, s. f. (t. de jeu de hasard), lottery. Mettre à une loterie, to take a lottery ticket—to put in money at a lottery. Il va mettre sa maison en loterie, he is going to dispose of his house by means of a lottery. Il a gagné un terne à la loterie, he has got a terne, i. e., three numbers he played upon have come out. La loterie a été abolie en 1836, the lottery was abolished in 1836. (Fig.) Le mariage est une loterie, marriage is a lottery—a matter of chance. C'est une loterie, it is a chance.

LOTI, E, adj. Voyez Lotir.

LOTIER, s. m. (t. de bot.), sweet trefoil.

LOTION, s. f. (t. de médec. et de chimie), lotion.

LOTIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Voyez Punir. Lotir une succession, to divide an inheritance into lots. (Fam.) Elle a épousé un homme riche, elle est bien lotie, she has married a rich man, her lot is a good one. (Fam. ironiq.) Le voilà bien loti, what a happy lot—choice—his is.

LOTISSAGE, s. m. operation previous to assaying.

LOTISSEMENT, s. m. (t. de commerce), division of goods into lots.

LOTO, s. m. (sorte de jeu). Jouer au loto, to play at [loto.

LOTTE, s. f. (poisson de rivière), eelpout.

LOTUS, } s. m. (pron. lo-tice, lo-tûce), (t. de bot.), LOTOS, } nenuphar; water-lily. (Fig. prov.) Manger du lotus, to lose one's memory.

LOUABLE, adj. praiseworthy; commendable. Son action est louable, his action is praiseworthy. Louable is a title used in Switzerland in the sense of honourable. Les louables cantons de Zurich, de Berne, the honourable cantons of Zurich, Berne, &c.

(T. de médec.), laudable. Le sang est louable, his blood is good—laudable.

LOUABLEMENT, adv. laudably; in a praiseworthy manner.

LOUAGE, s. m. hire. Donner sa maison à louage, to hire a house—to let it on hire. Un cheval—un domestique de louage, a hired horse—a hired servant.

LOUANGE, s. f. praise; commendation. Cela est digne de louange, that is worthy of praise. Cela tourne à sa louange, that does him honour—deserves to be praised. Il est sobre de louanges, he is sparing of his praises. Il est sensible à la louange, he is fond of praise. On le combla de louanges, he was loaded with praises. Tout le monde chante ses louanges, every one sings his praise—praises him. Cela est au-dessus de toutes louanges, that is above all praise.

LOUANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to praise; to cry up.

LOUANGEUR, s. m. } praiser; (en mauvaise part), flat-

LOUANGEUSE, s. f. } terer; sycophant. adj. praising; flattering.

LOUCHE, adj. squint-eyed. Il est louche, he squints—he is squint-eyed. Il a les yeux louches—le regard louche, he squints.

(Fig.) Ce vin est louche, that wine is not clear—is muddy. Cette phrase est louche, this phrase is ambiguous—is not clear.

(s. m.) Il y a du louche dans cette affaire, there is something equivocal—not straightforward—in that affair. Il y du louche dans sa conduite, there is something not straightforward in his conduct.

LOUCHEMENT, s. m. squinting; strabismus.

LOUCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to squint.

LOUCHERIE, s. f. squinting; strabismus.

LOUCHET, s. m. (t. de jardinage), spade.

LOUCHEUR, s. m. }

LOUCHEUSE, s. f. } one who squints.

LOUDUNOIS, s. m. }

LOUDUNOISE, s. f. } inhabitant of Loudun.

LOUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to hire; to let, to hire out. Nous avons loué une maison de campagne, we have hired a country house. J'ai loué une voiture pour la journée, I hired a carriage for the day.

(Donner à louage.) Il vient de louer sa maison à une famille riche, he has just let—let out—his house to a rich family. Je connais un homme qui vous louera tout ce dont vous avez besoin, I know a man who will give you on hire everything you want. Les logements garnis se louent fort cher ici, furnished apartments let at a high price here. Cet homme se loue à la journée, that man hires himself by the day. Cette loge est louée, that box is hired.

LOUER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to praise; to commend. Tout le monde le loue de cette action, every one praises him for this action. On loue beaucoup sa conduite, they praise his conduct much—his conduct is much praised. Vous en serez loué de tous les gens de bien, you will be praised for it by all honest people. Vous ne m'entendez pas à louer les autres, you do not understand praising—flattering—others. Il se loue assez praises himself without shame.

Se louer de quelque chose, to be pleased—to be satisfied—with something. Je n'ai pas à me louer de ce marché, I have no reason to be pleased—satisfied—with my bargain. J'ai à me louer d'y avoir pensé, I have reason to be satisfied to have thought of it.

Dieu soit loué, mon ouvrage est fini, God be praised, my work is done.

LOUEUR, s. m. } one who lends on hire; one who let LOUEUSE, s. f. } out.

LOUEUR, s. m. }

LOUEUSE, s. f. } praiser; flatterer.

LOUGRE, s. m. (vaisseau marchand), lugger.

LOUIS, s. m. (monnaie d'or). En 1716 le Louis valait dix francs, in 1716 the Louis was worth ten francs. Le Louis ordinaire vaut vingt-quatre francs, the common Louis is worth twenty-four francs.

LOUP, s. m. wolf.

(Phrases.) Il fait un froid de loup, it is cold enough to bring the wolves out. Etre enrhumé comme un loup, to have a dreadful cold. Il mange comme un loup, he has the voracity of a wolf. Marcher à pas de loup, to walk stealthily. Il est connu comme le loup blanc, he is generally known. Quand on parle du loup on en voit la queue, if you speak of the wolf you see his tail—you see him if you speak of a person, he comes. Il a vu le loup, he knows the world and its difficulties. Il faut hurler avec les loups, you must do at Rome as the Romans do. Les loups ne se mangent pas, the wicked spare one another. Entre chien et loup, in the dusk of the evening. Tirer le loup par les oreilles, to be in a dilemma—in a critical situation. Saut de loup, a ha! ha! a large and deep ditch. (T. de chirurg.), an ulcer. (T. d'astron.), the star Antarès. (Espèce de masque de velours), mask. (T. de commerce), stock-jobber.

LOUP-MARIN, s. m. sea-wolf.

LOUP-CERVIER, s. m. sort of lynx.

LOUP-GAROU, s. m. a bobgoblin; (fig.), an ill-natured person. adj. wild; repulsive.

LOUPE, s. f. (t. de médec.), a wen; a mumor. (T. de bot.), an excrescence; a knob. (T. d'optique), a magnifying glass.

LOURD, E, adj. heavy. Il portait un lourd fardeau, he carried a heavy load. Cela est trop lourd pour moi, that is too heavy—too weighty—to carry. Une lourde nombreuse est une charge bien lourde, a numerous family is a heavy burden. Cet homme est devenu lourd de l'âge, that man has become heavy—unwieldy—with age. Il fit une lourde chute, he had a heavy fall. Il est lourd, he has a heavy—a dull—mind. Tout ce qu'il dit ou écrit est lourd, all he says or writes is dull—heavy.

LOURDAUD, E, adj. heavy fellow; dull person; awkward person. Un lourdaud de village, a village clown.

LOURDEMENT, adv. heavily; clumsily. (Fam. comp.) Vous vous trompez lourdement si vous croyez, you are much—grossly—mistaken if you believe so.

LOURDERIE, s. f. heavy—gross—mistake; blunder.

LOURDEUR, s. f. heaviness; clumsiness.

LOURDISE, s. f. heavy—gross—mistake; blunder.

LOURE, s. f. (sorte de danse à deux temps), a kind of dance.

LOURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to coil.

LOUTRE, s. m. (animal amphibie), otter.

LOUVE, s. f. she-wolf. (Fig.) C'est une louve, she is an abandoned—a debauched—woman. (T. de chirurgique), iron pincers.

LOUVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de maçon), to make a hole in a stone, to introduce the pincers in it.

LOUVET, TE, adj. (t. de manège). Cheval louvet, deep yellow dun horse.

LOUVETEAU, s. m. wolf-cub; a young wolf.

LOUVETER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to whelp.

LOUVETERIE, s. f. (équipage de chasse pour la destruction des loups), the wolf hunt.

LOUVETIER, s. m. wolf hunter. [In France, one

...mou, called "Capitaines de Louveterie," engage to ...p an establishment for the hunting of the wolf.)
...UVIERS, s. m. (name of the cloth fabricated at ...ers).
...UVOYER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de marine), to ...to beat; to ply to windward. (Fig.), to go round ...; to manage.
...UVRE, s. m., un des palais de Paris, employé ...ent. Ce n'est pas là une maison, c'est un Louvre, ...no house, it is a palace.
...XODROMIE, s. f. (t. de marine), loxodromics, ...ne of a ship.
...XODROMIQUE, adj. (t. de marine), loxodromic.
...YAL, E, adj. loyal; faithful; honest.
...YALEMENT, adv. loyally; faithfully.
...YAUTÉ, s. f. loyalty; fidelity.
...YER, s. m. hire; rent. Prendre une maison à loyer, ...a house. Donner une maison à loyer, to let a ... Il ne faut pas retenir le loyer des domestiques, ...right to retain the hire—the wages—of servants.
...YER, s. m. (vieux mot.), praise; reward.
...YANGE, s. f. Voyez Louange.
...YE, s. f. whim; crotchet. Il lui prend souvent ...ies, he has whims, crotchets sometimes.
...LUBRICITÉ, s. f. lubricity.
...LUBRIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to lubricate.
...LUBRIQUE, adj. lubric; slippery; lascivious.
...LUBRIQUEMENT, adv. in a lascivious, lubric manner, lasciviously. [of a building.
...LUCARNE, s. f. attic window; a window in the roof
...LUCIDE, adj. lucid; clear; luminous.
...LUCIDITÉ, s. f. lucidity; clearness.
...LUCIFER, s. m. (t. d'astron.), Lucifer; Venus, even-... (T. Biblique.), Lucifer; Satan.
...LUCRATIF, IVE, adj. lucrative; profitable.
...LUCRE, s. m. lucre; gain; profit.
...LUCUBRATION, s. f. lucubration.
...LUETTE, s. f. uvula.
...LUGUBRE, s. f. glimmer; light. On commence à voir ...ble lueur du côté de l'orient, a slight glimmer is ...n in the east. Je lisais à la lueur du feu, I was ... by the light of the fire.
...) Nous avons quelque lueur d'espérance, we have ...limmer—gleam—of hope. Il a quelquefois des ...le raison, he has, at times, some glimmering—...of reason.
...LUGUBRE, adj. lugubrious; mournful. Cette cloche ...lugubre, this bell has a lugubrious—mournful— ... Chassez ces pensées lugubres, drive away these ...omy—lugubrious thoughts.
...LUGUBREMENT, adv. mournfully; sadly.
... pron. person. datif, to him, to her; plur. leur, ... masc. et fem. Je lui parlerai demain, I will ... him to-morrow. Elle me l'a demandé et je le ...voyé, she asked me for it, and I sent it to her. ...pense plus à lui, she thinks no longer of him. ...s'emploie pour nominatif. C'est lui qui l'a fait, ...who did it. Nous irons, mais il restera, lui, we ..., but he will remain. ...emploie aussi pour accusatif. Venez avec lui, ...th him. Cette lettre est pour lui, that letter is

...RE. v. n. rég. 6me conj., conjugué comme Conduire, ... le participe passé, qui fait "lui," to shine. Le ...lait pas, the sun does not shine. Dès que le ...rai, nous partirons, as soon as daylight shines, ...set off. Tout luit dans cette maison, every thing ...glitters in that house. On voyait luire les ... les sabres, swords and sabres were glittering all

... Voilà un rayon d'espoir qui nous luit, here is a ...pe shining upon us. Un nouveau jour nous luit, ...es are coming.
...LUISANT, E, adj. shining; bright.
...LUISANT, s. m. shining; glass. [stone).
...LUMACHELLE, s. f. lumachella, (sort of calcareous
...LUMBAGO, s. m. (t. de médec., prou. lom-ba-go), ...a rheumatic affection of the loins.

LUMIERE, s. f. light. Dieu dit, Que la lumière soit, et la lumière fut, God said, let there be light, and there was light. Une vive lumière nous éblouissait, a bright light dazzled us. La lumière du soleil, the light of the sun. La lune jette une douce lumière, the moon sheds a soft light. Il ne jouit plus de la lumière des cieux, he no longer enjoys the light of heaven—lives. Il a perdu la lumière, he is blind. Commencer à jouir de la lumière, to begin to live. Les fripons craignent la lumière, rogues fear daylight.

Ne lisez pas à la lumière du feu, vous vous ferez mal aux yeux, do not read by the light of the fire, you will hurt your eyes. La lumière de la chandelle n'est pas assez forte, the light of the candle is not strong enough. Apportez-nous de la lumière—des lumières, bring us lights. On nous laissa sans lumières, we were left without lights.

(Fig.) Mettre un ouvrage en lumières, to publish a work—to bring it to light. Son livre n'a pas encore vu la lumière, his work has not come to light yet—has not yet been published. Il a de grandes lumières en politique, he is well versed—has great knowledge—in politics. C'est un homme qui a de grandes lumières, he is a man of great learning. Permettez que je profite de vos lumières, allow me to benefit by your superior knowledge. C'est un homme sans lumières, he is without knowledge—without understanding. La connaissance de ce fait a jeté beaucoup de lumière sur l'affaire, the knowledge of that fact threw much light upon the whole affair. Il a porté la lumière dans les ténèbres du moyen âge, he carried light into the darkness of the middle age. Un trait de lumière, a sudden light. Newton fut la lumière de son siècle, Newton was the luminary of his age.

(T. de peinture), light; lights. (T. d'artillerie, &c.) La lumière d'un canon, d'un fusil, the touchhole of a cannon, of a gun. (T. de marine.) La lumière d'une pompe, the mouth of a pump.

LUMIGNON, s. m. wick; snuff.

LUMINAIRE, s. m. light; luminary. (T. d'église.) Le luminaire d'un enterrement, the lights at a funeral.

LUMINEUX, EUSE, adj. luminous.

LUNAIRE, adj. lunar.

LUNAIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), moonwort.

LUNAISON, s. f. Toute cette lunaison a été pluvieuse, this moon has been very rainy; lunation.

LUNATIQUE, adj. lunatic.

LUNATIQUE, s. m. lunatic.

LUNDI, s. m. Monday. Nous l'avons vu lundi dernier, we saw him on Monday last. Je vous le dirai lundi, I will tell you on Monday. Il vient tous les lundis, he comes on Mondays. (Fam.) Faire le lundi, to make a holyday of Monday.

LUNE, s. f. moon. Le décours de la lune, the decline of the moon. La lune est dans son plein, we have a full moon—the moon is at its full. Il fait clair de lune, there is moon-light. Je lirais au clair de lune, I could read by moon-light. Quel est l'âge—le quantième—de la lune? how old is the moon?

Aboyer à la lune, to bay the moon, i. e. to cry out against one you cannot hurt. Vouloir prendre la lune avec ses dents, to attempt to do what is impossible. Avoir des lunes, to be capricious, to have good and bad moments. Faire un trou dans la lune, to cut—to run away. La lune de miel, the honey-moon—the first month of marriage.

LUNETTE, s. f. eye-glass. Lunette d'approche, longue vue, telescope; glass. Lunette d'opéra, opera glass. Lunettes, glasses, spectacles. Mettez vos lunettes, put on your spectacles. Il porte des lunettes, he wears glasses. (Fig.) Chacun voit avec ses lunettes, every one sees with his own glasses—has his own manner of seeing things. (T. de manége.) On met des lunettes aux chevaux ombrageux, one puts blinds on shy horses. (T. d'archit.), loophole. (T. de table.) La lunette du poulet, the merrythought of a fowl. (En général), lunette.

LUNETIER, s. m. optician; spectacle-seller; maker.

LUNULE, s. f. (t. de géom.), crescent.

LUPERCALES, s.f. plur. (t. d'hist.), Lupercalia; Roman feast in honour of Pan.
LUPIN, s. m. (t. de bot.), lupin.
LURON, s. m. jolly fellow.
LURONNE, s.f. jolly wench.
LUSTRAL, E, adj. lustral,
LUSTRATION, s. f. lustration.
LUSTRE, s. m. (t. de métier). Le lustre d'une étoffe, the lustre—the gloss of a stuff. Le lustre de l'ébène d'une table d'acajou, the brightness, the polish—of ebony—of a mahogany table.
Elle parut au bal dans tout son lustre, she appeared at the ball in all her splendour, brightness. La vertu empruntе de la modestie son plus beau lustre, virtue borrows of modesty its greatest lustre. La laideur de cette femme sert de lustre à celles qui l'entourent, the ugliness of that woman acts as a foil to those who surround her.
(Lustre, espace de temps), lustre; five years. Elle était à peine dans son quatrième lustre, she had hardly got into her fourth lustre—she was hardly seventeen years old.
LUSTRE, s. m. (meuble), chandelier; lustre. Un lustre de cristal éclairait la salle, the room was lighted by a lustre—a chandelier of crystal. Chevalier du lustre, a knight of the lustre, (a nickname given, in mockery, to men hired to applaud and support a play, and whose place is under the chandelier in the pit).
LUSTRER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj., to give a lustre, a gloss to things, to make them bright by polishing, rubbing; to get bright, glossy, &c.
LUSTREUR, s. m. one who polishes, who gives a LUSTREUSE, s.f. gloss, &c.
LUSTRINE, s.f. lutestring, (sort of glossy silk stuff).
LUSTROIR, s. m. (t de métier), polisher.
LUSTRUEUX, EUSE, adj. lustrous; glossy; shining; bright.
LUSTUCRU, E, s. m. f. (expression burlesque; corruption de L'casse-tu cru), a poor silly person.
LUT, s. m. (t. de chim.), lute,
LUTÈCE, s.f. the old name of Paris.
LUTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chimie), to lute.
LUTH, s. m. lute. Jouer du luth, to play on the lute.
LUTHÉRANISME, s. m. Lutheranism.
LUTHÉRIEN, NE, adj. Lutheran.
LUTHIER, s. m. lute-maker; an instrument maker.
LUTIN, s. m adj. spirit; elf. (Fam.) Il ne dort pas plus qu'un lutin, he sleeps no more than an elf—he never sleeps. Cet enfant a un air lutin, that child looks roguish. Elle est d'une humeur lutine, she is of a waggish humour. Allons, allons, ne fais pas le lutin, come, come, do not be waughty—to not be a torment.

LUTINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to torment; to vex, to harass. Il n'a fait que lutiner toute la nuit, he has been making a great noise the whole night.
LUTRIN, s. m. singing desk. Chanter au lutrin, to sing at the desk. Il a une voix de lutrin, he has a voice fit for singing in church—he has a loud, powerful voice. Il dirige le lutrin, he directs the singing.
LUTTE, s. f. La lutte était un des exercices des anciens, wrestling was one of the exercises of the ancients. (Fig.) La lutte était trop forte, j'y succombai, the struggle was above my strength, I fell. Voilà vingt ans que cette lutte dure, that struggle—that contest—has lasted two years. Emporter quelque chose de lutte, to carry a thing by struggling. Faire quelque chose de bonne lutte, to contend for a thing fairly—by fair means.
LUTTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to wrestle; to struggle (fig.), to struggle with; to fight against; to contend with. Voilà vingt ans que je lutte contre la misère, I have been fighting against poverty these twenty years.
LUTTEUR, s. m. wrestler.
LUXATION, s.f. (t. de chirurg.), luxation.
LUXE, s. m. luxury; beauty; sumptuousness of play. Le luxe est le précurseur de la misère, luxury the forerunner of poverty. Il y a chez lui du luxe de linge de table et d'argenterie, there is in his house a great display of table linen and plate. Cet ouvrage est imprimé avec luxe, the book is handsomely—richly—printed.
LUXER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chirurg.), to luxate. (Communément), to put out of joint.
LUXURE, s.f. luxury; incontinence.
LUXURIEUSEMENT, adv. luxuriously.
LUXURIEUX, EUSE, adj. luxurious; wanton; lascivious.
LUZERNE, s.f. (t. de bot.), lucern.
LUZERNIÈRE, s.f. lucern field—ground
LYCANTHROPE, s. m. a man attacked by lycanthropy; a maniac who fancies he is transformed into a wolf.
LYCANTHROPIE, s.f. lycanthropy.
LYCÉE, s. m. lyceum; school; college.
LYCOPODE, s. m. (t. de bot.), club moss; lycopodium.
LYMPHATIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), lymphatic.
LYMPHE, s. m. (t. de médec.), lymph.
LYNX, s. m. lynx. (Fig.) Il a des yeux de lynx, he is lynx eyed—nothing escapes his eyes.
LYRE, s. f. lyre. Jouer de la lyre, to play on the lyre. Il a laissé reposer sa lyre, he does not write now. Les maîtres de la lyre, the great poets.
(T. d'astron.), Lyra.
LYRIQUE, adj. lyric.

MA, pron. poss. fem., my. Ma sœur, my sister. Quoique âme, épée, haleine, &c. soient du genre féminin, on dit mon âme, mon épée, mon haleine, to avoid the meeting of the voyelles ma âme, ma épée, ma haleine, &c. Voyez Mon.
MACABRE, DANSE, s. m. the dance of death.
MACADAMISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to make, keep up roads according to M'Adam's system.
MACAIRE, ROBERT, s. m. Nom propre qui est devenu synonyme d'escroc, et de fripounerie adroite. C'est un Robert Macaire, he is a downright swindler.
MACAIRISME, s. m. (formé du nom propre Macaire), swindling; taking in.
MACAQUE, s.f. (sorte de singe), macaco.

MACAREUX, s. m. (oiseau de mer), puffin.
MACARON, s. m. (t. de pâtisserie), macaroon.
MACARONÉE, s.f. sort of burlesque poem.
MACARONI, s. m. (pâte Italienne, particulière à la ville de Naples), macaroni.
MACARONIQUE, adj. burlesque; macaronic.
MACÉDOINE, s.f. (t. de cuisine), a dish composed of a mixture of various vegetables. (Fig.) Ce livre est une Macédoine, that book is a mixture of everything; a hodge-podge.
MACÉRATION, s.f. maceration.
MACÉRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to macerate; to macerate, to mortify.
MACHE, s. f. (t. de bot.), corn salad.

MACHECOULIS, } (t. de fortif.), mucicoulis.
MACHICOULIS, }
MACHEFER, s. m. the dross of iron; scoria of iron.
MACHELIERE, adj. Dent mâchelière, grinder; a ar tooth.
MACHER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to chew; to masticate. cher d'en haut, to eat without appetite. Mâcher à , to feed on false hope. (Fig.) Il faut tout lui er, you must do every thing for him. Je lui ai ıf sa besogne, I cut out—prepared—work for him. ne lui ai pas mâché la vérité, I did not mince the s to him—I told him the truth unsparingly. (T. de ge.) Ce cheval mâche son frein, that horse champs it. (Fig.) Je lui ai donné sa besogne toute mâchée, I gave his work all ready cut out. Ce sont morceaux tout ds, it is all prepared, all ready.
MACHEUR, s. m. } one who masticates—who eats—MACHEUSE, s. f. } much. Mâcheur de tabac, one chews tobacco.
MACHIAVÉLIQUE, adj. (pron. ma-kia-vé-lique), Machiavelian, crafty; cunning.
MACHIAVÉLISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (pron. ma-kia-vé-liser), to act craftily, cunningly; to act upon Machiavel's principles.
MACHIAVÉLISME, s. m. (pron. ma-kia-vé-lice-me), ning, bad faith, &c.
MACHIAVÉLISTE, s. m. (pron. ma-kia-vé-liste), who follows the cunning, deceitful arts of Machiavel.
MACHICATOIRE, s. m. masticatory.
MACHINAL, E, adj. mechanical.
MACHINALEMENT, adv. mechanically.
MACHINATEUR, s. m. machinator.
MACHINATION, s. f. machination; contrivance.
MACHINE, s. f. (t. de mécanique), machine; engine. machine est ingénieuse, mais elle est sujette à se ıer, this machine—this machinery is very ingenious, is liable to get out of order. La machine fonctionne the engine—machine—machinery—works well. Le est une machine simple, the lever is a simple ma- Machine électrique, electric machine. Machine ydraulique, hydraulic machine, &c. Machine à vapeur, steam-engine. Machine de 120 eur, a machine engine of 120 horse power. de marine.) Machine à mâter, an engine, a ma- for masting ships. Machine à curer, the mud ne. horloge est une belle machine, a clock is a beautiful ne—machinery—piece of mechanism. Cette roue ouer toute la machine, this wheel sets all the ma- going. omme est une curieuse machine, man is a curious ne—piece of work. (Poétiq.) La machine ronde, ch. Cet homme n'est qu'une machine, that man is machine. Quelles machines il a employées pour , what contrivances—means—he has set to work ceed. glise de St. Pierre de Rome est une étonnante er, the church of St. Peter of Rome is an astonish- ric—piece of work.
CHINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to machinate; to e, to plot.
CHINISTE, s. m. machinist.
CHOIRE, s. f. jaw. La mâchoire supérieure, the jaw. La mâchoire inférieure, the lower jaw. coup de poing, il lui démit la mâchoire, with one he dislocated his jaw. (Fig.) Il a la mâchoire , he speaks heavily—with difficulty. C'est une re, he is a stupid, heavy man.
CHONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., not to eat ; to masticate slowly; (fig.), to mumble one's CHONNEMENT, s. m. mumbling.
CHURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to daub; to blotch.
CIS, s. m. mace.
CLE, } s. f. water chestnut.
CRE, }

MAÇON, s. m. mason—bricklayer. Aide maçon, bricklayer's man. Ne lui donnez rien à faire, car c'est un vrai maçon, do not give him any thing to do, for he is a clumsy fellow—a downright bungler.
MAÇON, NE, (employé comme adjectif en parlant de certains insectes). L'abeille maçonne, the mason bee. La fourmi maçonne, the mason ant.
MAÇONNAGE, s. m. masonry; brickwork.
MAÇONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il y a beaucoup à maçonner dans cette maison, there is a great deal of brickwork to do in that house. Maçonner une porte, une fenêtre, to brick up a door, a window. (Fig.) Voyez donc comme il a maçonné cela, only see how he bungled that—how clumsily he has done that.
MAÇONNERIE, s. f. masonry; brickwork; bricklayer's work.
MAÇONNIQUE, adj. masonic; pertaining to free masonry.
MACOUBA, s. m. maccoubay, (sort of snuff from Martinique).
MACQUE, s. f. a tool to beat hemp; flax.
MACQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to break hemp; flax.
MACRE. Voyez Macle.
MACREUSE, s. f. (oiseau de mer), sea duck. (Fig.) Cet homme a du sang de macreuse, that man is cold blooded; nothing moves him.
MACULATURE, s. f. (t. d'imprim.), waste paper; imperfect sheet; blotted sheet. Maculature grise, brown paper, wrapper.
MACULE, s. f. spot. Sans macule, spotless; (t. d'astron.), macula.
MACULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'imprim.), to rub out; to smudge.
MADAME, s. f. (titre donné à une dame en lui parlant, et en parlant d'elle). Oui, madame, ils sont arrivés, yes, Madam or Ma'am, they have arrived. Ne croyez-vous pas, Madame, qu'il voudrait mieux attendre, do you not think, Madam, that it would be better to wait? Allons, mesdames, partons; mettons-nous en route, come, ladies, let us be off. Mesdames, n'en voulez-vous pas? Ladies, will you not have it? Je viens de rencontrer Madame L—, I have just met Mistress L—. J'ai vu Mesdames L et B ce matin, I met Mistress L and Mistress B this morning.
Madame se dit en parlant à ou d'une femme titrée. Oui, Madame—oui, Madame la Comtesse, yes, my lady. Vous ne voudriez pas, Madame—Madame la Duchesse—vous refuser à cette action de bienfaisance, your Grace would not refuse your co-operation in this benevolent action. Soyez tranquille, j'en écrirai à Madame la Marquise L et à Madame la Princesse D, do not be uneasy, I shall write about it to the Marchioness L and to the Princess D.
Madame s'emploie poliment ainsi qu'il suit. Comment se porte Madame votre mère? how is your mother? Mesdames vos tantes sont-elles absentes, are your aunts absent? Je n'ai pas encore vu Madame la Duchesse de —, I have not yet seen the duchess of—the duchess—her Grace the Duchess of —.
Madame est le titre de la femme du frère aîné du Roi de France, Madam. C'est aussi le titre des filles du Roi, mais il faut y ajouter le nom de baptême. Madame Adélaïde vient de mourir, Her Royal Highness the Princess Adelaide is recently dead. Mesdames de France, the daughters of the king—the royal princesses.
(Phrases.) Elle fait la madame, she gives herself airs—she affects to be the high lady. C'est une grosse madame, she is a rich lady—woman. Madame vaut bien monsieur, my lady is as good as my lord—the wife is as good as the husband. Les enfants aiment à jouer à la madame, children like to play at ladies.
MADÉFACTION, s. f. (t. de chim.), madefaction, making wet.
MADÉFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to madefy; to make wet.
MADELEINE, s. f. (t. de pâtisserie), sort of cake.
MADEMOISELLE, s. f. } (Titre en parlant à une MESDEMOISELLES, s. f. } demoiselle, ou à des demoiselles, et en parlant d'elle. Oui, mademoiselle, yes, Madam, or Miss (Louisa). Mesdemoiselles, voulez-vous faire un tour de promenade, young ladies, would you like to take a walk? Où est donc mademoiselle votre sœur, pray where is your sister?

"Mademoiselle" est le titre de la fille aînée du frère aîné du Roi de France, tant qu'elle n'est pas mariée.

Autrefois, on disait "Mademoiselle" à une femme mariée, qui n'était pas noble.

MADONE, s. f. Madonna; an image of the Virgin.

MADRAGUE, s. f. (t. de pêche), large net to catch tunny.

MADRAS, s. m. (commerce), stuff made of silk and cotton at Madras originally and imitated afterwards. Elle était coiffée d'un madras rouge, she wore a red Madras (handkerchief) on her head.

MADRÉ, E, adj. spotted; variegated; speckled. (Fig.) C'est un homme madré, he is a sharp—cunning—fellow—,—he knows many a trick. s. m. f. C'est un madré, he is a sharp fellow.

MADRÉPORE, s. m. (polypier), madrepore.

MADRIER, s. m. (t. de charpent.), thick board or plank.

MADRIGAL, s. m. (petite pièce de vers contenant une pensée fine, tendre et galante), a madrigal.

MAFFLÉ, E, adj. having a chubby face.

MAGASIN, s. m. Magasin de modes, milliner's shop. Il tient un magasin de draperie, he keeps a large draper's shop. Où est le garçon de magasin? where is the shopman—the shop-boy?

Marchand en magasin, a wholesale dealer. Vendre en magasin, to sell wholesale.

(T. militaire.) Magasin à poudre, powder magazine. Magasin d'armes, magazine of arms. Magasin de vivres, victualling stores. Garde magasin, storekeeper.

Elle a fait un magasin de fruits pour l'hiver, she has a good store—provision—of fruit for winter. Est-ce que vous voulez en faire un magasin, will you have a store—a provision of it?

(T. de littérature.) Le magasin historique, the historical magazine.

MAGASINAGE, s. m. (t. de commerce), warehousing.

MAGASINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Voyez Emmagasiner.

MAGASINIER, s. m. warehouse keeper.

MAGDALÉON, s. m. (t. de pharm.), a small roller of pill mixture, of plaster.

MAGE, s. m. (t. d'hist. anc.), a worshipper of fire. L'adoration des Mages, the adoration of the Magi.

MAGICIEN, s. m.
MAGICIENNE, s. f. } magician.

MAGIE, s. f. magic; sorcery. La magie noire, the black art. On l'accusait de magie, he was accused of sorcery. (Fig.) Ce n'est pas la magie noire, this requires no conjuring—no sorcery. Telle était la magie de l'espérance, such was the magical power of hope.

MAGIQUE, adj. magical, magic. C'est une illusion magique, it is magical illusion. Elle portait une baguette magique, she had a magic wand. Venez voir la lanterne magique, come and see the magic lantern.

MAGISTER, s. m. (pron. ma-jiss-tair), schoolmaster. C'est le magister du village, he is the village schoolmaster.

MAGISTÈRE, s. m. (t. d'hist. moderne), the great mastership of the knights of Malta. Cela arriva pendant son magistère, that happened during his mastership—while he was grand master.

MAGISTÈRE, s. m. (t. de chimie), magistral; a sovereign remedy.

MAGISTRAL, E, adj. magisterial.

MAGISTRALEMENT, adv. magisterially.

MAGISTRAT, s. m. magistrate. Magistrat de sûreté, justice of the peace.

MAGISTRATURE, s. f. magistracy. Parvenir à la magistrature, to become a magistrate, a judge. Entrer dans la magistrature, to enter the magistracy.

MAGNANIME, adj. magnanimous.

MAGNANIMEMENT, adv. magnanimously.

MAGNANIMITÉ, s. f. magnanimity.

MAGNAT, s. m. (pron. mag-na). Les magnats Hongrie, the Hungarian noblemen—great lords.

MAGNÉSIE, s. f. (t. de chimie, pron. ma-gnésie), magnesia.

MAGNÉTIQUE, adj. (pron. ma-gnétique), magnetical; magnetic.

MAGNÉTIQUEMENT, adv. magnetically.

MAGNÉTISANT, E, adj. magnetising; having the faculty to magnetise.

MAGNÉTISATION, s. f. magnetising.

MAGNÉTISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to magnetise, to make magnetised.

MAGNÉTISEUR, EUSE, adj. s. m. f. magnetiser; one who magnetises others.

MAGNÉTISME, s. m. magnetism.

MAGNIFICENCE, s. f. (pron. ma-gnifi-sance), magnificence. (Fam.) Il nous a montré sa magnificence, he showed us all his fine things. Il nous a fait de la magnificence, he treated us magnificently.

MAGNIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to magnify.

MAGNIFIQUE, adj. magnificent; superb; splendid; pompous.

MAGNIFIQUEMENT, adv. magnificently; splendidly.

MAGNOLE, s. f. magnolia; the flower of the magnolier.

MAGNOLIER, s. m. magnolia tree; the laurel-leaved tulip tree.

MAGOT, s. m. baboon; grotesque figure. Qui est ce vilain magot-là? who is that ugly man? C'est le vrai magot, he is as ugly as possible—he is a shocking fright.

(Amas d'argent.) On lui a pris son magot, he has had his little hoard from him. Elle se fait un magot, she is boarding up a little treasure.

MAHALER, s. m. Voyez Bois de Sainte Lucie.

MAHOMÉTAN, s. m. adj. } Mahometan or Mussulman.
MAHOMÉTANE, s. f. adj. } median man or woman.

La religion Mahométane, the Mahomedan religion.

MAHOMÉTISME, s. m. Mahomedanism.

MAI, s. m. Le mois de Mai, the month of May. Ils sont arrivés le quinze de Mai, they arrived on the fifteenth of May. C'est aujourd'hui le six Mai, to-day is the sixth of May. Le premier de Mai, May-day. Le champ de Mai, the field of May.

MAI, s. m. Les jeunes villageois plantent un Mai Mais à la porte de leur maîtresse, young villagers use the custom of planting May trees—or May pole at the door of their mistress.

MAIDAN, s. m. (mot oriental), market-place.

MAIEUR s. m. (vieux mot, répondant à celui de maire), mayor.

MAIGRE, adj. thin. Il est si maigre, he is so lean, so spare. Viande maigre, lean meat. Une femme bien maigre, a raw bones—a scraggy woman. On servit un poulet maigre et sec à dîner, they gave us a dinner chicken lean and dry. Je n'aime pas la soupe maigre, I do not like soup made without meat—meatless soup. C'est aujourd'hui jour maigre, to-day is a fasting day we eat no meat. Ces gens-là font maigre chère, these people keep a poor table—live poorly. On nous donna un maigre repas, he gave us a poor repast—a meagre dinner.

(Fig.) Vous traitez un maigre sujet, you treat a poor—a meagre subject. Son style est maigre, his style is poor—is meagre. Votre écriture est trop maigre, your hand-writing is too thin. Ici, le sol est maigre, here the soil is poor—meagre. Son crayon est maigre, his drawings are poor.

MAIGRE, s. m. J'aime mieux le gras que le maigre, I like the fat better than the lean. Donnez-moi du maigre, s'il vous plaît, give me of the lean if you please. Faire maigre échauffe, fasting—the abstinence from meat—heats you.

On fait maigre tout le carême, we fast—we abstain from meat—during the whole Lent. Nous faisons maigre aujourd'hui, we fast—we abstain from meat—to-day. On nous a traités en maigre, he gave us no meat.

AIGRE, a. m. sort of large fish.
AIGRELET, TE, adj. rather thin; lean.
AIGREMENT, adv. meagrely; poorly; thinly.
AIGRET, TE, adj. rather thin; lean.
AIGREUR, s. f. meagreness; leanness.
AIGRIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Comme elle maigrit, thin she grows—how she falls away. Je l'ai trouvé maigri, I found him very thin—having grown very —he has fallen away so much.
AIL, s. m. (t. de jeu), mall. Voulez-vous faire deux de mail, will you walk round the mall once or twice? ne joue plus au mail, the mall is no longer a game in Votre mail est trop pesant, your mall (bat) is eavy. Boîte de mail, ball.
AILLE, s. f. Il y a une maille de rompue à votre here is a stitch broken in your stocking. Les mailles filet sont trop grandes, the meshes of this net are too Une cotte de maille, a coat of mail. (Fig.) lle à maille se fait le haubergeon, by little and little ork is accomplished.
lui est venu une maille dans l'œil, he has a speck in e. Une maille (dans l'œil d'un animal), a haw. les d'une perdrix), speckles.
de monnaie.) La maille valait un demi-denier, elle de plus, the "maille" was worth half a denier; it square form; it exists no longer. Il n'a ni sou lle, he is not worth anything. (Fig.) Ils ont toujours à partir, they are always quarrelling about nothing.
AILLEAU, s. m. mallet.
AILLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Ces perdreaux com- à mailler—se mailler, these partridges are begin- grow speckled. Fer maillé, wire trellice.
AILLET, s. m. mallet.
AILLOCHE, s. f. large mallet.
AILLOT, s. m. swaddling band or clothes. On a fait abandonné l'usage du maillot en Angleterre, of swaddling clothes is entirely given up in Eng- On n'épargna même pas les enfants au maillot, n at the breast—infants—were not spared.
AIN, s. f. hand. La main droite, the right hand. main gauche, the left hand. Il écrit de la main he writes with the left hand. (Fig.) Tournez à droite, turn to the right. La maison est à main the house stands on the left-hand side. Il l'épousa, de la main gauche, they say he contracted a left- arriage with her. Céder la main à une personne, precedence to a person. Il a la main belle, his pretty—well-formed. Comme elle a la main how white her hand is. Comme vous avez les roides, how cold your hands are. J'avais les mains my hands were as cold as ice. (Fig.) Chaudes roides amours, warm hands cold heart. Froides chaudes amours, cold hands warm heart. Allez ver les mains, go and wash your hands. Il ne lave les mains, he did not wash his hands. Vous fait mal à la main, did you hurt your hand? la main à une dame, to hand a lady—to give your a lady. Elle ne voulut pas lui donner sa main, ld not consent to give him her hand—to marry Donnons-nous la main si nous voulons réussir, let each other a hand—let us understand each we will succeed. A présent c'est à vous à don- ain aux autres, it is for you now to help others. ulut pas de ce mariage, mais il a fini par y don- ains, he did not like that marriage at first, but he by yielding to it—consenting to it. Ouvrez la en your hand. Fermez la main, shut your hand. travail de ses mains, he lives by the work of his ds. Il ne fait œuvre de ses mains, he does no- his own hands. Il a levé la main sur son père, —raised—his hand against his father. Lever la de jurisp.), to lift up a hand—to swear. J'en la main, I would take my oath of it. Levez la up your hand—swear. Les Normands se tou- la main pour conclure un marché, the Normans to each other's hand to conclude a bargain. Se ans la main, to shake hands. Allons, touchez- la main, et ne parlez plus de cela, come, shake hands together, say no more about it. Changeons de main, let us change hands. Sa bourse changea de main, his purse passed into other hands. L'argent change souvent de main, money often changes masters. Sa chambre est grande comme la main, his room is about as big as my hand. Il était grand comme la main lorsque je le connus, he was quite a child when I became acquainted with him. Je m'en lave les mains, I wash my hands of it—I am quite indifferent to it. Faites main morte, let your hand go as if it were dead. Il n'y va pas de main morte, he does not do things with a slack hand. L'argent ne lui tient pas dans les mains, money does not hold—remain—in his hands. L'argent lui fond dans les mains, money melts away in his hands. Les mains lui démangent de le faire, his hands itch to do it.
Qu'avez-vous dans la main, what have you in your hand? Il avait un bouquet à la main, he held a nosegay in his hand. Il entra le chapeau à la main, he entered the room hat in hand. Ce travail est fait à la main, that work is done by the hand. Il faut toujours avoir l'argent à la main, you must always have money in hand. Le poisson se laissait prendre à la main, the fish allowed itself to be caught with the hand. Mettre l'épée à la main, to put sword in hand—to draw the sword. Je lui ai mis le fleuret à la main, I put the foil in his hand, i. e., I taught him fencing. Vous nous mettez toujours le marché à la main, you are always repeating to us that we may take it or leave it. Il a la parole à la main, he handles speech easily—he speaks fluently. Cette raquette est bien à la main, that battledoor is handy—fits well to the hand. Je lui ai mis le pain à la main, I gave him the means of procuring bread. Acheter de la viande à la main, to buy meat by guess—without weighing. Nous avons tout à la main, we have everything at hand. (T. de manége.) Comme ce cheval tire à la main, how hard that horse pulls—how hard-mouthed that horse is. Vous me liez les mains, je ne puis rien faire, you tie my hands, I can do nothing.
Il tenait son épée à deux mains, he held his sword with both hands. Mon cheval est à deux mains, my horse is good for the saddle and the harness. C'est un homme à toutes mains, he is fit for any kind of service. Nous avons pris une domestique à toutes mains, we have engaged a servant of all work. Il répandait l'argent à pleines mains, he distributed money with a free hand—largely. J'en ai pris à belles mains, I helped myself largely—as much as I pleased.
En être aux mains, to be engaged—to fight. Les deux armées en sont aux mains, the two armies are now fighting. Nous en vînmes aux mains, we came to blows. Je les ai mis aux mains sur cette question, I set them one against the other on that question. Je vous mettrai aux mains avec lui, I will set you against him.
Le fort fut emporté par un coup de main, the fortress was carried by a sudden attack. Ils ont voulu faire un coup de main qui n'a pas réussi, they wanted to make a sudden attack, but it has not succeeded. (Fam.) Dites-donc, camarade, voulez-vous nous donner un coup de main, I say, friend, would you lend us a hand—give us a little help?
C'est un homme de main, he is a stirring man—a man of execution. Il avait des gens de main avec lui, he had men of enterprise—men of action—with him. Jeu de main, jeu de vilain, rough play is bad play. Cheval de main, led-horse. Il le renversa d'un revers de main, with a back stroke of his hand he knocked him down. Cela se fit en un tour de main, it was done in a minute. De main de maître, with an experienced hand—with a masterly hand. Sa main est imprimée dans cet ouvrage, he has impressed that work with the mark of his own hand. De main d'homme, by human hand—art. De main en main, from hand to hand. De longue main, long ago. Acceptez cela de ma main, accept that from me. Je veux vous procurer une femme de ma main, I wish to procure you a wife of my own choosing. Gagner quelqu'un de la main, to be beforehand with a person.
Je lui ai écrit de ma main, I wrote to him with my own hand. J'ai reconnu votre main, I knew your handwriting. Cette main n'est pas lisible, this handwriting is not legible.

De la main à la main, from hand to hand—without formality. Faire crédit de la main à la bourse, to sell for ready money—not to give credit.

J'ai acheté ces meubles de première main, I bought this furniture first hand—new. Tout cela est de seconde main, all that is second-hand. Ces nouvelles sont de première main, all these news come from the original source. Je les tiens de bonne main, I have them from a good source.

Il prend de toutes mains, he accepts from all sides.

En main. Il allait bride en main, he held the bridle in his hand—he was going prudently. Nous avions alors un peu d'argent en main, we had then a little money in hand—at our disposal. J'en ai les preuves en main, I have the proofs in my own hands. Je lui ai remis la lettre en mains propres, I delivered the letter into his own hands. Vous êtes tombé en bonnes mains, you fell into good hands. Je suis en main pour le faire, I am rightly placed to do it. Soyez tranquille, si je prends vos intérêts en main tout ira bien, be easy, if I take your interests in hand all will be right. (T. de jeu de billard.) Je suis en main, I have my ball in hand.

Par les mains. Tous ces livres n'ont passé par les mains, every one of these books passed through my hands. Cet homme passera par mes mains, that man must pass through my hands.

Sous main ; sous la main. Ce livre me tomba sous la main, the book fell under my hands. J'ai cela sous la main, I have that under my hand—at hand. Faites-lui savoir cela sous main, inform him of that secretly—under hand. Je suis sous la main de la justice, I am in the power of the magistrates.

(T. de musique.) Elle a de la main, she has execution. Il compose bien, mais il n'a pas de main, he composes well, but he has no execution.

Se faire la main, to get one's hand in. Il a la main faite—rompue à l'écriture, he has a good hand in writing—he writes well. Je tirais pour me faire la main, I was practising firing to get my hand in. Faire sa main, to make illegal profits. Il a bien fait sa main dans cette affaire, he made great profit—he took care of himself—in that affair—,—he plundered. (T. de guerre.) On fit main basse sur les prisonniers, they laid their hands upon the prisoners—they put all the prisoners to the sword. Le soldat fit main basse sur tout, the soldiery laid their hands on everything—plundered everything. Les voleurs ont fait main basse sur tout ce qui était dans la maison, the robbers took away—seized upon—everything that was in the house.

Cet ouvrier a la main bonne, that mechanic has a good hand—works well. Ce chirurgien a la main légère, that surgeon has a light hand. Pour bien gouverner il faut avoir la main légère, to govern well you must have a light hand. Avoir la main chaude, to have a lucky hand. Jouer à la main chaude, to play at hot cockles. Il a la main crochue, his fingers have hooks—he always catches something. Que faites-vous là les mains dans vos poches, what are you doing there with your hands in your pockets? Il n'a pas toujours les mains dans ses poches, he is not always idle—he does not always stand with his hands in his pockets. Fiez-vous à lui, il a la main sûre, trust him, his hand is sure—safe. Il s'est retiré de sa place les mains nettes, he retired from his office with clean hands. Il a les mains nettes de ce vol, his hands are clean, i. e. he is innocent of that robbery.

(T. de jeu.) J'ai la main malheureuse, I am unlucky at play—,—I have an unlucky hand. Comme il a la main heureuse, how lucky he is at play! J'ai la main, I am in hand—I am to play first. C'est moi qui ai la main, I am to deal. Combien de mains avez-vous faites, how many tricks have you got? Levez cette main, take up that trick.

Il a le cœur sur la main, he has an open heart—he is an open-hearted as can be.

Adieu, mesdames, je vous baise les mains, farewell, ladies, I kiss your hands, i. e. I am your obedient servant. (En plaisantant.) Oh, pour cela, je vous baise les mains, as to that, I am your humble servant, i. e. I do not go with you—I will not do it.

Être haut la main, to be violent—to carry things with a high hand.

Il fait valoir sa terre par ses mains, he farms his own estate with his own hands.

Cet aveu lui fit tomber les armes des mains, the confession made him drop his arms.

Cet homme vous mangerait dans la main, he would come and eat off your hands—is extremely bold.

Mettre la main. Quoi, mettriez-vous la main sur votre frère, what! would you lay your hand—violent hands—your brother? Les gendarmes lui ont mis la main au collet, the policemen laid their hands upon—arrested him. Je le cherche en vain, je ne puis y mettre la main dessus, I have been looking in vain for it but could not been able to put my hand upon it. Ils ont mis la main sur tout, they laid hands on everything—they have taken everything. Cela n'ira pas bien, si vous n'y mettez pas la main, that affair will not succeed if you do not put your hand to it—if you do not do it yourself. Je mets la main à la plume, I take pen in hand—I write. Mettre la main à l'ouvrage, to set about it. Il met la dernière main à l'ouvrage, he is going to put a stroke to his work. Mettre la main à l'encensoir, to interfere with the censer—with matters of religion. Mettre la main à la pâte, to have a finger in the pie. Mettez la main sur votre conscience, et dites-moi ce que j'en dois croire, lay—put—your hand on your heart, and tell me how it is. Sans main mettre, without touching—without working.

Prêter la main. Voyez Donner la main.

S'arracher des mains. C'est un besoin dont il est que l'on s'arrache des mains, he is an invaluable man—every one will have. Tout le monde s'arrache cette marchandise des mains, they are all fighting for the article. Je ne pourrais m'arracher de ses mains, I could not get out of his hands—tear myself away from his hands.

Se présenter les mains vides, to come with empty hands.

Tendre la main, to beg ; to hold out one's hand. Dans mon malheur, c'est lui qui me tendit la main, in my misfortune, it was he who held out his hand to me.

Se tenir par la main, to understand one another—to go hand in hand.

Tenir la main à quelque chose, to see that a thing is done. Soyez tranquille, j'y tiendrai la main, be not uneasy, I will see to it. Tenez la main à ce qu'il ne se fasse, see that that be done.

Tenir la bride à un cheval, to hold a horse by the hand. Je lui tiendrai la main haute, I will keep my hand over him. Haut la main, with a high hand.

Avoir les mains longues, to have long arms—great power.

Prêter main forte, to lend assistance.

Lâcher la main, to let go one's authority—to relax. Lâcher la main à un cheval, to give a horse his head—to slacken the bridle.

De lui à moi il n'y a que la main, between him and me there is little difference—distance.

Comme il pèse à la main, how heavy he is—how he is.

Le malheureux a des mains de laine à ne rien faire, the wretch has inactive hands and devouring mouth—consumes much and does no work.

(T. de musique.) Elles ont fait un morceau à quatre mains, they have executed a piece of music for two.

Main de gloire (t. de temps supersti.), the right hand of a hanged man to which robbers, &c. attributed a supernatural power.

Main de justice (ou des tuniques rouges), the hand of justice.

La bonne main, the fee or present given to a servant.

Une main de papier, a quire of paper.

MAIN-D'ŒUVRE, s. f. workmanship ; manual labour.

MAIN-FORTE, s. f. assistance ; legal assistance.

MAIN-LEVÉE, s. f. (t. de jurisp.), replevy.

MAIN-MISE, s. f. seizure.

AINMORTABLE, adj. inalienable.
AINMORTE, s. f. mortmain.
AINT, E, adj. Maint homme, many a man. Elle manant en couvrir maints sillons, she saw a peasant ing many a furrow with it. Il était là maintes filles des, there was many a learned maiden there.
AINTENANCE, s. f. maintenance.
AINTENANT, adv. now; at present. Maintenant ous nommes seuls, now that we are alone.
AINTENIR, v. a. composé (voyez Tenir), to main-Il vous a donné cette place, il vous y maintiendra, he gave you that situation, he will maintain—keep—n it. Sachons maintenir l'ordre et la discipline, let ours to maintain order and discipline. Que Dieu maintienne dans ces bonnes dispositions, may God ain you—keep you—in this happy disposition. Tout se maintient bien, all that keeps in good state. Ce rnement ne se maintiendra pas long-temps, that go-ent will not stand long. Elle se maintient bien r son âge, she keeps well notwithstanding her age.
n ordre s'est toujours maintenu, good order was al-maintained.
AINTENUE, s. f. maintenance.
AINTIEN, s. m. preservation; keeping. *Les bonnes
s contribuent au maintien de l'ordre*, good morals duce to the preservation of good order.
veil à son maintien qu'elle a été bien élevée, you ee by her countenance—bearing—carriage—that she en well brought up. Elle conserva un maintien she kept up a dignified carriage. Il n'a point de ien, he does not know how to carry himself.
AIRE, s. m. mayor. Maire du palais (ancien titre), r of the palace.
AIS, conj. but. Il est riche, mais avare, he is rich, serly. Mais qui plus est, but what is more. Mais tout still—but moreover.
ela est arrivé, je n'en puis mais, if that happened I not help it. En puis-je mais, can I help it?
AIS, s. m. (pron. ma-ice), Turkish corn.
AISON, s. f. house. Maison de brique, a brick Une grande maison de pierre de taille, a large built of stone. Maison des champs, maison de cam-pagne, country house. Maison de plaisance, a country house. Maison de ville, a town house. Leur maison n'est pas belle, their house is not tenantable. C'est une maison à plusieurs étages, it is a house of several stories. Il habite le haut de la maison, he occupies the top part of the house. La maison est-elle à louer ou à vendre, is the house to let or to sell?—to be let or to be sold? Il est dans sa maison, he is ever changing his residence.
Windsor est une maison royale, Windsor is a royal residence—palace. Il tient une maison garnie, he keeps a furnished hotel. Loger en maison garnie, to live in a furnished house. Maison d'éducation, a school—an establishment for young people. Maison de santé, private asylum—private madhouse, where valetudinarians are received on paying for their board. Maison de jeu, gambling house. Maison de charité, a house for the poor, the indigent. La maison de Dieu, the house of God—the church.
C'est la maison de Dieu, ou n'y boit, ni on n'y mange. C'est la maison de Dieu, this is like the house of God, he gives nothing to eat nor to drink. Les petites maisons, madhouses—asylum.
Il est bon à mettre aux petites maisons, he is fit for an asylum—for a madhouse. Ce sont les petites maisons qui font cela, this is an act of madness—they must have let the madmen loose. Petite maison was formerly a place where persons of dissolute morals gave way to sensual pleasure.
Maison de ville, Maison Commune, guildhall—town house. Maison de force, de détention, a spunging house.
Maison de correction, a house of correction.
Maison de commerce.) Ils ont des maisons de commerce à Londres et à Paris, they have commercial houses in London and in Paris. Il a ouvert une maison de commission à Paris, he has opened a commission-house—concern—there. Maison de prêt, pawnbroker's shop.
Il y a un mois qu'il garde la maison, he has been keeping house—he has not been out of the house—for a Tenir maison, to keep house. Lever maison, to set up a house. Cet homme a une bonne maison—a un grand état de maison, that man sees much company. Faire les honneurs de la maison, to do the honours of one's house.

Faire sa maison, to set up—to establish—a house. Il fera une bonne maison, he will provide well for his family.
Faire maison nette, to dismiss all the servants—to clear the house. Faire maison neuve, to change one's servants, to take a new set. Il est aimé de toute la maison, he is liked by the whole family. Sa maison n'est pas consi-dérable, his household is not considerable. Les gens de la maison, the domestics—the servants.

La maison du roi, the king's household. La maison militaire du roi, the troops of the king's household. La maison royale, the royal family. Il est de maison sou-veraine, he is issued of a princely house.

Il est de bonne maison, he is of a good family. Il a épousé une fille de bonne maison, he married a young lady of good family. (Fig.) On l'a traité en fils de bonne maison, he was severely—properly—treated. Il veut re-lever sa maison, he wishes to restore his house—his family.

Il est fait comme un brûleur de maisons, he looks like a housebreaker. Charbonnier est maître dans sa maison, a man is a king in his own house. Il a fait des demandes par-dessus les maisons, he has made the most unreasonable requests.

MAISONNÉE, s. f housefol,
MAISONNETTE, s. f. small house; cottage.
MAÎTRE, s. m. master. Il a un bon maître, his master is kind. Le mauvais maître fait un mauvais domes-tique, a bad master makes a servant equally bad. On ne peut servir deux maîtres à la fois, one cannot serve two masters at once. Napoléon voulait être le maître de l'Europe, Napoleon wished to be the master of Europe. Qui est cet homme qui parle ainsi en maître, who is that man who speaks thus in the tone of a master?—in such an imperious way? (Fig.) Cet homme cherche maître, that young man knows not yet whose principles he shall adopt.
Où est le maître de la maison, where is the master of the house? Le maître du champ nous pria de nous retirer, the master—owner—of the field begged of us to withdraw.
L'ennemi s'est rendu maître de la place, the enemy made themselves masters of the place. Il se rendait maî-tre des esprits, he took possession of the minds. Nous nous rendîmes maîtres du feu, we mastered the fire.

Il n'est pas maître de ses passions, he is not the master of his own passions—he cannot command his passions.
Vous n'êtes pas assez maître de votre sujet, you are not sufficiently master of your subject. Il n'est pas maître de sa voix, he is not master of—he cannot manage—his voice.
Ne suis-je pas le maître de rester ou de partir, am I not master to go or to remain? Vous êtes le maître, faites ce que bon vous semblera, you are the master, you may do as it seems proper to you. C'est un maître homme, he is a clever man—he is a master man. Il n'a jamais trouvé son maître en arithmétique, he never found his master in arithmetic. J'en conviens, vous êtes mon maître, I own it, you are my master.

Maître de maison, householder. Maître de pension, master of a boarding house. Maître d'école, schoolmaster.
Maître d'étude, usher—superintendent in a school. Maî-tre à danser, dancing master. Maître à dessiner, drawing master. Maître d'écriture, writing master. Maître de langues, language master. Maître de Français, d'Ita-lien, a French, an Italian master. Maître ès arts (t. d'université), master of arts. Maître de chapelle, singing master—organist—the head of the singing men, of the choristers in a church, in a cathedral. Les maîtres de l'art, the masters of the art. Les maîtres Flamands, Italiens, the masters of the Flemish, of the Italian school. Ce tableau est de main de maître, that picture is done by a masterly hand. Envoyez chercher le maître d'hôtel, send for the steward.

Maître des requêtes, master of requests. Demandez au maître des cérémonies, ask the steward—the master of the ceremonies. Le ministre de l'instruction publique en France est en même temps grand-maître de l'université, the ministes of public instruction in France is at the same time the head of the university. Il était grand-maître de l'artillerie, he was master of the ordnance.

Maître tailleur, master tailor. Maître maçon, master builder. Maître cordonnier, master shoemaker. Où est le maître garçon, where is the principal—head—shopman—the foreman? Il était maître clerc chez un notaire, he was head clerk at a notary's.

C'est un maître fripon, he is an arrant thief. Maître voleur, downright thief.

Maître s'emploie quelquefois comme un titre, en parlant d'un avocat. Maître Dupin, Mr. Dupin. Aussi par plaisanterie. Maître Jean, Master John.

(T. de marine.) Maître d'équipage, boatswain of a man of war. Maître charpentier, master carpenter, &c.

C'est un petit maître, he is a dandy—a fop—an affected youth.

Le maître des hautes œuvres, the executioner—the hangman, &c.

Le maître des basses œuvres, the nightman.

Le maître autel, the principal altar in a church.

MAÎTRESSE, s. f. mistress. (It has almost all the acceptions of maître.) C'est une maîtresse femme, she is a superior woman. Petite maîtresse, an elegant—delicate—fashionable—lady. Il a eu plusieurs maîtresses, he has had several mistresses.

Maîtresse (comme adjectif), principal.

MAÎTRISE, s. f. (t. de métier). Il a acheté sa maîtrise, he has purchased his freedom. Il a obtenu la maîtrise, he is now a master in his company. (Titre de dignité), mastership.

MAÎTRISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to master; to subdue; to govern. Ne vous laissez pas maîtriser, do not allow yourself to be ruled. Il ne put se maîtriser, he could not master himself—command his passions.

MAJESTÉ, s. f. majesty. N'admirez-vous pas la majesté de ces lieux, do you not admire the majesty of this place?

(Des titres de rois.) Sa Majesté très-chrétienne, his Christian Majesty (the king of France). Sa Majesté Catholique, his Catholic Majesty (the king of Spain). Sa Majesté très-fidèle, his most faithful Majesty (the king of Portugal). Sa Majesté Britannique, her Britannic Majesty (the queen of England).

Le roi est allé à la chasse, sa majesté n'est pas encore revenue, the king has gone a-hunting, his majesty has not returned yet.

MAJESTUEUSEMENT, adv. majestically; with dignity.

MAJESTUEUX, EUSE, adj. majestic.

MAJEUR, E, adj. major; greater. (T. d'église.) Les ordres majeurs, the major orders. (T. de musique), major. (T. de jeu de piquet.) J'ai une tierce majeure, I have a tierce major.

(Commerce.) Une affaire majeure m'appelait à Londres, an important affair called me to London. Un intérêt majeur l'emporte, a greater interest carries it. Force majeure, superior force; power.

(T. de jurisp.) On est majeur en France à vingt et un ans, one is of age—major—in France at one and twenty.

MAJEURS, s. m. plur. Nos majeurs nous ont donné cet exemple de vertu, our ancestors have given us that example of virtue.

MAJEURE, s. f. (t. de logique), major.

MAJOR, s. m. (t. milit.). Le major du régiment, the major of the regiment (is the second officer). He is sometimes called "Gros major," to distinguish him from the first surgeon, also called "major." Major de place, the town-major. Aide major, deputy town-major. Major-général, major-general.

MAJOR, adj. État major, staff. (T. de marine), the body of the officers of a ship of war. État-major général, general staff. Il était chef de l'état major général de l'armée, he was chief of the general staff of the army. Le corps de l'état major, the corps of the staff-officers. Je suis à l'état major demander ma feuille de route, I am going to the staff-office to ask for my march route. Adjudant major, assistant major—town-major. Chirurgien major, first surgeon. Aide major, assistant surgeon.

Sergent major, sergeant major. Tambour major, drum major.

MAJORAT, s. m. an estate invested for the support of a title, and which is unalienable. Since 1826, this custom, established by Bonaparte, has been discontinued.

MAJORDOME, s. m. (mot italien), superior house steward.

MAJORITÉ, s. f. majority; full age. Les Français viennent à leur majorité à vingt et un ans, the French come to their majority—are of age—at twenty-one. La plus grande partie.) Il a obtenu la majorité, he has obtained the majority of votes.

(T. milit.), the place, the rank of major.

MAJUSCULE, s. f. capital. adj. Lettre majuscule.

MAKI, s. m. (sorte de singe), maki.

MAL, s. m. (mal moral), evil. Dieu dispense le bien et les maux, God dispenses to us good and evil. L'amitié adoucit tous les maux, friendship softens all our evils. Rendre le bien pour le mal, to return good for evil. Faire du mal à quelqu'un, to do harm—injury—to any one. Il m'en veut mal, he wishes me harm—evil—or bears me ill-will. Je lui en veux mal de mort, I wish him every ill in the world. Il vous en prendra mal si vous continuez, you will betide you if you continue. Quel mal en est-il arrivé en disant cela, what harm have I done or said by that? Il a eu plus de peur que de mal, he was more frightened than hurt. La science du bien et du mal, the science of good and evil. Il se donne bien du mal pour sa famille, he takes much pain for his family—works hard. Il a eu bien du mal à le faire, he had much trouble—difficulty—in doing it. J'ai bien du mal à le dire, I find it difficult to say. Il a eu bien du mal à en venir, he had much difficulty—he found it hard—to succeed. On a trop de mal dans cette maison, there is too much to do—there is too much work—in that house.

Y a-t-il du mal à y aller, is there any harm—any wrong—in going there? Quel mal y a-t-il à cela, what harm is there in dancing?

Induire—mettre—une personne à mal, to lead one to do wrong. Penser à mal, to have evil intentions—thoughts.

Dire du mal, to speak ill of. Il dit du mal de tout le monde, he speaks ill of everybody. Il parle toujours mal, he takes everything ill—,—he takes offence at everything.

Mal (employé comme adverbe), badly. Cela va mal, that business goes on wrong—badly. Cela est mal, that is bad—wrong. Cela est mal dit, that is ill said. Vous avez mal pris le sens de l'histoire, you have mistaken—taken wrong—the meaning of the story. Vous trouverez mal de l'avoir fait, you will be sorry for having done it. Je m'en trouve mal, I am sorry for it. Je suis mal avec mon frère, I am on bad terms with my brother. Elle est mal mise, she is ill dressed.

(Mal physique), pain; ache; sore. Avoir mal à la tête, to have a headache. Voilà trois jours que j'ai un mal de tête affreux, I have had a dreadful headache these three days. La tête me fait mal, my head aches. Mal de—aux—dents, toothache. J'ai mal aux dents, I have a toothache. Il a mal aux yeux, he has sore eyes. Mal d'yeux, sore eyes. Mal d'oreille, ache. J'ai mal au doigt, I have a bad—a sore finger. D'où vous vient ce mal, whence comes this sore? Je ne sais comment ce mal m'est venu, I know not how it came. Je ne sais d'où vient ce mal au côté, I cannot tell whence this pain—ache—in my side comes. Je vous fais mal, do I hurt you—do I give you pain? Les médecins ne connaissaient pas son mal, the doctors knew not his malady—his disease. Où sentez-vous du mal, where do you feel pain? Ce mal s'en ira comme il est venu, that sore—that pain—will go as it came.

Mal d'enfant, labour. Être en mal d'enfant, to be in labour. Haut mal, epilepsy. Il tombe du haut mal, he has an attack of epilepsy. Mal d'estomac, sea-sickness. Mal de mer, sea sickness. Avoir le mal de mer, to be sick. Mal de cœur, sickness. Je me sens mal au cœur, I am sick. Se trouver mal, to faint. On dit qu'il se trouve mal, they say he is very ill. Se trouver mal à l'aise, to be uncomfortable—ill at ease.

Le gelée a fait beaucoup de mal, the frost has done much harm. Le mal n'est pas si grand qu'on le disait, e harm—injury—damage—is not so great as it was said. MAL à propos, adv. unseasonably; unadvisedly; w. a little mistake.

MALACHITE, s. f. (pron. ma-la-kite), malachite; a autiful green stone.

MALACIE, s. f. (t. de médec.), pica; vitiated appe-

MALACTIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), emollient.

MALADE, s. m. f. Le médecin va voir ses malades. doctor goes to visit his patients. Il y a beaucoup de lades, there are many sick people. Elle est bonne ma-e, she is a good patient, i. e. she suffers patiently—she es her remedies regularly, &c.

MALADE, adj. Il est bien malade, he is very ill. On qu'il est malade à la mort, they say he is sick to death. a l'air malade, he looks ill. De quoi est-il malade, at is he ill of? Il est malade de la fièvre, he is ill of ver. Il est malade au lit depuis huit jours, he has s ill in bed for the last week. Mon cheval est malade, horse is sick—distempered.

Ce-ce là le bras malade, is this the diseased arm? Ce est malade, this wine is sick.

Cet homme a l'esprit malade, that man has a diseased—mpered—mind. Depuis votre départ, notre société ève malade, since you left us, our social circle is but ky.

(fam.) Plaignez-vous, je vous le conseille, vous voilà malade, I advise you to complain, you are very ill ed.

MALADIE, s. f. Les docteurs n'entendent pas sa ladie, the doctors do not understand his disease. Il a une longue maladie, he has had a long illness. Il re-de maladie, he is recovering from an illness. Elle quelque maladie, she is ailing of something—some se. Il a attrapé la maladie, he has caught the lent disease—the influenza. C'est une vilaine ma-; it is an ugly—a disagreeable—disease. Elle a la die du pays, she is sick for the country—homes maladies des animaux et des plantes, the dis-ers of brutes—diseases of plants.

(fig.) L'état souffrait d'une maladie incurable, the was suffering of an incurable disease. Il aime veusement les fleurs. c'est une maladie, he is dotingly of flowers; it is a disease of the mind.

MALADIF, IVE, adj. sickly; ailing.

MALADRERIE, s. f. a hospital for the leprous; laza-

MALADRESSE, s. f. awkwardness; unskilfulness. manqué l'affaire par maladresse, he missed the through awkwardness. La maladresse du chi-en fut la cause de sa mort, the unskilfulness of the o caused his death.

MALADROIT, E, adj. awkward; clumsy. Il est droit dans tout ce qu'il fait, he is awkward in every he does. C'est un ouvrier maladroit, he is an un-workman—he is not a dexterous workman.

(fig.) Cela n'est pas maladroit, n'est-ce pas? it is clever, is it not? C'est un maladroit, he is a y fellow.

MALADROITEMENT, adv. awkwardly; unskil-stupidly.

MALAGA, s. m. (espèce de vin d'Espagne), malaga.

MALAIS, s. m. adj. (Malay; the Malay language; MALAISE, s. f. adj.) Malayan man or woman.

MALAISANCE, s. f. uncomfortableness.

MALAISE, s. m. Il a du malaise, he is uncom-s; uneasy; he is ill at ease.

MALAISÉ, E, adj. (Des choses.) Cela n'est pas si é que vous le croyez, that is not so difficult as you e. Il est malaisé de le croire, it is difficult to it. Cet escalier est malaisé, that staircase is ult—inconvenient. (Des personnes), ill at ease; fortable; difficult to please.

MALAISÉMENT, adv. with difficulty; not with ease. Il vit très malaisément, with greater difficulty still.

MALANDRES, s. f. (maladie des chevaux), malanders. (En parlant du bois), rottenness; disease.

MALANDREUX, SE, adj. (en parlant du bois), diseased; rotten.

MALANDRIE, s. f. sort of leprosy.

MALANDRIN, s. m. (t. d'hist.), vagabond; banditti; robber.

MAL-APPRIS, E, s. m. f. adj. ill-taught; ignorant person.

MAL À PROPOS, adv. unadvisedly.

MALARD, s. m. wild duck.

MALAVISÉ, E, adj. ill advised; imprudent.

MALAXER, v. a. r. 1ère conj. (t. de chim.), to malaxate; to knead; to soften.

MAL-BÂTI, E, adj. ill-shaped.

MALCONTENT, E, adj. dissatisfied; discontented.

MALCONTENTEMENT, s. m. discontent; dissatisfaction.

MALDISANT, E, adj. ill-speaking; backbiter.

MÂLE, s. m. male.

MÂLE, adj. male; manly. Un enfant mâle, a male child. Un oiseau mâle, a cock bird. Il a une figure mâle, he has a manly countenance. Il y a quelque chose de mâle dans sa conduite, there is something manly—noble—in his conduct.

MALÉBÊTE, s. f. evil beast; dangerous person.

MALÉDICTION, s. f. curse; malediction.

MALEFAIM, s. f. excessive hunger. Mourir de malefaim, to starve.

MALÉFICE, s. m. witchcraft; sorcery; malefice.

MALÉFICIÉ, E, adj. ill-used; ill-treated; bewitched.

MALÉFIQUE, adj. maleficent.

MALEMORT, s. f. cruel death; unhappy death.

MALENCONTRE, s. f. mishap; mischief.

MALENCONTREUSEMENT, adv. unluckily; unfortunately.

MALENCONTREUX, EUSE, adj. unlucky; unfortunate.

MAL-EN-POINT, adv. in a bad state; in an unlucky state.

MAL-ENTENDU, s. m. misunderstanding. Il y a du mal-entendu entre eux, there is some misunderstanding between them.

MAL PESTE, interj. the deuce! by the plague! Malpeste! que vous êtes difficile! the deuce! how difficult you are to please! Malpeste! comme vous voilà bien mis! heyday! how fine you are!

MALÊTRE, s. m. uneasiness; uncomfortableness.

MALÉVOLE, adj. malevolent.

MALFAÇON, s. f. bad work; (fig.), deceit; trickery; underhand dealing.

MALFAIRE, v. n. composé de mal et faire (voyez Faire), to do ill; to do wrong; to do mischief.

MALFAISANCE, s. f. wickedness; malevolence.

MALFAISANT, E, adj. malevolent. (Des choses contraires à la santé), unwholesome; bad.

MALFAITEUR, s. m.
MALFAITRICE, s. f. } malefactor; criminal.

MALFAMÉ, E, adj. of bad repute; having a bad name; ill-famed.

MALGRACIEUSEMENT, adv. ungraciously; offensively.

MALGRACIEUX, EUSE, adj. ungracious; offensive. Il nous fit une réponse malgracieuse, he gave us an ungracious answer.

MALGRÉ, prép. Il est allé malgré son père, he went there in spite of his father. Malgré moi, in spite of me. Malgré les vents et la pluie, notwithstanding wind and rain.

MALGRÉ QUE, conj. Malgré qu'il en ait, nous le ferons, spite of his opinion—whatever be his opinion—we shall do it. Voyez Gré.

MALHABILE, adj. unskilful; awkward. Vous êtes bien malhabile d'avoir dit cela, it was very awkward for you—how silly you were—to say so.

MALHABILEMENT, adv. unskilfully; awkwardly.

MALHABILETÉ, s. f. unskilfulness; awkwardness; want of ability.

MALHEUR, s. m. (chance). Le malheur le poursuit, ill luck—bad fortune—pursues him. Le malheur ne saurait l'abattre, misfortune cannot subdue him. Le malheur m'en veut, fortune is against me—is contrary to me. J'ai du malheur, I am unlucky. J'ai eu le malheur d'arriver trop tard, I was so unfortunate as to arrive too late. Depuis quelque temps il est tombé dans le malheur, for some time past he has been unfortunate. Je joue de malheur, je ne le trouve jamais chez lui, I am unfortunate, unlucky—I never find him at home. J'attribue ce contre-temps à mon malheur, I attribute this disappointment to my misfortune—ill chance—ill luck. Ne faites pas cela, cela vous portera malheur, do not do that; it will bring you bad good luck. C'est un malheur, it is a misfortune.

(Malheureux accident.) Que de malheurs il a essuyés! how many misfortunes he has met with! Il est arrivé un malheur à mon frère, a misfortune—an unhappy accident—happened, befel my brother. C'est un grand malheur, it is a great misfortune. Il y aura bien du malheur, si je ne réussis pas, it will be unlucky indeed—it will be very unfortunate indeed—if I do not succeed. Il vient d'avoir le malheur de perdre sa femme, he had lately the misfortune to lose his wife. Pour surcroît de malheur, son père était parti, to crown his misfortune, his father had gone. C'est un malheur de perdre ses enfants ainsi, it is a misfortune to lose one's children so. A quelque chose malheur est bon, it is an ill wind that blows nobody good.

Malheur aux impies, woe to the impious. Par malheur, unfortunately—by ill luck.

MALHEUREUSEMENT, adv. unfortunately; unluckily; unhappily; wretchedly.

MALHEUREUX, SE, adj. Cet homme est bien malheureux, that man is very unhappy. Elle est bien malheureuse de vous avoir déplu, she is very unhappy to have displeased you. Il est dans un état bien malheureux, he is in a very unhappy state. Elle est victime d'une passion malheureuse, she is the victim of an unrequited love. Il est malheureux comme les pierres, he is as wretched as possible.

Il a fait-là une entreprise malheureuse, he made an unlucky attempt. Il ne joue plus, il a la main trop malheureuse, he has given up playing, he is too unlucky. Enfin, cette guerre malheureuse est finie, at last this disastrous—unhappy—war is at an end. Il a fait un malheureux choix, he made an unlucky—unhappy—choice. Elle a fait une fin malheureuse, she died most wretchedly—miserably. J'ai la mémoire malheureuse, I have an unlucky—treacherous—memory. Il a la malheureuse habitude de boire, he has an unfortunate habit of drinking. Nous habitons une malheureuse chaumière, we live in a poor—wretched—cottage. Il n'a qu'une malheureuse domestique, he keeps only a poor—miserable—servant.

MALHEUREUX, s. m.\
MALHEUREUSE, s. f.\
Ayons pitié des malheureux, let us pity the unhappy. Il donne à tous les malheureux qu'il rencontre, he gives something to every poor wretch he meets in his way. Ce malheureux finira mal, that wretched man will make a bad end. Qu'avez-vous fait, malheureux que vous êtes! what have you done, oh wretched man! Il la renvoya la malheureuse, he sent away the wretched woman. Et moi, malheureux, où me mettrez-vous, and me, you wretch, where will you place me?

MALHONNÊTE, adj. rude. C'est un homme malhonnête, he is a rude man. C'est un malhonnête homme, he is a dishonest man. Action malhonnête, dishonest action. Il est fort malhonnête de répondre ainsi, it is very rude to answer thus.

MALHONNÊTEMENT, adv. Répondre malhonnêtement, to answer rudely. Agir malhonnêtement, to act dishonestly.

MALHONNÊTETÉ, s. f. rudeness; incivility. Être d'une grande malhonnêteté, to be very rude. Faire des malhonnêtetés à une personne, to behave rudely to one. Il m'a dit des malhonnêtetés bien grossières, he said very rude things to me.

MALICE, s. f. (en très-mauvaise part), malice, malignity. Cela procède d'une malice noire, that proceeds from black malignity. La malice de sa langue n'épargne personne, he spares no one in his malicious speeches. Il l'a fait sans malice, he did it without evil intention. Il m'a fait toutes les malices possibles, he did me all the harm he could.

(Dans un sens qui n'a rien d'odieux). mischievousness. L'homme ne manquait pas de malice, the man was mischievous—waggish. C'est une petite malice que je vous a faite, it is a little trick they played upon us. Je n'y entends pas malice, I mean no harm—no mischief—I see no mischief in it. Il nous a dit mille malices, he told us a thousand witty—sharp—things.

MALICIEUSEMENT, adv. maliciously; wickedly; with malignity.

MALICIEUX, EUSE, adj. malicious. (Dans un sens modéré), mischievous; waggish. (T. de marine) malicious.

MALIGNEMENT, adv. with malignity.

MALIGNITÉ, s. f. malignity.

MALIN, MALIGNE, adj. malignant; malicious. C'est un homme malin, he is a malicious man. Malin vouloir, evil intention. Il se fait une malice de nous tourmenter, he takes a malicious pleasure in tormenting us. Cette herbe a une qualité maligne, the herb has a pernicious—malignant—quality. Une fièvre maligne, a malignant fever.

(Dans le sens modéré.) Il est trop malin pour se laisser tromper, he is too sharp to allow himself to be deceived.

s. m. Vous êtes un petit malin, you are a sharp little fellow. Défiez-vous de lui, c'est un malin, mind what you do, he is a mischievous fellow.

MALINE, s. f. (t. de marine), spring tide; spring high tide.

MALINES, s. f. pl. fine lace (made at Malines).

MALINGRE, adj. sickly; weak; wasting away.

MALINTENTIONNÉ, E, adj. ill-intentioned, ill-disposed.

MALINTENTIONNÉ, s. m.\ MALINTENTIONNÉE, s. f.\ ill-disposed person.

MALITORNE, adj. misshapen; ungainly.

MALJUGÉ, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), deficiently grounded—sentence.

MALLE, s. f. trunk. Faire sa malle, to pack up. Défaire ses malles, to unpack. La malle, the mail. Le courrier de la malle, the mail post. Malle de commerce), pack.

MALLÉABILITÉ, s. f. (pron. mal-lé-abi-li-té), malleability.

MALLÉABLE, adj. malleable; ductile.

MALLÉOLE, s. f. (pron. mal-lé-o-le) (t. d'anat.), ancle bone.

MALLETTE, s. f. small trunk; small pack.

MALLIER, s. m. shaft horse.

MALMENER, v. a. reg. 1ère conj., to ill-use, to maltreat.

MALOTRU, E, s. m. f. misshapen fellow; unsightly person; a ragamuffin.

MALPEIGNÉ, s. m. unlicked; slovenly.

MALPLAISANT, E, adj. disagreeable.

MALPROPRE, adj. dirty; filthy. Il est bien malpropre, he is very dirty. (Fig.) On sent bien mal dans un appartement qui n'était pas malpropre, we were shown into an apartment which was neat enough.

MALPROPREMENT, adv. dirtily; slovenly.

MALPROPRETÉ, s. f. dirt; filth. Tout est d'une grande malpropreté dans cette maison, every thing is excessively dirty in that house. Il mange avec malpropreté, he eats in a very dirty—slovenly way.

MALSAIN, E, adj. (des personnes), unhealthy. (Des choses), unwholesome. (Des places), unwholesome.

MALSÉANT, E, adj. unbecoming.

MALSONNANT, E, adj. (t. d'école), contrary to good sense, to principles.

MALT, s. m. (mot Anglais, pron. mal-te), malt, (barley prepared for making beer).

ALTAGE, s. m. (du mot Anglais malt), (t. de ueur), malt-making.

ALTAIS, s. m. } Maltese; an inhabitant of Malta.
ALTAISE, s. f. }

AL TALENT, s. m. ill will; ill disposition.

ALTEUR, EUSE, s. m. f. maltster; malt maker.

ALTÔTE, s. f. (mot ancien). Exaction in the gather- of taxes; addition to the regular taxes imposed by the s who collected them, in the time of the Traitants. Maltôte, the body of tax gatherers. Voyez Traitants.

AL-TÔTIER, s. m. (mot ancien), tax collector— ner; one who exacts in collecting taxes. (Fig.), ALTRAITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to use ill; to ill. Il l'a maltraité de coups, he used ill—he beat Cet homme nous maltraita de paroles, that man d us. Il nous a maltraités dans son testament, he d us ill in his will.

ALVACÉE, adj. (t. de bot.), malvaceous; relating allows.

ALVEILLANCE, s. f. malevolence.

ALVEILLANT, E, s. m. f. adj. malevolent.

ALVERSATION, s. f. malversation; embezzle- ; fraud.

ALVERSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to prevaricate; to ahonestly.

ALVOISIE, s. f. malmsey wine; Muscadine wine.

ALVOULU, E, adj. disliked. Il est généralement ais, every one wishes him ill.

AMAN, s. f. (t. d'affection, pron. man-man), mamma. ent se porte votre maman? how is your mamma? ous vu votre grand' maman? have you seen your mamma?

ne.) C'est une grosse maman, she is a lusty woman.

AMELLE, s. f. (des personnes), breast. Il était à la mamelle, he was yet at the breast—sucking. Les Amazones se brûlaient la mamelle droite, the Ama- women burnt their right breast. Il a été blessé à elle gauche, he was wounded in the left breast—pap. animaux), teat; dug; udder.

MELLES, s. f. pl. (t. de bot.), sort of mushroom, e resembling the breast of a woman.

MELON, s. m. nipple; pap. (T. d'anat.), papilla. olle. (Géog.) La montagne se divise en deux ux, the mountain is divided into two round emi-MELONNÉ, E, adj. having round eminences.

MELU, E, adj. having large breasts. C'est une mamelue, she is a lusty—large-breasted—woman.

MELOUK, s. m. Egyptian soldier; mameluke.

AMIE, corruption de Mon amie, my love.

MILLAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), mammillary.

MMAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), mammillary; hav- form of paps or dugs.

MMIFÈRE, adj. mammiferous; s. m. mammifer.

MMOUTH, s. m. (gros animal dont l'espèce a été, mais dont on a retrouvé les restes), mammoth.

NANT, s. m. (t. d'hist.), villager; peasant; hind. oderne), clod; blackguard; low fellow.

NCENILLIER, s. m. manchineel tree.

NCHE, s. m. (manche de couteau, de canif, de &c.), handle. Manche de faux, handle of a Le manche de la charrue, the plough-tail. e de—à—balai, broomstick. (T. de musiq.) Le t d'un violon, d'une guittare, the neck—the finger- —of a violin, a guitar. Il connaît bien son manche, ers well—he handles the finger-board well. (T. e.) Le manche d'un gigot, the bone, shank-bone of f mutton. (T. de marine.) Manche d'aviron, the of an oar.

.) Il branle dans le manche, he is tottering— ; i. e., he is not firmly established in his post. manche après la cognée, to throw away the handle t hatchet, i. e., to throw things away from you in he de couteau (t. d'hist. nat.), razor shell fish.

CHE, s. f. sleeve. Manches pendantes, hanging

Gardes de la manche, sort of Body Guards, who used to attend at court close to the royal person. Gentilshommes de la manche, gentlemen who attended upon the person of royal princes, after their coming out of the nursery; they were thus named because etiquette allowed them to touch the prince's sleeves only.

Soyez tranquille, je l'ai dans ma manche, be easy, I have him in my power. Tirer la manche de quelqu'un, to pull a person by the sleeve, i. e., to call his attention or to make him do what one wishes. Il ne se fera pas tirer par la manche, he will not require much pressing. Du temps qu'on se mouchait sur la manche, in early times—in times of simplicity. On ne se mouche plus sur la manche, we are now wiser. C'est une autre paire de manches, it is quite another thing. Il a la conscience large comme la manche d'un Cordelier, he does not scruple at anything.

(T. de jeu.) Nous sommes manche à manche, we have each won one game. J'ai gagné la première manche, I have the first game. (T. de chim.) Manche d'Hippocrate, filtering bag. (T. d'hydraul.) Manche à eau, hose. (T. de marin.) Manche à vent, wind-sail. (Géog.) La Manche, the British Channel. La Manche, Mancha (a Spanish province). Le Département de la Manche, a department of France, of which St. Lo and Cherbourg are the principal towns.

MANCHETTE, s. f. cuff; ruffle. Manchettes de dentelle, lace cuffs. (Fig.) Vous m'avez fait-là de belles manchettes, you have played me a pretty trick—you have put me in a pretty mess.

MANCHON, s. m. muff.

MANCHOT, s. m. adj. } one who has lost one hand, or MANCHOTE, s. f. adj. } one arm, or who is maimed. Il est manchot de la main droite, he is maimed—disabled —of the right hand—:—he has lost his right hand. C'est un homme qui n'est pas manchot, he is not maimed—he is dexterous enough. Sans tête, avec deux bras, on est toujours manchot, a man with both arms, but without a head, is ever awkward.

MANDANT, s. m. constituent; principal.

MANDARIN, s. m. (mot formé du Portugais "Mandar," et que l'on emploie pour désigner les lettrés, les magistrats, les grands en Chine), mandarin.

MANDARINAT, s. m. dignity of mandarin.

MANDARINISME, s. m. studies, examinations, which one must undergo to become a mandarin.

MANDAT, s. m. (t. de jurisp.), warrant; power. Le magistrat a signé le mandat de comparution, the magistrate signed the summons. Mandat d'amener, warrant for the apprehension (of a party). Mandat de dépôt, warrant for the detention.

(T. polit.) Il a été fidèle à son mandat, he has executed faithfully the trust reposed in him. Vous avez trahi votre mandat, you have not fulfilled your commission. (T. de comm.) Mandat de change, bill of exchange not subject to acceptation. (T. de bureaucratie), order for payment.

MANDATAIRE, s. m. representative (entrusted with powers to do a thing).

MANDATER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to sign, to issue orders for payment.

MANDE, s. f. a basket.

MANDEMENT, s. m. Avez-vous lu le mandement de l'évêque de —? have you read the bishop of —'s charge? (En général), order, decree, mandate. (T. de commerce), order, draft. J'ai payé suivant votre mandement, I paid according to your order.

MANDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Je lui ai mandé cette nouvelle par une lettre. I informed him of the news by letter. Je lui ai mandé qu'il vînt, I desired him to come.—.—I wrote to him that he must come. Je ne le lui ai point mandé, je le lui ai dit en face, I did not tell it him by letter, I told it him to his face.

On a mandé le médecin, they sent for the doctor. Le prince a mandé ses équipages, &c., the prince ordered his equipages for—.

MANDIBULE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), mandible; the lower jaw of man).

MANDILLE, s. f. (pron. les ll mouillées), sort of footman's cloak or coat. Je l'ai vu porter la mandille à Paris, I saw him, in Paris, a footman—wearing the footman's dress.

MANDOLINE, s. f. (instrument de musiq.), mandolin. Il joue bien de la mandoline, he plays well on the mandolin. [guitar.

MANDORE, s. f. (instrument de musique), sort of MANDRAGORE, s. f. (t. de bot.), mandrake—mandragora.

MANDRIN, s. m. (t. de métier), mandril.

MANDUCATION, s. f. manducation.

MANÉAGE, s. m. (t. de marine), handwork (any extraordinary work done by seamen for which they cannot claim payment).

MANÈGE, s. m. Aller au manège, to go to a riding-school. Envoyer un cheval au manège, to send a horse to the riding-school to be trained.

(Fig.) Je connais bien leur manège, I know their manœuvring—game—artifice—well. Voilà un étrange manège, this is a strange manœuvre.

MANES, s. f. pl. manes; shades.

MANGANÈSE, s. m. (t. de chim.), manganese.

MANGEABLE, adj. eatable.

MANGEAILLE, s. f. food for birds, dogs, &c. (Fam.) Cet homme ne pense qu'à ta mangeaille, that man thinks of nothing else but eating, stuffing.

MANGEMENT, s. m. (vieux mot), food; eating.

MANGEOIRE, s. f. manger. (Fig.) Tourner le dos à la mangeoire, to turn your back on the manger, i. e., to do the reverse of what should be done.

MANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Manger du pain et de la viande, to eat bread and meat. Il mange de bon appétit, he eats with a good appetite. L'appétit vient en mangeant, appetite will come, if you try to eat. Il est malade il ne mange rien, he is ill, he eats nothing. Donnez-nous quelque chose à manger, give us something to eat. Entrons dans la salle à manger, let us enter the dining-room.

Je ne mange pas chez moi, je mange en ville, I do not eat at home, I take my meals out. Je mange chez le restaurateur, I take my repasts at the coffee-house. Ces gens-là ne donnent pas à manger souvent, these people have seldom company to dinner—seldom give entertainments. Il donne à manger aujourd'hui, he has a dinner-party—a supper-party—to-day. (Fig.) Qui se fait brebis le loup le mange, he who is too gentle is oppressed. Il a mangé son pain blanc le premier, he ate his white bread first, i. e., he had the best of his life first. Laissez-le faire, il sait bien son pain manger, leave him alone, he knows his interest well. Il mange son blé en herbe, he eats his corn in the grass, i. e., he anticipates his revenues. Il a mangé toute sa fortune en peu de temps, he consumed—squandered—his property in a short time. C'est un homme qui mange tout, he spends every thing he has. Les gros poissons mangent les petits, the large fish eat the little ones, i. e., the great people oppress the little. Il a mangé bien de la vache enragée, he has suffered many privations—many sorrows—discomforts. Il viendrait vous manger dans la main, he would take great liberties with you. Il le mangerait à la croque au sel, he would make an easy meal of him—he would easily conquer him. Manger à table ronde, to sit at a round table—i. e., to sit in equality. Il en a mangé, il sait ce que c'est, he knows what it is—he has had a taste of it. Il y a à boire et à manger, there is to eat and drink in it—i. e. it is an advantageous thing. Se manger le blanc des yeux, to look fiercely at one another—to quarrel violently.

Ces sortes de cheminée mangent bien du charbon, that sort of stove consumes much coal. Ses domestiques le mangent, his servants eat him up. Un ulcère lui a mangé le nez, an ulcer ate up—destroyed—his nose. Le soleil mange les couleurs, the rays of the sun absorb—fade—colours.

Elle est jolie à manger; voyez Croquer. Il la mange des yeux; voyez Dévorer. Elle le mangeait de caresses, she devoured him with caresses.

Il lui fallait manger sa douleur—les douleurs, he was obliged to suppress his grief—his sufferings. Manger le chemin, to travel very fast.

L'eau mouillée se mange devant une noyelle, the e mute is sounded before a vowel. Comme il mange les mots en parlant, how he clips his words in speaking.

MANGER, s. m. C'est elle qui m'accommode ce manger, she dresses my food. C'est un manger délicieux, it is delicious to eat. Il est si amoureux qu'il ne peut ni boire et le manger, he is so much in love that he neither drinks nor eats.

MANGERIE, s. f. Voyez Mangeaille.

MANGE-TOUT, s. m. fam. squanderer; a spendthrift. (T. de jardin.), sort of pea of which the pod is also eaten.

MANGEUR, s. m. } C'est un grand mangeur, très
MANGEUSE, s. f. } great eater. (Fig.) C'est un mangeur, he is a squanderer. C'est un mangeur de viandes apprêtées, he is fond of good eating and no trouble—a lazy fellow. C'est un mangeur de sacs, he is a hypocrite.

MANGEURE, s. f. (pron. man-jure), bite; piece.

MANGONNEAU, s. m. (ancienne arme de guerre), sort of catapulta.

MANGONNIER, s. m. (mot local), a fishermen—fisherman on the coast of Languedoc.

MANGOUSTE, s. f. mangoust; sort of Egyptian

MANGUE, s. f. mango; a fruit from the West Indies

MANGUIER, s. m. mango tree.

MANIABLE, adj. Un drap doux et maniable, cloth that is soft to the hand. Le cuir ainsi préparé devient plus maniable, leather thus prepared is rendered pliable—more supple to the hand. Ce marbre est si lourd, il n'est pas maniable, that hammer is heavy—it is not manageable—handy. (T. de marine) maniable, moderate weather. Navire maniable, a ship that steers easily; a handy ship.

Cet homme n'est pas maniable, that man is not manageable. Son caractère est maniable, his temper is manageable—tractable—easy.

MANIAQUE, s. m. f. adj. maniac; lunatic; mad.

MANICHÉEN, s. m. } Manichean; a follower
MANICHÉENNE, s. f. } Manes.

MANICHÉISME, s. m. Manicheism; doctrine of Manes.

MANICHORDION, s. m. (pron. ma-ni-cor-di-on), manichord; sort of clavichord.

MANICLE, Voyez Manique.

MANIE, s. f. madness. Sa manie est de vouloir faire la guerre, his madness—hypochondria—is to fancy himself made of glass. Quelle manie de se figurer que tout le monde le regarde! what an idea—a fancy—to imagine everybody looks at him! Il a la manie de se faire peindre en soldat, he has a great fancy to be painted like a soldier.

MANIEMENT, s. m. handling. (T. milit.) Le maniement des armes, the manual exercise. (T. de finance) Ceux qui ont le maniement de ses affaires, those who have the management of his affairs—who manage him. Ce banquier a le maniement de sommes considérables, large sums of money pass through the hands of that banker.

MANIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. to handle; to feel. Maniez ce drap, voyez comme il est doux, handle the cloth—take it into your hands—feel how soft it is. Il a manié bien des livres en sa vie, I have handled many books—I have had many books in my hands. Il faut qu'il manie tout, he must touch—finger—meddle with—every thing. Il manie bien l'épée, he handles the sword, the pen, &c., he handles the sword well, the pen well. Le boulanger manie bien la pâte, that baker works the paste well. Il manie bien le fer, he works iron well. Il manie bien la plume, he handles the pen well—writes his pen well. Manier un cheval, to manage a horse. Il a manié bien de l'argent, much money—a great deal of money passed through his hands. On ne peut manier de l'argent sans qu'il en reste un bout des doigts, it is impossible to have to do with money without some of it sticking to the fingers. Maniez-moi cette affaire-là, do manage that affair for me. Ce ne sera pas si facile à manier que vous l'imaginez, it will not be so easy to manage as you imagine, agine. Manier du blé, to turn corn over (in a granary prevent its getting heated).

Comme ces soldats manient bien le fusil, how dexterously these men handle the gun—go through the gun exercise!
(Fig.) Les enfants sont quelquefois difficiles à manier, sometimes difficult to manage children. Il s'entend bien à manier les hommes, he well understood the management of men.
MANIER, (comme subst.). Juger de la qualité du drap au manier, to judge of the quality of cloth by the feel.
MANIÈRE, s. f. Chacun a sa manière de faire les choses, every one has his manner—way—of doing things. Mettez-le à la manière ordinaire, do it in the usual way. De cette manière, in this way. De toute manière—de quelque manière que ce soit—il me le faudra demain, any how I must have it to-morrow. Est-ce bien de cette manière? is it right thus—in this way? Je veux le faire à ma manière, I will do it in my own manner—way. Voilà ma manière de penser—de faire les choses, this is my way of thinking—of doing things. Est-ce là votre manière d'agir, is this your manner of acting—is this the way you do it? De la bonne, de la belle manière, in the right way. (Fig.), famously, unsparingly. Quand je parle riche, c'est une manière de parler, il est tout au plus à l'aise, when I say he is rich, it is a manner of speaking—he is hardly in comfortable circumstances. Par manière de dire, as it were. Faire les choses par manière d'acquit, to do things as if merely to satisfy one's conscience—to do them negligently—carelessly. Vous avez des manières de parler qui ne sont qu'à vous, you have modes of expressing yourself—modes of expression which are your own. Allons y de bonne heure, de manière que nous ayons une bonne place, let us go early, so that we may get a good place. Il parla de manière à nous en convaincre, he spoke in a way to convince us. A sa manière, à ce qui qu'il était mécontent, from his manner, I judged that he was dissatisfied.
Il vint à ma voix une manière de valet, there came a valet—sort—of valet at my call. Il y avait chez lui une manière de demoiselle, there was at his house a sort of lady—a kind of young lady.
Ce peintre a de la manière, that painter has a manner of his own. Cela sent un peu la manière, that marks a little of mannerism.
(De société, d'usage du monde.) Il a des manières, his manners are polite. Cette jeune personne a des manières qui plaisent à tout le monde, that young lady has manners which please every body. Sont-ce là des manières du grand monde, are these the manners of good society? Ne vous déferez-vous jamais de ces manières-là, will you never correct yourself—rid yourself—of these manners?
MANIÉRÉ, E, adj. Elle est trop maniérée, she is too affected—affected. Je n'aime pas ces auteurs maniérés, I do not like those writers who affect a way of their own—who write affectedly.
MANIÉRISME, s. m. mannerism.
MANIÉRISTE, s. m. f. mannerist.
MANIEUR, s. m. one who handles things; who has to do with them.
MANIFESTATION, s. f. manifestation.
MANIFESTE, adj. manifest.
MANIFESTE, s. m. manifesto; declaration.
MANIFESTEMENT, adv. manifestly; clearly.
MANIFESTER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to manifest; to declare; to become manifest, known.
MANIGANCE, s. f. sly doing; trickery.
MANIGANCER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to manage (to trick up (a thing).
MANILLE, s. f. (t. du jeu de quadrille), manille, deuce in trumps, if black; the seven, if red).
MANIOC, s. m. cassada; tapioca.
MANIPULAIRE, s. m. (t. d'antiq.), manipular.
MANIPULATEUR, s. m. (t. de chim.), manipulator.
MANIPULATION, s. f. (t. de chim.), manipulation.
MANIPULE, s. f. manciple; (ornement d'église), maniple (a sort of band worn round the left arm); (t. de pharm.), a handful; (t. d'antiq.), a pennon; a standard.
MANIPULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de chim., de pharm.), to work; to prepare.
MANIQUE, s. f. sort of working glove put on by certain workmen to protect their hand. (Fig.) Il entend la manique, he is a cunning fellow—he understands a trick or two. Il tire la manique, he is a cobbler.
MANIVEAU, s. m. a flat basket to carry smelts, herbs, salad for sale.
MANIVELLE, s. f. handle; winch.
MANNE, s. f. (pron. mane), manna.
MANNE, s. f. (pron. mane), linen basket; a large basket.
MANNEQUIN, s. m. basket; hamper. (T. d'artiste), a layman, a figure. Il y avait, dans son atelier, un mannequin de grandeur naturelle, there was, in his painting room, a layman—a figure—of natural size, &c. Cette figure sent le mannequin, that figure is not natural. C'est un vrai mannequin, he is a downright automaton.
MANNEQUINÉ, E, adj. (t. de peint.), not natural; copied strictly from a figure; stiff; formal.
MANŒUVRE, s. f. (t. de marine). Entendre bien la manœuvre, to understand the working of a ship. Il fit une manœuvre hardie, he executed a bold manœuvre. Il fallut changer de manœuvre, we were obliged to alter our tack. Il commande bien la manœuvre, he works a ship well. Commander la manœuvre d'une escadre, to command the evolutions of a fleet.
Les manœuvres d'un bâtiment, the rigging—the cordage—of a ship. Manœuvres dormantes, standing rigging. Manœuvres courantes, running rigging.
(T. milit.), manœuvre; evolution.
(Fig.) Il a fait-là une étrange manœuvre, in that case, he has taken a strange step. Il est parvenu, à force de manœuvres, à supplanter son rival, by means of manœuvring he has succeeded in supplanting his rival.
MANŒUVRE, s. m. bricklayer's man or labourer. (Fig.) Défiez-vous de lui, c'est un fin manœuvre, mind him, for he is a crafty—a cunning fellow. Je fais-là un ouvrage de manœuvre, I am now doing the work of a drudge.
MANŒUVRER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Notre vaisseau manœuvre bien, our ship works well. L'équipage a bien manœuvré, the crew worked well.
Faire manœuvrer des troupes, to exercise—to drill—troops. Le général manœuvra si bien que l'ennemi fut obligé d'en venir aux mains, the general manœuvred so well, that he compelled the enemy to engage.
(Fig.) Vous avez bien manœuvré dans cette affaire, you manœuvred well—managed well—took good measures—in that affair.
MANŒUVRIER, s. m. Notre amiral était un excellent manœuvrier, our admiral was an excellent seaman—worked a ship admirably. Notre frégate est une bonne manœuvrière, our frigate works well.
MANOIR, s. m. manor.
MANOUVRIER, s. m. labourer; journeyman.
MANQUE, s. m. Le manque d'argent est cause de son retour, the want of money is the cause of his return. Il y a un grand manque de respect dans sa conduite, there is a great want of respect in his conduct. Je trouve dix écus de manque dans le sac, I find ten crowns short—wanting—in the bag. Il y a toujours quelque chose de manque, there is always something wanting. Il n'a pas réussi manque de soin, he did not succeed for want of care.
Manque à toucher—manque de touche (t. de billard), [miss.
MANQUEMENT, s. m. failure; want; missing; breaking. Par manquement de parole, by breaking his word. C'est son troisième manquement à l'appel, this is the third time of his missing the call.
MANQUER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Tous les hommes sont sujets à manquer, every man is liable to fail—to commit faults. N'avez-vous jamais manqué, have you never failed in your duty? (T. d'armes à feu.) Mon fusil manqua, my gun missed fire.
Si cet homme venait à manquer, que deviendrait sa famille, if that man were to die—to fail—what would become of his family? La maison manqua par ses fondements, the foundation of the house gave way. La terre manqua sous leurs pieds, the earth sank under their feet. Le pied lui a manqué en montant en voiture, he missed his footing—his foot slipped—as he was getting into the carriage.

Vous ne sauriez croire combien vous nous manquez, you cannot imagine how much we miss you. Vous manquiez seul à la fête pour qu'elle fût complette, you were alone missing to make the festival complete. Les forces lui manquèrent tout à coup, all on a sudden his strength failed him. Les genoux me manquent, my knees are failing. Le courage me manque, my courage fails me. Il ne put dire un mot, la parole lui manqua, he could not speak one word, his speech failed him. Tout nous manque à la fois, every thing fails us all at once. L'argent lui manque, money fails him.

Combien manque-t-il à cette somme, how much is there wanting to make up the sum? L'ouvrage n'est pas complet, il y manque un volume, the work is not complete, there is one volume wanting.

(T. de commerce.) M. L. a manqué, Mr. L. has failed. De combien a-t-il manqué savez-vous? what has he failed for, do you know? On dit qu'il manque de 400,000 fr., they say he is failing for 16,000*l.*

Ils manquent d'argent, they are in want of money. Nous manquons de tout, we were in want of every thing. Ne manquez pas de parole à votre mère, do not disappoint your mother. Vous lui avez manqué de parole plusieurs fois, you have disappointed him several times. Je manque de mémoire, I want—I have no—I am deficient of—memory. Il est rare qu'un jeune homme manque de courage, it is seldom the case that a young man wants—fails in—courage. Vous avez manqué de respect à votre père, you failed in—you forgot—your respect to your father. Vous m'avez manqué de foi, you have broken your faith to me. Il manque d'énergie, he wants energy. C'est un homme qui ne manque pas d'esprit, that man is rather clever. Il ne manque pas de bonne volonté, mais il a peu de moyens, he is willing enough, but he has little ability. Quand on cherche bien, on ne manque jamais de trouver, if you seek well you are always sure to find—you never fail to find.

Ne manquez pas de venir demain, do not fail to come to-morrow. Je ne manquerai pas de le lui dire, I shall not fail to tell it him. Il a manqué d'être pris, he was nearly caught. La route était si mauvaise que nous avons manqué de verser plusieurs fois, the road was so bad that we were several times on the point of being upset. Il a manqué mourir de cette maladie, he was like to have died—he was on the point of dying—of that disease. Ne manquez pas au rendez-vous, do not miss—mind you keep—your appointment. Pourquoi y avez-vous manqué? why did you not keep it?

L'homme d'honneur ne manque jamais à sa parole, an honourable man never breaks his word. Manqueriez-vous à l'honneur? would you act against your honour? Il ne manque jamais à son devoir, he never forgets his duty. Il se plaint que vous lui avez manqué, he complains that you have offended him—that you forgot yourself towards him.

Ne manquez pas à aller le voir, do not fail in going to see him—do not fail to go to see him.

(T. de jeu de billard.) Manquer à toucher, manquer de touche, to miss.

J'ai manqué une belle occasion, I missed a fine opportunity. Je ne l'ai manqué que d'un quart d'heure, I missed him by a quarter of an hour. Manquer un lièvre, to miss shouting a hare. S'il me manque, je ne le manquerai pas, moi, if he misses me, I shall not miss him. Les gendarmes ont manqué le voleur, the policemen missed the thief.

Vous l'avez manqué belle, you have had a narrow escape, (this expression and many others come from the game at tennis). Voyez Beau, Belle.

C'est un projet manqué, that project has failed—is a failure. C'est un avocat manqué, he is a would be barrister. L'affaire est manquée—a manqué, he has failed.

MANSARDE, s. f. attic. Fenêtre en mansarde, attic window.

MANSE, s. f. Voyez Mense.

MANSUÉTUDE, s. f. mansuetude; gentleness.

MANTE, s. f. mantua; mantle.

MANTEAU, s. m. cloak. S'envelopper de son manteau, to wrap one's self up in one's cloak. (Fig.) Se développer dans son manteau, to gird one's self—to endure patiently the strokes of fortune. Le manteau impérial, the imperial mantle. Il sentit le vin dans son manteau, he was muffled up in his cloak. (Fig.) Vendre du vin sous le manteau, to sell in secret a liquor which is prohibited. Garder les manteaux, to dance attendance—to keep watch while others are acting—are doing something. (T. de théât.) Il joue les rôles à manteau, he acts—serious characters. Il cache son intérieur sous le manteau de la religion, he hides his interiors under the cloak—the veil of religion. (T. de blason.) Manteau d'armes, d'archit.) Le manteau de cheminée, the mantel-piece. Manteau de nuit, night dress.

MANTELET, s. m. short cloak or mantle. Les paysannes portent encore des mantelets en Normandie, the countrywomen still wear cloaks in Normandy. (T. de fortif.), wooden screen; mantlet. (T. de carosse) leather curtains.

MANTELÉ, E, adj. mantled.

MANTELURE, s. f. mantling; the coat of a dog, the hair of its back.

MANTILLE, s. f. mantilla, a cloak or scarf worn by Spanish ladies.

MANUEL, ELLE, adj. manual. Travail manuel, manual labour. Elle fit elle-même une distribution manuelle d'argent aux pauvres, she herself distributed money to the poor with her own hands.

MANUEL, s. m. manual.

MANUELLEMENT, adv. manually.

MANUFACTURE, s. f. manufactory; factory. Il alla la manufacture alla à sa rencontre, the whole of the manufactory went to meet him. Ces étoffes sont d'une manufacture Anglaise, these things are of English manufacture; fabrication. (Fig.) Le bureau de ce journal est une manufacture de mensonges et de calomnies, the paper's office is a very factory for the fabrication of lies and calumnies.

MANUFACTURER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to manufacture; to fabricate.

MANUFACTURIER, ÈRE, s. m. f. manufacturer.

MANUMISSION, s. f. manumission.

MANUS, IN, s. m. (commencement d'un psaume) le prêtre prononce auprès d'un agonisant, pour recommander son âme à Dieu, "In manus tuas, Domine, committo," &c.). Il n'a pas eu le temps de dire ses manus, he had not time to recommend his soul to God.

MANUSCRIT, s. m. manuscript.

MANUTENTION, s. f. Il est chargé de la manutention de mes affaires, he is entrusted with the administration—management of my affairs. (T. d'admin. milit.), baking establishment for the troops.

MANUTENTIONNER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to bake bread for the army.

MAPPEMONDE, s. f. map of the world; chart of the world.

MAQUE, s. f. a brake (to beat hemp, flax &c.).

MAQUER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to break hemp &c.

MAQUEREAU, s. m. mackerel; (T. de méd.) a pimple which come on the legs from being too near the fire; scorches.

MAQUEREAU, s. m. pimp; procurer.

MAQUERELLE, s. f. a procuress; a bawd.

MAQUETTE, s. f. (t. de sculpture) model in small scale, made of wax, or earth.

MAQUIGNON, s. m. horse-dealer; jockey (Général), jobber; manager.

MAQUIGNONNAGE, s. m. horse trade; the buying and selling of horses.

MAQUIGNONNER, v. a. rég. Ière conj., to jockey;

a doctor a horse (for sale). (En général), to job; to ...nage.

MARABOU, s. m. (Oiseau qui se trouve dans l'Inde, dont les plumes servent de parure aux dames.) Elle avait un chapeau orné de plumes de marabou, she wore ...rabou feathers on her bonnet.

MARABOUT, s. m. (mot tiré de l'Arabe), Mahometan priest; Marabout. (Fam.), an awkward, misshapen man.

MARAICHER, s. m. market gardener.

MARAIS, s. m. marsh; swamp; bog. (Fig.) Se sauver par les marais, to endeavour to get out of a difficulty by giving bad reasons. Marais salant, salt marsh; (a place overflowed by sea-water, in which the salt water is composed by the heat of the sun). Ground cultivated as a market gardener; garden.

MARASME, s. m. marasmus; sort of consumption.

MARASKIN, s. m. (pron. ma-race-kin), marasquin, liquor made in Dalmatia.

MARATRE, s. f. harsh—cruel—stepmother. (Fig.) Nature a été marâtre envers lui, nature was a bad mother to him—treated him cruelly.

MARAUD, s. m. vile, impudent, rascal.

MARAUDE, s. f. impudent woman.

MARAUDE, s. f. (T. milit.) Il envoya deux compagnies à la marande, he sent two companies to pillage—to plunder. La marande est défendue, marauding is forbidden. (Commun.) Les écoliers furent pris en marande, the boys were caught plundering.

MARAUDER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to maraud; to plunder.

MARAUDEUR, s. m. marauder; plunderer.

MARAVÉDIS, s. m. maravedi, small Spanish coin.

MARBRE, s. m. marble. Cela est dur comme le marbre, this is as hard as marble. Il faut un marbre sur la commode, this chest of drawers requires a marble top. Mettez un marbre sur ces papiers, place a marble slab upon these papers. (T. de statuaire.) Il y a de beaux marbres dans son cabinet, there are fine marble statues in his cabinet. Voyez Table. (Fig.) C'est un homme de marbre, he is marble-hearted—he is as hard as marble. Je demeurai comme un marbre, I stood like marble—like a statue.

MARBRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to marble. Du papier marbré, marbled paper.

MARBRERIE, s. f. marble-works. [painting.

MARBREUR, s. m. a person who imitates marble in MARBRIER, s. m. stone, marble cutter.

MARBRIÈRE, s. f. marble quarry. [painting.

MARBRURE, s. f. marbling; imitation of marble in

MARC, s. m. (pron. le c), (ancienne mesure de poids), eight ounces; half a pound. Un marc la livre—le franc, so much per pound. Un marc d'or, le marc d'argent, were formerly dues to the king on certain occasions. Marc de café, coffee grounds. Marc de raisins, de pommes, the husks of grapes, of apples, after pressing.

MARCASSIN, s. m. young wild boar.

MARCASSITE, s. f. (t. de minéral.), marcasite.

MARCATION, s. f. Voyez Démarcation.

MARCHAND, s. m. Les marchands ne font pas crédit, shopkeepers, the tradesmen will not give credit. C'est un gros marchand en vin, he is a large retail dealer. C'est un marchand en gros, he is a wholesale merchant. Marchand drapier, linen-draper. Marchand épicier, grocer. Marchand de soierie, mercer. Marchande lingère, linen-draper. Marchand de toile, linen-merchant. Marchand libraire, bookseller. Marchand de couleur, oil and colourman. Marchand d'habits, slop-seller. C'est un bon et loyal marchand, he is a good and honest dealer—tradesman. Marchand forain, itinerant merchant. Trouver marchand, to meet with a customer. Il cherche à attirer les marchands, he endeavours to attract customers. N'est pas marchand qui toujours gagne, he is not a thorough merchant who is always prosperous, i. e. one must expect vicissitudes. Il est mauvais marchand, he will be the worst for it.

Marchand (employé comme adjectif). Ce blé n'est pas marchand, that corn is not marketable, saleable. Il me l'a cédé au prix marchand, he left it to me at the market—selling—price. En France le tabac n'est pas marchand, in France tobacco is no common merchandize—is sold by government. Place marchande, market place. Ville marchande, commercial town. La marine marchande, merchant service. Navire marchand, merchantman.

MARCHANDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ask the price of a thing—to bargain for it. Il a marchandé ce drap, he inquired the price of that cloth. Il a marchandé ma maison si long-temps qu'un autre l'a prise, he was so long bargaining for my house that another bought it. Il a marchandé sou à sou, he so haggled offering penny after penny. Il l'a pris sans marchander, he took it without bargaining—without haggling.

(Fig.) On ne marchande point la main d'une femme, one does not bargain for the hand of a woman. Il ne marchande point quand il s'agit de faire le bien, he does not hesitate when good is to be done. Il ne marchanderait pas sa vie s'il s'agissait de la sauver, he would not hesitate to sacrifice his life to save hers. Soyez tranquille, je ne le marchanderai pas, be easy, I will not spare him. Il le fit sans marchander, he did it without hesitating.

MARCHANDAILLER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to haggle.

MARCHANDISE, s. f. merchandise; goods; commodities. Napoléon avait prohibé les marchandises anglaises, Napoleon prohibited English goods. Il tient secrètement un assortiment de marchandises de contrebande, he keeps in secret an assortment of contraband goods. Marchandise de pacotille, goods manufactured for exportation.

Il fait marchandise de tout, he makes a traffic of everything—he sells everything. Faire valoir sa marchandise, to set one's goods off—to boast of—to praise—what one has.

MARCHE, s. f. (t. de géogr.), frontier; borders; confines; marches.

MARCHE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), step; degree. Il faut monter cent-vingt marches pour arriver au château, you must ascend 120 steps to arrive at the castle. (T. de métier), foot-board.

MARCHE, s. f. (t. de mouvement), march; progress. Je ne supporte pas bien la marche. I do not well bear a march—walking long fatigues me. La nuit vient, il faut accélérer la marche, night is coming on, we must quicken our march. Il y a trois heures de marche, it is a three hours' march—walking. Se mettre en marche, to set off; to depart. C'est une longue marche—distance. Elle a une marche élégante, she steps nicely—her gait is elegant. (Progrès.) La marche de la nature, the progress—the march—of nature. C'est la pauvreté qui arrête la marche du génie, poverty is what impedes the progress of genius. On ne peut arrêter la marche des événements, no one can stop the march of events. (Conduite.) Sa marche n'a pas été ouverte dans cette affaire, his proceedings—his steps—in that affair were not open. Prenez garde, on épie votre marche, mind—take care—they are watching your steps—your proceedings. (Procession, cérémonie.) La marche était nombreuse et tumultueuse, the procession was large and tumultuous. (T. de littér.) La marche de ce poème est trop lente, the march—progress—of that poem is too slow. (T. de musique milit.), march. (T. de jeu d'échecs), the move. Je ne connais que la marche des pièces, I only know the moves. Vous faites fausse marche, you make a wrong move.

(T. milit.) L'armée est en marche, the army is marching—on its march. Voici l'ordre de marche, this is the route—the order of march. L'ennemi fit fausse marche pour nous tromper, the enemy tried to deceive us by a false—pretended—march—to conceal its right movement. Nous nous y rendîmes à marche forcée, we repaired thither by forced marches. Nous gagnâmes une marche sur l'ennemi, we stole a day's march on the enemy. Au milieu de la nuit, on sound la marche, in the middle of the night, the drums beat for marching. Les gardes ouvraient la marche, the guards opened the march—the procession.

(T. de marine.) Ce vaisseau a une bonne marche, this ship sails very fast—is a swift sailer. La flotte s'avançait en ordre de marche, the fleet advanced in order of sailing. Se mettre en marche, to sail. Ce mode de construction est le meilleur pour la marche, this mode of construction is the best for fast sailing.

MARCHÉ, s. m. market. Ces marchandises se vendent dans les marchés d'Orient, these goods find a sale in the markets of the East. Il y a un marché dans notre ville, our town is a market town. Avez-vous vu la place du marché, have you seen the market-place? Le marché au blé, the corn-market. Le marché aux légumes, the vegetable-market. Le marché aux chevaux, the horse-market.

(T. de ménage.) La cuisinière est allée au marché, the cook has gone to the market. Avez-vous fait un bon marché, have you bought things reasonably—have you got things cheap? Voyons votre marché, let us see what you have bought—your purchases? Le marché était bien mauvais aujourd'hui, there was nothing in the market to-day.

Je suis en marché avec lui pour sa maison, I am in treaty with him for his house. Vous avez fait un bon marché, you have got a good bargain. Il n'est pas content de son marché, he is not pleased with his bargain—purchase. Courir sur le marché d'un autre, to outbid a person. Le marché tient-il, does the market hold good? Il nous met toujours le marché à la main, he is ever telling us that we may leave it if we do not like it. Il vend à bon marché, he sells things cheap. On vit à bon marché ici, one lives very cheap here. Je ne croyais pas en être quitte à si bon marché, I did not think I should come off so cheap. Est-ce marché fait, is it a bargain—is it agreed? On n'a jamais bon marché de mauvaise marchandise, the best is always the cheapest. A grand marché faire, vous ne pourriez l'acheter, at the cheapest, you could not purchase it. Par-dessus le marché, in the bargain.

(Fig.) Vous aurez bon marché de lui, you will easily overcome him—get the better of him. Il fait bon marché de sa vie, he holds his life very cheap—he does not value his life.

MARCHEPIED, s. m. step; steps; footstep; stepping-stone; (t. de rivière.), towing-path.

MARCHER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. Cette demoiselle marche bien, that young lady walks well. Il a mal à la jambe, il ne peut pas marcher, he has a sore leg, he cannot walk. Marcher en avant, to walk forward. Il marchait à petits pas, he was stepping slowly—walking with short steps. Marcher à grands pas, to stride along—to walk fast. Marcher sur la pointe des pieds, to walk on tiptoes. Cet enfant ne marche pas tout seul, that child cannot walk yet. Marcher à pas de loup, to tread lightly—to approach by stealth. Marcher à quatre pattes, to go on all fours. Mon cheval marche vite, my horse walks quickly.

Vous avez marché sur quelque chose, you have trodden upon something. Il arrive, il marche sur mes talons, he is coming, he is treading on my steps—i. e. he is following me close. Il marche toujours sur mes talons, he is ever at my heels. Prenez garde, vous me marchez sur le pied, take care, you tread on my toes. (Fig.) Il ne se laisse pas marcher sur le pied, he does not allow people to take liberties with him. Il marche sur les traces de son père, he is treading in his father's footsteps, i. e. he is following the example of his father. Marchez là-dessus, tread upon this. Marchez sur cette araignée, tread upon this spider, i. e. put your foot upon it. Je marchais sur des épines, I was treading upon thorns.

Nous avons marché toute la nuit, we marched—journeyed—the whole night. Le prince marche sans suite, the prince goes about unaccompanied—without retinue. Ils marchaient à l'autel, they were going—proceeding—to the altar. Il marchait aux dignités, aux honneurs, he was gaining—attaining—dignities, honours. Il marche rapidement à l'échec, he will soon be a bankrupt. Il marche à mon but malgré les obstacles, I proceed to my aim in spite of obstacles. Marchons prudemment si nous voulons réussir, let us proceed—move—prudently if we wish to succeed. Marchez droit, act honestly—honest—keep in the right path. Cette affaire ne marche pas, that business does not proceed—does not advance. Marcher à tâtons, to proceed in the dark. Marcher de front, to go abreast—side by side. Tous ces événements marchent de front, all these affairs proceed together. Ce poème ne marche pas, that poem is without action—is slow in its march. Le temps marche avec rapidité, time passes—goes—with rapidity. L'esprit humain marche sans cesse, the human mind is ever advancing. La France marche à sa ruine, France is going to ruin—is advancing towards its ruin. Tout cela marchera devant vous, all these things will go—proceed—before you. Nous marchions sous ses lois, we were living under his law.

(T. milit.) L'armée marchait sur quatre colonnes, the army marched in four columns. Napoléon fit marcher l'armée sur l'Allemagne, Napoleon marched his army upon Germany. Nos soldats marchaient à l'ennemi, our soldiers marched up to the enemy.

(T. de marine.) Notre vaisseau ne marche pas bien, our ship is a bad sailer. Il marche bien au plus près, she sails well upon a wind. La flotte marchait en ligne, the fleet was sailing in good order.

v. a. (T. de chapelier.) Marcher l'étoffe d'un chapeau, to press the stuff—the felt—of a hat.

MARCHER, s. m. Je l'ai reconnu à son marcher, I recognised him by his gait—tread—fashion. L'homme est un rude marcheur, this road is rough walking.

MARCHEUR, s. m. } walker. Il n'est pas grand MARCHEUSE, s. f. } he is no walker. Mais c'est une grande marcheuse, my sister is a great walker—she walks a great deal. Notre bâtiment est bon marcheur, our ship is a good sailer.

MARCOTTAGE, s. m. planting; setting of slips—cuttings.

MARCOTTE, s. f. (t. de jardinage, d'agric.) cutting.

MARCOTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to layer—to plant by layers—to plant them.

MARDELLE, s. f. Voyez Margelle.

MARDI, s. m. Tuesday. Cela arriva un mardi, it happened on a Tuesday. Il est venu mardi, he came on Tuesday. Il viendra mardi, he will come on Tuesday. Tous les mardis, every Tuesday. Faire le mardi, to keep Shrove Tuesday.

MARE, s. f. (pron. mâre), pond; (t. de sucrerie) [illegible]

MARÉCAGE, s. m. marsh; marshy ground.

MARÉCAGEUX, EUSE, adj. marshy. Ce poisson a un goût marécageux, this fish has a muddy taste.

MARÉCHAL, s. m. marshal. Maréchal ferrant, farrier. Maréchal vétérinaire, horse, cattle leech. (Militaire.) Maréchal de camp, major-general. Maréchal de France, maréchal d'Empire, field-marshal. Tout soldat a dans son sac son bâton de maréchal, every soldier carries in his knapsack his baton of marshal. Il va devenir maréchal de logis, quarter-master. (T. de cour.) Le maréchal du palais, the master of the household.

MARÉCHALAT, s. m. dignity, office, of a marshal.

MARÉCHALE, s. f. title given to the lady of a marshal.

MARÉCHALERIE, s. f. farriery.

MARÉCHAUSSÉE, s. f. Voyez Gendarmerie.

MARÉE, s. f. tide. La marée montante, flood-tide. Marée basse, low water. Marée haute, high water. Marée morte, neap tide. Marée descendante, ebb-tide. Grande marée, spring tide. Nous profiterons de la marée, we will take advantage of the tide. Nous avons eu la marée, we had wind and tide in our favour. Nous avons lutté contre vent et marée, we were sailing against wind and tide. (Fig.) Elle a établi son fils contre vent et marée, she settled her son against every obstacle. Le flot qui vient de flot s'en retourne de marée, what is [illegible] gs the ebb takes away—fortune is as quick in going s coming.

IAREE, s. f. sea-fish. Arrêver comme marée en ca-, to come in seasonably.
IARELLE, s. f. (t. de jeu). Jouer à la marelle, to at hop-scotch.
IARENGO, A la (t. de cuisine). Un poulet à la rengo, is a fowl first roasted and then done with mush-m in fine oil.
IARÉYEUR, s. m. a carrier; a seller of sea-fish.
IARGAY, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.). Le chat tigre frique, margay.
IARGE, s. f. margin. Ces mots étaient écrits en ge, à la marge, these words were written in the mar-. Laissez de la marge, do leave margin enough. .) Nous avons de la marge, we have room—time—ugh.
IARGELLE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), the brim—kerb—e of a well. [margin.
IARGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to leave—make—a IARGINAL, E, adj. marginal.
IARGINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to write in the mar-. J'ai margiué ce livre, I have written notes in the gin of this book.
IARGOUILLIS, s. m. slop; mess; puddle. (Fig.) us ne savons comment sortir de ce margouillis, we know how to get out of that mess.
IARGOUILLISTE, s. m. Voyez Brouillon.
IARGRAVE, s. m. margrave.
IARGRAVE, s. f. margravine.
IARGRAVIAT, s. m. margraviate; dignity of mar-ve.
IARGUERITE, s. f. (t. de bot.), daisy. La grande rguerite, the China aster. Jeter des marguerites de-t les pourceaux, to throw pearls before swine.
IARGUILLERIE, s. f. office of churchwarden.
IARGUILLIER, s. m. churchwarden.
IARI, s. m. husband.
IARIABLE, adj. marriageable; fit to be married.
IARIAGE, s. m. marriage. Les liens du mariage, ons of marriage. Mariage in extremis, a marriage mitted on a deathbed. Mariage en détrempe, an illi-ntercourse. Mariage de la main gauche, marriage of hom, with a person who is of an inferior rank, called -hand marriage, because he gives the left hand instead e right: the children, though legitimate, do not in-t the rank or property of the father.
Chercher une demoiselle en mariage, to seek a young e in marriage. J'ai assisté à son mariage, I attended marriage—his wedding. Elle a fait un bon mariage, made a good marriage—she met with a good match. Et un mariage mal assorti, it is a bad match—an ill-ed match.
IARIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. M. L. a bien rié ses enfants, Mr. L. married his children well. Le l'évêque qui les a mariés, the bishop married them. Sophie est très-bien mariée, his daughter is well married -o made a good marriage.
Elle dit qu'elle ne se mariera pas, she says she will marry. Quand vous mariez-vous, when do you ry? Il s'est marié avec sa cousine, he married his in. Avec qui se marie-t-il, to whom is he going to married?
Fig.) Marier la vigne avec l'ormeau, to marry—to e—the vine with the elm. Les accents de sa voix se laient aux sons des instruments, the accents of her e united with the sounds of the instruments. Ces ots se marient bien, these two words go well to-er. Marier des couleurs, to blend colours.
La mariée est-elle jolie, is the bride pretty? Où sont ariés, where are the married couple? C'est un ne marié, he is a married man. Nous sommes de veaux mariés, we are lately married. Voilà deux qu'ils sont mariés, they have been married these two his.
Il se plaint que la mariée est trop belle, he complains the bride is too pretty, i. e. he finds fault with things ose they are too good.

MARIEUR, s. m. } match-maker.
MARIEUSE, s. f. }
MARIN, s. m. seafaring man; sailor; mariner. La vie des marins est périlleuse, the life of seafaring men is full of dangers. (Fig.) Marin d'eau douce, fresh water sailor.
MARIN, E, adj. Plante marine, sea-plant. Cheval marin, sea-horse. Les dieux marins, the marine deities. Montre marine, chronometer. Carte marine, a chart. Lieue marine, sea-league. Il a le pied marin, he has got his sea legs.
MARINADE, s. f. pickle. Manger un poulet en marinade, to eat a fowl with oil and vinegar.
MARINE, s. f. Il est dans la marine, he is in the navy. C'est un officier de marine, he is a naval officer. La marine marchande, the merchant service. Voilà une belle marine, this is a pretty sea-picture. Cela sent la marine, that has a sea taste—a taste of the sea.
MARINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pickle.
Marchandises marinées, goods damaged by the sea-water.
MARINGOUIN, s. m. (t. d'entom.), mosquito.
MARINIER, s. m. barge-man; boatman; waterman.
Officier marinier. Voyez Sous-officier de marine.
MARIONNETTE, s. f. puppet; fantoccini. Il fait jouer les marionnettes, he plays the puppets. Allons aux marionnettes, let us go and see the fantoccini.
(Fig.) C'est lui qui fait jouer les grandes marionnettes, he pulls the main strings which set everything in motion. Cette femme n'est qu'une marionnette, that woman is a mere puppet—has a light mind, yielding to every impression.
MARITAL, E, adj. marital; of a husband.
MARITALEMENT, adv. as a husband; like husband and wife.
MARITIME, adj. maritime. Les villes maritimes, the maritime towns. Les forces maritimes, the naval forces.
MARITORNE, s. f. (corruption de Mal-tournée), misshapen woman; ungainly woman. [vaux.
MARIVAUDAGE, s. m. writing in the style of Mari-MARJOLAINE, s. f. (t. de bot.), marjoram.
MARJOLET, s. m. a young beau; a foppish youth.
MARLE. Voyez Marne.
MARLI, s. m. sort of common coarse gauze.
MARMAILLE, s. f. brats; children.
MARMELADE, s. f. marmelade. (Fig.) Cette viande est trop cuite, elle est en marmelade, the meat is overdone, it is reduced to rags.
MARMENTEAU, s. m. (t. d'eaux et forêts), high tree left for ornament.
MARMITE, s. m. pot. La marmite bout-elle, does the pot boil? On leur donna une grande marmite de soupe, de pois, &c., they gave them a potful of soup, peas, &c. (Fig., fam.) La marmite bout dans cette maison, the pot boils in that house, i. e. they live well. La marmite est renversée, the pot is upside down, i. e. they do not give dinner parties. Son emploi servira à faire bouillir la marmite, his situation will help to boil the pot. C'est un écumeur de marmite, he is a parasite—a sponger. Il a le nez en pied de marmite, he has a flat nose.
MARMITEUX, EUSE, adj. poor; miserable.
MARMITON, s. m. scullion.
MARMONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mutter.
MARMOT, s. m. (singe), marmoset; (t. d'ameublement), knick-knack; figure.
(Fig., fam.) Il a un tas de marmots, he has a heap of brats. Que nous veut cette marmotte, what does that brat of a girl want with us? Croquer le marmot, to dance attendance—to wait.
MARMOTTE, s. f. marmot.
MARMOTTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mumble.
MARMOUSET, s. m. a small figure; little monkey. Quel vilain marmouset, what an ajaish face—an ugly mug!
MARNAGE, s. m. (t. d'agric.), manuring with marl.
MARNE, s. f. (t. d'agric.), marl.
MARNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'agric.), to marl; to manure with marl.

MARNEUX, EUSE, adj. marly.
MARNIÈRE, s. f. marlpit.
MARNOIS, s. m. large barge used to carry stone, wine, on the Seine, the Marne, &c.
MAROC, s. m. (t. de géogr.), Morocco.
MARONITES, s. m. (t. d'hist. rel.), monks whose principal convent is in Lydia, on mount Libanus.
MAROQUIN, s. m. morocco leather. Ses livres sont reliés en maroquin, his books are bound in morocco. Il avait des souliers de maroquin, he wore shoes of morocco leather.
MAROQUINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to make morocco; to imitate morocco.
MAROQUINERIE, s. f. the fabrication of—the art of making—morocco leather.
MAROQUINIER, s. m. morocco maker.
MAROTIQUE, adj. Des vers Marotiques, Marotic verses. Verses in imitation of the style of Clement Marot: he died in 1544.
MAROTISME, s. m. Marotic style.
MAROTTE, s. f. bauble; a fool's bauble. On représente Momus une marotte à la main, Momus is represented with a bauble in his hand. (Fig.) Chacun a sa marotte, every one has his hobby. C'est sa marotte, it is his hobby.
MAROUFLE, s. m. scoundrel; low fellow.
MAROUFLE, s. f. (t. de peinture), sort of strong paste used by painters.
MAROUFLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de peinture), to lay canvass on wood, or a wall, &c.
MARQUANT, E, adj. C'est une idée marquante, it is a striking idea. Il y avait là des personnes marquantes, there were there persons of note.
MARQUE, s. f. Ce mouchoir est à moi, voyez à la marque, that handkerchief is mine, look at the mark. Chaque marchand a sa marque particulière, every tradesman has his private mark. Mettre la marque sur de la vaisselle, to stamp—to put the stamp upon—plate. Cela est bien d'or, vous le voyez à la marque, that is of real good gold, you may see it by the stamp.
Il a été condamné à l'exposition et à la marque, he was sentenced to the exposition and the brand—,—to be exposed and branded.
Ne sachant pas écrire, il a mis—fait—sa marque, unable to write, he put his mark. Ils l'ont cruellement battu, il en a encore les marques, they beat him cruelly, he still bears the marks of it. S'il n'est pas plus poli, je lui ferai porter mes marques, if he is not more polite, I will beat him till I leave my marks on his body. Il a eu la petite vérole, il lui en reste des marques, he has had the smallpox, his face is all pitted. On voit la marque de ses doigts sur le livre, you see the marks—the prints—of his fingers on the book. La neige portait la marque de ses pas, the snow bore the mark—print—of his footsteps. Mon frère avait une marque au bras gauche, my brother had a mark on his left arm.
Les grosses épaulettes sont la marque du colonel, large epaulets are the distinctive marks of the rank of colonel.
J'avais mis une marque dans mon livre, I had made a mark—a sign—in my books. Quand un enfant est gai, c'est marque qu'il se porte bien, when a child is cheerful, it is a proof—a sign—he is well. (T. de jeu.) Il est heureux à la marque, he is liable to mark more than he has.
Il a donné des marques de courage, he has given proofs of courage. J'ai reçu des marques de son estime, I had proofs of his esteem. Une marque qu'il est vrai, c'est qu'il a laissé cela, a proof that he came is that he left that.
(T. de marine.) Lettre de marque, letter of mark.
MARQUER, v. a. r. rég. 1ère conj. Marquer du linge, to mark linen. Marquer des arbres, des moutons, to mark trees, sheep, &c. Marquer de l'argenterie, to stamp plate.
En France on ne marque plus les malfaiteurs, criminals are no longer branded in France.
Il a reçu un coup de pierre qui l'a marqué au front, he received a blow on his head from a stone which left a mark. (Fig.) De grands malheurs ont marqué le fond de sa vie, great misfortunes marked the end of his life. (T. de jeu.) Voulez-vous marquer les points? will you mark the points?

Sa mise marque ce qu'il est, his dress shows what he is. Sa conduite marque une bonne éducation, his conduct shows an excellent education. Ne lui marque pas ce qu'il doit faire? did you not point out to him what he is to do? Le jour est marqué, the day is marked—fixed. Le lui avez-vous marqué dans votre lettre? did you tell it him in your letter? Il me l'a marqué beaucoup d'amitié, he showed—he testified—much friendship. Cet homme a marqué dans la révolution, he was marked—was conspicuous—in the revolution. Le cadran ne marque pas, the sun is not out, the sun does not show the hour.
Il est né marqué, he was born with a mark. Comme ce chien est bien marqué! how beautiful the dog is marked! Elle est marquée de petite vérole, she is pitted with smallpox. Du papier marqué, marked paper. Il a des attentions marquées pour elle, he has paid her marked attentions. Il a les traits marqués, he has large features—his features are strongly marked.
MARQUETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to spot; to speckle. La peau de cet animal est marquetée de taches rouges bleues, the skin of that animal is speckled with red and blue spots.
MARQUETERIE, s. f. marquetry; inlaid work; mosaic work. (Fig.) Son discours est une vraie marqueterie, his speech is patchwork.
MARQUETTE, s. f. a lump—cake—of rye.
MARQUEUR, s. m. marker.
MARQUIS, s. m. (autrefois, c'était un titre d'honneur que l'on donnait au gouverneur des Marches, ou provinces frontières d'un Etat; maintenant, c'est un simple titre de noblesse), marquis. (Fam.) Il fait le marquis, he assumes the manners of a young extravagant nobleman. C'est un marquis de Carabas, he is like the marquis of Carabas, all belongs to him.
MARQUISAT, s. m. marquisate.
MARQUISE, s. f. marchioness; the lady of a marquis. (Espèce de tente), marquee.
MARRAINE, s. f. godmother.
MARRI, E, adj. Il est marri de l'avoir fait, he repents having done it. Elle en est fort marrie, she is very sorry for it.
MARRON, s. m. chestnut. Elle aime beaucoup les marrons glacés, she is very fond of candied chestnuts. Un marron d'Inde, the horse chestnut. (Fig.) Tirer les marrons du feu avec la patte du chat pour tirer les marrons du feu, to use a person as the cat's paw; to make use of him. Il était habillé de couleur marron, he had on a coat of a chestnut colour. (T. d'artific.), maroon. (T. milit.), mantlet. (T. de coiffure), large curl; bow.
MARRON, NE, adj. maroon. Nègre marron, negro run away black. (T. de commerce.) C'est un marron, he practises as a broker, but he is not acknowledged. C'est un marron, he has no license, he is not recognised.
MARRONNAGE, s. m. the running away of the blacks.
MARRONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (ancienne mode), to dress the hair in bows.
MARRONNIER, s. m. chestnut tree. Marronnier d'Inde, horse chestnut tree.
MARRUBE, s. m. (t. de bot.), horehound. Marrube aquatique, lycopus palustris.
MARS, s. m. (pron. mârs), Mars, the god of war.
MARS, s. m. Le mois de Mars, the month of March. Le huit Mars, on the eighth of March. Les giboulées de Mars, April showers. La bière de Mars est la meilleure, the beer brewed in March is best. Cela vient de Mars en carême, this comes very seasonably—in good time. (T. d'agricul.) Fixate de pâture, les bêtes sont perdus, for want of rain, the weeds grown on Mars are lost. (T. d'astron.) La planète de Mars, Mars. (T. de chim.), iron.
MARSEILLAISE, s. f. a patriotic hymn composed by Rouget de Lisle, in 1792, for the army of the Rhine.

ceed into Paris by the Marseillaise deputation, and nds known by the name of "La Marseillaise." evolutions of 1830 and 1848 have revived it, and it a national air.

RSOUIN, s. m. porpoise; sea-hog. (T. de ma- Le marsouin d'avant, the stemson of a ship.

RSUPIAUX, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), animals of the females have a pouch in which they carry their nes; kangaroo, opossum, &c.

RTAGON, s. m. (t. de bot.), martagon; turk's cap

RTE, s. f. Voyez Martre.

RTEAU, s. m. (t. d'ouvrier), hammer. Il manie marteau, he handles the hammer well. Un gros
u, a sledge. Marteau à dents, claw hammer.
t fait au marteau, that is worked with the hammer mmered. (Fig.) Etre entre l'enclume et le mar- o be between the anvil and the hammer, i. e., be-wo dangers—two different interests. Il a reçu un up de marteau, he is rather cracked.
teau d'horloge, the hammer of a clock. (Fig.)
pas sujet au coup de marteau, not to be subject to
; i. e., to be one's own master. Marteau de porte, cker of a door. Graisser le marteau, to fee, to he porter, in order to gain admittance. (T. de Les marteaux d'un piano, the hammers of a
(T. d'anat.), hammer.

RTEL, s. m. (vieux mot qui signifie "Marteau," ont on ne se sert que dans le sens figuré). Il a n tête, he is uneasy. Sa femme lui met martel en wife gives him cause of uneasiness.

RTELAGE, s. m. (t. des eaux et forêts), the of trees reserved by government for building

RTELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to hammer. De la e martelée, plate made with the hammer.
) Il martèle ses vers, he labours his verses; he m with difficulty. Ces vers sont martelés, these e laboured. Cette chose-là me martèle le cerveau, iness perplexes me—puzzles my brains.

RTELET, s. m. small hammer.

RTELEUR, s. m. hammerer; one who works with mer.

RTIAL, E, adj. martial; warlike. Proclamer la tiale, to read the riot act. Tenir une cour mar- hold a court martial. (T. de chimie.) Eau e, martial, ferruginous water.

RTICLES, s. f. (t. de marine). Voyez Martinet.

RTIN, s. m. (name generally given to an ass),
Martin bâton, a stick; a cudgel. La Saint Martinmas.

RTIN-PÊCHEUR, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), king-

RTINET, s. m. a rod used in schools; a flat candle-sh a handle, used in wine vaults. Sort of swallow.
ner in mills.

RTINGALE, s. f. (t. de manége), martingal. (T.
Jouer à la martingale, to double the stakes after m.

RTRE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), marten. Elle avait fourrée de martre, she wore a dress furred with skins. (Fig.) Prendre martre pour renard, to a marten for a fox, i. e., to make a mistake.

RTYR, s. m. (martyr. St. Etienne est le premier RTYRE, s. f.) martyr, St. Stephen was the first Toutes les religions ont leurs martyrs, all re-have their martyrs. (Fig.) Il est du commun des s, he is a common-place man. mmun.) Il est le martyr de la goutte, he is a to the gout. Il mourut martyr de son ambition, a martyr to his ambition.

RTYRE, s. m. martyrdom. Il souffrit le martyre, red martyrdom.
.) J'ai souffert le martyre toute la nuit, I suffered e—I was tortured—the whole night. C'est elle ui mon martyre, she causes my torment.

RTYRISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to martyrise; to MARTYROLOGE s. m. martyrology; the catalogue of martyrs.

MARUM, s. m. (prun. marome), tree-germander.

MASCARADE, s. f. mascarade.

MASCARET, s. m. eddy of water; violent tide.

MASCARON, s. m. (t. d'archit.), grotesque, hideous heads, used as supporters, &c.

MASCULIN, E, adj. masculine. Mettez donc cet adjectif au masculin, put that adjective in the masculine gender.

MASCULINITÉ, s. f. masculine quality, nature.

MASQUE, s. m. Il portait un masque hideux, he wore a hideous mask. Otez votre masque, take off your mask. On lui arracha son masque de la figure, they tore off his mask from his face. Autrefois les dames portaient des masques de velours noir (appelés "Loup") pour se garantir de la chaleur ou du froid, formerly ladies wore black velvet masks to keep themselves from the heat or from the cold.

Irez-vous en masque au bal? shall you go to the ball in character—in disguise?

Une troupe de masques se promenait dans les rues, a company of maskers was walking in the streets. Un joli masque vint m'intriguer, a pretty masker—a person in a pretty costume—came to tease—to intrigue—me. Courir les masques, to run about in the streets to see the maskers. (Fig.) Il lui fit un masque de ses deux mains, he covered his face with both his hands.

(T. d'injure, d'ironie.) Le vilain masque qu'il a! what an ugly face—mug—he has! (T. d'archit.) On a mis des masques à toutes les clefs des arcades, every keystone of the arcades was ornamented with a mask—a face. (T. de théât.) Grimaldi avait un bon masque, Grimaldi, the clown, had a humorous phiz.

(Fig.) Il cache une vie dissolue sous le masque de la dévotion, he conceals his dissolute life under an appearance—veil—of devotion. La générosité est le masque dont il se couvre, generosity is the mask under which he disguises himself. Je lui ai ôté son masque, I tore off his disguise—I exposed him.

MASQUER, v. a. e. r. rég. 1ère conj. On le masqua en arlequin, they disguised him as a harlequin. Nous nous masquâmes pour aller au bal, we disguised ourselves—we put on a masquerade dress—to go to the ball. Allez-vous au bal masqué? do you go to the masked ball?

(Fig.) Il masque ses desseins, he conceals his intentions. L'hypocrite se masque sous les dehors de la dévotion, the hypocrite cloaks himself under the appearance of religion. Il est toujours masqué, he always wears a false appearance.

Nous avons planté des arbustes ici pour masquer le mur, we planted shrubs here to hide—to cover—the wall. (T. milit.) Masquer une batterie, to mask a battery. Masquer une voile, to lay a sail aback. Nous étions masqués par le vent, we were taken aback.

MASSACRANTE, s. f. Il est d'une humeur massacrante, he is in a dreadfully bad humour.

MASSACRE, s. m. massacre; slaughter. On fit un massacre terrible des habitants, they made a dreadful slaughter—massacre—of the inhabitants. Quel massacre de gibier! what a slaughter of—what havoc among the—game!

(Fig.) N'employez pas ce tailleur, c'est un vrai massacre, do not employ that tailor, he is a dreadful bungler—mangler.

MASSACRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to massacre; to murder; to butcher. Ils furent cruellement massacrés pendant la nuit, they were cruelly massacred—slaughtered—butchered—during the night. On massacra tous les faisans, they slaughtered—killed—all the pheasants.

(Fig.) Comme vous massacrez vos effets! how you spoil—destroy—all your things! Le tailleur a massacré mon habit, the tailor spoiled—bungled—my coat. Vous avez massacré votre rôle, you have spoiled—bungled—your part.

Cela n'est pas découper, c'est massacrer une volaille, this is not carving a chicken, it is hacking it. Cette besogne est massacrée, that work is spoiled.

MASSACREUR, s. m. a murderer; (fig.), a bungler.

MASSAGE, s. m. (t. de médec.), shampooing.

MASSE, s. f. mass; bulk. La masse de l'univers, the mass of the universe. Tout cela était en masse, all that was in a mass, in a lump. Ces masses de lumière sont bien ménagées, those masses of light are well contrived.

L'ours, à sa naissance, ne paraît être qu'une masse sans forme, the cub of the bear, at its birth, seems to be a shapeless mass. Cette femme est une masse de chair, that woman is a mere lump of flesh. La masse de ses créanciers y consentit, the bulk, the greatest number of his creditors consented.

(T. de commerce; d'adminis. milit.) La masse de cette société est de 600,000 fr., the capital of that society amounts to 24,000*l.* sterling. La masse d'une compagnie, the fund of a company. Chaque soldat souscrit à la masse d'habillement, each soldier subscribes to the clothing fund. Masse active, active fund. Masse passive, passive fund. Une masse de plumes, 50 lbs. of feathers. On achète les soies, les pelleteries en masse, silks, furs, are bought in the lump.

(Outils, armes.) Masse de fer, pickaxe; rammer. Masse d'armes, club. On porte une masse devant les dignitaires, a mace is carried before the dignitaries. (T. de billard.) Jouer de la masse, to play with the mace. (T. de bot.) Masse d'eau, reed mace. (T. d'hist. nat.) Masse de héron, crest, tuft of a heron.

En masse, in a body; together.

MASSE, s. f. (t. de jeu), stake; pool.

MASSEPAIN, s. m. (t. de pâtissier), almond cake.

MASSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to mass; to form into groups, masses. (T. de jeu), to make a fund, a pool.

MASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to shampoo. L'usage de se faire masser nous vient de l'Orient, the custom of being shampooed comes from the East.

MASSETTE, s. f. (t. de bot.), reed mace.

MASSICOT, s. m. (t. de chim.), massicot; calcined ceruse.

MASSIER, s. m. mace-bearer.

MASSIF, IVE, adj. massive; solid. Cette croix est d'argent massif, that cross is of massive silver. (Fig.) Cet homme a l'esprit bien massif, that man has a very heavy mind.

MASSIF, s. m. Le massif de ce mur est de pierre, the bulk of that wall is of stone. Un beau massif d'arbres, a fine clump—grove—of trees.

MASSIVEMENT, adv. heavily; solidly.

MASSORAH, s. f. (t. de l'hist. sainte), a critique of the Scriptures by Jewish doctors.

MASSORETES, s. m. the Jewish doctors who arranged, examined, the Old Testament.

MASSUE, s. f. club. Il le tua d'un coup de massue, he killed him with one stroke of his club. (Fig.) C'est un coup de massue pour lui, that knocks him down—is like a thunderstroke to him.

MASTIC, s. m. (t. de bot.), mastic, mastich.

(Espèce de ciment), mastic; cement. Mastic de vitrier, putty.

MASTICATION, s. f. mastication.

MASTICATOIRE, s. m. (t. de médec.), masticatory.

MASTIGADOUR, s. m. (t. d'art vétérin.), sort of bit, so made as to excite mastication.

MASTIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cement. Mastiquer des carreaux de vitre, to secure panes of glass with putty; to put putty round them.

MASTODONTE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), mastodon, mammoth.

MASTOÏDE, adj. / MASTOÏDIEN, NE, adj. (t. d'anat.), mastoid.

MASTURBATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), self abuse.

MASULIPATAN, s. m. sort of cotton cloth made in India, at Masulipatam.

MASURE, s. f. ruinous cottage; old ruins; (fig.), a novel; mean habitation.

MAT, E, adj. (pron. le t). De l'or mat, dead, unpolished gold. Cette couleur est mate, this colour is dull. La broderie en est riche, mais elle est mate, the embroidery is rich, but dull—without brilliancy. Un son mat, a sort of hollow, dead sound.

(T. de boulanger.) Du pain mat, heavy bread. (T. de marine.) Une mer mate, a slow, heavy sea.

(T. d'échecs.) Il est mat, échec et mat, he is mated, checkmated. Voilà un joli mat, this is a pretty mate. Je lui ai donné—je l'ai fait—échec et mat, I checkmated him.

MÂT, s. m. (t. de marine), mast. Bâtiment à trois mâts, a ship with three masts. Le grand mât, the mainmast. Le mât de misaine, the foremast. Le mât d'artimon, the mizenmast. Le mât de beaupré, the bowsprit. Les mâts de hune, the topmasts. Mât de perroquet, topgallantmast. Guinder les mâts de hune, to hoist the topmasts an end. Caler les mâts, to lower the masts. Mât de fortune, jurymast. L'amiral porte ses pavillons au mât de misaine, the admiral hoists his flag on the foremast. Nous allions à mât et à cordes, we were scudding under bare poles. Ce mât est forcé, that mast is sprung.

MAT DE COCAGNE. Voyez Cocagne.

MATACHINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., syn. de Tatiner.

MATADOR, s. m. (t. de jeu de cartes), matadore.

MATAMORE, s. m. bragadoccio; a bully.

MATASSINS, s. m. sort of ancient dance; the name of those who danced it.

MATASSINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dance a matassinade (an armed dance of the sixteenth century); to frolic.

MATE, s. m. (t. d'hist.), name of a place, in Paris, where all cut-throats, swindlers, &c. used to meet; as the Mint, in London, or the old Alsatia in Whiteman.

MATELAS, s. m. (de lit), mattress. Je couche sur un matelas, I sleep on a mattress. (D'un carrosse), a cushion, squab.

MATELASSER, v. a rég. 1ère conj, to pad; to stuff; to garnish with cushions. Matelassé, stuffed; cushioned.

MATELASSIER, s. m. / MATELASSIÈRE, s. f. } one who makes mattresses.

MATELINEUR, s. m. touchy; ready to take fire.

MATELOT, s. m. seaman. La France a aussi de bons matelots, France has now able seamen. Mon frère est matelot, my brother is a sailor. Il est allé se faire matelot, he will absolutely be a sailor; he is gone to sea. C'est un matelot d'eau douce, he is a fresh-water sailor.

Il a perdu son matelot, he has lost his mate. C'était un bon matelot, he was a good comrade. Nous avons long-temps à bord du même bâtiment, nous étions matelots, we served a long time on board the same ship, were messmates.

La frégate la Thémis était notre matelot, the ship Themis sailed with us—in company with us.

(T. de toilette.) Il porte un matelot, he wears a sailor man's dress, jacket.

MATELOTE, s. f. (t. de cuis.), fish stew.

MATELOTE, À la, loc. adv., in a sailor's way—like a sailor.

MATER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to subdue; to conquer. Nous avons maté son orgueil, we have conquered his pride. J'ai eu bien de la peine à mater ce caractère, I had great difficulty to conquer his temper. (Fig.) to mortify; to macerate.

(T. d'échecs.) Je l'ai maté en douze coups, I checkmated him in twelve moves.

MÂTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mast. Mâts à mâter, sheers for masting; masting apparatus.

MÂTEREAU, s. m. small mast.

MATÉRIALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to materialise.

MATÉRIALISME, s. m. materialism.

MATÉRIALISTE, s. m. f. adj. materialist.

MATÉRIALITÉ, s. f. materiality.

MATÉRIAUX, s. m. pl. materials; (fig.), materials.

MATÉRIEL, LE, adj. L'âme de l'homme est immatérielle, the soul of man is not material. Il ne voit que de choses matérielles, he thinks only of things material. Cet ouvrage est trop matériel, that work is too eavy. (Fig.) Il a l'esprit bien matériel, he has a eavy, sluggish mind. Il faut distinguer le matériel avec le formel, we must make a distinction between the matter and the form.

s. m. (t. d'adminis. milit.) Le matériel n'est pas ncore prêt, the material is not yet ready. Le matériel : la flotte a coûté énormément, the material of the fleet is cost much.

Le matériel de cette imprimerie n'est pas complet, the ppurtenances of this printing-office are not complete.

MATÉRIELLEMENT, adv. materially; as to matter. Cette table est faite trop matériellement, that table is too aterial, too heavy. (Fig.) Faire les choses matérielle-ent, to do things in a plain matter-of-fact way—mpishly.

MATERNEL, LE, adj. maternal.

MATERNELLEMENT, adv. in a maternal, motherly ay.

MATERNISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to take after e's mother.

MATERNITÉ, s. f. maternity.

MATEUR, s. m. (t. d'art), a mechanic whose work is dealen gold, silver, &c.

MÂTEUR, s. m. mast-maker; mast-master.

MATHÉMATIQUE, s. f. mathematics. Etui de ma-matique, a case of mathematical instruments.

MATHÉMATIQUE, adj. mathematical.

MATHÉMATIQUEMENT, adv. mathematically.

MATIÈRE, s. f. (matériaux). Le bois, la pierre, le , sont les matières dont on fait les bâtiments, wood, ne, iron, are the materials which enter into the con-ction of buildings. On envoie à la monnaie toutes matières d'or ou d'argent, bullion of gold and silver ent to the mint. La matière première coûte peu, the r material is not expensive.

T. de phys.. de médec.), matter. (Fig.) Il est bien ncé dans la matière, he is very dull, heavy—he has a n—lumpish mind. Il s'élève au dessus de la matière, rises above matter—he is becoming intellectual. Il ède à fond la matière médicale, he is well acquainted h the materia medica. Il est sorti de la matière de blessure, matter—pus—came out of his wound. Matière rulente, purulent matter—pus. La matière végétale, etable matter. La matière cuite, the digested matter. matière électrique, the electric fluid.

Fig.) Quelle est la matière de son discours? what is matter—subject—of his speech? Il a bien choisi la ière, he chose his subject well. J'entre en matière, I r upon my subject. Nous avons parlé de toutes es de matières, we spoke on all sorts of subjects—ters. Allons, allons, il n'y a pas matière à se fâcher, e, come, there is no cause—no matter—to be angry. a donné matière à cette résolution? what gave rise—ject—to that determination?

Matière civile, civil matter. Matière criminelle, cri-al matter.

l a beaucoup d'expérience en matière de finances, he much experience in financial matters.

MATIN, s. m. the morning. Je travaille le matin, I in the morning. Ne venez pas le matin, venez le , do not come in the morning, come in the evening. s les matins, every morning.

MATIN, adv. Il viendra demain matin, he will come orrow morning. Je me lève de fort bon matin, I get ery early. Il est mort au matin de la vie, he died e morning of life. Il était trois heures du matin, it three o'clock in the morning.

MÂTIN, s. m. mastiff.

MATINAL, E, adj. early riser. Vous êtes bien matinal urd'hui, you have risen very early to-day. Pro-ade matinale, morning walk.

MATINALEMENT, adv. early in the morning.

MÂTINEAU, s. m. small mastiff.

MATINÉE, s. f. morning. Il passe la matinée à lire, pends the morning in reading. Il fait cela dans la née, he does all that in the morning. Les matinées fraîches, the mornings are now cool. Dormir la ée matinée, to sleep late in the morning.

MÂTINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ill use; to abuse.

MATINES, s. f., service de l'église de Rome qui se fait la nuit après minuit, matine.

MATINEUX, EUSE, adj. early riser.

MATINIER, ÈRE, adj. of the morning.

MATIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Voyez Mater.

MATOIS, E, adj. (mot formé de mate), cunning; sly.

MATOIS, E, s. m. f. C'est un rusé matois, he is a cunning fellow, sharper.

MATOISERIE, s. f. slyness; cunning; artfulness; roguery.

MATOU, s. m. large cat. (Fig.) C'est un désagréable matou, he is an ugly man; an unpleasant man.

MATRAS, s. m. (t. de chim.), mattress.

MATRICAIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), matricaria.

MATRICE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), womb; (t. de miner.), matrix; (t. de fonderie, d'imprimerie), matrix.

(T. d'adminis.) Où est la matrice du rôle? where is the stock book?

MATRICE, adj. L'église matrice, the mother church. Les couleurs matrices, the original colours. Langue matrice, mother tongue.

MATRICIDE, s. m. matricide.

MATRICULE, s. f. register. Il a payé sa matricule, he paid for his matriculation. Il faut qu'il montre sa matricule, he must exhibit his certificate of matriculation.

MATRIMONIAL, E, adj. matrimonial.

MATRONE, s. f. midwife; matron.

MATTE, s. f. (t. de métallurgie), matt.

MATURATIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), maturing.

MATURATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), maturation.

MÂTURE, s. f. (t. de marine), the masts, the yards of a ship. Je vais à la mâture, I am going to the mast-house.

MATURITÉ, s. f. maturity; matureness; ripeness. (Fig.) Cette affaire est dans sa maturité, that affair is mature. Agir avec maturité, to act maturely, with circumspection.

MATUTINAL, E, adj. early in the morning.

MAUDIRE, v. a. composé de mal, dire, conjugué comme appartenant à la 2de conj. Maudire, maudissant, maudit, e; je maudis, nous maudissons, &c.; je maudissais, &c.; je maudis, &c.; je maudirai, &c.; je maudirais, &c.; que je maudisse, &c.; que je maudisse, &c., to curse. Caïn a été maudit de Dieu, Cain was cursed of God. Il maudit le jour et l'heure où il est né, he curses the day and hour when he was born.

MAUDISSON, s. m. curse.

MAUDIT, E, adj. Ce maudit homme est venu me déranger, that plaguy—torment of a—man, came to disturb me. Mettez donc de côté votre maudit violon, do put aside your plaguy violin. Maudit soit le jour où je suis né, a plague on the day when I was born. Quel maudit chemin, what a plague of a road!

MAUDIT, s. m. cursed; accursed; wicked.

MAUGÈRE, s. f. (t. de marine), scupper-hole.

MAUGRÉER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to swear; to curse.

MAUPITEUX, EUSE, adj. cruel; pitiless. Faire le maupiteux, to look miserable; to complain.

MAURE. Voyez More.

MAUSOLÉE, s. m. mausoleum; monument.

MAUSSADE, adj. disagreeable; cross; ungracious. Il est d'une humeur maussade, he is in a cross humour. Le temps est maussade aujourd'hui, the weather is unpleasant to-day. Cet habit est d'une forme maussade, that coat has an awkward—ungainly—shape. Son livre est assez maussade, his book is dull enough.

MAUSSADEMENT, adv. with an ill grace.

MAUSSADERIE, s. f. ill humour; bad temper.

MAUVAIS, E, adj. bad. Nous avons de mauvais pain, we have bad bread. On nous donne de mauvaise viande, they give us bad meat. L'air est mauvais ici, the air is bad—unhealthy—here. C'est un mauvais homme, he is a bad, a wicked man. Il a bien mauvaise mine, he has a very bad appearance—he looks very ill. (Fig.) Il nous a fait mauvaise mine, he received us badly—he gave us a bad reception. Pourquoi lui faites-vous mauvaise mine? why do you look so cross upon him

MASSACREUR, s. m. a murderer; (fig.), a bungler.
MASSAGE, s. m. (t. de médec.), shampooing.
MASSE, s. f. mass; bulk. La masse de l'univers, the mass of the universe. Tout cela était en masse, all that was in a mass, in a lump. Ces masses de lumière sont bien ménagées, those masses of light are well contrived.

L'ours, à sa naissance, ne paraît être qu'une masse sans forme, the cub of the bear, at its birth, seems to be a shapeless mass. Cette femme est une masse de chair, that woman is a mere lump of flesh. La masse de ses créanciers y consentit, the bulk, the greatest number of his creditors consented.

(T. de commerce; d'adminis. milit.) La masse de cette société est de 600,000 fr., the capital of that society amounts to 24,000*l.* sterling. La masse d'une compagnie, the fund of a company. Chaque soldat souscrit à la masse d'habillement, each soldier subscribes to the clothing fund. Masse active, active fund. Masse passive, passive fund. Une masse de plumes, 50 lbs. of feathers. On achète les soies, les pelleteries en masse, silks, furs, are bought in the lump.

(Outils, armes.) Masse de fer, pickaxe; rammer. Masse d'armes, club. On porte une masse devant les dignitaires, a mace is carried before the dignitaries. (T. de billard.) Jouer de la masse, to play with the mace. (T. de bot.) Masse d'eau, reed mace. (T. d'hist. nat.) Masse de héron, crest, tuft of a heron.

En masse, in a body; together.
MASSE, s. f. (t. de jeu), stake; pool.
MASSEPAIN, s. m. (t. de pâtissier), almond cake.
MASSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to mass; to form into groups, masses. (T. de jeu), to make a fund, a pool.
MASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to shampoo. L'usage de se faire masser nous vient de l'Orient, the custom of being shampooed comes from the East.
MASSETTE, s. f. (t. de bot.), reed mace.
MASSICOT, s. m. (t. de chim.), massicot; calcined cerusse.
MASSIER, s. m. mace-bearer.
MASSIF, IVE, adj. massive; solid. Cette croix est d'argent massif, that cross is of massive silver. (Fig.) Cet homme a l'esprit bien massif, that man has a very heavy mind.
MASSIF, s. m. Le massif de ce mur est de pierre, the bulk of that wall is of stone. Un beau massif d'arbres, a fine clump—grove—of trees.
MASSIVEMENT, adv. heavily; solidly.
MASSORAH, s. f. (t. de l'hist. sainte), a critique of the Scriptures by Jewish doctors.
MASSORÈTES, s. m. the Jewish doctors who arranged, examined, the Old Testament.
MASSUE, s. f. club. Il le tua d'un coup de massue, he killed him with one stroke of his club. (Fig.) C'est un coup de massue pour lui, that knocks him down—is like a thunderstroke to him.
MASTIC, s. m. (t. de bot.), mastic, mastich.
(Espèce de ciment), mastic; cement. Mastic de vitrier, putty.
MASTICATION, s. f. mastication.
MASTICATOIRE, s. m. (t. de médec.), masticatory.
MASTIGADOUR, s. m. (t. d'art vétérin.), sort of bit, so made as to excite mastication.
MASTIQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cement. Mastiquer des carreaux de vitre, to secure panes of glass with putty; to put putty round them.
MASTODONTE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), mastodon, mammoth.
MASTOÏDE, adj. } (t. d'anat.), mastoid.
MASTOÏDIEN, NE, adj. }
MASTURBATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), self abuse.
MASULIPATAN, s. m. sort of cotton cloth made in India, at Masulipatam.
MASURE, s. f. ruinous cottage; old ruins; (fig.), a novel; mean habitation.
MAT, E, adj. (pron. le t). De l'or mat, dead, unpolished gold. Cette couleur est mate, this colour is dull. La broderie en est riche, mais elle est mate, the broidery is rich, but dull—without brilliancy. Il a mat, a sort of hollow, dead sound.

(T. de boulanger.) Du pain mat, heavy bread. (T. de marine.) Une mer mate, a slow, heavy sea.

(T. d'échecs.) Il est mat, échec et mat, he is mate, checkmated. Voilà un joli mat, this is a pretty mate. Je lui ai donné—je l'ai fait—échec et mat, I checkmated him.

MÂT, s. m. (t. de marine), mast. Bâtiment à trois mâts, a ship with three masts. Le grand mât, the mainmast. Le mât de misaine, the foremast. Le mât d'artimon, the mizenmast. Le mât de beaupré, the sprit. Les mâts de hune, the topmasts. Mât de perroquet, topgallantmast. Gruinder les mâts de hune, to rig the topmasts an end. Caler les mâts, to lower topmasts. Mât de fortune, jurymast. L'amiral porte en poste au mât de misaine, the admiral hoists his flag in the mainmast. Nous allions à mât et à cordes, we were under bare poles. Ce mât est foiré, that mast is sprung.

MAT DE COCAGNE. Voyez Cocagne.
MATACHINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dance a matassinade (an armed dance of the sixteenth century, a frolic.
MATADOR, s. m. (t. de jeu de cartes), matador.
MATAMORE, s. m. braggadocio; a bully.
MATASSINS, s. m. sort of ancient dance; the name of those who danced it.
MATASSINER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to dance a matassinade (an armed dance of the sixteenth century, a frolic.
MATE, s. m. (t. d'hist.), name of a place, a hall, where all cut-throats, swindlers, &c. used to meet; in the Mint, in London, or the old Alsatia in Whitefriars.
MATELAS, s. m. (de lit), mattress. Je couche sur un matelas, I sleep on a mattress. (D'un carreau, d'un coussin, d'un quadrilatère.)
MATELASSER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to pad; to stuff; to garnish with cushions. Matelassé, stuffed; padded.
MATELASSIER, s. m. }
MATELASSIÈRE, s. f. } one who makes mattresses.
MATELINEUR, s. m. touchy; ready to take offence.
MATELOT, s. m. seaman. La France a moins de bons matelots, France has now able seamen. Mon frère est matelot, my brother is a sailor. Il veut absolument se faire matelot, he will absolutely be a sailor, go to sea. C'est un matelot d'eau douce, he is a fresh-water sailor.

Il a perdu son matelot, he has lost his mate. C'est un bon matelot, he was a good comrade. Nous avons été long-temps à bord du même bâtiment, nous avons servi, we served a long time on board the same ship, were mates.

La frégate la Thémis était notre matelot, the frigate Themis sailed with us—in company with us.

(T. de toilette.) Il porte un matelot, he wears a man's dress, jacket.
MATELOTE, s. f. (t. de cuis.), fish stew.
MATELOTE, A la, loc. adv., in a sailor's way—like a sailor.
MATER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to subdue; to conquer. Nous avons maté son orgueil, we have conquered his pride. J'ai eu bien de la peine à mater mes passions, I had great difficulty to conquer his temper. (Fig.) to mortify; to macerate.

(T. d'échecs.) Je l'ai maté en douze coups, I have mated him in twelve moves.
MÂTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mast. Bâtiment à mâter, shears for masting; masting apparatus.
MÂTEREAU, s. m. small mast.
MATÉRIALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to materialize.
MATÉRIALISME, s. m. materialism.
MATÉRIALISTE, s. m. f. adj. materialist.
MATÉRIALITÉ, s. f. materiality.
MATÉRIAUX, s. m. pl. materials; (fig.), materials.
MATÉRIEL, LE, adj. L'âme de l'homme n'est pas matérielle, the soul of man is not material. Il n'existe que de choses matérielles, he thinks only of things material. Cet ouvrage est trop matériel, that work is too

…l. (Fig.) Il a l'esprit bien matériel, he has a …ry, sluggish mind. Il faut distinguer le matériel …e le formel, we must make a distinction between the …ter and the form.

…m. (t. d'administ. milit.) Le matériel n'est pas …e prêt, the material is not yet ready. Le matériel …flotte a coûté énormément, the material of the fleet …ost much.

…e matériel de cette imprimerie n'est pas complet, the …ressences of this printing-office are not complete.

MATÉRIELLEMENT, adv. materially; as to matter. …e table est faite trop matériellement, that table is too …rial, too heavy. (Fig.) Faire les choses matérielle… …; to do things in a plain matter-of-fact way—…ubly.

MATERNEL, LE, adj. maternal.

MATERNELLEMENT, adv. in a maternal, motherly …

MATERNISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to take after …mother.

MATERNITÉ, s. f. maternity.

MATEUR, s. m. (t. d'art), a mechanic whose work is …olen gold, silver, &c.

MATEUR, s. m. mast-maker; mast-master.

MATHÉMATIQUE, s. f. mathematics. Etui de ma…tiques, a case of mathematical instruments.

MATHÉMATIQUE, adj. mathematical.

MATHÉMATIQUEMENT, adv. mathematically.

MATIÈRE, s. f. (matériaux.) Le bois, la pierre, le …ent les matières dont on fait les bâtiments, wood, …iron, are the materials which enter into the con…tion of buildings. On envoie à la monnaie toutes …atières d'or ou d'argent, bullion of gold and silver …d to the mint. La matière première coûte peu, the …material is not expensive.

…f. de phys., de médec.), matter. (Fig.) Il est bien …e dans la matière, he is very dull, heavy—he has a …clumpish mind. Il s'élève au dessus de la matière, …es above matter—he is becoming intellectual. Il …de à fond la matière médicale, he is well acquainted …the materia medica. Il est sorti de la matière de …ssure, matter—pus—came out of his wound. Matière …feuse, purulent matter—pus. La matière végétale, …able matter. La matière cuite, the digested matter. …atière électrique, the electric fluid.

(fig.) Quelle est la matière de son discours? what is …matter—subject—of his speech? Il a bien choisi la …re, he chose his subject well. J'entre en matière, I …upon my subject. Nous avons parlé de toutes …s de matières, we spoke on all sorts of subjects—…s. Allons, allons, il n'y a pas matière à se fâcher, …come, there is no cause—no matter—to be angry. …a donné matière à cette résolution? what gave rise—…se—to that determination?

…tière civile, civil matter. Matière criminelle, cri…l matter.

…a beaucoup d'expérience en matière de finances, he …uch experience in financial matters.

MATIN, s. m. the morning. Je travaille le matin, I …in the morning. *Ne venez pas le matin, venez le …*do not come in the morning, come in the evening. …les matins, every morning.

MATIN, adv. Il viendra demain matin, he will come …row morning. Je me lève de fort bon matin, I get …y early. Il est mort au matin de la vie, he died …morning of life. Il était trois heures du matin, it …ree o'clock in the morning.

MATIN, s. m. mastiff.

MATINAL, E, adj. early riser. Vous êtes bien matinal …d'hui, you have risen very early to-day. Pro…e matinale, morning walk.

MATINALEMENT, adv. early in the morning.

MATINEAU, s. m. small mastiff.

MATINÉE, s. f. morning. Il passe la matinée à lire, …nds the morning in reading. Il fait cela dans la …ée, he does all that in the morning. Les matinées …fraîches, the mornings are now cool. Dormir la …matinée, to sleep late in the morning.

MÂTINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to ill use; to abuse.

MATINES, s. f., service de l'église de Rome qui se fait la nuit après minuit, matins.

MATINEUX, EUSE, adj. early riser.

MATINIER, ERE, adj. of the morning.

MATIR, v. a. rég. 2de conj. Voyez Mater.

MATOIS, E, adj. (mat formé de mate), cunning; sly.

MATOIS, E, s. m. f. C'est un rusé matois, he is a cunning fellow, sharper.

MATOISERIE, s. f. slyness; cunning; artfulness; roguery.

MATOU, s. m. large cat. (Fig.) C'est un désagréable matou, he is an ugly man; an unpleasant man.

MATRAS, s. m. (t. de chim.), mattress.

MATRICAIRE, s. f. (t. de bot.), matricaria.

MATRICE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), womb; (t. de miner.), matrix; (t. de fonderie, d'imprimerie), matrix.

(T. d'administ.) Où est la matrice du rôle? where is the stock book?

MATRICE, adj. L'église matrice, the mother church. Les couleurs matrices, the original colours. Langue matrice, mother tongue.

MATRICIDE, s. m. matricide.

MATRICULE, s. f. register. Il a payé sa matricule, he paid for his matriculation. Il faut qu'il montre sa matricule, he must exhibit his certificate of matriculation.

MATRIMONIAL, E, adj. matrimonial.

MATRONE, s. f. midwife; matron.

MATTE, s. f. (t. de métallurgie), matt.

MATURATIF, IVE, adj. (t. de médec.), maturing.

MATURATION, s. f. (t. de médec.), maturation.

MÂTURE, s. f. (t. de marine), the masts, the yards of a ship. Je vais à la mâture, I am going to the mast-house.

MATURITÉ, s. f. maturity; matureness; ripeness. (Fig.) Cette affaire est dans sa maturité, that affair is mature. Agir avec maturité, to act maturely, with circumspection.

MATUTINAL, E, adj. early in the morning.

MAUDIRE, v. a. composé de mal, dire, conjugué comme appartenant à la 2de conj. Maudire, maudissant, maudit, e; je maudis, nous maudissons, &c.; je maudissais, &c.; je maudis, &c.; je maudirai, &c.; je maudirais, &c.; que je maudisse, &c.; que je maudisse, &c., to curse. Caïn a été maudit de Dieu, Cain was cursed of God. Il maudit le jour et l'heure où il est né, he curses the day and hour when he was born.

MAUDISSON, s. m. curse.

MAUDIT, E, adj. Ce maudit homme est venu me déranger, that plaguy—torment of a—man, came to disturb me. Mettez donc de côté votre maudit violon, do put aside your plaguy violin. Maudit soit le jour où je vois né, a plague on the day when I was born. Quel maudit chemin, what a plague of a road!

MAUDIT, s. m. cursed; accursed; wicked.

MAUGÈRE, s. f. (t. de marine), scupper-hole.

MAUGRÉER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to swear; to pest.

MAUPITEUX, EUSE, adj. cruel; pitiless. Faire le maupiteux, to look miserable; to complain.

MAURE. Voyez More.

MAUSOLÉE, s. m. mausoleum; monument.

MAUSSADE, adj. disagreeable; cross; ungracious. Il est d'une humeur maussade, he is in a cross humour. Le temps est maussade aujourd'hui, the weather is unpleasant to-day. Cet habit est d'une forme maussade, that coat has an awkward—ungainly—shape. Son livre est assez maussade, his book is dull enough.

MAUSSADEMENT, adv. with an ill grace.

MAUSSADERIE, s. f. ill humour; bad temper.

MAUVAIS, E, adj. bad. Nous avons de mauvais pain, we have bad bread. On nous donne de mauvaise viande, they give us bad meat. L'air est mauvais ici, the air is bad—unhealthy—here. C'est un mauvais homme, he is a bad, a wicked man. Il a bien mauvaise mine, he has a very bad appearance—he looks very ill. (Fig.) Il nous a fait mauvaise mine, he received us badly—he gave us a bad reception. Pourquoi lui faites-vous mauvaise mine? why do you look so cross upon him

MEDITERRANÉE, s. f. (t. de géog.), the Mediterranean sea; the Mediterranean.

MEDIUM, s. m. (pron. me-dieme), medium. (T. de musique.) Il a la voix belle dans le medium, his voice is beautiful in the middle notes.

MÉDULLAIRE, adj. medullary.

MEFAIRE, v. n. 4e conj. des verbes composés, Mal faire, to do wrong.

MÉFAIT, s. m. bad action; misdeed.

MÉFIANCE, s. f. mistrust; distrust; suspicion; diffidence. Il me semble que vous portez votre méfiance trop loin, it seems to me that you carry diffidence—distrust—too far.

MÉFIANT, E, adj. mistrustful; suspicious.

MEFIER, SE, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Pourquoi vous méfiez-vous de lui? why do you distrust him—why do you entertain suspicions of him? Il se méfie de tout le monde, he trusts no one—he has no confidence in any one—he distrusts every body. Je me méfie de ses caresses, I distrust his caresses. Méfiez-vous, on veut vous tromper, take care, they wish to deceive you.

MÉGARDE. Par (loc. adverb. Mal-garde). Je l'ai fait par mégarde, I did it by mistake—inadvertently—unawares.

MÉGÈRE, s. f. (nom propre d'une furie employé comme subst.) Megæra. Il a épousé une vraie Mégère, he has married a downright fury—a violent woman.

MÉGIE, s. f. (t. de métier), the art of dressing white leather; tawing.

MÉGISSERIE, s. f. tawing; making white leather.

MÉGISSIER, s. m. tawer; white leather dresser.

MEILLEUR, adj. Comparatif de bon, better. Superlatif, le meilleur, la meilleure, les meilleurs, les meilleures, the best. Son frère est bon, mais sa sœur est meilleure, his brother is good, but his sister is better. C'est la meilleure leçon que vous puissiez recevoir, it is the best lesson you can receive. Donnez-nous de meilleur vin, give us better wine. Prenez le meilleur qu'il y ait, take the best there is. C'est le meilleur homme du monde, he is the best man in the world. Le meilleur n'en vaut rien, the best is good for nothing.

MEISTRE, } s. m. (t. de marine). Arbre de meistre, MESTRE, } main mast.

MÉLANCOLIE, s. f. melancholy; melancholiness; sadness. Il se laisse aller à la mélancolie, he abandons himself to melancholy. (Fig.) Il n'engendre point la mélancolie, he does not engender melancholy—i. e. he is a merry fellow.

MÉLANCOLIQUE, s. m. f. melancholic—gloomy—person; adj. melancholy; melancholious.

MÉLANCOLIQUEMENT, adv. melancholily; in a melancholic way; sadly; gloomily.

MÉLANGE, s. m. mixture; medley. La vie est un mélange de bonheur et de malheur, life is a medley of happiness and misfortune. C'est un bonheur sans mélange, it is happiness without alloy.

Le mélange des vins ne vaut rien, the mixing of wines is not good. C'est un mélange désagréable, it is an unpleasant mixture. Il entend bien le mélange des couleurs, he understands mixing colours well. Je n'aime pas ce mélange, I do not like that medley, that confusion.

Mélange de poésie, miscellany of poetry.

Le mélange des espèces en produit d'autres, the crossing—union—of various kinds, produces others.

MÉLANGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mix together. C'est du vin mélangé, this is mixed wine—that wine is not pure.

MÉLASSE, s. f. molasses; treacle.

MÊLÉE, s. f. Il y a eu une sanglante mêlée, there has been a bloody conflict—broil. Il se jeta dans la mêlée, he threw himself into the thick of the fray—into the fray. Je perdis mon chapeau dans la mêlée, I lost my hat in the fray. J'eus bien de la peine à me tirer de la mêlée, I had much difficulty to get out of the broil—fray.

MÊLER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to mix. Mêler de l'eau avec du vin, to mix water with wine. Mêler du blé avec de l'orge, to mix wheat with barley. Ce blé est mêlé de seigle, this wheat is mixed with rye. Ce marchand mêle ses vins, that merchant mixes his wines. L'huile ne se mêle pas avec l'eau, oil does not mix with water.

Comme vous mêlez vos papiers, how you mix—confuse—your papers! Tout est mêlé, every thing is pell-mell—is in confusion. Mon fil est mêlé, my thread is entangled. Mettez un bonnet de nuit, ou vous vous mêlerez les cheveux, put on a nightcap, or you will tangle your hair. Mêler les cartes, to shuffle cards. Ils ont mêlé les cartes, they embroiled the affair. Mêlez-vous en prié, ne me mêlez point dans vos discours, pray do not mix me—bring me up—in your speech. Je viens mêler mes larmes aux vôtres, I come to shed my tears with yours, i. e. to sympathize with you. Il sait mêler l'utile à l'agréable, he understands how to blend—what is useful with what is agreeable. Mêler les affaires au plaisir, they can blend business with pleasure together.

J'allai me mêler dans la foule, I went to mix in the crowd. Les familles se mêlent par des mariages, families mix—become mixed, through marriages. Les troupes se mêlèrent, the troops came close together—joined.

De quoi vous mêlez-vous, what do you meddle with? Il a réussi dans toutes les choses dont il s'est mêlé, he has succeeded in every thing he has interfered with—he has undertaken. J'ai voulu me mêler de la comédie, mais sans succès, I endeavoured to write a comedy—but was without success. Il se mêle de poésie, he meddles with poetry. Il se mêle un peu de tout, he meddles a little with every thing—. Je ne veux pas m'en mêler, I will not meddle with it—have any thing to do with it. Il se mêle de juger ce qu'il ne connaît pas, he will take upon himself to judge what he does not understand. C'est le diable qui s'en mêle, think the D— has a hand in it.

Les couleurs sont mêlées, the colours are mixed. Un drap de couleur blanche mêlée de taches noires, a cloth of a colour mixed with black spots. Il est mêlé dans une méchante affaire, he is implicated in a bad affair. C'est un marchand mêlé, he attends to several branches. La compagnie est mêlée, the company is mixed. Il a les dents mêlées, he speaks thick—he is tipsy.

MÉLÈZE, s. m. larch tree.

MÉLIE, s. f. sort of sail-cloth.

MÉLIER, s. m. sort of grape.

MÉLILOT, s. m. (t. de bot.), melilot; sweet trefoil.

MÉLIORATION, s. f. melioration; improvement.

MÉLISSE, s. f. (t. de bot.), balm mint; melissa. Eau de mélisse, ou des Carmes, melissa water.

MELLIFÈRES, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), mellifera insects.

MELLIFICATION, s. f. mellification; the making of honey.

MÉLLIVORE, adj. living on honey.

MÉLODIE, s. f. melody; music. Cet air a beaucoup de mélodie, that air is very melodious.

MÉLODIEUSEMENT, adv. melodiously.

MÉLODIEUX, EUSE, adj. melodious.

MÉLODIQUE, adj. melodious; according to the rules of melody.

MÉLODISTE, s. m. melodist; one who composes melodies.

MÉLODRAME, s. m. melodrame.

MÉLOMANE, s. m. one who is passionately fond of music; music mad.

MÉLOMANIE, s. f. excessive, mad love of music.

MELON, s. m. melon. Melon d'eau, water melon.

MELONGÈNE, s. m. sort of black cucumber eaten in Provence.

MELONNIÈRE, s. f. a bed for melons.

MELOPÉE, s. f. (t. de musique).

MELOPLASTE, s. m. meloplast.

MÉMARCHURE, s. f. (t. de manége), a stumble; a false step).

MEMBRANE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), membrane.

MEMBRANEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. d'anat.), membranous.

), limb; member. Il est nbre de moins, he returned . On l'a saigné des qua- in his four limbs. Il est , he has pains all over his tre he is a member of that ndre pourri qu'il faut re- member—which they must e phrase, the member of tion, member of an equa- mbres d'un bâtiment, the a ship. (T. d'archit.), bien membré, he is well bed; stoutly made. C'est made man.

rsonnes), frame. (T. de âtiment, the frame—the ure de ce vaisseau joue, ing. (T. de menuiserie), homme, he is the same couleur que le vôtre, my ours. Envoyez-nous du same wine. Il est tou- e.

do it myself. Il était me, he was quite altered, us fait de nous-mêmes, n accord.

it was the king himself that is the very thing. , that very person suffers même, God is wisdom it- me, that man is courage ême que c'est mal, I will Leur vertu même s'a- getting weaker. Il lui a, he injured him, and l vous en aurait prié, il ven he had begged it of it. Il lui aurait tout ve sacrificed everything il le désire, mais même r it, but he even will e d'une tartine, he was r. Ils buvaient à même f the same cup. ême de faire des obser- -occasion—I have had s. Vous êtes à même n your power to do him doue, vous êtes à même, ure you—you have it in même d'y aller, I gave ver—to go. e envers vous, he will de même, do the same, it is not the same—so rnée de même au nord, same way. De même e voudront, in the same hey will have it. Il fait sur la perdrix, anner as the bird does ême, that comes to the le billard.) Faire au (Fig.) Il vous fera like manner. ron. mé-mia-to). J'ai ut a memorandum in my pocket. (Liturgie catholique.) Il a oublié le memento des morts, he forgot the prayer for the dead.

MÉMOIRE, s. f. Il a une bonne mémoire, he has a good memory. Je manque de mémoire, je n'ai pas de mémoire, I have no—I want—memory. Si j'ai bonne mémoire, la chose fut ainsi, if my memory serve me well, it was so. La chose est présente à ma mémoire, the thing is still present in my memory. Ma mémoire m'a trahi, my memory failed me. J'ai écrit cela de mémoire, I wrote that from memory. Cultivez votre mémoire, mais ne la chargez pas de choses inutiles, cultivate your memory, but do not load it with useless things.

On n'en a pas conservé la mémoire, they have no remembrance of it. Il n'en est plus mémoire, it is forgotten—there is no remembrance of it. Il vivra toujours dans la mémoire des hommes, he will ever live in the memory—remembrance—of man. Je n'ai pas mémoire de l'avoir vu, I have no recollection of having seen him. De mémoire d'homme, on n'a rien vu de pareil, in the memory of man they have not seen anything like it. On a élevé un monument en mémoire de ses actions, a monument was erected in memory of his actions. Calomnier la mémoire d'une personne, to slander the name of a person. Il laisse une mémoire honorée, he leaves an honoured name behind him. Ce prince, d'heureuse mémoire, était, &c., that prince, of happy memory, was, &c. Cet homme de gourmande mémoire, that man of greedy memory.

Les filles de mémoire, the Muses. Le temple de mémoire, the temple of glory.

MÉMOIRE, s. m. memorial. Il a présenté son mémoire au roi, he presented his memorial to the king. Qui a dressé ce mémoire, who drew up this memorial?

(T. de littérature.) Cela se trouve dans les Mémoires de l'Académie, that is to be found in the Memoirs of the Academy. Les Mémoires de Sully sont instructifs, the Memoirs of Sully are instructive. Il a travaillé sur de bons mémoires, he has worked upon good documents.

(T. de commerce.) Voici le mémoire de mon tailleur, here is the bill—the account—of my tailor. (Fam.) C'est un vrai mémoire d'apothicaire, it is an exorbitant bill.

MÉMORABLE, adj. memorable.

MÉMORATIF, IVE, adj. remembering; bearing in memory.

MÉMORIAL, s. m., plur. Mémoriaux, memorial.

MÉMORIALISTE, s. m. memorialist.

MENAÇANT, E, adj. threatening; menacing.

MENACE, s. f. threat; menace. Je ne crains point ses menaces, I fear not his threats. Ce sont des paroles de menace, these are threatening words.

MENACER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to threaten; to menace. Il me menaçait de coups, he threatened to beat me. Il la menaçait des yeux, he looked at her with threatening looks. Nous sommes menacés de la guerre, we are threatened with war. Ces montagnes élevées semblent menacer les cieux, those high mountains seem to threaten the heavens. Nous sommes menacés d'une banqueroute, we are menaced with a bankruptcy. Nous avons échappé au danger dont nous étions menacés, we have escaped the danger with which we were threatened.

(Fam.) Vous nous menacez toujours de venir, mais vous ne venez pas, you always threaten to come, but you do not.

MÉNADE, s. f. Bacchante.

MÉNAGE, s. m. C'est un heureux ménage, that is a happy couple. Ils font bon ménage, they live happily together—they agree. Ils font très-mauvais ménage, they live unhappily together—disagree. Quelque chose a troublé ce ménage, something has disturbed that couple. C'est un joli ménage, they are a nice couple. On va la mettre en ménage, they are going to marry her—to establish her. J'étais bien jeune quand j'entrai en ménage, I was young when I married—when I began house-keeping. Il y a trois ménages dans cette maison, there are three couples—families in that house.

Madame L. tient bien son ménage, Mrs. L. keeps her house well—manages her household affairs well. Il donne tant à sa femme pour faire aller le ménage, he allows his wife a sum for household expenses. Elle entend bien les affaires du ménage, she perfectly understands housekeeping. C'est un ménage bien réglé que le leur, theirs is a well-regulated house.

Ménage de garçon, bachelor's household. Ces deux jeunes gens font ménage ensemble, these two young men live together—keep house together. Ils font ménage commun, they live together.

J'ai une domestique qui tient bien mon ménage, I have a maid who keeps my house clean. Elle est plus propre au ménage qu'à la cuisine, she is fitter for house-work than for the kitchen. Elle fait son ménage, she puts things in order. Elle n'a pas encore fait son ménage, she has not cleaned the house yet. Une femme vient faire mon ménage tous les jours, a woman comes daily to sweep my room.

Toile de ménage, household cloth. Pain de ménage, home-made bread. C'est une bonne boisson de ménage, it is good family drink. Femme de ménage, charwoman. Elle gagne sa vie à faire des ménages, she supports herself by going out charing. C'est un remue ménage, he is a disorderly man—a restless head. (T. de jeu de cartes.) Faites votre ménage, pick up the cards.

Il entend bien le ménage, he understands economy—saving—in housekeeping. Ils vivent de ménage, they live with economy. (En plaisantant.) Il vit de ménage, he lives on his own resources, i. e. he sells all he has to eat and drink. (Fam.) Ce sont des ménages de bouts de chandelle, that is to be pennywise and pound foolish.

MÉNAGEMENT, s. m. Garder des ménagements envers une personne, to have attention—circumspection—towards a person. On l'a traité sans ménagement, he was treated unsparingly. Cette affaire demande des ménagements, that business requires care—circumspection—caution. Sa santé demande du ménagement, his health requires much care.

Le ménagement de leurs affaires demande du soin, the managing of their affairs requires care.

MÉNAGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il ménage bien son revenu, he uses—he manages—he husbands—his income well. Il ménage tout ce qu'il peut dans la maison, he saves all he can in his house affairs. Il ménage pour ses enfants, he economises—he saves—for his children.

Vous ne savez pas ménager le temps, you do not understand how to make good use of your time. Ménagez vos paroles avec lui, speak to him with circumspection—weigh your words. Vous ne lui avez pas ménagé vos paroles, you have not been circumspect enough in speaking to him. Ménagez votre santé, vos forces, be careful of your health—of your powers—use them moderately. Ménagez bien mes intérêts, take good care of my interests—do not commit my interest. Vous ne vous ménagez pas, you do not take care of yourself. Adieu, ménagez bien votre santé, good bye, take good care of your health. Il sait se ménager avec tout le monde, he contrives to be on good terms with all. Il est difficile de se ménager entre deux ennemis, it is difficult to keep on good terms between two enemies. Davoust ménageait ses troupes, Davoust spared—used sparingly—his troops. Je ménage mon cheval, I spare my horse. Qui veut voyager loin ménage sa monture, he who will ride far takes care of his beast. Je lui en ménagerai l'occasion, I will procure the opportunity for him—I will contrive an opportunity. On a ménagé un escalier dans le mur, they contrived to place a staircase inside the wall. Les ombres sont bien ménagées dans ce tableau, the shadows are well contrived—disposed—in that picture. Il ne sait pas ménager sa voix, he knows not how to manage his voice. Fiez-vous à lui, il ménagera bien tout cela, leave it to him, he will manage—conduct—all that.

Je lui ai ménagé une place, I contrived to get a place for him. Il a su se ménager l'amitié de tout le monde, he has managed to obtain the friendship of all.

Je n'ai rien à ménager avec lui, I have no measures to keep with him.

MÉNAGER, ÈRE, adj. saving; one who takes care of things. Il est bon ménager, he is saving; he understands economy. L'homme sage est ménager de ses paroles, the wise man is sparing of his words.

MÉNAGÈRE, s. f. housekeeper.

MÉNAGERIE, s. f. menagerie.

MENDIANT, s. m. } beggar. (Hist. relig.) Il y
MENDIANTE, s. f. } avait quatre ordres mendiants, les Jacobins, les Franciscains, les Augustins et les Carmes, there were four orders of mendicants, the Jacobins, the Franciscans, the Augustines, and the Carmelites.

(T. de table.) On nous servit des mendiants, they served us dried figs, nuts, raisins, and almonds. These dried fruits were called "les quatre mendiants," in allusion to the four mendicant orders, to whom they were given as alms in winter and Lent. The collection of dried fruits was a regular thing in Italy. "Vespa, dice il poi, per la cerca delle noci." Manzoni.)

MENDICITÉ, s. f. mendicity.

MENDIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to beg. Il mendie son pain, he begs his bread. Il est réduit à mendier porte en porte, he is reduced to beg from door to door.

(Fig.) Il mendie la faveur, he begs for favor.

MENEAU, s. m. (t. d'archit.), mullion.

MENÉE, s. f. underhand dealings—parties. Il a découvert ses menées secrètes, I found out his secret practices—practices. (T. de chasse.) Suivre la menée, to follow the track—the treading—of a stag.

MENER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj.

Je vous mènerai en Écosse, I will take you with me. Les mènerez-vous à Paris, will you take them with you? Il mènera tout son monde avec lui, he will travel with family with him. Où mène-t-on ces gens, where are they taking these people? Dites-lui de mener ma jument à l'écurie, tell him to take my horse to the stable. Voulez-vous me mener chez elle, will you take me with you to her house? Je vous mènerai chez le général, I will take you with me to the house of the general.

Il mène une vie fort triste, he leads a sad life. Il mène grand train, he lives gaily, he has a great coach.

L'officier mène ses troupes au combat, the officer leads his soldiers to battle. C'était lui qui menait à la mort, he was leading them to death. C'est lui qui mène la danse, it is he who leads others—who is the leader. Il mène à la baguette, he leads them with a rod—severely. Il nous mène tambour battant, he leads us with a rod—severely.

Mener doucement, to use—to treat—one gently. Mener des enfants par la lisière, to lead children in leading strings. Il se laisse mener par le nez, he suffers himself to be led by the nose. C'est sa femme qui le mène, his wife leads him. A quoi cela vous mènera-t-il, what will that lead you? Cela ne mène à rien, that leads to nothing. La débauche mène à la misère, debauch leads to poverty. Cette somme ne vous mènera pas loin, that sum will not carry you far.

Cette route ne mène-t-elle pas à L—, does not that road lead to L—? Tout chemin mène à Rome, every road leads to the same purpose.

Il mènera le deuil, he will be the chief mourner. Il mène la danse, he leads the dance.

Le berger mène ses troupeaux paître, the shepherd leads his flocks to the pasture. Mener les chevaux à l'eau, to lead the horses to the watering-place.

Mener des chevaux, une voiture, to drive horses, a carriage. Ce postillon mène bien, that postilion drives well. Il mène une voiture à quatre chevaux, he drives a coach with four horses. Voulez-vous que je vous y mène dans mon cabriolet, shall I take you there in my cab? Mener un bateau, to steer—conduct—a boat. (Fig.) Il a mené sa barque, he managed his concerns very well.

Il mène très-bien ses affaires, he manages very well—his affairs well. Elle mène bien son ménage, she conducts—manages—her house well.

Prenez garde, cet homme vous mène, take care, he deceives you with promises. Il y a six mois que vous me menez, you have now deceived me for the last six months with your fine promises.

MÉNESTREL, s. m. (pron. mé-nè-trel), minstrel.

MÉNÉTRIER, s. m. minstrel; fiddler.

MENEUR, s. m. }
MENEUSE, s. f. } leader.

MÉNIANE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), small balcony.

MÉNIANTHE, s. f. (t. de bot.), water trefoil.
MENIN, s. m. (formerly) the name given to six young noblemen attached to the person of the Dauphin; (now) favourite.
MÉNINGE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), meninges.
MÉNISQUE, s. m. meniscus. (T. d'opt.), a lens convex on one side, concave on the other.
MENON, s. m. goat of which the hide is used to make morocco leather.
MENOTTE, s. f. small hand.
MENOTTES, s. f. handcuff. On lui a mis les menottes, they handcuffed him.—(fig.), they have so tampered him that he cannot act.
MENSE, s. f. the revenue of a living.
MENSONGE, s. m. lie; falsehood; untruth. Faire un mensonge, to tell an untruth. J'ai été la dupe un mensonge, I was the dupe of an untruth. (Fig.) Le monde n'est que mensonge, the world is nothing but illusion. Ce sont les mensonges de la poésie, they are the vain deceptions of poetry. [truths; false.
MENSONGER, ÈRE, adj. deceiving; full of un-MENSTRUATION, s. f. monthly course; puberty.
MENSTRUE, s. f. (t. de chim.), menstruum.
MENSTRUE, E, adj. having regular monthly courses.
MENSTRUEL, LE, adj. (t. de médec.), menstrual.
MENSTRUES, s. f. (t. de médec.), menstrual course.
MENSUEL, LE, adj. monthly.
MENSUELLEMENT, adv. monthly.
MENTAL, E, adj. mental.
MENTALAGRE, adj. disease of the chin.
MENTALEMENT, adv. mentally.
MENTERIE, s. f. falsehood; lying. Je l'ai surpris en menterie, I caught him lying. Il ne fait que dire des menteries, he is ever telling lies—falsehoods—flts.
MENTEUR, s. m. adj. [lyer; lying; deceitful. C'est MENTEUSE, s. f. adj.] un grand menteur, he is a terrible—a great lier. C'est une femme menteuse, she is a lying—a deceitful woman. Quelle physionomie menteuse, what a false—deceitful—countenance.
MENTHE, s. f. (t. de bot.), mint.
MENTION, s. f. Je ferai mention de vous dans ma lettre, I will mention—I will make mention of—you in my letter. Il en est fait mention dans l'histoire, he is mentioned in history. (T. d'école.) Il a obtenu une mention honorable, he obtained the distinction of being honourably named.
MENTIONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mention.
MENTIR, v. n. rég. 3ème conj. (voyez Sentir), to lie; to tell untruths. Elle n'a jamais menti, she never told an untruth. Il en a menti par la gorge, he has lied in his throat. Il ment à sa conscience, he deceives himself in his own conscience. Il ment comme un arracheur de dents, he lies like a dentist, i. e. with effrontery; (a dentist always says he will not hurt you.) Sans mentir—à ne pas mentir, truly. A beau mentir qui vient de loin, a traveller may lie with impunity. Bon sang ne peut mentir, an honest mind cannot condescend to lie.
MENTON, s. m. chin. Il n'a pas encore de barbe au menton, he has no beard on his chin yet. Elle a un menton triple étage, she has a treble chin.
MENTONNIÈRE, s. f. chin-band.
MENTOR, s. m. (pron. Min-tor, nom propre employé en subst.) Il est leur Mentor, he is their guide—their tutor.
MENU, s. m. Dressez le menu du dîner, make the bill of the dinner.
MENU, E, adj. slender; thin; small. Elle est menue comme une allumette, she is as small—as thin—as a match. Un grand homme menu est venu vous demander, a tall, slender, man came to ask for you. Elle a les bras menus, her arms are so slender, so thin.
Menu plomb, small shot. Menu rôt, small birds. Menu gravier, small gane. Menu bétail, small cattle. Menues dîmes, small tithes. Menus frais, small expenses. On me donne dix francs par mois pour ses menus plaisirs, they give him ten francs a month for his pocket money. Voyez les mots avec lesquels "menu" s'emploie.
MENU, adv. Comme vous écrivez menu, how small you write. Il pleuvait dru et menu, the rain was falling thick and small.
MENUAILLE, s. f. trash. Menuaille (small fish), fry. (Petites pièces.) Il nous a payés en menuaille, he paid us in small coins.
MENUET, s. m. (t. de danse), minuet.
MENUISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to do carpenter's—joiner's work.
MENUISERIE, s. f. joinery; joiner's work.
MENUISIER, s. m. joiner.
MÉPHITIQUE, adj. mephitic.
MÉPHITISME, s. m. mephitic smell.
MÉPLAT, s. m. (t. de peinture), the disposition of the bones.
MÉPRENDRE, Se, v. r. 8ème conj. des verbes composés (Mal-prendre), to make a mistake; to mistake. Ces jeunes gens se ressemblent tellement qu'il n'y a personne qui ne s'y méprenne, these young men are so like each other that every one mistakes the one for the other. Vous vous êtes mépris, you have made a mistake.
(Fig.) Vous vous méprenez si vous me parlez ainsi, you forget yourself when you speak to me in this way.
MÉPRIS, s. m. contempt. Il m'a traité avec mépris, he treated me with contempt. Il est digne de mépris, he is worthy of contempt. Je ne puis endurer ses mépris, I cannot endure his contemptuous manner. Il y a été au mépris de sa vie, he went there in contempt of his life.
MÉPRISABLE, adj. despicable; contemptible; vile. Il n'est rien de plus méprisable que de flatter les méchants, there is nothing so contemptible as to flatter the wicked.
MÉPRISE, s. f. mistake; blunder. Il l'a fait par méprise, he did it by mistake.
MÉPRISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to despise; to have contempt for. Tout le monde le méprise, every one despises him. On ne l'aime pas, parce qu'il est si méprisant, he is disliked because he is so contemptuous—so scornful. Il méprise le danger, he scorns—he has a contempt for—danger. C'est un homme méprisé, he is a despised man.
MER, s. f. sea. Poisson de mer, sea-fish. Bains de mer, sea-baths. Toulon est un beau port de mer, Toulon is a fine sea-port. Les gens de mer, seafaring people. C'est un bon homme de mer, he is an able seaman. Armée de mer, fleet—sea-forces. La mer est grosse, the sea is heavy. La mer est houleuse, there is a ground swell. Nous partirons à haute mer, we shall sail at high tide—water. A basse mer, on ne peut s'approcher du port, at low water you cannot approach the harbour. Aller en mer, to go to sea. Faire un voyage par mer, to go a voyage. Mettre un vaisseau en mer, à la mer, to take a ship out to sea. Prendre la haute mer—la pleine mer, to run out to sea. Nous sommes en pleine mer, we are now out at sea. Mettre en mer—à la mer, to sail. Notre vaisseau ne peut plus tenir la mer, our ship is no longer sea-worthy. La mer est étale, it is slack water. Il y a de la mer, the sea is rough. La mer est basse sur cette côte, the sea is shallow on this coast. Un coup de mer emporta notre gouvernail, a sea carried away our rudder. Porter de l'eau à la mer, to carry coal to Newcastle. Ce n'est pas la mer à boire, it is not difficult.
MERCANTILE, adj. mercantile; commercial.
MERCANTILLE, s. f. Faire la mercantille, to carry on trade.
MERCENAIRE, s. m. mercenary; hireling.
MERCENAIRE, adj. mercenary; venal. Cet homme est un vil mercenaire, that man is too mercenary, too venal.
MERCENAIREMENT, adv. in a mercenary way.
MERCERIE, s. f. mercery; silk goods.
MERCI, s. f. mercy. Implorer la merci divine, to implore divine mercy. Il est sans merci, he is without mercy—merciless. Nous sommes à sa merci, we are at his mercy. Elle demeura dans le bois à la merci des bêtes sauvages, she remained in the woods, exposed to the mercy of the wild beasts. Faire merci, to grant mercy—to spare. Crier merci, demander merci, to sue, to cry out for mercy—for pardon.

MERCI, s. m. Grand merci, thanks. Cela vaut bien un grand merci, surely that is worth saying, I thank you. Dieu merci, thank God. Merci, thanks. Merci de ma vie ! voyez Vertu.

MERCIER, s. m. mercer. Mercier ambulant, pedlar. (Fig.) A petit mercier, petit panier, we must proportion our expenses to our revenue.

MERCREDI, s. m. Wednesday. Je l'ai vu mercredi, I saw him on Wednesday. Il vient tous les mercredis, he comes every Wednesday.

MERCURE, s. m. (Dieu de la Fable), Mercury. (T. de litter.) Je suis abonné au Mercure de France, I take in the French Mercury. (Vif argent), mercury. On n'a pas encore pu fixer le mercure, they have not as yet been able to fix mercury.

MERCURIALE, s. f. (t. de médec.), mercurialis.

MERCURIALE, s. f. reprimand ; lecture. On lui a fait une forte mercuriale, they addressed a very severe lecture to him. (T. de commerce), report of market-prices.

MERCURIEL, LE, adj. (t. de médec.), mercurial.

MERDE, s. f. the excrements of man, of the dog and MERDEUX, EUSE, adj. dirty ; filthy. [rat.

MÈRE, s. f. mother. Ma mère, venez ici, mother, come hither. Elle est bonne mère, she is a good mother. Mère dénaturée, unnatural mother. Elle est mère de famille, she is the mother of a family—she has a family. Mère nourrice, foster-mother. Grand'mère, grandmother. Belle-mère, step-mother. Belle-mère, mother-in-law. Notre mère commune, our common mother, the earth. Contes de ma mère l'oie, cock and bull stories. Dites donc, la mère, approchez, I say, good old mother, just come here. La mère abbesse, the mother abbess.

Langue mère, mother tongue. La mère patrie, the mother country. (T. d'anat.) Dure mère, dura mater.

MÈRE, adj. Mère laine, the purest wool.

MÉRELLE, s. f. Voyez Marelle.

MÉRIDIEN, s. m. (t. de géogr.), meridian.

MÉRIDIENNE, s. f. adj. meridian.

MÉRIDIENNE, s. f. nap; sleep taken in the middle of the day. Il fait sa méridienne, he is taking his nap —he is having a nap. Voyez Sieste.

MÉRIDIONAL, E, adj. meridional ; southerly.

MÉRINGUE, s. f. (t. de pâtisserie), cream-cake.

MÉRINOS, s. m. merino. Un troupeau de mérinos, a flock of merinos. Elle avait une jolie robe de mérinos, she had a pretty merino dress.

MERISE, s. f. small cherry.

MERISIER, s. m. wild cherry-tree.

MÉRITANT, E, adj. deserving. C'est un homme fort méritant, he is a very deserving man.

MÉRITE, s. m. merit. Un homme de mérite, a man of merit. Il est plein de mérite, he is full of merit. On doit donner les emplois au mérite, places should be given to merit. Son grand mérite est de savoir se taire à propos, his great merit is to know when to be silent. Il n'y a pas de mérite à faire cela, there is no merit in doing that. Cet ouvrage est d'un grand mérite, this work is of great merit. Sa modestie relève le mérite de son action, his modesty adds to the merit of his action. Il se fait un mérite de sa charité, he makes a merit of his charity. Il s'en donne le mérite, he takes the merit of it to himself. J'ai fait valoir ses mérites auprès du prince, I spoke highly of his merits to the prince.

Dieu nous récompensera suivant nos mérites, God will reward us according to our deserts.

MÉRITER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to deserve. Il mérite une récompense pour cette action, he merits—deserves —a reward for that action. Il ne mérite pas l'honneur que vous lui faites, he does not merit the honour you do him. Il mérite d'être loué, he deserves to be praised. Je ne mérite pas que vous fassiez cela, I do not deserve your doing that. Il a bien mérité de sa patrie, he has merited well of his country. Cela ne mérite pas qu'on en parle, that does not deserve to be spoken of. Cela ne mérite pas d'être répété, that is not worth repeating.

Son excellente conduite lui a mérité l'estime de tous, his excellent conduct has gained him the esteem of all.

MÉRITOIRE, adj. meritorious.

MÉRITOIREMENT, adv. meritoriously.

MERLAN, s. m. (sorte de poisson de mer), whiting

MERLE, s. m. blackbird. (Fig.) C'est un fin merle, he is a cunning fellow. Vous jasez comme un merle, you are a great chatterbox.

MERLETTE, s. f. (t. de blason), martlet.

MERLIN, s. m. a butcher's hammer ; [cordage] (t. de marine), marlinespike.

MERLON, s. m. (t. de fortif.), merlon.

MERLUCHE, s. f. stockfish.

MERRAIN, s. m. staff-wood ; staves ; [cask-staves].

MERVEILLE, s. f. marvel ; wonder. C'est une merveille de beauté, she is wonderfully beautiful—she is a marvel of beauty. C'était merveille de l'entendre, it was wonderful to hear him. C'est merveille qu'il ait obtenu cette place, it is wonderful that he obtained that situation. Ce n'est pas merveille, this is no wonder—that is not wonderful. Voilà une grande, une belle merveille, that is a very wonderful indeed ! C'est une merveille que de le voir, it is quite wonderful to see you. Il fit des merveilles à ce combat, he did wonders at that battle. Il faut mettre monts et merveilles, to promise wonders—to promise fine promises.

A MERVEILLE, loc. adv. wonderfully ; [admirably].

MERVEILLEUX, EUSE, adj. wonderful ; marvellous ; astonishing.

MERVEILLEUX, s. m. marvellous ; what is surprising. Voilà le merveilleux de l'histoire, here is the wonderful part of the story. (En parlant des personnes.) He is a merveilleux, he is an exquisite.

MÉROVINGIEN, NE, adj. (t. d'hist.), belonging to the first race of the French kings ; Merovingian.

MES, poss. pron. my. Voyez Mon, Ma, Mes.

MÉSADMINISTRER, v. a. n. rég. 1ère conj. to minister badly ; to misconduct.

MÉSADVENANCE, s. f. (vieux mot), [misfortune].

MÉSAISE, s. f. discomfort ; uncomfortable feeling.

MÉSALLIANCE, s. f. misalliance ; unequal or improper match. Il a fait une mésalliance, he has married badly—he misallied.

MÉSALLIER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il a fait de mésallier sa fille, he fears to misally his daughter—to marry her to a person below herself. Ils ne se sont mais mésalliés dans cette famille, there never was an alliance in that family. Il craint toujours de se mésallier, he is ever afraid of being with persons of a lower rank.

MÉSANGE, s. f. tomtit.

MÉSARRIVER, v. n. impers. S'il vous arrivait ne blâmez que vous, if harm should come to you blame yourself alone. Faites-le, il ne vous mésarrivera it, no harm will happen to you.

MÉSAVENIR, v. n. impers. Même sens que [mésarriver].

MÉSAVENTURE, s. f. misadventure ; [mischance]. Il m'est arrivé une étrange mésaventure, I met with a strange misadventure.

MÉSENTÉRE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), mesentery.

MÉSENTÉRIQUE, adj. (t. d'anat.), mesenteric.

MÉSESTIMER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to [underrate] ; to tempt ; to think meanly of. Se mésestimer, to [underrate] one's self—one another. Je me mésestimerais, [I should underrate myself] si je faisais cela, I should lose my own esteem if I could stoop to it.

Mésestimer des marchandises, to depreciate goods.

MÉSINTELLIGENCE, s. f. Ils vont en mésintelligence, they are at variance—there is misunderstanding between them.

MESMÉRISME, s. m. Mesmerism ; the doctrine of Mesmer (1778).

MESMÉRIEN, NE, adj. Mesmeric.
MESMÉRIQUE,

MÉSOFFRIR, v. n. rég. 1ère conj. des verbes irréguliers (voyez Couvrir), Mal-offrir, to degenerate ; to offer too little.

MESQUIN, E, adj. Il est mesquin, he is shabby—parsimonious. On l'en dit mesquin, [he is called shabby for it].

sont qu'économes, they are said to be mean—niggardly —shabby—when they are only economical. Ses habits sont mesquins, his clothes are poor—shabby—paltry. Mener une vie mesquine, to lead a mean—shabby—life. Son écuyère est fort mesquin, his ordinary is very mean—... scanty. Il a l'air mesquin, he looks mean—shabby —paltry. Cette architecture est bien mesquine, that architecture is poor. Il n'a que des idées mesquines, his ideas are poor—mean.

...ESQUINEMENT, adv. meanly; shabbily.

...ESQUINERIE, s. f. meanness; shabbiness; paltriness.

...ESSAGE, s. m. message. Il s'est mal acquitté de son message, he has delivered his message badly.

...ESSAGER, s. m. [messenger. Nous lui avons envoyé un messager, we sent him a faithful messenger. Il est messager d'état, he is a state messenger. Le messager n'est pas arrivé, the post—the carrier—the errand boy—has not come yet. Messager à pied, foot messenger. Messager à cheval, mounted messenger.

...ESSAGERIE, s. f. coach-office. C'est un entrepreneur de messagerie, he is a stage-coach proprietor. Je suis venu à Paris par les messageries royales, I came to Paris by the royal stages. Je prendrai la messagerie, I will go by the stage-coach. Envoyez à la messagerie s'il est arrivé, send to the coach-office to inquire if it is come.

...ESSALINE, s. f. nom propre employé comme adj. Une Messaline, she is a dissolute—a lewd—woman.

...SSE, s. f. mass (communion service in the Roman ...). Dire la messe, to say mass. Je vais à la ... I am going to mass. Il y aura messe haute, ... mass, there will be high mass. Il va dire une ...sse, he is going to say—perform—low mass. ...sse ne va ni à messe, ni à prêche, that man does ...ind the church service, i. e., that man is devoid of ... Messe rouge, red mass, a mass at which the ...ates, the courts, attended in their red gowns, after ...atigus.

...SSANCE, s. f. impropriety. Il y a de la messéance à faire de ces choses-là, it is improper—there is ...ety—in doing these things.

...SSANT, E, adj. improper; unbecoming.

...SSEOIR, v. n. irrég. composé de Mal-seoir, to sit ... to misbecome. Cette couleur vous messied à votre ...e colour misbecomes—does not sit well on—you ...ay.

...SSER, s. m. (pron. mé-sair). Voyez Messire.

...SSIDOR, s. m. tenth month of the French Republ... Voyez Calendrier.

...SSIE, s. m. Messiah. Les Juifs attendent encore ..., the Jews still expect the coming of the Messiah.

...SSIER, s. m. field—land—keeper; harvest keeper.

...SSIEURS, s. m. Voyez Monsieur.

...SSIRE, s. m. vieux mot, composé de l'Italien Mio ...ore, my lord. Messire de Joinville, my lord of ... (Fam.) Messire Jean n'en voulut point, ...im would not have any of it.

...SSIRE, s. m. (t. de marine). Voyez Meistre.

...STRE DE CAMP, s. m. (pron. mèce-tre-de camp), ...qui n'est plus en usage), sort of major-general.

...SURABLE, adj. measurable; that can be measured.

...SURAGE, s. m. measuring; measurement.

...SURE, s. f. measure. Le kilogramme est une nouvelle mesure de poids, the kilogramme is a new measure of weight. Le mètre est une mesure de longueur, the ... a measure of length. Il vendait à fausse ... sold with a false measure. Il donne bonne ... gives good—full—measure.

(T. de tailleur, de cordonnier, &c.) Mon tailleur avait perdu ma mesure, my tailor had forgotten his measure. Il me prendra la mesure d'un habit, he came to take my measure for a coat. Je me suis fait prendre la mesure d'une paire de bottes, I had my measure taken—I have been measured—for a pair of boots. Voulez-vous que je vous prenne la mesure? shall I take your measure?

(T. de poésie.) Ce vers est trop court, la mesure n'y est pas, that verse is too short, the measure is not full. La mesure de l'Alexandrin est de douze pieds, the measure of the Alexandrine verse is of twelve syllables.

(T. de musique.) Vous ne sentez pas la mesure, you do not feel the measure—the time. Voyons, marquez, battez la mesure, come, mark, beat time. Vous ne jouez pas en mesure, you do not keep time. Vous êtes hors de mesure—vous perdez la—mesure, you are out of, you do not keep time. Vous ralentissez la mesure, you play, you sing, you are too slow. A la huitième mesure vous partirez, at the eighth bar you will start. La mesure est à trois temps, the measure is in three bars.

(T. d'escrime.) Vous n'êtes pas à la mesure, you do not keep your distance. Serrer la mesure, to close on your adversary—to press him.

(Fig.) Je suis en mesure de le faire, I am prepared to do it—I have the means of doing it. Je suis hors de mesure, I am not in a way—in a position—to do it. J'ai rompu ses mesures, I have defeated his measures. Cela passe la mesure de son esprit, that exceeds the capacity—the power—of his mind. Prenez bien vos mesures si vous voulez réussir, take your measures carefully if you wish to succeed. Il ne garde aucune mesure, he keeps no bounds—he has no regards. Je lui ai parlé avec mesure, I spoke to him with circumspection.

Il a comblé la mesure de ses fautes, he filled the measure of his faults. De la mesure dont nous mesurons les autres nous serons mesurés, as we measure others we shall be measured. Il fait tout avec poids et mesure, he does every thing with circumspection.

A mesure que, A mesure de, in proportion with. Voyez Fur.

Sans mesure, without measure; excessively.

MESURER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to measure. Mesurer du blé, du vin, du bois, to measure corn, wine, wood. A-t-on mesuré la distance? have they measured the distance? Mesurer la hauteur d'une tour à l'œil—des yeux, to measure the height of a tower by—with—the eye. Mesurer le drap à l'aune, to measure cloth by the yard. Il me mesurait des yeux, he was looking at me from head to foot. Ils se sont mesurés des yeux, they looked at each other in defiance.

Je n'oserais mesurer mes forces contre lui—me mesurer avec lui, I would not dare to measure strength with him. Ils ont mesuré leurs épées, they fought—they measured their swords with each other. Il mesure les autres à son aune, he judges of others by himself.

Sachez mesurer votre dépense à votre revenu, learn to regulate your expense by your income. Mesurez vos entreprises à vos forces, measure what you undertake by your strength. Une autre fois mesurez mieux vos paroles, another time measure—weigh—your words more carefully.

C'est un homme mesuré, he is a circumspect—a measured man. Il nous a parlé en termes peu mesurés, he spoke to us in no measured words.

MESUREUR, s. m. a measurer; a meter.

MESUSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to misuse; to abuse. Il a mésusé de votre bonté, he has misused—abused—made bad use of—your kindness. Il n'en mésusera pas, he will not misuse it.

MÉTABOLE, s. f. (t. de rhétorique), metabole.

MÉTACARPE, s. f. (t. d'anat.), metacarpus.

MÉTACHRONISME, s. m. metachronism.

MÉTAIRIE, s. f. a small farm of which the tenant pays, in nature of rent, half the produce; a small farm.

MÉTAL, s. m. metal. L'or est le plus beau des métaux, gold is the finest of metals.

MÉTALEPSE, s. f. (fig. de rhét.), metalepsis.

METALLIQUE, adj. metallic. C'est un corps métallique, it is a metallic body. (Fig.) L'histoire métallique de Louis XIV., the succession of facts of the reign of Louis XIV. represented by medals.

MÉTALLIQUE, s. f. Voyez Métallurgie.

MÉTALLISATION, s. f. turning into metal.
MÉTALLISER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to turn into a metal; to become a metal.
MÉTALLOGRAPHIE, s. f. metallography.
MÉTALLURGIE, s. f. metallurgy.
MÉTALLURGIQUE, adj. metallurgic.
MÉTALLURGISTE, s. m. metallurgist.
MÉTAMORPHOSE, s. f. metamorphosis. (Langage ordinaire), change; transformation.
MÉTAMORPHOSER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to metamorphose; to transform; to change.
MÉTAPHORE, s. f. (t. de rhétor.), metaphor.
MÉTAPHORIQUE, adj. metaphorical.
MÉTAPHORIQUEMENT, adv. metaphorically.
MÉTAPHYSICIEN, s. m. adj. } metaphysician.
MÉTAPHYSICIENNE, s. f. adj. }
MÉTAPHYSIQUE, s. f. metaphysics.
MÉTAPHYSIQUE, adj. metaphysical.
MÉTAPHYSIQUEMENT, adv. metaphysically.
MÉTAPHYSIQUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to talk—to treat—metaphysically.
MÉTAPLASME, s. m. (t. de gramm.), metaplasm.
MÉTASTASE, s. f. (t. de médec.), metastasis.
MÉTATARSE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), metatarsis.
MÉTATHÈSE, s. f. (t. de gramm.), metathesis.
MÉTAYER, s. m. } a small farmer. Voyez Métairie.
MÉTAYÈRE, s. f. }
METEIL, s. m. maslin; a mixture of wheat and rye. Semer du méteil, to sow wheat and rye mixed together. C'est du passe meteil, this is maslin—wheat rye.
MÉTEMPSYCOSE, s. f. metempsychosis.
MÉTÉORE, s. m. meteor; (fig.), meteor; bright star.
MÉTÉORIQUE, adj. of the nature of a meteor.
MÉTÉORISÉ, E, adj. (t. de médec.), swelled; distended.
MÉTÉOROLOGIE, s. f. meteorology.
MÉTÉOROLOGIQUE, adj. meteorological.
MÉTHODE, s. f. method. Il se sert d'une bonne méthode, he uses a good method. Il a la voix belle, mais il chante sans méthode, he has a fine voice, but he sings without method.
Chacun a sa méthode, every one has his way—his manner. Il alla dormir après dîner suivant sa méthode, after dinner he went to sleep, according to his habit.
MÉTHODIQUE, adj. methodical; according to method.
MÉTHODIQUEMENT, adv. methodically.
MÉTHODISME, s. m. Methodism; the doctrine of the Methodists in England. (Sens général), method.
MÉTHODISTE, s. m. methodist. (Hist. relig.), Methodist.
MÉTICULEUX, EUSE, adj. meticulous; timid; fearful.
MÉTIER, s. m. trade. Il exerce le métier de tailleur, he carries on the trade—business—handicraft—of a tailor. Son père l'a mis en métier, his father has given him—settled him in—a business. Il apprend le métier—il fait l'apprentissage du métier—de boulanger, he is learning the business of—he is serving an apprenticeship to a baker. Les arts et métiers, the arts and trades. Avez-vous un métier? have you a trade—do you carry on some business? Le métier va bien, business is good. Il est maçon de son métier, he is by trade a bricklayer.
(Par extension.) Il embrassa de bonne heure le métier des armes, he embraced early the profession of arms. Consultez-le, il est du métier, ask him his advice, he is of the profession—he is a brother lawyer, officer, &c. Faites votre métier, laissez-moi faire le mien, do your business, let me do mine. L'enseignement est un vilain métier, teaching is a bad business. Mêlez-vous de votre métier, attend to your business.
Il y a jalousie de métier entre eux, they are jealous of each other, they are two of a trade. Il en fait métier et marchandise, he makes a trade of it. Il avait le cœur trop au métier, he was too eager—he took his business too much to heart. Il gâte le métier, he spoils the trade—he mars the business. C'est un homme de tous les métiers, he is fit for every thing. Il nous a donné un plat de son métier, he served us a trick of his own. Il nous a joué un tour de son métier, he played us a trick of his own.
Il faut métier de tromper tout le monde, he wants it's business to deceive every one. Il fait le métier d'aller sur le pavé de Paris, he carries on the business of an idler in the streets of Paris. C'est un lourd de son métier, he is a professed prattler. Vous faites un vilain métier, you carry on an ugly trade.
(T. de mécan.) Métier à broder, a frame for embroidery. Métier à dentelle, a lace-making pillow. Bas faits au métier, stockings made by machinery—stockings. Il a dix métiers battants, he has ten looms at work.
(Fig.) Il a une tragédie sur le métier, he has a tragedy on the stocks.
MÉTIS, ISSE, adj. (pron. mé-tice), mixed; cross-bred. Il a épousé une femme métisse, he married a woman half white half black. Ce chien est métis, this dog is a mongrel.
MÉTONOMASIE, s. f. (t. de rhétor.), metonomasy.
MÉTONYMIE, s. f. (t. de rhét.), metonymy.
MÉTOPE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), metope.
MÉTOPOSCOPIE, s. f. metoposcopy; the study of the countenance.
MÉTOPOSCOPIQUE, adj. metoposcopic.
MÈTRE, s. m. (Unité fondamentale des mesures décimales égale à la dix millionième partie du quart du méridien. Elle est égale à 3 pieds, 11 pouces 10 lignes Anglais), metre.
(T. de poésie.) Il y a une harmonie propre à chaque mètre, there is an harmony suitable to each metre.
MÉTRIQUE, adj. metrical.
MÉTRIQUE, s. f. (t. de poésie, de musique), metrics.
MÉTROMANE, s. m. metromaniac; one who has a fund of poetry.
MÉTROMANIE, s. f. metromania; a fund of poetry.
MÉTROPOLE, s. f. metropolis.
MÉTROPOLE, adj. metropolitan.
MÉTROPOLITAIN, E, s. m. adj. metropolitan.
METS, s. m. dish; mess. Tous les mets étaient excellents, all the dishes were excellent. Il a mangé de tous les mets, he tasted of every dish.
METTABLE, adj. wearable; fit to be worn.
METTEUR, s. m. (of a working man who puts things together). (T. d'imprimerie.) Metteur en pages, page-maker up.
METTRE, v. a. v. r. 7me conj. des verbes en ettre. Mettre, mettant, mis, e; je mets; je mettrai; je mettrais; que je mette; que je misse. The general sense in English is "to put," but has a great number of cases in which it has a different application. Those which are not given here will be found under the head of the word with which mettre is used.
Mettez ces choses à leur place, put these things in their place. Je ne vois pas mes livres, où les avez-vous mis? I do not see my books, where have you put them? Mettez le bois dans le grenier, put the wood in the garret. Allez mettre ces lettres dans la boîte aux lettres, go and throw—put—these letters in the box. On dit qu'elle se met du rouge, they say she rouges—she wears paint.
Mettez cela à terre, put that down. Où voulez-vous que je vous mette à terre? where do you wish me to put you—to put you on shore? Nous mettons pied à terre devant sa porte, we shall alight at his door. Mettre le pied sur cette vilaine araignée, to put one's foot upon—to tread—on that ugly spider. Je n'ai jamais mis le pied chez lui, I never set my foot—entered—his house. Je n'y remettrai jamais le pied, I will never set my foot—go—there again. Il met toutes ces considérations sous ses pieds, he treads all these considerations under foot. Nous nous sommes mis sur le bon pied, we put ourselves on a good footing. Je ne veux pas le mettre sur ce pied là; je ne serais plus le maître, I will not put him on that footing, I should no longer be the master. Nous avons mis sur pied, they have a standing army. Ils ont mis quatre régiments sur pied, they have put four regiments on foot.
On l'avait mis à côté de moi, they had placed him my side. J'ai mis votre parapluie à côté de la porte, I placed—put—your umbrella by the door. Je l'ai mis à la porte, hors de chez moi, I turned him out of my house. Il m'a mis hors de moi par ses injures, he drove me to madness—he drove me beside myself—with his abuse.

Dites que l'on mette les chevaux à la voiture, tell them to put the horses to the carriage.

Les agents de police ne peuvent pas mettre la main sur ns, the policemen cannot lay their hands upon him. Si s vient à lui mettre la main sur le collet, il sera pendu, they can arrest him—lay their hands on him—he will hanged. Il faut que je mette la main à l'ouvrage, I ust begin to work. Rien ne se fait chez lui sans qu'il mette la main, nothing is done in his house without his meddling with it—without his having a hand in it. Il ut toujours qu'il mette la main à la pâte, he must ways have a finger in the pie. Il ne mit jamais la ain à l'encensoir, he never interfered with church tters. J'en mettrais la main au feu, I would take my ur sacred oath of it. Je mettrais ma tête à couper, I old pledge my head that it is not true.

Vous l'avez mis dans l'embarras, you threw him into a fficulty. Voyons, mettez-nous sur la voie, come, put us the way.

Il met son bonheur dans ses enfants, he places his hap- ss on his children. Elle met son plaisir à lui plaire, akes her pleasure—her pleasure is—in pleasing him. Il met tout son plaisir à tourmenter, all his pleasure is in nenting. Il a mis toutes ses affections en elle, he has ced all his affections on her. Nous l'avons mis au bre de nos amis, we have placed him—reckoned him—he number of our friends. On le mit à la tête des affires, he was placed at the head of affairs. Ne mettez d'obstacles à ses désirs, do not raise any obstacles to he wishes. Vous mettez le comble à mon bonheur, ouvern my happiness.

Prenez garde, vous vous mettez la tête dans le guêpier, ake care, you run your head into the hornet's nest, i. e., difficulty. Mettre le feu à la maison, to set the se on fire. Mettre le feu aux affaires, to set affairs blaze. Mettre une question sur le tapis, to set—to —an affair on the carpet. Vous me mettez hors onds, you unhinge me. Vous avez mis sur mon e des choses que je n'ai pas faites, you have laid on shoulders things which I have not done.

Il mis mes deux fils au collége, I have placed my ns at college. Il a mis son fils en apprentissage ez un épicier, he has bound his son an apprentice to a

Il l'a mis en métier, he has given him—esta- d him—in a trade. Elle a mis une nombreuse famille orde, she has brought a large family into the world. Elle a mis ses enfants en nourrice, she puts out all her n to nurse.

Mettre un enfant en pénitence, to put a child in a cor- other place, as a disgrace. Mettre un prisonnier au to put a prisoner in a dungeon. On les mit à la n, they were put to the rack. Mettre un officier rêts, to put an officer under arrest. On l'a mis à le, they have fined him.

Mettre un officier à la retraite—à la pension, to pen- an officer. On l'a mis à la demi-solde, he has ut upon half-pay. Nous l'avons mis à sec, we him. Ses folies l'ont mis à la mendicité, his ex- ces brought him to beggary.

Mettez votre chapeau, put on your hat. Il met ses s, he puts on his shoes. Il ne sait pas mettre sa , he does not know how to tie—to put on—his cra- Il mit veste et chapeau bas pour être plus à son took off his coat and hat to be more comfortable. Mettez-vous plus cet habit, will you not wear this coat ve? Il ne met jamais de gants, he never wears Mettez vos gants, put on your gloves.

Mettra le lièvre à la broche, et la truite à la sauce they will roast the hare, and they will dress the ith the blue sauce. On va les mettre en fricassée, ll stew them. On mit les perdrix en pâté, they pie of the partridges. Vous avez mis cette viande , you have burnt the meat to a cinder.

Il a mis une somme considérable en viager, he has laid out a considerable sum in a life annuity. Il veut mettre son argent en fonds de terre, he wishes to invest his money in the purchase of land. J'y ai mis beaucoup d'argent sans rien y gagner, I placed large sums in it without gaining anything. Combien voulez-vous y mettre, how much will you put in? Mettez au jeu, pay to the pool—put down your stake. Mettre à la loterie, to take a lottery ticket. Mettre de l'argent de côté, to put money by—to save money.

Mettre une terre en blé, en orge, to sow corn, barley, in [a field.

Mettre un morceau en Français, to turn—to translate —a passage into French. Mettez cela par écrit, write that down—put it down in writing. Mettre une pensée en vers, to express a thought—an idea—in verse.

Mettre des boutons à un habit, to sew—put—buttons on a coat. Il faut que je mette une corde à mon violon, I must put a string on my violin. On va mettre le comble à la maison, they are going to roof in the house.

Vous ne mettez pas de bonne foi à ce que vous faites, you do not act with good faith. Si vous y mettez de la colère, vous ne réussirez pas, if you act with anger you will not succeed. Quand elle joue elle y met trop de passion, when she plays she does it with too much passion —too passionately. Parlez-lui en, mais n'y mettez pas de chaleur, speak to him about it, but let it be without warmth. Faites-le de bonne humeur, do it with good humour. Vous l'avez mis de bien mauvaise humeur, you have put him in a very bad humour. Il y met trop d'entêtement, he is too obstinate—he acts with too much obstinacy.

Vous m'avez mis au désespoir, you put me—threw me —into despair. Ne le mettez pas en colère, do not put him into passion. Quand il se met en colère, when he gets in a passion. Ne lui mettez pas ces idées en tête, do not put these ideas in her head. Les mauvais conseils l'ont mis à mal, bad advice led him to act wrong. L'expérience le mettra à la raison, experience will bring him to reason. Il faut qu'il mette le nez partout, he must go and poke his nose everywhere. Il met tous ses effets en gage, he pawns everything he has. On va mettre tous ses biens en vente, all his property is to be exposed to—put to—sale. Sa maison sera mise à l'encan, his house is to be sold at an auction. L'ennemi mit la ville au pillage, the enemy gave up the town to plunder.

J'ai mis la chose à profit, I took advantage of the thing —I turned it to account. On a mis la province à contribution, the country was put under contribution. Je vous mettrai à même de le faire, I will give you the means —I will put you in the way—of doing it. Mettez-la à portée de l'entendre, place her within reach of hearing him. On a mis sa tête à prix, they have set a price on his head. Allez mettre la paix entre eux, go and make them be quiet—separate them. Je n'ai pu y mettre le holà, I could not call them to order. Ils ont mis tout sens dessus dessous, they have turned everything upside down.

Voulez-vous bien mettre ce brouillon au net, will you copy this rough copy fair? Il mit la lettre en morceaux, he tore the letter into pieces. Le temps les a mis en poussière, time has reduced them to dust. Mettre fin à une chose, to put an end to a thing.

Mettre un vaisseau en mer, to launch a ship. Nous allons mettre en—à la—mer, we are going to put out to sea —to go to sea. Mettre à la voile, to set sail—to sail. Mettre à la cape, to lie to. Mettre en panne, to bring to.

Se mettre au lit, to go into bed. Se mettre au bain, to get into a bath. Se mettre à l'ouvrage, au travail, to set to work. Nous nous mettons à table, we sit down to table. Il y a dix minutes qu'ils se sont mis à table, they sat down to table ten minutes ago. Nous allons nous mettre en route—en voyage, we are going to start on our journey. Nous nous sommes mis en route de très-bonne heure, we started very early. Ils se mettent au soleil pour se chauffer, they stand in the sun to warm themselves. Ne vous mettez pas auprès du feu, do not stand—get—near the fire. Mettons-nous auprès du feu, let us sit by the fire. Il pleuvait, nous nous mîmes à couvert sous un chêne, it was raining, we got under shelter—we ran for shelter—under an oak. Mettez-vous à couvert, get under shelter. Elle se mit à rire, she began to laugh. Ils se mirent à pleurer, they began to weep. J'ai été obligé de me mettre au régime, I was obliged to restrict myself to a diet—to diet myself. Il s'est mis de singulières idées dans la tête, he has got—taken—singular ideas into his head. Il le fera, puisqu'il se l'est mis en tête, he will do it since he has taken it into his head. Elle se met bien, she dresses well. Elle s'était mise d'une manière singulière, she had dressed in a singular way. Comment vous mettrez-vous ce soir, how shall you dress this evening? Il se met en uniforme, he dresses in his uniform. Il s'était mis en habit de travail, he had put on his working dress. Se mettre tout en eau, to get in a great heat. Je vous conseille de ne pas vous mettre en frais, I advise you not to run into expenses. Mettez-vous l'esprit en repos, set your mind at rest. La peur se mit parmi nous, fear got among us. Il se mettrait en quatre pour ses amis, he would do anything—he would not mind any trouble—for his friends. Il s'est mis au hasard de perdre la vie, he ran the risk—he exposed himself to the risk—of losing his life. Les gendarmes se sont mis après eux, the constables set off in pursuit of them. Il s'était mis en cachette dans un bois, he had posted himself in a hiding-place in a wood. Où vous étiez-vous donc mis, where had you put yourself? Il se met en chemise pour travailler plus facilement, he has taken off his coat to work more easily. Il se met à son aise partout, he takes his ease everywhere. Mettez-vous à ma place, put yourself in my place. Mettez-vous devant, stand—put yourselves—in front. Vous vous mettez en danger d'être trahi, you expose yourself to be betrayed.

MEUBLE, s. m. piece of furniture. Il a de beaux meubles, he has handsome furniture. Il a un beau meuble dans le salon, he has handsome furniture in the drawing-room.

Ce couteau est un meuble fort utile, that knife is a very useful article—thing. C'est un meuble de voyage, it is a travelling utensil—article.

(T. de jurisp.), moveable. Les pierreries, l'argent, sont regardés comme meubles, jewellery, money, are considered moveables.

MEUBLE, adj. Il a obligé tous ses biens, meubles et immeubles, he has engaged all his property, personal and real.

MEUBLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to furnish. Il s'est élégamment meublé, he has furnished his house elegantly. Il meuble sa maison, he is furnishing his house. Elle a meublé sa mémoire de nombreux passages de nos bons auteurs, she has enriched her memory with numerous passages taken from our good writers. Il se meuble l'esprit d'un tas de choses inutiles, he crams his mind with a heap of useless things. Il a la tête bien meublée, his mind is well filled. Elle a la bouche bien meublée, her mouth is well garnished—she has a fine set of teeth.

MEUGLEMENT, s. m. bellowing. Voyez Beuglement.

MEUGLER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to bellow. Voyez Beugler.

MEULE, s. f. Meule de moulin, mill-stone. Meule à aiguiser, grindstone. Meule de foin, hay-stack.

MEULIÈRE, s. f. mill-stone quarry.

MEUNIER, s. m. miller; miller's wife. Il s'est fait MEUNIÈRE. s. f. d'évêque meunier, he has fallen in the world—he has fallen from a high into a low station. (Sorte de poisson), a chub.

MEURT DE FAIM, s. m. a starving man; an idler.

MEURTRE, s. m. murder. On a commis un meurtre affreux, a dreadful murder has been committed. J'ai entendu crier au meurtre, I heard people cry out murder. (Fig.) Il crie au meurtre pour la moindre chose, he cries out murder for the least thing. Cueillir des fruits si verts c'est un meurtre, to gather such unripe fruit is downright murder.

MEURTRIER, s. m. murderer.

MEURTRIÈRE, s. f. murderess. (T. de fortif.), loophole.

MEURTRIER, IÈRE, adj. murderous; deadly.

MEURTRIR, v. a. r. rég. 3de conj. (voyez Finir), to bruise. En tombant il s'est meurtri le visage, in falling he bruised his face. Je suis tout meurtri, I am sore all over. On l'a meurtri de coups, they bruised him with blows—they beat him black and blue. Cette pêche est toute meurtrie, that peach is bruised all over.

MEURTRISSURE, s. f. bruise. Il est couvert de meurtrissures, he is all over bruises.

MEUTE, s. f. (t. de chasse), pack. Il a un bel équipage de meute pour le lièvre, he has a good pack of harriers, for une meute pour le cerf, here is a pack of stag-hounds. Chef de meute, a good leader. (Fig.) Cet homme est le chef de meute, that man is the leader of the party.

MÉVENDRE, v. a. rég. 3ème conj. (voyez Vendre), to sell badly—to disadvantage.

MÉVENTE, s. f. bad sale.

MEZZANINE, s. f. (. d'archit.). Voyez Entresol.

MEZZO-TERMINE, s. m. (mot italien), middle—the middle course.

MEZZO-TINTO, s. m. (mot italien, t. de peint.), mezzotinto.

MI (mot invariable employé pour moitié, demi), Les avis sont mi-partis, the opinions are divided. Je l'avons rencontré à mi-chemin, we met him half-way. La maison est à mi-côte, the house is half-way up the hill. La mi-carême, mid-lent. Mi-janvier, mid—middle—January. Nous avions de la boue à mi-jambe, we were mud half-way up our legs.

MI, s. m. (t. de musique), mi; e.

MIASME, s. m. miasma; miasm; effluvia.

MIAULEMENT, s. m. mewing.

MIAULER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to mew.

MICA, s. m. (t. de minéralogie), mica; isinglass.

MICACÉ, E, adj. micaceous; partaking of the nature of mica.

MICHE, s. f. loaf. Une miche de pain, a loaf of bread.

MICMAC, s. m. Je n'entends rien à tout ce micmac, I can make nothing of all that confusion—duffing.

MICOCOULIER, s. m., espèce d'arbre, much used by cabinetmakers; lotus arbor.

MICROCOSME, s. m. (pron. mi-kro-kosme), microcosm.

MICROGRAPHIE, s. f. micrography; description of very small objects.

MICROMÈTRE, s. m. (instr. d'astron.), micrometer.

MICROSCOPE, s. m. (instr. d'optique), microscope. (Fig.) Il voit tout avec un microscope, he sees everything through a magnifying glass.

MICROSCOPIQUE, adj. microscopic; that may be seen only through a microscope.

MIDI, s. m. twelve o'clock in the day; noon. Il est midi et demi, it is half-past twelve. Venez à midi, come at twelve—at noon. Il viendra dans l'après-midi, he will come in the afternoon. En plein midi, in broad daylight. (Fig.) Il est dans son midi, he is in the meridian—in the noon—of life. Chercher midi à quatorze heures, to seek for difficulties where there are none—to go out of one's way about.

MIDI, s. m. (t. d'astron.), south. La maison regarde le midi, the house looks to the south. Le pays situé au midi, par une rivière au midi, the country is bounded to the south by a river. Le vent du midi, the south wind. Cet homme est du midi, that man comes from the south.

Le midi vrai, the true meridian. Le midi moyen, the mean meridian.

MIE, s. f. crumb. J'aime la mie, I am fond of the crumb.

MIE, s. f. abbréviation de Amie. Ma mie, my love, my dear. Il aime sa mie, he loves his friend.

MIE, particule employée dans le sens de pas. Vous n'en aurez mie, you will not have any of it.

MIEL, s. m. honey. Mouche à miel, bee. Rayon de miel, a honeycomb. La lune de miel, the honey-moon—the first month of marriage.

MIELLEUX, SE, adj. honeyed; sweet; luscious.

MIEN, NE, pron. poss. rel. Voilà votre chambre, voici la mienne, this is your room, and that is mine. Vos affaires sont les miennes, your concerns are mine.

Un mien parent (un de mes parents) me l'a dit, a relation of mine told me so. Cette découverte est mienne (I say), that discovery is mine.

LE MIEN, s. m. Je ne demande que le mien, I only ask for my own. Il est plein d'égards pour moi et les miens, he is full of kindness for me and mine. (Fig.) Il a fait bien des miennes dans ma jeunesse, I played many pranks in my youth.

MIETTE, s. f. crumb. Ramasser les miettes, to scrape—to pick up—the crumbs.

(Fam.) Il n'en est pas resté une miette, there did not remain a bit of it. Il n'a pu en attraper miette, he could not catch a bit of it.

MIEUX, adv. (comparatif de bien). Il écrit mieux qu'il ne faisait, he writes better than he did. Venez, vous serez mieux ici, come, you will be better here. Vous le faites le mieux, you do it the best. Il est mieux mis qu'il n'était hier, he is better dressed than he was yesterday. Elle était la mieux mise, she was dressed the best. C'est ce que j'aime le mieux, that is what I like best. C'est le mieux que vous puissiez faire, it is the best thing you can do. Les choses vont le mieux du monde, things are going on as well as can be. C'était à qui mieux crierait, they were trying who should do it best. J'ai fait mon mieux pour qu'il vînt, I did my best to make him come. J'ai fait du mieux qu'il m'a été possible, I did it in the best way I could. Le mieux est de n'en rien dire, the best way is to say nothing.

Il est mieux—il va mieux—aujourd'hui, he is better to-day. Il y a du mieux—il y a un mieux sensible, there is an improvement—a visible improvement. Elle est mieux que sa sœur, she is prettier than her sister. Il s'est bien mieux depuis son retour, he has improved since he returned. Je suis mieux avec lui que je n'étais, I am on better terms with him than I was. Ses affaires vont mieux en mieux, his affairs are improving—are getting better and better.

Il vaut mieux partir que d'attendre, it is better to go than to wait. Ne vaut-il pas mieux rire que de pleurer, is not it better to laugh than to weep? J'aimerais mieux rire que de le faire, I had rather die than do it.

Je croyais qu'elle n'avait que vingt ans, mais elle a mieux que cela, I thought she was twenty years old only, but she is more than that. Il a mieux que cela, he is more than that.

A juste de mieux, for want of something better. Tant mieux, so much the better. Voyez Tant.

MIÈVRE, adj. restless; rather mischievous; roguish.

MIÈVRERIE, } s. f. mischievousness; roguishness.
MIÈVRETÉ, }

MIGNARD, E, adj. small; delicate. Il a des manières bien mignardes, his manners are coaxing; affected.

MIGNARDEMENT, adv. delicately; coaxingly; in a coaxing way.

MIGNARDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Mignarder un enfant, to fondle—to treat delicately—a child. Il mignarde son style, he is too nice in writing. Se mignarder, to take great care of one's self.

MIGNARDISE, s. f. delicacy; nicety; coaxing manners.

MIGNON, (T. de bot.), Indian pinks.

MIGNON, NE, adj. small; delicate. Elle a le pied mignon, her foot is so small. Quelle bouche mignonne, what a dear little mouth. Elle a son péché mignon, she has her favourite sin. Il fut obligé de donner son argent mignon, he was obliged to sacrifice his private purse.

MIGNON, s. m. } darling; pet; favourite. Mon
MIGNONNE, s. f. } petit mignon, my little darling. C'est son mignon, he is her pet—her darling. (T. d'hist.) Les mignons d'Henri III, the minions (favourites) of Henry III.

MIGNONNE, s. f. (t. d'imprimerie), minion.

MIGNONNEMENT, adv. delicately; with delicacy.

MIGNONNETTE, s. f. sort of small lace. (T. de bot.) Voyez Mignardise.

MIGNOTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to fondle; to caress.

MIGNOTISE, s. f. coaxing; fondling.

MIGRAINE, s. f. bad headache; sick headache; megrim.

MIGRATION, s. f. migration.

MIJAURÉE, s. f. conceited creature; vain, affected woman.

MIJOTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to boil gently, to keep simmering. (En parlant de personnes), to coax; to fondle; to treat tenderly.

MIL, s. m. (abréviation de mille, en parlant d'années). Nous sommes en mil huit cent quarante huit, we are in the year one thousand eight hundred forty-eight.

MIL, s. m. (pron. mil-le), millet. Semer du mil, to sow millet.

MILAN, s. m. (oiseau de proie), kite.

MILANAIS, s. m. (t. de géog.), Milanese. Il y avait deux Milanais présents, there were two Milanese present. Je connais l'accent Milanais, I know the Milanese accent.

MILIAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat. et de médec.), miliary. Les glandes miliaires, the miliary glands. Il a une fièvre miliaire, he has a miliary fever.

MILICE, s. f. militia. Tirer à la milice, to draw for the militia. (Fig.) La vie de l'homme est une milice continuelle, the life of man is a constant warfare. C'est un soldat de la milice, he never gets un—any promotion.

MILICIEN, s. m. militia man.

MILIEU, s. m. Mettez cela au milieu de la table, place that in the middle of the table. Il le saisit par le milieu, he seized him by the middle—by the waist. Il s'arrêta au milieu du chemin, he stopped when half way—in the middle of the road. Il tomba au beau milieu de la salle, he fell in the very middle of the road. Il était au beau milieu de son discours, he was right in the middle of his speech. Le soleil était au milieu de sa course, the sun had gone half his course. Nous viendrons au milieu de l'été, we shall come in the middle of summer—when the summer is half gone. Nous vivons au milieu du monde, we live in the midst of the world. Au beau milieu de l'hiver, de la forêt, in the heart of winter, of the forest. La générosité tient le milieu entre l'avarice et la prodigalité, generosity stands—holds the mean—between avarice and prodigality. Mais au milieu de tout cela, il y a —, but amidst all that, there is —. Cette langue de terre s'avance au milieu de la mer, that land advances far into the sea.

La vertu se trouve dans un juste milieu, virtue lies in a just medium. Il faut prendre le milieu entre les deux extrêmes, you must take the medium between the two extremes. Il n'y a point de milieu, il faut se rendre ou se battre, there is no middle course, you must surrender or fight. (T. de polit.) C'est un homme du juste milieu, he is a "juste milieu man"—a moderate party man.

(T. de physique.) L'eau est le milieu où vivent les poissons, water is the medium in which fish live.

MILITAIRE, s. m. soldier; military man. On a récompensé les vieux militaires, the old soldiers have been rewarded. Il voulut se faire militaire, he would be a soldier.

MILITAIRE, adj. military. La discipline militaire, military discipline. Il parlait avec une éloquence militaire, he spoke with the eloquence of a soldier. Il a de grands talents militaires, he possesses great military talents. Il a des manières toutes militaires, his manners are quite soldier-like. [like manner.

MILITAIREMENT, adv. militarily—in a soldier-

MILITANT, E, adj. L'Église militante, the church militant.

MILITARISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to make military, soldierlike.

MILITER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to militate.

MILLE, s. m. Voilà mille souverains, here are one thousand sovereigns. Il y avait deux mille hommes, there were two thousand men. Mille l'ont fait, donc je puis le faire, a thousand persons have done it, therefore I can do it.

MILLE, s. m. (mesure itinéraire), mile. Il y a vingt milles de chez nous à Londres, it is twenty miles from our house to London. J'ai fait cinq milles à pied, I walked five miles. Il a fait quarante milles à cheval, he rode forty miles. [row.

MILLE FEUILLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), millefoil; yar-

MILLE FLEURS, s. Eau de mille fleurs, all flowers water. (T. de medec.), cow-water taken as a remedy.

MILLÉNAIRE, s. m. millennium. (T. de religion), millenarian.

MILLÉNAIRE, adj. millenary.

MILLE-PERTUIS, s. m. (t. de bot.), St. John's wort.

MILLE-PIEDS, s. m. (t. d'entom.), wood-louse; millepedes.

MILLÉSIME, s. m. (pron. mil-lé-sime), date. Le millésime de cette médaille est effacé, the date of that medal is effaced.

MILLET, s. m. (mouillez les ll), millet. (Fig.) C'est un grain de millet dans la gueule d'un âne, it is a grain of millet in an ass's mouth—it is a drop of water in the sea, i. e. it is quite insufficient.

MILLIAIRE, s. f. milliary; mile-stone. Milliaire doré, gilt milliary. (T. d'antiq.), mile-stone whence they reckoned distances from Rome, on all roads.

MILLIARD, s. m. billion.

MILLIASSE, s. f. great multitude; great numbers; thousands of thousands.

MILLIÈME, adj. thousandth.

MILLIER, s. m. thousand. On les trouve à—par—milliers sur les bords de la mer, they are found in thousands on the borders of the sea.

MILLIMÈTRE, s. m. (pron. mil-li-mètre), the millimetre is the thousandth part of a mile.

MILLION, s. m. million. Il a un million de bien, he is worth a million. Il est riche à millions, he is worth millions. Je vous l'ai dit un million de fois, I told you so a thousand times.

MILLIONIÈME, adj. millionth.

MILLIONNAIRE, s. m. f. adj. a person worth a million, millions.

MILORD, s. m. C'est un milord, he is a very rich man—he is a nabob.

MIME, s. m. mimic; mime.

MIME, adj. mimic.

MIMIQUE, s. f. mimetic art.

MIMOSA, s. f. (t. de bot.), sensitive plant.

MINAGE, s. m. (t. de féod.), a duty levied, by the lord, on the seeds sold at market.

MINARET, s. m. (mot Turc), minaret; high tower.

MINAUDER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to mince; to look affected; to grimace.

MINAUDERIE, s. f. mincing; grimacing; affected air.

MINAUDIÈRE, adj. mincing; grimacer; grimacing; affected.

MINCE, adj. thin. C'est un homme mince, he is a thin—slender—man. Il a la taille mince, he has a slender waist.

(Fig.) Il a un revenu fort mince, his income is very poor. Il nous a donné un mince repas, he gave us a mean—a poor—a scanty repast. Il a la mine bien mince, he cuts a poor—a mean—appearance. C'est un homme bien mince, he is a man of very slight importance.

MINE, s. f. face. Elle a une jolie mine, she has a pretty face. Il a la mine si fière, he has such a proud—haughty—countenance. Il a la mine trompeuse, he has a deceitful countenance. Quelle mine patibulaire, what a dreadful countenance—what a ruffian look. On lui ferait crédit sur sa bonne mine, they would trust him on account of his honest countenance. Il a la mine si franche, he looks so honest—so open. On voit cela à sa mine, you see that from his looks. Il est venu un homme de mauvaise mine, an ill-looking man called. Il paie de sa bonne mine, his good face—his good looks—pays for him. Pourquoi nous fait-il si mauvaise mine, why does he look so cross upon us? Elle nous a fait bonne mine, she treated—received—us very well. Comme elle a bonne mine, how well she looks now. Est-il malade qu'il a si mauvaise mine, is he unwell? he looks very poorly—he looks very ill.

Voyez comme ce fruit a bonne mine, look how nice this fruit looks. Votre robe a mauvaise mine, your dress does not look well.

Il a la mine d'être riche, he has the appearance of a rich man—he looks as if he were rich. Vous avez la mine d'avoir trop bu, you look as if you had drunk too much. Il porte la mine d'un fripon, he carries—the appearance of being a rogue. Il fait mine d'être mécontent, he looks as if he were—he pretends to be—dissatisfied. Pourquoi faites-vous la mine, why do you look so cross?

Elle lui faisait des mines, she winked at him—she looked at him slyly. Décidez-vous donc, il ne faut pas tant de mines, pray, decide, it does not require so much ceremony. Elle fait des mines, she grimaces.

MINE, s. f. (lieu souterrain), mine. Il y a une mine d'or dans ce pays, there is a gold mine in that country. La France est riche en mines de fer, France is rich in iron mines. Ces gens travaillent aux mines, those people work in the mines.

Voilà de la mine de cuivre, this is copper ore. De la mine d'or, gold ore. De la mine de plomb, plumbago. Dessiner à la mine de plomb, to draw in black-lead pencil. (Fig.) Cet homme est une mine de science, that man is a well of learning.

(T. d'art), mine. Faire jouer une mine, to spring a mine. Mettre le feu à une mine, to set fire to a mine. Eventer la mine, to discover a mine; (fig.), to baffle designs, the projects of another. Le puits de la mine, the shaft of a mine. La chambre de la mine, the chamber of the mine.

MINE, s. f. (ancienne mesure), mine; (ancient measure), mina.

MINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mine; to undermine; to sap. (Fig.), to waste; to consume. Le chagrin le mine, sorrow devours him—consumes him. Le temps mine tout, time destroys every thing.

MINERAI, s. m. ore.

MINÉRAL, s. m. Des échantillons de minéraux, specimens of minerals.

MINÉRAL, E, adj. mineral.

MINÉRALISATEUR, s. m. (t. de chim. et de minéral.), mineraliser.

MINÉRALISATION, s. f. mineralisation.

MINÉRALISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mineralise.

MINÉRALOGIE, s. f. mineralogy.

MINÉRALOGIQUE, adj. mineralogical.

MINÉRALOGISTE, s. m. mineralogist.

MINERVE, s. f. (nom propre employé pour désigner celle). Il a tiré cela de sa Minerve, he has got that of his brains—of his wisdom.

MINET, MINETTE, s. m. f. a kitten; pussy.

MINEUR, s. m. miner, miner.

MINEUR, E, adj. mine. L'Asie mineure, Lesser Asia.

Frère mineur, Minorite. (T. de musique), minor. (T. de jurisp.), minor; under age. L'enfant est encore mineur, he is yet a minor, under age.

MINEURE, s. f. (t. d'école), minor.

MINIATURE, s. f. miniature. Il a fait faire son portrait en miniature, he has had his portrait done in miniature. Cette miniature est d'Isabey, this miniature portrait is by Isabey. Cette boîte est une vraie miniature, this box is a true miniature.

MINIATURISTE, s. m. f. miniature painter, one who paints miniatures.

MINIÈRE, s. f. mine; soil producing metals.

MINIME, adj. very small; unimportant.

MINIME, s. f. (note de musique), minim.

MINIME, s. m. minim. L'ordre des Minimes, the Minim order.

MINIMUM, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. mi-ni-mom), minimum. On lui a donné le minimum de la peine, they gave him the minimum of the punishment. On a appliqué le minimum de la peine, they inflicted on him the minimum—the least—penalty.

MINISTÈRE, s. m. ministry; office. Il s'est acquitté de son ministère, he has discharged the duties of his office—his ministry—well. Le ministère des autels, the sacred ministry.

Nous n'avons pas besoin de votre ministère, we do not ant your services. Vous pouvez compter sur mon mi-istère, you may depend upon my services—assistance—od offices.

Le ministère public, public authority; magistrates.

(T. de gouvernement.) Il a changé tout le ministère, changed the whole of the administration. On ne le it plus depuis qu'il est entré au ministère, people do e see him now he is a minister—now he has entered the ministration. Il a le ministère de la marine, he has e department of the Navy. Je vais au ministère des naces, I am going to the treasury. Il a un emploi au nistère de l'intérieur, he holds a situation in the Home partment. Le ministère de l'instruction Publique, the partment of Public Instruction.

MINISTÉRIEL, LE, adj. ministerial.

MINISTÉRIELLEMENT, adv. ministerially.

MINISTRE, s. m. minister. C'est un ministre de ix, he is God's minister.

(T. de gouvernement.) Le roi a tenu un conseil des nistres, the king held a council of ministers. Le mi-nistre de l'intérieur a lu son rapport, the secretary—minister—for the Home Department read his report. nistre d'état sans portefeuille, minister of state with-a department.

(T. de diplom.) Les ministres étrangers réclament ce rilége, the foreign ministers (ambassadors) claim that rilege.

MINIUM, s. m. (pron. minionne), minium; red lead.

MINOIS s. m. (fam.), face.

MINON, s. m. (nom que l'on donne aux chats), puss.

MINORATIF, s. m. (t. de médec.), a gentle pur-ve.

MINORITÉ, s. f. minority. Le ministère fut en orité, the ministry was in a minority.

(T. de jurisp.) Il est encore dans sa minorité, he is still foor—he is still in his minority. Cela arriva durant minorité du roi, that happened during the minority of king.

MINOT, s. m. (ancienne mesure de capacité), about shels. (Fig.) Nous ne mangerons pas un minot de semble, we shall not eat a measure of salt together, we shall not remain long together. (T. de marine), kin.

MINOTERIE, s. f. (t. de commerce), corn-trade, -trade for foreign consumption.

MINOTIER, s. m. (t. de commerce), corn-factor.

MINUIT, s. m. twelve o'clock at night; midnight. est pas encore minuit, it is not twelve o'clock yet.

MINUSCULE, adj. very small. (T. d'imprimerie.) actère minuscule, very small letter; small capitals.

MINUTE, s. f. (division de l'heure), minute. Il y ixante minutes à l'heure, there are sixty minutes in ure. Il n'y a pas dix minutes qu'il est parti, he ot been gone ten minutes. C'est un homme à la ty, he is a very punctual man—he does every thing minute. (T. de cuis.) Donnez-moi deux côte-à la minute, give me two mutton-chops done on the on.

(T. d'astron.) Le degré contient soixante minutes, the contains sixty minutes.

MINUTE, s. f. (t. de bureau, de pratique), minute; al copy; rough copy. J'en ai conservé la minute, e preserved the original of it.

MINUTER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to draw a rough (fig.), to plan, to propose. Il minutait de s'en he was thinking of going.

MINUTIE, s. f. (pron. mi-nu-cie), minutiæ, trifle.

MINUTIEUSEMENT, adv. minutely.

MINUTIEUX, EUSE, adj. punctilious; one who upon trifles.

MI-PARTI, E, adj. Robe mi-partie de blanc et de a dress made of two colours, black and white. ion est mi-partie, opinion is equally divided.

MIQUELET, s. m. (t. d'hist.), armed mountaineer of renees; a sort of Spanish gendarmes.

MIRABELLE, s. f. sort of small yellow plum; bul-mirabel.

MIRACLE, s. m. miracle. Les apôtres avaient la don des miracles, the Apostles had the gift of miracles. Opérer des miracles, to work miracles.

(Lang. commun.) Cette machine est un miracle de l'art, that machine is a wonder of art. C'est un miracle de beauté, she is wonderfully beautiful. C'est un miracle qu'il ne vous ait pas vu, it is wonderful—a wonder—that he did not see you. C'est un miracle de vous voir, it is a wonder to see you. Voilà un beau miracle, this is wonderful indeed! Il fait des miracles, he does wonders. Miracle! wonderful!

A miracle, (loc. adv.), wonderfully.

MIRACULEUSEMENT, adv. wonderfully.

MIRACULEUX, EUSE, adj. miraculous; wonderful.

MIRAGE, s. m. (phénomène de la réfraction qui fait paraître au dessus de l'horison les objets qui n'y sont pas), looming; mirage.

MIRE, s. f. sight (of a fire-arm). Prendre sa mire, to aim, to point (a gun). Point de mire, aim. Coin de mire, wedge. (Fig.) Cette dignité était son point de mire, that office had been his aim—he had been aiming at that high office.

MIRÉ, adj. (t. de chasse). Sanglier miré, an old wild boar whose tusks are inoffensive.

MIRER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to take aim at; to aim. Il a miré long-temps, mais il a manqué la pièce, he took a good long aim, but he missed the game. Mirer des œufs, to hold eggs up to the light to see if they are fresh. (Fig.) Il mirait cette place depuis long-temps, he had long aimed at that situation.

Comme elle aime à se mirer, how fond she is of looking at herself in the mirror. On se mirerait dans cette vaisselle, you could use this plate for a mirror, it is so bright. (Fig.) Il se mire dans ses plumes, he admires his own beauty. Il se mire dans ses ouvrages, he admires himself in his works.

MIRLIFLORE, s. m. a foppish man; a beau; a fop.

MIRLITON, s. m. a sort of pipe made with a reed or with onion stems.

MIRMIDON, s. m. myrmidon; pigmy; a diminutive being. (Par mépris.) Ces mirmidons prononcent sur tout, these pigmies—these insignificant beings—will pronounce on every thing.

MIROIR, s. m. mirror; looking-glass. Miroir de toilette, dressing-glass; looking-glass. (Fig.) Cette femme est un miroir de vertu, that woman is a mirror—a pattern of virtue. Les yeux sont le miroir de l'âme, the eyes are the mirrors of the mind. (T. de cuis.) Manger des œufs au miroir, to eat eggs dressed on the dish. (T. d'oiseleur.) Prendre des alouettes au miroir, to catch larks with a mirror. (T. d'art.) Miroir ardent, burning glass.

MIROITÉ, E, adj. dapple. [glasses.

MIROITERIE, s. f. the business of selling looking-

MIROITIER, s. m. looking-glass—mirror seller.

MIROTON, s. m. (t. de cuisine), a hash made with cold boiled beef; boiled beef hashed.

MISAINE, s. f. (t. de marine). La misaine, la voile de misaine, the foresail. Le mât de misaine, the foremast. La hune de misaine, the foretops.

MISANTHROPE, s. m. misanthrope; adj. misanthropic.

MISANTHROPIE, s. f. misanthropy.

MISANTHROPIQUE, adj. misanthropic.

MISCELLANÉE, s. f. miscellany.

MISCIBILITÉ, s. f. miscibility.

MISCIBLE, adj. miscible; that may be mixed.

MISE, s. f. Mise au jeu, stake. La mise, dans cette affaire, est de cinquante mille francs, the advance—the share—in this affair, is fifty thousand francs. Ma mise l'a emporté, my bidding carried it. Ces pièces de monnaie ne sont plus de mise, these coins have currency no longer. Cet homme, ces choses sont de mise, that man—those things—are admissible.

J'étais présent lors de sa mise en possession, I was present at his being put in possession. Il se conduit mieux depuis sa mise en liberté, he behaves better since his being set at liberty. Depuis la mise en vente de son ouvrage, on en a vendu cinq cents exemplaires, since his work has been put on sale, five hundred copies have been sold. (T. d'imp.) C'est lui qui est chargé de la mise en page, it is he who has to set the work into pages. Mise en accusation, accusation. (T. de théâtre.) La mise en scène de cette pièce a coûté beaucoup, the bringing out—getting up—of that play cost much. (T. de toilette.) Une mise élégante, an elegant dress. Elle est recherchée dans sa mise, her way of dressing is affected.

(T. de marine.) Mise à l'eau d'un bâtiment, launch of a ship.

MISÉRABLE, adj. wretched. Ils sont réduits à un état misérable, they are reduced to a wretched state. Il fera une fin misérable, he will die a wretched end. Il n'a qu'un cheval misérable, he has only a wretched—a poor—miserable horse. Ayez pitié des misérables, have pity on the poor wretches.

MISÉRABLE, s. m. f. (t. de mépris), wretch.

MISÉRABLEMENT, adv. wretchedly; miserably.

MISÈRE, s. f. Il est tombé dans la misère, he has fallen into poverty—misery—distress. Il est mort de faim et de misère, he died of want and wretchedness. Il est au comble de la misère, he is in the extreme of wretchedness. Quand verrons-nous la fin de nos misères? when shall we see the end of our sufferings—miseries—calamities? La misère des temps est affreuse, the wretchedness of the times is dreadful.

Tout, dans le monde, n'est que misère et vanité, every thing in the world is trouble and emptiness. (Dans le sens de bagatelle.) Ne parlez pas de cela, c'est une misère, do not speak of that, it is a mere trifle. Il s'est fâché pour une misère, he got angry about a trifle.

C'est une misère d'avoir affaire avec lui, it is most wretched to have to do with him. Rien ne marque tant la misère humaine, nothing is so good a proof of the wretchedness of man. Quelle misère qu'un procès! what a plague—a torment—a lawsuit is! Nous allons reprendre le collier de misère, we will take up our chains again. Il va prendre le collier de misère, he is about to take up his chains.

MISÉRÉRÉ, s. m. (t. de médec.). Avoir le miserére, to have a dreadful cholic.

MISÉRICORDE, s. f. mercy. La miséricorde divine, divine mercy. Il n'a de miséricorde pour personne, he has no mercy for any one. C'est un homme sans miséricorde, he is a merciless, a pitiless man. Il ne leur a fait aucune miséricorde, he showed them no mercy—he had no mercy on them. Nous sommes à votre miséricorde, we are at your mercy. Crier miséricorde, to cry for mercy. Miséricorde! il va se tuer, mercy on me! he will kill himself.

MISÉRICORDIEUSEMENT, adv. mercifully; with mercy.

MISÉRICORDIEUX, EUSE, adj. merciful.

MISSEL, s. m. (t. de l'église Romaine), mass book; missal.

MISSILE, s. f. missile.

MISSION, s. f. Il a reçu sa mission, he has received his orders. Vous agissez sans mission, you act without orders—without having received authority. Qui vous a donné mission de le faire? who gave you authority—power—command—to do it?

(T. d'église.) On a envoyé une mission dans les Indes, a mission was sent to India. Pères de la mission, the missionary fathers. On l'a envoyé en mission, he was sent as a missionary. Il a fait une mission dans cette ville, he was sent to preach in this town. Il n'agit pas sans mission, he does not act uncalled—without having had a call.

MISSIONNAIRE, s. m. missionary.

MISSIVE, s. f. missive; letter.

MISTRAL, } s. m. (nom donné au Nord Ouest, dans MAESTRAL, } la Méditerranée), mistral.

MITAINE, s. f. mitten. Elle avait des mitaines de soie, she wore silk mittens. (Fig.) Une autre fois, je prendrai des mitaines, another time I shall be more cautious—more gentle. Faut-il prendre des mitaines pour lui parler? must you stand upon ceremony to speak to him? C'est de l'onguent mitonne mitaine, this is a useless remedy.

MITE, s. f. mite.

MITHRIDATE, s. m. anti-poison. Vendeur de mithridate, a quack; quack medicine seller.

MITIGATION, s. f. mitigation.

MITIGER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mitigate; to ease.

MITON, s. m. mitten (without fingers).

MITONNER, v. a. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to simmer; to boil gently.

(Fig.) Il aime qu'on le mitonne, he likes to be nursed—to be humoured—to be petted. Il se mitonne bien, he takes good care of himself. Je vous ai mitonné cette affaire, I nursed—I managed—that affair for you.

MITOYEN, NE, adj. Mur mitoyen, party-wall. Une cloison mitoyenne nous séparait, a partition wall belonging to us both. Il a pris un parti mitoyen, he took a middle resolution. Il appartenait à la classe moyenne, he belonged to the middle class.

MITOYENNETÉ, s. f. community.

MITRAILLADE, s. f. firing of small shot. Il a reçu une mitraillade, he was shot.

MITRAILLE, s. f. small shot. (Fam.) Il m'a payé qu'en mitraille, he paid me in copper—in small coin.

MITRAILLER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to fire small shot.

MITRE, s. f. mitre; (t. de maçon.), chimney-pot.

MITRÉ, E, adj. mitred.

MITRON, s. m. baker's man.

MIXTE, adj. mixt; mixed.

MIXTE, s. m. compound—mixed—body.

MIXTILIGNE, adj. (t. de géom.), mixtilinear.

MIXTION, s. f. mixing; mixture.

MIXTIONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mix. Du mixtionné, adulterated wine.

MIXTURE, s. f. (t. de pharmacie), mixture.

MNÉMONIQUE, s. f. mnemonics.

MNÉMOTECHNIE, s. f. mnemonics; the art of using an artificial memory.

MOBILE, s. m. La gloire est le mobile de vos actions, glory is the mover to great actions. L'argent est son unique mobile, money is his great mover. C'est le premier mobile, it is the primum mobile of his actions. (T. de mécan.) L'eau est le mobile de cette machine, water is the moving power of that machine.

MOBILE, adj. moveable. Cette roue n'est pas assez mobile, that wheel is not moveable enough—does not move well enough. On n'emploie presque plus que des caractères mobiles, moveable types are almost no longer used. Pâques est une fête mobile, Easter is one of the moveable feasts. (Sens moral.) C'est un esprit mobile, he has a fickle—changing—body. (T. milit.) Des troupes mobiles, marching troops.

MOBILIAIRE, adj. Sa propriété est toute mobiliaire, his property is personal—consists in moveables. Contribution mobiliaire, tax on furniture—on moveables.

MOBILIER, s. m. furniture; moveable property.

MOBILISATION, s. f. mobilisation.

MOBILISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jurisp.), to consider as moveable. (T. milit.), to send on service hitherto considered as stationary.

MOBILITÉ, s. f. mobility.

MODALITÉ, s. f. (t. de science), modality, modal character.

MODE, s. m. mode. Tel est le mode de leur gouvernement, such is the mode—character—of their government. (T. de gramm.), mood. (T. de musique), mode.

MODE, s. f. fashion. La mode est absurde, fashion is absurd. Ce costume est à la mode, that dress is in fashion—is fashionable. Cela n'est plus de mode, that is no longer fashionable. Marchand de modes, modist. Il tient un magasin de modes, she keeps a magazine of novelties. Vendre des modes, to sell novelties—bonnets. Cet homme est fort à la mode, that man is much sought after—every one will have him.

Chacun vit à sa mode, every one lives in his own fashion. Il le fait à sa mode, he does it in his own way. A la mode de France, according to the French fashion. C'est sa tante à la mode de Bretagne, she is my first cousin. (T. de cuisine.) Manger du bœuf à la mode, to eat à mode beef.

MODELAGE, s. m. (t. de sculpture), modelling.

MODELE, s. m. model; copy; pattern. Un modèle d'écriture, a copy. Un modèle de broderie, a pattern, a sample in embroidery. (T. d'arts), model. Faire le modèle de modèle, to sit for a model. On a construit le vaisseau sur un bon modèle, they built that ship on a good model. Il est le modèle des rois, he is a model—an example—of kings. Sa vie est un modèle de vertu, his life is a model of virtue. C'est un modèle, he is a model—a pattern—of perfection.

MODELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de sculpture), to model. (Fig.), to shape. Il modèle sa conduite sur la vôtre, he shapes his conduct upon yours.

MODELE, s. m. (t. d'art), copy, imitation. [ings.

MODENATURE, s. f. (t. d'archit.), members; mould-

MODERANTISME, s. m. moderantism; the doctrine of those who are moderate in their political opinions.

MODERATEUR, s. m. moderator.

MODERATRICE, s. f. moderatrix.

MODERATION, s. f. moderation. User de—garder la—modération, to act with moderation. (Retranchement), mitigation.

MODEREMENT, adv. moderately.

MODERER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Il fallut modérer la sévérité des lois, it was necessary to moderate severity of the laws. Modérez ce zèle, moderate your zeal. Modérez-vous, moderate yourself—calm yourself. La chaleur s'est bien modérée, the heat has become more moderate—has diminished. Les nouveaux riches ne savent pas toujours se modérer, the rich do not always spend with moderation. Il a des moyens modérés, he has moderate talents.

MODERNE, adj. modern.

A LA MODERNE, (loc. adv.), after the modern taste.

MODERNER, v. a rég. 1ère conj., to modernize.

MODESTE, adj. modest.

MODESTEMENT, adv. modestly.

MODESTIE, s. f. modesty. Il parle de soi avec modestie, he speaks of himself with modesty. Cette jeune fille a une grande modestie, that young girl is extremely modest. Ne dites pas cela de peur de blesser sa modestie, say not that for fear of wounding his modesty. Il renferme dans les bornes de la modestie, he keeps within the bounds of modesty. Cela choque la modestie, such things offend modesty.

MODICITÉ, s. f. smallness; moderateness; paucity.

MODIFICATIF, IVE, adj. modificative.

MODIFICATION, s. f. modification.

MODIFIER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to modify; to moderate. Ce langage est trop dur, il faudrait le modifier, this language is too hard, it should be modified. Ses opinions se sont grandement modifiées, his opinions have become more subdued—more moderate.

MODILLON, s. m. (t. d'archit.), modillion.

MODIQUE, adj. small; moderate. Il a un revenu modique, his income is very moderate, very small.

MODIQUEMENT, adv. moderately.

MODISTE, s. m. f. milliner.

MODULATION, s. f. (t. de musiq.), modulation.

MODULE, s. m. (t. d'archit.), module.

MODULER, v. a. v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to modulate.

MOELLE, s. f. marrow; (t. de bot.), pith.

MOELLEUSEMENT, adv. with softness; with mellowness.

MOELLEUX, EUSE, adj. Un os moelleux, a marrowy bone. Bois moelleux, soft, pithy wood. Ce vin est moelleux, this wine is soft, rich. Elle a la voix moelleuse, her voice is soft, full. Ce drap est moilleux, that cloth is soft, rich.

MOELLEUX, s. m. Il y a du moelleux dans ce tableau, there is something so soft, so rich in that picture.

MOELLON, s. m. (t. de maçon.), rough, unhewn piece of stone used in building walls. (Bécherelle dit que cette pierre s'appelle moellon parce que comme la moelle est au milieu des os, de même on la place au milieu de la maçonnerie), shard.

MŒURS, s. f. manners; morals; habits. C'est un homme de bonnes mœurs, he is a man of good morals—of good principles. Il a des mœurs si pures, his morals are so pure. Les mœurs de ces gens sont si corrompues, si vicieuses, the morals of those people are so corrupt—so vicious. Il faut observer les mœurs des nations étrangères, you must study the manners—habits—of foreign nations. Ces villageois ont des mœurs si douces, these cottagers are so gentle in their manners—habits. Ce sont des gens sans mœurs, these people are immoral. Cela n'entre pas dans nos mœurs, these things do not enter into our customs—habits. Selon—d'après—nos mœurs, according to our manners—our habits.

MOI, pron. pers. 1ère pers. singulière, me. Venez avec moi, come with me. Ne ferez-vous pas cela pour moi, will you not do that for me? Menez-moi à l'Opéra, take me to the opera.

Moi s'emploie pour le nominatif. Qui a fait cela? c'est moi, who has done that? I. Il n'y avait que moi, there was no one but I. Mon frère va en Italie, moi, je vais en France, my brother is going to Italy, I, I go to France. J'irai moi-même, I will go myself.

A moi, à moi! come to me, i. e. help, help! De vous à moi, between you and me. Quant à moi, je ne le veux pas, as for me, I will not have it.

Moi est quelquefois redondant et ne peut pas se traduire en Anglais. Faites-moi taire ces gens-là, pray keep these people quiet.

MOIGNON, s. m. On lui a coupé le bras droit, il n'a qu'un moignon, his right arm has been amputated, he has only a stump.

MOINAILLE, s. f. monkery; the monkish race.

MOINEAU, s. m. sparrow. (Fig.) Tirer sa poudre aux moineaux, to waste one's powder on sparrows—i. e. to spend one's money uselessly.

MOINERIE, s. f. monkishness; the monkish race.

MOINESSE, s. f. a nun.

MOINILLON, s. m. a shaveling; a monkling.

MOINS, adv. Elle est moins jolie que sa sœur, she is not so pretty as—she is less pretty than—her sister. Elle a six ans de moins que moi, she is six years younger than I. Il est moins spirituel qu'il n'est instruit, he is not so witty as—he is less witty than—he is informed. Il a moins de savoir que de vanité, he has less learning than vanity. Cette salle est moins grande que je ne croyais, that room is not so large as I thought.

Plus vous le presserez, moins il fait, the more you urge him the less he does. Moins vous en direz, plus il en fera, the less you say, the more he will do.

Il n'a pas moins de vingt-cinq ans, he is not less than five and twenty. Il n'y avait pas moins de cent personnes, there were not less than a hundred people.

Le moins que vous puissiez faire, c'est d'y aller, the least you can do is to go.

Je l'ai acheté à moins de mille francs, I bought it for less than one thousand francs. Vous ne l'aurez pas à moins, you shall not get it under. On se fâcherait à moins, one would get angry for less. On ne fait pas de ces choses à moins d'être fou, one does not such things unless one is mad. Rien moins que cela, nothing less than that. A moins que vous ne le fassiez, unless you do it. Au moins ne le dites pas, at least do not say it. Dans moins de quinze jours, in less than a fortnight. Pour le moins, at the least. Il n'aspire à rien moins qu'à vous supplanter, he aims at nothing less than to supplant you.

Au moins, mind! C'est pour ce soir, au moins for this evening, mind!

MOIRE, s. f. watered silk, stuff, &c.

MOIRER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to water. Elle avait une robe de soie moirée, she wore a dress of shot silk. Un ruban moiré, a watered ribband.

MOIS, s. m. month. Juin est le plus beau mois de l'année. June is the prettiest month in the year. Il y a un mois que je ne l'ai vu, I have not seen him for a month. Nous payons ce logement au mois, we pay for our lodgings by the month.

MOISE, s. f. (t. de charp.), binding piece.

MOISIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj., to grow, to get, mouldy, musty. Les confitures se moisissent bien vite, jams soon get mouldy.

MOISI, s. m. mould; mustiness.

MOISISSURE, s. f. mould; mustiness.

MOISSINE, s. f. branch of the vine with bunches of grapes on it.

MOISSON, s. f. harvest. La moisson approche, the harvest time is coming. Nous voilà au temps de la moisson, here we are coming to harvest time. (Fig.) Il ne faut pas mettre la faucille dans la moisson d'autrui, we must not encroach upon the harvest of others. Il a fait une riche moisson de lauriers, he had a rich harvest of laurels.

MOISSONNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to reap. On n'a pas encore moissonné chez nous, they have not yet reaped —cut the harvest. Il est allé moissonner des lauriers, he has gone to reap laurels. (Fig.) Que de vies la mort a moissonnées, how many lives death has cut off!

MOISSONNEUR, s. m. harvest man; reaper.

MOISSONNEUSE, s. f. harvest woman; reaper.

MOITE, adj. moist; damp. Comme vous avez la main moite, how damp—how moist your hands are.

MOITEUR, s. f. dampness; moistness.

MOITIÉ, s. f. half; moiety. Il nous en a donné la moitié, he gave us half of it. La moitié de la succession lui appartient, the half—the moiety—of the succession belongs to him. Il a déjà dépensé la moitié de sa fortune, he has spent half his fortune already.

Il met la moitié d'eau dans son vin, he puts half water in his wine. Moitié eau moitié vin, half and half. Partagez cela par la moitié, divide that into halves. Il est resté à moitié chemin, he stopped half way. Je vous le laisse à moitié prix. I'll let you have it at half price. C'est trop long de moitié, it is too long by half. La bouteille est à moitié vide, the bottle is half empty. Partageons le différend par moitié, let us split the difference.

Voulez-vous être de moitié avec moi, will you go halves with me—be my partner? J'en rabats de moitié, I reduce it one half. Il y a consenti moitié guerre, moitié marchandise, he consented half willing, half against it. Cet homme n'est ni chair, ni poisson, that man is neither fish nor fowl—i. e. neither one thing nor the other. Moitié figue, moitié raisin, part willingly, part against one's will.

MOITIÉ, s. f. (femme, épouse), better half.

MOKA, s. m. (espèce de café), Mocha.

MOL, LE, adj. Voyez Mou.

MOLAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.). Dents molaires, molar teeth—grinders.

MÔLE, s. f. (t. de médec.), moon-calf—false conception.

MÔLE, s. m. mole; pier.

MOLÉCULAIRE, adj. formed of molecules.

MOLÉCULE, s. f. molecule.

MOLÈNE, s. f. (t. de bot.), mullein.

MOLESTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to molest; to vex.

MOLETTE, s. f. Une molette d'éperon, the rowel of a spur. (T. de vétérin.), wind-gall. (T. de peinture), mullet.

MOLINISME, s. m. Molinism, i. e. the doctrine of the Jesuit Molina, (1560).

MOLINISTE, s. m. Molinist or follower of Molina.

MOLASSE, adj. flabby; too limp; having no consistence.

MOLLEMENT, adv. softly; (fig.), feebly; without energy. Il vit mollement, he lives effeminately—weakly.

MOLLESSE, s. f. (sens physique). La mollesse de ce drap, the softness, the want of firmness of that cloth. La mollesse des chairs prouve une mauvaise constitution, the flabbiness of the flesh shows a bad constitution. La mollesse de ce climat vous énerve, the softness—mildness—of this climate weakens—enervates you. La mollesse de son complexion l'expose à des maladies, the softness of his constitution renders him liable to catch maladies.

(Sens moral.) Vous avez agi avec mollesse, you acted weakly. Vous y avez mis trop de mollesse, you acted with too great weakness; without energy. Cela annonce de la mollesse de caractère est dangereuse, that weakness—disposition is most dangerous. C'est en mollesse qu'il a perdu ses enfants, his feebleness—weakness has cost him children. Il vit dans la mollesse, he lives effeminately—he leads an effeminate life.

MOLLET, TE, adj. soft; rather soft. Il n'est pas mais il a encore les pieds mollets, he is better, but his feet are very tender. Un poire mollet, a soft, but mealy. Manger des œufs mollets, to eat boiled eggs a much done.

MOLLET, s. m. the calf of the leg; (t. de) a small fringe.

MOLLETON, s. m. swanskin; sort of serge.

MOLLIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to soften.

MOLLIR, v. n. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Finir). Les poires mollissent de bonne heure, pears get soft—soon.

(Fig.) Vous commencez déjà à mollir, you are beginning to flag; to slacken. Il ne faut pas mollir dans cette affaire, you must not slacken—must act firmly—in that affair. (T. de mar.) Mollir une corde, to ease, to slacken a rope. La mer mollit, the tide is slack.

MOLLUSQUE, s. m. (hist. nat.), mollusk.

MOLY, s. m. (herbe divine dont parle Homère) posée l'ail sauvage), wild garlic.

MOLYBDÈNE, s. m. black lead.

MOMENT, s. m. moment; instant. Je n'ai que moment à vous donner, I can give you a moment—instant—only. Attendez un moment, wait an instant. Les moments sont longs quand on attend, how long moments are when you are waiting. Il prend quelques moments de repos, he is taking a few moments rest. Il a quelques des moments de bonne humeur, he has at times of good humour. Il a mal choisi le moment, he has a bad moment—a bad instant. Au moment où il reviendra, je vous l'enverrai, will send you word at the very moment he comes. Je sommes au moment de partir, we are on the point Je l'ai reconnu du moment que je l'ai vu, from the moment—instant—I saw him. now, at this instant. A tout moment, every hour. Je reviendrai dans un moment, instant—I will return. En ce moment, now.

MOMENTANÉ, E, adj. momentaneous; MOMENTANÉMENT, adv. momentarily.

MOMERIE, s. f. mummery.

MOMIE, s. f. mummy.

MOMON, s. m. (t. de jeu). Est-ce que vous allez porter, are you thus disguised to a bet to some gamblers? Couvrir le the challenge, bet.

MON, pron. poss. mas., my. Mon âme en est affligée, my heart is grieved. J'emploie devant âme, féminin, pour éviter l'hiatus âme. Voyez Ma, Mes.

MONACAL, E, adj. monacal.

MONACALEMENT, adv. in a monacal MONACHISME, s. m. monachism.

MONADE, s. f. monad.

MONADELPHIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), MONANDRIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), MONARCHIE, s. f. monarchy.

MONARCHIQUE, adj. monarchical.

MONARCHIQUEMENT, adv. by a MONARQUE, s. m. monarch.

MONASTÈRE, s. m. monastery.

MONASTIQUE, adj. monastical.

MONAUT, adj. one-eared.

MONCEAU, s. m. heap.

MONDAIN, E, adj. worldly; mundane.

MONDAINEMENT, adv. in a worldly way.
MONDANITÉ, s. f. worldliness; mundanity.
MONDE, s. m. (t. de géog.). Dieu a créé le monde, God has created the world. Le monde tourne autour du soleil, the world turns round the sun. Il a vu les cinq parties du monde, he has seen the five parts of the world. Il a fait deux fois le tour du monde, he has gone round the world twice. Ce vaisseau va faire le tour du monde, that ship is going on a voyage of circumnavigation. L'ancien et le nouveau monde, the old and the new world. Je ne sais où il est; il court le monde, I cannot tell where he is, he is travelling about the world. Dieu a semé les mondes dans l'espace, God has disseminated the globes in space.
Le monde chrétien, the Christian world. Jésus Christ le Sauveur du monde, Jesus-Christ is the Saviour of the world. En quelle année du monde sommes-nous, in what year since the creation are we?
Vous n'étiez pas de ce monde quand cela est arrivé, you were not of this world—born—when it happened. Elle a mis dix enfants au monde, she gave life to ten children—she brought ten children into the world. Il fait à la face du monde entier, he did it openly—in the face of the whole world. Est-il encore de ce monde, is he still alive? (Fig.) Il n'est plus de ce monde, he is no longer in the world, i. e. he lives retired.
(Humanité.) Le monde est bien méchant, how wicked the world are! Il vit loin du monde et du bruit, he lives far away from men and their noise. Elle a renoncé au monde, she has renounced the world. Tout le monde le sait, tout le monde le sait, everybody knows it. Le monde ne pardonne pas l'ingratitude, men do not forgive ingratitude.
Société.) Il ne va pas dans le monde, he does not go into company—society. Elle ne voit pas le monde, she does not visit—she neither receives nor visits—people. Elle s'est retirée du monde, she has retired from society—company. Nous savons notre monde, we understand the manners of the world. Il a l'expérience du monde, he knows the world from experience. Elle ne voit qu'un certain monde, she only visits certain people. Mon Dieu! dans quel monde vivez-vous donc, good God! with what people do you associate? C'est un homme du monde, he is a man of the world. On voit qu'il a du monde, you see he has good breeding—he has good manners. Il va dans le grand monde, he associates with high people—he visits the upper classes of society. Il voit le petit monde, he visits the middle people—the lower order of society—the common people. Le beau monde, fashionable people—well-dressed people. Le monde des salons, drawing-room people, i. e. the fashionable people. Le monde des boutiques, tradespeople. Le monde savant, the learned.
(Personnes, individus.) Nous attendons du monde à dîner, we expect company—people—to dinner. N'avez-vous pas du monde ce soir, have you not company this evening? Y avait-il beaucoup de monde au spectacle ce soir, were there many people—much company—at the play to-night? Il n'y avait pas de monde, there was no one—there were few people. Il y a un monde infini à Londres maintenant, there are a vast number of people in London now. Mon monde n'est pas encore arrivé, my company has not arrived yet. Y a-t-il du monde ici, is there any company—anybody—in his room? Il ne paraît pas, il y a du monde, do not go in, there is some-body. Non, il n'y a pas de monde, no, there is nobody.
(Valets, domestiques, &c.) Il était accompagné de beaucoup de monde, he was attended by a large retinue. Il a renvoyé tout son monde, he has dismissed all his people.
Nous perdîmes la moitié de notre monde dans ce combat, we lost half our men—our troops—in that encounter.
Il traite bien son monde, he treats his company—his people well. Vous moquez-vous du monde de parler ainsi, are you serious—in earnest—to speak thus? Vous moquez du monde, vous, you are laughing at us—you are joking us. Je donnerais tout au monde pour la revoir, I would give the world—anything in the world—to see her again. C'est le meilleur homme du monde, he is the best man in the world. Je ne le ferais pas pour rien au monde, I would not do it for anything in the world. Rien au monde ne lui plaît, nothing in the world pleases him. Comment, vous ne savez pas cela? de quel monde venez-vous donc, what, you do not know that, where have you been? C'est un homme qui n'est pas de ce monde, he is not of this world—he is a most singular man. Il vous dit des choses de l'autre monde, he says most out-of-the-way things. Si vous en tirez cent francs, c'est le bout du monde, if you get a hundred francs for it, it is the utmost. Il est allé se loger au bout du monde, he has gone to lodge at the world's end. Londres et Paris sont des mondes—de petits mondes, London and Paris are worlds of themselves. Il doit à Dieu et au monde, he is in debt to everybody. De par le monde, somewhere about the world. Cela va le mieux du monde, that is very well—as well as can be. Dans l'autre monde, in the other world—hereafter.
MONDE, adj. (style biblique), clean. Les animaux mondes et immondes, the clean and unclean beasts.
MONDER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to peel (barley); to cleanse.
MONDIFIER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de médec.), to cleanse.
MONÉTAIRE, s. m. mint officer. adj. monetary.
MONÉTISATION, s. f. making money; putting into circulation.
MONGOL, E, s. m. f. adj. Mongol.
MONGOLIQUE, adj. of the Mongols, Moguls.
MONITEUR, s. m. monitor; adviser.
(T. de journaliste.) Le Moniteur Universel, a ministerial or government paper, of which the first number appeared on the 27th Nov. 1789. It was succeeded by the Journal de l'Empire, and that by the Journal des Débats, still existing.
MONITION, s. f. (t. de jurid. ecclésiastique), monitory.
MONITOIRE, s. m. (t. de jurid. eccles.), monitory.
MONITORIAL, E, adj. monitorial.
MONNAIE, s. f. Les souverains ont le droit de battre monnaie, sovereigns have a right to coin money. Monnaie d'or et d'argent, gold and silver money. Envoyez cet or à la monnaie—à l'hôtel de la monnaie, send this gold to the mint. Il a payé en monnaie de cuivre, he paid in copper money. Il lui a donné une belle pièce de monnaie, he gave him a fine piece of money. Cette monnaie n'a plus cours, that coin has no circulation now. Voilà de la fausse monnaie, that is false—base—coin. Il est accusé de fausse monnaie, he is charged with issuing base coin. La livre tournois, la livre sterling, la pistole, &c., sont des monnaies de compte, are what is called money of account. Monnaie réelle, currency. Papier monnaie, paper money, bank-notes, &c. (Fam.) Battre monnaie, to raise the wind. Donnez-moi la monnaie de cinq francs, give me change for five francs. Je n'ai pas la somme en monnaie, I have not got any change. Il l'a payé en même monnaie, he gave him tit for tat—he paid him in the same coin. Payer en monnaie de singe, to pay with grimaces—with gambols. (This phrase is very ancient. It is said that the slaves who would pass through the gates of Lutecia (old Paris), made their apes to skip and dance in payment of the toll.) Il lui a rendu la monnaie de sa pièce, he has paid him off—he has revenged himself on him.
MONNAYAGE, s. m. coining.
MONNAYER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to coin.
MONNAYEUR, s. m. coiner. Faux monnayeur, false coiner; forger.
MONOCHROME, adj. (t. de peinture), monochromatic; of one colour.
MONOCLE, s. m. monoculus; glass for one eye; single glass.
MONOCORDE, s. m. monochord.
MONOCOTYLÉDONE, adj. (t. de bot.), monocotyledon.
MONOECIE, s. f. (t. de bot.), monœcia.
MONOGRAMME, s. m. monogram; a cypher.
MONOGRAPHIE, s. f. monography.
MONOLITHE, adj. monolith; of one stone.
MONOLOGUE, s. m. monologue.
MONOMANE, adj. monomaniac.

MONOMANIE, s. f. monomania.
MONOME, s. m. (t. d'algèbre), monome.
MONOPÉTALE, adj. (t. de bot.), monopetalous.
MONOPHYLE, adj. (t. de bot.), monophyllous.
MONOPOLE, s. m. monopoly. (Fig.) On dirait qu'il s'est réservé le monopole de l'injure et de la calomnie, one would say that he has taken to himself the monopoly of insult and calumny.
MONOPOLEUR, s. m. monopoler; monopolist.
MONOPTÈRE, s. m. (t. d'archit.), monopter, with one row of columns.
MONOSYLLABE, s. m. (t. de grammaire), monosyllable.
MONOSYLLABIQUE, adj. (t. de gramm.), monosyllabic.
MONOTONE, adj. monotonous.
MONOTONIE, s. f. monotony. Ce poème a de la monotonie, that poem is monotonous. Il y a bien de la monotonie dans notre genre de vie, there is much monotony in our style of life.
MONS, s. m. (prononcez Mônce), abréviation de Monsieur, équivalente à Master.
MONSEIGNEUR, s. m. my Lord. On le traite de monseigneur, he is styled my Lord. Messeigneurs, my Lords. Nosseigneurs du parlement, our lords of the parliament.
MONSEIGNEURISER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to call one my Lord.
MONSIEUR, s. m. (deux mots, mon-sieur), sir. Oui, monsieur, yes, sir. Je vous remercie, messieurs, I thank you, gentlemen. Je crois, Monsieur le général, que la guerre n'est pas loin, I think, general, we shall soon have war. Comment est votre malade, Monsieur le docteur, how is your patient, doctor? Oui, Monsieur le duc, yes, my lord Duke, Avez-vous vu Monsieur Thomas, have you seen Mr. Thomas? On dit que Monsieur le maire et Monsieur le juge ne sont pas d'accord, they say that the mayor and the magistrate have not agreed. Comment va Monsieur votre frère, how is your brother? Monsieur le prince va se marier, His Highness the Prince is about to get married. Où sont Messieurs vos frères à présent, where are your brothers now?
(Vie domestique.) Monsieur est-il chez lui, is Mr. so and so at home? Non, monsieur, monsieur est sorti, no, sir, master is gone out. Monsieur veut-il quelque chose, do you want anything, sir? (Entre des personnes étrangères.) Y a-t-il long-temps que Monsieur est ici, have you been long here, sir? Monsieur désire-t-il quelque chose, do you want anything, sir?
Il est venu un monsieur vous demander, a gentleman came to inquire after you. C'est un beau monsieur maintenant, he is a fine gentleman now. Ces messieurs sont Anglais, these gentlemen are English. C'est un vilain monsieur, he is a disagreeable gentleman. Mon petit monsieur, my little gentleman. Monsieur was the title of the king of France's eldest brother.
MONSTRE, s. m. monster. C'est un monstre d'ingratitude, he is a monster of ingratitude. (Fig.) Il se fait un monstre de tout, he is afraid of everything.
MONSTRUEUSEMENT, adv. monstrously; hugely.
MONSTRUEUX, EUSE, adj. monstrous; huge.
MONSTRUOSITÉ, s. f. monstrosity; unnatural production.
MONT, s. m. hill; mount. Le mont Etna est en Sicile, mount Etna is in Sicily. Mont sacré—le double mont, mount Parnassus. Promettre monts et merveilles, to promise wonders. Se tenir sur mont pagnote, to view a battle from a high eminence—to stand out of danger. Il dépense des monts d'or, he spends heaps of gold. Nous l'avons cherché par monts et par vaux, we sought him high and low—everywhere.
MONT DE PIÉTÉ, s. m. establishment where money is lent on pawn. They are like the pawnbrokers in England, but not so numerous; they are under the superintendence of government. Il avait dans sa poche une reconnaissance du Mont de Piété, he had a pawnbroker's ticket in his pocket.

MONTAGE, s. m. getting up; carrying up; taking up.
MONTAGNARD, E, s. m. f. adj. mountaineer.
MONTAGNE, s. f. mountain. Nous avions vu sur la montagne à gravir, we had a mountain to climb—to go up. Le penchant d'une montagne, the declivity of a mountain. La Suisse est un pays de montagne, Switzerland is a mountainous country.
MONTAGNEUX, EUSE, adj. mountainous; hilly.
MONTANT, s. m. (t. d'archit.), upright. (T. de cal.) Quel est le montant de ces sommes, what is the amount—the total of these sums? (T. de cuisine.) Donner du montant à une sauce, to give a high taste—a high gout—to a sauce. Ce vin a du montant, that wine is heady—is too strong. Ce tabac a trop de montant, that snuff is too pungent.
MONTE, s. f. covering.
MONTÉE, s. f. ascent. La montée de la côte est rude, the ascent of this hill is hard. (T. d'archit.) Monter la montée, to go up-stairs—to ascend the stairs. Vous n'avez pas balayé la montée, you have not swept the stairs. Il y a là une montée rompue, there is a broken step. Il descendait les montées quatre à quatre, he was running down the steps. S'il revient encore je le ferai sauter les montées, if he comes again I will toss him down-stairs. Cette voûte est large, mais elle a peu de montée, that arch, though wide, has little elevation.
MONTÉE, s. f. mot local, sort of very small cask in which immense quantities are taken in some of the French ports which empty themselves into the British Channel.
MONTER, v. a. p. n. v. r. 1ère conj. Il monte rapidement les escaliers, he was slowly mounting the stairs. Ce n'est pas ici, montez un étage plus haut, it is not here, go up one story higher. Monter sur un arbre, to get on a tree. Le président monta sur une table, the chairman mounted—got up—upon a table. Monter en chaire, to get in the pulpit. Voulez-vous bien monter cela à ma chambre, will you be so good as to take that up-stairs? Je ne croirais pas monter si haut, I could not climb so high. Il n'oserait monter à l'échelle, he would not dare to go up the ladder. Il a monté l'escalier vingt fois aujourd'hui, he has up-stairs twenty times. Il est monté dans sa chambre, he is up in his room. Allons, montons en carrosse, come, let us get into the carriage. Ils allaient monter en voiture quand je suis arrivé, they were going to get into the carriage when I arrived. Savez-vous monter à cheval, can you ride? Je n'ai jamais pu monter à cheval, I never could ride. Montez mon cheval, il est fort doux, get on my horse, he is as gentle as a lamb. Montez en croupe derrière moi, get up behind me. Les femmes de la campagne montent en croupe derrière leurs maris, the countrywomen ride behind their husbands.
Monter sur les planches, to mount on the boards—to tread the stage. Monter sur les tréteaux, to act a play. Il montera au faîte des honneurs, he will rise to the highest height of honour. Monter en grade, to be promoted. Il est monté au grade de capitaine, he was promoted to the rank of captain. Dans ce collége, les élèves montent tous les six mois, in this college the boys rise every six months. L'aigle monte très-haut dans les airs, the eagle soars very high in the air. Le ballon montait avec une rapidité étonnante, the balloon rose—ascended—with astonishing rapidity. Fils de Saint-Louis, montez au ciel, son of Louis ascend—mount—to heaven.
La rivière a monté de dix pieds, the river rose ten feet. Les eaux montent, the waters are rising. Le baromètre monte, the barometer is raising—is getting up.
(T. de jardinage.) Mes choux-fleurs montent, my cauliflowers are running. La laitue monte en graine, the lettuce is running to seed. Ces arbres montent trop haut, ils rendent l'appartement sombre, these trees are grown too high, they make the room dark.
Le luxe est monté à un comble, luxury has risen to a height. Ce collet monte trop haut, that collar is too high.
Tout monte de prix, everything is rising in price. Le blé a monté de dix francs par sac, corn has risen ten francs per sack. A combien se montent ces sommes, to what do these sums amount? Le tout monte à cent

bers, the whole amounts to one hundred and fifteen nce.
Il va monter un maison, he is going to set up house-ping. Il est très-bien monté en lierres, he is well set in bucks. On n'a pas bien monté cette pièce, that play not well got up.
Le vin me monte à la tête, wine gets into my head. Le lui monte au visage, blood gets into his face. Voilà olère qui lui monte au visage, behold anger rising in face.
T. milit.) Monter la garde, to mount guard. Je permit à la garde montante, I will see you when the d is going up. Ces hommes sont bien montés, those are well mounted. Il a monté une compagnie à ses
, he mounted a company at his own expense. Mon- fusil, to stock a gun. Monter un canon, to mount non on its carriage.
de marine.) Monter sur un vaisseau, to be em-d on a ship. Monter un vaisseau, to mount a ship command a ship. Ce vaisseau est monté de trente
, that ship carries—mounts—thirty guns.
de met., d'art.) Monter des diamants, to mount nds. Monter un lit, to put up a bed. Monter un
, to set up a frame. Monter une montre, une hor-
, to wind up a clock, &c. Monter un tourne-broche, up a jack. Monter un habit, une robe, to put er—to tack together—a coat, a dress. Monter une se dépense, to raise one's establishment, one's ex-
. Monter un piano, un violon, to raise a piano, a violin.
ter la tête à quelqu'un, to excite a person—to turn . On lui a monté la tête sur cet objet, they have him on this subject.
'est monté au ton de la haute éloquence, he raised e to the pitch of the highest eloquence. Quand sa monte il ne sait plus ce qu'il dit, when his mind—is excited, he knows not what he says.
êtes bien monté aujourd'hui, you are in a right to-day. Il est monté sur le ton de la plaisanterie, a joking humour to-day. C'est un coup monté, hing prepared beforehand.
TEUR, s. m. (t. d'orfévrerie), one who mounts ds, jewels, &c.
TGOLFIÈRE, s. f. small balloon. That name om Montgolfier, the inventor.
TICULE, s. m. mound; hillock.
TJOIE, s. f. heap of stones (in commemoration not). Title of the first king-at-arms of the French Montjoie Saint Denis was the war-cry of the France. The dukes of Burgundy cried Montjoie drè; the dukes of Bourbon, Montjoie Notre-

TOIR, s. m. a horse-block. Le côté du montoir, ide of a horse. Il monta du côté hors montoir, ed on his horse on the off-side. Mon cheval est
au montoir, my horse is difficult to mount.
TRE, s. f. sample; specimen. J'en ai acheté ès sur la montre, I bought twenty sacks on the Tout cela n'est que pour la montre, sur le comptoir, show. Voyez dans la montre, sur le comptoir, k in the show-glass, on the counter. La montre des fruits—est belle, the show—the appearance fruits—of the fruit—is beautiful. Il fait montre cours—of the fruit—is beautiful. Il fait montre on, he makes a display of his learning. Montre
the front of a church organ.
lit.), muster. (Fig.) Cela peut passer à la hat may pass muster.
TRE, s. f. (t. d'horloger). Montre d'or, gold Montre d'argent, silver watch. Montre à double tch with a double case. Montre à répétition, Montre à réveil, an alarum watch. Ma
t dérangée, my watch is out of order. Regardez tre, look at my watch what time it is. Ma montre retarde, my watch gains—loses. Mettez votre l'heure, regulate your watch—set it to the hour.
Il est deux heures à ma montre, it is two by my watch.
Montre marine, chronometer.
CRER, v. a. v. n. v. r. to show. Vous a-t-il belle maison, did he show his beautiful house to you? Venez, je vous le montrerai, come, I will show it you. Elle montre toujours un visage gai, she always shows a happy face. Il en a montré une grande douleur, he showed much grief at it. Il a montré un grand cou- rage en cette occasion, he displayed—made show of—great courage on that occasion. Elle montre un caractère ex- cellent, she shows an excellent disposition. Quand il pas- sait, tout le monde le montrait au doigt, every one pointed their finger at him when he passed. Mon habit montre la corde, my coat is threadbare.

Il montre la lanterne magique, he shows—exhibits—the magic lantern. Il montrait la ménagerie, he exhibited a menagerie.
Au premier mot, il leur a montré les dents, from the very first words, he showed them his teeth—he snarled at them. Montrer les talons, to run away—to show one's heels. On lui a montré la porte, they showed him the door—they turned him out.
Il n'a fait que se montrer, he only showed himself. Il n'oserait pas se montrer dans cette maison, he would not dare to show himself in that house. Croyez-moi, n'y mon- trez plus le nez, believe me, do not show your face there any more. Il s'est montré homme de courage, he showed himself a man of courage. Il s'en montrera digne, he will show himself—prove himself—worthy of it. L'art se montre trop dans ses écrits, art appears—shows itself—too much in his writings.
(Prouver.) Je lui montrerai qu'il a tort, I will show him that he is wrong.
(Enseigner.) Il montre les langues, he shows—he teaches—languages. Il montre à lire et à écrire, he teaches reading and writing. Il montre en ville, he goes out teaching. Qui vous a montré à danser, who taught you dancing? Venez, et je vous montrerai ce qu'il faut que vous fassiez, come, and I will show you what you must do. Voulez-vous bien me montrer le chemin de —, will you be so kind as to show me the way to —?
Il a été bien montré, he has been well taught.
MONTUEUX, SE, adj. hilly; rough.
MONTURE, s. f. saddle-horse; hack; beast. Qui veut aller loin ménage sa monture, he who will go far takes care of his beast.
(T. d'art, de métiers.) La monture d'un fusil, &c., the stock of a gun. Monture d'une scie, the handle of a saw.
La monture d'un sabre, the hilt of a sword. Monture de bride, head-stall of a bridle. (T. de joaillier), mounting; setting.
MONUMENT, s. m. monument. On lui a érigé un monument, they erected a monument to him. (Fig.) Les cavernes, les précipices, sont autant de monuments des ré-volutions du globe, the caverns, the precipices, are so many monuments of the revolutions of the globe.
MONUMENTAL, E, adj. monumental.
MOQUER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj. Elle se moque de tout le monde, she laughs at everybody. Elle s'est mo- quée de vous, she laughed at you. Nous nous en sommes moqués, we laughed at it.
Je me moque de vos menaces, I laugh at—I do not care for—your threats. Je me moque de cela, I laugh at that —I do not care for that. C'est se moquer que de préten- dre à cela, it is mockery to have such pretensions. Vous vous moquez, you are joking—you are not serious—you are not in earnest. Non, je ne me moque point, no, indeed, I am serious—I mean what I say. Vous vous moquez, je ne le souffrirai point, do not mention it—do not think of it, I will not allow you to think of it. Si vous n'y prenez garde, vous vous ferez moquer de vous, if you do not mind, you will make people laugh at you. On s'est moqué de lui, they made game of him.
MOQUERIE, s. f. mockery.
MOQUETTE, s. f. imitation of velvet; mocquadoe.
MOQUEUR, EUSE, s. m. f. adj. quiz. Comme elle est moqueuse, what a quiz she is! Elle a l'air si moqueur, she looks such a quiz. Ne le croyez pas, c'est un moqueur, do not believe him, he is joking—he is making game of you.
MORAILLES, s. f. plur. (t. de maréchal ferrant), barnacles.
MORAILLON, s. m. iron flap or hasp.

MORAL, E, adj. moral. J'ai lu les contes moraux de Marmontel. I have read the Moral Tales of Marmontel. Il nous a adressé un discours qui n'était pas très-moral, he addressed us a speech that was not very moral. Malgré son âge, il jouit encore de ses facultés morales, spite of his age, he still enjoys his intellectual faculties.

MORAL, s. m. Le physique influe beaucoup sur le moral, our physical powers have an influence over the mental ones. Le moral est affecté, the mind is—the intellects are—affected.

MORALE, s. f. morals; morality. C'est une dangereuse morale, these are dangerous morals. Vous ne voyez pas la morale de ce livre, you do not understand the moral sense of that book.

(Fig.) Faire une morale à quelqu'un, to read a reprimand to somebody.

MORALEMENT, adv. morally.

MORALISATEUR, s. m. adj. } moraliser; moralising.
MORALISATRICE, s. f. adj. }

MORALISATION, s. f. moralisation; the act of instilling moral principles.

MORALISER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to moralize. Moraliser un jeune homme, to lecture—to remonstrate with—a person. Se moraliser, to get moral.

MORALISEUR, s. m. moraliser.

MORALISTE, s. m. f. moralist.

MORALITÉ, s. f. morality; moral sense (of a tale, of a story). Il est d'une grande moralité, he is so moral.

MORBIDE, adj. (t. de méd.), morbid; (t. de peinture), soft.

MORBIDESSE, s. f. (t. de peinture), softness. (T. de méd.)

MORBIEU, interj. Morbleu. Voyez Par Dieu.

MORBIFIQUE, adj. (t. de médec.), morbific.

MORCEAU, s. m. bit; morsel. Un morceau de pain, a bit of bread. Mettre en morceaux, to cut to pieces—to tear to pieces. J'ai mangé un morceau avant de partir, I took a morsel—a bit—of something before leaving. Il aime les bons morceaux, he likes what is good—he is fond of nice bits. Il met les morceaux double dans sa bouche, he eats hastily. Le morceau honteux, the last bit.

Je m'éterais les morceaux de la bouche pour lui, I would take the last bit out of my own mouth to give it to him. On lui a taillé les morceaux bien courts, they have helped him sparingly. Il a ses morceaux taillés, he has exactly what he wants—he has his directions. On lui compte les morceaux, they give him what is absolutely necessary.

Un morceau de terre, a piece—a parcel—of land. Un morceau de musique, a piece of music. Morceau d'ensemble, a piece for several voices—for several persons. Cette maison est un morceau trop cher, that house is too dear a bit. C'est un morceau de roi, she is a dainty bit.

MORCELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to subdivide; to parcel out.

MORCELLEMENT, s. m. parcelling; dividing.

MORDACITÉ, s. f. mordacity.

MORDANT, E, adj. biting; (fig.), biting; sarcastic.

MORDANT, s. m. mordacity; sarcasm; (t. de peinture), mordant.

MORDICANT, E, adj. mordicant; acrid.

MORDICUS, adv. (mot Latin, prononcé mor-di-cüce), with tenacity; tenaciously. [to gnaw.

MORDILLER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to bite; to nibble;

MORDORÉ, s. f. brown-red colour.

MORDORÉE, adj. of a brownish-red colour.

MORDRE, v. a. rég. 3ème conj. (voyez Vendre), to bite. Mon chien l'a mordu au bras, my dog bit him in the arm. Je me suis mordu la langue, I bit my tongue. Il mordait dans un morceau de pain, he was biting a piece of bread. Comme les cousins l'ont mordu, the gnats have stung him famously. Il en est tout mordu, he is bitten all over. Le poisson mord à l'hameçon, the fish takes the bait. Il a mordu à la grappe, he caught at the proposal directly. Mordre la poussière, to bite the dust—to die.

Vous vous mordrez la langue d'avoir parlé, you will bite your tongue for having spoken, i. e. you will repent having spoken. Il s'en est mordu les doigts, he bit his own fingers for it—he repented it. Il ne saurait y mordre, he could not reach it. Il commence à mordre en commerce, he is beginning to understand business. Il mord à la besogne, he takes kindly to work. Il cherche à mordre sur tout, he will encroach upon everything. Il ne donne pas à mordre sur lui, he gives no hold upon him.

(T. de marine.) L'ancre ne mord pas le fond, the anchor does not take hold of the bottom. (T. de métaux.) L'eau forte mord sur les métaux, aqua fortis eats on metals. Le burin a trop mordu, the graver has gone too deep. (T. de couturière.) Il faut mordre peu à peu dans l'étoffe, you must cut a little deeper into the stuff. Les dents de la roue ne mordent pas, the cogs of the wheel do not catch, &c.

MORE, s. m. Moor. Traiter quelqu'un de Turc à More, to treat one cruelly (as the Turks did the Moors). Il y perd la laver la tête d'un More, it is a thankless task—it is useless to attempt to do what is impossible—to wash the Moor's armour white. Couleur gris de More, a gray colour almost black.

MORELLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), nightshade.

MORESQUE, adj. Moorish.

MORESQUE, s. f. moresk; a morris dance.

MORFIL, s. m. edge; rough edge. Faire le morfil d'un rasoir, to take off the rough edge of a razor. (T. de comm.), elephant's teeth in the rough.

MORFONDRE, v. a. v. n. rég. 3ème conj. (voyez Fondre), to chill. Ce vent vous morfondra, that wind will chill you—will give you cold. Mon cheval a morfondu, my horse got a chill.

(Fig.) Je me suis morfondu à vous attendre, I waited in vain for you. Ils se morfondent dans mon antichambre, they dance attendance in my ante-room. Il s'est morfondu, he wasted much time on it.

MORFONDURE, s. f. (t. de vétér.), cold; chill.

MORGELINE, s. f. (t. de bot.), chickweed.

MORGUE, s. f. pride; self-sufficience; assumed look.

Dead House in Paris where are deposited the bodies of those who have died a violent, unnatural death, and have been found in the river, that they may be recognised and claimed by their friends. (T. de prison.), an entrance room, where new inmates are made to sit a while that they may be looked at by the gaolers, and easily recognised.

MORGUE, interj., corruption de Mort Dieu. Par Dieu!

MORGUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to dare, to defy; to insult. Il me morgue partout, he braves me—defies me—everywhere.

MORGUEUR, s. m. a gaoler, inspecting the cells of prisoners, so as to recognise them. A bailiff.

MORGUEUX, EUSE, adj. proud; insolent.

MORIBOND, E, adj. dying. Il était moribond, he was in a dying state.

MORICAUD, E, adj. Il est moricaud, he is swarthy—as a gipsy. C'est une petite moricaude, she is a short, swarthy woman.

MORIGÉNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to reprimand; to control.

MORILLE, s. f. (t. de bot.), morel, a sort of mushroom, resembling a sponge.

MORILLON, s. m. sort of black grape.

MORILLONS, s. m. (t. de fonderie), coals sold by weight.

MORION, s. m. (armes anciennes), ancient head armour lighter than a bourguignotte.

(Ancienne discipline militaire.) On lui a donné le morion, he has been fustigated (with the butt of a halberd).

MORNE, s. m. hill. (Ce mot est en usage dans les colonies françaises.)

MORNE, adj. mournful; sad. Il fait un temps morne, the weather is gloomy—dull. Cette couleur est morne, that colour is gloomy.

MORNE, E, adj. (t. de chevalerie). Leur lance fut mornée, their lance was blunted.

MORNIFLE, s. f. slap on the face.

MOROSE adj. morose; sullen; sour.
MOROSITÉ, s. f. moroseness; sullenness; sourness.
MORPHINE, s. f. (t. de chimie), morphia.
MORPION, s. m. crab.
MORS, s. m. (t. de sellier), bit. Mon cheval joue son mors, my horse plays with the bit. Son cheval prit le mors aux dents, his horse took the bit between his teeth, i. e. ran away. (Fig.) Au moindre reproche il prend le mors aux dents, at the least word of reproach he flies into a passion. Si vous n'y prenez garde il prendra le mors aux dents, if you do not mind, he will run away with you.
MORSURE, s. f. bite; biting.
MORT, s. f. death. Qui n'a pas peur de la mort, does not fear—dread—death? Il envisage la mort en chrétien, he faces death fearlessly. Elle s'est donné la mort, she destroyed herself—she died by her own hand. Il est mort de sa belle mort, he died a natural death. Elle est morte de mort violente, she died a violent death. Il a deux jours qu'il combat contre la mort, he has been struggling with death these two days. La mort l'a enlevé à ses parents, death took him away from his parents. Il cherche la mort dans les combats, he seeks death on the field of battle. Faire une belle mort, to die a happy—a good—death.
Il est à l'article de la mort, he is at the point of death. Il est malade à la mort, he is sick to death. Il est au lit de mort—à son lit de mort, he is on his death-bed. Il a la mort au cœur, she is mortally wounded in her affections. La conduite de son fils lui donne la mort, the conduct of her son kills her—opens her grave. Cette disgrâce lui a mis la mort dans le cœur, that disgrace distressed her to death—was the cause of her death. Il est condamné à mort, he is condemned to death. Il marchait à la mort avec courage, he marched to execution courageously. Il a fait son testament de mort, he has written his last will. Cette affaire va à la mort, that business will end in his death. Je le hais à la mort, I hate him to death—extremely. Je suis à vous de la vie et à la mort, I am yours for life and in death. Il y eut un combat à la mort entre eux, there was a desperate combat between them. Ce prédicateur vous fait souffrir mort et passion, that preacher tortures you to death. C'est ma mort que de vous voir, it is torture to me to see him. Je lui veux mal à mort de n'être pas venu, I am extremely angry with him for not having come.
Le monopole est la mort du commerce, monopoly kills trade.
MORT, loc. adv. deadly; mortally; to death. Il est blessé à mort, he is mortally wounded. Par la mort! Mort de ma vie, by my own death!
MORT AUX RATS, s. f. rats' bane; poison.
MORT, voyez après Mourir.
MORTADELLE, s. f. large sausage made at Bologna.
MORTAILLABLE, adj. a serf whose property went to the lord after him.
MORTAISE, s. f. (t. de charpentier), mortise.
MORTALITÉ, s. f. mortality.
MORT-BOIS, s. m. dead wood; dry branches, &c.
MORTE-EAU, s. f. neap tide.
MORTEL, LE, adj. mortal; deadly. Ce n'est pas une blessure mortelle, the wound is not mortal. Il a pour lui une haine mortelle, I have a deadly—mortal—hatred for him. C'est mon mortel ennemi, he is my mortal—bitter—enemy. Il m'a fallu attendre quelques mortelles heures, I was obliged to wait for two tedious hours.
MORTEL, s. m. } mortal.
MORTELLE, s. f. }
MORTELLEMENT, adv. mortally; (fig.), exceedingly; mortally.
MORTE PAYE, s. f. Voyez Paye.
MORTE-SAISON, s. f. dead season.
MORTGAGE, s. m. mortgage.
MORTIER, s. m. (t. de maçon.), mortar; (t. de chim.), mortar; (t. d'artillerie), mortar; (t. de costumier), cap of judges.
MORTIFÈRE, adj. mortiferous.

MORTIFIANT, E, adj. Il a reçu un refus mortifiant, he has met with a mortifying—humiliating—refusal. Il est bien mortifiant d'éprouver des choses semblables, it is very mortifying—provoking to meet with such things.
MORTIFICATION, s. f. mortification; (fig.), mortification; affliction. Ce sont des mortifications que Dieu nous envoie, these are sorrows—afflictions which God permits.
MORTIFIER, v. a. rég. lère conj., to mortify. Il faut mortifier les sens, we must mortify our senses. (Fig.) Ce refus me mortifierait beaucoup, that refusal would mortify me much. Je vais mortifié de ne pouvoir pas accepter, I am much mortified that I cannot accept. Il avait l'air bien mortifié, he looked mortified—vexed—chagrined.
(T. de cuisine.) On bat la viande pour la mortifier, cooks beat meat to make it tender. Le grand air mortifie la viande, the open air makes the meat tender. Ce faisan n'est pas assez mortifié, that pheasant has not yet been kept enough.
MORT-NÉ, adj. Elle est accouchée d'un enfant mort-né, she was delivered of a still born child.
MORTUAIRE, adj. mortuary. Un drap mortuaire, a pall. Les droits mortuaires, the funereal fees. Registre mortuaire, the registry of burials.
MORUE, s. f. codfish. Morue fraîche, fresh codfish. Morue salée, salt codfish. Une poignée de morues, a pair of salt codfish.
MORVE, s. f. mot. Il a toujours la morve au nez, his nose is always dirty. (En parlant des chevaux), glanders.
MORVEAU, s. m. an accumulation of mucus in the nose.
MORVEUX, EUSE, adj. Cet enfant est toujours morveux, that child's nose is ever dirty. Il vaut mieux laisser son enfant morveux que de lui arracher le nez, it is better to suffer a small evil than to run the risk of causing a greater by a remedy. Qui se sent morveux se mouche, let him wear the cap, whom it fits. (T. de vétérin.) Ce cheval est morveux, that horse is glandered.
MORVEUX, s. m. C'est un jeune morveux, he is a brat, a stripling. Il l'a traité en morveux, he treated him as a youth, as a stripling.
MOSAÏQUE, adj. mosaic.
MOSAÏQUE, s. f. mosaic. (Fig.) Cet ouvrage est une mosaïque, that work is a mosaic—is made of separate pieces.
MOSCOUADE, s. f. (pron. mosc-couade), raw sugar.
MOSQUÉE, s. f. mosque. Les Turcs ont changé plusieurs églises en mosquées, the Turks have converted several churches into mosques.
MOT, s. m. word. C'est un mot Français, it is a French word. Ce mot n'est plus en usage, that word is no longer used. Est-ce là le mot propre, is that the proper word? Ne vous servez pas de ce mot, do not use that word. Il s'est expliqué en peu de mots, he explained himself in a few words. C'est un mot à double entente, it is a word with a double meaning. Elle aime les grands mots, she likes big words, high sounding words. Elle traîne les mots en parlant, she drawls the words when she speaks. Elle mange les mots, she clips her words. Elle compte les mots, she utters the words one by one—she speaks very slowly. Ils en sont venus aux gros mots, they came to high words. Il dit toujours des mots gras, he has always obscene words in his mouth. Je lui ai dit les mots et les paroles sans hésiter, I spoke out to him—I told him the plain truth without hesitation. Ce ne sont que des mots que tout cela, these are mere words. Dites lui un mot de ma part, say something to her from me. J'ai un mot à lui dire, I have one word to say. Il n'a sonné mot, he did not utter a word. Qui ne dit mot consent, silence gives consent. Il n'avait pas le mot à dire, he had not a word to say for himself. S'il ne dit mot, il n'en pense pas moins, if he does not speak, he does not think the less. Lui en avez-vous glissé un mot, did you give him a hint about it? Je lui en ai dit deux ou trois mots à l'oreille, I whispered two or three words in his ear. Il a toujours le mot pour rire, he is ever ready with a joke—he is always facetious. Il entend à demi mot, half a word is enough for him. Un bon mot, a pun, a witty saying. Il aimerait mieux perdre un ami qu'un bon mot, he would always sacrifice a friend to a pun—to a witticism. Je n'entends pas le fin du mot, I am not up to the thing. Oui, c'est là le mot, yes, that is the secret. Trancher le mot, to cut the matter short. Voilà, le grand mot est lâché, there now the big word is out. Ce sont des jeux de mots, they are perpetual puns—plays on the word. Savez-vous le mot de l'énigme, do you know the secret—the meaning of all this? Voilà le mot de l'énigme, all the mystery is now out. Il a le mot, he knows the secret—he has been warned—he is up to it.

C'est un mot de Socrate, it is one of the sayings of Socrates. Il lui échappe quelquefois des mots heureux, he has sometimes happy sayings.

Je vous prends au mot, I take you at your word. Voilà mon dernier mot, that is my last word. Je ne suis point homme à deux mots, I have not two words.

Je vous prête ces mille francs, mais donnez-moi un mot de votre main, I lend you these 1000 francs, but give me your note of hand.

(T. milit.) Le mot d'ordre, the watch-word. Le mot de ralliement, the field-cry.

Ces gens-là se sont donné le mot pour me tromper, these people have come to an understanding to deceive me.

Ils ont pour mot, Dum spero, spero, their motto is, Dum spero, spero.

(Loc. adv.) En un mot, in a word. Il traduit mot à mot, he translates word for word. Vous le trouverez mot pour mot dans sa lettre, you will find that verbatim in his letter. Il dictait mot à mot, he was dictating word by word.

MOTET, s. m. motet; anthem.

MOTEUR, s. m. motor.

MOTEUR, adj. m. } (morer; moving; motive. La
MOTRICE, adj. f. } puissance motrice, the moving power.

MOTIF, s. m. motive; cause.

MOTION, s. f. motion. On rejeta sa motion, his motion was rejected. (T. de science), movement; motion.

MOTIVER, v. a. rég. ère conj., to justify; to give a reason for. A-t-il motivé son refus, did he justify—give reasons for his refusal?

MOTTE, s. f. Briser les mottes d'un champ, to break the clods of a field. Une motte de gazon, a sod. Il faut aplanir cette motte, this mound should be levelled. Enlever une plante avec sa motte, to take up a plant with the earth—the ball of earth at the foot.

Motte à brûler, a cake of tan, of peat, &c. Brûler des mottes, to burn peat; cakes of tan.

MOTTER, Se, v. r. rég. ère conj. (t. de chasse). Les perdrix se mettent, partridges hide themselves behind clods of earth.

MOTUS, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. mô-tuce). Motus, ne parlez pas de cela, hush, do not speak about that. Motus! il ne faut pas dire que vous m'ayez vu sortir de là, not a word! you must not say that you saw me come out of that house.

MOU, MOLLE, adj. soft. Comme ce lit est mou, how soft this bed is! Ce fromage est trop mou, this cheese is too soft. Vous avez la chaire molle, your flesh is flabby. Aimez-vous les poires molles, do you like pears when they are mellow? Le temps est mou, the weather is close, enervating. Il est mou au travail, he works slackly. C'est un homme mou, he is a weak, inactive man. Il vit dans une molle oisiveté, he lives in sluggish idleness. Il a reçu une éducation molle, he has received a loose education.

Comme ce cheval est mou, how inactive—lazy—this horse is. Il montre une molle complaisance, he yields feebly—weakly.

(T. de marine.) Ce cordage est mou, that rope is slack. Notre vaisseau est mou à virer, our ship is slack in her stays.

MOU, s. m. lights. Du mou d'agneau, lamb's lights. (T. de marine.) Donner du mou à un cordage, to slack out a rope.

MOUCHARD, s. m. spy. (Supposed to be derived from "Mouche," in reference to the habits of the fly which prowls every where in search of food. Some say it is the proper name of the first spy.)

MOUCHARDER, v. a. & r. rég. ère conj., to watch one another.

MOUCHE, s. f. fly. Mouche à miel, bee. J'ai fort incommodé des mouches, I was much annoyed by flies. Mon cheval est tendre aux mouches, my horse cannot bear flies. (Fig.) Comme vous êtes mouches, how touchy you are—how easily you are offended. Il se tient là à poser des mouches, he is gaping about. Je ne pouvais me débarrasser de ces mouches, I could not get rid of those idlers—of these terrors. Quelle mouche l'a piqué, what fly has stung him—i. e. what is the cause of his ill humour? Prenez garde, il prend bientôt la mouche, take care, he soon takes offence—he is very touchy, (this phrase alludes to the horse who allows himself to be annoyed by flies, and, in a fit of pettishness, tries to catch them, to get rid of them.) Il fait la mouche du coche, he is an busy, he makes much importance, as the fly in the fable. On prend plus de mouches avec du miel qu'avec du vinaigre, more are caught with honey than with vinegar, i. e. more is done with gentle than with rough means. Les Romains tombaient dru comme mouches, men fell as thick as flies. C'est une fine mouche, he is a cunning fellow.

(T. d'écriture.) Ce sont des pieds de mouche que votre écriture, what a scrawl you write!

(T. de mode ancienne.) Autrefois les dames portaient des mouches, formerly ladies wore patches on the face. Voici votre boîte à mouches, here is your patch-box.

Tuft of bread,

MOUCHER, v. a. & r. rég. ère conj. Il faut moucher cet enfant, blow that child's nose. Moucher-vous bien, blow your nose. Le tabac fait moucher, snuff makes one's nose to run. Il ne se mouche pas, he never feels the want of blowing his nose. (Fig.) Autrefois, du temps qu'on se mouchait sur la manche, in the olden time—in times of simplicity. C'est un homme qui ne se mouche pas du bout du pied, he is a man who does not wipe his nose with his foot, i. e. he is not a simpleton.

Moucher une bougie, to snuff a candle.

(T. de police), to spy. La police a fait moucher cet homme, the police have had an eye on that man.

d'escrime, de tir, &c.) Il fait mouche à tous coups, he leaves a mark every time.

MOUCHEROLLE, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), a bird which lives on flies.

MOUCHERON, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), The snuff of a candle.

MOUCHETER, v. a. rég. ère conj., to speckle. Chat moucheté, a speckled cat. Cheval moucheté, flea-bitten horse. (T. d'escrime.) Fleuret moucheté, a blunt foil; a foil with a knob at the point to prevent its doing injury.

MOUCHETTES, s. f. snuffers.

MOUCHETURE, s. f. specks; speckles. Les mouchetures de cette peau sont agréables à l'œil, the specks on that skin are agreeable to the eye.

MOUCHOIR, s. m. Moucheur de chandelle, candle snuffer.

MOUCHOIR, s. m. handkerchief. Mouchoir de poche, pocket handkerchief. Mouchoir de cou, neck handkerchief. Elle a refusé le mouchoir, she refused the handkerchief—i. e. she would not have him.

MOUCHON, s. m. (Moucheture de chandelle), snuff.

MOUCHURE, s. f. } snuff.

MOUDRE, v. a. irrég. Moudre, to grind. Je mouds—nous moulons; je moulais; je moudrai; je moudrais; que je moule; que je moulusse; moulant, moulu, moudre, qu'il moule, moulons, moulez, qu'ils moulent, to grind. (Fig.) Il était moulu de coups, he was beaten all over. J'ai le corps tout moulu, I am aching all over.

MOUE, s. f. face; mouth. Pourquoi fait-elle la moue, why does she pout so? Elle lui fait la moue, she makes a mouth—faces—at him.

MOUETTE, s. f. sea gull.
MOUFFETTE, s. f. damps; foul air in a mine.
MOUFLARD, s. m. } Voyez ce gros mouflard, only MOUFLARDE, s. f. } look at that fat faced fellow.
MOUFLE, s. f. large leather mitten; (t. de marine.) sheave; pulley; (t. de chimie), muffle.
MOUFLÉ, E, adj. (t. de marine). Poulie mouflée, double.
MOUFLON, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), wild sheep.
MOUILLAGE, s. m. anchorage; anchoring. Le mouillage n'est pas sûr, the anchorage is not safe there. Nous étions au mouillage sur la rade, we were at anchor in the road.
MOUILLE-BOUCHE, s. f. sort of juicy pear which ripens in July.
MOUILLER, v. a. v. r. v. n. réc. 1ère conj., to wet. Mouiller un linge dans l'eau, to wet—dip—a linen cloth in water. Le roi défendit à la mer de lui mouiller les pieds, the king bade the sea not to wet his feet. Je suis tout mouillé, I am wet all over. Vous vous mouillerez si vous ne vous maintenez, you will get wet if you go out now. Comme vous êtes mouillé, how wet you are! Elle avait les yeux mouillés de larmes, her eyes were wet with tears. (Fig., fam.) C'est une poule mouillée, he is a poule, he is faint-hearted. Tirons au doigt mouillé à qui le fera. Voyez Doigt. (T. de marine.) Mouiller l'ancre, to drop anchor. Nous étions mouillés en face du port, we were at anchor in the harbour. Nous fûmes obligés de mouiller, we were obliged to cast anchor. (T. de grammaire.) Mouiller les ll, to give the ll a liquid sound. Les ll sont mouillées dans bataille, &c. the ll are liquid in ba-tâ-ille, bon-zillon, &c.
MOUILLETTE, s. f. long, thin slice of bread dipped in boiled egg. Manger des œufs à la mouillette, to eat soft eggs.
MOUILLOIR, s. m. a little vessel full of water in which a painter dips her fingers.
MOUILLURE, s. f. wetting.
MOULAGE, s. m. moulding; casting. (T. de marine.) measurement of wood.
MOULE, s. f. mussel.
MOULE, s. m. mould. Faire le moule d'une statue, to make the mould of a statue. Jeter en moule, to cast. Ces choses-là se font au moule, these things are cast. Cela ne se jette pas en moule, these things are not done easily done.
MOULE de bouton, button mould. Moule de pâtisserie, mould for pastry.
MOULER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to cast in the mould; Mouler des chandelles, to make mould candles. Mouler une chose sur une autre, to take a thing after pattern. Il se moule sur lui, he takes him for his pattern.
MOULÉE, printed letter. On dirait de la lettre moulée, you would say his writing is like print. Croire tout ce qui est moulé, to have faith in books—in any thing that is in print—printed. Lire le moulé, to read the print.
MOULEUR, s. m. moulder. Mouleur de bois, assizer, measurer of wood—timber assizer.
MOULIN, s. m. mill. Moulin à eau, water mill. Moulin à vent, wind mill. Moulin à bras, hand mill. Moulin à café, coffee mill. Moulin à fouton, fulling mill. Moulin à papier, paper mill. Moulin à drèche, malt mill. Moulin à nef ou pendu, mill built on a boat. Moulin banal (t. de féodal.), the village mill, where all are obliged to go to grind, by paying a fee to the lord of the manor. Faire venir l'eau au moulin, that brings grist to the mill. Laissez le faire, il viendra moudre à notre moulin, leave him alone, he will come to grind at our mill, i. e. he will be in want of us some time. Je jette mon bonnet après cela, is said by a person who has given up all hopes of success. Vous nous mettez toujours les moulins après cela, is said by a person who is out with a story.—I know no more. Cette femme a jeté son bonnet par dessus les moulins, she has thrown off all restraint—all consideration. C'est un homme qui se bat contre les moulins à vent, he contends with chimerical difficulties—he fancies things, obstacles, &c. C'est un moulin à paroles que cette femme, what a chatterbox that woman is!
MOULINAGE, s. m. (t. de fabricant de soieries), milling.
MOULINER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mill. Soie moulinée, milled silk. (T. d'hist. nat.) Ce bois est tout mouliné, this wood is worm-eaten.
MOULINET, s. m. small mill. Passer au moulinet, to go through a turnstile. (T. de danse.) Faire le moulinet, to make a moulinet. Il fit le moulinet avec son bâton, he twirled his staff round and round. (T. de marine), capstan; windlass. Moulinet à bitord, spun yarn winch.
MOULINEUR, s. m. miller.
MOULT, adv. (vieux mot), much, very. Il était moult vaillant, he was a very brave man.
MOURANT, E, s. m. f. dying. Le champ de bataille était couvert de mourants, the field of battle was strewed with the dying. Voyez le verbe Mourir.
MOURIR, v. n. v. irrég. Mourir, mourant, mort, e; je meurs; je mourais; je mourus; je mourrai; je mourrais; que je meure; que je mourusse; meurs, qu'il meure, mourons, mourez, qu'ils meurent.
Le malheureux se meurt, the poor fellow is dying. Il est mort de sa mort naturelle, he died a natural death. On dit qu'il est mort de mort violente, they say he died a violent death. Oui, nous mourrons, mais nous ne mourrons pas sans vengeance, yes, we shall die, but we shall not die unrevenged. Il mourut à 18 ans d'un coup d'épée, he died at 18 of a sword wound. De quoi votre mère est-elle morte? what did your mother die of? Elle est morte d'un rhume violent, she died of a violent cold. Il est mort de froid, the cold weather killed him—he died of the cold—he was starved with cold. Je me meurs de chaleur, I am dying with the heat. Ces gens meurent de faim, these poor people are starving—are dying from hunger. Est-ce qu'on n'en meurt point, does it not kill you with delight? Il est mort en chrétien, he died a christian's death—like a christian. Il est mort comme un chien, he died like a dog. Il mourra dans sa peau, he will die in his own skin—unchanged—unbetrayed. S'il y va, c'est un homme mort, if he goes there, he is a dead man. Je meurs de peur qu'il ne vienne, I am afraid to death lest he should come.
On le fit mourir sur la place de Grève, they took his life on the place of execution. Vous la ferez mourir de chagrin, you will kill her with sorrow. Il mourra de sa main, he shall die by my own hand. Il veut mourir au champ d'honneur, he wishes to die on the field of honour. Il tomba mort, sur le coup, he fell dead instantly. Obéissez au médecin si vous voulez mourir dans les formes, obey the doctor, if you wish to die according to form. On ne sait ni qui meurt, ni qui vit, none can say who shall live, who shall die, i. e. life is very uncertain.
Je veux mourir—que je meure, si ce n'est pas vrai, may I die if it is not true. Le lièvre va toujours mourir au gîte, the hare always returns to die in its form, i. e. after his wanderings a man likes to die in his own country. Le banni meurt civilement, an exile is dead civilly.
Il veut mourir pour sa patrie, he wishes to die for his country. Il est mort pour sa famille, he died for his family.
Ces plantes se meurent, these plants are dying. Vous laissez mourir ces rosiers faute d'eau, you allow these rose-trees to die for want of water. Cet arbre est tout à fait mort, that tree is quite dead. Le froid a fait mourir mes plantes, the cold killed my plants. Le feu va mourir, the fire will soon die out—be out. Ma chandelle est morte, my candle is out. Tout est mort en lui, all is dead in him. Les passions meurent, les regrets restent, passions die away, regrets remain. Il est mort au monde, he is dead to the world.
(Fig.) Je meurs de la voir, I long to see her—I am dying with the wish to see her. Nous nous mourons d'ennui à la campagne, we are dying with ennui—we are dreadfully dull in the country. Parlez donc, vous me faites mourir d'impatience, do speak, you kill me—you make me die with impatience. Vous nous faites mourir à petit feu, you kill us by degrees—slowly—.—you torture us.

Les sons parvenaient en mourant à mon oreille, the dying sounds reached my ears. Il fut blessé par une balle morte, he was wounded by a spent ball.

Il a le trict mort, his face is so dull—so inanimate. Ses yeux morts semblaient ne plus voir, his eyes, now dead,—now dull, seemed to have lost the power of sight. Il a la guenle morte, his mouth is closed, he has not a word to say for himself. Apprendre les langues mortes, to learn the dead languages. (T. de peinture.) Il peint bien la nature morte, he well understands painting inanimate nature. Il n'y va pas de main morte, he strikes hard—he is not indolent—he does not do things weakly. C'est de l'argent mort, that money lies dead—useless.

MORT, E. (employé comme subst.). Dieu viendra juger les morts et les vivants, God will come to judge the quick and the dead. Porter un mort en terre, to take a body to the grave. On le trouva parmi les morts, he was found among the dead. Une tête de mort, a death's head. Faire le mort, to sham dead—,—to be silent, not to answer. Les morts ont toujours tort, the dead are always wrong.

MOURON, s. m. (t. de bot.), anagallis. Mouron des oiseaux, chickweed.

MOURRE, s. f. (de l'Italien Morra). Jeu que les Italiens jouent dans les rues, et qui consiste à ouvrir et à fermer les doigts d'une part, et à deviner le nombre de ceux qui sont ouverts de l'autre. Jouer à la mourre, to play at morra.

MOUSQUET, s. m. musket. Porter le mousquet, to be a soldier. (Fig.) Crever comme un vieux mousquet, to die of excessive eating and drinking.

MOUSQUETADE, s. f. musket shot; musketry.

MOUSQUETAIRE, s. m. musketeer; fusileer. Les mousquetaires gris et les mousquetaires noirs were two companies of the king's household; they were abolished in 1775.

MOUSQUETERIE, s. f. musketry.

MOUSQUETON, s. m. carbine, short gun used by the cavalry; musketoon.

MOUSSE, adj. blunt; blunted.

MOUSSE, s. m. (t. de marine), cabin boy.

MOUSSE, s. f. (t. de bot.), moss. Il couche sur un lit de mousse, he lies, he sleeps on a bed of moss. Pierre qui roule n'amasse pas de mousse, a rolling stone gathers no moss.

(Par analogie.) La mousse de la bierre, the froth of beer. La mousse du savon, the froth, lather of soap.

MOUSSELINE, s. f. muslin.

MOUSSER, v. n. rég. ère conj. Cette bierre ne mousse pas, that beer does not froth. Le vin de champagne mousse, champagne wine sparkles, froths. Faire mousser du chocolat, to froth chocolate. (Fig., fam.) Comme il fait mousser son succès, don't he make the best of his advantage—.—how boastingly he speaks of his advantage!

MOUSSEUX, EUSE, adj. Cette bierre n'est pas mousseuse, this beer does not froth. Champagne mousseux, sparkling champagne. Une rose mousseuse, a moss rose.

MOUSSOIR, s. m. chocolate-mill.

MOUSSON, s. f. (mot imité de l'Arabe et en usage dans les Indes), monsoon. Nous attendons la mousson d'été, we are waiting for the summer monsoon.

MOUSSU, E, adj. mossy; full of moss. Une pierre toute moussue, a stone covered with moss.

MOUSTACHE, s. f. mustache. Tous les Français portent la moustache maintenant, every Frenchman wears a mustache now. (Fam.) C'est une vieille moustache de l'empire, he is an old soldier of the empire. Un soldat ennemi lui brûla la moustache, a soldier of the enemy fired at him in his face. On lui enlève tout jusque sur la moustache, they take everything from him even to his face —under his nose. On lui donna sur la moustache, they struck him in his face.

MOUSTIQUAIRE, s. m. mosquito curtain.

MOUSTIQUE, s. m. (t. d'entom.), mosquito.

MOÛT, s. m. new sweet wine.

MOUTARD, s. m. a little boy; a brat. Il est le compagnon de ses moutards, his brats are with him.

MOUTARDE, s. f. mustard. (Fam., fig.) Faire la moutarde, to lose time about trifles. La moutarde lui monte au nez, the mustard gets up his nose—he is getting angry—he is taking offence. Tout ce qui de la moutarde après dîner, all that comes too late is mustard after meals.

MOUTARDIER, s. m. mustard pot; mustard cruet. (Fig.) Il se croit le premier moutardier du pape, he has a very high idea of his own importance.

MOUTE, s. f. cat; pussy.

MOUTIER, s. m. (vieux mot), monastery. (Fig.) Il faut laisser le moutier où il est, we must see things as they are.

MOUTON, s. m. sheep. Il garde les moutons, he keeps sheep, flocks. On nous servit un gigot, une épaule de mouton, they gave us a leg of mutton. Une épaule de mouton, a shoulder of mutton. Peau de mouton, sheep's skin. Je n'aime pas le mouton, I dislike mutton of mutton.

Il est doux comme un mouton, he is as gentle as a lamb. Le peuple fait comme les moutons, the people follow like sheep—i. e. they follow each other. Revenons à nos moutons, let us resume our subject.

(T. de métier.) On enfonce les pieux avec un mouton, piles are driven in with a monkey. (T. de relieur.) La reliure de ce livre n'est que de mouton, the binding of this book is only of sheep's leather. (T. de police.) Prendre un mouton près de lui pour le faire jaser, they take a spy near him to draw him to speak. (T. de mer.) La mer se couvre de moutons, the sea is covered with foaming waves.

MOUTONNAILLE, s. f. flock of sheep; (fig.) a set of weak people.

MOUTONNEMENT, adv. sheepishly; weakly; in a silly way.

MOUTONNER, v. n. v. n. rég. ère conj. Cheveux moutonnés, hair that is frizzled, curled very close. (T. de police.) Moutonner un prisonnier, to get a prisoner to speak—to pump him. (T. de mer, de rivière.) Le vent souffle, voilà la mer qui moutonne, the wind blows, and the sea is getting foamy.

Ses cheveux se moutonnent, his hair is getting thick—thick curled. (Fig.) Moutonnons-nous à vivre, moutonnons vivre en paix, let us be gentle—submissive—let us to live quietly.

MOUTONNIÈRE, adj. La race moutonnière, the sheep race. La nation moutonnière, the silly race.

MOUTURE, s. m. Le meunier se fait payer sa mouture, the miller is paid for grinding. Les meilleurs moulins qui font une meilleurre mouture qu'ils. there are mills which grind better—that give better —than others. (Fig.) Tirer d'un sac deux moutures, to take double toll. (Mélange de grains), mash.

MOUVANCE, s. f. (t. de féod.), dependance.

MOUVANT, E, adj. (tiré de Mouvoir). Force mouvante, that is the moving power. Le sol est mouvant, mouvants, the quicksands. Le sol est mouvant, il cède, the soil is not solid—is moving—is not firm upon it. Terrain mouvant, unsolid ground. La cour est au terrain mouvant, the court is on unsolid ground—of unsolid ground. Tableau mouvant, a moving picture, (T. de féod.) Ce fief est mouvant de la couronne, this fief is dependant on the crown.

MOUVEMENT, s. m. motion. Le mouvement de la machine est trop rapide, the motion of the machine is too quick. Cette roue imprime le mouvement à toute la machine, the wheel sets every thing in motion. On a simplifié les mouvements d'une montre, the works of watches have been much simplified.

Il fit un léger mouvement de tête, he made a slight motion with his head—he moved his head a little. Il est brusque dans tous ses mouvements, he is abrupt in his actions—movements. Ce tableau et les couleurs sont doux, gracieux, the actions of these figures are gentle

…l. Les mouvements de ce bâtiment sont durs à l'ancre, …at ship rides hard.

Vous ne réussirez pas, si vous ne vous donnez du …vement, you will not succeed if you do not stir—move. …e donne bien du mouvement sans qu'on l'en prie, he …oes a great deal—takes a great deal of trouble—without being requested. Il est dans un mouvement per-…tuel, he is perpetually on the move—moving. C'est le …ouvement perpétuel que cet homme, that man is a per-…nal motion.

(T. de science.) Mouvement de rotation, a rotary …tion. Cette planète a un mouvement d'orient en oc-…dent, that planet has a motion from east to west.

(T. de médec.) Les mouvements du cœur, the action …the heart. Il n'y a plus de mouvement en lui, all …on, all life has ceased in him. Il tomba sans mouve-…ment, he fell motionless. Cette vive émotion a mis toutes …humeurs en mouvement, that great emotion set all the …mours moving. Le mouvement des humeurs, the move-…—disturbance—of humours.

(T. milit.) Ce mouvement est bien exécuté, the …uvre is well executed. Surveillez les mouvements …nemi, watch the movements—motions of the enemy. …nemi fit un mouvement en avant, the enemy moved …ward. Il fit un mouvement rétrograde, he retro-…ded. Il y a eu du mouvement dans ce régiment, …re have been changes—promotions—in that regiment. …elle est donc la cause de tous ces mouvements? what …be the cause of these changes?

Il y a du mouvement dans la ville, there is a bustle—…gitation in the town. C'est un mouvement populaire, …a popular agitation. Les mouvements de la Ligue …aient dangereux, the movements—manœuvres—acts of …League were pernicious to government.

(T. de politique.) Le parti du mouvement devient …modéré, the innovators are becoming more mo-…e. Le mouvement inquiète le gouvernement, the new …—the progress of the innovators gives uneasiness to …rnment.

Il y a bien du mouvement dans ce port, there is much …ity—business—many changes—in this port. Les …decins causent du mouvement dans l'hôpital, the cur-…maladies cause great fluctuation—bustle—great …ss in the hospitals. Il y a eu du mouvement au …Ministère, à la bourse, there has been much business—ac-…n in the market—on change.

(T. de musique.) Cette pièce est d'un mouvement …lent, this piece has a slow movement. Ne pressez pas le …mouvement, do not hurry the measure. C'est un air de …mouvement, it is an air with the time well marked—ani-…d music.

(T. de peinture.) Cette figure n'a pas de mouvement, …figure is cold—lifeless. Ce peintre met du mouvement …dans ses paysages, that painter animates—gives life to—…ndscape.

…s mouvements du terrain, the accidents—the inequa-…s of the ground.

(T. de littérat.) Son style est sans mouvement, his …le is cold—unanimated. Il s'est servi de tous les …mouvements oratoires, he has made use of every means to …—excite—stir—the minds.

(Fig. en mor…ss moral.) On n'est pas maître de son premier …mouvement, one cannot command one's first impression—…ce. Les mouvements de l'âme, the feelings—sensations …the mind. Il a cédé à un mouvement de justice, he …ed to a feeling—an impulse of justice. Il le frappa …un mouvement de colère, he struck him in a fit of …. Dans un mouvement de joie, in an act of—a feel-…—an impression caused by—joy. Il l'a fait de son …e mouvement, he did it of his own accord—impulse. …a fait que suivre le mouvement d'un autre, he merely …ed the impulse of another. Elle voudrait réprimer …ses mouvements de son cœur, she would repress the feelings …movements—of her heart. Toutes les dames eurent …un mouvement de frayeur, the ladies had all a fine …of terror. Dans son premier mouvement, il voulait …frapper, in his first impulse—feeling—he wanted to …im away.

MOUVER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. (t. de jardinage), to move; to dig.

MOUVOIR, v. a. irrég. Mouvoir, mouvant, mu; je meus, ils meuvent; je mouvais; je mus; je mouvrai; je mouvrais; que je meuve; que je musse. Mouvoir une chose de sa place, to move a thing from its place. Cent hommes ne pourraient mouvoir cette pierre, a hundred men could not move that stone. Tout cela est mu par une seule roue, all that is set in motion by one single wheel. La volonté fait mouvoir les autres facultés, the will of man causes the other faculties to move—to act. Ce ressort fait mouvoir la machine, that spring sets the machinery going—moving.

Il ne peut se mouvoir, he cannot move. Voyez Émouvoir.

MOXA, s. m. (t. de chirurgie), moxa, (sort of cauterisation in use in China).

MOYEN, s. m. means. C'est-là un bon moyen, that is a very good means. De quel moyen vous êtes-vous servi, what means have you used? Il trouvera moyen de s'échapper, he will find the means to escape. Ils ont contribué chacun suivant ses moyens, they contributed each person according to his means. Je vous prie de le faire, si vous en avez les moyens, I beg of you to do it if you can—if you have the means. Il n'en a pas les moyens, he has not the means—the faculty—the power of doing it. J'ai obtenu cette place par le moyen de mes amis, I obtained that situation by means of my friends. Le moyen de voyager, quand on est sans argent? how can one travel without money? Le moyen de réussir, how can one succeed?

(Facultés pécuniaires.) Je ne connais pas ses moyens, I am not acquainted with his means. Mes moyens ne me permettent pas de faire cette dépense, my means do not allow me—I cannot afford—to be at that expense. Je n'en ai pas le moyen, I have not the means, i. e. I cannot afford it.

(Facultés intellectuelles.) Cet enfant a peu de moyens, that child is not very clever. Il a de grands moyens, he has great abilities.

(T. de législ.) Les voies et moyens, the ways and means.

(T. de palais), reasons; arguments.

Au moyen de (loc. prépos.), by means of. Au moyen de ce payement, il pourra s'acquitter, by means of that payment, he will be able to acquit himself.

MOYEN, NE, adj. Il est de moyenne taille, he is of a middle—middling—size. Il est de moyen âge, he is a middle-aged man. Le moyen âge, the middle age.

La moyenne région de l'air, the mean region of the air. Le terme moyen, the mean term. Le temps moyen, the mean time. La moyenne proportionnelle, the mean proportion. Verbe moyen, middle verb. La voix moyenne, the middle voice. Écrire en moyen, to write a middle size.

MOYENNANT, prep. Moyennant cela, je ne vous refuserai rien, do so—on that condition—provided that—I will refuse you nothing. Je lui ai donné cent francs, moyennant quoi nous sommes quittes, I paid him one hundred francs, by means of which we are quits.

MOYENNEMENT, adv. middlingly; indifferently.

MOYENNER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to procure the means of.

MOYENNEUR, s. m. go-between; mediator.

MOYER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj. (t. d'art, de métier), to saw (a stone) into two parts.

MOYEU, s. m. stock of a wheel; the nave of a wheel. Le moyen d'un œuf, the yolk of an egg. (T. de confiseur.) Un pot de moyeux, a pot of preserved plums.

MOZARABE, s. m. adj. (chrétiens d'Espagne descendus des Mores et des Sarrasins), Mozarab; Mozarabic.

MUABLE, adj. mutable; inconstant; changing.

MUANCE, s. f. (t. de musique), division.

MUCHE, Pot à. Voyez Musser.

MUCILAGE, s. m. (t. de chimie), mucilage.

MUCILAGINEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. de chimie et d'anat.), mucilaginous.

MUCOSITÉ, s. f. mucous matter; mucousness.

MUE, s. f. moulting; the moulting season. Les oiseaux sont malades quand ils sont en mue, birds are sick when they are moulting. La mue du cerf, the cast off horns of the stag. La mue du serpent, the serpent's old skin, slough. Il faut les tenir dans la mue, they must be kept in the moulting cage. (Fig.) Tenir une personne en mue, to keep a person in prison. C'est un oiseau de trois mues, that bird is three years old. Tenir des oiseaux dans la mue, to keep birds in the coop—in a cage. Il est en mue, he is confined at home by illness. Il est propre à garder les oiseaux en mue, he is fit for nothing.

La mue de la voix a lieu à quatorze ans, the voice changes at fourteen.

MUER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to moult; to be moulting. Sa voix mue, his voice is changing—cracking.

MUET, s. m. adj. } (Il est sourd et muet, he is deaf MUETTE, s. f. adj. } and dumb. Il est muet comme un poisson, he is as dumb as a fish.

Il demeura muet d'étonnement, astonishment had deprived him of the use of speech. La frayeur la rendit muette, terror struck her dumb—took away the power of speech from her.

Sa douleur était muette, his grief was mute—silent—dumb. Les lois sont muettes sur ce point, the laws are mute—silent—on this point. La loi est un juge muet, the law is a silent—dumb—judge. Soyez muet là-dessus, be mute—be silent—on that subject.

(T. de théâtre.) Le jeu muet, the dumb play. Scène muette, dumb show.

(T. de grammaire.) L'e est muet, the e is mute. L'h est muette dans honneur, the h is mute—not aspirated—in the word honour.

Il fait le muet, he pretends to be dumb. J'ai été voir les sourds et muets, I went to see the deaf and dumb people. Le Sultan lui envoya les muets pour l'étrangler, the Sultan sent the mutes to him to strangle him.

MUETTE, s. f. (t. de chasse), a cabin, a hut where animals are put to moult; a small hunting box; a house of pleasure.

MUEZZIN, s. m. muezzin (a Mohammedan priest, who announces the hour for prayer from the top of the minarets).

MUFLE, s. m. Le mufle d'un taureau, the muzzle of a bull. (Fam.) Ce mufle effronté, that impudent face.

MUFFLE DE VEAU, (t. de bot.), calf's snout; snapdragon.

MUFTI, s. m. Le mufti est le chef de la religion mahométane, the mufti is the head of the Mohammedan religion.

MUGE, voyez Mulet, et Poisson volant.

MUGIR, v. n. rég. 2*de conj.* (voyez Punir), to low; to bellow. Les taureaux mugissaient dans la prairie, the bulls were lowing—bellowing—in the meadow. (Fig.) Cet homme mugissait de colère, that man was roaring with anger. Cet acteur mugit, il ne parle pas, that actor roars, he does not speak. On entendait mugir les flots, the roaring of the waves was heard. Le vent mugit dans les cordages, the wind roars in the rigging. Les ondes mugissantes, the roaring sea.

MUGISSEMENT, s. m. lowing; bellowing; (fig.), roaring; roar.

MUGUET, s. m. (t. de bot.), lily of the valley.

MUGUET, s. m. a beau; a foppish youth. Il fait le muguet, he affects foppishness—to be a beau.

MUGUETER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj. Il muguette toutes les femmes, he courts—pays attentions to—all the ladies.

MUID, s. m. hogshead. Un muid de vin, a hogshead of wine. Il est gros comme un muid, he is as big as a butt.

MULÂTRE, s. m. adj. }
MULÂTRESSE, s. f. adj. } mulatto. [use.

MULCTER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to condemn; to ill

MULE, s. f. slipper. Baiser la mule du Pape, to kiss the Pope's feet.

MULE, s. f. mule; she-mule. Sa mule est très-ombrageuse, his mule is shy. Son carrosse était tiré par quatre mules, his coach was drawn by four mules. (Fig.) Il est têtu comme une mule, he is as obstinate as a mule. A vieille mule frein doré, an old mule, [illegible] i. e. old women like finery. Ferrer la mule (t. de valet de domestiques), enfler le sabnaire, to charge more than a thing has really cost. Voyez Faire donner l'eau dans le vin.

MULES, s. f. pl. kites; childains (which rise at the heel). (T. de vétér.), chaps.

MULET, s. m. mule; he-mule. Il est chaud comme un mulet, he is loaded like a mule. Il est têtu comme un mulet, (voyez Mule). Garder le mulet, to be [illegible] to dance attendance. Cet animal est un mulet, this animal is a mule—hybrid.

MULET, s. m. (sorte de poisson), mullet.
MULETIER, s. m. muleteer; mule driver.
MULON, s. m. (t. d'agric.), hay-stack.
MULOT, s. m. field-mouse.
MULTIFLORE, adj. (t. de bot.), multiflorous.
MULTIFORME, adj. multiform.
MULTINÔME, s. m. (t. d'alg.), multinomial.
MULTIPLE, adj. (t. d'arith.), multiple.
MULTIPLIABLE, adj. multiplicable.
MULTIPLICANDE, s. m. multiplicand.
MULTIPLICATEUR, s. m. (t. d'arith.), multiplier.
MULTIPLICATION, s. f. multiplication.
MULTIPLICITÉ, s. f. multiplicity.
MULTIPLIER, v. a. v. rég. 1ère conj., to multiply. Pourquoi multiplier les difficultés, why should you multiply the difficulties? Dieu dit à l'homme: Croissez, multipliez, God said to man: Increase and multiply. Il a le don de se multiplier, he can multiply himself—appear to be at different places.

MULTIPLIEUR, s. m. multiplier; one who multiplies the number of things.

MULTITUDE, s. f. multitude; great, infinite number. La multitude de pauvres qui vient tous les jours est effrayante, the number of beggars who come daily is frightful.

MULTIVALVE, s. f. adj. (t. d'hist. nat.), multivalve; multivalvular.

MUNICIPAL, E, adj. municipal.

MUNICIPALITÉ, s. f. municipality; the municipal officers. Il est allé à la municipalité, he has gone to the town-house—to the mayor. Il est de la municipalité de L—, he is of the township—commune—of L—.

MUNIFICENCE, s. f. munificence; munificent.

MUNIR, v. a. v. rég. 2*de conj.* (voyez Finir), to supply a place (with victuals, with ammunition, with arms). Notre ville est bien munie, our place is well supplied.

Je me suis muni d'un bon manteau, I provided myself with a good cloak. Nous vous munirons de tout ce dont vous aurez besoin, we will provide you with everything you want. Munissez-vous de patience, si vous voulez m'enseigner, arm yourself—fortify yourself—with patience if you are willing to teach.

MUNITION, s. f. Munition de guerre, ammunition. Munition de bouche, provisions. Pain de munition, contract bread; soldier's bread. Fournir de munitions.

MUNITIONNAIRE, s. m. contractor for provisions; victualler; agent victualler.

MUQUEUX, EUSE, adj. (t. d'anat.), mucous.

MUR, s. m. wall. Mur mitoyen, party wall. Mur à hauteur d'appui, parapet wall. Il tomba et donna de la tête contre un mur, he fell and knocked his head against the wall. Les gros murs d'un bâtiment, the main walls of a building.

J'ai fait le tour des murs de la ville, I walked round the walls of the town. L'église est hors de nos murs, the church is outside the walls. Depuis quand êtes-vous hors de nos murs, how long have you been out of our town? C'est se donner la tête contre un mur que vouloir le faire parler, you might as well run your head against a wall as to try to get him to speak. Les murs ont des oreilles, speak low, walls have ears. Si vous n'en obtiendrez rien, vous tirerez plutôt de l'eau d'un mur, you will get nothing from him, you might as t oil out of a wall. J'ai enlevé le mur de séparation qui était entre eux, I have removed the wall—the bar—which separated them.

MUR, E, adj. ripe. Les blés sont mûrs, the corn is ripe. Le fruit n'est pas mûr, the fruit is not ripe. Ce melon est trop mûr, the melon is over-ripe. Votre habit est mûr, your coat is old—is worn out. (Fig.) Il est à l'âge mûr, he is of mature age. Après une mûre délibération, after mature deliberation. L'affaire n'est pas encore mûre, the affair is not ripe yet. La poire est mûre, il est temps d'agir, the pear is ripe, it is time to act. Cueillez deux vertes une mûre, one good out of three.

MURAILLE, s. f. wall. Escalader les murailles, to scale the walls. Il est entre quatre murailles, he is within four walls—confined. Nos troupes étaient comme une muraille devant l'ennemi, our troops stood like a wall before the enemy. Voyez Mur.

MURAL, E, adj. mural.

MURES, s. f. pl. mulberries. Mûre sauvage, blackberry.

MÛREMENT, adv. maturely.

MURÈNE, s. f., sorte d'anguille très-commune dans la Méditerranée, murena; some suppose it is the lamprey.

MURER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to surround with a wall. Ville murée, walled city. Murer une porte, une fenêtre, to wall up—to brick up—a door, a window. La fenêtre est murée, the window is bricked up.

MUREX, s. m. (mot Latin), (t. d'hist. nat.), murex; a sea shell.

MURIATE, s. m. (t. de chimie), muriate.

MURIATIQUE, adj. (t. de chimie), muriatic.

MURIER, s. m. mulberry tree. Mûrier sauvage, berry bush.

MÛRIR, v. n. v. a. rég. 2de conj. (voyez Punir), to ripen. Donnez donc au fruit le temps de mûrir, pray, give it time to ripen. Le soleil mûrira bientôt ce melon, the sun will soon ripen this melon. Le raisin commence à se mûrir, the grapes are beginning to get ripe. L'âge et l'expérience lui ont mûri l'esprit, age and experience have ripened—matured—his mind. Cet abus ne mûrira jamais, that man will never get mature enough.

MURISSANT, E, adj. which ripens; ripening.

MURMURATEUR, TRICE, adj. murmurer.

MURMURE, s. m. murmur; complaint. Il s'éleva un murmure d'approbation, a murmur of applause rose in the crowd. Le nouvel impôt a excité les murmures du public, the new tax has excited the murmurs—the complaints—of the people.

Murmure du cœur, the voice of the heart. Le murmure des passions, the voice of the passions. Il étouffe les murmures de l'amour, he stifles in his heart the repining of love.

Le murmure des eaux, the warbling—gurgling—of the waters. Le murmure des fontaines, the gurgling—rippling of a fountain. Le murmure des zéphyrs, the murmur of zephyrs.

MURMURER, v. n. v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to murmur—to complain. Que murmurez-vous là, what are you murmuring? On commence à murmurer, they are beginning to grumble. Cette nouvelle se murmure à l'oreille, they whisper this news.

Le vent murmure, the wind is murmuring. J'aime à entendre ruisseau murmurer, I like to hear the gurgling of a little stream—of the stream.

MURRHIN, INE, adj. (t. d'antiquité), murrhine.

MURGETE, adj. Musagetes.

MUSARAIGNE, s. f. (t. d'hist. nat.), shew-mouse.

MUSARD, E, s. m. f. adj. loiterer; an idler; one who loiters.

MUSC, s. m. (t. d'hist. nat.), musk. (Nom d'un parfum.) Couleur de musc, musk—brown—colour.

MUSCADE, s. f. nutmeg. (T. d'escamoteur), ball.

MUSCADET, s. m. muscadine.

MUSCADIER, s. m. nutmeg tree.

MUSCADIN, s. m. (sort of losenge in which there is musk. Il m'a donné une boîte de muscadins, he gave me a box of musk pastilles.

MUSCADIN, s. m. a beau; a dandy. (That word was much in use during the revolution, 1794. It was applied to those who did not adopt the coarse manners of the time.)

MUSCAT, adj. Vin muscat, muscat wine. Mangez une grappe de muscat, do eat a bunch of muscate grapes.

MUSCLE, s. m. (t. d'anat.), muscle.

MUSCLÉ, E, adj. (t. d'anat.), having muscles; muscular.

MUSCULAIRE, adj. (t. d'anat.), muscular.

MUSCULE, s. f. (machine ancienne), musculus; sort of tortoise.

MUSCULEUX, EUSE, adj. musculous; muscular.

MUSE, s. f. (t. de poésie), Muse. Il est inspiré par les Muses, he is inspired by the Muses. La faveur des Muses, the poet, the favourite of the Muses. Elle cultive les Muses, she cultivates the Muses—poetry. Ne verrons-nous pas les fruits de votre muse, shall we not see the fruits of your poetical genius—of your muse? La muse de Racine était tendre et passionnée, the poetical genius of Racine was tender and passionate.

MUSE, s. f. (t. de vénerie), rutting time.

MUSEAU, s. m. snout; muzzle. (Fam., en parlant des personnes.) N'allez pas là montrer votre museau, do not go and show your phiz—your face—there.

MUSÉE, s. m. museum. Avez-vous vu le musée de Paris, have you seen the museum of Paris?

MUSELER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to muzzle.

MUSELIÈRE, s. f. muzzle.

MUSER, v. n. rég. 1ère conj., to muse.

MUSEROLLE, s. f. nose-strap of a bridle.

MUSETTE, s. f. bag-pipe. Il joue de la musette, he plays on the bag-pipe. (T. de musique.) Jouer une musette, to play an air on the bag-pipe—a pastoral.

MUSÉUM, s. m. (mot Latin, pron. mu-zé-ome), museum.

MUSICAL, E, adj. musical.

MUSICALEMENT, adv. musically.

MUSICIEN, NE, s. m. f. adj. musician. Elle est très-bonne musicienne, she is a very good musician.

MUSICO, s. m. a pothouse (in Belgium).

MUSIQUE, s. f. music. Savez-vous la musique, do you know music? Il joue de plusieurs instruments de musique, he plays on several musical instruments. Copier des notes de musique—de la musique, to copy music. On a mis ses vers en musique, his verses have been set to music. Nous faisons de la musique le soir, we have music—we play music—at night. (Fig.) Il est réglé comme un cahier de musique, he is as regular as clockwork. C'était une musique enragée, it was mad music. Quel bruit, quelle musique vous nous faites là, what a noise you make—what music you give us!

Avez vous entendu la musique de la reine, have you heard the queen's band? La musique du 47ème est excellente, the band of the 47th is excellent.

MUSQUER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to musk; to scent with musk. (Fig.) C'est un orateur musqué, he is an affected—flowery—orator. Il nous a donné abondance de paroles musquées, voilà tout, he gave us abundance of sweet words, that is all. Assister à la messe musquée, to attend the scented mass, i. e. the latest mass, attended generally by people of fashion.

MUSSER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to hide; to secrete one's-self. A MUSSE-POT, loc. adv. secretly.

MUSULMAN, s. m. adj. } Musulman.
MUSULMANE, s. f. adj. }

MUTABILITÉ, s. f. mutability; changeableness.

MUTATION, s. f. mutation; change; alteration.

MUTILATION, s. f. mutilation.

MUTILER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mutilate.

MUTIN, E, adj. mutinous; quarrelsome. (Fam.) Qu'il a l'air mutin, how roguish he looks! Quels yeux mutins, what roguish eyes! Les vents mutins, the unruly—mutinous—winds.

MUTIN, s. m. On a arrêté le chef des mutins, the leader of the turbulent—seditious—mutinous—people has been arrested.

MUTINER, Se, v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to rebel; to resist; to be mutinous. (Des enfants), to become unmanageable; unruly.

MUTINERIE, s. f. mutiny; sedition; rebellion.

Deux gardes nationaux sont venus, two national guardsmen came.

Les nationaux et les étrangers admirent Molière également, the people of the country as well as foreigners all equally admire Molière.

NATIONALEMENT, adv. nationally.

NATIONALISER, v. a. v. r. rég. 1ère conj., to nationalise; to make national; to get nationalized. Cette expression n'est pas encore nationalisée, that expression is not naturalized yet.

NATIONALITÉ, s. f. nationality; national character.

NATIVITÉ, s. f. nativity. (T. d'astrologie.) Faire le thème de la nativité d'une personne, to calculate the nativity of a person.

NATRON, s. m. (pron. na-tron, t. de chimie.) native

NATRUM, } carbonate of soda; mineral alkali, found particularly in the lakes of Egypt.

NATTE, s. f. mat. Il couche sur une natte de paille, he sleeps on a straw mat.

Une natte de cheveux, a plait of hair. Une natte d'or et d'argent, a twist of gold and silver.

NATTER, v. a. rég. 1ère conj., to mat. Les murailles de la chambre sont nattées, the walls of the room are matted —covered with mats. Elle natte ses cheveux, she plaits her hair.

NATURALIBUS, IN, (mot Latin), naked; without clothes.

NATURALISATION, s. f. naturalisation.

NATURALISME, s. m. naturalism; state of nature.

NATURALISTE, s. m. f. naturalist. Buffon est un grand naturaliste, Buffon is a great naturalist.

NATURALITÉ, s. f. natural rights. Lettres de naturalité, letters of naturalisation.

NATURE, s. f. Dieu est le maître de la nature, God is the master of nature. Buffon a lu dans le grand livre de la nature, Buffon has read in the great book of nature. C'est ce qu'il y a de plus beau dans la nature, it is the finest thing in nature. La nature fut prodigue envers elle, nature was prodigal of her gifts to her. L'art perfectionne la nature, art improves nature. L'art surpasse la nature, art surpasses nature.

Le malheureux paya hier le tribut à la nature, the poor man paid the tribute to nature yesterday—died yesterday. La nature humaine, human nature. Non, cela n'est pas de la nature humaine, no, that is not in human nature. La nature de Dieu est d'être bon, it is in God's nature to be kind. Satisfaire la nature, to satisfy nature. L'habitude est une seconde nature, habit is a second nature. Il était dans l'état de nature, he was in a state of nature, i. e. naked.

La nature manque en lui, his physical powers are failing—nature is failing in him. Le médecin abandonne la nature à elle-même, the doctor leaves nature to herself. Il est bilieux de nature, he is naturally bilious. Sa nature est sèche, he is of a dry constitution—temper. Elle est gaie de sa nature, she is naturally cheerful. Telle est ma nature, such is my temper.

Résisteriez-vous au cri de la nature, would you resist the cry of nature?

Je n'ai jamais vu des choses de cette nature, I never saw things of this kind. On les payait en nature, they were paid in kind.

Dessiner d'après nature, to draw from nature. Tableau de nature morte, a still-life picture. De demi nature, half natural size.

NATUREL, LE, adj. natural. Les besoins naturels, natural wants. Philosophie naturelle, natural philosophy. Il avait un fils naturel, he had a natural son. Nous avons un désir tout naturel d'être heureux, we have a natural desire to be happy. C'est tout naturel, it is quite natural. Il a de l'esprit naturel, he has natural abilities.

Il n'est pas naturel qu'il le fasse, it is not natural—in the order of things—that he should do it. Est-il naturel de s'attaquer à plus fort que soi, is it natural to go and attack a stronger person than one's self?

Ce vin est naturel, that wine is pure—unadulterated. On dirait ses cheveux naturels, you would say his was real—natural hair.

NATUREL, s. m. native. On se connaît en vins les naturels du pays, the natives are not always well known.

(Sens moral.) C'est le naturel du feu de tendre en haut, fire has a natural tendency to ascend. Le vrai de l'homme est d'être sociable, the nature of man is to be sociable.

Il est un peu vif de son naturel, he is naturally rather quick—is naturally of a hasty temper—disposition. Il est d'un bon naturel, she has a happy disposition. Il est d'un mauvais naturel, that comes from a bad temper—disposition. Il est d'un naturel enviable, he has a good disposition—he is naturally envious. Il y a des natures que rien ne peut adoucir, there are certain natures—persons—which nothing can bend. Le tigre est d'un naturel farouche—cruel, the nature of the tiger is wild—cruel—the tiger is naturally wild and cruel. Il faut avoir un naturel pour agir ainsi, one must be without sense—feeling to act thus. Cette mère manque de naturel, that mother has no natural feeling—no natural affection. N'ayez donc pas de naturel, have you no kind feeling—no sympathy in you?

Il y a du naturel dans ce qu'il écrit, what he writes is very natural—there is nature in all he writes. Elle est jolie, mais elle manque de naturel, she is pretty, but she is affected—but she has no natural simplicity. Il y a du naturel dans ses ouvrages, his works are natural—are accordant to nature.

(T. de sculpt., de peint.) Cette statue est plus grande que le naturel, that statue is larger than nature. Il peint d'après le naturel—au naturel—sur le naturel, he is painted from nature.

(T. de cuisine.) Du bœuf au naturel, boil'd beef. Donnez-moi deux côtelettes au naturel, give me two mutton-chops plainly—simply—done.

NATURELLEMENT, adv. naturally; truly; unaffectedly; easily. Le lièvre est naturellement craintif, the hare is naturally—by his own nature—timid. Il ne s'est pas fait naturellement, that was not done easily—straight-forwardly. Elle écrit très naturellement, she writes very naturally—simply—easily.

